

Bradley - Magee Married At Dimmitt

Miss Martha Kay Bradley of Dimmitt and Joe Magee of McLean were united in marriage Aug. 8 in a double-ring, formal ceremony in Dimmitt's First Baptist Church.

Rev. Jack Riley of Amarillo officiated.

The bride, a 1967 graduate of Dimmitt High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dent Bradley of Dimmitt.

Magee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Magee of McLean, and is a graduate of McLean High School and is a Senior Student in Animal Science. He was a member of junior livestock judging team and was a past president of Block and Bridle at West Texas State. He is now member of senior livestock team.

The newlyweds are both students at West Texas State University in Canyon.

The Church sanctuary was decked with mint green candles and flowers for the wedding.

Maid of honor was Paralyne Render of Dimmitt. Bridesmaids were Janet Taylor of Hollis, Okla., the brides cousin, Cheryl Glidewell of Dimmitt and Suzahn St. Romain of Plains.

Jakey Hess of McLean, the groom's cousin, served as best man. Groomsmen were Dwight Hathaway of McLean, John Sublett of Hereford and Calvin Smith of Odessa.

Lighting the candles were Terri Bradley of Clayton, N.M., niece of the bride, and Rosehelen Dwyer of McLean, cousin of the groom.

David Smith of Amarillo, the groom's nephew, was the ring bearer. Flower girl was Patti Kay Bradley of Clayton, N.M., niece of the bride.

Ushers were Ray Bradley of Dimmitt, the bride's brother, and Gary Graham of Panhandle.

Janice Mooney played traditional wedding music at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Kristi Wesson, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length satin gown fashioned with sleeves. Hand-clipped Chantilly lace accented with seed pearls covered the Empire bodice and the hemline of the A-line skirt. The chapel length train was edged with an overlay of lace. A matching lace mantilla was secured by a headpiece of Lily of the Valley. The bride's attendants wore long sleeveless dresses and headpieces in mint green, and each carried a lace fan in matching color.

A reception in the church's fellowship hall followed the ceremony. Serving at the reception were Janice Gates, Deanna Harris and Donna Stafford.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a dark green brocade suit with matching accessories.

After Aug. 28 the newlyweds will be at home in Canyon, where they will continue their studies at West Texas State University.

BUSINESS AND POLITICS

Should businessmen be active in politics? This question can lead to heated arguments, but logic always seems to require an affirmative answer. We agree with a well-known member of Congress who puts it this way:

"Business leaders have an obligation to get involved in politics and to bring their wisdom and experience to bear on the process of selecting and electing the people who make our laws and run our government." The quote is from a speech by Sen. George Murphy (R-Cal.) before the Business-Industry Political Action Committee.

BIPAC is a bi-partisan organization which supports conservative candidates, regardless of their party affiliation, who believe in the free enterprise system and work for sound government.

Sen. Murphy urged that leaders get their young executives interested in and informed about the real meaning of political development. He said, "The future of the country is going to be in their hands and they must become involved."

"I beg the nation's businessmen to have faith in this government. Help it in every way you can. Realize the conditions under which it has to operate," Sen. Murphy added.

He stressed that businessmen should continue and increase political efforts to join the crusade—"pick up a few votes"—in order to preserve this great constitutional government, which "without question has been the most progressive, most humane and the most conducive to human freedom and happiness in the history of mankind."

TAX SAM SEZ:

Taxpayers Do As Told
The Dallas District Office of Internal Revenue analyzed the effect of Internal Revenue of-fered to taxpayers in North Texas through news stories, radio spot announcements and various TV spots and programs. There were 426,000 taxpayers who walked in to ask a question. When they looked over the statistical sample of all the calls, they found the taxpayers in a very large percentage of the cases do exactly what Internal Revenue asks them to do. When Internal Revenue suggested that they might need more information, the taxpayers called or walked in and asked for the information. When Internal Revenue gave them the answer to a simple question to save them the trouble of asking, the calls dropped to almost nothing.

The tax folks have been saying for a long time the taxpayers believed in voluntary compliance and wanted to do what was right. However, the tax folks learned what most of us already know—that some folks will listen real well, if you can just get their attention is almost impossible.
The newspaper publishers have been telling businessmen for many, many years that it pays to advertise. Of course, in recent years the radio and TV boys and the advertising firms have joined in. But now the good tax folks come along and prove that it pays to tell your story, whether it's good news or bad news. You still get results.

SMOKESTACKS

All around the world they marvel at American industry. Factory chimneys send great clouds of smoke skyward as we produce more and still more. There seems to be no end to man's progress, whether here on earth or out in the vast mystery of space.

In spite of all we do, there is still so much that we cannot do. For all our power, we are still frail and vulnerable. God has given us many capabilities, but we were never meant to "go it" entirely alone. To think that we need nothing beyond ourselves is not self-confidence—it is brashness.

There are moments when we all need to look into a special kind of mirror, by which we may re-examine our lives. Such a mirror may be found in church where God's word, if we really listen to it, can help show us the truth.

NEW SIX FLAGS RIDE DEBUTS AS FALL SEASON APPROACHES

Young guests at SIX FLAGS Over Texas, the popular family entertainment center between Dallas and Fort Worth, squeal their way over one of the hills in the Park's recently opened Mini-Mine Train ride. The Mini-Mine Train, SIX FLAGS' newest attraction, is a smaller version of the Park's Runaway Mine Train and is specially designed for the small fry.

Arlington, Texas—With SIX FLAGS Over Texas nearing its Fall operating schedule, the 145-acre family entertainment center between Dallas and Fort Worth has added yet another attraction, this one aimed especially at the Park's younger guests.

Once upon a time any youngster under a certain age, or not tall enough to pass the test, could not ride one of the most popular and daring rides at SIX FLAGS Over Texas. Now, fortunately, that time has passed.

SIX FLAGS recently opened its newest ride—the Mini-Mine Train, a scaled-down version of the Park's famous Runaway Mine Train. The new ride is designed especially for the youngsters at a cost in excess of $300,000. It offers many of the same thrills as its older brother, but at a much milder pace.

The Mini-Mine Train, operating on a pipe-track, runs a complete circuit of 700 feet in a fast minute and a half. The train's six cars hold 24 guests comfortably while they enjoy the dips and turns in the ride's lively trip.

Coming out of the station, the train rises to a height of approximately 20 feet, before speeding the rest of the way downhill through a series of rapid curves and dips. The train makes two runs around the track, giving its passengers two chances to get in their squealing and their thrills.

The ride is staffed, as are the rest of the Park's 85 rides, shows, and attractions, by SIX FLAGS' courteous Hosts and Hostesses, high school and college-age youngsters employed by the Park.

The new Mini-Mine Train is located in Bloomtown in the Modern USA section of the 145-acre family entertainment center, right next door to the Runaway Mine Train.

After Labor Day, September 1, SIX FLAGS will begin its Fall weekend-only operating schedule. After that date, the Park will open only on Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. until September 28. Then, from October 4 through November 30, the Park will be open on weekends only from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Prefabricated Will

Whether you are aware of it or not, a "will" has already been prepared for you. Known as the "statute of descent and distribution," it is a plan drawn up by your state legislature, to be used after your death in case you fail to make a will of your own.

How does this prefabricated will divide up your estate? Generally speaking, it follows a kind of law of averages, dividing things up the way an average person probably would.

In theory, that makes sense. But in practice, the use of cut-and-dried rules can have some startling consequences. For example:

In one case, a youth who murdered his father was held entitled to his estate. Under the state statute (since changed), a son's rights were automatic—no one having thought about the possibility of murder.

In another case, a woman was awarded her husband's estate even though she was living in adultery at the time of his death. To outraged objections by his relatives, the court replied:

"It is unnecessary to discuss wisdom or morality. It is sufficient that the legislature has declared the rules by which the rights of the parties must be determined."

True, these are extreme cases. But the prefabricated will also works out badly in many everyday circumstances. Take the situation when a man dies, leaving small children and only a modest estate.

In most states, if he has not made a will of his own, only part of his estate would go to the widow—the balance going directly to the children. For the widow, this could mean years of going through court procedures, for permission to spend the children's money on the ordinary expenses of life.

The trouble is not that the lawmakers, in drawing up the prefabricated will, don't try to be fair. Rather, the trouble is that they cannot possibly foresee the particular needs of each individual family.

They cannot know, for instance, that one of your children needs more protection than the others, or that you would like to make a grateful bequest to an old friend, or that you want to lend your support to a favorite charity.

Works Both Ways

"A man changes a job at least as often as a job changes a man."—Norman G. Shidle, Society of Automotive Engineers Journal.

Labor Day weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty were Roger Francis of Plainview, Francis L. Petty of Midland, who is spending the week, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Billingsley of Amarillo.

While you're saving money for college, make sure there's a college to save money for.

There are all kinds of ways to save money for a college education.

A good savings account. Life insurance.

Or U.S. Savings Bonds.

You see, U.S. Savings Bonds will not only save you money, but they'll insure your country's future at the same time.

It's one way of making sure there's a college whenever you're ready to send somebody to college.

But back to the money part. Let's say you buy your one-year-old son a $25.00 Bond every month. When he's 18 and ready for college, he'll have $5,506.00.

A $50.00 Bond every month would give him $11,012.00 when he's ready to enroll.

And the beauty is, you never have to worry about this investment.

You simply sign up through a Payroll Savings Plan where you work and then sit back and let the money pile up.

Savings Bonds now pay a new higher rate—4 7/8%—when held to maturity of 7 years.

And if they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, the Treasury Department will replace them free.

Also, with each Series E Bond you buy, you're entitled to buy the same or lower denomination Freedom Share.

Which pays 5% when held to maturity of 4 1/2 years and is redeemable after one year.

Any way you look at it, buying U.S. Savings Bonds makes sense.

They not only get the kids ready for college.

They keep the colleges ready for the kids.
