LIBRARY MATERIAL RECEIVED

Library material has been received from the WPA work during the summer. Such materials as a sewing machine, a typewriter, a repair press, repair kit, scissors, binding and repair materials have been added to the shelves. An accession book and permanent files in a cabinet are arranged. A vertical file is to be prepared for the benefit of those interested in present day events. The amount for the material is approximately $93.25. The board of education has appropriated $100 for materials.

The motto is "It shall be done." The members of the class are Misses Betty and Jewell Cousins.

SCHOOL DEFEATS H. S. IN BASKETBALL

Final score between girls from high school and high school afternoons was 12-6, with the school girls winning.

of the ward school defeated the high school, 5-0. Starting line-up for the ward girls included Betty Jo Bailey, Bell Bailey, Marcella Campy, Hugg, Syble Lee and Earl.

Starting line-up for the ward boys included Joe Cooke, Ken-Mullen, John Kelly Lee, Earl, Albert Dwight.

D GIVES RECEPTION

Reception was given for the Heald

Lean high school, last Thursday, at the Heald Methodist Church. It has been a custom of the Heald community for a number of years to give the Heald seniors a reception.

The program was as follows: a song by congregation; a piano solo by Iva Dell Rippey; guitar music by Sam Ellerbee; a talk by Rev. J. P. Cole, Heald pastor; the class history by Josie Lee Lape; the class prophecy by Wanda Nell Ladd; a reading by Emma Reneau. Refreshments were served to everyone who attended the reception.

JUNIOR PICNIC

The junior class went to Rockwall Canyon, 18 miles southeast of McLean, Thursday, May 12, on a picnic. This was the last junior affair of the year.

The girls furnished the sandwiches and the boys brought the fruit and cookies. Mr. Cunningham, the class sponsor, and Mr. Bralley also went on the picnic. The following room mothers attended: Mrs. W. E. Bogan, Mrs. Jim Back, Mrs. H. R. Hale and Mrs. George Colebank.

The transportation was furnished by O. R. Blankenship.

FINAL ASSEMBLY

An assembly was held in the high school auditorium Friday morning, May 13. It was the last regular assembly to be attended by all the seniors. They were a sad group as they went to their classrooms.

In the assembly all of the students, with the exception of the seniors, sang "Goodbye, Seniors." Following that, all of the pep squad girls who are to be here next year led the entire student body as they sang "That Good Old Tiger Line" and "Loyalty."

The program was closed as Jesse Dean Cobb played "Taps" while the seniors retired to their classrooms.

KIDDIE STYLE SHOW

The home economics laboratory was turned into a play-room Thursday afternoon when 21 pre-school children styled clothing made by the second year clothing class.

Toys, made by the home economics girls, furnished amusement. The children were grouped together and their pictures taken.

At the close of the play period punch and cookies were served by the first year food class to the children and their mothers.

This project was under the direction of Betty Farley, teacher of home economics.

JUNIORS HAVE KID DAY

"Kiddie Day" was enjoyed by the members of the junior class Monday, May 16.

Imagine a big 16 or 17 year old boy coming to high school barefooted—or imagine a young lady skipping down the hall in a short dress, Shirley Temple curls, big ribbons, dolls and candy—all these things and many more were seen by the other astonished classes.

It is hoped that junior kiddie day can be made into an annual event and be observed by junior classes for years to come.

SENIORS TO CARLSBAD

The seniors of McLean high school will leave on their annual trip to Carlsbad, N. M., Saturday morning, May 21, at 8 o'clock.

They will go to Roswell, N. M., where they will remain until Sunday noon.

Sunday at noon they will leave for Carlsbad and will spend Sunday night at Black River Village.

Monday they will explore the Carlsbad Caverns and will spend Monday night at Black River Village where a picnic will be held.

They will leave for Roswell Tuesday and will remain there over night. They expect to arrive in McLean Wednesday night, May 25.

Miss Betty Farley, senior sponsor; Mrs. Kid McCoy and Mr. C. A. Cryer will accompany the seniors.

GRADUATION FRIDAY NIGHT

The senior graduation exercises will be held in the high school auditorium Friday night, May 20, at 8:30.

The program for the exercises may be seen on the front page of this paper.

FAREWELL PARTY

A farewell party was given at Kellerville last Friday night in honor of Earl Simmons, a junior in McLean high school, who has moved to Lubbock.

Ice cream and cake were served. The following guests attended: Earl Simmons, Leola Nelson, R. L. Floyd, Opal Thacker, Jack Bogan, Opal Mabel Back, Kid McCoy, Jr., Shirley Johnston, Vester Lee Smith, Maxie Durrett, Marie Little and the host.

FRESHMEN ENJOY PICNIC

The freshman class went on a weiner roast Tuesday afternoon of last week. The group went wading and played ball and ring games. About thirty or forty freshmen attended.

The room mothers attending were: Mesdames S. L. Montgomery, Pauleen Gething, Leon Waldrop, W. L. Hancock, Jack Wade, J. F. Corbin and O. R. Blankenship.

The freshman sponsors are Mr. Otto Pixler and Miss Lillian Abbott, both of whom attended.

SHERLOCK SNOOPINGS

Couldn't we have less autograph books, folks? It's all very nice, but Snooper's arm is getting tired.

My, my, don't the seniors look simply "elegant" in their caps and gowns?

Tsh, tsh, to think that the seniors would hold hands in the dark when a picture show was given in the study hall Monday morning.

Jesse Dean, aren't you afraid D. S. Y. won't like it if you spend too much time with Wanda?

We hear that Oleta plans on taking up "Gardnering" after school is out.

We're wondering why Una preferred walking with Ray to riding with Mr. C.

It seems that Harry is quite fond of "shaultin bread."

Snooper observed Stanton plodding in the rain in huge rubber boots and equally huge overalls the other night. The reason? He was caught at Oleta's house when the rain started. Tut, tut, Lavoy, you shouldn't be so friendly with those seniors.

E. M. says he can't decide whether he wants to marry Eva or La Homa. Bill and Randy seem to be worrying about Glyndora's and Margaret's conduct on the junior picnic. (Note: Glyndora went with Horsie).

Georgia had quite a time keeping track of C. B. on the picnic. Ruth and Wanda should spend much more of the night sleeping, says Mr. Cryer.

Things We're Worrying About: The seniors about learning to march down the aisle on graduation night.

The Juniors about passing their exams.

The teachers about grading papers. Clyde about the meaning of poems. Olive Louise about learning to "truck."

Miss Farley about being the last teacher to get paid.

Miss Smith can fairly razz Mr. Cunningham now. His good opinion of his powers has fallen after he had bragged to Miss Smith.

As this is the last time Snooper will be with all her (two) readers, she wishes to thank you for your contributions and patronage this year. May you have a bigger and better snooper column next year.

SENIORS HAVE PICNIC

Tuesday afternoon after school the members of the senior class assembled at the high school, each with his lunch, and went out to Sandspur on a picnic. Those who wanted to went in swimming after which everyone spread lunch together. Mrs. Kid McCoy took a pot of red beans and the other room mothers served iced cream. Mr. T. J. Coffey furnished the lemonade.

Forty-three of the seniors were present, and the room mothers, Mrs. Kid McCoy, Mrs. T. J. Coffey, Mrs. Emmett Thompson, Mrs. J. L. Hess, Mrs. Scott Johnston, and Mrs. Rish Phillips. Members of the faculty present were Miss Betty Farley, Miss Jewell Cousins, W. M. Bralley, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cryer and Jane Alice. Everyone present had a very enjoyable time.

Publication of the senior class history, will and prophecy will be begun in these columns next week.

HUGE LOANS ON WHEAT Bumper Crop Makes These and Acreage Reductions Probable . . . Wage-Hour Bill to Be Passed

Congresswoman Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, chairman of the labor committee, affixes her signature—the first one—to the petition which was signed by 217 other house members to force house consideration of the revised wage-hour bill. With Mrs. Norton are, left to right, Congressmen E. J. Welch of California, J. Burrwood Daily of Pennsylvania, Arthur Healey of Massachusetts and Edward Curley of New York.

Edward W. Pickard SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK

Wheat Loan Program

ONLY a major crop disaster like a nation-wide drought can prevent the United States from having the largest supply of wheat this summer in the country's history.

Sec. Wallace

ceeds domestic needs and estimated export needs, which are put at about 740,000,000 bushels.

At the same time Secretary Wallace, as head of the AAA, was contemplating the prospect of asking the wheat growers of America to make the heaviest reduction in plantings ever proposed. This reduction may be as much as 37.5 per cent.

Government estimates place the crop at between 925,000,000 and 950,000,000 bushels. The winter wheat estimate is between 740,000,000 and 750,000,000 bushels while the spring wheat crop is expected to reach 200,000,000 bushels.

Added to this will be a carry-over of 150,000,000 bushels or more from last year's crop of 874,000,000 bushels. The total supply is expected to reach an all-time high of approximately 1,100,000,000 bushels.

In addition to the loan program, Secretary Wallace will move to bolster the market through the new government crop insurance program. Already a campaign is under way to "sign-up" farmers for wheat insurance.

The insurance program is expected to remove about 50,000,000 bushels of wheat from the market through farmer payments of premiums on 1939 wheat insurance. The government will store this wheat in elevators for future indemnity payments to insured farmers.

Officials of the AAA expect that reduction of acreage will stir up protests from wheat growers similar to the current revolt in the corn belt, and among the cotton and tobacco farmers of the South. Concessions already have been made to the Southerners, and the AAA people said some "minor adjustments" in corn acreage allotments were planned. The revolt in the Middle West, however, was growing steadily under the leadership of the Corn Belt Liberty league, now incorporated in Illinois.

When and if wheat acreage allotments are made, farmers can comply with or ignore them, but only those who comply will be eligible for maximum federal benefit payments and wheat loans.

Crop Report Birthday

ON THE day it issued its May crop report, the Department of Agriculture celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of the government crop reporting service. The names of the oldest living crop reporters were inscribed on a roll of honor, and the ceremonies were witnessed by a group of veterans of the service who were invited to Washington by Secretary Wallace.

The crop reporting service was started in May, 1863, by Isaac Newton, first commissioner of agriculture.

coin in 1862. The first report was prepared on the basis of reports from 2,000 farmers in 21 states. Today reports are based on returns from 200,000 voluntary reporters.

President Returns

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT returned to Washington from his ten-day fishing trip not only brown and well but highly elated. There was reason for his elation for the political tide in the capital had turned in his favor. The successful revival of the wage-hour bill in the house demonstrated the waning opposition among southern Democrats, following closely on the renomination of Senator Pepper of Florida, who defeated Congressman Wilcox, an opponent of the Roosevelt bills to enlarge the Supreme court, to reorganize the executive government and to control wages and hours of labor.

Mr. Roosevelt resumed work by calling Secretary Hull to the White House presumably to discuss the Nye resolution to lift the arms embargo against Spain. He then held a legislative conference with Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead, Majority Leaders Barkley and Rayburn and others. It was believed they considered resumption of the drive for enactment of parts of the President's program that have been defeated or delayed.

Wage-Hour Bill to Pass

WHEN 218 members of the house of representatives signed the petition to discharge the rules committee from consideration of the administration's wage-hour bill it became virtually certain the measure would be passed by the house on May 23.

Mary T. Norton

Chairman May T. Norton of the house labor committee and other proponents of the bill predicted it also would be approved by the senate, but admittedly it faces a bitter fight there, for the southern senators are angered by the omission of differentials favoring the South. There is a chance that they can organize a filibuster and prevent passage before congress adjourns.

Opposition in the house crumbled suddenly and there was a veritable stampede to sign the petition forcing the measure to a vote. Mrs. Norton was first to put her name on the paper, and 217 other members rushed forward to get on the band wagon.

The 218 signers were divided by parties as follows: 182 Democrats, 23 Republicans, 8 Progressives, and 5 Farmer-Laborites.

In its present form the bill provides for minimum wages of 25 cents an hour to be raised to 40 cents an hour over a three-year period and maximum hours of 44 a week to be reduced to 40 hours in two years. It would be administered by the Labor department and enforced by the Justice department. It carries no differentials between the different sections of the country.

Davies to Belgium

JOSEPH DAVIES, wealthy lawyer, was nominated ambassador to Belgium by President Roosevelt. Davies will be transferred from Moscow which he and his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Post Hutton Davies, found boring because of the lack of social life.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for May 22

SERVING THROUGH CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:13-17, 29-34. GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Mark 12:31. PRIMARY TOPIC—A Sermon on a Penny. JUNIOR TOPIC—A Sermon on a Penny. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Loyalty to God and Country. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Obligations of Christian Citizenship.

"For God and Country" is a rallying cry that well summarizes the spirit and duty of the Christian citizen. So clear and inspiring are the teachings of God's Word regarding the relationship of the Christian to his country that one marvels that national leaders who are seeking to stimulate civic loyalty do not promote a revival of the study of the Bible. Dr. Moore is right when he says, "No bad citizen is a good Christian and no good Christian is a bad citizen." The solution of our nation's problems would be a great evangelistic campaign from coast to coast. A man like Moody would then appear in his true position as a great patriot. The soul-winner would be more important than the vote-getter. Why not try it?

Our lesson presents our Lord on Tuesday of His passion week, when He met His adversaries in their cunning efforts to entrap Him in His words so that they might condemn Him. The two incidents before us have broader application than to citizenship alone, but we may well consider them in that light, for they reveal that the citizen who is right with God will be right with the nation and with his own neighbors.

I. The Christian Citizen Loves His Country (vv. 13-17).

The Pharisees, who hated Rome for its domination of Palestine, and the Herodians, who supported Rome in its control of the land, were enemies, but they joined forces to tempt Christ. They knew that if He said "Yes" to their question the Jews would be angry, and if He said "No" He could be condemned as a traitor to Rome.

The trap was set, but it caught only the crafty hunters. Taking their own pocket money he declared that if they used Caesar's money they ought to pay taxes to Caesar. The coin stood for an orderly government, benefits of which they enjoyed and which they ought to support.

II. The Christian Citizen Loves God (vv. 29-30).

Although this point comes second in our lesson it comes first in experience. It is the man who renders unto God the love of the heart, soul, mind, and all of his strength (v. 30) who is really ready to love his country as he should. The scribes loved to dispute about which was the greatest of the 613 commandments which they recognized. Jesus astonished them by referring to the passage of Scripture most familiar to the Jews (Deut. 6:4, 5), which declares the unity and absolute exclusiveness of the Lord our God. It may be well for us to stress this truth even in our time, for most folk regard the worship and service of God as optional.

III. The Christian Citizen Loves His Neighbor (vv. 31-34).

The scribe did not ask for the second commandment but Jesus presents it as an unavoidable corollary of the first. The man who really loves God will love his neighbor.

Every social injustice would be wiped out and every cause for strife removed if all men loved their fellow-man as they love themselves. Such a condition will never prevail, however, until men love God. It is too much for the flesh to put others before self. Only the grace of God is sufficient for that. Hence the real solution of the problems of capital and labor, the "haves" and the "have nots" is to win the men and women on both sides of the struggle to a true love for God through Jesus Christ our Lord. In other words, we come again to the inevitable conclusion that what our nation needs is a revival.

Social panaceas, revolution either by force or by law, dictatorships, all these are destined to failure. Men must learn to know and love God supremely and thus come to love their neighbors as themselves. The crossroad Sunday-school teacher, the missionary in the city slums, the preacher of the gospel, whether in the great city or on the countryside, the faithful Christian living out the love of Christ daily in kindly word and deed—these are the real forces for social as well as spiritual good. Let us do all we can to prosper their ministry!

C. Houston Goudiss

Discusses the NEED FOR IODINE

Key Substance of the Thyroid Gland--Tells How to Avoid Iodine Starvation

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

6 East 39th St., New York City

THE discovery of our vital need for iodine is one of the most thrilling chapters in the long history of scientific research.

Many investigators contributed to our understanding of iodine hunger, but special credit is due to Dr. David Marine and his co-workers; and to Dr. E. C. Kendall of the Mayo Clinics at Rochester, Minn.

Today we know that although it constitutes only about one part in three million parts of the body weight, iodine is so essential that its absence from the diet may have the gravest consequences.

Thyroid—The Gland of Glands

Iodine is necessary for the normal functioning of the thyroid gland, situated in the front part of the neck. The thyroid is so important that it is often regarded as the throttle which governs the human locomotive, and when it fails to function normally, the body machinery may be thrown out of balance.

Thyroid disturbance during childhood may affect mental and physical development, and many children have been accused of laziness who are suffering from thyroid deficiency. Thyroid disorder may be a complicating factor in obesity, and specialists have found that it is associated with many stubborn skin diseases. It is also claimed that iodine starvation influences mental make-up and emotional tendencies.

Disfiguring Goiter

Simple goiter is a common disorder of the thyroid gland. At one time the very mention of this disease terrified girls and women, who feared the unsightly lump in the neck which disfigures the victim. Now, thanks to dramatic experiments, we know that simple goiter is an iodine deficiency disease.

Animal Experiments Point the Way

In 1916, it was estimated that a million young pigs died annually in Wisconsin. Investigation disclosed that their thyroid glands were abnormally large and abnormally low in iodine. When iodine was administered to the mothers, the young pigs were born normal.

Scientists reasoned that if goiter could be prevented in animals, it could be prevented in humans, and undertook the now famous census in Akron, Ohio. A study was made of the thyroid glands of all school girls from the fifth to the twelfth grades. Almost 50 per cent were found to have enlarged thyroid glands.

The girls were given small doses of sodium iodide dissolved in drinking water at given periods over 2 1/2 years. At the end of that time, investigators found that of 2,000 pupils, only 5 developed thyroid enlargement. Of the same number not treated, 500 showed enlargement.

Danger Periods

This demonstration aroused the interest of the scientific world and

Have You a Question? Ask C. Houston Goudiss

C. Houston Goudiss has put at the disposal of readers of this newspaper all the facilities of his famous Experimental Kitchen Laboratory in New York City. He will gladly answer questions concerning foods and diet. It's not necessary to write a letter unless you desire, for post card inquiries will receive the same careful attention. amounts of iodine, depending upon the water and soil, and the season, the iodine content being at a maximum in the autumn and winter. In general, it may be said that the leaves of plants contain more iodine than the roots, and that leafy vegetables and legumes store more than fruits, with the exception of cranberries, which are a good source. When the soil is rich in iodine, watercress becomes a fine source of this substance.

Iodized Salt

One of the most satisfactory methods for adding iodine to the diet, especially in goiterous regions, is through the use of iodized salt. In Detroit, a city-wide test of iodized salt reduced the prevalence of simple goiter from 36 per cent to 2 per cent. Similar figures have been cited for other localities. Iodized salt costs no more than ordinary table salt and is an excellent safeguard against simple goiter.

Iodine in Drinking Water

Even in early times, it was believed that there was some relation between goiter and drinking water, and recent evidence has disclosed that there was a sound basis for this belief. Two investigators found that the water in a large part of the northern half of the United States falls into a low-iodine classification.

Several communities have given consideration to the prevention of goiter by the addition of iodine to the water supply. This method is commendable, but it must be borne in mind that wherever iodine is taken in forms other than food, careful supervision by the physician or the public health authorities is necessary.

To those homemakers interested in planning the best possible diet for their families, I shall gladly send lists showing which foods are rich in iodine and which are poor in this substance.

Questions Answered

Mrs. B. R. S.—The average meal leaves the stomach within four hours, though a large meal may stay for five hours. However, the length of time food remains in the stomach is only a fraction of that required for the entire digestive process, which varies in normal individuals from 12 to 47 hours. Carbohydrates leave the stomach most quickly, proteins are next, and fats require the longest period.

Miss C. T.—Agar-agar is a non-irritating, indigestible carbohydrate. As it is not digested, its caloric value is zero, and it could not possibly be fattening.

Miss S. G.—There is no justification for serving toast at every meal instead of bread. It is true that proper toasting changes some of the starch to dextrine which is quickly and easily digested. But laboratory experiments reveal that the proteins of toasted bread and crusts have a lower digestibility, and animals gain less weight when fed on them than on the untoasted bread and the inside crumbs of the loaves.

STOP giving your CHILDREN bad-tasting laxatives!

Mother, just take a look at your child's face when you give him something nasty to move his bowels! He doesn't like those sickening doses any more than you do. And there's no need for them!

Next time your children are irregular, give them the delicious chocolate laxative—EX-LAX. They'll love it! And EX-LAX will relieve their constipation thoroughly—without causing stomach pains or upsetting the digestion.

For over 30 years, EX-LAX has been America's favorite family laxative. Now it has been Scientifically Improved! It's actually better than ever. IT TASTES BETTER than ever, ACTS BETTER than ever—and is MORE GENTLE than ever.

EX-LAX is as effective for grown-ups as it is for children. 10¢ and 25¢ boxes at your druggist's.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!
 Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The art of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning urination may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body wastes. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Do not condemn the country over. Listen to Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

The Biblical injunction to be
 "as wise as serpents and harmless as doves" could well be adopted by any man who wants to get along in the world.

Our good friend E. L. Peirce, general manager of the Peirce Produce Co., who is somewhat of a philosopher, remarked the other day that some people are so eager to be in the lead that when they cannot ingratiate themselves into leadership, they will follow the leader so closely people will think they are leading. This human frailty makes a lot of trouble, for the man with elements of leadership knows when to be a good follower and does not try to grab any glory that does not rightly belong to himself. However, the desire to surpass, along with envy, fear, greed and ambition, is as old as the world and will last with some people as long as the world stands.

"No Fear of Bullets"
By FLOYD GIBBONS
Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY:
There's an old saying that a man who is born to be hanged will never be drowned, and Pete Lovett of Brooklyn, N. Y., has a hunch that something of the sort is true in his own case. Pete doesn't know what sort of an end the Fates have in store for him, but he's darned certain that no bullet will ever put an end to his career.

Pete went through two years of the World war without getting killed, but that only helped make him all the more sure that he was bullet proof. The thing that convinced him of it in the first place happened before the war even started—back in the summer of 1912, when Pete was a kid, thirteen years old.

Pete was brought up over in Brooklyn, and as a kid he spent most of his time playing around the waterfront.

A regular dock rat, Pete was in those days—a youngster who loved to be in, or on, or anywhere near the water.

He and a couple of other lads used to go down to the docks together, and one of those boys had a brother-in-law who was captain of a lighter-age barge tied up at the foot of Columbia street in the Red Hook section.

The Captain Was Drinking Whisky.

It was a day in August, and the three kids went down to the barge, at the captain's invitation, to spend the day aboard it. The captain and his wife had quarters aboard the boat, but the three youngsters no sooner arrived than the captain's wife left to pay a visit to a friend.

That left the three kids alone with the captain. He was a heavy drinker, Pete says, and this day was no exception. But he started in to show the kids a good time by taking them out in his rowboat to hunt crabs in the harbor.

They did pretty well hunting crabs. One after another they scooped in with a net, until they had a peach basket full of them. They went back to the barge, cooked the crabs, and sat down to a meal of crabs, boiled potatoes and tea.

Only the captain didn't drink any tea. He had a bottle of whisky alongside of him and he took frequent nips out of that. The captain's wife hadn't returned, and the bottle was almost empty.

He asked the boys if they would go out and get him some beer, and two of them went, but Pete stayed behind. Pete says the captain was acting normally and he didn't notice anything strange about him. If he had, he might have expected what came later. But the captain, as a matter of fact, didn't look as if he had taken so much as a single drop of liquor, though he had been pouring it down all afternoon.

He Began Shooting at Pete.

After the other two boys had gone he told Pete his wife would be back shortly and he thought he'd start getting supper ready. He asked Pete if he'd go down the aft hatch where he stored his potatoes, and bring some back to him. Pete walked aft and started down the hatch.

"In the meantime," says Pete, "he must have gone stark mad. Most barge captains keep pistols aboard for protection against harbor thieves, and he had two loaded ones somewhere about the boat. I was down below, standing just to one side of the hatchway, when all of a sudden he appeared overhead and began blazing away at me!"

It was dark down there in the hold of the barge, and Pete was thankful for that. The captain couldn't see him and he was standing to one side, out of range of the fire. "At the sound of the first shot," says Pete, "I went stiff with fright. I never prayed so long or so hard in my life. I have faced machine gun fire and hand grenades in France, but nothing ever scared me as much as I was scared that day.

"The captain emptied one revolver down the hatch before he stopped firing. Then he slammed the hatch cover down on me and locked it so I couldn't get out while he went back, apparently to get his other gun. I could hear him screeching and yelling up above—yelling that I was a river pirate and he was going to kill me if he had to come down the hatch to do it.

"Now I heard him open the hatch cover and descend two or three steps down the ladder. I began creeping slowly away from the hatch. I moved along on a string piece barely wide enough to walk on. The barge had four feet of water in its hold for ballast, and if I slipped and fell into that, the captain would surely kill me."

Trapped Down the Dark Hatch.

Pete was right alongside of the hatch stairway now. The captain's legs were within a few inches of his hands. In a sudden desperation he made a grab for those legs. He thought if he threw the captain into the water he'd be able to escape. But in the gloom of the hold, he missed his grab. He caught the cuff of the captain's trousers, and pulled with all his might, but he miscalculated his strength. He couldn't budge the captain. Instead, the captain brought his gun down across Pete's wrist, paralyzing his arm.

Pete let go his hold. In the darkness, he began creeping along the stringpiece toward the back of the dark hole he was trapped in. Then, again, came the sound of shots. Bullets splashed in the water alongside of him and thudded into the wooden side of the barge. Again the captain emptied his gun, and then he went back on deck, closing and locking the hatch after him.

He was up in the cabin, reloading his pistols when Pete's two young friends came back with the beer they had been sent for. They got the guns away from him and ran out on the dock. Another bargeman came running to the rescue. The police were called. They came and took the now thoroughly crazed captain away in a straitjacket.

"All the time," says Pete, "I was pounding on the hatch cover and calling for help. Altogether I was down there about an hour before they came and let me out, but in that hour I passed through a century of error. Now, all fear of bullets has been erased from my mind. After that experience, I don't think I'll ever be killed by one."

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK—Two or three years ago, I was one of a group of newspaper men arguing about who was the best reporter who ever worked a r o u n d here. One old-timer was holding out for Roy Burton, whom he had known on the Brooklyn Eagle in the nineties. Burton, he said, was the best leg-man and digger, the most fearless, and the most gifted in fanning up a story out of nothing at all. He knew make-up, too, said the oldster.

The diligent reporter has been duly rewarded. He is the Sir Pomeroy Burton whose magnificent French chateau the duke and duchess of Windsor were looking over recently.

With the Northcliffe papers in London, he became a multi-millionaire, as he transformed British journalism with daring American techniques. He became a British citizen in 1911 and was knighted in 1923. In addition to his vast newspaper interests, he is a magnate of electric power and utilities.

He was a printer's devil on his father's newspaper in Youngstown, Ohio, and, at the age of twelve, was knocking about country printshops in Ohio on the same job. He became a compositor on the Brooklyn Eagle. Hearing of a vacancy on the news staff, he persuaded the city editor to give him a try at reporting.

He hired evening clothes to cover a society function. There, Colonel Hester, owner of the Eagle, was tremendously impressed with the personable young man with whom he was talking, and thought he had met him somewhere. Young Burton did not remind the colonel that he had seen the young man in a printer's apron a few days before.

He became city editor and managing editor of the Eagle, held important executive positions with the World and the New York Journal and was taken to England by Lord Northcliffe in 1904. Ten years later, he owned all but a few of the Daily Mail shares not owned by Lord Northcliffe.

In the World war, he virtually headed the organization of British propaganda, and many of the most damaging anti-German stories were attributed to him. His enemies charged that he had "debauched British journalism with degrading American sensationalism."

His friends insisted he had enlivened and regenerated it. He makes an occasional trip to America with a staff of valets and secretaries, suave, dressy and still fit and impressive at seventy-two, with more than a touch of British accent.

Over here, he always hated the name Pomeroy and shortened it to Roy, but picked it up again in England. He had been named for "Brick" Pomeroy, the cyclonic journalistic disturber of the latter half of the last century, and he held Mr. Pomeroy in low esteem. Pomeroy was almost, but not quite, a winner.

From a Wisconsin crossroads, he rammed around the country in newspaper and financial brawls, and, in his old age, just through sheer animal spirits, started plugging a tunnel through the Rocky mountains, at Georgetown, Colo.

He was flattened by the '93 depression and died soon after, with nothing to show for his life's work but a hole in the ground. Then it was discovered that the tunnel had gouged into fabulous mineral wealth in Kelso mountain. Eight years ago, the tunnel went on through the mountain, as the Moffatt tunnel.

REPORTING the return of Poultney Bigelow from a visit to his friend, the former kaiser, and his fervent approval of dictators, has become a matter of annual routine. It is an old story, but the freshness and vehemence of Mr. Bigelow's disgust with democracy and enthusiasm for fuhrers always makes it interesting.

He is the patriarch of Malden-on-the-Hudson, with relatives and descendants, down to great-grandchildren, all up and down the river. He will be eighty-three years old on September 10. His father, John Bigelow, was American minister to France under Abraham Lincoln.

He hunted birds eggs with the kaiser, forming a lifetime friendship, broken only by the war, which he charged the kaiser with having started. He recanted afterward and the two old men meet annually to salute "Der Tag" when only the all-wise and all-just shall rule again.

Mr. Bigelow Has a Yen for Fuhrers

First Trains Horse Drawn
The first two railroads in the country, the Quincy railroad of Massachusetts and the Mauch Chunk railroad of Pennsylvania, both dating from the year 1827, used horse power and not locomotives.

Signed Constitution, Declaration
George Washington and James Madison were signers of the Constitution, and Thomas Jefferson and John Adams signed the Declaration of Independence.

For Street and Home Wear

TWO dresses, as practical as they are pretty—one for shopping and general street wear, the other ideal for round the house, and made on slenderizing lines. Notice that they both use the smart front closing. Both these

The long, unbroken, unbelted line, the utter simplicity, the v-neck, make this dress extremely becoming to women in the 36 to 52 size range. Short, pleated sleeves give plenty of ease for reaching and stretching. Make this up in pretty cottons that will stand plenty of wear and washing—percale, gingham, seersucker, broadcloth.

1489 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material, plus 1/2 yard of contrasting for girdle.

1476 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 38 requires 5 yards of 35-inch material.

Spring-Summer Pattern Book.
Send 15 cents for the Barbara Bell Spring and Summer Pattern Book which is now ready. It contains 109 attractive, practical and becoming designs. The Barbara Bell patterns are well planned, accurately cut and easy to follow. Each pattern includes a sew-chart which enables even a beginner to cut and make her own clothes.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each.

Ask Me Another

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Who was the Greek god of time?
2. Was George Washington really the first President of the United States?
3. How much would a cube of gold 14 inches in each dimension weigh?
4. How many interments are there in Arlington National cemetery?
5. What in round numbers is the latest estimate of the population of the United States?

The Answers

1. Chronos.
2. Yes, under our first Constitution. Other presidents before him were little more than presiding officers over the Continental Congress.
3. A 14-inch cube of gold would weigh approximately one ton.
4. Up to and including March 25, 1938, 46,661 burials have been made in Arlington National cemetery.
5. The population of the United States is 127,000,000.

Our Dog

We have a kindlier feeling for every passing dog because we have known five years of his faithful, trusting glance. We love all humans a little more, because when worn by their flickering affections, we can always come home to the unwavering glad greetings of at least one true friend, and start out again, refreshed by the obvious example of so steady a devotion. Were all our friends so polite as he!

Never a growling demand, never an impatient complaint, even when we fail him. His is dignity that knows its grounds. All life has been richer, our hearts have been warmer, because we have had him. First he was that ecstatic, wiggling puppy, and now he is a dog that is the best of comforting companions.—S. A. H., in Indianapolis News.

Have You Entered This Cake Recipe Contest?

IT'S EASY TO WIN A CASH PRIZE

Nothing to buy . . . No Letter to write

Have you submitted a recipe in the big Cake Recipe Contest now being conducted through this newspaper by C. Houston Goudias, author of our "WHAT TO EAT AND WHY" series? If not, take time today to write out your favorite cake recipe, and send it to him, attaching the coupon below.

What Is Your Specialty?
There are no restrictions as to the type of recipe that may be submitted. A simple loaf cake has an equal chance with an elaborate layer cake, provided it's good! So send along the recipe for that cake which never fails to delight your family. Enter that special cake you reserve for parties and church suppers. Or the one your children say is the best cake in town.

No Letter to Write.
You'll agree that this is one of the easiest contests you ever entered, because there is nothing to buy, no letter to write. And it won't take more than a few minutes to write out your recipe and fill in the coupon.

Contest Closes May 31st.
You won't have long to wait either, to know the outcome of the contest. For all recipes must be postmarked not later than May 31, 1938, and prize winners will be announced as soon as possible thereafter.

Prize winning recipes, together with those receiving honorable mention from the judges, will be printed in a booklet to be distributed nationally.

16 Cash Prizes.
The winning cakes will be selected by experienced home economists on the staff of the Experimental Kitchen Laboratory maintained by C. Houston Goudias in New York City. The recipe adjudged the best will win $25 for the lucky homemaker who submits it; there will be five second prizes of $10 each and ten third prizes of $5 each.

First Prize	Five Second Prizes	Ten Third Prizes
$25.00	$10.00 Ea.	$5.00 Ea.

Enter your recipe in this contest today. Mail recipe and coupon, properly filled out with your full name, address, town, state, and the trade name of the shortening, baking powder and flour used in your recipe, to C. Houston Goudias, 6 East 39th Street, New York City.

Snoopin' Around

By D. A. Davis

I've been sitting here at my typewriter at least thirty minutes trying to study out just how I want to start off. I know what's on my mind, but I don't know exactly how to put it down in words, but to start out I want to say I am alarmed for the future of my home town. I've just finished reading about the building booms that are going on in our larger cities. Take for instance, our neighboring city Amarillo. I notice up to this last week building permits for the year of 1938 total one million dollars. Lubbock's building permits are quite a bit more, and Pampa is enjoying quite a building boom the past twelve months.

How many buildings of any kind have been built in McLean the past year. And furthermore, how many buildings have been erected in practically all towns in Texas the size of McLean up to double the population of McLean?

How many homes have been built or even badly needed repairs been made to farm homes the past year, or even the past ten years? And how many homes and business buildings in our small home towns have been kept in proper repair the past year or ten years? Where are our carpenters, brick masons, concrete men, painters and paper hangers?

And how many small town business men have made anything the past eight or ten years? How about you small town business men who started twenty years ago on small capital and worked yourself up to a fairly good start in life the last ten years—are you as well off today as you were ten years ago? And how many men right here in McLean that are broke today who were fairly prosperous business men ten years ago?

What's wrong, folks? Was it really your fault that you went broke? Did you just deliberately wreck your business?

Is it not a fact that good roads and fast automobiles and the habit of plan we rural and small town people have adopted of running up to Amarillo or down to Oklahoma City to do the biggest part of our trading, the cause of this awful slump in business and building in our small towns and rural districts? And I want to ask you, "Do you think it is a paying proposition?" How about your real estate values now as compared with twenty or even ten years ago? How many of you farmers can sell you farms for what you gave for them? And how many of you home owners and business house owners can sell your homes or business houses for anything like half of what they cost you? I absolutely know you cannot. WHAT IS THE REASON?

By your failure to support your home town merchants, have you not contributed a large part of this decline in our rural and small town values? How many taxes do the city firms pay into your town and schools? How many men or women do they employ in your home town? How many repair bills or improvement bills do they pay in your home town or rural community? Instead of your saving a dollar on a purchase that you made in Oklahoma City or Amarillo, don't you really lose that dollar, because you take it out of circulation in your home town and it never comes back?

Folks, I really believe if we small town and rural people don't wake up and quit spending so much of our money away from home, we soon will have nothing whatever of value in our small country towns.

Did you know you can drive to Oklahoma City or Amarillo and buy fifty dollars worth of merchandise for ten dollars less than you pay for it in McLean and NOT SAVE a red cent? Because your time, gas and DEPRECIATION on your car actually will cost you ten dollars.

And another thing. When we get the toe ache or the stumick ache or expect a visit from the grand old stork, why do we have to grab up our hats and tear out to some hospital a thousand miles away at a big expense when we have doctors right here in McLean that will get the job done for just about one-tenth what you will have to pay these hifalutin' hospitals?

Folks, just how would we feel and just how could we do without McLean as it is today? I don't want one single business man to fail or leave. I don't want any more of our residence houses to leave McLean, because when they leave it takes a home and some good citizen away. Right now we need at least a dozen nice rent houses that would be occupied by a dozen more good citizens and their families. I'd just like to know why we can't have them.

Mrs. O. G. Stokely, Mrs. R. I. Appling, Misses Orlean Marrs and Virginia Marshall attended a beauty show in Amarillo last week.

CLUB WOMEN HEAR FOOD SPECIALIST

By Mrs. Luther Petty. Miss Hettie Burr, Mesdames Luther Petty, Jack and Mabel Foley represented the Eastside H. D. Club at a meeting held at the court house in Pampa Tuesday afternoon, when Miss Grace I. Nerley, food preservation specialist from College Station, spoke to a group of women on the preservation of food and the family budget.

Miss Neeley showed how important it is to properly feed chickens and livestock, therefore, the feeding of the family should be more important.

Miss Neeley, quoting Dr. Rhodes, said "The first to six years are the most important for feeding a child."

Miss Neeley gave the following nutrition standard for each person per day: At least 1 pint to 1 quart of milk, either raw or in cooking; 1/2 cup potatoes, 1/2 cup green or yellow vegetable, 1/2 cup other vegetable, 1/2 cup fruit, 1/2 cup tomatoes or citrus fruit, 1 tablespoon butter and some bread at each meal, 1/2 cup cereal, 1/2 cup meat or dried peas or beans, 3 tablespoons American cheese, sweet's once a day, 3 to 5 eggs weekly.

Miss Neeley said care should be taken in training children in proper eating. She quoted Dr. Mayo as saying that 85 to 90% of all diseases are due to what goes through the mouth.

The Eastside Club will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Jack Foley. All women are invited to attend.

Mrs. J. H. Wade accompanied the club women to Pampa.
