Alanreed Fair Attracts Many Exhibits Friday

A crowd estimated at about 1,000 visited the Alanreed fair last Friday and found exhibits that would have done justice to any county or regional fair.

In community exhibits, Eldridge won first place, Alanreed second, and McClellan third. Whitefish and Glenwood also had fine exhibits.

The county 4-H club both had entries from 12 different exhibitors, winning many first places.

A feature of the community exhibits was a fish made of cotton in the Whitefish booth. Eldridge had its name spelled in peppers, and McClellan in pods of peas.

There were 163 individual entries in the various exhibits, many of them placing high.

Bruce Nursery had a booth decorated with plants, trees, fruits and flowers that attracted much favorable comment.

The needlework booth rivaled exhibits at the Amarillo fair, and the curio booth held many museum pieces.

In the school arts division, work of school pupils made an interesting and educational display.

The rodeo and ball games were all that could be desired by those interested in sports, and the various stands about the grounds drew their full share of patronage.

Many McLean people visited the fair during the day, some of them arriving after the displays were being torn down, as the fair closed early in the afternoon.

Pampa was also represented by visitors from the county capital.

The fair executive committee consisted of Ralph R. Thomas, county agent; W. E. James, Morris S. Ledger, superintendent of the Alanreed school, and other members of the faculty.

The McLean band was the official band for the day.

The success of the fair occasioned much comment on making the celebration an annual affair.

MR. AND MRS. BURROWS TO MAKE YEAR'S TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burrows will leave next week for a year's tour of the country, and if they can find a better place than McLean, they threaten to make their home there.

Mr. Burrows came to Ramsdell to work for the Rock Island railroad in December, 1902, moving to McLean in February, 1904, working as section foreman. He later moved to Amarillo as roadmaster, but has always called McLean home during his service with the railroad.

Mr. Burrows' record of 34 years and 10 months with the Rock Island here was prefaced with 12 years on other lines, coming to the Rock Island from the Cotton Belt at Tyler. Mr. Burrows has never missed a pay day during his long term of railroad service.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrows' friends are guessing that they will return to continue making their home here after their tour.

Born Saturday, Oct. 23, 1937, to Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Switzer, a 6½ pound girl. The young lady has been named Glenda Lois.

Mrs. John B. Vannoy and Mrs. C. J. Cash visited Mrs. Fields at Shamrock Saturday.

Johnnie Mertel of Hedley visited home folks here over the week end.

Jim Darnell of Alanreed was in McLean Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Lasater were in Pampa Sunday.

McLean Tigers Lose to Fast Wellington Team

Outplaying the fast Wellington gridsters on the local field until the Skyrockets took to the air in the final quarter, the McLean Tigers lost the game Friday night with a score of 18-6.

The local eleven made more first downs and more yardage by power plays, and were admittedly the better team until their opponents rolled up two touchdowns in the last period.

Some 3,000 people paid $1210 to see the game, which was expected to be the best game of the season.

The growing of the football queen and formations by the pep squads and bands made it one of the most colorful spectacles ever seen on Tiger Field.

The Wheeler-Shamrock game was postponed until Saturday night in order for fans to see the McLean game. Wheeler won from Shamrock 7 to 6.

Mobeetle, who has been a consistent loser this season, played Clarendon Friday night, winning 52-0.

The Tigers will meet Wheeler on the local gridiron Friday night.

MRS. OSBORN HONORED AT BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. R. W. Osborn, a recent bride, was honored Tuesday afternoon at a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. John B. Vannoy.

Mrs. Luther Petty presided at the guest book, when all present wrote their names in the book that was later presented to the bride.

Mrs. Luther McCombs made the presentation speech, when she pretended to organize a club. She said: "In olden times a ship was turned loose to drift with the wind; not so with brides of today, as everybody is ready to give them advice." A lovely shower was given the honoree with many good wishes.

Those present were: Misses Le'la McCreary, Olive Louise Atwood and Dorothy Humphries; Mesdames T. E. Yeldell and Luther McCombs of Kellerville, Romain Pugh of Heald, Ed Clifton of Alanreed, J. H. Wade, Jack Foley, Neal Bowen, Lee Atwood, E. J. Windom, S. L. Humphries, Carl Lee, Jack Litchfield, Luther Petty, Arnold Sharp, Sam Sharp, W. L. Erwin, Toll Moore and John P. Vannoy.

Those sending gifts were: Mr. and Mrs. Milton Banta, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse J. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wall, Mesdames Fred Mann, Clifton Pugh, J. A. Fowler, Palestine Gething, Walter Smith, M. D. Smith, Leonard Huff, C. M. Eudey, L. H. Shockley, W. W. Shaddy, Norman Johnston, J. A. Sparks, and Miss Louise Wilson.

Mesdames Atwood and Moore assisted Mrs. Vannoy as hostess, and delicious refreshments of cocoa and cookies were served, with favors of Halloween suckers.

SCHOOL CARNIVAL SATURDAY

A school carnival will be staged on Main Street Saturday night, sponsored by the P. T. A.

Plenty of Halloween fun is promised. Proceeds will be used to help the school. See announcement in our advertising columns.

C. OF C. MEETS MONDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held at the city hall Monday night of next week beginning at 7:30.

According to President C. O. Greene, every member is urged to be present.

Mrs. Scott Johnston and daughter, Shirley; Mrs. Norman Johnston and children were in Shamrock Saturday.

Miss Laura Lee Howard of Amarillo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Howard, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Staggs visited their son and new granddaughter at Lamesa last week end.

Mrs. T. A. Landers and Mrs. D. A. Davis visited in Amarillo Tuesday.

Miss Lola Ruth Stanfield of Shamrock visited her sister, Mrs. H. C. Rippy, Saturday.

Alanreed vs. Dodsonville Game Here Tonight

Even though Alanreed's Longhorns won their first game with Dodsonville, it yet remains to be seen to whom the victory will belong, in a game scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday) on Tiger Field.

It is reported that the Dodsonville eleven has improved to the extent that they are ready to take on class B competition by now. Coach Joe Sribling has been putting his boys through the necessary paces to be a winning ball club. The Longhorns have suffered many injuries in their past two games and will be weakened considerably.

So far, Alanreed has split games with Samnorwood and Kelton. If she can win the insuing game with Dodsonville, she will be tied for first place in the conference.

Darnell, Alanreed's big fullback, is expected to return to the game after nursing a sprained ankle for the past week. Darnell has been accredited by critics as a passer and runner that is hard to beat. Reeves is another big threat on the Alanreed eleven who can run pass and kick. Bible has been shifted from halfback to center, and Bryant will probably play at guard. Alanreed has played a good brand of football all season, and their victories have not been due to any particular star.

All of the boys have been out there hustling every down, playing the kind of ball it takes to win. Coach Palmer says he is expecting Dodsonville to give him plenty of trouble when he turns his Longhorns out of the corral Thursday night. Come out and see two classy C class teams battle for conference honors.

Alanreed's probable starting line-up:

L. E.—Buddle Hill.
L. T.—Altonne Gilbreath.
L. G.—Red Hill.
C.—Jake Bible.
R. G.—E. C. Fulton.
R. T.—Weller Snyder.
R. E.—Joe Spradlin.
L. H.—L. W. Bryant.
R. H.—Ralph Prock.
Q. B.—Ray Reeves.
P. B.—Chester Darnell.

IFA BOYS MAKE REPORT ON KANSAS CITY TRIP

The following boys attended the national F. F. A. convention in Kansas City last week: E. M. Gossett, as local delegate; Jack Bogan, Clyde Carpenter, Jack Young and R. L. Floyd, as Texas F. F. A. band members. Much was seen and learned by all.

Probably the most interesting spectacle was the American Royal Horse Show and Stock Exhibit. Many prize animals and fowls were displayed, both national and international champions. Other high spots of interest were the visit to Swift & Company packing plant, a visit to the municipal airport, seeing Kansas City from the 32-story power and light building, which is the tallest building in Missouri; and a visit to the Federal courthouse.

Each state, including Hawaii and Porto Rico, was represented at the convention. There was an average of 204 members from each state, making a total of almost 10,000.

Much was learned about the procedure of F. F. A. meetings which should advance interest and organization in the local chapter.

Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, left Wednesday to conduct a revival meeting at Seymour. Horace Erwin will lead the singing for the revival.

Mr. C. M. Carpenter and Mrs. J. M. Noel were in Amarillo Friday. They were accompanied by the latter's daughter, Mrs. Paul Kennedy of White Deer.

E. C. Nicholson of Skellytown visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Nicholson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Alexander and daughter of Kermit visited relatives and friends here over the week end.

Witt Springer visited his children at Albuquerque N. M. over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Weatherby of Shamrock were in McLean Friday night.

FOURTH DOWN AND THREE TO GO

By Troy A. Sumrall

What is more thrilling than a good football game like we had Friday evening, if you like the game and are interested in the team?

If you go often, perhaps you have seen several situations as the following: The game is in the fourth quarter. The score is tied. McLean has the ball. There are only two minutes to play. It is the fourth down. Your team is within three yards of the goal line, which if they cross will bring to them the final victory. "Fourth down and three to go." The "Peppers" are shouting, "Buck that line, buck that line, buck that line," the audience is on tiptoe. The players are tense. Watson gives the signal. The ball is in motion. McLean bucks the line. Watson goes through. He is across the goal. The shouting is deafening. The game has been won. McLean is champion.

Applied to the Church

We, too, must, think of our great work as a game. It is the great game of reaching people for Jesus Christ, the great captain. It is the game of teaching people the Word of God. It is the game of winning people to a knowledge of the saving power of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. What game could be more thrilling than this? And, we must be interested.

We, too, have a goal to reach. A game would not be a game without a goal. Our church goal is that of achieving spiritual objectives. These objectives have been embodied in the program given to the church by our Lord. Wherever a church has adopted at heart this program given by the Lord and is following it, that church has and is making progress toward the goal.

What Play Shall We Run?

If a football team was trying for a goal and playing against time, the alert captain would call his team together in a "huddle" and together they would size up their situation.

If the church is to reach her goal, she must "huddle" together, discuss her problems, make necessary plans to reach the goal. Suppose the captain would call, and about half the players would come to the "huddle." Half would have the signal, half would not. In your estimation, what chance would they have at the goal? The same application is true in our game. If you fail to come with us, you fail to get the plan. If you do not have the plan at heart you cannot play the game with us successfully. We are depending on you and you are not dependable. You are hurting the team. The game may be lost. You are the cause. It is your game as well as mine. Success depends on cooperation.

Bucking the Line and Reaching the Goal

A football game was never won except by bucking the line—passing is to gamble. The "Peppers" help, so does the audience, but they don't play the game nor reach the goal. Neither shall we win in our church game by outside cheering. We will win the goal by bucking the line. Opposition must be overcome. In football some must play the part of John the Baptist, by clearing the path and preparing the way for those who carry the ball. In our church game we, too, must prepare the way for the working of the Holy Spirit, and when we have cleared the way He will come. "And when He is come, He will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment." Then let us buck the line and through Him we reach "the goal." "Wherefore, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a crowd of witnesses (watching us play) let us lay down the weights that hinder us, and the sin which burdens us," now let us play the game trustfully in Him (Christ) who orders (coaches) us. He for the joy ran with the cross, but now sits at the right hand of God.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Shaw and son, Wilson, visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. L. F. Aldrich, at Pampa Saturday.

Miss Aline McCarty of Pampa visited Mrs. Roger Powers over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wilson and children of Pampa visited here Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robertson and daughter of Pampa visited in McLean Sunday.

Funeral Rites Oren C. Ayer Today, 3:30 p. m.

Funeral rites will be said by Minister John G. Reese at the Church of Christ at 3:30 p. m. today (Thursday) for Oren C. Ayer, 24, who was accidentally killed by a gunshot wound on Oct. 25, at Victoria.

Young Ayer was hunting and had set his gun down and it was accidentally discharged, killing him instantly.

The Ayer family were residents here for some 12 years, and Oren finished his junior year in the McLean high school.

Burial will be made at Hillcrest cemetery, in the family plot, with Rice Funeral Home in charge.

COTTON MASS MEETING HERE NEXT TUESDAY

There will be a meeting of the cotton farmers, cotton buyers and ginners and other interested parties, at the Odd Fellows' Hall at McLean at 9:30 a. m., Tuesday, Nov. 2, for the purpose of discussing a cotton improvement program for the county. F. E. Lichte, Extension Cotton Gin Specialist; E. A. Miller, Extension Agronomist, and possibly D. T. Killough, Cotton Breeder of the Texas Experiment Station, will attend this meeting, according to Ralph Thomas, county agent.

The main subject of the meeting is to acquaint people with the serious situation and how it can be remedied by one-variety communities of good quality cotton. After the subjects have been presented, it is hoped that there will be discussions by interested parties.

Mr. Thomas pointed out that our exports are on the down grade, and it is necessary to improve on the quality of the cotton to meet increased competition of foreign countries.

PAMPA VISITORS AT LIONS CLUB TUESDAY

A number of Pampa Lions were present at the McLean Club's luncheon Tuesday, making up their attendance.

The Pampa delegation was headed by Deputy District Governor Arthur Teed, and consisted of H. L. Polley, Jack Dunn, Bob McCoy, Fred Roberts, Jess Wynn, Bob Thompson and Charlie Maisel.

County Agent Ralph R. Thomas and Principal W. M. Bralley of the McLean high school were also presented as visitors.

Agent Thomas was called upon for a funny story and responded by a talk on "Misunderstandings."

Boss Lion Creed Bogan told the final story of the meeting, that eclipsed anything yet told by Lion Thomas.

COLLEGE EXECUTIVES HERE

Dr. B. F. Fronabarger, head of the English department, and Miss Ada V. Clark of the music department of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, are visiting the McLean schools today (Thursday).

Dr. Fronabarger and Miss Clark have been in Gray county most all the week, visiting at Pampa and Lefors. They expect to visit many of the rural schools also.

Rev. Troy A. Sumrall, A. C. St. Clair, John W. Cooper, L. O. Floyd, Murray Boston, Jesse J. Cobb, Reep Landers, Bob Thomas, M. D. Bentley, A. L. Rippy, Roy Lasswell and W. H. Floyd attended the Baptist laymen's meeting at Wellington Tuesday night.

Mrs. Barney Fulbright returned Friday from Pampa, where she had undergone an operation.

Miss Margarie Mertel of Pampa visited home folks here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Marshall of Kermit visited in McLean over the week end.

Lenard Brawley of Palo Duro Canyon visited home folks here Sunday.

L. S. Tinnin was in Shamrock Saturday.

L. O. Floyd was in Alanreed Friday.

Tigers Meet Wheeler Team Here Friday

The McLean Tigers will meet the Wheeler Mustangs on Tiger Field Friday night for one of the toughest battles of the season.

The Wheeler eleven is claimed to be the best balanced team in the district, beating the Shamrock Irizement last Saturday.

Wheeler beat the Tigers last year 18-0, and Coach Allen's men are determined to even things up this time.

The Tigers received a few injuries in the Wellington game, but the starting line-up is expected to be unchanged.

The football season is now in full swing and fans will not be disappointed in Friday night's game. A capacity crowd is expected to again fill the Tiger stadium.

HALLOWEEN PARTY GIVEN BY EMB. CLUB

Ghosts, witches and black cats mingled with many weird animals and fowls when members of the Centennial Embroidery Club entertained a number of ladies at a Halloween party at the home of the club president, Mrs. H. W. Finley, last Friday afternoon.

Games appropriate to the day were supervised by Mrs. W. E. Bogan, Mrs. Jim Back and Mrs. W. H. Floyd.

The house was arrayed with black cats, jack o' lanterns, and fall cut flowers.

A delicious refreshment plate was served by Mrs. C. H. Leeds, Mrs. H. E. Franks, Mrs. Byrd Gull, Mrs. Creed Bogan and the hostess.

Special guests were: Mesdames Chas. Anderson, Billie Thomas, Joe John B. Rice, C. J. Cash, Pete Fulbright, Dan Deen, W. E. Ballard, Clifford Allison, W. L. Campbell, T. A. Massey, C. L. Jones, J. E. Kirby and A. B. Christian.

Club members present were: Mesdames Kid McCoy, C. H. Leeds, H. E. Franks, W. E. Bogan, Creed Bogan, Jim Back, Byrd Gull, Amos Thacker, H. W. Finley and W. H. Floyd.

$1.00 OFFERED FREE

The Southwestern Public Service Co. offers $1.00 for their advertisement in this week's paper when applied on the purchase of an I. E. S. Better Sight floor lamp.

Manager C. O. Greene says that they expect a shipment of new lamps this week, and this will represent a real discount from the price. The advertisement must be presented at the time of purchase, and only one advertisement will be accepted on each lamp.

The I. E. S. Better Sight lamps have superseded all other means of lighting for reading purposes, and each home should have one or more of these lamps, as a means of conserving good eyesight.

SCHOOL PLAY PLEASERS

The negro minstrel and one-act play staged at the high school auditorium Tuesday night by grade school pupils pleased a capacity crowd.

The second grade rhythm band opened the program with a couple of numbers, and the Texas Hill Billies played between curtains.

Mrs. Betty Ince of Amarillo visited her mother, Mrs. A. A. Christian, and other relatives over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Winsett of Higgins visited in the C. M. Carpenter home Sunday.

Mayor Vester Smith was in Shamrock Saturday.

Edward W. Pickard SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK

Davis Sent to Brussels

NORMAN H. DAVIS is on his way to Brussels, Belgium, as head of the American delegation to a conference of the signatories of the nine-power treaty which, the optimists hope, will put an end to the warfare between Japan and China.

Norman H. Davis

Associated with Mr. Davis, the administration's roving ambassador, are Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck and Pierrepoint Moffat as advisers. Robert T. Pell is the press officer and C. E. Bohlen is secretary of the delegation.

Before sailing for Europe the delegates received instructions from President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull, but these were not revealed to the public.

The invitation to the conference was issued by the Belgian government "at the request of the British government and with the approval of the government of the United States." China and Japan are both signatories to the treaty.

Labor Peace Parley

LEADERS in the American Federation of Labor and the C. I. O. gathered in Washington for a conference designed to end the warfare between those divisions of organized labor in America.

Some of them thought the negotiations might result in an early settlement of their disputes or at least a truce. Neither President Green nor John L. Lewis ventured any prediction as to the outcome of the deliberations.

Secretary Perkins announced in Washington that she had named a federal committee on apprentice training to become a permanent agency in the Labor department.

workers to supply the country's growing needs and to guarantee a thorough trade preparation for apprentices."

Straus Heads Housing

NATHAN STRAUS of New York city was named administrator of the $526,000,000 federal housing program by President Roosevelt.

Arkansas Picks Miller

JOE ROBINSON'S successor as senator from Arkansas will be Congressman John E. Miller, Democrat, for he defeated Gov. Carl G. Bailey in the special election by an impressive majority.

Airliner Wrecked; 19 Dead

SMASHING against Hayden peak, in the Uinta mountains of Utah, a big transcontinental airliner of the United Air Lines was totally wrecked and its passengers and crew, numbering 19 persons, were killed.

Special Session Called

CONGRESS was called in extraordinary session to start November 15, and immediately after President Roosevelt explained in a "fireside chat" over the radio the necessity for this as he sees it.

These are the five measures he said should be passed without delay: Crop production control to "build an all-weather farm program so that in the long run prices will be more stable."

Wage and hour standards to "make millions of our lowest paid workers actual buyers of billions of dollars of industrial and farm products."

Regional planning to conserve natural resources, prevent floods and produce electric power for general use.

Government reorganization to provide "twentieth century machinery" to make the "democratic process work more efficiently."

Stronger antitrust laws in furtherance of "a low price policy which encourages the widest possible consumption."

Chairman O'Connor of the house rules committee predicted the house would pass a farm bill in the first week of the session and then take up the wage and hour measure. Some Democratic leaders said the labor bill, which was passed by the senate in the last session but held up in the house rules committee, would probably be the only one of the five measures to get through congress in the special session.

Why the Stock Slump?

WHO or what is responsible for the decided slump in the stock market is a moot question. In his recent "fireside chat" the President intimated that Wall Street was to blame for its own troubles and belittled the effect proposed legislation would have on the markets and general business.

Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the Chase National bank, largest bank in the country, doesn't agree with Mr. Roosevelt in this. He says Wall Street is honest, and lays the blame for the adverse market situation on the doorstep of the administration and particularly the securities and exchange commission.

New Budget Figures

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT found his estimate of $418,000,000 as the probable deficit for 1938 fiscal year was much too low. So he gave out new budget figures putting the probable deficit at nearly 700 millions. And it admittedly will be much greater unless the executive and congress achieve very considerable economies.

Brady Gang Wiped Out

LAST of the big "mobs" of bank robbers and murderers, the Brady gang was wiped out in a gun battle with federal agents at Bangor, Maine. Al Brady, the leader, and Clarence Shaffer, Jr., his lieutenant, were killed; and James Dalhove was wounded and captured. The outlaws were recognized by a clerk in a sporting goods store and the G-men were summoned. Dalhove was to be taken to Indiana to stand trial for the murder of a state policeman, one of four killings attributed to the gang. He made a full confession, and search began for persons who had been aiding them.

The gangsters' capture was believed to have nipped a potential New England crime wave. Floor plans of two banks were found in Dalhove's possession with maps of nearby roads.

Divorce Rule Stands

CHURCH laws against remarriage of divorced persons by Episcopal clergymen stand unchanged for at least three years. Proposed liberalization of the rule was defeated by the house of deputies of the church at the general convention in Cincinnati. The deputies voted to continue for another three years the commission on marriage and divorce.

The defeated proposal would have permitted bishops to allow Episcopal clergymen to solemnize marriage of persons, who were divorced for any cause, after study of each case.

Mine Disaster

COAL gas exploded in the Mulga mine in Alabama 12 miles from Birmingham, and the lives of 33 miners were snuffed out. Five hundred men were at work in the mine at the time, but fortunately the explosion was four miles from the entrance. The blast was the first since the operation of the mine was taken over by the Woodward Iron company, large producers of merchant iron in Birmingham. However, 56 men had been killed at Mulga in former years.

"Lindy" Still American

RUMORS that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was planning to become a British subject seem to be false, for he has just accepted a five year renewal of his commission in the United States army air corps. Army officers expressed the belief privately he would not have renewed his air corps tie if he intended changing his allegiance. The airman has retained his military status since his graduation in 1925 from the air corps flying school at Kelly field, Texas.

Palestine Terrorism

BRITISH military authorities took stern measures to suppress the violence in Palestine, but apparently without success. The Arabs continued their attacks on the Jewish people and buildings and in Jerusalem began using bombs. Gen. A. P. Wavell, commander of the 10,000 British troops in Palestine, ordered the homes of Arab terrorists burned, following the destruction of Kalandia airport, near Lydda, with an estimated loss of $50,000.

Sixty persons were arrested for breaking the twenty-four hour curfew which amounts to virtual martial law.

If this sort of thing keeps up, Great Britain is likely to make Palestine a crown colony instead of a mandate.

Big Battle at Shanghai

SHANGHAI was witnessing the fiercest battle of the Sino-Japanese war. Land and air forces of both sides were fighting furiously and the casualties were piling up hour by hour. The Chinese were making a great counter-offensive for which they had massed men and guns about the city. The Japanese were ready for the attack, and desperately battled to turn back their foes. Observers described the hand-to-hand fighting as that of madmen, especially in the Chinese quarter.

A big fleet of Chinese airplanes was sent down the Yangtze and bombs were showered on the Japanese warships along the Japanese-occupied shore of the Whangpoo.

Floyd Gibbons' ADVENTURERS' CLUB

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Downhill Toward Death"

By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO, EVERYBODY: Here's a yarn, fellow adventurers, that socks me right smack in the weakest spot I've got. You know, I am not afraid of mice, and I don't go around nights looking under beds for burglars. Some day I might even get used to being shot at or torpedooed, or chewed up by man-eating kangaroos. But height—altitude—elevation—anything more than two inches off good, flat, solid ground—just about scares me to death.

Today, reading a yarn from Adventurer Eric K. Frank of Palisades Park, N. J., I got a dose of altitude fever I couldn't very well avoid.

It was quite a few miles away from here, boys and girls, and quite a few years back. The episode that is scaring the pants off of me happened on Winsel-Burg mountain in south Germany in the year 1927. Then, Eric Frank was one of a party of hardy souls who had gone out with a guide for a skiing jaunt on the treacherous slopes of the Winsel-Burg. They had been climbing up steep paths, edging their precarious way along narrow, ice-covered ledges, skirting treacherous cliffs and dodging dangerous pitfalls. Finally they came out on a broad slope covered with hard-packed January snow, whose vast, glistening expanse reared itself high up the mountain side, and here the leader called a halt.

One of the Party Was Missing.

Four hours is a long time to be climbing. That bunch of ski-pushers hunkered right down in the snow for a rest—started opening up knapsacks—got out their lunches. They were all set for a nice quiet little meal in the peace and stillness of the great outdoors, but they forgot that old Mother Nature, for all that she is a quiet old dame, can be cruel and murderous when she has a mind to.

The knapsacks were open—the lunches out—some of the crowd had started eating when the guide remembered a precaution highly necessary in those regions where people get lost from their parties, fall down cliffs and get stuck in crevasses. He started to check over the people in his charge to make sure none of them were missing. He counted the gang twice, frowned, counted them again. Then, his face pale and his voice shaky, he announced that the party was short one man.

Eric Frank had a queer feeling in the pit of his stomach when he heard that announcement. "I was filled with fear," he says, "and I know everyone else was too. I pity anyone who gets lost in those mountains. Either he starves to death, freezes to death, or ends up at the bottom of a gorge with his bones broken." He put away his lunch unopened—strapped on his knapsack, and started out with the rest of the party to search for the lost man.

Eric Yelled to Him to Stop.

Riding Fast to Sure Death.

For two hours they hunted, doubling back on their own tracks, trying to find the place where he had left the party. Finally, they spotted him—a rapidly moving speck, far off to the left—a man on skis, hurtling at express-train speed down the side of the mountain. It was a sight that should have brought joy to that anxious little party of searchers, but it only filled them with a new and awful fear. Unfamiliar with the country, the man on skis was riding STRAIGHT TO HIS DESTRUCTION. The slope he was careening down so merrily ended in a steep, towering cliff. If he wasn't stopped before he got to the bottom, he would be dashed to pieces on the ice-covered rocks below.

Eric thrust his feet into the toe-straps of his skis—told his comrades he was going to try to head that poor devil off. "You can't do it," his friends told him. "He's too far gone. Nothing on earth could reach him in time. You'll only go over the cliff yourself." Eric didn't even hear the last of it. He was on his way, shooting down the mountainside in the direction of the doomed man—and the threatening, ever-nearing cliff.

The man ahead had almost a two-mile lead when Eric started. He'd need all the speed he could muster to close that gap in time to save the poor fellow from the cliff. He raced along down the mountain, knees bent, head and chest thrust forward to lower the wind resistance—using every bit of strength and skill that was in him.

Saved by Eric's Desperate Measure.

He was careening along now at forty miles an hour, the rush of cold air in his face making his eyes water so that he could hardly see. He crouched lower and stepped up his pace. Now he was making forty-five—fifty-eight—fifty, and slowly gaining on the man ahead. About half a mile from the cliff's edge, he caught up with his man—motioned to him to halt. Then his heart sunk as the fellow waved back at him and kept right on going.

Eric yelled to him to stop. The wind ripped the words from his mouth and carried them away up the mountainside. He tried making motions again, but you can't make many motions balanced on a pair of skis going fifty miles an hour. The edge of the cliff was only two hundred yards away now. There was one chance left and Eric took it. He whipped up his speed, passed his man, and flung himself headlong in his path. There was no mistaking that gesture. The friend braked his skis, slowed down, fell in a heap over Eric's bruised and lacerated body. When he got up again—saw the edge of the cliff only fifty feet away—his face turned white as the snow that had nearly carried him to his death.

And after that, boys and girls, came one of the briefest conversations on record. The lad Eric had saved stood up, looked down at that gaping declivity before him, and in a weak voice said: "OH." Eric didn't say anything. After all, what was there to say?

Cymbalism

Most people regard the cymbals as an unimportant instrument in an orchestra, but some of the most striking effects are obtained by them. Unless the note produced by banging them has just the right timbre they are useless, and manufacturers regard the production of perfect cymbals as a hit-or-miss affair. But there is one cymbal maker, according to London Tit-Bits Magazine, who guarantees the right tone every time. For centuries his family have made cymbals, and he possesses a secret tempering process which makes them sought after by every famous orchestra in Europe and America. Although he employs dozens of assistants, the tempering of every pair is done by him.

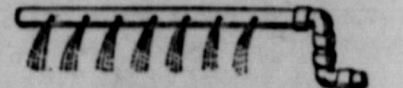

Corn Bore to Colonists

The first Europeans to recognize corn's importance were the English colonists on our Atlantic coast. Wheat they tried and it failed them; and when the very existence of the Massachusetts and Jamestown settlements hung in precarious balance during those first hard winters, it was corn that saved them. Capt. John Smith forced every family of his little band to plant corn. They were rewarded handsomely. Like the sparse crops of the first dawn of civilization, it became a means of exchange, a form of money. Surplus corn built up trade and commerce, encouraged the growing stream of immigrants crossing the Atlantic, and opened the gates to wealth and prosperity.

Home Heating Hints By John Barclay Heating Expert

THERE is an easy way to keep dust from sifting through the cracks of the asphalt door when shaking furnace grates. Quite a few readers have asked me how it can be done, and I'm sure many more of you will be interested. Here's how:

Have a spray made of small pipe, connected with the cold water system installed in the asphalt of the furnace. Only a short length of pipe will be needed. In it have small holes drilled and cap the free end.

Just before shaking the grates, turn on the spray. It will throw a fine mist over the whole asphalt, wetting down the ashes as they drop through the grate openings and settling the dust immediately. Then remove the ashes from the asphalt. They will be sufficiently wet to prevent the dust from rising and settling in the cellar.

The cost and installation of such a spray will be but little, and it certainly will save you considerable work in dusting off things on which the dust would otherwise settle.

for WOMEN only

CARDUI is a special medicine for the relief of some of the suffering which results from a woman's weakened condition. It has been found to make monthly periods less disagreeable, and when its use has been kept up awhile, has helped many poorly nourished women to get more strength from their food. This medicine (pronounced "Card-u-i") has been used and recommended by women for many, many years. Find out whether it will help you by giving it a fair trial. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

Never Happens

There never was a good war or a bad peace.—Franklin.

What Two Things Happen When You Are Constipated?

When you are constipated two things happen. FIRST: Wastes swell up the bowels and press on nerves in the digestive tract. This nerve pressure causes headache, a dull, lary feeling, bilious swell, loss of appetite and dizziness. SECOND: Partly digested food starts to decay forming GAS, bringing on sour stomach (acid indigestion), and heartburn, bloating you up until you sometimes gasp for breath. Then you spend many miserable days. You can't eat. You can't sleep. Your stomach is sour. You feel tired out, groggy and miserable. To get the complete relief you seek you must do TWO things. 1. You must relieve the GAS. 2. You must clear the bowels and GET THAT PAINFUL OFF THE NERVES. As soon as irritating wastes are washed out you feel miraculously refreshed, bliss vanish, the world looks bright again. There is only one product on the market that gives you the double action you need. It is ADLERKA. This efficient, non-irritating, cathartic relieves that awful GAS at once. It often removes bowel congestion in half an hour. No waiting for overnight relief. Adlerka acts on the stomach and both bowels. Ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adlerka has been recommended by many doctors and druggists for 35 years. No griping, no after effects. Just QUICK results. TRY Adlerka today. You'll never use such an efficient intestinal cleanser.

SENIOR THRILLS

You can hardly imagine the thrill the seniors experienced last Wednesday morning, Oct. 20, at 9 o'clock when Mr. Cryer got up on the stage and read: "Lavoy Donaldson 13,169 votes." The seniors won by a margin of over 6,000 votes. Every member of the senior class really worked hard to put their queen over. Those of you who missed the queen coronation missed one of the most beautiful scenes you can imagine. Miss Farley and Miss Cousins, our assistant sponsor, complimented the seniors on the good work they did, but stressed the idea that they want them to keep up the good work.

Now that the queen race is over, the seniors want to settle down for a while and do some hard studying, and try to make up for the time they have lost.

Monday morning the seniors experienced another thrill when they received their rings. Every member of the class of '38 feels that these rings are more beautiful than any others selected up to this time. On each side of the ring is a crouching tiger; on top is a raised design of black enamel on gold, on which appears the letter M and the word McLean; on the left of the M is the figure 3, and on the right an 8. But since they beggar description, you must really see them to appreciate the design and workmanship.

CONGRATULATIONS, SENIORS

As a token of appreciation of the junior candidate, the class bought her a pair of riding boots. The rest of the money will be spent preparing for the junior-senior banquet.

FRESHMEN NOTES

The queen race ended Oct. 20, and the freshmen were last, having a little over 600 votes. All we have to say is "We hope to do better next year."

BAND MEMBERS IN DEMAND

Band members have been very busy since last week. Thursday evening, the band with the pep squad, went to Pampa, where they broadcasted. Friday morning the band played for the Alanreed fair. Friday night at the beginning of the game, the band marched on the field to assist in the coronation of the football queen, and at the half both band and pep squad marched on the field to make the formations complimenting Wellington.

BUSINESS MEN ATTEND RALLY

Proving that the town is really supporting the Tigers, a number of business men attended the pep rally last Thursday morning and made short talks to the team and student body. Those present were: Messrs. Witt Springer, C. E. Cooke, D. C. Carpenter, C. O. Greene, E. L. Sitter, Perry Everett, Jesse J. Cobb, J. A. Meador, Charlie Nicholson, M. D. Bentley, Rust Smith, C. S. Doolen, Lee Wilson, Roy Campbell, W. E. Bogan, Dr. Batson, Rev. Sumrall and Rev. Sharp; also Johnnie Quattlebaum of Amarillo. Coach Allen made a short talk, and band, pep squad and student body each contributed their part to make the rally a great success. Come back soon, Mr. Businessmen.

HOME ECONOMICS REPORT

The first year girls have been studying the different ways to part their hair, and have found the study to be very interesting and beneficial. The second year girls will take up the study of meat this week. Last week they prepared soup in the laboratory.

The third year girls are continuing their work on their special occasion dresses.

SHERLOCK SNOOPINGS

Why did Billy want to get his cap from Louelle?

How did Dorothy get the name "Old Flirt"?

What does Shirley know about the Ferring Hotel?

Why was Margaret so anxious to go to her locker Tuesday?

Mary Louise had quite a time with those beans.

Did Miss Smith really want to go home?

One of the teachers has acquired a dislike for zippers. Wonder why?

It seems Dorothy Sue and Billy are getting serious.

Doesn't everybody think the seniors have a pretty football queen?

Who were Bill and Trimble with Sunday night?

Vester Lee, why did Jesse Dean want to play the radio on the way home from Pampa?

Why was Clyde so anxious to attract Trimble's attention, coming back from Pampa Thursday?

BASKETBALL GAME

The McLean Tigerettes scored 31-21 against the Alanreed high school girls' team Thursday evening, Oct. 21. The game was played in the local gymnasium. This was the first game played by either team this season.

According to Coach Orville Cunningham, the team is in excellent condition and a successful basketball season is predicted.

All girls reporting for basketball played a part in the game. Those on the training squad are as follows: Naomi Gunn, Mary Lou Clemmons, Viola Clemmons, Fleta Cunningham, Norma Lee Rickard, Julia McCarty, Dorothy Sitter, Dorothy Sue Young, Opal Tedder, Wilma Holmes, Glyndora Bailey, Georgia Colebank, Velma Mann, Helen Sharp, Audrey Terrell, Iona Batson, Margaret Kramer, Opal Thacker, and Wilda Joyce McMullen.

TIGERS MEET MUSTANGS FRIDY

The McLean Tigers, after suffering defeat at the hands of the Wellington Skyrockets, will meet another tough district foe this week end when they play Wheeler. Wheeler beat Shamrock 7 to 6 Saturday night, leaving only Wellington undefeated, but with several important conference games to play.

The Tigers received a few injuries in the Wellington game, but the starting line-up will not be changed any from last week.

Wheeler has the best balanced ball club in the district. They have a powerful running attack, and any time it won't go they have a passing attack to rely on.

Weeks, triple threat man for the Mustangs, made their touchdown against Shamrock in two end runs netting 50 yards. His punting and passing also put Wheeler in position to score, and has won them several games.

Last year Wheeler beat McLean 18 to 0, and McLean will be seeking revenge on a rejuvenated Mustang football team.

Wheeler never permitted the Irishmen to threaten to win their ball game; they outplayed them in every department.

Although Wellington beat the McLean Tigers 18 to 6, the Tigers won a moral victory by making 12 first downs to 7 for the visitors, while penetrations were 3 to 0.

Joe Billy Bogan and Watson, stars of the Wellington game, will be in the thick of the Wheeler game, as well as Braxton and Humphreys, backs for the Tigers.

Mike Wingo, tackle for the Tigers, played an outstanding ball game. Myrle Norman, end, knocked off two blockers and tackled Austin by himself, which is great playing in anybody's language.

A large crowd is expected to see the fighting Tigers seek revenge from the Wheeler Mustangs, with neither team holding any odds or advantages.

Wheeler will come over to McLean Friday night 100% strong to cheer their Mustangs. Tiger stadium will be filled again, but not to the capacity crowd it had last week when some 5,000 fans saw the hard-fought Skyrocket-Tiger tilt.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The sophomores now have in their treasury about $4.50. This is what we had left after we divided our queen race money with the athletic department.

Even though Opal Thacker did not get to be football queen, she was a good loser. We are proud of that fact.

LAVOY DONALDSON IS CROWNED FOOTBALL QUEEN

In one of the most colorful ceremonies of its kind ever staged on Tiger Field, Lavoy of the House of Donaldson was crowned queen of the 1937 Tiger squad by Captain D. V. Nicholson.

At 7:15 Friday evening the coronation float of black and gold was driven on the field bearing the attendants of the queen: Dorothy Sue of the House of Young, junior representative; Opal of the House of Thacker, sophomore representative; Beth Evonne of the House of Floyd, freshman representative. The attendants were introduced by High School Principal W. M. Bralley, after a short welcoming address to the visiting Skyrockets and citizens from surrounding towns.

The band and pep squad then advanced in airplane formation, while the queen rode in state in a new automobile which formed the body of the airplane. The formation halted at the 40 yard line, and as the band played the "Triumphant March," Captain Nicholson crossed the field and escorted the queen to the throne. As he placed the crown on her head, the lights of Tiger Field faded and an amber spot light revealed the queen in all her glory. Led by the float, the procession then left the field and another queen has been crowned.

TIGERS LOSE TO SKYROCKETS

Friday night, the Tigers lost an important conference game to the Wellington Skyrockets. Every man on the Tiger team played head-up football, but they could not hold Austin in check. The score was 18-6. The Tigers held the advantage all the way through the game as far as first downs and penetrations were concerned, but there were times when they could not keep Austin in check.

Wellington made the first touchdown as Austin who, behind nice blocking, ran 55 yards for a touchdown. The Tigers came right back with their powerful attack and Watson plunged it over from the four yard stripe. The last half was more or less a nightmare to the McLean fans, who were among the three thousand five hundred that jammed the stadium.

A razzle dazzle pass resulted in Wellington's second touchdown. Near the end of the fourth quarter Austin made another 50 yard gallop for the last touchdown.

The McLean fans showed great loyalty to the school, inasmuch as the Tigers have received as many compliments since the Wellington game as they have any other.

We meet Wheeler's galloping Mustangs next Friday night here. The Mustangs ran rough shod over Shamrock last week 7-6. Wheeler beat us last year 18-0, and we must have revenge.

GAS, CONSTIPATION KEEP MAN IN MISERY

"I have been in great misery for the last six weeks from acid indigestion, gas pains and all tied up with constipation, unable to eat or sleep," says P. J. Hurlburt. "Yesterday noon I took a dose of ADLERIKA and last night another, and I want to say I enjoyed the first real night's sleep I have had in six weeks. Not a single gas pain even though I ate a good dinner. It is a miracle the way ADLERIKA took hold." Thorough action—never gripes. CITY DRUG STORE. P-2

Luxuriously Furred Costumes

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE big news about fall and winter fashions is that they bespeak a new high in elegance. When fashion goes opulent, goes sumptuous, goes luxurious, then what inevitably happens? Well for one thing it follows as the night the day that designers turn to handsome furs and fur trimmings as one way of conveying the message of elegance in the mode.

Which accounts for the fact that the new coats, suits and ensembles show an enrichment of fur that emphatically declares an era of luxurious dress. In consequence, women who are fashion-alert have taken their cue and are making it their chief concern to acquire a complete ensemble costume styled of high-grade material ranging from rugged colorful tweeds to refined duvetyns, broadcloths or velvets that are graced with precious fur—the sort that bespeaks a "lady of quality."

The models pictured have been carefully selected from among a collection shown at a preview given by the Style Creators of Chicago in the wholesale district. These furred costumes were designed by members of their group to meet the demands of women that class as among the best dressed.

Perfect for crisp autumn days is the outfit to the left in the picture. The dress is of sheer black alpaca weave. Its novel metal chain and clasp closing showing between the fur on the coat gives it a military bearing. The free-swinging coronation red wool coat is a fascinating garment, and its tuxedo bands of marten fur make it more so.

Which reminds us the revival of marten fur this season is a most significant event. It has been a long time since we have been seeing much marten in the style picture. Its return will be welcomed for it is not only as handsome as can be, but for dependable wear it has no superior.

When the smartly dressed woman steps out in a gorgeously furred costume as centered in the picture, she will be the cynosure of admiring eyes. This sheer wool model combines a tuxedo-front coat trimmed in a huge cross fox with a one-piece dress that is simply charming. Note the decorative quilted flowers outlined in gold thread at the neckline. The gold kid belt adds the finishing touch.

There is really no limit to the ingenuity displayed in the placement of fur. It is used for separate sleeves in cloth coats so much so that the fashion has become quite outstanding this season. The coat with a bolero top is ever so smart, too. The newest wrinkle is the bolero type that has the lower collar part zipped on so that it can be removed at will thus providing a jaunty little fur jacket or full length coat. Among countless other fur arrangements novelties are to be seen such as a panel of fur extending down the back of the coat from neck to hemline as if it were a wattleau pleat. Frequently double borderings of fur occur about hemlines.

SUEDE FOURSOME

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Suede from head to foot is the next move, says fashion. Here is shown a suede foursome that answers to the call. The hat is a harvest rust off-the-face suede model with a right up-flung brim. It fits low in the back. The shoes are multi-toned open throat suede oxfords with bindings of coffee brown and Araby green on harvest rust. The bag is a large suede design in harvest rust with gold metal trim.

JEWELRY DESIGNERS GO ROMANTIC ALSO

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

With romanticism gaining such a headway in fashions for fall, small wonder that jewelry manufacturers have recognized it and are all set for a hey-day. Jewelry, my good woman, is not only getting bigger and better, but practically all of it has been inspired. Some of the inspirations are modern, but most of them have been drawn from an era when romance was at its height and glamour stalked the world in high places.

Such romantic figures as Empress Carlotta, glamorous wife of the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian who reigned for such a short time, (1864-1867) or Mexico; Joan of Arc; grand duchesses whose jewels were of such splendor as to have been remembered; these, and lovely ladies of the gay nineties and the naughty naughts, are being immortalized, more or less, in smart pieces of costume jewelry designed by Alberta, one of America's leading costume jewelry designers.

The "Empress Carlotta" jewelry has been copied from some of her pieces of jewels found in a museum in Mexico. For evening it is the most elegant, for it is made of Kimberley gems which are cut and set like fine diamonds in 24 karat gold washed metal.

"Joan of Arc" jewelry is part of an all-metal group which Alberta believes will be a big success for fall. This line is made of a silvery metal studded like the doors of a medieval castle.

Costume Jewelry

The dog collar and the feather tiara are two revivals of the Gay Nineties period which are important this season.

Hats, Handbag Match

Knitted hats and handbags are designed to match hand-knit frocks and suits in dark, rich colors for winter wear.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

The Place of Radio.

SANTA MONICA, CALIF. — "Deke" Aylesworth says radio can never displace newspapers. "Deke" is with Roy Howard's newspapers now and naturally wouldn't care to have his job shot out from under him by a loudspeaker. Most of us feel that way about our jobs, unless we happen to be working in some state institution, such as a penitentiary.

Radio never can displace newspapers any more than milk-tickets can displace milk. The newspaper reader chooses what he pleases from the day's coverage—gratifying obituary notices of people he didn't like; convincing statements from financial wizards explaining why his investments turned sour after he'd bought them on advice of aforesaid wizards; and, about once in so often, exciting special articles about the Hope diamond or the William Desmond Taylor case or the lure of Mr. Robert Taylor. But, the listener-in on radio must accept what somebody else already has predigested, which puts him in the same class with tapeworms.

So long as you can't wrap up a picnic lunch in a radio or use short wave sets to line pantry shelves with, we'll have newspapers.

Thanks, "Deke," I'm working for a string of newspapers myself.

Irvin S. Cobb

The League's New Head.

I TAKE back all I ever said about the League of Nations being as futile as a fly swatter in a saloon brawl.

The league has a new president—the Aga Khan, who has the largest private income on earth because 40,000,000 Mohammedans regard him as divine and pay for the privilege, often going hungry in order to do so. And he certainly is qualified to head a society dedicated to peace—he never parted from any of his wives except with the utmost harmony.

Well, to celebrate his election, the Aga Khan gave the most gorgeous banquet ever staged in Geneva—1,500 bottles of champagne and 300 pounds of caviar.

Thus did the league justify its right to existence. There were but few flies in the ointment. Ethiopia's delegates were either deceased or missing, the league having drawn the color line, so to speak, which was more than Mussolini did when he wiped out their country last year. Spain's delegates likewise were absent, being mostly dead or else fighting one another.

Sick Calls De Luxe.

PAT O'BRIEN, the actor, tells this one about an Irish cop at the crossing who waved a car containing three priests to proceed after the stop signal had gone up and then, with harsh words, checked another driver who sought to follow along, too.

"But you let that other car with those three clergymen in it go through," protested the halted one. "They was on their way to a sick call," stated the officer.

"Now wait a minute," said the citizen. "I happen to be a Catholic myself and I know about those things. Who ever heard of three priests going on one sick call?"

For a moment only the policeman hesitated. Then he snapped:

"Say, young feller, tell me this, you that knows so much—did you never hear of a solemn high sick call?"

French Slickers.

POLICE are still trying to round up the slickers who, in one day, raided twenty-nine banks scattered all over France. This reminds a fellow of 1931, when the bank examiners were coroners simultaneously sitting on the mortal remains of an even larger number of American banks, the main difference being that these French banks were looted by outside parties.

According to dispatches, this job was accomplished through fraudulent credentials for strangers presenting forged drafts. But I beg leave to doubt that part, remembering when I turned up at various outlying points over there with proper identifications and a perfectly good letter of credit. What excitement then on the part of the cashier (spade beard) and what deep distress for the president (trellis whiskers) and what stifled moans from the board of directors (assorted beavers) when, finally, they had so fork over. Why you can wreck a perfectly good bank here in less time than it takes to get a certified check for $9.75, less exchange, cashed in a French provincial bank.

But should it develop that any of these recently stolen francs were earmarked for payment to us on account of that war debt—brother, that would indeed be news.

A Trio of Triumphs

THE way to day-in, day-out chic for the woman who sews is shown in today's attractive new three-way plan. It goes deeper than the surface, you see, in the presentation of a sleek new slip. Ah, and it gives great thought to the surface, as you can't help but note in the two wing-side models.

Spley New Model.

As shipshape as a Parisian streamline fashion and, in its own role, as important—that's the little number at the left above. It does wonders to give one that up and doing feeling that's handy to have around the house in the morning. Make this frock in gay cotton: shantung, print, gingham, or crash.

A Congenial Slip.

Beneath a well-groomed surface hangs a perfect fitting slip! That's an old and honest notion and one Sew-Your-Own abides by religiously. Today's five piece version is as easy to put together as it is congenial to your comfort and outward superbness. Make two while you're about it: one with a plain top for everyday, the other with a bit of frou-frou for dress-up occasions.

Deft Design.

The "girl in the little green hat" wears a dress with many tucks in this her latest picture. It is the dress for you, Milady, to star in at familiar Fall festivities. Deftly but definitely it gives you emphasis where you want it; soft pedals worry-areas. Wool is smart material and it fits this frock's personality to a T. Let's sew and be seen places this Fall. Okay?

The Patterns.

Pattern 1389 is designed for sizes 36 to 52. Size 38 requires 4 1/2 yards of 35-inch material, or 4 1/2 yards, with long sleeves.

Pattern 1388 is designed in sizes 34 to 46. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material, plus 1 yard of ribbon for shoulder straps, and 1 1/2 yards of edging for finishing upper edge.

Pattern 1392 is designed for sizes 14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 2 1/4 yards of 54-inch fabric.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each.

Using Kerosene Safely.—One of the safest ways of using kerosene is to mix it with wood or coal ashes, then use a few spoonfuls of this mixture when starting or re-kindling a fire. This can be stored for regular use in a gallon bucket or other suitable container.

Small Molds for Pudding.—In place of one large basin for a steamed pudding, try several small molds, placing them all in one large saucepan. They will take half as long to cook as one large pudding.

Just for a Change.—If you cannot afford to buy anything new for the house and you are just a little bit disinterested this fall, try changing the position of the furniture and see if that bored feeling will not depart.

Dried Peel.—It is nice to dry the skins of several oranges and lemons and grate them, then putting them in a glass bottle in the refrigerator to be kept for flavoring purposes. It certainly saves time in the future and one is inclined to use these flavorings in interesting ways if already at hand.

Spaghetti and Cheese.—A nice way of preparing spaghetti that does not require lighting the oven. Fry one chopped onion and one-half pound ground meat in olive oil until nicely browned. Add two cups tomato puree or sifted tomato pulp, one teaspoon paprika, salt and pepper to taste. When nicely blended serve over plain boiled spaghetti and over the top sprinkle finely grated cheese.

Opening Jars.—A strap with a buckle on one end can be used to good advantage in opening glass fruit jars. Run the strap through the buckle and tighten it around the cap. This enables you to get a good grip on the lid.

Exaggeration is usually an evidence of weakness.

Worry seems to kill more creditors than debtors, these days.

A pleasant smile is a personal asset, but a self-satisfied smirk is something else again.

Business men are asked for so much "donation" advertising that it is bound to disrupt their legitimate advertising budget. It is not fair to charge such advertising to the budget, but it should be charged to charity in order to keep the advertising record straight.

The still warm days with just a hint of fall in the air which we have enjoyed the past week are enough to make anyone glad they live in the Panhandle. It is too bad that the writers of "dust bowl" stories never see the many fine days we have in this section.

Last week was decidedly a "football week" in McLean, with ticket selling beginning Monday and lasting until the game Friday night. It might be a good idea in the future to have one of the best games at the very beginning of the season, so as to develop the football spirit at once and not have to wait until the middle of the season to get "steam up."

TO many people, reading in bed is one of the grandest pleasures ever invented out it's a frequent source of eyestrain unless the light is right. One of the new "pin-it-up" type of lamps is ideal for this. Properly pinned to the wall, (about 4 1/2 feet from the floor between twin beds or just above the head of single beds), this lamp not only gives ample light but permits reading in a comfortable, relaxed position.

Come in and let us show you the latest styles of "pin-it-up" lamps in their different models. Prices are surprisingly low.

CHAPTER XX—Continued

Old Jasper Wellington turned apoplectic. "Why you—you scoundrel, sending her up there, when I wrote her, when I gave her strict orders!" He reached for the desk phone. "I'll have her pitched out—"

Craig put his hand on the telephone. "Just a minute. You won't have anybody pitched out. Your 'strict orders' don't cut any ice with me. Patricia has a right to visit her home, and you're not going to trample on her right. This visit home is my wedding present to her, and you won't break it up!"

"You'll surely be damned then, for she's going to stay there, and furthermore she's going to visit her home whenever she wants to; and I'll tell you why."

As the storm broke, Russell Parkes stole into his own office, to escape it; but he left the door open so that he could hear. Warren stood aside, watching the violent clash between the two men, listening to Craig's withering indictment of Wellington, Parkes & Lovett. For the first time in his 13 years with the firm he saw old Jasper Wellington outmatched; saw the man stop thundering, and begin to listen, and finally draw back, frightened, as Craig kept rapping out his figures and names and dates.

"Now, you can take your choice," Craig wound up his philippic. "I oughtn't to give you any choice. You don't deserve any. You've gutted more operating mine companies, you've worked more havoc in the Canadian mining industry, than any other man in North America. Where did I get these facts and figures? D'you forget that I was on your staff for two years, and that I've been a geologist and mining engineer for 12 years, with my eyes and ears wide open?"

"If you weren't Patricia's father and an old man, I'd go straight to Ottawa with what I know about your company's security manipulations in Canada and your wildcat affiliations and your dummy stock setups, and I'd blow you clear out of the dominion! I've been wanting to do that for years, and now I've got the money and the backing. What's it going to be between you and me—peace or war?"

Wellington glared in venomous silence at Craig, and swallowed hard. Silence, from him, meant that he was beaten and knew it.

To save his face he swung on Warren. "You handle this," he barked. "Do whatever you damned care to!" He turned away, strode into Russell Parkes' office and slammed the door.

At nine that evening Patricia came down from the North Shore to the Loop hotel where Craig was staying.

"I had to see you again, husband, before you left for Winnipeg," she explained breathlessly, in their suite. She was radiantly happy over her visit home, the visit that Craig had hammered out for her. "Next Wednesday—oh, it's so far away, dearest!"

"But you'll be visiting with your mother and Frances; and I'll have a big pile of work on my hands; and the time'll fly. Are you running back to the North Shore right away?"

"No. I was meaning to stay here with you, till you leave at midnight—unless you're too busy and want me to go now."

"You silly!"

They sat in a chair at the window, looking out across the lights of the city and the dim moonlit silver of Lake Michigan, thinking of far-away Resurrection and the challenging work that awaited them there.

"Our barrens trip this summer; Craig—we'll never get to make it," Patricia said ruefully, fondling the black waves of his hair.

"We will make it. We'll wedge it in somehow, sweet. You and I've got that coming to us."

"It'll be wonderful, Craig! It'll be like—like God's lake, again."

"Better, girl. I won't be always calling you a butterfly, and you won't be always slapping me, as we did then."

From across the hotel court came a radio song. It was too indistinct for Patricia to hear the words, but the lilt of it was like the lilt of another song which she once had heard; and her lips began fitting the words of that other song to the music of this one:

Oh, p'tite Oiselet, in the Strong-Woods,
Your foot is caught in the snare invisible.
In the cruel babische

Lesson for October 31

THE MORAL ISSUE IN THE DRINK PROBLEM

LESSON TEXT—Romans 13:12-14; I Corinthians 6:9-11; Galatians 5:16-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.—Galatians 5:16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—My Neighbors.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Greatest Law.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Is It Wrong to Drink Alcoholic Beverages?
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Moral Issue in the Drink Problem.

The title for our lesson is well-chosen—"The Moral Issue in the Drink Problem."

First, let it be clear that there is an issue. Those who have business, social, or political connections with the liquor traffic would like to have us believe that the repeal of prohibition settled the matter once for all. But let us be sure of this fact—the liquor problem is at our very door, and it must be met.

In the second place, many would have us think that the matter of drunkenness is a social, political, or even a physical problem, without any moral implications whatever. But those who are informed know that even the supposedly innocent beer is inextricably tied up with vice and crime. A prisoner in a federal penitentiary writing before prohibition was repealed said, "Criminals hail with delight . . . the return of liquor via the beer route and the greater license that the return of the saloon will inevitably bring. With the return of beer will come open prostitution and gambling." His words were true.

I. Drunkenness Is a Work of Darkness (Rom. 13:12-14).

Just as there are darkness and daylight in the physical universe, so there are two contrasting spiritual realms, of darkness and light.

Men "loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil," according to the Lord Jesus. (See John 3:19.) This spiritual realm of darkness is directed by "rulers of the darkness of this world" (Eph. 6:12), and their purpose is "spiritual wickedness." With the "works of darkness" the believer is "to have no fellowship" (Eph. 5:11), but is to "reprove them" and bring them into the light where their true nature is made manifest (Eph. 5:13).

"God is light, and in him is no darkness at all," and those who have fellowship with him "walk in the light." (See I John 1:5-7.)

Drunkenness is a work of God and makes him fear the glorious light of his countenance. The solution for that awful condition is revealed in v. 14. "Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ."

II. Drunkenness Is a Work of Unrighteousness (I Cor. 6:9-11).

No drunkard "shall inherit the kingdom of God" (v. 10), and the man who takes his first drink has put his foot on the path that leads to the drunkard's grave. Of course no man plans to go that far, but the fact is that such is the tragic conclusion for hundreds of thousands of men and women—damned for time and eternity by drink.

Again in this passage we have the answer to our problem. Not reformation, not education, not culture (desirable and useful though we recognize these things to be), but being "washed," "sanctified," and "justified" in "the name of the Lord Jesus and in the Spirit of God." Try that on your town drunkard. Thank God, it works!

III. Drunkenness Is a Work of the Flesh (Gal. 5:16-24).

The flesh—that is our bodies ruled over by self-will as opposed to God's will—is revealed in the Scriptures to be thoroughly bad, and in opposition to God. Consider the appalling list of the works of the flesh in verses 19 and 20. And note that in the midst of them stands drunkenness.

It is the lowest in man that responds to intoxicants. Little wonder that the Brewers' Journal came out right after the election of 1932 with the statement that "not one tenth of one-per cent of American youths know the taste of real beer. We must educate them." In other words the normal taste of an intelligent person would revolt at the stuff, but once give it a chance to stir the lusts of "the flesh" and the victim is caught.

Once again, note the antidote—live in the power of the Holy Spirit, and the flesh with its lusts is crucified (v. 24). How shall we have the Holy Spirit and his power in our lives? By taking the Lord Jesus Christ as personal Saviour.

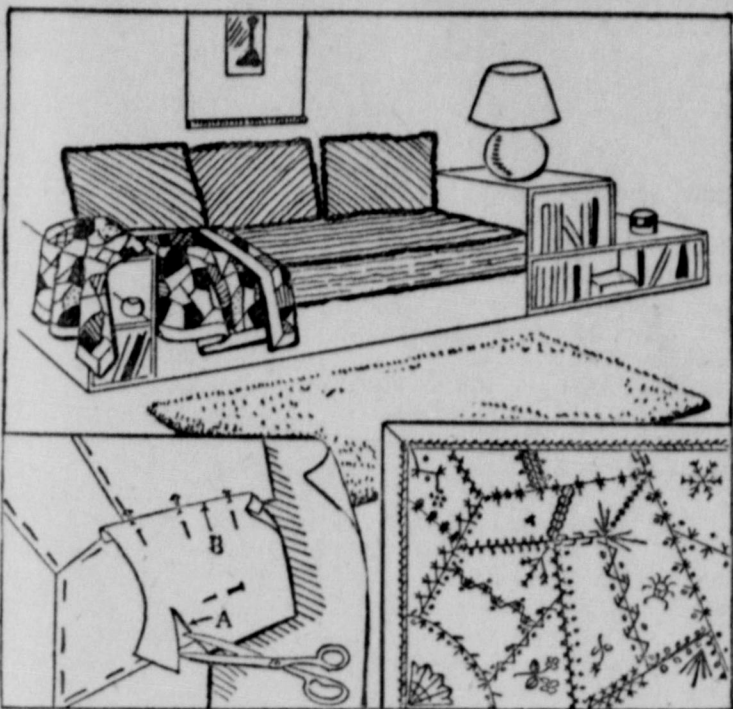

Words Without Action
Few men suspect how much mere talk fritters away spiritual energy—that which should be spent in action, spends itself in words.

Killing Time
People partial to this crime of killing time might be pardoned if they'll only kill their own.

Kindness
Kindness is a language the dumb can speak, and the deaf can hear and understand.—Bovee.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

Crazy Patch Work at Home in a Modern Setting.

THE crazy patch is the oldest of quilt patterns, yet there is something amazingly modern in its angular lines. So whether your living room is traditional in style or newer than tomorrow you will be interested in the revival of crazy patch work for what our grandmothers and great-grandmothers called a "slumber throw."

A corner of one of these old silk crazy quilts is shown here at the lower right. The pieces were small—many not more than 1 1/2 inches wide or long. A variety of embroidery stitches joins the pieces. Both plain and figured silks were used, the plain patches often being embroidered with flowers, fans and other amusing motifs—note the beetle embroidered on one patch. Several colors of silk embroidery thread were generally used but in the most artistic of these quilts one color predominated in the embroidery.

Larger patches with simple feather stitch and herringbone stitch at the joinings also give a good effect. The pieces are sewed to a foundation of some firm soft material. Outing flannel or an old wool blanket are good. Pin a piece in place over the space to be filled, trim the edges to the right shape, as at A, allowing enough to turn under, as at B, where the patch laps over the one next to it. Baste the turned edges down as shown. When a number of patches have been basted in place, sew them down to the foundation with the embroidery stitches and then remove the bastings. The backing is tied to the front with silk embroidery thread as comforters are tied. Little or no padding may be used and a plain band around the edge is effective.

Every Homemaker should have a copy of Mrs. Spears' new book, SEWING. Forty-eight pages of step-by-step directions for making slipcovers and dressing tables; restoring and upholstering chairs, couches; making curtains for every type of room and purpose. Making lampshades, rugs, ottomans and other useful articles for the home. Readers wishing a copy should send name and address, enclosing 25 cents, to Mrs. Spears, 210 South Desplaines St., Chicago, Illinois.

Spending Our Days

Every day is a little life, and our whole life is but a day repeated. Therefore live every day as if it would be the last. Those that dare lose a day, are dangerously prodigal, those that dare misspend it are desperate.—Bishop Hall.

Uncle Phil Says:

Distrust Is Your Responsibility
Is it more disgraceful to distrust one's friends than to be deceived by them?

Do you like to conquer obstacles? Try to get over disliking a man you have no reason to.

Don't play ghost in front of a man who isn't easily scared.

Romantic names given children may plague them in later life. Whenever it is "officially denied" there is a "catch" somewhere.

Why Fly From the Unhappy?

The state of the unhappy makes us more sensible of the value of the happiness we possess.

Because you are suavely asked to give your candid opinion, don't necessarily do it.

No cow feels vain because she is taken for a deer by the hunter and her hide filled full of shot.

Some pick their friends and some are picked as friends by others.

With Good Companions

They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts.

Life is like a trip in a car. You never seem to be going very fast if you start fast.

The deaf aren't entirely unfortunate. Most of our worrying is caused by the talk we hear.

Even when you have plenty of money you sometimes don't know how to spend a lonesome evening.

Snoopin' Around

By D. A. Davis

Folks, I thought up an idea of reviewing the various columnists of weekly newspapers over the Panhandle and give you some choice bits of wit that tumble out of their type-writers, but after reviewing quite a few, they all sounded so confounded silly and nonsensical I decided to stick to my style of foolishness and let the rest go hang. However, I'm not in a very good humor this week anyhow; I'm good and sore at that bunch of politicians down at Austin.

I'm sure glad Austin is so far away. Afraid I might run amuck and bust in on that bunch and give a few of them a kick in the pants.

Did you notice where they are paying a chaplain five dollars a day for opening the session with prayer?

And did you notice where some noble representative shed enough crocodile tears to float a battleship because some other representative wanted to put a small tax on salt? "Oh, boo, hoo!" this gentleman robed, "how awful it would be to tax the poor man's salt." The truth of the matter, the average poor man consumes not more than five pounds of salt a year and you can buy five pounds for a nickel. Now ain't that awful, folks, to put such a burden on the poor man.

And that bill they are going to pass to tax "intoxicants" by the "drink." What I want to know is what constitutes a "DRINK"? Is it a thimbleful or a quart bottle full? And if a man was going to be taxed by the "drink" what would be wrong with him drinking a gallon at a time? And if they are going to limit so many ounces or drams to a drink, are they going to put liquor up in ounce bottles or dram containers and tax it accordingly? And what about the bootleggers? Would it create a demand for them? How many tax collectors would it take to watch everybody that takes a "drink" of booze and tax him accordingly?

I ain't got no sense about this booze business nohow, because I'm past fifty years old and my drinking has been so small you could almost put it all in a gnat's eye, and naturally I'm just a little bit dumb, but I sure would appreciate it if someone will tell me just what constitutes a "drink."

The reason for wanting to know is that I might want to apply for a job as "revenue tax collector by the drink." I wouldn't want to impose on the "drinker" by taxing him too much, and at the same time I wouldn't want to see nobody defraud the government by drinking a whole quart bottle at once. All I want to do, folks, is to just be fair and impartial on both sides, and see that everybody concerned would get a square deal.

Us hifalutin' white folks are slipping and slipping fast; we are getting meaner and sorrier every day, while the negro race is gradually improving, and this is the God's truth. If you think I'm wrong, just get out your statistics. The white race is not near as moral and religious now as they were thirty years ago, while the negro race has gradually improved their morals, their religion and their education. Why do I say this? Simply because it took a negro choir to fill the Methodist church to its capacity Sunday night. I've been going to that church for twenty years and it's the first time I've ever seen that church seated to its capacity.

Lots of us no doubt went through curiosity, which is another indication that some of us don't go to church to worship God. Is it going to take a negro choir in the white man's church, or some other mode of entertainment to get folks to get folks to come to church? If it does, I think it's about time we should put on our thinking caps and do a little bit of hones to goodness "thinking."

First thing we know, we won't have nothing but negro churches to go to.

CARS KILL 189 IN SEPTEMBER

Austin, Oct. 27.—September highway crashes hurtled 189 Texas people to their deaths and sent 1,393 to hospitals where more are destined to die, according to the Department of Public Safety.

Although there were only 27 more traffic accidents in September than in August, the death toll rose two and the injury list showed an increase of 446 persons. Nearly 75% of the 1,106 accidents in September resulted fatally. Forty-two of the dead were pedestrians.

Traffic experts of the Safety Department pointed to an increase in the flow of highway traffic as a possible reason for the rise in accidents, but warned that many drivers are exceeding speeds allowed by highway and traffic conditions.

With the amended driver's license law in operation early in November, and the graduation last week of 133 additional Highway Patrolmen from the Department's training school, safety officials are looking forward to better control of careless drivers and mechanically defective vehicles.

The new patrolmen and driver's license examiners have been assigned to covering the entire state network of highways in an effort to minimize the number of accidents.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Brawley of Sweetwater, Okla., visited here over the week end.

W. K. Wharton of Kermit was in McLean the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Adams and Mrs. Alma Turman were in Amarillo Monday.
