

Labor Leaders Promise An Uncompromising Defiance Of Hitler

F. D. R. Gets Support In Strong Talk

By The Associated Press
Led by President Roosevelt, the spokesmen of the working men and women of the United States used Labor Day speeches to voice uncompromising defiance of Hitlerism and to pledge unceasing efforts for its destruction.

The overtones of the war were dominant in the observance of the holiday. Whereas in bygone years labor was reminded of its gains, the messages yesterday laid emphasis on the heritage labor was called on to defend and on labor's tremendous role in accelerating the flow of defense and lease-lend arms production.

Because of its pronouncements on international affairs, President Roosevelt's speech from his Hyde Park, N. Y., home command major attention.

Mr. Roosevelt categorically ruled out the suggestion—advanced by several of those hostile to administration foreign policy—that he approach Hitler to seek a negotiated peace in Europe's war.

Such a role, he said scornfully, would make him "the modern Benedict Arnold," betraying everything he held dear. "This, of course, I have rejected—I reject it again."

The burden of much of Mr. Roosevelt's Labor Day address matched earlier talks made by Sidney Hillman, labor's associate director in the Office of Production Management; by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and by James H. Carey, secretary of the Congress of Industrial Organizations who spoke for Philip Murray, CIO's ill president.

They all participated in an hour-long radio broadcast which spanned the Atlantic to bring in Ernest Bevin, British minister of labor, who sent the greetings of English workers and appealed specifically for a greater flow of military supplies from the United States.

The War Today—Japan Direly Needs Peace With America

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Herald Special News Service)

We ought to hear a bit more from the Tokyo government before attaching too much finality to the rather fiery declaration by a spokesman of the Japanese army that Nippon will if necessary use force to fight her way out of what she terms encirclement by America, Britain, Russia and other nations.

This statement was broadcast by Colonel Mabuchi, chief of the army press section of imperial headquarters, who asserted that Japan was determined to carry out her Asiatic program even if it meant "a long-term war against Britain and America." Now that is very blunt language and it would be a mistake to underestimate Japan's determination in this crisis.

Still, one suspects that the colonel was blowing his trumpet not so much with the idea that the walls of Jericho would fall as that he might strengthen Japan's hand in the projected negotiations in Wash., ton. Had the colonel and his military superiors been better advised as to the present temper of the American government toward the Japanese maneuvers in the Orient, probably the fighting speech would have been left undelivered. However, it perhaps will do no harm. Indeed, some observers thought President Roosevelt may have avoided reference to the Far Eastern situation in his Labor Day broadcast in order to give diplomacy a chance to achieve an agreement.

The weakness of the Mabuchi statement to my mind is that if the United States, Britain and Russia were trying to encircle Japan, she would have small chance of fighting her way out by force. The encirclement which Japan fears is quite as much economic as military.

You may destroy an enemy warship with a 16-inch gun. But a shell won't demolish the fact that if Japan gets herself involved in a war with the United States, Britain and Russia she will cut herself off from essential supplies and from trade upon which her very life depends.

Few would doubt the bravery of the Japanese in battle, or their ability to absorb punishment. The cold truth is, however, that no matter how great Nippon's determination might be, she couldn't fight her way out of encirclement, because forsooth there's no place to which she could fight her way. The countries whose cooperation she vitally needs right now are, first, America, and after that

B'Spring Reigns Supreme With WT-NM League Pennant

Ramsdell Beats Hurling Record As Lamesa Is Shutout, 4-0 And 6-0

LAMESA, Sept. 2—While Big Spring won its first pennant since it started participating in the West Texas-New Mexico league, Willard "Pop" Ramsdell broke his last year's win record here Monday night by blanking the Lamesa Lobos in both ends of a doubleheader, 4 to 0 and 6 to 0. The Big Spring knuckle ball artist bettered his 1940 mark by one game, adding his 23rd and 24th victories yesterday.

WILLARD "POP" RAMSDPELL fielding was what put Big Spring on top during most of the season and the same things added the final victory over Lamesa. In last night's opener, Ramsdell allowed six hits and walked one. In the finale he improved as the hours drew later, holding the Lamesans to a single blow by Carmichael and not giving up any stragglers. Both hits were slow but the Big Springers tightened up in the pinches to keep the board clear. Ramsdell did not allow a Lobo to reach second in the curtain drop.

In the third inning, Big Spring got what at first seemed to be a bad break when Hayden Greer and J. L. Haney crashed head-on in short leftfield. Greer was removed from the conflict but was able to come back for the close-out, having fully recovered from his shaking up. All that remains in Big Spring's path for the league championship is a little matter of a Shaughnessy playoff, first chapter of which is to come off in Roberts Field Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock, Amarillo, the fourth place club, furnishing the opposition. Also, Berger Gansers, number two club, vies with Clovis' Pioneers in their share of the playoff. Both games are on a best three out of five basis. The finals are figured on the best four out of seven.

Trout Beaten By 1 Up On 19 By Youth

Bobbie Davidson, 18-year-old youngster from Sweetwater, topped Chick Trout of Lubbock, medalist, 1 up on 19, Monday afternoon to annex the Big Spring Country Club golf championship.

Yesterday's victory was the third major one garnered by the Sweetwater lad this year. Early in August he captured the West Texas Junior and the Anson invitational. Davidson advanced to the finals by beating Red Roden of Glen Rose 2-1, while Trout's semifinal victim, Herman Stewart of Odessa, 2-1.

Cards Push Ahead In Circuit Battle

By The Associated Press

The Cardinals captured a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday with comparative ease, 5-3, and 5-2, to stretch their current winning streak to seven straight games, while the Brooklyn Dodgers had a terrible time winning a 15-inning marathon from the Boston Braves, 6-5, and then escaping with a 2-2 tie-inning tie in the nightcap.

When the game finally did go on the board, Willard Ramsdell proceeded to pitch the game of his life, shutting out the Lobos 4 to 0 in the first engagement and hurling one-hit ball in the second to blank the Lamesans, 6 to 0.

Nothing has happened yet to give any clear indication of an eventual winner either in the men's or women's division. There is no stand-out among the men like Don Budge was a few years ago, and nothing to indicate that another Alice Marble is lurking just over the women's horizon. At this point, with half of the men's field through the third round, Bobby Riggs would have to be picked as the probable recipient of the championship cup. Bobby, who won it two years ago and was seeded No. 1 this time, has been more impressive than either Frank Kovacs or Don McNeill of Oklahoma City.

Lubbock Rider Wins Thrilling Motorcycle Sweepstakes

700 Witness First Annual Event Here

Stewart Champlin, Lubbock, combined hard riding with a last second break to rear to victory in American Motorcycle association sweepstakes event climaxing the American Business Club first annual motorcycle races here Monday afternoon.

Approximately 700 people witnessed this and eight other events staged over a six-day course at the rodeo grounds.

Bill Anderson, Houston, winner of the 45-inch and the 80-inch displacement races for experts, seized the sweepstakes lead and was out in front at three laps when he went down on a back curve.

Champlin streaked into the lead, pressed by Eidon Beer of Amarillo, who gradually closed the gap and darted past on a tricky turn just off the straightaway on the eighth. Steadily Beer built his lead to 75 yards, but on the final lap, Champlin shaved off 25 yards.

Coming into the straightaway ahead, Beer ran out of gas and as he reached to turn on his reserve tank, he discovered he had been drawing from this all along. Before he could coast across, Champlin zoomed out in front by yards to win in 10 minutes flat for 12 laps. Bob Shaw, Columbus, O., finished third a lap behind, Jack Carr and Hubert Hillman, both of San Angelo, came fourth and fifth. Anderson, with the loss of two laps, finished a close sixth and just out of the money. Anderson had the lowest time trial of 40.8 seconds over the tricky .3 mile course.

Other winners were: 45 novice—Merton Michael, Albuquerque, N. M.; Merle Pitcock, Amarillo; and Richard Hobson, Albuquerque; time 4:45.

80 novice—Richard Hobson; Hubert Hillman, San Angelo; George Strong, Fort Worth; time 4:35.2.

45 amateur—Merle Pitcock; Dick Hobson, Merton Michael; time 4:25.

80 amateur—Dick Hobson; Hubert Hillman; George Strong; time 4:22.

45 expert—Bill Anderson, Houston, Eidon Beer, Amarillo, and Stewart Champlin, Lubbock; time 4:15.

80 expert—Bill Anderson, Stewart Champlin and Eidon Beer; time 4:14.2.

Consolation—J. B. Harrell, Wichita Falls.

American Business Club leaders considered the races a success, and estimated that the club might realize upwards from $150 from the venture. Only casualty at the races was C. O. Nalley, club member, who had a bottle of pop explode in his hand, cutting a finger badly. Nalley was hawking pop in the stands at the time.

Spills were frequent, particularly in the sweepstakes, but the Cosden first aid team never had to go into action.

Unique System Brings Free Entertainment To 70,000

Approximately 70,000 people in Big Spring and Colorado City enjoyed free entertainment during the summer season through a unique system launched first in Colorado City six years ago.

Despite the number flocking to hear and see amateur talent perform in amphitheatres of the two cities, best estimates place the cost per person attending at around one cent for the season.

Perhaps the idea for this unusual and popular venture in community entertainment grew out of the sudden public response to the Major Bowes amateur hours on the radio several years ago. As a consequence, amateur entertainment flourished and J. H. Greene, then manager of the Colorado City chamber of commerce, hit on the idea of a series of these programs. But he had to have a place, and an outdoor theatre seemed to be the best bet. Colorado City put in a WPA project for an amphitheatre on the banks of Lone Wolf Creek in Ruddick Park, which, curiously enough, had been given by the heirs of W. P. Ruddick, of whom Mrs. Greene was a daughter.

There was nothing surprising about the instant success of the programs, but skeptics figured it was a passing fad. What happened? In six years, the programs have seldom drawn less than 3,000 and some have drawn up to 8,000. The sponsoring chamber of commerce conservatively estimated that in the six years, no less than a quarter of a million people have attended the programs.

When Greene moved over to Big Spring as manager of its chamber, he brought the amphitheatre idea with him. Little town stuff, said some of the more staid gentlemen, but Bob Schermerhorn, then chamber president had faith in the manager's idea. He offered to put up $500 toward sound equipment if the city would build an amphitheatre. Finally they won their point and eventually the amphitheatre was completed.

The big stone bowl, accommodating more than 6,500 people, looked much too big. It would, many said, never be filled. The very second program filled it, and the past July 4 saw 10,000 piled in and around it.

When the series shut down here for the second year Friday evening, around 3,000 were on hand. Colorado City's series ended on an equally strong note, so what some thought was a fad apparently has turned out to be an enduring contribution to community entertainment.

Oldtimers Of Mitchell County To Organize

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 2 (SpI)—An organization of Mitchell county oldtimers, designed to preserve the colorful history of this section and to operate in conjunction with the Colorado City Frontier Roundup association, is expected to be an outgrowth of this year's 60th anniversary homecoming during the seventh annual Frontier Roundup which opens Thursday and lasts through Friday, featuring rodeo and somecoming events.

It was as an oldtimers' homecoming that the annual celebration which has now become the Frontier Roundup began in Colorado City ten years ago on the county's 6th anniversary. An oldtimers' homecoming is held in connection with the roundup each September, but there has never been any definite organization of oldtimers.

Plans are to set up the organization at the oldtimers' reception which is being held at the Barcroft hotel by the Bluebonnet club from 4 until 6 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mrs. E. A. Barcroft, owner and manager of the hotel, has offered the hotel for the oldtimers' meeting place during the roundup each year. She is one of the town's bonafide oldtimers, having helped her husband manage the history-famous old St. James hotel for years before it burned in 1912. The Bluebonnet club which is sponsoring the reception this year and the organization movement is largely made up of women who are well-known oldtimers.

Chicago Merchant Gets Defense Power

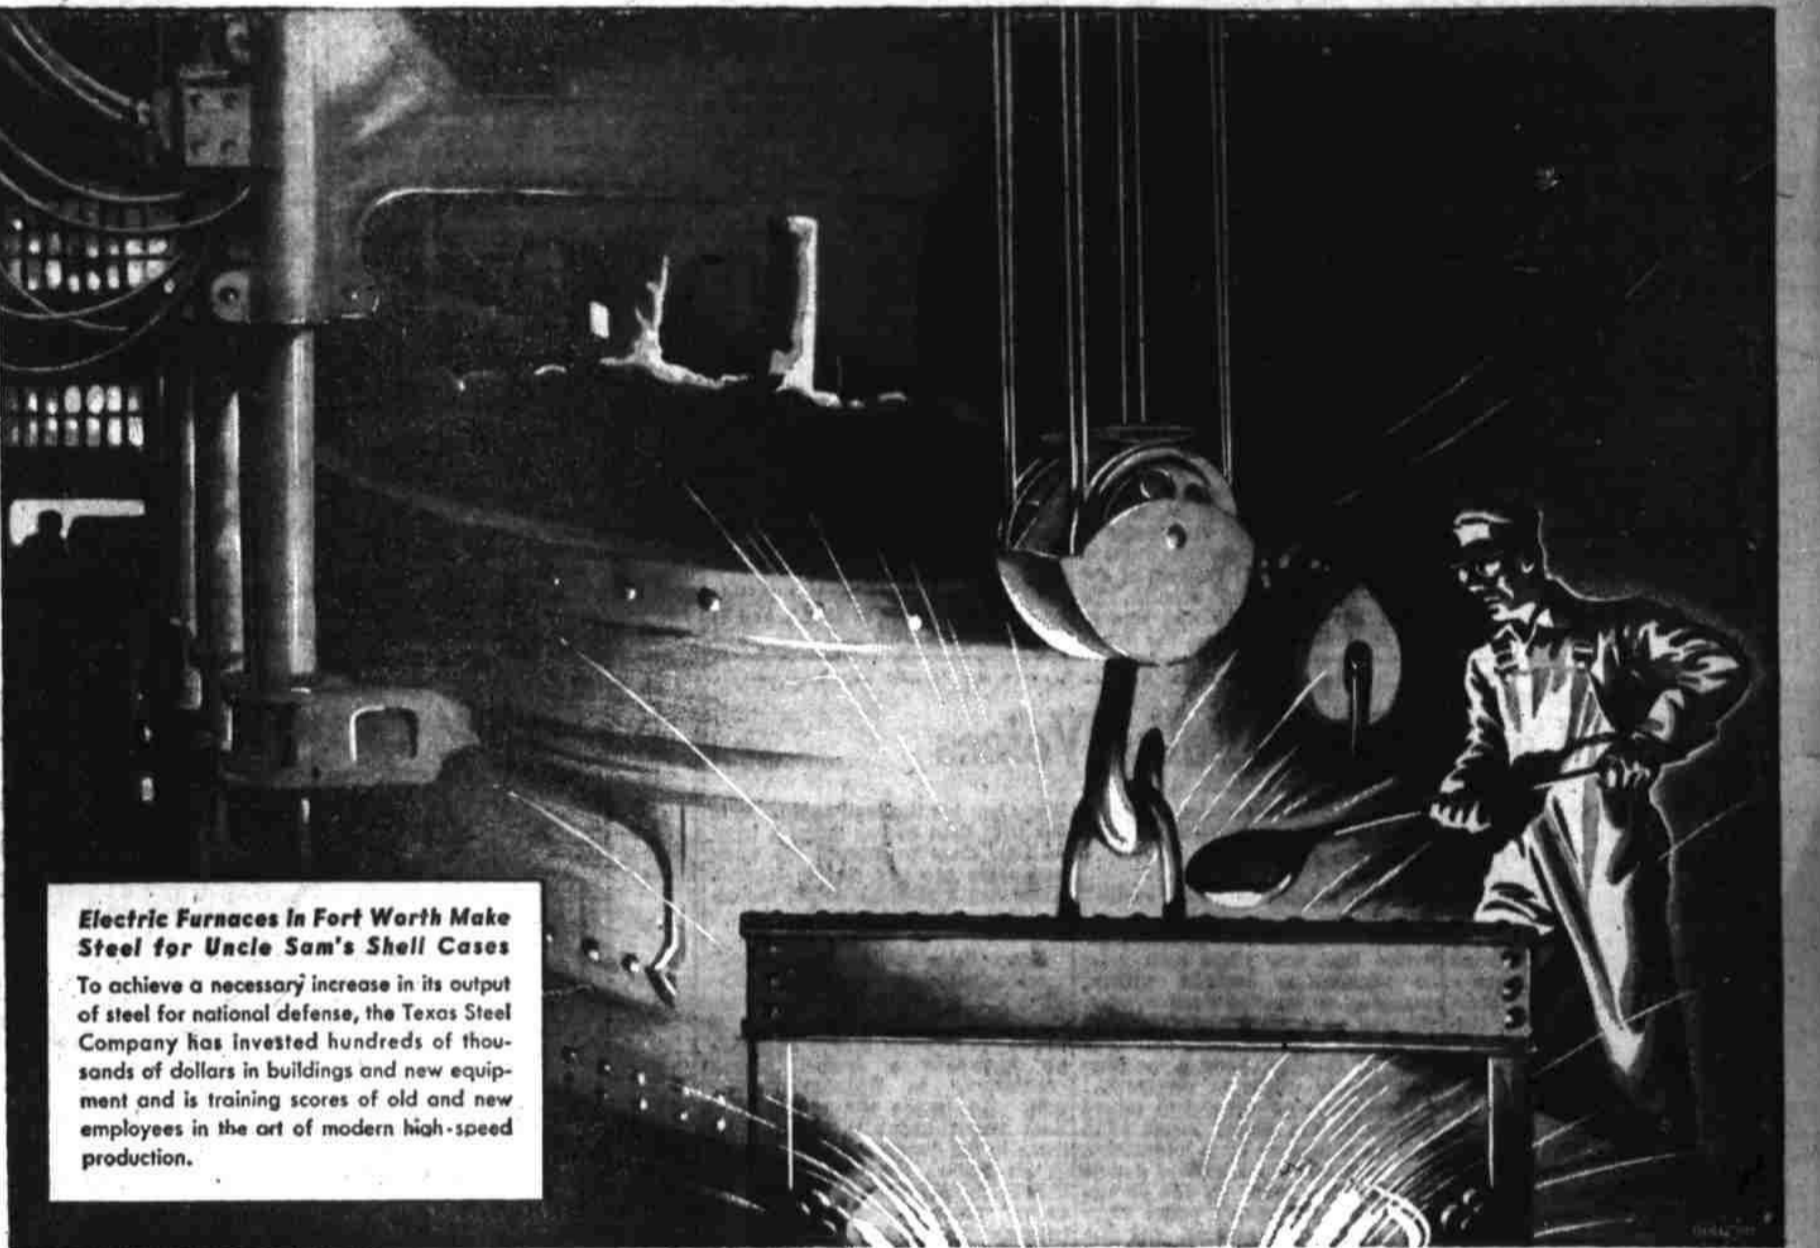

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Well-informed congressional sources disclosed today that Donald M. Nelson, former Chicago merchandise executive, would wield the chief power in the revised defense organization established last week by President Roosevelt.

Although Vice President Wallace was designated as chairman of the new supply, priorities and allocation board, these sources said even Wallace conceded that Nelson was the man who would do the work.

Electric Furnaces in Fort Worth Make Steel for Uncle Sam's Shell Cases

Texas Industry and Electric Power Go to Work for Defense!

There's only one reason why so many people use advertising — they haven't found a cheaper way to do what advertising does

And what it does is save time in finding enough customers to keep factories and stores busy.

There's a chance here for a bright idea. But it's got to be mighty good. Advertising is.

Skilled Manpower Makes Electric Power!
Nearly half of the approximately 1,000 employees of the Texas Electric Service Company have been with the company for ten years or more. These experienced men and women are the real power behind your switch. They know that good electric service doesn't "just happen."

TEXAS STEEL COMPANY adds an electric furnace. Texas Electric Service Company supplies the additional power—four thousand kilowatts of additional energy to make more steel for Uncle Sam's shells. We are glad that our development program permits us to serve this new defense requirement for electricity.

In the past year unprecedented demands for electric service have been made upon us. Even our most generous provisions made to meet future needs are likely to be used to the utmost from now on. Fortunately, every person who uses electric service supplied by Texas Electric Service Company—as well as every one of our approximately 1,000 company employees—appreciates now, more than ever before, the vital value of each kilowatt and is eager to cooperate so that every possible kilowatt generated is put to work where it will do the most good most quickly.

Inspired by this unity of viewpoint, Texas Electric Service Company has its sleeves rolled up and is tackling the biggest job in its history with the biggest, full-time, all-out effort each of its people can make.

Dorothy Thompson Says -- Americans Need To Face Reality Of OWN Desperate Danger In War

By DOROTHY THOMPSON The lack of candor, forthrightness, and factual education concerning the present world situation and America's stake in it, is responsible for a growing apathy in this country which can be disastrous. We speak of "all aid to Britain," and an "arsenal and granary for democracy," thereby putting ourselves in the position of good-natured neighbors handing out gifts to members of the same church.

Editorial -- Labor Must Remove Racketeer Leaders

Yesterday we celebrated Labor Day, and we hope that we shall continue to celebrate this proper holiday with pride. Labor is an important segment of our national life; it deserves fair treatment and its just share of returns from production.

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM By VIVIEN GREY

Chapter Three SNUBBED Sunset was spun like a delicate iridescent cobweb against a pink sky when Jerry's car pulled up at the Qualifier door that afternoon. Jerry had purposely arrived a little late. He wanted to make a grand entrance with Pam at the tea dance, "knock 'em off their pins," he thought to himself.

Continued From Page 6 quickly, and then let a cut-in take her. That was the only thing to do, he thought. Let Lenore and her little band of cats see that Pam could take their men away from them. That would bring them to their knees quicker than anything else. Men to beu than around were a necessity to the winter girl. Jerry stood at the edge of the floor and watched Pam go from one cabin to another. "She's certainly a success," said a smooth feminine voice. "No drafted men there. All eager volunteers." Jerry turned quickly to the girl who had been looking at Pam. Their eyes met. "Oh, Freda! Not you too, I hope?" "Oh, you mean Lenore? I saw that little act and supposed she was pulling a fast one—knowing Lenore." "Yes, knowing Lenore. Someone ought to feed her poison ivy." Jerry's eyes were on Pam again. She was doing a foolish, gay step with one of his friends. He was proud of her smooth expertness and grace.

Opportunities For Jobs Many Here

More job opportunities exist in several fields of work than the Texas State Employment Service office here has clients to notify, O. R. Rodden, local manager, said Monday. During August, he said, private job placements totaled 118, representing approximately 20 per cent increase over the same month a year ago. Consequently, there is an urgent need for workers in these classifications: Farm hands, ranch hands, dairy hands, cotton pickers, clam shell operator, shovel operator, cafe and domestic workers. Rodden urged all persons desiring employment who fit into these and other classifications to contact the TSES office. The need for cotton pickers soon will become acute, he felt. Migration of workers from the valley is not expected until around Sept. 15 and even then the TSES may be pressed to place farmers in touch with sufficient harvest laborers. One out of every 30 drafters was rejected for any service whatsoever because of subnormal eyesight.

Here 'n There

As for police, they never witnessed a quieter holiday. There were only a couple of drunks jalled and one minor automobile crash with no injuries. They tell us that Chester O'Brien is quite a marksman when it comes to playing golf. Recently his tee shot on the 14th at the Muny bounced down in a verdant spot not far off the green, klunked a ground squirrel in the head, terminating that creature's ill-fated life. Stanley Mate comes up with this one. While he and Mrs. Mate were approaching two sailors at an intersection, a car bearing some lovely looking young women cut between them. The old sweet-tweet whistle sounded from the car. Amazed, one of the sailors shook his head and observed: "Boy, that's news." The city water office now looks like the wide open spaces. During the holidays, employees removed the iron grill which gave the counter a caged effect. Now there's only a good wide counter between employees and customers. E. G. Peach, Colorado City, came by the navy recruiting office before leaving to report at Dallas Tuesday. With him he had a friend, so it looks as if H. P. Jones, naval recruiting officer, has another prospect. Denver Dunn, deputy sheriff, was in Oplin, near Baird, today attending the funeral of his uncle, Tom Wagner, who died Sunday. Wagner was the father of Tommy Wagner, member of the Clovis baseball club.
