The News wishes to acknowledge with thanks the many compliments we have received in recent weeks concerning some of the articles of an editorial nature which have appeared in our paper. All of these comments have been deeply appreciated. We include in our acknowledgements those words of residents who did not agree with us, and we hope that if you don't agree any time in the future, you will again see fit to tell us about it. We feel that it is certainly your privilege to disagree with us, and we are grateful—more so every day we live—that we are all a part of a country where we can write our own opinions, and can disagree with others in their opinions, and still remain friends and fellow countrymen. It is the hope of The News that we can all work together in this coming New Year toward retaining all these privileges. May you and yours enjoy this coming New Year.

The loudest thing in McLean Tuesday, that day after Christmas was the popping of the wind as local citizens slowly adjusted themselves to the work habit again following the two-day holiday. There was little or no business transacted in many of the business houses, and even the coffee drinkers were few and far between. Visiting came rapidly to a close, however, as many who had come here for the holidays started back home, and those local residents who had made trips elsewhere made their way back to McLean. In other words, Tuesday, as far as business was concerned, was one of those days when a shot fired down Main Street would have had little chance of hitting anything or anybody.

A number of women in the community are interested in organizing a Home Demonstration Club in McLean, similar to that now functioning so well in the Liberty community. Mrs. J. C. Claborn has informed The News. Mrs. Mary Anne Duke has set a tentative date of January 17 at 2 o'clock for a meeting to form such a club. Mrs. Claborn stated. Mrs. Duke states that she will be prepared to show the group a film story on home demonstration work in Gray County. However, Mrs. Claborn wants to know how many women are interested, and asks that those who may be interested will call her.

The 1950 graduating class is planning a get-together tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Coleman. It's a class reunion, in other words John Dee Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Coleman, served as president of the senior class, and is now a student.

Legion Asks Truman For Action—Or Else

Members of the Andrew H. Floyd Post 315 of the American Legion in McLean went "all-out" in demanding action from President Harry S. Truman and other leaders in Washington in a telegram to the President last Friday—and even suggested to the President that he hand in his resignation unless he is willing to lead the free nations of the world in stopping the Red threat.

The telegram calling for action in immediate mobilization was approved at a Legion meeting Thursday night of last week. Copies of the message were sent to Senator Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson, Representative Ben Guill, Representative-Elect Walter Rogers, the national Legion commander, and the state and district commanders.

The telegram sent to the President was as follows:

"Have you ever read the Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion? If so, do you believe it? We do. We also believe our confused, muddled-up, appeasing foreign policy engineered by you and your so-called advisors has proved beyond a doubt that normal relationships between our government and Joe Stalin's government are not, cannot, and will not be carried out.

"We, the people, have lost confidence in those who guide our foreign relations, and urge that you as President take positive action to regain the confidence of the public. We are not united without it.

"Furthermore, we are ready to face the facts and urge that you give them to us. The people of the United States are ready to mobilize completely to meet the Red threat, and unless you are ready to put petty peevish and politics aside to lead the free nations of the world in an all-out effort to stop Joe Stalin and company, we suggest that you not only resign from the American Legion but also from the American government.

J. R. Shelton To Be Deputy In Local Area

James R. Shelton, 1930 graduate of Pampa High School and a long-time resident of Gray County, has been named as deputy sheriff to work in McLean under Sheriff-Elect R. H. (Rufe) Jordan.

Jordan announced his selections for the various officers under his jurisdiction Wednesday.

Shelton has lived in the McLean area most of his adult life, Jordan said, and has been engaged in the cattle business most of the time.

Others named to serve in the sheriff's department are Shirley Nickola, chief deputy, who has been on the police force at Pampa for the past four years and who is a long-time resident of Gray County; Rufe Thompson, chief deputy, who will be remembered by many residents as the district clerk of Gray County a number of years ago; Buck Haggard and Tom Cotter, deputies in Pampa; and Ed Swafford, court bailiff.

Jordan, in announcing his selections, stated that he had a large number of applicants for the deputy's position in McLean and that the task of choosing a deputy here proved to be difficult. He said that he was sure he had been unable to please every resident, but that his staff would do everything possible to render the best in law enforcement.

Wharton Cops Class A Title

The Wharton grid team downed a favored eleven from Kermit in the championship finals Christmas Day at Sweetwater by a 13-9 score to be named as the third Class A state champion. Other state champions since the Class A play-offs to a state title were started two years ago were Monahans, in 1948, and Littlefield, in 1949.

In Class AA play, Wichita Falls and the Austin Maroons will meet in the final rounds Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Dal-III Stadium in Dallas to determine the champion for the higher football bracket.

Wichita Falls last Saturday finally outscored the Highland Park Scots 34-27 with a last-minute touchdown to reach the finals. Austin capitalized on a 75-yard run to edge out the favored Baytown team 7-6 in the other semifinal game Saturday.

Al Duncan Killed in Auto Crash Near Floydada; Four Others Hurt

Alfred (Al) Duncan, athletic director and football coach of McLean High School, was killed Tuesday afternoon at about 5:30 o'clock when the car in which he was riding alone collided head-on with a pick-up on the Floydada-Silverton road.

Funeral services for the popular coach will be held at Turkey, the home of Mrs. Duncan's parents, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the high school auditorium. It was learned here Wednesday. Burial will be in the Turkey cemetery.

Four other persons were injured in the accident, which occurred about 13 miles north of Floydada. They were Andie H. Chappell, 56 years of age, of Silverton, who suffered a broken arm and leg and internal injuries; Mrs. Chappell, 56, possible internal injuries; Bonnie Chappell, 23, head injuries; and C. W. Chappell, 14, broken leg. All four were riding in the pick-up with which the Duncan car collided.

Highway patrolmen investigating the accident said the Chappell pick-up truck, traveling south en route to Plainview, met the Duncan car head-on a second after Duncan seemed to lose control and the automobile swerved into the path of the truck. Patrolmen conjectured that Duncan may have fallen asleep or have become ill suddenly.

Officers said the highway, State Highway 207, was deserted when the crash occurred. They estimated the injured remained in the truck about 15 minutes before an unidentified passing motorist summoned an ambulance from the Harmon Funeral Home of Floydada.

Eonnie Chappell said she and the family were en route to the bus depot in Plainview, where she was scheduled to catch a bus to Brownfield to return to her job as secretary of the Baptist church.

Duncan, 43 years of age, had been employed in McLean as football coach, athletic director, and commercial teacher for the past three years. He was born in Arkansas, and was reared in the vicinity of Laketon, near Pampa, where his father was a pioneer.

Only 810 Bales Handled Here By Local Gins

There's one good thing about a short cotton crop—and that is, it doesn't cost the farmers much to get it gathered.

As a result, this year's cotton crop for the area surrounding McLean didn't cost the farmers much to get it gathered.

For only 810 bales had been ginned here in the two gins, the Paymaster Gin and the McLean Gin, Wednesday morning. The report on the ginning was made by Ginnery L. H. Earthman and S. R. Jones.

Very little cotton remains to be gathered in the area, the two ginnery stated. It is believed that a total of 850 bales may be ginned here before the two gins close down for the season, since a few farmers have reported small amounts to be gathered.

Late rains caused some damage to the cotton in August and September, when insufficient sunshine was received. Then leaf worms started in doing their damage, followed soon by boll worms. On top of that, the first freeze of the season caught the late cotton too early and cut production still more.

Weather for gathering what cotton there was has been favorable most of the fall.

Watson, Smith On All-District 2-A Grid Team

Two McLean Tiger football players, L. M. Watson, back, and J. N. Smith, end, were named as members of the All-District 2-A football team announced last week by Elmer J. Moore, chairman of the 2-A executive committee.

Watson, McLean's ace back, and Elly York, Shamrock center, received the greatest number of votes. Moore stated.

The squads are chosen by players and coaches of the member schools in District 2-A. Each school submitted all-opponent, first and second team selections. Votes were tabulated and the players receiving the highest totals were listed.

The players named on the all-district squad are as follows:

Ends: Vaughn Terry and Van Pennington, Shamrock; Seldon Wood, Wellington, J. N. Smith, McLean.

Tackles: Drew Christie, Clarendon; Dwayne Hager, Shamrock; Lee Bloxom, Memphis; Jimmie Graves, Wellington; Donald Stokes, Lefors.

Guards: Jimmie Brock, Wellington; Gene Jennings, Lefors; Eugene Collingsworth and Mack Terry, Shamrock.

Centers: Billy York, Shamrock; Bob Clemmons, Lefors.

Backs: Watson, McLean; Thomas Messer, Memphis; Vernon Tarbet and Donald Lee, Shamrock; Orville Copeland and John Gibson, Wellington; Ray Dickerson, Lefors; J. P. Carlisle, Clarendon.

Rites for Coach To Be at Turkey Friday at 2

Funeral services for the popular coach will be held at Turkey, the home of Mrs. Duncan's parents, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the high school auditorium. It was learned here Wednesday. Burial will be in the Turkey cemetery.

Babson Outlook--U. S. to Withdraw From Korea in '51; Nation's Income to Rise

By ROGER W. BABSON
SPECIAL EXCLUSIVE:

The United Nations will withdraw from Korea during 1951. The United States in 1951 will have the largest national income of its history.

1. Excluding defense orders, the total business volume in 1951 will be less than that for 1950. However, national income in 1951 will be the highest ever recorded, as war orders take the place of peace production and high prices prevail.

2. Government Controls Coming

The outstanding feature of 1951 will be the ever-increasing interference of the government in the lives of businessmen and consumers.

3. The administration and its economic advisors are firmly convinced that radical inflation is about to break out next year. But the "brain trusters" are overlooking the fact that the boom is already old and that it was creating badly when the Korean war broke out. War postponed the downturn which would have taken place much sooner. The date of the slide has only moved ahead.

4. Rushing to catch up on its neglected defense program, the administration is anxious to shrink business volume to an unnecessary degree. Efforts at first will be along the line of tighter credit curbs, such as restrictions on mortgage and installment loans and increased bank reserve requirements.

5. As 1951 wears on, the effect of credit controls will cause a decline in legitimate business. Civilian production will decline more than armament production will increase. The public may then cry, "This is a government-made slump; let's get rid of the controls!"

6. If in 1951 it becomes evident that business is declining too fast as a result of government curbs, the planners at Washington may rush their patient into an oxygen tent.

7. Most labor groups will not be successful in getting a sixth round of wage increases in 1951. Although there may be more strikes in the first part of 1951, there will be fewer for the whole year as compared with 1950.

8. Tightness in the labor supply will be continued as the year wears on, particularly of highly-skilled workers.

9. The Taft-Hartley Law will not be repealed during 1951 but may be amended. The administration of the law will continue to wink at some of its clauses.

10. Wholesale prices of many commodities will be marked by a mild decline in 1951 when compared with the price level for December 31, 1950. In some lines the drop may be quite steep from the high levels of late 1950. Retail prices for 1951, I do not now forecast.

11. The year 1951 should prove an excellent time to keep a tight grip on inventories. Commodity speculation for the rise will not pay in 1951. Furthermore, our expanding stockpiles of strategic materials present a real price threat in the event of a peace scare. Such stockpiles could then act strongly as a depressant on prices.

12. The cost of living will remain high during 1951. This prediction recognizes that living costs next year may be above the lower levels that existed during the first half of the year now closing.

13. Farmers' income for 1951 should average no less than that for 1950. Since the trend in the first half of 1950 was down, this forecast is not so optimistic as it might otherwise seem, for there is likely to be a weakening of the farmers' income position during the latter part of 1951.

14. Barring crop failures the total supply of food available would be larger in 1951 than for 1950, since the government will raise planting quotas as part of its attack on inflation. If the weather is extremely favorable, the government will be blamed for farm-price weakness during the latter part of 1951.

15. With prospects good for a rising supply of feed grains, meat should be more plentiful next year than in 1950. Prices for meat, however, will be held up by continued high national income and by military needs.

16. The burden of federal taxes, both corporate and personal, will be increased again in 1951. State and municipal taxes will remain high.

17. There will be an excess profits tax in 1951. These excess profits taxes will be milder than those in force during World War II, but they will be inflationary and retard efficiency, economy and incentive.

18. There will be heavy pressure for increased federal "sales taxes" to discourage purchasing of luxury and certain non-essential goods. Congress will see the value of such sales taxes as an inflation road block.

19. States and municipalities will again be under pressure to find adequate sources of revenue. Further increases in such taxes can be looked for next year with additional cities and/or states adopting sales taxes.

20. Despite renewed efforts to increase the long-term capital gains tax above the present 25% figure, rates will remain unchanged.

21. Credit curbs will cut into the demand for automobiles and household equipment. Completions of fewer dwellings will also act as a damper on furniture sales.

22. Falling demand for hard goods should mean a stabilization of the public's spending for food and lower-priced soft goods.

23. The trend forecast in No. 22 will mean a decline in department store volume, but I predict a rise in the sales of variety chains and of drug chains.

24. Barring new war developments, I look for continued shrinkage in our exports during 1951. Imports, however, should rise further. Total foreign trade should not be much changed, but the exporters will be on the short end of this business with the importer, gaining.

25. It will become more difficult to convince Congress that additional heavy credits should be granted abroad except for war supplies.

26. As was the case this year, many domestic manufacturers will feel increasing competition from foreign merchandise. The cry for increased tariff protection will be heard again in the land.

27. Business and financial forecasts for next year are NOT based on the thought that World War III will start in 1951. Russia is certainly heading for war, but we do not believe she now wants it in Europe. She will be satisfied to have her satellites continue taking unexpected jobs at us, while the Politburo boys hand out the soothing syrup. But we may see another episode like "Korea" in 1951.

28. The first half of 1951 may actually see a budget surplus as a result of high national income and increased taxations. Later, if Congress goes along with the administration's plans for huge armament, a federal deficit will arise during the last half of the year.

29. As a result of the preceding prediction, money supplies should not begin to rise until after business has turned down. Increases at such a time are not likely to have much effect on prices.

30. Government bonds will be held tightly between the floor of federal reserve support purchases and the ceiling of federal reserve anti-inflation sales. Under such conditions, price changes should be negligible.

31. A great deal will be heard in 1951 about giving the federal reserve board powerful controls over member bank loaning policies. Congress is not likely to pass such controls, however, unless commodity prices go a lot higher or World War III comes.

32. I see nothing now to indicate that we are entering a period of improved international relations. The danger of war remains. Until it disappears, wise people will move out of large bomb-vulnerable cities and avoid having investments in such areas.

Domestic Trade Will Be Less

33. The stock averages may work somewhat higher during the first half of next year, but sometime during 1951 they will sell lower than current quotations.

34. Stocks now in the best position for 1951 should be those that have not been popular as inflation hedges in the past months. I like good chain store stocks.

35. Investment trust funds, pension funds, and insurance companies will provide an excellent backlog of demand for sound income stocks where good values can be demonstrated.

36. The successful investor next year will be the one who follows a carefully planned investment program. Such a program will emphasize diversification—not only by company and industry, but also by quality. Overconcentration will not pay in 1951.

37. Highest-grade taxable corporate bonds should hold in a narrow price range during 1951, but I see no reason for individual investors buying them. For my forecast for long-term government bonds, see No. 30 above. The only corporation bonds which interest me are CONVERTIBLES.

38. With income taxes slated to increase in 1951, tax-exempt bonds should continue in good demand. There has been some speculation in these, however, and any downward change in the tax outlook might cause a sudden turnaround in prices for municipals. Investors should see to it that their bond maturities are carefully directed.

The biggest room in mankind's house is the room for improvement.

A lady approached the clerk in the police station and said she wanted to swear out a warrant for a man's arrest.

"What does he look like?" asked the clerk. "Has he a mustache?"
"I couldn't say," answered the lady, "but if he does he keeps it shaved off."

Then there was the man who was so deathly afraid of sunstroke that he hired a detective to shadow him.

Sunday, August 15, was Caleb Smith's birthday. Those who were fortunate to eat birthday dinner with him were his sister, Mrs. John Lively and family, T. H. Leter, and Paul Valencik.

Miss Bernice Smock, who attended the normal at Clarendon, received her certificate Friday. It is a second grade and for six years. Her friends join in congratulating her on her good success. Miss Smock will teach the Slavonia school this winter.

Caleb Smith expects to finish hauling corn this week.

John Valencik and son Adam were in Ramredell Saturday with a load of cabbage for which they received four cents per pound. Mr.

Valencik has marketed a lot of cabbage this year.

Receives Bond Money

A draft has been received by the school board for the first half of the money derived from the sale of the $25,000 bond issue, which was bought by the state. The balance will be forth-coming the first of next month. Besides the $25,000, the state paid a premium of $206 on the issue. This assures the board of an abundant working capital and the construction of the building is being pushed with all possible haste.

City Ordinance

An ordinance defining all offenses against the penal laws of the State of Texas, in which the punishment is by fine only and the maximum fine is one hundred dollars, as offenses against the ordinances of this town, and providing for the same penalties therefor as are provided by the Penal Code of the State of Texas.

It is ordained by the Town Council of the Town of McLean, Texas:

Section 1.—That hereafter any and all acts defined by the Penal Code of the State of Texas as misdemeanors, and for which the punishment is by fine only, and the maximum fine does not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars, shall be deemed violations of the ordinances of the Town of McLean.

Section 2. That any person found guilty of any offense as provided by Section 1 hereof, shall, except when otherwise expressly provided by ordinance, be punished by a fine in the same amount as that prescribed by the Penal Code of the State of Texas for such offense.

Section 3. There being at present, no ordinances covering the commission of several offenses in-fenses included herein, creates an emergency and a public necessity that the rule requiring ordinances in open council be suspended, and it be in force from and after its passage, approval and publication, and it be so ordained.

Passed under suspension of the rules, the 12 day of August, A. D. 1910. Approved the 12th day of August, A. D. 1910.

THE PEOPLE
THROUGHOUT THIS LAND of ours writers of all types have been urging that the people write or wire the president, their senators, and their representatives urging that some positive action be taken to meet the threat of what is now being commonly termed as the Communist horde.

Some people have conveyed their thoughts to those in Washington, but many postpone and put off writing, simply because they hardly know what to say, or they are reluctant to address their government employees—the term government employees, regardless of who they are, certainly does apply to those people we have in our government service.

The Andrew H. Floyd Post of the American Legion in McLean last Thursday night decided that NOW is the time to urge, and demand, and that action be taken. These men in the local post are veterans of either World War I or World War II. None of them has any desire to go back into service and go overseas and fight, much less the desire to fight on our home land. But they are God-fearing men who realize too well the threat which now engulfs our democracy.

This is the message which was sent to President Harry S. Truman: "Have you ever heard the Preamble of the Constitution of the American Legion? If so, do you believe in it? We do. We also believe our confused, muddled-up appealing foreign policy engineered by you and your so-called advisors has proved beyond a doubt that normal relationships between our government and Joe Stalin's government are not, cannot, and will not be carried out. We, the people, have lost confidence in those who guide our foreign relations, and urge that you as President take positive action to regain the confidence of the public. We are not united without it. Furthermore, we are ready to face the facts and urge that you give them to us. The people of the United States are ready to mobilize completely to meet the Red threat, and unless you are ready to put petty peevish and politics aside to lead the people of the free nations of the world in an all-out effort to stop Stalin and company, we suggest that you not only resign from the American Legion, but hand your resignation as President of the United States to the Senate and Congress today. Andrew H. Floyd Post 315, American Legion Dept. of Texas, McLean, Texas."

Copies of the wire to the President were sent to Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson, to Representative Ben Guill, and to Representative-Elect Walter Rogers.

The message is a strongly worded sentiment of a group of men who have the guts (pardon this slang word, but it's the only one which fits) to call on their top hired hand to act and act quickly. If this feeling will catch on in the minds of the people of the U. S. quickly enough, then we can be assured of action which will lead to mobilization and other means necessary to enable us to fight this war of survival that we face. It's up to all of us, the people, to demand action. Unity on the part of the people will get that action.

Darlene and LaWanda Shadid Odes Shelton of Borger spent the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris and Mrs. W. W. Shadid.

LES TALK BY LESTER

What are we flying our flag daily for?
For America. The answer is simple.

It all came about last Thursday night at a meeting of the American Legion. It was suggested that all Legionnaires in business in town, as well as those employed in the various businesses, see that our flags are displayed daily for an indefinite time. The Legionnaires believe that a continual display of the American flag, the symbol of American freedom and democracy, will awaken our people to the realistic issues which threaten us today.

Therefore I plan to display my flag each work day—unless I should carelessly forget it—for an indefinite period of time.

We should be proud of that flag, and should be proud to display it. There is certainly no law against flying the flag daily. There is no rule of flag etiquette which says we shouldn't. We simply have let our patriotism fall to a level where we think the flag should be displayed only on certain holidays.

I believe that in times such as these, every place of business should fly the American flag every day in the week. It will be a constant reminder that American blood is being shed on foreign soil.

The U. S. is at war, whether you think so or not. Men wearing our uniforms and firing our guns and driving our tanks and other vehicles are at war. They are fighting, and some are dying. For a cause.

It is the largest un-declared war the U. S. has ever been in. There have been times in the history of our country where American soldiers have fought in an un-declared war, but the magnitude of this far overshadows any previous similar encounters.

Our muddled-up foreign policy has already placed our democracy in jeopardy. We need some straight-thinking men in control in Washington instead of the pussy-footers who have got us into this trouble which we are now facing.

One such man who has the ability and the courage to speak out is our Texas Senator, Lyndon B. Johnson. He isn't thinking about being re-elected; he is thinking about the situation our country is in, and is doing all he can to get us out of that situation.

Senator Johnson told the Senate on December 12: "Experienced and capable men—for whom I have only the greatest personal respect—have argued eloquently for the policy of 'wait and see.' For six months, their counsel has prevailed. I am not here to condemn that counsel as insincere or incompetent. But I am here to express my personal judgment that this counsel can be accepted no longer."

"I say that the policy of 'wait and see' must end," Johnson continued, "and it must end now. For what are we waiting? What do we expect to see tomorrow that we cannot see clearly today—or could see on June 25?

"For six costly months, this nation and the whole Free World have been at war. That is an undeniable fact which fine technicalities cannot obscure. Through those six precious months, however, our government has been planning and acting only from day to day and hour to hour. Faced with the task of girding this nation for struggle that may outlive us all, we have committed ourselves only to a policy of not committing ourselves.

"... How long can we continue this course and still keep faith with our consciences? How long shall we continue to dignify obvious folly?

"... We—all of us, in Congress, in the Executive Branch, in the Military—have had six months to make sense. We have had six months to give the people some answers—to find out where we are going and when we are starting. But we have not done so. The people are not going to put up with this sort of conduct forever.

"... If we are going to get down to business, if we are going to begin to make sense, I believe that we must immediately acknowledge three self-apparent facts:

"1. We are at war. We are at war not merely with Communist China, but with all the military strength and both the physical and the human resources behind the Iron Curtain. We have been at war for six months. We may well be at war for ten or twenty years more.

"2. Our primary and immediate goal in this war is survival. This is a bleak, disturbing reality. In other wars we have fought, our goal has been simply victory. Now, however, we must make survival certain before we can hope for victory, because we cannot be confident of survival.
"3. We are not getting ready for war. We are in a war, but all our effort is seemingly directed toward staying out of the war we are in already. This is adolescent nonsense.
"... First—above all else—we must evolve a long-range overall global plan of strategy for the war to which we are not committed.
"... The second requirement—as I see it—is the immediate full mobilization of our available manpower. This is long overdue.
"... The third requirement of the present situation is the prompt mobilization of our economy.
"... A great American patriot once fanned the fire of Democracy into such a flame as to give us America. In debate Patrick Henry cried in tones heard throughout the years—'Why stand we here idle?' Can I say more today?"

In the meantime, Happy New Year. But it won't be if we don't move, and move quickly. That's all for this week.

verified, with some part of their funds maturing each year. Real Estate Activity Will Decline

39. The real estate outlook for 1951 will be strongly affected by curbs on mortgage credit. Much of the recent boom was the result of easy credit—almost nothing down and small easy payments for years hence.

40. New home construction will suffer a greater decline than other lines. Non-essential commercial building will also be hit.

41. The coming decline in new building will throw a wet blanket over speculation in vacant suburban lots.

42. The scare caused by the Korean-China war and fears of an early outbreak in other sections will adversely affect the demand for big city real estate. Lower business volumes and the draft next year will also curtail such demand.

43. Small sustenance farms should hold up well in price as demand will be spurred by those seeking refuge outside the big cities. Demand for large commercial farms, however, should weaken as the year progresses.

44. The swing back toward renter control will act as a further dampener on new building. There is no incentive to build homes for rental income.

45. Tighter credit controls will make it more difficult to purchase older residential properties and the prices for these should weaken.

46. As building volume slackens in 1951, the quality of available materials and workmanship should improve. This will help those who have saved their money and can pay for at least half the cost of a new home.

Defense Orders and Politics Will Increase

47. Those who can do so should attempt to get defense orders as a means of holding up production volumes and reducing overhead. Not too much profit from such war business should be expected, however, as these contracts will be negotiated.

48. The political outlook for 1951 will be completely dominated by jockeying for position in the Presidential race for 1952. Most of Congress' time will be spent on international problems; but either war or peace could come early in 1951, which could make many of the above forecasts useless.

49. In domestic matters, despite recent election changes in party alignment, Congress will still be dominated by a conservative coalition of Northern Republicans and "unregenerated" Southern Democrats. When the heat is on in a tough fight, the North-South coalition will still be able to curb onslaughts by New Dealers.

50. We are gradually headed for a one party system and finally a dictatorship. The Republicans will sometimes win with the slogan "HAD ENOUGH?"; but their reign will be short-lived. Too many persons are following the pernicious doctrine of ASKING FOR HIGHER WAGES AND SHORTER HOURS, SPECULATING IN STOCKS AND GOODS, GROWING RICH ON PAPER, VOTING DEMOCRATIC FOR SELFISH REASONS AND LETTING THE COUNTRY GO TO THE DOGS, WAR OR NO WAR!

IT IS WITH REGRET THAT WE ARE FORCED TO RAISE THE
PRICE OF ADULT ADMISSIONS

TO
50c per Person

EFFECTIVE SUNDAY, DECEMBER 31

CHILDREN'S ADMISSION WILL REMAIN AT 14c

As in practically every business, operating costs have risen tremendously, and continue to rise every day. In our case, this includes the cost of films, overhead expense, and almost everything else. For this reason, we find that in order to continue to bring you the best in entertainment, we must raise our adult admission from 40 cents to 50 cents.

Most all theaters of this area in towns of this size long ago raised the price of admission to 50 cents or more. We have delayed this action as long as possible, but now we must also fall in line. The price of children's tickets will remain at 14 cents for ages 6 to 12.

Movies, however, continue to be your least expensive, yet best, form of entertainment. You are invited to our theater for every performance for "Movies Are Better Than Ever."

Legion—

 Legion, but hand your resignation as President of the United States to the Senate and Congress today.

Andrew H. Floyd Post 315 American Legion Dept. of Texas McLean, Texas.
 Senator Johnson wired back Friday thanking the local post for sending him a copy of the message.

George Terry, commander of the local post, and other members of the Legion hope that other posts in the state will join the McLean group in urging action immediately. The veterans in the meeting last week, discussed fully the idea of sending a telegram, and decided that perhaps such a message might in a small way aid in getting action from those leaders in Washington. The idea to send the message was first proposed by Leo Bow, veteran of World I, who lost a son in World War II.

The veterans explained that they believe that complete mobilization is the only answer to the threat of Russian might, and that only by such mobilization can all-out war be averted. It is possible, they explained, that a strong military force in America may prevent the Russians from starting a war. In the event such a war does come, however, the veterans figure that we should be thoroughly prepared before the war starts, rather than wait until after an all-out conflict gets underway.

Never forget that shower curtains are victims of splashes and soap suds, so need laundering regularly to stay sweet and clean. Right in the bath tub is the best place to wash them. Then hang them back on the shower bar, spread-out, to dry.

When grapefruits you've bought aren't quite as sweet as you'd like, try broiling them. Spread each half with honey, then dot with vitaminized margarine, sprinkle with a little cinnamon and broil until tops are lightly browned. A maraschino cherry set on top makes a bright finishing touch.

Cut steel wool soap pads into small pieces — enough for one or two dish washings, after which each can be thrown away. This system eliminates useless, rusty pads. You'll find your supply lasts longer, too.

With an eye to that lunch box you have to keep filled, here's a delicious spread for ham, egg, chicken and corned beef sandwiches — chopped sweet pickles in real mayonnaise. Use a 1/4 cup of pickles to a cup of the mayonnaise.

A shoe bag hung on the back of your cleaning closet door is just what the doctor ordered for storing small equipment and supplies, like scrubbing brushes, dust cloths, bottles of polish and cleaner attachments.
