By BILL PERKINS

Highway Patrolman R. C. Parker of McLean was the innocent victim of a typographical error which occurred in the Wheeler Times recently and caused some embarrassment to him since he is a native of that area. In a story in the Times it stated that "Charges were filed against State Trooper R. C. Parker for drunkenness." It wasn't true at all. What the paper intended to say was that "Charges were filed against a Berger man for drunkenness BY State Trooper R. C. Parker." The newspaper made appropriate apologies last week for the mistake.

The young editor over at Wheeler is publishing a very good newspaper in the Wheeler County seat and we can sympathize with him and well understand how such errors seem to slip in occasionally. This is one business where you can make mistakes every week and still not make the same one twice.

In one issue last week of a daily paper we receive we noted an obituary which ended with "interment was in St. John's Catholic church." So we "country" boys are not the only ones who make mistakes.

Newspaper people aren't alone when it comes to getting into embarrassing situations. Just think how Hugh O'Brien, the rough and ready Wyatt Earp of TV fame, must have felt in Dodge City, Kansas, this week when a horse stepped on his foot.

Junior Windom is a sports fan, especially fond of the fights, and he, like many others from McLean, attended the matches in Amarillo. It is doubtful if many fans get more excited than he though. Last week, in his home, he clamped down $150 set of false

Candidates for the office of Gray County Commissioner now number five. Latest to announce is B. J. (Jinks) Shaw. Joe H. Green has announced that he is a candidate for Justice of the Peace of precinct 5. Cliff H. Day is also a candidate for that office.

George Saunders placed fourth in the junior yearling bull contest at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show last week.

Local firemen extinguished a fire in the front seat of a car belonging to N. A. Greer Wednesday morning. Damage was confined to the front cushion. The car was parked across from the post office on Main street when the fire was discovered.

Parsley's Furniture, New McLean Store, Open for Business

Parsley's Furniture, McLean's newest business establishment, was officially opened for business this week by Owner Ed Parsley. Parsley, a native of Oklahoma, until recently was a student at Panhandle A&M College at Goodwell, Okla.

Ed and his young wife, Gail, were recently married and she is finishing school at McLean High School where she is a senior. Gail is a native of Wheeler and Ed's father is in the furniture business in the Wheeler county seat.

The young couple lives in the Shull apartments.

The new store, located in the Harris King building at the corner of Main and Highway 66, will feature popular priced new and used furniture. In an advertisement elsewhere in today's News, Mr. Parsley extends an invitation for McLean and area residents to come in and get acquainted.

Time Running Out Pay Poll Tax

Only one more day remains or Texans to secure poll tax receipts enabling them to vote during 1958.

Poll taxes may be paid in McLean to Mrs. Ruby Cousins at the tax office in the City Hall.

All Texans have been urged by Governor Daniel to pay poll taxes in order to participate in city, county, and state elections this year.

Openings Exist For Operators At Bra Factory

A need for additional qualified help to operate sewing machines at Marie Foundations, local brassiere manufacturing company, was announced this week by Tom Greenwood, production superintendent.

The factory, which now employs some 70 persons, is seeking qualified ladies between the ages of 25 and 35, with a sincere desire for permanent employment. Although preference will be given to the above age group, applications from others will be accepted, Greenwood said.

Greenwood indicated that the factory expected to have as many as 100 machines in operation by December and that it was the hope of the factory to supply the increased demand for machine operators from McLean and the trade territory.

After initial training operators work on a piece rate basis of earnings with a minimum of $1.00 an hour. It was pointed out that several operators now employed are earning from $1.40 to $1.80 per hour. An operator's earnings is only limited by her ability and dexterity, Greenwood said.

Marie Foundations began operations of the shipping department on a limited scale in mid-December and brassiers are now being shipped to Sears outlets throughout the nation from the McLean plant. Prior to last December all products manufactured locally were shipped to Fraser's Form O'uth factory in California for distribution.

Shipping from the new factory is increasing steadily and with new lines scheduled to go into manufacture soon, a need for additional operators exists.

"With some operators earning over $70 per 5-day week, with only the experience received since the factory began operations here, and with the opportunity of steady employment, it is hoped that the needed qualified help can be supplied locally," Greenwood said, "but we may have to seek out-of-town help if the demand cannot be filled here."

"We are especially interested in McLean and wish to hire all of our personnel here so that the local payroll will help the town to the fullest extent, and that is the reason we are extending the appeal for qualified ladies from 25 to 35 to apply."

A Cub Scout pack meeting was held Monday night in the grade school cafeteria. The theme of the meeting was "Cub Scout Movie Makers." C. E. Cooke showed two films on his bear hunting trip to Kodiak Island and a fishing trip out of California.

Awards were presented at the pack meeting. Those receiving awards were Tommy Wilson, bear badge; Ronnie McFroy, wolf badge and silver arrow; Herby Butrum, wolf badge and denner bar; Tommy Quarlee, bobcat pin; Drew Fuller, bobcat pin; and Tommy Williams, bobcat pin.

Each den gave a skit at the meeting. The skits were on "Old McDonald's Farm," "Safety," and a poem.

Approximately 50 parents, relatives and friends of the Cub Scouts attended the meeting. The Boy Scouts were invited to the meeting to see Mr. Cooke's films.

"In announcing for commissioner I would like to say that I was born and raised in Gray County.

"Being a land owner and tax payer, I believe that maintaining good roads is only a part of this job. How the funds of this county are spent as well as saved is an important factor to every citizen.

"My three years experience in earlier days, as a grader man, should give me some knowledge of what to expect of the men and machinery which are required for the building of roads.

Why is it that—on one of those rare occasions when I get a shine—somebody steps on my foot in an elevator within 15 minutes afterwards?

The first time I was ever on the air was in Austin in 1940. I was just back from Hollywood where I had helped to write M-G-M's "Boom Town."

American Statesman, invited me to appear on his radio program. When I went into the studio, I was greeted by Green and by Neal Douglass, veteran press photographer (whom I had known for years) and possessor of one of the most tremendous laughs you ever heard. The signal was given that we were on the air and after Green had said a few words to the listeners, he remarked, "Boyce House is a visitor tonight. I wonder if I could prevail on Boyce to say a few words?"

At this, Douglass let out a terrific roar of laughter, the idea that anyone would have any trouble getting me to talk striking him as tremendously amusing. Afterward, Green said, "When I told mutual friends that I was going to have you on my fifteen-

I would say, on his neck—unless he happens to be a heavyweight wrestler.

NAZARENE NEWS

By G. JOE OLSON

"The Church of the Nazarene was born marching and it hasn't quit!"

In this descriptive fashion, Dr. Hardy C. Powers, chairman of Nazarene general superintendents, summarized the 50 years of amazing growth and achievement by the denomination which is celebrating its golden anniversary throughout 1958.

Several simultaneous observances are scheduled during the year in the 4,500 Nazarene churches, including Easter Sunday, April 6; a "week of witnessing" as a denomination, Oct. 5-12; and Thanksgiving Sunday, Nov. 23, 1958.

START AT PILOT POINT

The statement by the Nazarene leader referred to the struggling, rather inauspicious beginning of the denomination in a small brown tent at Pilot Point, Texas, on October 13, 1908. This was the official birthday of the church.

Delegates representing 228 small churches with 10,414 members in the East, West and South, had gathered for the union. The strongest common bond was the belief in the Wesleyan doctrine of entire sanctification, also known as heart purity or perfect love, and the motion was adopted unanimously.

A burst of enthusiasm followed with shouts of "Hallelujah." Handkerchiefs waved in a "Chautauqua salute." The joy was so great it spilled over and a victory march around the tent followed with delegates singing a song to the tune of "Dixie." A part of the chorus ran:

With forces all united
We'll win! We'll win!
We'll preach a Gospel o'er the land
That fully saves from sin!
Praise God, Praise God, Praise God
For Full Salvation!

Dr. Phineas F. Bresee, Los Angeles, founder of the denomination in the West, made a short impromptu speech from a chair in which he demonstrated the vision and leadership that have since characterized the church. He said, "This is only the dawn! We shall girdle the globe with holiness unto the Lord!"

COMPARATIVE FIGURES

The Nazarene march of evangelism, both at home and abroad, has continued since its founding. The statistical summary tells the graphic story:

At the start, in 1908, 228 churches with 10,414 members; Sunday school enrollment of 7,780; church property worth a total of $560,000; and per capita giving of $13.44 the first year.

Now, at the start of the anniversary year, Nazarenes have 4,497 active churches and 292,194 members; Sunday school enrollment of 632,125; church property worth $169,765,560; and per capita giving of $133.77 in 1957 was a record high.

Another way of emphasizing this is to point out that per capita giving has increased 10 times during the denomination's 50 years. Membership has increased 30 times and Sunday school enrollment by nearly 100 times. The value of church property today is more than 340 times what it was at the start in 1908.

"God has blessed us out of all measure," said a Nazarene leader. The Nazarene church has been one of the fastest growing churches in modern American Protestant annals. Its record is unique among smaller denominations that hold to the Wesleyan doctrine.

Denominationally, the Nazarenes now rank 30th in membership, 15th in Sunday school enrollment, and 9th among denominational publishing houses in sales volume.

A strong missionary emphasis continues from its early days. Church foreign program has grown steadily. Now there are some missionaries engaged in 33 world areas. Many more are planned for the future.

OFFERINGS FOR MISSIONS

For more than 25 years, each Easter and Thanksgiving a special offering for world missions is received. In Easter, 1957, this totaled $907,376. As tangible evidence of gratitude to God in this anniversary year, Nazarenes will seek to raise $2,000,000 for world missions in two special offerings in 1958.

While members give all the praise to God for achievements of the half century, others analyzing the denomination's history cite various factors as contributing to the success. In addition to able leadership and a comprehensive spiritual program with emphasis on young people's work and foreign missions, observers say that Nazarenes always have had "a sense of mission, strong faith in God, and willingness to work."

The esprit de corps among Nazarenes is strong. The church is regarded as something of a phenomenon in religious history in that it is not the result of a split-off from another group so much as it is the merging of many independent holiness groups.

In a real sense, the Church of the Nazarene is the ecumenical movement—in action. Since its naeal day, in 1908, no less than 12 smaller groups and denominations have harmoniously merged. The last two to come in were British-International Holiness Mission and the Calvary Holiness Church—making a united holiness front in the British Isles.

THE CHURCH DESCRIBED

The Church of the Nazarene has rightly been described as a "middle-of-the-road" orthodox Protestant denomination. It is evangelical and evangelistic. It does not believe that "speaking in tongues" is infallible proof of receiving the Holy Spirit.

It is neither extremely ritualistic nor ultra free in its mode of worship. Its doctrines are similar to those of the old Methodist church, but in evangelistic emphasis it is closer to the Free Methodist or Wesleyan Methodist groups.

Nazarenes hold to all the historic doctrines of the New Testament including belief in the Triune God, plenary inspiration of the scriptures, original sin, the atonement of Christ for the whole human race in justification, regeneration and adoption of all penitent believers in Christ; also that believers are to be sanctified wholly, following the New Birth, through faith in Jesus Christ; the bodily resurrection from the dead, and in the final judgment.

Tithing, or returning the scriptural tenth to God, is a church standard—rather than a condition of membership, but a large percentage of Nazarenes tithes scrupulously, placing the denomination among the leaders in annual per capita giving in the nation.

A general superintendent said recently, "Our people do not have a 'holier than thou' spirit or outlook. Our pastors and people are encouraged to cooperate fully in every moral and righteous force of our day."

The church has a congregational, or representative, form of government.

On the national level, general superintendent is the highest elective office, corresponding to bishop in some churches. Sixteen men have served the church in this capacity. Five general superintendents currently in office have served a total of 45 years in that position and have spent practically all their lives in the Nazarene church. They are Drs. Hardy C. Powers, G. B. Williamson, Samuel Young, D. I. Vanderpool and Hugh C. Benner.

Currently, a building and relocation program is underway in Kansas City. Two major buildings have been constructed and are in use on a 21-acre tract purchased in 1950 at Sixty-third Street and The Paseo. These are the $500,000 Theological Seminary, opened in May, 1954, and the $450,000 headquarters building occupied six months later. A new publishing house, costing $2,000,000, is the third building contemplated.

Surmounting the handsome, roman-brick headquarters building, in which are offices for all general church executives and departments, is a large, revolving world globe. This is illuminated from within at night. It is a striking and symbolic reminder of the ear-girdling mission of the church, "to spread scriptural holiness to the ends of the earth."

Dear Friend:

Important decisions about our national defense have been made during the last two months. That is the period in which the Senate Preparedness Committee has been holding hearings on the nation's defense status.

A great deal remains to be done. But we are already able to report action along the following lines:

Removal of overtime limitations on top priority programs.

Restoration of basic research programs to former level.

Both Vanguard and Jupiter satellite programs assigned top priority, and army authorized to proceed with launching a satellite by use of Jupiter-C test vehicle.

Authority given for production and operation development of both Thor and Jupiter missile systems.

Atlas program accelerated.

Polaris development accelerated.

Army authorized to proceed immediately with development of a solid propellant missile to replace the Redstone.

Office of the director of guided missiles established.

Advance research project agency established.

Increased anti-submarine capability in new budget; research and development on anti-submarine warfare accelerated.

Strategic Air Command alert, dispersal, and relocation of tankers to northern bases.

Air Force authorized to proceed with program to install an early warning system for detection of intercontinental ballistic missile.

Army and Air Force responsibilities defined, and new emphasis given urgency for development of defense against ICBM; top priority confirmed for anti-ICBM and military satellite projects. Full-time special assistant and group of consultants named to advise the secretary regarding the organization of the defense department.

These are steps in the right direction. But decisive action still must be taken in certain important areas.

Our Strategic Air Force must be modernized and strengthened and our SAC bases dispersal must be stepped up.

Our ground and naval forces must be modernized and an adequate airlift provided for ground troops.

Our anti-submarine program must be intensified.

We must reduce lead time in the development of weapon systems by cutting down on decision time and by simplifying procurement procedures.

These are some of the actions necessary to improve our defense posture and to assure our leadership as we go further along into the space age.

We have great resources which the Soviet Union cannot match. We have freedom. We have self-reliance. And we have a deep and abiding faith in a Divine Being to Whom we turn for guidance that is never failing.

Secure in our faith, I am confident we can do whatever must be done in this hour.

HOW TO HAIL THE TRIUMPH OVER POLIO

A new kind of celebration is in full swing in this country. This month thousands of communities in every part of the land are observing the 20th anniversary of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It was National Foundation leadership and National Foundation money, provided through the annual March of Dimes, that made possible the Salk vaccine and the hope that polio epidemics eventually will be eliminated forever in America.

Think what that means! No more mass imprisonment in iron lungs each summer; no more shriveled arms, legs, hands; no more dread in the hearts of millions of parents each time their children come home with "the symptoms."

The best way to celebrate a blessing like this is to show our gratitude. And the best way to be grateful for the Salk vaccine is to think about the blighted lives of those for whom it has come too late and to do what we can to wipe out or relieve their helplessness. There are, in America, some 100,000 boys and girls, young men and women, who have had polio and who need further rehabilitation.

These people can benefit, some of them tremendously, if modern techniques of rehabilitation are applied to their disability. It is the purpose of the March of Dimes to finance the care they need. The cost will run to many millions. And the March of Dimes looks to us—every one of us—to give what we can toward this wonderful objective.

Let's not forget those who were not as lucky as we. Let's remember, as the March of Dimes puts it, that "Survival Is Not Enough." Let's give!

PRICED OUT OF THE MARKET

A leading newspaper recently carried two important stories side by side on the front page. One was headlined: "Labor to seek higher wages, shorter week." The other headline read: "November jobless highest since 1949."

This puts one in mind of the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Labor can press for higher wages and shorter work-weeks, and very likely it can get them. But labor can't make people buy goods and services that keep the labor force employed.

A worker, like a product, can be priced out of the market. There is plenty of evidence that this is beginning to happen now.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Las Cruces, N. M. Citizen: "If you drive a car, there is no better resolution you can make than to drive safely throughout the year. If you are unwilling to take that responsibility, you have no right to drive. And if you won't take the responsibility, your chances of being among the dead in highway accidents are good."

Alameda, Calif. Times Star: "Governor Goodwin J. Knight pointed to California's many contributions to nuclear knowledge—the development of the original cyclotron by Dr. Ernest Lawrence; the US radiation laboratory at Berkeley; the AEC installation at Livermore; the Mare Island atomic submarine construction. But of all our mighty achievements, the most significant, the most heartening must be the fact that private industry's reactor and power generator have been pumping some 5,000 kilowatts of atomic electricity into the kitchens and factories, the living rooms and shops of this state.

Bartow, Fla., Democrat: "Frank Gannett, one of the better known publishers of the United States, died the other day, and included in his will a comment to the effect that he 'felt a deep concern over the freedom of the press' . . . referring, of course, to the growing trend among public officials to refuse to give newspapers information to which the public is entitled . . . a continuance or enhancement of such a policy, wrote Gannett in his will, will void freedom of expression and 'democracy will perish.'"

Colfax, Iowa, Tribune: "Since Russia sent up their 'Sputnik' the general public has become hysterical in their demand for more engineers and scientists. They may be needed, we are too far down the line to say, but a report from the National Society of Professional Engineers states that today in the layoffs caused by a cut-back in defense budgets, more than 1,000 engineers are looking for jobs. There is and always will be the need and demand for well educated and well trained individuals, but we should not go overboard in one particular field. Let's just try and raise the standard in every department."

Beaver Falls, Pa., News-Tribune: "A friend of ours used to stay in trim by scattering a handful of pennies in his bedroom every morning and stooping for them. Now he's getting fat—says there's no incentive in it any more. He's going to try dimes next week."

Exhibits Airplane Model

Arthur Poncelet visited Fort Sill, Okla., this week and exhibited his airplane model to military aviation experts, who expressed the opinion that it would not only be a successful machine, but would be better than any that are now in use. About two weeks ago Mr. Poncelet put a model of his invention in T. J. Coffey's show window, and it created quite a deal of comment.

Red Cross Organization

Commissioners precincts 3 and 4 have been organized as the McLean Red Cross chapter, and 1 and 2 have been made the Pampa chapter. It was the original plan to make each county in the Panhandle one chapter, but owing to the fact that the more densely populated parts of Gray County are separated by large pastures, a river and a few creeks, which, together with the poor roads running from the north to the south sides of the county, make the scheme of having the county in one chapter impractical, it was divided into two. This is a special privilege that has been granted to Gray County, and doubtless would have been impossible had we not succeeded so well in the Christ-mas membership campaign.

The executive committee of the McLean chapter consists of the following: T. J. Coffey, chairman; Mrs. H. M. Smith, vice chairman; Mrs. Arthur Erwin, secretary; Miss Eunice Floyd, assistant secretary; Clay E. Thompson, treasurer; Rev. B. J. Osborn and S. R. Jones.

At a meeting of the committee on Friday of last week, the following supervisors were appointed: Mrs. J. B. Paschall, hospital garments; Miss Vella Wilson, surgical supplies; Mrs. C. C. Cook, knitting; Mrs. Frank Wilson, inspector and packing. Mrs. T. M. Wolfe will assist Mrs. Paschall, and assisting Miss Wilson in the surgical department will be Mrs. S. E. Boyett, Miss Ruby Cook, Miss Gaynelle Wilson, Miss Alma Watkins and Mrs. T. N. Holloway.

Personals

Johnnie Quattlebaum returned home Wednesday from Erick, Okla., where he has been for about a week.

Miss Clara Turner spent the week-end with her brother at Jericho.

S. S. Sparlin from near Pakan school was here Saturday.

Walter Todd returned Monday from Dodge City, Kans., where he had been visiting relatives.

Sam Brown and wife of Alameda and her mother, Mrs. Smith, were in the city Monday.

Mrs. Joe Back was here Monday from the Back neighborhood.

Heard Items

Miss Leslie Harris is visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter Litchfield.

Those who were on the sick list last week, we are glad to say are O. K. again.

The little girl of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who was hurt a few days ago, was able to be up at last reports, and it was thought all danger was past.

Mrs. A. P. Rippy is on the sick list at present writing.

Shorty Blandford has sold his place to a Mr. Parker, a brother-in-law of Mr. Harbison. Shorty intends to move out soon and the new party move in. We are glad to welcome these good people to our community, but we regret very much to give Shorty and his family up. As yet we have not found where they intend to locate.

Miss Ruth Bailey, May and little sisters moved back to their home near Heald the latter part of last week. We were very glad to welcome them back, as the old place seemed so lonely after they were gone. May, Winnie Pearl and Willie Lee Bailey entered school at Heald Monday.

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Williams of four miles northeast of Heald are entertaining a new girl at their house.

Penhandlers Hold 16th Anniversary Meeting in McLean

The sixteenth anniversary of Penhandlers was celebrated in a Founder's Day program in the home of Miss Ruby Cook of McLean, Saturday afternoon, Jan. 25. The president, Mrs. G. H. Aldous of Shamrock, gave a brief resume of accomplishments of the club and named its entire roster through the years.

Following this talk, the meeting was turned to Mrs. Frankie Stanley of Shamrock who had presided at the first Founder's Day program 15 years ago. Mrs. Leanna Harvey of Shamrock was secretary; Mrs. T. E. Trostle of Lela, program leader; and Miss Cook, speaker and advisory critic.

An original personality story was read by Mrs. Stanley on the life of Mrs. Fred Oliver of Shamrock. Mrs. Oliver is the mother of former Congressman Eugene Worley. The story which Mrs. Stanley read was carried in the Congressional Record.

An original vignette was read by Mrs. Louise Coffman of Shamrock. An extra script for criticism, a religious article written by Mrs. Mettie Brown of Samnorwood, was read by Mrs. Mary I. Smith of Samnorwood in the absence of the author. Mrs. Floy Hugg of Shamrock also read an extra script for criticism of the club.

Mrs. Trostle gave club history of 1935-36 and 1936-37.

After refreshments, there was a short autograph party honoring Mrs. Osie B. Wilson of Wheeler, co-author with Cleo Tom Terry of Skellytown for their recently published book, The Rawhide Tree.

In reviewing the 16 years work of the organization, it was found that the Penhandlers had written ten books, in entirety or in part. In addition to ten published books, the club members had sold two educational films, 25 radio programs, one personality story published in Congressional Record, and several thousand newspaper and magazine articles had been published.

The Penhandlers were pleased to have as guests Mrs. Luther McDonald, member of the McLean library board.

Almeda Inez Gibson Named Homemaker Of Tomorrow

Almeda Inez Gibson has been named the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in McLean.

She received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating girls in McLean High School.

Her examination paper will now be entered in competition with those of 628 other school winners to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runnerup award in the state. For her achievement, she will receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York.

Each State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. A $500 scholarship will be awarded the second ranking girl in each state. The school of the state winner receives a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

A record 327,000 young women in 11,800 of the nation's public, private and parochial high schools participated in the fourth annual Betty Crocker search sponsored by General Mills. This year's huge entry brings the four-year participation over the million mark. A total of 1,671,000 girls has enrolled in this educational homemaking project since it was launched in 1935 to assist schools in education for home and family living. A total of $106,000 in scholarships will be awarded this year.

The national winner will be named April 17 at a banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City. The scholarship of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. Girls who rank second, third and fourth in the nation will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively. ## Tax-Man Sam Sez:

Texas is a community property state. wives who are native Texans clearly understand that they only own half of the homestead. It comes as a distinct shock to some of our naturalized female Texans that she only gets half of what her husband made and even worse, her husband owns half of the salary she made all by herself. The income tax law clearly recognizes community property law in the state both the husband and wife are entitled to half on the tax return. If your wife worked and she files a separate tax return, she must show one-half of the community income of both the husband and wife. She also takes credit for paying one-half of the with-held tax.

Brannon to Speak At Conference Of Farm Groups

Former Secretary of Agriculture Charley F. Brannon, now general counselor for the National Farmers Union in Denver, Colo., will address an all-group Farm Program Development Conference at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium Friday, Jan. 31, beginning at 9:30 a. m. Alex Dickie, Jr., of Denton, president of the Texas Farmers Union, which originated the idea for the conference, said all producers of agriculture commodities and all farm organizations in the state will be invited to the conference. Other sponsors include Grain Sorghum Producers, Plains Cotton Growers, Texas Wheat Growers, Texas Milk Producers Federation, Co-op Oil Mill, Producers Grain Co-op of Amarillo, and Cotton Marketing Co-op. The primary purpose of the conference, Dickie said, will be to develop a comprehensive farm program that would have the backing of the producers of all agriculture commodities. After a round of speeches during the morning, which also includes an address by Prof. Troy Cauley, department of economics, University of Texas, the conference will be broken down that afternoon into commodity groups, with the producers in each session working up a program to suit their particular needs. The conference then will reconvene in a general session to map an over all farm program acceptable to the entire group.

Selected to head the commodity group discussions were R. G. Peeler, president Grain Sorghum Producers, chairman of the grain sorghum group; George Pfeifferberger, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, chairman of the cotton group; Russell Hogge, president of Texas Wheat Growers, chairman of the wheat group; S. E. Brown, former president of United Livestock Producers Ass'n, chairman of livestock group; and B. E. Stallings, Texas Milk Producers Ass'n, chairman of the dairy group.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

All of a sudden science has taken on a new look. Or perhaps we should say—a new look has been taken at science.

Few outdoorsmen realize just how important science is to their outdoor pleasures. Sure, they appreciate the fact that guns are built to perfection, spinning reels are most carefully designed, fishing rods are constructed for just the right sensitivity and reflex-ability, and even the smallest lure is planned with the greatest care. These facts they realize, as well as the scientific detail that goes into boats and motors.

But I am thinking of the fish and wildlife biologists, the scientists who study the living habits of game and fish.

Were it not for the work of these men, we would find ourselves so far behind in the production of fish and game that all would be about as scarce as the whooping crane (of which there are only 31 left).

When I was a boy, our lakes and streams were rapidly being "fished out." Many a time we would fish all day and come in with only a few bream. You and I and our children and grandchildren should be thankful that somewhere along the line some far-thinking people came to the realization that in time we might not have plenty of fish and game.

Biologists Do Great Job

These men went to our colleges and universities and came away with degrees in wildlife management. These biologists began to do some research. They put two and two together for a period of years and came up with an answer that some lovers of outdoors still will not believe.

Now the biologists tell us that with proper land management, careful control of our lakes and streams, and reasonable hunting and fishing procedures we not only can increase, but eventually improve our game and fish.

Through the efforts of sportsmen's clubs and a few determined individuals, the Texas Game and Fish Commission now has regulatory authority in some 80 counties in the state. This means that in at least 80 counties, season and bag limits are based upon facts and not upon guess work or the whims of certain individuals.

A visit to some of the wildlife management areas of the state, as well as to some of the ranches that follow conservation practices, is most convincing. The same is true of our lakes and streams, that are constantly being watched over by biologists.

Biologists have learned that you can stock an impoundment with too many fish. Result: poor, small fish. They have learned that the carrying capacity of the land must be respected. As a result of their work we have more and better fish.

Thanks to these scientists, Texas is far ahead of many other states in its fish and wildlife management program.

Access to Water

Many states now require a salt water fishing license. Some have had such a license law for a long time. Texas joined the ranks in 1957. Here a license is now required for all fishermen outside their home counties, and for all persons fishing with a rod and reel wherever they fish, if they are between the ages of 17 and 65.

As a result of this license law there is a great deal of explanatory work going on along the Texas coast. The Game and Fish Commission plans to provide several passes through coastal islands and peninsulas, to improve marine fishing conditions.

While the state is doing this, there also is much to be done by the individual counties in providing access to water. There is no better fishing to be found anywhere than off the Texas coast. In many places, however, it is hard to get to because the shoreline has been commercialized or industrialized.

Some counties and the municipal governments in some towns provide free launching ramps. From Port Arthur to Port Isabel, however, there is need for many more than now exist.

Of course the need for launching ramps is evident on every inland body of water, too. Most of the ramps on our lakes and streams are inadequate and in some instances unsafe. With thousands of additional boats this year, many owners will find it difficult to reach a good launching ramp. It will be a question of who gets there first.

If you have such a situation in your locality, how about talking it over with the Chamber of Commerce and get the business men of the city behind the movement. They can be a big help. Point out to them that the more accessible you make the lakes and rivers the more visitors (and customers) your town will have.

Get Set Now

How about your boat? It won't be long until spring will be rolling around. Even now there is fine fishing in all Texas waters. The old boat should have a new coat of paint. It won't take but a few days to dry dock it, scrape the slime off the bottom and do a real cleanup job.

Your local dealer will be glad to tell you what kind of paint to use and may even help you get it out of the water. If you are looking forward to a summer of real boating pleasure, then get the boat ready now.

You'd be surprised at the number of new boat sales that are being made right now.

The Tidelands

From the Panhandle to the Valley, a good, safe topic for a rousing speech right now is "The Tidelands—They're All Ours."

Texas haven't been stirred up on this issue since 1953. That was the year Congress passed the Submerged Lands Act which recognized the coastal states' ownership of off-shore lands to their "historical boundaries."

Texas won title to land three leagues (10 1/2 miles) from shore in its independence treaty with Mexico. Texas, at least, were convinced, this was the "historic boundary." Hence, the state began operating in the three-league territory, leasing tracts to oil, gas and sulphur companies to gain money for the public school fund.

Now the fat's in the fire again. Last year Outgoing U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell filed suit in the U. S. Supreme Court contesting Texas' claim to more than three miles of tidelands. Other 7 1/2 miles, he said, belong to the federal government.

Of this claim, Texas officials have this to say:
 Atty. Gen. Will Wilson: "It was Louisiana who knocked over the coffee pot."

Things were going along fine after passage of the 1953 law, explained Wilson, until Louisiana (limited to three miles of tidelands) decided that if Texas could have three leagues, so should they. Louisiana filed suit for the extra land. Federal government replied that "no state" owned more than three miles out.

"This," observed Wilson, "struck Texas in a tender spot."

But neither Louisiana nor other coastal states have the same sort of case as Texas, he emphasized. At the time Louisiana entered the Union, the commonly accepted boundary of a country was the distance a cannon could fire from shore—or three miles.

Texas, however, said Wilson, won right to three leagues in the 1936 War for Independence, and U. S. officials recognized this when the state entered the Union.

Today the value of the contested land is estimated at $300,000.00. Ruefully, Wilson noted he's allotted only one hour before the court to argue for it.

Land Commr. Earl Rudder: "If U. S. court knocks down Texas' claim to the 10 1/2-mile shoreline, then Russia, Mexico or anybody else can claim it."

Rudder took note of reported discussion among Mexican attorneys. Their view: if Texas did not get title to the territory from Mexico in 1836, then Mexico still owns it.

Urging that the title not be clouded, Rudder pointed out that the land is not only valuable for its minerals, but vital to defense.

As the salesman signed the register in the Mississippi hotel lobby, he noticed a mosquito crawling across the register.

"I've been in a lot of hotels," said the salesman, "and I've seen a lot of mosquitoes, but this is the first time they ever came down to see which room I was getting."

"Henry," puffed the fat woman plaintively as her husband failed to assist her onto the street car, "you aren't as gallant as when I was a gal."

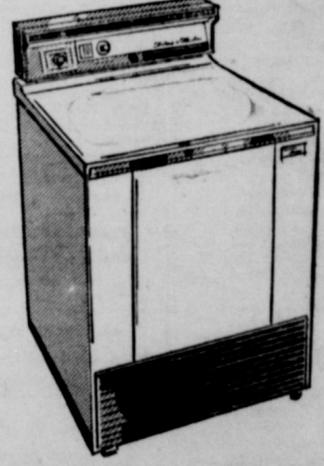

"I know, dear," puffed Henry, "but you aren't as buoyant as when I was a boy."
