Waters Flood Midland, Pecos; Damage Limited As Heaviest '41 Rain Falls Here

Floods Drop In Rivers Of New Mexico

Midland City Hall Roof Caves In; Many Leave Lowland Homes

By The Associated Press Heavy rains in West Texas disrupted highway traffic and drove scores of persons from their homes as water reached flood proportions in three cities.

In Midland, residents of part of the town were driven from their homes as water rose in the streets following a 4.79 inch rain that started traffic and caused a cave-in of the flat roof of the city hall.

At Pecos, the Pecos river was up only slightly from its peak of yesterday, but many persons were still homeless as floodwaters covered farm lands and crops in the eastern section of the city.

At El Paso, the El Paso river was up only slightly from its peak of yesterday, but many persons were still homeless as floodwaters covered farm lands and crops in the eastern section of the city.

Suggest Idea Of Community Chest Here

Possibilities of a "community chest"—or at least a combined finance campaign on the part of several major civic and welfare agencies operating in the city—were discussed by members of the local Salvation Army advisory council in a meeting Tuesday evening.

The council met to discuss plans for the Army's annual fund effort, and Chairman R. T. Piner and J. H. Greene were named to contact officials of other welfare organizations to see if a mobilized campaign might be undertaken.

No definite plans were offered, but the Community Chest idea, long discussed for Big Spring, was to be put forward.

At last night's meeting were Piner, Green, McEwen, G. H. Hayward, Cliff Wiley and Major L. W. Canning.

Lessons in artificial respiration will begin for approximately 80 NYA youths enrolled in the First Aid class at the NYA center Thursday night as the students go into the fifth class period taught by the Couden First Aid team.

Heavy Fall Totals 2.35 North Of City

Ranges Benefit While Cotton, Feed Crops Suffer From Moisture Heaviest rain of 1941 descended on Big Spring and surrounding territory Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, causing limited damage to cotton and feed crops.

Total precipitation measured by the weather bureau at the airport was 1.85 inch up to noon, but north of town the fall was heavier, 2.35 being registered at the U. S. agricultural experiment farm.

Cotton and feed crops suffered some damage, while ranchers considered the moisture beneficial to pastures and surface tanks.

Heaviest rains of the state fell northwest of Big Spring. Lubbock gauged 3.75 inches Tuesday, Tuesday night and Wednesday, with the skies still overcast.

A four and a half inch rain was unofficially reported from the Lornah community in northern Martin county, while at Stanton the fall was estimated at near three inches.

Garden City reported an inch and a quarter this morning, with a sprinkle continuing, and to the west of that town good rains were recorded.

The fall was slow enough to prevent great damage to cotton from knocking buds out of bolls, but the moisture will discolor lint and lower its grade.

Work Starts Again In One Auto Plant

Two Others Remain Idle Due To Strike In Body Factory

By The Associated Press Production was resumed today at one of three big Detroit motor car plants closed by strikes of a few hundred men.

The Dodge division of Chrysler Corporation, employing 15,000 re-estimated production following an agreement between company and officials of the CIO United Automobile Workers.

Some 30,000 other auto workers plant of the Briggs Body company continued idle in the Mack avenue and at Chrysler's Plymouth division, because of a labor dispute in Briggs frames department.

Briggs supplies Plymouth with car bodies. The Briggs plant was shut down after employees in the frame department refused to work with four men transferred from the door assembly department.

A CIO spokesman said the Dodge plant dispute centered over methods of ventilating paint spray booths and drying ovens.

Dodge officials declared some 800 men struck in protest to the laying off of fellow workers.

The eight largest hotels in Pittsburgh were hit last night by a strike of 2,000 bellboys, cooks, waiters, elevator operators and other service workers, who demanded 15 to 20 per cent wage increases.

Reds Report Nazi Losses

Germans Approach Industrial City Of Kharkov In Donets Basin Campaign

By The Associated Press German siege armies attacking Leningrad have lost 100,000 men on the south and southwest approaches of the old czarist capital, while Russian losses in the siege of Odessa, Black Sea port, have reached a total of 160,000 troops, the Russians reported today.

Red Star, Soviet army newspaper, said "enormous German losses in Estonia and in the direction of Novgorod" were not included in the Leningrad estimate.

On the southern front, German military dispatches reported that Nazi troops were approaching the big industrial city of Kharkov, in the heart of the Donets river basin, which lies almost at the eastern border of the Ukraine republic.

DNE, official German news agency, said Nazi files "talking part in ground fighting" around Kharkov blasted a railway network and demolished 33 trains filled with Soviet army supplies.

Kharkov, a city of 654,000 population, is a center of smelting, metallurgical and other industries. The Russians, admitting the fall of historic Poltava, 50 miles southwest of Kharkov, where Peter the Great routed the Swedish invaders of Charles XII in 1709, declared that Soviet troops were forming along the east bank of the Voroksa river to block the Nazi onslaught toward Kharkov.

Capture of Poltava, a city of 150,000 on the west bank of the Voroksa river, was acknowledged in the Red Army's morning bulletin. The Germans said it fell along with Kiev, the Ukraine capital, on Sept. 19.

Nazi Executions Spread To Holland

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—The German radio said today that four persons had been executed and a fifth sentenced to life in prison for sabotage and espionage in the Netherlands.

The broadcast said the sentences were ordered by special war courts under direction of the German commander in chief for the occupied territory. One of the four executed had shot a German railway man without reason, it said, while the other originated and headed an espionage organization recently unearthed.

BERLIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—German retaliation for Czech attempts to throw off Nazi rule has cost 33 lives in three days, 28 of them yesterday, the third anniversary of the Munich agreement which began the partition of Czechoslovakia, it was reported today.

Six persons were reported executed Sunday and 24 were shot by firing squads Monday.

It was announced that the 28 persons executed yesterday included Karl Capek, a retired colonel of the German army. Among others were said to have been Prof. Wladimir Gush, of the Czech university, and a physician, Dr. Vojtech Tilk.

British War Expenses Up

LONDON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The House of Commons today voted a new war credit of 1,000,000,000 pounds—about $4,000,000,000—asked by Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood to meet the rising costs of the war.

British war expenditures now are running at 11,000,000,000 pounds ($44,000,000,000) per day, the chancellor said.

The current expenditures are more than 50 per cent higher than during the peak of the World War, when they ran only 7,000,000,000 pounds per day.

With two billions already authorized for war purposes alone, in this fiscal year beginning April 1, the official said the total government expenditures now were 15,000,000,000 pounds ($60,000,000,000) daily compared with 8,000,000,000 pounds at the peak of the World War.

Officers of the Howard county committee for the national infantile paralysis fund were selected at a meeting held Wednesday morning at the chamber of commerce. These include G. C. Dunham, chairman; Miss Anne Martin, secretary; and Ira Thurman, treasurer.

Nieces Of Local Man Not Drowned

The Herald is happy to be able to report an error in a press report.

Tuesday reports from Duncan, Ariz., where the Gila river inundated a large portion of the city, listed Joyce and Jo Wright, nieces of Mack Wright of Big Spring, as drowning victims.

Wright, who had rushed to Duncan to see if his brother, T. W. Wright, and sister were spared, found that the children were safe and sound after all. He notified his wife of the facts by telephone late Tuesday afternoon.

Love-Sick Girls Commit Suicide

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1 (AP)—Two girls, infatuated with boys who ignored them, committed suicide in the apartment of a friend last night. Detective Myron Warren said today.

The bodies of Betty Waldron, 18, and La Vonne Wood, 17, were found on a small out in the kitchen of the apartment of Eddie Lentz, 19, who told Warren he gave them permission to use the apartment. All six jets of a gas range were on.

Roosevelt Likely To Seek Piece-Meal Neutrality Revision

NEW TAXES: Some Kind Words About New Tax Levy

By LUCRECE HUGHES
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — If you really have a streak of Pollyanna in your makeup, you can look at the new federal tax bill this way: The more you pay in taxes, the less you will have left to pay for living costs. Does that sound like scrambled economics? Well, the way it works out, if you don't have as much money to spend, you don't buy as much and therefore you keep down the demand. Less demand, less reason for higher prices. That, friends, is the silver lining in the greatest tax bill this country ever has faced. Here are a few more crumbs:

Cigarette smokers, who already pay 8 1/2-cent tax to Uncle Sam on every package they buy, will pay no new tax.

No Tax On Profits! Also, while the tax was raised on wines and liquors, beer came out unscathed. The federal tax on gasoline remains the same, too. And if you think you will have

At tough working on the night shift in a defense plant, paying out a good chunk of your income for taxes, you can be thankful you aren't the big guy who runs the outfit.

All of the corporation heads put together are going to have to chip in $1,882,100,000 for the federal treasury. Jalopies Get It, Too. And if you've been feeling badly about hidden taxes, here's an excise tax the boys in Congress left right out in the open. It's the new 55-cent tax on automobiles, which will fall on the neck as well as the yolk. The schoolboy with the $20 jalopy will pay the same use tax on his car as the movie director with a custom-built town car.

The idea of the car tax is to catch a lot of people who otherwise wouldn't be able to join the 'taxpayers' club. Congressmen who inserted the item over Treasury protests claimed that anyone who had enough money to own and operate a car, however unsteady the car might be, certainly had enough to contribute to the defense program.

Good To Be A Small Frog. If you own a pleasure boat longer than 16 feet you will have to pay the same five-dollar usage tax. But you can be thankful that your boat is not longer than 23 feet, because after that the tax goes up. If you owned a luxury yacht of over 200 feet you would have to pay $200.

There's always something to be

Plan Would Avoid Fuss In Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (Sp)—Indications increased today that President Roosevelt may seek to minimize threatened congressional controversy over his foreign policy program by requesting only piecemeal revision of the neutrality act at this time.

Reliable sources said the president probably would ask only authority to arm American merchant ships and to send them to Canadian ports from which the law now bans them.

Several congressional leaders have advocated outright repeal of the act or—as suggested by Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee—modifications which would permit not only the arming of the ships but their entry into European belligerent ports to deliver war supplies.

The latter proposal might be expected to provoke lengthy, bitter debate and one administration senator, who asked that he not be quoted by name, said he had advised against it. He felt, he said, that a rising tide of support for the steps the president had taken thus far to aid nations fighting Hitler might be retarded by a full dress controversy in congress.

There were indications that senate opposition to the arming of American merchantmen would be much less formidable, so long as that proposal was not linked with a plan to send the ships into embattled European ports.

In the house democratic leaders were reported convinced that there would be an overwhelming majority for arming merchant ships, and further that complete repeal of the neutrality act could be obtained, if desired.

The proposal for arming the ships drew the unexpected endorsement of Rep. Fish (R-NY), usually an opponent of President Roosevelt's foreign policy.

"I see no objection to arming our ships so that they can protect themselves," Fish said. "I regard that as a defensive measure. Neither am I opposed to conveying supplies as far as Iceland."

Queens wreath centered the table. Balloons attached to walking canes were favors. Happy birthday songs and wishes were made and gifts presented.

Mrs. H. G. Keaton assisted with the serving and Betty Farrar had the games. Others present were La Juan Horton, Sharon and Paul Limer, Tommy Tate, Diane Denton, Beverly and Sandra Trapnell, Thelma Lou Tucker, Linda French, Norma Ann Ellis, Della Sue Reynolds, Billy Manell, Eleanor Jo Ledger, Benie Charles Long, Paul, Jimmy and Kay McNallen, Lynn Scott.

New Dodge—Fresh, trim lines and a long list of interior refinements and conveniences are found in this newest Dodge four-door, all-Fluid Drive custom sedan. From the flowing body structure to fine upholstery, the model gives an impression of obvious beauty. The machine develops 105 h.p. this year, 15 per cent more than in the 1940 model but on less gasoline than required for former models. Interiors are roomier than before.

More Beauty, Power Offered In New Dodge

More power and more beauty—that in a nutshell is the Dodge car, models of which are now on display at the Jones Motor Co. at 4th and Runkels street.

As Dodge enters its 25th new-model season, it presents a more beautiful exterior; completely restyled interiors; a new 105 h.p. engine transmitting greater power through the Dodge all-fluid drive that gives faster acceleration with new fuel economy; new features promoting riding comfort and safety; and the inclusion of operating details which in former seasons were regarded as extras.

The entire line offers 11 vehicles from the three-passenger coupe to the seven-passenger limousine. Wheelbases are 119 1/2 inches for the regular deluxe and custom models, and 127 1/2 inches for the two seven-passenger models.

From the front the new Dodge has a square front effect of massive design, and a hood with top-hinged arrangement. Headlamps are sealed-beam type with smaller parking lights set below the main lamps. Fenders are new with harmoniously flowing lines merging into body contours, and there are no visible running boards since door panels curve over concealed thresholds. Luggage compartments give 19 cubic feet of space. The interior is neat and sound-insulated. Upholstering is new and flashy as well as durable.

The new motor develops 105 h.p. against 91 in former models, and the greater output is achieved with notable fuel economy. It puts out 15 per cent more power on less gasoline.

Men Of The Churches Elect Officers At First Fall Meet

COAHOMA, Oct. 1 (Sp)—The Men of the Churches met Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the high school for the first meeting of the fall season and to elect officers. The meeting opened with a "sing song" led by W. H. Summerlin of Midway. The Rev. N. W. Pitts read the report of the nominating committee. The report was accepted and the following officers were elected: president, D. L. Townsend, vice president, H. L. Stamp, secretary and treasurer, Leroy Scholz.

The Rev. John Price was in charge of the program and recreation. D. L. Townsend gave a brief talk on "Athletics in Our Schools." The women of the Methodist church served the dinner and those present included George M. Joswell, H. H. Colley, N. W. Pitts, J. W. Price, A. J. Wirth, A. K. Turner, A. G. Young, R. F. Logan, Chester Coffman, Tom Farris, Summerlin, Pat Roberts, and W. D. Hays.

There Can Be No Curtailment of Dodge Quality ... No Substitute for Dodge Dependability

Being Shown and Demonstrated Now With Extra New Economy in Gas and Oil Consumption

The New and the Finest Dodge

EVERY MAN OR WOMAN who buys one of these new Dodges will get for his money the very finest car that Dodge has ever turned out. He will get it, of course, from a smaller total production, because the Government of the United States has first call upon Dodge factories and men. But, we repeat, every civilian buyer of Dodge motorcars will receive for his investment all of the traditional Dodge quality at higher levels of endurance, performance and economy than Dodge has ever supplied them before.

Power-Flow Engine—For All-Fluid Drive

He will get, literally, the climax value of twenty-seven years of fine car engineering. He will get the phenomenal success of Dodge All-Fluid Drive. He will get the new Power-Flow Engine, designed and adapted as the more powerful complement to the fluid smoothness of Dodge All-Fluid Drive. He will get a motorcar of lifetime lasting qualities, in which riding and driving have become almost the same thing—except that the driver gets the added joy of command.

Is This Asking Too Much? People by the hundreds who have driven the new Dodge say almost the same thing. They say they could not, and would not, go back to the old way of driving. It is not asking too much, we believe, that you investigate these revolutionary Dodge qualities.

You should experience the ebb and flow of Dodge power, at any speed, in any traffic, with or without shifting gears as you may wish. You should measure its new economy against the old, and realize that Dodge, all by itself, has turned the corner into a new day of motorcar performance, long life, and Dependability.

Dependability—Forever the Watchword

It is unquestionably true that fewer cars will be built this coming year, according to your own defense requirements. But, above all, it is true that there can never occur any curtailment of Dodge motorcar quality—and no substitute, ever, for Dodge Dependability.

A new Dodge car is a basic investment for the years.

"They Died With Their Boots On"

Highlights from Warner Brothers' exciting dramatization of the life of General George Custer, starring Errol Flynn and Olivia DeHavilland.

About to leave West Point to join the Union Army, Errol Flynn says goodbye to Olivia DeHavilland.

The war ended, he returns to his hometown a hero, and marries his sweetheart.

Later he grows restless in civil life and gets involved with unscrupulous land speculators.

Through her connections in Washington, Custer's wife arranges his return to the Army.

As leader of the Seventh Cavalry, he leaves on his fatal expedition against the Indians.

MEET THE STARS

With VIC ROSEN. Kane Richmond, a handsome young fellow of box chest and Grecian profile whom you'll be seeing next in MGM's "Steel Cavalry," has enrolled in night school. Richmond is studying Spanish. He believes that when the current frolic is over, the United States good neighbor policy toward the Latin Americas will result in an ever greater fusion of mutual interests, so that it is the wise man who prepares himself for the opportunities produced by this intercourse. Richmond feels that Hollywood will be doing business at the same old stand when the war is over, and in greater volume than ever, in view of expanded markets to the south, for while he is too diplomatic to sound off on partisan issues, he apparently is sure that the present effort of his old job Senate group to tunnel under public confidence in Hollywood, aided by a couple of microphone magpies who have yet to learn at the Athena, will collapse where it started. That will be serious because the public refuses to pay serious heed to the testimony of Senators who, in their vaunted concern for free institutions, fly in the face of the very things they profess to

Erskine Johnson's HOLLYWOOD

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS: Via Mature and Betty Grable will be 20th Century-Fox's newest co-starring team as a result of their work together in "Hot Spot." They'll be announced soon for another film to start late next month. Will Rogers' youngest son, Jimmy, is being considered for a director's berth at the Hal Rosch studio. He's been doing little-theatre work. That proposed seven-year ticket at Metro for Shirley Temple has gone with the wind. She'll check off the lot immediately after completing her comeback film. Wags around town are saying S. Tracy's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" should have been titled, "Edison, the Beast." George Montgomery is the latest to be tested for the Robert Jordan role in "For Whom the Bell Tolls." Grace Wales is eyeing two Fox cuties, Ann Baxter and Sheila Ryan, for the feminine lead in his next film, "The Magnificent Ambersons."

After kissing Martha Raye's famous caven mouth for a scene in "Keep 'Em Flying," Lou Costello turned to Bud Abbott and quipped: "Ye gods, there's enough for you and me and then me again!"

Studio executives are worried about Olivia DeHavilland's increasing weight. Ditto Olivia. Major studios are overlooking a bet in Margaret Marquis, who just completed the feminine lead in Monogram's "Escort Girl." W. C. Fields' new picture will be either "Pickwick Papers" for David O. Selznick or a movie with John Barrymore. How about a picture co-starring Fields, Barrymore and Miss West? Yoo, hoo, Mr. Hays. Judy Garland and Dave Ross still are acting like honeymooners. They have lunch in her dressing room at the studio every day. Monty Woolley, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," wonders whether he's being kidded. A Chicago manufacturer wants permission to label a new brand of underwear "Woolley woolies."

Back in 1931, when Gary Cooper was struggling for stardom, veteran Tully Marshall told him: "Young man, you show promise." Now, in a scene for "Ball of Fire," Marshall tells Cooper: "Young man, you show promise."

Harpo Marx is anxious to return to Hollywood and do a picture for a change. Ethel Merman may leave New York for a road show of "Panama Hattie," playing competition to Ann Sothern's Hattie in the film version. The Ritz Brothers are writing a musical which they hope to sell for Broadway production. Estelle Taylor is planning a screen comeback. Seen: Jackie Cooper sitting with his left hand so he could hold Bonita Granville's with his right at the Somerset House. Producer Jerry Brandt has ordered Guy Kibbee to gain 10 pounds for his next Scattergood picture. Billy Gilbert's sister-in-law, Fay McKenzie, has Republic executives raving over her performance in the Gene Autry film, "Down Mexico Way."

Gene Tierney's new husband, Count Oleg Cassini, designed the gowns she's wearing in "The Shanghai Gesture" and they're really something. One of them is so sensational that Via Mature told Cassini: "Look out, or you'll find yourself right out of a wife."

Gregory Ratoff, of pure Russian descent and who talks like it, is a great believer in the "V" campaign, only he can't say it. It comes out "wee." Other day, on the set of "The Corsican Brothers," which he is directing, Ratoff received a badge, solemnly presented by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and pinned to Ratoff's broad bosom by Ruth Warrick, the leading lady. It was a flowing "W" carved of wood. And at a story conference the other day Producer Samuel Goldwyn commented: "What Hollywood needs is more love stories with a romantic interest."

KEN MORGAN'S HOLLYWOOD KEYHOLE

When you wake up with a headache from an all-night drinking bout, Don't your mouth and stomach feel as if the Joad clan just moved out? (Excuse me!) Funny nobody ever ran across this obvious human interest yarn but here it is: Three years ago, Martha Raye conducted a very successful personal appearance tour—most of the success of the tour was due to the excellence of the "tammy" with which Martha surrounded herself. Salaries of the acts were paid by her and, business-like, she got the best for the least. One of the acts was an unknown team which proved a hit wherever they played. Now, Martha is appearing with the same pair in a motion picture—but this time they are billed over her on the marquee and are the stars of the film. The theatre lights will blink, "Abbott and Costello in 'Keep 'Em Flying,' with Martha Raye."

Ever since Alice White ceased to be a factor in picture grosses, Paramount has had a wealth of properties lying on the shelf. The other day these stories and ideas were taken off the shelf, the dust blown off and writers and producers ordered to cogitate on them. Reason being that a petite blonde appearing in "Louisiana Purchase" had caught the executives' eyes and was placed under a long-term contract. You'll soon be hearing about Phyllis Ruth—a former singer in bands who has been knocking on studio gates for some time to get this break.

Writer-producer Rowland Brown tells it: A penhandler walked up to him in a local drugstore last week and asked for the loan of a nickel—a loan, he explained, to be paid back from his winnings from the pin-ball machine. Brown said he would be glad to dig for a cup of coffee but for gambling—not the bum turned down the cup of coffee explaining that—it hurt his game!

THE GOOD HUMOR MAN: Strange reason for holdup for a few hours on production of Republic's "Newspaperman Are Human"—Wendy Barrie, in a taffy scene with Phil Terry, swallowed her gold inlay! ... Saw Martha Raye and Marietta Dietrich at Mocambo comparing casts on their legs. ... When Orson Welles goes on the air this fall, he will be chided throughout the show by the voice of his conscience—to be played by Cliff (Jimmy Cricket) Edwards. ... John Wayne, at his own request, will play the heavy instead of the hero in "Lady For a Night"—John Hodiell will play opposite. ... Don't believe any serious talk about Linda Darnell's Hollywood boy-friend—it is still Jaime Jarbo in Mexico City. ... Donald Woods knows an actor who loves an audience so much he always stands facing the other passengers in the elevator. ... Louise Beaver's career keeps moving—she gets a top spot in MGM's "Vanishing Virginian." ... Too bad premature and unfortunate publicity stopped the George Montgomery-Ginger Rogers romance—the pair looked headed for something. ... Paramount has had a commitment with Melvyn Douglas for the past year and a half and still has no vehicle for him. ... Gene Autry will open his rodeo April 1st in Cleveland, Ohio. Gene has bought 2000 acres of range land in Oklahoma where the stock will be kept. ... Patti McCarthy says that when an actress reaches forty she should stop patting herself on the back and start under her chin! ... Freddie Bartholomew is calling on one of Arthur Murray's twins, Phyllis. ... Eddie Cantor says his show, "Banjo Eyes," opens December 4 at the Colonial Theatre in Boston, to be followed by the December 14 date at the Hollywood in New York. ... Rudy Vallee has found Gail Patrick—takes her to Mocambo. ... TWOSOME TIME: At Bill Jordan's Bar of Music—Lew Ayres and Kay (Tillie the Toiler) Harris; Margaret Hayes with Sidney Guilaroff. At Charlie Foy's—Sheila Ryan and Jack Warner, Jr. At the Florentine Gardens—Alexis Smith and Craig Stevens. At Grace Hoyer Lodge—Laird Cregar and Reine Riano; Ann Gillis and John Sues. At Slappy Maxie's—Phyllis Brooks and John McLain; Simone Simon and Johnny Hyde. At the Pinate's Den—Elsie Barrie and Ed Wright.

JOE FISHER'S Reviews of Previews

The rush of previews in Hollywood continues at a dizzy pace, and it is no exaggeration to say that the group of reporters who cover these showings will welcome a let-down and a chance to sit at home of an evening. It follows that short reviews must be the order of the day.

Best box-office picture of the week is possibly the MGM production "HONKY TONK," starring Clark Gable and Lana Turner, with a supporting cast headed by Frank Morgan, Marjorie Main, Henry O'Neil, Claire Trevor, Albert Decker and Chill Wills. It's a story of lawless early days in Nevada, with Gable playing a fast-talking con man who can always find time to chase a pretty girl. He plays it for all he's worth, ably assisted by Miss Turner, who again displays real troupability. Especial mention must be made of Claire Trevor, who in a difficult role is perfect. Truth to tell the picture is remarkably well cast with all performers at their best. Gable fans and most everyone else should enjoy "HONKY TONK."

RKO introduced a new "series" picture, "THE GAY FALCON" as a starring role for the versatile George Sanders. It's delightful entertainment, distinctly on the breezy side, and Sanders is ideally cast in this cops-and-robbers melodrama with Allen Jenkins and Eddie Brophy providing the comedy. Wendy Barrie makes an excellent foil for Mr. Sanders while Anne Hunter does splendidly as his fiancée. The whole adds up to splendid entertainment and you're perfectly safe to take the children.

MGM previewed "THE FEMINE TOUCH," an amusing and well done comedy starring Scatman Scully and Don Ameche. It's all pure nonsense but does beautifully by an outstanding cast headed by Kay Francis, Van Heflin and Donald Meek, plus hilarious dialogue and the direction of acc director Woody Van Dyke, II. Performances are all on the pluperfect side with Miss Russell outdoing herself. Strictly the sort of entertainment to stir the imagination of every member of the family and leave you with a lift.

The long awaited Edgar Bergen-Charlie McCarthy-Fibber McGee and Mollie film, "LOOK WHO'S LAUGHING," finally reached the preview stage at RKO. Certain of a sure market for this picture assured by the radio following of this stellar combination, Producer-director Allan Dwan kept strictly to the radio formulas upon which these comedians have made such a success. That the story is a bit corny in spots doesn't hurt in the least, nor does it detract anything from what will certainly be a hit picture. A well-balanced cast headed by Lucille Ball lend sturdy support, and radio fans will get an opportunity to see Harold Peary who plays Gildersleeve on the radio as well as Fibber's announcer, Harlow Wilcox. Don't hesitate to take the whole family for a pleasant evening.

Twentieth Century-Fox's "A YANK IN THE RAF" really deserves more space than can be allotted it. Starring Tyrone Power and Betty Grable, the film is a truly great piece of entertainment and arouses your emotions so stringently that you'll be a wee bit limp at the fade-out. It's the meatiest role Power has had since "Lloyd's of London" and he digs into it with a will. Surprise of the picture, however, is Betty Grable. In the best role she has ever had this former song-and-dance girl more than justifies Darryl F. Zanuck's opinion in casting her for the role. "A YANK IN THE RAF" is the sort of film you can't afford to miss. And by all means take the entire family.

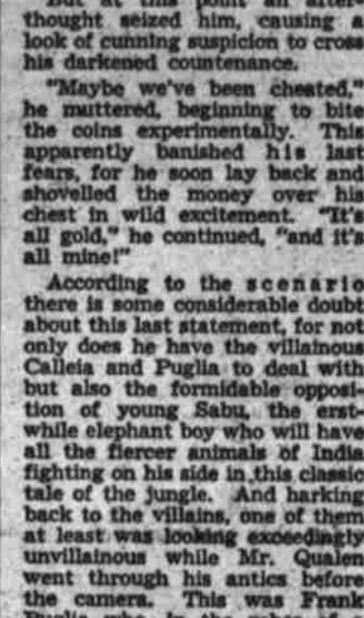

THUMBNAILED PRELUDES: "GENTLEMAN FROM DIXIE," starring Jack La Rue, Marietta Marsh, Clarence Muse and his singers, and little Mary Ruth. A melodrama of the deep South in which La Rue, who has been given a rather rough deal in Hollywood, gives an amazingly tender performance. Miss Marsh is excellent, while Miss Ruth, a discovery of producer Edward Finney, deserves special mention. The film is entertainment for the whole family and well worth seeing.

"RIDING THE WIND," an RKO production starring Tim Holt. This is a western with music, and for lovers of this type of entertainment will more than satisfy. It's young Holt's best effort to date and should go a long way in establishing him as a western star. Family entertainment that most anyone will enjoy.

ON THE SETS

With REED JOHNSON. There was villainy afoot on the set where they were shooting the day's footage for Alexander Korda's new technicolor production, "Jungle Book," but the chief conspirators, Joseph Calleia and Frank Puglia, were not practicing their villainy for the moment. Instead John Qualen, the third conspirator in this Rudyard Kipling fantasy of India, was giving a first class demonstration of how a poor man feels when suddenly confronted with a treasure worth countless millions. Wearing the rags and turban of a low-caste Hindu he was lying in a pile of gilded coins at least four feet deep, while around him lay scattered chests of pearls and other egg-sized gems which will gleam with convincing richness through the eye of technicolor. This was supposed to be the long-forgotten treasure room of vanished princes, and as the camera rolled Mr. Qualen first looked about him in bewilderment. Then as he took in the nature of his surroundings he sprang to his knees in the pile of coins and began to count them, reaching a total of eight before he decided that they were beyond his powers of calculation. "Millions!" he cried feverishly, tossing the coins over his head in showers. "I'll never have to count again!" But at this point an afterthought seized him, causing a look of cunning suspicion to cross his darkened countenance. "Maybe we've been cheated," he muttered, beginning to bite the coins experimentally. This apparently banished his last fears, for he soon lay back and shovelled the money over his chest in wild excitement. "It's all gold," he continued, "and it's all mine!" According to the scenario there is some considerable doubt about this last statement, for not only does he have the villainous Calleia and Puglia to deal with but also the formidable opposition of young Sabu, the erstwhile elephant boy who will have all the fiercer animals of India fighting on his side in this classic tale of the jungle. And harking back to the villains, one of them at least was looking exceedingly unvillainous while Mr. Qualen went through his antics before the camera. This was Frank Puglia who, in the robes of a Hindu pundit and with a large caste mark painted on his swarthy forehead, stood on the sidelines placidly dipping into a paper container of ice cream.

It should be unnecessary to report, however, that Mr. Puglia will eat no ice cream before the camera, and can be depended upon to be as devilish as you please when "Jungle Book" is put together for your inspection. It remains only to tell you that a further note of offstage incongruity was provided by four sheepish telegraph messengers who suddenly appeared in the midst of Mr. Qualen's treasure during an idle moment and sang a quavering birthday greeting to Alexander Korda.

A scene from the set of "Jungle Book."

Winking right at you over that catlike shoulder is Mary Martin, co-starring with Bing Crosby in Paramount's new musical, "Birth of the Blues."

HOLLYWOOD FASHION SCENE

By MARGARET MCKAY

One of our less publicized, but certainly one of our most ingenious young designers in Hollywood is Jack Perkins, who turns out most of the personal wardrobes of Judy Garland, Virginia Grey, Diana Lewis and Priscilla Lane. Calling on Jack the other day I looked over some of his fall ideas and they are definitely worth reporting. A dinner gown just finished for Judy Garland had a new version of the peplum. It was an inverted peplum of plaited tobacco-brown taffeta applied on a white crepe dress in a big cascading V-shape in back. The color combination of brown and white is startlingly new for evening and the combination of taffeta and crepe is novel and interesting. Jack again uses two odd colors in a street dress for Virginia Grey. The dress is simple black, but he uses champagne-colored crepe in wide diagonal stripes across the bias cut skirt. The bolero jacket is also tipped around the edges in the champagne tone. The third dress I liked was for Diana Lewis and uses fringe in a new way. A simple black dress with fringe epaulettes at the shoulder, fringe at the two big hip-pockets and a matching purse with rows of fringe covering it. Very fetching and simple enough to make yourself!

BEST DRESSED GIRL OF THE WEEK: We'll have to say a whole party was the best dressed this week. When Loretta Parsons, the well-known newspaper columnist and radio commentator with a retinue of young actresses and actors, pulled out from Hollywood on the Union Pacific's Streamliner for a home-coming trip to Miss Parsons' home town of Dixon, Illinois, there were many smart traveling costumes. Ann Rutherford, looking like a college girl going back to school, wore a representative type of outfit for the college girl. Her tailored suit was tobacco brown and her accessories in tobacco alligator. A jaunty mustard hat and scarf completed the costume. Miss Parsons wore the new wood-green color in a wool dress, suit with milk trim at the collar. Her dark green beret style hat was topped off with milk tails. Fur collars with a touch of the same fur on your hat is high fashion this year!

Record Review

By WAX MAN

Victor has just come through with an obviously much-needed volume of disc selection of Artie Shaw hits. Eight carefully chosen numbers that are constellations on a firmament of Shavian stars! The first record in the album is, appropriately enough, a coupling of two tunes that meant "beginning" for Shaw: Begin the Beguine—the selection which won for him his initial success; and Frenesi—the recording that marked his return to the field with a bigger band and a bigger appeal. Others are: Star Dust and Back Bay Shuffle, Dancing in the Dark and Traffic Jam, Moonlight and Serenade to a Savage. (Victor 27546 through 27549.)

Heard playback's yesterday of Ella Fitzgerald's singing in the Abbott and Costello picture, "Ride 'Em Cowboy," and it looks like a new field will be discovered for this popular stylist—and, admittedly, it would be hard for Ella to miss in the time of the Atlatlas, which she wrote herself and which gave her the gun to fame. (It's on Decca.)

The new star in the jazz heaven twinkling brighter than ever—Claude Thornhill has recorded an outstanding and thrilling (Teichowaky) adaptation of Concerto for Two. Claude's silvery rhythmic syncopation is uniquely soft and the chant by Dick Harding hits strong. For added good listening there's a clarinet ride by Irv Pazole. On the reverse is a Thornhill variation of the popular tune Jim which is moderately smooth. (Columbia 3537.)

New York's new singing star, Billy Daniels, just had a date on Bluebird. If this first one is any criterion, collectors will be wise to begin a separate shelf (how I wish I had started with Crosby's initial wax!). Wisely, the company chose two standards, Fountainside Serenade and Blues. Billy sings a verse ad lib and chorus in tempo on each side—it is grooved for a pipe and slippers mood. (Bluebird B-1296.)

There may be some vines around St. James Infirmary but never was there a more pulsating treatment of this number than the terrific waxing by Cab Calloway. Cab starts it low, letting his boys give it the power. Then he socks out with a vocal sweets "stretched out on a long white table." Mate in You Are the One in My Heart, written by Cab himself—it's a strange tune majoring in harmonious discords. (Okeh 6931.)

Iva's Credit Jewelry Opens Modern New Store Thursday

Building Newest Of Kind In Territory

West Texans may see the newest and finest styles in jewelry stores beginning at 9 o'clock Thursday morning by visiting the new Iva's Credit Jewelry store at Third and Main streets.

The observer must look twice to fully appreciate the attractiveness and accommodations of this new store, which Iva Huneycutt, proprietor, claims is equal to any jewelry store anywhere and is the largest in this section of the country.

Iva's Credit Jewelry store on the opposite side of Main and half a block north will remain open, Huneycutt pointed out. "We're not moving," he said, "but are opening a new store. As far as I can foresee now, we'll continue to operate both stores."

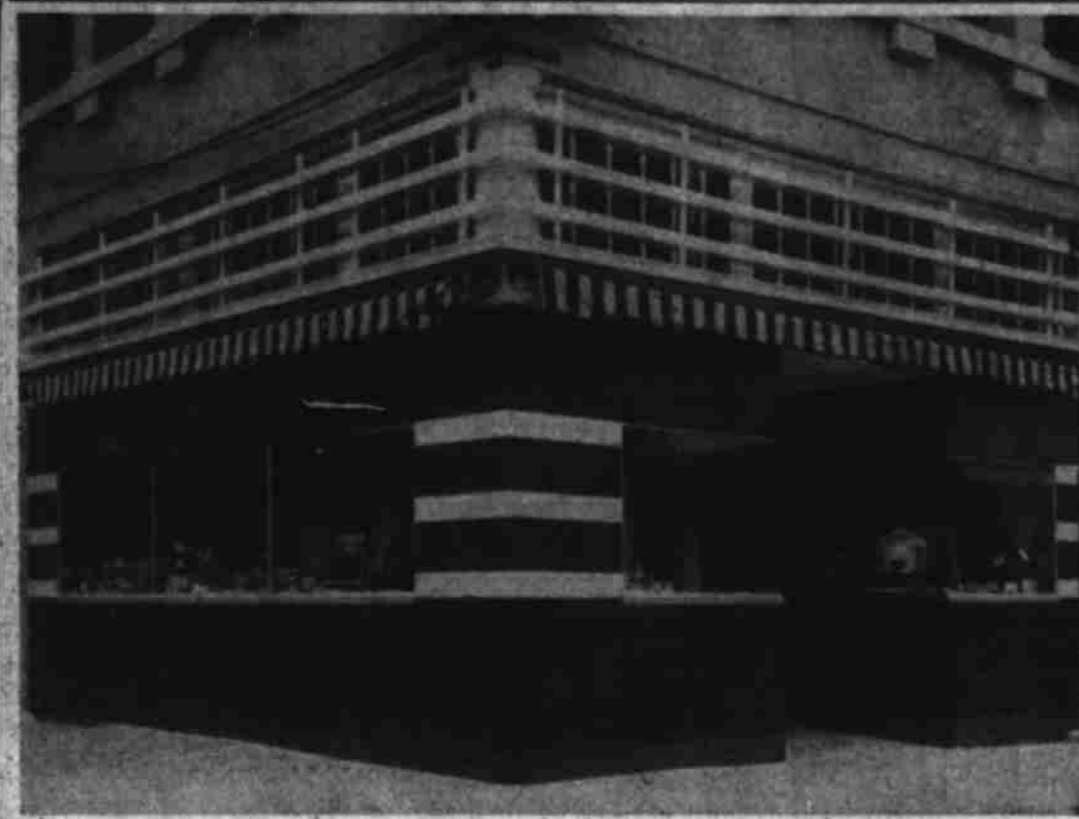

The visitor to Iva's new store is first impressed by the array of merchandise in its show windows, and may marvel at the amount of goods shown. The windows, especially designed for showing of jewelry, have a total length of 46 feet, which gives a display space few stores can exceed.

Within the store is particularly remarkable for its fixtures. All were custombuilt for the store, not bought from stock in the fashion of furniture. Eight display counters are used, four along each wall. The four tables are spaced along the center of the sales room for display of merchandise. Shelves cover each side wall completely. Counters, tables, and shelves are in perfect harmony, all being made for the store from Philippine mahogany, in natural finish. In harmony with the fixtures is the inlaid linoleum floor.

Lighting is part incandescent and part fluorescent, giving a mixture that is more natural looking than either separately. Center lights are fluorescent, while over each counter is a set of incandescent lights in attractive fixtures recessed into the dropped ceiling. Individual switches allow the salesman to throw this light on the case in which merchandise is being examined, giving an exceptional lighting effect.

The Iva's staff during this week has unpacked a complete new line of merchandise for the new store. Everything in it—from utensils to diamonds—is the newest on the market and is being shown in Big Spring for the first time.

A watch repairman will be on duty at both the old and new stores. Iva's policies, established during the past seven years in the old store, will be continued now in both places.

Addition To Shopping District—Big Spring's downtown section now boasts this store on the northwest corner of the Third and Main intersection. Notable is the 45-foot stretch of show windows and the modernistic design. Inside, the store is equally attractive. It will be open to the public Thursday. (Kelsey Photo).

Flashes Of Life--

By The Associated Press
TICKET SPECULATION
PHILADELPHIA — Penn coaches are up in arms over the football ticket situation but they aren't getting any help from the university's callous males.

They protested against men students being allowed to buy out-rate tickets a week before them but the university's Daily Pennsylvanian dismissed the matter with the comment:

"The girls will have a terrific time attempting to convince a lot of skeptical guys that a game started by men and numbering men among its most avid supporters is passing under the control of women."

TRAVELING LIBRARY
DAVIDSON, N. C. — The problem of moving 60,000 books from the old to the new library at Davidson college didn't worry anybody.

The 700 students were given a holiday, told to form a line resembling an old-fashioned fire brigade and pass the books from hand to hand.

He Prefers Own Business— Iva Huneycutt Worked For Salary Only Three Weeks

About 15 years ago, Iva Huneycutt, just out of school, took a job in a jewelry store at Padoosh, Texas. The pay was $7 per week.

Right away, the young jeweler decided that working for the other fellow was not the way to get ahead. After three weeks on a salary, he quit his job and has never worked for anyone else since that time.

Reared in the Galveston country, he had "come west" to Padoosh to start in business life. To go into business for himself, he went farther west—to Lamesa. He arrived in that town with a few watch repairing tools and a "stake" of $750, which had to serve both as business capital and living expenses.

A druggist allowed Huneycutt the use of a corner of his store, rent-free, in return for help when customers jammed the store. So the jeweler brought his shop into being a little at a time, pausing now and then from his watch work to sell a bottle of iodine or a bar of candy to drug store customers.

The business grew, became an independent store. Then Huneycutt sold out and moved to Amarillo. Five years in business there was followed by nine years in the same trade at Tulla, then Huneycutt moved to Big Spring and opened a store seven years ago.

That store—midget size though it may be—has prospered these seven years at its location on the east side of Main street, across from Wackers.

A year after the store was opened, Huneycutt opened a branch store in Odessa, which he sold out a little later only to open a new branch at Midland. Now the Midland store is almost as large as the new Iva store opening Thursday at Third and Main in Big Spring.

None Hurt As Plane Makes Crash Landing

DALLAS, Oct. 1 (AP)—A huge Delta air line plane, its retractable landing gear fouled, made a crash landing at Love Field and a moment later 24 occupants emerged without so much as a scratch yesterday.

The plane slid 200 feet through the grass and halted, bending the propellers and slightly damaging the fuselage.

"We just couldn't get the left landing wheel down," commented Captain Don Dice, veteran pilot who was at the ship's controls.

Passengers alighting from the plane smiled — some of them perhaps a little tremulously — when they saw ambulances, fire trucks, emergency crews and anxious airport officials awaiting them.

"I was just about to get out of the plane when I saw the landing gear was stuck," said Dice. "I had to make a crash landing. It was the first in the history of the Delta air line."

Governor Ends Brief Visit In Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Governor Coke Stevenson was en route back to Texas today after a one-day visit here in which he put in a good word for defense industries in his state.

He was due in Dallas tomorrow where he will address a civic group. He planned to return to Austin Friday.

The governor conceded he would run for reelection next year, but added that if his Washington trip had any political aspects they were purely secondary. He had come here, he said, to "get his feet on the ground," pay his respects to President Roosevelt and do what he could to advance defense projects in his state, including the Amarillo bombing base.

A group of Texans attended a luncheon for him in the capitol.

Among those present were Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), who was host; Senators Connally and Daniel, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones; Grover Hill, assistant secretary of agriculture; Judge Joe Montague of Fort Worth, attorney for the Texas Cattle Raisers Association; Walter Woodol, former lieutenant governor of Texas; John Fohis, manager of the Texas Trinity (river improvement) Association; Roy Miller, Corpus Christi; Robert Kleberg, and 14 Texas congressmen.

Accompanied by Rayburn, Stevenson called upon the president.

Rayburn told his colleagues that the president recently had expressed the hope that he might soon have a talk with the Texas governor.

Weather Delays Texas Harvest

AUSTIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—Texas harvesting operations were hampered by weather in the week ended Sept. 25, the biggest blow coming to the rice crop due to a tropical hurricane.

The agricultural marketing service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture said part of the rice crop, expected to set a new record this year, had been harvested and much of the remainder was ready for harvest when the hurricane swept over the greater part of the rice area.

Rain delayed crop gathering in East Texas but it continued elsewhere except where scattered showers fell.

Surface and subsoil moisture was ample for seasonal crops and operations except in the northeastern Panhandle and scattered central sections.

Rains fell over much of the cotton area, delaying harvest and increasing probable insect damage to late cotton.

In the extreme northwest bolts were opening slowly as growth of plants continued amid hopes of a late first frost. Leafworm activity continued there and in the south high plains and low plains areas where picking had started and exceptionally good prospects continued. Harvest proceeded in the blacklands with some deterioration following recent rains. The short crop in East Texas was further lowered by heavy rains and wind.

Harvesting of the tremendous grain sorghum crop in the northwest continued, though delayed in some sections by scattered rains, insufficient machinery and lack of experienced operators. Many areas, especially in southern parts of the state will have second crops for forage or grazing and for grain.

The Department of Commerce estimates that defense expenditures will total about 20 billion dollars in 1942.

Consumer expenditures in the United States will total 75 billion dollars this year, the Department of Commerce says.

Days Named For Taking Of Applications For Aid To Needy Children Of County

Mrs. Frances Peters, state department of public welfare representative for Howard county, has announced that she will accept applications for aid to needy children the first and third Mondays of each month.

Relative of the children for whom aid is sought are requested to call on Mrs. Peters at the county welfare headquarters at 209 West Second street. The children need not be brought along.

Eligibility of each child for aid must be established, and careful investigations will be made. Age of the child must be proven, so applicants are requested to obtain birth certificates in advance.

In Dawson county, applications will be taken each first Friday, and applications for old age assistance and blind assistance will be taken each first Thursday.

In Howard county, Mrs. Peters will continue to take applications for old age assistance and aid for the needy blind on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Although no applications have been taken in the county, Mrs. Peters reports that inquiries about aid for children has indicated considerable interest in the subject.

Since the aid for blind program started, less than half dozen applications have been made, she said.

SMILING SERVICE—That's the specialty of these two saleswomen at Iva's Credit Jewelry. Mrs. Margaret Ledger, left, is a newcomer to the jewelry business but has had much merchandising experience. Mrs. Treasle House, right, has been a part time employe of Iva's for more than two years. (Ferry Photos).

Knitting And Sewing Asked By Red Cross

With vacations over, school terms underway, and life, generally settled into its regular routine, more women should have time to sew and knit for the Red Cross, Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, executive secretary of the Howard-Glasscock chapter, believes.

There is a need for plenty of work in the knitting of sweaters, caps and mittens and making of children's clothing, women's skirts, men's pajamas and baby layettes.

This week a box of layettes was shipped to the concentration point for shipment to England.

The Red Cross office is now located in the basement of the J. & W. Fisher store. Women who call there may either work in the office or carry the materials home for work. Mrs. Sawtelle will give knitting instructions for those desiring to learn this craft.

THE WAR TODAY: Hard Pressed In Ukraine, Hitler Can Strike Elsewhere

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

British Prime Minister Churchill has the habit of hunching up his expansive shoulders, sticking out his jaw and stating harsh facts bluntly, and in his report on the war situation to his people yesterday he emphasized that Hitler still holds the initiative in every arm excepting the air.

Indeed, added the prime minister, should the Nazi chief decide to stand on the defensive in the Russian theater, he would have sufficient striking power to launch great attacks simultaneously against England, Africa, Egypt and Spain. Such a development is possible, though nobody knows what the Führer may do.

As a matter of fact, it's quite likely that Hitler hasn't yet decided on his course. The Reds have rather upset his mastery over his own destiny, and in my mind his campaign plans are being sketched right now in the mud of the rolling fields in the Ukraine.

Thus far he has been driving with all his strength in this southern sector with the apparent purpose of trying to complete his invasion of the Ukraine, and then turn southward into the Caucasus toward Iran (Persia) before the arrival of winter.

There can be no doubt that the Reds are very hard pressed in the Ukraine. Churchill yesterday voiced concern at the Russian lack of resources, and certainly want of equipment, especially tanks and airplanes, has accounted for many of the Soviet reverses.

The German high command today announced successful continuation of the Nazi offensive east of the Dnieper river. Simultaneously Moscow admitted the loss of the ancient city of Poltava on the river Vorskla, 180 miles southeast of Kiev, Ukrainian capital.

The significance of the Nazi capture of Poltava is that it was one

Funeral Today For Mrs. Coates

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Evelyn Coates, 65, were to be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the Salem church, where the body also will be interred.

Mrs. Coates, who had resided here since 1920 with her children, succumbed at a local hospital Tuesday afternoon to the effects of a stroke suffered two weeks ago. She was brought to a hospital here from Abilene where she sustained the stroke.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. A. B. Young, Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. Morgan Coates, Cosahoma; and Mrs. Ira Menshaw, Cosahoma; one son, J. L. Swops, Lamesa; and one sister, Mrs. R. J. Mitchell, who is critically ill at her home in Roby.

The Rev. Jack Harrell, Abilene, was to be in charge of rites and pallbearers were to be Clint Rogers, Alfred Collins, R. E. Martin, Earl Hull, Norman Read and Jim Reeves. Eberley Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

WATCHES may be a lot of unfathomable clockwork to you and me, but W. M. Woods, above, knows just what makes them run—or fall to run. He is a repairman for Iva's Credit Jewelry, and will continue to offer his services at the old Iva store while the new store goes into operation. (Ferry Photo).

Independents Seek Higher Crude Price

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 1 (AP)—Independent oil producers started a movement here yesterday to get higher prices for crude oil.

Despite rising labor costs and material, the crude oil price is unchanged, Col. W. T. Knight, one of the area's largest producers, said.

Refinery prices, said Tom Hunter, have increased 60 to 100 per cent, but none of the increase has been passed on to producers.

W. D. Cline, another speaker, said independents are entitled to a fair return on their invested capital, reserves and operating costs.

Payrolls In Texas Grow

By The Associated Press

Employment and payrolls in non-agricultural business in Texas continued in August the upward trend that has been uninterrupted since last January, the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve Bank, Eleventh District, released today reports.

The number of persons employed in August was 15 per cent greater than a year earlier and payrolls were up 25 per cent. Gains were general over the state.

Agricultural prospects showed some further improvement during August and the first half of September, as physical conditions were generally favorable for the development of growing crops.

Timely rains in the western portion of the district replenished surface moisture and virtually assured large crop yields. Dry, hot weather in many areas that has received excessive rainfall earlier in the season enabled crops to make good growth and partially to overcome the lateness of the season.

As the season progressed, it became apparent that yields of several crops, including cotton, grain sorghums, tame hay, sweet potatoes, rice and peanuts, would be larger than had been anticipated earlier, the review continues.

The cotton crop in this district made good progress during August under weather conditions that were conducive to rapid plant growth and better insect control. In consequence, prospective production was raised to 10 per cent to 2,438,000 bales.

Condition of livestock and their ranges continued good to excellent during August, and the outlook for fall and winter feed is promising.

Hulen Retires From Positions With Railroads

FORT WORTH, Oct. 1 (AP)—Brevet Lieut. Gen. John A. Hulen, well known Texas railroad executive and former commander of the 36th Division, has retired from the vice presidency of the Fort Worth and Denver City railway and the presidency of the Burlington-Rock Island railroad.

A joint announcement by the railroads yesterday disclosed also that C. D. Peckinpaugh, general manager of the Denver line since 1936, would succeed Hulen as vice president, at the same time continuing his duties as general manager.

The presidency of B-RI will be assumed by J. D. Farrington of Chicago, chief operating officer of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, and formerly general manager of the Denver line. He also will continue his present duties.

Retirement was mandatory for Hulen because he recently attained his 70th year.

Savings Bond Purchases Drop

AUSTIN, Oct. 1—Texans are spending less and less money for savings bonds, reports of the University of Texas bureau of business research show.

August purchases of savings bonds in 21 major cities totaled $453,937, a 24 per cent drop from August, 1940.

For the first two-thirds of the year, Texans in these cities have bought $5,296,373 of savings bonds. Compared to the 1940 figure of $6,510,371, this is an 18.6 per cent slump.

Ex-Peace Officer Accused Of Murder

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 1 (AP)—Harry H. Oliver, former chief deputy sheriff of Miller county, Ark., was charged with murder today in the downtown slaying last night of Lee Clements on the Arkansas side of this twin city.

Clements died on the sidewalk of a bullet wound in the stomach. Oliver surrendered to Texarkana, Ark., police.

Sheriff W. E. Davis said he was informed by witnesses the shooting was the culmination of an argument over payment for gasoline the men purchased prior to the shooting.

Medical Group To Meet In Ft. Worth

GALVESTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Fort Worth was selected as the next convention city and Dr. Fred Smith of Houston was named president-elect at the business session of the annual meeting of the Texas State Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists yesterday.

That feeling was heightened by Jerry's behavior that evening. There was constraint about him, Pam felt it, in spite of his effort to hide it. His gaiety was forced.

He left reluctantly. It seemed good-night had never been so hard to say. He turned at his car and blew a kiss back to her. Pam watched until the tail-light was no longer visible, then turned slowly back to the house.

As she addressed, her thoughts returned to Lenore and Jim Perry. The first thing Pam did in the morning was telephone Freda and ask her to lunch.

Freda arrived in violet slacks and a raspberry shirt. She was casually sat at table to bring up the subject of Lenore.

"And I thought," she concluded, "that you'd know how to manage. You know, tell Lenore Jim Perry isn't the sort she should be playing around with."

"Who is this Jim Perry?" Freda asked lightly.

"That's just it," Pam said. "No one knows. He just came here one winter and stayed on because he seemed to find it profitable. No one knows exactly, because he's very clever, but it's suspected that he gets winter girls to let him play Bolito with pretty big sums, and that it's only occasionally, very occasionally, he lets them win. They say that actually he keeps the money himself most of the time."

"I wonder how nearly right you are," Freda said, thoughtfully. "I've noticed lately some of Lenore's jewels have been gone. She has not worn them at parties."
