BRUCE PARKER FILES FOR DIST. JUDGE

Bruce Parker has authorized The McLean News to announce that he has filed for a place on the ballot in the July 26 Democratic primary for Judge of the 31st Judicial District of Texas.

Parker, county judge for eight years, said he was seeking the promotion on a platform of integrity, qualification and experience.

Parker has held public posts for 12 years in Gray County. He was elected county attorney in 1944, served for four years and was elected county judge. He held that post four years, and has been county judge again for the last four years.

Parker lives with his wife, Wilkie, and three daughters, Phyllis Ann, 16, Pamela, 8, and Deborah Kay, 5, at 1202 E. Brownling.

Judge Parker came to Gray County in 1930, after graduating from the University of Texas Law School, and has lived here since that time.

He has had 16 years experience as a practicing attorney.

He says: "I have served for 12 years as county attorney and county judge and as now asking the voters of Gray County and the other counties (Roberts, Wheeler, Henaphill and Lipscomb) of the 31st Judicial District of Texas to promote me to district judge."

"I have tried to do a good job as a county official and have enjoyed especially working with the youth of this county. I expect to continue to work with youth as most of the criminal cases handled by the district court involve youths 17 to 21 years of age."

"I shall continue to work on every county enterprise which is for the benefit of children."

Parker received wide recognition for his precedent-shattering curfew on the youths of this county last year. His move was discussed pro and con by some of the country's largest newspapers. He has since been called on to discuss juvenile problems before many organizations, ranging from clubs, P-TA groups and churches to state-wide conventions.

Parker said, "I am supporting no particular candidate, and do not intend to, to fill the post I am vacating."

"If elected to the District Judge office," he stated, "I expect to continue to live in Pampa and maintain my office in the district judge's office in the Gray County courthouse, where I shall be available at all times I am not holding court in the other counties of the 31st Judicial District."

Parker holds three college degrees and has worked on his Ph.D. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from West Texas State College, Canyon, a Master of Arts degree from the University of Texas, Austin, and a law degree from the University of Texas Law School, also at Austin.

Parker grew up on a ranch in Lipscomb County and attended a country school. He also went to school in Higgins.

Judge Parker was admitted to the bar of the state of Texas in 1930. He is a member of the State Bar, Texas Bar and Gray County Bar Association.

Parker said, "I invite the voters of Gray, Lipscomb, Hemp-hill, Roberts and Wheeler counties to check my record as judge of Gray County and on the basis of this record I ask them to promote me to the office of District Judge of the 31st Judicial District Court, which is made up of those counties."

"My record will reveal that I believe in the strict enforcement of the law and all who come before me are treated alike regardless of color, religion or social standing."

"I feel that being elected to the district judge office is a great responsibility and I shall try to conduct myself in such a manner as to be worthy of that office. I feel that a public office is a public trust. May I never betray that trust and may I never forget that I am a servant of the people and that the official is best who serves most."

There will be a rodeo meeting tomorrow evening at Joe Smith's garage at 7:30 p. m.

Construction is now moving into full operation on the addition to the El Paso Natural Gas plant near McLean.

Included in the building now beginning will be three 200 hp engines, increasing the present operation by 6000 hp. Also to be constructed are new pumps, cooling facilities and a cooling tower. Early work was first started on these projects on April 3.

Reports estimate that the construction will consume about four months time. C. F. Braun Co. of Alhambra is doing the building for the plant.

Construction foreman for the job estimated that the peak labor for the operation would demand from 75 to 100 persons. This number will not be needed, however, until full construction is underway.

The El Paso office reported that it was undetermined exactly how much the additional engines would increase the gas volume, but that the added horsepower would furnish a major addition to the plant.

Pioneer Family Has Reunion In McLean

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Thompson met in reunion Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mrs. Willie Boyett.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and their nine children moved from Oklahoma to the Skillet community and Clarendon in the year 1900—before McLean came into existence. They purchased what was known as the White place on Skillet Creek. This became known as the Thompson Ranch and was their home for half a century. It is now the Miller Ranch.

Seven of the nine sons and daughters and their families were present Sunday for a basket dinner.

Fred, of Ada, Okla., did not attend, and Edgar is deceased. Those present were Mrs. Pearl Hindman and Rob Roy Hindman of Thomas, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Thompson, Mrs. Marion Brust and Jimmy Brust of Quannah, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Emmet Thompson, Roy Don and Cheryl Lynn, Roy Glenn Thompson and Marshall (Bozo) Thompson of Stinnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams of Stillwater, Okla., Clay Thompson, Aubrey Gene Thompson and Jay Thompson of Lubbock, Hattye Thompson of Taos, N. M., Mrs. Maude Prefontaine of Ada, Okla., and Mrs. Willie Boyett of McLean.

The unique entertainment of the day was furnished by Cheryl Lynn, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Emmet Thompson. She was confused over the likeness of her granddaddy and his twin brother. She soon accepted both and said she had two granddaddies, and shared her affections between them.

The last reunion of the family prior to this was held at Lake McClellan some 23 years ago.

Hale-Aikin Group To Meet Here

Tonight at 7 p. m. in the high school auditorium the local committee of the Hale-Aikin study of our public schools will meet and discuss the four study problems that are set up throughout the state of Texas.

This will be a very important meeting in regards to discussing the schools in McLean and all citizens are invited to take part. The purpose of this study is to have as many citizens as possible meet and study their school system on a factual basis, finding out the merits as well as the demerits—and reaching conclusions aimed at improvement.

Noting that the nation's public school system has come in for renewed criticism since satellites began orbiting the earth, and the Soviet emphasis on science and technology has been revealed in some detail, it is urged that critics and supporters alike find out for themselves.

All interested citizens of McLean are invited to attend this meeting and become members of this committee and express their views in regard to their schools.

THREE IS A CROWD

For thousands of years the two ancient professions of medicine and pharmacy have unitedly served the health of everyone. In order that they may do this properly, all physicians and pharmacists spend years studying at a college and must pass a state examination to prove their knowledge.

Recently, untrained persons, grasping an opportunity to make some quick money, are selling vitamins and other medicines from door-to-door. They even presume to tell people how to take them. Your health is not to be trifled with. Be wise. You are safe when you depend on your physician and pharmacist.

By VERN SANFORD

Everyone who fishes for bass hopes some day to land a grandpappy. Not that they are any better eating... it's just the pride in catching one bigger than you've ever taken before.

Well, if you've tried everything else, here is a suggestion that may be worth something. It has paid off. Whether it does for you may depend on luck as well as ability.

Some call it jigging. Actually it is just plain nosin'. You might call it bottom fishing with a heavy rig. But it does, occasionally, pay off with a big bass. Naturally you must have good bass water. Always in bassy water there is an area that looks good, but is unworkable with light lines. You can do it, however, with a heavy rig.

The best spot is at the base of big tree trunks that stick out of the water, or where there is considerable brush under the water. Rig up your light salt water tackle, or use a good still action rod with a heavy reel loaded with from 20 to 30 pound test line.

The bait doesn't make too much difference, if it is something that will attract the bass. Right now some of the fishermen are using hose black plastic worms or black eels. They have a good heavy sinker on the terminal that will take the bait to the bottom. After it has had a chance to settle down, work it only slightly and not too often. Just an occasional movement up and down. The chances are a big bass has already spotted it. He not likely to be in hurry to attack. You may spend a half-hour there, but don't take the lure out. Finally the old cruiser can't stand it any longer and he rushes it.

Set your hook and start up all with the same motion. Don't give him a chance to wrap the line around a limb or crawl under a fence. More depends upon your retrieve than most anything else. That's the reason you need a good heavy line, one with which you can hoist him out.

When you are fishing for the big ones it is man against fish. If you land the fish you are the best. After you get him on the stringer find a new location and start all over again.

Will it work? Try it yourself! There is another way you can use the same rig, except for the lure. This time use a deep running, large plug. You might even want a trailing jig. Troll it fast through good bass water, and deep. That's why you'll need the heavy equipment, so you can pull it deep.

This is being done every day on Texoma with wonderful results. You may not do it the first time, but the idea is worth a little practice.

Again, will it work? Again, try it.

Hawaiian Lures
Twenty-five years ago a fisherman in Ohio by the name of Fred Arbogast was testing out lures to see what effect they would have on catching fish. There was something about a Hawaiian skirt that intrigued him, so he made a skirt for an original lure and called it the Hawaiian Wiggler.

It didn't take long for this lure to catch on. Every man wanted one in his tackle box be-

PASTOR'S STUDY

By H. A. Longino for Ministerial Alliance of McLean

WE HAD HOPED

A very wealthy man was once asked: "How much money would it take to satisfy a man?" His answer was: "Just a little more."

Cleopas and his companion had expected more from Jesus. (Luke 24:18.) It was the general feeling with the Disciples that Jesus would re-establish the kingdom of the Jews, relieving them from the Roman hold on their country. They hoped that He would take over and bring in a triumphant reign. (Acts 1:6.) Christ has always had more to offer mankind than man has been in position to appreciate. They hoped for a living "Super man" to take over for them and give them free reign, as a nation, re-establishing the golden age of their King David. A greater than David walked with them on their journey to Emmaus, but at the time, they failed to recognize Him. Only when He was asked into their home did they become conscious of their unprecedented privilege of walking a common highway with their Risen Lord.

Could it be today that our generation is underestimating our privileges in Christ? Do we walk in gloom mentally when we should be exuberantly commending our Christ to the world about us? I wonder.

WHERE PROGRESS BEGINS AS A DREAM

Writing in Parade magazine, Robert P. Goldman tells what American medicine is doing to prolong our lives. It's a story of tremendous achievement and potential. This year, for instance, the girls who are born will live an average of 73 years and the boys 67 years—all-time highs in the history of civilization. And that expectancy is due to steadily increase as time wears on. Mr. Goldman lists a number of areas in which great gains are being chalked up. As he puts it: "Medicine is closing in on our No. 1 killer, diseases of the heart and blood vessels, which cost the U. S. about 1,000,000 lives a year." The menace of blood pressure has been vastly alleviated, through new drugs and regulated diets. We are making headway against the most stubborn of all killers, cancer—present-day therapy saves one in three cancer patients and high hopes are held for a new discovery which may be the key to prevention of some types of the disease. Notable strides are being made in surgery. According to Mr. Goldman: "Today, surgeons operate with confidence on persons at any age," and postoperative death rates are extremely low, even among the old. As recently as 30 years ago it was generally believed that the major chronic diseases such as heart trouble were hopeless. Now the picture has changed utterly. Thus does medicine push back the frontiers, and give us longer, healthier, happier lives. Today there are 39,000 Americans aged 95 or older, and 6,000 who have passed the century mark. To quote Mr. Goldman once again: "It may be a dream to think that those numbers will increase significantly in the next generation or two. But experience has shown that medical progress often begins as a mere dream."

ALL WOULD WIN

Orders for new railroad freight cars "will practically dry up by the middle of this year" unless Congress permits railroads to have a construction reserve or adopt some other similar plan. That forecast comes from a top authority—William T. Faricy, chairman of the board of the Association of American Railroads.

The proposed construction reserve plan does not relieve the railroads of paying taxes. But it would help them to finance new freight cars and other improvements by postponing payment of a portion of their taxes. This would be accomplished by permitting a railroad to set aside money as a reserve for capital improvements which it would be required to spend within five years.

If it did not spend the money, the amount would be restored to income and taxed at rates prevailing in the year in which it was earned. If it did so spend it, Mr. Faricy explained, the railroad would have had in effect the benefit of its depreciation all in the one year in which the money went into the reserve, but it would not be entitled to any more. The reduction in taxes in the initial year would be made up in future years because there would be nothing left to write off. The plan does not involve tax forgiveness, but only tax deferred.

The need for legislation of this nature is urgent. As Mr. Faricy also observed, unless steps are taken to make car purchases possible, there will be car shortages with the resumption of good business, with all the depressing influences on the economy that would follow. If those steps are taken, on the other hand, the freight car program will swing into high gear. And, ultimately, the government would get the same amount of taxes. Here's a case where all would win.

PLENTY OF SPIRIT

At the request of the Voice of America program, Tom Pickett of the National Coal Association has released a summary of what mechanization has accomplished in our soft coal industry in a mere 10 years.

Production per man was above 10 tons a day last year as against 6.42 in 1947. By way of comparison, the current rate in the Soviet Union is but two tons.

In that 1947-57 span, the average wage of the mine worker rose from $1.64 an hour to $3.06 an hour. So the miner enjoys the full fruits of increased productivity.

In the same period, concerted safety work by the industry reduced fatal injuries more than 50% and non-fatal injuries by more than 65%.

Today soft coal mining in this country is almost completely mechanized. And the industry and its suppliers look to even more effective production methods through the use of machinery of improved electronic design.

Col. E. E. McGee, father of Mrs. J. W. Kibler, formerly a citizen of Hedley, came in Saturday, and she and his good wife have moved into the house re-

Mr. McGee spent the winter in Celina, Collin County, and tells us that he had a most unpleasant time while there on account of a severe attack of rheumatism. ### MORE SEVERE PUNISHMENT? (A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

JUDGE HUGHES

But treating young offenders like criminals isn't the answer. It has been tried before and it has failed.

Looking Backward

Less than 150 years ago all children over 7 were held responsible for their crimes. Severe punishment, or more aptly, retaliation, was the established pattern for a good many centuries.

As late as 1814 three boys in England, aged 8, 9, and 11, were hanged for the theft of a pair of shoes.

Classifying youngsters as criminals and imprisoning them does not do anything except complete their education as criminals.

They Liked the Attention

A royal commission in England found that far more youngsters officially whipped became repeaters than those who had not been. The whippings made them "heroes" to their friends.

Those who have studied the causes of delinquency and worked with teen-age offenders recommend probation in the child's home whenever possible—supervision, in other words. Otherwise, the youngsters should be put in an institution where there will be a program of education and rehabilitation.

And the younger and/or lesser offenders must be separated from the hardened repeaters, so that the contagion of badness does not result.
