

THE McLEAN NEWS

The Oldest Newspaper in Gray County — — — The Paper That's Read First

Vol. 38.

McLean, Gray County, Texas, Thursday, June 5, 1941.

No. 23.

E. S. INSTALLATION HELD MONDAY EVENING

Public installation of officers for the year 1941-42 of the McLean Chapter of Eastern Star was held at the Masonic hall Monday evening. The chapter was opened with the star march and one blow of the gavel.

Mrs. Julia Van Beker gave the welcome address, after which the officers retired and the installing officer, Mrs. Eva Rogers, took charge.

The installing chaplain led in prayer. The installing marshal, Mrs. Lou Campbell, called the new officers and a circle was formed about the altar. After the obligations were taken the marshal seated the officers, each one being installed in order.

After the installation, the worthy president, Mrs. Evelyn Stubblefield, gave the address on "Love and Service." She made a short and impressive address on Love and Service. She paid a tribute to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Cline, of Amarillo, and her husband and two small children, then presented her officers with sharp pencils with the Eastern Star emblem.

The associate matron, Miss Clara Anderson, presented a past matron's gift, the past matron, and a gift to the past patron, W. E. Bogan.

The hall was attractively decorated with red roses and spring flowers. A lace covered table, tea was served to a large number of friends.

Officers for the new year are as follows:

Evelyn Stubblefield—Worthy President

Clara Anderson—Associate President

W. E. Bogan—Associate Patron

Willie Boyett—Organist

Cora Vannoy—Secretary

Vera Powers—Treasurer

Lois Jones—Conductress

Julia Van Beker—Associate Matron

Mildred Gilbert—Marshal

Carrie Kirby—Chaplain

Mamie Newman—Adah

Vivian Bridges—Ru-h

Loree Barker—Esther

Corona Railsback—Martha

Betty Morgan—Electa

Ruth Lowry—Warder

Ruby Fortner—Sentinel

SIX KILLED NEAR SHAMROCK SUNDAY

Six people were killed and six others injured when two cars met in a head-on collision at a curve just west of Shamrock, Sunday night.

The dead are: Mrs. Melvin Wall, 25, Shamrock; Mrs. Duke Morgan, 30, Shamrock; Lewis Prestidge, 25, Shamrock; John Klaverweiden, 42, Dalhart; Richard Colin, Kansas City, Mo.; and Mrs. Minnie Stout, Bell, Calif.

Injured are: O. B. Graham, Oklahoma City; Henry Finar, Burbank, Calif.; Mrs. M. M. Van Noate, Bell, Calif.; Newton Cranby, St. Joseph, Mo.; Duke Morgan, Shamrock; "Tank" Swafford, Dalhart.

Klaverweiden was driving the car in which Swafford and the Shamrock people were riding, and Graham was driving the other car. The rain made visibility difficult, and the cars met head-on at about 11:30 p. m.

Erwin Great Northern Life Insurance Agent

Arthur Erwin has been appointed agent for the Great Northern Life Insurance Co., featuring old line life and accident insurance.

Mr. Erwin says the company has a policy that pays $1,000 for loss of life, limbs or sight in an automobile accident, with many other benefits, for a premium of only $5.00 per year. See advertisement in this issue.

BAPTISTS MEET AT LELA

The Workers' Conference of the North Fork Baptist Association will be held next Thursday, June 12, at the Lela Baptist Church. The program is as follows:

10 a. m. Song service led by Miss Bullard.

10:10 Devotional — Rev. S. T. Greenwood.

10:20 Evangelism, Supreme Task of the Church—Rev. Fred Wright.

10:40 The Holy Spirit and Evangelism—Rev. C. O. Huber.

11 The New Testament Method of Evangelism—Rev. W. C. Bryant.

11:20 Special music — Rev. Taft Holloway of Sanderson.

11:25 Sermon—Rev. E. T. Miller of Corsicana.

12 Lunch.

1:30 W. M. U. and Board Meeting.

2 Song Service.

2:10 Cooperative Program report—Rev. W. R. Lawrence.

2:20 Sermon—Rev. J. Frank Weedon of Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Reep Landers attended commencement exercises at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Sunday and Monday. Their daughter, Miss Frances, was a member of the class.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Johnston have returned from a visit to Plano. They were accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Shirley, who has been in school at Denton.

Miss Virginia Jones of Kopperl and Miss Virginia Davis of Childress are visiting in the home of the former's aunt and the latter's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Davis.

Mrs. Mae Collins, Mrs. J. R. Polson and daughter of Savoy are visiting their brother and uncle, J. O. Clark.

Mrs. Bryan Burrows, Mrs. Paul Mertel, Mrs. R. T. Dickinson and Mrs. Vern Pendergrass were in Amarillo Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman White, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Upham of Pampa visited in the W. B. Upham home Sunday.

Mrs. Jesse Coleman of Childress visited her grandmother, Mrs. Geo. W. Sitter, over the week end.

Mrs. J. R. Phillips and daughter and Mrs. Milton Carpenter were in Pampa Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. E. J. Windom and two children; Mrs. Leo Gibson and son, Robert, were in Pampa Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dyer, Jr., and baby of Orange visited here last week.

WITH THE CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

C. O. Huber, Pastor

9:45 a. m. Sunday school, Reep Landers, superintendent.

11 a. m. Morning worship, "A Two-Fold Command."

7 p. m. Training Union, Osa Kunkel, director.

8 p. m. Evening worship, "What Is Man?"

In extending each reader and others an invitation to worship with us Sunday, the church would say, "Worship God today the Baptist way." A fine spirit of fellowship always prevails and we report four additions through the services of last week.

The young people's hamburger fry of last Monday evening was attended by 57 who gave testimony of a very enjoyable gathering at Lake McClellan. Some gave their attentions to hamburger frying while others were given to recreation over the park area. Appreciation is expressed to those who made transportation possible and helped with other preparation. We promise our young people other like occasions and programs of entertainment where all may enjoy the same things at the same time and in the same way. We are planning a good organization among this group and invite them most heartily to all our services.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

John W. Myrose, Minister

Sunday school 10 a. m., Alton Howard, supt. At the Sunday school hour there will be a special Children's Day program.

Morning worship at 11. Sermon, "Children and the Kingdom."

Junior and senior societies meet at 7:15.

Evening worship at 8. The Daily Vacation Bible School will have change of this service, presenting a program of work done during the last two weeks. There will also be a display of handwork.

The ladies meet at the church Tuesday at 2:30 p. m.

All members and friends of the church are invited to meet at the church Friday at 6 p. m. for a picnic. Bring your supper and the place will be announced when the crowd gathers. The members of the Senior Society will sell cold drinks to help pay the way of one of the members to the senior young people's conference, July 18-25.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

R. L. Franks, Pastor

We invite you to attend the revival which is now in progress at our church. Rev. Roy H. Stewart, evangelist, is one of the foremost young preachers in Texas and New Mexico. He served two years as president of the Christ's Ambassadors of West Texas and New Mexico, young people's organization of our church. He has had a successful ministry as both pastor and evangelist, and is now serving as sectional and general presbyter of New Mexico Assemblies of God. He is a dynamic speaker, and we believe we are fortunate to secure him for this two weeks' revival. Come hear him each evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Good singing and music are features of each service. A short musical will precede each service. Come early and enjoy the music.

PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS CHURCH

W. R. Maxwell, Pastor

Sunday school 9:45 a. m.

Preaching 11 a. m.

P. Y. P. S. 7:15 p. m.

Evangelistic service 8:15 p. m.

Prayer meeting Wednesday night.

Preaching Saturday night.

Rev. Henry Maxwell spoke at the morning hour last Sunday. Rev. A. T. Kersey of Bovina spoke in the evening. Others attending the evening services were Rev. Raymond Harris of Borger and Mr. McNew of Turpin, Okla. They were enroute to the general conference meeting at Franklin Springs, Ga.

METHODIST W. S. C. S.

The Methodist W. S. C. S. met Tuesday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. C. O. Greene brought the devotional from Psalm 67 and Matt. 5. Mrs. Roger Powers offered prayer and Mrs. Creed Bogan led the lesson study on the subject of Investing

Homemaking Class in Summer Sessions

Twenty McLean high school girls are now enrolled for summer homemaking under direction of the local teacher, Miss Idell Gadberry. Group meetings are held each week in the following places: Kellerville, Liberty, Skillet and McLean.

The girls in these groups are to work on projects that will be of benefit to them and to the school. Besides working on their group projects, each girl is to have an individual project such as caring for children, cooking for the family, canning, sewing for the family, raising a garden or chickens, improving the yard, or improving the home.

The purpose of this summer homemaking course is to give the girls an opportunity for applying those principles and improving the skills which they have learned in their regular homemaking courses. Those students who satisfactorily complete their projects will be given ½ credit for their work.

Summer homemaking is not all work. The girls are eagerly looking forward to the socials, picnics and parties which they are to have within the next few weeks.

Booster Trips to Advertise Rodeo

Booster trips will be made Thursday and Friday afternoons of next week to advertise the rodeo and celebration to be held here June 25, 26.

It is expected that merchants and others will dress in Western regalia and accompany the trippers to all nearby towns, inviting their citizens to attend the program here.

MABERRY-GRAHAM

Miss Juanita Maberry and Mr. married Monday evening at Wheeler, by the Baptist minister. They were accompanied by Mrs. Luke Graham, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Amerson.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mrs. Maberry of Estelline, was dressed in blue silk crepe. She is employed at the Meador Cafe in McLean.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Graham of McLean and is employed at Elsie's Cafe.

BAPTIST JUNIORS PICNIC

Members of the junior training Union of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a picnic at the city park Monday evening under the sponsorship of Mrs. P. E. Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dyer and son, Kenneth, and father, W. M. Smith, went to Orange Saturday to visit relatives. They were accompanied by Miss Hazel Dyer of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy A. Landers, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers made a trip to Colorado scenic points last week end, visiting relatives at Ft. Lupton and Longmont, enroute.

The News editor acknowledges with thanks season pass to the Amarillo Gold Sox baseball games.

F. M. Shawver was in Dallas last week on business.

Our Heritage in Health of the World.

Mrs. Ercy Cubine gave the work of Korea, Philippines, and Mexico, and Mrs. A. B. Christian led the closing prayer.

Others present were Mesdames C. M. Carpenter, Leroy M. Brown, Callie Haynes, Dwight Stubblefield, J. M. Nool, J. E. Kirby, J. B. Pettit, J. A. Sparks and C. A. Cryer.

Starting next Tuesday, the meetings will begin at 4 p. m.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

The Baptist W. M. S. met Tuesday afternoon for Bible study. Mrs. Huber taught the 25th and 26th chapters of 1 Samuel.

A short business session was held. The following ladies attended: Mesdames D. E. Johnson, Geo. Colebank, Leo Gibson, H. W. Grigsby, F. E. Stewart, C. P. Callahan, T. N. Holloway, Ruel Smith, C. O. Huber, Bob Thomas, Homer Abbott, Murray Boston, Beasley, Elms, Williams, Keith H. M. Kunkel and Osa Kunkel.

LIONS ELECT NEW ANNUAL OFFICERS

The following officers were elected by the McLean Lions Club in regular meeting Tuesday:

President, Guy Hibler; first vice president, Emory Crockett; second vice president, Joe Hindman; third vice president, Tom Boyd; secretary-treasurer, W. C. Shull; Lion tamer, C. B. Batson; tail twister, Creed Bogan; directors, Winfred Massay and W. W. Boyd.

Feb Everett and T. A. Landers are hold-over directors.

L. Roy A. Landers of Washington, J. C. and Charles Cousins were presented as visitors.

It was voted to dispense with next week's luncheon in order to attend the convention at Amarillo 100% strong.

Class Entertained at Pastor's Home

A very hospitable gathering of young married people, representing members and friends of the young married people's class of the First Baptist Church Sunday school, were entertained in the pastor's home last Friday evening.

Following a season of domino playing, home made ice cream and cake were served to twenty-six attendants.

Those attending were Mesdames Norman Johnston, Perry Roby, O. L. Kunkel, Murray Boston, Homer Abbott, Boyd Reeves, Frank Reeves, Cecil Callahan, C. O. Huber, Ernest Brown, R. T. Dickinson, Vernon Johnston, Paul Meriel, Vern Pendergrass, F. E. Stewart and I. W. Huber.

Messrs. Norman Johnston, Perry Roby, O. L. Kunkel, Murray Boston, Homer Abbott, Boyd Reeves, Frank Reeves, C. O. Huber and Ernest Brown.

TRIMBLE GROCERY MOVES

The Trimble Grocery and Market has moved across the street from the old location, where they have more room and are better able to take care of the trade.

Mr. Trimble says that everyone is invited to visit the store at the new location, and offers some special bargains for Friday and Saturday in the advertising columns of this paper.

Mrs. Mattie Graham returned last Thursday from a visit with her daughter at Farney.

She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Graham. As they started home, young Graham was seized by an attack of appendicitis and was taken to a Dallas hospital for an operation.

Mrs. Raymon Egleson and children, Patsy Rae and Leon, of Santa Fe, N. M., spent several days last week in the home of the lady's sister, Mrs. Bryan Burrows, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hudson and small daughter, Charlotte Jean, of Dumas visited Saturday in the home of the lady's mother, Mrs. A. J. Worley.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Jordan, Mrs. W. H. Floyd and daughters went to New Kirk, Okla., Sunday to visit the former's daughter, Mrs. W. R. Hutchison, and family.

Witt Springer went to Dallas Saturday to attend graduation exercises of the nursing school class in which his daughter, Miss Frances, was enrolled.

D. A. Davis was elected McLean director of the West Texas chamber of commerce at the annual convention at Mineral Wells last week.

Mrs. Jack Gray and children of Dumas visited the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Johnston, over the week end.

J. A. Sparks, Boyd Meador, S. A. Cousins and George Terry were in Shamrock Monday night to attend a fireman's lecture.

Mrs. Elmer Decker and son of Skellytown visited relatives here the first of the week.

Mrs. Paul Mertel and Mrs. Vern Pendergrass were in Pampa Monday.

RODEO CELEBRATION PROGRAM OUTLINED

Everything is in readiness for the big rodeo and jubilee celebration to be held in McLean June 25 and 26. A complete program has been arranged which will be followed, barring a few minor changes that may be made necessary as the celebration develops.

The opening day will begin with registration of pioneers followed by a monster street parade, after which Mayor Boyd Meador will make the welcome address over the public address system. At 11:15 there will be music and chats with the pioneers over the system.

After lunch the rodeo will begin at Tiger Field, followed by an old fiddlers' and square dance contest on an improvised platform on Main street. Prizes will be awarded in the fiddler and dance contests.

After supper, the rodeo will give another performance, including a square dance on horses, followed by an old time dance at the ward school gymnasium, lasting until 2 a. m. Thursday.

Thursday morning tournament and potato races will be held on the field south of the railroad tracks, followed by special entertainment. After noon, a best cowgirl barrel contest will be staged. First prize in this event will be a $75 saddle, and second a $25 pair of boots. This contest is limited to girls in the McLean trade territory.

The afternoon rodeo will perform and an old time dance will begin at the gymnasium at 9:30 and last until 2 o'clock Friday morning.

Revival Meeting at Assembly of God

A revival is now in progress at the Assembly of God Church at the corner of Main and Fourth Streets.

Rev. Roy H. Stewart of Clovis, N. M., is doing the preaching, with services each evening at 8:15. A short musical program precedes each service, and the pastor, Rev. R. L. Franks, extends an invitation to all to attend.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSURES

The Daily Vacation Bible School of the First Presbyterian Church will present a closing program at the church Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

Families and friends of the pupils are invited, as well as the church members and their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Meador, Mrs. J. A. Sparks and C. A. Cryer went to Matador Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. P. B. Barton.

Mrs. Barton was the mother of Mrs. Erna Springer, formerly of McLean.

Misses Beatrice Garmon, Eula Fay Foster, Mary Alice Patterson, Lucille Scott and Mary Alice Wilson, all of McLean, were members of the June graduating class at West Texas State College at Canyon, June 2.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Windom of Spearman visited their son, E. J. Windom, and family over the week end. Little Miss Marsalee Windom, who has been visiting them, returned to her home here.

Mrs. I. W. Huber of Canyon has moved to McLean to make her home with her son, Rev. C. O. Huber, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cash were in Pampa Thursday night at the bedside of C. C. Cash.

Misses Rosalie and Mattie Mullin of Oklahoma City visited their mother, Mrs. W. F. Mullin, over the week end.

Mrs. J. W. Story and daughters, Misses Nona and Jewell Cousins and Mrs. Ernest Beck, were in Amarillo Tuesday.

Mrs. Callie Haynes and Mrs. T. H. Andrews visited their daughters, Mrs. Bob Barnette and Mrs. Neal Humble, at Altus, Okla., Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith and children of near Clarendon visited here over the week end.

SMITH'S NEPHEW DROWNS

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, N. M., for Lyman Gilliland, who was drowned in the flood.

Deceased was a nephew of Walter Smith and Mrs. Ted McLean. Attending the funeral from McLean were: Mrs. Woodson, Mr. and Mrs. Woods, Ruel and Bert Smith, Edith, J. T. Hicks and Vester Smith.

Mrs. C. A. Watkins, Mr. E. L. Sitter and daughter, were in Columbia, Mo., to attend graduation exercises at Stevens College, Miss Dorothy being a member of the class.

John Williams of Clayton, and J. L. McKinney of Dumas and Callie Haynes and other were here this week.

Mrs. H. C. Rippy took their baby to Amarillo last week for a tonsillectomy. She returned home Monday with the baby in good health.

Mayor made a trip to Pampa Saturday.

BIRTHDAYS

C. C. Bogan, Jr., Paul Simmons.

Johanna Mae Boyd, Mrs. Clifford, Kid McCoy, Scott Clyde Carpenter, Marian

C. M. Jones, Cliff Callahan, Mrs. Homer Abbott.

Jack Carpenter, Joe Bill

E. J. Windom, Jr., Mrs. Wanda Estes.

Marje Ruth Fowler, Mrs. May Watson, June

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Sinking of Battleship Hood Indicates Failure of British to 'Bottle' Nazi Navy; Germany's Aerial Invasion of Crete Called 'Test-Tube' for Raid on England

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

PACE UP: War Swift

As the United States began to swing into the serious business of getting first-class aid to Britain under the lease-lend bill, though with continued and serious heckling from anti-administration quarters, the Germans suddenly stepped the war up to a furious pace not heretofore dreamed of.

The full-scale aerial invasion of Crete, plainly hailed by the Nazis as a "test-tube" attack for the ultimate invasion of Britain, was the first move, and this was accompanied by news from the ocean lanes that showed the German fleet, instead of being bottled up, was boldly sailing forth not merely into the North Sea, but far out into the Atlantic and near the American zone of protection—Greenland.

The dramatic sinking of H. M. S. Hood came with such unexpected suddenness that it left the world al-

... Greece, Yugoslavia had been disasters, so had Dunquerque, the North African campaign, the Iraq battle; the whole war, up to this point, had been a series of disasters, and the British reports on the invasion of Crete seemed to be setting up the public for an eventual addition to the series.

The battle of Crete was still the most exciting news event of the whole war because of the peculiarity of the conditions, paralleling, in a way, the expected invasion attempt against Britain.

The British were admittedly in good force, with Greek assistance, on the island, and while they had not had much time to prepare its defense, having only lately fled there from Peloponnesus, still the Germans had not had any more time to prepare their offense than the British.

The campaign resolved itself broadly into two phases—the airborne and the sea-borne. In each

Civilian Defense

When President Roosevelt created the Office of Civilian Defense to co-ordinate civilian defense activities he appointed Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York to head the new set-up. LaGuardia has announced his agency will be organized in three divisions: (1) Public safety—to protect life and property; (2) engineering—for clearance of highways and maintenance of gas and water supplies; and (3) shelter and food supplies.

STRIKES:

Coal, Planes

While labor troubles appeared less frequent as the defense mediation board went into action more and more strongly, those which were vexing the defense chiefs were more vital and hit more directly against defense production.

Gone from the scene were jurisdictional disputes, and the Ford company, grim in the face of a C. I. O. victory at the NLRB polls, said it would "obey the law."

But the coal strike, with only 15 days' coal supply left above ground and the threatened strike against North American Aviation, not to mention the shipyard strike on the West coast, were the sort of thing that were giving mediators headaches.

Opponents of the C. I. O. called Lewis "dictator," while Lewis called the coal mine operators in the South some hard names. The plane workers were asking increases of minimums from 50 to 75 cents an hour, which observers said, if granted, might cause similar fights all over the industry, hitting at the very heart of the defense idea.

Planes were coming off the assembly lines slowly enough, and were carrying with them bottlenecks which were serious enough without labor difficulties to complicate things.

Knudsen, OPM chief, and Hillman, his aide, at the close of the first year of America's "all-out" defense effort, told the 1,625 new industrial facilities started, of $2,480,000,000 in new plants, of contracts of 15 billions, 200 millions of dollars, yet of growing dissatisfaction on the part of Messrs. Knudsen and Hillman with the progress made.

Said Knudsen: "We need the help of every manufacturer, engineer and factory worker."

That was the gist of his message, and carried with it the connotation that whenever a strike occurred—some one of these three was "falling down on the job."

DIES: Tries Again

The Dies committee, having failed to rouse a ripple of newspaper enthusiasm over his projected revealing of Communist infiltration into governmental circles, hit the front pages with a bang when it made public three documents purporting to reveal the secret rules of the Nazi Bund in this country.

Dies said that they were seized from the effects of Bund Fuehrer Kunze, now in prison. He said that they:

"Attest to the ruthless efficiency of the military setup which characterizes Hitler's machine in Germany; anticipate violence, and express fealty to the totalitarian form of government."

Having thus placed the stamp of subversiveness on the Bund, and also the stigma of "fifth columnists," the committee report said the Bund had 25,000 active members and 100,000 sympathizers outside its membership rolls.

Dies said the documents reveal a planned countrywide organization, with Fuehrer, Gauleiters (district leaders) down even to "block leaders" according to an exact imitation of the Nazi set-up.

A party message, according to the Bund organization, could theoretically be spread over the entire nation within five hours.

SHOTS: At a King

Pistol shots rang out in Albania, directed against King Victor Emmanuel of Italy.

The shots, according to the Italian communique, went wild. The assassin was arrested. He proved, it was said, to be a Greek "his head filled with poetic dreams" of revenge for his country's defeat.

Police, the reports stated, saved the assassin from a lynching mob, in order to question him as to his associates.

Hand-Crocheted Hat, Bag Sets, To Be Popular This Summer

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

NOW that dame fashion has given a high rating to hand-crocheted garments, it behooves every style-minded woman to stop, look and listen to what is being said and done in regard to this very smart trend. Via a simple crochet hook, a spool or so of crochet cotton, or perhaps a skein or so of washable cotton yarn, lovely-to-look-at styles may be made.

You could search everywhere and it would be difficult to find anything more fetching in hat and bag sets than the masterpieces in crochet artistry such as here pictured. Even if you have never crocheted before, with a little application and a willingness to "live and learn," you can crochet for yourself a whole collection of accessory items every bit as pretty and wearable as those here shown. A fascinating pastime you will find it, too, for the work is easy and the cost of crochet cottons low.

Doesn't the very sight of the cunning fashions illustrated make your fingers fairly tingle to crochet and crochet until you have acquired a number of accessories to wear with your summer outfits?

Have you ever tried crocheting with heavy cotton rug yarn, bolifast and washable. The work just speeds along. In no time you can finish a new hat and bag. The attractive high-crowned turban-and-bag twosome shown to the left in the picture is crocheted of heavy white cotton rug yarn. It also comes in colors. You will be surprised and delighted at how quickly this set can be made. There's nothing intricate or tedious about it!

For the star-trimmed crochet pill-box and matching round bag to the right, use mercerized cotton thread. The star detail is somewhat military in effect, as so many fashions are this summer. Mercerized cotton thread was used also for the beret in the inset below. Note the colorful crochet emblem which adorns the front of the crown.

Describing other attractive crochet themes, a prim little Gibson sailor is worth noting. It is crocheted of mercerized cotton in a firm, even, single stitch and is so manipulated it keeps in perfect shape. A cluster of crochet berries in self color is its only trim. Be assured this sailor is very good looking.

As clever a headpiece as any modern school girl would want is the "pigtail calot." It is really very similar to the popular schoolgirl "beanie" and is worn on the back of the head in exactly the same manner. The novel and amusing part is a long braid of yarn that starts from the crown center of the calot and dangles to the waist in back, just like a Chinaman's pigtail. To add more interest, the braided yarn is tied with a hair ribbon in school-girl fashion.

If it is a lace-trimmed hat you want, it may be crocheted in a lacy open-work stitch and when finished, starched very stiff.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

New Sports Fabric

This very good-looking frock is made of a new and unusual sports fabric, which, because of its outstanding attractiveness plus its dependable wearability, may be regarded as a real "find" for women who seek reliable materials. It is a rough crepe, one of a number of new creative fabrics done in Celanese rayon and silk. Woven with a special twist in the yarn, a pleasing unevenness is produced—best described as a splash effect. This charming frock will be well liked both because of the ripple-surfaced crepe that fashions it and because of the promise it carries of satisfactory wearableness. Note how smartly it is styled, with the new accented hipline.

Open-Throat Necklines

Low-cut necklines are increasing in popularity. In blouses it is the open-throat turn-back collar type that leads. Dresses have very low V-shape lines. Whether necklines are square, round or heartshape, they are low cut this summer.

New Cottons Make

Fashion Headlines

Cottons are not news, but the cotton materials manufactured today are not only news, but front page news!

One of the highspots on the summer program of cottons is the suit of crinkly seersucker. At the races fashion-wise women are wearing these suits. The perfected tailoring of these suits gives them a thoroughbred air that is recognized at a glance.

Chambray is also gaining in popularity. Emphasis on striped chambray leads to such intriguing styling as the dress of monotone chambray that is detailed with stripes. Matching hat and bag complete the costume.

A word about the new colorful denims and gabardines. The latest message is bright yellow denim for play clothes. And flowered chintz is seen in both formal and informal dresses.

In the evening cottons go forth in party frocks of gingham and flowered prints, and in peasant skirts with blouse or middy tops. This season's cotton sheers never were prettier.

Cotton Fabric-Type Lace

Enters Fashion Picture

Lace is "all set" for a tremendous vogue this summer. Special emphasis is on a new all-over—patterned cotton lace that is so fabriclike that it is practical for dresses, redingotes and all types of summertime ensembles, including the suit tailored of starched cotton lace, either in white or colors.

Week-End Matchmates

Practically a complete wardrobe within itself is the five-piece matchmate cottons now selling throughout stores the country over. Very practical and very attractive are these ensembles made up of five pieces—pajamas or slacks, shorts, bra-top, butcher-boy smock and knee-deep coat.

PATTERNS

FRANKLY, the purpose of this frock is to make you look sweet and pretty! A high point of charm is the open-sleeved effect, accentuated by flattering frills. The portrait neckline is wickedly becoming. This fashion makes up very charmingly in silk print, taffeta, and afternoon cottons. Easy to do.

Pattern No. 8929 is designed in even sizes 12 to 20. Size 14, 4 3/4 yards 35-inch material; 3 3/4 yards ready-made ruffing. For this attractive pattern, send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT. Room 1324 211 W. Wacker Dr. Chicago Enclose 15 cents in coins for Pattern No. 8929. Name Address

MOROLINE 5

Knowledge Elevates Knowledge is, indeed, that which, next to virtue, truly and essentially raises one man above another.—Addison.

Black Leaf 40

KILLS APHIS One ounce of Black Leaf 40 makes six gallons of effective aphid spray. Use Black Leaf 40 on aphids, leafhoppers, leaf miners, young sucking bugs, etc. ever found on trees, shrubs, garden crops. TRADE MARK BY PRODUCTS & CHEMICAL CORPORATION, Incorporated at Louisville, Ky.

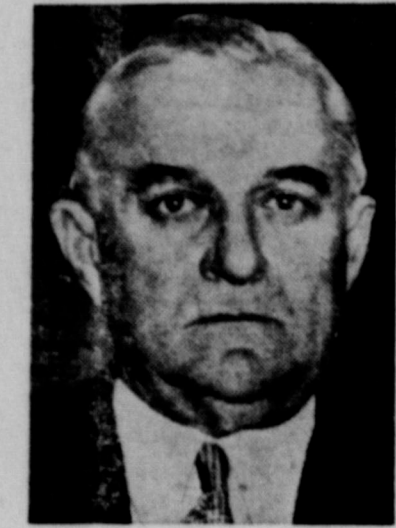

Words a Drug Words are, of course, the most powerful drug used by mankind.—Kipling.

Nervous Restless Girls!

Cranky? Restless? Can't sleep? Tired easily? Because of distress of monthly functional disturbances? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Pinkham's Compound is famous for relieving pain of irregular periods and cranky nervousness due to such disturbances. One of the most effective medicines you can buy for this purpose—made especially for women. WORTH TRYING!

BEACONS OF SAFETY

Like a beacon light on the height—the advertisements in newspapers direct you to newer, better and easier ways of providing the things needed or desired. It shines, this beacon of newspaper advertising—and it will be to your advantage to follow it whenever you make a purchase.

SEN. JOSEPH GUFFEY

In the Hood's sinking he saw that it demonstrated immediate "necessity of . . . utmost aid to Britain."

most breathless—with a sense of shock entirely out of measure with the size of the catastrophe to Britain's cause, the mere sinking of one battle cruiser, albeit the largest in the world.

It was in the Battle of Jutland that Admiral Horace Hood, namesake of the 42,000-ton battle cruiser, lost his life on the Invincible, a vessel of the same relative class as the Hood, and destroyed in, oddly enough, exactly the same manner.

The story was dramatic enough, the tale of a sea fight between two naval squadrons on the broad Atlantic, both far from their bases. The Hood was the victim of an "unlucky hit" as the British reports said, a 15-inch shell from the German battleship Bismarck striking a magazine, which caused the main magazine to let go, blowing the ship up and sinking her in a matter of seconds.

Most of the crew of 1,304 were drowned, presumably the captain and admiral, as the Hood was flagship and bore the admiral's colors.

But back of it all questions were asked and only some of them had the answers forthcoming from British sources.

One of these was the query of why the battle had taken place so far out on the Atlantic. The British answered this by saying that their squadron had deliberately let the German ships get far away from their base in order to intercept them where they could not avoid battle.

Another question was where the German vessels were headed for, being intercepted between Greenland and Iceland, and nearer to Greenland. This was of especial interest to American naval men because of the fact that the United States had lately pledged itself to the protection of Greenland. There was no immediate answer.

Naval men in this country immediately, however, were quoted as saying that the loss of the Hood showed that it was improper to sacrifice strength of armor-plate to speed, the Hood carrying 12-inch armor where most vessels took 14-inch, in order to achieve a 32-knot speed.

American vessels were not so constructed, U. S. admirals reported, especially those now being planned.

But boiled down the news bore a disastrous note, a power note on the part of the German assault both in the battle of the Atlantic and that of the Mediterranean which gave American backers of aid-to-Britain a general moody outlook on the conduct of the war.

SEN. BENNETT CLARK

In the Hood's sinking he saw truth in the statement that "convoys mean shooting and shooting means war."

there was offense and defense, and for once the British, though out-powered and out-numbered, found themselves on more even terms with the enemy.

The Germans were admittedly supreme in the air-borne fight, but once the Nazis landed they had no tanks nor artillery, and the British had both.

The British were admittedly superior on the sea-borne fight, but they had no aircraft protection, while the German-manned Greek fishing boats and small steamers had Stuka dive-bombers making direct hits on the British destroyers and cruisers.

Little could be told from the German claims, which, following their usual precedent, said that the Cretan campaign was a "complete success" with the British fleet decimated and the land forces getting the upper hand.

The only claim made by the British was that no vessels save a few "caiques" (Greek sailing boats) had reached the shore, and that a Nazi convoy carrying 6,000 troops had been sunk, and lurid tales were told of warships cutting through waters crowded with drowning men screaming for mercy, but how the ships were unable to pick them up for fear of "E-boats," Italian fast motor-craft carrying torpedoes.

The Germans claimed one British cruiser sunk by plane-bombings, and nine other vessels so injured that they were presumed to be out of action and admitted no such sea-borne losses as the British claimed.

The air-borne battle was admittedly, according to British sources, going better for the Germans than had been at first anticipated. Almost the first thing the Stukas did was to make the British-held air-dromes untenable.

The Royal Air force, instead of allowing their fighters to be downed on their landing fields, or crashed by bomb-pits when landing, withdrew en masse from the island, turning it over to the Nazi air-vessels. After a time long-range ships came back to the fight, presumably from Alexandria and the island of Cyprus, each about 450-500 miles distant, but largely the island was undefended from the air.

Big Junkers 52s brought more than a score of soldiers on each trip and landed them on the Candia and Malemi airports, whence they took their machine guns and went into battle. Later the British reported that even 75-millimeter cannons and mortars were brought in on the largest transport planes.

QUOTES . . . On National Defense

War Secretary Stimson told his press conference the Neutrality act is a "violation of our most sacred and important tradition of foreign policy, freedom of the seas. I always prophesied it would bring us into trouble." He said the act's repeal would enable U. S. ships to carry arms directly to Britain, but the question of repeal rests with "other officers of the government."

Secretary of State Hull said that "control of the seas is a paramount objective of the Axis powers in their program of world domination. . . . Every consideration of our own safety and defense requires . . . that Great Britain receive adequate supplies for successful resistance." Mr. Hull advanced five points for post-war co-operation in international trade without discrimination.

Library News

By Mrs. Lady Bryant

"Anthony Adverse" by Hervey Allen, a full-bodied tale of birth and death, of love and hate, of fighting, mating, scheming and drifting—begotten in France, born in the Alps, raised in Italy and flung by fortune to the West Indies, Africa, and finally to America. A work that took four years to write and yet bears the stamp of gusto from the first page to the last.

"Dim Lantern" by Temple Bailey is an intriguing tale which leads one through tense hours when love seems set at naught for the great and money. It is a marvelous love story which gives a true picture of those people who abuse the possession of wealth by pursuing pleasure alone.

Book titles: By Foul Means, Whispering at Pine Lodge, On the Yukon Trail, Ten Commandments, Four Just Men, Emma, Adrift in New York. Donations: Mr. Stewart, "Look"; Mr. Bonta, "Service with the Colors." Story telling hour for children in the park every Thursday from 4 to 5. Open hours from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

While Mark Twain ranked as one of our greatest humorists, yet, as he is entitled to rank as one of our greatest philosophers. The flowing from his pen is a vivid description of public opinion preceding our entry into world war I, and present repetition of that great comedy as we approach entry into world war II.

One can see a million years ahead. This rule will never change in many as half a dozen instances. A loud little handful, as usual, shout for war. The pulpit usually and cautiously object—at first, great, big, dull bulk of the nation will rub its sleepy eyes and to make out why there should be war, and will say, earnestly and gravely, "It is unjust and disagreeable, and there is no necessity for it." Then the handful will shout for a few fair men on the other side will argue and reason about the war with speech and pen, at first will have a hearing and applauded; but it will not last long those others will shout them presently the anti-war audiences thin out and lose popularity.

As long you will see this curious. The speakers stoned from the rostrum, and free speech strangled. Herds of furious men who in secret hearts are still at one with the stoned speakers, as earlier do not dare to say so. And the whole nation, pulpit and all take up the war cry, and itself hoarse, and mob any man who ventures to open his mouth; and presently such mouths cease to open. Next the statesmen will invent cheap lies, putting blame upon the nation that is dead, and every man will be glad to see conscience-soothing falacies so diligently study them, and to examine any refutations of them and thus he will by and by convince himself that the war is just and will thank God for the sleep he enjoys after this process of grotesque self-deception.

Magie, Enid, Okla. A young couple had been quarreling and the wife had retreated to her room, slamming the door behind her and maintaining an audible wailing. After a quarter of an hour she summoned the maid and inquired, "Is my husband still in his room?"

"Ma'am." "Sit here and cry for a few minutes. I'm so tired I must take a nap."

He said a simple little phrase but it was not that. Instead of saying "I love you" or just plain "Thank you" the cashier said, "We thank you very much to include the bill." The cook who fixed the boy who was keeping the place clean, the proprietor who was so stay in business.—CAPS

Mr. Jones—Yes, and they've been making women have always been made by men. Mrs. Jones—I don't know. Have you lived in Binghamsville? Have I lived here long? No, you won't believe it, but I was here when there wasn't a station in town.

That a nifty overcoat. Where did you pick it up at Jobson's? I don't know the place. Is it a store or a restaurant?

Restless—Why? Restless? It's sleep! Tired? It's sleep! Because of stress of mind? Because of stress of body? Then try the Vegetable Compound.

Women of FETTER—The reason light on the advertisement newspapers direct to you, better and more of providing what is needed, this of newspaper—and it will be an advantage to you whenever you purchase.

ADVERTISING—THE BUILDER

Of recent years it has been the fashion among radical reformers to question the value of advertising. The question is easily answered.

Nothing in the world sells until it is known. No successful commodity blunders its own way into a store and waits until somebody by some strange chance blunders into buying it, says Nation's Business. If merchants and factory manager had not hired salesmen, and had not placed advertising, our America would still be what it was in 1740, a handful of our villages and penniless farmers, dotted on the edges of enormous forests.

National distribution, in its simplest terms, means that you can get your favorite foods, beverages, clothes, shoes, cigarettes, soups, soaps, cosmetics, books, magazines, and all other manufactured articles, wherever in the country you are. Bringing his about, in a country 3,000 miles wide, and once apparently divided over by the Rocky mountains, has been no child's play. It would never have taken place without national advertising.

Railroad and steamship lines and highways provided the means of transport. But what is the use of transporting goods from factory in Delaware to a store in Oregon if the goods are not known and therefore are not bought?

Advertising is the dissemination of news about better and less costly goods than people could make for themselves at home.—Nation's Business.

An interesting sidelight on what happens to newspapers when they come under complete government control is given by recent news from France. This is to the effect that on Paris newsstands, the German language newspapers all occupy the front row while the French papers have been pushed into the back-ground. Why? Because the German papers tell the people exactly what Hitler wants to tell them.

The American people, theoretically, are arming to defend their free republican form of government. All thinking men, regardless of political belief, therefore, are zealous to guard the basic freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.—Texas Tax Journal.

Paul G. Hoffman, president Studebaker Corporation: "You can't con- script either brains or enthusiasm. That is there that leads us to believe that the methods we have found best in peacetime will not also be best in an emergency? Let's stay with the most efficient method we know."

Wally—I hear you've got a girl. Ben—Yes. "What's her name?" "Belle." "Seen her lately?" "No-o." "Have you had a fight?" "No, not that. But when I went over her house the last two nights and there was a sign on the door, 'Bell out of order,' I didn't go in."

Mother—Jackie, dear, I see that Betty has the smaller apple. Did you give her the choice? Jackie—Yes, ma, I told her she could have the smaller one or none at all, and she chose the small one.

Wife—The new couple living on the farm next to ours seem very devoted. He kisses her every time they meet. Why don't you do that? Farmer—I don't know her well enough yet.

A man asked his employer for a raise on the grounds that three other companies were after him. "What companies?" his boss asked. "Light, water and telephone," was the reply.

OH, GRACE, SOME OF THE BEST BARGAINS IN THE PAPER TODAY! LET'S GO SHOPPING! I'LL MEET YOU AT THE CORNER!

MR. MERCHANT WAS IT YOUR AD SHE READS?

WENT HOME FOR PAJAMAS

Robert, a shy young fellow, plucked up enough courage to ask Mary to go to the theatre. Both Robert and Mary enjoyed the evening, she doing the talking between the acts and he acquiescing in all she said. They had just reached Mary's home when the rain came down with the promise of a steady all-night downpour. Mary's mother, practical woman that she was, insisted that Robert stay there overnight, taking the upstairs spare bedroom. So much settled, she sent Mary upstairs to prepare the room and retired to her own room. When Mary came down to tell Robert that the room was ready for him, the young man had disappeared. She opened the door to see if he might be on the porch. No, he wasn't there. The rain was now coming down in sheets. Suddenly out from the storm, Robert came bounding through the gate and up the steps. He was soaking wet. Under his arm he carried a bundle. "For heaven's sake, Robert," exclaimed the girl, "where in the world have you been?" Robert was still shaking hard from running, but managed to answer with a grin, "Been home for my pajamas."

It is easy to dodge our responsibilities, but we can't dodge the consequences of dodging our responsibilities.

A pat on the back develops character—if administered young enough, often enough and low enough.—Ibid.

HOGG'S TALES

"Are you fond of Hogg's tales?" asked a lady of an old farmer, the other evening.

"Yes, I like 'em roasted, with salt on 'em," was the response.

"No—I mean have you read Hogg's tale?"

"No, indeed," said he. "Our hogs are all black and white. I don't think there is a red one among 'em." Liberty has never come from government. Liberty has always come from the subjects of it. The history of liberty is a history of resistance. The history of liberty is a history of limitations of government power, not the increase of it.—Woodrow Wilson.

When you argue with a fool, be sure he isn't similarly engaged.—A Magazine.

Miss Clara Anderson has returned from Lefors, where she has been teaching in the school.

WELCH PIPE & TANK YARD
Water well casing, pipe, water tanks, stock tubs, cattle guards, rods, tubing, windmill and tank towers.
24-hour service.
North of Lefors on highway.
Phone 9905
BUY - TRADE - SELL
LEFORS, TEXAS

LESLIE JONES DAIRY

Sanitary Barns - - T. B. Tested Cows

Pure Whole Milk at Your Grocer's or Delivered to Your Home

PHONE 14

An elderly gentleman who had already married and buried four wives, Canadian visited relatives here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Buck Campbell of Canadian visited relatives here Sunday. He was to be married to a widow who had been previously married twice. On the invitations to some of his particular friends he wrote: "Be sure and come; this will be no amateur performance."

Miss Ruby Swim left Sunday for a visit with relatives and friends at Vernon, Dallas and Post City.

Robert Sen Clair of Fort Sill, Okla., visited here Sunday.

GREAT NORTHERN LIFE INS. CO.

Announces the Appointment of T. N. HOLLOWAY Local Agent

LIFE - - ACCIDENT ACCIDENT & HEALTH HOSPITALIZATION OLD LINE LEGAL RESERVE

A GOOD MEAL

every time you eat here. We use and serve soft water, adding to the flavor of all food and drinks.

MEADOR CAFE
On Highway 66
24-Hour Service

CUT FLOWERS

Two hints—a bouquet for your hostess . . . or, flowers to lend color to the festive spread.

Shamrock Floral Co.
Shamrock, Texas

INSURANCE

Life Fire Hail
I insure anything. No prohibited list.
I represent some of the strongest companies in the world.
T. N. Holloway
Reliable Insurance

THE PERFECT TRIBUTE—a Service by DUENKEL-CARMICHAEL

Phone 400 - - - Pampa
FREE Cadillac Ambulance service to policy holders.
Dependable, low cost burial policies—
See Arthur Erwin - - - McLean

"We're Buying A CHEVROLET!"

WHY PAY MORE? WHY ACCEPT LESS?

It must be the "best buy," because it's the "best seller." . . . First again in '41, for the tenth time in the last eleven years!

Seems Everybody's Saying FIRST BECAUSE IT'S FINEST! EYE IT... TRY IT... BUY IT!

GIVE LOW-PRICED CARS THIS	QUALITY QUIZ AND YOU'LL CHOOSE CHEVROLET!
	CHEVROLET	No. 1 CAR	No. 2 CAR
90-H.P. VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE	YES	NO	NO
CONCEALED SAFETY-STEPS	YES	NO	NO
VACUUM-POWER SHIFT AT 40 M.P.H. WITH EXTRA COST	YES	NO	NO
BODY BY FISHER WITH UNISTEEL TURRET TOP	YES	NO	NO
UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION	YES	NO	NO
BOX-GIRDER FRAME	YES	NO	NO
ORIGINAL FISHER NO DRAFT VENTILATION	YES	NO	NO
TIPTOE-MATIC CLUTCH	YES	NO	NO

Cooke Chevrolet Co. McLean, Texas

Fun for the Whole Family

BIG TOP

By ED WHEELAN

LALA PALOOZA He Asked for It

By RUBE GOLDBERG

S'MATTER POP—Oops! Army Wouldn't Stay Wiped!

By C. M. PAYNE

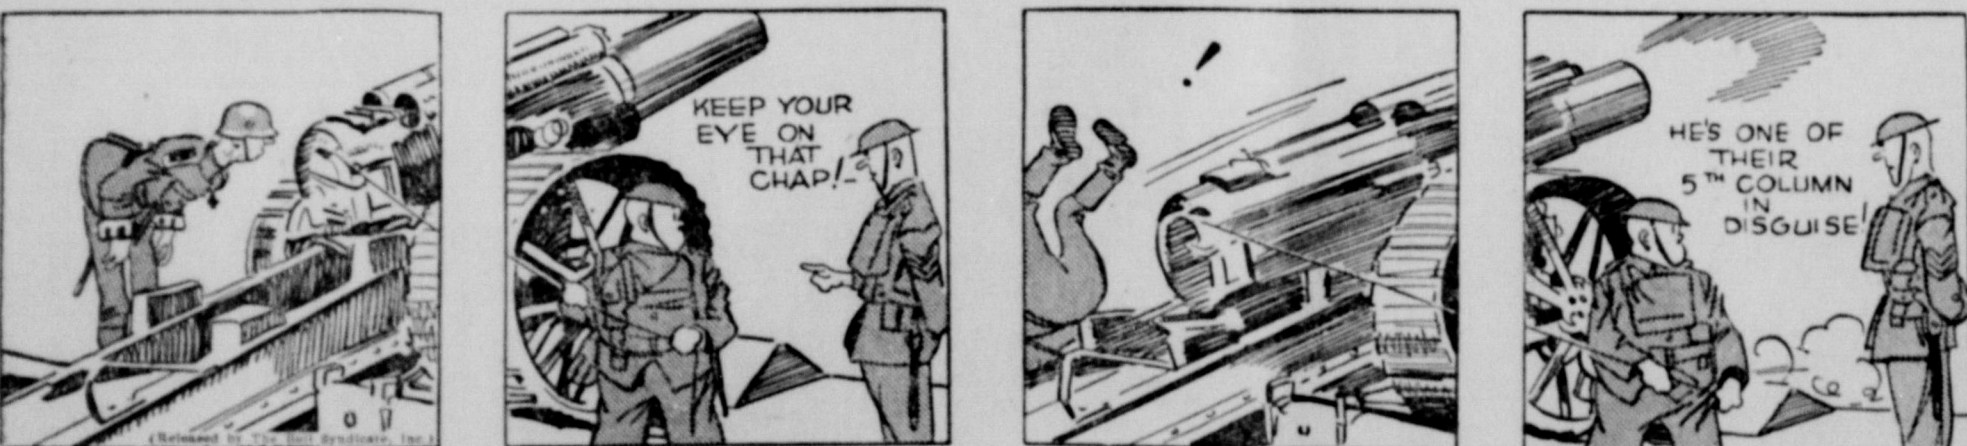

MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY

Like a Little Man

POP—And Slightly Upset by the Report

By J. MILLAR WATT

THE SPORTING THING

By LANG ARMSTRONG

TO KEEP FLIES OUT

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

"When I tell you guys to quit beetin', I mean it! See?"

BUREAU OF STANDARDS

• A BUSINESS organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, just as in Washington the government maintains a Bureau of Standards.

• You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power every day of every year.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

PHOTO FINISHING

ROLLS DEVELOPED
2 prints and 2-5x7 enlargements
4x6 or 5x7 choice of 16 prints without enlargements 25c each. Reports to the
THE CAMERA COMPANY
Dept. M, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Was It but a Suggestion From Exhausted Clerk?

Frock after frock had been displayed to the lady with the supercilious air, until the salesperson in the exclusive dress shop was on the point of nervous exhaustion.

The customer would inspect each dress and then make biting remarks about most of them. At last she looked around the devastated place with an overbearing glance and complained:

"All your frocks are so skimpy, I believe I would look better in something flowing."

The tired clerk was quick to seize the opening.

"Madam might try the river," she said coldly.

MINOR BRUISES, BURNS, SKATEER BITES, RUB CUTS. PENETRO

Result of All
'Tis not a lip, or eye, we beauty call, but the joint force and full result of all.—Pope.

ASK MOTHER

SHE KNOWS...
Grandmother's baking day secret, the baking powder that has been the favorite of millions of proud bakers for years and years.

CLABBER GIRL
Baking Powder

Profit From Discourtesy
The courteous learns his courtesy from the discourteous.—Turkish Proverb.

DRINK Kool-Aid
KEEP COOL!
Makes 10 BIG COOL DRINKS!
Kool-Aid

Self Patience
Be patient with everyone, but above all with yourself.—Francis de Sales.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up night, leg pain, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

BUREAU OF STANDARDS

• A BUSINESS organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, just as in Washington the government maintains a Bureau of Standards.

• You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power every day of every year.

By (Conso)
NEW the 1935, L profum
Dr. C. Huma Amid
meet th and hun collecti ic inqui "whole organic The pa physiolo inadequa standing. When l he found his con "whole n misery, spiritual zone of revealing searching
Just of Frat him th patches no evid mire hi ocist fo entific a if they his prof tion, m difficult may ex
Dr. Ca round-hea be 68 yea world kno the Rocke lical Resea wrought, living chi guished c science du his fashio heart wit Charles A. In the la preoccupie man behav yond me visions son a scientific 1839, just b and that c their brain failure and tea, with based on centh centu concepts ir might disc
HARRY dividin sub-divides more profit.
Slicing U Pays Bett Subdividi
mond of Br rid of rough to shape up in the stone.
It is on Jobs of dia attempted nicely. It and seven small, but working a diamond take 15 mo ing, with blade .0035 ness.
Reared in Winston lear mas with his New York, AEP in the the war and imperil all a stabl old land—that of threatene readjustmet real estate b the more he the, sound an glitter of traditionally l wholesale jew that and so use of the diamonds on $10,000 for th carats a mas stone.
DR. TOYO Japan's shi, evang and leadi an, is in 2 of the neapan, whic He ex of war s and all wa Dr. Kagz cution, pe thes a ru ospitalitic

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—In his book, "Man the Unknown," published in 1935, Dr. Alexis Carrel revealed profound misgivings as to whether any existing patterns of political organization ever could meet the requirements of a stable and humane civilization. He urged collective and concentrated scientific inquiry into the nature of the "whole man," and possibly of the organic quality of human society. The particularized knowledge of physiology and medicine he found inadequate to supply this understanding.

When he went to France recently he found a clinic and laboratory for his continued studies with the "whole man" caught in totalitarian misery, and in a wide context of spiritual and emotional stress—a zone of social pathology no doubt revealing to Dr. Carrel's deeply searching and penetrating eye.

Just why the Nazi overlords of France should want to keep him there, as reported in dispatches, is a mystery. There is no evidence that the Nazis admire him. He has been no apologist for their flagrantly unscientific and inhumane doings, and if they expect to commandeer his profound knowledge of nutrition, medicine and surgery, it is difficult to understand how they may expect co-operation.

Dr. Carrel, a keen, compact, round-headed little Frenchman, will be 68 years old next month. The world knows of his 34 years with the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, the marvels he has wrought, including his 29-year-old living chicken heart, his distinguished contributions to medical science during the World War, and his fashioning of the mechanical heart with the co-operation of Charles A. Lindbergh.

In the last few years he has been preoccupied with the range of human behavior lying outside and beyond medical knowledge. He visions some kind of government by a scientific elite. On August 14, 1939, just before the guns blazed, he said that civilized men must "pool their brains," or come to ultimate failure and then added: "Our America, with its democratic ideal, is based on ideologies of the Eighteenth century. If we used scientific concepts instead of ideologies, we might discover a new way of life."

HARRY WINSTON started subdividing real estate, but now sub-divides diamonds and finds it more profitable. He and his expert assistants nick a $30,000 chip off the famous Vargas diamond of Brazil, and when they get rid of roughage like this they expect to shape up a $2,000,000 central core in the stone.

It is one of the most jittery jobs of diamond manuevering ever attempted, but so far is going nicely. It took them a month and seven days to make this small, but lucrative beginning, working on the third largest diamond in the world. It will take 15 months to finish the cutting, with a phosphorus-bronze blade .0035 of an inch in thickness.

Rearing in Los Angeles, Mr. Winston learned the jewelry business with his father. Returning to New York, after a stretch in the AEF in the World War, he decided the war and its aftermath would imperil all values except those of durable old Mother Earth herself.

Land—that was the thing, in days of threatened inflation and social readjustment. So he went into the real estate business in New York. The more he worked at it, the more sane, sound and conservative seemed the glitter of a diamond—even if traditionally baleful. He opened a wholesale jewelry business in New York and soon was gathering in some of the biggest and showiest diamonds in the world. He paid $100,000 for the Jonkers diamond of 100 carats and $700,000 for the Vargas stone.

DR. TOYOHICO KAGAWA, Japan's frail little Mahatma Gandhi, evangelist of world brotherhood and leader of the Christians in Japan, is in New York, in furtherance of the newly organized Church in Japan, which he helped to establish. He expresses surprise at the war with Japan and sees a world church union which would end all wars. A tubercular little Dr. Kagawa has suffered jail, execution, poverty and illness. He has a merger of Christianity and capitalistic economics.

British Captives of Nazis in Africa

This picture, taken somewhere in Africa, shows a group of British soldiers fresh from the fighting lines of the see-saw battle of the dark continent. They are shown in the prison camp to which they were removed after their capture by the successful Nazi and Italian forces.

Ford Workers Vote on Unionization

Using secret ballots, more than 83,000 workers of the Ford Motor company in the Detroit area voted overwhelmingly in favor of the U. A. W.-C. I. O. to do their collective bargaining with Ford for them. Photo shows workers at the Ford River Rouge plant being checked in by Police Captain Don Leonard as the balloting began.

Christening Navy's Biggest Bomber

Largest and most powerful bomber in navy service, Consolidated's "The Spirit of American Democracies," being christened in the presence of chiefs of general naval staffs of 11 Latin-American nations by William Powell, son of an aircraft worker. Inset: Maj. Reuben Fleet, president of Consolidated Aircraft company, and Vice Admiral Jose Machado E. Silva, spokesman for the visiting Latin-American navy chiefs.

Cotton—'White Gold' of the South

With the goddess of liberty spotlighted, the brilliantly lit royal barge of Memphis' Cotton Carnival monarchs moves into the harbor where they disembarked to officially open the 1941 cotton celebration, a week of merriment and fun-making, dedicated to the "white gold" of the Southland—cotton.

Testifies

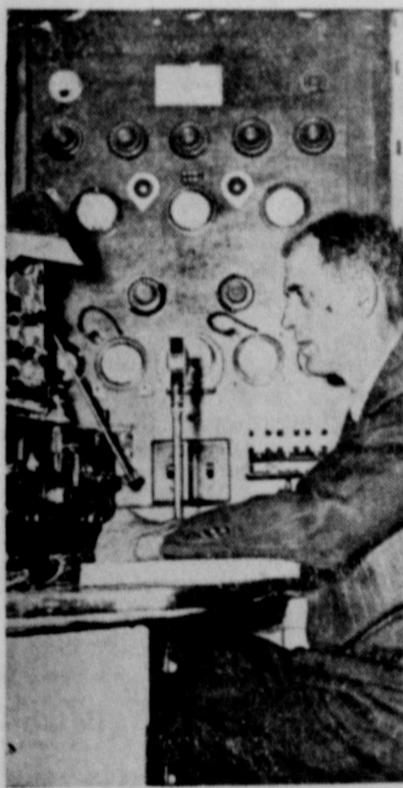

Mazy Spargo, before Dies committee in Washington, testifies that 150 government employees attended an American peace mobilization in New York as official delegates. She said these employees have been supporting the Communistic APM.

Economic Advisor

Isadore Lubin, commissioner of labor statistics, who has been called in by President Roosevelt as his economic advisor on the $7,000,000,000 lend-lease program.

'Ham' Honored

Pictured among the gadgets of his home-built station, W9BSP, in Olathe, Kan., Marshall H. Ensor, school teacher, was cited as the amateur radio operator who "contributed most usefully to the American people." The citation came with the William S. Paley amateur radio award.

Opens New Hospital

Mahatma Gandhi, Indian national leader, shown during ceremony he conducted at formal opening of the Kamala Nepru hospital at Allahabad, India.

FARM TOPICS

HOG PARASITES REDUCE THRIFT

Dipping Is Effective Against Lice and Mange.

By CLIFFORD J. FAWCETT
(Extension Animal Husbandman, Massachusetts State College.)

Probably hogs are more affected by parasites, particularly the external type, than any other class of livestock. Infestation with either internal or external parasites results in lack of thrift, and the poor development of young pigs. Moreover, feed is too costly to give to parasites.

Hog lice and mange are the two principal external parasites affecting hogs.

Hogs suffering from lice or mange, or both, can be suspected by their persistent and vigorous rubbing against any convenient object. They may even rub off some of the hair and make the skin raw. Lice can be detected with the naked eye, but one needs a magnifying glass to see the common mange mite.

The common methods of eradication for both lice and mange are: 1—dipping, 2—spraying, 3—wallows, 4—oilers, and 5—hand applications. Dipping is the most effective method and should be used whenever possible.

When a dipping vat is not available, careful hand application of the chosen remedy may be practiced. Application may be made with a sprayer, brush, mop, or a piece of cloth. Many good pork producers have secured excellent results with oilers. Special care should be taken in distributing the remedy in a thin coat over the body surface; be sure to include the inside of the ears, the flanks, and between the thighs. The following remedies, when applied by hand, are effective for lice and mange control: 1—undiluted crude petroleum oil; 2—waste crankcase oil; 3—kerosene and lard mixed in the proportion of one-half pint of kerosene to one pound of lard.

Hogs that have been oiled should not be exposed to extreme cold or to bright sunshine too soon after treatment.

Summer Range Shelters

Improve Poultry Flock

Summer range shelters will pay as much on the investment as any other expenditure the poultryman can make, according to T. T. Brown, extension poultryman of North Carolina State college.

Where more than 100 birds are kept, the shelter results in feed economy and healthier, more thrifty pullets. This assures the producer of a more economical egg production and a lower pullet mortality.

The shelter should be placed on clean land where ample tender green feed and shade are available.

The shelter that Extension Service poultrymen have found to be the most economical and satisfactory is A-shaped with the eaves about two feet from the ground and the peak of the roof about 5 feet 10 inches. The shelter is 9 by 10 feet in size and will accommodate 100 pullets.

"The use of the summer range shelter helps to eliminate disease and intestinal parasites, puts vigor into the pullets, and makes for better egg size and production by properly developing the birds," Brown said.

Livestock Endangered

By Poisonous Plants

Part of the annual loss of livestock from poisonous plants can be prevented by avoiding overgrazing and by furnishing plenty of supplemental feed during periods of scarce pasture, according to L. V. Sherwood, assistant chief of crop production at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

These poisonous plants are in fence corners, in pastures and in the hay fields, often unrecognized until after they have poisoned the animals. Human beings, as well as animals, may die from the effect of the plants.

Other poisonous plants are bull nettle, buttercup, wild cherry, cocklebur, corn cockle, tall crow-foot, Dutchman's breeches, water hemlock, common horsetail, Indian turnip, Jack-in-the-pulpit, Jimson weed, Johnson grass, dwarf larkspur, black locust, whorled milkweed, black nightshade, oak, poke berry and staggerweed.

Vast Phosphate Supply

The United States has phosphate supplies sufficient to last 5,000 or 6,000 years, practically unlimited sources of nitrogen and potash reserves ample for generations to come. "Yet," says a statement of the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, "this country uses only a fraction as much fertilizer for improving the soil of its farms and promoting crop production as do the nations of Europe—and they have far more limited supplies."

Piano an Accomplishment You Can Teach Yourself

A HAPPY accomplishment to play the piano, to entertain with the latest hits. As for that special man, his favorite tune lures him like a magnet!

Learning to play isn't hard. You read music quickly with the aid of a chart which shows life-size the main part of the keyboard.

X Marks the Spot

A Hollywood story concerns a film magnate who had never learned to write. But that did not keep him from making money, and when he put two crosses on a check the bank honored it.

Then one day he handed the bank cashier a check signed with three crosses.

"What's this?" demanded the cashier, "you've put three crosses here."

"I know," said the magnate. "My wife's got social ambitions. She says I must have a middle name!"

BEAT THE HEAT

After shower—any time—dust with cooling Mexican Heat Powder. Dust in shoes. Rub on hot feet. Relieves, protects chafed, itchy sunburn. Great for heat rash, yours or baby's. Get Mexican Heat Powder.

Noble to Forgive

'Tis more noble to forgive, and more manly to despise, than to revenge an injury. — Benjamin Franklin.

Learn COLON-THERAPY
The Coming Profession
DECIDEDLY NOT CROWDED
Write for information
UNIVERSAL INSTITUTE OF DRUGLESS THERAPEUTICS
822 No. Harvey - Oklahoma City, Okla.

Dark Ignorance

Ignorance is the night of the mind, but a night without moon or star. — Confucius.

KILL ALL FLIES
Placed anywhere, Daisy Fly Killer attracts and kills flies. Guaranteed, effective. Most convenient — cannot spill — will not soil or injure anything. Lasts all month. Size at all corners. Retailers: Dept. 100 in Wash. Ave., B'ham, Ala.

DAISY FLY KILLER

RAZOR BLADES

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR THE OUTSTANDING BLADE VALUE
KENT KENT KENT
Double Edge Blades Single Edge
10 for 10c 7 for 10c
"TAKING THE COUNTRY BY STORM"
KNOWN FROM COAST TO COAST
© CUPPLES COMPANY - ST. LOUIS, MO. ©

Facts of ADVERTISING

• ADVERTISING represents the leadership of a nation. It points the way. We merely follow—follow to new heights of comfort, of convenience, of happiness.

As time goes on advertising is used more and more, and as it is used more we all profit more. It's the way advertising has—

of bringing a profit to everybody concerned, the consumer included

THE McLEAN NEWS

Published Every Thursday
News Building, 210 Main Street
Day Phone 47 - - Night Phone 147

T. A. LANDERS
Owner and Publisher

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
In Texas

One Year	$2.00
Six Months	1.25
Three Months	.65
Outside Texas
One Year	$2.50
Six Months	1.50
Three Months	.85

Entered as second class matter May 8, 1905, at the post office at McLean, Texas, under act of Congress.

MEMBER

- National Editorial Association
- Texas Press Association
- Panhandle Press Association

Display advertising rate, 25c per column inch, each insertion. Preferred position, 30c per inch.

Resolutions, obituaries, cards of thanks, poems, and items of like nature charged for at line rates.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation, which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same given to the editor personally, at the office at 210 Main Street.

Silly flapdoodle has no place in politics, yet the voters seem to fall for it.

The state administrator of the defense savings staff of Texas writes the News editor that a real emergency exists and that all citizens should make every effort to support the government's bond sales.

When the lush grass dies on the vacant lots, there will be a fire hazard and weeds will come to add to the unsightliness of neglected lots. There should be some plan worked out that the city could keep vacant lots in repair where the owner refuses to do so, and charge the expense to the annual tax bill.

While trade from outside the McLean territory is acceptable and welcomed, the fact remains that the town exists primarily from trade secured from home folks. This trade comes from friends and should be encouraged in every possible way. Trade development in our own area pays big dividends and can be made permanent. Outside trade is at best of only a temporary nature.

Maury Maverick has been defeated as mayor of San Antonio after giving one of the best administrations the city has ever had. Voters seem to know his worth, but do not like him personally and would evidently rather vote for someone with a more pleasing personality. It is ever thus; we like to vote for our friends, and no matter how efficient a man may be, if we do not like him, we do not support him.

The shelterbelts are growing in a fine way this season, and most farmers seem to be making an effort to keep the belts free from weeds. There is little use for the government to spend money planting the belts unless the farmer will give the small trees clean cultivation. Trees cannot be grown without attention the first few years, but after they are established they will take care of themselves and make a big difference in farm living conditions.

WASTED EFFORT

"Mary," inquired the lady of the house, suspiciously, "did you wash this fish before you baked it?"

And Mary replied: "What's the use of washing a fish that has been in the water all his life?"

"Did Harold get anything under his rich aunt's will, after pretending to be so fond of her rotten little lap-dogs all those years?"

"Oh, sure. She left him the lap-dogs."

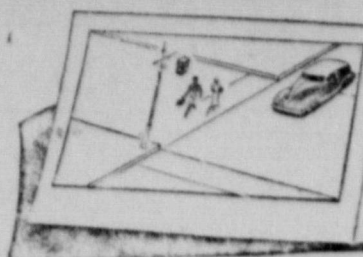

"Let me tell you," the plump wife shouted at her husband, "that it's hard for a woman like me to be brave in war-time."

"I know," retorted her long-suffering husband, "Look at all the chins you've got to keep up!"

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rallsback and son visited at Lake Kemp last week.

THE PEDESTRIANS' PRIMER

No. 6—Cross Within the Crosswalk

POLICE reports show that hundreds of pedestrians injured were not in the crosswalk when struck. Seconds and steps saved by skirting the crosswalk or crossing diagonally are not worth the chances you take with your life.

ONE BULLET EQUALS TWO DEER

P. B. Gerhart, a mechanic of Canadian, saved plenty of ammunition during the last hunting season, according to a belated report reaching the Texas Game Department. Mr. Gerhart and Sheriff Rathpin went hunting on Dec. 16. Gerhart got out of the car on a permission patch on the Hartage Ranch near Canadian. When he was within 100 yards of the thicket he saw a large buck looking at him. He fired. Imagine his surprise when he reached the buck, a seven-pointer, to see another buck stretched out just a few feet from the one at which he had aimed. Gerhart had seen only one buck, yet he had gotten his season's legal limit with one shot. The seven-pointer had been shot through the neck and the four-pointer through the head. The hunter was using a 30-06. The bullet nearly tore the head of the second deer it hit.

A wealthy old woman who was very ill sent for her lawyer to make her will.

"I wish to explain about the disposition of my property," she said weakly.

The lawyer was sympathetic. "There, there!" he said, "don't you worry about it; just leave it to me."

With resignation, the old woman said: "I suppose I might as well—you'll get it anyway."

A good character is, in all cases, the fruit of personal exertion.—Joel Hawes.

The Luther Petty family visited in Pampa Sunday.

DRESSING UP

The cafe owner said: "Now, girls, I want you to look your best today. Add a little extra dab of powder to your cheeks and take a bit more time with your hair."

"What's the matter this time?" asked the head waitress. "Is the butter bad again?"

"No, beef's tough," said the owner.

We may perhaps some day understand and practice freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear. We may even be able to comprehend and support justice, democracy, the moral order and the supremacy of human rights. Today we have barely begun to grasp the meaning of the words.—Robert M. Hutchins.

"So your husband has got a job at last," said the neighbor to Mrs. Smith.

"Yes, he has," Mrs. Smith replied. "It's hard work and he says it's killing him. But thank goodness, it's permanent."

C. G. Nicholson was in Pampa Friday.

LANDSCAPING

Anything from rock gardens to complete home plans. Get our estimates. We know local conditions.

BRUCE NURSERY
Trees with a Reputation
Albreed, Texas

MUSIC HATH PROFITS

Black—You say your son has done very well with his trombone lessons. Is he in a band?

White—No, but I have been able to pick up some valuable nearby real estate very cheap.

Little Mary—I'll bet you can't guess what sister said about you just before you came in.

Dinocan—I haven't a single idea, Mary.

Little Mary—Oh, you guessed it the very first time!

"Hey, what time is it by your watch?"

"Quarter to."

"Quarter to what?"

"I don't know—time got so bad I had to lay off one of the hands."

T. L. Lovelace and son, Ed. of Shamrock were in McLean Saturday.

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

Him—I have tickets for the new movie.

Her—Fine. I'll start dressing right away.

Everybody reads newspapers.

WE'LL ADMIT

We have a few things yet to learn, but NOT ABOUT COOKING!

Eat with us and you will know what we mean.

ELSIE'S CAFE
Elsie Gibson, Manager

Mrs. A. L. Morgan has returned from a visit with her son, Roscoe, and family at Odessa.

LET YOUR CAR

Enjoy Its Vacation, Too

It will, if serviced with
Phillips 66 Products

We have the equipment to do the job properly.

36 SERVICE STATION

Prodigal Philosophy

If wasting time and resources and spending money foolishly will win the war, we have already won it in a high, wide and handsome manner by a wide margin.

A. T. WILSON
at the Hermitage

MERTEL'S SHOE SHOP

First class shoe repairing.

All work guaranteed.

Vapor Baths Colonic Irrigations

DR. E. HAYS M'GAHA
(Sc. M., D. C., N. D.)

Drugless Physician

Dietetics Foot Adjusting

TRIMBLE'S

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SPECIALS

BANANAS dozen	15c
FLOUR guaranteed 24 lb	75c
TOMATOES No. 2 2 for	15c
FRESH SPUDS per lb	3c
LETTUCE per head	5c
MACARONI or SPAGHETTI 3 for	10c
PIMIENTOS per can	5c
GRAPE JUICE quart	29c
CORN cream style No. 2	9c
BOLOGNA 2 lb	25c
BACON sliced per lb	25c

We have moved across the street to a larger building where we are better able to serve you. Pay us a visit.

Truck Users

BUY QUALITY that will last for years and years—and buy now

Get Dodge Quality in a Truck That Fits Your Job

Prepare for defense program demands and the "long pull" with trucks that are built to work longer hours, more days, more years... capable of extra thousands of miles of dependable, low-cost operation! That's what you get when you invest in Dodge quality truck construction. Tough, long-life materials... careful precision workmanship... superior, lasting truck design are combined in trucks that are built to fit the job... to do the job better and at lower cost. Act today!

PRICED WITH THE LOWEST

Chassis...$500 ⁰⁰ (WITH CAB)	Pick-Ups...$630 ⁰⁰
Chassis...$595 ⁰⁰ (WITH CAB)	Panels...$730 ⁰⁰
	Stakes...$740 ⁰⁰

These prices are delivered at Pampa, Federal taxes included. Transportation, state and local taxes (if any) extra. All prices shown are for 1941 model only. Model which is for 1 1/2 ton 112 standard chassis and body models available. PRICES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE

McLaughlin Motor Co.
McLean - - - Texas

the ROAD AHEAD

Old Man Texas is today looking ahead and planning.

Beside the great farming and ranching country which Texans have built, he sees a new industrial empire here.

Already the start has been made. Some industries, such as petroleum, are now showing what can be done to utilize Texas' vast natural resources. Today this industry refines with Texas labor over four-fifths as much oil as the State produces. Its products make up nearly one-half of all Texas manufacturing. Altogether petroleum provides the living for almost one-sixth of our people.

But this is only a beginning.

Texas has many other raw materials, unexcelled by any other State. Texas has in oil and gas the cheap and dependable fuel supply essential to industry. Texas is the gateway to Latin America, our new foreign market.

Each new industry means more jobs. It makes added tax values for our State and local governments, bigger payrolls for our workers, and greater prosperity for you and every other Texan.

TEXAS MID-CONTINENT OIL AND GAS ASSOCIATION

THE SMOKY YEARS

By ALAN LE MAY

W.N.U. Release

INSTALLMENT 12 THE STORY SO FAR:

Dusty King and Lew Gordon had built up a vast string of ranches in the West. King was killed by his powerful and unscrupulous competitor, Ben Thorpe. Bill Roper, King's adopted son, was determined to avenge his death in spite of the opposition of his sweetheart, Jody Gordon, and her father. After wiping Thorpe out of Texas, Roper conducted a great raid upon the vast herds on Thorpe's Montana ranches. Told that Jody had disappeared, he left his men and set out for the home of Lew Gordon, a man who was once his partner, but was now his enemy. Jody Gordon had tried to reconcile her father with Roper. He refused to compromise with Roper. She then set out with Shoshone Wilce, one of Roper's men, to find him.

lowed herself to be led into the little cabin at which she had hoped to find Bill Roper.

The shack in which she now found herself was a cramped makeshift, intended only as a shelter for cowboys, storm-caught while riding the northern limits of the Fork Creek range. A single lantern hung from a roof pole; and now, by its yellow light the two men studied her with an unconcealed amazement.

"By God," said the older of the two, "it's a girl, all right!"

The other man, tall enough so that the door at his back looked small, was much the younger of the two. His face was prematurely hard-cut—the face of a man who even in youth had learned an effectiveness in action upon which he could well rely. He spoke sharply.

"Jim—you know who this is? That's Lew Gordon's girl!"

"Good Lord Almighty! I believe you're right!"

"It's her, sure enough!"

"So you know me?" Jody said.

"I seen you once in Ogallala, and another time in Bandera."

The older man shifted his eyes to his partner. "Queerest turn of the cards," he said, "I ever seen in all my born days!"

The younger man's voice was sharp and strained. "Jim, we got to get her out of here, and get her out quick!"

The man called Jim appeared to consider intently, his eyes still on the other's face. "I ain't so sure," he said after a moment.

"You talk like a fool," the younger man snapped at his superior. "Look what we got! We got the law back of us. We got the most powerful cowman in the West back of us. We got one of the biggest rewards that's ever been hung up, right ready to drop into our hands. We've located Roper's main shebang, after working on it for months. We got all the odds in the world in our favor—and here comes this girl and bogs the whole works!"

"Just how do you figure she bogs it?"

"We got every chance of nailing our man, right here, any hour now. But don't ever think we'll nail him without a hell of a sharp fight. Suppose this girl gets hurt in this fight, or gets loose and loses herself, or runs out of luck some other way? The quicker we get her out of here—"

"Can't."

"What's the reason we can't?"

"We got the bear by the tail. She's dynamite so long as she's here. I grant you that. But what if we leave her go? She warns Roper off. Then where are we?"

The younger man's eyes were keen with a repressed excitement. "Jim—you figure she come to meet Bill Roper here?"

"She didn't come here by accident," Leathers said with conviction, "any more than you or me. And she sure didn't come here to throw in with us."

A swift panic struck Jody with the shock of a blow in the face. If Jim Leathers wished, he could hold her here—literally as bait with which to draw the man whom it was his mission to kill. If Shoshone Wilce had got clear, and could reach Roper, Roper would certainly attack as soon as the best ponies of the raiders could bring him. Or, failing to locate Roper, Shoshone Wilce might even bring her father—and what orders Jim Leathers had in regard to Lew Gordon she could only surmise.

"I'm getting sick of this," Jody told Jim Leathers. "You owe me a horse; there can't possibly be any argument about that. I'll have to ask you to rope a pony and bring him to my saddle—and I'll be on my way!"

Slowly Leathers shook his head. "You won't give me a pony?"

"I'm afraid—you'll have to wait until your friends come, lady."

For Jody Gordon's white flash of anger there was no outlet whatever. She turned away to hide from them the furious tears that sprang into her eyes. She took off her sheepskin coat and flung it on the table, for the room was very hot; but because her fingers were still chilled to the bone she pulled off her gloves, tucked them in her belt, and went to the shallow fireplace to hold out her hands to the flames.

They went on talking now in the drawing, well-considered speech of the trail, long pauses marking every interchange. Whatever else they might think of her, they evidently did not consider that she implied any necessity to secrecy.

"If Roper is on his way," the younger rider said thoughtfully, "and this side rider of hers has got loose and meets him, so that Roper knows what he's up against—that might be kind of bad medicine, Jim. If he's got his war-riders with him—"

"I've missed hooking up with Roper twenty times when I thought I had him," Leathers said. "I'd sooner meet up with him on any terms, than carry back the word that I fell down."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

CHAPTER XVII

Shoshone Wilce, riding with Jody Gordon through the same hundred-mile snow which screened Bill Roper and Tex Long in their raid on the Little Dry, found himself the most bewildered and the most unnappy of men.

He could have refused to guide Jody Gordon to Bill Roper's rendezvous; he thought it improbable that Jody Gordon would have been able to locate the rendezvous alone. But whether she found it, or merely got herself lost, Shoshone Wilce would have been answerable to Bill Roper for leaving her to attempt the ride alone.

The alternative he had chosen offered no greater prospect for a long and helpful life. Lew Gordon would go wild as a wounded silvertip at the disappearance of his daughter; and every King-Gordon cowboy in the country would be scouring the brakes after Shoshone's scalp.

Jody believed now that the split between Lew Gordon and Bill Roper was the basis of inconceivable disaster—not only immediate and personal, but far-reaching in its import to the cow country. Together, those two very different cattlemen could have beaten Thorpe, and consolidated the King-Gordon empire.

Separated, Lew Gordon and Bill Roper were mutually destructive; Lew Gordon was probably right that Bill Roper's savage attacks upon the Thorpe interests were the cause of Ben Thorpe's heavy reprisals upon King-Gordon. And even though Roper might bring down Ben Thorpe in the end, which still seemed incredible, he could never profit by his victory, even if he lived. Unless Gordon and Roper could be reconciled, Roper would in the end become just one more outlawed cowboy whose trails could have no meaning, and only one end.

Jody Gordon had one other motive in attempting the all but hopeless reconciliation. She believed her father's life to be in the sharpest danger. Bill Roper, an even harder fighter than the old trail breaker who had trained him, would automatically take those precautions that would safeguard her father's life, if once they could be brought to work together again.

But the first move toward reconciliation must come from Bill Roper himself. If she could persuade Roper to this, there was a bare possibility that she could also manage her father.

It was a forlorn hope; but, as she saw it, of such vital importance that it could no longer be ignored. It was as if events that would alter the whole history of the cow country lay in her persuasion of these two stubborn men. She rode doggedly now, with set face, trusting Shoshone to find the way.

They rode until after midnight, blind, as far as Jody could see, in the wet fall of the snow. They threw down their bedrolls then in the shelter of stunted snow-laden trees, and Shoshone Wilce measured grain for the horses onto his own poncho.

They pushed on again early the next morning, miserable in the raw dawn, after coffee which Shoshone made in a frying pan. All day long they rode steadily, stopping only once for bread and bacon, and to bolster their horses with more grain.

The snow slacked off, giving place to a bitter wind. Jody's knees stiffened with saddle cramp and she continually had to nurse her fingers deep in her pockets to keep them from going numb. She had a strange sense of having taken an irrevocable step which she might find great reason to regret. The fact that the snow had hidden the trail they had made, so that no one could follow to find her, gave her a feeling of being cut off from everything friendly she had ever known. She no longer knew where she was. She set her eyes straight ahead, too proud to ask Shoshone how far they had come, how much farther they must go. Just before dusk they climbed a long rocky ridge which commanded the length of a shallow valley set openly with juniper and ragged dar.

Shoshone motioned her to stop her horse. "Wait a minute."

Far down the valley Jody Gordon could see a faint haze that blurred a bit-fur grey and brown of the ash and rusty timber.

"That's smoke," Shoshone Wilce said at last. "This ought to be the place."

"So we really got here at last..."

"Two hours more."

"The smoke—that means he's here."

Shoshone Wilce, suspicious and careful by temperament, was less sure. "Don't know if it's him. Some- one's there. Or, anyway, some- one's been there."

A swift panic chilled Jody at the sight of meeting Bill Roper face to face again after so long a time.

She tried to imagine what she was going to say to him, and was com- pletely unable. She wondered how he would look, and whether he would be glad to see her.

of his sweetheart, Jody Gordon, and her father. After wiping Thorpe out of Texas, Roper conducted a great raid upon the vast herds on Thorpe's Montana ranches. Told that Jody had disappeared, he left his men and set out for the home of Lew Gordon, a man who was once his partner, but was now his enemy. Jody Gordon had tried to reconcile her father with Roper. He refused to compromise with Roper. She then set out with Shoshone Wilce, one of Roper's men, to find him.

lowed herself to be led into the little cabin at which she had hoped to find Bill Roper.

The shack in which she now found herself was a cramped makeshift, intended only as a shelter for cowboys, storm-caught while riding the northern limits of the Fork Creek range. A single lantern hung from a roof pole; and now, by its yellow light the two men studied her with an unconcealed amazement.

"By God," said the older of the two, "it's a girl, all right!"

The other man, tall enough so that the door at his back looked small, was much the younger of the two. His face was prematurely hard-cut—the face of a man who even in youth had learned an effectiveness in action upon which he could well rely. He spoke sharply.

"Jim—you know who this is? That's Lew Gordon's girl!"

"Good Lord Almighty! I believe you're right!"

"It's her, sure enough!"

"So you know me?" Jody said.

"I seen you once in Ogallala, and another time in Bandera."

The older man shifted his eyes to his partner. "Queerest turn of the cards," he said, "I ever seen in all my born days!"

The younger man's voice was sharp and strained. "Jim, we got to get her out of here, and get her out quick!"

The man called Jim appeared to consider intently, his eyes still on the other's face. "I ain't so sure," he said after a moment.

"You talk like a fool," the younger man snapped at his superior. "Look what we got! We got the law back of us. We got the most powerful cowman in the West back of us. We got one of the biggest rewards that's ever been hung up, right ready to drop into our hands. We've located Roper's main shebang, after working on it for months. We got all the odds in the world in our favor—and here comes this girl and bogs the whole works!"

"Just how do you figure she bogs it?"

"We got every chance of nailing our man, right here, any hour now. But don't ever think we'll nail him without a hell of a sharp fight. Suppose this girl gets hurt in this fight, or gets loose and loses herself, or runs out of luck some other way? The quicker we get her out of here—"

"Can't."

"What's the reason we can't?"

"We got the bear by the tail. She's dynamite so long as she's here. I grant you that. But what if we leave her go? She warns Roper off. Then where are we?"

The younger man's eyes were keen with a repressed excitement. "Jim—you figure she come to meet Bill Roper here?"

"She didn't come here by accident," Leathers said with conviction, "any more than you or me. And she sure didn't come here to throw in with us."

A swift panic struck Jody with the shock of a blow in the face. If Jim Leathers wished, he could hold her here—literally as bait with which to draw the man whom it was his mission to kill. If Shoshone Wilce had got clear, and could reach Roper, Roper would certainly attack as soon as the best ponies of the raiders could bring him. Or, failing to locate Roper, Shoshone Wilce might even bring her father—and what orders Jim Leathers had in regard to Lew Gordon she could only surmise.

"I'm getting sick of this," Jody told Jim Leathers. "You owe me a horse; there can't possibly be any argument about that. I'll have to ask you to rope a pony and bring him to my saddle—and I'll be on my way!"

Slowly Leathers shook his head. "You won't give me a pony?"

"I'm afraid—you'll have to wait until your friends come, lady."

For Jody Gordon's white flash of anger there was no outlet whatever. She turned away to hide from them the furious tears that sprang into her eyes. She took off her sheepskin coat and flung it on the table, for the room was very hot; but because her fingers were still chilled to the bone she pulled off her gloves, tucked them in her belt, and went to the shallow fireplace to hold out her hands to the flames.

They went on talking now in the drawing, well-considered speech of the trail, long pauses marking every interchange. Whatever else they might think of her, they evidently did not consider that she implied any necessity to secrecy.

"If Roper is on his way," the younger rider said thoughtfully, "and this side rider of hers has got loose and meets him, so that Roper knows what he's up against—that might be kind of bad medicine, Jim. If he's got his war-riders with him—"

"I've missed hooking up with Roper twenty times when I thought I had him," Leathers said. "I'd sooner meet up with him on any terms, than carry back the word that I fell down."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

stopped again for a full minute; then ten paces more.

Jody said, "What in the world—"

Wilce seized her arm and silenced her with a quick shake. Then suddenly—

An inarticulate oath snarled in Shoshone's throat; he snatched at Jody's rein, whirling her pony. His own horse came straight up to its hind legs as he spun it at close quarters.

"Get going!" he said between his teeth; and brought his rosal down across her pony's flank in a snapping cut that made it plunge ahead. She heard the rip of steel on leather as Shoshone's gun came out. Then the silence of the night exploded into happenings that were incredible.

Two guns smashed out in a swift flurry of detonation. A queer whistling grunt was knocked out of Jody's horse. It dropped from under her, and the ground struck upward with stunning violence.

For a moment Jody Gordon lay motionless, her cheek buried in the cool snow. She was aware of further firing, and more than one running horse, and she tasted blood from a cut lip; but at first she was unable to think.

Someone said, "Well, we got one of 'em, anyway."

"Haul him inside."

"Look out now, Bud—no funny business." The voice was unknown to her, as was the figure that now bent over her. Suddenly the man jerked forward to peer at her more closely.

"What the—Hey! It's Calamity Jane, or somebody!"

Jody Gordon struggled to her feet, shock giving way to anger. "You fools, are you crazy? Bill Roper will kill you for this!"

There was a moment's silence, and she sensed rather than saw that they were looking at each other.

"Bill Roper," one of them repeated. "She says she's looking for Bill Roper!"

"Lady, you better come inside!"

Dazed and shaky as the fall of her killed horse had left her, Jody Gordon still appeared the most self-possessed of them all as she alighted herself to be led into the little cabin at which she had hoped to find Bill Roper.

The shack in which she now found herself was a cramped makeshift, intended only as a shelter for cowboys, storm-caught while riding the northern limits of the Fork Creek range. A single lantern hung from a roof pole; and now, by its yellow light the two men studied her with an unconcealed amazement.

"By God," said the older of the two, "it's a girl, all right!"

The other man, tall enough so that the door at his back looked small, was much the younger of the two. His face was prematurely hard-cut—the face of a man who even in youth had learned an effectiveness in action upon which he could well rely. He spoke sharply.

"Jim—you know who this is? That's Lew Gordon's girl!"

"Good Lord Almighty! I believe you're right!"

"It's her, sure enough!"

"So you know me?" Jody said.

"I seen you once in Ogallala, and another time in Bandera."

The older man shifted his eyes to his partner. "Queerest turn of the cards," he said, "I ever seen in all my born days!"

The younger man's voice was sharp and strained. "Jim, we got to get her out of here, and get her out quick!"

The man called Jim appeared to consider intently, his eyes still on the other's face. "I ain't so sure," he said after a moment.

"You talk like a fool," the younger man snapped at his superior. "Look what we got! We got the law back of us. We got the most powerful cowman in the West back of us. We got one of the biggest rewards that's ever been hung up, right ready to drop into our hands. We've located Roper's main shebang, after working on it for months. We got all the odds in the world in our favor—and here comes this girl and bogs the whole works!"

"Just how do you figure she bogs it?"

"We got every chance of nailing our man, right here, any hour now. But don't ever think we'll nail him without a hell of a sharp fight. Suppose this girl gets hurt in this fight, or gets loose and loses herself, or runs out of luck some other way? The quicker we get her out of here—"

"Can't."

"What's the reason we can't?"

"We got the bear by the tail. She's dynamite so long as she's here. I grant you that. But what if we leave her go? She warns Roper off. Then where are we?"

The younger man's eyes were keen with a repressed excitement. "Jim—you figure she come to meet Bill Roper here?"

"She didn't come here by accident," Leathers said with conviction, "any more than you or me. And she sure didn't come here to throw in with us."

A swift panic struck Jody with the shock of a blow in the face. If Jim Leathers wished, he could hold her here—literally as bait with which to draw the man whom it was his mission to kill. If Shoshone Wilce had got clear, and could reach Roper, Roper would certainly attack as soon as the best ponies of the raiders could bring him. Or, failing to locate Roper, Shoshone Wilce might even bring her father—and what orders Jim Leathers had in regard to Lew Gordon she could only surmise.

"I'm getting sick of this," Jody told Jim Leathers. "You owe me a horse; there can't possibly be any argument about that. I'll have to ask you to rope a pony and bring him to my saddle—and I'll be on my way!"

Slowly Leathers shook his head. "You won't give me a pony?"

"I'm afraid—you'll have to wait until your friends come, lady."

For Jody Gordon's white flash of anger there was no outlet whatever. She turned away to hide from them the furious tears that sprang into her eyes. She took off her sheepskin coat and flung it on the table, for the room was very hot; but because her fingers were still chilled to the bone she pulled off her gloves, tucked them in her belt, and went to the shallow fireplace to hold out her hands to the flames.

They went on talking now in the drawing, well-considered speech of the trail, long pauses marking every interchange. Whatever else they might think of her, they evidently did not consider that she implied any necessity to secrecy.

"If Roper is on his way," the younger rider said thoughtfully, "and this side rider of hers has got loose and meets him, so that Roper knows what he's up against—that might be kind of bad medicine, Jim. If he's got his war-riders with him—"

"I've missed hooking up with Roper twenty times when I thought I had him," Leathers said. "I'd sooner meet up with him on any terms, than carry back the word that I fell down."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

THIS IS A SUPERIOR SERIAL

A MARK OF FINE FICTION

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

BEGINNING OF WORLD MISSIONS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 12:25-13:12.
GOLDEN TEXT—And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15.

Nineteen hundred years of "front line action" for Christ began that day in Antioch when the first missionaries of the cross were sent forth. There is no more thrilling story in all history than that of missions. The glorious thing is that it goes on year after year, and will do so as long as the Lord of the harvest continues to send forth workers. The writer of these notes is glad to be associated with a training center which in its half century of operation has prepared for service about 2,300 men and women who have been sent to the foreign field by their churches and missions, and of whom approximately 1,600 are still active on the field in spite of "peril, toil and pain."

Our lesson teaches us how "to fight the good fight of faith" (I Tim. 6:12). First we must have

I. The Base of Operations (vv. 1-3).

Every army must have a home base; just so, the army of the Lord looks to the home church, the local gathering of God's people. An army would fail if those at the base of its action were asleep, or so interested in the pleasures of this world, or so indifferent to their responsibility, that they would not work hard in support of the active army. So the cause of Christian missions cannot go ahead if it has to depend on a home church which is spiritually asleep, indolent, indifferent, and worldly minded.

The church at Antioch prayed and fasted. It ministered the Word of God. It was responsive to the guidance of the Holy Spirit and ready to sacrifice by giving its leaders to the missionary cause. Is your church that kind of a church? If not, why not?

Observe also that it is from such a church that God calls His workers. Sunday school teacher, you may have in your class next Sunday one of the missionary leaders of the next generation. See to it that the message from God reaches that heart.

II. Good Soldiers of the Cross (vv. 2-4).

The army does not call for the weak or physically handicapped to serve. Just so, God's service calls for the strongest men and women of the church, not the misfits or failures. A girl was once heard to remark: "If I can't get married, I will be a missionary." Fortunately for God's work, she did get married. Some men who cannot succeed in business think that means they should be missionaries.

God wants our best (Deut. 15:2) and He wants the best a church can give, which means the best spiritually, but in other ways as well. Note also in verses 3 and 4 that the messengers of the Lord must be constantly led by the Holy Spirit.

III. The Heat of Battle (vv. 5-10).

Warfare is not a Sunday school picnic. It means conflict with the forces of the enemy. So the missionary of the cross must be prepared to meet Satan's opposition. Saul and Barnabas met this "son of the devil" (by the way, reader, we trust you do not belong to that family) who opposed the work of grace which had begun in the heart of the governor (vv. 8-10).

However, there are those who do seek to hear the Word of God (v. 7) as did Sergius Paulus. The business of the missionary is to preach to them, but not only to them. The city of Paphos was really a miniature of the world of that day. It was a Greek city of high culture and low morals. It was ruled by the Roman governor, a man of noble character and a "man of understanding" (v. 7). But right with him was Elymas the sorcerer, a wicked and ungodly Jew, a disgrace to his own people and a hindrance to the work of God. The messenger of God rejoices in the opportunity to minister the Word, whether to Roman, Jew, or Greek, of high or low estate, wicked or good, interested or antagonistic. They all need God's Word.

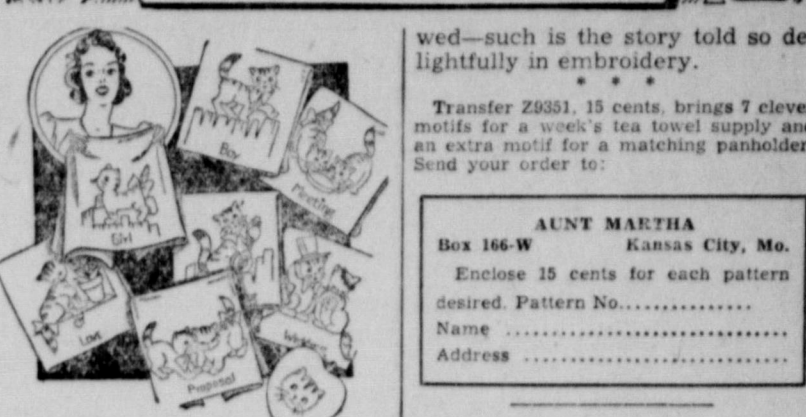

IV. Victory For Christ (vv. 11, 12).

The army goes into battle with the purpose of winning a victory, or it is defeated before it starts. The Lord's army is on a victorious march, certain of success, because He that is in us is "greater than he that is in the world" (I John 4:4).

In dealing with the sorcerer, Paul brought down the drastic judgment of God. Note that this was not done because Elymas opposed Paul, or because he had some different belief, but because he in his wickedness opposed God. Those who fight against God are in a losing battle, the victory is always on His side.

There was another kind of victory here, and the soldiers of the cross are (or should be) far more interested in that type of victory; namely, the surrender of a sinner at the foot of the cross. God won a victory in the heart of Sergius Paulus.

THINGS for YOU TO MAKE

Transfer No. Z9351
"BOY" and "GIRL" meet over a pan of milk, and swift romance results—for the purpose of this new tea towel set. While Miss Kitty plucks flower petals to decide whether it is really love, Mr. Tom serenades on his guitar. He proposes; she accepts; they are wed—such is the story told so delightfully in embroidery.

Transfer Z9351, 15 cents, brings 7 clever motifs for a week's tea towel supply and an extra motif for a matching panholder. Send your order to:

AUNT MAERHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.

Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.
Name
Address

Hope Is Mainspring

Is it an offense, is it a mistake, is it a crime to take a hopeful view of the prospects of your own country? Why should it be? Why should patriotism and pessimism be identical? Hope is the mainspring of patriotism. — David Lloyd George.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Offensive odors coming from sinks and drains can be eliminated by pouring in a strong solution of borax and hot water.

A wire screen, galvanized steel or copper, can be fitted over the tops of roof gutters to keep out leaves and trash.

When laundering clothes, don't use too much soap because water becomes so slippery that it "slides past" instead of penetrating the fabrics.

Common kerosene will cut the grease from the kitchen sink and remove that ring from the bath tub.

There is nothing so handy in a kitchen as a shelf above the sink for soaps, etc.

Add a little sweet cream to your cake icing and it will not get too hard.

Tea makes a good base for punch.

Hard-boiled eggs can be cut neater if the knife is first moistened in water.

Glassware takes on the highest polish if dried directly from hot, clean suds without being rinsed.

If laundering water is too hot, it sets the soil. If too cool, it will not loosen the soil. If you can put your arm down into the water, but cannot leave it there because of the heat, it is of the right temperature.

Chained Tongues

Amyclae in ancient Greece had been harassed so often by false reports of an invasion by the Spartans that a stringent law was passed forbidding anyone to mention the enemy again. Shortly afterward, the Spartans did arrive and, as no one dared to give the alarm, Amyclae was captured and went down in history

NEWS FROM DENWORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Matthews and children spent the week end visiting relatives at Altus, Okla. Mrs. Matthews' sister, Bonnie, who lives in Colorado, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Marshall and granddaughter, Waneta Hupp, visited relatives at Samnorwood Sunday.

Mrs. Clyde Holloway's mother, Mrs. Stewart, visited her last week.

Dad Wilkins of Amarillo, who formerly lived at Denworth, is visiting friends here.

Joyce Fulbright of McLean spent a day last week with Tommie Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ivey visited their daughter, Katie Lee, at Spearman this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moon and little son moved to our community this week. We give them a hearty welcome.

Miss Billie Wilhelm is visiting relatives and friends at Carter, Okla.

Mrs. L. L. Morse, May Lee, Mrs. I. D. Shaw Jr., and daughters of Brady, N. M., visited relatives here and at McLean over the week end.

Cleo Stonecipher, who was in Wayland College last term, visited in the Fred Browning home last week.

Gene Stewart, who is attending college at Lubbock, spent the week end at home.

Georgia Neil Browning, who was in college at Lubbock last term, is home for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs MacDonald and little daughter, Deanna, visited their brother, Bill MacDonald, at Pampa last week.

Dovey Lou Rae, who went to school at McLean last term, left Friday for her home at Oklahoma City.

Mrs. H. D. Hale and daughters visited Mr. Hale at an Amarillo hospital Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gross and Jackie have moved to Chino Valley, Ariz.

PRAIRIE CHICKENS HARD HIT

Texas lost practically its entire 1941 crop of the Attwater prairie chicken when flood waters in Colorado and several other south central Texas counties swept away the nests of the birds, it is reported to the executive secretary of the Game Department.

Prairie chickens, once very abundant in Texas, are now so scarce that the state legislature recently passed a bill maintaining the present closed season on the birds. Texas has two varieties of the chicken, the Attwater, found on the coastal plains, and the lesser prairie chicken, which is found in a few counties in the Panhandle.

Destruction of the nesting areas of the prairie chicken is the biggest cause of their decline in number. Cotton and other crops now grow where the chickens once thrived in the Panhandle, while the rice acreage is increasing each year in south Texas and the range of the birds is extremely limited. It is not considered likely that Texas will ever have a long open season on the birds, although it is barely possible that the game department will be able to restore the birds to a number sufficient to allow a very short season eight or ten years from now.

Born May 31 to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Woodrume, a 7½ lb boy named Gale Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dyer returned last week from a vacation trip to New Mexico.

Mrs. C. B. Batson and Mrs. Bryan Burrows were in Pampa Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Appling and daughters, Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Cobb were Amarillo visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Springfield, Colo., are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Charlie Roach, and family.

Mrs. Dewey Campbell went to Lubbock last week for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. D. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Johnson have returned from a visit to South Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackie Greer and children of Pampa visited in McLean Thursday night.

Earl Graham of Clarendon visited in McLean Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Alexander of Amarillo visited in McLean Sunday.

Miss Ruth Hart of Pampa visited in the C. J. Cash home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McLaughlin were in Pampa Friday.

Mrs. Amos Thacker and daughters were in Shamrock Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Turner and daughter of Wheeler visited the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kirby, Tuesday.

Mrs. R. H. Wells and daughter of Marshall are visiting Mrs. Porter Smith this week.

Mrs. J. J. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Anderson were in Pampa Sunday.

Jesse J. Cobb and family of Dallas visited relatives and friends here, this week.

Misses Florene Mullin and Beatrice Wetzel visited in Amarillo and Canyon Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. E. Cooke and Mrs. E. J. Lander were in Amarillo Monday.

Mrs. Lawrence Price and daughters of Estelline visited in the B. L. Anderson home Sunday.

Lloyd Callahan and family of Le-fors visited in the C. P. Callahan home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Greer and son visited in Pampa and Amarillo Sunday.

Mrs. J. B. Pettit went to Plano Wednesday to visit her husband, who is there for medical treatment.

Averill Christian made a trip to College Station and other points this week.

Mrs. Roy Campbell and daughter, Levey Campbell and son were in Pampa Tuesday.

Little Miss Peggy Ruth Ware of Laketon visited her aunt, Mrs. Amos Shankle, this week.

Miss Dorothy Evans of Panhandle is visiting her aunt, Mrs. C. O. Huber, and family.

Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Maxwell left Monday for a few days' visit at Bovina.

Mrs. Jack Dodson and little daughter of Heflin, Ala., are visiting in the Clifford Allison home.

Mrs. C. B. Batson and sons left Saturday for a visit at Bogalusa, La.

A. W. Haynes of Pampa visited in McLean over the week end.

Bobby Campbell returned Monday from a visit with relatives at Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Glass of Jarred were in town Friday.

Leonard Brawley has enrolled in the Air Corps at Fort Sill, Okla.

C. C. Cash underwent an operation for appendicitis Thursday night.

Mrs. Arrill King and daughters of Childress visited in McLean last week.

Mrs. C. C. Cash has been in Pampa at the bedside of her husband.

Miss Letha Belle Keeton of Pampa visited relatives here last week.

Mr. and Jerry Hale have moved to Denver City.

Harold Petty of Perryton visited home folks here over the week end.

Mrs. A. W. Brewer visited in Pampa Monday.

Rev. C. O. Huber and family visited relatives at Panhandle last Friday.

Johnnie Cubine is visiting his uncle L. L. Morse, at Grady, N. M.

Miss Shirley Johnston has returned to school at Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Davis visited in Bosque county last week.

Mrs. Roger Powers was in Pampa Monday.

Averill Christian was in Pampa Tuesday.

E. L. Sitter says to keep the home paper coming to his address.

Miss Dora Mae Overton is visiting relatives at Pampa this week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Graham visited at Amarillo and Canyon Sunday.

Mrs. C. S. Rice is visiting in Dallas this week.

Mrs. Sam Kunkel is visiting her son, Nugent, at Amarillo this week.

Mrs. Geo. Keeton of Pampa visited her sister, Mrs. D. R. Rice, this week.

A "SEA GOING" PRAIRIE DOG

Did you ever hear of or see a "sea going" prairie dog? Well, John Galbert, his son, John Jr., and Ernest Stakup, all of Brownwood, were amazed recently to find a prairie dog more than 150 yards from the shore in Lake Brownwood. The little rodent was heading for a 160 acre island in the lake. Mr. Galbert had to row the boat as fast as he could in order to catch the prairie dog. Its present home is in a chicken pen at the Galbert home.

It is a perfectly amazing thing that men should expect the government to go into ventures where they will not risk any of their own capital. Except for defense or social considerations, the same policies and dollars and cents considerations should apply in government as in business transactions.—George W. West, president First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Atlanta.

Texas, with the largest area and the most miles of designated highways, has one of the nation's smallest Highway Patrol forces to safeguard the lives of its citizens on the highways.

Willie—What is the difference between capital and labor, dad?
Dad—Well, son, the money you end represents capital—and getting t back represents labor.

Sign on the front gate of a house in Glasgow, Scotland: "Salesmen and canvassers barred."
"P. S.—except those with free samples."

He—I'm thinking of asking some girl to marry me. What do you think of the idea?
She—It's a great idea, if you ask me.

$5 WILL BUY $1000 Automobile Accident Policy Old Line Insurance

Many other advantages. Let us explain.
Arthur Erwin, Agent Great Northern Life Insurance Company

DENNIS REYNOLDS Attorney-at-Law McLean, Texas Practice in All Courts

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

RATES.—One insertion, 2c per word. Two insertions, 3c per word, or 1c per word each week after first insertion. Lines of white space will be charged for at same rate as reading matter. Black-face type at double rate. Initials and numerals count as words. No advertisement accepted for less than 25c per week. All ads cash with order, unless you have a running account with The News.

FOR SALE

Our cherries are ready now. Come and get them. Will Warren, Wheeler, Texas. 23-2p

LAUNDRY shirt boards, 40c per 100. Indelible marking ink, 35c. News office.

WANTED

WANTED.—Hauling of any kind, anywhere, any time. New Dodge truck and trailer, bonded and insured. R. R. C. permit. R. O. Cunningham, phone 1609F21. 222p

WANTED.—Man with car for special work. See L. T. Walker at Cobb's apartments after 7 p. m. 1p

FOR RENT

FOR RENT.—4 room modern house furnished or unfurnished. See Mrs. Lee Atwood. 23-2p

Here is a statement that would be hard to contradict. Robert A. Millikan says that the filling station men have improved the manners and courtesy of the American public more than all the colleges and universities in the country.

Mistress (annoyed)—How do you manage to make so much noise in the kitchen, Norah?
Cook—Well, you just try to break four plates without making a noise.

In great matters men show themselves as they wish to be seen; in small matters, as they are.—Gamaliel Bradford.

One reason we don't like the fellow who pretends to know more than we do is because he is so often able to prove it.

A discouraged traveling salesman wired his home office: "If Hitler wants more territory, he can have mine."

Jasper—Have you a book called "Man, the Master of Women?"
Salesgirl—The fiction department is on the other side, sir.

"It's a pretty safe rule that the fellow who agrees with everything you say is not worth talking to."—A Magazet.

REVIVAL AT DENWORTH

A revival meeting is in progress at the Denworth Baptist Church, with Rev. John W. Cobb of Plainview and Rev. E. J. Cobb of Andrews in charge.

According to information given at the Lions Club, rodeo boosters will be asked to don western regalia to advertise the affair, and Dee McMullen promised to police the town and see that those who fail to so dress are ducked in a water tank.

Mrs. J. B. Pettit, accompanied by Mrs. Peabody and little daughter of Kellerville visited at Clarendon Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. Fay Hinton of Farmington, N. M., visited Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Huber Tuesday.

Office Phone 2-3436 Res. Phone 2-5724

Office Hours 8 to 6; Sunday 9 to 12

DR. J. A. HARPER D. D. S. Dentist
Massie Bldg., 318½ Polk Amarillo, Texas

PUTTING IT MILDLY

Mr.—Teaching that calf to drink took me two hours, roughly speaking.
Mrs.—That's what you may call it, John, but I'd call it plain causing.

Indignant Parent (at 6 a. m.)—Young man, what do you mean by bringing my daughter in at this hour?
Escort—Well, I gotta be at work by 7 o'clock.

Roy Campbell made a business trip to Amarillo Monday.

Mrs. L. S. Tinnin of Alabaster visited friends in McLean Tuesday.

How to Look Lovelier
It's so easy... and even on a budget! Come in once a week—you'll like our work.
Permanents, Manicures, Facials, Tints
Phone 149
Landers Beauty Shoppe

PUCKETT'S Friday Saturday Specials
McLean, Texas

Coffee Folger's	1 lb can	27c
	2 lb can	53c
Compound Advance	4 lb. carton	55c
Fresh stock—not winter compound
Post Toasties	3 reg. pkgs.	25c
Meal	10 lb. print bag	25c
Hominy No. 2	3 for	20c
Beans with pork	16 oz. can	5c
Salmon Pink	2 cans	35c
Corn No. 2 Standard	3 for	25c
Grapefruit Juice	46 oz. can	15c
Tomato Juice	Del Monte 3 No. 1 cans	20c
Catsup	14 oz. bottle	10c
Malted Milk	Kraft with shaker 1 lb. can	35c
Matches	Firestone 6 box carton	15c
Dog Food	Ideal 2 for dozen	15c 85c

IN THE MARKET

Cheese	2 lb. box	51c
Pork Roast	lb.	20c
Bacon	White Label sliced lb.	24c
Mor or Treet	per can	25c