Gray County Farm Loans Now Available

Administration Office Opens Set Up Here

W. D. Kindrick, Resettlement Administration county supervisor for Gray County, has announced that word has been received from the regional office in Amarillo that more than a million dollars has just been made available for resettlement loans to suffering farmers in Region 12. Many farmers, with the planting season approaching, are finding they need a little more money in order to plan for this year's work, and the Resettlement Administration is anxious to help these farmers to rehabilitate themselves.

Resettlement loans are available, Kindrick said, to farmers whose farms are in such a state that they need farm plan, permitting the rehabilitation of the farm family. Farmers in need of this financial aid, as well as the help and advice of the county and home management supervisor, should visit the Resettlement Administration county office at once. The office is located in McLean, and will be open each Thursday and Friday. The Resettlement Administration is emphasizing livestock loans in its lending program. Many of the farmers who have been successful in the financial rehabilitation of distressed farmers. They also lend their efforts toward rehabilitation of the area, which has been ravaged by severe erosion due to the years of drought.

Thousands of farmers in this region have already received resettlement loans this year. The program is ahead of last year's lending program, according to resettlement officials in the regional office. Farmers in need of the type of assistance and technical supervision supplied by the Resettlement Administration are urged to visit their county offices immediately and confer with the county supervisor concerning their farm and farm problems.

OF INDIAN CHIEF AT METHODIST CHURCH

Mr. Parker, son of the famous Indian chief, Quannah Parker, will be the first Methodist Church to hold a night and Sunday morning service to announce by Pastor Sharp.

The Indian will speak on the subject of what missions has meant to the South.

Services are to be held over the South by Methodist night and Sunday morning commemorating the sending of the first missionaries.

Sharp extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend both of the local church.

ADKINS LIKES NEWS

Attorney Thurman Adkins liked the News editor for the appearance of the home paper. Judge Adkins stated that the paper, but the fine article did not strike him so forcibly as noticed some copies on the shelves at the City Drug. "The paper stacked right up along the shelves and looked just as if Judge Adkins had an opportunity to read any different weekly papers to work as a member of the legislature, and his words of praise are highly appreciated news force."

Mrs. T. H. Andrews visited her daughter, Clyde and Canyon over the week end.

LEGION SPEAKER

C. A. CRYER

who speaks at Shamrock next Thursday.

Cryer Speaker at Shamrock Legion Meet

C. A. Cryer, superintendent of the McLean schools, will be the principal speaker at the district meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary at Shamrock next Thursday.

Mrs. Van Stewart, wife of the Perryton editor, will be the main speaker for the ladies.

The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock in the Shamrock Legion hut, and lunch will be served after the business session, with dancing and an entertainment program to follow.

Several McLean legionnaires plan to accompany Supt. Cryer to the meeting.

PETITION READY FOR CCC CAMP AT MCLEAN

A monster petition signed by land owners in this section, representing some 175,000 acres of land, is ready for presentation to the proper officials at Amarillo for the location of a CCC camp at McLean.

President C. O. Greene of the chamber of commerce will make an appointment with Amarillo officials at the earliest possible moment, and E. L. Sitter and Thurman Adkins will present the petition.

The location of the camp here will mean that every land owner may take advantage of the government's assistance in water and soil conservation work.

The securing of the camp is one of the chamber of commerce's major activities for this year, and President Greene and his committee have been untiring in their efforts to get the petition ready for presenting this spring.

MRS. BURROWS HOSTESS BLUE BONNET CLUB

Mrs. Bryan Burrows was hostess to the Blue Bonnet Needle Club last Thursday afternoon.

A new member, Mrs. J. P. Dickinson, was initiated. Table games were played and a short business session held.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames J. P. Dickinson, Windom, Elmer Ayers and the hostess. The club will meet this afternoon (Thursday) with Mrs. Windom.

PROF. LEEDS REELECTED

Prof. C. H. Leeds has been re-elected band director for another year.

Prof. Leeds has done fine work both in the band department and his other work at the high school, and his name should have been carried in the list of teachers reelected last week.

McLean Band Enters Annual Contest at Pampa

The annual contest of bands and orchestras in Northern division of Texas School Band and Orchestra Association is to be held in Pampa, April 22, 23 and 24, in the new auditorium of the Pampa high school.

The McLean band is entering; also some soloists and ensemble players. Soloists are as follows: Jesse Dean Cobb, cornet; R. L. Floyd, baritone; Clint Doolen, trombone; Jesse Dean Cobb and Jack Bogan, cornet duet. Jeff Coffey will enter student conductor's contest.

Events of importance to McLean participants are as follows:

Thursday: Solo and ensemble contests. In the evening a concert to be given by Amarillo Philharmonic Orchestra in high school auditorium.

Friday: Marching contest in evening at Harvester Park.

Saturday: Contest of class B and A bands (McLean plays at 7:30 a. m.) Night, concert of All-state band. McLean students in this band are Jesse Dean Cobb, R. L. Floyd, Billy Cooke, Vester Lee Smith and Jack Youngs.

Prof. Leeds, local band director, says he hopes a number of McLean citizens will accompany the band to the contest.

ZONE CHAIRMAN

C. O. GREENE

who was elected zone chairman of group 3, district 2-T of Texas Lions Clubs, at a recent meeting held at Clarendon.

Chairman Greene is a past president of the local club and is president of the local chamber of commerce. The next meeting of the group will be held at Pampa. Atty. Arthur Teed of Pampa is secretary of the group.

Lion Secretary Holloway read a letter from the crippled children's council of Amarillo, accepting one-half the tail twister's fine money each quarter for charity, as voted by the club recently, at the weekly luncheon held Tuesday at the Meador Cafe.

The council invited the club to have any underprivileged child from this community at their next fire clinic.

The club's charity fund has been augmented the past few weeks by the fine activity of Tail Twister Cryer, who has gone the constitutional limit with most of the members each week.

Secretary Holloway also read an invitation from the Pampa Club to attend the celebration of their club's 10th birthday anniversary Thursday of this week.

Lion M. D. Bentley was presented with a "key" by Lion Adkins as a reward for securing two new members for the club. Lion Bentley responded with a speech of appreciation, praising the work of the club in the community.

Lion Bentley is one of the few remaining charter members of the club and has a continuous membership record, with only a few years interruption.

75 Delegates Here Friday, Presbyterian

Some 75 delegates from Panhandle towns were in attendance at the twenty-third Presbyterian opening last Friday at the First Presbyterian Church of McLean.

The local ladies' auxiliary provided printed badges for the delegates from each town, and the program as published in last week's News was carried out.

Many expressions of appreciation of the hostess church were heard from the visitors.

MRS. COOPER HOSTESS JUNIOR STUDY CLUB

Mrs. John Cooper was hostess to members of the Junior Progressive Study Club Friday afternoon.

A program featuring women who are prominent in Federation and famous women, was enjoyed. Mrs. Murray Boston, Mrs. Travis Stokes and Mrs. Lee Wilson were speakers for the afternoon.

After a business meeting and social hour, delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Frank Howard, M. H. Lasater, Vernon Johnston, Ruel Smith, Leslie Jones, Travis Stokes, Murray Boston, Lee Wilson.

LEEDS ENTERS SOLOISTS IN BAND CONCERTS

Prof. C. H. Leeds, McLean band director, entered several students as soloists in neighboring band concerts this week.

R. L. Floyd played as soloist in the Panhandle band concert Tuesday night and entries were made at Shamrock Wednesday night.

Prof. Leeds also judged the Shamrock concert.

MAYOR MEETS COUNCIL

Mayor Vester Smith met with the city council for the first time, in a called session Tuesday evening. No business was transacted.

Mrs. F. E. Robinson of Mobeetie was in McLean last week at the bedside of her father, Rev. J. P. Gay.

Winnings of Other Teams not Announced

The McLean poultry team placed third at the state contest held at A. & M. College the first of the week, in competition with 122 teams over the state, according to advices received by Prof. C. J. Magee, vocational director of the high school.

The team is composed of Joe Billy Bogan, Wilson Shaw and Perry Masterson. Runge placed first and Quail second.

Results in the other divisions entered by McLean teams have not been tabulated. In the dairy division there were 176 teams entered. E. M. Gossett, J. L. Rice, Kid McCoy and Albert Overton represented McLean. In the livestock division, 148 teams entered, with W. L. Shelton, Faris Hess, Morse Ivey and Fred Cable on the McLean team.

This was the 20th annual state contest, with 754 different teams composed of over 3000 boys, participating in the various contests, with each town allowed to enter only three contests.

Judging was done in poultry, dairy, livestock, shop, horticulture, soil conservation, wild life, cotton classing, entomology and crops.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. Bogan Here Friday

The last rites were said Friday for Mrs. Lizzie Emma Bogan, aged 73 years, 4 months and 14 days, who died at a Wichita Falls hospital on April 15, 1937.

Services were held at the First Methodist Church, conducted by Pastor J. H. Sharp, assisted by Revs. W. A. Erwin and Cecil G. Goff, Presbyterian and Baptist pastors.

Flower bearers were: Mesdames J. M. Noel, C. S. Rice, T. W. Henry, J. W. Story, W. B. Upham, R. N. Ashby, Geo. Colebank and H. C. Rippey.

Survivors include her children, W. E. Bogan, C. C. Bogan, Mrs. J. S. Morse and Mrs. J. W. Ivey of McLean; J. A. Bogan of Stanley, N. M.; Houston Bogan of Roswell, N. M.; Mrs. Lura Douglass of Geary, Okla.; Miss Lettie Bogan of Denver, Colo.; a number of grandchildren and other relatives.

Burial was made at Hillcrest cemetery under the direction of Rice Funeral Home.

HOME TOWN BAKERY OPEN FOR BUSINESS

The Home Town Bakery, owned by Bill Rupe, is now in operation and is offering some special bargains for Saturday, in an advertisement on another page.

Mr. Rupe has two big modern ovens and all equipment necessary for baking bread and pastry. He will be glad to have visitors call at the bakery on South Main Street, or call for the Home Town Bakery products at any grocery.

S. S. CLASS HAS PARTY

Miss Frances Hudzeitz, social chairman of the Daughters of Ruth Sunday school class of the Baptist church, was hostess to the members at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Glass, Monday evening.

Games were played and refreshments of punch and cookies were served by Miss Margaret Glass.

The following were present: Misses Eunice Stratton, teacher, Jewel Allen, Evonne Floyd, Peggy Greer, Gloria Moon, Iva Parrish, and the hostess.

Showers of rain fell here Tuesday.

First Annual Boxing Event Here Next Week

According to Coach Bill Allen, McLean will have something different in athletic events when the first annual boxing tournament is held here Friday and Saturday of next week, April 30 and May 1.

Some 12 schools have already signified their intention of having boxers here for the tournament, and suitable trophies have been provided for the winners.

The tournament is open to all high schools, and athletic directors should get in touch with Coach Allen at once, if they wish to enter boxers.

Ten different weights will be entered, and all events will be staged at the school gymnasium.

FORMER RESIDENTS ENJOY HOME PAPER

The following is taken from a letter to the News editor by Mrs. L. V. Lonsdale of Santa Monica, Calif. Mr. Lonsdale was city attorney at McLean at one time, and Mrs. Lonsdale spent most of her life here. Her parents were Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Montgomery.

"We are certainly enjoying the News. If you don't change your publication day, I'm going to have to change my wash day, because the News is delivered Monday mornings when I am right in the midst of washing, and I have to sit right down and read every word of it before I finish the washing. It is only natural of course to appreciate it more when we are 1400 miles from home. We usually knew before the paper came out that Tom and Mary had married, Bill and Peggy had had a blessed event, Susan entertained the sewing circle, and Nancy had a bridge party; so we read the advertisements and editorials and skimmed over the rest of it. Now, we eagerly read it all, yes, even the ads, and compare prices there and here.

"Lonny sends best regards. "Very truly yours, "MRS. L. V. LONSDALE."

Miss McCurdy Funeral Rites Here Wednesday

Miss Ethel McCurdy, who was found dead in her room at the R. L. Wheeler home in Shamrock, early Sunday morning, was buried at Hillcrest cemetery here Wednesday afternoon.

Funeral services were held at the First Presbyterian Church at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday, with Rev. W. A. Erwin in charge.

Services were also held at the First Methodist Church in Shamrock Wednesday morning, conducted by Rev. Richard Stewart.

Miss McCurdy was well known here, having resided for a number of years with her uncle and aunt, the late Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Fast. She was well known in musical circles in the Panhandle, being a pioneer music teacher in this section.

The only near relative surviving is a cousin, Mrs. Sidnah Quest, of Spokane, Wash., who was here for the funeral services.

GRAY CO. SINGING CONVENTION AT PAMPA

According to President Fred Stags, the Gray County Singing Convention will be held at the Harrah Methodist Church in Pampa Sunday, April 23, beginning at 10:30 a. m., with basket lunch at noon.

The Stamps-Baxter quartet from Lubbock is expected, as is the Cooper quartet, the Twitty quartet, McLean trios, duets and Keeton quartet.

Everyone interested in good vocal music has a cordial invitation to attend.

FAMILY DINNER AT STOKES HOME SUNDAY

A family dinner was enjoyed by relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Stokes Sunday.

Among those present, besides the hosts, were: Mr. and Mrs. Kiah Hodges of Clinton, Okla., Rev. and Mrs. S. R. Jones of Newkirk, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Hodges and daughter, Lorraine; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jones and son, Jimmie.

Wagner Act Upheld by the Supreme Court

FIVE history-making decisions were handed down by the Supreme court, all upholding the validity of the Wagner labor relations act and inferentially broadening the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution. The most important ruling made by five of the nine justices and read by Chief Justice Hughes, was in the case of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company and directed the reinstatement of ten discharged employees. The decision supported the constitutional basis of the Wagner act, finding it a legal "scheme" to protect commerce from injury resulting from the denial by employers of the right of employees to organize and "from the refusal of employers to accept the procedure of collective bargaining."

Chief Justice Hughes

The broad constitutionality of the act, was strongly noted by the chief justice. He declared that: "We think it clear that the national labor relations act may be construed so as to operate within the spirit of constitutional authority."

Hughes defined the right of employees to self-organization and to select their representatives for collective bargaining as "a fundamental right."

Regarding the vital point of the application of the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution, Hughes declared:

"The congressional authority to protect interstate commerce from burdens and obstructions is not limited to transactions which can be deemed to be an essential part of a 'flow' of interstate or foreign commerce. Burdens or obstructions may be due to injurious action springing from other sources."

In the case of the Associated Press, concerning the dismissal of Morris Watson, a New York editorial employee, the court was split, 5 to 4. The majority opinion, read by Justice Roberts, held that the act does not "abridge the freedom of speech or of the press safe-guarded by the first amendment" to the Constitution. The court took the view that Watson was dismissed not because his work was unsatisfactory but because of his activities in the Newspaper Guild, and ordered his reinstatement.

Dissenting conservatives, comprising Justices Willis Van Devanter, George Sutherland, James C. McReynolds and Pierce Butler, contended that the act should not be applied to the Associated Press because its provisions violated the "freedom of the press" clause of the Constitution. They found that if the act interfered with the ability of the Associated Press to maintain a policy of impartial news reporting, it must fall under the freedom of the press guaranty.

The three other cases, in each of which the Wagner act was upheld, involved dismissal of 18 employees by an interstate bus company; a dispute between the Fruehauf Trailer Company of Detroit, Mich., and the United Automobile Workers Union; and a dispute between the Friedmann - Harry Marks Clothing Company of Richmond Va., and Amalgamated Clothing Workers. In the bus case the decision was unanimous; in the others the division was 5 to 4.

Canada Motors Strike on Verge of Settlement
MITCHELL HEPBURN, premier of Ontario, reiterating his determination not to permit C. I. O. representatives from the United States to take part in negotiations for settlement of the strike in the General Motors of Canada plant at Oshawa, promised to "call out an army if necessary" to protect the property of the corporation. Hugh Thompson, U. A. W. A. organizer, barred by Hepburn, threatened that every General Motors plant in America would be closed unless the Oshawa strike were settled soon with recognition of the union demands. Homer Martin, president of the U. A. W. A., called Hepburn a number of unpleasant names. The Toronto Trades and Labor Council pledged the support of its 40,000 members to the union's strike against General Motors.

Notwithstanding all this, it appeared likely at this writing that the trouble at Oshawa would be brought to an end very soon by the agreement of General Motors of Canada to recognize the United Automobile Workers and to increase the wages of its employees. To some unbiased observers it seemed that Premier Hepburn had intervened in the affair unnecessarily or at least prematurely, and that his blustery language was not warranted, since the strike was being conducted in a fairly orderly manner with no threat of a sitdown.

C. I. O. Men Shoot Several Foes in Galena, Kan.
ORGANIZERS of the International Union of Mill, Mine and Smelter Workers, an affiliate of the C. I. O., invaded the lead and zinc field of Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri and were forcibly resisted by the "blue carders" of the Tri-State Metal Mine and Smelter Workers' union, which the C. I. O. says is a company union. The latter dismantled the C. I. O. offices at Picher and Treece and then moved into Galena, Kan., where they paraded. As they reached the C. I. O. headquarters one of the marchers smashed a window. There was a burst of gunfire from the building and at least eight men and one lad fell wounded.

Leaders of the blue card union say nearly every miner in the region belongs to it, that they are drawing higher pay than ever before and are interested only in keeping conditions as they are and in an opportunity to work.

The C. I. O. has started a campaign to organize the 270,000 employees of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the largest corporation in the United States. Local unions are to be chartered by the United Electrical and Radio Workers of America. Promotional literature is being distributed.

Prime Minister Baldwin Will Soon Quit Office
FREQUENT reports that Stanley Baldwin would soon retire from the post of prime minister of Great Britain were confirmed by him in a speech to the members of his constituency at Worcester. It is expected he will quit office almost immediately after the coronation of King George VI on May 12, and there seems little doubt that his successor will be Neville Chamberlain, now chancellor of the exchequer.

In his Worcester address Mr. Baldwin said: "It is far better to go when people may still think of you as perhaps not incompetent in your work than to stay until they know before you do that you are becoming incompetent."

"In a democratic country the prime minister is not only the head of a government, but he is the leader of a party and the leader of the house of commons. To carry on that tripartite task for many years beyond the age I have now reached is, in my belief, beyond the strength of human nature."

The prime minister's long service to his country will be rewarded by elevation to the peerage.

British Navy Ordered to Protect Merchant Ships
GREAT BRITAIN will respect the blockade of the northern Spanish port of Bilbao established by General Franco, Fascist leader. But her navy has been given orders by the cabinet to protect to the fullest extent all British shipping outside the three mile limit. The huge battle cruiser Hood and other warships were sent in a hurry to the Bay of Biscay, and orders were given to open fire on any Spanish vessel interfering with British cargo ships on the high seas. The cabinet, it was said, decided to continue to withhold the granting of belligerent rights to Franco but regarded the blockade of Bilbao as a special case since Franco's forces surround the town by sea and land. Six British ships had been waiting at St. Jean de Luz and one at Bayonne, unable to land food cargoes at Bilbao because of the presence of Franco's warships.

Farmers Must Pay More to Raise 1937 Crops
ACCORDING to the Department of Agriculture American farmers will have to pay more to raise their crops in 1937 than they did last year. Farm labor will cost more. Seed prices already have advanced sharply, and feed prices will be materially higher than in 1936. The department said farm wage rates will continue the "slow rise of the last three years" due to an increase in both the nonagricultural and agricultural demand for labor. The department forecast that "production and sales of farm machinery during 1937 probably will exceed those of 1936—which were the highest since 1930—and equal the 1925-29 average, especially if crop conditions are more nearly normal."

Fertilizer sales and prices, it was said, probably will average "somewhat higher" than in 1936.

Hit and Run Driver Did It.

It was a hit-and-run driver that started Sam Brown off on his adventure, but mean as he was, I think he'd have come back if he'd really known what a horrible fate he had left Sam to suffer.

It happened on the twentieth of June, 1936. Sam had been out in Ohio on a business trip and he was on his way back to his home. About four o'clock that afternoon he drove through the little town of Cherry Valley, N. Y., about 18 miles east of Syracuse. He had hardly passed through the town—had just reached the open road on the outskirts—when he saw, through his rear-view mirror, another car coming up behind him.

Sam was going about 25 miles an hour. The other car—well—Sam couldn't tell how fast it was going, but it seemed to him that it was just eating up the road. Just a glance—that's all Sam got of the other car. Then he took his eyes off the mirror to pay attention to the road ahead of him.

He drove along another few hundred yards—and suddenly there was a crash. The other car, passing him, had hit Sam's left rear fender.

Sam felt the impact—felt it plenty. He saw the other car shoot past him—and then he was wrestling with his own steering wheel. His car was skidding! Heading for the ditch at the side of the road! In another second it was in the ditch—turning over!

Sam felt the car going, but he was powerless to stop it. Over it went, and suddenly, Sam found himself turned topsy turvy. WHEN HE COULD COLLECT HIS WITS AGAIN HE FOUND THAT THE CAR WAS ON TOP OF HIM, AND HE WAS PINNED, HELPLESS, BENEATH THE WHEEL.

"Can you imagine my terror," says Sam. "I thought of my family, who were expecting me at home—of my daughter, whom I had just left back in Ohio. I began to wonder if I were injured and if so, how badly. I was still half stunned and my body seemed numb. There might be any number of things wrong with me which I couldn't feel because of that numbness."

And then Sam looked up toward the front of the car and forgot all about possible injuries in the apprehension of injuries which—if he didn't get out of that car—were sure to come.

From under the hood came a wisp of smoke. In a matter of seconds it grew to a thick cloud and then, SUDDENLY BURST INTO FLAME. The engine was burning. THE CAR WAS AFIRE. If Sam didn't get out from beneath that imprisoning steering wheel he would be roasted alive in a matter of minutes.

Frantically, Sam tried to move. He couldn't. Says he: "In addition to the steering wheel which was pinning my chest, all the boxes and suitcases I had in the car had fallen on top of me when the machine turned over."

"The only thing I could move was my left hand. Luckily the Horn Worked."

"I groped around with it—found the horn button—pushed it. Thank God it worked."

"The horn let out a long, steady blast. 'I kept my free hand on that horn with all the strength I could muster. It was my one chance. 'If I couldn't attract someone's attention in the next couple minutes I would be burned to death."

"In those moments I thought some pretty hard things of the man who had put me into the position—and left me there to die a horrible death."

The horn brought help. Three men heard it, and I'm giving you their names, because Sam thinks they deserve credit for the brave thing they did. They are Charles O'Donnell and Patrick Collins of Syracuse and Charles Hamilton of Lakeport.

The whole front of the car was a roaring mass of flames when they arrived. The fire was creeping under the car toward the gas tank and an explosion was due any minute. But they broke the glass in the windshield and started work to get Sam out.

But His Wallet Was Burned Up.
It was nip and tuck. Sam was wedged in there pretty tightly. The heat was blistering the paint on the body of the car—and blistering Sam and the men who were trying to rescue him, too. Now they had the boxes and suitcases off of Sam's body—and in another moment they were pulling him out bodily through the broken windshield.

As they dragged him out Sam's wallet fell from his pocket and dropped back inside the burning car. That wallet had $245 in it, but it was never recovered.

Before anyone could reach for it, the gas tank, full to the cap, exploded with a roar and a sheet of flame. That was the last thing Sam saw. Then he lost consciousness.

The three men dragged Sam aside and started working on him. When they finally brought him to, all that was left of the car was a blackened, smoking iron frame. Sam had the suit he was wearing, but nothing else—not even a hat.

"But here I am back home again," says Sam, "alive to tell the tale—I can never repay them for what they did for me—and the one who knocked me into the ditch and left me there to die."

Dried Milk Was Used by Tartar, Mongol Warriors
A publication of the Douthitt corporation gives the following story of the early history of dry milk:

Marco Polo, the Venetian traveler of the Thirteenth century, recorded that the Tartar and Mongol warriors subsisted on dried milk made by boiling the milk, skimming off the fatty portion which they put into a separate vessel, and setting the remainder in the sun to dry. Each soldier carried ten pounds of this dry skimmed milk, and each day put a half pound of it in a leathern bottle with as much water as was thought necessary. Their motion in riding produced a thin porridge upon which they made their meals.

From that long ago time to mid-Nineteenth century, nothing more is of record concerning dry milk.

In 1855 Grimme secured a patent from the British government on a process for drying milk. This required the addition of carbonate of soda or potash to the fluid milk, which was then evaporated in open jacketed pans with constant agitation until a dough like consistency was obtained. Cane sugar was added and the moisture was then pressed between rollers into ribbons; after further drying it was pulverized. This process was very slow; the product was of poor quality, high in moisture and generally unsatisfactory.

In the year 1887 malted milk, a combination of whole milk, extract of malted barley, and wheat flour, was commercially produced. Although this product was not dry milk, it led to the development of a suitable process for drying milk.

The "Steering Committee"
A "steering committee" is an informal committee in each house of congress, dominated by the leading members of the majority party in the body, which determines the order in which business shall be taken up by the house. In the house of representatives the steering committee is practically synonymous with the committee on rules, which is vested with the power of reporting a special rule placing any important measure ahead of ordinary business.

FAMOUS HEADLINE HUNTER

ADVENTURERS CLUB

Hi everybody

"Two Kinds of Men"

By FLOYD GIBBONS

TODAY'S yarn comes from Samuel Brown of Dorchester, and I'll tell you the truth, I don't know of anybody who has ever had a more terrifying experience than Sam has.

You remember that old Civil war marching song that starts out, "John Brown's body lies a mold'ring in the grave." Well, sir, Sam Brown could have envied his namesake John at one stage of his adventure. He could have wished his body were mold'ring in some peaceful grave, instead of being BURNED ALIVE in blazing gasoline and scorching paint and white-hot metal.

You know, people have sat up nights for months at a time trying to figure out something that's meaner than a hit-and-run driver, and none of them have had any success yet.

Hit and Run Driver Did It.

It was a hit-and-run driver that started Sam Brown off on his adventure, but mean as he was, I think he'd have come back if he'd really known what a horrible fate he had left Sam to suffer.

It happened on the twentieth of June, 1936. Sam had been out in Ohio on a business trip and he was on his way back to his home. But His Wallet Was Burned Up.
It was nip and tuck. Sam was wedged in there pretty tightly. The heat was blistering the paint on the body of the car—and blistering Sam and the men who were trying to rescue him, too. Now they had the boxes and suitcases off of Sam's body—and in another moment they were pulling him out bodily through the broken windshield.

As they dragged him out Sam's wallet fell from his pocket and dropped back inside the burning car. That wallet had $245 in it, but it was never recovered.

Before anyone could reach for it, the gas tank, full to the cap, exploded with a roar and a sheet of flame. That was the last thing Sam saw. Then he lost consciousness.

The three men dragged Sam aside and started working on him. When they finally brought him to, all that was left of the car was a blackened, smoking iron frame. Sam had the suit he was wearing, but nothing else—not even a hat.

"But here I am back home again," says Sam, "alive to tell the tale—I can never repay them for what they did for me—and the one who knocked me into the ditch and left me there to die."

Dried Milk Was Used by Tartar, Mongol Warriors
A publication of the Douthitt corporation gives the following story of the early history of dry milk:

Marco Polo, the Venetian traveler of the Thirteenth century, recorded that the Tartar and Mongol warriors subsisted on dried milk made by boiling the milk, skimming off the fatty portion which they put into a separate vessel, and setting the remainder in the sun to dry. Each soldier carried ten pounds of this dry skimmed milk, and each day put a half pound of it in a leathern bottle with as much water as was thought necessary. Their motion in riding produced a thin porridge upon which they made their meals.

From that long ago time to mid-Nineteenth century, nothing more is of record concerning dry milk.

In 1855 Grimme secured a patent from the British government on a process for drying milk. This required the addition of carbonate of soda or potash to the fluid milk, which was then evaporated in open jacketed pans with constant agitation until a dough like consistency

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, a Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 25

THE OBEDIENCE OF NOAH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 8:20-22; 9:8-17.

GOLDEN TEXT—By faith Noah, being warned of God concerning things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house. Heb. 11:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Meaning of the Rainbow.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Rainbow's Message.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Following God's Plan.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Deliverance through Obedience.

The "book of beginnings" (Genesis) has already brought before us the creation of the world, the origin of man, the entrance of sin into the world, and God's judgment upon that sin. In chapter 4 we find the first murder. Cain, who brought an offering before God which was not acceptable, murdered his brother Abel, whose offering pleased God. Strange it is that man who exposes his sin by his godly life.

God does not leave himself without a witness in the earth. The God-fearing line of Seth appears. There are always those who have not bowed the knee to the Adversary. Consider the astonishment of Soviet officials at the deep-seated and wide-spread faith in God revealed in their recent census.

But sin again lifts its ugly head and ere long God is driven to the necessity of judgment upon mankind. Read the terrific indictment of humanity in Genesis 6:5-7. It is still true that the heart of man apart from God's grace is "desperately wicked" (Jer. 17:9). Well does a contemporary writer say that even modern "psychology has unveiled the dismal and sinister depths in human nature. Man can no longer flee from reality into the romantic refuge of his own heart; for the human heart has become a house of horrors in whose murky recesses man cannot erect for his solace either a shrine or a citadel. Man is bad; he is a sinner. The depths of his meanness are being unveiled in a ghastly way in individual and social life in these times. What a contemporary ring there is about these old biblical judgments on mankind! (Gen. 6:5, 6; Isa. 1:5.) What a tremendous arraignment of sinful human nature is Paul's prologue in Romans 1" (Mackay).

So God sent a flood upon the earth. It used to be fashionable to doubt the story of the flood, but archaeology has joined hands with geology and history to agree with Scripture. The facts are available; let us use them.

"But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord" and prepared an ark at God's command. Here again it can be demonstrated that the ark was sufficiently large to meet the need of Noah and all his family, with the animals and their food, and with room to spare. It is significant that the proportions of the ark were those of a well-planned boat. God knows how to build, and man does well to obey his instructions.

The rain came, the fountains of the deep were opened, and all the living perished, except those within the ark. What an instructive type of our safety in Christ is the ark!

But our lesson concerns primarily what occurred after Noah came forth from the ark and presented himself before God.

I. An Obedient Man (8:20-22).
To come before God with acceptable worship, man must come with clean hands. The question is not whether he is brilliant, learned, or of high position. The one thing that counts is obedience. When such a man offers the worship of his heart before God, it goes up to him like a sweet savor.

II. A Covenant-Keeping God (9:8-17).
The beautiful rainbow in the cloud became a token of God's promise, and the visible assurance to "all flesh" that the judgment of the flood will not be repeated. Never again will seed time and harvest, nor any of the orderly processes of nature, fall through the whole earth.

What a gracious God we have! And what a pity that men presume upon his goodness. Because he "maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust" (Matt. 5:45), men not only forget that he is the giver of all things, but assume that they may sin against him with impunity. Let us remind them that it is the clear teaching of Scripture that "every one of us shall give account of himself to God" (Rom. 14:12).

Well Spent Days
Oh, what a glory doth this world put on, for him who with a fervent heart goes forth under the bright and glorious sky, and looks on duties well performed, and days well spent.—Langfellow.

Purity of Heart
A holy life is the very gate of heaven; but let us always remember that holiness does not consist in doing uncommon things, but in doing everything with purity of heart.—Cardinal Manning.

What S. C. Col. Thinks about

The Origin of Santa Monica, Calif.

SANTA MONICA, CALIF. With the Barnum elephant named Helen. Now had wearied of traipsing fro in the land.

Probably she figured out everything anyhow. So when the season ended, she went rejoicing back home to Bridgeport, Conn.

Nobody ever knew the date of departure the next spring. There was no more bustle about winter-quarters on that morning than for weeks past.

But always, when the handlers entered the "bull barn" to look over the herd, they found Helen pecked down on her haunches, which, under the weight, spread out like cat's paws on a hot griddle. She was uttering shrill sobs of dejection, neither prodding nor hectoring could bring her.

So they'd wrap chains around and two of her mates would on and drag her bodily to her rubbery flanks, about the ing car. She'd quit weeping and wipe her snout and accept her fate self.

So please don't come telling that the sit-down strike is a notion or that somebody is a first thought it up. Thirty years I saw my lady elephant frolic, en, putting on one, all by her ton self.

Taxes and More Taxes
JUST when everybody is getting comfortable from the yodelled cries of that happy optimist, Senator Harrison of the senate tax committee, that the government will be able to get by for 1937 out asking this congress for taxes, what happens?

Why, in a most annoying Governor Eccles of the federal reserve board keeps proclaiming to make treasury receipts anywhere near meeting tax disbursements throughout the year he's afraid it's going to be necessary to raise the rates on profits higher than ever.

And meanwhile state and civic authorities scream agony at the bare prospect of reductions in Uncle Sam's payments for local projects.

A balanced budget would mean everybody talks about but never expects to see.

Self-Determination
FORMERLY the states jealously guarded their sovereignty. Once—but that was long ago many have almost lost it—they fought among themselves one of the bloodiest civil wars in history over the issue of civil rights.

Now we see them completely surrendering to federal laws those ancient privileges—and, after all, that's the proper thing to do, if in centralized authority the hope of preserving a republican form of government.

Still, one wonders what Englishmen would do under like circumstances, since Englishmen are about their inheritance of self-determination. Perhaps the situation is this:

In democracies there exists a false theory that all men are free and equal. So the Englishman insists on having his freedom, which is a concrete thing, and laughs at the idea of equality. Whereas American abolitionists, who insist on freedom provided he may shed the fetish of equality.

Yankee tweedledum and English tweedledum may be brothers of the skin, but they have different skin diseases.

The Parole Market.
IT IS astonishing how many true that, of five youngsters recently caught red-handed in a criminal operation, not a one was a convict on parole. There no way to bar rank among from a profession calling for experience and proper background. And can it be that the various role boards over the union are turning loose qualified practitioners fast enough to keep up with the demand? Maybe we need self-cleaning jails.

Those sentimentalists who have the idea that a chronic offender required to serve out his latest sentence should take steps right away to correct this thing before it's too far. Our parole system may be vindicated if it costs the lives and property of ten times as many innocent citizens as at present.

Why I Want to See the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition at Dallas

There are many reasons why I want to go to the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition, but the main one is to take part in celebrations that mark the start of a new century of growth and greatness.

There will be many beautiful buildings at the exposition that I would like to see. I can imagine myself in the midst of them now. I am in the Ford showing where on a balcony many different kinds of cars and carriages are displaying the progress of transportation during the last century. I want to go down and look up at them, and see the old ox-carts and carriages and the first car ever built, and then look from one to another, they bring me up to the present time and take me into the future.

I would like to see my Pan-American cousins that will be there. It would be like taking a trip from New York to Buenos Aires, from Nome to San Francisco, and from Dallas to Rio de Janeiro.

This Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition will be the second and largest exposition that has ever been held in the Southwest. It would surely be interesting to tell my grandchildren that I had a part in it.

This exposition will be educational and will bring history of over a century to life. It will give me a greater insight into the present and show the years to come in such a way as to make me glad that I am beginning to live.

I did not get to go to the Texas
Exposition and I have never been to Dallas. I would like very much to learn more about this city that has grown to a city of 340,000
Texans in less than a hundred years, a city which last year gave a retrospective look over our romantic history and this year stands with all Americans in the glorious future.

1937 Ford V-8

● If you think that "all low-price cars cost about the same" — forget it! They don't.

Ford makes a car — a 60-horsepower economy Ford V-8 — that sells from 30 to 60 dollars under the prices asked for any other car of comparable size. The lowest Ford prices in years!

Check delivered prices in your town and see for yourself.

● Of course, first cost doesn't prove "low cost" — you must consider operating cost also.

The "60" has definitely established itself as the most economical car in Ford history. Ford cars have been famous for economy for 34 years, so that means something!

Owners who have driven it thousands of miles report that the Ford "60" averages between 22 and 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

You can prove those figures — on the open road — in a car provided by the nearest Ford dealer.

● When you've finished your personal check-up, ask yourself: "Do I want to save money the day I buy my car and every mile I drive it?"

"Do I want a safe, roomy, comfortable car of advanced design — created from the finest materials to the highest precision standards?"

There's only one answer, of course — the 1937 Ford V-8.

Ford V-8 $529 at Dealership. Price includes transportation charges. Dealer sets Federal tax side.

This price is for the 60-horsepower Coupe equipped with front and rear bumpers, spare tire, horn, windshield wiper, run valve, glove compartment, and ash tray.

$25 A MONTH, after $25 usual down-payment, buys any Ford V-8 Car, from any Ford dealer, anywhere in the U. S. — through Authorized Ford Finance Plans of Universal Credit Co.

Mrs. J. P. Cole was hostess to the Methodist Women's Missionary Society Tuesday afternoon. The society will not meet this next Tuesday because of the district conference to be held at Clarendon. The next meeting if the society will be May 4, with Mrs. F. R. Crisp.

CLUB HEARS TALK ON EMERGENCY KIT

By Mrs. Luther Petty

The Home Demonstration Club held its semi-monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. J. A. Fowler, Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Luther Petty, who holds a nurse's certificate, spoke on the needs of an emergency kit in the home, showing that many times a doctor's bill might be saved.

Mrs. Petty emphasized care to be taken of the medicine chest or kit, by keeping all medicines labeled, always ready, always clean; have necessary first aid materials handy. She demonstrated the four-tail bandage which she has found useful in her own and neighbors' families, in bandaging elbows and knees.

The speaker displayed a kit of several useful articles to have on hand for emergencies, among them being cathartics, laxatives, stimulants, ointments, disinfectants and antiseptics, and stressed the necessity of the knowledge of the use of each.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. Barney Fulbright, president, when a report was given by Miss Rella Sharp, of the recreational session she and Mrs. Wade attended recently at Pampa. She said that for three months, ten minutes at each meeting was to be given to dramatics.

Mrs. C. E. Hunt, treasurer, made a financial report showing a surplus in the treasury.

A one-act play, "A Bit of Blue Ribbon," was presented by Mesdames Hunt, John B. Vannoy and R. F. Sanders, and a pantomime, "A Church Sleeping Woman," was given by Mrs. Wade.

A social time was enjoyed in the forenoon, and a covered dish luncheon was served at noon. The afternoon session was dismissed early on account of the Bogan funeral.

Those present throughout the day were: J. A. Fowler and Mrs. Arthur Winslow, guests; Mesdames Hunt, C. O. Goodman, Sanders, Palestean Gething, Wade, Fowler, C. M. Eudey, L. N. Mitchell, Vannoy, Sam Sharp, Walter Evans, Fulbright and Petty; and Miss Sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers, Misses Fern and Marie Landers, Mrs. A. L. Origsby and children visited at Pampa and Miami Sunday afternoon.

With the Churches

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Jim H. Sharp, Pastor

The Methodist Episcopal Church South is putting on one of the greatest church-wide missionary programs next Friday night and Sunday that it has ever put on. There are 68 stations from coast to coast that are going to broadcast the messages of Bishop A. Frank Smith and Bishop Arthur J. Moore, on missions. Every church in our connection has been asked to have a commemorative service, commemorating the going out of our two first missionaries.

White Parker, son of the great Indian chief, Quannah Parker, will speak at the local church Friday night and Sunday morning and give us some idea as to what missions has meant to his people. We welcome all to hear him.

LADIES' BIBLE CLASS

The ladies' Bible class of the Church of Christ studied the books of Ezra and Nehemiah, Thursday afternoon. Jonah is the book to be under discussion today (Thursday).

Those present were: Mesdames M. M. Newman, Barney Fulbright, M. M. Ruff, M. W. Banta, J. A. Jarrell, McAdams, Overton, Toll Moore, Roy Barker, B. H. Morris, W. L. Campbell, Roy Shalson, W. B. Andrews; and Miss Maxine Johns.

The class meets from 2:15 until 3:15 each Thursday.

METHODIST W. M. S.

The Methodist W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. C. O. Greene, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. L. Hess gave a very interesting report on the Northwest Texas conference of Methodist Missionary Societies held at Stamford last week.

Mrs. Greene conducted the lesson from the book, "Songs in the Night." There were 18 present.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. J. H. Wade.

METHODIST MISSION PROGRAM

In keeping with the Bishop's Crusade of the Southern Methodist Church, the Alanreed church will have a fellowship dinner and program the night of April 22. At this time a free will contribution for missions will be taken.

On Saturday night of this week Rev. White Parker, a son of Quannah Parker, Indian chief, will speak at the Methodist Church in Alanreed, in the interest of missions. A collection will be taken to defray his expenses and to apply on missions. You are invited to attend.

A local woman, whose name we promised to withhold, else we would never have gotten this item, told us of the severe jolt she got Easter morning. Not being able to buy a whole new Easter outfit, yet feeling that her morale required something new to enter into the full spirit of the day, she purchased a new hat.

Easter morning she sallied forth to church with light heart and high spirits. The first person she met said, "Well, this isn't a very nice Easter morning, is it? It's too bad the weather is such that we can't wear our new Easter hats, isn't it?" Our informant said she never batted an eye as she said, "It sure is."

The town that has the best chamber of commerce is not the town in which half of the business men ask, "Why don't they do something?" The best chamber of commerce is always found in the town in which all of the business men say, "Come, let's do something."

Some people do mighty odd things just to get even.

The fluent critic seldom has much of a record of performance back of him.

The man who makes dogmatic statements, is wrong about nine-tenths of the time.

The time to talk peace is when the country is at peace; such talk is not allowed in time of war.

Everyone enjoys doing business with a square shooter; nobody enjoys doing business with the other kind.

There is so much interest in highway beautification that billboard advertisements create a lot of ill will for firms who use them where they obstruct the view of the passing motorist.

Newspaper files are valuable to any community, as a record of the community's growth. Men's memories are sometimes tricky and many details are lost, if not recorded in black and white. For several years back there have been kept two complete sets of newspaper files in McLean, one at the News office and one at the city hall. Newspaper files have settled many a court decision and street argument. While the files are private property, most anyone can have access to them at will, unless court problems are involved; then a fee is charged for their use.

CLEANER-UPPERS

The Sunday drivers had picked the farmer's fruit and his flowers, and their car was full of plunder. Pointing to an unexplored highway, they inquired of the farmer: "Shall we take this road back to the city?" "You might as well," replied the farmer, "you've got almost everything else!"—The Car.

The devil has a majority in the average church, and that makes it harder for the few who like to associate with his children, but do not want to do like they do, to hold fast to religion.—Bishop Lane.

Well, then, according to the good bishop, the churches just as well close shop. It is said that the majority generally rules, and if so, the church is under the dominion of the devil, lock, stock, barrel and ramrod.—Terry County Herald.

"Every time I let the dishes go until the next day after some evening party I declare I will never do it again," a local woman said at a party this week. "Dishes left over until the next day seem to multiply wonderfully in number. If someone would try to tell me I had as many dishes as it seems that I have when I let them go over to the next day, I would not believe them."

Uncle Jim Says

"Stable farm production makes for fair food prices. Lean and fat years help neither farmer nor consumer in the long run."

Despite the increase of farm purchasing power, S. A. McMillan, economist in farm management of the Extension Service, believes more than half of the 500,000 farm families of Texas fail to earn average farm incomes sufficient to permit them to live at a minimum comfort level. That the situation is better now than it was in 1932, no one will deny.

Since the dawn of civilization, history has recorded lean and fat years; lean years when farmers made poor crops and the consumers either went on short rations or paid high prices for food, and fat years when farmers made bumper crops and consumers bought food at rock bottom prices.

McMillan states that one county agricultural agent in a county where cotton constitutes the main source of income notes that the return from sales of cotton in 1936 amounted to an average of $20 for each man, woman and child on farms in the county. Since even this pittance was not evenly distributed, it is apparent that some families received less than the average cotton income.

The Agricultural Conservation Program is doing much to remedy the situation. Through increasing fertility on the farm, it tends to increase and maintain future farm income. Through stabilizing production, it aims at eliminating the lean and fat years that help neither the farmer nor the consumer. Through providing benefit payments for planting soil-conserving crops and for observing soil-conserving practices, it provides a measure of insurance against crop failures.

COLLECTION

J. D. Caldwell has filed suit in Federal Court for $25,000 damages because he thinks tax collectors in Tipton county, Tenn., take their duties too seriously. He charged that Sheriff J. V. Vaughn, Special Officer Aubrey Fausk and City Marshal Chester Doyle handcuffed him at the point of a gun and took him to the mayor's office. There, he asserted, they opened his wallet, took out the tax money, gave him a receipt and then freed him.

A Healthy Newspaper Means a Healthy Community

Communities grow or prosper in proportion to the well-being of the individual. The newspaper is the medium which expresses the condition of the community of which it is a part. If the newspaper is healthy, the community is healthy—that is the conclusion the outside observer must take.

The News, every since it was established in 1904, has been a healthy newspaper. It has withstood the vicissitudes of "down" periods for more than a quarter of a century.

THE NEWSPAPER IS NOW THE FIRST SHOPPING PLACE

In 1904 the type of advertising carried in The News consisted primarily of the announcement that such a merchant was in business. Today the advertiser puts his stock into the newspaper. He makes it easy for his customers to shop first, informing them what particular pieces of merchandise he has, the price, the description, permitting the customer to save his or her time and the time of the sales force by asking for a definite article which had been definitely advertised.

Advertisers today, as a consequence, can now conduct their business at a lower cost than the non-advertiser, who permits his stock to become aged and antique through lack of support with sales advertising.

AVERRILL CHRISTIAN CLASS VALEDICTORIAN

The valedictorian and honor students for the senior class of '37 were announced last Thursday afternoon. Averill Christian received the highest ranking with a grade of 91.15.22 for the entire four years of high school work. Veta Lankford ranked second with a grade of 91.13.32. Roy Lasswell was third with a grade of 88.75. Marietta Young was fourth with a grade of 87.2.9. Orville Williams ranked next with an average of 87.19.32. Eula Fay Foster brought up the rear with a grade of 83.29.32.

It is customary that one student's name be placed on the Balfour honor plaque in the hall. The qualifications for this honor are: the highest ranking for loyalty, scholarship and activities. The faculty cast one vote each, and no announcement of the winner will be made until graduation night. The plate which will be placed on the plaque has been sent to the engraving company. Needless to say, everyone is in suspense in spite of the fact that the lucky one is practically known already.

FOOTBALL HONOR ROLL

The rules for this honor have been printed in the Tiger Post previously.

HONOR ROLL

The honor roll of the high school is constantly swelling.

Those students who made no lower than "A" were: Jesse Dean Cobb, Robert Wilson, Orville Williams and Ermadel Floyd.

The following students made no grade on any subject lower than a "B": Olive Louise Atwood, Mabel Back, Ernie Back, Lois Bowen, Jack Bogan, Iona Balsom, Clyde Carpenter, Juanita Clawson, Averill Christian, Billy Cooke, Georgia Colebank, Willie Louelle Cobb, Mary Louise Brawley, Harold Rickard, Robert Senclair, La-voy Donaldson, Flora Duncan, Edith Mae Duncan, Marie Eudey, James Fulbright, Bennie Finley, May Belle Grogan, E. M. Gossett, Stanton Gardner, Dorothy Hrcnciar, Una Howard, Marie Hornsby, Margaret Kennedy, Wanda Nell Ladd, Roy Lasswell, Veta Lankford, Leo Ledbetter, Josie Lee Lane, Wynema Lamb, Velma Mann, Anna Mertel, Perry Masterson, Dorothy Mertel, Myrtle Norman, Woodrow Patrick, Marquette Payne, Ramah Lou Rippy, Mareta Roach, Edwin St. John, Eugene Stewart, Johnnie Mae Scott, Frances Tidwell, Jack Wright, Wilbur Lee Wilson, Marguerite Wheeler, Naomi Weeks, Marietta Young.

HOMEMAKERS SERVE BANQUET

The homemaking girls served a banquet Friday night to one hundred Presbyterian ladies. The following menu was served: Shrimp cocktail, chicken pie, buttered green beans, candied carrots, baked apples, hot rolls, butter, congealed fruit salad, ice cream, cake, coffee, cream, sugar.

The proceeds derived are to be used in sending the delegates to the Homemaking rally to be held in Fort Worth, April 28, 29 and 30.

GARDEN PARTY-BANQUET

As the Tiger Post goes to press we find the junior class working hard on the banquet. This year the banquet is to be carried out in a garden party motif. The banquet hall will be decorated as an outdoor garden, and the entire evening's program will be centered around that theme. With our "roses" in their many-colored dresses and their "bachelor button" friends, the entire affair should present a beautiful color effect.

The party will be held on Monday night, April 26, at the Presbyterian church basement.

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER IN CHAPEL MONDAY

Last Monday morning the students of McLean high school were favored by an address from the famous world evangelist, Rev. L. R. Scarborough, who has been for twenty-three years, president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Revs. J. H. Sharp, Cecil G. Goff and W. B. Andrews were also guests, and participants on the program. Rev. Andrews offered the opening prayer and Rev. Sharp led the assembly in singing "America." Rev. Goff introduced the speaker. The speech was practical and dealt with things that all people must face constantly. Three things, according to Evangelist Scarborough, are character, God hidden in the soul, and power to conquer temptation.

It was both a great honor and a privilege to hear this great servant of God.

MLEAN BECOMES COLLEGE TOWN

Well, folks, this is the Thursday night that the high school auditorium is to be given over to and is to become a part of "A College Town," the senior play. The seniors have been practicing for more than a month on the play and feel that it is now up to the "top notch" for presentation. There are over twenty-one students in the cast. The story is about a young man named Jimmie, who loves a good time. One night he has a little too much fun and then the trouble begins. As an alibi he tells that he spent the evening with his Aunt Jane, a millionairess from New York. Imagine his consternation on finding that he had three "Aunt Janes" beside the real one. Now please do not become excited. Jimmie is quite capable of handling this intricate situation, and he does. All the time he is getting himself out of this jam, he is falling in love with a little southern girl.

Incidentally, one of Jimmie's impromptu aunts is only a college boy dressed in women's clothes. The poor boy faints when the flirtatious old bachelor, who is bent on marrying the millionairess, tries to kiss his "ruby tuptils."

During the course of the play a big football game takes place, a hen-pecked husband gets drunk and "sasses" his wife, and the lazy negro gets sick on Thanksgiving.

The cast is as follows: Jimmie Cavendish, the football hero, Roy Lasswell; Tad Cheseldine, the college cut-up, Averill Christian; Leviticus, the "chief official rubber-down" for the team, Joe Hefner; Major Kilpepper, the head of the military, who wants a rich wife, Orville Williams; Professor Senacharrb Popp, the chair of Philology, Morris Turner; Scotch MacAllister, the football captain, "Sleepy" Dwight; Shorty Long, the helpful freshman, Dannie Hiel; Billy Van Dorn, on the Glee Club, Morse Ivey; Dr. Twigg, the chair of mathematics, Raymond Clemmons; M.L.S. "Jim" Channing, the girl from Dixie, Marietta Young; Marjorie Haviland, the college widow, May Belle Grogan; Mrs. Bagsby, "Ma" to all the boys, Mary Alice Patterson; Miss Jane Cavendish, of Cavendish and Dean, Wall Street, New York, Ramah Lou Rippy; Mrs. Cleopatra Popp, who was kissed and henpecks her husband, Eula Fay Foster; Mrs. Mollie Styles, a honeymooner, Katherine Befew; Miss Twigg, a relic of other days, Bobbie Lynch; Mrs. Twigg, she's sleepy, Hazel Dyer; Dr. and Mrs. Glicrest, the president and wife, Wilbur Lee Wilson and Lydia Moore; Lt. Small and Dr. Rochester, slaves to the college widow, Ray Woodward and Fred Cable; members of the football team and pep squad.

SPEECH PLAYS PRESENTED

As a class project, the play, "Company Cake" was presented to the speech department Wednesday afternoon. The cast was made up entirely of girls, and depicted the difficulties of a young bride in learning to cook and to keep house. The cast was as follows: Ivey, the bride, Oleta Tidwell; Lottie, Elsie Jones; Elen, Florence Jones; Mate, Jesse Corbin; and Sophia, Louise Biggers, were just neighbors; Annie Thomas, the mother-in-law, was played by Juanita Hancock.

"The Path Between" will be given before the classes some time next week.

BAND ENTERS CONTEST

The annual contest of bands and orchestras in the Northern division of Texas School Band and Orchestra Association is to be held in Pampa on April 22, 23, 24. The McLean band is entering. Solists and ensembles are as follows: Jesse Dean Cobb, cornet solo; R. L. Floyd, baritone solo; Clint Doolen, trombone solo; Jesse Dean Cobb and Jack Bogan, cornet duet. Jeff Coffey will enter the student conductors' contest. The McLean band will play their contest numbers at 7:30 Saturday morning. There is a possibility that these may be broadcast over the Pampa radio station.

NEXT WEEK'S CHAPEL

For chapel next week the speech department will present two one-act plays entitled "Bargains" and "Red Carnations." The chapel exercises will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

SHERLOCK SNOOPINGS

We wonder why Leta Mae Phillips can't keep her hands off Miss Deal's lovely rings.

We wonder where Orville was Saturday night. I am sure that he was where he lost his billfold.

George Watson does laugh so loudly in the show! What were you so tickled about up in the balcony last Tuesday, George?

If you see Lois and Mabel putting on love scenes, don't become alarmed. They are only practicing for the play.

My, my, my, how is Ermadel doing? Can you give us any information as to who the good looking young gentleman is she was with Sunday night?

Why do Mr. Pixler and Helen get along so well?

It has been whispered that there were some expert dishwashers up at the Presbyterian church Friday night. I heard Naomi say the other day: "I wish Red would hurry and come home. I'm afraid we're going to have a storm."

Please don't tell anybody, but Margaret Kennedy is the new gold digger of McLean high school.

You haven't seen anything until you see Averill Christian dressed up like a girl in the senior play. What I mean, he really has everything.

Mary Alice Patterson is becoming quite adept at fainting since she has been doing it so regularly in the senior play. You had better be careful, Horsey, she'll try it on you.

Joe Hefner said that all the Future Farmers of America went to Galveston, but since he is already a farmer, he stayed at home.

Marietta Young would make a fine heroine with the mumps.

Morris Turner is a model husband in the senior play. His wife's every wish is law to him. Keep up the good work, Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Landers, Russell Landers, Mrs. H. R. Landers, Mr. and Mrs. Boone Tyson and son, Billy, spent Sunday at McLean at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers. T. A. and Roy are bound by the ties of kinship, but until recently the families have never met. T. A. is editor of The McLean News, and Roy is a busy oil and gas man, and each have manifold duties that keep them on the job, hence visiting has not been on the schedule. But distance between Higgins and McLean has been reduced by highway and fast cars, and business and print shop worries were put aside Sunday and the family get-together was enjoyed. T. A. is putting out a good paper at McLean.—Higgins News.

If you liked "Magnificent Obsession" you will want to see "Green Light" by the same author. Wednesday and Thursday, next week. Avalon Theatre Advertisement 1c

EVERYBODY Enjoys an ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

When you consider everything you will find that an electric refrigerator brings unusual benefits to those who purchase them.

Electric refrigerators do not cost much. They last many years. Operation and maintenance costs are now very low. But electric refrigerators approach perfection performance—no matter how hot the weather, you can always depend on these three important essentials of good refrigerators:

1. An abundance of ice cubes.
2. Positive food compartment temperature degrees, the critical danger point.
3. Fast, dependable freezing of desserts.

During the past ten years improvement in electric refrigerators has been rapid. An electric refrigerator represents real economy.

Say It" With Frilly, Lacy Neckwear

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

YES, indeed, fashion is in an utterly feminine romancing mood this spring. Hats gay with ribbons and flowers and laces, suits prettified with the daintiest frilliest lingerie blouses worn for years, dresses of prints so flowery and multi-colored as to dazzle the eye and that which is a sure sign of the return of romanticism in the mode—the revival of the laciest, the daintiest, the most adorable fluffly-ruffle neckwear and dainty snowy lingerie touches that even the wildest flights of one's imagination might ere devise.

And now that we know that frilly, ultra-feminine neckline and wrist-line fantasies are going to be the very thing let's look up some of the entrancing things which shops are showing this season. The group pictured is typical of the many charming, flattering jabots, collar-and-cuff sets and "bibs" that smart women are wearing to give an extra spring-like touch to their tailored silk and their sheer wool dresses.

In the first place there's nothing smarter than finely pleated laces for neckwear. The good-looking collar and cuff set that gives so keen a fashion touch to the simple crepe frock worn by the young woman standing below to the left in the picture is of a rather heavy lace in a dark shade of ecru. The V-shaped collar is extremely flattering and together with its wide cuffs makes a "picture." With this lace variety you can give infinite variety to a winter-wear wardrobe or it will enhance your newest frock to a glamorous degree.

See to the right above in the group Claudette Colbert wearing a stunning collar made of an interesting silk-drawn novelty lace fluted row upon row as you see. This actress favors a combination of the collar in Peter Pan effect, the jabot at the front and a tiny bow of dark plain material to match her lovely dress.

An entirely different type of lacy neckwear is the "bib" or yoke effect pictured left above. It is one of those exquisitely fine and beautiful accessories that you can wear with your very best gown in most ladylike fashion. The lace is a choice Alencon type with insets of hand-embroidered batiste as delicately sheer as chiffon. The lace is cut in a square with a circular ruffle at the top and another ruffle following the square outline of the bib.

Above to the right lavish embroidery-edged with dainty val lace adds charm to a band collar with its tiered ruffles of permanent Swiss organdie beautifully flower-embroidered. Fine as a cobweb, this imported organdie is decidedly practical in spite of its fragile look.

Bows, too, are going to be worn a lot this season. In fact snowy, lacy lingerie accents are registering for a tremendous vogue, be they collars, cuffs, dainty gilets with waistcoat belts that button around the waist, "bibs," jabots or any accessory item made of lace, of Swiss organdie or washable mousseline de soie or of any delicate sheer and these will carry a wealth of embroidery or hand stitching in many instances. The new bows now showing in endless variety are cunning on tailored dresses. If they are not of mousseline or organdie with lace edgings then they are apt to be entirely of heavy laces like Cluny or Irish.

SMART FOR SPRING

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Capes, capes and more capes, thus does the parade of spring suits announce a vogue of tremendous importance this season. Even if you buy a jacket and skirt suit you are supposed to buy a stylish smartly tailored wool cape to wear over it. The new ensembles are that way—skirt, plus jacket, plus cape. The one shown here is of a stunning black wool fabric for skirt and cape with jacket of black and white loosely woven worsted. The scarf is coral colored.

SAILOR HATS AND TURBANS IN STYLE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Where there's new fashions there's always new thrills. Just about the most exciting thrills registering on the new season's program are the "nifty" little sailor hats and turbans that are made of bizarre plaid or stripe crepes or taffeta silk. These are the sort that the moment you see them you make up your mind in a flash that your happiness depends on acquiring just such a chapeau. The sailors are covered as smooth as glass with the striped silk (or the plaid) with perhaps a little whirlygig of ribbon for a finish or a rakish wee feather; and then as if that is not enough to entice you, more than likely a matching scarf adds to the allure, or if not a scarf, one of the new romantic gypsy sashes that ties so nonchalantly about waistlines these days. Cast your plainest dark crepe frock under the witchery of these plaid or striped silk accessories and it will take on untold glory and glamor.

Tunic Dresses Are Worn for Daytime and Evening

Mainboucher, who first launched the tunic dress, makes use of them for every occasion in his winter collection.

One of the new Mainboucher tunic dresses is in black wool crepe. The top, which ends in a flaring basque at the hip, has been caught into a diamond-shaped pattern which is studded with brilliants. The skirt is of plain wool crepe.

Outstanding is a black satin tunic evening gown which comes to the knees in front but extends downward in back to form a train. The underskirt is black tulle, gathered very full.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK...

By Lemuel F. Parton

Mr. Dewey's Rat Trap.

NEW YORK.—Our Mr. Dewey seems to have made a better rat trap than his neighbor and the world beats a path to his door, with other cities wanting to know how he does it.

The young rackets prosecutor, ringing up seven more convictions, for a perfect score, has turned up extortion totalling about $100,000. He gets $16,695 a year. He seems to be a good investment. With possible maximum sentences of 2,100 years against the seven restaurant racketeers, he's already drawing a bead on allied industrial racketeers.

Governor Lehman took Thomas E. Dewey, now thirty-four years old, from a $50,000 law practice for the biggest municipal dry-cleaning job of modern history. First, he put the panders away, Charles (Lucky) Luciano and eight others; then twenty-eight loan sharks, with their $10,000,000 blood money racket; then, with a bit of legal legerdemain, he turned policy kings into rats and put them away, too.

He moved on through the trucking, used brick, poultry, bakery, electrical contracting, tenants' and chauffeurs' rackets, and each case brought a shout of "front" to the Sing-Sing bell-boys.

He comes from Owosso, in the deep woods of Michigan. There, as in Windy Gap, the sheriff is supposed to drive out or lock up the crooks. Thomas E. Dewey seems to have brought this quaint small town idea to Manhattan. He rides 'em down.

His father ran a country newspaper and he was the printshop devil, working on nearby farms when he was big enough. He expected to be a choir singer and it was his baritone voice which won him a scholarship at Columbia. He was a paid soloist at St. Matthew's and St. Timothy's church in West Eighty-fourth street.

Finishing in law at Columbia, he engaged in private practice and later joined the staff of George Medalle, U. S. district attorney. It was 1933 when he roped Waxy Gordon, one of the biggest and sleekest of the rodent rodeo.

He is married to an Oklahoma girl. They have one boy four years old and another eighteen months.

When the Shooting Starts.

AFTER writing 140 books, E. Phillips Oppenheim, the British novelist, complains that diplomatic intrigue—his favorite fictional theme—isn't what it used to be. He knew the old patterns sufficiently to foresee events.

His novels, "The Mischief Maker," "Our Great Secret," and "The Makers of History" predicted the World war with almost perfect accuracy in time and the alignment of powers. Given a certain number of diplomats, of standard specifications, engaged in routine penning over old, established punctilio, and he could figure out when the shooting would start.

But that's all over, says Mr. Oppenheim, visiting this country for the first time in ten years. Diplomats call names and tell all they know, and more, on the radio, and the laggard novelist shouts "Wait for baby!" as they touch off more devils than he can invent.

At the age of seventy-one, the genial, sturdy Mr. Oppenheim is one of the few writers who can man two dictaphones at once, keeping a novel racing through each of them without stopping for water or feed. Caesar could work three stenographers at once, if this reporter remembers his high school Latin correctly, but it was a lost art until Mr. Oppenheim and the late Edgar Wallace came along. There was talk of staging a dictating race between them when they both lived at Nice.

Mr. Oppenheim has been writing fifty years, although his first novel, "Expiation," did not appear until 1887. Previously he had published short stories. Of his 140 books, 100 have been novels and the others volumes of short stories, three omnibus works and a travel book.

He likes to have a good time during the day, swimming, golfing or flirting with Lady Luck when he's on the Riviera, and usually works from four o'clock in the afternoon until seven, during which hours he keeps the dictaphone smoking.

He never blocks out his yarns. He just starts talking, and lets the story unravel as it may. In 1925, they rudely taxed him out of England. He took refuge on the Riviera, but now lives on Guernsey island in the British channel.

When he was eighteen, he was flunked in mathematics and quit school to work in his father's leather business. When he visited Paris, a French cafe owner told him some tales of underworld intrigue, with international complications. That started his long writing marathon.

AROUND the HOUSE

Items of Interest to the Housewife

Protecting Buttonholes

A row of machine-sewing around button holes in knit underwear prevents stretching and makes them last longer.

New Hot-Water Bottles

Have a little glycerine added to the water with which hot-water bottles are filled for the first time. This will make the rubber supple, and the bottle will last longer.

For Steamed or Boiled Puddings

Puddings will not stick to the basin if two strips of proof paper are put crosswise in the basin before the mixture is poured in.

Removing Stains on Hands

Vegetable stains can be removed from the hands by rubbing them with a slice of raw potato.

Preparing Salted Nuts

Here is an ideal manner in which to prepare your salted nuts at home: Take blanched nuts, salt and oil. Sprinkle nuts very lightly with oil, using not more than one teaspoon to one cup of nuts. Spread in one layer in a baking pan and brown delicately in a moderately hot oven — 375 degrees — stirring occasionally that they may color evenly. Sprinkle with salt after removing from the oven, and spread on crumpled unglazed paper to absorb any surface oil.

Shrink the Cord

When loose covers for chairs, etc., are being made, boil the piping cord before using. This little precaution prevents unsightly puckers after the cover is washed.

Frying Eggs

Eggs are less liable to break or stick to the pan if a little flour is added to the frying fat.

Salmon in Rice Nests

Two cups of rich cream sauce, one egg yolk, two teaspoons lemon juice, one pound can salmon, one small can mushrooms, one cup rice, two hard cooked eggs. Beat egg yolks slightly and add to the hot cream sauce with the lemon juice. Add the salmon and the sliced mushrooms and heat thoroughly. Boil the rice, drain and form in mounds on plates; then make depression in mounds to form nests. Fill with salmon mixture. Cut hard cooked eggs in quarters lengthwise and garnish each serving with one.

Boiling Old Potatoes

Old potatoes sometimes turn black during boiling. To prevent this add a squeeze of lemon juice to the water in which they are boiled. WNU Service.

Joy and Sorrow

IF NONE were sick and none were sad, What service could we render? I think if we were always glad, We scarcely could be tender; Did our beloved never need Our patient ministrations, Earth would grow cold, and miss, indeed, Its sweetest consolation; If sorrow never claimed our heart, And every wish were granted, Patience would die and hope depart— Life would be disenchanting. —Author Unknown.

TWO MINUTE SERMON

By Thomas Haatwell FALSE PROMISES: In the book of Genesis appears the story of the Garden of Eden and the creation of man...

Advertising can do many things but it cannot perform miracles. Advertising cannot provoke thought unless thought has been put into it.

Every editor has reams of articles offered for publication each week, but this week we had a new one. We were told that we should write an editorial on a given subject...

We once knew a town that failed to make progress because the leadership, the business and professional men of the community, kept themselves so busy keeping alive little and petty differences...

Wife-Darling, you don't give me presents the way you did before we were married. B Jones-Well now, you never heard of a fisherman giving bait to a fish after he had caught it, did you?

Political Speaker-All we need now, my friends, is to keep a working majority. Voice from the Rear-You're wrong there. What this country needs today is a majority working.

Bettina-I wonder if you'll love me when my hair has turned to gray? Elwood-Why not? I've loved you every time you've changed color so far.

"Are you sure this is the man who stole your car?" "I was until your cross-examination. Now I don't know if I ever owned a car."

SAFETY SLOGANS

Hundreds of persons are killed every year on railroad crossings, but there is no record of anyone ever having been killed who obeyed the sign at the railroad crossing to "Stop, Look and Listen."

Every car driver has a responsibility especially if someone is riding with him. No driver has a right to jeopardize the lives of other people...

Don't ride your clutch. To do so is evidence of an inefficient driver. The car driver who lets his clutch in suddenly and allows his car to start with a jerk has not learned to drive.

When stewing prunes add a slice of lemon and a few whole cloves. It is a decided improvement.

Do not use soft butter or lard in making pie crust. The shortening used should be hard and cold.

Men are most apt to believe what they least understand.
