McLean Tigers Drop Game to Class A Amarillo Team

McLean Tigers met defeat at Amarillo, but it was an enjoyable game on the part of all except the substitutes. All of the substitutes on the team saw service last Friday when in a pure sportsmanship the Tigers fought a good game but were unable to do much against the Sandies. The second string of a match for the locals. The final score was 39 to 0. It was a very warm day for football and the heat was a disadvantage to the Tigers, this being their first game under the sun.

There were several high spots in the game for the Tigers. Nicholson scored several good defensive plays, including a try for extra point on the kicking route. Overton blocked through the first string line and Cleson back 15 yards. Watson and Hess had their day with the tackles, and the line had a day, but nevertheless showed back and won the hearts of the Amarillo fans with their plucky and sportsmanship. Laswell and Maxton carried the brunt of the offense.

A significant fact on the game was that only 23 yards were gained by the Amarillo team. Allen substituted liberally and showed weaknesses with his play as the game progressed. The game was very beneficial from the standpoint of experience.

Maxton was taken from the game by a very painful injury. An examination disclosed that his shoulder was dislocated, but if this improves as it should, he will be able to finish the season.

The game was marred by many fouls but the majority of them were in favor of the Tigers. The Amarillo team drew 20 penalties for 110 yards, and the Tigers drew four fouls for 20 yards.

1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold

VICTIMS OF FUTURE ACCIDENTS

I'm starting a new club. It's the V. F. A. A.—or Victims of Future Automobile Accidents.

Instead of going out and getting hurt haphazardly on a sunny Sunday afternoon and coming home with any old injury, we V. F. A. A. boys will try to name our injury in advance, and we may give medals to members who come nearest to calling their shots.

I'm going out for a concussion-of-the-brain ribbon. I've already made arrangements for two months in the hospital and have sent myself some flowers, and have set aside a thousand dollars for expenses.

(We V. F. A. A. members have to pay ourselves our own bonus—and we pay it in advance so it will hurt more).

The whole point is, we think it's smarter to plan our accidents than simply to have accidents as most bochs do.

All we have to do is to drive carelessly for about 20 seconds on a curve or hill or straightaway. I'm planning to have my accident by passing some cars going up a hill.

Want to join?

Here's the menu. Take your choice. Last year, non-fatal injuries in automobile accidents were as follows:

Injury	Persons Injured
Fractured Skull	12,530
Fractured Spine	1,790
Other Fractures	74,310
Concussion of the Brain	11,320
Severe General Shock with Contusions and Lacerations	191,770
Shock (less severe) and Shakeup	53,800
Internal Injuries	13,430
Other Injuries (Sprains, Dislocations, Wrenches, etc.)	125,230
Total	895,280

PIONEER STUDY CLUB HAS PROGRAM ON HOME

The Home was the subject for study by the Pioneer Study Club, when members of that body met at the home of Mrs. H. W. Finley on last Thursday afternoon.

Interests in the home were discussed by Mrs. S. A. Cousins. Mrs. C. O. Greene described kitchens old and new, and Mrs. W. E. Bogan portrayed the perfect hostess.

In a short business session, it was decided to start a club library, and Mrs. J. W. Butler was elected librarian.

After the program, guests were privileged to view the newly arranged kitchen and breakfast room of the hostess, all agreeing that hers was the perfect kitchen. After the delicious plate lunch was served, Mrs. Finley was also acclaimed the perfect hostess.

Present were: Mesdames Thurman Adkins, C. B. Batson, W. E. Bogan, Willie Boyett, J. W. Butler, S. A. Cousins, C. A. Cryer, Cecil G. Goff, C. O. Greene, John Harris, T. A. Massay, Roger Powers, J. H. Sharp, Jim Back, and the hostess.

C. J. CASH TO SHAMROCK

C. J. Cash and family have moved to Shamrock, where Mr. Cash will have charge of the wholesale agency of the Magnolia Petroleum Co., for Shamrock and McLean.

Mr. Cash has had the wholesale agency here for a number of years, and the increase in business made the change necessary.

Mrs. Cash was honored by a handkerchief and miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Pete Fulbright, Tuesday evening.

ALANREED GIRL HONORED

Miss Annie Lou Darnell of Alanreed, who is a senior in Howard Payne College at Brownwood, was one of the 19 students of the college to qualify for membership in the Lincoln Scholarship Society.

The membership is chosen each year from the highest ten per cent of the classes, based on scholastic standing.

George McCarty, former Tiger star, will play on the Altus (Okla.) Junior College Pirate team when they meet the Canyon College Buffaloes at Shamrock, Thursday night of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Deen have returned from a trip to Fort Worth and Dallas.

TIGERS WILL PLAY WELLINGTON FRIDAY

The McLean Tigers will meet the Wellington Skyrocks Friday night on the Skyrocket field. The game will be called at 8 o'clock.

Coach Allen has been working on the boys all week, trying to get them in shape for this game. The team came out of the Amarillo game in bad condition physically. Watson, star quarter back, was injured and will see very little if any service Friday night. This is the only serious injury the Tiger squad has at present.

The Skyrocks have the most powerful team in this conference, and are slated to win the conference with little trouble. This is the most crucial game of the Tiger season and they will need all the support possible from local fans. If you want a win this week, back those Tigers with your presence Friday night in Wellington.

VANNOY BUYS SHOE SHOP

A deal was consummated last Thursday whereby John B. Vannoy became the owner of the Service Shoe Shop, buying the shop from F. E. Stewart.

Mr. Vannoy operated a jeweler's shop here for many years before becoming postmaster, and will install a jeweler's outfit and a stock of jewelry, and keep a competent man for the shoe repair work.

Mr. Stewart will remain in charge of the shoe repairs for the present.

Miss Gaylord McDonald of Amarillo, Mrs. L. D. Wiegman of Claude, and Mrs. J. P. Dickinson of McLean left Tuesday for a visit at Tishamingo, Okla.

Mrs. Bill Burton returned to her home in Hobart, Okla., Tuesday. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Bryan, and baby.

O. G. Stokely was in Pampa the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thut of Lefors were in McLean one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Greene visited in Amarillo over the week end.

Carl Carpenter made a trip to Amarillo last week.

W. W. Boyd was in Texola, Okla., Monday.

Mrs. Creed Bogan was a patient in a Pampa hospital last week.

Hobby Appling of Abilene visited home folks here over the week end.

Red Cross First Aid Station to Be Maintained

At a meeting of the executive board of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, held last Thursday afternoon, it was decided to buy supplies and maintain a Red Cross highway first aid station at Alanreed.

According to field representative E. G. Griffin of St. Louis, who was present, there are only 28 such stations in the state at present. Cecil G. Goff was appointed chairman of a committee to put on this work, in connection with First Aid Chairman W. E. Bogan.

The board also voted to subscribe for the Red Cross Courier to be placed in the high school, ward school and Alanreed school libraries, and to the scoutmaster of each local troop.

This year's roll call quota was set at 150 by the local chapter. Herebefore the quota has been set by the national organization, but a change was recommended this year.

Last year 97 members were secured at roll call. Ninety-four joined in 1934, 119 in 1933, 74 in 1932, 95 in 1931, and 121 in 1930.

The national objective for this year is five million members; for the state, 154,000. Some 120,000 were enrolled in Texas last year.

This year's roll call will begin in McLean on Nov. 12 and close Nov. 20.

Thursday's meeting was in charge of Chairman Boyd Meador, and the following were present: Lee A. Wilson, C. O. Greene, Jesse J. Cobb, Cecil G. Goff, Reep Landers, W. W. Boyd and T. A. Landers.

MRS. ROBERTSON STUDY CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Herman Robertson entertained members of the Junior Progressive Study Club at her home west of town, Friday afternoon.

A travel program was enjoyed, with imaginary trips through the ruins country, which included New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah; and a cruise along the Mediterranean and Egypt and the Nile.

The house was decorated with Halloween colors, and the color scheme was continued in the refreshments.

Nine members were present, these being: Mesdames Leslie Jones, Norman Johnston, Murray Boston, John Hildreth, Travis Stokes, Roy Barker, Vernon Johnston, Frank Howard, and the hostess.

LIONS BUY PIANO

Lion Sitter reported the purchase of a piano for the Lions Club, at the regular luncheon held at the Meador Cafe Tuesday.

Past President W. E. Bogan reported the resignation of Martin Murdock as scoutmaster for the Lions boy scout troop, and the appointment of Sam Branch as scoutmaster.

Lion Boyd Meador expressed appreciation for the fine silver service wedding present given by the club.

Vice President Creed Bogan presided in the absence of the Boss Lion, Chas. Barnes of Childress was presented as a guest of Vester Smith, by Lion Tamer Erwin.

Tail Twister Cryer was especially chonxious in collecting fines. Lion Bentley paid a fine for trying to make a "good" speech over the radio, and Lion Adkins was fined for hugging a lamp post at Pampa Monday night. However, it was voted to refund the fine when Lion Adkins explained that he saw a light and was trying to get upstairs.

Lion Smith was asked to report on Sally Rand's ranch at Fort Worth, but said that in his nine visits to the celebration he had not seen anything. The last time he was piloting Secretary Holloway, but neither Lion could remember seeing anything worth reporting. Both gentlemen paid fines to the tail twister for poor observation. Lion W. E. Bogan said he used field glasses at the football game, but forgot to take them to the celebration. Several Lions asked to borrow the glasses.

FIRE AT WEST HOME

Fire destroyed the house and contents of the L. E. West home last Thursday about 12:30 p. m.

The family was away at the time, and by the time the firemen got the flames under control, it was almost a total loss, partially covered by insurance.

G. C. BOSWELL
President Weatherford College

In a note to the editor, Mr. Boswell says: "I note that Boyd Meador wants my picture in the paper, so here it comes. I am glad he remembers me. I saw him away from home recently and he acted as if he had never seen me anywhere."

PAMPA FLOWER SHOW HAS MCLEAN JUDGES

Mrs. D. A. Davis, president of the McLean Garden Club; Mrs. W. L. Campbell and T. A. Landers judged the Pampa club's flower show at Pampa last Friday, the judges being complimented with a luncheon at the Schneider Hotel.

The News editor was one of the judges last year, and found the show much improved and the rules better from both the exhibitor's and judge's standpoint.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY PARTY TUESDAY

Members and friends of the young people's department of the Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a party at the church basement Tuesday evening.

The Amigos class, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, teacher, were hosts to the Fellowship class, C. H. Leeds, teacher.

Games were played and refreshments of cocoa and cookies were served to a large crowd.

PTA TO MEET TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the PTA will be held at the high school auditorium tonight (Thursday), beginning at 8 o'clock.

A program on the topic of Good Times in the Family, will be given, as follows:

Devotional—Mrs. Pete Fulbright.

Families That Play Together Stay Together—Mrs. R. L. Appling.

Special Music—Mrs. Willie Boyett.

New officers will be elected, and everyone interested is urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Gray visited in San Angelo Sunday. They report the recent flood damage to run into thousands of dollars, many homes being completely washed away, and repairs showing little progress toward restoration.

Mr. and Mrs. Charnall Miller of Wheeler visited the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Wilkerson, the first of the week.

C. G. Nicholson and J. A. Sparks made a business trip to Pampa Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Batson visited the Texas Centennial at Dallas last week end.

Billie McCoy was in Pampa Tuesday.

E. E. Hudgins was in Pampa the first of the week.

Roy McMullen was in Pampa Tuesday.

Alva Woods was in Pampa Tuesday.

Sam Gulky of Tulsa, Okla., was in McLean this week on business.

New City Hall Discussed at Mass Meeting

A mass meeting composed of business men, members of the school board and the city council, met last Thursday evening to discuss plans looking toward a PWA project for a city hall and fire station at McLean.

Plans were shown for a building, with basement, to join the present fire station on the east, but discussion brought out the fact that larger rents could be obtained from the office space in the proposed building if it was located on Main street; and D. N. Massay, Witt Springer and T. A. Landers were appointed to secure as low a price as possible on the lots west of the city jail.

It was pointed out that in addition to the saving of rent to the city, office space could be rented that would return any sum the city may be out on the project, in less than three years' time.

A project is needed to take care of relief workers, and the city would only have to furnish the money necessary for the building.

The basement would add very little to the total cost of the building and would add to the income of unskilled laborers. In the proposed plan the basement would be 28 by 48 feet and could be used as an auditorium.

The mass meeting was in charge of Mayor Davis, and others present included: W. E. Bogan, Boyd Meador, O. G. Stokely, Dr. C. B. Batson, C. O. Greene, D. N. Massay, Dr. H. W. Finley, W. W. Boyd, M. W. Banta, Pete Fulbright, Witt Springer, J. A. Sparks, and T. A. Landers.

MRS. WILLIAMS FUNERAL SERVICES TUESDAY

Funeral services were held at Hillcrest cemetery Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Union Savannah Williams, who died at her home in Wellington, at the age of 65 years, 10 months and 20 days.

Services were in charge of Rev. W. A. Erwin, minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Williams was a former resident here, and has children buried in Hillcrest.

Among the surviving children are Abbit Williams, Pueblo, Colo.; Ilet Williams, Brady; Mrs. Orna Sullivan, Lawton, Okla.; Mrs. Earlie Marshall, Mrs. Vanna Smith, Las Animas, Colo. Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Marshall and Ilet Williams were present for the services.

Rice Funeral Home was in charge.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. J. H. Sharp was hostess at a party Monday, honoring the 8th birthday of her son, Welbourne.

Games were played and refreshments of punch and cake served. Eight pink candles in green holders graced the big white birthday cake.

Guests included: Jan Black, Dickie Andrews, Duane Christian, Gwendolyn Wilson, James Carpenter, Ann Wilson, Ann Bogan, Patty Ruth Rippey, Patricia O'Rourke, Mary Katherine Brooks, Jackie Brooks, Billie Thacker, Lois Thacker, Bobby Dyer, Grace Marie Sharp.

MARGIE FOWLER HURT

Margie Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wib Fowler, was painfully bruised in a car accident last week.

Alvis Woods was driving the car, and swerved to miss hitting a boy on a bicycle, striking the girl who was on the sidewalk.

The News acknowledges with thanks an invitation to the annual homecoming, barbecue and football game, at the West Texas State Teachers College in Canyon, on Oct. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Grogan of Ramsdell were in McLean Tuesday.

I. S. Jameson of Pampa was in McLean Tuesday.

A. A. Callahan returned Tuesday from Mineral Wells, where he has been for his health.

Creed Bogan was in Pampa the first of the week.

R. H. Ruth of Amarillo was in McLean one day this week.

Dewey Campbell was in Pampa the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Grogan of Ramsdell were in McLean Tuesday.

Current Events IN REVIEW

Senator Borah Maintains Independent Attitude

SENATOR WILLIAM E. BORAH of Idaho, whose attitude in the Presidential campaign is a matter of great interest to all parties, has declared he would confine his attention to state matters; but then, being irked by some criticism from Republicans he went further and said he was "going after the Republican party." The veteran said he had been accused of not being regular.

"Well, what is a regular?" he asked. "A regular is a man with no ideas, who waits for someone to tell him what to do. My idea of being regular is in doing what you believe to be right in the interests of the people you represent."

"Let this be understood—I'm telling all parties, Republican, Democratic, Union—I'm going to advocate the things I believe in whether they cross party lines or not."

Pessimism Prevails at Last League Session

PESSIMISM and discontent marked the final session of the League of Nations assembly, the leaders admitting that little had been accomplished. Carlos Saavedra Lamas of Argentina, president of the assembly, even asked if he might not raise the question whether "civilization is on the verge of a final breakup."

The question of reforming the league covenant provoked a bitter controversy on whether nonmember states should be consulted. Russia was understood to be anxious particularly to bar German influence and achieved a minor triumph since no definite action to solicit nonmember co-operation was taken. A committee of twenty-eight was named to study reform proposals.

The assembly approved reports of its economic and disarmament committees. The economic report carried a British proposal to create a commission to study accessibility of raw materials. The United States and other nonmembers would be invited to participate. The report of the disarmament committee approved the reconvening of the world disarmament conference at an early date.

Disorders in Palestine Are Dropped by the Arabs

ARABS of Palestine, who had been on "strike" for 175 days in protest against unrestricted immigration of Jews, were persuaded by the British to call off the strike, which had been accompanied by great disorders and the killing of several hundred persons. The Arab high committee issued an appeal to Arabs throughout the country to return to work quietly, and this command was obeyed generally. Sir Arthur Wauchope, British high commissioner, was said to have informed the British government that it was now safe for the royal commission of investigation to begin its work of inquiring into the grievances of the Arabs.

According to a Hebrew newspaper of Jerusalem, the Arabs have arranged for backing by Italian Fascists for their aspirations. Also, the Moslem authority administering Islamic church property is reported to be prepared to sell Catholics a Christian holy place on Mount Zion.

Austria Private Armies Forced to Dissolve

KURT SCHUSCHNIGG, chancellor of Austria, is taking his place among the European dictators. In order to consolidate military power in his own hands, he decreed the dissolution of all private armies, this being aimed especially at the Fascist Heimwehr headed by Prince Ernst von Starhemberg. The prince directed his followers to obey the edict, and Major Fey, Starhemberg's rival for control of the Heimwehr, called on the elements recognizing his leadership to preserve order.

The chancellor's order also affected his own Catholic storm troops. All the private troops were ordered consolidated with the Austrian state militia. This would increase Austria's official armed forces to about 158,000 men. The dissolution decree met strong opposition within the cabinet, and was voted after three ministers had walked out.

Schuschnigg's task now is to actually disarm the private armies. If he succeeds in doing this, his complete control over Austria may be conceded. It is recalled that the Heimwehr was ordered to disarm in 1931, that the government seized its arms, and that a year later some 40,000 Heimwehr men appeared fully armed and uniformed. Von Starhemberg may not be really squelched this time, either. It is a certainty that he has a powerful friend in Premier Mussolini of Italy.

Typhoon in Philippines Kills Many Persons

ONE of the worst typhoons in the history of the Philippines swept across Luzon island, killing scores of persons and destroying villages. At least 310 perished and the authorities feared the death list would be much larger for four hundred were reported missing. Eighty-two bodies were recovered from the city of Cabanatuan alone.

Waterway Money Allotted for Atlantic Coast

MEMBERS of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways association, assembling in Tinton, N. J., for the annual convention, were informed by President Roosevelt that funds totaling $24,000,000 have been allotted for waterway improvements along the Atlantic coast during 1937. In a letter to President J. Hampton Moore of the association, to be read to the convention, Mr. Roosevelt also said:

"This year has been noteworthy in witnessing the completion of the 1,435 mile inside route of the intra-coastal waterway from Trenton to Miami. Much credit for this accomplishment belongs to your association and it is to be congratulated therefor. Other waterway projects of permanent value to the nation sponsored by your organization have been completed or are progressing in a satisfactory manner."

John L. Lewis States Labor Peace Terms

WILLIAM GREEN, president of the A. F. of L., who had just been calling on President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y., told the newspapermen that the prospects for peace between the warring factions in the federation were better and that those participating in the controversy were becoming "more temperate." However, that same evening John L. Lewis, the dynamic leader of the Committee for Industrial Organization, rather dashed the aforesaid prospects for peace. In Washington he laid down, as the only basis for restoration of peace in the ranks of organized labor, a program consisting of these two propositions:

1. Revocation by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor of the order suspending ten C. I. O. unions on charges of insurrection.
2. Isolation of certain mass production industries which would be organized strictly on Lewis' "one big union" theory.

It had been stated that David Dubinsky, head of one of the suspended unions, had submitted a compromise peace proposal, but Lewis told the correspondents that he knew of no change in feeling between the battling factions; that he had made no move for peace and contemplated none; that the C. I. O. drive to unionize the steel industry was "proceeding satisfactorily" and that the Dubinsky proposal was similar to the one previously offered to and rejected by the A. F. of L. council.

Russia Angrily Warns Fascist Nations

HELP given the Spanish insurgents by Fascist countries so enraged soviet Russia that she gave notice that, unless it ceased she would free herself from any obligations to the agreement for neutrality. The representatives of the 27 nations on the international committee of non-intervention in the Spanish war were about to meet in London, and Moscow's challenge caused a real sensation. Moiseyevich Kagan, soviet delegate on the committee, specifically named Portugal, Italy and Germany as the offenders and called for an investigation. It is believed that if Russia is not satisfied in this matter she will send airplanes and other war material to the Spanish government.

The committee refused to take any action on the Russian complaint, averring that the charges were not specific enough.

Spanish Fascists pushed their lines so closely around Madrid that they called on the government to surrender the capital immediately and thus save it from a destructive bombardment. An airplane fleet showered the city with circulars telling the citizens that further resistance was useless. One of the most threatening of General Franco's advances was directed at Aranjuez, whose capture would cut off Madrid's food supply from the Mediterranean.

Floyd Gibbons Adventurers' Club

Hello Everybody!

"Animal Man" By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

WELL, sir, I am pleased to note that Old Lady Adventure is still busy initiating new members in this club of ours. The newest is Distinguished Adventurer Edwin da Costa of New Haven, Conn. And Ed writes: "Many times while reading the stories in your column I have wished I might have some weird experience. Well, by Jove, Floyd, read this one."

You see, Ed is back from South America with the tale of just the sort of experience he'd always wished he could have. And now it's his turn in the story-tellers' circle, and he's going to dish it out to us.

Ed went to South America last November. Cold weather doesn't agree with him and he'd heard it sometimes got a little warmish down near the Equator. He landed in Brazil, hung around the coast for a while, and then took a six-week trip up the Amazon with some English explorers. Did Ed get into an adventure with those explorers? He did not. Explorers like quiet, peaceful lives compared with us folks who live in civilized parts of the world. Ed got into that adventure AT A HOTEL.

Hotel Whose Guests Lived in Stucco Huts

After he left his explorer friends, Ed landed in Pernambuco and put up at the Derby hotel. "The hotel," Ed says, "was located about five miles outside the city limits, in an isolated section. Why they ever built it there, I don't know. Like all the other hotel buildings in mountain sections of Brazil, the one contained only an office, dining room and dance hall. The guests lived in individual stucco huts, called chalets, located away from the main building near the jungle's edge. The space between the main building and the chalets was filled with hibiscus shrubs, swaying palms, and other tropical plants of rare beauty, but at night one felt very lonely, all alone in one's stucco hut, and I was pleased to make acquaintance of another American who was also stopping at the hotel."

The other fellow was a man named Kellmer—a South American representative of a Texas oil concern. He and Ed struck up quite a friendship, and together they spent the long evenings strolling through the gardens, smoking and talking.

One evening at dinner, Kellmer told Ed about the Becho—or animal man. He was a strange creature whom the natives were all talking about—a lone robber who used an animal pelt for a disguise. HE HID IN DARK PLACES TO PONCE OUT ON HIS VICTIMS. HE CARRIED A BIG REVOLVER AND HE WASN'T AT ALL SLOW ABOUT SHOOTING PEOPLE WHO DIDN'T DO WHAT HE TOLD THEM.

Decided They'd Better Have Revolvers.

It all sounded like a native's tall story to Ed and Kellmer. At first they laughed about it. But as the days went by and each one brought a new tale of some atrocity by the Becho, they began to wonder. And one day when the rumor was going around that the Becho had killed another man, Kellmer bought two revolvers and presented one to Ed.

A few more days rolled by. Then, one night while Ed was sitting in his chalet, he heard a knock on the door—heard Kellmer outside calling, "For Pete's sake, Ed, let me in!" Kellmer stood there, clad in a black-and-white zebra-striped bathrobe, his revolver in his hand. "THE BECHO'S ON THE GROUNDS," HE GASPED. "I HEARD VOICES AND FOOTSTEPS. LET'S TRY TO NAB HIM!"

It Looked Like Taps for Kellmer.

Ed got his own gun. He and Kellmer started a search of the hotel grounds. Says Ed: "The palms swished spookily in the breeze. The night was pitch dark, and before long both of us began to shake like hula dancers. Presently the sound of hoofbeats came to my ears. Then they faded. We secreted ourselves near the great iron gate by the roadside and waited. Suddenly, a shot rang out, shattering the stillness of the night. All at once we found that we were in no mood to be shot at by banquets. Separating we ran like deer, Kellmer for his chalet and I for mine."

Safe inside his hut, Ed nervously lit a cigar and awaited developments. They weren't long in coming. Somewhere outside he heard a loud jabbering in the native Spanish and Portuguese dialect. He looked out of the window and saw a crowd of people and half a dozen horsemen of the Guardia Civil grouped around Kellmer's chalet. He dashed over to see what was wrong and arrived just in time to see the native policeman dragging Kellmer forcibly from his chalet. Kellmer saw Ed. "ED," HE HOWLED, "TELL THESE NITWITS WHO I AM. THEY WANT TO STRING ME UP!"

Ed accosted the captain of the guard. "What do you want with this man?" he asked. "Senor," replied the captain, "we have caught the Becho." Ed's eyes opened wider. "Why that's not the Becho," he protested. "That man is a guest at the hotel!"

"Becho in a Black and White Skin."

The captain shook his head. "Senor," he said, "the hotel watchman positively saw the Becho at the gate in a black and white skin. He fired a shot in the air, and the Becho ran into this chalet. He is the only man in the place, and if he is not the Becho, where did the Becho disappear to?"

For a moment, Ed was puzzled. Then he remembered Kellmer's black-and-white striped bathrobe and started to laugh. "TLL SHOW YOU THE ANIMAL SKIN THAT WATCHMAN SAW," he told the captain. And he went in and got the robe. "Senor Kellmer was with me," he explained. "We were hunting the Becho too, when the watchman saw him and took the bathrobe for an animal skin."

Kellmer was released then, and the police rode away with as much pomp and dignity as they could muster. "And the next day," says Ed, "I saw Kellmer coaxing a bonfire near his chalet and asked him what he was doing. He said, 'I'm burning that bathrobe—that's all.'"

U. S. Naval Academy

The United States Naval Academy is maintained to train young men to be officers in the Navy. After four years of practical and theoretical seamanship, tactics and gunnery, each graduate is made an ensign. An ensign in the Navy is equivalent in rank to a second lieutenant in the Army.

Lights at Sea

At sea at night a red light can be recognized as a red light as far as it can be seen, which is usually from three to four times farther than a green light appears green. On the other hand, a green light can be seen, although its color cannot be distinguished, many times farther than a red light.—Collier's Weekly.

Yes, a Queer World Supply and Demand If All Worked Hard The Biggest Brain

How Queer is our world! Fascists, led by Sir Oswald Mosley of the English

Arthur Brisbane

Fascists and the crowd that does not want fascism, hundreds were hurt.

England is becoming modernized. One of her race track gambling-gangsters, murdered "American fashion" in the course of gangster business, was honored with a funeral that would make Chicago or New York stare.

Mussolini does not believe that old "supply and demand" is necessarily omnipotent. While cutting four per cent from the value of Italian money, he forbids any increase in prices, any rent increase for two years. That experiment will be watched with interest. The word "money," most important in the world to many, has less real meaning than any other word in the dictionary, nobody knowing anything about it.

A new law in Paraguay compels every able-bodied man to work, whether he wants to or not. Here men that want jobs can't get them. There men can get jobs, but don't want them.

The general idea is good, but if all able-bodied men had been compelled to work always the human race would still be far back in the dark ages. One of the greatest Greeks said truly that bodily slavery was necessary, because it gave leisure to a few, leisure made thought possible and thought created progress.

If all men had worked hard, by compulsion, there would have been no deliberate thinking. Slavery would be necessary now for the world's progress had not machines taken the place of slaves.

Scientists of the Smithsonian Institution announce discovery by Dr. Hrdlicka in the Aleutian Islands, off the coast of Alaska, of a skull that once held the biggest brain on record, excepting that of the Russian novelist Turgenieff, who had a brain cavity of 2,030 cubic centimeters. The biggest American brain belonged to Daniel Webster, 2,000 cubic centimeters.

But brain size and weight are not everything. Beethoven, with a 1,750 cubic centimeter skull, will outlive in importance Webster, the French naturalist Cuvier, and other "big brains."

Adaptation to usefulness is the important thing. It is said that the eye of the eagle is twice as heavy as the eagle's brain.

Wine bottled in Germany hereafter will have, instead of a cork, a plug of German wood.

To help make Germany independent of the outside world, the use of cork, that does not grow in Germany, is forbidden. This will save 10,000,000 marks a year, spent abroad for cork.

German wood, according to authorities, is cheaper, better, resists breakage, acid, alkali, and eliminates cork taste.

One question is, will the wooden cork swell up at the lower end sufficiently to overcome the pressure of gas in a champagne bottle?

At Jonesville, Va., Rev. T. Anderson, in a demonstration of faith, allowed poisonous serpents to bite him three times, assuring his congregation that they could not harm him.

A copperhead moccasins snake bit him twice on the right hand; a rattlesnake once on the left.

Unfortunately Rev. Mr. Anderson, member of the Holiness persuasion, died soon afterward.

We go up and down quickly in the United States, particularly in new enterprises. William Fox, once one of the most energetic, successful of moving picture men, now a bankrupt, tells the court that in 1930 he was worth one hundred million dollars; now he has only "odds and ends," meaning only a few hundred thousands, here and there.

Our South American neighbor, Nicaragua, forbids all slot machines and other gambling devices in that country. All must be destroyed.

Nicaragua's government says such machines teach children to gamble, and their owners are parasites of the worst kind, making a profit of 60 cents on every dollar.

It's the Talk of the Quilting Bee

It's most certainly the talk of the quilting bee—this quaint apple pattern! And why would it be? With nearly all the pieces the same width, you cut your fabric into strips and snip off pieces as needed. Easy made, you start from the center and sew round and round till the block is done.

In pattern 5591 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration for cutting, sewing and finishing together with yardage diagram of quilt to help you cut the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of the block which serves as a guide for piecing the patches and suggesting contrasting materials.

To obtain this pattern, send 5 cents in stamps or coins (we prefered) to The Sewing Society, Household Arts Dept., 14 Fourteenth St., New York, N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

Always Interruption

So long as there is work there will be interruptions—in its progress. The minister work on his sermon, the man at his desk, the woman in household duties—all must attend these calls to turn aside from work in hand. And it is a person's character growth in these timely or untimely interruptions without any break in temper or courtesy.

A young student who was urged to call often upon Paul Brooks in his study, said writer that he could never learn from the Bishop's words that the highest busy man was ever too busy to receive him. To bear interruption serenely is an opportunity for self-control not to be looked.

CHRISTIANITY AS LOVE

Text, Acts 8:11-14; 1 Cor. 13:1-13

Be careful when driving by the school or near a group of children. It does not make much difference how much children are cautioned about crossing streets, etc.; at times they cast precaution aside. Slow down when passing children—don't kill a child.

At the last PTA meeting it was voted to buy the ward school a first aid kit. The kit cost $10.00 and is very complete in equipment for all ailments that might beset school children. It contains castor oil, gauze, adhesive tape, handpads, aspirin, bromo quinine, ammonia, boric acid, iodine, tourniquet, cotton, tongue depressors, applicators, splints, scissors, tweezers, measuring glass, and other useful articles.

All this material is packed in a kit so that it can be carried from room to room, and it is very handy for the teachers. This kit will aid considerably in keeping down infection and teaching the value of first aid soon after a child is hurt.

The principal and the teachers of the ward school wish to thank the PTA for this contribution to the care of the children's health and welfare.

New playground equipment was issued to the supervising teachers last week and organized play is now under way. Six new indoor balls and bats were bought and the different groups have been divided into teams and the competition is very keen among these groups. Miss Heath has charge of third and fourth grade boys; Mrs. Harris, third and fourth girls; Miss Still, fifth girls; Mr. Murdock, fifth and sixth boys; Mr. Dotson, sixth and seventh boys; Miss Newman, sixth and seventh girls; Mrs. Vogle, first grade children; Mrs. Noel and Miss Bessire, second grade children. These groups are separate and supervised by the respective teachers.

When the J. F. King farm home burned, all the belongings of the family went up in smoke. Two of the children are in the ward school, so their schoolmates surprised the family with a shower. There are five children in the family, so the shower consisted of clothes for the children as well as for the parents. There was also some bedding, fruits, canned goods and other household goods. The children enjoyed helping this family and their fellow schoolmates in their time of need.

The ward school will have a few news items that are of interest to the ward school pupils as well as the parents of the pupils. The reporters of the different rooms will work on the staff, as well as others interested in newspaper work. The reporters are: Inez Stanley, Wayne Back, Douglas Jarrell, W. J. Hamner, Bill Carpenter and Evonne Floyd. A staff will be appointed in the near future.

Margie Fowler was hit by a car driven by Alvis Woods last Thursday in an unavoidable accident. The Woods car swerved to miss a boy on a bicycle, and sideswiped the Fowler girl as she was crossing the street. Although she was not seriously injured, she was very painfully bruised and has not been able to return to school. Her home room sent her some flowers and it is hoped that she will soon be able to return to school.

The room mothers met last Monday and decided to have a contest among the rooms for PTA membership. The room having the highest percentage of members by the November meeting will receive $5 to be used in buying the necessary articles for the room to make the schoolroom atmosphere more appealing and pleasant to the pupils. The mothers also decided to entertain the children at four parties during the school year: at Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

WARD SCHOOL OFFICERS

The room mothers and officers of the different classes have been elected and have assumed their respective responsibilities. The room mothers have already made plans for entertainments for the different classes and are canvassing the parents of the pupils in the PTA membership contest.

The officers of the different classes have duties that increase their responsibility in the classroom. Their duties are the same as regular officers holding such positions in any other like organization.

The ward school is well under way and highly organized, and a better school year is anticipated.

The teachers, room mothers, and class officers are as follows: Beginners—home room teacher, Mrs. Marie Vogle; room mothers, Mrs. Ruel Smith, Mrs. Tom O'Rourke and Mrs. Harold Rippy.

Beginners and second grade—home room teacher, Miss Mildred Bessire;

TEACHER RETIREMENT

By John Harding

Article 3

A retirement system is a business like plan whereby an employer may retire employees on a life income when they are unable to render their best service. It is a financially sound business policy based on the principles and practices of insurance where the two contracting parties, the employer and employee, share equal and concurrent responsibilities and ask no special favors.

The state of Texas and its 45,000 teachers were excluded from the mutual benefits of a sound retirement system by the constitution of 1876. An amendment to the constitution approved by the people on November 3 will make possible the enactment of such a law.

Those eligible for membership in the retirement system under the proposed amendment includes all persons employed in public schools, colleges and universities supported by the state.

It is further provided that no person who has not taught twenty years in the state of Texas is eligible for retirement benefits, but will be entitled to a refund of his part paid into the fund, plus interest. Recipients of retirement benefits are not eligible for any other form of pension or relief from the state.

The amount contributed by each person shall not exceed 5% of his salary and in no case more than $180 per year. The percentage rate will be set by law; whatever the amount, the state will match it. This plan is considered sound, both in business and government.

abled insures the public against the ineffective use of school plants managed by teachers whose declining usefulness has begun; and it offers to the public a small measure of unemployment relief by keeping the channels of promotion open to younger teachers and by preventing the superannuated from becoming dependent on public charity and relief rolls.

Teacher retirement increases the social dignity, economic security, and self respect of the teaching profession; and it thereby attracts a higher type of ambitious young persons and tends to hold them in the profession. Sound teacher retirement systems have done more in states where plans have been in force for ten or more years to stimulate the morale of teachers, to improve the quality of teaching, and to make teaching a profession than any other one factor. It is a sound, effective, and efficient measure.

CHAPTER X—Continued

"It is not true," Tubby said. "I know exactly what you have been to Bryn. Just how little you have really meant to him. These others know, too; Sally and Simon and Madeline. Here and now, before them, I ask you to repeat to Deborah the statement you have just made, and if you will repeat it, we will take the matter up with Bryn when he returns, all of us together, Pilar."

Pilar started at him. She stamped her foot furiously. "You are impossible!" she stormed, and then turned and ran through the door and up the stairs like one followed by demons.

"I'm terribly proud of you, Tubby," Sally said with a catch in her breath. "But I don't know whether it was wise or not. You may discover some bright morning that Pilar has put ground glass in Madeline's coffee."

"In my coffee?" Madeline inquired. "Is it permissible to ask why mine, particularly?"

Sally looked at Tubby helplessly. Tubby fidgeted. He stood first on one foot and then on the other. "Well," he said.

"Well?" Madeline repeated. "Look here, Sally," Tubby expostulated. "That wasn't fair. That wasn't a bit fair. I didn't... I don't... that is, I can't..."

Sally took Madeline's hand. "Listen," she said. "I suppose I'll have to step in. He'll go on like that for hours, just mauling. Tubby is very good at taking care of other people's love affairs, but he's terrible at his own. Madeline, I may as well tell you... he came into our room last night—didn't he, Simon—and he sat on the edge of the bed... didn't he, Simon?... and talked about you for hours. And he ended up by practically asking Simon for your hand, although anybody but Tubby would know it isn't done any more. There. That's what the matter with him. And that's why Pilar will want to put ground glass in your coffee. Pilar always wanted Tubby if she couldn't have Bryn."

Tubby stepped forward and lifted Madeline's hand. He tucked it under his arm. "Come on, Madeline," he said. "After all, this thing's got to a stage where an audience is practically unnecessary."

Sally dropped down in the step beside Deborah, exhausted. "There," she said faintly. "That's done. Aren't men idiots?"

It was a long time before Grandmother and Bryn came back, nearly two hours. Graham pounded and tried to make himself heard a few times, but after a while he apparently decided it was useless, and all was quiet.

They came in at last, chatting comfortably. Grandmother kissed Deborah good-night and went directly upstairs on Bryn's arm. He came flying down in a minute or two. "Where's Tubby? And Madeline, and Pilar?" he inquired. "Pilar's in bed," Sally answered, "and Madeline and Tubby went off in the general direction of Heaven. Toward the orchard. I imagine that's where they still are."

"Oh," Bryn said. "So at last it's come to this! Well, if you will excuse me, I must about my own business."

Deborah rose swiftly and laid her hand on his arm. "You won't go alone?"

"Why not? It isn't going to be a war. We're just going to have a quiet little talk, Graham and I. I think he will see reason before we're through." He left.

A little later the door opened. It was Tubby and Madeline. He grinned sheepishly. His dimple flickered in and out. The yellow lock on his crown stood straight up. Madeline put her fingers up and tweaked it.

"The first improvement we make," she decided, "will be to have the roots of that piece of hair dug completely out. Think of all the hours and hours it will save me and the children!"

Bryn came in, quietly. He shut the door behind him. He stood for a moment, lost in thought.

"What'd he say?" Simon asked.

"Nothing," Bryn replied. "He didn't say anything. He's gone, and his car's gone too."

"Gone?" Tubby echoed.

"What I want to know," Sally said ominously, "is, how did he get out? Three bolts, and a six inch thick door, and a bar of iron on the bottom. You said he couldn't. How did he?"

Nobody answered her.

Deborah rose early, brushed her hair with swift nervous fingers, bathed in cool water, and went out into the thin fresh morning sunshine. She had not slept well. She walked quickly up the path between the garden and the orchard. She went on, but a few yards inside the stone wall that separated the orchard from the forest, she turned and raced back down the path as if she were pursued; for it had occurred to her suddenly that he... Graham... might be hiding on the other side of the wall. Looking back over her shoulder, she was brought up short by colliding with a tall solid person who seized her hands and swung them in his own.

"What are you running away from, this bright and shining morning?" Bryn inquired.

"Nothing," she said, with a little nervous laugh. "That is... nothing real. I just got to thinking... I just got to thinking that perhaps... Oh, I was just worrying about him. That's all."

"Do you know how lovely you are?" he asked gently.

Deborah pressed her lips together. Her eyes searched his.

He drew her hands up, and took them both in one of his. "It doesn't matter about Graham," he said. "Don't worry about it, sweetheart."

She bent and plucked one of the clove pinks, put her hand up to the breast of his blue sweater and wove the flower stem through the stitches. Her eyes lifted to his. Bryn started to speak, but she turned and walked quickly down the path toward the house, with Bryn walking close beside her.

Grandmother, to Deborah's intense surprise, was already up.

Almost before Deborah had told a maid that they were ready for their breakfast, Pilar came downstairs, with her red beret on her smooth dark head and her bag in her gloved hand. "I find that I must go back at once to San Francisco, Mrs. Larned. I'm terribly sorry to go. Good-by," she said firmly.

"I can't think of it," Grandmother protested. "You must have breakfast." She turned to the maid. "Joan, tell the cook that we want a tray of coffee and toast as quickly as it can be prepared."

"Oh, I Was Just Worrying About Him. That's All."

Pilar glanced at her watch. "Oh, very well," she said, a little ungraciously. "I'm anxious to get home by night," she explained.

Tubby was the last one down. "Well," he said jovially, "here we all are, eh? What've you got your hat on for, Pilar? You're not leaving us, surely?"

Pilar gave him a disdainful glance. "I suppose you'll be heart-broken."

"Well, you know how it is," Tubby said cheerfully.

The group had just moved out to the veranda when there came the roar of a laboring small engine from the road at the left.

A small battered roadster turned in at the gate. With a splash and clatter of gravel it came to a stop.

Deborah's heart dropped like lead at the sight of the driver.

As the car stopped, Bryn rose, walked down the steps and stopped. His eyes met the triumphant eyes of the man driving the other car. For a moment, Bryn and Graham stood facing each other, Graham half out of his car. Then, without a word, perfectly calm, Bryn turned toward the veranda.

Deborah lifted her eyes and met Bryn's in helpless anguish. Bryn was smiling at her, a steady, warm, comforting smile that seemed to tell her that everything was all right, that she had nothing to fear. She could not understand. He came up the steps and stood beside Grandmother's chair. Tubby and Simon were standing helpless on the grass. Sally and Madeline had retreated to the doorway, and stood there, hand in hand, watching Grandmother, too. And Pilar, still and unmoving, sat in her chair behind the vines.

Stuart Graham, with that black smile of his, came across the grass from the driveway. He swung his wide shoulders confidently, and Deborah wished wildly that Bryn would go out and do something to him... anything... to stop that confident, steady advance, to wipe off that triumphant smile, to save Grandmother. But it was too late.

He stopped on the lowest step. He faced Grandmother. He bowed to her. "Good-morning," he said brightly.

Grandmother inclined her head. "Good-morning," she replied.

"You are Mrs. Larned," he stated. "I think you will have heard of me, and from me. My name is Graham."

"Indeed?" Grandmother murmured, entirely calm. Her pulse beat was swift, but steady.

He stiffened at Grandmother's "indeed?" "Stuart Graham," he repeated distinctly. "From Boston."

Many creatures pretend to be what they are not, in order to avoid being seen and captured by their foes. An example is the stick insect, says Tit-Bits Magazine. Less known is the caterpillar of the peppered moth. When these caterpillars have stripped a twig of its foliage, they would be very conspicuous on the bare plant, so they stiffen themselves and pretend to be parts of the twig.

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about Salad Mixers de Luxe.

LANSING, MICH. — About once in so often you meet the man—it's always a man—who knows how to make the perfect salad dressing, and on the slightest provocation does so. The trouble with this party is when you get him off salad dressings he's practically a total loss.

Irvin S. Cobb

Nevertheless, a decent salad dressing—and a decent salad—are boons to humanity.

The right commingling of strident, bitterish green things with a smooth, bland dressing—there you have something. But often we are confronted by a monstrosity featuring whipped cream, nut kernels, sweet cheese, preserved fruit, even marshmallows or pickled ginger.

Such an atrocity is never a salad. Put a crust on it and it might pass for pie, but would be very low-grade pie.

Concerning Mr. Earl Browder.

HAVING been discouraged by a perhaps overzealous police force from speaking in Indiana, Earl Browder, one of the almost countless candidates for President, now threatens suits for false arrest.

As Al Smith says, let's look at the facts. Mr. Browder stands for communism—stands for all communism stands for. Therefore he must look on the Russian government as the one ideal government, it being the very flower and perfection of applied communism.

Now, in Russia any man publicly advocating doing away with the existing national system and substituting some other system therefor would find himself in jail—or even in a worse fix—before he could say Jackovitz Robertsonoffski.

So what I say is that Mr. Browder shouldn't crave to sue anybody. If he believes in the practice of what he preaches, which, of course, he does, he ought to go around kissing everybody on both cheeks.

Cruelty to Animals.

LATELY a dog was tried before a judge for biting a boy. And another judge was appealed to, that he save an elephant condemned to die. So some one proves that, through many centuries, animals were accused of high crimes—dogs, rats, pigs, oxen, roosters, storks, ants, spiders, snakes, grasshoppers, dolphins, locusts, gadflies, eels, and, being convicted, were burned, flayed, hanged, destroyed by slow torture.

But think of the charges on which the so-called brutes might condemn mankind—offenses of which they rarely or never have been guilty—malice; slaughter of weaker things for love of slaughter; deliberate wanton destruction of natural beauties; wars without rational cause; unnecessary greed; bearing false witness; neglect of our own young; drunkenness; slothfulness; bigotry; intolerance.

Newspapers Vs. Spellbinders.

IN MY reportorial youth nearly every newspaper, big or little, was bitterly partisan. We distorted facts and editorialized in news stories when dealing with the accused opposition. Otherwise we'd have been traitors to a sacred cause.

These times the average paper, big or little, prints honest accounts concerning both sides—their relative chances as revealed by polls, their waning or gaining hopes. The political views of a columnist or a special contributor may differ from the publisher's policy—still he gives them space.

But the spellbinders go right on spouting fiction which everybody knows is fiction. And the volunteer debaters clamor with prejudice and misinformation for their ammunition.

By the way, will all those who ever heard of anybody being converted by one of these barber-shop arguments kindly raise their right hands?

Currency Juggling.

BEING frightfully smart to begin with, I know as much regarding currency juggling as the next fellow—which is precisely nothing at all. Up to, say, $18.75, most of us know what money is—or used to be. But when they talk in terms of billions or trillions or jillions, they've got us going down for the third time with a low gurgling cry.

And the more a financial technician, with both his pants pockets full of figures, tries to explain these governmental manipulations, the more convinced I am that, like the average specialist, he has concentrated on being expertly ignorant upon one involved subject rather than remaining, as most of us do, broadly and comprehensively ignorant upon practically all subjects.

IRVIN S. COBB.

Puttering Around the House—

Time-Wasting Work of Putting Away Things Others Have Used

WHEN a family is orderly, no one has to do much puttering about. When the members are not particular where they put their things, it becomes the undesirable duty of some person to spend much time in just this very thing, puttering. Hours are wasted daily in such trivialities as gathering up newspapers spread about, picking up and putting away gloves, hats, scissors, thumbtacks, pencils, etc. Whatever it may be that has been in use, or has not been in use, and is not put away by the user, or has been put in the wrong place, must be placed where it belongs or the house would reflect poor housekeeping.

Non-descript Tasks.
The time given to these non-descript jobs should be given by those who leave the work to others. Putting things away is part of the job connected with using the things, just as much as getting the things out, is part of it. The work is regular and legitimate and only becomes an annoyance when left for the wrong person to do.

Left-Over Jobs.
No person wants her time frittered away doing the left-over jobs of others. Nobody enjoys having a person puttering around, either. It is distracting to attention, and disturbing to the Breaking the Habit.

Adults should consider how to break themselves of the reprehensible habit of leaving what they should do, to be completed by others. If they really determine to stop this bothersome fault, they will decrease the necessity of puttering about by the person who heartily dislikes the work, but who, for the sake of order prefers to do it rather than have disorder around.

Remedies Suggested.
Mothers can teach their children to put their playthings away when through with them. This is the first step to take. Then she can instruct the little folk to put their outside things away when they come in from outside doors. Children can get into the habit of orderliness by being made to realize that what they don't do, has to be done by another who is very busy and often too tired to do the extra tasks. Affection will gain the day.

Adults should consider how to break themselves of the reprehensible habit of leaving what they should do, to be completed by others. If they really determine to stop this bothersome fault, they will decrease the necessity of puttering about by the person who heartily dislikes the work, but who, for the sake of order prefers to do it rather than have disorder around.

Many people complimented The News of last week. Last week's issue contained more home news than any for a long time, everything breaking just right for the paper.

Drinking among automobile drivers cannot be classed as a habit, but as a menace. After the accident in Amarillo Sunday, the police made a drive on drunken drivers, and both jails in the city were filled in a short time. Jail is the only safe place for the drunk driver. On the outside, he is a menace to the safety of everyone, including himself.

Mayor Davis and the city council are to be congratulated on working out plans for a new municipal building. That such a building is needed, few will deny, and now seems to be the opportune time, when the federal government is anxious that we have a project here to take care of the unemployed. It is to be hoped that the plans may be OK'd shortly and the work begun.

Hot Prune Whip
1 cup prune pulp
1/2 cup sugar
5 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
Rub stewed prunes through a strainer, add sugar and cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff; add prune mixture gradually, then lemon juice. Put into a buttered casserole and bake 20 minutes (or until firm) in a moderate oven (325° F). Serve either hot or cold with soft custard.—Cleo Faye Shelburne.

Canapes Blancas
1 package cream cheese.
6 strips crisp bacon.
Onion juice.
Paprika.
Cayenne pepper.
Small pearl onions.

Place the cheese in a mixing bowl and mash with a wooden spoon. Crumble the bacon and stir into the cheese. Add onion juice to taste, dash of cayenne pepper and paprika. Spread this paste onto rounds of bread which have been fried in oil to a golden brown, and top each canape off with a small pickled onion.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

(Editorial)
 During the past week end Madam Gossip has assailed and endeavored to hurt three of the high school institutions. If people were not so prone to believe gossiped tales, this editorial would not be necessary. Gossip says that the majority of the pep squad, band members and football boys became drunk on Saturday night before they reached home. This is entirely a false report, for no girl or boy belonging to either organization became drunk. No girl on the pep squad so much as tasted a drop of alcoholic beverage while in Amarillo or after leaving there. A few of the Tigers drank some sweet wine, for which they have been severely corrected and for which they are ashamed. From this, the story grew, and some people before investigating, believed and repeated the story, and evidently added imagined portions. The above statement is absolutely true so far as anyone is able to find out and prove, and could be sworn to.

Some have asked why faculty members could not prevent such things. The faculty of schools of America statistics show, have voted 98% against alcoholism, and that is a higher percent against it than parents have voted, and even higher than ministers have voted. The McLean high school faculty is 100% against the use of alcoholic beverages and each member puts forth the greatest effort possible to train boys and girls correctly.

It was impossible to prevent what happened last week, for those who participated were ingenious enough to prevent anyone from knowing what they were doing, the same as they are able to prevent parents from knowing things. Each bus was sufficiently chaperoned and every erring pupil has been corrected. If parents would be severe in trying to check the use of alcohol, and if people would learn facts before passing judgment, everyone would be much better off. This legal demon is to be combated and it will take the combined efforts of the home, the church and the school to check its use.

TIGERETTES-TIGER PARTY

A party, reported by those attending as being the best ever staged in the gymnasium, was enjoyed by the Tigerettes and Tigers and friends on last Thursday evening. New and interesting games were played, the climax being a beauty contest, which brought out the feminine charms of the rugged Tigers. The ladies present adorned the usually shining countenances with their beauty aids and the results were quite startling. "Miss" Danny Heil won the prize and "Misses" Roy Laswell, Fred Cable and R. L. Floyd received honorable mention. Delicious refreshments were served to 75 people. The social committee included Molita Turman, Shirley Johnston, Jessie Mae Lynch, and Miss Kennedy. Faculty members present were: Supt. Cryer, Coach Allen, Mr. Magee, Mr. Graham and Miss Kennedy. Other guests were Mrs. Cryer, Mrs. Allen and Jane Alice ryer.

TIGERETTES ENJOY TRIP

The Tigerettes motored to Amarillo to cheer the fighting Tigers on last Saturday. They received compliments both on their peppy conduct and attractive uniforms. After the game the girls enjoyed association with the Amarillo pep squad.

The Tigerettes and Tigers attended a picture show in the evening.

COACH ALLEN PRESENTED COAT

On Saturday morning before an assembly of Tigers and Sandies, Captain Mills of the Sandies presented Coach Allen a beautiful brown suede coat. The award was made by the Sandies to Bill Allen as an outstanding and successful Sandie.

REV. SHARP IN ASSEMBLY

Rev. J. H. Sharp spoke to the high school assembly on Tuesday afternoon.

His pertinent message was quite appropriate. His subject was "Applying for a Job." He pointed out to the audience that they were by their daily conduct making that application. He adjured those listening to be friendly, courteous and industrious.

SENIORS HAVE GOOD REPORTS

The story is usually told that when a freshman gets to high school he is afraid of the teachers; consequently he studies and makes good grades. When he gets to be a sophomore, he becomes a little better acquainted and does not study so much. He studies even less when a junior, and when he "knows all there is to know" as senior, he quits studying entirely. This class must be an exception, for the following students could not have made the grades they did without some studying. Averill Christian made a card with no grade lower than A-, and the following made all A's with one exception in each case, the exception being a B: Veta Lankford, Naomi Weeks, Goldie Finley and Orville Williams. (Oh, that English 4!)

STATE CHAMPS TROUCE TIGERS

Saturday afternoon before about 1000 fans, the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm defeated the Tigers 39-0. Although the B team played almost all the time, the Amarillo backfield regulars came into the game for a brief period in the third quarter, scoring one touchdown on four passes, and intercepting another pass for 55 yards and another score.

The Tigers fought harder than any other team Amarillo has played, except Norman, Okla. Watson, McLean quarter, had the ligaments of his left shoulder torn loose in the third quarter.

The Tigers were fed twice, and entertained at the Paramount Theatre. They should have enjoyed themselves, don't you think? On the journey home, a tire of the bus they were riding in, rolled off, and after an hour and a half it was ready to go again. This made the Tigers get home about 2 a. m.

The Tigers meet the Wellington Skyrockets Friday night at Wellington. This team is conceded to be among the best, if not the best, in the district, and should really show what McLean is going to do this year.

FRESHMAN NOTES

The freshmen are really glad that their six weeks examinations are over. That is, most of them are. There are always a few who would have felt better if they had not seen their grades.

The class wishes to express regret that Clyde Glenn had been added to the list of those who must stay out of school to work.

SHERLOCK SNOOPINGS

Sherlock has not done much snooping this past week, but it is quite evident to him that Joe Bogan has a real heart interest in Amarillo.

According to "Cowboy" Finley, Fred Cable gets his hair curled every morning when he goes out to milk the cows.

Capt. Roy Laswell certainly must get affectionate out on the football field. Did you see that place on his lip where somebody made a "miss-lick" and bit him?

Since the people up at Amarillo could not tell that the McLean bunch was from the country, they had to ride all the elevators to show off.

The statement in the Amarillo News-Globe that the Tigerettes' caps looked like pill boxes was very much resented, but just ask any of the girls and see what they will tell you about the kind of hospitality that the Amarilloans extended them.

Sherlock noticed a straight A card with Averill Christian's name on it. More of such cards for seniors would delight faculty members.

SOPHOMORES REPORT OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

The sophomores wish to report that they have some very brilliant students in their class. This startling bit of news was brought to light by the fact that two girls, Ermadel Floyd and Edith Mae Duncan, made straight A cards.

HOMEMAKERS HAVE SOCIAL; CHOOSE PROJECTS

The Future Homemakers met last Tuesday evening in the home economics laboratory. Several monopoly games were provided, and the girls enjoyed an exciting game during the club period.

The second year girls have been studying poultry this week. They observed a class demonstration on the killing, picking and drawing of a chicken. The demonstration was conducted by members of the class.

The first and third year girls have been working with clothing problems the past few weeks. Their first garments will be completed next week. Home project work has begun in all three years of work. Some very interesting projects have been chosen for the year.

BAND ELECTS OFFICERS

Last Friday the band elected the following officers: president, Jesse Dean Cobb; vice president, Harold Rickard; secretary, R. L. Floyd; property manager, James Finley; janitor, Billy Cooke; librarian, Alonzo Henderson.

On Friday night the band members and their guests enjoyed a party at the gymnasium. It has been estimated that forty people were entertained. Perhaps the party served as a pep rally for the band members, for they certainly were filled with enthusiasm at the ball game Saturday.

AGGIES ON TRIP

Four of the agriculture boys, J. L. Rice, Bill Webb, Kid McCoy and Paris Hess, with their instructor, C. J. Magee, left Friday night for the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show in Kansas City. The trip was an award for outstanding work in last year's livestock judging contests held at A. & M. last spring, in which these boys placed higher than any other team that lives on the Rock Island Railway. The railroad company pays their traveling expenses, and has done so every year since McLean's first organized agriculture class sent representatives to the state contest at A. & M.

HOW BETTER LIGHTING FOR BETTER SEEING SAVES HUMAN RESOURCES

Leading scientists now suspect poor lighting may be source of many health penalties previously blamed on other causes

Every year thousands of persons are killed because they couldn't see quickly or clearly enough. Thousands are painfully injured for the same reason. Authoritative estimates set an annual toll of $560,000,000 in fatalities, injuries and property damage resulting from night accidents on streets and highways—accidents which better light would have helped to prevent.

To this we must add a tremendous number of fatalities and injuries in homes, factories and elsewhere—many of which are also due to poor seeing conditions.

We probably spend close to a billion dollars a year for accidents which could have been prevented with better seeing conditions.

Other losses, too. Many persons suffer from nervous headaches, extreme fatigue and digestive disturbances due primarily to eyestrain.

You, yourself, probably know of some school pupil who lagged in his studies, because of faulty seeing, and had to repeat the work of a whole grade.

Science now tells us that the number of students who do this is very large. We also know from actual tests made in classrooms that when good lighting replaces inadequate and improper light, the rate of failures decreases a great deal. In fact, the cost of improved lighting is very much less than the cost of having a student repeat a grade.

Much valuable time is lost in factories and offices because persons working in these places do not see well, or do not have enough light. Often valuable manufactured products are spoiled when they are made in poor light.

Often, too, employees are discharged for mistakes that are due to the lack of proper seeing conditions. Many other tragedies, attributed to other causes, are really the result of poor lighting.

One school child in five has defective vision.

When we realize that modernization has increased the severity of tasks for which our eyes were intended, it is not surprising that eye defects are so common among persons of all ages. In fact, 2 out of every 10 children, 4 out of every 10 students and 6 out of every 10 over forty have defective vision.

The conservation of human resources—eyesight, health, life, and hand in hand with seeing—civilization is largely a world of light. And leading scientists agree that poor lighting may be the cause of many health penalties attributed to other causes.

Handknit Effect in Machine Knits

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHETHER you knit or whether knitting is not one of your accomplishments the fact remains to be "in style," you simply have a goodly collection of knitted clothes in your autumn and winter wardrobe.

Wonder the love of knitted outgrow upon us, for, put to the test there's nothing more practical for general wear, for travel, for week-end visits, no type of apparel that so retains a well-worn, unwrinkled appearance in every circumstance as do the some high-styled knitted costumes that grow handsomer and better down to the last detail every passing moment.

This season's knitted collections are especially encouraging to non-knitters in that the knits now showing have on a patrician hand-knit look might baffle even an expert. One of the outstanding numbers on the fall program is the tweed-knit suit that so convincingly hand-knit that you tell your friends they will dream that it is machine made. Just to get an idea of one of the stunning tweed knit suits we call your attention to the one illustrated. Here a multicolored knit wool in handknit effect is fashioned in a three-piece jacket. The jacket has two set-in edges in green to match a monotone self-striped blouse, leather belt and buttons in green. Can you imagine more fitting for a colorful day?

Two frocks shown also typify the trend toward hand-knit effects in loom-knit fashions. The frock of fashion seated is wearing a two-piece frock in the blue-spruce color, simulating in stitch and styling a classic handknit. The tuck-in scarf is velveteen in deep wine color, which goes to show how striking and out-of-the-ordinary are the new color combinations that are being played up so dramatically this season.

To the right in the picture, a high-necked sweater blouse in deep brown has an accompanying brown and white tweedy-knit skirt done in a cross-ribbed stitch.

One among many of the fascinating things in regard to knitted fashions is that they have taken on clever dressmaker details that measure up perfectly to top-notch styling. For instance, there are knit costume suits that have the latest in tunic or swagger coats that are so good-looking that out comes your checkbook with orders to deliver without delay. On some of the dresses and suits there are bindings and accents of velvet, of suede, of grosgrain ribbon with unique fastenings, that include zippered novelties, huge metal clips and buttons galore.

Pleated skirt effects in knits are very attractive. In some instances the skirt is widened with godets. And have you heard about the new black sweater craze? As a college fashion the black sweater worn with a bright plaid skirt is scoring a big success although every fashion alert woman is yielding to the urge of these sweaters.

The new knit fabrics are introducing such interesting themes as jacquard patternings that are knitted right into the fabric. These are perfectly stunning for the separate blouse or the swanky waistcoats that fashion is so conspicuously spotlighting this season.

KNITTED CULOTTE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The sportsmanlike knitted culotte is what this blond young girl had for her morning bike ride through the parks. Her outfit is in the popular color, its glorious autumn shades gleaming brightly to its chic tailored, tucks neatly tucked into a matching culotte skirt. More and more women are appreciating the dependability, so satisfactory count, be it comfortable wearability or ease. It is easy to be understood. The knitted apparel is so in the foreground of fashion days.

ACCESSORIES MAKE ONE CHIC OR DOWDY

It doesn't cost one bit more to select hosiery that matches one's shoes, or harmonizes with them, than it does to pick up shades haphazardly. When buying a hat, keep in mind the color of the coat and do the same with gloves, scarves and purses.

Dress accessories form the ensemble, and it is that which makes a woman chic or dowdy. Nowadays, one must keep in mind the complete picture. Make-up should also be considered. Rouge and lipstick that glorify one outfit will kill another. Half a dozen shades of lipstick are not too many for the girl with the average wardrobe, especially now that gay colors are fashionable.

Pressed Grape Tones Now in Use for Accessories

The "pressed grape" shades in gloves, shoes and purses are featured all along Fifth avenue—burgundy, raisin, claret, muscatel. One window is full of aubergine, the new eggplant shade, an ideal accent for black. . . aubergine, claret and muscatel shoes are being made. . . or you can choose malaga purple accessories, and wear them with black, fog blue, spruce green or brown.

The smartest outfit on the avenue was an oxford gray tailored suit with a tiny black stripe, worn with a dull crepe man-tailored blouse of black, an antique silver and mother of pearl brooch at the collar, smart because the suit was perfectly tailored.

Fur-Trimmed Hats Seen in Late Paris Collections

Fur is used lavishly in the new collections in Paris. Many hats are either trimmed or made entirely of fur, and a black velvet suit trimmed with a luxurious silver fox collar is matched by a peaked velvet hat trimmed with the head of a silver fox. Bright shoe-button eyes and pointed ears give the hat a very perky look.

AT THE BALL GAME

He took his bride to see her first ball game.
Young Husband (explaining in answer to her 50th question)—That is the umpire, dear.
The Bride—And why does he wear that funny looking wire thing over his face?
Young Husband wondered if she would never stop. Then again:
The Bride—I say, why does he wear that funny—
Young Husband—O, just to keep from biting the ball players, precious.—Cheese Record.

THEN AND NOW

"Pa, how much money did Croesus have?"
"Oh, I don't know. About enough to live in what is at present middle-class style, I guess."

Making It Easy

A Cockney rang up the L. P. T. B. to inquire the fare from his home to Ealing, but the man at the other end of the line couldn't catch the name of the station.

In desperation he asked the inquirer to spell it.

The reply came as follows: "E for Herbert. A wot the 'orses heat. I w'er yer goes when yer dies, I wot yer sees wif, N wot lays a hog. G (long pause) gee whizz!—Birmingham Post.

Hard to Believe

Sailor (to waiter)—Hi, waiter, is this soup?

Waiter—Yes, sir.

Sailor—Well, would you believe it! To think I've been sailing on soup all these years, and have just found it out!—Pearson's Weekly.

Shared

Jenny (angrily)—Ye Anna say I ran after ye, anyway.

Jock—No, I canna say that. The trap disnae rin after the moose, but it gathers it in just the same!

A Suggestion

Lecturer—You see, nothing is impossible.

Voice—I'd still like to see you stick an umbrella down your throat and open it.

Erudite Cop

"You can't leave your car here, miss."

"But, constable, it's a cul-de-sac." "I don't care if it's a Rolls-Royce you'll have to move it."

Inspiration

"My wife left me because I played golf so much."

"How much would a set of golf clubs cost me?"

Heard on the Subway

"What is your son taking up at college?"

"Space."

THAT'S THAT

"Hunter tells me he's going to marry an heiress. I asked what her age was and he couldn't say."
"My boy, it isn't her age Hunter is interested in; it's her heritage."

Cross-Word Puzzles

"Are you wearing spectacles, old man?"
"Yes. Through cross-word puzzles I've contracted an optical defect. One eye travels vertically and the other horizontally!"

The Unexpected

"I turned the way I signalled," said the lady indignantly, after the crash.

"I know it," retorted the man. "That's what fooled me"—Radio Amateur Bulletin.

She Could Quit

Henpeck (who has just overheard his wife scolding maid)—You and I both seem to be in the same unfortunate position.

Maid (indignantly)—Not likely! I'm giving her a week's notice tomorrow!

Double Duty

Serviceman—How's the radio since I put on that new loudspeaker?
Customer—Wonderful! When I turn it on full I can't hear a word my wife says.

A Boost for Home Sewing!

HERE are three Sewing Circle specialties that are as easy to make as humming a tune. If you've never made a stitch before, here's your golden opportunity, for step-by-step sewing instructions are included with every pattern to direct you all the way until you've completed a frock that'll win a round of applause in any circle and flattering compliments on your slim figure and chic appearance. For an inexpensive, but extensive wardrobe just glance at this charming array of exquisite frocks.

Pattern No. 1945-B is a smashing hit in any office or social gathering and versatility personified. You can wear it as shown on the large figure with contrasting collar and cuffs and a self-fabric belt or make it with a twin collar and cuff, intruding another harmonizing color. It's outstanding because of its neat and trim appearance and because it makes up nicely in almost any choice bit of material. Cotton, shantung, silk, broadcloth, crepe or satin are a few excellent mediums that create excellent effects. It is available for sizes: 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measures: 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 14 requires four yards of 39-inch material plus two-thirds yard contrast.

Pattern No. 1914-B is an alluring double duty frock; simple, inexpensive and the proud possessor of a sleek silhouette. It's a marvel for getting around the kitchen in a jiffy and just the thing for visiting, shopping or business. Depending of course on the material you select. For housewear, try a gingham, percale or cotton with a bit of color to pep you up, and for a more dresser effect choose striped shirting, broadcloth, lightweight wool or crepe. It is available for sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires three and three-fourths yards of 39-inch material.

Pattern No. 1870-B. Those of you whose figures run to width will join your slimmer sisters in choosing this gay slenderizing ensemble, with a contrasting scalloped collar and jabot, so flattering to the face. The effect is exquisite in satin, crepe, broadcloth or silk, the result wholly and completely satisfying. With or without the jacket the frock is the ultimate in utility and style. It is available for sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires six and one-fourth yards of 39-inch material plus seven-eighths yard contrast.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

It is better to water evergreens and shrubs well a few days before transplanting. They will be transplanted more successfully if full of moisture.

To polish a table that has become spoiled by hot dishes, apply a few drops of essence of peppermint with a clean cloth and rub briskly.

A teaspoonful vinegar beaten into boiled frosting when flavoring is added will keep it from being brittle or breaking when cut.

In washing painted woodwork use a pail of lukewarm water to which has been added about five tablespoons of kerosene oil. Wipe with a dry, clean cloth.

Cover small delphinium plants with excelsior or pine boughs before putting on dried leaves. They do not pack or stay damp as leaves do.

When ironing ecru linens always iron on the wrong side. Ironing them on the right side makes them look faded.

"BLAME THE FIREMEN"

We heard a lot of criticism of the firemen this week, and this article is in defense of any mistake they might have made or did not make. At the S. & S. fire Monday night the firemen had a great deal of "help"—those fellows who have good intentions perhaps but don't care to take any responsibility. They are the worst detriment to efficiency in volunteer fire fighting of any one source. The man who happens to be keeping late hours and beats the firemen to the scene of the fire, and immediately takes the position of a fireman and kicks out a door or window and lets the draft in to make an interesting fire. He stands out and tells the early comers how slow the firemen are getting there and when they do arrive he tries to assist in getting the fire apparatus ready for business. He knows nothing about it, but horns right in and usually does something to retard the work of the boys who have spent many hours of practice in learning just how to get water to the fire in the least possible time. Then when he makes himself a nuisance and the firemen hesitate to knock him down or call the police, he gets out and "blames the firemen" for some bone-head stunt of his, and the unthinking public sometimes believes such stories.

A volunteer fireman deserves every consideration and the sympathetic cooperation of the public. We who are not interested in "sleeping with one eye open" ready for the call to fire service, would do well to mind our own business when a fire breaks out and just keep ourselves in respectful readiness to help if the volunteer boys, trained to fight fires, need us. It is usually a safe plan to stand back and wait to be asked, even though you did fight fire on the Possum Hollow department in 1912. You may be able to impress the public which has gathered to see the fun, but you certainly will not help the man whose building is burning.

About the only time a volunteer fire department needs help is in a case of an all-night fire and their men become exhausted with many hours of labor. A short fire and with the equipment Monahans has can well be handled by five or six men, and it has never been necessary for them to call for assistance in the past two years. They get on the job quickly and when things don't click off just right, it can usually be traced to the equipment or some "buttsky" who messes things up by climbing aboard the truck or attempting to help at the fire without being asked to do so.

"When we served on a volunteer fire department," back in our younger days (this is a tip for local firemen) when a non-fireman who did not own the building where we were fighting, "horned in," we first turned the hose on him as the worst fire hazard and then proceeded to fight the fire. A nice cold winter night is the best time to get results on this method. It does not require a second dose to make a believer out of the "but-in fire bug."

Experts in fire fighting say that few men are capable of fighting fires without many hard hours of training. It must be instilled into them just what to do, or else over-excitement will cause them to do the wrong thing. This is what the individual does who is not on the fire department. He follows his excitement. He came to the fire to see the fun and jumps in to get quick action on his feelings.

On a practice run Monday evening we noticed that the traffic "went wild" when the fire siren sounded. Had there been a fire it would have been almost impossible for the truck to have gotten down the main street. Alleys are parked full of cars every night, forming a very definite fire hazard. If we would take a little time to think in case of fire, when we park our cars in the alley openings, or when we make a "mad rush" for the scene of the fire.

Firemen may make a few mistakes but just remember that you make them and the writer makes them, but they are not so quickly noted as those made by the firemen. Think it over and lend a helping hand to the firemen by saying a good word and not kicking at every turn. If you think you can do better, ask for membership in the department. If you are worthy, you'll get the opportunity.—Monahans News.

SINGING SUNDAY

The McLean singing class will meet at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

According to President Fred Staggs, everyone has a cordial invitation to attend and take part in the singing.

CHASING MONOTONY OUT OF LIFE

"Ain't life monotonous!"—I once heard my rich and hard-boiled Aunt Harriet exclaim. My mother, who was in very moderate circumstances, replied: "I think life is wonderful, because there are so many things we can do for each other, and because every day is filled with new joys, if we will only look for them."

If dull routine is getting on your nerves, don't be discouraged. You can transform your life from one of oppressive monotony into an existence that will teem with new interests.

You can enjoy wonderful new experiences. Sparkle, zest and joy will replace all of what may now seem to be wearisome plodding. You won't have to become rich, move to some other place, change your occupation or get a divorce in order to break your self-forged manacles. For monotony is really a self-imposed mental condition, and it requires but an earnest mental effort to change it.

Decide right now to get out of the old beaten paths. Don't run your life on too exact a schedule. Don't be a mere machine. Vary, change, diversify your actions.

Develop a new hobby—anything from astronomy, philosophy or photography to rose-gardening. Interest yourself in church, lodge, school or college activities. Get acquainted with the interesting places in your community. Engage in civic affairs or settlement work. Visit hospitals, orphanages and jails.

Go out of your way to do at least Lunch at a new place. Tune in on something else besides jazz or crooners after dinner. Talk of something other than hard luck with the family.

Take an entirely different vacation next time. Completely re-vamp your week ends. Change your type of reading, plays, movies, exercise, the color of your clothes, even your food and the way you comb your hair.

Go out of your way to do at least one or two kind acts every day. Become interested in people. Be more unselfish. Only new thoughts, new desires, new methods, new habits and new interests will release you from the powerful grip of monotony.

Life is really full and rich—if you'll open your heart and mind to it.

CHEVROLET ADVERTISING PAYS

"One of our greatest aids in establishing records every month this year has been the intelligent use of newspaper advertisements in more than 6,000 papers of the country," says Mr. Holler, vice president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co. "In the sale of new cars it was our main reliance; in the used car record, newspapers may claim a great share for the advertisements Chevrolet ran in May and June, sold nearly half a million used cars and helped us avoid a serious increase in stocks during the fast selling season."

CIGARETTE TAX

Either the use of cigarettes is increasing amazingly in Texas or the efficiency of the tax collection department has greatly increased. Announcement is made that cigarette tax collection in June amounted to $564,700, an increase of $159,297 over June of last year. The increase for the year ending July 30 was more than a million dollars over the previous year. The cigarette tax is an unpopular levy, but it certainly put a lot of money into the state treasury.—Dallas Dispatch.
