

Admiral's Job Is His One Hobby

BOSTON—The new commandant of the Boston Naval Base, 55-year-old Rear Adm. Wilbur Du Puy Baker, has only one relaxation—work.

Intimates of the white-haired, blue-eyed Navy Cross winner reveal that he is hard at work from 0800 to 2000 or from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m. civilian time.

The trim, well-proportioned Admiral, in true Navy tradition, was born far from the water in Topeka, Kas. He was appointed to the Naval Academy from Michigan in 1910 and was commissioned in 1914.

He went to sea almost immediately, serving on the USS Florida, the USS Jason and the old USS North Carolina, operating around Syria until 1916. Submarine duty came next after training in the States, and the Admiral served aboard the L-11, which operated in Irish waters during World War I. He then commanded four successive submarines until a tour of shore duty saw him at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H.

Adm. Baker subsequently saw battleship and destroyer duty before serving as professor of Naval Science and Tactics at Yale University.

At the outbreak of World War II, he held the post of commander, Destroyer Squadron 31, and then moved on to skipper the giant US North Carolina. Subsequently, he was commander, Cruiser Division 1, and for services in that command was awarded the Navy Cross.

The citation read in part: "for extraordinary heroism in the performance of outstanding service as commander Task Force 94. During the period June, 1943, to March, 1944, he operated the forces under his command under adverse weather conditions, conducting the first surface bombardment of the Japanese home islands and led the first offensive operations into the Sea of Okhotsk. . . ."

In July, 1944, he was assigned duty as Chief of Staff and Aide on the Staff of Commander Carrier Task Force Two and in September, 1945, was designated Chief of Staff and Aide to the Commander Second Carrier Task Force. For his staff services, he was awarded the Silver Star, the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star.

Adm. Baker anticipates no housing problem at his new post for his wife and two children. Quarters will be provided at the base.

BIG, LITTLE BOBBIES, CREATIONS OF SALLY VICTOR, BOB UP IN NEW SPRING FASHIONS

THEY STARTED IT ALL . . . These two innocent looking little chapeaux, designed by Sally Victor, have roused a storm of controversy now raging on both sides of the Atlantic. Left, "Little Bobbie" in gingham; right, "Big Bob" in felt.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

The girls who like long hair are all upset. The men who admire flowing tresses are up in arms. Beauticians are divided in their opinions. Models and movie stars are pleased. And everybody's arguing.

The cause of all this rumpus is Sally Victor, the milliner who is famous for making her customers look pretty. Sally, a kindly, smiling little person who wouldn't hurt a flea, is slightly aghast at all the fuss. She has had to hire an extra secretary to answer the flood of letters that has descended upon her, and to answer the jangling telephone.

All Sally did, you see, was to show two hats at her recent spring opening—"Big Bob," a deep, tall cloche, and "Little Bobbie," a junior model of same—with the recommendation that they be worn with short bobbed hair.

Now the stylists and the columnists are charging heatedly that Sally is trying to bring back the unwomanly, unattractive flapper of the 'Terrible Twenties, with her boyish bob, flat chest and all. Sally insists she meant no such thing. Says she:

"I just thought the young girls might look cute with their hair cut shorter and curled around their faces. They do, too. But I've never been in favor of flat chests or infeminine styles, and I never will be. Why does everybody pick on me?"

EX-MECHANIC INVENTS OWN COTTON PICKER

STAMFORD—W. K. Mercer is a cotton farmer who invented his own mechanical picker.

Made mostly of odd pieces of junk and sheet metal, the model took about a month to build.

"I had it in mind, though, for years," said the master mechanic turned farmer.

For nine years Mercer worked as a skilled mechanic for the Missouri Pacific railroad in Arkansas, for 18 years as a precision mechanic for a piston-ring company in Fort Worth, and for half a dozen years in Houston as a toolmaker and automobile mechanic.

Then he took up farming east of Stamford, and turned his inventive skill toward a machine which would gather cotton without also harvesting parts of stalks, matches and other debris.

"One big advantage my picker has over handpicked cotton is the absence of matches—a nightmare to ginnery," Mercer said. "Because most Mexican cottonpickers smoke, matches get into the harvested cotton and gins continually have fires."

Steel fingers of the machine take the fleecy staple from the bolls and help give a clean cotton. The picker uses two reels. The front one's gathering head picks the cotton. The back reel delivers it to the elevator and that carries it to a trailer attached to the tractor. The back elevator has a drag belt that carries the cotton over a cleaning screen, taking out trash.

"It's a simple machine," Mercer said. "A boy of 12 can operate it."

He said it picks two rows at a time and gathers cotton from 15 to 20 acres a day.

Man Wanted Found Dead In Car Seat

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 23 (AP)—A man who Police Detective Sgt. L. N. Hedgpeth said was identified as Eldrick Leuch, 48, wanted for questioning in connection with a double shooting at Carnegie, Okla., was found dead in the rear seat of an automobile here today.

Investigators for the county attorney's office said an autopsy would be performed to determine cause of death.

Leuch was wanted in connection with the shooting yesterday of Al-tay May Nelson, 25, of Carnegie, and her husband of a day, A. B. Stevens, Lubbock, Texas, Sgt. Hedgpeth said he had been informed by A. F. Lloyd, marshal at Carnegie. Both had shoulder wounds.

Sarah Hughes To Run

DALLAS, Feb. 23 (AP)—District Judge Sarah T. Hughes announced formally today that she is a candidate for the democratic nomination to congress from the Dallas district in the July primary.

Judge Hughes will take a leave of absence from the fourteenth court bench on March 1 to begin her campaign.

EDUCATORS TO MEET

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 23 (AP)—Educators from throughout the Americas will meet here May 8-15 for the fifth American Congress of Teachers to emphasize the need for unifying educational goals of the 21 American republics. The last congress met in Santiago, Chile, in December, 1943.

Texas U. Professor Given Back Old Job

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Another of the key figures in a controversy that led to the discharge of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as president of the University of Texas was given back his job—with higher rank, pay and with tenure—by the board of regents today.

This action highlighted today's session of the board, which also took under consideration a suggestion by David M. Warren of Panhandle that the university give priority to veterans in assigning all its housing space for new students. A committee was appointed to study the proposal and report to the next session.

The second member of the trio of economic instructors re-elected by the present board was Dr. William Nelson Peach, who was named assistant professor of economics effective March 1. He, Dr. Wendell C. Gordon and Fagg Foster failed of re-election to the faculty in 1942 after they were critical of a Dallas mass meeting at which the wage hour law was discussed.

O'Daniel To Speak

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) is on his way by train to Longview, where he will speak Monday at the dedication of the LeTourneau Technical Institute. O'Daniel, who left here last night, said he would visit Fort Worth, Dallas, and other cities in Texas before returning to Washington.

FEPC Supporters

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Delegates to a 16-state conference of the national council for a permanent FEPC today discussed tentatively a march on Washington this spring by national labor, civic and church groups to support pending FEPC legislation. The council was instructed by the delegates to ask leaders of the groups to consider such a project.

Servicemen To Vote Before Election Date

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Attorney General Grover Sellers advised servicemen and women who are eligible to vote without payment of the poll tax that their absentee ballots must be counted by election officials if they are accompanied by affidavits showing they are qualified to vote.

Servicemen and women exempt from paying the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting do not need to have exemption certificates when they present themselves at the polls, he had held in an earlier opinion.

Court Reporters File Suit For Wage Hike

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 23 (AP)—Appointed by district judges but paid by the counties they serve, Court Reporters C. D. Proffitt and Ralston P. Haun today filed suit here to obtain pay raises authorized by the last legislature.

The suit was filed against the county judge, auditor and treasurer here.

Favor Bull Fights

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 23 (AP)—The National Chamber of Manufacturers is in favor of bull fights, but to a moderate extent.

The organization today asked the government to limit performances to Sundays, as was customary for many years, because "too many bull fights are interfering with business."

Interest In Blackstone

FORT WORTH, Feb. 23 (AP)—H. Fuller Stevens, hotel operator at Tyler and McAllen, has acquired an interest in the corporation operating the Blackstone hotel here and will assume its active directorship on March 1. Joe O'Keefe, general manager of the C. A. O'Keefe estate, announced today.

District Baptists To Hold Convention

Baptists of district No. 8 will hold their annual convention at Seagraves Tuesday and Wednesday.

Representatives will go from most of the Big Spring churches and the Big Spring association, largest in the district, is due to be well represented.

District No. 8 is composed of the Big Spring (which takes in Howard, Martin, Midland, Glasscock and Ector counties) the Mitchell-Scurry, the Lamesa, and the Gaines-Andrew-Yoakum associations.

The Week

The city has plans for landscaping the drives and making other improvements.

Those who wish assistance from deputy tax collectors on their 1945 income tax returns will have that opportunity Feb. 25-28 in the post-office basement. It's getting time to figure on returns, for March 15 isn't far away.

Returns on the unofficial parking meter referendum show about three to one favoring. While this is simply a trial balloon, it may bear considerable weight with the city commission.

Whether many cotton producers take out cotton crop insurance before the April 10 deadline remains to be seen. Last year a lot more than the three acre who actually did take out the insurance wished in vain that they had.

County officials report the highway commission has given a commitment on the Big Spring-Snyder road project. Here's hoping that work starts quickly. We need to seek vigorous action on securing more roads for Howard county.

Big Spring gets an additional five per cent credit on its fire insurance rate this year, making a 10 per cent credit. The way things have started, we may go in reverse next year.

The Lions club won high honor last week in topping one of 10 divisions in a new member campaign. That means that the club was one of 10 winners out of approximately 3,500 clubs in some 16 countries.

Burros On Display

McALLEN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Two Rio Grande valley burros will go on display at the Iowa state fair this summer because Orville Warner of Rippey, Ia., believes thousands of Iowans have never seen such an animal. Warner has spent the winter here. He said today he would ship the animals to his home in March then take them to Des Moines for the fair.

Assault On CIO Presages New Labor Struggle

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Sudden assaults on the CIO by the AFL and John L. Lewis is being studied for clues to a possible new labor struggle for US labor supremacy, based on ideology.

Lewis, who returned to the AFL with his 600,000 United Mineworkers last month, made an argument for labor unity last night in a radio news conference, and suggested such unity should come by affiliation with the American Federation of Labor.

The AFL now claims more than 7,000,000 members. The CIO says it has 8,000,000 on its rolls.

"We believe that the AFL at the present moment is a more American type organization than the CIO," Lewis said. When pressed for an explanation of that remark, the mine leader, who founded the CIO in 1935 then left it in 1942, said:

"I mean it (AFL) is dedicated to the principles of perpetuating free institutions of America. It stands against collectivism and against the centralization of controls in the government. It does not constantly depend upon the government to make all decisions affecting the policies of organized labor."

Without mentioning CIO President Philip Murray, Lewis obviously was referring to Murray's acceptance of the steel strike compromise proposed by President Truman. The CIO has support efforts to continue wartime controls. It wanted the War Labor Board carried through critical post-war months.

Lewis opposed Murray's efforts to bring the issue of reconversion wages before the November labor-management conference, and the public utterances of both Lewis and AFL President William Green since then have followed identical patterns.

Now the plan appears to be unfolding as an effort to wear away from the CIO such unionists as would find themselves more sympathetic with the traditional economic and political views of the federation than with those of certain CIO factions.

Dissolution Of Jap Industry Is Unsatisfactory

TOKYO, Feb. 23 (AP)—Supreme headquarters expressed dissatisfaction today with Japanese measures for dissolution of the Zaibatsu (family combines) and indicated it might broaden its offensive against feudalistic elements in the nation's economy.

"Dissolution of the Zaibatsu, or monopolistic companies," said Maj. S. W. Wheeler of Beecher-town, Mass., head of the cartels division of General MacArthur's economic and scientific section, "means encouragement of the essence of democracy in Japanese economy. I would like the people to have a deeper interest in this than they do."

Headquarters has designated 19 big concerns as Zaibatsu but other concerns may be similarly designated later, Wheeler said.

On the war crimes front MacArthur today ordered the arrest of 27 additional suspects. They included Navy Capt. Koreshige Inuzuka, former commander of a naval garrison unit in the Philippines; navy Capt. Kenji Iwataka, formerly stationed at Truk, and navy Lt. Hideo Suzuki, formerly stationed at Manila.

"GRADUATES" AT LAST Bill Olsen Resigns School Post After 23 Years There

Venerable Bill Olsen has resigned his post as supervisor of grounds and buildings at Big Spring-high school but his memories linger on.

Bill took to pasture last month after having served the school system in various capacities for almost 23 years. During that time he estimates he became acquainted with thousands of students, most of whom he knew by name.

"His kids," as he affectionately refers to them, have gone on to become doctors, lawyers, soldiers, professional men in all walks of life but to them they're still "his kids."

When Olsen assumed his duties August 1, 1923, P. B. Bettie was serving as superintendent. The past 18 years, Bill has worked with Supt. W. C. Blankenship, current head of the schools.

During his tour of duty, the Alabama-born, pipe-smoking Bill served at various times as manager of the high school athletic teams, helping such coaches as Joe Ward, Alfred Collins, Frank Boyle and Bill Stevens attend to the thousand and one things that the well-being of an army of athletes demands.

He refuses to commit himself on his idea of Big Spring's top all-time football player but among the students he remembers best are the Segal boys, Charley and Frank, Tack Dennis and the Flowers brothers, Jack, Bill, Bob and Sam.

The job was not without its suspense and thrills, Olsen reminisces.

He once averted a threatened explosion in his boiler rooms by reaching one of the fuel jets after the school's entire basement had been filled with the highly volatile gas. He did so at the expense of a suit of clothes. Chemical de-

Limit Placed On Sale Of Surplus Property To Houston Veterans

HOUSTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The Houston veterans service center has won its fight to obtain a limitation on the number of surplus commodity vehicles which a veteran may purchase at War Assets Corporation fixed price sales, Director Houston Crump said today.

A representative of the corporation's regional office at Fort Worth has informed the center that no veteran at future sales will be permitted to purchase more than one vehicle as long as other veterans are waiting in line to buy. Dealer veterans will not be allowed to purchase until the day following.

The corporation has not limited the number of priority certificates which a veteran may obtain.

A center spokesman said he understood that the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be represented at future sales to determine whether veterans are acting for another party. Next sale is at Fort Sill, Okla., with veterans buying March 13-14, dealer veterans March 15.

composition caused by the powerful fumes caused his clothes to disintegrate.

One of Bill's fondest memories is that of Senior Day, when the upper classmen abandon their curriculum temporarily for a climactic rally.

For the past five years, Olsen has been helping convey part of the class to Christoval where a general holiday is observed.

POLICE ACT AS STORK ASSISTANTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—Policemen John Gallagher and Lee Sherlock answered a hurry-up call to the home of Frank Pedersen who excitedly reported he wouldn't have time to remove his wife, Dawn, 21, to a hospital.

Gallagher took charge and delivered what he estimated was his 100th baby in the 27 years he has been a policeman.

Sherlock, who assisted in delivering the seven pound girl, said it was his first experience.

The Pedersen's physician arrived after the birth and congratulated the officers on their "good job."

Canadian Espionage Probers Detain 13

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (AP)—Counsel for the royal commission investigating espionage activities said today that 11 men and two women had been detained in the inquiry and "it is apparent that it may be necessary to request that additional persons may be interrogated."

A statement said the evidence so far obtained confirms "the serious nature" of the disclosures made. It added that probably two or three weeks would elapse before some of the findings of the commission could be made public.

Gifts Banned

HERINGTON, Kas., Feb. 23 (AP)—Mrs. Warren Ives will be able to use her new clothes line just any day now. Or at least as soon as the Rev. Ives, her husband, hauls a few more wheelbarrows of dirt.

The pastor headed his wife's injunction to build a new clothes line and he built one—strong and high—so high his wife on tiptoes could not reach it.

That is why he is now getting his daily dozen by moving dirt with a wheelbarrow, bringing the level of the ground closer to the line.

Baptists Observing 'Coley Arender Day' In Director's Honor

Members of the East Fourth Baptist church will pay tribute to Coley Arender, who ends his service with the church at the 7:30 p. m. service today.

Arender has resigned to accept a position as educational director of the First Baptist church in Kermit and will take up his new work today.

Today has been declared "Coley Arender Day" at the church and the entire evening worship service will be planned in honor of him. Rev. J. R. Clark, pastor, urged his friends and all others to participate in the service.

During Arender's tenure here as educational director, the Sunday school has increased more than 50 per Sunday.

"Coley Arender leaves the work of the church in good condition," said the Rev. Clark, "and his service here will be missed."

Defeat Of Peron Could Solve Issue

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Government officials and Latin American diplomats today were agreed on at least one thing in connection with tomorrow's national election in Argentina.

Defeat of Col. Juan D. Peron, presidential aspirant whom the United States regards as an exponent of Fascism, would solve all immediate inter-American political problems — provided, of course, that Peron could not subsequently seize power by military force.

In any case the outcome will shape general inter-American dealings for some time to come.

The officials and diplomats are sharply divided on the chances of Peron's opponent, Dr. Jose Tamborini, Democratic Union candidate. Some Latin diplomats say they believe Tamborini will win decisively.

State Department officials are not so optimistic. They point out that predictions of a Tamborini victory are based on the assumption of a free election and say some fraudulent aspects already have developed.

These officials are particularly afraid that the violence inspired by Peron's followers in Democratic Union rallies during the campaign may have intimidated Tamborini supporters from coming to the polls.

All agree, however, that Tamborini's election — but installation in office — would pave the way for:

1. Speedy restoration of Argentina to official good standing in the inter-American family.
2. Early convening of the Rio de Janeiro conference to draft an inter-American defense treaty, in which Argentina's participation would be welcomed by all the other American republics, including the US.

If Peron wins, however, some US officials and diplomats believe there is a possibility that the RIO conference — already postponed once — may not be held. The meeting now is scheduled to begin some time between March 15 and April 15.

Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District News

"Conservation practices really pay off in farming and ranching." This is the statement made by A. H. Shroyer as he and his brother, Lester Shroyer, made application to the district for assistance in planning and establishing a coordinated conservation program on a half-section of land recently purchased from Hubert Smith. Shroyer, assisted by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service, developed a plan in 1944 on his home place located in the Vealmoor conservation group and is now applying soil and water conservation practices which include the following: 1) livestock adjustments for range improvement and a balanced feed program; 2) soil improvement by crop rotation, green manure crops, and stubble management; 3) terracing and contour farming.

Conservation plans are now being developed on the following farms: J. I. and J. T. Balch, of North Big Spring conservation group; J. P. Dodge in the Center Point group; G. W. Felton of the East Coahoma group; and S. F. Buchanan in the R-Bar conservation group.

B. O. Brown is constructing approximately 16 miles of terraces on his farm located in the Vincent conservation group. The terraces are being built to the following minimum specifications as recommended by the district: 24 feet base width; 4 feet, crown or top width; and 21 inches unsettled height expecting the terraces to shrink to a height of 15 inches when settled. Whirlwind terracing machines are being used to construct the terraces. This type of equipment builds a loose terrace, therefore requiring approximately 6 inches additional height to allow for shrinkage. Soil Conservation Service technicians are assisting Brown in laying out and constructing the system of terraces.

Willis Winters, who has been applying conservation practices on his farm for the past 4 years in cooperation with the district and with the technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, is now improving his terraces by increasing the base width and effective height. To do this he is using a single disk attachment.

J. P. Dodge of the Center Point conservation group has included in his new plan of soil and water conservation a trial planting of Abruzzi rye which will be seeded in the fall to determine its possibilities as a cover crop on sandy soils and as a supplementary winter grazing crop. According to C. R. Donaldson in charge of the local SCS office, this district is in urgent need of a good winter and spring cover crop for wind erosion control in the sandy areas.

Detective Tells Of Aid In Desrosiers Arrest

LITTLETON, Colo., Feb. 23 (AP) — A Denver detective related in district court today how he had aided in arresting Joseph Desrosiers, 26, ex-army sergeant from San Antonio, Tex., in a cornfield shortly after his wife, Katherine, 24, was shot.

Detective John B. Toll said that Desrosiers, now on trial for the slaying, was sitting in the back seat of an automobile beside his dead wife. Toll declared that as he and other members of a posse approached, Desrosiers lit a cigarette.

A spotlight was thrown on the car. Toll testified, and officers closed in. Desrosiers had a pistol in his hand but when ordered to surrender placed the gun in his belt and left the car with his hands in air, Toll declared.

Defense Attorney Earl J. Hower asked if the detective had heard Desrosiers say that he intended to kill himself but that his gun jammed.

Toll replied that he had heard Desrosiers say only that his gun had jammed. The posse went to the cornfield where Desrosiers was arrested after Marie Woldill, 26, of Atlantic City, N. J., had burst scantily clad into Denver police headquarters crying that she had been raped twice by a man who had shot his wife.

The girl testified in the trial that she was raped the second time by Desrosiers in the front seat of the car while his wife lay dying in the back.

'Out Of This World' Is, Well, Out Of This World

About once in a month of Sunday some studio turns up with one of those pictures that leaves no doubt in anybody's mind about its future, and this is one of those times. In "Out of This World" playing today and tomorrow at the State Theater, 96-minutes of entertainment is packed without a surplus second.

The reasons why this is so are so many it would require extensive cataloging if an accurate measure of the property is to be had from reading about it. Suffice it to say, Eddie Bracken, Veronica Lake and Diana Lynn have the starring roles with a fine supporting cast headed by Cass Daley, Parykarkus, Donald MacBride and others.

Disregarding the credits for a moment, it's to be reported that the story is about a crooner whose history parallels that of Frank Sinatra in his beginnings, inclusive of that business about so many people owning a piece of his contract, but the crooner is played by Eddie Bracken and Eddie Bracken's singing is done by Bing Crosby.

The Sinatra career is in itself a story as full of laughs as any picture has a right to be, and the Crosby singing — superbly coordinated with the Bracken performance and delightfully identified — comes across by a floodtide of melody. It's to be reported, too, that the four Crosby boys are in the picture for a bit, playing themselves as enrollees in an orphan's home on account of "You know Pa and his horses," which crackles with the good humor which is production and superstructure of the production.

Besides Mr. Crosby's voice, which is not billed, but the audience knows is there, the picture

RADIO NOTES

For earlier risers, KBST is inaugurating a new program at 6 o'clock in the morning, Mondays through Saturday. Called "Town and Country Time," it is a live-talent feature with music by Verne Rooney's orchestra and songs by Elaine Carroll. Especially for the rural audience, farm news and interviews with outstanding agriculturists will be given.

This evening at 7:30 Ray Boren, local contact man for the Veterans Administration will be heard with information concerning the GI bill of rights.

King Harvey, former featured vocalist and guitarist with such famous orchestras as Wayne King, Herbie Kay and Anson Weeks, will present the first in a new series of programs Monday evening at 8:20 over KBST.

A veteran of several years in the professional orchestra field, Harvey has appeared in several feature shorts for Paramount Pictures.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was born in Denison October 14, 1890.

Deep, Moving Drama Scheduled For Ritz

SCENE FROM RITZ ATTRACTION—Happiness I can't more to her than her reputation! "My Reputation" co-stars George Brent and Barbara Stanwyck.

OUT OF THIS WORLD?—Eddie Bracken may well think so as he startles Diana Lynn with an impulsive kiss in "Out of This World," playing today and tomorrow at the State Theater.

The deeply moving, emotional aspects will appeal particularly to women, but the sincerity and great skill of Miss Stanwyck's acting in "My Reputation," Sunday and Monday attraction at the Ritz theater, will be certain to be appreciated by all types of audiences.

From beginning to end, there is not one single dull moment in this superb film, which probably will be selected for lists of really great pictures. The direction of Curtis Bernhardt is so beautifully handled that the excellent cast seem to have been lifted above their heretofore demonstrated abilities as players so that all without exception seem to be giving the best performances of their careers.

Miss Stanwyck, as the bewildered, frightened and grief-stricken young widow, has without any doubt achieved the heights as a great dramatic actress. And George Brent, as an amiable lone wolf army officer about to go overseas, whose technique changes from straight aggression to one of understanding and tenderness, also is superb.

Lucille Watson, Eve Arden and the two youngsters, Scotty Beckett and newcomer Bobby Cooper are also outstanding in supporting roles.

The story concerns the recent widow who resists the kindly but determined efforts of her widowed mother to make her follow the conventional life of a widow. Barbara determines to live her own life for the sake of her two boys, and goes away for a rest where she meets George Brent, an army major on leave. He presses his attentions on the bewildered but vulnerable Barbara who then becomes the aggressor. Brent, recognizing the change to be the result of an emotional upset, pursues her along more conventional lines. Vicious gossip brings on a misunderstanding with the two boys who accuse their mother of misconduct and leave home.

The plot straightens out after a dramatic climax which is an example of fine acting, directing and writing and will long remain vivid in the minds of theatre-goers.

As ace salesman for the Casite corporation, he has a definite line of his own. For instance, when asked why he placed such high importance on the filling station attendant Monk replied: "Well, those boys have to move a tremendous amount of gas every day—and I've had the same sort of job for 25 years. That's how I learned so many jokes. Nothing like a good laugh to move a tankful of gas."

Watson, who does card tricks and other types of sleight-of-hand, will appear free to the public under the auspices of the Harry Lester Auto Supply here.

The show will begin at 8 o'clock.

Watson, who has traveled throughout the world, is reported to have a bright patter to accompany his tricks and a smile for the audience.

HD Club Sees Food Preparation

FORSAN, Feb. 22 — Newer methods of vegetable cookery was the topic discussed by the Forsan Home Demonstration club members when they met in the home of Mrs. M. M. Fairchild Tuesday with Mrs. J. M. Craig presiding.

After a brief business meeting the club members assembled in the kitchen where Mrs. R. C. Hazelwood demonstrated the proper method to cook vegetables. The demonstrator stated that from tests it has been proven that vegetables are better if they are cooked soon after preparation, placed in a small amount of boiling water. She explained the accepted method for storing cooked vegetables.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. J. D. Leonard, Mrs. G. F. Painter, Mrs. J. M. Craig, Mrs. G. B. Hale, Mrs. M. L. Tienarend, Mrs. Fred Green, Mrs. Earl Hughes, Mrs. R. C. Hazelwood and the hostess.

Farm And Ranch News

By WACIL McNAIL

Probably the most difficult animals to judge in the 4-H club stock show Friday were the Southdown lambs. T. E. Stuart, Crockett county agent, judged the lambs and swine, and it required lengthy deliberation to make a decision in this class. Only six Southdowns were entered, and when the boys trotted them out into the show ring they all looked practically alike on first glance. And according to Stuart, who made a thorough examination before declaring a winner, there was very little difference between first and last place entries.

Hollis Yates, whose barrow took 7th place in the swine event, not only bred and raised seven pigs this season for his 4-H club projects, but also has taken the lead in a substantial hog business at the family farm, according to his father. Young Yates bred about 175 pigs this season, and all but the chosen seven have been raised for commercial purposes. In fact only 28 remain to be sold, as a sale last week took all but 35 from the farm, and the seven club animals are not for sale. Two of them probably will go to the Fort Worth Fat Stock show.

Yates is a firm believer in raising his own feed. Principal diet of his hogs is maize, which is raised on the farm in sufficient quantity to furnish ample feed throughout the year. The maize is supplemented by only four ounces a day per head of commercial feed, just about the right amount to cut grain requirements in half. By feeding this ration he has managed to realize a fair profit on all of his animals.

Prize list for the county stock show next year promises to be increased next year. I. B. (Doc) Caudle, veteran Anxiety 4th Hereford Breeder, has announced that he will offer $50 for the grand champion steer in the 1947 show. Several cash awards other than the regular prizes offered by the county fair association were given this year. Harvey Wooten, local Red Chain dealer, gave $25 each to champions in both dry-lot and milk fed classes, and Caudle gave $25 to the best animal in the show sired by a Caudle bull or dropped by a Caudle cow, regardless of who did the breeding. The ABC club offered awards for showmanship in all events.

Revision of the pink bollworm quarantine, effective Feb. 4, has placed seven additional Texas counties and part of an eighth under this regulation, according to the agricultural research administration of the USDA. These counties are classified as within the "lightly infested regulated area." Counties affected are Brown, Chambers, Jefferson, Liberty, Medina, Orange Uvalde and a part of Harris.

An egg grading school has been scheduled at Texas A&M college Feb. 26-27. Purpose of the school is to train personnel to grade eggs in accordance with US grades. Those successfully passing examinations will be given USDA egg grading licenses. Invitations are being extended to produce house buyers, representatives of egg marketing associations and farmers cooperatives, and to interested farm families. Taking part on the program will be John Hamann and J. A. Bybee of the USDA's Production and Marketing Administration, Dallas; E. D. Parnell of the A&M college, poultry department; Sam Moore, extension service; poultryman and F. Z. Beaublois, poultry marketing specialist for the A&M college extension service.

The University of Texas has authorized construction of a $35,000 atom splitting machine, as the first move into atomic research.

Swimming Pool Fence Puzzles City Officials

McKEESPORT, Pa., (UP)—Who built the fence around the municipal swimming pool that is the question running through the minds of city officials.

The question arose when a $50 check issued in 1937 and accompanied by a bid from the Volkwein Bros. Wire Works of Pittsburgh for a contract to construct a chain link fence around the pool, was found in the City Hall.

City Clerk Clifford W. Flegal asked the company if it had built the fence, but the concern admitted that it did not know.

At any rate the check was returned and the municipal swimming pool still has a fence, although apparently no one knows who erected it.

"ABOUT FACE" IS A BIG JOB

HONOLULU, Feb. 22 (AP)—Col. William C. Saffarans, "Wild Bill" of 1924 Georgetown football fame, founder of the Army's Ranger School in Tennessee, and teacher of combat tactics to more than 300,000 Pacific soldiers and sailors, is up to his full, weather-beaten jowls in the task of reversing the flow of trained American fighting men towards Japan.

With war's end, Col. Saffarans found that his combat training schools on Oahu, Saipan, New Caledonia and Espiritu Santo were passe. Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., commanding Army Forces in the Middle Pacific, ordered: "Get them home."

Today, 45-year-old, New York-born Saffarans is doing just that. As commandant of the Middle Pacific Personnel Center on the island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, he directed the processing and return to the mainland of more than 120,000 Army men and women in the three months' period ended January 7.
