Debate In Supreme Court On Steel Seizure Comes Monday

By ROWLAND EVANS JR. WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The steel industry and the government squared off today in the great constitutional battle over President Truman's seizure of the nation's eight-billion-dollar steel industry to prevent a strike.

Industry's. Both have vast experience before the high court, Perlman as solicitor general since 1947 and Davis as solicitor general for five years under President Wilson and as one of the nation's best-known constitutional lawyers.

Perhaps the most forceful illustration of the scope of presidential powers, the government brief said, "is the fact that American troops in Korea, whose safety and effectiveness are so directly involved here, were sent to the field by an exercise of the President's constitutional powers."

Koje Riot Injected Into Truce Problem

By ROBERT TUCKMAN MUNSAN, Sunday, May 11 (AP)—Korean armistice delegates—sidetracked by angry debate on Communist seizure of an American general on Kojoe Island—meet again today, still tightly deadlocked.

A charge by the Red truce delegates that the Allies planned "another massacre" of prisoners to free Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd was punctured last night by the prisoners themselves.

Dodd was released unharmed from North Korean prisoners who held him hostage for 77 hours. Saturday's truce session lasted only 12 minutes. Eleven minutes were taken up by debate on the Kojoe Island incident, the Allies coldly rejecting Communist charges of planning a "slaughter" to free Dodd.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Water restrictions came last week and the only surprise was that it didn't come sooner. Experience has shown in other places that citizens are pretty sensitive about conformance. They don't hesitate to tip authorities when neighbors cheat a bit. Hence, enforcement of water rationing is made easier than one might think. Still, it calls for a lot of cooperation.

There was no sign of a break in the major issues blocking a truce, the chief of which was prisoner exchange. The other issues are Communist nomination of Russia as a neutral truce supervisor and an Allied demand for restrictions on military airfield construction.

General Freed As UN Grants Reds Few Concessions

LT. COL. ROBERT RAVEN

No Force Used In Securing Release

SEUL, Korea, Sunday, May 11 (AP)—Tough North Korean prisoners of war last night released Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd safe and unharmed from their compound on Kojoe Island off Southeast Korea.

The Reds received various concessions—as yet undisclosed—in exchange for the former commander of the island stockade whom they held captive nearly four days.

When Dodd arrived today at the Eighth Army headquarters airstrip near Seoul, Army officers would not permit him to talk to correspondents but said the general would attend a news conference later today.

The Army said Dodd was released at 9:30 p.m., 78 hours and 15 minutes after he was dragged bodily into a compound of 6,000 surly Communist prisoners.

Dodd, 52, commander of the island prison, was seized as he conferred with the prisoners at the gate of Compound 78. He and Lt. Col. Robert Raven of Newton, Tex., were grabbed by the Red leaders, but Raven fought his way out of the group.

Dodd was held hostage inside the compound, where he negotiated with the Reds for settlement of some of their grievances. The Reds permitted him free use of the telephone and allowed meals to be sent to him.

Dodd asked camp authorities to refrain from using force to free him until the Communists had completed listing their demands. The Army said Saturday some "minor requests" of the Reds had been granted.

Those requests included use of a telephone, writing paper and the admittance of prisoner leaders from other compounds on the island.

About 80,000 Communists now are held on the island, including most of the 70,000 who have said they wish to return to Communist rule. Nearly 100,000 other Red military and civilian internees said they would forcibly resist being returned.

Kojoe was the scene of two bloody riots, both of them instigated by die-hard Korean Red prisoners. Seventy-five prisoners were killed and 135 wounded Feb. 15 when American guards were forced to fire on prisoners attacking them with crude but deadly weapons. One guard was killed and 20 wounded.

Two days later Dodd was named prison commander. Another riot erupted March 13. Twelve prisoners were killed and 38 wounded when South Korean guards fired into a compound after being stormed by the prisoners.

Before Dodd's release, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said in Tokyo the incident "may very well affect the Korean truce talks."

"This is a situation of the Communists' own creation and, in their world where neither logic nor truth has any value, there is no telling to what extent they will build up this incident," the Allied commander said.

KEFAUVER PACES DEMOCRATS

Taft Leads Ike By 53 Votes; Vital Oregon Primary Nears

By The Associated Press
Sen. Robert A. Taft picked up delegate strength in three states yesterday and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower got added backers in two in the battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

Taft won 11 votes. He got seven in Nevada, two in Missouri, and two in Virginia in Republican party conventions. That brought his total number of delegates in the Associated Press tally to 243. Taft forces claim over 400. The Eisenhower count reached 280 with the addition of four votes—two in Missouri and two in Nevada.

The AP tally is based on delegates pledged, instructed, favorable, or willing to state a first-ballot choice, and candidate concessions. On this basis nine delegate votes were listed as unknown, uncommitted, or in dispute after the convention voting yesterday.

A total of 86 delegates, both Republican and Democrat, were being named yesterday. To those will be added 158 to be chosen during the week ahead as seven states and Hawaii select their representatives for the July 7 convention in Chicago.

By the time all these have been chosen, Republicans will be near the three-fourths mark in the selection of convention delegates, and the Democrats will be close to the two-thirds mark.

The Oregon primary Friday is considered one of the week's top political events. In addition Wyoming, West Virginia, Washington, Rhode Island, North Dakota, Vermont and Hawaii make important contributions to the treasure chest of coveted convention votes.

These are the figures—the cold statistics—that could begin crowding activities of the candidates themselves in interest.

Republicans have 1,306 delegates to the national convention in Chicago July 7. A winning candidate needs 604 to be nominated. Through today the GOP primaries and conventions have named 515. By the end of the week ahead they will have named 895. Up to yesterday, favorable or willing to state a first vote choice gave Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio 332, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower 286. Taft could increase his lead substantially this week.

Democrats have 1,230 delegates to the national convention in Chicago July 21. A winning candidate needs 616 to win. Through today 633 have been named, by week's end the total will be 711. The AP survey up to yesterday gives Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee 106, W. Averell Harriman 93, and Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia 43.

Early returns from yesterday's developments showed: Nevada—Sen. Russell appeared the likely first choice of the state's 10 Democratic delegate votes selected at the convention, although the delegation will be uncommitted. Taft apparently will have the support of the top-heavy bulk of the GOP's 12 votes named at a Tonooah convention. An AP poll showed seven for Taft, two for Eisenhower, and three refusing to state choices. Of these three, two are known to lean toward Taft.

Michigan—the Democratic party settled on Gov. G. Mennen Williams as a favorite son candidate who could influence the swing of the 40 convention votes, particularly the 10 or 12 delegate-at-large group.

Utah—Democrats were expected to follow precedent at the state organizational convention and select an uncommitted 12-vote delegation. Kefauver who was in Salt Lake City campaigning, expressed confidence of victory at Chicago.

Missouri—held four GOP conventions, naming eight delegate votes. Virginia—four more of the state's 23 GOP delegates were being named (six already have been chosen—four favoring Taft, two uncommitted and unselected). One of the day's two conventions named two delegates reported to be leaning toward Eisenhower.

Oregon's Friday primary will find six Republican names before the voters—Eisenhower, Gov. Earl Warren of California, Harold Stassen of Minnesota, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon and William R. Schneider of St. Louis, former Missouri state representative. Taft backers hope to pick up some of the state's 18 delegates, although his name is not listed. Warren, Stassen and Eisenhower backers have been campaigning actively. There was little activity among the Democrats. But Kefauver is due Tuesday for a three-day campaign. He is opposed on the ballot by Associate Justice William O. Douglas, and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, both of whom say they are not candidates.

The Democratic Presidential hopeful said the current struggle for leadership in the Republican party "reveals an almost equal split within the ranks of the Republicans on issues of foreign policy."

GOP Senators Get Drubbing From Kefauver

SALT LAKE CITY, May 10 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver today called upon Democrats to take "appropriate action" against a group of Republican senators that he said were elected because of meat rationing.

Kefauver named them as Sen. Watkins of Utah, Sen. Cain of Washington, Sen. Malone of Nevada and Sen. Ecton of Montana. In his keynote address for the Utah Democratic Convention to select national convention delegates and state party officers, the Tennessee senator said:

"Six years ago the people of our country were frustrated by most rationing. That feeling of frustration happened to coincide with an election. The result was that we got a whole crop of Republican senators delivered to us in Washington. This was about as much of a surprise to the Republicans who made the grade as to us in Washington, but not as disappointing. It has been a long six years and these Republican senators have made it seem even longer."

The Democratic Presidential hopeful said the current struggle for leadership in the Republican party "reveals an almost equal split within the ranks of the Republicans on issues of foreign policy."

Texas Produces Bulk Of Carbon

AMARILLO, May 11—More than two-thirds of the nation's 1951 carbon black production was produced in Texas, according to a mineral market report recently released by the Bureau of Mines, Department of the Interior.

More than one and a half billion pounds of carbon black were produced in the United States last year, Dr. C. W. Seibel, Regional Director of Region VI, Bureau of Mines, reported here today.

More than two-fifths of the U.S. production was produced in plants located in the Panhandle of Texas. Carbon black is an important ingredient in the manufacture of automobile tires, ink and paint. It also has other industrial uses.

Carbon black represents between 27 and 30 per cent of the weight of the average-sized automobile tire. The 1951 production was 21 per cent over 1950. Value of last year's carbon black production was more than 107 million dollars at the plants. Largest gain in production was at Texas plants not located in the Panhandle. Arkansas produced carbon black for the first time last year. Other states producing carbon black are California, Kansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Exports of carbon black increased eight per cent to 433,493 thousand pounds. The exports were controlled by the U. S. Department of Commerce during the entire year. Fifty-eight plants were producing at the end of 1951. Daily capacity at the end of the year was more than 5 million pounds per day, compared with slightly more than 4 million pounds at the end of 1950.

Youth Joins Up, But Brings Along Double Uncle For Company

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Hiseel and his double uncle report today at "Navy boot camp." When 17-year-old John joined up, he made sure he'd have friends close at hand.

"These guys are twins," he told the recruiting officer yesterday. "They're my uncle, they're Ray and Richard Tucker and they're 18, even if they're smaller than me. We all want to join if we can stay together because we been raised together and so we're just like triplets."

Area Residents Tour New HS; Invited To Join BS District

Residents of the Lomax, Elbow and Cauble communities were special guests of the Big Spring Independent School District Saturday night, for an informal dinner meeting that followed a tour of inspection of the new high school plant.

Some 60 persons joined for a meal in the cafeteria, served by the Home Economics Department, heard words of welcome from Supt. W. C. Blankenship and a brief talk by School Board President Marvin M. Miller.

Consolidation of the rural district with Big Spring has been discussed as a possibility, and it was an invitation for such a merger that was extended at Saturday night's affair.

"An invitation for you people to join the Big Spring district would have been impossible up until two years ago," said Miller, "because we didn't have the facilities. Now we have ample facilities, since 47 new elementary classrooms have been added in the past two and a half years in addition to the erection of this new senior high school."

"In addition to offering such facilities, we want you to know that Big Spring is constantly working to improve its curriculum, and that its officials will be fair in the matter of valuations."

"We think a merger, when you people see fit to want to consider it, would be helpful to all of us. Certainly we want the people of Lomax, Elbow and Cauble to know that they will be warmly welcomed at any time, and we want them to know they can have as much pride in the new facilities here as we take in them."

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Truett Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bennett, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Ho-

Denison Youth Is Charged In Assault

CHANUTE, Kas., May 10 (AP)—Jim Brown Jr., 18, of Denison, Texas, was charged today with assault with intent to rob Mrs. L. K. Spellman, victim of a hammer attack.

Brown was arrested this morning at Pittsburg on request of Chanute police. He will be given a preliminary hearing Monday.

The attack was made Friday in the thrift shop which Mrs. Spellman, about 75, operates for the Episcopal Church.

Police said Brown told of visiting the shop Friday, and of throwing the hammer at Mrs. Spellman. He said the reminded him of a woman he hated when he was a six-year-old child.

Food Handlers School Set To Open May 19 For A Week At Auditorium

The annual Big Spring Food Handlers School which is required by a city ordinance enacted in 1946, will be held at the Municipal Auditorium May 19-23, it has been jointly announced by city officials and the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit.

The school will be conducted by Lige Fox, sanitarian and food handlers license inspector, and by Walter Breedlove from the State Health Department's division of health education. It is designed to give food handlers and opportunity to earn food handler licenses. According to the city ordinance "Any person who works on the premises on which food or drink is prepared, served or stored, must be licensed."

There is no charge for attending the course and two classes will be held daily from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Monday the program will include food handling and bacteria; Tuesday, preventing food contamination and spoilage; Wednesday, three enemies of the food establishment; Thursday, sanitation, storage, handling of dishes and utensils, and food establishment sanitation, and Friday's classes will include instruction in the food handler's job, personal hygiene and salesmanship.

In announcing the opening of the school May 19, health officials say Big Spring probably has at this time the largest turnover in food handlers in the history of the city. They say this situation makes the matter of enforcing the food handlers license law a most difficult one without working a hardship on the operators of the businesses, but that public health is going to be the first consideration.

"Employers know they are violating the law," a health department announcement states, "when they permit an unlicensed person to work on their premises, and not only are they violating the law and possibly endangering the health of the public, but they are encouraging the unlicensed food handler to also violate the law."

Health officials indicate that the local situation has become such that they will be justified in invoking the full letter of the law against both the employers and employees. This situation has been partly developed, they explain, by the reactivation of the Big Spring Air Force Base.

Sanitarian Fox says that food establishments employing only licensed handlers, and meeting the other minimum health requirements, may obtain a card to display in their places of business showing that they are in full compliance with the health regulations. At the same time he calls attention to the fact that the employment of an unlicensed person for no matter how short a period of time will invalidate such a card.

When asked why more of such cards are not seen in Big Spring eating places and grocery stores, Fox explained that a great many of them are not eligible for such cards because of the employment of unlicensed food handlers.

"Then how is a person to know whether or not the employees of a food established have passed their health tests and have a license?" he was asked.

"The only way," he said, "is for them to ask to see the license and to assure themselves."

He then explained that if the operators of the food establishments will comply with the law, and employ only such persons as have currently valid licenses the problem will have been solved.

The sanitarian cited a recent instance when an out-of-town chef in a Big Spring cafe heard Fox was on his way there to check the licenses. The chef disappeared. Fox said he had plenty of reason to suspect that this particular chef had a venereal disease in a highly infectious state and left the job to avoid being quarantined.

"While that man was on that job,"

Fox commented, "he endangered the health, even the lives, of many citizens. If the employer had refused that man employment until he produced a health card such a situation would not have developed."

Fox said he knows the operators of many food establishments are having a hard time keeping employees, and that many of them are employing itinerant workers. A check of the Corporation Court records on persons charged with drunkenness reveals that a surprisingly large percentage of them are itinerant cafe workers, chefs, cooks and dishwashers. The labor problem is difficult, the sanitarian admits. But at the same time he does not see it as a justification for endangering the health of the public.

Abundant U.S. Oil And Gas Seen For Many Generations

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 10 (AP)—The United States is assured of an abundance of oil and gas products for many generations to come, it was reported here today.

Frank M. Porter, president of the American Petroleum Institute, told delegates to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission meeting here that a plentiful supply is assured by the nation's known reserves.

They are now estimated to be 22.3 billion barrels, the highest in history, he said.

"It may be admitted that in some future era we shall be unable to find and produce from the earth crude oil and natural gas in appreciable quantities," he stated, "but with equal assurance it can be said that ... enough petroleum will be found in this country to meet requirements of even the grandchildren of the youngest person in this meeting."

Porter said oil reserves in 1926 had been estimated to be 4.5 billion barrels. In 1937 they were set at 15.5 billion barrels, in 1947 at 21.5 billion and have now reached an all time high.

The oil industry spokesman claimed stories of depleting reserves come from those who want the use of petroleum products restricted.

Dan Thornton, governor of Colorado, also addressed today's meeting and claimed his state has 17 times more oil in reserve than the rest of the nation combined. In one form it has 90 per cent of the uranium, he said.

Routine business and discussion periods are scheduled for the remainder of the conference which ends today.

AMBITIOUS PROGRAM

Schools Due Fixing Up During Summer

Summer won't find any grass growing under the feet of maintenance staff of the Big Spring schools.

When trustees gave approval to a proposed schedule of work presented by Pat Murphy, business manager, it turned the green light on an ambitious program.

Probably the biggest single item will be junior high remodeling. Next will be the remodeling of part of the administrative building interior. This will provide separate spaces for the tax and business offices.

In all buildings, heating, electrical, plumbing work will be checked and, if faulty, will be put in top working condition. All floors will be scrubbed, sealed and waxed.

As time will allow, these are

Hope To Award Pacts Soon On New Courthouse

Howard County probably will be in a position soon to advertise for bids on a new courthouse.

County Commissioners already have indicated that they hope to award contracts prior to July 1, beginning of the third quarter when steel for the project has been allocated by the National Production Authority.

Final plans for the new building are virtually complete, Puckett and French, architect and engineer, reported Saturday. All that remains in that respect is some checking and typing of specifications. This is due to be completed soon, probably sometime next week.

Meanwhile, work to clear the building site of water and sewer lines is progressing. Lines are being removed between the old courthouse building and the county jail. Commissioners made arrangements for this work two weeks ago to clear the way for excavation work when contracts are awarded.

Funds from the sale of a million-dollar bond issue voted a year ago are available to finance the project. The county has kept most of the funds invested in short term securities, but the entire amount will be available when needed for contracts.

Open House Set At Vet Hospital For Annual 'Day'

Monday brings annual National Hospital Day.

In Big Spring, while all hospitals will welcome visitors, only one institution is planning any formal observance.

Dr. L. B. Andrew, manager of the Veterans Administration Hospital, has invited the public to visit and tour that facility.

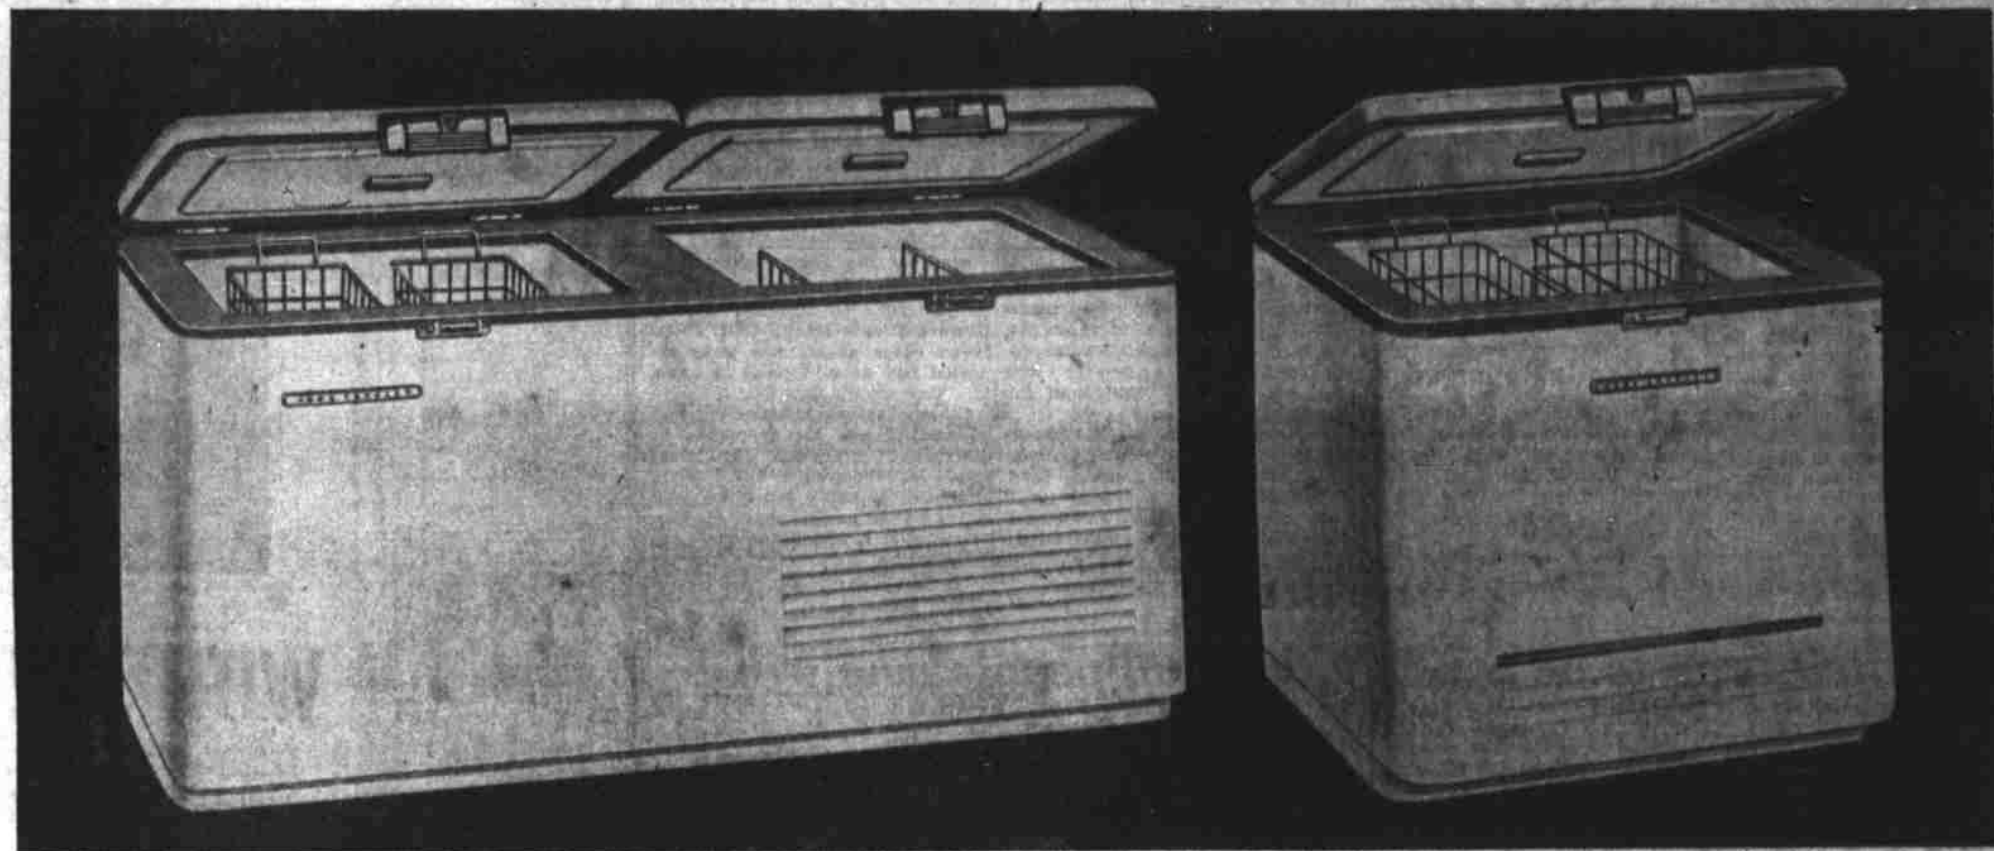

Tours will be conducted through the hospital from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. The tours will start from the main lobby, and staff members will be on duty to show guests through the hospital.

A 250-bed general medical and surgical hospital, the unit here was one of the first and therefore one of the best equipped of all the VA hospitals built after World War II.

National Hospital Day is observed annually in memory of one of the greatest nursing crusaders of the past century, Florence Nightingale.

Besides the VA Hospital, Big Spring has four private hospitals—the Big Spring, Malone & Hogan, Medical Arts and Cowper. It also is home for the Big Spring State Hospital, which serves more than 300 mentally ill people.

GALA OCCASION

Entire University Moving On Tuesday

SAN ANTONIO, May 10 (U.S. News)—Trinity University, but the university isn't expecting it to be a day of great drowsiness and bad luck. On the contrary, carefully checked plans call for everyone to pitch in and do the big job in a carnival atmosphere. "San Antonio moves a University" is the theme. Within eight hours the university is to be transplanted from its present site at 3115 West Ashby to its new home at 715 Stadium Dr., five miles across town. The San Antonio Association of Motor Carriers has taken on without charge the big hauling job. Members of the association are assigning 51 vans, trucks and trailers and 72 men to the task. Under their guidance 500 students, teachers and alumni will load the vans, then race to the new campus to do the unloading and set up housekeeping in shiny, new quarters. Everything will be on timetable schedule. The route across town will be marked, the same system used by the circus. Coordinators with walkie-talkies will direct them. Trinity officials believe this will be the first time in American educational history that a college has moved, lock, stock and barrel. Pageantry will be mixed in with the move. With the university band furnishing the music, ribbon cutting ceremonies will take place at noon. City, county and civic leaders will join university officials in these ceremonies. These will include Mayor Sam Bell Steves and University President James W. Laurie. To add to the festivities, Student Body President Jack Stotts will bestow an honorary degree of "Doctor of Moving" upon T. W. Longino, president of the Motor Carriers Association. After the ceremonies, moving men and all will gather in the stadium for a barbecue picnic. The guest of honor will be "Miss Moving Day," selected by the student body. After this the moving job will be resumed. Taps will sound as the last van load leaves the old campus at 4 p.m. The moving task will include 45,000 books, 1,600 chairs, 160 tables, 115 desks, five safes, 100 file cases and hundreds of other items. It will be the second move for Trinity, a Presbyterian school. A decade ago it was moved here from Waxahatchie. It has occupied a plant formerly used by the University of San Antonio. On the new campus three buildings are finished. Two others are under construction. A sixth is being planned. Tuesday will be a day of fun for students. But it will be short lived. Thursday they face final exams.

Candidate

Cecil C. Bell filed before deadline time during the week end to get his name on the ticket as a candidate for the Democratic nomination as sheriff of Glasscock County. In announcing he said that "I have been in the county most of the time since 1937. Certainly I would devote my best efforts to the welfare and safety of the people of Glasscock County. I hope to be able to present my candidacy in person to everyone and to show them that I can serve them well in office."

Financial Condition Of BS School District Is Sound

With one more month of its current school term to run, the Big Spring Independent School District is virtually assured of finishing the year in sound condition. Expenditures for the first eight months of the fiscal year have exceeded receipts, but the reason is capital outlay which in reality comes out of bond funds. Receipts for the eight months period amounted to $713,366, which is $114,107 less than the budget estimates for all the year. With $121,000 due from principal state sources, the receipt estimates are due to pan out. The district also has on hand $121,000 in its general fund. Disbursements for the eight-month period stand at $1,094,614. Of this, around $425,000 is represented in capital outlay for new buildings and new equipment for these buildings. General fund expenses amounted to $562,000 and demands upon the interest and sinking fund to $84,000. By budget division, expenses show $22,534 for administration; $426,420 for white instructional service; $12,808 for colored instructional service; $41,387 for plant operation; $6,404 for plant maintenance; $16,610 for auxiliary service; $427,693 for capital outlay.

Measles At Top Of Disease List Again As 86 Cases Noted

Measles continued the head of the list of communicable diseases reported by Big Spring physicians, according to the weekly list released yesterday by the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit. Fifty-seven cases of measles were reported and an additional 29 cases of "three-day" measles. Other diseases reported included chicken pox 13; gonorrhea 6; diarrhea 8; influenza 12; pneumonia 18; whooping cough 4; virus infection 5; acute tonsillitis and laryngitis 8; strep throat 4; gastro-enteritis 1, and bronchitis 6.

Fussin' Texas Republicans Catch Up With Demos' Past

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff
Texas Republicans have come up this year with some fancy fustling worthy of the battle-toughened "Dimmercrats" that stalk the Lone Star State. Now that the Republicans have caught on to the Democratic trick of doing some fancy name-calling and getting talked about—where are they? Henry Zweifel says flatly the Republicans aren't any further along the road to making Texas a two-party state than ever before. But a peppy little red-haired woman in Dallas declares hotly: "This is the best chance we ever had." Zweifel, a Fort Worth attorney who sticks to his stan djust as tight as the bulldog he looks like, is recognized leader of the Old Guard Republican party in Texas. He's the national GOP committee man from the state and state campaign director for Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio. That doesn't phase the red-head, Mrs. Allie Mae Currie. She's a state campaign worker for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination. "They say that these Eisenhower supporters are nothing but Democrats," she declares. "This is a free country. There's no law against a person changing his party. And a lot of these people backing Eisenhower are Republicans who've been Republicans for years, maybe all their lives. They've moved here from other states." But Zweifel declares the Eisenhower supporters would vote for the general on either ticket—Republican or Democrat—and thus aren't true Republicans. "Ninety per cent of this ground swell for Eisenhower is from people who'd like to see him nominated on both tickets," Zweifel says. "And that's a one-party deal like they have in France, in Italy and of the Kremlin."

switched parties this year? "I recent being called a fly-by-night Republican," says one of them, Mrs. Jim Vaughn, Dallas. "I used to be a Democrat, yes. But I want to vote for Eisenhower and I want to vote Republican. I'm trying to do it. The newspapers said go to your precinct conventions. Well, I went to mine, and I went to my county convention. And the will of the majority both times was for Eisenhower. And the Taft people booted. When they take majority rule away from you, what do you do?"

Southern Bolt Unlikely As Two Senators Back Russell

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—An announcement today by Sen. Lister Hill and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama that they will support the presidential candidacy of Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia apparently punctured any boom for a Southern third party.

Hill said Sparkman said in a statement they are backing Russell because they believe he has the ability to deal with world crises and still "hold the social and economic gains that have come so much to make our country strong and to promote the prosperity and welfare of the American people."

Both Hill and Sparkman have fought since 1948 to keep Alabama Democrats in the national party fold. They finally won their fight this year when the courts ruled off the ballot electoral candidates who failed to pledge support of the national nominee.

The two senators made it clear they have assurances that Russell, sparkplug of congressional opposition to the administration's civil rights program, will not lead a third-party revolt such as the States Rights movement of 1948.

Observing that Russell had resisted "great pressure" in refusing to break away from the party in 1948, Hill and Sparkman declared:

"He has always remained loyal and may be counted upon to do so in the future."

In 1948, Russell, the Southern faction's candidate against President Truman in the convention, did not join the later States Rights movement. That movement took 39 electoral votes away from Truman, including Alabama's 11.

Without Russell as its standard bearer, most politicians here think any Southern bolt would be difficult to organize, particularly since Truman has made it clear he won't be running again under any circumstances.

Before last week's Florida primary in which he defeated Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Russell said he would not bolt the Chicago convention if the party approves there a civil rights plank calling for a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC).

He left somewhat up in the air, however, the course he might follow after the convention. Hill and Sparkman apparently have assured country and all segments of the Democratic party can utilize the success of the Democratic party in November and for the continuance of our present program for preserving our freedom and securing the peace of the world.

"We believe that he offers most for the success of the Democratic party in November and for the continuance of our present program for preserving our freedom and securing the peace of the world."

REDUCING DIETS CAN BE HARMFUL

Doctors at a medical meeting recently were advised by one of their members to quit calorie counting for their overweight patients and to start finding out what is worrying the fat ones.

"It is true," the doctor stated, "that the obese person fears because he eats too much and he must eat less to reduce."

A strenuous reducing diet can do a great deal of harm; in some cases possibly more harm than the excess weight. We believe that a strenuous reducing diet should not be undertaken, except upon the advice and supervision of a physician.

And don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolate. Possibly one lucky person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for your doctor. Never take any treatment for a glandular condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulge" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry on a reducing diet. It just doesn't make sense to go on a rigid diet, take off weight, and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period.

"Plans" you will probably note that the plan calls for a regulated diet, which of course should take off weight. You will also note that the pills or tablets you take are vitamins or minerals. Of course the said vitamins and minerals will help to fortify you for the lack of essential food you are foregoing, but you cannot live on the vitamins. You must have sufficient, well-balanced food to maintain health. Therefore, why pay for a "plan" if you want to go on a starvation diet, you can do it very easily, but as we mentioned before, a rigid diet should not be attempted without your doctor's advice.

The Harmless Way Here is a way to help you take off weight that is not based on the rigid diet and vitamin "plan."

You eat all you want, but you eat LESS. Soaps like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and stimulates. The preparation referred to is called Barcentrate, which you can get at any drug store. Nearly four and a quarter million bottles of this preparation have been sold in Texas in the past nine years.

Here is all you do. Just get a four-ounce bottle of liquid Barcentrate from your drug store. Pour contents into a pint bottle or jar. Add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day as per directions on label. That's all there is to it. There is nothing harmful in Barcentrate. In fact, thousands of people take it after losing the required weight, as a tonic. You can lose weight with Barcentrate without starvation diet or calorie counting.

As Mrs. Pearl Higgs, 1661 North Jackson, Odessa, Texas, wrote us: "I am very well satisfied with Barcentrate. I have lost 20 pounds taking it and I eat all I want. I think it is a wonderful medicine for overweight people."

This Lady Lost 25 Pounds Mrs. Curtis Chandler, Otter Route, Palestine, Texas, is another lady who can't say enough for the merits of Barcentrate. She wrote us as follows: "I have been taking Barcentrate only a few weeks and I highly recommend it for taking off weight. There is no other product like Barcentrate and I am forever grateful." If the very first bottle of Barcentrate does not show you the way to reduce sensibly, safely and easily, return the empty bottle for your money back. Compare the cost of Barcentrate with any of the reducing "Plans" on the market and you will find it is less than half the price. The tremendous volume sales of Barcentrate enable us to hold down the price.

Wardlaw Gets 3-Year Term In Tax Case

DALLAS, May 10 (AP)—A. L. Wardlaw, Tarrant County's ex-assistant district attorney, was sentenced to three years in prison today after a Federal District Court jury convicted him of income tax evasion.

The pudgy, red-faced attorney took the verdict stoically. His attractive wife, who sat directly behind him, sobbed silently into a handkerchief.

Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, in pronouncing sentence, indicated that Wardlaw's prison term might be reduced depending on the outcome of the tax evasion trial of another Fort Worth official, Sheriff Sully Montgomery.

Montgomery's trial was reset for Wednesday. "We may reconsider the sentence," said Davidson, "after the disposition of a similar case (Montgomery's) next week."

Wardlaw was released on a $7,000 appeal bond, after his attorneys told the court they intended appeal.

It took the jury three hours to reach its verdict after hearing six days of heated arguments from the defense and the prosecution, some 80 witnesses and bundles of technical data on Wardlaw's financial operations during 1948 and 1949.

The jury was to decide whether Wardlaw "willfully attempted to defraud the government" by not reporting a large part of his income for those years.

Evidence admitted by both the defense and the government showed that in 1948 Wardlaw claimed only his salary of $3,999 as assistant district attorney while he received in addition $19,782 from outside sources which was not shown on his tax form.

Martin Abandons Flight Celebration Due To Gas Shortage

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Plane builder Glenn L. Martin has had to abandon his plans to celebrate the 40th anniversary of over-water flight.

The 66-year-old Martin flew from here to Santa Catalina Island, 25 miles offshore, May 10, 1912, and planned to retrace the flight in a big Navy Martin Mars, many times larger than the single-place bi-plane, with pontoons, in which he made the inaugural trip.

But the Navy cut down on its use of aviation gasoline because of the oil strike.

Martin said he would return today to his Baltimore headquarters.

Texas Gas Tax Cases Due For Austin Hearing

By BO EYERS
AUSTIN, May 10 (AP)—Trial of the first three gas tax cases in the biggest tax litigation in Texas history begins Monday morning. Atty. Gen. Price Daniel said he was working on the cases this week and would personally help present defense arguments in 126th District Court.

Three companies — Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line, Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line, and Amarillo Oil — are bringing the first of 51 suits to test validity of the state's new gathering tax on natural gas.

Complaining that the levy of slightly less than half a penny per 1,000 cubic feet of gathered gas is unconstitutional, the companies in the 51 suits have been paying under protest since the tax went into effect Sept. 1.

The suits are tying up more than half a million dollars a month. Coupled with loss of state revenue resulting from the current oil strike, this could force the state treasury into the red before the end of the year.

Main complaint of the challenging pipeline companies is that the tax is a burden on interstate commerce and therefore unconstitutional. Attorney Everett Looney also will argue before Judge Jack Roberts that the statute's definition of "gas gatherer" is vague, arbitrary and unreasonable and that the tax is discriminatory.

Attorneys believe that issues raised in the three initial suits will cover all the constitutional questions raised by the numerous cases and will make trial of the remaining suits unnecessary.

However, final decision may be months away—at the U. S. Supreme Court level. Pending the ultimate ruling, gas gathering taxes paid under protest cannot be used by the state. If the pipelines win, they get their money back.

Amarillo Oil Company's suit was brought into the first trial because the gas it gathers moves only intrastate—inside Texas. If the tax is struck down as a burden on interstate movement, Amarillo oil wants it also abolished on intrastate gas.

Should the tax be knocked out by the courts, the Texas Legislature may try to rewrite the law to make the levy legal. Gov. Shivers has said he would call the legislature into special session if necessary to avert a treasury deficit.

Farmers Can Sign Up Now For Cotton Services Under PMA

Howard County cotton farmers can now sign up to get the benefits of Smith-Doxey services. It has been announced by H. J. Matejowsky, who is in charge of the Abilene cotton classing office of the USDA's PMA.

Matejowsky says farmers may obtain the necessary application forms from the Big Spring office of the PMA, from the county agent or ginners.

Under the Smith-Doxey Act, he explains, farmers who organize into cotton improvement groups and file an application, get their cotton classed by USDA without cost. They also receive the market price quotation sheet from the USDA which enables them to figure out what their cotton is worth locally according to its grade and staple.

One application, Matejowsky says, covers all farmers in the group. He said that last year about 500 Howard County farmers participated in the program.

Water Project

Work in various stages, is being pressed on the Colorado River Municipal Water District project. The pictures above are on the supply line and well field sections which are pointing toward furnishing water to Odessa next month and Big Spring by autumn. At the top are two collecting tanks, each holding 10,000 barrels. Water from 13 wells in Central-Western Martin County will be pumped into these tanks. Water will go from there to a pumping plant to be erected in front of the tank at left. Center, a heavy-duty ditching machine grinds inexorably away, at the moment in a semi-rock formation, to cut a trench four feet wide and six feet deep for the 27-inch main supply line. Below, E. V. Spence, CRMWD general manager stands at the point where the line to Big Spring will begin. Pipe stretches on the ground toward the east.

Rush To Meet June 1 Deadline In Supplying Water To Cities

Bucking rock, drought and time, contractors are battling to bring two thirsty West Texas cities water as soon as possible.

Immediate hope of water lies in completion of lines, collecting system and pumping facilities in and from the well field in Central-Western Martin County.

While great puffs of dust billow up in the wake of thudding "booms" to blast away rock, a heavy ditcher chews ahead in soil and soft rock. Behind these, rushing the 27-inch pipeline eastward from Odessa, are crews which are laying around 1,700 feet per day. From this point, which is 27 miles from Odessa, it is possible to see the collecting tanks and pump station location off in the distance. That is about six miles to the east. If crews can maintain their present rate, they can meet the June 1 deadline. If rock continues—and it has underlain 2 1/4 of the 27 miles laid to date—it could slow operations.

Two tanks, each holding about 500,000 gallons of water, have been installed in the Martin County well field. Foundations for the pumping station have been poured. Installation of fittings, pumps and power lines will start Monday. Meanwhile, last of the five miles of collecting lines is being laid. This will leave the "stubs," or 10-inch cast iron laterals to be laid to the wells. Pumps for the wells are on hand and most will be installed this week.

E. V. Spence, CRMWD general manager, said he believed this end of the project would be ready by June 1. One section of the line from Odessa to a point north of Midland is due to be tested this week. The other probably will be tested at the time water is delivered into it from the pump station.

Meanwhile, pipe is being strung on the ground from the pumping station eastward toward Big Spring, a point scheduled for delivery of water by Oct. 1. Two miles already line the right-of-way and about a half a mile a day is being added by trucks which slowly are stepping up operations from the United Concrete Pipe Company here as the haul becomes shorter. Even though there is an eight-mile interval between pipe on the ground and in the ground, Ben Sims and McKenzie and Company, supply line contractors, hope to about close it before the line reaches Big Spring.

Man By Himself In Court On A Liquor Charge

He was a lonely soul—the man who faced a drunkenness charge in the Corporation Court Saturday morning—because he stood alone. In all Big Spring over a 24-hour period he was the only person who had used liquor to excess.

Placed in jail before midnight he was entitled to a credit of $5 on a fine, and so City Judge W. E. Greenless imposed a fine in that amount and balanced the books.

One defendant charged with assault called for a jury trial and was acquitted. A speeding charge was continued until next Saturday, and two motorists guilty of driving without having operators licenses were each fined $25.

Such violations, Judge Greenless pointed out to the as he has warned others who have been convicted of a "moving" violation which includes almost everything except improper parking on the streets, requires that they answer certain questions, which questions and answers are forwarded to the Department of Safety at Austin and become a part of that person's driving record.

Officials call attention to the fact that files are maintained on every operator both by his operator's license serial number and by name, and that all convictions and other reports are included in this file.

"Some day," one traffic officer commented, "a motorist is going to send in for a renewal of his license and he is going to be refused. The reason for the refusal, which will be valid, will be the traffic record he has himself built up in that file at Austin."

Texas Carbon Black Output Two-Thirds Of Nation's Total

AMARILLO, May 10 (AP)—Texas produced more than two-thirds of the nation's 1951 carbon black output.

Total U. S. production exceeded one and a half billion pounds, said Dr. C. W. Seibel, regional director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. Texas production is concentrated in the Panhandle, where two-fifths of the 1951 output was produced.

Carbon Black is an important ingredient in the manufacture of automobile tires, ink and paint. The average car tire is, by weight, 27 to 30 per cent carbon black.

More Favorable Treatment For Sheep Sought

By OVID A. MARTIN
 Associated Press Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)—The sheep is one of nature's most versatile animals—but you wouldn't know it, say sheep men, from the way it is treated by Uncle Sam.

It provides lamb for food. It provides the most necessary fiber for clothing. Its byproducts are vitally important as pelts and hides. Its carcass wastes are necessary to modern medicine. Lanolin, a derivative of wool, is a basic ingredient in pharmaceutical preparations.

And, says the National Wool Growers Association, the sheep provides the most expert method of converting grasslands and otherwise useless forage into profit-making products.

The association is campaigning for more favorable treatment for the American sheep industry. It's out to increase stock sheep from the present level of 28 million head to 50 million by 1960. It contends that such an increase is essential to protect the nation against a tragic shortage in event of war.

It says the Agriculture Department is encouraging such an expansion but that other agencies of the government are following policies which discourage an increase.

It cites price controls on lamb, tariff policies of the State Department and immigration restrictions which discourage importation of trained sheep herders from Mexico and Europe. Not many Americans want to be herders.

During the 1950s this country imported 25 per cent of its wool requirements. Today 75 per cent is imported. It is too risky and dangerous, growers say, for a nation to depend on foreign supplies for such a large portion of its needs.

Bill Sauer, manager of the Big Spring office of the Farmers Home Administration said yesterday that three Texans are among the 14 FHA workers who have been selected from all those in the United States to report to the national FHA office in Washington to receive superior service awards on May 15.

President Truman will be the occasion's speaker.

The three Texans are county supervisors and Sauer lists them as Enoch H. Cook of Edinburg; Sam R. Ellison of San Saba, and Herbert E. Roark of Bellville.

The awards will be presented by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

MRS. JENNY KEATHLEY HOSPITALIZED

Friends Hoping Glasscock's Oldest Mother Is Home Today

GARDEN CITY — Friends here are sort of hoping that Mrs. Jennie Keathley, 81, Glasscock County's oldest mother, will make it home for Mother's Day.

Mrs. Keathley, a resident of Glasscock County for almost half a century, has been ill the past five months and has been under treatment at the Big Spring Hospital.

Whether in hospital or at home,

Mrs. Keathley, with characteristic directness, observed that "I'm sick, but I'm not too sick to have my friends call on me. I plan to be home in a few days."

She was born Jennie Smith in Arkadelphia, Ark., on June 10, 1860. In 1887 she was married to the late B. A. Keathley and they made their home in Frost, Texas until moving here in 1906.

They engaged in ranching and farming. Mrs. Keathley made a hand at both jobs as well as running her house.

Moreover, in the absence of physicians, she responded time after time to frantic pleas for help when pioneer women went into labor.

"I never did keep track of babies I helped bring into this world," she said. "But I think I might even number around a hundred."

Busy as her schedule was, she made time for her church. For years she taught a class in the Union Sunday School. Mrs. Keathley was active in the Methodist Church, of which she is a member, until in recent years when health slowed her.

The Keathleys bought a place five miles north of Garden City and lived there for 30 years. They were there in August of 1947 when a terrifically high wind blew all the apples off the trees.

Never one to let anything go to waste, she spent the next day gathering the apples. That night she didn't feel well but wouldn't go to see a doctor. Next day, when her condition worsened, she was taken away. Thus, at the age of 87, she submitted to surgery for ruptured appendix and called through an operation which might have been fatal to many of younger years.

All the years they were on the ranch, the Keathleys kept their home in Garden City. They might want to use it when they were old, they said. When they were both 80, Mr. and Mrs. Keathley thought that time had come, so they moved back to town. That was on Feb. 10, 1949. Mr. Keathley did not live long to enjoy it, for he died that April.

Mrs. Keathley insisted on keeping her home. She still has her chickens, which she tends to herself. Recently, one of her daughters found her cleaning out the chicken house.

"Mother," she scolded, "if you just have to do some cleaning, why don't you clean the house instead of the chicken house?"

"Huh," Mrs. Keathley tossed her head. "You girls will clean the house but you won't clean the chicken house."

Mrs. Keathley has two children by a first marriage, A. H. McCord, Houston, and Mrs. Jimmie Cook, Garden City. She has two other daughters, Mrs. Fred Chaney and Mrs. J. L. Parker, both of Garden City. One son, Basil Keathley, died of heart attack Dec. 1, 1948 and his widow lives here. One sister, Mrs. Lucy Hightower, lives here. Mrs. Keathley has 18 grandchildren, 23 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.

The wife of one of her grandsons, D. W. Parker, is the granddaughter of Mrs. D. M. Lovelace, who is the oldest mother living in Big Spring. Mrs. Lovelace is a former resident of Garden City and had she not moved, she would, at 90, edge Mrs. Keathley for the oldest mother honors by eight years.

C. E. KISER

Kiser Seeking County Post In Precinct No. 1

C. E. Kiser made his formal announcement Saturday of his candidacy for county commissioner from Precinct No. 1.

He had filed some time ago but did not make a formal announcement. Those whom he has not seen within recent weeks he hopes to see before primary time to ask consideration of his candidacy, he said.

A residence which aggregates approximately 25 years in the county, plus past public service helped to equip him with an experience which would be most helpful to a commissioner, he said.

"I believe that my work in the past has helped me to know the problems not only of the precinct as well as almost anyone, but also the entire county," Kiser declared. Besides this, he had held a commissionership in Nolan County a number of years ago which gave him an insight into the workings of the commissioners court and the requirements for effective service.

Kiser said he was prepared to devote his entire time to the position if the people honor him with it. "At this time, when we are getting ready to spend a million dollars for a new courthouse," he said, "I feel that I might be helpful because construction is my trade."

Mother's Day

Ministering to the newborn infant . . . kissing the burned finger of the toddler . . . laboring furiously with the cowlick of the Cub Scout . . . striving frantically to keep the refrigerator full enough for ravenous teenagers . . . beaming with pride when the offspring receives the High School diploma . . . weeping a little at the time for departure to College . . . being a stalwart planner in the exciting days before daughter's marriage . . . experiencing bursting pride all over again with the arrival of a grandchild.

Who would this be? It's Mother, queen of the household for 365 days a year, but who receives the homage due her usually only on one day out of the 365. That day is today, as families everywhere pause for just a little while to express love and appreciation to the grandest person in all the world.

Oldest And Youngest

Mrs. Eliza J. Lovelace, 99, and Mrs. Bud Bailey, 15, will be honored Sunday at 3 p.m. on a program broadcast over Radio Station KBST, as the oldest and youngest white mothers in Big Spring. Mrs. Lovelace will be interviewed in a remote control broadcast that will originate from the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. T. Rogers, with whom she lives. Mrs. Bailey, wife of an oil field worker and the mother of an eight-weeks-old son, James Lamar, will be interviewed at 3:30 p.m. following a short address by the Rev. William Boyd, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Mayor G. W. Dabney will also speak during the program. Mrs. Bailey, who came here from Staline, Miss., four weeks ago, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendren, Rt. 1, with whom the couple is living.

Child Study Club To Have Luncheon

Child Study Club will have its spring luncheon at 1 p. m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. M. Deal Jr., 1509 Eleventh Pl. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Elton Gilliland and Mrs. Jack Alexander.

The Rev. Aisie H. Carleton will be guest speaker and his topic will be "Religion In The Home."

DRESS PARADE

By Jan Wieser

Tea guest Mrs. O. W. Mitchell was wearing a printed taffeta frock in aqua, pink and white on black with a softly draped collar around the low cut neckline. Pink, blue and violet posies decorated her tiny black straw cloth hat, and her shoes and bag were of black suede. She wore a pink woven straw choker with matching earrings.

Gilmpses: Mrs. Harold Tulbot at a sorority meeting in pale pink... Mrs. Doug Orme at a precinct convention in a black and white polka dotted sheath topped with a black organdy duster... CLAIRE McCARDELL

FOR ROMANTIC LOOK
Feminine Frock Features
Low Neckline, Full Skirt

For the romantic look choose Claire McCardell's summer frock that is plethoric with the beauty of youth and the richness of this time for living. As you know, Miss McCardell is nationally renowned for her feminine clothes. She designs for those women who strictly want to look like women. True, she's never gone in for a lot of extraneous go-dads, and furbelows, but when one wears a McCardell dress, she mightily well knows that her curves are where nature put 'em—and Miss McCardell believes in being womanly first, foremost, and always. This simple frock is not as sedate as you might think. It just looks wellbred and proper. If you look behind, the dress has the equivalent of the kick of a mule—and just takes a bead on that neckline! Sure, it looks prim and proper, but it has the witchery and guile of a leopardess. The skirt carries out the feminine touch, too—and is sufficiently bouffant to carry one of the crinelines that is finding so much dressroom these days of feminine clothes. Organdy, pique, voile, tie silk, silk shantung, silk taffeta—any of these would be perfect for Pattern 1092. Size 12 requires 5 1/2 yards of 36-inch fabric. Pattern 1092 is available in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. To order Pattern 1092, send $1 to Spades Syndicate, Inc., Dept. 154, Box 258, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N.Y. For air mail handling, enclose 25 cents. To order pattern booklet VI, send 15 cents.

Ada Garrett's Engagement To Wendell R. George Told

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Garrett of Dallas have announced to engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ada, to Wendell R. George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. George of Big Spring. The betrothal was revealed at a Saturday at the Dallas Women's Forum. Mrs. Tom L. Bond and Mrs. E. M. Fulton met the guests at the door. In the receiving line were the mothers of the engaged couple, the honoree, Mary Lathers of Houston, who will be maid of honor; Patsy Martin, Juanelle Stevens and Lyn George, sister of the prospective bridegroom, who will be bridesmaids. Mrs. Jay Cois of Wichita Falls presided at the guest book. On the refreshment table was a showery arrangement of pink carnations and lilacs with pink satin streamers extending from two gold wedding rings. Across the rings was inscribed the date of the wedding, June 7. Favors were miniature wedding rings tied with pink satin ribbon inscribed with the names of the couple. Serving punch were Mrs. Ford House and El Reno Peity. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Sam Emsen, Mrs. Edgar Garrett, Billy Dumas and La Rue McDaniell. Other members of the house party were Mrs. John Lacy; Mrs. Dewey Smallwood, Mrs. Parker Howe, Mrs. Paul Garrett and Mrs. L. C. McBride. Mrs. Leo Kopsich played music during the receiving hours. Miss Garrett and George attended Hardin Simmons University and he will graduate next year from the school. Mr. George will be his son's best man and ushers will be Edgar J. Garrett, William Sartain and Judge George.

Getting Ready For A Trip

Mrs. Ernest Buckley (Betty Bob Diltz) may well be giving her brood an earful of lore about North Africa. They'll be shoving off in June to be with Maj. Buckley at Port Lyautrey, near the Sidi Slimane base in French Morocco. With Mrs. Buckley, a former Herald staffer, are her three children. Betty Lynn, 4, and Mike and Pat, the 17-month-old twins. The Buckleys met when he was stationed at the Big Spring Bombardier School in World War II. After his return, they were married in August 1946. While he continued to work toward his engineering degree and serve on a college staff, she always managed to do newspapering. It was only natural that she should end up on the 8th Air Force publication for women, the "Flying Hens", and to become its editor. More lately she has been doing a column for The Fort Worth Press, "Carswell Conservation," and, naturally, likely will become its "stringer" in French Morocco.

P-TA Meeting

Mrs. A. C. LaCroix, president, has announced that the Washington Place P-TA will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the school immediately following an executive meeting at 7. All members are being urged to attend.

A Bird in Hand...

You know the maxim, "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." In other words, "Take care of what you have!" For example, if you have health, don't harbor it for any glimmering prospect. At the first indication of trouble, consult your physician and abide by the experienced counsel he gives. And if the Doctor writes a prescription, of course, we hope you'll bring it here for expert compounding!

Choir To Tour South

Marjorie Moore, daughter of W. O. Moore of Stanton, left Abilene Saturday morning with the Hardin-Simmons University A Cappella Choir on a two-week concert tour which will take them to five states and the Southern Baptist Convention in Miami, Fla. The choir, above, will sing at a convention-sponsored youth rally at which Evangelist Billy Graham will be speaker.

Mrs. M. N. Thorp Honors Louise Sullivan At Tea

Mrs. M. N. Thorp Sr. honored Louise Sullivan of Kerrville, bride-elect of M. N. Thorp Jr., at a tea in her home Saturday. Mrs. Sam Bakow greeted the guests at the door. In the receiving line were the hostess, the honoree and Mrs. William Sullivan, mother of the bride-elect, of Kerrville.

Anna Mae Thorp, sister of the prospective bridegroom, presided at the guest book. The refreshment table was laid with an imported Madeira cutwork cloth. The centerpiece featured an arrangement of peach gladioli, pastel majestic daisies, yellow snapdragons and silver fern in a crystal bowl. White candles in silver holders flanked the scene and similar flower arrangements were used throughout the entertaining rooms. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Shirleys Feted On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shirley were honored on their golden wedding anniversary with an open house in the home of their son, H. L. Shirley, 909 Lancaster.

Their children were co-hosts and hostesses. In the receiving line with the honorees were their son and daughters, Mrs. T. B. Tonn, Mrs. G. A. Lewallen of Lockney and Mrs. E. R. Williams of Levelland. Another daughter, Mrs. C. E. Johnson of Carlsbad, N. M. was unable to attend.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over gold and featured an arrangement of yellow gladioli at the centerpiece.

The daughters of the honored couple presided at the table. E. R. Williams, a son-in-law, was in charge of the guest book. About 119 guests called during the afternoon. Those attending included some from Sterling City, Odessa, Stanton and Sand Springs.

Mrs. Truman Jones poured and Beverly Stulting served the cake. Mrs. Omar Pitman played the piano throughout the receiving hours.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. Bernie Freeman, Mrs. Charlie Watson and Libby Jones.

About 100 guests called. Miss Sullivan was given an orchid net over taffeta gown with a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Henry Park brought the devotional at the meeting of the Baptist WMS at the church Wednesday afternoon.

Prayers were offered by Mrs. Jesse Overton and Mrs. Oscar Pettit.

The meeting was followed by a visitation hour. Six attended. The Royal Service will be given at the meeting next Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lindsey and sons moved to Edith Friday. C. C. Brunton and Bob Vick were in Austin on business during the week.

Royt Andrews was a business visitor in Odessa Thursday. Susan Swain is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Swain in Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. George Overton are making an extended visit in Christoval.

Planes, Weapons To Be Shown At Dedication Of Base, May 18

Recently-activated Big Spring Air Force Base will roll out the red carpet next Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. John Public.

Officials at the multi-million dollar jet training station will throw the gates wide open for a five-hour display of aircraft and other military equipment.

Staged in connection the nationwide observance of Armed Forces Day, the open-house will also mark the formal dedication of the air base.

On display will be the famous Lockheed T-33 (two-seated version of the battle-proven Shooting Star), the jet trainer being utilized at Big Spring AFB. Special ramps will permit close inspection of the T-33 and other USAF aircraft, including T-29's, C-47's, C-47's and B-27's.

For many West Texans the open-house will offer the first opportunity for a close-up examination of the military aircraft currently in use.

Texas National Guard and Naval Reserve Organizations are also co-operating with air base units to provide displays. Guard equipment, including 105mm and 155mm howitzers will be positioned along the air base ramp, as will Army-type liaison aircraft. Electronic equipment and additional aircraft will highlight the Naval Reserve Contributions.

Gates are scheduled to open promptly at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Parking areas have been readied to accommodate the several thousand automobiles expected to enter the base.

Large signs at both base gates will direct visitors to points of interest, and guides will be on hand within the base boundaries to regulate the flow of traffic and answer inquiries.

Brief ceremonies at two o'clock will formally dedicate the base. Headlining the list of distinguished guests will be Lt. General Robert W. Harper, commanding general of the Air Training Command.

Followers of the Grand Ole Opry type of entertainment will find an attraction of interest in Big Spring Monday evening, as one of the Nashville performers, Carl Smith, makes an appearance here.

Carl, a fiddler and guitarist, brings a five-person troupe in accompaniment when he shows at the City Auditorium under sponsorship of the American Legion. The program starts at 8 o'clock.

An added attraction will be a 30-minute amateur contest, with local talent participating.

Carl Smith is regarded as one of the brighter new stars of the Grand Ole Opry aggregation. He's a native Tennessean, and began his career in 1944, pickin' and singin' over WROL at Knoxville. After some time in the Navy, he returned to radio stations in the South, until Opry scouts found him and took him to the big show at Nashville. Since then he has been moving along, and in addition to his Opry schedule, is playing consistently on radio and TV programs. He also is building a reputation with records, and has recorded a couple of compositions of his own.

Legionnaires are offering tickets to the show during the day Monday, and until boxoffice time, tickets also may be had at the Record Shop.

Persons wanting information about the amateur contest may call Truett Thomas at 1695.

Grand Ole Opry Performer Here Monday Evening

Barbara Douglass and James Kinsey, McMurry College seniors from Big Spring, will be among the 37 graduates to receive degrees from McMurry College, Abilene, May 20.

D. D. Monroe, outstanding national civic leader from Clayton, New Mexico, will deliver the commencement address May 20 in the Radford Memorial Student Life Center. The baccalaureate sermon, given by Dr. Walter Willis, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church of El Paso, May 18, will also be held there.

Miss Douglass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Douglass, will receive her B. S. degree with a major in speech, while Kinsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kinsey, having majored in Business Administration will receive a B. S. degree.

While a student, Miss Douglass was a member of Wah Wahaysee, service organization, Delta Beta Epsilon, women's social club, McMurry Theatre, and Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity, serving as president of that organization her senior year.

Kinsey was a member of the Quadrillers.

Weaver Is Candidate For County Judge

R. H. Weaver issued a public statement Saturday in behalf of his candidacy for the office of County Judge.

A resident of Big Spring for the past 20 years, Weaver said he was well aware of the administrative duties of the county judge's office and felt that he was qualified to serve fairly and efficiently. In addition, he is a practicing attorney and believes himself fully qualified to perform the judicial duties of that office.

Weaver is 39 years old, is married and is the father of two sons. Following his graduation from the Big Spring High School, Weaver served in the U. S. Air Force from 1942 to 1945. In 1945 he entered the University of Texas to study law. He finished law school and was admitted to the bar in 1950 when he returned to Big Spring to begin practice.

"The judicial duties which fall upon the shoulders of the county judge are increasing each year, and I believe that my training and experience as a lawyer will enable me to serve the people of Howard County well in that respect. I also believe that I am familiar enough with the various other affairs of Howard County to serve efficiently as an administrator. I will serve the people of Howard County to the best of my ability if they honor me with this office."

Weaver is well known, both in Big Spring and in rural communities of the county. He said he would like to talk to each voter personally during the campaign. Since that would be virtually impossible, he said he hoped voters would consider his public statement as a personal invitation for their support in the Democratic primaries.

When The Wife Has Her Baby, Blow Your Bugle To Get Help

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Loud trumpet blasts were heard at 2 a. m. in the Salda Zelnab District of Cairo.

Cairo has been under curfew from midnight to 5 a. m. since the fire riots of last Jan. 26.

A policeman who investigated found a man leaning out the window blowing for all he was worth.

The trumpeter greeted the policeman with open arms.

"You're just the man I want," he said. "My wife is having a baby and I couldn't go out to get the midwife because of the curfew."

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE

Stack up what you get for what you pay . . . and join the nation's largest group of truck users by choosing Chevrolet

By far the biggest number of truck users today are Chevrolet owners . . . and for good hard-headed reasons. Because what they get is this:

Low Cost—in purchase price and in upkeep. A truck that gets the job done. A truck that's rugged, long lasting. Take a look at the four facts below . . . and see why you, too, will be money ahead with a Chevrolet truck. Come in and see us about it!

- FACT NO. 1 Save money on purchase price. Stack up a Chevrolet truck against any other truck with comparable specifications. You'll find the Chevrolet truck lists for less.
- FACT NO. 2 Save money on operating costs. Hundreds of thousands of truck users have proved to their own satisfaction that Chevrolet costs the least of all to own and maintain.
- FACT NO. 3 Save money on job efficiency. Chevrolet trucks are factory-matched to your payload requirements. You don't buy "too much or too little truck."
- FACT NO. 4 Save money on low depreciation. Records show that Chevrolet trucks traditionally bring more money at resale than any other make which costs about the same new.

MCDOWELL SHIPS BEEF TO SOUTH DAKOTA

There's Grass Elsewhere, So Cattlemen Move Their Herds Where Area Is Greener

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS

Drought may delay the plans of well-seasoned old-time cowmen but drought can't faint them. They'll take up at the end of the dry spell where they had to leave off, and in their lives the period of little or no rainfall will become a memory over which they'll chuckle as they reminisce in the years that follow.

But right at the driest spot of the dry months that come in un-falling regularity one after another, things do look tough, and as they listen to grass-hungry cows howling out their protests against the cloudless skies and blinding sun, they can't help but recall the old adage that was probably first expressed by the first West Texas cowman, "if you stay with cows long enough droughts and low prices will break you."

But even when the true cowman finds the going tough he refuses to admit that it is also discouraging. Droughts and grassless land, to him, are as much a part of the cattle business as branding irons and ropes and screw worms and bulls. It's always been that way. When he's always found grass in one spot he has trailed his herds to another place where there is grass.

And that is what West Texas cattlemen are doing this year. Cows and calves from this area are moving many places where there is green grass. Some to East Texas, many of them to Oklahoma, some to North Texas, some to New Mexico, and recently two bunches totaling 3,000 head have taken off for South Dakota.

Many of the cattle shipped out of West Texas will never be brought back, but 1,500 head of those recently moved will be returned. These are the cattle, the last of which were shipped from Big Spring yesterday by Lorin McDowell whose headquarters ranch is in Glasscock County. The cattle were trucked here, loaded and will be taken off the cars in South Dakota on which they will be placed, according to Jess Slaughter, who supervised the loading and shipping from here for the owner. As the cattle go out they are scheduled to be unloaded, watered and fed at Denver before being re-loaded for the balance of the trip.

When they leave the cars in South Dakota they will be driven in the old-fashioned way from the railroad pens to their new range. McDowell plans to return these animals to West Texas this fall after they have summered on the bountiful grass of South Dakota. Out of the 1,500 head only one carload of bulls has been shipped. The others are dry cows, yearling heifers and cows and calves, and they are the animals with which McDowell is experimenting in an effort to develop a breed better adapted to West Texas range conditions than either of the three British beef breeds (Shorthorn, Angus and Hereford) or the Brahmas.

That McDowell has already made progress in this direction has been evidenced by the comment of old cowhands who have been at the pens of the Big Spring Livestock Commission Company from which the cattle are being loaded on the T&P cars. About half of the 300 yearling heifers that were shipped during the week were Braford (calves by Brahma bulls) and the appearance of these crossbred heifers showed that they had weathered the drought up to this point much better than had the straight Hereford heifers. A few less than 200 dry cows are included the shipment, making about 1,000 cows and calves (500 pair) that are being shipped.

Among these cows, nearly all of which are Herefords there was very little difference in their appearance, but there was a distinct difference in the calves that showed heavy Brahma characteristics. The calves that were clearly half Brahma were in much better condition than the other calves. Although the condition of all mother cows, it may be repeated, was practically the same and apparently there was very little difference in their abilities to nurse their calves. The little fellows carrying a heavy infusion of the humped-bull breed were in much better condition. They were heavier in the trucks, unloaded quicker, and went to nursing sooner showing less weariness. Cowmen who looked the animals over predicted they will also stand the trip to South Dakota better.

Likewise, it was apparent that the two-year-old crossbred Braford cows with calves at their side have been doing better and had a thrifter appearance than the straight Herefords, although all have been on the same range and have received the same supplemental feed. This is not to be taken as an indication, however, that this distinction will be maintained during a normal year of average rainfall and grass. Under such conditions the Herefords may show the greater gain.

Significant, too, was the way the crossbred calves satisfied their hunger from the teats of any cow that could reach. Notoriously milk thieves, the Brahma or crossbred Brahma has never been known to starve as long as he can get to any cow with enough milk to nourish him. In the Big Spring pens Friday afternoon there were several instances where a cow's own calf and one of the crossbred calves were nursing her at the same time.

McDowell is keeping his herd of purebred Brahmata at his head-

Greener Pastures

Most of the animals in the larger picture, with the exception of the Hereford cow in the immediate foreground and one or two others, are Braford, and all the calves shown were sired by Brahma bulls. The animals in the best condition of all were the dry cows in the inset picture. McDowell had but 171 of those which attest a high percentage calf crop. Most of the week was required to haul the 1,500 head from the headquarters ranch in Glasscock County to the pens from which the last load was shipped out by rail yesterday (lower picture). Just this side of the light pole is Jess Slaughter counting the cows and calves as they leave one of the trucks. Slaughter is in charge of the unloading and shipping. One of the biggest jobs at the ranch was seeing to it that each of the 300 mother cows had the right calf loaded into the truck with her.

...there are always so many exciting things to see and places to go...

Last minute matters of importance are discussed by Stanley Clements and Elena Verdugo, before he takes off into the wild blue yonder in a jet job. And "Jet Job" is the title of their picture, which has a Tuesday-Wednesday booking at the State Theatre.

Trouble In Reno

Peggy Dow is the lady getting a hug from Gigi Perreau, in this scene from "Reunion in Reno." The comedy drama of family difficulties, with Mark Stevens also featured, is the principal attraction at the State Theatre today and Monday.

In Darkest Africa

Humphrey Bogart is the riverboat captain, Katherine Hepburn the do-good lady in Africa who together encounter some dramatic adventures in "The African Queen." Rated as one of the stand-out pictures of the year, the feature is booked into the Ritz for four days beginning today. It got Bogart his first Academy Award.

Stick 'Em Up, Boys

That's Wild Bill Elliott in charge of the situation, as he levels his gun on two dangerous characters. This is a scene from the adventure melodrama with a Texas accent, "Waco," which plays at the Terrace Drive-In tonight and Monday night.

AWARD WINNER AT THE RITZ

Bogart And Hepburn Star In Story Of 'The African Queen'

Humphrey Bogart, Katherine Hepburn and Director John Huston, recognized as three of the shining lights of filmdom, combine their talents in an unusual adventure drama, "The African Queen," current at the Ritz.

The picture has had a solid reception throughout the country, and gains stature by virtue of the fact that it brought Bogart his first Academy Award. The Ritz is offering "The African Queen" in an unusual billing that lasts four days.

The film tells the story of a tough little river boatman, played by Bogart, and the prim, straight-laced sister of an English missionary who find love in a wild adventure which takes them down a dangerous river in a small boat, with the self-planned mission of destroying a fully-armed German gunboat in World War I.

Jet Jobs Play Part In Drama At The State

The Lockheed aircraft factory and the Lockheed Air Terminal in Burbank Calif., provide authentic backgrounds for many of the scenes in "Jet Job" a thriller offered

Tuesday and Wednesday at the State Theatre.

The picture stars Stanley Clements and Elena Verdugo. Clements portrays a test pilot for a designer of fighting jets who, hoping that it will be a lesson, fires the young flier for disobeying orders and taking unnecessary risks in the air.

contract for the firm he worked for originally.

Item of interest are the scenes which show the manufacture and testing of the jets which now are forming the backbone of the nation's air fighting force.

Show Is Cancelled

The Big Spring Garden Club is cancelling its flower show originally scheduled for May 14, Mrs. Allen Hamilton, chairman, announced Saturday.

Little Girl Has Version Of Divorce

An off-the-beaten-path sort of comedy drama is the description held forth for "Reunion in Reno," which is playing at the State Theatre today and Monday.

Mark Stevens, Peggy Dow and Gigi Perreau play in the story of a child who goes to Reno to divorce her parents. It manages to blend laughter and tears.

Little Gigi is fast making a name for herself as a child actress, and scores again as the child determined to sever her family relations. Stevens appears as a Reno divorce attorney and Peggy Dow is seen as a wedding-wary stenographer who befriends the bewildered little girl.

A name familiar to moviegoers of a few years back, Frances Dee, is to be seen in the role of the girl's mother, and Leif Erickson is her father. Ray Collins and Myrna Dell are other principals in the cast.

William Holden Stars In Story Of 'Boots Malone'

William Holden is starred in "Boots Malone," new Columbia picture booked for Thursday at the Ritz. He is supported by Johnny Stewart, a young star from the Broadway stage, Stanley Clements and Basil Ruysdael.

Holden is a race-track character and young Stewart is the lad who idolizes him. The dramatic content of their story is said to rank along with those famed stories, "The Kid," in which Chaplin and Jackie Coogan played; and "The Champ," which had Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper as its principals.

quarters ranch and will feed them instead of summering them with the others on the Dakota grass.

These cattle are going to the ranch of W. H. "Bill" Miller, who formerly lived in Borden County, but who now lives near Newell, South Dakota, not far from the Wyoming line.

Recently Clyde Miller, brother of the man who has leased grass to McDowell, shipped 1,500 yearling steers to this same Dakota area by truck from Borden County. Clyde Miller has a ranch near Faith, South Dakota. Another brother, Frank Miller, has also sent some cattle to South Dakota.

These two shipments, totaling approximately 3,000 head, represent one of the largest movements of cattle from this section to grass elsewhere in a number of years.

McDowell has faced some pretty bitter West Texas dry spells before. He has been delayed but never daunted by them, and he has the confidence that the rains needed to restore the grass on his ranges are not too far off. He figures that by his grass not being grazed this summer it will be in much better shape to receive the cattle when they are returned this fall and he takes up where he is leaving off in continuing his crossbreeding program to develop a more drought-resistant breed of beef cattle. He is happy with the progress he has made so far with his Braford cows and calves.

Wholesale Prices In Big Weekly Gain

NEW YORK, May 10 (U.S.)—Wholesale commodity prices, as measured by the Associated Press, this week posted their sharpest weekly gain since early last November.

The index rose to 194.64 from last week-end's 182.88 and compared with 207.54 a year ago.

In this index of 35 important wholesale commodity prices, the base year of 1928 equals 100.

WITH THE 25TH INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA — Sgt. Lee R. Poe, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Poe, 1010 N. Dallas St., Lamesa, recently left the 25th Infantry Division on the Korean front for rotation to the United States.

A veteran unit of the Korean war, the 25th was one of the first to see combat. It recently has been engaged in patrol action near the 38th parallel.

A platoon sergeant with Headquarters and Headquarters Company, Sergeant Poe entered the Army in 1946. He arrived in Korea last August.

Sgt. Franklin Awarded Medal

The Bronze Star Medal recently was awarded to Sgt. Bill W. Franklin of Route 2, Big Spring, for meritorious service in Europe during World War II.

The announcement of the award was made by the Department of the Army in Washington.

Sergeant Franklin was cited for the period of Aug. 16, 1944 to April 15, 1945.

The citation states that while serving as a truckman "he (Franklin) worked tirelessly and continuously to maintain vital convoy operations designed to keep Army and Air Force units supplied with fuel."

"Personally supervising the loading and dispatch of convoys, he capably assisted his unit to establish an enviable record of operational efficiency."

"Sergeant Franklin's outstanding demonstration of leadership, efficiency and sustained devotion to duty in a position of vital importance reflects marked credit upon himself and the military service."

Sergeant Franklin is now assigned to the Army Headquarters at the Air Force Missile Test Center in Cocoa, Fla.

My Mother's Garden

Her heart is like her garden,
Old-fashioned, quaint and sweet,
With here a wealth of blossoms,
And there a still retreat.
Sweet violets are hiding,
We know as we pass by,
And lilies, pure as angel thoughts,
Are opening somewhere nigh.

Forget-me-nots there linger,
To full perfection brought,
And there bloom purple pansies
In many a tender thought.
There love's own roses blossom,
As from enchanted ground,
And lavish perfume exquisite
The whole glad year around.

And in that quiet garden—
The garden of her heart—
Songbirds are always singing
Their songs of cheer apart.
And from it floats forever,
Overcoming sin and strife,
Sweet as the breath of roses blown,
The fragrance of her life.

GRUB LINE

By Franklin Reynolds

Real ranch people are mighty fine folks as everybody knows and City Judge W. E. Greenlee and Patrolman Jack Fillyaw of the Big Spring Police Department are ready to affirm the fact.

Recently Mrs. Lowell Hankins of Rocksprings drove through town pulling a trailer loaded with a very fine mare and equipped with electric brakes. Mrs. Hankins wasn't accustomed to pulling the trailer and had been warned not to apply those brakes too quickly or the mare might be seriously injured. As she approached an intersection the light was about to change, she knew that, and she was faced with quite a sudden problem. She knew that if she stepped on the brakes she was going to set the mare on her head, and that if she didn't step on the brakes she probably wouldn't clear the intersection before the light changed.

She looked both ways, all was clear and she was driving very slowly. If she had been like many Big Spring motorists she would have stepped on the gas and roared across before the light changed. But, according to the officer, Mrs. Hankins doesn't drive that way, and sure enough the red light caught her before she got all the way across.

Fillyaw didn't like the job of giving her a ticket, but duty is duty, and with the ticket he suggested she drop Judge Greenlee a note of explanation since court wasn't in session at the time.

Right after she got home that night Mrs. Hankins sat down and wrote the court, explaining the situation just as Fillyaw had done. The other morning Judge Greenlee showed the Grub Line Rider her letter.

"That's just about the nicest letter this court has ever received," the judge commented. "They must be mighty nice people and I'm going to excuse that violation."

And to the credit of Jack Fillyaw let it be noted that Mrs. Hankins complimented him very highly. She was treated most courteously, she said.

And to the credit of the Hankins' Ranch let it be said that to make the driving of ranch cars safer the trailer was equipped with electric brakes even though it was a trailer not required by law to be so equipped.

Mrs. Hankins didn't protest, she didn't try to beg off, she admitted her violation, sought to explain it and was willing to abide by whatever decision the court might have made. The Hankins family is well known to all West Texas ranch people. It is a family that couldn't help but be well-known since one of the family, Jess Hankins, is the owner of that wonderful old Quarter Horse sire, King.

Soil Conservation Service Jingle:

When surface winds are labeled "gusty,"
The air you breathe becomes quite dusty.

Will it be your topsoil that's blowin'?

For when it starts it keeps a'goin'!

An example of the wonderful way in which our government operates is reflected on the fact that delegates from the CIO and the AFL are sitting in at the Mexico City conference at which an agreement is being discussed under which Texas farmers and ranchers may use Bracero labor.

And they're there making their suggestions with the permission of the Government of the United States!

M. G. Burchett, who recently became a co-operator with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District has a plan to "eat his cake and have it, too." He plans to have adequate feed for his livestock and at the same time to protect his soil by leaving a stubble mulch after the feed has been cut. In this program he proposes planting feed on sandy soils in rotation with cotton and also along his field borders to keep the topsoil where it is and at the same time add organic matter where it is needed the most. Other co-operators recently enrolling with the District are Revis Murphree, Mrs. Floy Hodges, Clyde McKeehan and T. R. Molina.

Foot-and-mouth disease has broken out on the Island of Jersey where the famous dairy breed was developed. This disease has recently made its appearance in 214 separate areas of the United Kingdom.

In Canada the infection has moved to within 50 miles of the U.S.-Canadian border, and should it appear south of the line it is expected that the Western States along the International Boundary will throw up quarantines that may include a great many cattle from the Southwest sent to those states for pasturage.

Shorthorn cattle will have only one range bull project this year and it is set for Idaho Falls, Idaho. The facilities will permit the efficient handling of only 75 bulls and careful culling will be practiced in order to choose only those animals that give the strongest evidence of developing into the best range bull prospects.

The bulls will go the feeding program about June 1, on pastures with grain supplements, and will be judged and sold in the fall to cowmen who like their bulls developed under identical conditions. Polled Shorthorns are also eligible.

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
by Harold R. Foster

Synopsis: ON THE GREAT DAY A BRILLIANT PROCESSION LEAVES THE CASTLE OF VIKINGSHOLM AND WINDS ITS WAY TO THE NEW CHURCH. ALL THE NOBLE WARRIORS OF THULE LEAVE OFF FIGHTING ONE ANOTHER TO ATTEND THE CEREMONY, FOR IT IS CONSIDERED BAD FOR THE HEALTH TO DISOBEY THE KING'S INVITATIONS.

ALL WHO CAN FIND ROOM CROWD INTO THE CHURCH. BUT MANY OF THE VIKINGAR PREFER TO STAY OUTSIDE LEST THEIR WARLIKE GODS BE OFFENDED. THEY DO NOT TRUST THIS PRINCE OF PEACE WHO PLACES LOVE ABOVE ANGER.

GOLDEN SUNLIGHT POURS THROUGH THE UNFINISHED ROOF; RAW WALLS ARE COVERED WITH BRIGHT RUGS AND TAPESTRIES. THE TWINS ARE DELIGHTED WITH THE BISHOP'S FLOWING WHITE BEARD AND ONE OF THEM SECURES A HANDFUL. THEY ARE GIVEN MANY NAMES, BUT THEY WILL EVER BE KNOWN BY THOSE ALETA HAD PROMISED; ONE FOR THE GRACEFUL SOUTH, ONE FOR THE ROBUST NORTH: VALETA AND KAREN!

WHAT'LL WE DO ABOUT GETTING MY CAR OUT OF THE CAVERN, MR. MILES?

I'LL SEND JIMMIE OUT WITH A FRESH BATTERY, PETE... BUT RIGHT NOW WE MUST HURRY BACK TO THE RANCH... I MADE AN APPOINTMENT WITH COLORADO COLBY.

WHO IS THIS HOMBRE, BOSS? THAT NAME, COLORADO COLBY, DON'T RING NO SPECIAL BELL WITH ME... SHOULD I KNOW HIM?

WITH A MONICKER LIKE THAT, HE MUST HAIL FROM THE WIDE-OPEN SPACES, AM I RIGHT?

I DON'T REALLY KNOW, TEX... I ONLY KNOW HIM THROUGH CORRESPONDENCE... HE'S INTERESTED IN SADDLE HORSES.

YOU ARE MR. COLBY, I PRESUME... I APOLOGIZE FOR BEING LATE... I WAS QUITE UNAVOIDABLY DETAINED.

DON'T FRET NONE OVER THAT, MR. MILES... A FEW MINUTES MORE OR LESS AN'T GON TO MAKE NO DIFFERENCE... GLAD TO MEET UP WITH YOU!

I'LL GET RIGHT DOWN TO CASES, GENTS... I'M A DEALER IN RUDY HORSES... I GELL 'EM TO DUDE RANCHES, RUDY SCHOOLS, CARNIVALS, CIRCUSES AND THE MOVIES... BUT TO GELL 'EM, I FIRST HAVE TO BUY 'EM... RIGHT?

YES, SO I UNDERSTOOD FROM YOUR LETTERS... OF COURSE, OUT OF ALL THE HORSES WE BREED, WE KEEP ONLY A FEW FOR TRAINING... THE OTHERS WE SEND TO THE YEARLING SALES!

SURE... SURE... BUT I GAVE YOU A LOT O' TIME AN' HEADACHES BY TAKIN' 'EM ALL OFF YOUR HANDS AT ONE CRACK... WELL, WHADDAYA SAY?

SUPPOSE YOU CALL THIS EVENING... I'LL CONSIDER IT AND GIVE YOU MY ANSWER THEN.

SEVERAL HOURS LATER

TEX, I'VE DECIDED TO GELL SOME HORSES TO COLBY, BUT I WANT TO KNOW JUST WHAT HAPPENS TO THEM... SO I'M GOING TO SEND YOU AND THE BOYS ALONG WITH THEM.

GOOD, BOSS... THE DEAL SEEMS TO BE ON THE UP N UP, BUT Y'NEVER KNOW!

MEANWHILE, ON A FARM NEAR THE SEACOST

I DUNNO, BLACKIE... I GOTTA ADMIT IT'S A SLICK SETUP... BUT AIN'T IT RISKY? HOW ABOUT YOUR PARTNER, COLORADO COLBY? HE AIN'T IN ON IT, IS HE?

OF COURSE COLORADO AIN'T IN ON IT... THAT'S WHY IN ON IT... THAT'S WHY IT'S SO CARE... UP TO NOW, YOU AND I ARE THE ONLY ONES IN IT, SO WHAT DO YOU SAY, CAPPY?

MR. TYLER SAYS TIME AND SPACE ARE THE SAME THING!

HE SAYS LIGHT TRAVELS FASTER THAN SOUND!

HE SAYS ALL THINGS FALL TOWARD THE CENTER OF THE EARTH!

ONE MORE THING... DIAMONDS ARE JUST CARBON AFTER THE PROPER HEAT AND PRESSURE...

BLIZZ... MUMBLE...

OKAY, OKAY, SO WHAT? YOU KIDS GO ON OUT AND PLAY!

WELL... WELL... VA KEEP TELLIN' ME I AIN'T... SO Y'AWN... MESSE I AIN'T SO SHORE.

AFTER SEVERAL HOURS OF YEARNIN' QUESTIONIN'.

I'M SORRY, MY BOY... ONLY HUMPHREY PENNYWORTH DID THOSE THINGS... DO YOU STILL THINK YOU'RE HUMPHREY?

PUT HIM IN BED. YOU WON'T NEED THE STRAIT-JACKET ANY MORE. HE'S QUIETED DOWN.

THE FOLLOWING MORNING... WELL... YOU LOOK BETTER THIS MORNING, MR. PALOOKA. YOU WERE A PRETTY SICK YOUNG MAN.

THANK YOU, NURSE. I FEEL A LOT BETTER.
