STIFF STRIKE-CONTROL BILL HAS CONGRESS OK

CONTROVERSIAL MEASURE IS COMPLETED BY THE SENATE, NOW GOES TO WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Congress stamped its final approval tonight on legislation to outlaw strikes in government-operated war industries and to curb walkouts in privately-controlled plants.

Denounced by its opponents as a bill intended to "crucify labor," the bristling Connally-Harness measure won 55 to 22 approval of the senate on adoption of a conference report composing previous differences between the two houses. The house had passed the measure 219 to 129 yesterday.

The bill authorizes government seizure of strike-threatened war plants and prescribes delaying regulations before walkouts can be called in facilities not taken over.

Organization To Work For Highway 87

Representatives from a dozen West Texas cities Saturday fired the first shots in a battle to keep most of the "Alaska to Cape Horn" traffic on US highway 87, a route they had pioneered out of mere contrivance a quarter of a century ago.

Meeting at the Settles hotel, delegates to the parley called by M. J. Benefield, Brady chamber of commerce manager, set up a constitution and organization committee and suggested that organization meeting be called within the month, possibly at Denver, Colo., to form a national US 87 highway association.

The action admittedly was in answer to recent attempts to divert traffic from the route to Raton, N. M. by way of El Paso and at Amarillo by way of Fort Worth, Waco and Austin. Benefield brought this out in his opening remarks and several speakers referred to it.

A. E. Davis, Lubbock chamber manager, called for a closely knit organization to fight for continued designation of US 87 as the federal route from Great Falls, N. D., to Laredo, Texas, to constantly press for its development and advertisement. Because the northern terminus connects with the Canadian and Alaskan highways and the southern end with the highway which leads all the way to the South America's Cape Horn, Davis predicted it would be a "catch-as-catch-can" fight.

He expressed doubt that there would be any federal designation of any one channel as the Pan-American highway, thus laying the predicate for keener competition for traffic.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE

People love a parade. Monday evening they will have an opportunity to witness one when the annual Flag Day observance is held here. Doubtless there will be a big turnout for the affair, which should be the means of demonstrating not how much we love a parade, but how much we love the flag which stands for "one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Big Spring is moving steadily toward an easing of its housing shortage—but the move is slow. Last week contracts were let for four more conversion projects to provide six additional apartments. This program is making satisfactory progress but the FEHA program adjacent to the Bombardier School, which will provide the real relief, is being constantly retarded through difficulty in securing materials.

Incidentally, there has been too little interest manifested in submitting names for this collection of homes. Among the few turned in are Airport Homes, "Dier Homes" (presumably the "bomber" being left off), Skyway Park. Maybe you have better ones. Drop a card to or phone the chamber of

Slaughterers To Set Aside Beef For Army

DALLAS, June 12 (AP)—In order to meet government requirements for beef, livestock slaughterers operating under federal inspection will be required, beginning June 14, to set aside 45 per cent of all steer and heifer meat produced, L. J. Cappelman, regional director of Food Distribution Administration, said today.

Deliveries of the reserved beef must be made in the form of boneless and carcass beef which meets army specifications. The order applies to weekly production of beef but will not apply to inventories.

This requirement follows the terms of a general set-aside order issued last spring. The order, in effect for two weeks prior to the start of the meat rationing program, required these packers to set aside 40 per cent of their production of steer and heifer beef; 80 per cent of canner and cutter grades of beef; 20 per cent of veal; 35 per cent of lamb and mutton and 45 per cent of their pork. This order was later suspended.

For some weeks the army has had considerable difficulty in filling its requirements for beef, Cappelman said.

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The civilian meat platter may spend even more time on the cupboard shelf beginning next week. Officials said the new food order can be expected to result in a smaller supply of steaks, roasts and other beef cuts for civilians. They would not estimate the decrease, however.

Since consumer rationing started in March, civilians had first call on the beef supply. Slaughterers were allowed to distribute among civilians an amount of beef equivalent to 65 per cent of the quantity they distributed in the corresponding period in 1941.

Kiska Being Raided Anew

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The third phase of the campaign to break Japan's hold on the western Aleutians appeared today to have gotten under way with resumption of fairly heavy aerial attacks on the enemy at Kiska Island.

A navy communique said that Thursday afternoon army medium and heavy bombers with fighter escort made four attacks on installations at Kiska, scoring bomb hits on the runway and on gun emplacements. Fighter planes strafed barges found along the beaches.

This was one of the heaviest days of action since the American conquest of enemy-held Attu Island and probably marked the beginning of intensive efforts to soften up Kiska for invasion.

London Area Raided By Nazi Bombers

LONDON, Sunday, June 13 (AP)—Several German fighter bombers attacked the London area early today in a brief hit-and-run raid in which a few persons were injured and some houses were damaged.

The alert was brief, and only a few guns opened up. Enemy activity likewise was slight throughout the country.

WAAC Recruiting Is Far From Goal

The Women's Army Auxiliary Corps is growing in importance by the day, and with it the need for more recruits mounts, said Cpl. Ray Noret, army recruiter, here Saturday.

Despite encouraging response thus far, there are still 80,000 women to be recruited before the WAACs reach full strength. Today WAACs have learned to take over in some 140 skilled fields and have thus released men in these jobs for front line duty.

Sicily, Sardinia Next?—Allied seizure of Pantelleria Island (white arrow) and of tiny Lampedusa (lower edge of map) broke the main ring of island defenses guarding Italy, and carried allied air power a step nearer Sicily and Sardinia. Short-range fighter planes (symbol) based on Pantelleria can range more easily over the larger islands than they could while operating from Tunisia. Broken arrows indicate major target areas of heavy allied bombers in the central Mediterranean theater.

U. S. Needs More Cash; 3rd War Loan Scheduled

KINGSTON, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Asserting individual investors may have to contribute about twice as much the remainder of this year as the seven billion dollars in bonds so far recorded, unless the government gets more from taxes, Secretary Morgenthau announced today the third war loan drive will start Sept. 8.

"It will aim at raising the largest amount of money from individuals than any drive has raised in the history of the world," he told a Hudson river valley audience.

At the same time the secretary said "from now on we're planning and attacking and I fervently hope that we can continue to work out financing plans together and keep them on a voluntary basis."

"Our goal for individuals in this September drive will be to get a substantial part of the necessary money," he continued. "In a subsequent drive, and during the four months which there are no war loan drives, we will aim to get the rest through payroll savings and other continuing sales."

Flood Moves Down Sabine

By The Associated Press With East Texas oil wells flooded by the Sabine river, the weather bureau at Lake Charles, La., Saturday issued warnings for the protection of livestock and property from Panola County, Texas, southward for the next few days.

The river will rise rapidly in the Logansport, La., area the next two days and will continue to rise for the next six days, reaching a stage near 23 feet, the bureau reported.

Meanwhile, the Sabine will stand or fall slowly in the Grand Saline-Minola-Gladewater region the next two or three days. A rise in the river at Bon Wier, Tex., in Newton county, was predicted for the next two weeks.

Anaconda Co. Fined For Defective Work

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 12 (AP)—Judge Thomas W. Slick today fined the Anaconda Wire and Cable company $10,000 and costs for the alleged manufacture of defective wire and cable, a crime which it was charged resulted in a $5,000,000 war contract fraud.

Five individuals also drew fines and three of them were given prison sentences, but Judge Slick said the terms would be suspended if the fines were paid. He allowed them 10 days in which to pay the fines.

Culbertson Hopes For Larger Oil Quotas

AUSTIN, June 12 (AP)—Railroad Commissioner Olin Culbertson today expressed hope that the petroleum administration for war would permit Texas to produce "at least" 1,600,000 barrels of oil daily to avoid the shortage which I think is bound to come.

Culbertson said an additional 200,000 barrels daily could be produced without waste or damage to fields. He made a similar suggestion to federal officials a year ago, Culbertson added.

"I'm afraid we are coming to the point where we may not be able to supply the demand when it is needed," he declared.

British, Turkish Leaders Confer

ANKARA, Turkey, June 12 (AP)—Admiral Sir John Cunningham, new commander in chief of the British in the Levant, arrived by plane today from Cairo for conferences with the Turkish high command.

Italians Yield Second Base To Allies

Takes Only One Day Of Air Pounding To Convince Them

AN ADVANCED ALLIED BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, June 12 (AP)—The Italian fortress island of Lampedusa surrendered today to a sergeant pilot of the Royal Air Force who landed his amphibious plane at the airport during the Allied bombardment after being forced down on a flight from Malta.

The Italians came running out waving white flags and crying: "Can you stop it?" Instead of trying to stop it, the sergeant, named Cohen, was forced to join the Italians in a foxhole shelter where he was kept two hours by the continuous heavy bombing.

"The bombardment was terrific," he reported. "The island shook from end to end." During a lull in the afternoon Cohen found that the vibration of the explosions apparently had jarred his plane's engine back into flying order.

He then took off—undeterred by the lone Italian—and landed safely at a Tunisian field. The surrender of the tiny island, second Italian stronghold of the Mediterranean to succumb to Allied air power in two days, came late today after heavy smashes by light and medium bombers laid waste one-third of the town of Lampedusa and the harbor area.

The little island is regarded as being of such slight importance by cartographers that they leave it off most maps. It had less strategic importance than Pantelleria and its capture is more of a blow to Italian pride than a help to the Allied war effort.

However, its loss robs the axis of one more spot at which to check the movement of Allied convoys. Within an hour after Pantelleria yielded at 11:40 a. m. yesterday, Lampedusa became Mediterranean target No. 1 for the American and British precision bombardiers.

In the first raid they hit a large merchant ship in the harbor and several small boats believed to be barges. The tactical air force sent groups of light bombers and raiders over the pinpoint island during the day before the defenders reached the limit of physical endurance.

Shortly after the white flag was flown, the British navy sent a landing party ashore to seal the conquest.

Weaving a pattern of devastation, the American airmen walked their bombs near the waterline across the island's harbor and Peninsula, destroying docks, barracks, gun positions and buildings. Flames and smoke spouted like a field of cabbages and a pall spread over the entire end of the little island.

Several pilots reported they saw absolutely no signs of flak and the small island garrison was completely helpless under this hammering from the skies. With no German air force to save them, the defenders had to buckle under after less than two days of bombings.

It was officially announced that not a single soldier was lost when units of the veteran British First Army swarmed ashore on Pantelleria yesterday after its bomb-dazed garrison had surrendered.

Estimates of the number of Italian prisoners taken on Pantelleria were placed officially at "over 10,000," while an unofficial source placed the latest bag of Mussolini's fighters at 15,000. There was not believed to have been a German in the lot.

Heavy Fines For Rent Violators

DALLAS, June 12 (AP)—Increasingly heavy fines are being assessed for violation of office of price administration rent regulations, Amos J. Coffman, regional enforcement for the Dallas region, said today.

Since the first of the year 150 criminal cases have been fined in the rent control program for this six-state region, and 75 convictions with fines ranging from $25 to $1,000 have resulted, Coffman asserted.

RAF Big Bombers Strike Anew At Nazi Industry

LONDON, Sunday, June 13 (AP)—RAF bombers struck at Germany last night, it was reported authoritatively early today, renewing the assault after Duesseeldorf and other German armament centers had been pounded the night before by the greatest air fleet ever assembled.

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—Hundreds of British bombers, forming the mightiest air fleet ever assembled, dealt Duesseeldorf a crushing blow last night with an hour-long assault which spread also over other German armament centers of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

While the RAF announced neither the total number of raiders nor the tonnage of bombs, the formation was said to be the greatest fleet of heavy bombers in history. Its striking power was believed to exceed that of the 1,250 RAF large, medium and light bombers which attacked Cologne the night of May 20, 1942, and the weight of bombs undoubtedly surpassed the 2,000 tons dumped on Dortmund last May 23.

Roaring across the English Channel for the first time since May 29, the RAF heavyweights took up their part in the pre-invasion aerial bombardment of Europe from the west which was resumed yesterday after a lull of nearly two weeks when more than 200 American heavies blasted Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven.

American and British planes renewed the daylight blows against Axis Europe with widespread sweeps over France late today. Ventura and Boston, escorted by fighter planes, bombed enemy airfields at Caen and other targets near Rouen. Later in the evening RAF Typhoons bombed the airfield at Abbeville.

Thunderbolts of the 8th U. S. air force carried out diversionary sweeps across a large area of northern France. They downed one enemy plane and another was destroyed by a Canadian Spitfire squadron supporting the bombers.

The air ministry said one of the RAF bombers failed to return and that a fighter was missing from forenoon patrol activities. Last night's record assault cost the RAF 45 big bombers. Although the loss was heavy, it was not regarded here as excessive in view of the size of the raiding force and the vast destruction achieved.

"Preliminary reports indicated great damage was done," said the air ministry communique, which disclosed that the heaviest hit of the secondary targets was Muenster, 60 miles northeast of Duesseeldorf on the Rhine river.

The brief bulletin did not identify "several other targets in the Ruhr Rhineland" which were bombed, but declared that the Duesseeldorf raid was a "highly concentrated attack x x x delivered in just over an hour."

British fighters on intruder patrols also shot down an enemy plane over Holland, it was announced. The air ministry also released the official story of damage done in the May 23 raid on Dortmund. See BOMBING, Pg. 6, Col. 2

Nazi Airdromes Bombed By Reds

LONDON, Sunday, June 13 (AP) Red army airmen poured more than 600 tons of bombs on German airdromes Friday night in a powerful new blow upon the Nazi air fleet, the traditional spearpoint of German attack, Moscow announced early today, and smashed back three enemy ground attacks Saturday.

"Large formations" of Russian long-range aircraft showered the Nazi airdromes with explosive and incendiary bombs Friday night and early Saturday morning the Moscow radio announced. In a quick follow-up to the record, 700-plane raid against similar targets Thursday night.

'Crash Dive' Is Action Drama Of Subs, With Tyrone Power In Starring Role

Thrills above, below and across the Atlantic are plentiful in "Crash Dive," a Technicolor action drama of the war which is the Ritz theatre's headline attraction for today and Monday.

The film, called one of the most thrilling yet to come out of the war theme, stars Tyrone Power, in his final role before going into service. It's a story of Uncle Sam's fighting submarines, and their story is one of intense action all the way.

Recent Hollywood productions have paid well-earned tribute to other branches of our armed forces. The Army Air Force, the Marines and the Navy, itself have been glorified in films—but now "Crash Dive" singles out for deserving glory that inconspicuous and heroic group of men who man Uncle Sam's "pig boats."

From the time the picture opens with its awe-inspiring panorama of the turbulent, sub-infested Atlantic in all the magnificence of Technicolor, right down to the last tender romantic scene between Tyrone Power and Anne Baxter, the film is a series of un-interrupted thrills, touching romance, dramatic suspense—all photographed in the best colored photography yet.

Navy Lieutenant Tyrone Power is assigned to duty aboard a submarine at New London, Conn. Dana Andrews plays the part of Power's senior officer, a young man who has raised himself up from the ranks. Pretty Anne Baxter, who will be remembered for her out-standing performance in "The Pied Piper," carries the tender romantic theme of the picture, which artful direction has in no way been allowed to interfere with the speed and thrills of the film's rapid action.

The story itself tells of the many and varied duties of the submarine division. Each a little more dangerous than the other and requiring the nerveless, iron constitutions of the men who man Uncle Sam's mammoth steel fishes.

The spectacular climax of the picture takes place when members of the crew under Power's command stage a commando-like raid on a secret enemy refueling base. They destroy the base, making good their escape in a damaged sub through flaming oil covered waters—far and away the most spectacular scene filmed this or any other year.

Under the technical supervision of Commander M. K. Kirkpatrick, U. S. N., practically all of the film's location shot were taken at the Navy's great sub-marine base at New London, Conn., lending a note of authenticity lacking in so many service pictures.

In addition to Power, Andrews and Miss Baxter, an exceptional cast, perfectly fitted to their respective roles, round out the film. James Gleason is seen at his best as a salty, nitroglycerine chewing CPO. Dame May Whitty, Henry Morgan, and Ben Carter, plus a large bullfrog named "Lena" contribute to the lighter comedy moments of the film.

Battle Stations—Here's a tense moment—and there are many of them—in "Crash Dive," a thrilling action drama of Uncle Sam's fighting submarines which is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. The picture was made in Technicolor and has Tyrone Power, Anne Baxter, Dana Andrews and James Gleason in the leading roles.

'Omaha Trail' Action Drama Of Old West

James Craig and Dean Jagger, who scored notably in "Valley of the Sun," are again teamed in "The Omaha Trail," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's super western which is featured at the Lyric theatre today and Monday.

Craig is cast as Patrick Candel, poetic Irish wagon boss against whom the wiles of the ruthless Pipestone Ross (Dean Jagger) are pitted. The epic story deals with the building of the railroads across the sun-baked plains of Candel is transporting by ox train, to Omaha, a locomotive, with which a new railway is to be initiated.

Opposing Jim are the plans of Pipestone Ross, who believes that the railroads will end his freighting business. How Candel successfully freights the locomotive to Omaha, provides a swift-moving story.

A newcomer, starlet Pamela Blake, makes an impressive debut as Julie Ransome, light-of-love of Candel and fiancée of Pipestone Ross. Besides possessing a startling blonde beauty, Miss Blake also displays great dramatic talent.

Edward Ellis, absent from the screen for many months, returns to pictures in a role of an ambitious railroad builder. The rest of the cast includes such familiar faces as Chill Wills, Donald Meek, Howard da Silva and Henry Morgan.

Director Eddie Russell kept the action moving at a mile-a-minute pace. The picture was produced by Jack Chertok, remembered for "Joe Smith, American."

Old West—A super-western action drama of the roving days of the old west is "Omaha Trail," the Lyric theatre's feature for today and Monday. Dean Jagger, James Craig, Donald Meek and Pamela Blake head the cast.

Truthful—One of the most engaging of Bob Hope's many comedy productions is "Nothing But The Truth," in which the radio-film favorite is co-starred with Paulette Goddard in a fast, wise-cracking story of mixed situations and embarrassing moments. "Nothing But The Truth" is the State theatre's feature for today and Monday.

Romance With Music Offered At The Queen

Dreamy tropical romance accompanied by haunting music and thrilling comedy action, describes Universal's latest and happiest movie venture, "Rhythm of the Islands" showing today and Monday at the Queen theatre.

Allan Jones and Jane Frazee are co-starred and the pretentious supporting cast boasts such favorites as Andy Devine, Mary Wickes and Ernest Truex.

The famous Step Brothers and the Horton Dancers are featured while another outstanding highlight of the film is the introduction of Acquannetta, devastating new glamour girl.

The ingeniously contrived story deals with two enterprising young Americans who go into the romance business on a large scale. They buy a tropical island, lure shores and stage synthetic native shindigs to entertain the visitors.

Jones and Devine are the proprietors. Miss Frazee and Mary Wickes portrays the romance-seekers who find themselves caught in the excitement when unruly natives upset the scheme and reclaim the island.

A surprising dramatic twist is said to amplify the picture's spectacular finale which is announced as a musical and photographic sensation. Seven songs are listed in the production's tuneless score. Numbers include "Savage Serenade," "Tropic Lullaby," "Blue Mist," "Chant of the Tom Tom," and "Isle of Romance" all presented by Jones as solo selections.

Perfect Timing

NOWATA, Okla., (AP)—As a truck from South Coffeyville passed Sheriff Arthur Turner and Deputy Otis Minson, the end gate plopped open—revealing half a case of whiskey.

The driver pleaded guilty in county court to possession of liquor and paid a $75 fine.

"So I Can Brag"

EL PASO, Texas, (AP)—Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., wrote a 10-year-old Texas boy who wanted to be an army mascot that "you can be sure there will be more wars . . . and I feel convinced that being a boy from Texas you will give a good account of yourself."

The boy, Bill Patton, (no relative), had added to his note volunteering as a mascot: "Please answer . . . So I can brag to the kids in school."

AT PANTEX PLANT

Paul Sweatt, formerly of Vincent School in Howard county, has been appointed assistant foreman of the lead line at Pantex Ordnance Plant at Amarillo. Pantex is loading bombs for Hitler.

Program Monday Evening Will Honor Flag

FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION

June 14 has for many years been set aside as Flag Day in honor of the emblem of our national strength and unity. This year the Stars and Stripes is a battle emblem flying in the deserts and jungles and over Arctic snows. It flies with our men in Africa, Australia, New Zealand, China, Burma, and the Aleutians, and in vastnesses of the world so remote that the American flag has never been seen there before. In the Coral Sea and the Atlantic and the Pacific, it is a mark of hope to our Allies and of despair to our enemies. Our colors have found their way to the heart of the enemy over Berlin and Tokyo.

We know that our flag is not fighting alone. This year the flags of 22 United Nations are marching together, borne forward by the bravery of free men. Together they are the emblem of a gathering offensive that shall liberate the world. As brothers in arms, we of the United Nations have pledged to one another our mutual strength until total victory is won and peace assured.

Our armies, our navies, and our air forces are now perfecting the teamwork with our Allies which shall, under God, bring victory in this great cause to which freedom-loving mankind has dedicated itself. Made strong by our common bonds, we shall face the future with resolution and rededicate ourselves to the achievement of permanent collaboration among Nations and security for all men. For only by teamwork can we win the war and establish a lasting peace.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GROVER C. DUNHAM, Mayor of the City of Big Spring do hereby ask that on Flag Day, June 14, 1945, people of our city honor the peoples of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, Australia, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Ethiopia, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, India, Iraq, Luxembourg, Mexico, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, the Commonwealth of the Philippines, Poland, the Union of South Africa, and Yugoslavia.

I request the officials of the City Governments to have our colors displayed on all buildings on Flag Day, and I urge the people of Big Spring on that day to fly the American flag from their homes, and to arrange, where feasible, for joint displays of the emblems of the freedom-loving nations.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Big Spring to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Big Spring this 18th day of June in the Year of Our Lord 1945, and of the Independence of the United States of America the 167th.

GROVER C. DUNHAM

Parade, Rally Scheduled For 7:45 P. M.

One hundred and sixty-six years ago tomorrow—

It was on June 14, 1777, that the congress of the United States, by resolution, decreed an American banner as we know it today—13 stripes, red and white alternate, with a field of blue and a constellation of white stars.

—And so Monday is Flag Day. And Big Spring citizens will join Americans everywhere in a formal program which honors the banner of freedom which in 1945 is waving over more far-flung outposts than ever before in its history.

By special proclamation, the president of the United States has called upon citizens to honor the Stars and Stripes as well as the flags of the 29 other United Nations. A proclamation also has been issued by Mayor Grover C. Dunham, calling for display of the flag on Monday and for proper local observance of the day.

The day's affairs will be climaxed with a parade at 7:45 p. m., with the review to end at the courthouse lawn, where a formal program will be held. The local American Legion and VFW units are sponsoring the program.

Principal speaker will be John Lee Smith, lieutenant governor of Texas, a West Texan who is gaining fame throughout the state and nation, and a leader who ranks high as an orator.

Immediately upon conclusion of the parade, the AAFBS band directed by W/O Robert E. Bruner will play several selections. Reville and the raising of the flag will be directed by officers of the air corps, and Mayor Dunham will give his Flag Day proclamation. Invocation will be by Rev. H. C. Smith, and the crowd will sing America, with Sgt. Joe Kling leading. Other band selections will precede the main address.

The program will close with the singing of God Bless America led by Sgt. Kling, benediction by Rev. George Julian, retreat and the lowering of the flag, and audience singing of the National Anthem.

Military and civilian units will combine to form the review which starts at 7:45, from Third and Nolan streets. Massed colors, the color guard, AAFBS units and the band, Girl and Boy Scouts, Texas Defense Guard, VFW and American Legion, Red Cross and other civic and service organizations will join to make up the procession, which is being directed by Jake Douglass.

Army units will gather on Goliad between Third and Fourth streets, and civilian units will meet on Nolan between Third and Fourth to fall in behind the military as it passes by. The parade will move over this route:

Third from Nolan to Runnels, north on Runnels to Second, west on Second to Main, north on Main to First, west on First to Scurry, south on Scurry to Third, east on Third to Runnels, south on Runnels to Fourth, west on Fourth to the courthouse lawn.

AAFBS Notes—Hostess House To Be Erected At Air School

Construction is under way on a new Hostess House at the air base, and completion is scheduled by July 1. The 20x22 building is located just south of the post exchange, and will contain a family visiting room, rest rooms, office for the hostess, and recreation and receiving rooms.

Officers reporting to the AAFBS here for duty are 1st Lt. Leslie R. Kreutzer, Chicago, Ill., who comes from Randolph Field to be assistant exchange officer; and 1st Lt. Louis E. Long, Gall, Tex., reporting from AAFTC, Fort Worth, to be bombardier instructor.

The following second lieutenants, bombardier instructors, have been transferred to Hartlingen: Lester T. Berman, New York City; Raymond D. Buckles, Waukegan, Ill.; Raymond L. Austin, Jr., Huntington, W. Va.; Ralph T. Brady, Claude, Tex.; Gabriel E. Ferazzi, Plymouth, Mass.

Sgt. James A. Wheeler of Tyler has been placed on detached service to Randolph Field for two months' specialized training.

Sgt. George S. Smith, Greenwood, Del., and Cpl. John A. Wisenhunt, Big Spring, both members of the 265th BHQ and ABSQ, have been released from active duty and transferred to the enlisted reserve corps.

Water Reduction Problem In ETEX Will Be Aired

KILGORE, June 12 (AP)—Methods of reducing the amount of water production in the East Texas field will be discussed at a meeting of operators in Austin Thursday, C. P. Porter of the Blackwell Oil and Gas company disclosed today.

Porter said the meeting would be held one day before the statewide proration hearing in order that the operators might submit any conclusions to the railroad commission.

"With the knowledge that the East Texas oil field is going to be called on for more crude oil to supply the demands of the Big Inch pipeline to the eastern seaboard, the operators will discuss what can be done within the very near future to reduce the amount of water production so that more oil can be produced without loss in bottomhole pressure," Porter said.

Many operators feel that wells producing large amounts of water in the East Texas field should be shut in and the oil allowables transferred to other wells in the field which are producing less than 25 per cent water, Porter asserted.

"It was the opinion of operators who discussed the matter with me that the possibility of shutting in large salt water producing wells should be thoroughly discussed with all of the operators in the field at an open meeting," he explained.

School Adds Training In Sperry Sight

Speedup in schedules at Big Spring bombardier school now allows cadets to learn the use of three bombights rather than the usual two, it was announced Saturday by Colonel R. W. Warren, commanding officer.

Previously the cadets studied the Norden sight, occasionally used the D-8 sight. A few weeks ago the training program was changed to permit instruction in the Norden, the D-8 and the Sperry. The speed-up has proved successful and it was announced Saturday that maintenance of the Sperry sight will be taught to Class 43-10 and the instruction in all three sights will now become a permanent part of the Big Spring training program.

The additional training will require that the former 12-week Norden instruction course will be given in nine weeks and the instruction on the use of the Sperry sight will come in the last three weeks of the course. The use of the D-8 sight, a comparatively simple mechanism, will be taught during the first nine week period. Instructors say that the Sperry sight is equal in every way to the famed Norden sight. Some advocates of the Army's Sperry sight claim that this latest development in army sights is even superior to the Norden. The Sperry sight is actually not a new sight at all but a recent development of an army bombight accepted in 1924. Successive improvements made this newest sight available in the spring of 1943.

The D-8 sight is a simple mechanism designed for low altitude bombing, the instructors said, and instruction in the use of this sight is covered in a comparatively short period. The D-8 sight is a modification of the Edison sight developed shortly after World War I.

The Judge Declines

HAYS, Kans., (AP)—Judge Alex Meier just shook his head and smiled when Miss Agnes Teresa Ross and Ray Hayes Jr., asked for a marriage license. "You know as much about it as I, Teresa," the judge said. So Miss Ross issued her own license. She's just resigned her job as the judge's secretary.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers. MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 10 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

Rules Changed On Shorn Wool Sales

DALLAS, June 12 (AP)—Shorn wool may now be sold direct by producers and pools of producers anywhere in the United States to mills instead of the Commodity Credit Corporation as originally required in food distribution order No. 50, the regional Food Distribution Administration was advised today by the War Food Administration.

The amendment to FDO 50, effective June 19, also exempts from all requirements of the order, shorn wool produced in nineteen Atlantic coast and Cotton Belt states including Arkansas and Louisiana.

Local Bombardier Team Will Try For Olympic Honors At Roswell

Olympic Bombardiers—These three cadets will represent Big Spring Bombardier School today in the second All-American Bombing Olympic at Roswell, N. M. They were carefully selected on the basis of their training records. At left between a stack of practice bombs and a bomber trainer is William Mockett, Baltimore, Md. Next is Harry Sasaman, South River, N. J., and then Roy Snyder, Natrona Heights, Pa. The Big Spring team was barely nosed out for honors in the first Olympics at Childress May 23.

Nosed out of first place by a mere two feet—and that by estimate—in the first All-American Bombing Olympic at Childress on May 23, the Big Spring Bombardier School sends another team into the second olympics today at Roswell, N. M.

Representing the Big Spring school in its quest for the pickle barrel trophy which goes to the team with highest score in competition today are Roy K. Snyder, Natrona Heights, Pa., Harry W. Sasaman, South River, N. J., and William P. Mockett, Baltimore, Md. These cadets were chosen on the basis of their records in training here.

Today they will be competing against teams from the San Angelo, Midland, and Childress, Texas schools and those at Victorville, Calif., and Deming, Roswell and Albuquerque, N. M.

Each man drops five bombs at a 30-foot target with a pickle barrel for its center. The team with the highest total wins, and the cadet with the best record will be declared all-American bombardier.

In initial competition, now 2nd Lieut. Lawrence Lifshus, Brooklyn, N. Y., ace member of the Big Spring squad, was nosed out in a nip-and-tuck race for this honor.

Reduced Fuel Consumption Makes A Mighty Rush On To Cash In Shoe Coupons

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The navy tonight revealed one of America's secret weapons — our warships can go farther and hit harder because they consume up to 25 per cent less fuel than the ships of any other navy in the world.

Development of a revolutionary system of propelling American warships has given them "the edge over foreign vessels that many times means the difference between defeat and victory," the announcement said.

This was the first official disclosure of progress made on the fleet's introduction of high pressure, high temperature steam equipment. Not only has the system been used on destroyers beginning about 1934 but it also has since been incorporated in the nation's great new battleships, among them the North Carolina and Washington.

Naval authorities said that adoption of high pressure, high temperature steam methods marked a revolution in marine engineering which was made possible only by the application of American inventive genius and American industrial resources to the needs of naval construction.

The greatest result is the reduction in fuel requirement to produce the same amount of power. This has resulted, in turn, in giving American warships increased range of 25 to 35 per cent, of extending the amount of time which the ships can remain on station and of simplifying the supply problem.

The basic high pressure, high temperature principles were worked out by American engineers for land installations such as electric power plants. Those plants normally produce heat from coal. Warships generally use oil for fuel.

In 1933 when expansion of the navy started, the engineering firm of Gibbs and Cox, the navy related, was brought into the work of fitting this new equipment into marine design. In the Mahan class of destroyers it was decided to use the steam at 400 pounds in 700 degrees Fahrenheit. The machinery was so radical as to be revolutionary and within the navy at that time it was a common argument as to whether it would work or wreck the ship.

Along with the high speed turbines the navy had to work out a new type reduction gear to reduce the revolutions before they reached the propellers, and also had to develop a feed water system to remove oxygen from the water which furnished the high temperature steam. Similarly "super heat boilers" had to be developed.

By the Associated Press

The biggest shoe buying wave in American history was on yesterday, with everybody and his brother, wife and the youngsters apparently out to use ration stamp No. 17 before it expires.

Some dealers said the buying approached a stampede and looked for it to become that tomorrow and Tuesday, the last shopping days before the coupon becomes void.

A survey of major cities indicated shoe stocks rapidly were being depleted, but customers were described as being ready, for the most part, to take almost any kind of footwear regardless of style.

In Washington, meantime, the Office of Price Administration (OPA) announced that stamp No. 18 (in the coffee-sugar book), which may be used in purchasing shoes beginning Wednesday, will be valid through October 31.

This means the stamp will last for four and one-half months—11 days longer than stamp 17.

A Chicago shoeman, executive of a company operating nationally, asserted that more shoes would be sold in the seven days preceding June 15 than during any comparable period in the country's history. He also said that sports shoes were "cleaned out" the country over.

A company operating 14 stores in Chicago said it had more business than it could take care of.

Federal Loan For Plainview Food Plant

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—A loan of $47,787 has been approved by the Smaller War Plants Corporation for "Hale County Foods" of Plainview, Tex., Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said today.

The funds are to be used, the congressman said, in converting a cannery plant to the preparation of dehydrated foods, particularly sweet and Irish potatoes. An additional loan of $200,000 has been authorized, he said, for operating capital in purchasing and handling the materials. The plant is owned by Ashley Mixon.

The SWPC regional office in Dallas was advised this week that the loans had been approved, Mahon said, and was instructed to make the funds available.

The office of Guy L. Woolley, regional loan agent of the Smaller War Plants Corporation at Dallas, said it received notification today the loan had been approved and that funds would be made available through usual procedure in a week or so at the latest. The office gave these other details.

Conversion of the plant can begin immediately at discretion of the owner. The loan was the largest yet made by the SWPC in this region. The $200,000 portion of the loan is for operating expenses for the first three months.

As a cannery, the Mixon plant employed seven persons. The converted plant will have 165 employees, mostly women.

The plant has received a commitment from the U. S. department of agriculture that the Food Distribution administration will take the total available output.

Corporal Held As Suspect In Bank Robbery

DENISON, June 12 (AP)—A man identified as an army corporal was captured near Sherman this afternoon about an hour after the State National bank of Denison was robbed of $5,000.

Denison Police Chief Paul S. Gorum said the suspect, 30 years old, was attached to the tenth army corps headquarters at Sherman. He offered little resistance when officers caught him. Deputy Sheriffs S. O. Mangrum and Joe Fall chased the sedan he was driving to the side of a road and covered him.

J. A. Foster, cashier at the bank, identified him as the man who walked into the bank, pulled out a .44 caliber pistol and asked for $5,000 in $20 bills.

The money was recovered, officers said.

From Sherman came a tentative identification of the man as a former Texas peace officer and one-time candidate for sheriff. Pending investigation by federal agents, the filing of a charge or transfer of the case to the army was held up.

Decorated Hero At Home—'The Moments 'Just Before Target' Are Rough Ones, Says Coloradoan Credited With Downing Four Zeros

COLORADO CITY, June 12.—Back in the United States for the first time since December, 1939, Technical Sergeant John Prude McCordle, aerial gunner-engineer of a B-17 flying fortress which has been repeatedly in the South Pacific, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McCordle of Colorado City.

Technical Sergeant McCordle was at Hickman Field when Pearl Harbor was attacked. In July 1942 he was sent, with eight other crew members, to the South Pacific and for more than a year the "Yokahama Express," his fortress, took part in operations from an island base. Later, still piloted by Captain D. M. Hyland of Los Angeles and with the crew still intact, they operated for months over Guadalcanal.

Landing On A Carrier Deck Is Something!

Ensign C. E. Clyburn, Knott, can give the answer to questions about how it feels to land on an airplane carrier deck for the first time.

He has recently completed his training as a U. S. Navy carrier base fighter pilot, and this training included a liberal dose of landing on and taking off from a carrier deck.

After considerable ground and flight training at Hensley Field (Dallas), Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Miami, Fla., and Chicago, Ill., he was at first given instruction in flying a plane at the slowest possible speed.

"I know that once you get on a carrier deck you can't get off, for if it were possible, I would have done it then," he laughed. Now, when he comes in, the instant his plane lands on the carrier, Ensign Clyburn takes his hands on the controls and braces himself. It's mere routine.

Now on furlough from Norfolk, Va., Ensign Clyburn has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Clyburn at Knott. He was due to begin his return trip Friday evening. Ensign Clyburn was graduated from the Garner (Knott) high school and from John Tarleton college before enlisting May 18, 1942 at Dallas. He received his commission March 20, 1943 at Corpus.

Leaner Days Are In Store For Civilians

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The United States will spend $106,000,000,000 this year for war.

The vast scope of the American war effort was disclosed in a report on production progress in 1942 and prospects for 1943, made by the War Production Board (WPB) Chairman Donald M. Nelson, to President Roosevelt this spring and summarized tonight by the Office of War Information (OWI).

The 1943 program, Nelson reported, is 80 per cent greater than 1942's $59,000,000,000 total. It includes arms output, war construction and the paying, feeding and equipping of the armed forces. In his letter of transmittal Nelson told the commander-in-chief:

"The record certainly makes it clear that the American industrial system can be justifiably proud of an astonishing display of economic muscle."

OWI's condensation of the secret document omitted, for reasons of military security, detailed new figures on production of weapons. Highlighted in the report were: Recommendations that civilian manufacturing and much wholesaling be eliminated from critical labor shortage areas, to free workers for war plants.

An urgent plea for planning the transition back to a peacetime economy after the war, lest the war effort be held back by widespread concern over postwar economy.

A warning that leaner days for civilians are just ahead. Civilian goods and services in the last three months of this year will be 20 per cent under the end of 1942, and inequalities of distribution will "aggravate the burden on consumers."

Actual war production "in most categories fell short of scheduled production throughout most of 1942," Nelson said, because the goals were unrealistically high and for other reasons, but in the main production "met the requirements of our war strategy; and the prospects for 1943 are for a quantity and a quality of production that will realize to the full the tremendous potential of American industry."

The 1943 arms program is a "most formidable" task for industry, it was conceded. The building and equipping of industrial plants and cantonments, a relatively easy job, is only 13 per cent of the total instead of 30 per cent as in 1942.

But munitions production must jump 125 per cent and in some specific weapons vastly more. War planes, for instance, are to rise 3 1/2 times the output of last year, when 47,694 planes were produced. (This does not mean that nearly 167,000 planes will be turned out because production is rated on total weight and value. With the present emphasis on heavy bombers and heavy planes of all types, probably between 90,000 and 100,000 will be built.)

Laying down a five-point policy for the civilian summer omitted reference to a sixth point known to have been originally included in the full report to Mr. Roosevelt. It called for a much wider extension of rationing.

Cosden Trial Set This Week In Federal Court At Dallas

Federal cases against Cosden Petroleum Corp. and some of its agents have been called for trial in Dallas on Thursday of this week.

Besides the corporation, those listed as defendants in the federal indictments which allege conspiracy to run "hot oil" and of running "hot oil," are R. L. Tollett, president, R. W. Thompson, pipe line superintendent; and M. Hines, chief pipe line gauger.

The alleged transportation in interstate commerce was from Big Spring to destinations outside of Texas.

The conspiracy count involves the transportation of over 100,000 barrels from leases in wells in the Howard-Cassock and Was-ton fields, withdrawn in excess of allowable.

Thompson will be represented by Benson & Benson of Bowie; and Hines will be represented by Clyde Thomas, Sr., of Big Spring. Corporation President Tollett's statement has been that Cosden has not, within his knowledge, produced, refined or transported any crude produced in violation of state laws and railroad commission rules. He also has denied any conspiracy has ever existed between any of the officers or employees of the corporation to violate any law.

A similar case involving oil produced from Fenwell lease was settled some months ago with payment of small fines. The case this week will be held before Federal District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

Parley Held On Refinery Work Stoppage

HOUSTON, June 12. (AP)—Representatives of local 267 of the oil workers international union met tonight after a work stoppage at the Shell Company refinery, where aviation gasoline is produced.

Earlier, union men had met with representatives of the federal government and of the company.

In Washington Secretary Ickes said the stoppage "represents a serious blow to war production," and "constitutes a threat to adequate supplies of aviation gasoline."

Ickes told the union in a telegram that he expected it to "operate in every way with the efforts of the United States conciliation service to end this stoppage."

A similar telegram went to the company.

A committee representing employees who walked off the job Friday said 1,300 refinery men were not working, as the result of the discharge of an employee who engaged in a fight with a supervisor.

In New York, Alexander Fraser, president of Shell, said, "the whole plant of 1,750 workers had been forced to suspend production through this action, instigated by a group of approximately 400 men."

Conferring here were James O. Hubbard, U. S. conciliation commissioner; John Crossland, secretary-treasurer of the local and Carl Mattern, international representative of the union from Fort Worth.

A five-member committee which said it represented the rank and file employees said in a statement that the discharged employee was fired without notice and without opportunity to present his side of the case.

Bombing

which after that assault replaced Essen as the most heavily bombed city in the world. But now that title probably belongs to Duesseldorf.

The belief prevailed here that when the story of Duesseldorf's devastation is told it will be greater than anything its sister German cities ever experienced.

Returning pilots described the weather over the target last night as perfect, with Duesseldorf's great armament factories seen clearly in the bright moonlight. The bombs touched off fires visible for 70 miles.

Air Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris, chief of the RAF bomber command, ordered the raid in late evening after day-long consultations with weather experts.

One Canadian squadron reported that the German opposition was the lightest yet encountered in the Ruhr, but others found the going more difficult.

Some Canadian pilots described the explosions as terrific and said they were larger than those ordinarily touched off by four-ton block-busters. They said the smoke rose four miles above the flaming city. Ten of the planes lost were Canadian.

Jap Cargo Vessel Damaged By Yanks

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Sunday, June 13. (AP)—A Liberator damaged a 2,000-ton Japanese cargo ship yesterday off Kaitman, Dutch New Guinea, the high command announced in today's noon communique.

Long range fighters destroyed six Japanese float planes at their moorings in an attack on the Aroe Islands. Two others were damaged and one was shot down trying to intercept the Allied raiders.

Four Allied raiders over Madang, New Guinea, were rewarded upon by 20 Zeros but fought them off, downing one.

Scouts Will Camp Here

Approximately 40 boys from the Big Spring, Midland and Odessa area are due to participate this week in a tri-district Boy Scout camp at the city park.

H. D. Norris, field scout executive, said late Saturday that arrangements were complete and that advance registrations indicated a good turnout. Most were due to come from Big Spring, but there were definitely registrations for six Odessa scouts, two each from Fursan and Stanton and one from Westbrook.

Possibly 25 boys will be served in the camp mess hall, while others, notably troops No. 1 and No. 5, have elected to bring and prepare their own food during the week, said Norris.

Tentage was on hand, and Saturday handcraft book and material and other equipment had been brought from council headquarters at Sweetwater. Wood had been hauled, the flag pole put in order and the archery target erected.

The program lays stress on the scout wartime slogan of "toughen up and buckle down," and will feature morning swim periods at the municipal swimming pool, two long adventure and educational hikes, various scoutcraft events, athletics, and campfire ceremonies.

Don Betts, Odessa, field executive, will be co-director of the camp with Norris. The affair is one of three area camps to be held within the council this summer.

Farmers Stay Busy Planting

Howard county farmers continued their night planting operations through Saturday with the end in sight.

In several sections, most farmers had caught up on their plantings, while in others they still remained some original planting and considerable replanting to be done.

The tight land section around Luther appeared to be in best shape since it escaped washing rains and damage from sand storms.

As a general rule, both cotton and feed were coming up to a good stand. A large number of farmers have knifed their beds and are waiting until past the middle of the month to put in their begins.

Among those with early cotton, the demand for cotton choppers is increasing. O. R. Rodden, United States Employment Service manager here, said some 75 hands were placed last week and that he had Mexican crews totaling around 200 additional hands in sight.

Weeds continued to be a problem for most farmers and not infrequently producers were finding it necessary to replant good stands due to competing growth.

New Residents Urged To Visit Museum Today

new residents, including those stationed here with the military are especially invited to attend open hour at the West Texas Memorial Museum at the city park Sunday afternoon from 3 o'clock to 7 o'clock.

The museum which has been closed for several months is to be opened for public inspection, Mrs. Mary Bumpass, curator said.

The building houses relics of early West Texas days and Indian relics collected here by pioneers. A glimpse into the West as it used to be can be found in one room housing most of the collections of early days in this area.

Also, painting by the late E. W. Caylor, famous artist whose paintings of West Texas are known for their striking beauty, will be on display showing western scenes.

Hostesses with Mrs. Bumpass will be Mrs. Carl Blomfield from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock; Mrs. Walter Douglas from 5 o'clock to 7 o'clock; and Mrs. A. B. Wade, from 5 o'clock to 7 o'clock. The public is invited to attend. There are no charges.

Auxiliary First Class Alice L. Storrs, Chicago, Ill., is acting first sergeant of the group. She was a comptometer operator before entering the army last January. She was, as were all the auxiliaries with the Big Spring detachment, formerly stationed at Fort Devens, Mass. Her hobby is photography.

AFC. Whitelmina O. Hardy, Wister, Okla., studied at Chicago business college, was a food checker and waitress at a Chicago restaurant. She has a twin brother stationed in Oregon. Horseback riding and picnics are her hobbies.

Aux. Rita C. Amalm, Washington, D. C., is the lone married member of the WAAC group. Her husband is with the Engineers. She was a general accountant, graduated from Hyde Park high school, Hyde Park, Mass. She is a cook for the detachment.

Aux. Frieda Ehrenkrantz, Providence, R. I., was a cosmetics sales-lady before entering the service last December. Her hobbies are horseback riding and ping-pong. A brother is a first sergeant.

Aux. Ethel B. Lewis, Cochituate, Mass., was a doctor's secretary before entering the service, now is a cook for the army. Bowling is her favorite recreation.

Aux. Mildred M. Rogers, Clinton, Okla., was a sales clerk, was a member of church choral groups. She has had private study as a vocalist. Aux. Beulah M. Pettin, Youngstown, Ohio, has musical talent too. Singing and instrumental solo work is her main forte. She was assistant manager of a Cleveland shoe store.

Aux. Ruth E. Hobbins, Biddford, Me., was an inspector of cables, guns and terminals at a defense plant in New England. An uncle is with the merchant marine.

Aux. Frances D. Barnstein, New York City, was a welder at a shipyard. A brother is overseas. He joined the Canadian forces before the U. S. entered the war, but was transferred to U. S. forces after our entry into the war.

Aux. Mary J. Peters, Kansas City, Mo., was a telephone operator before entering the service in February. Motion picture shows and dancing are her favorite form of amusement. She attended Boonville, Mo., high school.

Ulmer Due To Have Large Grain Crop

M. H. Ulmer, who farms in the Vealmoor community 20 miles north of here, has prospects of a bumper small grain crop.

He has 450 acres of barley which promises to average around 25 bushels to the acre. In addition he has 60 acres planted to wheat and figures that it will equal the barley yield. Ulmer plans to combine his crop, starting two or three weeks from now.

Latest Inductees Are Announced

Names of registrants accepted for induction into the army in response to the latest quota call were released Saturday by the Howard county selective service board.

Included were these men: Henry Hudson Tanner, leader, Charles Dean Herring, Jr., assistant leader, Paul Amos Wadsworth, Dan Holt, Steve Herman, Daniel Arthur Bird, Evie E. Pelton, George Clinton Coots, James Hubert Ward, Jesse Thomas Holler, Tedy Leo Martin.

Eugene Wesley Fravo, Travis Earl West, T. C. Patterson, Jr., Billy Sam Darby, John Henry Day, Andrew Arthur Flower, Kenneth Harlan Owen, Edward Morton Hubbard, Jr., John Bunyan Knox, Jr., Stewart Paul Smith, Ira D. Williams, Ivy Elgin Jones, Loyce Wilmouth Whatley, Doversell Nuthum, Ernest Fred Barnett, Charles Ewell McQueen.

Transfers from other boards who went in with the group were Thomas G. Rose, Billy Frank Womack, Paul Woodfin Carroll, and Charles Rankin Pearson.

Loy Stallow House, registered with the local board, and Joe George Carter, Jr., transferred in, were granted 14-day furloughs to conclude business affairs before reporting to Fort Hill, Okla. to begin service.

Highway

The San Angelo board of city development, urged that a fight be urged for such designation and that an organization be patterned after the Broadway of America (US 80) Highway association and put into immediate operation.

US 87, reminded J. H. Greene, Big Spring chamber manager, is the national Veterans of Foreign Wars memorial highway, and C. M. Meadows, San Angelo, pointed out that the route was one which would funnel much traffic to the Big Bend park area.

Judge E. J. Adkins, Brady, who was one of the pioneers of the Pudget Sound to Gulf Highway association, formed in 1914 when most of the route which is now US 87 was nothing but cowtrails leading from one windmill to the next, was indignant over efforts to divert traffic from it.

"It is the only logical route now just as it was a quarter of a century ago," he said. "When you get down to facts, this ought to be the Pan-American highway and not somewhere else where there might be more political influence."

Another of the route's early boosters, Judge M. C. Lindsay, Lamesa, declared it is the "road to which we are entitled," appealed for faith in the route "which we have built through the years." It has "every talking advantage" and climatic advantages over other channels, he asserted.

Another appeal for organization came from Dean Nowlin, Tahoka, who said it was the shortest W. A. Richter, Abernathy, pointed out it traversed the headwaters of many Texas streams and was not liable to frequent flood threats.

After Benefield had explained it was good business to support the campaign in the light of tremendous post-war travel, Judge Lindsay's motion carried to call upon cities along the route between Amarillo and San Antonio for finances to support the organization effort.

Representatives elected to go the national organization route at the suggestion of Davis, but agreed with V. Z. Rogers, Lamesa, that as soon as this was accomplished that there ought to be set up an active Texas division.

Named to constitute the organization committee were A. B. Davis, Lubbock, chairman, Evans J. Adkins, Brady, G. M. Witt, Plainview, A. B. Reader, Abernathy, Joe Pickle, Big Spring, Gordon Kenley, San Angelo, Alf Carpenter, Lamesa, and W. T. Hains, Tahoka.

Others attending were Wallace E. Thatcher, Plainview; J. E. Edmister, Evans J. Adkins, M. J. Benefield, temporary chairman, Brady; J. C. Dean, C. M. Meadows, Dean Chenoweth, San Angelo; M. C. Lindsay, Charnell Jobs, V. Z. Rogers, R. Stansell Clement, and Karl Cayton, Lamesa; Dean Nowlin, Happy Smith, Tahoka; W. A. Richter, Rose Reader, Abernathy; W. G. Hayden, J. H. Greene, temporary secretary, Big Spring.

Cub Scouts Trounce Dads In Softball

Cubs—mins, 10 and 11-year-olds, almost played the socks off of their Dads Friday evening in a successful Cub rally program under the lights at the city park.

They stood their fathers off in a prolonged softball game and then did as well in a series of contests. Saturday the Cubs were ready for more, their Dads were not.

Highlight of the rally was the presentation of awards to John Edwin Fort, Tommy Porter, Bill Cox, Jimmy Martin, Harold Ross, and Larry Dillon, all members of Bobo Hardy's den. Mrs. P. E. Martin, also presented with her den mother's pin.

A large number of mothers and fathers attended the rally as well as some 80 Cubs.

The Week

commerce and let's get this project named right.

The commissioners court gave oil producers some relief last week in granting what amounted to a five per cent cut on mineral values from last year. Ben LeFever, representing a long-time operator in the field, said that if the war continues the court is going to have to look to "farms and ranches" to bear their share of the tax load. Without arguing whether oil is over-taxed, it must be admitted he has a mighty strong point. A lot of things, including rural property, some urban holdings, stock, business stocks, etc., are riding the tax wagon.

The newly formed county war board meat committee is working to secure ample local quotas. The city is facing a meat shortage because it is unprofitable for wholesalers to operate, because these same ones have most of the quotas for the city and county. Meanwhile, this has to go through channels. Our veal may be prime beef before we get relief.

Steps were taken Saturday to put US highway 87 back in the fight for Alaska to Cape Horn (South America) traffic, for which El Paso, Fort Worth, Waco and Austin are making serious diversionary bids. It is vital to keep our route the main route, for this column believes it conservatively will mean a quarter of a million dollars additional revenue for us in the post war era. That kind of money is worth going after.

Woman Held As A Forgery Suspect

City police Saturday took into custody Mary Williamson, alias Mary Hill, wanted by the Texas department of public safety on a warrant issued at Roby and charging forgery.

The woman, who said she had come here to visit relatives, was identified by photograph and fingerprint, but denied to officers that she was involved in any checking irregularities. She lived at Odessa, she said.

Monday, June 14

Big Spring's Flag Day Program will be held on the Courthouse Lawn at 7:45 p. m. Monday.

To the heroes of Fort Mifflin and Bataan and Guadalcanal and Tunisia — to those in all our wars who have given their lives for America's freedom — we owe an everlasting debt . . . a debt we are more conscious of today than ever before . . . a debt that causes us to understand to the fullest extent the true meaning of the Stars and Stripes we love so well.

Display of Old Glory is to show the world that we prize our liberty so highly that we cannot fail to keep it . . . We are confident of our might; we are confident of the righteousness of the cause for which America is fighting. To that cause we solemnly pledge ourselves today.

Even The Navy Loses Its Top Grid Players

ATHENS, Ga., June 12 (AP)—Heavy football, as played by the Athens Pre-Fliht School, won't be so tough next fall.

Capt. C. E. Smith, USN, commanding officer of the school and long-time football fan, disclosed a little sadly today that the big-name stars of last November have gone to war, even as the collegiate opponents they played. And next fall, he added, only cadets will participate in a restricted, regional varsity campaign.

Last season the star-studded sky-cracker eleven swept through its schedule with only one defeat, climaxing its performance with an impressive 35-19 victory over Alabama.

Of the 11 men who started the final game against Alabama, only two still are at the station. Wingback Bob Fox, former Tennessee star, in training to become a navy flying instructor, and tailback Billy Patterson of Daylor, are at the air station here.

End Jim Foote of Mississippi and guard Quinton Lumpkin of Georgia now are based outside the United States. Center Ken Whitlow of Rice and blocking back Ed Hickerson of Alabama are on sea duty. Tackle Ernie Blandin of Tulane is assigned to the navy flight preparatory school, Middletown, Conn.; guard Bob Suffridge of Tennessee is at a similar school, Charlottesville, Va.; tackle Alie White, Texas Christian, is at the naval air technical training center, Memphis; and Herschel (Red) Ramsey, Texas Tech, is at the naval air station, St. Simmons Island, Ga.; and fullback Darrell Tully, East Texas Tech, is at the naval air station, Dallas.

Finishes Inspection Of Draft Records

T. N. Carwell, Abilene, clerical audit supervisor for the state selective service system, Saturday finished a three-day inspection of the Howard county selective service office.

He inspected board records, surveyed personnel, and held an instructional meeting with the board.

Pro Football May Have But Four Teams

CHICAGO, June 12 (AP)—In seven days Prof. Elmer Layden will assemble his National football league owners' class and the expectation is that only four cries of "present" will greet the commissioner, with four of the other five responding in that weak "I-don't-feel-like-school-today" tone.

One member, Cleveland, already has dropped out for the duration of the war, but all nine others technically committed themselves to play when they made no move on unselected players.

Both Chicago teams have lost their regular coaches. George Halas of the bears entered the navy just before the 1942 season ended and Jimmy Conzelmann of the Cards had joined the St. Louis American league baseball team as a roving ambassador. Halas also is owner of the Bears.

Bombardier School Softball Swing Into Second Half Monday

365th Retains Standing As Favorite

With the field narrowed to nine teams and the competition made keener with combinations of some units, the second half of the Big Spring Bombardier School enlisted men's softball league gets underway Monday.

Although some changes have been made, the 365th, winner of the first half chase, still rules as a favorite. The crack team has lost some of its members, but then it has a bout replaced with equal strength. The 78th, arch foe of the 365th, appears to be strong as usual and stands a good chance of heading the champions, who sailed through the initial half without a loss in nine starts.

Another team which, if it plays more consistent ball, may have a chance to figure in the title is the 369th (colored) aviation squadron. Until it cracked in a hard game with the 365th and then lost two more in a row before it could hold together at the seams again, the team had power in the first part of the season.

Monday's schedule pits the Mess Company against the 78th Squadron in the curtain raiser, and although the 78th is as favorite, the Mess Company has a knack for throwing upsets. The 2052nd Ordnance and the Medical detachment and the 369th and No. Maintenance tangle in the two night cap affairs.

Wednesday the 2052nd returns to the wars against the 369th in the first game, while the So. Maintenance meets the 1047th Guard Squadron, and the 365th breaks in against the Mess Company in the night cap.

Friday the 78th meets the 1047th Guard in the initial game and the 365th plays the Medical Detachment and the So. Maintenance battles the No. Maintenance in the final game of the week.

On the Spot as the second half of the Big Spring Bombardier School softball league opens is the 365th Base Headquarters team which won the first half title with a perfect record of nine wins and no losses. This automatically puts the outfit on the spot in the race starting Monday. Pictured are: Front row—Sgt. Sherman G. Durham, Sweetwater, Texas; Cpl. John M. Millard, Dayton, Tenn.; Sgt. Maurice Lasarus, Chicago, Ill.; Captain Jack P. Rayzor, San Antonio, Tex.; Major Paul S. Dewell, Pierre, S. D.; Major Gaylord W. Schultz, Oshkosh, Wis.; S/Sgt. Wallace Weinstein, Brooklyn, N. Y.; third row—First Sergeant Frank C. Stewart, Tucson, Ariz.; Cpl. Harry T. Wrobel, Chicago, Ill.; Pvt. Edgar L. Hall, Dallas, Tex.; S/Sgt. Joseph J. Smeister, Norwood, Mass.; Cpl. Worth A. Peeler, Big Spring, Tex.; Pvt. Richard J. Raich, Detroit, Mich.; and Pvt. George W. Masur, New York, N. Y. Major Dewell and Captain Rayzor were until recently commanding officer and the squadron adjutant of the 365th. Major Schultz is the present commanding officer of the outfit. Not shown are Pfc Raymond Smith, Muskegon, Mich.; Pvt. John A. Calvo, Nashville, Tenn.; and Pfc Raymond Stephenson, Lawton, Okla.

Haegg Is No Stickler For The Rules

HANOVER, N. H., June 12 (AP)—American students of running form desirous of learning the secret of the incredible speed and stamina of Gunder Haegg, the Swedish holder of seven world records, should consult scientists. Haegg violates almost all of the rules that govern the conditioning of tracksters in this country.

Although Haegg has broken every important world record from 1,500 to 5,000 meters on a cinder track, he refuses to step on that type of surface for training purposes. His workouts consist of four mile jaunts through the woods and over grassy hills, as if he was training for a cross-country racing.

He insists that running such rugged courses enabled him to perfect his flawless strides, strengthened his amazingly swift legs and built up his stamina.

As far as Haegg will admit to his closest associates, Big Steinwall, former Dartmouth ski coach who serves as his masseur, and Axel Nordquist, who represents the A. A. U. here, he is a self-coached runner.

The fabulous 24-year-old Swedish streak told them that the only racing suggestions he ever heeded were given by his discoverer, a wealthy northern Sweden farmer, when he was in his late teens.

Haegg, who was born on a farm in Jamtland, became serious about his track work after entering his discoverer's employment. Previously all of his running had been done in the forest and he was advised to continue it.

The only training habits Haegg shares with American tracksters are the desire for plenty of sleep and a fondness for milk, which he downs in vast quantities. His other dietary traits, however, would shock every athletic coach.

As a farm boy, Haegg's diet was limited to bread, potatoes, meat and fish. And that, along with pastry, is what he eats today. He scorns all of the greens and vegetables that most authorities prescribe for runners. He does, however, take steam baths religiously and also submits to hour-long massages.

Wild Pitch Gives Cards 1-0 Triumph Over Pirates

ST. LOUIS, June 12 (AP)—The alert World Champion Cardinals took advantage of Jack Hallett's wild pitch in the sixth inning today to score a 1 to 0 triumph over Pittsburgh and their third straight victory in a 6-game series. They play a doubleheader tomorrow.

Jack Hallett, Pirates hurler, apparently had the Redbirds well in hand starting the sixth. Then with two away, Harry Walker beat out a bunt and Stan Musial clipped a hard single to right center sending Walker to third. Hallett's next delivery to the plate hit the dirt and Walker streaked home.

Until that frame, Hallett had limited the Cards to a pair of singles, one of them by Walker in the first inning to boost his hitting streak to 15 consecutive games.

As it was, the Pittsburgh moundman allowed only five hits while his teammates collected six, including a double by Huck Geary, off Howie Pollet. The victory was Pollet's fifth against one set-back.

The triumph put St. Louis 1-2 games in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers who lost to the Boston Braves, 2 to 1.

PHIL TAKE TWO

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—The Phillies swept a doubleheader over the Giants today, taking the first game 3 to 2 on Coaker Triplett's homer and putting on a three-run ninth-inning rally to come from behind and capture the nightcap 4 to 3. Homers by Buster Maynard, Dick Bartell and Mel Ott gave the Giants all their runs in the afterpiece.

Golf Courses And Pool Crowded By Stay-At-Homes

Weekend duffers, and those with the professional swing were out this weekend at the two local golf courses, according to managers at the city park and country club, to keep the courses well in use.

Managers estimated that the number using the courses this year was at least as good as last year and would probably be better before the summer is over due to most vacationists spending their time in town.

The city park pool was crowded, too, over the weekend for young and old alike were finding it a cool spot to spend hot days and evenings.

Courses at the two golfing centers were a better shape than in a long time and managers expected to make a record of some sort this year.

Bowlers at the bowling center were busy knocking down pins this weekend too. Apparently an even number of men and women were in attendance and keeping the alleys occupied with friendly games and competition since no tournament or competition games are scheduled for the weekend.

A's Trounced As Yanks Make It 5 In A Row

PHILADELPHIA, June 12 (AP)—The New York Yankees took target practice today on one pitcher and two recent collegiate importations who posed as pitchers and smothered the Athletics 14 to 5 to stretch their winning streak to five straight games.

Maintaining their three-game lead at the head of the American league parade, the Bombers piled up eight runs in the second inning alone as they drew rookie Don Black to cover in the second frame. Equalling their fanciest previous hitting high, they collected 18 hits, five of them by Roy Weatherly and one a homer by Johnny Lindell.

Every one of the ten men in the Yankee lineup—Catcher Ken Sears hurt a finger and was replaced by Rolfe Hemstley—hit safely at least once as they drew rookie Don Black to cover in the second frame, knocked the roof in on Tom Clyde, fresh up from Presbyterian (S.C.) College in the third and just about raised lumps on Bert Kuczyński, 1942 University of Pennsylvania football captain, by tagging him for ten hits the rest of the way.

The most notable fielding stunt was Weatherly's ten put-outs in center field.

HIGGINS HOMERS

DETROIT, June 12 (AP)—Pinky Higgins' homer sparked a two-run eighth inning Detroit rally today as the Tigers edged out the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 3. Hal White pitched a three hitter for the Tigers to best lefty Thornton Lee and boost Detroit into a tie with Chicago for third place.

BROWNS WIN IN 11TH

CLEVELAND, June 12 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns scored a winning eleventh inning run today to win a weird ball game from the Cleveland Indians 7 to 6. Cleveland had a shortstop behind the plate and a pitcher playing shortstop, as a total of 18 Tribesmen saw action. It was the first time since his college days that Manager Lou Boudreau had donned the catcher's mask.

SENS SCORE SHUTOUT

BOSTON, June 12 (AP)—Milt Candini held the Boston Red Sox to three hits today when the Washington Senators scored a 1 to 0 shutout. Case scored the winning run in the first inning after a walk, a steal to second and a scoot for home on Jimmy Vernon's single to center. The visitors got five hits off Terry.

Lone Letterman Due To Return To Texas Univ.

AUSTIN, June 12 (AP)—As of today, the University of Texas needed ten men if it expected to play football in September.

Head Football Coach D. K. Bibbe said he felt "reasonably sure" Joe Magliolo of Galveston, stellar blocking back last season, would return.

But he was the only one, ever, that somehow enough youngsters would be found to put together something that counted up to eleven.

Bibbe said he thought at least six members of the Southwest conference would play football next fall. Baylor, he explained, is undecided.

"All the others should carry on," Bibbe declared. "Each should have enough army or navy men, reserves and young players. This is the year when everybody possible should be playing and our athletic programs closely meshed with training programs of the armed forces. This will be no year for thinking of the caliber of the team, or championships or how much money comes in at the gate."

Southern Cal Cops First Honors At NCAA Tourney

EVANSTON, Ill., June 12 (AP)—Southern California, voted least likely to succeed, won the National Collegiate Athletic Association's "ghost" track and field championship today—for the ninth consecutive year.

Thus the Trojans, whose track prowess at long last was judged to be extinct when it came time to dope this 22nd annual collegiate affair, had something in common with the N.C.A.A. meet, which too was supposed to be "dead for the duration" but came back to put on a show comparable with those of peace days.

Southern California scored 46 points today, the lowest winning quota since Illinois squeezed out a title on 17 7/10 points in 1927. Last year the Trojans piled up the colossal sum of 85 1/2 points.

California, aided by Hal Davis' double victory in the sprints—his second in two years—finished second with 39 points. Rice Institute, usurping the meet's only other double champ in hurdler William Cummins, was third with 36 points and New York University, favored after yesterday's qualifying round, was fourth with 32 points.

Other high tally makers were Minnesota with 31, Nebraska with 19, Illinois with 18, Washington with 17, and Texas, Lawrence and Michigan tied with 16 apiece.

A crowd estimated at 6,000 poured into the Northwestern University's Dyche Stadium to witness the Trojans in their 12th N.C.A.A. win in the last 18 years. They saw no records but plenty of action.

Rice had the day's leading quota of first places with three, on Cummins' 14.5 second performance in the high hurdles and 23.9 second time in the low hurdles, and Billy Christopher's winning 24 foot 7 1/4-inch broad jump.

California, of course, took two firsts, on Davis' 10-second century and 21.4 second 220 sprint. No other school took more than one first. Thirty-two institutions in all took part in the scoring.

Jerry Thompson of the University of Texas won the two-mile run with a time of 9:29.9 while Doug las Jacques, also of Texas, came in third in the 120-yard high hurdles. Paul Ware of Prairie View Normal at Prairie View, Tex., was sixth in the 440-yard dash.

Christopher, in addition to winning the broad jump, got some more Rice points with a tie for second in the high jump. Christopher leaped 6 feet 6 inches.

Greenberg Out To Keep Title Of The Clay Courts

DETROIT, June 12 (AP)—Seymour Greenberg, the little left-hander from Chicago who ranks seventh nationally, will endeavor to become the fourth player to defend successfully the national clay courts championship when he puts his title on the line in the seven-day tournament that opens Monday at the Detroit Tennis Club.

Greenberg, one-time Western conference champion from Northwestern university who captured the 1942 clay courts crown at St. Louis, obviously doesn't belong in the same league with Big Bill Tilden, Biley Grant and Bobby Riggs. Yet if he wins the 22-year-old Greenberg will complete a four-ome of champions who didn't fold under pressure.

Curiously, Greenberg is seeded second in the 33rd annual tournament that is streamlined to war standards. The top seed goes to Billy Talbert of Cincinnati, the nation's No. 4 player, who bowed to Greenberg in last year's semifinals. James Evert of Chicago and Earl Coell of Los Angeles, third and fourth, are the only other seeded entries in the men's division.

New Cadets Are Entertained With Dance

Class 43-12, new cadets at the Big Spring Bombardier school, were entertained Friday evening with a buffet dinner and dance at the post gymnasium.

The post orchestra furnished music and Cadet Kirby Brooks of class 43-11 was master of ceremonies for the floor show furnished by the special services section at the field.

Mary Ruth Dix was featured in a tap number; Sgt. George Duklah gave a magician act; Sgt. Winslow Chamberlain gave several numbers as a trumpet solo; Jean Odle gave a tap dance, and Cadet Scotty Moore of 43-9 gave saxophone solos.

Cadet Kirkpatrick won the prize in the contest for the most beautiful legs among the cadets. Dot Anthony and Cadet David Weinstein of 43-12 won the jitterbug contest and Virginia Wood and Cadet Gus Anselmo won the ballroom exhibition dance.

Buses were provided for the girls, supervised by Elouise Haley, post hostess. Approximately 280 persons attended the first dance given for the new class of cadets by the post.

Attention All Women: The Red Cross Needs You

Urgently needed these days at the Red Cross Surgical dressing room are workers to fold bandages for the army, navy and marines. With a quota on hand of 80,000 and 50,000 more bandages on the way, the women in charge of the room are asking more cooperation from local women in finishing the gigantic job.

Mrs. Bernard Fisher, chairman, estimates that it will take about 300 women a day to complete this quota and last week, including the whole week, there were only 134 women registered.

The rooms, over Wacker's store, are open each Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a. m. to 12 p. m. and 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. Mondays the room is open from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 5 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The bandages being done are four inches by four inches and provide the armed services medical corps with 90 per cent of their bandages.

An honor roll containing the names of women workers shows a gold star for every twenty-five hours of work put in. Mrs. M. L. Musgrove, who comes every day to the rooms, has three gold stars to her credit.

Mrs. Fisher urged that other women come in regularly and do this necessary part of war work.

Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Turner and James Kent, who have been visiting here from El Paso with Mrs. Zula Reeves and Oney Reeves, have returned home. Oney Reeves accompanied the guests home to spend a week in El Paso.

Omega McClain Becomes Bride Of Carl Herod In Candlelight Service Read At Church Here

Before an altar decorated with floor baskets of white gladioli and lighted with white tapers in candelabras, Omega McClain became the bride of Carl Herod Saturday evening in a ceremony read at 9 p. m. at the First Presbyterian church.

MRS. CARL HEROD (Photo by Rodden)

The pastor, the Rev. J. C. Moore, read the single ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McClain of Big Spring, wore a white linen suit with white accessories and a white halo flower hat. Her corsage was an orchid and she carried a white prayer book topped with a small spray of white carnations. The prayer book belonged to Mrs. Horace Garrett of Big Spring, who carried it at her wedding.

The bride's only attendant was Evelyn Merrill, who dressed in a grey suit trimmed in blue. Her accessories were black and she wore a blue flower hat. Her corsage was of gardenias. Roy Herod of Brownfield, brother of the bridegroom, was the bridegroom's attendant.

The pre-nuptial music was sung by Mildred Herod, sister of the bridegroom, who sang "Because" and "I Love Thee." Miss Herod dressed in a white ensemble and had a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Pat Kenney played the traditional wedding marches on the organ and was accompanist for the soloist.

Jane Clayton, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles and wore a black and white ensemble with a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mrs. Garner McAdams, 208 Dixie, for members of the wedding party and immediate families.

The table was lace-laid and centered with a crystal basket on a reflector. The basket was filled with shasta daisies and day lilies. The white and gold wedding cake was three tiered and topped with bride and bridegroom figures. Spring flowers in floor baskets and crepe myrtle and silver vase vines decorated the home.

Serving punch and cake were Sara Reidy, Mrs. Roy Black and Mrs. Pat Stacey. Bobbie Green presided at the register.

A receiving line included the hostess, bride and bridegroom, best man and bridesmaid, and the bride's parents.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to Dallas following the reception.

Herod, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Herod of Snyder, was graduated from McMurry college in Abilene and also attended U. C. L. A. in California. He is employed at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo.

Mrs. Herod was graduated from schools in Tyler, Tex., and has lived here for the past three years. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Leland Herod, Snyder, Jack Rees, Abilene, Joy Herod, Dallas, Mrs. Roy Herod, and Billie Mack, Brownfield.

Two Guests Included At Victory Bridge Club Party Friday

Two guests, Mrs. Herschel Petty and Mrs. F. C. Van Open, were included Friday when Mrs. M. C. Lawrence was hostess to the Victory Bridge club in her home.

Mrs. G. C. Graves won high score and Mrs. Petty second high score. Bingo awards went to Mrs. A. G. Hall and Mrs. Van Open.

Mrs. W. M. Gage won the floating prize. Others playing were Mrs. T. J. A. Walker and Mrs. C. A. Shaw. Refreshments were served during the afternoon, and flowers were room decorations.

Mrs. Shaw is to be next hostess for the club.

Sport Dance Given At Hotel By Three Hostesses

Helen Blount, Betty Sue Sweeney and Millie Balch entertained with a sport dance Friday at the Settles hotel in room one.

Chaperones were Mrs. Dick Peal, Mrs. Ella Armstrong, Mrs. Y. Sweeney and Mrs. James F. Wilkenson.

Music was furnished by nickelodeon for approximately 50 persons who attended.

Colorado City Has Zone Meet Of WSCS

COLORADO CITY, June 13 (Sp) — With Mrs. L. E. Godfrey, field worker from the Florida conference, as the featured speaker, the Central and the East zones of the district Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met in Colorado City Thursday for a day of instruction and inspiration.

The meeting opened in the morning at the First Methodist church and continued through the afternoon.

Mrs. O. B. Bryan, district secretary, of Stanton presided and spoke at the morning hour on "Goals for 1943." Zone reports were heard and Mrs. Godfrey spoke on "The Work Shop."

Following luncheon, which was served in the church dining room, Mrs. L. B. Elliott, president of the Colorado City WSCS gave a report of the district conference held recently at Lubbock. District chairmen gave their reports and Mrs. E. B. Willbanks sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Hooks.

The main address of the day by Mrs. Godfrey was "Walking the Road Together," an outline of things to be accomplished in women's work of the church.

A hundred women from the two zones, including members from Sweetwater, Snyder, Roscoe, Lorraine, Stanton, Buford, Westbrook and a number of the smaller communities attended.

Pfc Ray Hood Weds In North Carolina

Pfc. Ray Byron Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hood of Big Spring, a member of the paratroopers and stationed in Fort Bragg, N. C., was married on May 18th at the Trinity Episcopal church to Patricia Bristow Woolley of Greensboro, N. C.

The bride who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon B. Woolley of Spuyten Duyvil, N. Y., dressed in a white marquisette and rose point lace gown with the lace forming the fitted bodice and the marquisette in the full skirt. Her veil of illusion fell from a cap of rose point. She wore a heirloom gold cross and carried a bouquet of gardenias showered with valley lilies.

A reception was held at the hall of Woman's College where the bride was graduated this June.

The Greensboro Daily News carried an item entitled "Fortunes of War" telling of the difficulties encountered by the couple in arranging a wedding date. The wedding was planned to be held in New York until Pfc. Hood heard he was to be transferred, so a wedding was planned in Greensboro, three of them in fact. The first time the bridegroom-to-be was sent on maneuvers, then the best man picked up a dud that turned out to be a dud and which sent him to the hospital. The next best friend asked to be bestman came down with appendicitis.

At the last minute the bride's fateh could not get away, and her brother was rushed up from an army post in Georgia to give the bride away. The bridegroom, who couldn't get off duty, arrived at his wedding at an hour and a half late "dressed as he was when he dashed off duty . . . but complete with best man, a big smile, and beautiful bouquet for the bride."

Pfc. Hood, who is now on maneuvers in Tennessee, has won diplomas as an anti-tank gunner at Camp Roberts, Calif., as a parachute packer, ground training and jumping expert and a parachute communications expert at Fort Benning, Ga.

Preston Mason Is Entertained On Sixth Birthday

Preston Mason was entertained on his sixth birthday anniversary Friday with a party at the Farrar Pre-School. A patriotic motif was used in the red, white and blue pin wheels which were given as favors.

MRS. GEORGE HOPE . . . Friday bride

Caroline McCleskey Weds T-Sgt Hope In Phoenix, Arizona

Former Resident To Make Home In Santa Ana

Word was received here Friday by Mrs. N. W. McCleskey of the marriage of her daughter, Caroline, to T-Sgt. George Hope of Los Angeles Friday evening in Phoenix, Ariz.

The couple will be at home at Balboa, Calif., near Santa Ana where Sgt. Hope is stationed with headquarters, Army Air Force West Coast Training Center.

Mrs. Hope, who formerly lived in Big Spring, was graduated from high school here. She also attended Texas Tech at Lubbock and T. C. U. at Fort Worth. For the past three years she has lived in Hollywood, Calif., where she was employed by the Columbia Broadcasting company for two years. Lately she has been living in Phoenix where she was taking flying lessons.

Sgt. Hope was a script and scenario writer in Hollywood before entering the army where he is now writing radio shows for the army public relations division.

The girl we remember chiefly for her ability to make ice cream from snow and into whose room we used to creep after hours for midnight ball sessions, is in North Africa with the WAAC. A third officer, the bulletin says.

There were two quiet fellows, chums, who used to say little in classes but who always came up with the best grades at the end of each semester. They didn't go in for athletics, social clubs, or dances so the girls didn't know them very well. Between them they've got enough medals and ribbons to cover their blouses for action in the Pacific.

There were gold stars, too, by the names of boys we've laughed with, studied with, argued and debated with. Brief announcements from spots on the map these boys never ever thought they'd see.

The class that walked in caps and gowns across the campus just a few years ago this month was worried chiefly about getting jobs. Fate threw lots for the type of job, but their work-all turned out to be the same-war.

Mrs. Foy Dunlap Is Entertained With Gift Tea In Home

Mrs. Mel Roberts and Mrs. A. L. Grant were hostesses at a gift tea for Mrs. Foy Dunlap held Thursday afternoon in the A. L. Grant home.

A pink and blue theme was carried out in appointments and refreshments.

Guests included Mrs. Olvert Fletcher, Mrs. H. P. Cox, Mrs. D. W. Roberson, Mrs. Eddie Cheek, Mrs. Al Bradford, Dorothy Jean Gressett, Dorothy Mae Fritchard, Lovers Wilson, Joyce Jean Sewell, Bona Belle Grant, Dana Belle McKee, Mrs. G. F. Painter, Mrs. T. R. Camp, Mrs. Earl Lucas.

Sending gifts were Mrs. B. C. Cowling, Mrs. O. S. Butler, Mrs. John Kubacka, Mrs. Viola Johnson, Mrs. C. V. Wash, Mrs. R. W. Cranfill, Mrs. L. W. Willis, Mrs. Ed Campbell, Mrs. C. M. Adams, Mrs. McCaslin, Mrs. J. L. Cartwright, Mrs. L. S. Camp, Mrs. Lloyd Fritchard.

Pennsylvania Couple Wed In Johnson Home

Wedding rites for Leabel Folmer, Milton, Pa., and Cadet Ray Shirk, Jr., of Laurelton, Pa., were read in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Johnson Thursday night by the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The bride wore a soldier blue suit with white accessories and carried a white testament with a shower of white carnations. Her shoulder corsage was of red carnations.

The single ring ceremony was read by the pastor and the bride was given in marriage by Jay Johnson.

Mrs. William Spott of Milton, Pa., was matron of honor and wore a dusty rose dress trimmed in white. Her corsage was of pink gladioli. Cadet William Spott was best man.

Pre-nuptial solos were given by Jake Douglass who sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Forrest Gamble of Stamford. Mrs. Gamble also played the traditional wedding processional.

The ceremony was read before a white mantel which was banked with greenery and flanked with floor basket of salmon pink gladioli. Candelabra were on either side. Roses were used throughout the house for decorations.

A reception was held after the wedding for the wedding party. A wedding cake topped with bride and bridegroom figures was served with punch. The table was laid with a white satin cloth and centered with a crystal vase holding roses and candies.

Ina Fay Fryer presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Charles Kee at the bride's cake. The couple is at home at 800 Main until Cadet Shirk's graduation in class 43-9 at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

Encampment Is Planned By HD Women

An encampment for club women of Howard county was set for July 15 when the Home Demonstration Council met Saturday afternoon at the county agent's office.

The encampment is to be held at the city park. Plans were also made for a family night and picnic supper on July 23 at the city park and every club woman and her family is invited to attend.

Committee composed of Mrs. M. M. Fairchild, Mrs. S. T. Johnson, Mrs. Porter Hanks, and Mrs. Rosa Hill will be in charge of the program for the family night event.

Others attending were Mrs. Ed Simpson, Mrs. Carl McKee, Mrs. Porter Hanks, Mrs. H. N. Zandt, all of Yesimoor, Mrs. W. H. Ward and Mrs. D. F. Bigony of Fairview, Mrs. Walter Barbes, Mrs. Rosa Hill, Mrs. Pearl Cagle and Mrs. Fairchild, all of Overton.

Mrs. W. F. Heckler and Mrs. H. C. Reid, both of R-Bar, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Herschel Smith, Mrs. Paul Johnson, all of Knott and Rheba Boyles, county agent.

Brotherhood To Convene Monday Night In Odessa

The Brotherhood convention of the Big Spring Baptist Association which includes the counties of Howard, Glasscock, Martin, Midland and Ector with Thirty Church organizations, will be held at the First Baptist Church at Odessa, Monday evening at 8:30.

Judge E. S. Cummings of Abilene, State Brotherhood convention president, will speak to the men at this dinner.

Delegations from the various Brotherhood groups in the association are to attend this meeting. A fine program has been arranged.

Rev. Arthur DeLoach is the host pastor and Raymond Stoker is the host Brotherhood officer. Association Brotherhood Convention President, Thos. J. Pitts, will preside at the meeting.

An Exaggeration

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Sgt. Donald Zelinsky, 23, crossing the Atlantic last week, heard a Nazi news flash announce an American ship had been sunk.

He was mildly surprised, because it was the ship he was aboard.

—VISITS AND VISITORS—

Mrs. Frank Holmes and daughter of Jacksonville are visiting in the W. F. Cushing home.

Mrs. James Crossland and son of New Orleans, La., are here visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert E. Lee. Mrs. Crossland is the former Olive Chumley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Alexander have received word from their son, Lieut. Louis Alexander, who is now in England that he had been to London to "see the sights." He had seen Buckingham Palace and other points of interest and described the country as being "quaint."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack King had as guests Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Halbrook of Fort Arthur and former Big Spring residents.

Mrs. Alton Underwood is visiting in Abilene with her mother and will return home Monday.

Mrs. R. L. Perkins, Jr., is in Dothan, Ala., where she joined her husband, who is an aviation cadet in training there.

Mrs. George Hall left Friday for New Orleans, La., where she will meet her son, Sgt. Harold Hall and Mrs. Hall of Biloxi, Miss., for a visit. Mrs. Harold Hall will accompany her back to Big Spring.

Cosden Chatter—

By VELVA GLASS

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Smith and daughter to the Cosden family. Smith is our new assistant sales manager and comes to Cosden with some fifteen years of experience in marketing.

Also want to welcome two more new employees: Billie Shaffer and Marcella Uirey.

There seems to be no end of our girls this week: Omega McClain and Carl Herold were married last night at the First Presbyterian church.

It is good to see Carl Dyckmans back at his desk after an illness of nine weeks.

Sam Hefner has left for a week's vacation—just a little fishin' trip if the Dallas Bulk Plant doesn't snag him first.

"Pots and pans" won over the typewriter for Marge Hudson Kirk. She is giving up a business career for domestic bliss.

A. V. Karcher has returned from Washington and Chicago.

Marvin Miller is in Graham for the weekend.

Douglas Orms is returning today from Chicago, where he attended the meeting of the joint tank car sub-committee on June 9 and 10.

E. A. Gabriel is leaving today for Dayton and Cleveland, Ohio.

Want to wish good luck to R. M. Johnson, who is leaving for the coast guard. We will miss him.

Visitors in the office last week were: William F. White of Dallas; Hugh Dryer, M. S. Cole and Cliff Pomroy of Lubbock.

Mrs. John Collins and boys are visiting in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Bertha Price is visiting in Abilene this weekend.

Pvt. Huff D. Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peters, Sr., is now stationed with the 627th Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron at Liberal, Kan.

Know all "Cosdenites" will be interested in learning Lt. Victor Bales is now stationed at Camp Barkeley. Be sure and call him when you are in Abilene.

Miss Gladys Beard has returned to her home in Winnsboro after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peters, Jr.

There is a Santa Claus and in June. Besides our bonus, which we will receive on the 15, retroactive to May 1, all Metropolitan group life insurance premiums deducted from salaries will be refunded and in the future will be carried by the company.

If you can't go camping this summer because of gasoline rationing, you might follow the plan of J. A. Selkirk's daughters. Understand they have pitched a tent in the backyard and are doing their own cooking.

R. L. Tolleit, J. A. Selkirk, R. W. Thompson, Ray Lawrence, J. L. LeBlau, V. A. Whittington, Paul Johnson, Arnold Marshall, John Collins, M. M. Hines, A. V. Karcher and Mrs. Alma Bordens are leaving this weekend for Dallas to assist in the preparation for trial of the company and some of its employees in federal court on charges of violating the Connally hot oil act.

Drives Twice to Work
RAMONA, Calif., (UP)—Monte F. Stengall, 21, riveter, is doing more than his "bit" for the war effort. He drives 85 miles twice each day to the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft plant, bringing with him in his car four other workers. By getting up at 8:45 a. m., he arrives at the plant between 7:45 and 8:00, and at the end of each month has driven 2,500 miles to keep himself and the others on the job.

Spirit Of '43: Frothy young dance frock with clouds of snowy rayon net for the skirt, a draped bodice of rayon jersey trimmed in gold sequins.

Jacksonville Guest Complimented At Picnic Supper

Mrs. Frank Holmes of Jacksonville, Tex., was complimented with a picnic supper and party Friday night at the home of Mrs. William Peters. Mrs. Vernon Phillips was co-hostess.

Mrs. Holmes is here visiting her father, W. F. Cushing, and other relatives.

Attending were Constance Cushing, Mrs. H. C. Stupp, Mrs. James Crossland of New Orleans, La., Anne Martin, Mrs. Arch Carson, Glynne Jordan.

Four Guests Visit At Stitch A Bit Club Party Here

Four guests were included at the Stitch A Bit club Friday when Mrs. Johnny Knox was hostess to the group in her home for an afternoon of sewing.

Visitors were Mrs. David Moody, Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. Kirk Baxter, Mrs. Sarah Wright of Roby.

Refreshments were served and others present were Mrs. H. J. Agee, Mrs. Clarence Alvis and Mrs. G. G. Morehead.

Man's most priceless possession is sight. Yet the average man treats it more carelessly than he does his car. Surely a possession that can never be replaced deserves some attention. Come in for an eye examination and let us tell you whether your eyes are serving you the way they should.

Example Of Democracy In Unionism

The June Reader's Digest features "the article of the year in its field" entitled "The Typographical Union—Model for All," by William Hard. This article is definitely a "must" for all Americans whose impressions of organized labor unfortunately have been formed by following the antics of certain elements in certain unions.

Hard cites the Typographical Union as proof that a democratic union can and does exist. In the case of the ITU, it has been in action for 113 years—the oldest union in America. Its record of achievement for its members is outstanding. "Print shops used to be dark and dirty," says Hard; "the air in them was foul; the workday was 12 hours; tuberculosis was an accepted printer's ailment; the average age of printers at death was 28."

Today, the average age at death is 64.

The union, out of a total income of $4,000,000 spends $400,000 on the Union Printers' Home for aged and ailing members, $3,000,000 on pensions for old members, $500,000 on funeral benefits, and $100,000 on the Typographical Journal. Its two top executives draw $7,500 each per annum—and no more. "No corporation does a tighter job of economy," says Hard.

(Figures are approximate. The overall operating expenses of this big union run less than $200,000, including salaries and traveling expenses.)

So much for material benefits. It is in its democratic workings that ITU stands out. Essentially, every local stands on its own feet. The books are audited every quarter either by an auditing committee of members or by a public accountant. Every penny must be accounted for. All accounts are published in the Typographical Journal. The annual convention cannot by itself amend its constitution or levy a new tax upon the members. Both matters must be decided by a vote of the whole membership. National officers are elected by referendum to the whole membership. Instead of being picked by a little handful of big shots as in some unions. A few years ago the AFL, with which the ITU was affiliated, sought to impose a tax of one cent per member upon the ITU. The ITU hit the ceiling—not even their own convention could do that to them without the consent of the locals by referendum determined. Upshot was that ITU and AFL parted company then and there.

The ITU exercises extraordinary care in admitting new members. At the age of 16 a boy may start on the long road of apprenticeship. He learns the trade from the ground up; he pursues a course of reading and study that is tough. At the end of six years, if he passes an examination, he can be admitted to membership.

Hard concludes: "If you visit a union composing room, you may see the counterparts, in a hall of work, gathered into a quick huddle. They are holding a meeting of their 'chapel'—a subdivision of their local. They are rapidly settling, among themselves, some point of shop technique or shop discipline.

"These little cells represent daily, hourly practices in democratic living. They represent participation in economic government. They represent economic government by consent. They train men to detest autocracy and to desire democracy in all things. "Freedom needs such men. Free democratic business must learn that in order to survive against the totalitarian state it has to have such men. The final merit of the Typographical Union is that its institutions are organized to produce such men."

And, in mentioning the training an apprentice gets in good citizenship. Hard remarks that he is taught that "every local should regard itself as a partner with the employer in the production process; that every preacher of class war, every Communist, every Fascist, every Nazi, is an enemy of the union and should be eliminated from the whole American labor movement."

The Farm Labor Problem Appears On The Mend

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—This may be the kind of speculation agriculture and labor officials won't like, since they are in the midst of a vast recruiting program for a land army to work the farms, but if things keep on at the present rate farm labor is going to be one of the least of our war problems.

I don't mean that some sections won't be hard hit when harvest comes, because farm labor is primarily a sectional and seasonal matter that can only be taken care of by a surplus of labor on hand or itinerant laborers who move with the crops.

But there is every indication that the bottom of the scarcity of farm labor has been reached and that the swing-back is moving rapidly now.

Under Selective Service orders, deferment of farm labor is now being recognized as a necessity. Drafting of essential farm laborers has virtually ceased.

Secondly, farm workers who flocked to industry to get some of those seemingly fabulous wages have discovered the truth of it. At old wages about all is not gold, etc. High rents, poor but costly food, and in many instances appalling living conditions have resulted in a back-to-the-farm movement that has caused numerous squawks from war industry management. To what extent this is taking place can't be determined positively yet, but some observers here think it is nationwide and likely to grow in volume.

A third point is that labor and agriculture officials now talk in terms of a land army of 3,500,000. Some of these will get jobs plentifully when the seasonal farm work reaches its peak, but it's a pretty safe guess that some will never do more than a few days or at most a few weeks of work. At the moment, the Women's Land Army is aiming at a "standing army" of only 10,000 full-time farm workers and a reserve of 50,000 additional part-time workers and officials are going about it in the intelligent manner of building corps where they are most likely to be needed.

A part of this land army will be about 500,000 high school youths who will work the summer. Many farmers turn a cold eye on this land army idea, since most of the workers will be inexperienced and unused to the hardships of farm life. But when they are driven to desperation by labor

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— More Than A Stand-In

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—The film biography of George Gerahwla will feature many of the late composer's real-life friends, including Paul Whiteman and Oscar Levant, who will play themselves. Jesse L. Lasky, the producer, is convinced a "new face" is in order for the lead. . . .

The set of "Without Notice" had a notable visitor the other day—one Cary Grant. Grant came over to wish Bill Carter good luck in his first film. Eighteen years ago, when Cary was a still-walker named Archie Leach, Bill was a kid who hung around to run errands for his idol. Archie, now Cary, brought six-foot Bill an ice cream cone—by way of reminiscence on the old days.

Nigel Bruce's worthy collection of pipes is about to be dispersed. He gave away several recently to service men he was entertaining at his home. Nigel used to smoke 25 pipefuls a day, but has been taken off tobacco entirely by his doctor. He's taking it hard. . . .

Standing in for 17-year-old Donald O'Connor on "Angela" is Fred Browne, seasoned trouper of the same vaudeville world that produced the new jitterbug-and-jive star. It's no ordinary star-and-stand-in team.

Browne knew and worked with Donald's parents before Donald was born. After the boy's father died, Browne unofficially "adopted" Donald, taught him all the tricks he knew about show business, and performed other invaluable services such as getting him acquainted with Coney Island and the New York Yankees, persuading his mother to yield to his clamor for long trousers, and presenting him with his first man's watch. His job as stand-in? It's so he can keep on being near Donald and serving as second father. Browne is married to an actress, Barbara Ruth, and they live two blocks from the home Donald has bought for his mother.

They Call It Pacific

by CLARK LEE
Chapter 12
While we were eating, our local correspondent came in. He knew a little more about what was going on, but not much. He told us the almost unbelievable story of Major Emil Speth, ex-U. S. Army, who had obtained release from an internment camp for A. M. Nagatomi, Japanese businessman, and had gone out with Nagatomi to meet the chairman of the Japanese chamber of commerce in Baguio to meet them. We shall arrange for the Americans here to continue to live in their homes.

There was no use reminding him how the Japanese Army had conducted itself toward the conquered Chinese, nor that Japan was purposely attempting to humiliate the white man in the eyes of the Oriental people.

The correspondent, an American who had come to the Philippines many years previously, invited us to ride with him a few miles down the Naguian road, the northernmost of the two roads from Baguio down to the Lingayen Gulf shore. "They have just set fire to Jan Marzaman's oil storage tanks," he said, "to keep the Japs and it is quite a sight."

Juan refused to go, but Carlos and I rode on down, past numerous sentries who challenged us in the blackness. We saw the fires from a couple of miles away.

The road curved sharply down the mountain, and as we rounded a corner we pulled up short to keep from hitting a truck parked in the middle of the road. By the light of the fires we could see a long line of trucks and buses stretching around the bend past the burning tanks and then out of sight down the hill. Filipino soldiers were standing quietly by the roadside, or sitting impassively in their trucks and buses.

We located two American officers. They were both young and one was tall and dark and the other medium-sized and blond, with his trousers torn off at the knees and one shirt sleeve gone. We put our feet on the retaining wall and leaned our elbows on our knees and looked at the fires. Finally, the officers started talking.

"MacArthur has sure got us stewed, stewed, and tattooed with these green troops," said the tall one.

"Those airplanes have really got us switched, twitched, and bewitched," said the other.

"What happened?"

"They told the story, each supplementing the other.

"We were sent up here a while ago and stationed on the beach at the junction of this road and the one to Vigan, to the north up the gulf. This regiment was formed three days ago, and most of the troops hadn't been in uniform for more than a couple of weeks.

"We dug in on the beach as well as possible, and got our guns set up. We had a few old fifty-fives and a couple of seventy-fives and some fifty-caliber machine guns. We sat down to wait.

"Last night we saw lights on ships a long way off shore and this morning the gulf was thick with ships. They were anchored in a straight line about half a mile offshore, directly in front of us at Bauang and all the way down to Da Moris.

"About seven-thirty, when it was fully light, the Japs started coming ashore in landing boats. Meantime, as soon as we could see, our guns opened on them and we sank one or two of their ships. They were small, about three thousand tons.

"These green troops had never heard shooting before, and when

Capital Comment-- New Honorary Degree For Hatton Sumners

By GEORGE STIMPSON
Herald Washington Correspondent
If Wendell Willkie has said he will not accept the republican nomination for president in '44 I don't recall the circumstances.

Another thing: Gov. Tom Dewey of New York, who has a Texas-born wife, too loyal to the republican party to be a presidential draft evader.

Cousin Nat Patton, of Crockett, says when he was a kid in East Texas the boys had no "swimming hole, only a "wash" hole, in the creek.

The reason you never hear of any really big conventions, like presidential nominating conventions, in Washington, is that the city has no hall big enough for such affairs.

Reports from Potdam says Nazi scientists have discovered that North American and European continents are drifting apart at the rate of 12 inches a year; I doubt whether this is fast enough to get them out of their present scapa.

Kentucky's Senator 'Happy' Chandler, who wants Uncle Sam to smack the Japs quicker and harder, strikes me as being in personal appearance a man prematurely young.

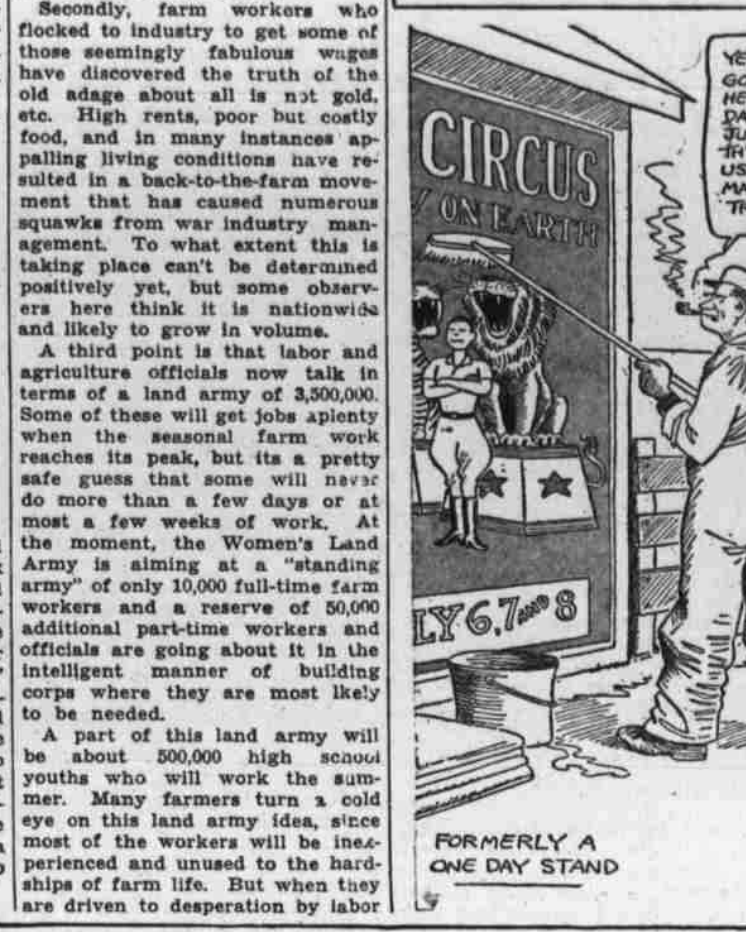

Judge Hatton Sumners, of Dallas, has gone and got himself another honorary degree. This time it's a Doctor of Laws from Columbia University, which specializes in turning out brain-trusters. But Hatton was in good company up there in New York. Others who got honorary degrees the same time were Dr. Henry Emerson Ford, a great preacher; Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada, and Julia Marlowe Sothorn, whom I had not heard of for years. She used to be my favorite actress.

Another one in the crowd of honorary degree collectors was Sir William Beveridge, who drafted the famous British post-war security plan. Sir William said in Britain the contact between the government and the universities is closer than in the U. S. Our Hatton, right there in the Hon's den of social planners, took exception to this statement. He said the federal government is "filled with young fellows out of the universities who have been fed indigestible theories until they have intellectual indigestion, and here we are. We have a choice in America of decentralizing our government or being ruled by a gigantic federal bureaucracy. We are going to have to make that choice, because the concentration of powers in Washington, is too great for any one to manage."

Which goes to show that putting a fancy college cap and gown on our Hatton doesn't change his mind one jot or tittle. Hatton knows these honorary degrees don't make a fellow any smarter than he was before and that they're nothing more than recognition, that a man has something on the ball. All the degrees in the world wouldn't affect the natural ability, rich experience, and plain horse sense of Hatton Sumners. But just the same I'm proud to learn that these bigshoeducators up there in Columbia university who pick out men for such honors feel the way they do about the Judge. He seems to have learned a powerful lot of law without going to college.

When Congresswoman Clare Booth Luce spoke against the Bombardment Group Into Combat Area

DENVER, June 12. (AP)—Public relations officers at Lowry Field announced today the 389th bombardment group had completed the final phase of its tactical training and departed for an undisclosed combat area.

The group, comprised of four-engine Liberators, was activated the first and second phases of its tactical training at Biggs Field, El Paso. Officers said the group's planes were replaced by new ones shortly before it was assigned to a combat area. Commander of the outfit is Col. Jack W. Wood of Kansas City.

Food Conservation Sessions Will Start Here On Tuesday

Some of the most important demonstrations on the conservation demonstrations ever attempted in this area—telescoped into a series of comprehensive two-day sessions—will get underway Tuesday at the West Ward school.

In charge of the demonstrations will be Mildred Atkinson, assistant home demonstration agent who is assisting Rheba Merle Boyles, agent, for two months this summer. Miss Atkinson is home-making teacher at Sterling City.

For purposes of organizing instruction, she has broken down the attendance on the basis of organizations, although women who are not members of any secular or church organizations are urged to attend the same as those who are.

Although it is natural that attendance at both days of training will better equip the average woman to carry on her food conservation program this summer and fall, Miss Atkinson pointed out that each day is complete within itself and those who can attend only one day will have lost nothing.

Her schedule of instruction will be as follows: FIRST DAY 9 a. m., Introduction; Statement on general food situation; 9:20-11 a. m., dairy demonstration. Recess. 1:30-3 p. m., canning vegetables with pressure cooker (care of cooker, testing etc.), canning by water bath. Recess. 4 p. m., general statements on canning, equipment, etc.

SECOND DAY 9 a. m.-11 a. m., krauting, brining, pickling. Recess. 1:30 p. m.-3:30 p. m., canning fruit. Recess. 4 p. m.-5 p. m., methods of storing foods.

Miss Atkinson suggested that so far as it is convenient that attendance follow this schedule: June 15-16, all P. T. A. members; June 17-18, first Christian, Catholic, Church of God, Episcopal, Assembly of God, Salvation Army, Seventh Day Adventist, and Church of the Nazarene women; June 19, all Latin-American women.

June 21-22—All social, study and literary club members; June 23-24, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and Church of Christ women. June 25-26—Garden City women.

Immediate Replanting Of Cotton Urged By The WTCC

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is importuning farmers of the area to immediately re-plant cotton washed out by recent flash rains. And the federal government has been asked to give them all aid.

The WTCC late last month issued an estimate, based on information gotten from crop reporting agencies, that West Texas' 1943 cotton plantings would be 105 per cent of last year's final plantings, or about 4,000,000 acres. Today the regional chamber estimated that five per cent of this year's plantings, or 200,000 acres, has been rained or hulled out.

Germans Admit Intensity Of Air Attacks

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—In one broadcast after another today, German radio commentators stressed the intensity of the renewed Allied aerial onslaught and the imminence of invasion.

It quoted a German veteran of air attacks on Britain, broadcasting to his wife and family in another part of Germany. He said he could not get home on Whitson leave and that "soon when I shall be able to come home, I will tell you how hard and difficult the fight against the British and Americans actually is."

"It is midday and life goes on here, though the populace does not have any rest. I am looking into burned out places where the flames come up again. We tired people have to continue work x x x so much has happened here in the last few nights."

Story

our one-fifty-fives fired for the first time we looked around and saw about half of our forces heading for the hills. They just left their rifles and machine guns and took off.

"While the landing boats were still coming in the Japs hit us from the air. They came low and bombed and strafed, but didn't do very much damage. Most of their bombs went wild.

"As the Japs hit the beach the planes went away. "We opened with our fifty-calibers and started mowing the Japs down. The Japs didn't seem to know what to do when they ran into our fire. They looked like bewildered young kids. Every third one had a baby machine gun. Even though the first ones were cut down the others kept coming, like men in a hypnotic trance.

"These Japs may be first class troops, but if we'd had five thousand American soldiers or Filipino soldiers, and fifty airplanes, the gulf would be full of floating bodies tonight and we'd still be sitting there on the beach. Those Japs looked like frightened kids to me. The only trouble was, our own kids were more frightened. That and the fact we didn't have any airplanes."

I asked, "How many warships were with them? Did they cover the landing with a barrage?" "They didn't shoot hardly at all from the ships," they said. "We saw only two ships that looked like destroyers. The rest were transports."

I asked, "Didn't some of our ships get in among them and mow them up? Where were our submarines?" "We haven't seen one of our ships since the war started. And we heard that Tommy Hart has taken his submarines down to Java."

"Where were our airplanes?" "We saw one about ten days ago, but that was the last." They called over one of the Filipinos, a green youngster who had stuck and fought, and I questioned him. He said, "It is very difficult to fight airplanes with rifles, sir."

The blond lieutenant said, "Those airplanes have really got us tripped, stripped, and whipped. For God's sake, if you get a chance, tell them back home that we need airplanes." By the firelight, I made one more notation in my book.

The officers said the Japanese had kept coming ashore for hours, despite their losses, and that finally our forces had to withdraw. By that time it was afternoon and the Jap planes had returned either to their carrier or to one of the fields they had seized in northern Luzon, and had refueled and come back. Our troops dumped every thing they could carry into their trucks and drew back up the road to Baguio. Bombs dropped all around them, but they did not lose a man or a gun during the retreat.

"What are your orders now? Where are you going?" "We were just told to sit here and wait. We haven't heard anything directly from Manila since the war started. If the Japs cut that south road down the mountain from Baguio we'll probably have to take to the hills."

I asked, "Where in hell are the American troops?" They snorted and answered broadly, "Don't rightly appear to be none hereabouts, stranger."

Driving back to Baguio I was still optimistic. I thought the big battle, Americans versus Japs, was still going on at Da Morita. But the correspondent said: "If they cut the south road tonight, there are a couple of ways out by trails over the mountains. They are easy to find and the natives are friendly. At least, they have been up to now."

We went back to the Pines Hotel and studied our Standard Oil road map. It showed no roads out of Baguio except as north and south routes down the mountains to the shore, and a partially finished highway to the north. But that meant a two day drive into territory more than likely held by the Japs. Carlos and I were getting ready to turn in when Juan came running into the room. "Leeseee," he quavered. "We must go. I have been back to see Major Garcia and he tells me all the bridges will be blown up by morning. His troop convoy has departed and we can follow it down the south road and maybe get through."

I telephoned the major. He confirmed what Juan had said. We paid our bill and hurried out to the car.

With lights off we crept through the streets of Baguio and onto the main road down the mountains. Somewhere in the Philippines the moon was shining, but not in Baguio. Dark clouds were down below the tops of the mountains, and it was impossible to see more than a few feet ahead.

It was raining slightly. That was the only rain I saw in the Philippines from the first day of war until I finally left the islands. We prayed for it many times, but our prayers were never answered. (Copyright 1943 by Clark Lee); The Viking Press)
