Three-Day Rodeo Program Will Open Friday

Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week May 2-7

The city's trash truck will make several rounds of the residential district all next week, and possibly the week following, to pick up trash accumulated during the campaign, Guy Hibler, chairman of the Lions civic improvement committee, stated this week.

The city has only one trash truck, and it is expected to take several days to complete the rounds of the residential district. Any trash accumulated next week, however, will be picked up, although city workers may experience difficulty getting it all picked up next week.

The campaign to clean-up, paint-up, and fix-up the city is being carried throughout the United States. National sponsors explain that it is held to lessen the danger of fire, as well as to cut down on diseases caused by filth.

Last year in Gray County alone, a total of 23 polio cases were reported. It has been found that the common housefly carries the germ, and the cleaner a city is, the smaller number of flies are found. No cases in McLean were reported last year, probably due to the fact that the city sprayed alleys several times with DDT solutions.

Trash, it was explained, is also a common cause of fires. Fire insurance companies throughout the U. S. work with the sponsors of the clean-up campaigns, in an attempt to educate all citizens of the fire dangers from trash, rags, etc.

As a general rule, most McLean residents cooperate fully in the clean-up campaign, and it is believed that this year will be no exception.

Square Dance Festival Set

The Panhandle district is holding its second annual Square Dance Festival at the new American Legion home in Shamrock, May 7, with the Shamrock Dancers Club and the American Legion acting as hosts for the occasion.

The Legion home will be open for registration at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The evening program will begin at 8 o'clock and will continue until midnight. Admission will be 75 cents per person, and spectators are invited to attend, Mrs. Vernon Brown of Shamrock said.

The district organization will be set up during the afternoon, with an organizational meeting scheduled for 4 o'clock. In this way the dances in the future at various places in the district can be held.

City Officials Take Oath at Council Meet

New city officials—the mayor, two aldermen, and city secretary—were installed at a meeting of the city council Monday night.

Taking the oath as mayor was Harris King, who succeeds Boyd Meador as the top city official. New aldermen sworn in were Guy Beasley and W. L. Copeland.

They take the places of R. T. Dickinson and Roger Powers.

D. A. Davis, who was re-elected as city secretary, was installed in that office again. J. A. Brawley, who was named as the city marshal by voters in the recent city election to succeed J. A. Sparks, was not present to qualify and take the oath for that office.

Little other business was transacted. The votes of the city election, and of the bond issue election, were canvassed by the old council members before the installation of the new members.

Some discussion on the municipal building and city hall was held, but no definite decisions were reached. The $50,000 bond issue must first be approved by the attorney general of Texas, and this action is expected to require about 30 days.

Services were conducted by Rev. Douglas Nelson of Pampa. C. A. Cryer of Borger, former school superintendent here, assisted Rev. Nelson with the services. Interment was in Hillcrest Cemetery under the direction of the Calborn-Womack Funeral Home.

Funds Sought To Aid Fight Against Cancer

Launching the 1949 fund-raising campaign of the American Cancer Society, Texas division, a group of McLean Lions Club members last week began a special gifts canvass of local citizens.

J. Ray Martin of Pampa, county campaign chairman, said, "We hope to have this canvass of special givers completed soon and in this way get the campaign over quickly."

"People in all walks of life will be asked to give to the fight against cancer," he added. "There can be no special privileges in this battle against disease, because cancer makes no distinction between rich and poor."

Martin stated: "One thing which no man or woman can afford to laugh off or shrug off as the other fellow's worry is cancer. You may be nourishing an incipient pet cancer and not be aware of it—yet."

"The important thing at this stage is to discover the sinister invader; for most cancers can be cured if caught in time."

"While science searches and gropes for the key to cancer's complete cure, humanitarians all over the country are striving to arouse the people to the danger, to induce them to consult their doctors about danger signals, and to see that treatment is arranged for those unable to pay for it."

To those ends, the Texas division of the American Cancer Society is conducting a campaign to raise $50,000 in the state. Of the money Texans are asked to give, 60 per cent will be used for information centers, cancer clinics, and other activities in Texas. The remainder goes for a national research program and the national educational program.

Utility Room vs. Basement

Whether to have a basement or a utility room is a question which every home builder has to decide. Each has certain advantages. There is a saving in excavation cost and in the foundation in basementless construction. On the other hand, a house with a basement has more usable space—space for storage, for the laundry, the heating plant, and for recreation and hobbies that can be enjoyed by all members of the family.

A modern forced circulation hot water heating system, fired with oil, will operate equally well from a basement or from a utility room, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

A total of 438,000 central domestic oil heating installations were made in 1948 bringing the total number of central domestic oil heating installations to over four million—4,112,591 to be exact.

Cleanliness, convenience and adaptability to automatic control are some of the advantages of oil heating.

Vets Can Apply For Farm Unit

One hundred four individual farm units of about 130 acres each have been opened for home-stead settlement on the Heart Mountain Division of the Bureau of Reclamation's Shoshone Project in northwestern Wyoming, according to K. F. Vernon of Billings, Mont., director of Bureau's Region 6.

Included in the opening, the third on this division since the end of World War II, are 12,073 acres of irrigable land. The average farm unit contains 116 acres of irrigable land and about 15 acres of non-irrigable land suitable for pasture and other purposes. Veterans of World War II are given preference of application. County Agent Ralph Thomas of Pampa has additional information on the project.

Applications for the irrigable farms received by the superintendent of the Shoshone Project at Cody, Wyo., by 2 p. m., July 12 will be considered simultaneously filed. Copies of the public notices, application forms and detailed information about the opening may be secured from the regional director's office, R. H. Workinger, manager of the Big Horn District, Bureau of Reclamation, Cody, or from the Shoshone Project office.

One hundred of the 104 units are near Ralston, Wyo., the remaining four are three miles north of Cody. The units have never been cultivated. Canals, laterals and other structures to bring the irrigation water to the farm units have been constructed by the Bureau of Reclamation.

Applications for the farm units received before the close of the simultaneous filing period and which are complete, including proof of veterans' preference, will be entered in a public drawing to establish a priority by which veterans will be considered for the available farms. Following the drawing, the applications will be reviewed by an examining board composed of local citizens and one Bureau of Reclamation employee.

Pay Other Than Cash Counts on Social Security

The Amarillo social security office points out that while employers usually report all cash payments to their employees, they do not always include the money value of other pay which is made in some medium other than cash. This has come to attention of the office during the handling of claims for benefit payments in this area.

J. R. Sanderson, manager of Amarillo social security office, explained that the word "wages" used in the Social Security Act includes pay of various types. It includes cash, payments in kind such as meals, lodging, rent, or goods, and of course, salaries, bonuses, back pay, as well as by the hour, day, or week.

Workers who receive part or all of their pay in the form of meals or lodging, rent, or goods of any sort, should contact the Amarillo social security office, located in Room 224, Post Office building. Ask for a postcard form which makes it easy to obtain a statement of wages credited to the employee's account.

All persons covered by Federal old-age and survivors insurance should keep in mind that benefit payments to them or their survivors are based on wages from jobs covered by the Social Security Act.

Make Sure Food Is Safe in Cafes, State Doctor Says

Emphasizing the importance of proper sanitation standards in public eating establishments, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, urged the patrons of such establishments to insist upon cleanliness in the preparation and dispensing of foods.

The health authorities cannot maintain daily inspections of cafes and other food handling places, and if the public is careless in accepting insanitary conditions, dozens of infectious diseases can be transmitted to the public from unsanitary food and utensils.

"Food handlers schools are being taught constantly throughout the state," Dr. Cox said, "and every cafe owner should take advantage of these schools to see that his personnel is trained in the sanitary methods of preparing, storing and dispensing food to the public. If that is their profession they should qualify themselves to do the work safely. This is the restaurant owner's responsibility to his patrons."

The public should insist upon a cafe being free from roaches, flies, and other insects; cracked dishes should never be used; tables and linens, as well as dishes and silverware should be scrupulously clean, and milk should be served in the original container, with the tap intact. They should note whether or not a cafe displays a placard stating that its standards of sanitation have been approved by local or state health officials.

"Obviously the best in sanitation can be had only through close cooperation between the public and health officials. As long as the public approves and accepts insanitary conditions in eating establishments, they will continue to exist," Dr. Cox warns.

WEEKLY MARKET REPORT

Both gains and losses appeared in the price picture of southwest farm markets during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports. Some products showed little change.

Egg and poultry prices changed hardly any since a week ago. Current receipt eggs remained at 40 to 41 1/2 cents a dozen in North Texas, 41 to 44 in New Orleans, and mostly around 39 at Denver. Fryers sold around 30 cents a pound at the farm in northwest Arkansas, 32 to 33 at Fort Worth and Dallas, and 31 to 35 elsewhere.

Cattle eased slightly at Fort Worth but gained a little at Oklahoma City, as other southwest markets showed steady or mixed trends. Stockers and feeders increased in numbers. Medium and good stocker calves changed Dressed pork lost $1 to $2 for the week at eastern markets. Carlot shipments of Arkansas strawberries got under way this week. Markets held firm despite light demand. Very slack demand lowered strawberry prices at Hammond, Louisiana. Rainy weather practically stopped onion harvest in south Texas onion districts for most of the week. Potatoes found slow sale in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Prices dropped 50 to 70 cents a sack for the week, and most shipments went to the government under the support program. Carrots held steady.

Cotton lost 75 cents to $1.50 a bale at most markets. Spot middling 15/16 inch closed Monday at 33.05 to 33.15 cents a pound in Texas and Louisiana, and 32.63 at Little Rock.

CLEAN-UP - DON'T BURN UP!

THE TIME IS HERE

NEXT WEEK has been designated as Clean-Up, Paint-Up, and Fix-Up week, in accordance with plans by the sponsoring organization, the McLean Lions Club, to get McLean in readiness for the summer.

It may be quite possible that you are not financially able to do a great deal of painting and fixing up, but it takes more money to clean up. The real thing needed for a good clean-up campaign is some old-fashioned "elbow grease."

There are many, many things to be done. Many people have already spent hours and hours in cleaning up their yards, their homes, and their alleys, and yet they are merely getting started.

First of all, there's the inside of the house to be cleaned thoroughly. Many housewives, feeling that the high winds and sandstorms are mostly gone for the season (or at least hoping that), have already cleaned their homes. Many still have not, but intend to go about that general spring cleaning inside the house in the very near future.

Outward appearances are those which count for the most part, however. Yards became littered with leaves last fall, and most of those leaves are still littering the yards. Some may have rotted, but still remain. Raking leaves is not too pleasant a job, but it's another of those things. And the city trash trucks will be making extra rounds to carry off those excess leaves—and paper.

One thing we should pay particular attention to is the alleys. Generally, we give little thought to the importance of clean alleys, but last summer taught us differently. Most of the alleys in McLean were kept clean. The city employees sprayed the alleys regularly, and the fly menace was kept at a minimum. In other localities in the same county, however, apparently this was not true, and 23 people became victims of the dreaded polio disease—a germ which is ordinarily carried by the common housefly. We can avoid this disease again this year by cleaning up our alleys now, and keeping them that way throughout the summer.

Let's all work together next week, and make McLean the cleanest place in the U. S. It can be done.

LES

BY LESTER

The regular readers of this column (that small group of very fortunate people) must well know that I was pleased with the results of the bond election last week. I feel that the building will be a great asset to all of us.

I do have a suggestion as to its construction, but I do not profess to know anything about such affairs. My suggestion is this: Since it will be used part of the time as a gym, I think the city council should confer on the details of the building not only with the school board members themselves, but also the coaches. The coaches have been in many, many such buildings, and they know well the type of dressing rooms, etc., which will be needed. Since it will be used as an auditorium also, I think that the council should confer with someone who knows something about the use of auditoriums.

Those are about the only suggestions I can think of offhand, and I'll venture that every member of the council has already thought of them. Oh well, just wanted to get in my two cents' worth.

This week-end is the rodeo week-end. As assistant to George Terry on the publicity committee, it has fallen my lot to send out publicity stories to various and sundry papers and radio stations during the past few weeks. I note with pleasure that practically every one of these papers used the stories—papers at Amarillo, Pampa, Canadian, Perryton, Wellington, Shamrock, Wheeler, Memphis, Groom, Sayre, etc., etc. You may notice that occasionally we run a publicity story of some event happening in another town. We get no pay for that, just as these papers I mentioned get no pay for helping us with our rodeo. They did it as a favor to the local American Legion post. That is exactly the same reason I run their publicity stories if at all possible. Friendliness and cooperation generally pay off in the long run. We can't isolate ourselves or our town and exist.

As to the rodeo, let's all go. The Legion members have gone to a lot of work and expense in promoting this thing, and it will be a help to our town, regardless of how you may enjoy rodeos. So let's all go and help the Legionnaires make it a success, for they are doing their best to help the town.

Last Thursday night I had the extreme pleasure of attending the annual Junior-Senior banquet. My hat is off (if I had one I was proud enough of it) to Paul Kennedy and Haydn Bodenhamer, the junior class sponsors, for the splendid work they did in leading their students toward the accomplishments of the banquet. Long will the 1949 seniors—the '99'ers, as they are called—remember the affair. Congratulations to all juniors and their sponsors.

Next week is Clean-Up, Paint-Up, and Fix-Up week in McLean. Right now I want to say that we should all clean-up, paint-up, and fix-up. I believe McLean is as pretty a small town as I have ever seen, but dirt can mar its appearance considerably. The other day a lady told me she had never seen McLean as dirty as it is now. Shame on us. How about all of us getting in behind this Lions-sponsored clean-up program, and really cleaning up our town?

Don't forget that the city will spray your lawn with dandelion-killing stuff for a very small fee—just enough to take care of the materials used and a small labor fee. And also don't forget those dandelions will really take over your yard if you don't get after them.

We had a want ad last week that got results before it ever had the opportunity to get in print. Gene Herron came in, said he had a stray bull on his place, and that the bull was tearing down everything in his sight. He wanted the owner to come get it. Before the ad was ever set, the owner did come and get the bull. That just goes to show that sometimes even a bull does not want to be criticised in a paper. Like most people, no doubt.

Speaking of criticism, perhaps Life magazine runs more letters to its editors of a critical nature than any other publication. I was very amused at one of these in a recent issue. Some fellow wrote the magazine, and avowed that the picture of an old car was an old Ford and not an old Studebaker. He said he ought to know it was a Ford for he had driven one just like it for over 100,000 miles on California roads! The editor of Life answered simply: "It's a Studebaker."

Conservation Board Outlines How Plan of Work Is Made

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles taken from the annual report of the Gray County Soil Conservation District Board.)

Assistance Which Will Be Requested and Used by the District Supervisors

It is planned to request the various agencies of both the state and federal departments of agriculture to furnish any assistance that might be available for use in carrying out the various phases of this plan of work. The extension service and Vocational Agriculture department at McLean will be expected to assist with educational work, and to inform farmers and ranchers of the kind of work planned to be done by the district. The Soil Conservation Service will be asked to furnish technical help to operators in preparing and applying soil and moisture plans, and also furnish planting materials and special equipment if available. The Production and Marketing Administration will be expected to provide financial assistance for carrying out many of the needed soil and conservation practices. The Farmers Home Administration may assist operators in financing reorganization of their units, if necessary, in order to place their operations on a sound basis. It is also planned to utilize any assistance that might be available from the County Commissioners Court, civic clubs, individuals, or any other assistance that might be secured.

District Reports

The district supervisors will maintain a record of all official meetings and will prepare an annual report which will record the accomplishments and progress of work in the district during the preceding year. The supervisors will expect to receive reports from the various agricultural agencies regarding the specific assistance which they have rendered the district, and will incorporate the material from such reports in their annual report.

Annual Plan of Operations

In order to utilize to the best advantage the assistance which may be made available to the district by cooperating agencies, the board of supervisors will develop an annual plan of operations which will briefly outline existing conditions and facilities for doing the work and which will also include suggestions as to what type of work will be expected during the next year.

In developing this plan, an analysis will be made of existing conditions which will consider the total job to be done, the amount of work accomplished to date, amount of work remaining to be done, and facilities available for doing the work. Following the making of this analysis, a determination will be made as to the amount of work which will be expected to be done during the current year and will outline briefly where and by whom it is expected that the work will be done.

Provision for Revision and Improvement of the District Work Plan

The district supervisors will review the district work plan at least once each year, with assistance from other local farm or ranch leaders and appropriate agency representatives, and will make such revisions or additions to the plan as may be needed to secure the most effective establishment of the needed soil and moisture conservation practices in the district.

Good Breeders — Better Chicks

The condition of breeding stock affects the fertility and consequently the number of chicks hatched, reminds Don Brooks, poultryman at Oklahoma A. & M. College.

Beware of Filth On Vacation

The early spring usually brings the first days of near-summer weather to Texas, and literally thousands of Texans commence to make serious and detailed plans for their annual vacation which is of great importance to the health and well being of every man, woman and child. A vacation can relax nervous tension, bring renewed vigor, and usually supply an opportunity for more sunlight and outdoor activities than is customary for office workers and those of sedentary occupations. But traveling to vacation spots for the purpose of "roughing it" can also bring a serious health menace in the form of typhoid germs from impure water supplies, and for this reason, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state

COLOR SYMPHONIES

Look who's here — none other than that personable gentleman Mr. Bunny, reminding us that Easter is only a hop, skip and a jump away. Time to buy a new bonnet for the big parade. Also time to buy Easter egg dye, for who wants to miss the annual party when all the family gathers to turn the kitchen into an artists' colony?

Solid colors are traditional in most families as well as name writing. But if you want some different suggestions for this Easter "show," consider these.

On pale pink or yellow eggs, draw eyes with a black crayon, cut a chick's beak from white paper and paste on. Then paste a feather on the back of the "head" for fetching headgear for this young chick. A bunny's features can be fashioned with crepe paper for those large, soft ears, two white gum reinforced sets for his eyes and one pasted over crossed string to form his mouth and moustache.

Eggs as bright and colorful as an emperor's gems can be designed by pasting colored sequins on dyed eggs. Sapphires would be blue or blue, emeralds green on green, etc. Or abstract designs can be made from a combination of vari-colored sequins. Old hat trimmings can be fashioned into some very original decorations, too.

Children who are coloring eggs for the first time will have lots of fun using the package of certified food colors which includes a mystic eraser and about 50 transfers in addition to six basic colors. Shape directions are given on the box for the best results. Best results, that is, for Easter eggs and a leg in the kitchen after the coloring and decorating operation is completed.

health officer, advises all persons contemplating such a vacation to first be inoculated against typhoid.

"Persons planning a vacation where sanitation standards may not be carefully observed, should protect their health by typhoid inoculation, and thus avoid the risk of serious illness from this debilitating and sometimes fatal disease," Dr. Cox said. "An individual not previously rendered immune, can establish immunity by having one typhoid vaccine injection administered each week for three weeks; if he has kept his immunity from a previous inoculation, one 'booster' shot each year will keep him protected from typhoid."

Dr. Cox warned that impure water is not the only means of spreading typhoid, and cautioned against the careless exposure of food and milk to flies, roaches, rodents and other germ-spreading pests.

Handling Pelts Properly Gives Better Prices

To realize the maximum out of your fur-bearing dollar, proper handling of the pelts is required.

The following steps are advocated by the Oklahoma Game and Fish Department:

1. Remove all fresh blood. This prevents the fur from staining.
2. To prevent the pelt from burning and the fur slipping, remove all surplus flesh and fat.
3. When removing flesh and fat, place pelt on a fleshing board and scrape with a knife, using a goodly amount of hardwood sawdust. This absorbs the fat and grease and makes it possible to get a firm grip on the skin while working it.
4. Do not use ashes, salt or alum on pelts.
5. Place the pelt on a suitable dry board. These may be home made light flat boards or commercial wire stretchers. Take care in using proper sizes and shapes of drying boards to avoid overstretching. Pull the skin down on the drying board gently drying boards and clean by washing grease from the leather and removing any grease from the fur with sawdust.

7. If furs are to be stored they should be laid leather side against leather side, or fur side against fur side. Wrap in newspaper since newspaper ink will not stain the pelts. Pack in tight, flat bundles and label tag the outside of the package to show number and kind of pelts contained in the package.

Notice to Water and Gas Users

We are changing our water and gas system from postal cards to a single entry open envelope type, the same as the light company uses.

This system is much easier and simpler than the double entry postal cards we have been using.

If you will bring your notice with you it will save us quite a bit of time in handling your account as our duplicate copy has the same number on it, thus making it easier to find your account. At time of payment all we will have to do is turn to your account and stamp both copies with a paid stamp and hand your copy back to you. Otherwise we will have to look up your entry card number.

If you will do this we will greatly appreciate it.

"Our 145-h.p. Ford F-8 BIG JOB is the EASIEST truck to operate I've ever driven, and I've driven them all"

OUR FORD F-8 is used to haul from the oil wells located all over the state of Oklahoma to our refinery in Oklahoma City," reports F. W. Guinn, Sales Manager of Peppers Refining Co. "This Ford F-8 BIG JOB is the easiest truck to operate I've ever driven, and I have driven them all; our driver tells us after driving the F-8 for thirteen months, it now has 22,000 miles of hard driving to its credit with a minimum of mechanical trouble."

Mr. Guinn is but one of many Ford BIG JOB enthusiasts who has taken the time to write about the remarkable performance of the Ford F-7 and F-8. Thousands of others are profiting from gas economy unusual in the big truck field... from an ability to carry gross loads of 50,000 lbs. and more on tandem-axle semi's... from power that makes the BIG JOB the king of the hills.
