1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold

SPOTTED FERVOR

Automobile accident prevention improved greatly in spots in the United States in 1935, although the country as a whole was almost as bad as it was the year before.

Deaths from automobile accidents for the whole country in 1935 totaled 36,100—1% more than in 1934. But 5% more cars were registered, so the national record was slightly improved—not much.

In certain localities, however, the toll was reduced by at least one-half.

Exceptional records were made by Providence, R. I., Evanston, Ill., Lynn, Mass., Syracuse, N. Y., Allentown, Pa., Greensboro, N. C., Hoboken, N. J., Lansing, Mich., and Pittsfield, Mass. This spotted improvement is something about which to be glad. If accidents can be markedly decreased in spots, they can be equally decreased nationally eventually. If they can be decreased in spots, it proves they CAN BE decreased.

As soon as the public accepts the fact that automobile accidents are a disease that can be stamped out like smallpox and are not merely a calamity that has to be TAKEN, then the battle will be half won.

Get behind the safety movement in your town. Make—or keep—your town one of the spots. Ten deaths subtracted here and there will soon add up to several thousand on a national basis.

And you, yourself, can be a safety "spot" all by yourself. You may not be able to improve on your 1935 record, but you may be able to improve on your 1936 record. Most of us have our accident and death or injury AHEAD of us—and that is the accident prevention in which we are most interested, after all.

HALLOWEEN PRANKS

Halloween saw the usual number of pranks Saturday night, most of the mischief being confined to the business district, where windows and cars were soaped and junk piled in the doorways.

Several have mentioned that it is a good idea that clean-up week follows Halloween, as most of the scattered junk will be cleaned up by the last of the week.

Tigers to Play Lefors Pirates There Friday

The Tigers go to Lefors Friday to play the Pirates. Both teams are out of the conference race, but nevertheless this will be one of the best games of the week. The war cry at Lefors all season has been "Beat McLean!" The Pirates have vowed that they will make the Tigers "walk the plank" this year. The Pirates are much heavier than the local boys.

The Tigers should be in first class condition for the fray, with Smith back in the lineup.

Coach Allen has been drilling the Tigers on the different formations used by the Pirates. Coach Smith of the Pirates has not met with much success this season, but if they can beat the Tigers their season will be complete.

The Tigers must win the next three games this season and they will need all the backing the local fans can give them. Back those boys and boost them on—let's not lose interest in them just because they have lost a couple of games. We have been good winners for the last five years and now it seems to be our turn to lose, so let's take it like the other teams have been taking it for the last few years. Back those Tigers, win or lose—we have a good coach as well as a good football team with some swell fellows that are deserving of your support. If the fans will stay with them they might make a comeback that would startle the whole conference. Be there Friday night at the Lefors field and show the boys by your noise what you think of them. McLean can be a good loser because the citizens are of that caliber.—A Fan.

SINGING AT LIBERTY

The Liberty singing class will hold a meeting beginning at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, at the Liberty school. Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend and take part in the singing.

John C. Haynes and family of Pampa were in McLean Sunday.

W. W. Wilson, aged 43 years, 8 months and 16 days, lost his life Friday afternoon when he attempted to throw a belt on his hay baler at his farm home.

Mr. Wilson had just returned from town, and as there was a load of loose hay on the wagon and it was threatening rain, he decided to bale the hay before it got wet. The pulley was slick from the drizzle, and he asked the hired man to hold a pitchfork handle against the belt while he tried to throw it on the baler pulley after starting the engine. His hand slipped and he was thrown into the belt, being carried around a couple of times, hitting his head against an iron wheel of the baler and killing him instantly. His arm was broken and his face badly mutilated.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Pastor J. H. Sharp, assisted by Revs. J. W. Story and W. A. Erwin. People from all over the Panhandle crowded the church and overflowed on the church lawn, less than half those in attendance finding room in the building.

Burial services were held at the First Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Pastor J. H. Sharp, assisted by Revs. J. W. Story and W. A. Erwin. People from all over the Panhandle crowded the church and overflowed on the church lawn, less than half those in attendance finding room in the building.

Flower bearers were: Resdames Thos. Ashby, A. B. Christian, J. B. Pettit, J. L. Andrews, D. C. Carpenter, S. W. Rice, Scott Johnston, W. E. Bogan, J. E. Kirby, D. A. Davis and C. O. Greene.

Flowers covered the casket, the pulpit rail, and overflowed in the church aisle, as a token of sorrow from his friends.

"Bunk" Wilson, as he was familiarly known to his friends, served this precinct as county commissioner a few years ago, and many of his court house friends were present for the services.

In giving his obituary, the preacher said that he was never known to speak unkindly of others, and that this is true is vouched for by his hundreds of friends.

Mr. Wilson and his brothers developed the sub-irrigated farms near McLean, and his opinion on farm affairs was sought after by many. Survivors include his wife and one son, Wilbur Lee; his father, George P. Wilson of Amarillo, three brothers, A. T. and R. H. of McLean, and F. P. of Gruver; five sisters, Miss Kate Wilson and Mrs. Hughes Quattlebaum of Amarillo; Miss Mannie Wilson of Dalhart, Mrs. S. M. Bush of Weslaco and Mrs. Georgia C. Wolfe of Lefors.

Burial was made in the family plot in Hillcrest cemetery.

FUNERAL AT MANGUM FOR F. H. KING

Funeral services were held at Mangum, Okla., last Thursday for F. H. King, 64, who died Oct. 28, 1936, of heart failure.

Mr. King was the father of Harris King of McLean. He had been commissioner of his county for the past 20 years and was chairman of the board at the time of his death.

Besides his son here, he is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Emory Crockett of Pampa and Miss Lucile King of Denton.

Among the McLean friends to attend the funeral services were: Rev. W. A. Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bentley, L. S. Tinnin, A. L. Hibler, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lander, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Williams.

MEETING SUCCESS

Ball fans of McLean planned out a very good pep at the high school auditorium Monday evening. The meeting began by a parade which was led by the football boys. Morris represented the ideal football of 1936. Each Tiger, accompanied by the band and Tigerettes, attempted to arouse him by saw it was of no avail. Spirit of 1936, represented by all queen, Dorothy Sitter, really start some "peppy" playing. The next person Gordon Burch of Bor-Jeff Coffey, who were very with the batons. Memorial Club met last evening with Shirley Johnson. Halloween motif and new and interesting were played. Refreshments were served to twenty-three girls. Reported a nice time. Year girls completed dresses Friday, and are a new unit, "applying art to the home." Year girls have begun a "appropriate dress for year girls are studying preparation and serving of dinner. Plans are being made for a mother-daughter banquet in the near future.

INTERESTING PERSONS

Another interesting person in high school is Marietta Young. She has been attending a McLean institution all her school years, and expects to graduate next spring. Being very prominent in all school activities, she has represented McLean in declamation contests since her fifth year in the ward school. Two seasons she has been a cheer leader for the Tigerette club, she has played basketball, entered essay contests, and served as secretary of her class during the junior year.

She is sixteen years of age, has green eyes, blond hair, and a weakness for a certain young football hero. Marietta is very energetic and brilliant. People often say in describing her, "She is sure to get there."

SENIORS ENJOY PARTY

Members of the senior class met in the home of Mrs. S. W. Rice last Tuesday evening for a Halloween party. Many clever games were played, and delicious refreshments were served to a large number of seniors, guests and faculty members. The class wishes to thank the room mothers for their assistance, and especially Mrs. Rice for her hospitality.

The class pictures are expected to be here the last of this week. The senior group pictures, heretofore, have been nice pictures, but the class of 1936-37 is promising to stand out in their mounting of blue, white and gold.

HIGH SCHOOL SYMPATHIZES WITH WILBUR LEE WILSON

The entire high school sympathizes with Wilbur Lee Wilson in his great bereavement. His absence is noted and we shall welcome him when he returns.

TIGERS, FIGHT!

The Tigers were defeated Friday night by a score of 18 to 0 by the Wheeler Mustangs. The game was really a 6-0 game except for the "breaks" of a football game. Wheeler scored on the first play of the fourth quarter, and twice later. The Tigers gave all they had and really looked like a good ball team, with "Wildman" Bogan and Capt. Laswell putting it on the line or coming through from the back field. Barnes was the outstanding linesman for the Tigers, although they all fought hard. The first downs were even at the end of the game, but Wheeler had three penetrations to McLean's one.

The entire team should be congratulated on the fight they put up Friday night.

The Tigers meet Lefors Friday night at Lefors, and it seems to always happen that Lefors fights harder against McLean than any other team. Lefors won a conference ball game last Friday night and will be "gunning" for another win; therefore, the Tigers will have to step high, wide and handsome to keep up their rating this high.

SHERLOCK SNOOPINGS

Snooping around last Monday night, Sherlock found that Miss McCarty and Mrs. Matlow were certainly sound sleepers.

They say that "Wildman" Bogan certainly has a lot of what it takes. Jessie Mae Lynch is moving in about two weeks; a great loss to McLean high school.

Mary Alice Paterson just cannot make up her mind. If you want to know your future, just ask "Seniorita" Kennedy.

From some unknown source, Hazel Dyer learned that she needed to study more.

Sherlock has been requested to ask Mr. Harding not to laugh so much if he cannot tell what it is all about.

Certain persons want May Belle Grogan to please state her intentions as to Mr. Norman.

Even if Mr. Graham did have a far-away look in his eye last week, he has a I-wish-I-were-near-a-bed look this week.

News from Back

We wish to extend our heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Lanzo Quarles in their recent bereavement. Their little eight months old baby died Saturday night and was buried Sunday at McLean.

Regardless of how anyone voted, we can all be glad that the campaign is over and we can hear and read of something else than politics and campaign promises for a while.

Several people were interviewed Sunday morning, following the Halloween pranks, and with one exception the men interviewed had never taken part in such depredations when boys, all but one saying that their parents restrained them from such "fun." Regardless of opinion, it is generally a small group that takes part in this kind of fun.

Now that all vegetation is killed by the cold weather, the careful home owner will cut and dispose of all dead plants, not only from the standpoint of attractiveness and sanitation, but to prevent harboring plant diseases and insects. The outside of the home should be kept as attractive as the front living room, and dead plants detract from the appearance of any yard. Cleaning the yard and garden can be made a definite part of the city-wide clean-up that begins this week, with profit and pleasure to all concerned.

S. S. LESSON

By Rev. Cecil G. Goff
Pastor First Baptist Church

THE CHRISTIAN WELFARE

Lesson text, Acts 19:8-12, 18-20; Ephesians 6:13-20.
Golden text, "Be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might."—Ephesians 6:10.

The lesson for this week is concerning the ministry of Paul in the large and wicked city of Ephesus. The temple of Diana was located in this city. The worship of Diana was one of the most notorious and wicked in the then civilized world. The temple was within itself one of the seven wonders of the world. Paul must have been anxious to preach the Gospel in this commanding and wicked city.

Paul went first to the synagogue of the Jews as was his custom, and preached. His preaching continued there for some three months. He had varying success with the Jews. Many of them believed and were saved. However, the most of them were as other Jews had been. They soon hardened their hearts and began to persecute Paul. Therefore, Paul separated those who had believed and likely organized a small church with them. But Paul needed a place where he could reach many people. Soon he was teaching in the school of Tyrannus. There is no record as to how Paul was able to get into this school, but he held that position for two years. All in all, Dr. Robertson says, Paul remained in Ephesus for almost three years.

Paul had a very unique position in the school of Tyrannus. It is to be supposed that as long as he was retained there it was very difficult for the Jews to do anything about his teaching. Therefore, he continued very successfully. The record says that from the vantage point of the school Paul reached men from all Asia. Young and old came to the famous school to learn, to discuss and to argue. Paul met them all. Likely most all who came were interested in the teachings of Paul which were likely considered a philosophy. Nevertheless, as the months came and went, they bore fruit and many were saved to go out not only into the city, but back to their homes throughout all Asia and spread the glad tidings they had learned in Ephesus from the apostle of all apostles, Paul. To be sure he had his difficulties, but in all his ministry in Ephesus was likely more fruitful than in any other place where Paul preached the Gospel.

The latter part of the lesson in dealing with the letter of Paul written to his beloved church at Ephesus. The first three chapters of the book are profound, deep writings. The last three deal with the practical side of the Christian religion. The letter was written probably about 63 A. D. No one had a right to know more about the difficulty of the conflict between the Christian life and evil. The great conflict is between the will of the Christian to do right and the will of Satan to do wrong. No Christian accomplishes right as an easy matter. Satan sees to that. Paul states that we need the whole armor of God to withstand the wiles of the devil. Peter said concerning Satan that he walked about "seeking whom he may devour."

It is not with flesh and blood that we wrestle. We do not have a visible adversary, but one who is a spirit, a personality with knowledge far superior to that of man. It is thus we wrestle blindly save for the spiritual instruction found in the Word and the "still small voice" through which God speaks to us. Thus it is that Paul describes the Christian's battle to that of a warrior and the needed defense as the power of God given in terms of the soldier's trappings: the girdle of truth, the breastplate of righteousness, the sandals of the Gospel of peace, the shield of faith, the helmet of salvation, the sword which is the Word of God. With such spiritual weapons properly applied the Christian has an opportunity to overcome temptation and do right.

Too many of us fail to recognize that our battle is with spiritual powers of evil and that no man single handed has a ghost of a chance. We are too prone to feel that we can and will fight our own battles. Usually the only ones we recognize are the material ones. But even these need the spiritual guidance of the hand of God. Paul was right. Why should any man question that fact? Let each take inventory of himself and immediately supply himself with the needed spiritual equipment to carry on the blind battles of life.

SERMONETTE

By Rev. Stephen M. Tuhy
Lutheran Pastor, Oviedo, Fla.

Text: "For many are called, but few are chosen."—Matt. 22:14.

GOD'S ELECTION OF GRACE

One of the most perplexing problems that confronts many Christians is: why are so few chosen? Why is it that in spite of the fact that the Gospel of Jesus Christ is preached many people are lost? Whose fault is it?

Some claim that the Lord chose only a few for eternal life and the rest He chose for eternal damnation. Let us see for ourselves what the Holy Bible tells us in this respect. "As I live, said the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live." (Ezekiel 33:11). In this verse we see clearly that the Lord does not want anyone to die eternally but to live. It grieves the Lord when the wicked refuse to believe and, as a result of their own sin of unbelief, are lost eternally. In the New Testament we read: "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). On the basis of Scripture we dare not say that the Lord has "chosen" some people for damnation even if they believe in Him. To say so would be blasphemy, an insult to God Who clearly says: "Whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

A church father, in regard to this subject, said: "The predestination of the Christians unto eternal life is a circle in which Christ with His merits is the center."

"The eternal election of God does not extend at once over the ungodly and the wicked, but only over the children of God, who were elected and ordained to eternal life before the foundation of the world was laid, as St. Paul says: 'According as He hath chosen us in Him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before Him in love: Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to Himself, according to the good pleasure of His will.' (Ephesians 1:4, 5.)

"The eternal election of God not only foresees and foreknows the salvation of the elect, but is also from the gracious will and pleasure of God in Christ Jesus a cause which procures, works, helps, and promotes our salvation, and what pertains thereto; upon it our salvation is so founded that the gates of hell cannot prevail against it. Matt. 16:18." (Formula of Concord).

"A believer should be certain of his election just because he is a believer. His faith is the proof, as it is the result, of his election. His love and electing of God is but the return and reflection of the beams of God's electing love shining upon him." (Leighton).

The Lord wants all to be saved. He gave His only Son, Jesus Christ, out of love toward mankind, to die for us as our Redeemer; He gives us His Holy Word through which He calls, gathers, enlightens and sanctifies us; He gives us His Holy Spirit Who creates faith in us so that we may believe in our personal Savior, God is just; He does everything possible for us to believe in Him and be saved. He does not elect anyone for damnation. Only unbelievers are lost. Election of grace centers upon Christ's merits. Election is not absolute. It is conditioned on faith in Christ. All those who remain faithful until death are the elect ones in Jesus. Have no fear, only believe!

EDITORIAL

The word school PTA is well under way now and the cooperation of all the parents of children in the ward school is cherished by the officers, as well as the school teachers. This organization will be a means for the parents to get acquainted with their children's teachers. The more the parents and teachers work together the better the school and the more benefit each individual child will receive. All parents interested in the welfare of their child's school work should be members of this organization and attend every meeting, so that a better understanding of school problems will help them understand what the teachers are trying to do. Each child is an individual problem, and the more understanding on the part of the parent in regard to the school work of his child the better it is for all concerned. Each child has different peculiarities that the teacher never understands until a personal talk with the parent clears the matter up.

Parents, this is your organization; use it to the best advantage of your child's school work. The teachers will be at the meetings, so every interested parent should be there, too. If you have not joined—join now.

Mrs. Harris' room won the PTA membership contest. The prize was $5.00 to be used in the room. This contest created quite a bit of rivalry among some of the rooms. The teacher and the home room mothers are largely responsible for the new members, as well as the children in the room.

The percentage of Mrs. Harris' room was 65; Mrs. Vogle's, 52; Mr. Branch's 51.7; Mr. Murdock's, 59. These rooms took the first four places in the contest.

Flat Furs Is Smart Trim for Suits

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IF YOU are planning a new coat, costume-suit or daytime frock of some broadcloth (great favorite this season) or one of the new styles that look like wool or any of smart novelty wools, accented with trimmings of flat fur handled by clever dressmaker wits, you do it. The idea is right in line with the latest current style trends.

One of the outstanding gestures of fashion's realm today is the ingenious use of such furs as angora, astrakhan, caracul, similar pelts, for borderings, collars, panels, bib and plastron effects, for big revers and even for sleeves and novel pockets.

Also highly significant is the fact that a strong British trend influenced the forthcoming coronation of King Edward VIII, that is evinced throughout this season's fashions.

The models pictured carry the message both of British influence and the vogue for flat fur accents. They were selected from a collection of "classy" fashions presented by the style creators of Chicago in the wholesale district. The silk after-noon costume to the left is in royal blue, fashioned after the '30's guard, trimmed in black as with typical old English coats with three-quarter length coat military bearing. The design of the bordering shows the influence of the intriguing and intriguing designers are giving the now-so-voguish flat furs.

The dress and cape-coat ensemble to the right is developed in a royal blue faille trimmed in smart black astrakhan with satin lined cape—a charming costume for afternoon or street wear. The dress is tailored with long tight-fitting sleeves and also carries accents of astrakhan.

Chic versions of the very-new-flat-trimmed gowns are created of gleaming black broadcloth with a bordering of Persian lamb outlining the very full circular hemline and collar, from which extends a matching fur border all the way down the front from neckline to hemline. Wear one of the fashionable high toques of the same Persian lamb with a dress of this description for stunning effect.

The big hue and cry this fall is for gray-on-gray coats, the smartest types trending to the use of gray caracul or Persian lamb on rich gray cloths of sterling quality, although gray kidskin and grayish moleskin come in for a big share of the honors. The unique maneuvering of the fur adds to the zest of things. For instance a coat is apt to have a vestee that develops into a panel that travels the entire way down the front of the coat. Or perhaps the sleeves and the collar will be all of fur. The tricky ways of these stunning flat furs are too numerous to mention.

Cunning suits that sing a song of youth have hip-length peplum jackets with full "swing" skirts, all the edges being finished with bindings of the Persian lamb or caracul if preferred. These are fashioned of broadcloth, duvetyn or velvet. Black is first choice, although the autumn reds and greens and browns are competing most successfully for prestige. The latest thought is the fur-trimmed cloth or velvet dress sold with a matching fur muff.

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

Greenhorn Hunters.

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF.—Now that the casualty lists are drifting in, there's talk of action to cut down the needless fatalities that mark every gunning season.

Greenhorns prowl the glade, firing at anything that moves. All who can afford hunting licenses and high-powered rifles are eligible. They rarely hit big game, but seem able to blast fawn humans at any distance. If it were permissible to mount guides' heads there'd be handsome trophies over many a mantelpiece in this fair but careless land.

Irvin S. Cobb

Once there was a Maine guide—so the old story runs—who got goshawfully tired of being shot at by city slickers. So he made a complete suit of broad awning stripes, alternately white and black. He figured that ought to save him, but, on his next trip into the woods, an amateur potted him the first shot.

At the inquest, the coroner said: "We know you didn't mean to kill poor Eph, but how in thunder did you think a man dressed like him could be a deer?"

"I didn't think he was a deer," confessed the remorseful one, "I thought he was a zebra."

Anties of "Automaniacs"

IT MUST indeed be true that providence looks after idiots and drunkards. Else how could all such be able to get drivers' licenses?

I rode with a prize specimen yesterday. He seemed lucid enough until he got his foot on the gas. That was what fooled me. If ever I ride with him again, which heaven forbid, I shall carry a lily in my hand—just in case.

We had a set of overcoat buttons, the top off of a stop signal and part of a gocat in our car when we arrived. So we didn't actually hit anybody, this being due, I think, to his holding dead on the mark instead of leading it by a few inches, as one should when one's target is moving. He hopes for better luck next time.

Yet there was no rush. There rarely is. And that's the funny part about an automaniac's reactions. It's the only funny part—the rest is tragedy.

The Simpson Affair.

THE simple name of Simpson has become practically a household word in America, but 'tis said millions of English people haven't so much as heard it yet—or at least not in their public prints. It's another case of having to go away from home to hear the news.

If it's true, as exclusively reported over here, that his majesty invited a premier and primate—two of the highest cards in the whole deck—to mind their own business, he set the tune for the daily press of his realm to dance by.

However, the British newspapers never did develop the high arts of keyhole peeping and transom lifting to the extent practiced by a certain peculiar school of American journalism. With them, an Englishman's house still is his castle, though it be a glass house. Or even a royal palace.

But some of the London gossip-writers must be so swollen up with strangled copy they've probably had to have their clothes let out. Now, if haply 'twas purely a Yankee affair—instead of being, as it were, fifty-fifty—how those boys would love to cut loose.

A Job for the New President.

IF, in his first message to the next congress, our newly-elected President—should come right out and advocate the following things:

First—Taking steps to collect, or at least try to collect, what those defaulting debtor nations owe us; second—instructing the proper departments promptly to deport all aliens illegally admitted to this country and therefore here in defiance of our immigration laws; third—authorizing immediate action so that all unaturalized communists and other foreign-born enemies of the government which shelters them—including especially such of these as are on federal relief rolls or hold private jobs to the exclusion of citizens—shall be put out of this country and kept out.

Well, if he did do those very things, there wouldn't be, as Adam Bede once said, a dry throat left among the kind of Americans I trod around with.

Wives, Know Yourselves!

Accurate Analysis Will Do Much to Overcome Difficulty in Wedded Life

SPEAKING on the question of trial marriages, a well known writer said, "There should be no need for trial when two people know their own abilities and have measured themselves accurately. Two people who understand themselves will never, I believe, have any difficulty living happily together after marriage."

That is a new slant on the question of success in marriage, supplements a woman writer of national fame. Not "Know thy husband"—or "wife," but "know thyself!"

And, come to think of it, isn't most of the discontent and dissatisfaction in marriage traceable to ideas of ourselves—that may be misconceptions, no less than our illusions about the other person?

How many women's dissatisfaction with their husband has as its source the thought of all they gave up to marry him, all they "might have had" if they had married a certain other man?

How many women's discontent with the role of wife and mother springs from the thought of how much more fascinating pastimes they might have had if they had followed that career?

How many girls' impossible expectations of a fulltime lover and Prince Charming originates in an exaggerated notion of their own devastating beauty and charm?

If all discontented wives would look deeply into themselves, measure themselves, stop fooling themselves, many might discover that the other man they might have married is a self-nurtured illusion; that the career of their dreams is not a soft snap and a joy forever; but a grueling, exhausting job which might have worn them out if they had qualified for it, which they probably would have been unable to do; that they themselves are neither devastating beauties nor always charming, but women who are frequently disappointing and difficult to live with. They might discover and admit to themselves that they are greatly in debt to their husbands for many things that make life easier and better and more worthwhile—that they would not get along so well without them.

Then they might think more of doing their part of trying to make those husbands happy. And that effort on the part of one must inevitably go a long way toward a mutually happy and successful marriage.

LATEST CROCHET

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ations down the back mark this style. Many of the newer ones are crocheted in a quick stitch that is most effective and does not exact a heavy toll of time and patience to bring to completion. The dress shown is crocheted of knit-cro-shewn and will fit shape beautifully. It is just the type to wear under coats this winter, and it will blossom out next spring gaily and becomingly and can be worn without a coat. It can turn this dress around and around frontways if you really wish.

STREET TWEED SUIT HAS LONGER JACKET

The conventional street suit of tweed is made this year with a longer jacket that is nipped in at the waist and then flares out in a basque. For country or sports wear, the more classic suit lines are used, length top coats shown over full or divided skirts. One house goes further and makes a bicorne dress of tweed. The dress is cut on severe, tailored lines, high at the neck and with long sleeves. Instead of a skirt, the dress ends in well-cut bloomers, which come several inches below the knees. A seven-eighths sport coat of matching tweed completes the bloomer costume.

Silk Satins Outstanding

Vogue for Autumn Wear
 From morning to night during the coming weeks style-alert women will be wearing silk satins, judging from the emphasis accorded this fabric in the Paris openings. Plain and novelty weaves are both endorsed.

Seek satin afternoon frocks under reddish broadcloth coats are especially good form. Satin blouses with wool suits are also in high fashion.

Printed silk satin in a pin motif or printed in a filigree patterning are among the new showings. Eyelet embroidered satin is also a new feature.

New Stocking Note

After a summer of light beige stockings, black heels strike a note that seems fresh and new. They are two-thread chiffon, with black heel, sole and toes, and seamed with black thread.

Contrast Important

Color contrast is important this season in sports costumes, skirts and sweater often being of different tones. Scarfs and belts also carry out color contrasts or knit.

TIGERS LOSE TO WHEELER

The Wheeler Mustangs stomped the McLean Tigers to the tune of 18 to 0 in their football game last Friday night. The Tigers were in first class condition for the fray, but were unable to cope with the heavier Mustang team. This was another moral victory for the Tigers, and was the first time in the last five years that they have been defeated two times in succession by conference teams.

The score should have been 6 to 0, but the Mustangs converted two breaks into touchdowns. Only one of their scores was won by straight football. McLean made thirteen first downs to fourteen for the Mustangs. Several times the Tigers were in scoring position but were unable to carry the ball across the pay stripe.

McLean recovered a fumble in the early part of the game but was unable to make anything out of it. During the first half it was a punting duel, with the Tigers backing the Wheeler boys up on their one yard line as the half ended. The Tigers lost their chance to score in the second half when two incomplete passes went over their goal line, giving the ball to their opponents on their 20 yard line.

In the third quarter, Williams intercepted a pass, and a fumbled punt was beneficial to the Tigers. In the last few minutes of this quarter two long passes were completed by Wheeler, Ford to Norman, putting the ball in scoring territory. The score was made in the fourth period.

The Tigers rallied and took the ball down the field to have Ford intercept a pass and run 70 yards to be downed on McLean's 20 yard line. The ball was advanced by straight football and Ford plunged the ball over on a line buck. On the kickoff the Tigers grimly took the ball down the field again to lose it on downs. Ford broke loose again and scored the final touchdown. Laswell blocked the try for extra point on the last touchdown and the other two were wild.

Laswell played a good offensive game, but did not have the usual blocking the Tigers are noted for. Dwight, sub end, played a heads up game, and Smith may have some trouble regaining his regular berth. Williams and Watson put in a good game. Ford and Norman were the mainstays for the Mustangs.

Those starting for the Tigers were Nicholson, Wingo, Overton, Williams, M. Jones, Roach, Dwight, Braxton, Bogan, Watson and Laswell.

CORBIN HAS OLD DEED

J. F. Corbin showed the News editor an old deed for 160 acres of land in Georgia that at one time belonged to his grandfather.

The deed, the first one issued to the land, was dated Nov. 24, 1836, and issued to Figurs Newsom, probably an Indian, as the land was Cherokee land. The deed was signed by William Schley, governor.

Tied to the deed with pink ribbon, from which dangles a heavy seal of leather or parchment, embossed with the state seal, is the certificate from the original survey, dated June 28, 1832. At the top of the certificate is a plot showing the magnetic variation and an old military road crossing the land.

The unusual seal is the greatest novelty, as compared with present day seals, and the paper and writing are in excellent state of preservation.

DRINKING AT GAMES

So much liquor was consumed at the Texas-Oklahoma football game in Dallas recently that President W. B. Bissell of Oklahoma U has asked that football games in the future be either played at Austin or Norman. Students away from home threw restraint and self-respect to the wind and indulged too freely in liquor. Having seen the disgraceful sight in Dallas, we do not blame Dr. Bissell for being alarmed.—Canyon News.
