Decline in Relief Rolls Predicted by Hopkins

IN HIS first press conference since the Presidential election Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, asserted his belief that relief rolls this winter would be at the lowest point since the start of the depression.

He estimated that 3,750,000 families and single persons would be receiving federal and local aid January 1, 1937, compared to a peak of 5,316,000 in January, 1935.

"I think," Hopkins said confidently, "that we will go into January of this year caring for 1,000,000 less cases than a year ago and a reduction of about 1,500,000 from 1935."

The administrator's attention was called to the fact that latest figures showed that 3,498,012 persons were employed the first two weeks of October, an increase of 29,020 over the preceding half month. He explained this by pointing out that the drought in the Midwest added 32,831 destitute farmers to his WPA project list.

Steel Workers Ask for Legislation

FIRST in the re-election of President Roosevelt to call on him for their reward, the steel workers have asked that the Chief Executive recommend to the next congress the passage of legislation outlawing company unions and forbidding coercion of workers by employers. George A. Patterson and Elmer J. Malouf, employee representatives of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company, carried this request to the White House.

The Carnegie - Illinois company has offered employees a 10 per cent wage increase on condition that workers sign an agreement to permit adjustment of wages to the cost of living. At his press conference President Roosevelt said living costs should not be permitted to operate to curb wage increases. Furthermore, Secretary of Labor Perkins ruled informally that the employee representatives had no authority to sign such an agreement for their fellow employees.

Labor Board Dissolves Harvester Council Plan

EMPLOYER corporations were hit by a ruling of the National Labor Relations board ordering the dissolution of the "industrial council plan" of the International Harvester company at the plant in Fort Wayne, Ind.

While the ruling dealt only with the Indiana plant, the board pointed out that the same plan also exists in the other 14 Harvester plants in the United States and Canada. It sets a precedent also for future decisions in regard to similar plans in other manufacturing plants throughout the country.

A. F. of L. Council's Report on Social Security Act

WHEN the American Federation of Labor's annual convention opened in Tampa it had before it the report of the executive council dealing with, among many other topics, the social security act. The report heartily approved of a federal social security program and urged adoption of state laws that would give labor the greatest possible benefit from the federal statute. If the federal law is unconstitutional, the council said, "it is clear that its provisions must be changed or that sanction must be afforded to them through an amendment to the constitution."

The council questioned the wisdom of obtaining the necessary funds through a payroll tax "which to a great extent is to be paid directly or indirectly by the workers involved" and suggested that congress repeal this feature of the law as soon as it convenes.

In discussing unemployment since NRA's end, the council said: "The shorter work week and the six hour day furnish the real solution to the insistent problem of unemployment. It is the responsibility that private industry must accept in order to give the necessary balance to economic expansion." The council reported a membership of 3,422,398 on August 31—the greatest since 1921. The council dismissed John L.

Lewis' epochal rebellion with a detailed factual account of its progress during the last year. "Appropriate action" was suggested.

George L. Berry, national co-ordinator for industrial recovery and president of the Printing Pressmen's union, proposed that the controversy with Lewis and his C. I. O. group be ended by arbitration, but this was rejected by President Green and other federation leaders. John P. Frey lost no time in introducing his resolution for expulsion of the rebel unions with their membership of over a million.

President Starts on His Ocean Cruise

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT went by train to Charleston, S. C., to board the cruiser Indianapolis for a jaunt in southern waters. He said he was not certain where the ship would take him, but in Washington it was assumed that he would proceed at once for Buenos Aires to attend the opening of the Pan-American peace conference on December 1. In that case he will make stops at Port of Spain, Rio de Janeiro and Montevideo, and will not return before December 15. If his plans are changed, he will merely spend two or three weeks fishing in the Caribbean.

At his last press conference before departing the President said he had about completed drafting the 1937 budget. He said also that he had outlined to his subordinates the things he wants done during his absence, these including:

Drafting of a farm tenancy law to end evils attending the system of share-cropping and farm tenancy, now chiefly prevalent in the South.

Clarifying amendments to the social security act.

Amendments to the Tennessee Valley Authority act, permitting broader social and economic improvement of the regions served by the TVA's huge power projects.

Year's Breathing Spell Likely for Farmers

SECRETARY OF Agriculture Wallace in an interview intimates that for a year there may be no new legislation for crop control along the lines of the outlawed AAA, for farmers would like to have one really good crop without forced curtailment. But he added: "We will need some legislation eventually unless the weather changes or the world demand for our products greatly improves."

Wallace was asked whether the lack of a control plan might result in another surplus, leaving the administration up in the air without any machinery to cope with it. He said he could not estimate a surplus ahead of time and that he would rather wait to see what would happen.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., to Marry Ethel du Pont

THE engagement of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., third son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, to Miss Ethel du Pont of Wilmington, Del., was announced by the young lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene du Pont. There had been rumors of this romance for months, but announcement was delayed until after the election. The wedding will be in June after Mr. Roosevelt's graduation from Harvard, and will be a quiet affair. Miss du Pont's father is a member of the board of directors of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours company. She is a niece of Lamont du Pont, president of the company; of Pierre S. du Pont, chairman of the board, and of Irene du Pont, another director of the board. She was presented to society on June 27 last.

Loyalists Defend Madrid With Desperation

LOYALIST defenders of Madrid, reinforced by troops from the southeast and apparently supplied with airplanes and tanks from Russia, put up unexpected resistance to the furious attacks of the Fascists, delaying the capture of the capital. The insurgents sent many planes to rain bombs on the city and there were dramatic battles in the air as well as on land. The attackers at one time smashed the defending lines at the Los Franceses bridge and forced their way across the Manzanares river and into the northwest quarter of Madrid, but probably retired, for the loyalists dynamited the bridge and captured several rebel tanks. The new supreme defense council in the capital, taking charge when the president and other government officials fled to Valencia, was reported to be functioning smoothly and was confident of ultimate victory over the rebels, even if Madrid were lost to them.

ADVENTURERS CLUB

Hello Everybody

"U-Boat 151"

By FLOYD GIBBONS.

HERE'S a lad with an amazing story. He is Thomas P. Carey of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the experience he had was one that has happened to mighty few people in the world. Tom—an American—had the rare thrill of cruising on a German submarine while it raided our shipping along the Atlantic coast.

That, of course, happened during the war. On May 22, 1918, Tom shipped as a seaman on the schooner Hattie Dunn, sailing out of Charleston, S. C., bound for New York with a cargo of cotton.

The third day out, off the Virginia Capes, a submarine broke the surface of the water and fired a shot across the Hattie Dunn's bow. The skipper heaved to and dropped the topsail. Tom says that all that happened so quickly that, standing there on the Hattie's deck, he hardly realized that anything exciting was happening. He little dreamed he was about to start out on a great adventure.

Blew the Hattie Up in a Hurry.

The submarine swung a boat over the side and an officer and four German sailors boarded the Hattie. Just then another schooner appeared on the horizon and bedlam broke loose. The sub's commander shouted across the water to the searching party. The searching party ordered the Hattie's crew into the lifeboats. Hurriedly a charge of TNT was set off in the Hattie's innards, and as the Hattie went down, her crew, in their boats, watched the submarine pursue and sink the second schooner.

The second schooner was the Hauppauge, bound for Portland, Maine. When it was blown up, the sub came back. The crews of both schooners were herded aboard the undersea craft. Tom then learned that he was on the German submarine U-151, commanded by a skipper named von Nostitz.

There were 17 prisoners aboard, but Tom was the only one who could speak German. "So I went to the skipper," Tom says, "and pleaded with him to set us adrift in the small boats. He refused to do it because he didn't want it known that a submarine was present in American waters. He told me he had a task to complete. He said he had planted 50 mines in Chesapeake bay, and had 50 more to plant in the mouth of the Delaware."

Trying Time for the Poor Prisoners.

At that time there was room enough aboard to accommodate all the prisoners without crowding. The ship submerged, and that was an uneasy moment for a lot of captured sailors who had never been under the water before. They hadn't been down long when the periscope watch sighted another schooner—the Edna, bound from Philadelphia to Santiago with a cargo of gasoline. That was captured and blown up and six more prisoners were taken aboard.

While Tom acted as interpreter, the commander questioned the newcomers. They assured him there was no news abroad of a submarine lurking in American waters. Tom says all of them gave von Nostitz advice about the shore line. They knew only too well that their own lives depended on his navigation. It was a trying time for the prisoners, and their nerves were frayed to the breaking point. For in addition to the hazards of living on a submarine which might be sunk any moment by an American battleship, they were remembering things they'd read in the papers—tales of subs that had shelled life-boats full of helpless men—of prisoners tortured, killed—of men shot up through torpedo tubes and left to drown in the empty ocean.

Still, the German crew seemed friendly and hospitable. They shared their bunks with the prisoners and made them as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. The U-151 was running toward Delaware bay, and at 9:15 that night the watch sighted Overall lightship. Then, without warning the boat gave a terrific lurch.

Disabled by Striking Bottom.

The lurch took Tom completely off his feet. The boat bumped two or three times, then leaped toward the surface. There was general pandemonium aboard. The officers were yelling all kinds of orders. Some of the prisoners were praying, some yelling, while others were so stunned they couldn't move. The engineer cried, "She won't stay down. I can't control her." They had struck bottom and disabled the steering apparatus!

The ship was spinning around, helpless in an eddy current. Lights were looming up ahead, and any one of them might be an American patrol boat. A large steamer passed a few hundred feet away. Two more passed almost as closely. The current was pulling them toward the lightship. "We could hear its bell, and it sounded like a death knell to all of us," says Tom.

Down below, the crew was working with a fine frenzy. At last came the order to close the hatches and dive again. The break had been repaired.

They Cut Two Trans-Atlantic Cables.

The sub lay on the bottom for a few hours, then came up in a thick night fog to plant the remaining mines. At ten the next morning they were on the bottom again while the crew took a nap. That evening they set out for New York. On May 28, they were off Fire Island, to cut the trans-Atlantic cables with a newly devised instrument. After two days' angling, they had cut two of them—one to South America and another to Europe.

From there the sub went back to Delaware bay, where it took the S. S. Winneconne and the schooner Isabel B. Wiley. The lifeboats of both ships were drawn alongside, and then it was that Commander von Nostitz told Tom the time had come for a friendly farewell. Prisoners put off in motor lifeboats, and landed at Lewes, Del., after eight days of captivity—eight days in which they witnessed—and lived through—a war-time epic of the sea.

We were all supposed to hate the Germans during the war, but Tom found it pretty hard to hate Commander von Nostitz. As a matter of fact, he and Tom parted the best of friends, and to this day they keep up a correspondence. A war may separate a couple of nations—but there's nothing like a good adventure to bring them together.

Founding of Oxford

Traditionally, the founding of Oxford university was by Alfred the Great, about 871, but the authentic origin was the result of a quarrel between Henry II, and Thomas a Becket, about 1164, when the king forbade English clerks to study at Paris, and they returning, boomed the school at Oxford. The earliest document giving the school of Oxford the title of university was in 1201.

Swallows in Chinese Literature

There exists in Chinese literature no more fitting means of signifying family love and endearment than by mentioning the companionship female swallow. Some of the folk-songs of old Peking and Shantung, young Nature Magazine, picture a her mate at each fresh sight of the swallows flying about the country in pairs.

Salting Politics Away

LAS VEGAS, N. M.—A few weeks ago everybody on the train I'm traveling on was talking politics. Today everybody nearly is talking football. Exceptions noted thus far:

1. A middle aged lady talking symptoms. It seems she has had practically everything except lock-jaw. And as for operations—well, her whole life must have been an open book. I gather she never had a secret that was not shared with at least three doctors.

2. A gentleman connected with the movies talking movies. In an eighteen-hour shift.

3. Another gentleman talking self. Irwin S. Cobb We can tell that, up to now, he is just browsing around the edges of this fascinating topic. By tomorrow we expect him to get really into the meat of it.

4. An elderly gentleman talking steadily. He has been going since we left Los Angeles. We don't know exactly what his subject is. He has not said yet.

Praising Grand Canyon.

SCOOTING across Arizona I was moved to weave into this a complete description of the Grand Canyon. But mercy stayed my hand. Instead, I have decided to send to all deserving applicants souvenir postcards showing views of the canyon. This will give the general idea. It looks just like the postcards, only larger.

There's one thing about the Grand Canyon—long after every other natural wonder has been desecrated with architectural doodads and the scribbled names of individuals whose signatures would look all right on the register of any dollar-a-day American plan hotel, but are sort of out of place when smeared over one of creation's masterpieces, the Grand Canyon will still be unspoiled.

California Rivers.

IT'S fun to cross a river with at least a trace of wetness in it. It must be my early raising, but I like a river to be dampish—in spots, anyhow.

After two years I can't get used to southern California rivers, where, for nine months a year, the only craft you can navigate is a stone-boat, and unless they use a sprinkling system you can't see where you're going, and they deepen the channel by blasting and not by dredging, and you come back from an aquatic trip full of hayfever dust. They do say the fish have to learn to swim all over again every fall, and down between the steep banks the poor little frogs suffer terribly from sunburn. It's a great country for Holy Rollers but hard on Baptists.

Crater Versus Manville.

I'M TORN between temptations. I'd like to follow the search now on again for Judge Crater, who has been mysteriously missing all these years except for the two or three hundred times when somebody said he'd been seen. On the other hand, Tommy Manville, the husband of his country, is reported as having fresh woman trouble back east—this time of a blonde nature.

Still, I can always prow the deserts, looking for the judge. Out here, we hunt him at regular intervals. He's different from the Liberty League. It disappeared just as suddenly as he did, but stayed away.

Commercializing Football.

ONCE upon a time, and not so very long ago, a college was known by the football team it kept. Now it's known largely as the college that some football team is keeping.

And sport writers say that more money is now being wagered on football than on any other sport we have. And it doesn't take an expert's eye to see that, each season, football is becoming more and more commercialized, more and more a professional, profit-making industry. Well, if football is to go the way of wrestling and horse-racing and prize-fighting, it'll pretty soon be so that about the only game a chap can play without fixing somebody beforehand will be solitaire.

Still, being a football devotee does keep you out in the open air. But you could say that same thing for a seagull.

Happiness

Be cheerful! Which will you do—smile, and make others happy, or be crabbed, and make everyone around you miserable? The amount of happiness you can produce is incalculable if you show a smiling face and speak pleasant words. There is no joy like that which springs from a kind act or pleasant deed, and you may feel it at night when you rest, and at morning when you rise, and through all the day when about your business.

MEET IN McLEAN

Pampa district of vocational teachers and F. F. A. members voted to have their next meeting in McLean on the last Saturday in January. The McLean F. F. A. chapter is making plans to have a very interesting program for their schools that will be visiting.

SENIORS GOLD-DIGGING

Nov. 23, 24 and 25 the seniors held a food sale. The money in this sale will be part of the fund.

BAND HAS NEW MUSIC

The band has purchased some new music. Rehearsals have now begun on these and the band is to have them before the public in many weeks have passed.

GERETTES CHEER TO FINISH

Last Friday night when the fiercely fighting Tigers combated the once again Irishmen at Shamrock, they cheered on toward the goal by the pep squad. During the game the pep squad, during the game, cheered on toward the goal by the pep squad.

INTERESTING PERSONS

Before coming to McLean, Veta attended the Ramsdell school. She is now in her senior year and expects to graduate next year at the age of 18. She is planning to become a beauty specialist. Her favorite sport, like so many other McLean people's, is football. Her favorite song is "The Wheel of the Wagon Is Broken." She is undecided as to her choice of college.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Future Homemakers did not meet last week, because it was examination week. They met this Tuesday with an interesting Thanksgiving program. The first year girls are busy working on their school dresses. They have a group of very nice dresses to model at the last of the semester. The second year girls have begun a new unit of work, household equipment and the kitchen. They are showing much interest in this unit. Some of the girls have checked their homes at home, and have found that they are inconveniently arranged. Some have undertaken rearranging them in order to save space. The groceries that they have used this year have been totaled and checked. They found that they had spent $3 less than the second year girls spent last year, although groceries are approximately 11% higher this year.

The third year girls are studying the house and its furnishings. They find that this is an interesting unit of work. Later on they will plan an ideal home. They have postponed their style show and tea indefinitely.

TIGERS LETTER

According to Coach Bill Allen, the following boys will letter for this season's football: Williams, Barnes, Overton, Wingo, Norman, Nicholson, Dwight, Capt. Laswell, Braxton, Boggs, Watson, Hess, Finley, Smith and Humphreys.

The following will receive reserve sweaters: Roach, Jones, Mantooth, Wells and Ivey. The Shamrock game was the last for Williams, Laswell, Dwight, Heil, Ivey, Finley and Smith.

TIGERS WALLOP IRISH

The Tigers gained a signal victory Friday night by defeating Shamrock 12 to 0 in a game that favored them by about that score. The Tigers earned third place in the district race and dropped the Irish to fourth. The game was clean all the way through, and the margin of the victory was due to the fact that the Tigers fought all the way through the ball game, while the Irish did not make much of an attempt at fighting.

The first downs were 18-6 in favor of McLean, and Shamrock never penetrated. Laswell scored in the first quarter without being touched, and Humphreys picked up his own fumble and scored from the five yard line in the last period. Shamrock fumbled repeatedly and their morale was broken early in the game.

JUNIORS REPORT LOSS AND ONE NEW MEMBER

The juniors are very sorry to lose one of their members, L. E. Flowers, who has moved to Amarillo. However, they are very glad to welcome a new member, Evelyn Burrows, from Amarillo.

SHERLOCK SNOOPINGS

Harold Rickard must have a very guilty conscience because he has said emphatically once or twice this week, "Go ahead and put it in the paper!" Marietta Young (according to certain authorities) is very adept at playing "high hat."

Everybody is wearing a grin this week because "We beat Shamrock." Orville Williams really has that personality smile when it comes to selling pies and cakes.

Can you imagine Roy Laswell being called "handsome" with that "mug" of his? Well, if he ever is called that, it is for other reasons than for compliment's sake.

We heard in chapel that Mr. Masee was sitting on the sideline during the Shamrock game, crowing like one of his own roosters.

Strange as it may seem, Miss Kennedy gets money whenever she asks anyone for it. She must have something the rest of us have not.

Julia McCarty wants to know why Shirley Johnston "happens down to the office" so often.

SERMONETTE

Text: "Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving; sing praise upon the harp unto our God."—Psalm 147:7.

THANKSGIVING DAY

To many people of the United States the national Thanksgiving holiday means nothing more than a day for the enjoyment of a special food menu and a football game. To the Christians of this nation, Thanksgiving Day is very meaningful; a special day of inventory of the Lord's blessings during the past twelve months.

In Old Testament times the children of God were accustomed to give thank offerings or peace offerings to Jehovah, the Creator of all things and the gracious Provider of all. The Eucharistic offering among the Jews of old times, in its theory, indicated that the person offering was already reconciled to God and, consequently, in covenant with God.

The motive for returning thanks unto the Lord is given us in the Holy Bible, especially in the Book of Psalms. We quote from this Book: "Both young men, and maidens; old men, and children; let them praise the name of the Lord: for His name alone is excellent; His glory is above the earth and heaven." Psalm 148: 12, 13.

"Praise Him for His mighty acts: praise Him according to His excellent greatness." Psalm 150:2.

"Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving; sing praise upon the harp unto our God: Who covereth the heaven with clouds, Who prepareth rain for the earth, Who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains. He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry." Psalm 147:7, 9.

The daily blessings, both bodily and spiritual, should govern us on Thanksgiving Day, to sing loudly and praise the Lord with grateful thanksgiving. When we stop to consider the manifold gifts we receive from the Lord each day, in spite of the fact that we sin much and deserve nothing but punishment, we should bow our heads with humble gratitude.

And during times of trials and chastisements we must also realize that the Lord is good to us by reminding us of our sinful, spiritual condition; we must admit that He wishes us well when He tests our faith in Him. We are duty-bound to return thanks to Him for such blessings in disguise. We dare not turn against the Lord and accuse Him of dealing unfairly with us in this twentieth century of grace; we dare not shun the gracious invitation of the Lord to come to Him, by leaving the ranks of the faithful and enlisting with the forces of doubtful "isms" which promise earthly salvation with high-sounding phrases but which, fundamentally, are nothing more than godless, corruptible and damnable enemies of God who eventually destroy completely both the body, as a deadly poison, and the soul, as a blasphemous unbelief.

Let us be deeply and sincerely thankful unto the Lord and abide by the fundamental principle of Scripture to be godly and content with our station in life and with the spiritual and temporal gifts which we received this past year from the Lord of heaven and earth. By doing so we will be moved to be thankful to God each day during our earthly sojourn; we will increase in Christian knowledge and faith and also increase in our Christian service and fellowship.

W. J. Ball of Alanreed was in McLean Saturday.

America has bought 1,130,000 Chevrolets during the past twelve months, thereby giving Chevrolet the greatest year in its history and the greatest measure of buyer preference it has ever enjoyed.

The builders of Chevrolet are thankful for many things, but most of all for the warm friendship of the American people. And so again at this Thanksgiving season we say, "Thank you, America, for you have given Chevrolet a measure of good-will without parallel in the annals of modern industry. Consider, for a moment, all that you have done to inspire Chevrolet's appreciation during the past twelve months: You have purchased 1,130,000 Chevrolets; you have made Chevrolet your favorite car for the seventh time in the past ten years; you have given Chevrolet strong preference in every section of the country; you have conferred this same high honor upon Chevrolet trucks by purchasing more than 205,000 commercial units; you have made 1936 the most successful year in all Chevrolet history. And now, to climax these expressions of friendship, you are displaying even more marked preference for the new Chevrolet for 1937. It is difficult to express adequate appreciation for gifts so great and so generous as these. All we can say is, "Thanks a million" for more than a million cars in 1936; and all we can do is offer you the still finer Chevrolet of 1937 in return for the finest friendship ever bestowed upon any motor car manufacturer.

Constipated 30 Years

"For thirty years I had stubborn constipation. Sometimes I did not go for four or five days. I also had wind, gas bloating, headaches and pains in the back. Adierka helped right away. Now I eat sausage, ham, ribs, anything I want and never feel better. I sleep soundly all night and enjoy life."
—Mrs. Mabel Schott, New York, reports
If you are suffering from constipation, sleeplessness, sour stomach, and gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adierka. Many report action in thirty minutes after taking just one dose. Adierka gives complete action cleaning your bowel tract where ordinary laxatives do not even reach.

EDITORIAL

The meaning of Thanksgiving has long been very vague in the minds of the younger generation. Thanksgiving is a day for big dinners and big football games. Not a thought is given to the reason the day is set aside for a holiday.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Boy scout troop No. 2 went on a hike last Saturday morning. The boys hiked in the vicinity of McClellan creek. Tests were passed by Joe Cooke, DeRoy Beasley, Billy Carpenter and Olen McCabe.

WARD SCHOOL PRINCIPAL HONORED BY DAILY PAPER

The ward school principal was honored by the Amarillo Daily News last week. His picture was in the "Meet Your Neighbors" column, and the following item was listed:

"Sam H. Branch was born in Branch, Ark., a town named for his pioneer father. He received his high school diploma in Branch and his B. S. E. degree at the University of Arkansas. He taught in Jonesboro and Blytheville, Ark., from 1925 to 1931, when he moved to Sudan, in Lamo county. He went to Fabers in 1933, and to San Benito as junior high school principal in 1934. This year he became principal of the McLean ward school, which has 45 pupils and a staff of 10 teachers. He is scoutmaster of the McLean Lion Club boy scout troop."

WARD SCHOOL PROGRAM

The ward school program was a huge success. There were about 40 paid admissions, and the consensus of opinion was that it was enjoyed very much and well produced and organized. The program was very entertaining, judging from the applause for the different numbers. The program was very long but it was made up of such a variety of numbers that it never became tiresome.

Mr. Branch, Mrs. Back, Mrs. Vogle Miss Bessire, Miss Noel and Mr. Harris were back stage keeping the program rolling. Miss Still and Miss Heath were in charge of the printed programs, and Miss Newman, Mr. Dotson and Mr. Murdock were in charge of the tickets.

We, the ward school faculty and pupils, wish to thank the high school band and the "Texas Hill Billies" for their part on the program.

The total amount taken in was $50.91.

PERSONALS

The primary rooms have some new work books. Geneva Rowe is planning on visiting her grandmother. Billy Gething went to see the Centennial at Dallas. DeRoy Beasley attended the Centennial last week. Enoree Hodges was ill last week. Fred Johnston went to Pampa last Friday. Edgar Rossom, Mike Lee and Andy Wood have returned to school after about a month of picking cotton. Eva Mae Attebury entered the fifth grade last Tuesday. Manoun Manning, Junior Bell and Delmar Dorsey have returned to school. J. W. and Norvell Attebury have moved back to McLean after living in Oklahoma for a long time. Mildred Renley was ill last Monday. Doris Coleman will visit Dorothy Campbell during the Thanksgiving holidays. She lives in Shamrock. M. D. Abbott and Bobby Stockton, cousins of Mary Lee Abbott, are visiting in McLean during the holidays. Bobby Campbell will visit in Lubbock for the holidays. Georgia Lee Barrow's sister, Lottie Margaret, will be home for the holidays. Studied Bayouth's brother, Fred, visit in McLean Thanksgiving.

Iva Nora Simpson visited in Plainview last Saturday. Criss Clark was in Shamrock last week end. James Hinton visited in Kellerville over the week end. Miss Helen Heath visited her parents in Canyon last week end. Miss Ina Nelle Still was in Lefors for the week end. Thelma Casty has moved to Berger.

Mr. Branch—Now, class, can any of you tell me how iron was first discovered? Oran Back—Yes, sir, my father said they smelt it.

PTA PROGRAM GIVEN

The PTA program was held in the ward school auditorium Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. The chairs did not arrive for the program, but the members were seated on the bleachers and as many seats as could be spared from the building.

The buses were held while the first grade rhythm band took part on the program. Rev. Sharp substituted for Rev. Erwin on the program.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM

The ward school Thanksgiving program was held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. A short talk was given by Rev. Cecil G. Goff. School was dismissed at 3:30 for the vacation.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE WORK

Interscholastic League work will begin in the near future. The ward school has always been able to carry off a large portion of the honors at the meet and to have such teams means hard work and lots of practice. Some of the different events are already being worked on. The teachers have been appointed to the different events as follows:

- Music memory—Miss Heath. Choral singing—Miss Heath. Spelling and plain writing—Miss Still. Picture memory—Miss Heath and Miss Still. Rhythm band—Mrs. Vogle and Miss Noel. Story telling: First grade—Mrs. Vogle and Miss Bessire. Second grade—Miss Noel and Miss Bessire. Third grade—Mrs. Harris and Miss Newman. Essay—Mrs. Back. Three R's (arithmetic)—Mr. Dotson. Junior declamation—Mr. Branch. Track—Mr. Murdock. Tennis—Miss Bessire. Volley ball—Miss Newman. Playground ball—Miss Newman. Mrs. Harris and Mr. Dotson.

S. S. CLASS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. C. E. Cooke's Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church had an entertainment in the basement of the church last Wednesday night. The party ended a contest in which the "Blues" won.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cocoa, potato chips and suckers were served. Those attending were: Billy Carpenter, Joe Cooke, John Kirby, Bobby Campbell, Marvin Wehba, Doris Wilson, Frances Sitter, Willis Ledbetter, J. B. Sharp, Ruth Strandberg, Earl Humphreys, Martha Howard, Frances Hudzeitz, Viola Appling, Thomas Mills, Nettagene Shoemaker, Dorothy Woods, Shirley Ray Glass, Margie Lec Sutton and Mattie Lee Wilson.

STATEMENT OF FINANCES

The ward school has made money on several different ventures this year and the financial statement is as follows:

Table with columns for Expenditures and Receipts. Expenditures include Script charts ($2.02), Pad, printing set, needles (.85), Paper, envelopes (2.00), Book room work (2.00), Ball of cord (.25), Beaver board (6.80), McLean News (5.75), Thread (.45), Total ($20.12). Receipts include Sept. 18—Mrs. Carpenter ($1.39), Sept. 25—Mrs. Carpenter (.97), Oct. 2—Mrs. Carpenter (2.90), Oct. 14—Mrs. Carpenter (4.75), Nov. 11—Museum (2.04), Nov. 12—Musical at high school (1.11), Nov. 19—grade school program (59.91), Grand total ($67.23), Expenditures (20.12), Balance on hand ($47.11).

Matthew—Where are you going with that little shovel? Michael—Going to bury my past. Matthew—Man, you need a steam shovel.

It would take more than nineteen hundred years to spend one billion dollars at the rate of one dollar a minute.

News from Back

A Thanksgiving program was given at the Denworth church Sunday night. Most of Back community was there and several took part in the program.

The PTA gave a pie supper and one act play Thursday night. The play, "The Wedding Present," was greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pearson and family and Neville Back went to the Perryton-Panhandle football game Saturday.

We miss Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Back, who moved from this community to Pampa lately. We hope they will return soon.

Miss Gertrude Anderson has returned from Mexico and has taken up her school work again.

School will be dismissed Thursday for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Gloria Moon spent Sunday afternoon with Joyce Dowell.

May Lee Morse stayed all night with Joyce Dowell Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenwood Copeland visited Mr. and Mrs. Pearson Sunday afternoon.

Dessie Mae Ford, Jean, Derritt and Ruby Cummings and Elems Bradley visited Lelaine and Viola Blue Sunday afternoon.

Dorothy Kratzer spent Sunday with May Lee Morse.

THE DOG HAS RETURNED TO HIS VOMIT!

When the wet leaders were smearing prohibition and asking for a new lease of life for the liquor traffic they assured the public that the legalized business would be a good little boy.

They went into hysterics about the bootleggers. They pretended to be terribly horrified at the manner in which the prohibition laws were being violated. They pleaded for a legalized traffic that could be regulated by law. They pictured the new little fellow that was to be as a harmless handsome youngster. They even gave him a new name. They spurned the name "Saloon" and christened him Liquor Store.

They were liars and hypocrites. We are talking about the leaders now. They knew that the legalized liquor traffic always had been a law violator and always would be. Those who expected to engage in the business, either as wholesalers or retailers, never intended to obey the law. They expected to violate it just as long as they might deem it reasonably safe to do so. They are doing it.

In Dallas and other cities where the traffic has been legalized and where liquor stores have been established, they are shamelessly and flagrantly violating the law. They are selling liquors by the drink. They are selling it to boys and girls. Beer joints that are licensed to sell beer only are selling strong liquors. The Liquor Store is only the old-time saloon in a new dress. The longer they operate the more arrogant and lawless they will become.

Truly the dog has returned to his vomit and the sow to her wallowing in the mire.—Lynn County News.

AN OBJECT LESSON

The teacher was trying to impress on the children how important had been the law of gravitation.

"Sir Isaac Newton was sitting on the ground, looking at the tree. An apple fell on his head, and from that he discovered gravitation. Just think, children," she added, "isn't that wonderful?"

The inevitable small boy replied: "Yes'm, an' if he had been settin' in school lookin' at his books he wouldn't never have discovered nothin'."

WHAT ELSE IS THERE?

Two men traveling in the same railway coach had become friendly. "Have a cigar?" said one. "Don't think I'll take one," said the other.

"Have a cigarette, then?" "No, thank you."

"How about a pipe?" the first persisted in desperation. "Don't use tobacco at all."

"Heavens! What do you do with your mouth?"

Happiness in this world, when it comes, comes incidentally. Make it the subject of pursuit, and it leads us a wild goose chase and is never attained. Follow some other object, and very possibly we may find that we have caught happiness without deaming of it.—Natahnel Hawthorne.

Baking soda is excellent for cleaning fish aquariums. Rub the inside with a wet cloth dipped in soda, rinse and dry. It will remove all traces of scum and evaporation marks, as well as deodorize.

C. S. Rice and daughter, Verna, were in Pampa one day last week.

DEAD TOWNS

Small towns are not dead towns unless the people in them are satisfied to allow them to die. A good way to submerge the town into a graveyard is for the business interest to be armed with knives up their sleeve for the next door neighbor; balk at every move for advancement made by a competitor; refuse to take part in matters beneficial to the community's progress; and an hundred and one other things we might mention. Boiled down to a nutshell—the failure of cooperation.—Stanton Reporter.

LOOK NATURAL

The rich farmer was paying a visit to his son at the university, and thought it might be a good idea if they had their photograph taken.

The photographer suggested that the son should stand with his hand on his father's shoulder. The farmer objected.

"It would be much more lifelike," he said coldly, "if he stood with his hand in my pocket."

WOW!

Hubby found some holes in his stockings, and asked his wife, "Why haven't you mended these?" "Did you buy that coat you promised me?"

"No-o," he replied. "Well, then, if you don't give a wrap, I don't give a darn."

Mr. and Mrs. Witt Springer were in Pampa Thursday.

Grab those handles on the side of your head, pressing them slightly forward, and yell just as loud as you can. "Get that man!" That's how you sound to others in the stadium at a football game. Like it? Neither do they.—Jeanne Suits in Lockney Beacon.

The Chic New Princess Silhouettes

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SO FAR as the silhouette of the autumn and winter frock, coat or ensemble, is concerned, anything in the way of startling innovations is apt to happen these days, in fact is happening. The whole scheme of things is changing. For one thing it is back to short wide-at-hemline skirts that current fashion has dared to go—fourteen inches from the floor if you care to follow the extreme.

The present wide swing hemlines are indeed a radical departure from the sleek sheath skirts of past-season vogue. Take note of the word "swing," if you please, for it is a word that is a big word in connection with the newer fashions. Your costume to be chic must have "it" (meaning swing) and it is the new wide-at-hemline skirts that are giving exactly the style-right swing in demand.

To recount further the changing moods of the mode, comes now into the style picture high-waist, square-neck, puff-sleeve directoire trends, also quaint Victorian fashions, also Spanish theme, likewise picturesque Tyrolean costumes and that which is perhaps making the greatest impression of all—the very charming new princess "lines."

The princess influence is as everywhere present in daytime clothes as it is in formal evening clothes. From the formal evening angle the message is of regal black velvet gowns cut exquisitely in a princess, the long unbelted lines of classic simplicity sweeping out into expansive hemlines. The very beautiful moire silks so favored for dinner and dance gowns yield gloriously to princess styling, as do also the fashionable metal cloths and brocades.

With all due recognition of the importance of the princess silhouette in the evening mode, it is in the daytime fashions that the most exciting events are taking place. The youthful, flattering little princess gowns tailored of swanky wool weaves, preferably broadcloth, duvetyne or suede cloth are fashion "firsts" for day wear. The majority of them button down the front from neckline to hemline and they are enlivened with dramatic touches of color—perhaps a banding at the throat and on the sleeves and about the wide hemline of braid in the now-so-much-talked-of coronator colors or in the vivid Tyrolean reds, greens, blues and yellows.

As to the new coats styled along princess lines, you will agree that the accompanying illustration conveys the message more eloquently than words. The models pictured also exploit the use of Persian lamb in ways that are most attractive. The coat to the right goes extreme in the matter of the new princess lines. It is made of beige broadcloth. The buttons and young-looking collar of Persian lamb are typical of the manner in which designers are handling supple and thin fabriclike furs. Developed either in gray or beige there is no smarter coat to be found in all fashiondom.

The "swing" model to the left of black broadcloth is just the genteel type that makes best dressed women look better dressed. As we all know by this time the all-black costume leads the style parade. Note the binding all about the edges of Persian lamb that is a favorite fur treatment this season. To complete the costume—ideal the hat must have a touch of all fur of Persian lamb to match the trimmings.

NEW COAT LINES

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Prepare for something different in the newer evening coats. The latest models are apt to have a Napoleonic look and there is also a trend to borrow lines from the dignified mannish frock coat and similar cut-away effects with long coat tail at the back. Formal types coat of town suits are also taking on this new influence. For coats of this new influence. For these black broadcloth is the favored material. The coat pictured is typical of the new movement. It is designed for evening wear and tops in this instance a light gray gown embroidered in rhinestones. The coat is of slate gray velveteen.

CONTRAST OF COLOR CHARACTERIZES HAT

Contrast in color continues to characterize the fall hats. Dashes of bright color on black hats are frequent. Other color contrasts gaining favor in millinery are: Cocoa felt with ivy green faille; dark Araby brown felt with royal blue faille contrast; dark deep green in felt with ribbon in soft rusty wine.

Some of the shades appearing in velvet hats in Paris are plum, purplish blue, empire green, Chinese blue, harvest grape and cocoa.

Tailored Suit With Fur Is Ideal for Autumn Days

If you don't have to worry about a budget and can go ahead and buy an outfit for now and a warmer one for later, a tailored or dressmaker suit with fur is ideal. It may include slim skirt and jacket with fur collar and cuffs or a plain jacket and skirt with fur-trimmed topcoat, swaggar or fitted.

The most popular version of the formalized variety comes in black broadcloth with Persian lamb or silver fox; brown broadcloth with mink or brown Persian. The sports types are finished with wolf, lynx or raccoon collars and are made from the new rough, nubby woolsens.

Paris Hats
A number of the French designers—Schiaparelli, Molyneux, Talbot and others, are sponsoring a crown that slopes away from the face toward the back.

Pardon My Visor!
Paris is sending us a number of visored hats for fall. They are the unerring choice of women who want to cast a shadow about their eyes.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Slave Becomes a Brother.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christ Transforming Social Relationships.

Letters are always interesting, and especially so when they bring good news. The brief epistle to Philemon is one of unusual charm. Paul writes to Philemon, a Christian brother in Colosse, to inform him that he is sending back to him Onesimus, who was apparently Philemon's brother (v. 16) but who had through misfortune and sin (vv. 18, 19) become a slave. Evidently, he had stolen from Philemon what he needed to enable him to run away, and had ultimately come to Rome.

Having reached this great city he no doubt was satisfied that he had placed himself beyond the reach of anyone who knew him. But he had reckoned without God, who not only knew where he was (see Ps. 139:7-12) but also what he needed. He is brought into touch with the imprisoned apostle, Paul, and through his ministry the fugitive slave becomes a "brother beloved in the Lord" (v. 16). How marvelous is the grace of God, and how patiently he deals with those who attempt to flee even from his love!

I. Appreciation (vv. 4-8).

After an introductory word Paul speaks of his love for Philemon, his appreciation of the latter's hospitality, his fellowship, and his faith.

Is Paul flattering his friend in order that he may grant his request? Certainly not, but he is expressing his true feelings toward a faithful brother. We need a revival of Christian courtesy and appreciation of one another.

The man who thinks that he must show that he is true to Christ by treating others with boorish rudeness needs to learn a new lesson from the Lord himself, and from his Word.

II. Consideration (vv. 9-14).

Paul could have kept silent, and encouraged Onesimus to remain with him. He needed help (v. 13) but without the consent of Philemon he would not keep Onesimus (v. 14). At the same time he reminds Philemon very tactfully that he owes them both loving consideration.

We have here a striking illustration of the candor and considerate thoughtfulness which should characterize the dealings of Christians with one another. We need to put away careless trampling upon the rights of others in order that our work may go forward.

III. Brotherhood (vv. 15-16).

The fact of regeneration does not change a man's social status so far as the world is concerned, but within the circle of God's household he becomes a "brother beloved." Let us look less at the accidents of circumstance, education, or birth, which differ and rather magnify the family relationship, for all who are born again are brethren.

IV. Partnership (vv. 17-20).

Paul counted Philemon not only a benefactor, and a brother, but a partner in the great enterprise of God on earth. Partners share both joys and sorrows, gains and losses. They stand by in the hour of need, they plan and labor, weep and rejoice together. One wonders what might be accomplished for Christ if all Christians would accord one another even the ordinary considerations of partnership.

It should be noted in closing that verses 17 and 18 present an illustration of the great doctrine of imputation. The wrong of Onesimus was to be charged to Paul, and Paul's standing with Philemon is the basis of his acceptance of Onesimus. Even so the righteousness of Christ is imputed to the believer, because our sins have been laid upon him. What a wonderful Saviour!

A Mother's Love

No language can express the power and beauty and heroism and majesty of a mother's love. It shrinks not where man cowers, and grows stronger where man faints, and over the wastes of worldly fortune sends the radiance of its quenchless fidelity like a star in heaven.—E. H. Chapin.

Spare Hours

Bind together your spare hours by the cord of some definite purpose, and you know not how much you may accomplish. Gather up the fragments of time, that nothing may be lost.—W. A. Taylor.

Humble Deeds

The humblest deeds, prompted by a pure and unselfish motive, measure larger in God's sight than apparently much greater deeds which are done to be seen of men and for the aggrandizement of self.—Gunn.

Lovely and Inexpensive

PATTERN 1981
Among other things to be thankful for in this land of peace and plenty, think how pleasant it is to be able to procure such lovely patterns so conveniently and so inexpensively. No longer is style the prerogative of wealth alone; every woman can look and be at her best in any company, thanks to Sewing Circle patterns.

PATTERN 1852
Pattern 1852 fashions into an adorable little frock which will make small eyes dance and sparkle. Just eight pieces to the pattern, including the band and facings, you can run it up in a jiffy and have a perfect gift for your baby daughter or favorite niece. As simple as can be, it is nevertheless pert and engaging, truly a prize. Send for it in size 2, 4, 6, or 8 years. Material selection—dimity or swiss or voile or crepe or gingham. Size 4 requires just 2 1/8 yds. of 35 or 39 inch.

PATTERN 1970
Pattern 1970 is a comely and graceful morning or daytime frock for matron sizes, the sort that goes on in a hurry and wears well without a lot of fuss and bother. The jabot is softly feminine and the panelled skirt is cut along lines every larger woman appreciates. The collar and cuffs are in contrast, if you wish, and the selection of materials is practically unlimited. This lovely pattern is available in all of the following sizes—36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, and 52. Size 40 requires 4 3/8 yards of 35 or 39 inch fabric plus 3/4 yd. contrast.

Send for the Barbara Bell Fall Pattern Book containing 100 well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Exclusive fashions for children, young women, and matrons. Send fifteen cents in coins for your copy.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 367 W. Adams St., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Borax whitens napkins. Use a tablespoon of borax in each two quarts of water used for rinsing.

Before storing winter cabbage wrap each head in an old newspaper. This will keep the cabbage crisp and green much longer.

When making mayonnaise, stir the beaten eggs into cold vinegar and when it is boiled it will not curdle, as may be the case when eggs are added to hot vinegar.

To protect hybrid tea rose bushes during the cold winter months mound up soil around bushes to the height of one foot just before the ground freezes.

Cottage cheese, mixed with orange marmalade, grape jelly or raspberry jam makes a good filling for graham bread sandwiches. The combinations are tasty as well as nutritious.

To prevent the delivery boy from tracking dirt across the kitchen floor place a shelf at the back door on which he can place packages.

Print your child's name inside his rubbers when he goes to school. This will make it possible for his teacher to identify them, which would otherwise be impossible to do where there are so many rubbers of about the same size.

Firewood

NO TREASURE chest that I could build
Out of this fallen tree
Would hold these precious magic things
That it has given me:
An oriole's song in summer wind,
Spring sunlight after rain,
Witch-laughter on autumn night,
Blue shadows where the snow has lain.
So into quartered firewood
The ancient trunk shall go—
I'll count my treasures while I dream
Before the fire-glow.

PAKAN SCHOOL PLAY

Everyone is invited to attend the annual play which is to be presented by the Pakan community school on Tuesday night, Dec. 1, at the Pakan school building. The cast is made up of members of the school faculty and people of the community. "The Man from Nowhere" is a well known play and draws a crowd wherever it is presented.

The characters are as follows: Mrs. Craddock, who keeps the boarding house, Mrs. Faulconer; Hilda Swenson, a Swedish maid of 18, Louise Risian; Anne Royce, the charming heroine, Clara Anderson; Dora Pry, young, bold, modern, Susan Hrciar; Professor Holmes, easy going and unaffected, Bob Macina; Miss Prim, typical old maid, Mrs. J. V. Younger; Mr. Grayson, president of the bank, Godfrey Cadra; Henry Holt, a young bank clerk, Edward Pakan; Mr. Cox who asks questions, Dusan Pakan; Rodney Baxter, the stranger, J. V. Younger.

Most of these characters are out of the characters they play in real life. It will be interesting to see how well they portray their parts. An enjoyable evening is promised all who attend.

The word "cleave" has directly opposite meanings. It means to adhere closely, and also means to cut apart.

1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold

DRIVE BY SPEEDOMETER

Abe Martin (Kin Hubbard) once spoke of one of his neighbors who had a pretty good rule for safe motoring. He drove just fast enough to "spit comfortable."

In the old days of open cars it was easier to gauge our speed. Today with cars closed and with quiet motors under our hoods, with smooth roads, and with excellent springs on our cars, we have no idea how fast we're going until we tie ourselves in a bow knot around a telephone pole or plough into a truck.

Lew Holtz tells of a man who, when asked the size of his shoes, replied: "I wear sevens, but eight feels so good that I wear nines."

To paraphrase that: There are times when we should be driving at 40, but 50 feels so slow that we drive 60.

Speed is comparative. When we start out, 30 seems fast. Then, pretty soon, 40 seems slow. Then we get up to 50 and 60 and 65 without realizing it.

Since most accidents—and the worst accidents—occur in these upper speed brackets, according to accident statistics, we must decide IN ADVANCE what our top speed is to be under certain road conditions—and then drive by speedometer, NOT by feel or "ear."

On a recent 500-mile trip, with my family, I said: "We don't cross 50 on this trip." We might have done 60 or 65 safely on good stretches, but our tires are getting a little aged, so I said 50.

Now you can't observe a rule like that unless you make your speedometer your guide. Your sense of speed is no good after you've driven a while. An occasional glance at your speedometer will tell you if you are going 52. And your wife can tell you, too.

The limits should, of course, be lower under many conditions—for example never over 35 at night.

And be hard-bolled with yourself DON'T CHEAT!

Three-Em Dash

Men in a huddle on a frosty field. A stadium packed with chilly but eager rooters. The signal is whispered—a strange conglomeration of figures, letters and words. Now they're out of it! Here's the play . . . !

To the uninitiated, "three-em-dash" (the printers' name for the modest little spacing rule that separates) is as mysterious as a football signal. To be told that it simply means a dash that is the width of three letters in a given font, may rob it of whatever glamor it has for the layman. Rather, let us tell you how much further than a mere three ems we are ready to dash to be of service to you in any little thing that a printer can do. A call from you is our signal!
