School Pupils Entertainers at Lions Luncheon

Pupils from the speech, music and band departments of the high school entertained at the Lions luncheon held at the Meador Cafe Tuesday.

Misses Julia McCarty and Opal Thacker, from Miss Slough's speech department, gave a blackface skit, and Miss Dorothy Sitter a reading.

Mr. Leeds' band pupils gave an instrumental quartet and duet. Those playing were: Mr. Leeds, Clint Doolen Jr., Jesse Dean Cobb and R. L. Floyd.

Miss Smith's music pupils sang a quartet with Miss Willie Louelle Cobb at the piano. Singers were Misses Wanda Estes, Ermadell Floyd, Juanita Hancock and Evonne Floyd.

Boss Lion Creed Bogan announced that the club had been asked to endorse the Church Rally Day, Oct. 17, and appointed the following as a committee from the club to cooperate with other committees: M. D. Bentley, D. A. Davis, C. O. Greene, Vester Smith and E. L. Sitter.

The boss lion also requested the playground equipment committee to finish work begun at the grade school.

Lion Tamer W. E. Bogan presented Bob Duke of Amarillo, Charles Dillon and L. L. Stroud of Waco; and Ralph R. Thomas of Pampa as visitors.

Lion Thomas added to his reputation as a story teller by giving four "clean" jokes that caused much merriment.

KELLERVILLE CHILD ACCIDENTLY KILLED

Garland Wesley Smart, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Smart, was accidentally shot and killed in his mother's cafe and boarding house at Kellerville Monday afternoon, by Jack Powell, Amarillo salesman.

It was reported that the boy and his companion named Martin were playing with a sling shot and toy pistol when Powell commented that he had something in his car that would "really shoot." In taking the pistol from the scabbard it exploded, hitting the Martin boy in the hip, causing a deep flesh wound, and hitting the Smart child in the chest, killing him almost immediately.

An investigation before a Shamrock Justice of the peace revealed that the shooting was entirely accidental. Funeral arrangements were held up pending the arrival of the child's father, who is working in a Kansas oil field.

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB MEETS

The Junior Music Club met Sept. 30 at 3:30 in Mrs. Boyett's studio. The meeting was called to order by last year's president, and new officers were elected as follows: president, Erey Glen Fulbright; vice president, Bobby Crisp; secretary, Viola Appling; assistant secretary, Doris Nell Wilson.

A program of miscellaneous selections played by the members, followed the business session. In the first grade, Erey Glen Fulbright was voted best player and Bobby Crisp next; Doris Nell Wilson and Mary Lee Abbott were voted first and second respectively, in the second grade group.

After several new members were welcomed the club adjourned and lovely refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Boyett, to the following: Shirley Raye Glass, Frances Thompson, Doris Nell Wilson, Viola Appling, Mary Lee Abbott, Bobby Crisp, Margie Price, Patty Ruth Rippy, Johnnie Mae Boyd, Erma Ruth Fulbright, Erey Glen Fulbright, Jerry McDonald, Jimmy Batson, Iva Dale Rippy, Ruth Humphreys, John Kirby, Ruth Strandberg and Martha McDonald.

No Lease Is Required for Shelterbelt

According to A. G. Schattenberg, of the Forest Service, many land owners seem to think that the government requires a lease on land devoted to the shelterbelt program.

"No lease of any kind is required," said Mr. Schattenberg. "The trees belong to the farmer after they are set. There is no obligation, other than to cultivate the trees until they get a fair start."

Mr. Schattenberg said that in the beginning of the program, a lease was required, but this plan was soon discarded. There is nothing to do now but apply for the trees. The government plants the trees, and if a fence is needed where the farmer pastures his fields, the government will put up the fence, the farmer furnishing the materials. Where no pasturing is done, no fence is required.

The planting of shelterbelts is made as easy on the land owner as possible, for the more belts it is possible to plant, the greater benefit to the community at large.

Mr. Schattenberg says he is pleased with the way the farmers in the McLean community are taking to the plan, and there will be plenty of trees this year to plant 300 miles of shelterbelt, if the consent of land owners can be secured.

H. D. CLUB RECEIVES SALAD DEMONSTRATION

By Mrs. Luther Petty
Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, county demonstration agent, gave a salad demonstration to the Home Demonstration Club Friday morning in the home of Mrs. L. N. Mitchell, when she said: "Salads are economical foods, as leftovers may be used in making very delicious and appetizing salads."

In Grandmother's day salads were considered a luxury, being served on special occasions; now," said Mrs. Kelley, "we consider them a daily necessity, an essential of the adequate diet in order that we may grow and be healthy. Raw fruits and vegetables are needed to furnish the body with the necessary vitamins and minerals. The cellulose which raw fruits and vegetables provide makes them a valuable food."

Two salad dressings, French and thick French, were made, and five salads: lettuce rolls, spinach salad, shredded lettuce, cabbage and cucumber salad, halved peach salad, and a combination salad were made.

These, together with covered dishes brought by each individual, furnished a delicious dinner which was served to fourteen.

After dinner, Mrs. Kelley conducted a round table discussion on "Table Manners," and gave a demonstration on light weight bed covers. She showed a feather quilt and explained the making of same, saying: "The more air space, the warmer a cover. About 3 to 9 pounds of feathers in a quilt 84x90 inches are sufficient. Down is the best for quilts; feathers, wool and cotton are next. Do not tack or quilt a cover closely for warmth, but rather place the batting in a cheese cloth so that the outer cover may be removed for cleaning. Use a protector on the head of quilts to save laundering."

A short business session was conducted with Mrs. C. O. Goodman in charge, and regret was expressed on account of the illness of the president, Mrs. Barney Fulbright.

Ladies present were: Mesdames Kelley, Palestine Gething, and Jim Wheeler, guests; Goodman, Mitchell, J. A. Fowler, J. H. Wade, R. F. Sanders, C. M. Eadey, John B. Vanoy, C. E. Hunt and Luther Petty.

LANDERS SHOPPE ADDS NEW COSMETICS

The Landers Beauty Shoppe has added a line of Dona Ray cosmetics and are offering free demonstrations to those interested in fine cosmetics. Read their advertisement on another page.

Tom McCarty made a trip to Altus, Okla., Sunday. He was accompanied by his son, Hershel who is attending school there.

Mrs. E. B. Barton and daughter and granddaughter have returned to their home at Matador after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Witt Springer.

Red Cross Heads Safety Campaign Homes, Highways

A growing, tangible consciousness of the need for more experts in administering first aid has resulted in the training of an unusual number of persons, during the past fiscal year according to W. W. Boyd, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter.

"It is possible to note unmistakable signs of progress in making the country first-aid conscious," Mr. Boyd said. "This is not from statistics alone, but from the obvious interest that is being aroused among children in schools, employees of large industrial companies, owners of isolated farms, and parents as well."

"This interest last year led 256,884 persons to take specialized courses in first aid, certificates being awarded in classes varying from three to as many as fifty."

"The immediate treatment of those injured on the highways is one of the chief needs in the elimination of deaths and permanent injuries from automobile accidents, Mr. Boyd pointed out. "We have found the greatest danger spots to be those in rural rather than in urban areas, and to combat this danger we have inaugurated, and are rapidly expanding, our system of first aid stations along the highways from Maine to California."

The chairman explained that the American Red Cross had already established approximately 1,800 of these emergency highway first aid stations, placing them in filling stations, roadside inns, police sub-stations, and fire departments, at the same time training an adequate number of persons in the immediate vicinity or connected with the filling station or inn sponsoring the projects in order to keep them manned constantly.

"It is a deplorable fact," Mr. Boyd concluded, "that accidents on highways are increasing rather than decreasing. While we are doing all possible to cut these accidents down, we must recognize the fact that many of them seem to be inevitable, and our task is to prepare as many persons as possible to cope with them."

Mrs. Landers Hostess
1934 SEWING CLUB
The 1934 Sewing Club met at the home of Mrs. T. A. Landers last Friday for an all day session, with a covered dish luncheon at noon.

Each guest brought an embroidered cup towel as a gift to the hostess. Members present included: Mesdames S. W. Rice, J. M. Noel, L. S. Tinnin, D. A. Davis, I. D. Shaw, J. W. Story, J. E. Kirby, W. B. Upham, Scott Johnston and T. A. Landers.

Visitors were: Mrs. Ernest Beck, Mrs. Edward Gething, Mrs. E. E. Gething, and Mrs. Boone Tyson of Higgins.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 15 with Mrs. I. D. Shaw.

PARK TULIPS HERE
According to Mrs. O. G. Stokely, who ordered the tulip bulbs for the city park, the bulbs arrived this week.

Some 1250 bulbs were ordered, several persons including bulbs in the order. The bulbs were imported direct from Holland and are large first grade bulbs.

The bulbs have been stored in the basement of the Baptist Church, and those who bought bulbs for individual plantings may secure them there.

Mrs. Stokely says that bulbs may be planted any time after the 15th of this month, on up until Christmas. They should be planted about six inches deep and eight inches apart, in beds or borders. A small spoonful of commercial fertilizer to each bulb is helpful. Bulbs should be taken up and divided about every three years.

Members of the choir of the First Baptist Church, C. H. Leeds, director, enjoyed a watermelon feast and social on the lawn at the home of the assistant director and pianist, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Floyd, Tuesday evening.

Donald Beall was in Pampa Friday.

Mayor Smith Donates Salary to City Park

According to announcement of Mrs. H. W. Finley, president of the Garden and Civic Club, Mayor Vester Smith has offered to donate his monthly salary from the city to the beautification of the city park.

Mayor Smith indicated that he would like to see the north side of the park set in grass and paved tennis courts added.

The park committee reported that work on the iris borders would begin Wednesday morning.

The announcement and report were made at the regular meeting of the club held with Mrs. D. A. Davis Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Finley appointed Mrs. Lee A. Wilson, Mrs. O. G. Stokely and Mrs. C. S. Doolen as nominating committee.

The following prizes for the yard and garden contest were reported: class 1: first, lighting back yard; second, 50 foot garden hose; third, shears and sprinkler. Class 2: first, $25.00 in shrubs; second, 50 foot garden hose; third, shears and sprinkler.

Refreshments were served to 15 members. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Bob Thomas, Oct. 18.

FARMERS URGED TO CARE FOR COTTON

Producers who expect to put their cotton in for the government loan should be careful as to the picking and care of the cotton before it is ginned, according to County Agent Ralph R. Thomas. In the picking, green leaves and bolls should be avoided, and when dew is on the cotton, picking or pulling should not be started until the cotton is dry.

To be safe, cotton which has been gathered should be covered up at night to keep out moisture.

In the past when cotton was bought without regard to class or staple, farmers did not get much encouragement to take care of their cotton but in case of farmers getting government loans this fall, it may mean a difference of from five to fifteen dollars a bale, Mr. Thomas pointed out. Farmers are urged to get their cotton out as soon as possible in order to avoid weather damage.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NEW PASTOR HERE
John W. Reese of Lexington, Tenn., arrived in McLean with his family Wednesday, to occupy the brick home on north Main between Second and Third streets.

Rev. Reese has accepted the call to the pastorate of the McLean Church of Christ and preached his first sermon to the local congregation Wednesday night. He comes well recommended to the place.

BEAUTY SHOPPES ANNOUNCE RAISE
The Orchid Beauty Shoppe and Elite Beauty Salon announce a raise in prices in an advertisement in this issue of The News.

The price advance is in line with prices in other towns, and is made necessary by the increased cost of materials.

These shops maintain modern equipment and their work is in line with any shop anywhere. Read the advertisement.

COFFEE BY THE TON
Pucket's Grocery has bought a ton of Folger's coffee, and the company has presented them with a framed certificate in honor of their ability to buy and sell in ton lots.

This is the first time any firm in McLean has bought as much as a ton of any one brand at one time.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sullivan and children were called to Oklahoma Tuesday by the death of the lady's mother.

Miss Marietta Young visited her sisters, Mrs. Fred Vaughn and Mrs. Henry D. Loter at Berger over the week end.

Mrs. Willie Boyett and Miss Jewell Cousins were in Pampa Saturday. They were accompanied by Miss Ovelia Hunt of Miami.

Tigers Win from Mobeetie, 39 to 6 Score

The McLean Tigers won their first conference game from the Mobeetie Hornets, on Tiger Field Friday evening by a lop-sided score of 39 to 6.

Coach Bill Allen used every member of the local squad that was suited out, at some time during the game.

The plucky little Mobeetie players staged a good game against heavy odds. They were not penalized for anything and kept right on playing, regardless of the mounting score for the Tigers. Their clean sportsmanship caught with the fans from the first, and they received cheers from opposing fans for good plays. Mobeetie fans were not present in any great numbers.

Mobeetie, admittedly the under-dog of the conference, have lost to Lefors 47 to 0, and Memphis 12 to 0.

This week's game will be played Friday night with the Lakeview 11. Lakeview is rated under the Tigers, but may have some surprises up their sleeve before the season is over.

ELDON DYER WRITES
Following is a letter from Eldon Dyer, who is in the U. S. Marines in China:

Shanghai, China, August 23, 1937.
Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dyer, McLean, Texas.

Dear Mother and Father:
Well, here I am right in the middle of a war. The Japanese and Chinese are fighting here in Shanghai now and they are really going to town. Both sides are dropping bombs all around and anti-aircraft shells have killed and injured a lot of people in the International Settlement.

I have been transferred to a machine gun company and all I do is to sit behind a machine gun and see that no Chinese or Japanese troops come across a bridge. If they do, I just give them the works. When this trouble first started, we let wounded soldiers across the bridge in Red Cross trucks, but they went to bringing in food from the International Settlement so we closed the gate and they said if we didn't open up and let their trucks through they would have to take action. So we just got behind our machine guns and told them to take all the action they wanted, but I don't think they wanted much because they didn't open fire on us.

The U. S. S. Augusta was hit the other day by anti-aircraft shell and killed one soldier and wounded 19 others. I don't know what they are going to do about that, nothing I guess. I thought I would be scared but you soon get used to shells and bombs falling around.

I am on the bank of Soochow Creek and every day I see bodies floating down. I counted about 15 bodies yesterday. Some have their heads cut off and some are Japanese or Chinese soldiers that have been shot. It seems like every time I sit down to eat, I see one coming down the stream, but that just gives me a good appetite.

Well, I don't know much more to tell you about the war except the Chinese are winning most of the time. Oh, yes, I saw a fight in the air the other day. One Chinese plane and two Japanese planes. They fought about ten minutes and the Japanese finally brought the Chinese down in flames, but he put up a good fight.

My address is still the same except out H Co. instead of F Co. I am sending you a clipping to let you know a little about what is happening.

Your son,
ELDON DYER.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Brawley of Sweetwater, Okla., visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brawley, over the week end. They were accompanied by the lady's sister, Miss Ruth Gill.

Mrs. Jack Gray and children of Dumas visited their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Johnston, over the week end.

Mrs. Lula Young visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hawkins, at Memphis last week.

Miss Clara Anderson of Lefors spent the week end at her home here.

Fire Prevention Week Explained by Fire Marshal

By Boyd Meador
This is Fire Prevention Week in Texas. During this week civic groups, individuals, city officials and other organizations of every description throughout the State are actively engaged in talking of fire prevention.

Fire prevention is a vital part of our every-day lives. It affects our homes, our families and our pocket-books. When it is practiced, it becomes one of the most practical methods for saving and conserving life and property.

It is useless to talk about the value of fire prevention. We all know that.

Fire insurance is the system whereby fire losses, unbearable for the individual, may be equitably distributed to a group. Does not that simple statement imply that when the individual's loss is reduced, the loss borne by the group is likewise lessened? Every property owner carrying insurance helps pay the cost of fires. The man with a $1,000 policy on his household goods helps pay the loss the merchant sustains when his store burns, or the loss of the factory owner when his plant is destroyed by fire. The farmer with a policy of $1,500 on his home helps pay the $250,000 loss sustained when a big manufacturing plant burns.

There is no escaping the cost of fire. We pay for our losses in the form of higher insurance rates. It is included in everything we buy, from food and clothing to machinery and fixtures. By allowing fires, we tax ourselves and our neighbors. The fact that fire is a preventable "tax" makes fire prevention both a duty and an obligation. Its practice means saving—saving in dollars and cents, as well as in lives and property—to us all.

Last year 519 people were killed by fire in Texas. Last year the fire loss amounted to approximately $5,000,000. 519 lives—$5,000,000—that is the answer to "why fire prevention?"

The greatest fire hazard in McLean will be removed when we replace inertia with action; when fire prevention is not only a doctrine, but a living, pulsating, growing FACT.

HOME MAKING MEETING
The Home Making Club meeting which was held at Samnorwood last Saturday was one of the largest of its kind ever held in this district. There were about 160 girls and about 20 mothers present.

After the noon meal all of the girls gathered in front of the school building and had pictures taken of the group.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected: vice president, Habel Claire Raney of Wheeler; secretary-treasurer, Louise Britt of Kelton; reporter, Verda Thompson of Samnorwood; song leader, Bernice Stevens of Shamrock. The president, Helen Clyde Clement of Samnorwood, was elected at a meeting held last year.

Groom will be host to the next meetings of the clubs.

Mrs. S. W. Rice, Mrs. D. A. Davis and Mrs. T. A. Landers visited the former's daughter, Mrs. M. G. Armstrong, at Lefors Tuesday.

Little Miss Wynette and Tommie Caldwell of Liberal, Kans., are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Holloway.

MUSSOLINI VISITS HITLER

War Strength of Nazis Displayed for Il Duce . . . Japan Sharply Warned Not to Bomb Russian Embassy

Il Duce and Der Reichsfuehrer Review Nazi Troops in Munich.

Edward W. Pickard SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK

War Dance for Duce

BENITO MUSSOLINI, visiting Adolf Hitler for the purpose of composing and presenting to the world a statement of the intentions and demands of the Italian and German governments, was received by the Nazis with great enthusiasm. Il Duce, on the way to Berlin, stood on a hill in Mecklenburg with Hitler and witnessed a big war dance staged by the reichsfuehrer that displayed the regiments of military might of Germany most impressively. Hitler's best officers and troops, armed with the latest weapons of death, put on a sham battle participated in by all land and air forces. In the nearby Baltic the German warships showed how they chase "Red" submarines; and at Wustrow the anti-aircraft batteries gave a demonstration of their effectiveness. The huge munitions plants in the Ruhr district were visited, and the throngs of workers, given a holiday with pay, cheered the two dictators heartily. Every city and village was decorated. In Berlin there were tremendous demonstrations and elaborate festivities in honor of the visitor from Rome.

As for the statement by the rulers of Italy and Germany, the best guess was that it would declare that hereafter Fascism and Nazism must be shown proper respect by all powers, that "defamation" of the regimes must stop and that their aims and intentions must be understood by the world and that their right to political parity must be recognized. To the German press Mussolini said: "My visit to Germany is wholly a matter of the heart, a visible sign of the cordial friendship between two great, cultured peoples that trust each other implicitly. "The two peoples will clasp hands, will put their packs and rifles on their shoulders and will march side by side in the future, for this future belongs to us."

Russia Warns Japan

TOKYO officially notified Berlin that the Chinese were plotting to attack the Russian embassy in Nanking with planes disguised as Japanese aircraft, for the purpose of involving the Soviet government in the Sino-Japanese conflict. With the equivalent of "Oh, yeah!", Russia retorted with a stern warning that it would hold Japan responsible for any bombing of the embassy, intentional or accidental. The Soviet officials said they considered the reported plot a "pure prevarication showing the intention of some Japanese military powers to bombard the Soviet embassy intentionally and then try to escape responsibility." With callous brutality Japan continued the air raids on Nanking, Canton and other large Chinese cities, the bombs slaughtering thousands of helpless civilians. The utter contempt for protests of western nations shown by Japan seemed warranted by the failure to insist on respect for the nine-power treaty guaranteeing the territorial integrity of China. For this failure Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek blames especially the United States. "This war," said he, "will last as long as Japanese aggression lasts in China."

The League of Nations advisory committee adopted a resolution condemning the Japanese aircraft for bombing open towns, though the British tried hard to avoid mentioning Japan by name. Leland Harrison, the American observer without vote, sat silent throughout the acrimonious debate in the committee. A Japanese submarine sank a fleet of Chinese fishing boats off the coast of southern China, killing 200 men, women and children.

Yarnell's Policy Wins

ADMIRAL HARRY YARNELL was decidedly opposed to the policy of Washington to withdraw American warships from Chinese waters in the face of danger. His protests have been considered by the general board of the Navy department and his program approved. Consequently our naval vessels will remain there to protect our nationals "as long as the present controversy between China and Japan exists." The Navy department announced that the Asiatic fleet could not be withdrawn under present conditions "without failure in our duty and without bringing great discredit on the United States navy."

More Woe in Palestine

GREAT BRITAIN'S contested plan to divide Palestine between the Jews and the Arabs, with a slice for herself, came to the front again when Lewis Andrews, British commissioner of Galilee, was assassinated by a group of terrorists in Nazareth. Three men, two in European garb and one in peasant clothing, ambushed Andrews and shot him and his bodyguard to death. Andrews had gained the enmity of extremists because of the strictness of his rule as district commissioner and his life had been threatened frequently.

O'Mahoney Butts In

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, on the way to Seattle, first entered the "enemy's" country when he crossed the border of Wyoming, the state of Senator Joseph O'Mahoney, leader of the anti-Supreme court enlargement forces. Mr. Roosevelt's train reached Cheyenne in the early morning, and there, among the welcomers, was Joseph, though he had pointedly not been invited to board the train. He walked alongside the President's car and Mrs. Roosevelt emerged, shook his hand and asked after Mrs. O'Mahoney.

Noted Merchant Dies

EDWARD A. FILENE, best known of all Boston's merchants, died of pneumonia in the American hospital in Paris. He was seventy-seven years old. Besides being a business man, Mr. Filene was a noted social economist. He was sometimes called the apostle of mass production and distribution. Only ten days after he took charge of the American legation in Vienna, Grenville T. Emmet died of double pneumonia. He was sixty years old and was a former law partner of President Roosevelt. He was minister to the Netherlands in 1922 and was given the Austrian post last July.

Drops "Parity Prices"

ONE of the administration's chief policies for agriculture has been abandoned, Secretary Wallace announced in Washington. "Parity prices" for farm products, he said, could not be attained. The aim now will be to give "the average farmer the same purchasing power he had in the half century before the World War."

"I don't think there is any way of getting enough money out of the Treasury," Wallace said, "to give farmers parity prices during the next ten years for cotton, wheat, corn, hogs, or any other product that is exported. You might be able to get enough for a year or two to do this. But the consumer would soon rise up in protest."

Wallace also talked about the soil conservation program, under which farmers must hold acreage of major crops below the 1923-37 average in order to obtain benefit payments. He said the only fault with this was that normal yields would be too large in view of the prospective markets.

The secretary still believes that national control over production of the major farm crops is necessary. "In my opinion," he said, "the principle of co-operative crop adjustment is sound and will eventually be applied again."

Douglas Heads SEC

WALL STREET didn't like the idea of having William O. Douglas as chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, preferring the more conservative George C. Mathews. However, Douglas was elected to the post, succeeding James M. Landis; and to reconcile the financiers he described himself as "a pretty conservative sort of fellow from the old school, a school too old for some to remember," who has in mind "no ruinous theories of social experimentation."

Eden Still Hopeful

ANTHONY EDEN, British foreign minister, hurried from Geneva to attend a special cabinet meeting to which he reported on developments in the Mediterranean situation that is so threatening to European peace. He told of Italy's reiteration of its demand for parity in the "anti-piracy" patrol, and it was believed both he and Prime Minister Chamberlain were hopeful that a rupture could be averted by a partial yielding to Mussolini in this matter. British public opinion was said to be strongly against a complete concession.

Meanwhile events in the Mediterranean were not such as to bolster Eden's peaceful designs. The British aircraft carrier Glorious reported it had been attacked by a submarine near Malta just as it arrived to take part in the patrol of the sea. Also the admiralty announced an unidentified airplane dropped six bombs close to the destroyer Fearless. The British and French fleets began their search for "pirate" submarines.

Plan to Fight "Polio"

JUST before leaving for the Pacific coast, the President announced that he was organizing a new foundation to direct the war against poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis. It will carry on an educational campaign supervised by experts and put within reach of all doctors and hospitals. The foundation also will see to the financing of responsible research agencies and aid the afflicted in becoming economically independent.

Mr. Roosevelt also gave approval to John Biggers' plans for a voluntary enrollment of the nation's unemployed, to be carried out with the aid of the Post Office department.

Madam Perkins Snubbed

FOR the first time in the history of the Labor department, the secretary is not asked to address the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, to be held in Denver. The list of invited speakers was released, but the name of Madam Perkins was not there. The secretary, whose administration of her office never has been taken very seriously by the country, is considered by the A. F. of L. to be prejudiced in favor of its rival, the C. I. O.

Windsors in Paris

FRENCH secret service agents, who have been hunting for two missing "White" Russian generals, were given the pleasant assignment of guarding the duke and duchess of Windsor who went to Paris for their first visit there together. The duchess had a lot of shopping to do.

The British embassy's second secretary, Armine Dew, greeted the couple at their nine-room suite in a Rue de Rivoli hotel. On the street below, shopkeepers were filling their windows with American flags in preparation for arrival of the first of a contingent of American war veterans awaiting home.

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Hospital Horror"

By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY:

You know, lots of adventures have happened because someone did the wrong thing somewhere along the line, but here's one that resulted from saying the wrong thing. It's the story of George T. Parker of Brooklyn, N. Y., and it's as fine an example of a horrible experience as I've come across in many a day.

It isn't that George talked out of turn, or tried to start an argument. No—there's nothing like that in this yarn. What little George did say, he said with the best and most peaceful intentions in the world. As a matter of fact, George was just out of the operating room and lying on a hospital bed when he said it. Birds in that fix don't go around looking for fights, and you and I know it.

But just the same, George sure talked himself into a sizable lot of trouble. Trouble that probably caused one death and came mighty near causing George's.

It was April of 1917. The United States had just entered the World War, and maybe you remember how we used to guard our bridges and railroad yards in those days. Well, that's what George was doing. He was a private in the Seventy-first regiment, and his company was sent to Kingston, N. Y., to guard a bridge over the Rondout creek. They had put a couple of freight cars on a siding and built bunks in them to house the men, and it is in one of those freight cars that George's story starts. It was twelve midnight, and George was just leaving to take his turn at guard duty when he began to feel terrific pains. The doctor said it was appendicitis, and he flagged a train, loaded George on the baggage car and took him into the Kingston city hospital.

Bearded Old Man in Next Bed.

They held him in a ward for a day for observation. There were some twenty other patients in the room, and one of them was a bed-ridden fellow named Tony. He had been there fifteen years, poor devil, with a broken spine. But helpless as he was, Tony is the hero of this yarn. It was he who saved George's life.

While George was still under observation they brought in another patient—a bearded old man with a case of blood poisoning in his left arm. They put him in a bed right in front of George's and—well—somehow or other that old fellow gave George the creeps every time he looked at him.

In the morning they took George out to the operating room and the sawbones took out his appendix. They brought him back and put him in the same bed he had had before—right next to the old fellow with the beard who gave him the willies. For two days after his operation, George was a pretty sick man, what with the ether he had swallowed and the shock of being cut up by the surgeon. On the second day, the old fellow with the beard became delirious and started to rave, and that didn't help George's frame of mind any.

"Where is That Fifteen Cents?" He Hissed.

George Pretended to Be "Lenny."

"He was talking about some one named Lenny," George says, "and he kept it up until everyone started to complain. I thought it would be all right to try and pacify him, so when he called for Lenny again I answered him."

The trick seemed to work. The old fellow actually thought he was talking to Lenny. "What did you do with that junk in the attic?" he asked. And George answered, "I sold it." "How much did you get for it?" the old fellow wanted to know. And George told him, "Fifteen cents." After that the old fellow was quiet. At ten o'clock the lights were put out and George dozed off.

And then, suddenly, George woke up at the sound of a footstep beside his bed. "I looked up," he says, "and there, staring down at me, was the old fellow. His eyes seemed to be popping out of his head and his good hand was reaching down for my throat. And in a low voice he hissed, 'Where is the fifteen cents?'" It might have been funny—that situation—if it hadn't been so pathetic, too. But to George there was neither humor nor pathos in it—nor anything else but just plain terror. There he lay helpless, two days out of the operating room, and hardly able to lift a finger in his own defense, and over him stood a man out of his mind and plainly bent on violence.

Strangling Him to Death.

"I was petrified with fright," says George. "Perspiration began running off me like water from a faucet. The old man was in a long white nightgown, with his long hair hanging down over his shoulders and his white beard flowing over his chest. The moonlight was shining full on him and the very picture of him was enough to scare a man to death. "I couldn't find my voice—couldn't utter a word. I put up my hand to protect myself, but it was weak and shaking. The old man grasped me by the throat and began to squeeze. His hand was strong, and it's lucky for me he didn't have two of them—that the other one was crippled with blood poisoning—or he might have strangled me then and there."

As it was that one hand wasn't any too gentle. George wondered if anyone in the room was awake. If he could only scream! But with the old man's fingers tightening on his throat, it was too late for that now. He wondered if he was going to die there, in the apparent safety of a hospital bed. And then, suddenly, the lights came on. Nurses and attendants came running to the rescue. Tony, the poor fellow with the broken spine, had brought help. He had awakened, seen what was happening, and pushed the buzzer that summoned the nurse.

The old man was taken away to a padded cell, and on the following morning he was dead. The exertion had been too much for him. —WNU Service.

Where the Okapi Lives

The okapi lives placidly in the depths of the Belgian Congo and is highly esteemed by the pygmies of the region for his succulent meat, but also greatly feared because he can repel even a lion's attack with his battering-ram skull and his rib-crushing hoofs. Possessed of four stomachs, and eyes which operate independently of each other, allowing him to look two ways at once, he lives a solitary life behind the camouflage of his striped red and purplish markings. He is fastidiously clean. Every morning and night he bathes himself thoroughly, with the result that he is the most nearly odorless animal in all Africa. He is never bothered by ticks or flies. But this bathing enthusiasm of the okapi is also his Achilles' heel. He is usually caught in traps planted of his favorite watering hole.

Paramnesia

The word used when, although you are doing something for the first time, you have an odd feeling that you have done the exact thing before is paramnesia. It is a common experience, and, briefly explained, the reaction depends upon a little trick of the mind manifested by a momentary loss of a sense of time and space. The individual enters into an experience or a situation, obtains a fleeting impression of this situation, then the attention is momentarily attracted to something else. The period of time may be almost infinitesimal. Then upon the return of the attention to the original situation this lapse of time is lost to the individual and the period between the two experiences seems occasionally to expand into a long period, even into the remote past.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Potatoes for Short Cakes.—Hot, boiled and mashed white potatoes are good in making short cakes and puddings. They not only save flour, but require less shortening.

Crab Apple Jelly.—Take one pint of water to every pound of apples, and boil until soft. Then put through jelly-bag. Allow one pound of sugar and a tablespoonful of vinegar to every pint of liquid, and boil for half an hour or until it jellies.

Removing Scorch Marks.—Scorch marks can be removed from linen by boiling together the juice of an onion, one ounce fullers' earth, one-quarter ounce shredded soap, and one teacupful vinegar. Allow the paste to dry on, then brush off and wash in the usual way.

Eggs in Tomatoes.—Take large tomatoes, slice off the tops, remove the pulp. Break an egg into each case, replace the pulp, add a nut of butter, season with pepper and salt. Replace the tops and bake in a hot oven for 5 to 10 minutes. Serve hot or cold, garnished with cress, peas or lettuce.

When Peeling Small Onions.—Cover small onions with hot water and let stand for a minute or two and the skins are easily removed.

Cleaning Enameled Sinks.—Those stubborn dark streaks which accumulate on enameled sinks and bathtubs can be removed with kerosene.

Dry Soiled Clothes.—When clothes are sent to the laundry they are usually paid for by weight. Money can be saved if the housewife makes certain all articles are dry before they are sent out.

When Washing Soft Polishing Dusters.—Rinse them in slightly soapy water instead of clear water. This makes the dusters much softer and they polish better. —WNU Service.

BAND REPORT

Thursday night the band with the pep squad, marched from the high school to the middle of town to hold a pep rally for the Mobeettie vs. McLean football game. They played for about 30 minutes.

Friday night the band and pep squad marched from high school to town. They stopped to play one or two numbers, and then marched on to the football field. At the half both the band and the pep squad marched on the field to form letters complimenting Mobeettie and the Tigers.

The band had an invitation to attend the Shamrock clinic on Oct. 2 but the clinic was called off.

The high school band will give a concert at the grade school Tuesday morning, Oct. 12, at 11 to 12 o'clock. The public is invited and a special invitation is extended to the parents of the grade school pupils.

JUNIOR REPORT

The junior class has been working diligently toward the winning of the queen race. The class has been in very high spirits since it has started.

We have elected Mesdames Vester Smith, Evan Sitter, Amos Thacker, H. W. Finley, Jim Back, Sam Hodges, Hale, Colebank, Walter Bailey, C. C. Carpenter, R. L. Appling, Sharp and W. E. Bogan for our room mothers. We have for our football queen Dorothy Sue Young. The juniors are all backing her a hundred percent.

F. F. A.

The committee on chapter objectives met at 2:30 Monday and set up the following objectives to be carried out this year. All state and national objectives are expected to be carried out by the local chapter in connection with local objectives.

The following are the local objectives:

- 1. Finance a local chapter member to National F. F. A.
2. Hold a father and son banquet
3. Establish a movement for an area summer camp
4. Chapter buy a boar hog for breeding purposes among chapter members
5. Enter three teams in state judging contest
6. Participate in all F. F. A. leadership activities
7. Establish an agriculture library
8. Set up projects and other means of making money to help finance local chapter
9. Hold a community livestock show, F. F. A. project show and judging contest
10. Prepare show window exhibits and Tri-state fair exhibits
11. Hold a joint party with the home economics department
12. Improve and buy more shop equipment
13. Sponsor at least one chapel program
14. Stage play to help finance chapter
15. Make arrangement for all chapter members to study parliamentary laws

Several F. F. A. boys that are expecting to take baby beef calves to the fat stock show next March made a tour last Friday to inspect each others' calves. Several outstanding calves were seen. We have good prospects for showing the best group of calves from this section that has even been shown at the fat stock show in Amarillo. The F. F. A. boys are showing more interest in caring for their calves, and their calves are showing greater gain than ever before. From the way it looks to this reporter, somebody at the fat stock show next March will really have to hustle to beat this group of F. F. A. boys.

The following are some of the local F. F. A. boys feeding calves: Ernie Back, two; J. B. Waldrop, one; Steve Kennedy, two; Milan Mertel, one; Robert Wilson, two; J. L. Hancock, two; S. J. Dyer, two; Bob Macina, one; Bill Wilson, two.

ASSEMBLY

Last Tuesday morning, Sept. 23, the Rev. Sumral, pastor of the First Baptist Church, made his initial address to the students of McLean high school. His subject was "How to Be Happy," and after reading ten verses from the sixth chapter of Galatians, he gave the following rules for attaining happiness:

- 1. Look to health; a strong body is a great possession.
2. Cultivate contentment.
3. Prove yourself trustworthy.
4. Strive to help one another.
5. Learn to forget; keep a clean mind.
6. Learn to forgive; for all of us make mistakes.
7. Don't worry; only the foolish or lazy person has cause to worry.
We appreciate the time that the ministers of the town give us, and invite each of them to visit us again.

HOME EC CLUB

The Future Homemakers Club met Tuesday night at 7 o'clock for a business meeting. Silver and rose were chosen as the colors for the club during this year, and the club flowers chosen were geranium and silver king.

A hay ride was planned for the next club meeting. At this time the new members will be initiated into the club.

The programs for the coming year were discussed. Refreshments of cocoa and cookies were served by the club officers to those present.

Saturday, ten members of the club attended the district rally at Samnorwood. They estimated the crowd to be larger than any crowd ever attending a district rally. The program began at 10 o'clock. There were seven schools represented: Groom, Samnorwood, McLean, Wheeler, Shamrock, Allison and Kelton. From 2 to 3 a business meeting was held, in which officers were elected for the district. Samnorwood gave a short play, "What Husbands Don't Know." After the business session, afternoon tea was served. All who attended reported an enjoyable time.

FRESHMAN REPORT

The freshman class met last week and elected their queen. Three queens were elected to run until Monday, Oct. 4. Those elected were Evonne Floyd, Opal Tedder and Helen Maclay. Monday morning, Evonne Floyd had the most votes and is the freshman queen. We discussed plans for making money, and a committee was appointed. We elected Mr. Pixler as the freshman sponsor.

SOPHOMORE REPORT

The sophomore class had a party Saturday night at the gym. We played many interesting and entertaining games. For refreshments we had sandwiches, lemonade, cookies and fruit. Everyone enjoyed the party very much.

In a class meeting Monday morning, the sophomores elected Mr. Magee as assistant sponsor.

HOME ECONOMICS REPORT

The first year home economics girls have begun work on their aprons. They straightened their material the first of the week, and the last of the week they have cut them out and have begun sewing on them. The second year girls have been studying the unit on budgets. In this unit they played a budget on how to spend the money for foods for school use. They are also keeping an expense account of their own expenses for the month of October.

The third year girls have fitted their patterns and made all alterations necessary. They are now ready to start cutting out their dresses.

SENIOR REPORT

The seniors have been working very hard for the past two weeks trying to raise money for their queen candidates. They have been around gathering up coat hangers and cleaning, and would appreciate your cooperation. Last Thursday night the P. T. A. at Back gave a pie supper and half of the proceeds were given to Lavoy Donaldson, a representative from Back who is a candidate for the senior football queen.

Last Saturday the seniors had another food sale, and they wish to thank everyone that had a part in the sale and helped to make it go over. They are really proud of the patronage they received.

The first elimination in the queen race was held Monday morning. Lavoy Donaldson was elected senior candidate for football queen. The seniors really have the spirit and are really going to put their queen over the top.

TIGERS VS. HORNETS

The powerful McLean Tigers swamped the little but fighting Mobeettie Hornets 39-6. Everyone on the Tiger roster played part of the game.

Braxton made the first touchdown after the ball had been brought down the field by power plays. Braxton also made the next touchdown. Bogan ran 60 yards for a touchdown behind nice blocking of the entire Tiger team. Bogan made another touchdown later in the game. Watson's terrific drive made a touchdown from the 15 yard line. Later he galloped 75 yards for the last Tiger counter. Nicholson booted three goals to make the Tigers' 39 points.

Mobeettie made their six points in the fourth quarter when the McLean second team was in. This week the Tigers play the Lakeview Eagles on Tiger Field. To show you that this game will be interesting, let us remind you of last year's score which was 7-7 at the half, with the Eagles having an advantage on first downs.

MUSIC LOVERS CLUB

The Music Lovers Club met last Thursday at 7:30 in the studio of their teacher, Mrs. Boyett. The meeting was called to order by the former president, Johnnie Mae Scott, and officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Mabel Back; vice president, Helen Sharp; secretary, Betty Jean Webb; assistant secretary, Ora Sharp.

A program of miscellaneous piano selections played by the members followed the business session. The selections were divided into three groups—those learned this year, those learned last year, and those who started taking music this summer. In the first group Johnnie Mae Scott was voted as best player. Ermadel Floyd and Evonne Floyd were voted first and second places respectively. In the second group, Mabel Back and Helen Sharp were voted first and second places in the third group. The club was honored by the presence of two visitors, Mrs. Jim Sharp and Mrs. Jim Back.

The club will have its next meeting in the home of Mabel Back, and the program will be devoted to the study of the life of Grieg, a Norwegian composer. Several selections by Grieg will be played by members of the club.

After adjourning, lovely refreshments were served to Frances Hudzietz, Mabel Back, Helen Sharp, Evonne Floyd, Johnnie Mae Scott, Ermadel Floyd, Betty Jean Webb, Anabeth Gatlin, the visitors, and the hostess, Mrs. Boyett.

CIRCULO CASTELLANO REPORT

The Circulo Castellano met for the first time Tuesday, Sept. 28, in the Spanish room. Miss Julia Slough, who is our sponsor, had charge of the meeting.

The following officers were elected: president, Dorothy Sitter; vice president, Vada Appling; secretary-treasurer, Johnnie Mae Scott; program chairman, Georgia Colebank; program committee, James Finley and Bennie Finley; social chairman, Willie Louelle Cobb; yearbook chairman, Ermadel Floyd; yearbook committee, Frankie Mullin, Jimmie Clark and Herman Petty; interpreter, Julia Slough; reporter, Irene Pettit.

The name of the club is Circulo Castellano; the motto, Donde hay fana hay mana que fuerza aprender a Espanol (where there is a will there is a way to learn Spanish); the song, Rancho Grande; the colors, roja y amarillo (red and yellow); and the flowers, rosas y cactus (roses and cactus).

The next meeting will be Friday, Oct. 8.

TIGERETTE REPORT

The Tigerettes met at the school building at 7:30 Thursday night and from there marched to town where they held a short pep rally to create interest in the game Friday night. Again on Friday night the band and pep squad marched to town, gave a few yells, and then marched on to Tiger Field. They were accompanied by fans who cheered until the last of this, another glorious victory for the Tigers.

The Tigerettes wanted to make the Hornets feel welcome, so they gave them yells as well as the Tigers. This was because they played clean football and were still fighting for their school when the final whistle blew.

Did you notice the new magaphones the Tigerettes were using Friday night? Well, we have another surprise for you. They are now painted gold with Tigerettes printed on the side in black.

May the Tigerettes in this article express their appreciation to the Brooks Tailor Shop for having their skirts ready for the game. So, in behalf of the pep squad, may I say, "Thanks a million." The Tigerettes began practice Oct. 6 on a formation for the Lakeview game.

SHERLOCK SNOOPINGS

Louelle seems very interested in B. C. We're not sure Junior is trying to learn to play the piano when he sits with Louelle in music class. Wonder why Julia won't pay her debts? You needn't smile so, Helen. We know you got another letter from Averill.

Have a good time Thursday night, Joe?

Found on a freshman's registration card: Name of parents: Papa and Mamma. Why does Opal have to read "Every day Manners"?

What was Dorothy yelling beside "Tigers"? Mr. Cunningham really went to town on that chewing gum at the ball game.

Mr. Pixler, when did you take up grade school music? How could Mr. Brally see the football game when he had his hat down over one eye in true "jelly-bean" fashion?

Miss Smith looked rather nice in Roy Kiser's band suit.

Though no one could really take Miss (Mrs.) Kennedy's place as football sponsor, Miss Slough made her own. More power to her.

Why did Velma ask Dorothy Sue to walk home with her Friday night? It seems Jack Young is quite a ladies' man.

Why did Naomi keep the letter she was writing Hershel covered up Monday?

Why did Dorothy Sue change tables at one of the parties Saturday night?

Doilies Offer Thrifty Way to Set Table

A perfectly appointed table is the dream of every woman's heart. With the simplest of crochet you can make this dream come true. This set of doilies, in four sizes, does the trick. There are a 6, 12 and 17-inch size suitable for luncheon and buffet sets as well as doilies while the largest, a 22-inch doily, is just the thing for in-between cloth. Pattern 1462 contains directions for making the doilies shown; illustrations of them—and of all stitches used; material requirements. Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle Needlecraft Department, 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

I'M FEELING FINE THIS MORNING

— FREE FROM THAT THROBBING HEADACHE AND READY FOR A GOOD DAY'S WORK.

All people who suffer occasionally from headaches ought to know this way to quick relief. At the first sign of such pain, take two Bayer Aspirin tablets with a half glass of water. Sometimes if the pain is more severe, a second dose is necessary later, according to directions. If headaches keep coming back we advise you to see your own physician. He will look for the cause in order to correct it. The price now is only 15¢ for twelve tablets or two full dozen for 25 cents—virtually, only a cent apiece.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. The kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be recurring headaches, persistent backache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of surging safety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder trouble may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Doan's Pills, Doan's have been cleaning up friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by prominent physicians country over. Ask your pharmacist.

SANDBURS A MENACE

Stillwater, Okla., Oct. 5.—Sandburs are nature's pointed answer to the "What's in a name?" query, according to W. B. Gernert, Oklahoma A. & M. College weeds and pasture specialist.

The burs certainly live up to their technical name of Cenchrus Tribuloides, which means affliction," Gernert explains.

Burs Degrade Hay
Presence of burs in prairie and alfalfa causes the hay to be classed as sample grade, according to United States hay grading standards.

The weeds, members of the grass family, are annuals which flourish from Canada to Central America. Since the weed propagates by means of the seed incased in a hull in the spiked bur, complete destruction of all plants before the seed ripens is the only method of control.

While plowing and disking of cultivated fields will kill the pests if done before the seed ripens," Gernert affirms, "the problem of ridding pastures of the burs is more complicated."

Livestock Helpful
"Cattle or sheep, when turned into the pasture early enough, will eat the weeds before they have a chance to flower and produce seeds, since the weeds when young are quite palatable.

"If the burs have already matured, however, the stock will have trouble with the spines on the burs. The sheep especially will have trouble with the burs tangling in the wool, making it less profitable for the grower."

For the gardener, Gernert recommends the simple home remedy of a little elbow-b grease applied on the end of a hoe handle to the weed plants in individual doses.

In no instance, the agronomist concludes, is burning to be recommended for destroying the weeds, which ordinarily mature in September and October. Burning destroys, along with the weeds, all the year's accumulation of organic matter, leaving the soil impoverished.

Mrs. J. E. Lynch and daughter, Jessie Mae, of Erick, Okla., visited friends here over the week end.

Misses Aline McCarty and Cressie Turner of Pampa visited in McLean last week end.

BANKRUPTCY IN GOVERNMENT

When it takes from 4% to 6% of the value of your property to pay ad valorem taxes and about 2% for upkeep and insurance, not counting any loan against it, the whole story is told as to the reason the home and farm life of Texas is on the down grade. The percentage named above does not belong to the owner, his profits, if any, are made after the above is paid. The few that make a profit, compared to the many that do not, is one evidence of creeping bankruptcy in government.—Texas Tax Journal.

Miss Sarah Truitt of Miami visited relatives and friends here over the week end. She was accompanied by her parents from Oklahoma.

Home Heating Hints

By John Barclay Heating Expert

Have Your Furnace Cleaned and Inspected Now Before the Cold Weather Comes Along.

HERE'S a straight money-saving tip: Before starting your heating plant this fall, be sure it's thoroughly vacuum cleaned. It is one of the greatest precautions you can take to insure its most economical operation during the winter ahead.

When the heating surfaces are covered with as little as one-sixteenth of an inch of soot (which acts as an insulator against heat, being five times as effective as asbestos) it wastes fully one-quarter of every ton of coal you burn! What's more, a furnace caked with dirt and dust won't deliver nearly as much heat as a clean furnace will.

Call in a competent service man now and arrange for a thorough vacuum cleaning of your furnace. He will do the job without muss or inconvenience.

While he's doing that, have him check up the whole heating system from flue to ashpit—guard against any possible failure of the plant after cold weather sets in. I know you'll find the cost is little compared with the staggering cost of the fuel that a dirty, faulty plant is sure to waste! Every home-owner wants to save and not waste his fuel dollars!

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Make Your Own Lace Accessories

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

MISS COLLEGE GIRL

Miss Debutante and matrons young and not so young who being active in social affairs need must "dress up" to occasion, here's telling you how to economically acquire that air of elegance which fashion demands for this fall and winter. No matter how ungenerous your clothes allowance may happen to be you can have a whole collection of lace "pretties" such as the sketches here show at comparatively trifling cost. In fact the idea that prompts this illustration, together with its story, is to give you "pointers" on dressing smartly and handsomely on a limited allowance.

A touch of lace will do it! Transform your simplest demure and unpretentious gown into a costume of distinction. And now that we've told you, the first step is either to let your favorite dressmaker in on the secret (show her these sketches) or perhaps you prefer to thriftily adopt the "make it yourself" course of action. Not that you have to be an expert with the needle, for, provided with carefully selected patterns, there is no reason why, if you can sew even a little bit, that you should not successfully copy these charming fantasies. No matter how many you make of these lovely lace items you can't ever have too many.

Here's a word of friendly advice: don't stint in getting the best type laces for the finer and more exquisite lace you use in making these dainty fashions the more conclusively will they carry a message of high-style prestige.

If you are clever and have a knack of your own a pattern will not be necessary for the cape for it is cut along simple circular lines. However, a pattern similar to the model shown should be easily available. It has little tailored epaulet effects on the shoulders and cunning wee buttons with tiny thread-crochet loops to fasten it down the front. You can get it hemstitched about the edge or finish with roll hem. As an evening wrap this cape of black Chantilly may be worn over the fashionable all-black gown or over the dress done in lovely pastels.

Have you heard the news about the stunning blouse and skirt or jacket and skirt formals that designers are featuring this season? They are quite the talk in fashion realms. The jacket is supposed to be of sumptuous fabric or lace in contrast color to the monotone skirt. Choose black lace if you want it to "go with everything," although metal lace is wonderfully effective, or if you cherish a color scheme why not a lace jacket in the new spruce green with a crepe skirt in darker rich green, or suppose we say any color just so the jacket is lace? It is no trick at all to get a simple basque-jacket pattern of the type pictured and it will be found easy to make.

The little white cotton lace bolero is very popular and it can be made up so inexpensively it is worth while to keep two or three in waiting for emergency calls. Wear it over simple afternoon dresses or over a floor length crepe sheath which transforms it into an evening ensemble. Jeff of London has made an effective accessory ensemble of black Chantilly lace. (See sketch to right bottom.) The jabot with its high neckline matches a pair of gauntlets of the same black Chantilly, and together they give the essential feminine look to the most tailored of suits.

SILHOUETTE TRENDS FOR EVENING DRESS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Outside of that the pencil-slim Directoire with its high slit skirt and the revival of the Empress Eugenia, there is a definite tendency in many houses to a Spanish type of dress. This is usually marked by flounce ruffles. And one must not forget the gently widened skirt as evidenced also in the afternoon clothes. The most startling bit of material used in this has been the placing of various types of lace over lame to give the firmness and stiffness required. One more skirt—and the silhouette can be settled. That is the short front. This varies from the gradation effect to those cut off clear to the knees in front to show a filmy petticoat of ruffled net. A cross between this and the Directoire are skirts which are cut-away like a man's coat, to the knees and then come down to the ground at either side seam.

Daytime Footwear for Fall

Loses Rugged Sporty Look
Most daytime shoes have lost the rugged, sporty look that formerly characterized the appropriate footwear for tailored suits. Smart, soft-toed models, many of them made with elastic insets and gores, mould the foot trimly. Others, constructed entirely of elastic leather, insure a streamlined silhouette, unmarred by gapping sides or fastenings that protrude.

These snug, form-fitting styles are as easy on the feet as bedroom slippers, partly because of their construction and partly because of their comfortable walking-height heels covered with matching materials or built up of little uncovered layers that are nick-proof and resilient.

BRIDLE-PATH CHIC

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

To dress up to the part she plays should be the ambition of every true sportswoman. It may be along scenic bridle paths that the enthusiastic guides her gallant steed or it may be in the glare of bright light and trumpet loud in the fashionable horse show arena that she will make her bow. In either event her riding togs must be correct down to the slightest detail. The picture shows a sartorially perfect outfit. We would especially call your attention to the horse's head carved from brown shell catalin that is nonchalantly pinned on her coat. During the summer it became quite a fad to wear novel carved catalin fish, frogs, snails and such, either clips or brooches, on one's bathing suit.

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

Our National Bird.

LAS VEGAS, NEV. — Those folks back East who're agitating to make the turkey our national bird are late. Benjamin Franklin had the same notion 150 years ago.

Old Ben pointed out that the eagle was the emblem of various European monarchies, whereas the turkey was not only our largest and gamest wild bird, but a native of America.

To be sure, young turkeys aren't so smart. They love to get their feet wet so they may die from it. In dry sections, young turkeys have been known to jump down an artemisia well 90 feet deep in order to get their feet wet. But the adult turkey is wise and wily, a noble spectacle in the woods and popular in a cooked state, owing to his magnificent bust development and his capacity for holding stuffing or insertion, and his superiority when worked over into turkey hash.

But if we are going to make a change in emblems, why not choose the worm—the humble, dumb, unresisting worm—as typical of most of the present populace? It could be a one-sided worm, too, which would save costs in modeling, because so many of us are the kinds of worms that never turn.

Irvin S. Cobb

The Sucker Crop.

PARLIAMENT, next month, will pass statutes to curb stock market tricksters, fly-by-night brokers, and bucket shop operators who, it's estimated, are fleecing the British public to the tune of $25,000,000 annually.

We've tried it and it doesn't work. As Barnum stated, a sucker is born every minute — and sometimes twins. But the crooks who prey on the sucker crop, like the Dionne quintuplets, come along in batches. That breed spawn close to shore and the young all survive.

Thus is the rule of supply and demand balanced. In good times, there are just enough suckers to go around. In hard times, the suckers grow scarce, but, when one comes along, the crooks raffle him off and the winner takes all.

Anyhow, legislation won't save a sucker from himself—at least not in this country. He'll break through the law in order to prove he's a sucker in good standing in the suckers' lodge.

By the way, brother-member, how many degrees have you taken?

Restrained Statements.

A WAYFARER in Oklahoma, who claimed to have starved himself for forty-one days, on being asked how he felt, replied that he felt sort of hungry. Investigation showed the stranger had been cheating now and then to the extent of a clandestine beef stew or a surreptitious stack of wheat, but wasn't it a magnificently restrained statement?

For underemphasis, I can think of but a single instance to match it. In my youth, we had a policeman in our town with a nervous mannerism of killing folks.

One night, I was passing Uncle Tom Emery's saloon and snackstand for colored only. A group of subdued-looking customers fetched out the limp remains of a dark person who had been bored thrice through the heart.

"Uncle Tom," I inquired of the proprietor, "isn't that Monkey John?"

"Sho' is suh."
"How did it happen?" I asked.
"Well, suh," said Uncle Tom, "It seem like he musta antagonized Mr. Buck Ewitts."

Smoked Glasses for Snakes.

ON THE way here, I attended this year's snake dance. The snake dance has become indeed a strange sight—for the snakes. If the tourists don't modify their wardrobes by next year, I expect to see the snakes wearing smoked glasses. Veteran snakes that have taken part during past seasons are showing signs of the strain. The bull snakes still hiss—as who could blame them?—but the rattlers no longer rattle freely, evidently fearing it might be mistaken for applause.

The commissioner of Indian affairs wants the Navajoes to grow fewer goats. The Navajoes are balking. Goat hair is a profitable crop; goat meat makes good eating—for an aborigine stomach, anyhow—and goat smell is agreeable for Navajo noses. It seems to neutralize some of the other perfumes noticed during shopping hour in a reservation trading post.

Fall Fashion Parade

BE THE first to wear the new

Fall fashions in your group—let Sew-Your-Own help you to step right out in front, in the parade of new Fall Fashions. Today's trio gives you wide choice.

The Popular Basque Dress.

If you are twenty or thereabouts, you'll adore this pretty basque dress with its flaring skirt. The slim wasp waist and short puffed sleeves above a swing skirt are as young as the morning. Have it in a pretty dark print banded in velvet ribbon for every afternoon festivity. It's a dress that you'll wear all through the winter.

Yoke-Style House Frock.

Every woman will be quick to see the advantages of this frock, in style and wearability. The round yoke buttons at front and gives a fresh, young look to this design. Best of all, it is cut in one piece from neck to hem so that you can make it in practically no time at all. The waistline is darted for snug fit. You'll look and feel years younger in this model—wear it 'round the house and for afternoon, too.

Look Slim and Sleek.

The newest fashions give you a slim, sleek look even if you are not blessed with a svelte figure. The jabot model in the illustration is designed to make even the woman who is a bit on the plump side look sleek and inches slimmer. Make this dress in one of the new thin wools and see how you'll stand out in your crowd as a fashion leader.

The Patterns.

Pattern 1257 is designed for sizes 12 to 40. Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material and 11 yards of ribbon to trim.

Pattern 1380 is designed for sizes 34 to 48. Size 36 requires 4 1/4 yards of 39 inch material.

Pattern 1373 is designed for

The advertisements you find in your newspaper bring you important news. News in regard to quality and prices. Just as the "ads" bring you news on how to buy advantageously . . . so do the "ads" offer the merchant the opportunity of increasing his sales at small expense.

A FRIEND

Who is a friend? I will tell you. He is a person with whom you dare to be yourself. Your soul can go naked with him. He seems to ask of you to put on nothing—only to be what you are. He does not want you to be better or worse. When you are with him you feel as a prisoner feels who has been declared innocent. You do not have to be on your guard. You can say what you think, so long as it is genuinely you. He understands those contradictions in your nature that lead others to misjudge you. With him you breathe freely. You can avow your little vanities and envies and hates and vicious sparks, your meanness and absurdities, and in opening them up to him they are lost, dissolved on the white ocean of his loyalty. He understands. You do not have to be careful. You can abuse him, neglect him, tolerate him. Best of all, you can keep still with him. It makes no matter. He likes you. He is like fire that purges all you do. He is like water that cleanses all that you say. He is like wine that warms you to the bone. He understands you. You can weep with him, laugh with him, pray with him. Through and underneath it all he loves you. A friend, I repeat, is one with whom you dare to be yourself and whom you can trust.—Ex

DO IT RIGHT

If you would make good you must understand that the work which counts is the work in hand—it's the things you've done that show what you can, not the bigger and better things you plan. The work you do NOW must be done right if you reach your goal or your utmost height—so keep your aim but watch your step, doing your part each day with pep—for it's not what you do but how you do it that counts in making good.

Mr. Business Man

“RAISE UP YOUR RIGHT HAND, NOW, AND TELL US THE TRUTH, AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH!”

WHERE ARE YOU BUYING YOUR OFFICE SUPPLIES?”

If we were to ask each one of the business and professional men and women of McLean that question, we know the answer of an overwhelming majority would be: “We buy them in McLean!”

It is to those few firms who thoughtlessly give orders to the out-of-town salesmen, that this advertisement is directed. Possibly you have not tried The News office recently for your office and store needs. Our stock has been greatly enlarged.

Won't you give us a ring the next time you need anything? You will find our prices very reasonable, and our delivery service prompt.
