Lions Club Carnival Opens Friday, March 19

Everything is in readiness for the Lions Club carnival to be held here March 19 and 20, Friday and Saturday of this week.

According to W. K. Wharton, general director of the carnival, there will be attractions to please everyone, and a big crowd is expected to attend.

Proceeds will be shared with the schools, representatives of which will assist in the work of the carnival.

BRASWELL SPEAKS AT METHODIST CHURCH

Sam M. Braswell, Clarendon editor, was the principal speaker at a fellowship meeting to promote the cause of missions, at the First Methodist Church Tuesday evening.

Mr. Braswell made an earnest and forceful plea in behalf of the mission work of the church, comparing the laymen and lay women to sit-down strikers. "This is no time for your church or mine to go on a sit-down strike," said Mr. Braswell. "Money is the least consideration in carrying out the command 'Go ye into all the world.' The laity must get a new conception of what missions are. We must take the matter more seriously; religion, simple faith and understanding as Christians we need a renewal of religion. We must carry the glad tidings of Jesus Christ to those about us and make our religion count for something."

Mr. Braswell is one of fifty men, composed of 25 ministers and 25 laymen, selected from the conference to outline a one-hundred-year program for missions in Texas.

Pastor J. H. Sharp was in charge of the program, and C. O. Greene introduced Mr. Braswell. Rev. J. W. Story led in prayer, following the opening song by the congregation.

Other numbers included an instrumental duet by R. L. Floyd and Jesse Dean Cobb, and a vocal duet by Mrs. C. O. Greene and Miss Margaret Hess. Mrs. Braswell was also present, and the ladies of the church served refreshments during the social hour following the program.

DISTRICT PTA TO MEET

According to Van W. Stewart of Perryton, elaborate plans are being made to entertain delegates and guests at the Spring Conference of the 8th District Congress of PTA to be held at Perryton, April 1 and 2.

Speakers of state-wide reputation will appear on the program, and the McLean PTA is expected to be represented.

CCC ENROLLMENT

A CCC enrollment will take place the first part of next month, and boys between the ages of 17 and 29, who are physically fit, not in school, and from families who are receiving assistance from various governmental agencies, may enroll.

Enrollment may be made at the county relief office at Pampa.

COULTER-HENDERSON

Miss Anna Coulter of Hemet, Calif., and Mr. Leslie Henderson of Brawley, Calif., were married at Brawley, March 10, 1937.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Belle Henderson of McLean, and received his education here.

Les Coulter of Oklahoma City attended the Heasley funeral here at Thursday.

Mrs. E. W. Rice, Mrs. T. A. Landers, Mr. E. A. Davis and James Lee Rice were at the funeral Monday.

Mr. Rice visited his cousin, Mr. E. W. Rice, at Pampa last Sunday.

April 4 to 11 are the dates designated for a state-wide clean-up campaign by Governor Allred, and in a letter to Mayor Davis of McLean the following items are suggested:

1. Clean-up: Home premises, alleys, streets, sewage plants, water plants, city parks—giving consideration to suitable ordinances for garbage disposal and rodent control.

2. Plumbing resurveys: Encouraging connections to the municipal water and sewer systems.

3. Mosquito control: Draining of standing water, filling low places, stocking with minnows, and giving consideration to placing this work on a permanent basis.

4. Milk sanitation: Adoption of the Standard Milk Ordinance, if the city does not have one.

5. Water supply sanitation: Inspection of municipal supply, instituting regular bacteriological control, beautifying grounds, promulgating a program for rural and suburban well protection.

6. Waste disposal: Promulgating plans which will provide all citizens with approved methods of waste disposal.

7. Public health education: Encourage all civic and luncheon clubs to devote part of their next regular program to a talk or lecture on some phase of health conservation.

Mayor Davis says that the McLean city council will cooperate with the governor by setting aside these dates as clean-up week in McLean.

CARPENTER SAYS TO ELECT COUNTY TRUSTEE

C. M. Carpenter, who has been on the board of county school trustees for the past ten years, says that he does not want to serve another year, and patrons should be thinking of another man for the coming election.

BARNES HAS OLD MAGAZINE

Harry Barnes has a leather bound volume of the Columbian Magazine, published at Philadelphia in 1789.

The book is in excellent state of preservation and contains many articles of interest. It belonged to Eliza Barnes, Mr. Barnes' grandfather, and his signature is in the book.

A several times great-grandmother of Mr. Barnes came over on the Mayflower at the age of 94. Mr. Barnes has her picture, painted on the ship, by a Huguenot artist, in 1620, which was before the invention of photography.

BOY CONFESSES THEFT

A 19 year old Oklahoma boy held in the county jail has confessed a theft from Stubblefield's store, claiming that he got into "bad company" who talked him into stealing from the store.

The boy's companion is also held in the jail. County Attorney Joe Gordon secured the confession of the theft, said to be four "high-priced Stetson hats."

Mr. and Mrs. William Winston of Pecos, N. M., and the former's sister, Mrs. E. L. Norman, of Pampa visited their aunt, Mrs. J. A. Sparks, and other relatives here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Campbell, Misses Robbie Howard and Verna Rice were visitors in Oklahoma City last Wednesday.

Mrs. Sammie Cubine and Mrs. Walter Cash visited the former's parents at Shamrock Sunday.

W. E. Bogan and Pete Fulbright were in Amarillo on business for the city, Monday.

Mayor J. W. Bullington of Tucuman, N. M., was here Thursday for the funeral of Jas. F. Heasley.

Mr. C. O. Greene visited her parents at Estelina last week.

Ashby Recalls Early Highway Building Plans

In a conversation with the News editor last Saturday, R. N. Ashby recalled early road conditions here.

Mr. Ashby was the first road overseer appointed in Gray county and opened the first designated public road in the county in the spring of 1906. Dick Gardenhire was county commissioner and appointed Mr. Ashby to open the road running south of town one mile and west one mile, the route of the old Postal highway, later changed to highway 66, and now known as the Will Rogers highway.

Mr. Ashby says there were two bad mud holes on the first mile of the road, and J. T. McCarty, who at that time was working at the Rowe Ranch, came up and helped in the work. They worked four days on these two holes before the road was made passable.

Mr. Ashby was later elected county commissioner, retiring about the middle of his third term. It was while he was commissioner that the first county road warrants were issued to clay the Postal highway, some $15,400 being used, which at that time seemed an enormous sum to be used on road work. Mr. Ashby clayed this road in 1917, making the first auto road for the county.

Later, the road was designated to run north of the railroad and was paved on its present route.

Mr. Ashby has been a booster for the highway from the inception of the idea of an east and west road.

HOME DEM. CLUB WINS AT AMARILLO MEAT SHOW

The McLean Home Demonstration Club won first honors on ground chicken entered by Mrs. J. H. Wade, at the Amarillo meat show; and second on American cheese, entered by Mrs. J. A. Fowler. Other entries in the show were cold and boiled soup, and boned chicken. Mrs. Palestee Gething, Mrs. R. F. Sanders and Mrs. Barney Fulbright were the other exhibitors.

Cakes were entered in the baking powder contest by Mrs. Sam McClellan and Miss Rella Sharp. These entries have not been heard from.

Mrs. Barney Fulbright represented the club in attendance at the show on March 8.

The club will meet Friday of this week in an all day session at the home of Mrs. J. H. Wade, when the emergency food shelf will be discussed. Each member is urged to be present and bring a guest.

TRUSTEE ELECTION APRIL 3

The annual election for school trustees will be held at the city hall Saturday, April 3.

The following, among others, have been suggested: D. C. Carpenter, A. B. Christian, Homer Wilson, J. B. Pettit, Ruel Smith, Thurman Adkins, O. G. Stokely, C. S. Doolen and T. H. Andrews.

LeRoy A. Landers of Tulsa spent Tuesday night with home folks here, while enroute to Washington, D. C., where he has a position in the offices of the War Department.

Embroidery Club Honors Husbands at Dinner Friday

Members of the Centennial Embroidery Club were hostesses to their husbands at a St. Patrick's Day dinner Friday evening of last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Appling.

After the guests had found their place cards of Irish design, Mrs. W. E. Bogan, who presided at the table, requested that all smile throughout the evening; a request that surpassed all expectations, the smiles reaching the height of hearty Irish laughter before the evening was over.

Favorite Irish dishes were served, such as old Ireland cocktail, shepherd's pie, shamrock salad, Erin beans, potato pigs, Bridget biscuits, saints' cake and blarney cream.

The program was of Irish origin. Favorite Irish tunes were recalled by singing together. C. H. Leeds played a trombone solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Evonne Floyd. Mrs. W. E. Bogan read "A Little Bit of Heaven," with Mrs. Floyd at the piano.

Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames John Harris, Wharton, C. H. Leeds, Ben Jackson, H. W. Finley, P. E. Stewart, R. L. Appling, Rich Phillips, Kid McCoy, W. H. Floyd, Byrd Guill, Creed Bogan, W. E. Bogan, J. W. Dotson, Sam Hodges, Mrs. J. E. Lynch and Miss Elizabeth Kennedy were special guests.

MRS. BLACK ENTERTAINS AT LIONS LUNCHEON

Mrs. Bob Black gave a reading that was enthusiastically encored, at the Lions luncheon held at the Meador Cafe Tuesday noon.

Mrs. Black read in Irish dialect for her first number that was especially enjoyable, many remarking that it was one of the best readings ever heard at the local club. The encore was also a pleasing number.

Lion Tamer Erwin presented Dr. H. W. Finley and Dwight Upham as visitors. Dr. Finley was later reinstated as a member, at the directors meeting following the luncheon.

Secretary Holloway reported all members present, with but two exceptions.

GASOLINE CONTEST CLOSES 23RD

The current contest being conducted by the Shamrock Oil & Gas Corp. at Amarillo, to select a name for the company's new, high-test Polymer process gasoline, is bringing in many fine suggestions, according to R. J. Day, general manager. Prizes totaling $300 are to be awarded in the contest which closes at midnight, Wednesday, March 23rd. The second of the large advertisements of the contest appears in this issue of The News.

The company's new Polymer process gasoline will be on the market in April, and franchises are now being negotiated with leading jobbers in cities throughout the Panhandle.

TOLL MOORE NEW J. P.

Toll Moore was appointed Justice of the Peace for this precinct, by the commissioners court last Friday.

Mr. Moore will fill the unexpired term of Jas. F. Heasley, deceased.

C. G. Nicholson was in Amarillo one day last week.

Mr. Windom of Hooker, Okla., visited his son, E. J. Windom, last week.

The Garden and Civic Club voted to have the city park landscaped for planting, at the regular bi-monthly session held at the city hall Monday afternoon, with Mrs. H. W. Finley, president, in charge.

A motion carried to employ A. L. Bruce of Amarillo to furnish plans and specifications for planting the park, and that the city council be asked to pay $25 toward the expense of landscaping.

Mrs. Geo. Colebank, secretary, reported 99 members for the club, with other prospects to be seen.

C. O. Greene, Mrs. Chas. E. Cooke and Mrs. D. A. Davis were appointed to investigate landscaping the triangular plot on West First Street and plans for maintaining the West roadside park.

Mrs. C. B. Batsen and Mrs. Bob Thomas were appointed to see the filling station managers and solicit cooperation in the filling station beautification contest.

A motion carried to cooperate with the city in the spring clean-up.

The better yards and gardens contest was discussed and it was agreed that suitable prizes will be awarded, if desired.

Mrs. Batsen read suggested by-laws for the club, which were adopted with minor changes.

The program consisted of a talk on "Garden Design" by T. A. Landers, text of which appears in another column.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT URGES CLEAN-UP

Austin, March 16.—The annual clean up and fire prevention week will be held April 4 to 11, according to word just received from Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. In observance of this week there will be a joint effort between the State Fire Insurance Department and the State Department of Health.

The warm days of spring will soon be here and everyone is urged to see that their property is cleaned of the accumulation of trash. It is only through individual responsibility and effort that one can have a clean and neat appearing city.

In planning your spring cleaning start with the house itself in the attic and work down, not forgetting the basement. Attics and basements are the greatest collectors of refuse and therefore of dust and dirt that the house possesses, and their neglect often constitutes a serious fire hazard. Do not forget to screen against flies and mosquitoes. The better the job of cleaning, and with a garbage pail kept tightly covered, the fewer flies there will be, for flies love dirt and filth and breed in garbage and other filth.

We are prone to judge people in no small measure by the kind of yard keepers we think they are. Many times you have heard someone say, "No, I don't know the people next door but they cannot amount to much because their yard is cluttered with tin cans and papers and their garbage can is always open." Do not let your neighbors be able to pass judgment on you on such grounds.

COFFEY MAKES GIFT

The First Presbyterian Church is the recipient of a gift of 24 upholstered opera chairs for the choir loft, courtesy of T. J. Coffey.

The chairs are as nice as can be found in any church and are appreciated by the choir and congregation.

RAIN AND SNOW

Rain and snow, with the thermometer dropping to around 20 degrees, marked the end of last week, with warmer weather since.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Campbell and son, Mrs. Ines McLarty and Miss Verna Rice visited at Lubbock over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Watkins visited in Amarillo one day last week.

Snoopin' Around

By D. A. Davis

Folks, were you ever forced to get ready right on the spur of the moment to make a trip somewhere just at a time your old bus was all out of adjustment, the tires with a lot of blowout patches and the tubes all patched up and the motor lurching on about half of the cylinders, and you dreaded actually to start out because you just knew you would have nothing but trouble all the way there and back? And after you got started the old engine sputtered up and went to purring just like a kitten and the tires all stopped up, and you made the entire trip without a single mishap, and when you got back home you just wondered how it all happened?

And some morning you don't out to plow with you cultivate, driving to start, but after lumbering with it a while you start out and do a good day's work. And some days you business men just dread to go down and open up because you feel you have no business, but when night comes you go home highly pleased with the day's business.

And at other days what you start out expecting to take a pleasure trip with your bus all up in fine shape you have one blowout after another and the engine goes boom, and you get home disgusted and disgruntled at the whole world.

As you start out to do a good day's plowing after you have carefully gone over your plow tools, but everything goes wrong and you lose your religion by doing some cursing, and maybe wind up by giving Beck and Jude a good thrashing and maybe come home at night so mad as an old wet hen and practically nothing done the entire day.

And some days you business men do a lot of advertising and arranging your stock and make plans to have a dandy business for the day, but something happens and the day is a complete washout and you wonder why these things happen?

I know you all have had these experiences and that's why I'm reminding you of them, because we columnist and weather prophets make slight mistakes sometimes in getting our weekly columns and weather forecasts. Let Sunday was almost awful and I expected it to get quite a bit worse by this week. I had visions of groping around in the dust, hailing onto me but with one hand scrapping the sand out of my eye with the other, but look what was and happened!

Three days of the loveliest weather anyone could expect anywhere, so then a good rain, and as I'm sitting by a warm fire looking out the window, the beautiful snow is lightly and gently falling and there's mud, nothing but mud from Canada to the Gulf, and from the Pacific to the Atlantic. Which just goes to prove, the statement that I've often made and repeat it again, that we humans are nothing on earth but a bunch of boobies. A lot of us pride ourselves on being smart, but after all we are just what the good book says we are. A few days after we are born we are always getting ourselves in ditch or something in that effect.

And just today I found a little snail that my wife cut out of a paper of some kind and pinned it on the wall where my curiosity would tempt me to read it. (She's always tantalizing me this way). Which again proves to me that we men all have some fault or other, especially when we are under great mental or nervous strain.

"The so-called Edward was noted as a necktie tapper. In public appearance he continually tugs at his cravat." The mayor Jimmy Walker in his public appearance was forever during public tugging at an earlobe. Indeed, almost every person under high pressure indulges some nervous manifestation as an emotional escape valve. President Roosevelt has the habit of hitting Will Roger was always hitting back that unruly footstool. Mayor LaGuardia likes to hop from one chair to another during conferences. David Warfield, while waiting in the wings, would crack his knuckles, and Colonel Lindbergh rubs his thumbs across finger ends.

The only one of these men I can compare myself with is Will Rogers. I'm always hitting back my unruly footstool, which in my case is located on the back of my head.

PROTEST

Thornton, Md., farmers have long complained about the condition of the road there. When L. I. Gregg's 1928 car became stuck in a mudhole, a protest was decided on. Neighbors and garage men counted free auto, traffic was held up, so Gregg demanded the machine just to show his feelings.

Chocolate is easy to burn, and for that reason should never be melted directly over a fire. Melt it in the oven or over a pan of hot water.

RAIT

A Green, Maine, housewife had once been told by her grandmother that the best way to get rid of rats was to write them a note. A short time ago, Building Inspector Chandler, inspecting the housewife's home, found this note stuffed in a mouse hole. "What would you be so kind as not to stop here long as I haven't yet sent you my next door neighbor's name, so it would make you a good time." She told Chandler she was left off immediately after the bad words were written.

ALMOST WON THE KEY

Pat told Mike that he could carry a lot of books to the top of a 10-story building with Mike sitting on top of the bed. When near the top he made a misstep and nearly dropped Mike to the same walk below.

Arriving at the top, Pat said: "Dinner, I've won the key."

"Yes, boss," said Mike sadly, "but then you told me, I was sure I had you."

FAXING MR. JOHNSON

Dr. Samuel Johnson's "Dictionary" for the Scotch has been a subject for many imitations. At dinner one day, during the famous tour of Scotland, his hostess asked him how he liked the dictionary.

"It's very good for him," he said. "Then, Doctor, let me help you to a little more," she urged with a dandy smile.

ALL RIGHT FOR YOU, SONNY

Father—Oh, get jacket off, young son, at some of us.

Jack—Yes, no, you're hot, me, air to, father?

Father—I am that, Datta, I tell you, my son, that's the way of you, or you had better be.

Jack—But I thought it was only a joke. He said he told the paper just after of him.

SOMEBODY SKINNED BUT KARRIT

They was discussing business with an friend.

"A fellow walked into my store last week," he said, "and she said to me, 'I want to buy a rabbit coat.'"

"Yes, father," said the niece daughter, just back from college. "I've seen you'll like Charles, he's a wonderful boy."

"He is any money?" he demanded. "Oh, dad," said the girl, "you men are all alike. You're as curious. Charles asked me the same thing about you."

Mrs. Terry Lander spent Sunday and Monday in Amarillo.

NIGHT OUT

In Okmash, Wm. 290 "impromptu" husbands held a banquet. Calling themselves the Royal Order of the Doughboys, the men dined on ding-birds. The president's guest was a rolling-pin, the sounding board a frying pan. The banquet was to be a brief respite from too-tight market ties. But of the 200 diners, four had to attend with their wives.

ERRAND

Mrs. Emma Simms of Mount Airy, N. C., sent her young son, Charles, to the butcher for a pound of beef 18 years ago. The other day he came home with the liver—and a wife. Charles had written his mother once during the years, from Alaska, saying he hadn't forgotten the errand.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Timin and daughter, Miss Mary Edna, visited their son and brother at Pampa one day last week.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL MOMENT

The Jews were traveling through the west in a stagecoach, when, without any warning, they were suddenly held up by highwaymen who appeared about 30 feet in front of the horses. One of the Jews smothered the situation peacefully. Turning to his friend, he pulled a red of hills out of his pocket, he said: "Don't worry, in 20 minutes I see you."

MAKING TWO

The coach team can be as dry as a bone as the adult. Little Annie came home from the village school one day and bounded to her mother: "What I'm now second in the class."

"And how many others in the class?" asked her mother. "Oh, well, there's just me an' another one."

Professor—Miss Gret, can you tell me the three classes into which men are divided? Miss Gret—Rich, poor, and good looking.

BREATHERS THERE A MAN—

"Well," said the doctor cheerfully, "how do you feel this morning? Any aches or pains?"

"Well, yes—and no," answered the patient. "I feel a great deal better, but it hurts me to breathe. The only trouble now seems to be with my breathing."

"Oh," said the physician, still more cheerfully, "I'll give you something that will soon stop that."

Rich-hiker—Hey, Mister, I'm going your way. Astold—So I notice, but I'll bet I get there first.

HON. GOUGH IN ASSEMBLY

Last Thursday morning Hon. L. Gough, one of the original T-Anchor cowboys, spoke to the high school student body. Mr. Gough was first employed on the T-Anchor ranch in 1882. He related historical facts in a different and interesting way, and sprinkled his talk with folk lore and picturesque descriptions so that not a moment of the time was dull. He quoted several poems from "Spur Jingles and Saddle Songs" which he wrote and dedicated to the old time cowpunchers' round-up of each other on the T-Anchor Ranch. His humorous remarks kept the audience chuckling constantly. Miss Abbott purchased two copies of the book for the library and the students have been reading it with great enjoyment. The fact that the book tells of local happenings makes it all the more interesting and therefore does not contain the dry harsh facts of the typical text book. Mr. Gough is to be thanked for a most interesting chapel hour.

INTERSCHOLASTIC ELIMINATIONS

In the essay contest elimination, Ermadel Floyd won first place on an essay entitled "An Unexpected Guest." Eula Fay Foster won second place. BAND NOTE

The McLean high school band will play at Gracey Thursday night. They will also give an exhibition at the Lions carnival March 19 and 20.

SPEECH DEPT TO PRESENT PLAY

Next Wednesday afternoon, March 25, at 2 o'clock, the speech department of the McLean high school will present in the high school auditorium the play, "Pink Geraniums," a one-act drama by Marguerite Kreger Phillips. The setting is on a tenant farm in early March. John Barrows, whose father and grandfather have been tenant farmers, is struggling to buy the land which he is farming. His wife, Julia, is city-bred and finds the life on the farm very stifling to her natural instincts. When her aunt dies and leaves her some money she has a struggle within herself trying to decide whether she should give the money to John to buy more land, hogs, horses and cattle or to buy luxuries for herself. One small pink geranium is the axis of the play. TREE PLANTING CAMPAIGN

Higgins is going in for an extensive tree planting campaign. Three hundred seventy-nine Chinese elms have recently been received and most of the trees are now in the ground. Higgins has always been proud of her many trees that were planted here a number of years ago. But new trees are needed to replace those that have died and thus keep the good work going on with a new growth from time to time. Nothing helps the looks of a town more than trees. Let us have more of them. The Lions Club is sponsoring the project.—Higgins News.

Growing school children need plenty of glareless light for their studies, in order that their eyes may develop normally.

Insufficient light or glaring light may cause irreparable injury. In fact, recent studies show that one out of five children in grammar school has some defect in vision.

The School Band

"Oh, it was magic music
That gave me joy today—
The whirring of the wings
Of birds upon their way,
The chanting of the crickets,
The voice of meadow rills,
A vested robin calling
Across the distant hills,
The chiming of the bluebells,
The humming of the bees,
The silver sound of raindrops
Upon the willow trees,
A distant sea-gull crying,
The lowing of the herds—
Oh, it was magic music,
A carol without words."

—Ruth Sterling Bauer.

Mr. Leeds has built up a nice band in the McLean schools. It takes a lot of patience to work with youngsters in an outside activity. It is much easier for them to play with the other boys and girls the time they have practice periods. But there is that hidden talent to develop and the desire to compete with the other members of the band, so the band pupils faithfully meet the class periods and put in hours of practice outside. We have seen the results of hours of training in our band from the selection of two of the members for the all-American band in January. These two boys also demonstrated their ability last week in taking second place in the amateur night show.

Mr. Leeds gave a concert of band members at the grade school Tuesday afternoon. It was very much enjoyed by all the teachers, pupils, and several visitors. About 35 members took part in the concert. One of the main features of the concert was the presentation of the clarette group, made up of young boys and girls in the third, fourth and fifth grades.

THE P. T. A. MEETS

The P. T. A. held its monthly meeting Thursday afternoon in the gym. The program was made up of Interscholastic League events. After the devotional, the rhythm band gave two numbers. Then the choral club gave some selections. Erna Ruth Fulbright, Bobby Black, Martha McDonald and Jim Carpenter told stories. The following gave declamations: Wayne Back, Marcella Campbell, Erny Fulbright, Joyce Fulbright, Viola Apple, Zora Idabel Petty, Nora Isabel Petty, J. D. Roth, Duella Wood, Beth Evonne Floyd, Thelma Jean Dishman, Mary Ellen Green, Bennie Mae Wade and Ida Mae Stockton.

After a short business session, the meeting adjourned until the second Thursday in April. Mrs. Harris' room had the most mothers present.

BOOK REPORT

The following book report was written by Mary Ellen Green, on "The Courtship of Miles Standish," by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow:

The who: 1. Miles Standish, captain of Plymouth; 2. John Alden, Miles Standish's best friend; 3. Priscilla, sweetheart of John Alden.

The when: 17th century.
The where: On the coast of New England.

The what happened: Miles Standish and John Alden wanted a maiden, Priscilla. Miles Standish sent John Alden to court Priscilla for him. The maiden refused to accept the courtship by proxy, and it made the captain very angry. He thought John had betrayed him. John was upset over it. About that time, an Indian came to the village with a snake skin of arrows, meaning war. Standish filled it with powder and began preparing for war. He went to the Indian encampment and fought and won the battle.

John Alden was preparing to leave on the Mayflower, but when he saw Priscilla standing in the crowd, he changed his mind. Soon word came that the captain had been killed. So John and Priscilla were married. John thought if the captain was dead, he would be free to marry Priscilla. They were very happy. But someone came up to them dressed in armor. It was the captain. He had not been killed after all. He came to them and asked forgiveness for being so hard on John and Priscilla. This made them all very happy. Alden's wife had married Priscilla on his back when he was at Priscilla's home.

Don't Try to "Save" on Home Remedies—Ask Your Doctor

There is one point, on which practically all doctors agree. That is: Don't give your child unknown remedies without asking your doctor first.

All mothers know this. But sometimes the instinct to save a few pennies by buying "something just as good" overcomes caution.

When it comes to the widely used children's remedy—"milk of magnesia"—many doctors for over half a century have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia" is the standard of the world. Safe for children.

Keep this in mind, and say "PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA" when you buy. Comes now, also in tablet form. Get the form you prefer. But see that what you get is labeled "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia." 25¢ for a big box of the tablets at drug stores.

Current Events IN REVIEW

by Edward W. Pickard
Western Newspaper Union

Lewis and His C. I. O. Are Moving Forward
YOU'VE got to hand it to John L. Lewis. The beetle-browed leader of the C. I. O. is going places and doing things, despite several setbacks in his plans to unionize all industry. The steel magnates are yielding to a great extent, and the threat of a general strike in that industry is fading out. With the Carnegie-Illinois corporation, largest subsidiary of United States Steel, leading the way, the biggest concerns in that industry are granting increases in wages and the 40 hour week, and agreeing to deal with the unions affiliated with the C. I. O. This is the first time in 45 years that "Big Steel" has recognized union labor as a bargaining agency for its employees.

John L. Lewis

Lewis and Philip Murray, chairman of the steel workers' organizing committee, were jubilant, but the Carnegie-Illinois corporation issued an official statement that toned them down a bit.

"The company will recognize any individual, group, or organization as the spokesmen for those employees it represents," the statement said, "but it will not recognize any single organization or group as the exclusive bargaining agency for all employees."

Under this policy the status of the employee representation plan is likewise unchanged. It will continue as the spokesman for those of the employees who prefer that method of collective bargaining, which has proved so mutually satisfactory throughout its existence.

The General Electric company declared its willingness to discuss a national collective bargaining agreement with the United Electrical Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate; and the indications were that Lewis and the Appalachian coal operators would be able to negotiate a new wage and hour agreement in time to avert a coal miners' strike.

The C. I. O. announced the formation of the United Shoe Workers of America with a nucleus of 20,000 members and went after New England's shoe industry. Still more important, Lewis and his aids let it be known that the next target of the C. I. O. drive would be the textile industry.

General Electric and some of the other big concerns that yielded to a certain extent to the demands of the C. I. O. followed the example of the steel companies in asserting that they still reserved the right to deal also with other unions or groups of employees, and in some cases company unions undertook to maintain their independent positions. Furthermore, President Green and other leaders of the American Federation of Labor entered wholeheartedly into the fight against Lewis and his C. I. O. The latter gained strength by the decision of aluminum workers at the New Kensington, Pa., plant of the Aluminum Company of America to renounce the federation in favor of the C. I. O.

In Chicago there was a strike of taxicab drivers who formed a union and sought the support of the Lewis organization. They demanded higher pay.

Eight thousand employees of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company's Pittsburgh plant demanded a 20 per cent raise in wages and it was feared they would start a strike if the demand were rejected.

Because the Chrysler motor company refused to recognize the United Automobile Workers of America as the sole bargaining agency for all its employees, a strike was called in all its major units in Detroit, and other plants of the company were closed because of dependence on Detroit production. More than 50,000 workers were thus thrown into idleness. Vice President B. E. Hutchinson of the corporation said it appeared that "the conferences into which we entered with good faith had only one purpose, namely, to put this union in complete control over all our employees, regardless of individual wishes."

The union also called a strike at the Hudson Motor Car company because, they asserted, officials of the concern were stalling in negotiations on working conditions.

United States Gets Meats From Foreign Nations

FIGURES supplied by the Department of Commerce show that the live stock producers who predicted this year would be forced to depend on foreign meat imports this year were right. During January the arrivals of foreign pork at domestic ports set an all time record for any month, and the imports of meat were far in excess of those a year ago. This condition is blamed on the drought and the four-year federal crop control program.

Meat imports in January aggregated 30,387,000 pounds, compared with 19,922,000 in January of 1936 and only 7,14,000 pounds in 1935. Dressed pork imports alone reached the record figure of 5,580,033 pounds compared with 2,250,389 in January, 1936, and only 265,000 in 1935.

Heavy imports of pork continued during the first three weeks of February, government figures for receipts at New York indicated. During this period foreign nations shipped 2,988,500 pounds of pork to New York, which exceeded imports for any February.

Canada proved to be the largest source of supply for the American market. Imports of all kinds of meat from Canada during the first month of this year were approximately 17,102,000 pounds, an increase of 190 per cent over the 5,684,000 pounds imported in January of last year.

Edward and Wally May Lease Maryland Home

ACCORDING to a copyrighted article in the Philadelphia Record, Edward, duke of Windsor, and Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson may live in the United States after their marriage early in May. The duke, says the Record, is "considering most favorably" for their home the Cloisters, the castle-like country residence of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner A. Parker near Brooklandville, Md., just outside of Baltimore. The article says he had options also on an estate in Carroll county, Maryland, and on one on Long Island, but will take up neither.

"The option on the Cloisters provides for a year's lease," the newspaper says. "It gives the right to the duke to renew the lease for two additional years if the place proves satisfactory. Apparently feeling certain Edward will lease his estate, Parker has ordered improvements to meet the duke's specifications."

Death of Dr. W. T. Hornaday, American Zoologist

DR. WILLIAM T. HORNADAY, one of America's foremost naturalists, died at his home in Stamford, Conn., at the age of eighty-two. He was the first director of the New York Zoological park, retiring in 1926. Doctor Hornaday was a devoted advocate of the conservation of wild life and steadily worked for the protection of migratory fowl and for federal game refuges.

One of the leaders of the Republican party passed with the death of Mark L. Requa in Los Angeles. He was national committeeman from California from 1932 to 1936, was a close friend of Herbert Hoover and for years a dominant figure in politics on the West Coast. During the World War Mr. Requa was director of the oil division of the United States fuel administration and the "motorless week-ends" he established are still remembered.

More Prominent Russians May Be Put on Trial

DICTATOR STALIN hasn't yet cleaned up the Russian Communist party to his own satisfaction, and it seems probable that more men once prominent among the bolsheviks will go to trial as traitors.

Foremost among these unfortunates are Alexis Rykov, former president of the council of people's commissars, or premier, and Nikolai Bukharin, former editor of the government organ Izvestia. These two were expelled from the Communist party the other day on charges of anti-party activity, and it is believed in Moscow they and a score of others will soon be tried for conspiring to overthrow the Stalin regime.

For ten years Rykov was premier of the soviet union, and before that, during the civil war, he had the job of provisioning the Red army. Though succeeding to Lenin's position, he did not have his power, for Stalin reserved that for himself.

President Contemplates Another Fishing Trip

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT told the press correspondents that he was planning another fishing trip and hoped to get away late in April. This time he is going after tarpon in the Gulf of Mexico, and he intends to go to New Orleans and there board the Presidential yacht Potomac for a cruise along the Texas coast.

Gas, Gas All the Time, Can't Eat or Sleep

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adierka. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never feel better."
—Mrs. Jas. Filler.

Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adierka gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Dr. H. L. Shosh, New York, reports "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierka greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."

Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and constipation. At all Leading Drugists.

Garden Design

(Talk by T. A. Landers at Monday session of the Garden and Civic Club.)

To develop a plot of ground of whatever size, for any purpose, requires planning. When such a plan is put on paper it becomes a design.

A design is necessary, if the garden is to be successful. Without it, mistakes will be made with much changing later, which is hard on the plants and never entirely satisfactory. Lack of design is the most serious fault in most gardens.

The first essential for the garden design is to know the need and desires of the home of which the garden is to be a part. The garden may be used by children needing play space, by young people who want space for games, or older people who desire only lovely retreats and beautiful pictures to contemplate.

All garden designs should begin with the house, with the thought of making the garden a part of the home. There should be a modest lawn in the outdoor living room, with plantings at the house foundation and the borders.

Walks and driveways should follow the lines of least resistance between the points they connect, or they should be made to seem to do this. They should not intrude upon the garden picture, or unnecessarily use up ground space.

While there is no hard and fast rule to follow in garden design, yet all gardens need harmony, not only in color of bloom, but in plantings. In order to accomplish harmony, we need to study accent. We can add accent by planting occasional tall growing trees and shrubs, that will add much to the beauty of the garden.

In border plantings for accent in this section, we may use the popular, red cedars and junipers, as they are perfectly hardy here. Other border plantings may include vitex, sumac, althea, dogwood, spirea, cotoneaster, mock orange, mahonia, nandina, bush honeysuckle, Forsythia, snowberry, privet, spirea, lilac, shrub rose, and many of the lower growing fruit trees.

For the perennial border may be given: phlox, shasta daisy, painted daisy, iris, hibiscus, balloon flower, dianthus, ranunculus, salvia, baby's breath, galleria, peony, bleeding heart, edem and chrysanthemum.

Plants suitable for this climate include: crocus, hyacinth, narcissus, tulip, day lily, pansy, dahlia and gladiolus.

Annual flowers may be used to fill in vacant places and some of them may be a permanent part of the garden plan. Petunias, larkspur, calceolarias, phlox and in some instances zinnias and other old-fashioned flowers can be used to advantage.

In the well-designed garden there should be a plot for growing cut flowers so that the garden picture may not be disturbed by cutting those flowers that are designed to add to the beauty of the garden plan.

The above plant suggestions have been tried in this community and found useful. There are many others that can be used.

It is evident that there may be as many kinds of gardens as there are types of dwellings, but there are some kinds that are particularly adapted to our conditions, as: rock desert, sunken, kitchen, alpine, friendship, vegetable, evergreen, terrace and wall.

Garden pools, shelters and furniture should be sparingly used in the small garden. Only one gathering place for the family should be used, and in the larger garden, if more than one place is provided with seats they should be so arranged that one is out of sight of the other. Most any kind of garden ornament is permissible, if the use is restrained. No garden is impressive if it has a cluttered look from the use of too many pieces of garden furniture.

Planning and planting the garden is not all for work, pruning and spraying must have proper attention all through the year; however, to the garden lover, there is no such word as "work" in the garden, for it is all beautiful and pleasurable exercise.

Making the garden livable for the family and attractive to the passerby is within the means of everyone. There must be a love for growing things and love of home for the gardener to make a success, but most people have these things, if given a little encouragement. The Garden Club has the privilege of setting a proper example and making the people "garden conscious" more, perhaps, than any other agency.

When everyone thinks as much of the outside appearance of the home as they do of the inside of the living room, we may expect to see a community of really fine homes peopled by folks who take a pride in every community interest.

FLOYD GIBBONS

ADVENTURERS

Holding Everybody CLUB

"When the Cable Snapped" By FLOYD GIBBONS

YOU can have your wild rides on bucking bronchos, on run-away trains, and on automobiles gone haywire, but Warren Boop of Orange, N. J., will back an ordinary coal barge against any of them. Maybe you never thought of a coal barge ride as either fast or exciting. Neither did I. But listen to Warren's tale. There are times, it seems, when those slow, easy-going barges can cut up and act nasty.

In 1913, Warren was captain of the barge, Victor, owned by the Peacock Coal company of Philadelphia. The Victor was a 10,000-ton vessel, practically new, and Warren was mighty proud of her. And maybe that's the reason he stuck to her when many another man would have quit the job the minute those November gales began whipping the river into an inferno of water and foam.

The November blow was particularly bad in 1913. A three-day northeaster had turned the water around Philadelphia into a boiling torrent. There were three barges tied up together and the Victor was on the outside. The other two barges were moored with steel cables, but the Victor's lines were of rope, and they were wearing thin.

The Rope Cables Snapped Quickly.

Warren called the office and told them he'd have to have a steel cable. "We've got none," they told him. Warren went back to the Victor and looked at the swollen river. Those rope cables wouldn't last long. The thought had hardly entered his mind when the headlines parted. The Victor's head swung away from the wharf.

"The stern lines snapped like so much macaroni," says Warren, "and the Victor started on a perilous trip down the river, hog wild on the rushing tide, and with four bridges ahead of her. There was absolutely nothing that could be done, for the barge was not power-driven. I stood there helpless, while the driving rain beat into my face and the storm seemed to increase in fury.

"I made my way to the bow, and clung desperately to the capstan. Carried by the tide, the Victor was tearing along at a twenty-mile-an-hour clip. She was loaded with ten thousand tons of soft coal, and I wondered what would happen if she struck one of those bridge abutments broadside."

Warren wasn't long in finding out. There came a sudden shock—a thunderous, grinding roar, and the Victor shook from stem to stern. She had struck the Pennsylvania Bridge. She veered around and shot through the draw stern first. Warren yelled to the bridge tender—thought he heard a faint reply. Then he was off, whirling down the stream again.

The second bridge was only four city blocks away. Again the crash—and again the Victor shivered as if she had been torpedoed. She heeled over at a ten-degree angle and went racing through the second draw, twisting round and round like an egg shell. And on she sped—sweeping under the third bridge—missing an abutment by a hair—heading for the fourth and last bridge.

Barge Went Tearing Down the River.

"We swirled into the last bridge with a sickening shudder that I thought would split the barge in two," says Warren. "Then suddenly I saw a red and green light looming up ahead of me. The police boat! She took the Victor in tow and hauled her ashore. Warren threw a line out. But the police boat hadn't gone ten minutes when the lines snapped again—and again the Victor was tearing away down the Schuylkill.

By now the wind was blowing a veritable hurricane. Warren had to crawl along the deck to keep from being blown overboard. He was making for the little cabin in the stern for he was numb with the cold, and he thought a jigger of rum would warm him up. But Warren never got to the cabin and the bottle he had stowed away there in a closet. At that moment there came a terrific jar. The Victor shook as it had never shaken before. Suddenly it keeled over on one side, and Warren was hurled clear off the deck.

"I felt myself flying through the air," he says. "Then I landed and my body struck the port scupper railing. Instinctively I grabbed for it. My hand missed it, but my hand closed upon a two-inch line fastened to the midships cleat. I bounced from the railing, shot over the side, and there I swayed, now in mid-air, now hurled into the angry water."

And for a full fifteen minutes Warren hung there, dashed repeatedly against the side of the barge. He tried to climb back up that rope, but it was a slow, painful job. The barge was heading for the mouth of the Schuylkill now—heading out into the Delaware. The storm would be worse out there. Warren redoubled his efforts to climb that rope.

Terrific Climb for Life.

Hand over hand—one arm's length at a time—fighting every inch of the way! It was the toughest work Warren had ever done in his life. But it was work or drown, so he kept on. "I was fully three-quarters of the way up it," he says, "but I knew my bruised body could stand little more of that sort of punishment. I was breathless and worn. I think there was a moment in there when I lost consciousness completely. But if I did, I must have clung to the rope instinctively, for I didn't fall off.

"How I ever negotiated those few remaining feet to safety I will never know. What I accomplished after that must have been purely automatic. But the next thing I knew I found myself on the deck, looking over the side of the still lurching vessel."

To this day, Warren doesn't know what gave the Victor that last wallop. He says he can only guess that some other vessel rammed her. It was quite a while later that the Victor was hurled against a dock on the New Jersey side of the Delaware river and a patrolling tug came up and stood by her all night to see that she didn't break away again.

The Victor was leaking badly by that time, and would have gone to the bottom if she'd been in mid-stream much longer. And Warren agrees that you can have your bucking bronchos. For sheer excitement, give him one of those big, sluggish coal barges in a storm.

Food for His Statue;

Sure to Be Remembered

The life-size statue of a modern Elijah who had it placed beside his grave so future generations could see what he looked like is to be seen in a rural cemetery near Maple Rapids, Mich., correspondent in the Detroit Free Press.

The statue is that of Elijah Elsworth, who died in 1906 at the age of seventy-seven. He was the last of his family and, according to local legend, conceived the idea of the statue so that his friends and those who came after them would not forget his appearance.

The name of the sculptor has been forgotten but it is said that Elsworth either sold his forty-acre farm or willed it to the artist to pay for the monument.

Elsworth sat for the designing of the strange figure, which depicts him clothed in flowing robes like those which his Biblical namesake might have worn. His feet are bare and in his left hand he holds a palm branch, adding a final touch to the

Romans Loved Cinnamon;

Used It in Their Balms

The strong fragrance of cinnamon greeting our nostrils, gives us pleasure even before we eat the food that it flavors.

The human nose has always responded to this odor and the ancient Romans held it in particular esteem. They used it liberally in their ointments and balms as well as in their cooking, and as the ultimate mark of their appreciation of this spice they set it apart as the incense for sacrificial and ceremonial fires.

When a god was to be appeased, or the shade of a departed spirit was to be honored, it was the perfume of cinnamon wafted heavenward on uprising clouds of smoke that carried the message. No Roman doubted that an odor so pleasing to man could fail to placate the Olympian dieties.

The Roman media of atonement was not buns but bonfires, and their theory was that the more cinnamon consumed, the greater the incense and therefore the greater the pleasure of the deity or the spirit who was being honored.

JOHN'S PICTURE OF THE TRIAL AND CRUCIFIXION

LESSON TEXT — John 19: 4-9, 14-18, 25-30

GOLDEN TEXT — Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren, I John 3:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC — When Jesus Died for Us.

JUNIOR TOPIC — On a Hill Far Away. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC — Christ's Cross and Its Meaning for Me. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC — Christ's Cross and Mine.

The cross is accepted throughout the world as the emblem of the Christian church. The death of the Son of God for the sins of the world is a focal point not only in history but in theology. It is for this reason that we give so much study to the cross and its meaning.

Calvary comes between Christmas and Easter. Jesus came as the Babe of Bethlehem—God incarnate in the flesh. He died for you and me. Death could not hold him. He arose in victory. He is now at the Father's right hand, an Advocate with the Father. He is coming again. Each statement is an indispensable truth!

The assigned text gives only a portion of the moving account of the trial and crucifixion of Jesus but suffices to bring before us in graphic contrast four pictures—

I. Pilate—Convinced but Afraid.

Pilate was in a most difficult position. To turn one way meant to incur the wrath of the Jews he governed. To turn the other meant that he would be accused of disloyalty to Rome. He was convinced that Jesus was innocent, but was afraid to follow his own convictions.

Many there are who follow in his steps. They know what they ought to do with Jesus, but fear the comments of friends or loss of earthly advantage, and take their place with Pilate.

II. The Jews—Hostile and Hard-hearted.

The common people heard Jesus gladly. They loved him and would have followed him. But the Jewish leaders, and those whom they had misled, hated him with malicious hate.

They are typical of those who in our day have long and repeatedly rejected the claims of the Lord Jesus on their hearts. They have hardened their hearts against him until they have become embittered. Paul says, "They received not the love of the truth that they might be saved, and for this cause God shall send them a strong delusion, that they should believe a lie" (II Thess. 2:10, 11).

Let those who have long rejected the Saviour be warned lest they also crucify afresh the Son of God.

III. The Disciples—Remembered by the Saviour.

The thoughtful tenderness of Jesus in providing for his mother even in his own hour of deep suffering, moves upon our hearts and urges us to follow his example. This is a hard world; let the followers of Jesus be tender and kind.

In thus caring for his mother, Jesus gives thought also to the new responsibility of the disciple "whom he loved." What a sacred and responsible trust, but is it not true that we also are called and commissioned by him?

IV. Jesus—The Saviour.

To see the guiltless, spotless Son of God hung on the cross in propitiation for our sins is to bring us to our knees to cry as did Martin Luther, "For me, for me!"

Majestic in the assurance that he laid down his own life, he walks as a King in the midst of all the confusion, round about him.

1. Silent. His enemies made great hue and cry against him. Pilate questioned him again and again. Few were the words he spoke, but fraught with more meaning than all the words of men.

2. Strong. All through his life and in his death one is impressed by his strength. All too often sacred art, drawing on its imagination, presents our Lord as an effeminate weakling. No; he was and is gloriously strong.

3. Sympathetic. We have already dwelt on his tender love for his mother. Gentleness is always an attribute of strength, not of weakness.

4. The Saviour. When he cried "It is finished," he did so in no weak submission to an inevitable death. No; he had wrought out redemption, a complete and finished redemption for you and for me.

Now Is the Time

To be always intending to lead a new life but never to find time to set about it, this is as if a man should put off eating and drinking and sleeping from one day and night to another, till he is starved and destroyed.—Tillotson.

Delight in Beauty

The very first discovery of beauty strikes the mind with an inward joy, and spreads a cheerfulness and delight through all its faculties.—Adison.

Spring - Fashions - Sewing

ARE the robins showing interest in real estate out your way—and have the kiddies been hinting that it's about time to go barefoot—have you been trying to get a little house cleaning done—and have you noticed a few of the town's rabid sportsmen out poking around on the fairways—have you had any knights of the road stop by for a hand-out or seen any gypsies—in short, is it Spring out your way? That, of course, brings us to the omnipresent subject of fashions, and this in turn to the ubiquitous topic of Sew-Your-Own.

One in Silk; One in Cotton.

If you're a devotee of trim lines and real comfort make this new all-occasion dress for yourself (Pattern 1973) in two versions: a silk print in which to greet the bright new season; a cotton one for day in, day out service. There's no daytime occasion too auspicious nor a household task too menial for one or the other of these versions. For completeness, then, and simplicity as well, there's no substitute for this stylish number. It is designed for sizes 36 to 52. Size 38 requires 3 3/4 yards of 35 inch material.

Two Versions From One Pattern. And see what the Chic Twins have, two lovely blouses with but a single purpose—to make you look your very veriest. They're combined to make Pattern 1271 the biggest hit of the season. Think of the endless variety these clever bits of fashion will give your wardrobe. Especially now will ensembles be worn, and to have certain success with these one must choose the blouse carefully. Wear the notched lapel model with casual sports outfits and the ruff-collared style with the more tailored suits. Puff sleeves and saucy peplums are particularly intriguing features of both blouses. Either is available for sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 38 bust). Size 14 (top model) requires 2 yards of 39 inch material or 2 1/2 yards for the other. Remember, both are included in Pattern 1271.

Sewing Easy; Frock Charming.

Pattern 1259 is truly an Ode to Spring—one that's fit for print, too. A bright nosegay, for instance, will be just the thing to promote your charm and grace. The far-reaching collar and grosgrain ribbon tie will indeed become your pretty face. The puff sleeves and smart cuffs fairly snap with chic. Simple to make, delightful to wear, this frock deserves to be called an Ode to Spring. It comes in sizes 12-20 (30 to 40 bust). Size 14 requires 5 1/4 yards of 39 inch material plus 3/4 yard contrasting. The bow requires 3/4 yard ribbon. In full length size 14 requires 6 1/2 yards of 39 inch material.

The best way to keep the home premises sanitary is to dispose of trash as soon as it accumulates. The next best way is to cooperate with the city in the semi-annual clean-ups. It will cost nothing but a little bit of work to have the premises cleaned up completely by the city during the week of April 11, and it is expected that a homes will be inspected this year to see that the work is done properly. Home owners could very well begin right now to get the rubbish in shape for the city trucks.

ONE ON THE RACE OF MEN

Pat—What does it mean in the Bible when it says, "the quick and the dead?"

Mike—Sure, Pat, it means the pedestrians.

Pat—And how's that?

Mike—Some 'em is quick, and the rest is dead.

The organic chemicals department of the Eastman Kodak Co. in Rochester, N. Y., has just announced that it has begun manufacturing a synthetic skunk odor, scientifically known as butyl mercaptan. The odor, the same as that of a skunk, will be used in coal mines as a warning in case of underground fire. It is expected to be more effective than a warning noise because noise seldom can be heard above the clatter of mining operations.

CAN'T SLEEP ON LEFT SIDE, GAS BOTHERS HEART

Mr. Woodrow Lowry says: "When I laid on my left side stomach GAS seemed to bother my heart so I couldn't sleep. The first dose of ADLERIKKA relieved the GAS. Now I can eat such things as beans, onions or tomatoes without distress." When clogged bowels cause gas bloating, stomach pains, indigestion, bad headaches or sleepless nights, get ADLERIKKA. The first dose usually relieves GAS and stubborn constipation. Thorough action, yet never gripes. City Drug Store. P-1

"One-Night Stands"

Remember the medicine shows that used to come to town? With minstrel music and flaring gaslight, the eloquent "Doctor" sold a good many bottles of his marvelous elixir. No chance to discover that it was only molasses and water! He was gone next day to another town, playing "one-night stands."

Modern advertising and selling methods are very, very different. Merchants and manufacturers are in business day after day, year after year, at the same address. They need your continued custom. They must tell the story of their merchandise truthfully to keep your confidence. They must offer honest values to insure your satisfaction. And they do—in the advertising pages.

Read the advertisements. There's no surer, easier way to economical buying. They show you what you want at the lowest price and tell you where it may be had. You save time, save money.
