(More or Less)

Not long ago it gave us pleasure to report to you that O. L. (Lee) Orr could see again. That was a happy story to report.

Now we have a sad story to report to you, and one that is hard to write.

Little Jane Cummings, who will be three years of age next April, underwent an operation Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Amarillo to remove her one remaining eye.

The other eye was removed more than a year ago when a disease called gloma, a form of tumor, was threatening to take her little life.

At the time, it was hoped that the second eye could be saved. Specialists at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore treated the child, and expressed some hope that Jane could retain her sight.

At that time, she has been taken to see. Recently, however, her parents, Superintendent and Logan Cummings, detected that her eyesight was becoming dimly. They noticed this through the things, such as her inability to avoid door facings, etc. Last week Mrs. Cummings took Jane to Johns Hopkins again, and there the doctors confirmed her fears.

The second eye was almost gone, and it was a hard decision for the parents to make, but they realized that removal of the second eye was the only solution their doctors could give them to keep the life of little Jane. That eye was removed Monday afternoon by doctors in Amarillo, and little Jane was very ill at the last report, but was expected to become better.

She may live a normal span of years, although she will be without her eyesight throughout her life. However, there is still danger that the disease may have spread to the optic nerve—that will not be known until a slide specimen is sent to specialists on the East Coast and their decisions returned to Amarillo. If the disease has spread to the optic nerve, then little Jane may not have long to live.

This is the kind of story we do not like to have to report.

Mrs. Peggy Sanders will begin duties as society editor and local news reporter at The News Monday morning, replacing Miss Jo Ann Grigsby, who has been on the staff for the past four months.

Mrs. Sanders has been with the Brown's Drug Store for the past few weeks. Miss Grigsby plans to leave next week for Elsa, where she will make her home. Readers of The News are asked to turn in their local news items to Mrs. Sanders in the future.

Wanted: Christmas cards and other greeting cards which you are through with and are about to discard. The women of the Lutheran Church of the Pagan community are undertaking to get together all such cards they can, to be sent to the cerebral palsy institution for children in New York. The children are receiving considerable education, as well as entertainment, in cutting out the pictures and wordings on the cards during their hours of illness when they need something to keep them occupied. Mrs. Miro Pagan, member of the church who is working to gather the cards in McLean, said. Mrs. Pagan asked all donors of such cards to leave the cards intact, with none of the pictures, or the wording (including the signatures) cut away. She explained that the children, her church had been informed, like to cut out the wording as well as the pictures. Should you have any cards with which you are through, either take them to Mrs. Pagan here in McLean, or phone her and she will call for them.

Services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and the speaker will be Allen Early, elder of the First Presbyterian Church in Amarillo. It was announced this week. No announcement concerning evening services was made.

Basketball fans who enjoy good games missed a really exciting one last Friday night if they were not present for the McLean-Shamrock boys game. The Shamrock lads, who have been winning the local boys regularly this season, barely edged out the lagers 40-36 in an overtime session in the local gym of the Municipal Building. The score was 21-21 at the half, and 35-35 at the end of the game. It was a

REPORT FROM KOREA

DAVID RASCO, who spent about three months as a war correspondent to Korea last fall, was in McLean Tuesday to deliver two addresses, one before members of the McLean Lions Club and the other before an assembly of students of the McLean schools in the high school auditorium.

Rasco, a member of the regional staff of the editorial department of the Amarillo Globe-News, left the U. S. for Korea on September 8, going by air to Tokyo, Japan. He spent about one week in Japan, and then went on to Korea. He left Korea late in November, and was back in Amarillo on December 1. It was ten days later that the Chinese Reds began pouring down upon United Nations troops, bringing on the present crisis.

Most of Rasco's remarks before the two audiences followed questions asked of him. Many of the questions were difficult to answer, and some of the more difficult were asked by the younger children at the school program.

We have attempted to remember some of the outstanding questions and the answers he gave. The answers are not given in quotation form, since the wording is not exactly the same as his in every case.

But here's a general resume of the questions and answers: How long can our troops manage to remain in Korea, or are they in the process of withdrawing now? That is difficult to answer. I am not a military strategist, and I simply don't know the correct answer. It may be that we are withdrawing from Korea now, just as we gradually withdrew from Seoul and Inchon and finally evacuated that area entirely last week. . . . it may be that our military leaders are moving down to Pusan to build up a defense line there and attempt to remain there. . . . the port at Inchon has a tricky tide, with a rise and fall of 30 feet every 24 hours, making troop landings and withdrawals very difficult. . . . the port at Pusan has a rise and fall in tide of only 12 inches, making it suitable for such operations. . . . should evacuation become necessary, that port would probably enable the U. N. troops to get out safely. . . . however, we might be able to hold that small perimeter. . . . the distance from that extreme south end point to the supply sources of the Chinese Reds is great, and their supply lines would be so long that they might not be able to hold out themselves. . . . we control the sea on both sides. . . . we have most of the air power.

In the war bloody? (asked by a small girl). Yes, honey, it is very bloody.

What do the Korean soldiers wear and eat? When I was there, cold weather had not set in to a great extent. . . . the Korean soldiers wore cheap cotton uniforms, rough like jeans but much poorer grade of material. . . . they mainly eat rice and fishheads, not steak like we eat over here.

I want to know about our soldier boys (asked by a small girl). When I was in Korea, our boys had ample clothing, but since then many have written back that their clothing was not enough for the cold weather. . . . consequently, one of their hardest fights has been to overcome the weather. . . . their food is good, like all army food, nourishing but not much taste, and therefore there is the same griping as is always prevalent in the armed forces. . . . shelter is sometimes good, sometimes not. . . . when a town is taken over, as many people as possible seek shelter in the school buildings, but many have to sleep outside when they get to sleep. . . . the Japanese, in control of Korea for 40 years prior to World War II, didn't provide much education for the youth, but they did build fairly nice school buildings.

What about the morale of our troops, and how do the U. S. troops mix with other U. N. troops? The morale of the troops, when I left late in November, was good, since we were winning at the time, but undoubtedly it has changed since then. . . . I have received letters from boys since I have been back, and they say they are tired, mentally and physically. . . . but I don't believe an American soldier will ever give up. . . . they mix fairly well with the British and Australian troops, better with the Australians than the British. . . . they do not speak the same language as the Turks, and this makes it hard to mix with them. . . . many South Korean troops are merely parts of U. S. divisions, and fight right along with them.

Did you see anyone killed? No, my main job over there was to contact as many boys from the Panhandle as possible. . . . it was not part of my job to go too near the shooting, and I simply didn't care to get shot at. . . . I didn't want to be even near such things, and since I didn't have to, I stayed away.

What about the equipment used by the Reds? It seems to me that mostly we are fighting against our own equipment. . . . we saw many 1903 Springfields, and machine guns of U. S. make, as well as other equipment made in

Tiger Grid Banquet To Be Held Here Next Thursday

The annual banquet, honoring members of the McLean High School grid team, will be held Thursday night, January 18, in the American Legion Hall. Coach Don Leach has announced. A limited number of tickets will be sold.

Principal speaker for the evening will be Frank Kimbrough, who led his West Texas State College team to a Border Conference championship this year, and then went on to win the Sun Bowl game in El Paso January 1.

Toastmaster for the program will be Clark Jarigan, formerly line coach under Kimbrough at both Baylor University and WTSC. Jarigan has recently been managing the college book store at WTSC.

Other details of the program are being worked out, and will be announced later, Leach said.

Cooper to Sell Station KEVA At Shamrock

Jim Abbott of Altus, Okla., has entered into contract to purchase Radio Station KEVA at Shamrock from Albert Cooper, a story in the Shamrock Texan revealed last week.

Abbott stated last week that his contract to buy the Shamrock broadcasting station was placed in the First National Bank in Shamrock, and will be effective as soon as the sale has been approved by the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C.

The Oklahoma man took over the duties of commercial manager and program director of the station last week, but the transfer of financial control must await approval from the FCC.

Abbott has been associated with Texas and Oklahoma radio stations for the past several years. He is married and has one child. He will move to family to Shamrock as soon as he can find a house.

Station KEVA went on the air two years ago this month. When plans were first announced for the construction of the station, partners in the business included Cooper and Arval Montgomery, both of the Shamrock Texan, Lester Campbell of the McLean News, and J. C. Howell of the Wheeler Times. However, before actual work on the construction of the station was started, Cooper purchased the interests of Montgomery, Campbell, and Howell, and has been sole owner since that time.

People to Decide on Pampa 'Port'

The question of where to locate the permanent Gray County airport, at one of the two sites proposed in Pampa, is being brought to the attention of the people of the county, and Pampans interested in the project are asking the citizens of the McLean area to aid them in deciding on the location.

A straw ballot of the citizens of the county who are taxpayers is being made, and a copy of the straw ballot is being run in this issue of the McLean News. Citizens are asked to fill in the ballot and mail to the Chamber of Commerce, Pampa. All ballots will be kept confidential, it was explained.

Late last year the Civil Aeronautics Administration announced that Gray County was to receive at least $55,000 in government aid to improve its airport facilities. This amount is to be added to with funds from the county, and McLean, if bonds for the purpose are approved, will receive about $22,000 in aid for preparing an airport for local use. The site for the McLean field would be the old P. O. W. camp, which was granted to the City of McLean about two years ago for that purpose.

No work on improving the site has been made, since local officials have been awaiting the aid from the county and the federal government.

In Pampa, the controversy has been between two factions, one wanting the Pampa field located at the present Municipal Field site, and the other at the old Northwest Field site. Should the Northwest Field be selected, the total cost would be $267,400, with the government furnishing $91,222. The bond issue needed for this field would be about $200,000, with $20,000 being used in McLean. (Continued on back page)

County Agent Calls Farm Meeting To Discuss Operations for 1951

Grid Practice During Spring To Be Allowed

The Texas Interscholastic League has put the stamp of approval on spring football training for all classes under the new set-up for 1951. In the past season, spring training was not permitted in Class A, of which McLean was a part.

Under the new provisions, all high schools, except those with six-man football teams, will be permitted to conduct spring training. The question of spring training in years after 1951 will be settled at a meeting later this year. All schools will be given the opportunity of voting on the issue.

Spring training, under the rule will consist of a period of not more than 30 consecutive days. August 27 has been designated as the starting date for fall football practice in 1951. Six-man teams, however, may begin practice on August 15.

For the past two seasons, the McLean Tigers have not been allowed spring training. As a result of this, practice sessions were begun August 15 each of the two years by the late Coach Al Duncan and his assistant, Don Leach.

This system was not favorable, since many of the boys work during the summer months, and were unable to report for the early fall practice sessions. Full strength for the squad, not only here, but in most other towns in the area, usually did not report for practice until about September 1.

Superintendent Logan Cummings stated last week that the local school board plans to hire a coach to fill the vacancy, created by the death of Duncan in an automobile accident during Christmas week, prior to the opening of the spring training period.

G.G., Bert's Owners Change

Change in ownership of two businesses in McLean was made this week—Bert's Cafe and the G. and G. Automotive Supply.

New owner of Bert's Cafe is Al Fuqua, who also is owner of the McLean Cafe. Fuqua will be active manager of both eating establishments. He bought Bert's Cafe, the sale effective Monday, from Bert Hemphill.

The other change in ownership was a dissolution of the partnership of Leo Gibson and Gene Greer in the G. and G. Automotive Supply. Gibson bought out Greer's interest in the business. The name of the firm will remain as the G. and G. Automotive Supply, since Gibson plans to have his son, Kenneth, with him in the business.

Mounce Given Scholarship

Claude E. Mounce of McLean has been awarded a Student Property Deposit Scholarship for the spring semester of 1951 at the University of Texas.

The $100 scholarship is given on the basis of desire for a college education, scholastic ability, character, and a demonstrated participation in student activities.

Mounce is a junior majoring in journalism. He is a member of the Texas Club, men's social group, and the Baptist Student Union. He also holds a Jesse H. Jones Naval scholarship and is a member of the ROTC unit at the University. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Mounce are his parents.

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself, nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.—Emerson.

Rhodes scholars receive their scholarship from a fund established by Cecil Rhodes.

Dysart Named Local Chairman 'March of Dimes'

J. Lester Dysart has been named as McLean chairman for the annual March of Dimes campaign. County Chairman Paul Brown of Pampa announced Wednesday.

The campaign for funds for the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will begin January 15 and end January 31, Brown stated.

Dysart said Wednesday that plans for the campaign are being formulated, and will be similar to those used in last year's campaign.

It is expected that area citizens will contribute heavier this year, since four cases of polio in McLean and one in Alanreed were reported during the past year.

New Plymouths Go on Display Here Saturday

Combining smart new body lines with unprecedented interior luxury, the new Plymouth will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the United States Saturday, January 13. Local dealer in McLean is the Hibler Truck and Implement Co.

Designers have given the Plymouth a striking new silhouette, and refinements in the interior are innovations in the lowest price field. The styling improvements retain the traditional roominess of the cars, Guy Hibler said.

Easier to drive and more comfortable, the new cars have greater beauty, more safety features, and broader ranges of vision than ever before.

Engineers say the new "Safety-Flow ride" takes the bounces and wallop out of bumps. A new application of hydraulic flow control in the shock absorbers provides a more gradual change of resistance during spring deflections and thus a softer ride when driving on average roads. It also exerts extra resistance on rough roads to a degree where driver and passengers are almost completely freed of the discomfort of being jolted around.

The "Safety-Flow ride" is one of the greatest contributions to driving comfort and safety in recent years, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth Motor corporation.

"The new Plymouth gives you roadability never before offered in any car," he said. "There is no necessity for steering-wheel fatigue to control the car on difficult roads."

Watson Gets Honorable Mention On Class A All-State Grid Squad

L. M. Watson, McLean High School backfield ace, was given honorable mention on the all-state Class A team announced last week by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

First and second teams were named from the mythical group, and then a list of others given honorable mention. No district 2-A player made either the first or second string, although Watson, Vaughn Terry of Shamrock, end, Don Stokes of Lefors, tackle, and Billy Yerk of Shamrock, center, were included in the honorable mention list.

First team members were Weldon Dacus of Brady and Charles Schriever of New Braunfels, ends; Don Koeppe of Dalhart and Lawrence Kalmus of Wharton, tackle; Donald Terrell of Dekalb and Tommy McCoy of New Braunfels, guards; Don Kay Brown of Kermit, center; and Rinks Spinks of Kermit, Rusty Gunn of Arlington, Bill Jack Meredith of Mount Vernon, and Bill Cline of Wharton, backs.

Second team members were Eugene Pope of Arlington and Bennie Sinclair of Mineola, ends; Dickie Hopping of Littlefield and Bill Williams of Lavega, tackles; Leon Moore of Slaton and Carl Shannon of Wharton, guards; Bill Green of Georgetown, center; Gene Renfro of Littlefield, Billy Davis of Haskell, Pasco Parker of Jacksonville, and Jimmy Harrell of Uvalde, tackle.

Others receiving honorable mention from the general Panhandle area included H. A. Lee, Paducah, end, and Langford Sneed, Levelland, guard.

The honor was the third for Watson to receive following the close of the football season. He was named to the backfield of the all-regional team selected by the Amarillo Globe-News, and was sequenced as co-captain of the squad. Later he was given honorable mention (one of six boys in the state to receive this honor) on the all-southern high school football squad. This latter honor includes schools in both Class A and Class AA.

Finances, Seed, Other Problems To Be Aired

A meeting of all farmers of the area, to discuss the 1951 cotton crop and the possibilities of financing it, will be held in the Veterans' Building in McLean Tuesday afternoon, January 16, at 2 o'clock, County Agent Ralph Thomas announced this week.

Circular letters to all farmers in the area have been mailed, Thomas said, and it is hoped that a large crowd will be present to participate in the discussion.

"It is time we were planning our 1951 farming operations. You know the secretary of agriculture has asked for a 16 million bale cotton crop for 1951, and has promised price support of 90 per cent parity," Thomas said.

"With the situation as it is we should lose no time in making arrangements for feed and fertilizer. Some of us may have financial worries about putting in another crop. If we do, that should be attended to at once."

"The ginners say they can get you the seed if you have the cash to pay for it. You must also have the cash to buy the fertilizer," I understand," Thomas continued. "If you have not been able to get the bank to carry you, it might be the Farm Home Administration can make you a loan. If you are interested in making a loan, you can see the F. H. A. supervisor in the office back of the city secretary's office in McLean any Wednesday morning."

"We are going to discuss all of these things at the meeting in McLean Tuesday. We will have some very interesting slides on the 'cotton outlook,' as well as use of fertilizers and insect control. Tell your neighbors over in the other counties and let us have a good turnout at this important meeting."

Funeral in Pampa For Mrs. Wall

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary M. Wall, a resident of Lefors for about 20 years before moving to Shamrock recently, were held in Pampa Tuesday afternoon, with Minister Robert A. Bolton of Lefors officiating.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Pampa.

Mrs. Wall, 82 years of age last Saturday, was a native of Louisiana, and moved from that state to Lefors 20 years ago. She had made her home there since that time until a month ago, when she moved to Shamrock to live with her son, Carl Wall.

Survivors include three sons, Carl of Shamrock, and W. H. and W. P. of Lefors; and a sister, Mrs. Emma Metzger of DeWitt, Ark.

Shivers Names January 15-31 'Dimes March'

Governor Allan Shivers emphasized the impact of polio on the family, community, state and nation in officially designating the period from January 15 through January 31 for the 1951 Texas March of Dimes.

The chief executive cited the exhaustion of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis funds by the record 100,000 cases the last three years. He stressed the state polio fund deficit in caring for almost 2,800 new cases in 1950 alone.

"For three consecutive years," said Governor Shivers' proclamation, "Texas children and adults have been heavily attacked by the virus of poliomyelitis.

"The record shows that 423 more polio patients were reported in Texas during 1950 than in 1949, with 2,778 cases in 1950.

"Every penny raised in Texas during the last three March of Dimes campaigns has been spent for care of Texas polio patients and supplemented with $377,000 sent into Texas from other states by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Not only was the last year the second worst polio year in the nation's history, but the cost of providing treatment for these patients continues upward along with the tremendous costs of caring for patients of previous years. Funds of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis must be

Social Security will be extended to "regularly employed" agricultural labor January 1, 1951. If you are a regular worker for one farm operator and paid at least $50.00 in cash during each calendar quarter, the second and succeeding quarters may be covered. There must be a qualifying quarter preceding the one or more for which social security wages are reported and taxes paid. The months of October, November, and December, 1950, may serve as a qualifying quarter.

The worker must be employed by the same employer for 90 days and earn at least $50.00 in cash every three-month period to get continuous social security credit.

If the worker changes employers or drops below 90 days or $50.00 he must have another qualifying quarter preceding the one on which he again receives credit. In general, seasonal farm workers, such as harvest hands, will not be covered. Non-cash remuneration for agricultural labor is not included as wages.

Regularly employed farm workers should apply for account numbers. Employers will need the number for their reports. Credits for farm work may be added to other public-employment credits for the purpose of drawing benefits. The tax rate will be 1 1/2 per cent each for employee and employer (total 3 per cent).

For further information on farm workers or other phases of your new social security law, you should contact the Amarillo Social Security Administration Field Office.

Clippings from the files of the McLean News, February, 1911

Mrs. A. T. Russell Passes Away
 At the family home in east McLean Sunday morning about 9:30 o'clock occurred the death of Mrs. A. T. Russell, after a lingering illness of many months, having suffered from an incurable cancer. Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church Monday morning at 10 o'clock, the sermon being read by Rev. J. P. Lowery. The funeral procession, starting from the residence, was led by a large concourse of members of the Woodman Circle, which organization had charge of the ceremonies at the cemetery.

Sarah Eva Dudley was born in Denton County, Texas, in 1878. She was married to A. T. Russell in 1895, to which union five children were born, two of whom have preceded the mother to the great beyond. She, with her family, has been a resident of McLean for the past seven years, and was one of our most esteemed and worthy ladies. She had been a consistent and faithful member of the Methodist church since early childhood and before the end came had expressed herself as sure of the reward that comes to those who not only believe but live their religion. She was a member and prominent in the councils of the Woodman Circle, the ladies of which fraternity devoted themselves faithfully in their efforts to care for and attend her during her last illness.

The passing of Mrs. Russell cast a pall of sadness and gloom over the entire town, as she was a lady beloved by all who knew her. Her simple life of religion and duty had been an inspiration to many a struggling Christian.

The family, though bereft of wife and mother, have the realization that it is but a brief parting and when they shall awaken from their slumber on the great and final day they will again be united with their loved one in the splendor and radiance of that eternal city beyond the Jasper walls.

That the Great Comforter may heal their wounded hearts and sustain them in their bitter grief is the heartfelt wish of their host of friends.

Wilson Baby Dead

Tuesday afternoon occurred the funeral services and burial of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wilson, who live northeast of the city. The little one was only three weeks old and had been sick but a few days with an attack of pneumonia, having succumbed Tuesday morning. While the little fellow spent but a very brief period in this life, he had endeared himself to parents and relatives and the severing of the ties of love that bound him to them has left a grief that none but the Father of Mercy can assuage.

The News joins the many friends in extending condolence in this dark hour of sorrow.

Young man, I notice that you are not in school any more. What's the matter? Think you have received enough education to carry you through the world or do you stay out just because you don't like to go? Didn't like the teacher, eh? Well, let me tell you that you will find the meanest teacher on earth now a dream of love beside the bosses you will work under in the cold and unfeeling years you will plow into when you have to get out and hustle for yourself.

Education is the most valuable thing in the world to a man but to a boy it comes the cheapest. It costs you nothing now to get that which many a man in town would give all he has to possess. You have the winning number in

"THE PUBLIC BE DAMNED"

SOME TIME ago the investor-owned light and power industry formulated a program and published it under the title, "Eight Goals for Business-Managed, Tax-paying Electric Utilities."

The goals included abundant power and good service; betterment of communities; expansion financed by investors rather than taxpayers; efficient and satisfied employees; fair treatment for all users of electricity; equal taxes for all users of electricity; wise use of natural resources; safeguarding of American freedom.

These goals fall into two categories—those which the industry can achieve within itself and those depending upon cooperative governmental policy. The former have been substantially realized. There is abundant power and excellent service. By the end of 1953 our power supply will be 80 per cent above the World War II level. And while general living costs have risen over 70 per cent in the last 10 years, the average price of electricity in the home has dropped 25 per cent.

The goal of expansion of investors rather than taxpayers is also being realized. Every nickel of the $20,000,000,000 invested in plants and machinery of the business-managed utilities has come from the savings of the millions of private citizens who own the bonds and stocks of the electric industry. This industry is now paying over $800,000,000 in taxes each year.

On the other hand the "goals" of the electric industry, requiring a measure of governmental cooperation before benefits can reach the public, seem to be as far away as ever.

Customers of the tax-paying utilities must help support competing non-taxpaying public power agencies. One-fifth of all money paid to the electric companies for electricity goes to pay taxes. Government power projects are exempt from tax laws which apply to private citizens and business.

How long the general taxpayer will stand this remains to be seen. The administrators of the federal power program show no indication or desire to cooperate in a genuine effort to supply "abundant power and good service." They are not interested in the eight goals of the electric industry which would prevent needless government duplication of facilities and waste of billions of tax dollars at a time of national emergency. They are interested in only one goal—regardless of cost—the extinction of the investor-owned utilities and the establishment of a socialized power industry.

LES TALK
 BY LESTER

Last week the President of the United States stated that the U. S. was not at war with Communist China, but was merely carrying out the idea of supporting the United Nations.

In the meantime, hundreds and thousands of American boys were being killed in Korea by Communist China.

One of these boys wrote home December 11. He said, quoting from his letter which was printed in last week's McLean News, "I feel years older since the last time I wrote. I've never felt so bad in all my life. I have done things and seen things that I didn't think human beings could possibly do."

That young man, Doyle Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones of McLean, undoubtedly believes that we must be at war with Communist China, or with some nation at least. He has seen his buddies die, he has come near death himself, and he has killed men who would have killed him.

That comes pretty close to war, in my opinion. Perhaps not a declared war, but war nevertheless.

"I have done things and seen things that I didn't think human beings could possibly do."

A simple statement, but it has years of experience wrapped up in it. Too many years of experience for a man so young in years. And Doyle Jones is only one in thousands who are experiencing these things they didn't think were possible of human beings.

At the same time, the president states that we are not at war, and that he hopes that a peace can be negotiated.

At the same time, the president is moving swiftly and surely and decisively in preparing our nation for a conflict which nearly everybody in the U. S.—except perhaps the president himself—believes is coming, and coming all too rapidly.

I realize that getting started in a genuine mobilization plan must take some time. But I can't understand why it takes so much time. For example, the Amarillo papers state that the Amarillo air field is to be reactivated, that 37 million dollars are to be spent on it. Well, if it is going to be reactivated, why isn't the work already underway? Why will it take a year to get it fixed up? That's the time the officials in Washington say will be required. Why isn't the work already well underway?

The Amarillo field is just one example. There are possibly hundreds of others with which we in the Panhandle are not familiar. Then there's price control. Prices of all items are running away, out of reach of the people, so to speak. Prices can get so high that people can no longer buy at all. When that happens, the national income will go down instead of up. Bankruptcy will to be drafted. The young man prefers the air corps, but his parents don't know whether they should advise him to go ahead and enlist and get in his preferred branch, or wait and be drafted. He has a wife and child, and his draft might be delayed some by that. But he doesn't know, and his parents don't know how to advise. They can't tell what our national leaders are about to do.

As a result, that salesman plainly stated, "I am losing my patriotism."

When that happens, and the plight of that salesman is just one of many, when it happens that the people lose confidence in their national leaders to the extent that they lose their patriotism, the state of affairs is bad.

Should something happen to the president, or should he resign, the vice president would take over. He is well up in his seventies, and I doubt that he could do a much better job.

I do not believe we can isolate ourselves, as ex-President Hoover has more or less suggested. But I don't know how to propose a plan of my own—I'm not smart enough for that, or I wouldn't be struggling day by day with a little weekly newspaper.

All I know is that we had better take a definite plan and try to carry it out. If it's the right one, then it will be successful. If it isn't, perhaps we can switch to a better one later on before our very existence is threatened even more.

Frankly, I'm confused, too. And I'm worried, worried more than at any other time in my life. I have worried from time to time about my own little personal problems; I have worried from time to time about the socialistic trend of our nation; and I have worried from time to time about various other things. But never before have I worried quite so much about surviving. Not just my survival alone, but the survival of all freedom-loving people.

The only solution I can foresee is for the president to enlist the aid of some of the real brains of the country, work out a plan to follow, and stick to it for a while at least. And it has to be done now, not tomorrow.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

A significant victory for those sincere leaders of small business during the past years has been gained by the passage of the anti-merger bill. This bill plugs loopholes in the old established Clayton Act.

The need for this new bill just passed by Congress is interesting. The original Clayton Act prohibits monopolies from swallowing their smaller competitors by buying up the stock in these companies.

But the problem still existed despite this prohibition. C. W. Harder, this prohibition is a curious legal maze based on a Supreme Court decision.

That decision was that the Clayton Act did not prohibit a monopoly from buying up the assets of a small competitor. Then, after the assets were bought, if the monopoly acted before the Federal Trade Commission acted, the stock control would be taken over. Thus, mergers were completed with no recourse by the public, for whose protection all anti-trust laws are written. This loophole is now plugged.

Don't be misled by the first official public apathy to the pre-Christmas speech made by Herbert Hoover for the need for this country to prepare to defend itself militarily and economically, and to stop trying to carry on with a global WPA.

Hoover's speech hit deep; will be referred to again and again in debates coming up in the new Congress convening on Monday. His speech was well received by the majority of small business, especially when he so strongly pointed out that if Europe and America are to be united in joint defense, Europe must put up an equal share. In the meantime, American boys should be kept at home.

As it stands now, America is at an economic crossroads. But signs are encouraging.

Strongly organized independent business could become the key factor in the defense program. The new Congress may take steps to assure that the nation's independent business receives a greater share of government orders.

There are some who take the viewpoint of the appointment of the head of a big corporation to head up defense production. Charles Wilson of General Electric, makes such a move doubtful.

But Wilson, hailed as a production genius, is accustomed to operating mass production lines that depend on hundreds, thousands of parts suppliers. Besides, in the past, Wilson has been very cooperative with small business. He could engineer a plan whereby thousands of small manufacturers in towns all over the nation would turn out the production.

This would not only mean local payrolls, happier workers, but also greater national security in event a few large production centers were A-bombed.

It is not believed the new Congress will continue to allow so many security eggs to nest in one basket. Leaders of organized independent business may make even greater progress in this Congress.

WHAT'S COOKIN'

In Gray County H. D. Work

By Mary Anne Duke, County Home Demonstration Agent

Outstanding Club Women of 1950 Three Home Demonstration Clubs have already checked the individual score cards for club members and it is now known which members scored highest for 1950.

Mrs. Walter Noel, Bell Club member, scored highest with a total of 3,133 points. Mrs. C. A. Jones, Merten Club, scored 2,835 points; and Mrs. O. C. Smith, Worthwhile Club, scored 2,235.

These individual score cards were checked every two weeks during the club year. The purpose of the score card is to encourage club members to carry out all parts of the home demonstration program during the year. Credit is given for being on the program, serving as officer, attending council, serving on a standing committee, being club demonstrator, getting new club members, assisting club members and non-club members, and other points. Mrs. Noel was a 4-H club girl for five years, and has belonged to a home demonstration club for 16 years. She helped organize home demonstration clubs in Bexar and Medina Counties, and has been in Gray County only two years.

Mrs. Noel has held every office in the club organization and has served as chairman of the following committees: yearbook, finance, and recreation. Mrs. Noel has conducted the following demonstrations in her home: living room, food, and landscape. She served as chairman of the library committee in the Gray County council for 1950, and will be vice chairman of the council for 1951. Mr. and Mrs. Noel have three children, one son 18, and two daughters who belong to the girls' 4-H Club.

In speaking of what club work has meant to her and her family, Mrs. Noel says: "Home demonstration club work has taught me and my family to make better use of our time, our money, and of the products which we have grown. It has helped us to understand each other, which means our home relations have improved as we have made improvements in other areas."

Mrs. O. G. Smith, no doubt, has belonged to a home demonstration club as long or perhaps longer than anyone in the county. She has been a home demonstration club member in Gray County for 28 years. She, too, has held every office and has served as chairman of every standing committee in council. Mrs. Smith has served as food demonstrator, bedroom demonstrator, kitchen demonstrator, living room demonstrator, and landscape demonstrator.

The Smiths have three daughters, two of whom have been 4-H

WINTER SUNTAN

Winter sunshine is the best of all, says this eye-catching Florida vacationer who has migrated south to escape the ice and snow. To absorb her quota of Vitamin D, the pretty sun worshipper wears a trim, strapless shorts outfit. She made the solid-colored shorts suit from dyed cotton flour bags and a contrasting striped shirt and jacket from gaily striped feed bags!

Club members. Mrs. Smith says home demonstration work has helped her to make their home more comfortable and more attractive, and that she has learned to serve her family balanced meals.

Mrs. C. A. Jones has been a home demonstration club member for a little over three years. She was marketing chairman, then secretary-treasurer, and has served her club as president during 1950. Mr. and Mrs. Jones specialize in growing cut flowers. They will long be remembered for their beautiful dahlias.

The Jones' only son is in the navy and is now on his way to Korea.

Mrs. Jones says home demonstration club work has taught her how to understand and get along with her neighbors and friends. She also values what she has learned in home improvements and has developed a lovely living room demonstration during 1950.

Other club members in the three clubs mentioned with high scores include: Bell, Mrs. Emmett Osborne, second; Merten, Mrs. Vardeman Smith, second, and Mrs. A. M. Nash, third; Worthwhile, Mrs. B. M. Vaught, president, was second in the club.

Congratulations to these outstanding club women for 1950. Your records will inspire other club women to greater accomplishments during 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Watson and family visited Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Williams in Shamrock Sunday.

 the U. S. . . . it got in the hands of the Reds in several different ways . . . the Reds also used Russian-made equipment, such as their T-34 tanks, and their 41-MM anti-tank guns . . . but they also have much crude equipment . . . they used ox carts in many cases to transport supplies . . . and they press prisoners and civilians in service to make burden-carriers of them . . . a Korean civilian can carry from 80 to 100 pounds on his back, walking all day, day after day . . . they are tough people. Can we expect to defeat them? I don't know . . . it may be that the military leaders hope to hold the beach-head long enough to make landings to the north and cut the Reds off from their supplies . . . they can transport their supplies only by land—we have control of the sea. . . . but I'm no military expert . . . not long after I got back to the U. S. I predicted our line could hold at the narrow part of the peninsula in North Korea, but I, like many others, underestimated the strength and size of the army of the Chinese Reds, and of their mass attacks which have been so successful.
 Those questions fairly well sum up the high points of Rasco's report from Korea. He is not optimistic about the Korean situation, nor is he optimistic about the world situation in general. He is like many other young men—he, too, is thinking about his possibility of being recalled to service. Rasco is a lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Reserve, is 32 years of age, and his trip to Korea has brought home to him once more what war is like. He is trying to take that message to as many people as possible in the Panhandle area, and to date has made more than 30 talks throughout the area since his return to the U. S. in December.

 thriller through and through, and one of the best games for the boys thus far this season. Shamrock is rated to win the district title, but may have trouble aplenty from the Tigers when the district tourney is held here February 15, 16, and 17. The local girls got off to a slow start against the Shamrock girls, but finished strong to win 48-22. Next home game will be held Friday night, when the Panhandle teams play a visit to the local gym.

Kenneth L. Goodman, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Goodman of McLean, has joined the police force of Amarillo, according to a story in a recent issue of the Amarillo Times. Goodman has been working with his father in the plumbing trade.

Roger (Tight-Eye) and Vera Powers are about to say goodbye to McLean. Roger has been working in Borger, and Vera remained here. But now Roger has taken a job in a pharmacy in Lubbock, they have bought a house there, and Vera plans to leave here about January 20. Roger and Vera, you newcomers may not know, formerly owned the corner drug store here. They have sold their McLean home, we hear, to Mr. and Mrs. Haydn Bodenhamer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Eudey returned last Thursday from California, where they have been visiting for the past six weeks. They visited with their son, Billy Charles, who left December 13 from San Francisco for Guam. He is in the U. S. Navy. They also visited in the home of their daughter, Mrs. M. L. Pennell. Young Gary Pennell, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pennell, is slowly recuperating from polio, which hit him as he and his mother were returning to Long Beach, Calif., last summer after visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Eudey. Gary, still paralyzed in his left side, now has use of his right arm, and some use of his right leg. His left leg, however, is still paralyzed, but doctors believe that he will eventually be able to walk. Jane Graham, who went to California with the Eudeys, returned in December to her home in Plainview.

 Lean. If the East Browning, or Municipal Field site is selected, the total cost would be $463,250, for which the government would contribute $152,687. The estimated bond issue for this project would run about $400,000. In the case of the Northwest Field site, the land would cost nothing, since the county already owns it. However, in the case of the East Browning site, the estimated cost of the land would be $185,750.

Whatever decision is made concerning the location of the Pampa field, a bond issue will be necessary, it has been explained. And part of this bond issue would go to McLean, to be used here in constructing a small airport which would be suitable for all needs of a city this size at the present time. McLean now has no airport, and on many occasions, this lack of airport facilities has handicapped the town's progress, leaders of the area have pointed out. The controversy in Pampa in deciding on one of the two locations has caused a delay in bringing the bond issue before the people already, and chamber of commerce workers there believe it can best be decided by a straw ballot of the people of the county.

For this reason, all those interested are requested to mark the ballot which appears in this issue of The McLean News, and send it to the Chamber of Commerce, Pampa, by next Monday, January 15.

Golden Gloves At Shamrock This Week-End

The Shamrock District Golden Gloves boxing tournament will be held in the American Legion Home in Shamrock tonight, Friday night, and Saturday night. Jack Stroup, director of the tournament, has announced. The Shamrock district is sponsored by the DeShazo-George American Legion post at Shamrock. Ring programs will begin at 7:30 o'clock each of the three evenings, Stroup said. Trophies will be awarded Saturday night following the boxing finals. Classifications have been arranged for novice, high school, and open divisions. Winners in the novice division will receive trophy gloves, and chain gloves will be awarded the runners-up. In the high school and open divisions, winners in each weight division will receive jackets, with trophy gloves going to the runners-up. Winners in these two divisions must agree to enter the regional meet in Amarillo, and winners there in the open division go to the state tourney in Fort Worth. Trophies will also be awarded to the outstanding competitor and to the winning team. Lefty Clarendon, Wellington, and Shamrock have already entered tournaments in the tourney. Stroup stressed the fact that boys in the novice and high school divisions must be accompanied by their coach and a second. There will be 15 or more bouts each evening of the three-night meet. Seats will be available for about 1,500 persons. Ringing seats will sell for $1.00; reserved seats for $1.50; and general admission, $1.00.

Don Alexander is recuperating this week from an appendectomy which he underwent last week at a Pampa hospital. M. D. Bentley was a business visitor in Amarillo Monday. Men of vision or imagination are never discouraged, because their eyes are ever on the day of victory.—John R. Mott. Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in the Lord.—Isaiah. Our own vision must be clear open the eyes of others, else the blind will lead the blind and shall fall.—Mary Baker Eddy. Peace cannot be kept by force.
