

RAMPAGE ON A BUS

Youth 'Just Mad,' Slays Four People

CLEVELAND (AP) — An unemployed youth who said he "was just mad" grabbed a policeman's revolver and blazed away in a crowded bus here yesterday, killing four persons.

The youth, listed by police as Lawrence Goldsby, 20, killed the patrolman, two women passengers who complained he molested them, and a man passenger.

One of the women, just before the shooting, had protested to the driver that Goldsby was singing her hair with a cigarette.

When his weapon clicked empty, three men overpowered Goldsby and beat him savagely.

One of the three, Ted Connors, 24, gave this report:

"I saw Goldsby grab the cop's gun, whirl and shoot the girl whose hair had been singed.

"She collapsed. I dived back of another seat and heard five shots.

"A fellow had grabbed Goldsby. I went-up and held him around the neck and slugged him with my fist."

While the men pinned the slayer in the driver's seat and beat him, the 60 to 80 terrified bus passengers crouched behind seats, scrambled through windows, or pushed toward the closed doors.

Dead were:

Patrolman Eugene D. Stinchcomb, 35, called from traffic directing at the Euclid Avenue-East 105th intersection.

Miss Annabelle Frankie, 34, whose yell—"My hair is burning"—halted the bus.

William J. Powers, about 60, former Chicago and Washington lawyer, who headed the Federal Constitutional Law Association of Detroit, Powers, who had an office here but lived in Grand Rapids, Mich., was defense counsel in 1944 for William Dudley Peiley, the Noblesville, Ind., "Silver Shirts" leader convicted of sedition.

Goldsby told detectives he was a native of Pine Bluffs, Ark., and came here two weeks ago from New York City. Pressed for his motive in the killings, he said:

"I was just mad. I was mad at that girl for saying I was burning her hair. I shot the other woman because she was going to call the cop. I shot the cop because he was going to take me off the bus.

"I didn't mean to shoot that other man. That was just a stray bullet."

More Than 150 Reds Arrested By Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—The newspaper Globo said today the government's sweeping purge of Communists in civil and military ranks has led to more than 150 arrests.

The paper said the government will make an announcement soon about the investigation, described as the most far-reaching since the Communist revolt of 1934.

Parr Shrugs Off Jury Probe, Says Judge Reams 'Can't Win'

SAN DIEGO, Tex., May 13 (AP)—Sheriff George Parr, reputed South Texas political boss, spoke out as a grand jury re-convened to probe alleged election irregularities in Duval County.

Parr made his statements to a newspaper (Dallas News) reporter yesterday and took no part in the grand jury proceedings. He was affable and smiling, but objected when a photographer started to snap his picture.

He shrugged off the grand jury investigation as "just politics" and predicted the defeat of Judge Sam G. Reams, his political arch-enemy, who re-convened the grand jury.

"He just can't win," said Parr. "Reams is beat. This did not help him."

"He wanted to investigate the 1950 election, why did he wait so long? He had the same power then as now."

Parr and his late father, State Senator Archie Parr, reputedly have been bosses of South Texas politics for more than 25 years.

It took just 15 minutes for Judge Reams to re-convene the jury yesterday and give it an oral charge: "You gentlemen have been called back by the court in answer to a petition signed by seven of your members, as well as other petitions presented to this court. You will go ahead and make such investigations as you see fit, bearing in mind the original instructions of the court."

Two Texas Rangers, Charlie Miller and Joe Bridges, were sworn in as bailiffs. Two assistant attorneys general were present and left the court room with the jury, as did Dist. Atty. Homer E. Dean Jr.

Reams had asked for both the Rangers and the assistant state attorneys general for the grand jury. He said they were needed because citizens had been "beaten, molested and threatened because of their political beliefs and activities."

The petitions referred to by Reams, he said, alleged the nepotism law is being violated in the Benavides School District, that many persons active in the new anti-Parr Freedom Party had been "molested," and that election laws had been violated in Duval County.

The seven grand jurors who petitioned Reams for a re-convening of the jury said Sheriff Parr had not been co-operative in the original investigation and expressed doubt as to District Attorney Dean's attitude.

Parr, in his talk with Dallas Newsmen Dawson Duncan noted that according to law ballots in the election had been destroyed.

"All they got now is 25 people who said they didn't vote," he continued.

He predicted that in investigating the 1950 election "they are going to saw off the limb behind them."

"People down here resent such things as this special grand jury's investigation so late," Parr said.

"They like to do it the American way down here," he added.

Parr objected strenuously when a photographer snapped his picture but after friends remonstrated with him, sat down and said:

"Aw, I don't give a damn. They got my picture in every newspaper and magazine in the country. What the hell they want another one for?"

Parr declined to say who he would support in this year's U. S. Senate race.

"I don't want to let it be used to hurt them," he said.

But he added: "Headquarters

Taft Due To Pick Up Votes In W. Virginia

By DON WHITEHEAD
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—At least a half-million West Virginians were expected to vote today in a primary election featuring the Taft-Eisenhower fight for delegates to the Republican presidential nominating convention.

Hard-fought contests for national, state and local offices sharpened interest in the election, which also included a GOP presidential popularity contest between Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Harold E. Stassen. There is no Democratic presidential preference voting.

Taft supporters were confident their candidates would capture all 16 convention seats and sidetrack the delegate bid made for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Taft had the solid support of the state's GOP organization down to the court-house level.

Phil Hill, directing the Eisenhower campaign, said the election of one Eisenhower delegate would be a victory for the general—and the election of two would mean an accomplishment of considerable importance.

Taft's campaign chief, Phil Conley, contended the Ohioan would win all the convention delegates. But he argued that even if Eisenhower forces should elect two delegates, the primary would have to be chalked up as a major Taft victory.

Taft was expected to win in a walk over Stassen in the popularity voting, which has lost most of its significance since Stassen has fallen far behind in the GOP presidential sweepstakes.

But Eisenhower people don't want Taft to roll up too great a vote in the preferential voting. They are asking voters to write the name "Ike" across the names of Stassen and Taft even though such write-in votes cannot be counted legally under West Virginia law.

Democrats will name convention delegates having 20 votes. All but one of the candidates—a supporter of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee—have remained silent on their choice of Democratic presidential candidates. Officially, both Republican and Democrat candidates will go to the July conventions uninstructed.

Other races with special state interest:

Governor — Democrats had a choice between four Democratic candidates headed by former Atty. Gen. W.C. Marland, who has the support of Gov. Okey L. Patteson's Democratic state administration. Other contestants are Rep. E.H. Hedrick of Beckley, supported by state United Mine Workers leaders; Cyrus S. Kump, son of a former state governor, and Everett Shafer of Beckley, member of the state House of Delegates.

Republicans had a choice between former U.S. Sen. Rush D. Holt, a moderate Democrat; former Circuit Judge J. W. Maxwell of Beckley; Mayor John T. Coppenhaver of Charleston, and Melvin C. Muntzing, Clarksburg salesman.

Senate—Sen. Harley M. Kilgore was opposed for the Democratic nomination by J. Horner Davis, Democratic majority leader of the state House of Delegates, and by Dallas A. Tickle, Charleston businessman.

Former U.S. Sen. Chapman Revercomb had no opposition for the Republican Senate nomination.

GI School Fraud Cases Slated For September Session

DALLAS, May 13 (AP)—The trial of five men and a Chicago firm charged in Texas GI school fraud cases have been set for the September term of Federal Court.

Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. William Cantrell announced the trial settings yesterday. The defendants are accused of entering false bids on the purchase of tools and supplies for Texas schools with the Chicago firm entering false charges against the Veterans Administration on the sale prices.

Those indicted by the Fort Worth grand jury recently include Walter Baschus, Tyler; J. D. and H. W. Caruthers, Tyler and Waco; Ray C. Wolf, Chicago; J. K. Marsha, Chicago, and U. S. Jewelry Supply Co., Chicago.

Costly Texas Blaze Is Still Burning Today

By The Associated Press
It was two out and one burning for three costly Texas fires today. A spectacular refinery fire at Houston and a lumber yard fire at Galveston were out with damages of the two blazes estimated at $150,000 two thirds of it in the refinery fire.
Still burning today was the $3-million Fort Worth & Denver Railroad fire near Corsicana which started early Sunday when 22 cars of a freight train piled up after the train hit a faulty rail.
Chemicals, oil and high octane gasoline fed the hungry fire and kept railroad officials jittery. Trains moved warily along a temporary track as close as 25 feet to the still-burning wreckage.
Yesterday another explosion occurred just before a passenger train crept by. "We are in a hot spot," a railroad official said. "We don't know how much oil and gas is left in the tank cars and what they might do."
The Houston fire was put out at 2:27 a. m. yesterday after blazing nearly six hours at the Eastern States Petroleum Co.'s refinery.
The Galveston fire which swept through the Burton Lumber Company yesterday at a $50,000 cost threatened a nearby bulk station but a shift in the wind saved seven large tanks of gasoline.

Obscenity Probe Set Into Radio And T-V

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — Parents throughout the nation were urged today to help Congress clean up radio and television programs, books, magazines and comics.
Investigations by two committees into those fields were ordered yesterday by the House in separate resolutions passed without vocal opposition. Only 21 of the 435 House members were present at the time.
A commerce subcommittee will "determine the extent to which the radio and television programs currently available to the people of the United States contain immoral or otherwise offensive matter or place improper emphasis upon crime, violence, and corruption."
A special nine-man committee to be named by Speaker Rayburn will do the same with respect to "current literature," defined as books, magazines, and comic books.
Both resolutions were introduced by Rep. Gathings (D-Ark), who is expected to head the special committee.
Both groups are directed to report to the present session of Congress and are empowered to recommend any legislation they deem necessary to eliminate any offensive and undesirable matter from the airwaves and the bookstands.
The National Broadcasting Company said in New York that its programs have always maintained the highest standards of good taste and decency.
Mutual Broadcasting System said it is maintaining the rigid principles of the voluntary code drawn up by the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters.
Dumont Television, American Broadcasting Company and CBS-TV officials were not reached.
Gathings called for parental help. He told newsmen:
"Congress can do much by recommending new legislation or pointing up the need for enforcing existing laws, but we need help from parents. Only through parental vigilance exercised in the home can we guard our children from the demoralizing influences of some current radio and television programs and some of the trash being sold in corner stores all over the country at prices low enough for kids to pay.

"No one objects to comic books or to these cheap little pocket-sized books if they contain decent material," he said. "But I don't think obscenity should be peddled in the form of comic books or books labeled as something else."

Klan Secrets Probed As N.C. Trial Opens

By LATHAN NIMS
WILMINGTON, N.C. — A federal judge hearing Lindbergh kidnap charges against 11 Ku Klux Klansmen probes deeper today into the secrets of the hooded order that spread terror in this coastal Carolina farming area.
To District Judge Don Gilliam fell the task of deciding the fate of the 11-four of whom offered no defense and testified for the government against the other seven, who pleaded innocent. The defendants waived a jury trial.
As the trial opened yesterday the judge questioned witnesses after witness on the influence that Thomas L. Hamilton of Leesville, S.C., grand dragon of the Association of Carolina's Klans, exerted over the Klansmen. Hamilton is not a defendant.
Judge Gilliam heard testimony that the wizard received six dollars for every new Klansman. He also was told that the Klan spread rapidly from South Carolina into North Carolina on a campaign to "keep Negroes in their places."
The four who offered no defense were L. C. Worley, Steve Edmunds, Sherwood Miller, and his 19-year-old brother George. They testified that the 11 seized Mrs. Dorothy Dillard Martin, 28-year-old mother, and Ben Grainger, 40, farmer, and flogged them after crossing the South Carolina line. Both victims are white. Mrs. Martin said the men told her and Grainger to quit drinking and go to church.

The other defendants are Early L. Brooks, 44, former police chief at Fair Bluff, his son Bobby, 18; Horace Strickland, 41, a former deputy sheriff of Columbus County; Carl Richardson, 45; Rosa Enzor, 46; James Robert Hayes, 46, and Pittman Foy Strickland, 29.

WSB Member Lashes Out At Board's Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Wage Stabilization Board was accused by one of its own members today of stimulating labor-management trouble and substituting its own dispute-settling powers for the Taft-Hartley Act.
This was one of several strongly worded drafts in a statement prepared for the House Labor Committee by George W. Armstrong Jr., an industry member of the board.
Armstrong said it seemed obvious the board had gone beyond the neutrality policy expressed by Congress on the union shop. He said its actions had definitely impaired collective bargaining.
"I believe," he concluded, "that the board's actions have not reduced disputes but have tended to stimulate them, and I further believe that in attempting to function in the disputes area the board cannot help but impair its function of stabilizing wages."

Armstrong is president of the Texas Steel Company, Ft. Worth—now on leave as one of six members representing industry on the wage board.
He testified in the House committee's investigation of the WSB, particularly its controversial finding in the steel dispute. In this case, the industry members were outvoted by the six labor and six public members of WSB.

McCarthy Article Talked By Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Subcommittee today called back a one-time Ohio industrialist, Carl G. Strandlund, to tell more about paying $10,000 to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in 1948 for an article about the Lustron Corp., now out of business. The article was used by the firm for advertising.
The subcommittee swung into the second day of its public hearing on a move by Sen. Benton (D-Conn) to have McCarthy expelled from the Senate. There was no sign of when the inquiry would end.
Benton contends McCarthy grossly violated senatorial ethics by accepting the money. McCarthy argues his acceptance was proper and ethical.
The portly Strandlund is the man who put up $1,000 of his own cash in 1947 and borrowed $74 million dollars from the government to finance his ill-starred venture into the prefabricated housing field. The Lustron firm later went bankrupt.

The Rules Subcommittee, headed by Sen. Gillette (D-Ia), temporarily halted efforts of its counsel, John P. Moore, to give a detailed public airing of McCarthy's financial affairs in connection with the Lustron matter.
Gillette and other committee members questioned the propriety of going into McCarthy's financial affairs without some assurance that it was pertinent to the inquiry.

Jones Motor Co. 101 Gregg BIG SPRING

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

The condition of Ben White, well known Carrizo Springs rancher who is hospitalized at Crystal City is reported as much better.
The 70-year-old rancher charges he was severely beaten by two inspectors from the Border Patrol when he objected to them entering his pastures without a search warrant, exciting his cattle. The matter is being investigated by the Rangers, Border Patrol officials and the FBI.
Mr. White is a brother-in-law of the late Jim Sullivan, brother of Judge Charlie Sullivan, and also a brother-in-law of Harwood Keith of Keith's Courts, Big Spring. White's son-in-law, Herbert C. Petry Jr., Carrizo Springs attorney is a candidate for Congressman-at-Large from Texas.

Trainer Ben Jones announces that Hill Gall, winner of the Kentucky Derby will not try to become the sixth horse to win American racing's Triple Crown which includes in addition to the Derby, the Preakness, May 17, and the Belmont Stakes, June 7.
Jones revealed in the same announcement that Hill Gall made his spectacular "Run for the Roses" on a bruised foreleg which only became apparent after he had been cooled out following that great race.
The combination of Bull Lea as a sire, Jones as a trainer and Calumet Farm as the breeder is a tough one to beat. This was the sixth Derby that has been won by a Jones-trained horse. He won it with Lawrin several years ago before going to Calumet and has won it with five Calumet horses since—Whirlaway in 1941, Pensive in 1944, Citation in 1948, Ponder in 1949 and Hill Gall in 1952.
The Calumet Farm is also the first breeding establishment that has ever bred five Derby winners and that has won with all five of them.
The late John E. Madden, who died in 1929, bred five Derby winners but he didn't own a single one of them when they won the Run for the Roses, and the only Derby winner he ever owned was bred by somebody else.
Being sired by the illustrious Bull Lea by Bull Dog by Teddy by Ajax by Flying Fox, Bull Dog and Teddy both being imported from France's most famous stud, Hill Gall is a half-brother of Citation, the only Thoroughbred to win more than a million dollars, and Hill Gall is also a half-brother of Bewitch, the greatest money-winning mare in the history of racing.
The importance of Bull Lea (yet living) as a sire may be better explained to Hereford breeders by saying that as a Thoroughbred sire Bull Lea occupies a position comparable to that of Lurey Domino 50 in the Whiteface world.
Calumet Farm, near Lexington, Kentucky, was established by the father of the late Warren Wright with a portion of his baking powder fortune. For many years it was a harness horse establishment (trotters and pacers) and no Thoroughbred was allowed to put a foot on the place. After the founder's death Warren Wright continued it as a trotting horse farm, gradually adding Thoroughbreds and finally getting rid of the harness horses entirely. It is now being operated by his widow.

Warren Wright was a great conservation farmer who believed in good pastures and clean pastures. At one time a mule-drawn cart followed the grazing horses across those hundreds of acres of Blue Grass pasture picking up fresh manure as a precaution against worm infestation. Wayne Dismore, former head of the Horse and Mule Association was Wright's close friend and adviser. Wright was always a close co-operator with all agricultural conservation plans. Certainly his career as a breeder, which didn't extend over many years, proves that intelligent farming and stock raising pays big dividends.

Ray Hastings, 28-year-old 1951 graduate of Texas A&M College, and new Martin County agriculture agent, figures he's going to have a busy time between now the opening of the show circuit.
He has expressed himself as being well pleased with the calves he has found already on feed in Martin.

Hastings was formerly agent in Brewster and Jeff Davis Counties and immediately before moving to Stanton was assistant county agent in El Paso.

One of the largest p. t. sales of purebred Texas Herefords in recent years was completed when W. H. Hammons of Wichita Falls recently delivered 121 bulls and 108 females to Walter A. Hall of Yakima, Washington.

The 229 Herefords were trucked the 1,841 miles to Hall's Ranch, and four days were required to make the trip. Hammons says it was the biggest sale he has ever made of breeding cattle.
Transporting the cattle was complicated by the fact that the truck-trailers Hall sent for the cattle measured 60 feet in length. Since Texas laws prohibit the operation of truck-trailers that size the cattle had to be hauled to the state line in smaller units and transferred to the big wagons.

Case Where Fund Put To Good Use

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Every class that enters Woman's College of the University of North Carolina here adopts a project.

In 1948, the class of '52 voted to maintain a girl in school. So for four years the members peddled stockings, sold stationary and pitched carnivals to raise the fund. The money went to Dr. Eugenia Hunter, who with other faculty members, secretly selected "a deserving girl, of high promise and strong character" to receive her classmates' help.
With graduation drawing near, Dr. Hunter reported that the class fund had been properly invested. She called upon the president of the student body to add some details.

Said black-haired, blue-eyed June Rainey, student body president: "I am the girl."

Ike Supporters Trying To Head Off Ore. Split

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's boosters turned on the vote-for-Ike volume today in a move to head off a possible split of Oregon's 18 Republican delegates with Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Taft declined to enter Friday's state primary. However, there are eight unpledged delegate candidates on the ballot and Eisenhower forces say they're all for the Ohio senator. Only three actually have declared themselves for Taft.

Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Penn.) and Paul Hoffman, chairman of the Citizens-for-Eisenhower Committee, arrived to give Eisenhower supporters a hand.

Spectacular Refinery Fire

Refinery stacks are shown against a background of fire that destroyed eight run-down tanks at the Houston, Tex., refinery of the Eastern States Petroleum Company. Cause of the fire was not determined and an estimate of damage has not been made. It was one of Houston's biggest fires. (AP Wirephoto).

Kenyon Inaugurated, Declares He'll Fight For States Rights

BATON ROUGE, La., May 13 (AP)—Robert Floyd Kenyon took the oath as 51st governor of Louisiana today and declared his administration "will fight relentlessly" any federal grab of states rights.

Facing thousands of inauguration spectators in front of the 24-story state capitol here, he said: "Tyranny is no more endurable when exercised by one who bears the title of President in a democracy, than when it is exercised by one who arrogates to himself the power of a dictator under a totalitarian regime."

The former appeal judge of Minden is bitterly anti-Truman, and a staunch supporter of the presidential hopes of Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia.

Kenyon asserted in an address prepared for delivery he was a firm believer in "the Jeffersonian principle that government governs best when it governs least."

"As I believe in this principle within the territorial boundaries of the state of Louisiana, so do I believe in the freedom, the independence and rights of the sovereign states from any unnecessary restriction limitation and interference on the part of the federal government," he said.

"This administration will fight relentlessly against the usurpation by the federal government of the rights of the several states and the freedom of individual enterprise."

"The federal government has sought ownership of Louisiana's rich off-shore tidelands which would drastically reduce the state's revenue and natural wealth."

"Louisiana along with California and Texas has bitterly protested the action as a 'federal grab.' Kenyon, who wrecked the political rule of Gov. Earl Long when he won office, said:

"The sometimes heard boast by an executive that he 'controls' a legislature, is untrue, is a slanderous insult to our lawmakers and if true, is a reflection upon the executive himself."

"Any effort by one department of government," Kenyon said, "to overthrow and control either or both of the other two branches constitutes an immediate menace to the proper operation of our democracy."

Kenyon warned there is a trend toward complete executive authority, nationwide in extent, and added, "This trend eventually leads to a dictatorship."

"We can and will avoid this danger, in Louisiana, by a strict observation of the principle that no department shall exercise any power belonging to either of the others."

Kenyon mentioned only briefly his administration program, which was made public in advance of the opening of the legislature yesterday.

"The adoption of this program," he said, "will sensibly lessen our heavy tax burden, remove the principal state spending agencies from partisan politics, institute common sense budgetary practices, reinstate civil service, and restore proper balance between the executive and legislative branches of our state government."

ALL-JET BOMBER

Strato Fortress Is Due For Production

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—The Air Force today took the classified "label off its two new all-jet heavy bombers, the YB-52 and the YB-60.

It also:

1. Disclosed dimensions which show that the YB-60 is somewhat larger of the two.
2. Released pictures showing hitherto unpublished details.
3. Announced that the YB-52 Strato Fortress is going into production at the Boeing Aircraft Co. plant in Seattle.

No announcement was made as to production plans for the Convair YB-60, which was built by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Co. at Fort Worth. Still secret are the weight and speed, range and other performance details of the giant aircraft.

These are the dimensions of the two global bombers:

Wing span—YB-60, 206 feet; YB-52, 185. Because the wings are swept back, the span is less than the 230 feet of Convair B-36, largest bomber now in operation. The B-60 is a development of and improvement upon the B-36.

Length—B-60, 171 feet; B-52, 153; B-36, 62.

Tail height—B-60, 50 feet; B-52, 48; B-36, 46 1/2.

The B-56 has four jet engines, six piston engines, a gross weight of 358,000 pounds, a range of 10,000 miles and a top speed of more than 435 miles an hour. The B-60 may be considered faster than this.

Both new bombers are powered with eight new Pratt and Whitney J-57 jets, believed to be the most powerful jet engines in the world.

On the B-52, they are mounted in pairs on sharply raked-forward pods under the thin, high-speed, swept-back wings.

The B-52 uses an unusual double-tandem landing gear composed of eight main wheels, with small protection wheels retracting into the wing tips.

The B-52, although an entirely new design on which work was started in 1946, leans heavily on data gained from five years of building and flying the Boeing B-47 Stratojet, known as the world's fastest bomber.

Like its predecessor, the B-29 Superfortress of World War II, the B-52, was ordered into production before the completion or flight of a prototype test airplane.

The YB-52 made its first flight at Boeing Airfield, Seattle, April 13 and has completed its first phase of testing.

The YB-60 made its first flight at

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tues., May 13, 1952

Carwell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, a few days later.

The Air Force said that because of flight testing of both planes, it is no longer practical to try to maintain security on the exterior details.

Farmers Get Assurance Of Mexican Labor

MEXICO CITY, May 13 (AP)—Labor-hungry U. S. farmers were assured today of a continued supply of migrant Mexicans to help them with their crops.

They had fairly good grounds, also, for expecting more favorable contract conditions with Mexican workers in the future.

Despite discontent with some provisions of the present work contract, the Mexican government has consented to extend it to July 31.

For this U. S. farmers are indebted in part to the prolonged drought which has left thousands of Mexican farm workers idle. In one area alone, Laguna, the government is paying $5,000 a person ($10,000) a day to 12,500 jobless farmers. Rural distress in varying degrees prevails through the rest of the northern territory.

Announcement Sunday of the temporary extension of the present migratory labor agreement affords a breathing period for negotiating new conditions desired by both U. S. farmers and Mexico.

There are two separate documents on which the U. S. and Mexico must agree: (1) the basic accord in which Mexico agrees to send the workers; and (2) the individual work contracts covering the terms of employment.

The basic accord has been extended. Changes in the work contract are under discussion. These discussions may go on for weeks or months. Meanwhile, U. S. farmers may obtain Mexican workers under the old contract worked out in August, 1951.

Negotiations are more secret than in any previous talks on migrant laborers. The Mexican foreign ministry even denies publicly that talks are under way, but privately officials say they are going moderately well.

Liquefied Gas Price Boosted By The U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Higher prices for liquefied petroleum gas, or bottled gas, were authorized by the government yesterday.

Increased costs of materials and higher freight rates since the general price freeze, Jan. 26, 1951, were given as the basis for the increase.

Gets Life Sentence For Two Murders

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Merton C. Misener, 34, was under a life sentence today for the murders of two nurses at a drinking party Dec. 29.

Misener, an aircraft worker formerly of Portland, Me., was declared sane at the time he killed Mrs. Marguerite Cramer, 31, and Mrs. Ann Symington, 42, in their Santa Monica apartment. The jury recommended the life sentence, making it mandatory.

He also has been found guilty of stabbing and shooting Paul M. Beck, 49, at the time of the murders. Beck recovered.

Irish Rose Inset

The rose is crocheted in shaded pink thread, leaves in pale green thread, edging around white background is in pink; fine edging to finish pillowcase and sheet trim is in pure white. Big squares measure 4 inches, smaller rose insets are 2 1/2 inches. Design achieves an lovely, lacy, pastel-colored effect on guest sheets, cases, towels, runners—and you'll want to do the insets in all white, too, for tea cloths, for pale pink linen table mats.

Sabres Down 5 Red Jets In Korea War

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
 SEOUL, Korea, May 13 (AP)—U. S. airman today destroyed five Communist jets, probably shot down two and damaged six in a half dozen battles over North Korea, the Fifth Air Force said.

The Air Force credited Sabre jet pilots with all the kills and probably and three of the damage claims.

Thunderjet fighter bomber pilots were credited with the three other damaged planes—two MIGs and the other a rarely seen new Red "Type 15" jet.

The U. S. Eighth Army said ground troops killed at least 100 Reds in patrol skirmishes.

The Army said the U. S. 1st Marine Division is holding a sector of the Western Front near the armistice conference village of Panmunjom. It said the Leathernecks moved into the area from Central and Eastern Front positions a month ago. They replaced the South Korean 1st Division, which had held the sector 15 months.

The Far East Air Forces said United Nations fighter-bombers Monday cut a short stretch of rail line near Hulehon in 100 places. It was another of the Allies' new saturation bombings.

U. N. airmen working over Communist front-line positions Monday reported they destroyed 20 gun positions, a locomotive and 55 vehicles; damaged a tank, and set a fuel dump afire.

Allied warships bombarded the Eastern and Western Coasts of North Korea.

A Navy summary said the destroyer J. C. Owen and the destroyer mine sweeper Doyle laid day and night fire on enemy gun positions in the Songjin area on the East Coast.

The heavy cruiser Bremerton used her eight-inch guns for the first time, the Navy said, on Communist front-line positions near the East Coast.

The Navy in Washington said three men were killed and five wounded when Red shells hit the destroyer J. C. Owen off Northeast Korea last Wednesday.

Taft Supporters Dominate GOP Wyoming Group

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Wyoming Republicans will send an unstructured delegation dominated by backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft to the GOP National Convention.

An Associated Press survey of the 12 delegates chosen yesterday at one of the bitterest Wyoming conventions in years showed six pledged to the Ohio senator, two pledged to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and four uncommitted. Both Taft and Eisenhower leaders claimed at least two of the four not pledged. Taft forces won the only showdown vote—over one delegate seat.

Down the street, Wyoming Democrats picked an uncommitted and unstructured group of 20 delegates to carry their 10 votes to the Democratic National Convention.

A bid to instruct them for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee failed.

Opposition to the move was led by Tracy S. McCracken, Cheyenne publisher who was re-elected national committeeman after saying earlier he would retire. Mrs. P. J. Quealey of Kemmerer was re-elected committeewoman.

The Republicans also re-elected their national committee members—E. D. Cripps of Rock Springs and Mrs. Katherine Meloney of Basin.

Reserve Unit To Be Set Up At Trinity

Kilday said no other details were available.

Smoking Wreckage

Thirty-five cars, some of them containing oil and gasoline, piled up high and sideways near Corsicana, Tex., before bursting into flames. The cars were part of a 62-car Fort Worth and Denver freight that was derailed. Damage was estimated at over $3,000,000, but no one was hurt. At lower left is a section of new track, hurriedly built around the wreckage to let other trains pass. (AP Wirephoto).

Meter May Be Out Of Order, But You Better Put In Coin

If you see a sign on a parking meter saying "Out of Order" don't believe it and don't pay any attention to it.

Such a sign may mean what it says but it isn't official and it won't be any excuse if you get a ticket because you believed it and failed to put a coin in the meter.

A defendant in the Corporation Court this morning said he parked a car and got out to put a coin in the meter but saw the words "Out of Order" written across the top and didn't deposit the coin. Since this motorist was gone from the car only a few minutes, City Judge W. E. Greenleaf excused this particular offense and then issued the warning about such signs not being official.

Tommy Malone who has charge of the meters says that some motorists have the habit of writing "out of order" on meters when the meter doesn't immediately function properly. He says that since the meters aren't repainted very often there isn't any way to get this writing off them and other motorists are misled by the legend.

The city does not have any signs to designate an out-of-order meter because, as Malone explains, "when we find a meter out of order we immediately put it in order."

A charge of not having an operator's license was excused against a man who was discharged from the Army April 12, when he explained to the court that he thought he had 60 days after his discharge in which to get a license. Judge Greenleaf explained to him that this rule which was in effect for a while after World War II was discontinued some time ago and that now service men as well as civilians must have such licenses.

The ex-service man, the evidence, showed had qualified to operate all motor vehicles used by the Army including the heaviest equipment. He was fined $15 on a charge of speeding on South Gregg, however.

Another motorist, appearing to be about 25 years of age, was fined $25 for not having an operator's license when he told the court he had never had one and had never made application for one.

Two persons were fined for drunkenness and a few minor traffic tickets were disposed of by the court.

Says Course Wasn't Changed By Vessel

BAYONNE, N. J. (AP)—The commander of the aircraft carrier Wasp today will tell publicly for the first time his story about the collision that sank the destroyer-minesweeper Hobson, whose captain's last known words were "somebody didn't change course."

Some crew members of the destroyer Rodman, which picked up Hobson survivors, will precede Capt. B. C. McCaffrey on the witness stand as a naval board of inquiry continues its hearings into the Navy's worst peacetime disaster.

The Wasp and Hobson collided April 28 during night maneuvers in the Atlantic, and 176 lives were lost, including that of the Hobson's skipper, Lt. Comdr. William J. Tierney.

In quoting Tierney's last words, Seaman Peter A. Mahoney of Providence, R.I., told the board yesterday that he raced to the chart house on the bridge when the Wasp's sharp bow rammed into the Hobson.

Tierney was sitting on a spray shield nearby, Mahoney said. "The ship was listing badly but I didn't think we would sink," the seaman added. "I asked him, 'What happened, captain?'"

"He said, 'Somebody didn't change course.' Then he was washed away by the sea."

Asked whether Tierney seemed asked them what the hell they were doing with the range closing so fast.

"I wanted to know what was going on. I asked them if they had missed the signal (from the Wasp) that it was making a sharp right turn. They said no, they were making the turn now."

Within a few minutes after the collision, Lane said, life-saving equipment from the Wasp was "bitting the water like rain."

Another Hobson survivor, Quartermaster Harry C. Raps of Fort Washington, N. Y., said officers on the destroyer-minesweeper's bridge "reversed rudder I don't know how many times" before the Wasp's bow knifed into her.

"I Thought the Gas Gauge was broken" says Sam Pearce, Seattle, Wash. "If you want pickup, there isn't a car on the road, in any price class, that can beat the Rambler. Yet for economy, the gas gauge goes down so slowly you think it's broken."

IT'S TRUE! Nash Rambler owners are amazed at the sensational mileage they get. This is the car that holds the all-time record in the Motulgas Economy Run with 31.05 miles per gallon! This is a real "red-hot" performer with so much room inside! This is such a smart and beautifully equipped car—the only car that comes to you with its many custom accessories at no extra cost!

Come see it. Especially, come drive it. Just take five minutes to discover something absolutely new in handling and parking ease . . . and new in performance, too!

How to have a winning TELEPHONE PERSONALITY
 by EMILY POST

We're often judged by the way we use telephone service. Good telephone technique and good telephone manners are important to a winning personality . . . and help you get the most from your telephone service.

One of the most aggravating experiences a person can have is to run to a ringing telephone, only to find that no one is there. But just how long should one let a phone ring before giving up?

At least a minute, is the experts' answer. After all, the person you're calling may be in the yard or away from the telephone. And the figures show that an estimated 300,000 calls a day are lost by Southwestern Bell customers who hang up too soon. A call worth making is certainly worth waiting a minute for.

In today's busy life, at home or in the office, it's only natural to leave the telephone as quickly as possible. Is there any special reason why you should replace the receiver carefully?

There certainly is! Your telephone is just one continuous "busy signal" if your receiver is not securely in place. You can't receive any calls, and if you are on a party line, neither can your party-line neighbors. It's a good idea to hang up carefully, and to check the telephone occasionally if there are small children in your home.

A great many questions about telephone manners center around the party line, and there seems to be some question as to the best way to use it. For example, should one space calls, or make them chain-style?

Spacing your calls works out best for all concerned. For one thing, others can't call you if you hold the line for a long time. Spacing your calls gives others a chance to call you—and also gives your party-line neighbors a chance to use the line. That results in better service for everyone.

Oil Industry Rules Prices To Consumers

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—Consumer prices of oil and oil products are "controlled by the oil industry," says Thomas A. Brown, chairman of the Empire State Petroleum Association.

In a talk to the association's 12th annual convention, Brown declared: "Because of the integrated company's control over supply we have to pay them what they ask."

Brown said the big companies control market prices "even when the government isn't controlling them."

Prices to the customer are not controlled by supply and demand, "which is supposed to operate in a free economy," he said, but by a market leader's control of the market.

He said a petroleum jobber and distributor is dependent on the integrated company for his supply of products because that company "controls not only most of the supply but the means of transportation, such as pipelines, tank cars and tankers."

The government is discriminating against independents in the industry by helping oil companies build refineries with tax write-offs, Brown said. He told the 200 distributors attending yesterday's session that the association's membership is not seeking help, "but we don't want to be squeezed out of our share of supply and profit."

Plans For Cub Day Camp Will Be Made

Planning of the annual summer day camp for Cubs will be undertaken at a called district meeting of Cubbers Thursday at the office of Scout Executive Jimmie Hale at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Hale's office is in the building which houses the Red Cross headquarters on the southwest corner of the Courthouse square.

All Denmothers, Cubmasters, committeemen and others interested in the Cubbing program are asked to attend the session. The day camp is held each year to supply the younger boys with an outdoors experience. They usually climax the affair with an overnight camp.

Holy Land Pictures To Be Shown Tonight

Pictures taken in the Holy Land on a tour a year ago will be projected at the Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Church at 8:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor will project the pictures he helped to take and will furnish the narration. The church is located on NE 10th, about a block west of the Gail road.

Afoot, You Don't Stand Much Of A Chance Against Moving Auto

The Travelers booklet "Lucky You" points out that 8,470 of the 37,100 traffic deaths in 1951, or roughly one in four, were pedestrians, and that 37.3 per cent of these were killed while crossing the street between intersections.

way workers were killed in 1951. This makes it apparent that highway work is extra hazardous, when you consider the relatively small number so engaged against the total population, so hereafter when you see men at work on the highway, be sure to slow down and give the fellows a break.

Quite A Task To Buy Expensive Wood To Build Home In England

By HOUSTON HARTE LONDON. — If you could get a permit to buy a two by four (the British call it a four by two) 12 feet long it would cost you one pound or $2.80. This tells the story of the shortage of building material in England.

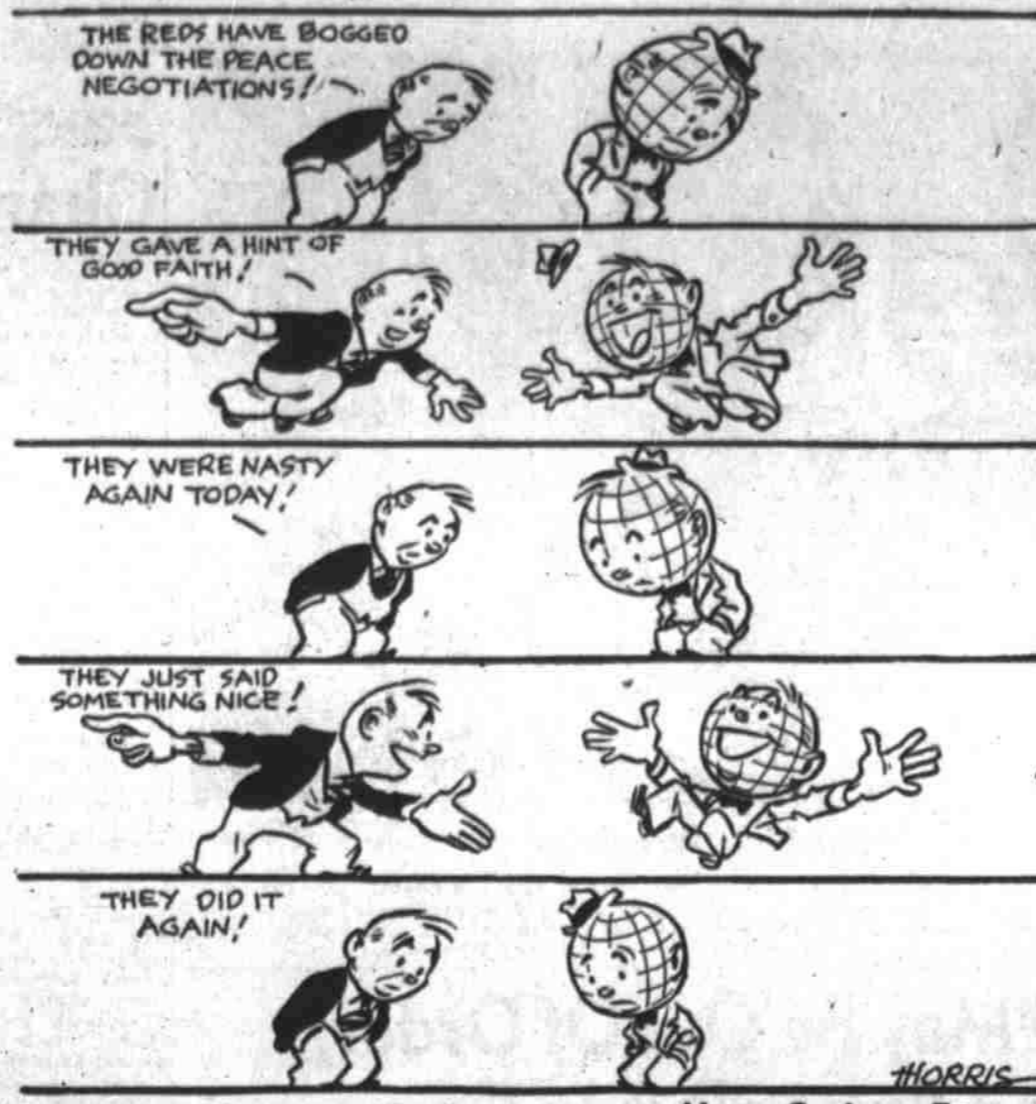

ground. Many believe if an election were held today labor would be returned to power. People expected too much of Churchill. The calibre of the men who make up the conservative cabinet and its top officials are believed to be of high integrity and unusual ability.

Wood is scarce in England and the government does everything within its power to place obstacles which will prevent its use. Only the rafters of a house, the doors and door sills are permitted of wood.

There are many reasons for us in England. The person who lives on the land occupies a privileged position. He can have a cow. He can have as many as four pigs. He can have hens. There are regulations and reports, but you get used to these.

Last week the London papers carried an account of a landowner losing a suit to a tenant where the landlord had tried to get back 500 acres of land. The jury decided in favor of the tenant in the face of the following facts:

The tenant farmed over 5,000 acres of land. He leased 3,700 acres from the plaintiff landlord. The landlord sought to get control of but 500 acres of his land and a dwelling which was upon it. There was testimony that the house was valuable and was not being maintained in a satisfactory manner.

If Supreme Court Orders Return Of Steel Mills, Strike Almost Certain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The steel dispute has become a kind of fantastic byproduct entangling everyone from the U. S. District Court and the Court of Appeals. Now the Supreme Court's fingers are stuck in it.

It can act in a number of ways which fall short of the momentous opinion on presidential power. Still, the nine justices know whatever they do will affect the country.

Solon Fears Red Infiltration, So Puts Wife On His Payroll

WASHINGTON.—Congressmen who put their wives on the government payroll have dreamed up various excuses for this type of nepotism, but the excuse of Congressman Ernest Bramblett, California Republican, takes the prize over all.

30 years ago, because since her addition to our office, there are no worries about information leaks to the Kremlin coming from our personnel!

In a letter to his constituents, Bramblett warns ominously: "We know that Communist agents are everywhere around us. They're in every strategic place in the nation, particularly so in California."

Officially the convention is for the purpose of revising the union's constitution, but this is only a minor item on the agenda.

Taft Sees Less Than 100 As Uncommitted
By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Robert A. Taft said today he believes fewer than 100 delegates will remain uncommitted when the Republican National Convention meets in Chicago July 7 to choose a presidential nominee.
On the other hand, Wesley Roberts, executive director of the Eisenhower - for - President campaign, said he thinks there will be many more than 100 delegates who could go either way, adding, "We believe we'll get most of them."
Taft told a reporter he expects Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania and Arthur Summerfield, Michigan national committeeman, will have made up their minds by convention time where to throw their support.
Fine apparently controls most of Pennsylvania's 79 delegates and Summerfield is credited with being able to influence a majority of Michigan's 46.
Between them, they have the largest bloc of uncommitted delegates and supporters of Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, top contenders for the GOP nomination, have been eyeing them longingly.
Taft's estimate of fewer than 100 uncommitted votes indicates he expects some of those now listed publicly as not favoring any candidate to make their position clear before the presidential roll calls begin. He claims nearly enough for the 604 required for a first-ballot nomination.
An Associated Press tabulation which now gives Taft 349 votes and Eisenhower 300, lists 155 as publicly uncommitted. This tabulation is based on concessions, pledges, instructions and statements by delegates willing to express a choice.
Claiming about 80 more votes than the total credited to him, Taft evidently is counting a sizable number of the publicly uncommitted as being on his side.
He also apparently is counting heavily on winning convention contests that may develop over seating rival Taft and Eisenhower delegations from at least five Southern states.
Taft said his backers have been particularly careful, where they have won control of state delegations, to name the Ohioan's strongest supporters as members of the convention credentials committee.
Taft said he now believes he will have an edge among members of this group, made up of one delegate each from the states and territories.
States where contests may develop between rival delegations include Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Georgia. They cast a total of 81 votes, a margin that might be decisive if they all went to one candidate in a close race.

No Plane Flights On Armed Forces Day, Lovett Says
WASHINGTON (U)—Come rain, hail or strike in the oil industry, shows at the nation's military air bases next Saturday will go on—but without plane flights.
The Defense Department has grounded aviation phases of the annual Armed Forces Day celebrations, so there will be none of the engine roar and blast, none of the spectacular air dashes and flypasts of previous years.
Secretary of Defense Lovett last week, in view of the current fuel shortage, canceled all flying activities previously scheduled by military planes in observance of Armed Forces Day.

Peru Hits U.S. Plan For Tariff On Tuna
LIMA, Peru (U)—Peru claims a U.S. congressional bill to slap a duty of 3 cents a pound on imported tuna is a breach of the good neighbor policy and warns its passage would wreck the Peruvian fishing industry.
Peru's foreign minister, Manuel Gallager, made the complaint in a note to U.S. Ambassador Harold Tittman.
