MURPHY BEATS THOMASON HERE

HOME-TOWN TALK By Beddy
THE first round's over, and now the fun begins all over again...

The Herald right here wishes to thank the election judges of the Howard county precincts, the election workers in the local precincts, the Anderson Music company, W. G. Hayden and all others who accorded it assistance and cooperation in gathering returns Saturday night for publication, for posting on the bulletin board and for announcing over the public address system.

The public address system installed by the Anderson boys filled the hall to perfection, as usual. Mr. Hayden very willingly gave us permission to hang the bulletin boards across the front of his building next to the Herald office. The election judges did well in turning in their returns either to the Herald office or at the court house.

A. C. Bass, Coahoma precinct chairman, deserves special thanks. Although his box is the largest in the county aside from some of the local ones, he telephoned complete returns for the entire ticket before 7:30 p. m., 30 minutes after the polls closed.

It was gratifying to find that the state-wide election news service obtained because of The Herald's membership in the Texas Election Bureau, filled a need and a desire of the public generally. Hundreds either stopped long enough to hear a state total announced and to take a look at the county returns board, or else camped in front of the office, several hundred until midnight.

This same service will be given for the run-off primary a month hence.

COLLECTOR, CONSTABLE IN RUN-OFF
San Angeloan Barely Carries Howard; Debenport In

E. E. (Pat) Murphy of San Angelo carried Howard county in his race for the 16th District Congressional seat, over his opponents R. E. Thomason of El Paso and Marvin L. Burkhead of El Paso. Murphy received 1,241, Thomason 1,142 and Burkhead 258.

Two county races will be carried over until the August 23 runoff. J. O. Tarnatt with 938 and Loy Acuff with 785, will go into the August primary battling for the office of Tax Assessor. They were the two high men in a field of five.

Nichols Leads
In the race for Constable, W. M. Nichols and John T. Williams, incumbent, will be in the run-off. Nichols was high with 993, Williams second with 850 and Ogden low with 571.

Judge H. R. Debenport received 1,632 votes to beat his two opponents H. C. Hooser, 909, and J. D. Cunningham, 315, in the first primary. He was seeking re-election.

LETTERS TO BE USED BY OFFICIALS
No Charges Filed In Death Found Near Toyah

Reeves County officers today were grasping at clues in a desperate effort to solve the murder of Mrs. J. R. Loyd, 36, said to be the wife of a Midland chiropractor, found dead at 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning on the Bankhead Highway, west of Toyah.

The woman was found by a driver of an El Paso passenger bus. She had been dead from four to six hours.

Police were at a loss for definite clues. In the woman's possession were letters, some of them to her from various parts of the country. Contents of the letters were kept secret by Reeves county officials.

HEAVY VOTE IN DAWSON
Special To The Herald
LAMESA, July 27.—Complete returns from all precincts in Dawson county show the following totals for candidates in the primary of Saturday:

Table with columns for candidates and vote counts for U. S. SENATOR, U. S. CONGRESS, GOVERNOR, etc.

Watson Is Placed On Committee of National Institute
O. T. Watson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, has been named a member of the registration committee of the National Institute for Commercial and Trade Organizations' Executive, Chicago.

With the Democratic primary out of the way and the run-off less than a month away, Howard County residents today were discussing the bearing the general election in November would have on division of the Howard County and district clerk's office of Howard county. At the present time the office is under one man, J. I. Frisard, and has been that way since Howard became a county.

According to the present statute, a vote in a general election, which multiplied by five with equal 5,000, splits the two offices. In other words, a vote of 1,000 in the general election in November will split the two departments, creating a County clerk and a District clerk.

Confers With Hoover
Earle S. Kinsey of Vermont conferred with President Hoover at the White House. He denied reports that he was under consideration for post of national republican chairman.

Complete returns for Martin county, state and county, are printed below:

SUICIDE IS VERDICT OF CORONER
Frank E. Weaver Places Gun Barrel In Mouth; Fires

Frank E. Weaver, 31, barber, was found dead at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning west of the San Angelo Highway, just off Scenic Drive, near the site of the old LaFonda Dance Hall. He was found by his wife and a companion who had been searching for him all of Sunday night.

Justice of the Peace Cecil Collings, who with Sheriff Jess Slaughter, and City Policemen Choate and Moseley, went to the scene, rendered a verdict of suicide.

According to county officials, Weaver had placed both barrels of a double barreled 12 gauge shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger of one barrel. Death was instantaneous. He had been dead several hours when found. The body was slumped over the gun when discovered this morning.

The gun, belonging to J. M. Newton, employee of the Ben Allen Barber Shop, was borrowed by Weaver Sunday morning about 10:30 o'clock. He identified the gun in the sheriff's office this morning. A previous attempt to borrow the gun had been made, Newton declared.

Two Taken To Prison
The historic "one-way wagon," driven by Bud Russell, transfer agent of the Texas penitentiary, stopped in Big Spring Sunday afternoon, long enough to pick up two "passengers" here and continue on his way to Huntsville.

Russell took charge of Bill Fry, escaped convict, arrested by Deputies Andrew Merrick and D. D. Dunn, and P. O. Rice, given two years for operating a gambling table at Porcan.

No other Howard County prisoners were taken, despite the fact several are ready to go to the penitentiary to start serving their terms.

Included in the mass Russell was transferring from various county jails to the penitentiary, was Bud Aiken, given 50 years in Dawson County for murder.

Others who were on the way to the "big house" follow: Gaines County—B. F. Cox, one year, liquor charge; J. C. Woolley, one year, liquor charge.

Dawson County—Charlie Bell, two years, forgery; J. H. Lee, two years, liquor charge.

Abilene Another Sweet Breeze

THE SWEEP DOCKERS

Wanted: craves Big Spring. A witness at hand tells the story of a man who wanted to split a two game series with the local aggregation. The episode is penned by the steady hand of K. H. Pierce, who declares that a few years ago the two towns got together on a series. Wished coming up here, but Big Spring flatly refusing to return the visit. Which wasn't very nice of Big Spring. "Anyway we are afraid the set would be repeated as it is almost next to impossible for Big Spring players to get off from their pressing duties to gallop across the country. We shall inform Mr. Pierce to that effect. So we shall

Of course Abilene was clay in the hands of the local ball chagrins. Long as Moonbeam, the chocolate-nosed ball hawk, sat on the rail with his rabbit foot, and nothing else, in his pocket. Abilene didn't have a show. Even at that however, we would have liked to have seen the Abilene youths cop the sixty percent of the gate receipts, without winning the game. They got little though at it were. Visions of someone steals floated down to the still fluid of realization that it would be hamburgers when the last started clouting them in the eighth. J. Frank Norris, Jr., Simpsona student, was the general manager of the Abilene aggregation. He held the purse strings and aided us in counting and ascertaining the shekels.

"Well, well, Mr. Norris," we cheered, "this is better than nothing, eh."

"Maybe it is," he replied as he pecketed the chicken feed, "but I'm going to have a tough time making 10 hungry boozers believe it."

We can't understand the poor showing made Sunday. Of course the local city league officials long ago abandoned hope of Big Spring residents giving any aid to the league. Phil Goldstein of the Crown Jewelry Store is the head Big Spring customer there is. There are a few, very few. The attendance all year has not come out of Big Spring, but from Coahoma, and the two refineries—Richardson and Couden. Since we've been here the city league hasn't asked anyone anything. We've paid as we went. We've plunked down ten percent of the gross receipts for the use of the park. We've paid out money to get the park to where it could be used. So far as it can be ascertained the City League doesn't owe any firm a thin dime. We've never asked an umpire to work for nothing, but have checked out three bucks a day for his labors. The gate keeper takes down the handsome salary of one dollar a day. The City League has done more for Big Spring than Big Spring has ever done for the City League. It has created a spirit of friendliness between the outlying sections of the city as a whole. It has brought outside trade into the city. We understand that sounds like Chamber of Commerce chatter, but it is the truth, never the less. Yet, a team travels all the way from Abilene to Big Spring to furnish a ball game, and the so-called portmen of this city don't care enough about it to get the buggy out of the stall and drive out to see one game. We've heard it said, "but the games are not any good." Yeah! How does anyone who hasn't seen a game know they aren't any good? You can't tell how good a game was by reading the news. We think a town that doesn't support a baseball team any more than Big Spring does, doesn't deserve any form of amusement. Understood we've managed to get along. But it hasn't been Big Spring's fault. It has been because the outlying sections, and the two refineries have dropped dollars after dollars in the tills to see these games. Big Spring has done nothing, absolutely nothing, and lots of it.

Well, well, fellow came up to us yesterday, declared he understood we would soon start raising money for the Steers' training camp, and he offered he would start the hot rolling with ten bucks. Hey, hey, he has been a resident of Big Spring for two months.

Spending of the fund, it won't be long now. Just in order to be acquainted you and your with the idea, it goes thus. The camp will be supervised by Bill Stevens, high school athletic master. About 60 high school football prospects and others will attend. It will last a couple of weeks at least, and will be held for the purpose of making the best out of the boys. It will take probably $200 or $300 to fund the business. With Stevens in charge the camp will be a success, no doubt. Just send your check, if you can't walk, to Stevens care to the bank. The date will start, the 10 will show off, in another week or two days.

LATE RALLY DECIDES FRAY

Nine Runs Founded Across Slab in Eighth

After trailing four runs in the arrears until the eighth inning, Big Spring reached Daniels for seven hits in that frame, to drive across nine tallies and defeat Abilene 12 to 7 Sunday afternoon at Dusty D.

Abilene drove Crouch, initial Big Spring chunker, from the corner topped mound, and Lefty Potter took over the job of stinging them in there in the fifth inning.

The greatest display of baseball, however, was staged in deep center field by Miller Harris, Big Spring outfielder. Eight times during the nine innings he accepted the long ones poked off Crouch and Potter, and more than once saved a tally from getting across the slab.

Shorty Madison tallied in the first inning when he was walked by Daniels, a southpaw, incidentally, advanced to second on Cook's sacrifice bunt, and tallied on Harris' sacrifice fly to center.

Die on Bags

In the first four innings Abilene got a man on the sacks, only to have him die. Crouch walked Hyde in the first, Hodges singled in the second, Andrea reached the bag on Boehn's error in third, and Hodges again singled in the fourth.

In the meantime Big Spring had cleaned one from the melee in the third. Stanton galloped down to first on Hodges error at short. Crouch got on with the aid of Grayson's error at third. Stanton tallied on C. Madison's sacrifice fly to right field. Cook singled and Harris singled to fill the sacks. Crouch was forced out at home and L. Madison went away to Harvey in right field.

Map Crouch

In the fifth the Abilene behemoths got Crouch. Harvey opened the inning with a bingle and Daniels was walked. Hyde rapped out a single and Andrea helped Crouch out of the pit by clouting a triple to score three. Potter took over the duty, scored Andrea on a wild pitch and hit Grayson with the pellet. After that, however, he performed with the usual grace.

Abilene picked up another in the sixth when McCollum singled and tallied when Stanton added in the seventh on a single by Andrea, an error by C. Madison at second, and a couple of sacrifices. Gollygity sacrificed to Harris in center to tally Andrea, and Hodges bunted to score Grayson.

In the meantime Big Spring was getting nowhere fast. After the third it was a sing of blanks until the seventh. In that inning Ayres doubled and scored on Potter's single. Came the eighth inning and four runs in the red. That eighth inning beat Abilene out of the huge sixty per cent.

Patrol Eighth

It was a general assortment of hits, runs errors and what not. Harris went to first on McCollum's error at first. Nesbitt popped out to Hyde and Connelly, who had gone in for L. Madison, doubled. Hoehn singled. Ayres was walked. Stanton flew away to Andrea in left and Potter singled. Sain, who had replaced C. Madison, singled. Cook went to first on Hyde's error after striking out. Harris tripled and Nesbitt singled. Connelly rapped out his second double of the inning. When the smoke had gone hither nine tallies had been registered. Abilene went scoreless in the ninth to end the fray.

Schaaf-Risiko Fight Tonight

NEW YORK, July 28—Ernie Schaaf, up and coming Boston heavyweight, battles Johnny Risiko of Cleveland, at Philadelphia tonight in what promises to be the week's outstanding flite attraction.

Schaaf has been unusually successful in the last year or so but he probably will be on the short end of the betting at ring time tonight for Risiko, despite his many years in the ring, still ranks as one of the toughest, if not the toughest, of all heavyweights to beat.

The main bout is at 10 rounds on a semi-final between Babe Ruth, Ponca City, Okla., heavyweight, and Ted Sandvina, Sioux City, Iowa.

In the metropolitan district, the only bout of much interest during the week is the ten rounder between Tom Heaney, New England Blacksmith, and Gwald (Guffy) Griffith, Sioux City, at the Greenhouse stadium tomorrow night.

Prime Carners needs George Cook in Cleveland's week show tomorrow night.

The American Library Association has received more than half of a $200,000 fund for the organization of county libraries.

Lehman Wins Western Crown

CHICAGO, July 28—(UP)—Johnny Lehman, young Olympia Middleweight, today had in his possession all the trophies offered for the annual Western Amateur tournament. Lehman defeated another Chicagoan, Ira Crouch Saturday in the final match for the championship, and yesterday ousted Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., eight-time winner of the title, in the playoff for medal honors. Evans and Lehman last week tied for medal at 14, but the youngster yesterday shot a 78 over the Beverly Country Club course to defeat Evans who had an 81.

STRIBLING TO MEET SCOTT THIS EVENING

LONDON, July 28—(UP)—L. (Young) Stribling, of Macon, Ga., and Phil Scott, the London fireman, meet in a 10-round bout at Wimbledon stadium tonight in what is hailed as a match for the world's heavyweight championship.

British boxing followers, believing Scott was the victim of an unjust decision in his Miami Beach, Fla., bout with Jack Sharkey, have clamored to recognize the authenticity of Max Schmeling's title claim. Hence the official designation of tonight's bout.

Harring rain, the young American promoter, Jeff Dickson, was counting upon a crowd of 20,000 to see the battle. Although Scott holds the heavyweight championship of his native land, he has found few Britons eager to back him financially against the Georgian. Stribling ruled a favorite by a wide being margin today.

NEW BIG SPRING BUSINESS FIRM LEARNS VALUE OF HERALD ADVERTISING SPACE

Oklahoma Brokerage Co., reports unusually large opening day business at S. Segal & Co. location.

DAY'S BUSINESS BEYOND EXPECTATIONS

Firm writes letter telling of its belief in newspaper space and of its first day's business in Big Spring.

After experiencing an unusually good business the first day of their opening in Big Spring the Oklahoma Brokerage Co. (conducting the sale of the S. Segal and Co. stock) wrote the following letter to the Herald:

OKLAHOMA BROKERAGE COMPANY

July 25, 1930

Big Spring Herald
Big Spring, Texas

We have just taken a check of the receipts of the sale we opened Thursday, July 24, and which was advertised extensively through your newspaper.

We have conducted sales throughout the Southwest on stocks our company has purchased, and have rarely met with the success that the sale in Big Spring was accorded. Sales cannot be a success, regardless of the great value one has to offer the public, unless the advertising is placed in the proper hands. Through the large crowds your newspaper attracted to our bankruptcy sale of the stock of the S. Segal & Co. in Big Spring, the sales ran far beyond our utmost expectation.

Thanking you for your co-operation in making the sale the great success it is, inasmuch as we depended on the newspaper to bring to the public the outstanding value we are able to offer, due to our buying high grade stocks at a fraction of their actual value, we are,

Yours sincerely,
THE OKLAHOMA BROKERAGE CO.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS Answered By Dr. S. Parker Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parker Cadman, Executive Director of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer queries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

How a young couple who are on their married life of optimism and courage, children were born, and hid sickness, one a very serious, necessitating a live operation and a protracted convalescence. All the father in an effort to get everything he could for children collapsed from work, and is now in such a condition that he will never be able to be employed on full again. The children have been educated and the burden falls on the staunch little mother, who may go down under the strain.

Do you not think a little caution in the right place would have mattered very much if the children had arrived a few years later, when the parents might have been able to meet doctor's bills and could have looked into the eyes of their children with a confidence born of the sense of physical fitness and a bank balance not to be displaced in these days for bringing up a family?

I ask this question in view of the fact that the father is now in such a condition that he will never be able to be employed on full again. The children have been educated and the burden

Education Reduces Child Accidents

A PRIMARY reason for the steadily increasing toll of automobile accidents is that we have attempted to meet changed conditions with old inadequate laws. In many states traffic laws have not been revised to any extent since the car came along.

Seventy Year-Old Woman Benefitted By Argotane

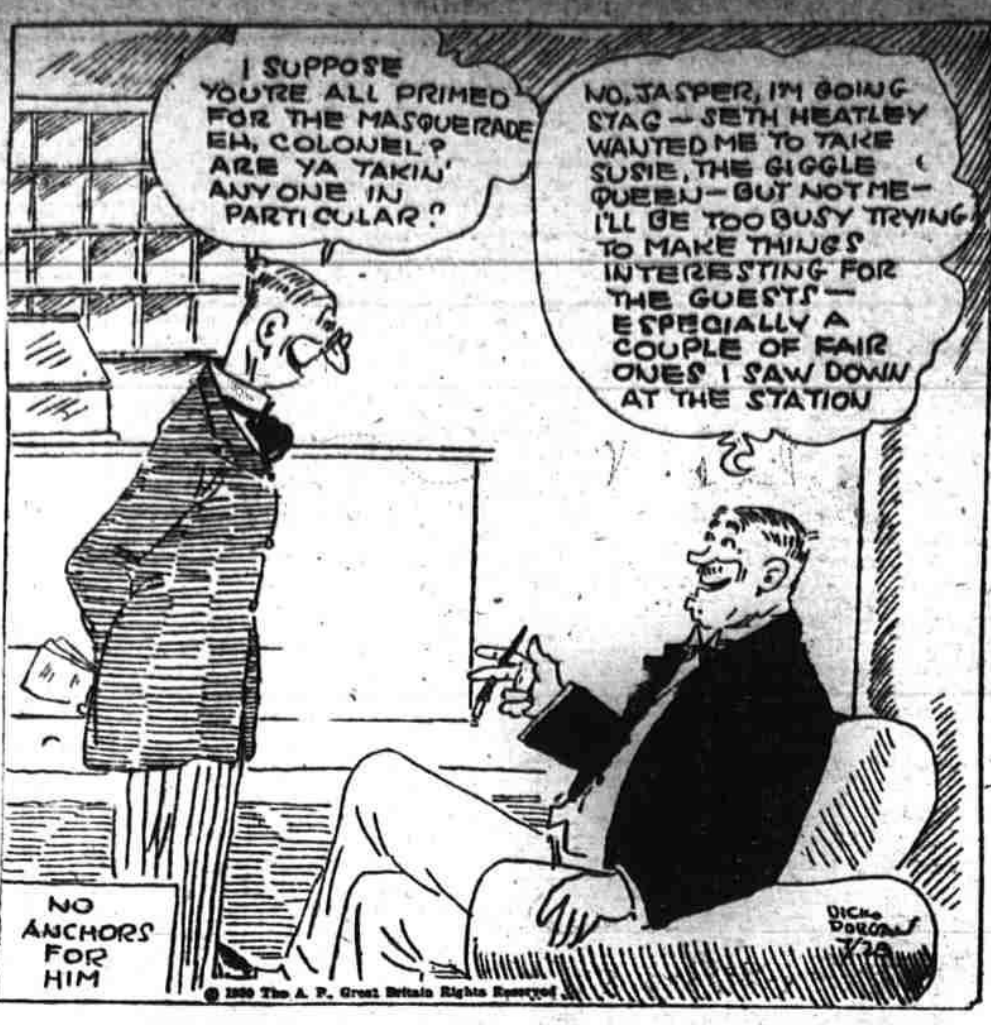

SWEETWATER WOMAN GREATLY BENEFITTED WITH ARGOTANE, FEELS LIKE A YOUNG WOMAN AGAIN. "I am now seventy years of age, but since taking Argotane, I don't feel that old, by a good many years," said Mrs. V. R. Horn, who conducts a hotel and boarding house at 203 Bowie St., Sweetwater, Texas.

"I feel it my duty," she continued, "to tell all the suffering people I can about what Argotane has done for me. About two years ago I lost my appetite, and my stomach went back on me and I would have no digestion, after every meal almost. What I ate, seemed to sour almost as soon as I would eat it, and caused a slight case of indigestion I was in a general run down weak condition and my whole nervous system seemed to go to pieces and any noise out of the ordinary would almost make me jump with fright."

Vaccination Against Typhoid Every summer and fall brings its special crop of typhoid cases. The lure of the outdoors brings to some unheeding and unfortunate few a train of misery and discomfort. For typhoid still prevails in the United States, and not a few of the entire streams and mossy wells that lend romance to the countryside are the recipients of the typhoid-laden seepage.

DAGGER by Mary Dahlberg

SYNOPSIS: Dagger, Marley, high-spirited young niece of a Texas rancher, hears shots across the Rio Grande while she is inspecting her father's fence. Pushing her horse through the shallow river, she rides fearlessly into a hall of bullets to rescue an American who is fleeing from a band of Mexican insurgents. Knowing the leader of the guerrillas, she argues him into releasing the American, Blaine Howard, who says he has been a newspaper correspondent with Villa's army.

Chapter 2 NO ORDINARY GIRL The leader of the cavalcade waved a hand in reply, and it was easy for Howard to see that it was his only hand. Welling was a slim, bronzed man, his light hair burned lighter by the sun, his blue eyes vivid against the tan, the hardness of his expression minimized by a mouth as tender as a woman's.

Welling glanced at him keenly. "Been smuggling?" "Oh, no," the girl spoke up. "Mr. Howard is a newspaper correspondent and Pancho wouldn't let him go - 'fraid he'd give away their border connections."

"And our friend Jose would have had me coddled, if this little lady hadn't appeared," amended Howard. "I've promised Mr. Howard some photos," said Dagger. "Couldn't we accommodate him?"

"I love him! I sent all the way to New York for him." "Monday you'll travel," Howard said. "Perhaps you'll come East, and see my collection."

"I've good health, sir," said the old ranchman, bowing to Howard. "Hear, hear," assented Welling. "Mr. Howard," added Dagger, and tossed off her portion without blinking.

Dagger is all admiration for this man chance has brought into her life. Follow their budding friendship in tomorrow's chapter.

Whose Baby Am I?

Well May He Ask! Neither Family Will Claim Him In General Mixup

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP)—The Watkins-Bamberger baby tangle which has been jounced from the laps of obstetric, department of health, finger print experts, bone blood, and baby specialists, a maternal mass meeting and even the law, lay cradled today in the bawls of the church. Still it did not rest.

The infant in the possession of the Charles Bambergers was baptized George Edward Bamberger at the church of Our Lady of Solace yesterday.

The William Watkins' who are Presbyterians and who believe the baby baptized a Bamberger is really their own offspring, today sought the advice of a clergyman of their own faith with a view to having the child in their possession baptized without application of a name.

The Watkins' attorney, Barratt O'Hara, was getting ready to ask a writ of habeas corpus to compel the Bambergers to produce their baby in court, and show cause why they should not surrender it. In such an action, it was explained, the matter would be placed before the court which would make final decision as to whom the infant belongs.

The attorney also was instructed to bring suit for $100,000 damages against the Englewood hospital where the Bamberger and Watkins babies were born June 30. Bamberger, on the other hand, has announced that everything is settled, that he is satisfied he now has his own infant and that no legal action of any kind is contemplated.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins expressed no concern over the fact that the baby they believe to be their own was christened a Bamberger.

"When we get the baby trade arranged, we'll have him re-baptized into our faith," they said.

Representatives of leading hospitals and several prominent baby specialists were asked yesterday if in their opinion a mother would recognize her new born babe. The replies, with one exception, were in the affirmative: That a mother could recognize her baby unmistakable after having seen it once or twice.

Dr. C. D. Paddock and Dr. H. H. Vibson, obstetricians, and Dr. S. L. Hadden of Oak Park hospital, all agreed she could.

But Miss J. F. Christie, superintendent of Chicago lying-in hospital, said she would not care to say a mother would know her child on second or third encounter.

Dr. Paddock said the mother at once sees features resembling her family's or her husband's. Thus the child to her has its father's eyes, its maternal grandmother's nose or its ears may set on the head at the angle of Uncle Bob's. To its father, other relatives and outsiders, it may look like "just another baby."

"You can't fool a mother after she has seen her baby a few times," Dr. Hadden said. "In fun I have made tests to see. I have asked mothers to select their children from among several brought in from the hospital nursery and they did so correctly."

Again let me say that I appreciated every vote, and particularly do I thank those who were active in their support of my candidacy.
