Most knowledge is gained as a result of curiosity.

The chronic handshaker usually has something up his sleeve.

Strong men have strong features. A doll's features indicate a doll's mind.

There are slackers in all wars, and the memory of man being what it is, they are generally forgotten after a few years, but while the war is going on they do not rate so high. There is no excuse for a man slacking in war time, and it now begins to look as if women should recognize their responsibility also. Those patriotic women who are in the armed services are doing a fine work for victory, but their number is far too few. So many women in every community, who could join one of the women's services, are not taking their responsibility seriously. It may develop that women must be drafted along the same lines as men before victory is finally won.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To: T. E. Maley, Greeting:
You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock a. m. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 2nd day of April, A. D. 1945, at or before 10 o'clock a. m., before the Honorable District Court of Gray County, at the Court House in Pampa, Texas. Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 16th day of February, 1945. The file number of said suit being No. 7783.

The names of the parties in said suit are: Eva Jane Maley as plaintiff, and T. E. Maley as defendant. The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: Plaintiff alleges cruel, unkind and harsh treatment, and the excessive use of intoxicating beverages, on the part of defendant.

Issued this 16th day of February, 1945. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Pampa, Texas, this 16th day of February, A. D. 1945.

SOMETHING BORROWED

Until the year 1770 this law was in force in England—"Whoever shall entice into bonds of matrimony any male subject of her Majesty by means of rouse, white paint, Spanish cotton, steel corsets, crinoline, high-heeled shoes, or false hips shall be prosecuted for witchcraft, and the marriage declared null and void." Isn't it about time for this law to be re-enacted?—The Ladies Magazine, June, 1870.

ELECTION NOTICE

STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF GRAY,
CITY OF McLEAN.

To the qualified voters of the City of McLean, Gray County, Texas: Please take notice that an election will be held on Tuesday, April 3rd, 1945, in the City of McLean, Gray County, Texas, at the City Hall in said City, for the purpose of:

- Electing a City Mayor.
- Electing two City Aldermen for a regular term.
- Electing one City Alderman for an unexpired term, vacancy created by removal from the corporate limits of McLean by M. T. Wilkerson.
- Electing a City Secretary.
- Electing a City Marshal.

Every person who has attained the age of twenty-one years, who has resided in the State of Texas twelve months and within the corporate limits of the City of McLean, Gray County, Texas, six months prior to the date of said election, and is a qualified voter under the laws of the State of Texas, shall be entitled to vote at said election.

No person shall be eligible to any of said offices unless he possesses the requisites for voters at such election.

E. L. Cubine has been appointed to serve as presiding officer of said election, and he shall select two judges to assist him in holding the same.

Said election shall be held in the manner prescribed by law for holding elections.

Witness my hand and seal of office this 27th day of February, A. D. 1945.

BOYD MEADOR, Mayor of the City of McLean, Gray County, Texas.

Attest: W. E. BOGAN, City Secretary.

P. O. SAYS "NO!"

The post office department says "NO!" to a guessing contest, whether there is any consideration involved or not. Even says "NO!" to a door prize given for attendance at a stockholders' meeting where no admission is charged, or at a kids' birthday party. "Mustn't mention it in the news."

Of course the PO isn't the "law" but you can get in more trouble faster with them.—W. S. Southmayd, editor, Vesta (Minn.) Vision.

The per capita cost of operating our government for the first year (1789) was approximately 30c.

CAPABLE

A girl entered the manager's office to apply for a job, and when asked if she had any particular qualifications or unusual talents, stated that she had won several prizes in crossword puzzle and slogan contests.

"That sounds good," the manager told her, "but we want somebody who will be smart during office hours."

"Oh," she exclaimed brightly, "this was during office hours."

MATTER OF HONOR

No doubt OPA felt it had important reasons for canceling food stamps without notice. But is anything more important than to maintain faith in the promises of the United States? "Buy only what you really need."

Relying on OPA assurances, thousands of people patriotically held off buying groceries until actually needed. They did not board. This was in the interest of the nation, as well as themselves. Now, the points they relied on are "scraps of paper."

Those skeptical of the OPA were rewarded, the trustful penalized. The former got groceries, the latter got the axe.

Beginning last summer, the administration began to ease up in rationing. This was done in more than a dozen cases. It created a favorable political atmosphere in which to campaign for a fourth term. Now, with the election over, rationing goes on again. Why? The people are entitled to ask whether OPA was shortsighted or was playing politics with food.

Who has forgotten the 1936 campaign when hundreds of thousands of WPA jobs were created during August, September and October? This was before it got cold, when the weather was mild, but when a campaign was on. When the election took place, within a fortnight those on relief began to be dismissed, with winter coming on.

Following the 1944 election, restrictions on food and meat increase, in face of the fact that our farmers and cattle men have produced the greatest backlog of food and meat in our history. During the month of November, in which the election was held, we shipped overseas on lend-lease 467,500,000 pounds of food and farm products.

No one objects to rationing necessary to win the war. It is not gripping, however, to demand that the United States be careful of its reputation for honesty. A great deal depends on the honesty of government.

In 1933 this government repudiated the solemn promises to the veterans of the first world war in their war risk insurance policies. The Supreme Court unanimously said that the United States could not repudiate its promises to soldiers. This was the same Supreme Court that was later so savagely attacked.

This government issued $500,000,000 of bonds payable in gold coin of a certain weight. Within three months thereafter it repudiated that promise. Congress recognized that this was an act of national dishonor so far as foreigners were concerned by assessing American taxpayers $23,983,750.88 to make up the loss to the treasurer of the Philippine Islands on deposits he had in United States banks payable in gold. This another case where foreigners were given what was denied to Americans!

The Supreme Court also held that this was repudiation. Speaking for the Court, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes said that this was "as much repudiation, with all the wrong and reproach the term implies, as it would be if the repudiator were a State, a municipality, or a citizen."

Four of the nine judges added: "Loss of reputation for honorable dealing will bring us unending humiliation; the impending legal and moral chaos is appalling."

An official bulletin of the Department of State on August 16, 1931, read: "The following statement was signed by the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Great Britain." This referred to the Atlantic Charter. Was it signed? It was not.

To keep its word, OPA might have sacrificed much.—Samuel B. Stettin.

THANK A LOT

During a question period following a lecture, a man arose and put a foolish query to the speaker. The latter replied:

The logic of your question makes me think of another. Can you tell me why fire engines are always red? You can't? Well, fire engines have four wheels and eight men. Four and eight are twelve. Twelve inches make a foot. A foot is a ruler. Queen Elizabeth was a ruler. The Queen Elizabeth sails the seven seas. Seas have fish. Fish have fins. The Russians fought the Russians. The Russians are red. Fire engines always rushin'. Therefore, fire engines are always red. I hope this answers your question also."

Sending a telegram to his wife—really to announce his safe arrival at his destination after a long train journey—a soldier filled in the telegraph form: "Darling, darling, darling, darling, darling."

"With the address, that makes eleven words," said the assistant. "You're allowed another word."

"But there's nothing else I want to say," said the soldier.

"You could always put in another 'darling,'" suggested the assistant.

The soldier pondered for a spell. "Don't you think that would look rather silly?" he asked.

KEEPING OUT POETRY

Calvin Graham, owner of the McLean County Times, of LaFayette, Tenn., in common with most other weekly newspaper editors, does not highly regard the unsolicited contribution of amateur poets. He has notified the boards within the bounds of his circulation that hereafter there will be a charge of one cent per word for all poems, with the editor reserving the right to edit any effusions submitted. He has had exactly the same policy since he published this notice.

Children have neither a past nor a future. Thus they enjoy the present—which seldom happens to us.—Brygers.

ON WINE THE DANCK

When we read that despite the solemn covenant of 1822 against the return of the saloon, 1846 saw the most liquor drunk per person in the nation's history—26.40 per capita. That counts children and all. For a family of four, an average liquor bill of $218 a year, nearly $50 a month. Oh with the dance! And Washington, D. C., where Mr. Roosevelt and his chiefs rule supreme, the per capita consumption of liquor is the highest of any city in America. One would think that some of the hundreds of thousands employed in the liquor industry and its saloons and cocktail bars could find jobs in critical war production.—Pettingill.

Cosmetics have been used by women for many centuries. Propolis, Nero's wife, used white lead and chalk for powder; Cleopatra found mud packs helpful in preserving her beauty; and even the American Indian maid used the crimson juice of a blood root plant for rouge.
