BATSONS HAVE GARDENIA BLOOMING IN GARDEN

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Batson, who own a pretty landscaped home on Third street, have a gardenia blooming in their garden.

It is unusual for a plant of this type to bloom in our climate, and many garden enthusiasts have been anxious to see the plant in bloom.

Mrs. Batson is a prominent member of the local garden club, and hers and the doctor's efforts in popularizing plants and shrubs suitable to this section can be appreciated by every property owner.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Williams of Amarillo were McLean visitors last week.

A. J. Wardlow of Alanreed visited his daughter, Mrs. Bennie Watkins, Sunday.

Emery Smith was in Pampa Saturday.

Joe Gordon, candidate for county attorney, was in McLean Tuesday.

Church of Christ Revival Opens Today

Revival services begin at the Church of Christ today (Thursday), with Luther G. Roberts of San Angelo doing the preaching.

This is the fourth series of revival services to be held here by Mr. Roberts, who taught school at Pampa for two years in times past. He took charge of the work at San Angelo some two years ago and has almost doubled the membership of his church, and has erected a church building second to none in the town.

The local church has everything in readiness for the revival, having recently added one-third more floor space by building two large rooms at the rear of the auditorium.

These rooms have been comfortably seated and furnished, and a feature of the improvement is that the church has money left in the building fund that will be used to buy modern pews for the main auditorium.

W. B. Andrews, local minister, under whose leadership the McLean church is prospering, says that all people have a cordial invitation to take part in the services.

Prof. Ray Smith will have charge of the song services during the revival.

JULY 25, VOTERS' DAY

By Precinct Chm. J. E. Lynch Saturday, July 25th, is the day when you as a voter can rate yourself as king, so to speak; the date of the first Democratic primary for the purpose of electing candidates for the August run-off, and thence the November general election. If the President should vote in McLean on this day you would have the right according to the constitution to vote opposite his preference, or kill his vote. All nations do not grant this privilege, so as a good American Democratic citizen come out and vote by all means. Vote according to your own convictions, and if your first choice candidate should be eliminated be Democratic and vote your second preference in the August run-off and then support the nominee in the November general election—anyhow, be sure and vote.

The election for precinct 17 will be held in the basement of the First Methodist Church. For precinct 5, in the Bingham Cafe building.

WILSON-LITCHFIELD

Announcement has just been made of the marriage of Miss Frances Wilson to Mr. Jack Litchfield, at Sayre, Okla., April 3, 1936. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Moreland at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wilson, is a graduate of the McLean high school and also attended Amarillo Junior College.

The groom is a son of W. L. Litchfield of Heald.

GARDENS TO BE JUDGED

According to Mrs. D. A. Davis, president of the McLean Garden Club, the second judging of yards and gardens will be held next week, probably on Tuesday.

Judges will be furnished by the Pampa Garden Club and the final judging and awarding of prizes will be made about the first of September.

SINGING CLASS TO MEET

According to Fred Stags, president of the McLean singing class, the county singing convention, the class will meet at the First Methodist Church on the fourth Sunday in this month, and the county convention on the fifth Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Harrell, Mrs. Myles Nixon and son, Jimmie, of Balinger visited the ladies' father, C. A. Cash, last week. Mrs. Nixon and son remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. Mollie Flowers of Ada, Okla., was a pleasant caller at the News office last Friday. Mrs. Flowers says she never intends to do without her old home paper.

Congressman Marvin Jones was a McLean visitor Wednesday.

B. L. Anderson of Clarendon visited in McLean Thursday and Friday.

FUNERAL RITES FOR MRS. CANTRELL WED.

Funeral rites were said at Shamrock Wednesday morning for Mrs. Margaret Nora Patterson Cantrell, who died at her home in Wheeler Sunday, at the age of 57 years, 3 months and 5 days.

Services were in charge of Pastor Jameson of the First Methodist Church of Shamrock, assisted by Pev's Jolly and Kirby.

Survivors include her husband, M. T. Cantrell; 5 sons, Belvin of Newark, N. J., Hugh of Twitty, Matthew and Jack of Wheeler; three daughters, Dorothy of McLean, Mrs. John Gustan of Oklahoma City, Jewel of Wheeler; nine grandchildren and four brothers.

One son and a sister preceded her in death. All living children except Belvin were present for the funeral.

Mrs. Cantrell was a pioneer settler in Wheeler county, having moved to Shamrock with her husband in 1905.

LOCAL PEOPLE ON WORKERS PROGRAM

Rev. Cecil G. Goff preached at the morning hour at the Baptist workers conference held at Allison Tuesday.

Mrs. Goff sang and Miss Frances Landers made a chalk talk.

Others present from the local church were: Mrs. Homer Abbott, Mrs. Carl Carpenter and Mrs. E. L. Minix.

FREE TRIP TO FORT WORTH

There is a coupon printed in an advertisement in this issue of The News that if used may mean a free trip to Fort Worth to any of our readers.

Clip this coupon and mail in and find out about the free trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bender and little daughter of Oklahoma City visited in the R. L. Harlan home last week, the daughter remaining for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Baber of Sanford, N. C., were in McLean one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Baber operated a laundry here for a while and have many friends here.

Sherman White, candidate for county judge, gave The News a nice order for cards last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers and LeRoy Landers made a trip to Lubbock Monday afternoon.

Presides at Lions Luncheon

Dr. C. B. Batson, newly elected Boss Lion for the McLean club, was in charge at the first meeting of the fiscal year held at the Meador Cafe Tuesday noon.

Dr. Batson said he had decided from advice given him by various members that he had been taking his elevation to the presidency too seriously, as it seemed that he is only expected to see that others do the work.

The new Boss Lion asked for full cooperation in the club's efforts to improve the community. He told of the impression well-kept small towns gave on his recent trip, which occasioned much discussion.

J. C. Day, deputy railroad commissioner; Attorney Joe Gordon of Pampa and J. E. Morrow were present by Lion Tamer Erwin as visitors. Mr. Day said he has been visiting McLean for some time and likes the hospitality shown here and the fine spirit of the Lions club. Mr. Gordon told several funny stories recently told at the Pampa club's ladies' night.

Rev. Erwin reported the fine time had at the Smith Bros. barbecue.

The Boss Lion stated that committees for the year would be announced at an early date, maybe in time for publication in The News this week.

Secretary Holloway read a letter of appreciation from Jesse Dean Cobb, who was complimented with a six weeks' membership in the club.

MISS WADE IMPROVES FLOOR

By Ruby M. Adams, CHDA "To improve my floor really looked hopeless a few weeks ago," said Bennie Mae Wade, McLean 4-H Club girl, to Miss Ruby Mashburn, district agent, Friday.

Bennie Mae related that "a linoleum rug covered part of the floor, but it could not be taken up, because it had been glued down with wet varnish. The edges of the rug were badly torn, so I took a sharp knife and trimmed them off. There was some varnish left, which I removed with lye water. Then I took soap and water and washed the rug and floor real good. I then gave the floor its vinegar bath. After that it was ready to be painted. The floor was all cleaned. I then painted the floor a golden brown and let it extend eight inches on the rug for a border. I then painted the rug a light tan. The cost of the floor is $2.00."

Bennie Mae won second in her bedroom improvement in the county contest and has been given a trip to the annual farmers' short course at A. & M. College, July 20-24. She leaves on a bus Saturday, July 18th, accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Hunt of the McLean Home Demonstration Club. They will visit the Texas Centennial two days, and spend one day in Galveston.

JESSE DEAN COBB HONORED

Jesse Dean Cobb has been made official bugler for the Adobe Walls Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America, in honor of his national achievement at Cleveland, Ohio, this year.

Snoopin' Around

By D. A. Davis

I see in the papers that a man got shot with a woman out in California. Wonder if they have run out of powder and lead out there.

And I notice that the State WPA "Stabb" met down at San Antonio last week to figure out ways and means of putting the unemployed to work. I wish they would take a stab at figuring out some means of "getting" some work done. I've found out there is a difference in "putting" and "getting." It's easy to "put" but it's sure a job to "get."

Folks, we need a law to require all candidates to pass a lunacy test or something so some of them will know when and how to "electioneer." I've found out one thing in snoopin' around, that all you candidates should know, and that is the time of day you should contact the women voters. Last week I ran across some women that were mad as hornets because some candidates were canvassing the residents early in the afternoon. Most of the women were taking their afternoon nap or their bath, or their children were taking theirs, and boy were they mad! One woman said she got out of the bath tub three times to go to the door to find nothing there but a bloomin' candidate. If you crazy candidates want to know something, if you are defeated and want to know or just wonder why, if you will just figure out how many houses you visited in the afternoon from one to three o'clock, you can count up exactly how many votes you lost. If I ever run for any kind of office I sure won't canvas any of the women voters during these hours.

And I notice where they caught those two desperate criminals up at Enid, Okla., in a "beer parlor" and one of the police officers got killed while Mr. Karpis' trigger man was drinking a mug of beer, and over it St. Louis a "tavern keeper" had to kill a couple of tough guys that came in to raise a rough house.

I wonder why some of these beer and whiskey advertisement writers don't draw a picture of such happenings and put it in their ads instead of those beautiful family scenes where everything appears so serene and homelike.

And another thing. Bro. Andrew, pastor of the Church of Christ, and Bro. Jones, pastor of the Methodist Church, played a round of golf last week together, and as far as I could find out they did not have a single argument.

And that barbecue out at Smith Bros. plant last week got me all pepped up for the city to retaliate to show those boys out there just how we business men appreciate these gatherings. Let's all have a big barbecue on Labor Day and invite all those boys out there to lay off and come in and enjoy a day's hospitality with us. Of course, I don't suppose you all will pay any attention to my suggestions, but just the same I am for it a hundred per cent. And folks, me and old Vester had us a speech all made up to say, but after hearing those good talks out there we decided our speeches would not amount to anything, so we decided not to say anything.

And while I'm thinking about it, I wish to say that I do hope we all will give Clint, Ernest and Jimmy a good vote this year to show them how much we appreciate the good work they have done for us up here in the Panhandle. I'm going to vote for all three of them and I ain't ashamed to admit it.

But there is one thing right here that I want to admit and that is I am absolutely too "dum" to see into this Townsend pension plan; but before I take it very seriously I'll want somebody else beside these office seekers to explain it to me.

And I can't understand why any fair-minded voter would want to vote against some good man in office that has proven beyond a doubt to be capable, and vote for some untried, inexperienced and unknown man just to keep one man from hogging the job. If business and industry changed men every two or four years just to keep a man from holding one job too long, regardless of his ability, we would be in a bad way.

Dr. Pullfast—Why don't you want gas? You insisted on it the last time.

Playfoot—I know, but you haven't been eating onions this time.

American visitors aboard the new English ship Queen Mary during her first stop in New York stripped the boat of practically everything purloinable—as souvenirs?

J. P. Morgan, rich international banker, won a $45 prize at a flower show.

The gross farm income has increased nearly three billion dollars since 1932.

MEN

Men are what women marry. They have two feet, two hands, and sometimes two wives, but never more than one collar button at a time.

Like Turkish cigarettes, men are all made of the same material, the only difference is that some are a little better disguised than the rest.

Generally speaking, they may be divided into three classes—husbands, bachelors and widowers. An eligible bachelor is a man of obstinance entirely surrounded by suspicion. Husbands are of three varieties: prizes, surprises, and consolation prizes; widowers are a mixture of both.

Making a husband out of a man is one of the highest plastic arts known to civilization. It requires science, sculpture, common sense, faith, hope and charity—especially charity.

It is a psychological marvel that a soft, fluffy, tender, violet-scented thing like a woman should enjoy kissing a big, awkward, stubby-chinned, tobacco and bay rum scented thing like a man.

If you believe he is everything to you he gets tired of you in the end, and if you don't he gets tired of you in the beginning.

If you believe him in everything you soon cease to charm him. If you believe all he tells you, he thinks you are a fool, and if you don't, he thinks you are a cynic.

If you wear gay colors and a startling hat, he hesitates to take you out, and if you wear a brown toque and a tailor-made suit, he takes you out and stares all evening at a woman in gay colors, rouge and a startling hat.

If you join him in his gayeries and approve him in his smoking, he swears you are driving him to the devil, and if you don't approve of his smoking and urge him to give up his gayeries he vows you are driving him to the devil.

If you are a clinging vine type, he doubts whether you have a brain, and if you are a modern, advanced, and intelligent woman, he doubts whether you have a heart. If you are silly he longs for a bright mate, and if you are bright and intellectual, he longs for a playmate. If you are popular with other men, he gets jealous, and if you are not, he hesitates to marry a wallflower.—Anon

Our rich brother's wife is unreasonable. She knew well enough when she married him that he had a lot of poor kinfolks, so why should she complain about us now? If he had owed money when he married she would have expected him to pay it so why should she get mad when he continues helping us? When a woman deliberately marries a man who has false teeth she shouldn't complain because of these defects. She knew they existed and she took him on that knowledge. And the same is true of poor kinfolks.—Sterling City News-Record.

"Alexander," said Mrs. Snooks, sweetly, "do you remember what day this is?"

"Of course, my dear," replied Mr. Snooks, pretending to have remembered all the time. "It is our wedding anniversary."

"It is no such thing," answered Mrs. Snooks icily. "It is the day you promised to nail the leg on that old kitchen table."

"I hear you have a fine cow," said the stranger. "What will you take for her?"

"Wait a minute," replied the farmer cautiously, "are you the new assessor or has my cow been killed on the railroad?"

To date the PWA has allotted a total of $3,000,000,000 for construction purposes, of which more than $2,292,000,000 has been spent.

State Senator (Reelection)

Senator Small enjoys the confidence of the citizenship of the entire state. His efforts for the people of this district have put the Panhandle section "on the map" in the minds of everyone.

His record is open to investigation and has secured more beneficial legislation during his term in office than for many years previous.

There is no better way to see that the interests of this district are preserved than to return Senator Small to office.

PLEASE REMIT! $2,120!

When you total your current bills on the tenth of next month, it would be a good idea to add in an item that you may not realize you owe now—your share of the national debt, which is a first mortgage on your earnings, your business and your home.

Today the total government debt stands at the record figure of $53,000,000,000, of which Federal debt accounts for $34,000,000,000 and local debt for $19,000,000,000. It averages $424 for every man, woman and child in this country—$2,120 for a family of five.

As an obligation it comes ahead of your grocery bill, dentist bill, or rent. It will have to be paid—by your children or their children's children, if not by you. The only source of government credit is your property. The only source of government revenue is the extraction of money from your pocket, through taxation, to pay government bills.

The national debt is constantly growing, and some authorities anticipate it will be increased by ten to thirty per cent within the comparatively near future. If the citizens of this country permit continued and unrestrained prodigality in government, they should not kick about following the Pied Piper to the poor house.—Industrial News Review.

SERVICE IN THE EARLY CHURCH

text, Acts 4:32-35; 2 Cor. 8:1-7. Golden text, "The Lord Jesus is more blessed to give than to receive." Acts 20:35.

In the passage of scripture we find the Christian church in Jerusalem meeting the needs of the poor of their own.

Many of the members of the church were poor and had been persecuted and boycotted of their new religion until only a shadow of their business.

Many others who had regular work now had lost it because of their faith in Christ.

The church ran on a basis of common sense that all were cared for.

Ownership of property was not the basis of the church as much as today, but those who owned property were glad to dispose of it.

Order that they might help those who were in need. Let us learn things about this early church.

1st, it was not a communism. 2nd, it was not a practice no where else. 3rd, it was entirely upon the part of each individual in each instance where property was sold.

That such action was carried out by many of the members of the church in Jerusalem was commendable in them. But it is no reason for binding upon Christians of today.

Nevertheless, Christians of today should be held responsible for their own social needs which are their jurisdiction. God has given the law of the tithe. If a people were to follow it, they would be able to relieve all of the suffering of their members.

At least, and possibly many more, in our selfish greediness unwilling to comply with God's law in the matter. We ought to be mortally disgraced to know that the Mormon church has taken the responsibility of their poor members off relief, and in the immediate future there will be a Mormon on the relief rolls in the U. S.

This is being done by the Mormon giving his tithe and certain other gifts each month upon the selfish greediness of people who regularly put three-fourths of God's tithe in their pocket and spend it upon their pleasures. Friends, this is plain theft. Men may rail upon the law of God who are bold enough to do it, but the day will come when they will cry out for mercy if they did not repent.

The program by the churches of denominations—to the end of their own unemployed and others they could reach would be things. It would take a burden off the shoulders of government. Further, it would relieve the possibility of a upheaval that might end in God's judgment. But the most important thing to be accomplished is that it place the churches in their proper setting in the community. It cut away the superficial respect the world has for the church ministry, and create the most respect and profound respect that has ever known for the church ministry of God's Word. It place a reasonable relationship between the spiritual and the materialities of the churches. And not least, it would create an impetus that would win a fast growing pagan world to Christ than anything that has been done since Christ was upon earth.

will say this is silly prattle. But the sort of person has been known to the people from Christ and His disciples from actually serving Him for the centuries. It takes something more than the thinking of the world and the selfishness of sinfulness to win a world to Christ or to live in a satisfactory manner.

Christ is waiting for a group of people to do His will. The passage in Corinthians we find taking a collection for the poor Christians. Persecution had deprived them of even the slender livelihood. He instructed the Corinthians by the sacrificing of the Masadonians. God is a cheerful giver, and the cheerful is always happy. Let us

SERMONETTE

Lutheran Pastor, Oviedo, Fla.

Vol. 3. No. 27.
"Honor thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise: that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth."—Ephesians 6:2, 3.

PROPER RESPECT FOR PARENTS

Honor is something which is due God alone, and yet the most holy Lord bestows honor upon the parents. A wonderful gift of God which dare not be slighted. The Lord expressly states: "Honor thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise: that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth." Proper awe and respect belongs first to God. But the Lord in His almighty and eternal wisdom decided to bestow honor upon all parents. Those that fear, love and trust in God above all things will love, honor and obey their parents.

Since God commands: "Honor thy father and mother," all those whom it concerns must abide by the Lord's command. A lot of grief and sorrow would have been avoided in this world if children would have obeyed this command of God. In addition to all this the Lord gives a wonderful promise: "That it may be well with thee." It is self evident that if one disobeys this commandment one will not fare well in this world. However, this commandment embraces more than parents. The parents and masters to whom all children should be subjected are all those who, by God's ordinance, are placed over us in home, state, school and church.

This commandment is not restricted to children, as we can see from the above. We must all be subjected to all those who are placed over us according to God's ordinance in the home, state, school (whether public or religious), and the church. We must respect the dignity and will of those in whose care we are entrusted. We are not to provoke them to anger by any kind of wickedness or disobedience.

Many children today have absolutely no respect for their elders, the government officials, school teachers or their pastors. For all this they are punished. If some escape punishment in this life they certainly will not escape it in the life after death in hell. All believers in the Lord Jesus observe this commandment; they have respect for God and man, for their country, for its officials, their superiors in schools and places of employment as well as those in their respective churches. Blessed are those that are blessed by the Lord according to His promise.

ing to His promise: "That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth."

Each Christian knows that it does not pay to do anything against the commandments and ordinances of God, because they know that the Lord says through the holy writer: "Whoever therefore resisteth the power resisteth the ordinance of God; and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation." Rom. 13:2.

Let us give due honor to our fathers, mothers and all those above us in whose care we are entrusted. If we do so, we will live long on the earth unless the Lord decides to make exceptions of us.

HARD SCRUBBING INJURIOUS

Use of large quantities of soap and water accompanied by hard scrubbing is the wrong way to go at the problem of keeping unfinished floors in the best condition. In fact, under such treatment the wood may become dark and soft, thus raising the grain and causing it to splinter. It is best to use only a small quantity of water and a mild soap. Only small areas should be cleaned at a time. The job is made easier if the floor is treated with oil paint or other finish which fills the wood pores.

KITCHEN BUILT-INS USEFUL

Plenty of built-in storage space in the kitchen will save many steps and give more room for the accumulation over the years. Of course the proper time to construct these storage spaces is when the home is being built. But in any kitchen renovating or remodeling a good carpenter can add a number of convenient built-ins with little difficulty. Even in an old house a working surface or a built-in cabinet at the right point may prove a great help. Anyone handy with tools can build such a cabinet. A drop-leaf table is another convenience that will prove valuable in any kitchen that has a shortage of working surface. A good well rack for saucepan lids and pots and pans near the stove is another time-saver. If your kitchen sink does not have drainboards, a wooden drainboard fastened on either side will add greatly to the usefulness of the sink and make dishwashing easier.

RADIO STATIC ELIMINATED

A new invention which promises the elimination of radio static but at the same time threatens to revolutionize the industry to the extent that all present sending and receiving equipment would have to be scrapped was demonstrated recently before the Federal Communications Commission. The inventor is Edward H. Armstrong of Columbia University. In demonstrating his new sets in which the long waves now used have been abandoned for the ultra short ones, he showed conclusively that all interference can be eliminated. He said that during electric storms when present equipment was virtually useless his broadcasts were as clear as in good weather.

Beauty

In the elevator of a big store she noticed a very attractive poster advertising beauty treatment. Out of curiosity she asked the elevator attendant (a funny little Cockney) where the beauty parlor was.

He turned and gave her a good look, noticed presumably that she did not use make-up at all, and then said, "You don't want ter go there mucking your face about. Why not stay as y'are—plain but 'olesome?" —Troy Times-Record.

Truss It

She had just begun housekeeping, with the laudable intention of paying ready money upon all occasions, and she entered a high-class purveyor's shop to purchase a chicken. She selected one, and while she was fumbling in her handbag for a purse the shopman politely asked: "Trussed, madam?" "Oh, dear, no," she indignantly replied. "I wish to pay for it now." —Sydney (Australia) Mail.

BOY GETTING INTO A TUB

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

All Around the House

A pinch of baking soda added to the water in which a loaf is cooked will make it more tender.

Oil or oily substances should never be used on waxed floors. They soften the wax, stick to the wood and eventually darken it.

Cut out old canes in raspberry bushes when they are through bearing fruit. These canes will never bear fruit again.

Cloths saturated with polishing liquids if stored away in a closet often cause spontaneous combustion. Keep these cloths in a covered tin container.

When making pastry use enough water to hold ingredients together. Mix quickly, roll and handle as little as possible if you wish pastry to be flaky.

Lingerie must be tinted occasionally to preserve its dainty appearance. A faded blue garment will tint a delicate orchid with the aid of a pink dye, a pale green will shade into a delicate green if dipped in blue dye, a pink dye will change the yellow to a shell pink. Be sure to use small quantities of the dye in these pastel shades.

A cup of peanut butter mixed with half a cup of mayonnaise and one finely chopped raw egg makes a good sandwich spread.

Annual seeds of such plants as annual poppies, larkspur, and alyssum if sown out of doors in equal parts of soil and coarse sand will be strong enough to last through the winter if well protected.

The fat side of beef should be placed nearest the flame when roasting. The melting fat will flavor and baste the meat during the cooking.

Use the purest of cider vinegar for pickles and pickled preserves. Do not mix two different kinds of vinegar.

HEARTBURN?

It's surprising how many have heartburn. Hurried eating, overeating, heavy smoking, excessive drinking all lead to heartburn. When it comes, heed the warning. Your stomach is on a strike.

TAKE MILNESIAS

Milnesia, the original milk of magnesia in wafer form, taken after indulgence, relieves heartburn. Crunchy and tasty. Each wafer equals 4 teaspoonsful of magnesia. 20c, 35c & 60c packages.

ward the car. "I've got one or two more things to buy," he decided, and went into a confectioner's. Grandmother accompanied him and stood waiting.

"I want," he told the proprietor, "a very nice box of chocolates and a pound of your best tobacco and a good pipe."

The proprietor knew what was meant. The articles were selected and paid for. He placed Grandmother carefully in the seat and got in himself.

On the sidewalk in front of the car a small boy in clean faded blue overalls came slowly along with a very small dog on the end of a leash. The dog shone like silk in the late afternoon sun. It sniffed the sidewalk happily.

The boy's eye caught Bryn. He called out. "You don't want to buy a good dog, do you, mister? This here one's for sale. Two dollars."

"What is it, a cocker spaniel?" Bryn inquired, regarding the floppy ears, the water-waved coat, the thumping tail.

"Yessir, a real cocker. Ain't that a pretty color?"

"What's the matter with it?"

"Well," the boy told him, dropping his voice, "it's a lady dog. And," confidentially, "you know what they're like."

"Oh, a lady dog. What's her name?"

"Garbo." The boy grinned. "Just take a look at her." He made a little clucking noise with his tongue. Instantly the dog sat up, jaws crossed limply before her, mouth closed, silky ears drooping, her eyes sad and mournful and pleading. Bryn looked. He began to laugh, silently.

"Well," Bryn decided, "she's sold. Here's your money."

CHAPTER V

Bryn, on the morning after his trip to town with Grandmother, paused in his systematic and careful examination of the grounds, leaned against a tree down at the lower corner, lit a cigarette, and considered.

The men who were coming out from town to make a garden out of this wilderness would have to work carefully. All through the thick grass were scattered rare shrubs, beds of flowering plants, plots of hyacinth and crocus bulbs, crescents of iris set into the corners.

But his main consideration was not directed toward the garden. He was remembering Deborah's face when he had returned yesterday, and Grandmother. White and cold, she had met them in the doorway and led Grandmother into the small sitting room to rest for a moment before removing her new coat and hat. Deborah was no longer angry. While they were away she had obviously come to some agreement with herself; Bryn decided, as she smiled faintly and took the box of chocolates, as she put it down without a glance upon the small table beside her, that she preferred her angry. He had swung on his heel, leaving her there with Grandmother, and gone out to Gary. Gary stood in the drive, his parcel laid on the grass, watching the puppy rolling over and over, wild with excitement, and yelping with joy at her release from the car.

"Perhaps you'll tell Miss Deborah that the puppy is for her," Bryn said curtly, and went back up to his room.

But the puppy wasn't having any difficulty in penetrating these frosty layers and discovering the real Deborah. From his window yesterday afternoon Bryn had witnessed their first meeting. Deborah had come out to Gary, and at her appearance the puppy had rushed upon her with a ferocious threatening growl which ended precipitately as the little dog fell over her own feet and tumbled in a heap before Deborah's. Instantly, unquestioning as a child, she had bent to lift it in her arms. "Oh, Gary," she cried, "isn't it a darling? Isn't it a darling puppy?" She hugged it close, and it snuggled for a moment comfortably under her chin. Then it put out a pink tongue and kissed Deborah entirely without reserve.

"You're a bad dog," she scolded, but her voice was soft and laughing and tender. Bryn drew a deep breath. When she spoke to him her voice wasn't like that. "Where did it come from, Gary?"

"She's for you, Miss Deborah. Mr. Bryn brought her out from town."

"Oh," Deborah said. "Of course. I might have known." But she did not drop the puppy. She stood silent, thinking.

"Now look, Miss Deborah," Gary began, "I don't think he means any harm. After all, he's only acting natural."

"Oh, hush!" Deborah cried stormily, stamping her foot. She held the puppy close and ran off with her, back of the house, down to some hidden nook of her own which always seemed to be her chosen place of refuge.

That had been yesterday.

Bryn went down and got into the car, standing on the drive. He drew from his pocket the worn piece of paper which . . . was it only yesterday morning? . . . had caused Deborah such woe.

His eyes traveled down the list on the paper in his hand. Magazines, cat-alogues, tea, servants, gardeners, yes! The bank manager was sending them out as soon as he could find them.

Gary came out to him.

"I must say," he said to Bryn, "you got a way of getting things done. And I'd like to thank you for that tobacco, sir. The bands of gold. I suppose, square pieces. I'm glad to see the largest center stone opening."

"Well, I'd a miniature powder corn. Several puffs, while the stones on either side open to show paste rouge and eye shadow. The clasps of the new racquets are small lipsticks."

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

Haile's Private Treasury

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—Had it not been a foreign dispatch, a fellow might have thought it referred to one of our own investment councillors, specializing in looking after widows' and orphans' funds, and having a neat line of European securities to dispose of, and prominent in welfare work and uplift movements in his home community—in short, a typical specimen of a subvariety that seemed to sort of peter out in the years immediately following 1929, some quitting by request, some by indictment and some just vanishing into space, taking with them the clients' remaining cash assets, if any.

Irvin S. Cobb

But this happened to be a cablegram from Geneva stating that, when Emperor Haile and Farewell Selassie hurriedly departed from his capital, he so thoroughly cleaned out the bank of Ethiopia that all the invading Italians found in the vaults was a large throbbing vacuum.

How Mencken Can Write

THIS campaign will live right up if Henry Mencken, the official human gumboil of the writing craft, takes pen in hand to discuss the men and the issues. You don't have to agree with Hen. You may quarrel with his premises and dispute his conclusions.

But can he make the language pop like a bull-whip? When he gets excited he throbs like a mashed thumb, and cuts loose like an avenging angel. Expressing himself, he always picks words of the right shape and the right color.

Literary Garbage

LET'S admit that southerners of the Col. Carter of Cartersville type were mainly the far-fetched creations of overly-sentimental fictionists. Let's admit the business of painting a largely imaginary afaah-de-wah south was for many years crowded.

But why, in the revolt to debunk this sugary romance, should the land so generously spawn a crop of alleged realists who'd have the rest of the world believe the only part of the south worthy of being written about is almost exclusively peopled by loathsome degenerates of the "Tobacco Road" variety?

If one of these literary garbage collectors will but look about him, he'll find southerners who might make interesting copy and yet, excusing that they leave the sugar out of the corn bread and the lower case "r" out of the language, are pretty much like the run of their fellow Americans elsewhere.

Gas Station Service

AN OPEN letter to the gasoline companies;

Dear gasses—Why must the customer have the windshield wiped—if he doesn't want the windshield wiped?

Maybe he's in a hurry. Maybe he fears the youth with the squirt gun will only mess up the windshield worse than ever. Maybe he's nervous and prefers a blurry outlook so he can't see how many close calls he's going to have from being knocked cold by lady motorists.

Even so, unless he fights like a tiger, he must endure the windshield wiping. I commend the politeness of your attendants, though deploring their frequent habit of apparently going somewhere about a quarter of a mile back of the station to make change. I admire your enterprise and your pumps are indeed works of art. Your highway signs so fill the grateful eye that we don't have to look at comparatively dull things, such as scenery. But my dear gasses, there comes a time when too much service becomes a nuisance.

Heroic First Aid Measures

WHEN those three gallant men were imprisoned in that Moose river mine cave-in up in Canada, facing death in the darkness—one of them you'll remember, died—and the rescuers finally bored a slender shaft through to their living tomb, almost the first thing sent down from above was some hot coffee with a slug of brandy in it.

Now the Rev. A. A. McLeod has formally protested to the government of Nova Scotia about putting in the brandy.

So I've been sitting here all day trying to make up my mind, if I'd been buried in that freezing, slimy pit, which I'd prefer—to have 'em send along some spiked coffee right away or keep the mixture up on the surface and lower the Rev. A. A. McLeod with a pitcher of ice water.

It's one of those things a fellow really can't decide offhand.

In Ancient Nile Mud England Keeps Ready Let the Dead Sleep Murder Starts Early

Arthur Brisbane

Paris.—Reclining on her side, her body covered with gold, necklaces on her neck and on the ground nearby, archaeologists discover the well-preserved body of an Egyptian princess whose father, the Pharaoh Chephren, built the second biggest pyramid; it was his brother, Cheops, who built the largest.

Those pyramids were tombs for kings, and searchers found the princess in one of them. The Nile mud seeping into the tomb had helped to preserve her.

That princess, living 5,000 years ago, could tell an interesting story for the movies. She "built herself a small pyramid with stones given to her by her many lovers." Where do you suppose she is now? In some strange Egyptian heaven, perhaps, with all those admirers around her.

England, alarmed by European war threats, issues an official "white paper" explaining why—"The relation of our own armed forces to those of other great powers should be maintained at a figure high enough to enable us to exercise our influence and authority in international affairs."

Unfortunately for all plans, the airplane in the hands of a desperate nation might upset all national "authority," just as a pistol in the hands of a desperate man upsets individual and police authority.

One bullet will stretch individual authority in the dust; 1,000 airplanes, attacking the heart of a great city, might cause national "authority" to end in demoralization.

England's new defense increase will be largely in her air force; that wise nation knows that the real "ocean" in future wars will be the ocean of the air.

In a desert of southeastern Utah, men and women, belonging to the cult of "truth seekers," were gathered around the body of Mrs. Edith Dakhal, who died more than a year ago. You read about it, perhaps.

Mrs. Ogden, leader of the "truth seekers," prayed over the body, which appeared marvelously preserved. The "truth seekers" believe they will bring the woman back to life, but the pathetic fact is that it would not in the least matter if they did.

The important thing is to improve the condition of 1,800,000,000 actually living on the earth. For one safely out of it to be brought back would be unimportant, in these days, and perhaps cruel.

America holds the world's "murder championship" for all kinds of murder, at all ages—quantity, quality, variety, volume.

A New Jersey boy, 16 years old, was sentenced to death.

In Wisconsin, a coroner reports that little David Holl, two months old, was killed by two boys four and three years of age.

They each held one hand of the younger one, and dropped it on the floor. It cried and would not stop. Then, one of the small boys explained, "We pounded him."

These youngest "killers" puzzle the law. You can't "try" a four-year-old child.

Railroads tell the interstate commerce commission they would like fares reduced to two and a half cents a mile, instead of two cents. The railroads should have all possible consideration, for they have built up this country, but at two and a half cents a mile they will not compete successfully with automobiles carrying passengers for one-quarter of a cent a mile.

New York proposes to fingerprint everybody, new babies included. The baby of the future will be busy, with fingerprinting, tonsil and appendix removal, vaccination for smallpox and a half dozen other diseases.

The new treaty with France, reducing the duty on French wines and liquors by 50 per cent, interests California and other wine growing states. It should persuade them to stabilize the production of wines, establish official guarantees of purity, freedom from adulterations, mixtures, and especially "fortifying" with alcohol.

In Europe, notably in France, adulteration of wines is an offense against the law. With us, it is a business.

For advertising reasons, a group of men made a long distance hike on a diet of broken grain to prove the superiority of that diet. They were surprised when 83 hikers showed a total loss of 211 pounds in weight, while one, 66 years old, showed a gain of three pounds.

Rough Work, Gentle Work

There must be work done by the arms, or none of us could live. There must be work done by the brains, or the life we get would not be worth having. And the same men cannot do both. There is rough work to be done, and rough men must do it; there is gentle work to be done, and gentle men must do it; and it is physically impossible, that one class should do, or divide, the work of the other.—John Ruskin.

Beach Togs Tell New Fabric Trends

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It is not enough that beach outfits and active sports clothes be stylish and pleasing to the eye. It is not enough that they be merely practical and utilitarian. To qualify as 100 per cent to the good your swim, sand and surf and your general outdoor play-around togs must be every whit as practical as they are chic and eye-appealing.

The cunning bathing and beach outfit of gay print shown to the right in the picture is just that—thoroughly practical as it is charming to look upon. Its claim to practicality is due to the fact that the sanforized-cotton of which it is made carries the promise of non-shrinkage no matter how often it may happen to be water soaked. This very modern way of processing cottons and linens so that they cannot shrink assures your bathing wardrobe all season long, which, of course, means depend satisfaction in the final analysis of clothes logic.

Practical from another point of view, too, is this charming beach and swim ensemble, in that it is one of the very new and good-looking halter bathing suits with wrap-around skirt to tie on when you go waddering down the beach as fair maidens are wont to do.

Another story of achievement in the way of combining the practical with the highly chic and attractive in sports clothes is told in the new eight-controlling ensemble that allows one to lounge about the house, play ping-pong and go about home duties while accomplishing the magic of shelving the extra poundage one longs to discard preparatory to getting one's self into shape for that sweltering appearance in one's bathing and beach suit. This miracle-working avoirdupois reducer is pictured in the foreground. A smart gym gub suit it is, made of an exceedingly good-looking crepe-texture rubber that keeps the pores of the body open and encourages a healthy perspiration. When that happens you can start making your swimming dates for to your glee and satisfaction the pounds will begin to roll off until normal weight is reached. These crepe-textured rubber gym gobs are styled in three comfortable pieces—slacks, shorts and shirt.

Big news and no doubt about it, is the beach and swimming suit in the new and startling front page newspaper print cotton. See it pictured to the left in the group. Priced this season are noted for novelty and certainly this newspaper-print cotton captures first honors in that respect. The fitted halter top which is lined with white wool jersey for extra comfort and proper contour, buttons at the front to the waistband of the one-piece wool-lined skirt and maillot. The separate cape has an attached hood and is lined with terry cloth throughout.

Very smart beach outfits of white pique are among the season's latest models. A stylish ensemble includes shorts, worn under a one-piece tunic that fastens all the way down the front (may be left open at will) with pique-covered buttons. A big floppy white fabric hat is worn.

Another interesting item is the hat made of pique that is nothing more than a brim which ties at the back. It is without crown and can be untied and flattened out to be washed and ironed.

CHIC FOR SUMMER

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

According to the modern way of thinking a costume is only as smart and correct and goodlooking as the accessories worn with it. In other words it is the accessories that make the costume and this is the challenge that fashionables must meet these times. In the matter of observing the little niceties of accessory details the lady in the picture is costumed to perfection. Her exquisitely ladylike straw hat is an exponent of the smartest millinery fashion. The fur that borders the sleeves of her jewel-clasped crepe frock carries a convincing message in regard to the importance of "summer furs" in the mode. Her long simple slip-on suede gloves are eminently correct. As to the handsome bag she carries it is the accent supreme of chic.

Polka Dots in Style.
Mannish little polka dotted silk cravats and belts are worn with soft rocks and polka dot scarfs walk out with sports coats.

FEATHERS IN STYLE FOR HAT TRIMMING

Feathers are becoming more and more important as trimming for hats, according to Erik Braagaard, the young Danish milliner whose recently established Paris house has had unusual success.

Braagaard even makes entire hats and headdresses of feathers. He takes a single yellow bird of paradise and curves it cleverly about the head holding it in position with double bands of black velvet that cross the back of the head. This hat designer is building crowns higher and higher for morning and sports wear. The conical or thimble crowns, likewise are featured on some of the afternoon hats while others are trimmed with bunches of fruit or flowers.

Late Offerings of Prints

Copy Design of Wall Paper

Some of the new prints look like wallpaper designs. Vertical stripes of flowers, massed together, are printed on pastel colored backgrounds. Other materials are printed with enormous sprays of flowers or vines in conventional wallpaper patterns. One house has applied a leaf and vine design in black organically on a dinner dress of white organdy. The veins in the black organdy leaves are etched in shiny black beads.

Bracelets Combine Both

Real Beauty and Utility

Since costume jewelry has come rushing back into style, there are all sorts of new bracelets on the market. For evening wear there are wide bands of gold or silver set with large, square precious stones. The largest center stone opens up to reveal a miniature powder compact and puff, while the stones on either side open to show paste rouge and eye shadow. The clasps of the new bracelets are small lipsticks.

FLY

A Little Bit Humorous

A young man went to Australia against his father's wishes. In one letter home he wrote: "I have bought a car; first feather in my cap." In another he wrote: "I have bought a farm; another feather in my cap."

This went on for some time and always the son's letter finished with "another feather in my cap."

Later the father received a letter which ran: "Dear dad, I am broke; please send passage home."

The father replied: "Nothing doing. Take the feathers from your cap, stick them on your back and fly home."

She asked: "How do you go about getting a pardon from the governor?"

"That's easy," he replied, and raised his voice: "Hey, governor how about a pardon?"

"Sure," was the reply.

It came from the next cell.—Tro, Times Record.

Advice to the Dreamer

By Chesta Holt Fulmer

DREAMS are fragile, lovely things. Mental butterflies; Wear no mourning, shed no tears When a dream child dies. It was not reality. Dreams do not abide. They are daisy chains of thought To wear . . . and toss aside. Never let them rule your heart And leave it to vain sorrow; Throw a kiss to passing dreams And dream again—tomorrow! —Courtesy Good Housekeeping Magazine.

Uncle Phil Says:

Regrets Should Deter
All regrets are "vain" if they do not act as deterrents on future occasions.

Inactivity, supineness, and effeminacy have ruined more constitutions than were ever destroyed by excessive labors.

There are gifted women who, perceiving how much the man who loves them has idealized them, succeed in living up to his ideal. Two happy souls!

A Worthy Ambition
Greatest personal triumph is to make a friend out of an old enemy; and as interesting an ambition as any other.

"Don't worry" is a good rule to offer others; but, like all advice, they are unable to follow it.

The man who always speaks the truth is sure to have other virtues.

Making a collection of books is at least as justifiable as making a collection of anything else.

Fate, of course, is responsible for all our failures; but if we succeed it is by our own efforts.

"I WOULDN'T RISK MY LIFE ON ANY OTHER TIRE"

Says Louis Meyer—
Only three time winner
Indianapolis Race 28 33 36

EQUIP YOUR CAR WITH Firestone
GUM-DIPPED TIRES
for Greater Safety!

THERE is a reason why Louis Meyer won the 500-mile Indianapolis race this year—and why he is the only man ever to win this gruelling race three times. He always used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, and never experienced tire trouble of any kind.

Louis Meyer knows tire construction. He also knows that to drive for 500 consecutive miles over this hot brick track, negotiating the dangerous curves 800 times at the record-breaking average speed of 109 miles an hour, requires tires of super strength and greatest blowout protection, as a blowout on any one of the dangerous curves would likely mean instant death. By the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process every cord in the tires on Louis Meyer's car was soaked and coated with liquid rubber, thereby preventing internal friction and heat. This is the secret of the extra strength and reserve safety built into Firestone Tires.

You of course will not drive 109 miles per hour, but at today's higher speeds you do need tires that will give you greatest blowout protection and will stop your car up to 25% quicker. Take no chances! Let your Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store or Firestone Dealer equip your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, the safest tires built. It costs so little to protect lives worth so much!

A Labor Day barbecue would be a nice thing to have for McLean, and would be a worthy chamber of commerce undertaking.

There are still a lot of people in McLean who do not know what a turn button at street intersections is for, judging from the way they cut corners with their cars.

Mr. Ford has said that no man is a leader for more than 8 or 10 years. That this is true can be proven by the experience of most leaders. There is always someone else pushing for leadership, and the public is fickle; however, in the long run it may work out for the best.

Most every man believes in the worth of insurance and advertising, but strangely enough both insurance and advertising have to be sold, few people buying without solicitation. However, the man who has learned the value of advertising is the man who does not have to be sold, but is careful to give this part of his business the same attention he does other departments. And he is the successful man in any town.

The business man who is falling behind in his business should be open to conviction and make whatever changes are needed to change failure to success. There is no hope for the man who stubbornly goes on in the same old way, without making an effort to improve. Many times an intelligent, consistent advertising campaign in the home paper will change apparent failure to a sure success. It has been done in the past and will be done many times in the future.

Gardens and yards have suffered to some extent from the continued dry weather this year, but many homes show the love of beauty and thoughtfulness of their neighbor's property. A gardened home not only makes for the health and pleasure of the home lover, but at the same time adds to the enjoyment of the passerby and to the value of the property, and also to all adjoining property.

Gardeners may rest assured that no valid objection can be made to their efforts to beautify the town and community.

A printing peddler was asked a few weeks ago why he was in competition with the home paper, and he answered that he was only soliciting work that the home paper was not prepared to do. This sounded OK if it was not known that the home paper has thousands of dollars invested in equipment where the peddler's shop has hundreds.

Many peddlers of printing are of the "bedroom" type, but being from a bigger town are able to pull the old gag of being better prepared to take care of the job. The fact is, there is no printing firm on earth that can give more satisfactory printing service for home folks than the home town paper.

CHRYSANTHEMUM CARE

Tendency of chrysanthemum plants to grow tall and produce a minimum of blooms may be checked by pinching out the center of the plants twice or more during the growing season. This procedure will produce dwarf bushy plants and an abundance of blooms. After the plants have finished blooming the soil about them should be cultivated and given an application of plant food, watering plentifully to let it soak in the soil for next year.

Those romantic scenes you see in the movies are not merely acting. Famous stars who are more famous for their emoting, say they fall in love with their leading lady or leading man in each picture to make it real.

Sue—My uncle plays the piano by ear.
 Jane—That's nothing. My uncle fiddles with his whiskers.

J. J. Simmons of Pampa was in McLean Saturday.

FAMILIAR SIGNAL

A traffic officer whose red lights were not functioning held up his hand for motorists to halt. One lady driver disregarded his signal and went through. The officer chased and stopped her.

"Don't you know," he growled, "what I mean when I hold up my hand?"
 "I ought to," was the devastating reply. "I've been a school teacher for nearly twenty years."

J. A. A. W. and Fred Haynes attended the old settlers' reunion at Mangum, Okla., Thursday.

An old lady, in London for the first time in her life, saw on the front of a high building a glaring sign which read: "The Smith Manufacturing Co." "Laws a mercy," she remarked to her nephew, "I've heard of Smiths all my life, but I never knew where they made 'em."

CHERIE NICHOLAS

Nationally Known Fashion Authority

CONCERNING styles and fashions, women desire only that information which they know is authentic. They demand accurate reporting of the new clothing trends, with candid portrayals of the described garments through truthful illustrations. They seek the correct, the latest and finest—but never the bizarre, the extreme or sensational. They wish their fashion writer to speak of smartness and good taste, of what is practical for the average woman, and [a very important item] of garments and hats they can find in their own local stores and shops.

Small wonder, therefore, that women turn confidently to Cherie Nicholas, whose illustrated fashion articles appear regularly in this newspaper. Miss Nicholas tells what the nation's foremost designers and creators of fine styles decree shall be right for the weeks to come.

MEALS: WHOLESOME, SIMPLE 'IT MUST BE SOMETHING I ATE'

"Mary just picked at her food to-night. I don't know what is wrong with it or her, but the child didn't eat enough to keep a bird alive."

How often we hear mothers complain in this fashion when their carefully prepared evening meal fails to capture the children's appetites.

Ten chances to one there is nothing wrong with the food. There is nothing wrong with Mary either—except that she was tempted by a sack of candy or some rich soda fountain dish after school and her hunger has been appeased.

Improper eating between meals is ruinous to the appetite. The difficulty is that these lunches of rich candies or ice cream sundaes, replace the well planned meal with its body building, growth promoting and protective items of food. If the children's appetites for dinner and supper are not up to the simple foods offered, it is a safe bet that Mary and Johnnie have been gorging a short time before.

All lurching between meals should be discouraged, but if extra nourishment is needed it should take the form of bread and butter, crackers and milk, or something that will not interfere with the regular meal to come later.

The evening meal should be wholesome and simple and built around the essential items of diet—milk, vegetables, fruit, bread and butter.

For the younger children it is better to have the main meal at noon and the evening supper should consist of the simpler and the more easily digested foods because bedtime is near.

A creamed vegetable soup with toast or crackers, a soft boiled egg with a baked potato, or bacon on toast may form the main dish. There should also be milk to drink, bread and butter, and stewed fruit and a cookie, or a simple pudding for dessert.

For the older boys and girls a more substantial meal should be prepared, but simplicity should be maintained. In planning meals for adolescents an abundance of food, as much variety as possible, and items high in fuel and energy qualities should be the aim. The energy foods, which are often called "go" foods, are the starches, sugars and fats, and include potatoes, rice, macaroni, bacon, bread and butter and desserts. Candies and other sweets, provided they are taken at the end of the meal and not before, make a welcome variety.

Adolescent boys are easily suited in food matter and will usually eat anything that will satisfy their ever-present cravings for something to eat. Girls at this age as a rule do not have the voracious appetites so common in their brothers, and are appealed to more through the attractive appearance of the dish—Marguerite Breen, in Food Facts.

LeRoy Landers was in Pampa Tuesday.

A. G. Richardson is a new reader of The News.

District Clerk Frank Hill of Pampa was here Wednesday.

When that beloved veteran of the American stage, George M. Cohan, played the part of the wise old country editor in the stage success, "Ah, Wilderness," he caused many a reminiscence chuckle among his audiences over his pet food prejudice . . . blue fish.

"Why did you serve blue fish? You know it doesn't agree with me!" he exclaims in a family dinner scene, when a member of the group inadvertently reveals the identity of the lordly broiled specimen for the Friday meal.

His spouse, unable to conceal her amusement, lets the cat out of the bag and reveals she has been serving blue fish for years. But to save George's digestion and protect his pet food phobia, she merely borrowed other names from dentists of the sea!

Sometimes the blue fish was "haddock," again it was "halibut," or "mackerel." It all looked the same . . . tasted delicious . . . and caused no bad after effects, as long as the head of the house didn't know it was blue fish.

Many folks are like that. One bad experience with some food, real or imagined, in early childhood or youth, is likely to put that food on their personal taboo list for life. When a mental shock or unpleasant physical condition chances to come immediately after a meal, the neurotic or overly-impressionable person's first thought often is "It must be something I have eaten." Back over the last menu they go and seize on some wholly innocent dish to brand as the culprit. And on the black list it goes—perhaps forever, unless common sense and reason later defeat the foolish obsession.

One winged swallow doesn't make a summer. Nor do a few swallows of any food deserve to make that food a criminal for life, though it may have once been an offender. Parents, teachers, and physicians often can render a real service to children or adults afflicted with groundless food phobias if they will help the overly food conscious look at their fears rationally and overcome them.

A simple illustration of what good can be thus accomplished is that of a sadly undernourished youth who couldn't eat butter . . . though he needed plenty of it in his diet to build up his weight. A physician learned that as a young lad, dining with his parents in a restaurant, he had been served rancid butter and had thenceforth refused to have anything to do with it.

Tactfully explaining the extreme unlikelihood of this happening again . . . and using the technique of the psychoanalyst to cure his patient of the obsession, the doctor induced him to put bread and butter back into his diet.—Food Facts.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank our friends and neighbors for their words of sympathy and acts of kindness during our recent bereavement. Your kindness will long be remembered. May God's richest blessings abide with each of you.

THE CANTRELL FAMILY.

Goodbye, Mr. Gloom!

. . . We're a jolly bunch of renegades . . . our sole purpose in life is to give Old Man Gloom the gate and usher in Mr. Sunshine by way of a million laughs. Turn to the Funny Page in every issue and let us help dispel those troubles!

● No man can really live by bread alone. Yes, we admit he'll EXIST, but there will be heavy lines of care running down his face, he'll forget how to smile.

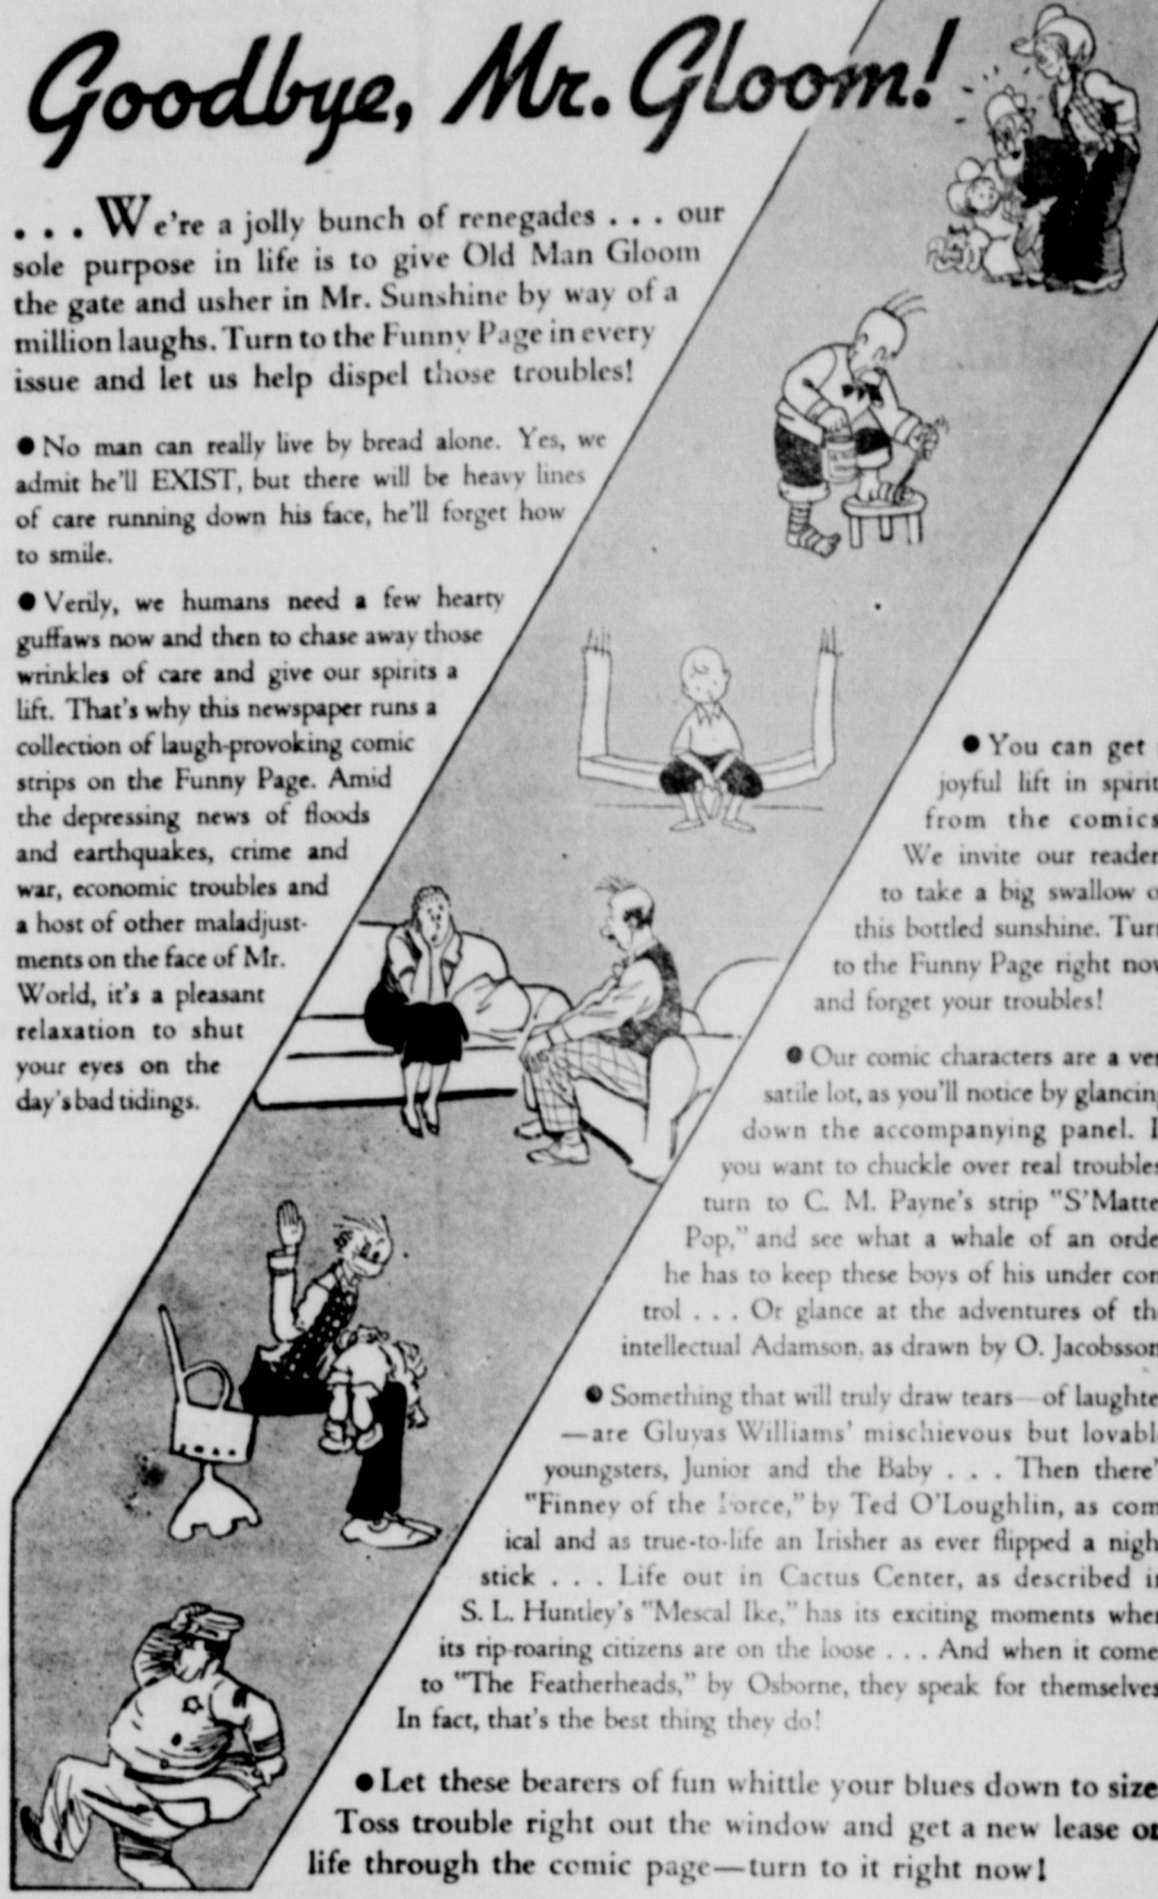

● Verily, we humans need a few hearty guffaws now and then to chase away those wrinkles of care and give our spirits a lift. That's why this newspaper runs a collection of laugh-provoking comic strips on the Funny Page. Amid the depressing news of floods and earthquakes, crime and war, economic troubles and a host of other maladjustments on the face of Mr. World, it's a pleasant relaxation to shut your eyes on the day's bad tidings.

● You can get a joyful lift in spirits from the comics. We invite our readers to take a big swallow of this bottled sunshine. Turn to the Funny Page right now and forget your troubles!

● Our comic characters are a versatile lot, as you'll notice by glancing down the accompanying panel. If you want to chuckle over real troubles, turn to C. M. Payne's strip "S'Matter Pop," and see what a whale of an order he has to keep these boys of his under control . . . Or glance at the adventures of the intellectual Adamson, as drawn by O. Jacobsson.

● Something that will truly draw tears—of laughter—are Gluyas Williams' mischievous but lovable youngsters, Junior and the Baby . . . Then there's "Finney of the Force," by Ted O'Loughlin, as comical and as true-to-life an Irishman as ever flipped a night stick . . . Life out in Cactus Center, as described in S. L. Huntley's "Mescal Ike," has its exciting moments when its rip-roaring citizens are on the loose . . . And when it comes to "The Featherheads," by Osborne, they speak for themselves. In fact, that's the best thing they do!

● Let these bearers of fun whittle your blues down to size. Toss trouble right out the window and get a new lease on life through the comic page—turn to it right now!
