TEACHER'S ENGLISH

We hear much of the poor spelling and grammar of high school graduates, but listen to these from teachers: A man with several years' experience teaching: "I like only four hours having my M. A." A man about 50, several years' experience, M. A. degree: "Have served several years as 'principle.'" A woman, now a student in the University of Texas: "I am working on my doctor's degree. My major is English, my minors history and education, 'respectfully.'" An experienced woman teacher with B. A., major English, and B. J. in another leading college, lost a fine position as teacher of English and journalism in a high school because she called scared "skered." It would surprise you how many think "like" means "lack."—Letter to Dallas News by W. A. Bynum.

Van Horn.—Wool sacks make attractive and serviceable covers for cushions of the porch swing belonging to Mrs. C. F. Toolem. Mrs. Toolem dyed the sacks a beautiful shade of burnt orange, covered the cushions and then tacked them with black wool thread. She found this to be an inexpensive way of "renewing" her porch swing.

Two battered old wrecks of humanity were sitting on a bench when one remarked: "I'm a man who never took advice from anybody." "Shake, brother," said the other, "I'm a man who took everybody's advice."

Customer (after the clerk had pulled down all but one of the blankets on the shelves)—"I don't really want anything today. I was only looking for a friend."

Clerk—"Well, madam, if you think your friend is hiding in that last blanket, I'll gladly take it down."

WORLD'S BIGGEST GAMBLER

Here's the world's biggest gambler, the American farmer! He gambles with the weather, with the soil, with grasshoppers, with army worms, with grubs, and a score of other offshoots of the plagues of ancient Egypt. Every spring he takes a chance—a desperate chance. If he wins, as he does occasionally, he comes off with a big stake; if he loses, which he does more frequently, he has a chance to try again. Happily, he is a good loser, else the world would starve.—Gazette, Mitchell, S. D.

QUALITY OR PRICES

There have been numerous price adjustments in the low-priced field lately, and Ford V-8 has emerged in its original position—the world's greatest motor car value. Ford quality naturally is unbeatable because no other automobile under $2,000 offers the V-8 motor that Ford owners enjoy; but that is only one of the many features that cannot be bought elsewhere at Ford's low prices. Ford did NOT follow other manufacturers when they raised prices, which makes today's reductions even more significant.

HOSEA PREACHES GOD'S LOVE
Lesson text, Hosea 11:1-4, 8, 9; 14: 4-9. Golden text, John 3:16.
In the lesson for this week we turn from the stern message of Amos to the more loving message of Hosea. Hosea was a prophet of God called as Amos was called. He delivered the message of God as fearlessly as Amos did. Hosea followed Amos as God's mouthpiece to the people. His prophecy was still during the prosperous reign of Jeroboam II, in fact it ran through the end of that reign. The same circumstances existed in the country of Israel during this man's time as during the time of Amos. If there was any difference it was that the people had grown more wicked as the prosperous reign continued. It seems that the longer men go on in their sins undisturbed the worse they become and the harder they are to change.
The message of Amos portrayed the unrelenting justice that God would manifest toward His wicked people. The message of Hosea we see another side of the picture. In the message text we find the people are still growing in the dust of sin and passion. Nevertheless, God is sending His messenger with the message of love. God had chosen His people. He had promised to care for and protect them. God has always both cared for and protected his children through the ages, no matter what the difficulty, when they would harken to Him and do His bidding. In the message of Hosea we see Him calling that message of love to His people. He expressed Himself as grieving over having to give them up, and calling them back to Him.
Hosea was no doubt chosen to write this message because he knew something of the feeling of God. He had in his beginning an experience which made him understand God's feeling toward His people. Soon after Hosea was married his wife became unfaithful to him. She lost all self respect and went off in the most horrible immorality known to mankind. Hosea so loved his wife that even though she had disgraced him forever, he sought her out from among the women of her kind and with love from the depth of his heart won her back to decency and his home. Thus he could see the picture of Israel in the mind of God. Israel was God's chosen people, and yet in her indifference and idolatry had done the same thing in her relationship to God as Hosea's wife had one to him. And the unending love of Hosea for his wife is only a picture of the ever unchanging love of God for His people.
We get here something of the picture of the personal love of God for men as shown in the New Testament. God has never and never shall change. He has always and always shall have an undying love for every man. That love was so great that He gave His only begotten Son to die for the sins of men. It is not in His power to forget the sin of man, or to lay it aside, but it is within His power to pay for it. God has done that. God through His Son, Jesus, paid for all sin so that no man might have any excuse. That payment applies to every man who will surrender himself and come in humility, repentance and faith to accept that payment as God's free gift.
God has left no man with excuse. The Hebrew children of old had no excuse, but they made one. They were not willing to meet God's demands. They were not willing to accept the opportunity He gave them and therefore chose by their own will to pay for their evil and sin. They did this through the downfall of their kingdom and ultimate captivity. God did not desire to see them suffer. He gave them every opportunity to turn to His loving arms for protection. They would not, and therefore were paid.

As men look back through the centuries and study the times and circumstances of the nation of these people, they can easily see the falling of the land. The pathetic thing that men will look back at the mistakes made by those who have gone on before and then turn around and make identically the same mistakes. It is difficult for men to realize that as they look at history they read all there is known about the circumstances in a few pages. The time actually covered years. They cannot place themselves down there one thousand years ago with the surroundings and temptations those people had. They were similar to those that men fall over today. Flesh is the same, human desires are the same. Human frailty is unchanged. Therefore, millions of men look back and wonder that people did not hearken to God centuries back, but when they stand confronted with the real temptations, lusts of the flesh, appetites, desires for possessions, and living up to customs and fashions, the still small voice goes unheard. The din of the world and Satan rings out as loudly today as in the days ago.

God is crying to us and our land today even as He cried to Israel of old. He would have us return from our backslidings and worship Him in spirit and truth because He loves us. He awaits our return that He might bless us.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 14
BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS, Section 1. That there be added to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas a new section to be numbered section 2-A and to have in effect (a) lettered subdivisions and which section shall read as follows: (a) General management and control of the affairs of the county shall hereafter be vested in the Commissioners' Court, provided that in the exercise of powers not specifically granted to the Commissioners' Court by the Constitution and Amendments thereto, the Court shall be subject to the authority of the Legislature of the State, and the Court shall also be subject to all general laws of the State now in force not in conflict with the provisions of this Amendment and such laws are modified or repealed.
(b) All duties heretofore performed by the Clerk of the District Court and the County Clerk shall hereafter be performed by an officer to be hereinafter known as the County Tax Assessor and the County Tax Collector shall hereafter be performed by one officer known as Tax Clerk; and in the counties where the sheriff performs the duties of the Tax Collector, he may hereafter perform the duties of the Tax Clerk. The Record Book and the Tax Clerk shall be subject to hold office for a term of two (2) years and until their successors shall be elected and qualified. The Commissioners' Court shall have authority to combine the office of County Treasurer and the office of County Surveyor, or to combine either or both, of said offices with any county office. Within the maximum and minimum limits prescribed by the Legislature the Commissioners' Court shall have authority to fix the compensation of all county and precinct officers except County Auditor, County Judge, and County Commissioners. The Legislature shall fix the compensation of District Judges, District Attorneys, County Judges, and the County Commissioners, and may provide for a County Auditor and prescribe his duties and fix his compensation and the number and compensation of his assistants. The Commissioners' Court shall fix the compensation of all county and precinct officers, except the County Auditor.
(c) City and county officers and employees may, in addition to their duties as such city and county officers or employees, be required to perform such other similar duties for cities, towns and districts within the county, or for the county, as may be mutually agreed upon and contracted for between the Commissioners' Court of said county and the governing board, or boards, of such cities, towns and districts; and the cost of such service shall be provided for in said contracts and paid by such county, cities, towns or districts into the Treasury of the county or city, town or district, as provided for in said contract. All such contracts shall be approved by the Attorney General of this State, and such contracts shall not cover a period longer than two (2) years.

(d) The Legislature shall have authority, by general law, to provide for complete forms of county government and organizations different from that provided for in this Constitution to become effective in any county when submitted in such manner as may be prescribed by the Legislature to the qualified voters of such county in an election held for such purpose and approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting in said election. Provided, however, that no such law shall impair the right of the Commissioners' Court to determine the compensation of county and precinct officers other than the County Auditor, to fix the number of assistants, deputies, and clerical personnel which said officers may employ; nor shall such general law change the present constitutional limitations as to particular and total tax levies for any or all county purposes; nor shall such general law change the present constitutional limitations on counties to incur public debts.
(e) In any and all cases where provisions of the Constitution of this State are in conflict with the provisions of this Amendment (Section 2-A, Article IX) shall control; provided, however, should any county accept a Home Rule Charter under authority of any provisions of the State Constitution or Amendment thereto, this Amendment shall not be applicable to such county.
Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the electors of this State, qualified to vote on Constitutional amendments, at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1934, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon the words:
For the Amendment of Article IX of the State Constitution by adding Section 2-A thereto, giving the Commissioners' Court general management and control of county affairs, and authorizing the Legislature to provide more economical forms of county government, and different than as now provided by law.
Each voter shall scratch out with pen or pencil the clause which he desires to vote against so as to indicate whether he is voting for or against said proposed amendment.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE HAVE ASKED... What, exactly, does Knee-Action do?

CHEVROLET'S KNEE-ACTION RIDE
Doubles
the pleasure of motoring

Chevrolet prices have been reduced as much as $50
Drive it only 5 miles

The best way to prove that Chevrolet's Knee-Action actually makes motoring twice as pleasant as before is to drive the new Chevrolet over all kinds of roads. You will find that the continuous jars you used to get even on smooth pavements are ended. The steering wheel is free of vibration. Back seat passengers are comfortable and relaxed. You can maintain higher speeds over rough roads that used to slow you down. You will find, in fact, that probably for the first time in your experience, every foot of every mile is equally enjoyable. Perhaps that explains why so many people are buying and recommending this extremely low-priced car.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 16

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 1 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereinafter read as follows:

Section 1. TAXATION TO BE EQUAL AND UNIFORM AS TO REAL PROPERTY AND TO BE EQUAL AND UNIFORM AS TO ALL REASONABLE CLASSIFICATIONS OF OCCUPATION TAXES; EXEMPTIONS; LIMITATIONS UPON COUNTIES, CITIES, TOWNS AND VILLAGES.

Taxation of real property shall be equal and uniform. All property in this State, whether owned by natural persons or corporations, other than municipal corporations, shall be taxed in proportion to its value.

Section 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a general election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1934.

Section 3. The voters favoring said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that taxation of real property shall be equal and uniform; and that all property in this State, other than that owned by municipal corporations, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, as ascertained as may be provided by law; and providing that the Legislature may make reasonable classifications of all property, other than real property, for the purpose of taxation; and that the taxation of all property in any class shall be equal and uniform; and providing further that the Legislature may impose poll tax and occupation tax and income tax, and exempting from occupation tax persons engaged in mechanical and agricultural pursuits; and exempting from taxation two hundred fifty ($250.00) Dollars worth of household and kitchen furniture belonging to each family; and providing that the occupation tax levied by any county, city or town shall not exceed one-half that levied by the State for the same period."

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 30

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 16, Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereinafter read as follows:

Section 16. All land mentioned in Sections 11, 12 and 15 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, now belonging to the University of Texas, shall be subject to the taxation for county and school district purposes to the same extent as lands privately owned, provided they shall be rendered for taxation upon the values fixed by the State Tax Board and that the values fixed for school district purposes shall not exceed the values fixed for county purposes on the same land; and provided that the University of Texas from the University of Texas Fund, shall remit annually to each of the counties and school districts in which said lands are located an amount equal to the tax imposed upon said land for county and school district purposes.

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at the next general election, at which election all voters favoring said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "For the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas subjecting the lands of the University of Texas to taxation for county and school district purposes, and providing for the payment of said taxes to the proper authorities of the counties and school districts where said lands are located," and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas subjecting the lands of the University of Texas to taxation for county and school district purposes, and providing for the payment of said taxes to the proper authorities of the counties and school districts where said lands are located."

INFLUENCE OF NEWSPAPER

We are taking many of our styles and many of our moral attitudes from Hollywood, but I don't believe the moving picture show can ever equal the newspaper in its influence on the American people. Millions never attend a moving picture show and millions more see a picture only once a week or once a month. But the majority of our American people read the newspaper every day. The great American habit is that of reading the news. There is scarcely a man, woman or child who does not have some touch with the daily or weekly paper.—W. L. Eyesight Specialist Will Be in McLean the First Friday in Each Month Office at Erwin Drug Co. Optometrist and Optician 626 Folk St. Amarillo, Texas

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 4 Gray County, Texas:

On July 28th the qualified voters of Commissioners' Precinct No. 4 of this county cast the total of 811 votes for County Commissioner. Of this total number, 403 votes were cast for M. M. Newman, being only five votes less than a majority over the two other candidates in the race at the time.

I wish to take this opportunity of expressing to you my sincere appreciation for this display of confidence. On August 25th you will again go to the polls to finally select your choice between myself and the other gentleman who ran second in this race. Those of you who supported Mr. Cubine in the first primary will be called upon to cast your ballot either for me or for Mr. Wilson.

In making this race I have endeavored to fight a clean fight and to present to the voters of this precinct my record and qualifications, rather than to make the race on any defect or disqualification on the part of either of my honorable opponents. As we approach the second primary I again wish to appeal to you, as the electors of this precinct, to view with fairness the record and qualifications of both myself and my opponent and to cast your ballot for the best interest of Gray county. I submit to you my record as your former County Commissioner as being one clear of blemish. I believe that my years of experience in this office will qualify me to serve you better in these times of stress and strain which call forth the best in any officer of the county.

If elected to this office, I pledge you my best, both to the little man as well as to the big man. I have no other promise to make to you than to say that I will give my best to the end that the administration will be fair, honest and courageous. Give me your earnest consideration and go to the polls on August 25th and elect me your

County Commissioner M. M. Newman

Scenes of 1776 at New Fair

Colonial maidens walking in the shadow of Old North Church, are one of the many quaint pictures that await the visitor to the Colonial village of the new World's Fair in Chicago. Crowds have been attracted to the scenic spots of the new Street of Villages.

NEWSPAPER VITALITY

Newspapers have maintained a remarkable vitality all through the depression. In the face of reduced revenues, which increased proportionately the overhead costs of operation, newspapers have consistently supplied a service of news and other reading matter of high quality. The economies effected did not materially reduce either the variety, the completeness or the dependability of the contents of the paper. How much this has meant to the American people during this trying era historians will perhaps never be able to estimate with accuracy, but it is safe to say that no institution serving the public with an essential product has functioned with any higher degree of responsibility than has the newspaper.—H. B. Herbert, director school of journalism, University of Oklahoma.

Helen—"They say that girl over there puts all her father makes on her back."

Toni—"Evidently he must be out of a job now."

Minding your own business is a good way to keep your name off the scandal mongers' tongues.—Pathfinder.

Children Like Their "Private Fair"

COUNTRY EDITOR'S INFLUENCE

In the smaller towns where neighbor knows neighbor, the newspaper editor still remains the same personage that his predecessors were 50 and even 100 years ago. Day into day he gives account of his stewardship to his subscribers. Often they swear at him, but oftener they swear by him, and either way bespeaks the strong personal tie that binds them to him and him to them.

It is because they are unmistakable in their meaning and the gospel of public truth to the whole community that the editorials of the country editors guide their readers as the impersonal editorials of the big city dailies cannot.—Glidden (La) Graphic.

The preacher's small son was being quizzed by an elderly visitor one day. "Does your father ever preach the same sermon twice?" he was asked. "Sure, he does," the small boy replied, "but he hollers in different places."

A new motion picture is named "Here Comes the Groom." It is about time that the poor guy was getting a little attention.

ACTUAL EXPERIENCE COUNTS

Sitting in the office of a little country weekly newspaper, far removed from all the big time stuff at Washington, we observe different committees and commissions set up for the curing of the ailments of the nation. And as we study these committees and commissions we sometimes wonder if the whole United States can be centered in Washington, a dozen of the larger cities and a few colleges more or less, and if all the rest of us are just invisible atoms floating about in the swirl of dust that is being raised in the proposed house settling.

Now take the banking situation which is so closely related to economic progress as a whole. Banking in New York and banking in LeRoy are as different as a modern automobile and a one-horse shay. Both provide commercial transportation but in ways vastly different. Rules, regulations and practices that may be slightly helpful to a metropolitan bank are quite the opposite in a country bank. These rules and regulations are formulated in Washington and are presumed to be generally helpful, but has anyone ever heard of a country banker being named on the committee that sets up the formula for banking under the recovery program? Or of any endeavor to get the true picture of the problems of the rural banks?

The same applies to farming, small industry, rural town merchandising and a hundred and one other component parts that go to make up the very life blood of this country, and all of them are quite removed from the metropolitan centers and the chairs of the college professors.

Perhaps some day, instead of functioning in terms of graphs and reports from field agents, those in power in Washington, both Republicans and Democrats, will utilize the knowledge of those who know from actual experience the formulation of plans and policies, to fit emergencies, acute or otherwise.—Gazette-News, LeRoy, N. Y.

PROPER WATERING FOR SHRUBS

San Benito.—Shrubs in the yard of Mrs. Renua Snavely, yard improvement demonstrator for the Combes home demonstration club in Cameron county, are insured survival through the summer by correct methods of watering and cultivation, according to Dorothy Porter, home demonstration agent for that county.

The work is done by Mr. Snavely who digs a shallow basin around each shrub and waters plentifully—adding water until it soaks in very, very slowly. The soil is then raked back around the plant, and when a crust forms it is broken by shallow cultivation. This method of watering causes the roots to strike down, so that if a longer period must elapse between waterings the plant does not suffer. Surface cultivation helps to retain the moisture for a greater length of time.

A man wounded in the head was taken to the hospital and the doctor asked him how it happened.

"My wife threw a stone and hurt me," murmured the man.

"Well, that's the first time I ever heard of a woman hitting anything she aimed at," said the doctor.

"Oh," answered the man, wearily, "she wasn't aiming at me. She was throwing at a dog and I was behind her."

Customer—"I want to buy three potted geraniums."

Florist—"We have no geraniums, but I can give you chrysanthemums."

Customer—"Chrysanthemums won't do. These plants are to replace some geraniums I promised my wife to water while she was away."

Mrs. C. C. Sloan of Pampa visited here last week end.

Magic Flower

Miss Ruth Mayland of Chicago holds the more or less sacred night blooming cereus in her hands and explains the charm of this flower that blooms but for one hour, one night, each year. The roots of the cereus sometimes weigh as much as 25 pounds and are supposed by some native Mexicans to be a panacea for all pulmonary ailments when made into medicine. Its blooming is the occasion of a "fiesta," and one was held in the streets of the Mexican Village at the new World's Fair.

Exit the Chiseler

Many of the policies of the National Recovery Administration program aim at remedying cut-throat competition, through broad Code regulations which now govern the entire printing and publishing industry.

Recovery under the NRA calls for individual sacrifice in a cooperative endeavor to restore business. It was designed to establish fair competition and increase purchasing power.

And with the advent of the new competition there passes from the picture the unscrupulous person, lately referred to as the Chiseler.

Too many of our merchants have done business with and been gyped by this parasite fiend. But the strict enforcement of wage regulations, hours of labor, and of quality specifications will put an end to his unfair practices. Public insistence upon high trade ethics and high standards of quality will also aid in serving an honest, efficient business structure.

It is reasonable to expect more intelligent and skillful service from The News, whose personnel is devoting their entire lives to the local field of newspaper publishing and commercial printing, than from one who does not understand your business problems. The News can serve your best interests.
