Pull the Trigger on Constipation, and Pepsin-ize Acid Stomach Too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with certain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up fast that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderful stomach-relief, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how positioning your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking the laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even finicky children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative—Senna with Syrup Pepsin at your druggist today!

Old Books and New

By Marie Brooks
 Christopher Morley said, "Every book is a new book until you have read it," so, when you go to the library and ask for some special book and it happens to be out, why not take some other book? There are many books, no doubt, in the library which most of us have not read. Why? Perhaps because they are old. Perhaps because they look as if they would not be interesting. Suppose we take a new attitude toward these old or dull looking books; who knows what treasures in reading we might find in some of them? Many a person has passed up a good book because he felt that it did not look interesting; and, then, when he could find nothing else to do, he began to read it and found, to his delight, that it was one of the most interesting books he had ever read. Since this is book week, why not investigate your library?

SNOOPER'S DELIGHT

 Oran, what is the curse of blackmail? Turn about is fair play.

UNUSUAL BAND PERFORMANCE

The band gave a very unusual performance between halves of the Wheeler-McLean football game, Friday night, Nov. 10.
 The band marched in as usual but when they halted at the 50-yard line, a very colorful drum major went to the middle of the field with a plumber's friend as a baton and matched with the band's drum major, Margarette Kramer, to see who would lead the band in their performance. The unknown drum major won, and Margarette took her twirlers, Maxine Little and Louise McWhirter, and left the field.
 The very colorful drum major who knew his signals so well, led the band. The band seemed to know what they were doing, but the drum major didn't. They finally ended with a very unusual performance, skating off the field, with Margarette and her twirlers, and the other drum major, who was none other than John Byrd Gull, leading them off the field.

STRING BAND ORGANIZES

 The members are as follows: Donald Davis, Doyle Davis, Wilbur Hunt, Otto Riemer, John Bohd, Paul Bond and Oran Dorsey. Their sponsor is Mr. Cunningham.

SPEECH PLAY TO BE GIVEN

"Crashing Society," a comedy in three acts, will be given by the members of the speech class, Nov. 27, in the high school auditorium.

REV. MILHOLLAND SPEAKS

Rev. Thomas E. Milholland, who is conducting a series of services at the local Church of Christ, brought a very interesting and worth while message to the high school students and faculty members Tuesday morning. As scriptural reference, he used the story of David and Goliath, and urged that students take advantage of all opportunities, physical, mental and spiritual. David succeeded in slaying Goliath because he used his natural abilities and trusted God, and we may succeed in life by following David's example.

Lee Starnes, minister of the local church, introduced the speaker of the morning and was a guest in the chapel exercises. Mr. Howard and Mr. Wofford of Lella Lake, Mr. Massey and Mr. Burrows also attended the chapel services.

TIGERS DEFEAT WHEELER

The McLean Tigers won another conference game Friday night by a score of 12-6, from the Wheeler Mustangs, on Tiger Field.

The first touchdown was made on a completed 40 yard pass from Bond to Windom. The try for the extra point failed. In the third quarter of the game Emery of Wheeler went over for a touchdown by completing a pass. They failed to make their extra point. In the last quarter of the game John Bond made a 75 yard drive for the last touchdown and the game ended with the score of 12-6.

The Tigers play their last scheduled conference game Friday night, when they play Wellington. This is the only game scheduled for the Pannhandle.

F. F. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

The McLean F. F. A. has elected the following officers in their chapter:

President, J. L. Hancock; vice president, Tommy Beck; treasurer, Robert Wilson; secretary, Melvin Bailey; reporter, Leonard Glass; watch dog, Joy Masterson.

DIST. F. F. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

The Pampa district F. F. A. composed of the towns of Perryton, Canadian, Miami, Wheeler, Shamrock, White Deer, Claude, Pannhandle, Dumas, Pampa, Groom and McLean, met in Perryton Saturday, Nov. 3, for the purpose of electing district officers and setting up their program of work for the coming year. Several boys from the McLean chapter attended this meeting. Everyone reported a very enjoyable trip and received much benefit from the district meeting. Wilson Beck of McLean was elected reporter for the district.

OBJECTIVES OF LOCAL F. F. A.

The objectives to be carried out this year by the McLean F. F. A. have been set up by a committee and will appear in the next issue.

One objective is to promote a community-wide dairy improvement program. The chapter has just purchased a registered milking shorthorn bull. This bull's pedigree is outstanding. He has never been beaten in the show ring, though he placed second on one occasion.

WHEN WE WERE VERY YOUNG

Do you ever get out one of your baby pictures and reflect what a cute, or perhaps ugly, little tot you were?

Perhaps back in those days you had blond hair or those blond tresses of today were then black.

By examining a class photograph taken in 1929, one discovers that out of 37 members of the first grade, only eight are seniors of '40. They are Clint Doolen, Donovan D'Spain, Robert Wilson, Damon Wade, Junior Windom, Granville Boyd, Percy Kinard and Marie Eudey. Three were graduated in '39, one of whom, Eugene Stewart, was an honor student and is this year attending Texas Tech. Dorothy Sue Young is employed in a local store while Lorraine Hodges is seeking a secretarial career in Pampa. Three of the class decided they liked school so well they would remain another year and will graduate with the class of '41.

The boundless deep appealed to one member, Bill Gregory, who is stationed with the U. S. Navy in Hawaii.

Nineteen class members have moved to other towns and states to seek their fortunes.

The teacher, Mrs. Mary Sligar, is an instructor in the Canyon Demonstration School.

The dress costumes are not much different from those of the present day school child. Twenty of the 24 boys were dressed in overalls, and the remaining four in knee pants. Only two of the girls had curled hair; the rest wore bangs and hair parted in the middle.

This was the class of '40 when they were the beginning class of '29.

Strange Facts

Jobs vs. Positions
New 'Antiques'
Taps for Evil Spirits

The captain of one New Yorker's private yacht draws a larger salary than the master of the Queen Mary, the colored manager of a Harlem dance hall is paid more than the governor of Pennsylvania, and a Midwesterner received more money as the president of a local musicians' union in 1938 than Mr. Roosevelt received as President of the United States.

For a number of years, at least three-quarters of all "antiques" imported into this country have been fakes.

The three volleys fired into the air at military funerals were originally intended to frighten away evil spirits and, therefore, prevent them from entering the mourners' hearts, which stood ajar at the burial of a comrade.—Collier's.

CONSTIPATED! Gas Crowds Heart.

For years I had occasional constipation, headaches and pains in the back. A full gas bloating seemed to crowd my heart. Adierka always helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never feel better.—Mrs. Mabel Schott. Two things happen when you are constipated. FIRST: Accumulated wastes swell up bowels and press on nerves in the digestive tract. SECOND: Early digested food starts to decay forming GAS, often bringing on sour stomach, indigestion, and heartburn, bloating you up until you sometimes gasp for breath. Adierka gives double relief with DOUBLE ACTION. BALANCED Adierka containing three laxatives and five emollients relieve STOMACH GAS almost at once. It often clears bowels in less than two hours. No griping, no after effects, just quick results. Sold at all drug stores.

New Elegance in Current Mode Calls for Quality-Kind Silks

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHAT was good enough for our great-grandmothers should be equally as good for us. Some such thought must have motivated the minds of our modern fabricists when they announced for fall and winter 1939-1940 a revival of the quality-kind old-fashioned silks such as were the pride and the joy of our ancestresses. Call them heirloom silks if you will, for some of the silk weaves so chic and so fabric-fine that are considered high-style today but tell the story over again of sterling-worth bengalines, failies; likewise traditional ottoman silks and grosgrains, also stand-alone moires and taffetas that make music with their rustle of real honest-to-goodness silk.

When you come to analyze the present situation, the re-incarnation in current fashion of the elegant "lovely lady" fashions so characteristic of the early Victorian and Edwardian periods, and of this generation just naturally have to think in terms of fabric elegance.

The idea that prevails this season is fabric elegance for dresses styled with utmost simplicity, depending on accessories for dash and allure. High value is put on skillful fabric treatment in drapes, shirtings, pleating and self-fabric details.

It is a very silk-conscious group we present in the illustration herewith. A great favorite with French designers is pure silk jersey which they say, and they prove it in the lovely creations they turn out, has no peer when it comes to sculptural draping and intriguing shirring.

The attractive dress to the left in the picture is of smooth, dark silk jersey. Although it has been elaborately draped and shirred, the slender silhouette has been in no respect sacrificed. If you haven't a silk jersey (preferably black) daytime dress in your collection you are losing out on a lot of pleasure and comfort. Choose dark or black jersey for practical afternoon wear and for your loveliest formal let it be of white silk jersey sculpturally draped, adding gold accents to make it supremely beautiful.

A draped and shirred green silk crepe luncheon dress, designed for the new corseted lady, is shown to the right. It speaks eloquently in favor of fabric treatment. Note the

Whimsical Velvet Turbans in Colors

Milliners are designing adorable little velvet turbans, bright with color, to wear with fur coats this winter or to crown smart dinner gowns with glory. These little fantasies of velvet are often allover shirred or are formed of myriads of little corded loops. Some houses are showing them in that old-time favorite, old gold. Others exploit them in teal blue to ensemble with silver jewelry set in blue stones, and as for eye-dazzling red, there's nothing smarter than a red hat with a black dress.

In fact these cunning velvet turbans have gone on a gay and festive color spree. The fireman-red velvet types make you "stop, look and listen" but you'll love these startling reds just the same. With dark furs they are simply perfect.

Most of these flattering little hats have a snood to cover the coiffure at the back, and it's "mighty like a rose" that some of them look being often a huge pouf of velvet in flower color, posed jauntily low over the brow.

self fabric pleated ruffle on the bodice the wide corselet belt and other fetching styling details.

Centered in the trio is a striking evening ensemble developed of handsome silk white faille, for faille, such as our grandmothers treasured, is again a favorite silk. Note the brief peplum that flares from the lower waistline of the basque jacket. The novel square buttons are of outstanding style importance. It's fortunate you'll be if you have stored away among heirlooms some of the gorgeous jeweled buttons that once were fashionable and are so again. Glorify your evening coat with these buttons or your blouse or your "bestest" afternoon dress.

In conclusion just a word about the stunning jacket tailored suits that are made of black bengaline silk or faille. These silk classics register among the topnotch fashions of the day.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Suits Are Favored in Newest Modes

Suits are important in the new mode and include both dress and jacket and skirt and jacket combinations. Short, fitted, peplum jackets and long fitted jackets are both in the picture. Many are furred and worn with fur muffs, hats and umbrellas whose handles are covered with the same pelts.

Smartest coats, both cloth and furs, are fitted and flared. Many cloth ones are so liberally trimmed with pelts that they seem about half fur. Persian lamb, beaver, seal, leopard, fox, marten and mink are all used.

Air-Travel Suit

Now that it's "ship ahoy" in the air, as well as by sea, designers are making a feature of air-travel fashions. Victor Stiebel, noted London designer, is among the first to turn attention toward creating airship wardrobes. For daytime needs in his clipper wardrobe he designs this handsome and practical suit. In this instance rabbit's hair crepe of naphthalated wool is intricately tailored into a slim straight model with rows of self-colored stitching. A mist green hat tops the suit to perfection.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for November 19

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

WARNINGS AND PROMISES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 7:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.—Luke 6:31.

"How to Win Friends and Influence People" may be worthwhile to study, unless it is done from a purely selfish desire to be popular so that one may make more money and get on in the world. Everyone should desire to make more friends and better friends, and the Christian in making friends should make them for his Lord as well as for himself. Actually the best of the rules and suggestions offered on this subject are already an integral part of Christian conduct as revealed in the Word of God.

I. Avoid Judgment (vv. 1-5).

By not judging others censoriously we escape such judgment of ourselves both by God and by our fellow man. The admonition, "Judge not," obviously does not mean that we are not to exercise our God-given ability to discern between good and evil, nor does it mean that we are to stand silent in the presence of wrongdoing. Verse 6 in this very chapter calls for the use of judgment (see also I Thess. 5:21).

In all such judgment we are to avoid an unkind spirit and the hypocrisy described in verses 3 to 5. We are to be certain that our own lives are above reproach regarding that which we condemn (v. 5). The none too common exercise of correcting our own faults will serve a salutary twofold purpose of improving ourselves and of making us too busy to find fault with others.

II. Be Reverent (v. 6).

While we are not to judge others, we are not to go to the opposite extreme of being so lenient in our attitude that we permit ungodly men to profane and trample down sacred things. This does not mean, as some would have us believe, that we are not to present the gospel to the lowest of sinners; for example, to a drunkard. Only thus can such an individual be saved. But it does mean that in dealing with holy things we are not only to be reverent ourselves, but we are to be careful that we do not permit wicked men to misuse and to profane the holy things of God.

III. Pray in Faith (vv. 7-11).

Here is a straightforward promise from the lips of our Lord Himself, assuring us that prayer will be answered. It seems that He must have foreknown that some would feel that the promise was too good to be true, so He stated it in three-fold form and repeated it twice. Why not believe it, act on it, and receive the answer?

Observe that there is to be importunity in prayer, we are to seek if we would find. "Our Lord does not guarantee to us anything at first asking. God does not open His treasury to a passing bugle-call or the tap of a careless hand which just touches the door and then passes on. Prayer is not a momentary wish or a transitory whim. It is the utterance of a confirmed and persistent and unwearied longing. If you want a prayer answered, you must go on praying" (J. G. Greenough).

We have included the so-called Golden Rule under this section because the word "therefore" links it with that which goes before. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan aptly says, "If we omit the 'therefore,' we cannot obey the verse. If we retain the 'therefore,' and are driven to ask, to seek, to knock, and to know that the Listener to the asking, to the seeking, to the knocking, is our Father, then the rule is golden with heaven's own light, but in no other way."

The Golden Rule is really the fulfillment of the law and the prophets, but in the light of Christ's glory it is also a great principle of Christian love and consideration.

IV. Walk in the Narrow Way (vv. 13, 14).

The road to heaven is a narrow way because it is built to carry us through the quicksands of this world to a glorious consummation. It is not a diurnal road, for it is lighted by God's glory; and it is not a lonesome road (even though few go that way), because Jesus walks with us.

The road to destruction is broad. The entrance is easy; there is much company, but one soon finds that the company is distasteful—just fellow sinners. Jesus is not going that way. The best people, God's people, are going the other way. The road leads into all kinds of by-ways where pitfalls abound. The earthly pleasures one thought to enjoy have, as Maclaren puts it, "a strange knack of losing their charm and at the same time increasing their hold."

Full of Grace

I will neither be content with that measure of grace I have, nor impatient of God's delay; but every day I will endeavor to have one drop added to the rest; so my last day shall fill up my vessel to the brim.—Joseph Hall.

THEN SHALL I GIVE THANKS

By Eugenia T. Finn
Give me an humble heart that I may see
What God and home and country mean to me.
I know the beauty of my native land.
Its quiet hills; its mountains crowned with snow;
Its waters that shall make a desert bloom
With strangest loveliness; all this I know.
And I have learned of men who gave their lives
In service that a dream might be fulfilled.
Remembered words have echoed down the years
A song of freedom that shall not be stilled.
Nor have I quite forgotten that much blood
Upon the land, a seeping, staining red,
Must be a mark of covenant between
The vallant living and heroic dead.
And yet it would be well if, for a day,
My life could be a sharper contrast shown
Against a background, somber and austere,
Deprived of all the sunlight I have known.
Because, perhaps, I take as if by right,
Unnumbered blessings, scarcely giving heed
Or thanks to that vast fellowship of men
That by the grace of God, has met each need.
Forgive me: clear my vision till I see
What God and home and country mean to me!
