383 Cotton Contracts Are Signed

$125,698 Cash Return Listed Within County Retirement Of 15,000 Acres Provided, 100 More May Yet Sign

Howard county farmers stand ready to receive $125,698.33 in cash benefits and option on 2,341.38 bales of government cotton.

Total of retirement benefits on 383 contracts signed by farmers of this county swelled past the $125,000 mark Thursday when a crowd of cotton growers flocked to the cash payment plan with-out option.

It is estimated by County Agent O. P. Griffin that 100 contracts are yet to be approved. The majority of these come from the section of the county with the greatest prospective yield.

Estimated yield mounted from 319 pounds of lint per acre to 122 1/4 pounds. Later contracts have shown for the most part an anticipated production of more than 124 pounds of lint per acre, thus entitling farmers to an increased bounty per acre.

Surprising figure of the contracts approved since Saturday is that farmers are rallying to the out-right cash payment plan in greater numbers than those now preferring the option plan. However, those who have asked for the option on government cotton in addition to the cash benefit still have a slight margin.

Of 35,620 acres of growing cotton listed by farmers, 15,968 acres will be retired according to the contract. It is estimated this would take approximately five to six thousand bales out of the anticipated yield for this county.

Extension Of Time Limit Set For Signing Contract Only Hope Given Farmers Suffering From Drought

Watson Reports Additional Contacts Made For Farmers

Extension of time in which contracts may be signed is the only hope for farmers of this section to benefit from the government acreage retirement plan in cases where drought has prevented cotton from being planted or else prevented it from coming up.

This was indicated in a message received by The Herald Friday morning from C. T. Watson, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, who is in Washington in an effort to open benefits of the plan to drought-stricken farmers of this section.

Q. P. Griffin, Howard county farm agent, who with the county central committee is directing the signing of retirement contract in Howard county, said the committee has received no definite information an extension past July 8 had been granted.

Mr. Watson's last report, sent from Washington Thursday night, said: "Held our sixth conference with Cobb (cotton administrator) and his committee, Tom Connally, Marvita Jones, Amon Carter and others have aided us but as yet we can hope for little unless we get extension of time in which contracts may be signed. No hope for farmers who fail to get rain tomorrow (Friday). We see Morgenstau on land values and Hopkins on special relief in case no rains come for planting."

A. L. Francis and Joe Smith, representatives of the Standard Life Insurance company, Houston, with headquarters in Abilene, were visitors in Big Spring Friday afternoon.

Texas Flier Missing Since 14th Of June

No Details Of Adventures In Message Received At Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—James Mattern, American flier, is safe at Anadir in the Chukotka Peninsula of Siberia, according to a telegram received here direct from Mattern.

The telegram said, "Safe Anadir Chukotka, Siberia, Jimmie Mattern." The message was sent from the town of Bocharova at eleven p. m. July 5. The message gave no details of his situation.

Official quarters here were without information of him. Mattern had been unreported since he left Khabarovsk, Siberia, June 14. The fact so much time elapsed between his descent and dispatch of the message indicated he may have come down some distance from habitation, making it necessary to find his way to the nearest village. The section is sparsely settled.

Anadir is a trading post on the Anadyr river in far northeast Siberia, north of the Kanchatka Peninsula near the Bering Sea and generally along the route Mattern took in attempting to fly from Khabarovsk to Nome.

Hall Speaks To Rotarians

Historical And Patriotic Address Given At Luncheon

A historical and patriotic talk bearing on the difficulties during the growth of this country from its independence, July 4th, 1776, was given by Jesse Hall at the Rotary club meeting held Thursday noon at the Settles. This meeting was postponed from Tuesday, the regular meeting date, on account of July 4 falling on Tuesday.

The speaker reviewed the history of the country from its early settler period, the growth into the original thirteen colonies, difficulties with Great Britain over unjust taxes, followed by the revolutionary war, after which this country secured its independence from its mother country. He touched on the civil strife from 1861-1864, and the healing of wounds of internal strife over the slavery question, resulting in the formation of a more united country.

This Associated Press Telephoto was sent by air mail to The Herald following the game played Thursday afternoon in Chicago and arrived here at 11:35 a. m. Petition Necessary To Cause Vote On Legalization Of Beer In County; Commissioners Not To Start Move

Someone has aptly stated the issue now quietly smoldering in Howard county: "To beer or not to beer."

Should Texas vote for legalized brew, what about this county, which was voted dry in December, 1907? If thirty gentlemen are to quaff lager, the first move is up to the "exponents of individual rights," the wets.

They must present a petition signed by ten per cent of voters who qualified for the last national and state elections. This petition, directed to the county commissioner's court, will ask a local option vote.

It is within the province of county commissioners court to call a local option vote without a petition if the court deems it "expedient." But Howard county commissioners and the county judge are not inclined to the view that such action is expedient and have privately declared they will await presentation of the petition.

Then, and only then, will a local option election be called. The vote, according to law, cannot be held until ten days after it has been called, and must be staged within twenty days. Commissioners court, resigned to the apparent certainty that such a petition will be presented, secretly prays that wets will have the good taste to make it possible to call the election to run concurrently with national and state repeal votes on August 28.

That would save Howard county an $500 election expense. Even "advocates of temperance," the dries, appreciate that, it was pointed out.

AUSTIN—Ballot forms for the special election August 28 were being mailed out Thursday by the secretary of state to county election officials. Texans will vote on five proposed constitutional amendments, one affecting the federal constitution and four the state constitution.

45 Cents New Price Listed By Magnolia

Magnolia Also Leads Rises In East Texas To Seventy-Five Cents

DALLAS (AP)—The Magnolia Petroleum company Friday posted a flat price of 45 cents per barrel for crude oil produced in Howard, Glasscock, Upton, Winkler, Crane and Mitchell counties. The price represented a raise of 15 cents per barrel.

Magnolia Petroleum company runs no oil from the Howard - Glasscock county field except its own production. However, oil men were confident the raise would be met by a majority of purchasers. The purchasers from this field are Couden, Col-Tex, Humble, Shell, Magnolia and Howard County Refining company.

DALLAS (AP)—Flat price of seventy-five cents per barrel for East Texas crude was posted here Friday by the Magnolia Petroleum Company. The company previously was paying fifty cents. The Sun Oil Company, it was announced, would pay a similar flat rate for East Texas crude.

Dr. Spann, born in Collin county, told of early memories, including the feeling he had when as a boy he landed in New York to find a college where he might prepare for the ministry.

HITLERISM IN AUSTRIA
Hitlerism is encountering rough sledding in Austria, native land of its chief protagonist. The government of Austria has banned the movement, ordered dissolution of Nazi units, threatened prison for anyone engaging in nationalist activities wearing Nazi insignia.

In its own spread its peculiar doctrine abroad and shed its light upon the world, Hitlerism resembles bolshevism. The Nazis are possessed by the demon of evangelism, just as the bolsheviks are. Drunk on their own self-righteousness, they would convert the world to their way of thinking. In this particular Hitlerism differs radically from its ostensible prototype, fascism. The chief and sole aim of fascism is to develop Italian nationalism. Mussolini isn't concerned with spread of his doctrine to other countries. On the contrary, he jealously confined it to Italy probably on the theory that it's too good a thing to let others in on. That's Mussolini. From this distance it appears that Hitler would have his hands full holding Prussia to the Nazi program, without taking on additional territory. His strict church

Abbe Ruth And Lon Warneke Shine Brightest In Gallery Of Stars In Majors' All-Star Exhibition

AUL MICKELSON of Press Sports Writer KEY PARK, Chicago, is the shooting star of baseball's greatest event, the All-Star game, which will be held at the Municipal Stadium in Chicago on Saturday night.

Abbe Ruth and Lon Warneke, who have been the stars of the American League in the past few weeks, will be the stars of the exhibition. Ruth, who has been hitting home runs at the rate of one a game, and Warneke, who has been hitting home runs at the rate of one a game, will be the stars of the exhibition.

His home run specialty won the game but to top it off, he raced against the right field wall to get down. Drive by Chick Hafey to give the Sox the lead. It was a remarkable catch of a ball as a triple with Frick on base racing for home. Ruth led from the battle ground after the throw, excited and cheered a big ovation to slugging of them all. His long range hit won him and his great catch helped none of the stars even to matching him as the day, but Warneke rank the pride of the Ozarks and Hallahan in the third inning, a rally by forcing Al Johnson of the White Sox to hit a double play and scored the run. His mates after slugging a triple to right that Ruth led for and missed.

Warneke allowed six hits and one in the four innings to muffle the American league game. Then were Lefty Uroves, ace south of the Athletics and Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants who lived big ovations for their relieving. In three innings, he succeeded to Alvin Crowder of Washington, who allowed three

Opens Second Half
SAN ANGELO—The second half championship drive of the West Texas Independent League opens Sunday with San Angelo at Texon and Abilene at Ozona, both scheduled as doubleheaders. Texon is the first half champion.

The schedule drawn up here this week omits Coleman. The reason given was that Coleman refused to post $50 forfeit money and refused to guarantee $50 expense funds to visiting teams.

The schedule for the second half follows:
July 8—San Angelo at Texon (two games). Abilene at Ozona (two games).
July 15 and 16—Abilene at Texon.
July 16—Ozona at San Angelo (two games).
July 23—Texon at Ozona (two games).
Aug. 6—Texon at San Angelo (two games). Abilene at Ozona (two games).
Aug. 12 and 13—Texon at Abilene.
Aug. 13—San Angelo at Ozona (two games).
Note: Abilene is to play two week-day games at San Angelo, dates to be set later by team managers.

CHAPTER 9

The following morning, when Mary departed for the office, Bonnie still was sleeping as soundly as a baby. There were no symptoms of her being seriously ill, to Mary's intense relief. She cautioned Mom to keep her in bed for a day or two, then she would be all right.

Mary hadn't had a chance to begin on Foster's mail at the office, when Dick telephoned to inquire concerning Bonnie. Mary reassured him. His voice reflected his own relief.

"Seems as if I never see enough of you," Mary. Always some interference," he complained. "When may I see you again?"

"Well, I think I should go home tonight and help Mom. If Bonnie needs much care, Mom will just collapse. And I know I have to work here tomorrow night. Foster has these two full days outside the office with directors' meetings and what not, and that will mean two days' mail to answer tomorrow night."

"Hm! And the next day I go to Boston for two days. Our dates coincide very nicely for not seeing each other. All right, put this down on your memo pad and underline it. Friday night we dine together, you and I. Okay, Mary?"

"Check!" she laughed and added softly, "I'm sorry it can't be sooner, Dick."

"So am I! But I'll be seeing you, on Friday!"

Mary hurriedly finished the mail. Foster would be in in any minute now and she never failed to have it ready for him—that part of it, that ever reached him, which was not more than one-fourth of the whole. Appeals for charity, both public and private, personal bills, general letters, circular letters and many others, he never saw. Mary answered them or ignored them, as they warranted.

Foster always arrived in time to look through his mail and, with Mary, go over his appointments for the day, before the market opened at ten o'clock, sharp. About ten-thirty he would telephone his biggest and most active buyers the opening prices on the stocks which interested them.

Mary was at hand always, alert and ready to quote any price he wanted without a second's hesitation. At any time of the day when customers called him, she was ready with any information he needed: the price at which any stock opened, the price at which it closed and numerous other details.

Foster had come to depend on Mary as on the air he breathed. He took her for granted. During the time she had worked for him, she had been absent only one whole day and he had told her that the firm would have gone bankrupt in another day. Of course, she hadn't taken the statement so seriously

Garterless President Of Chicago U. Seeks Jobs For Ten Million Men

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—Robert Maynard Hutchins, the garterless college president, is charged under President Roosevelt's reconstruction program with finding some 10,000,000 jobs for as many unemployed men and women.

Hutchins probably never will live down the fact that his socks sagged down over his shoes the day he became president of the University of Chicago. He has made such a success in reorganizing the whole educational system of the celebrated school, however, that his critics have stopped harping on his collegiate appearance.

He is known now, and respected, as an educator of the first order and as a fearless traveler on uncharted cerebral paths. He thinks clearly and acts decisively. As one of his students once put it: "When he says 'frog,' everybody jumps."

President Roosevelt believes President Hutchins can turn his talents into the business of getting millions of jobs into which the unemployed may jump. Hutchins' official title therefore is "chairman-benefactor. Every week or two, Mary went to lunch with her, for the sole purpose of cheering the girls on her way toward freedom and greater happiness.

The change in her environment and care had done her a vast amount of good, for she had gained weight and color and there was a new light in her eyes that was the reward Mary asked for her kindly interest.

Mary did things like that without giving them second thought. Many girls with whom she had come into contact, had come to her with their troubles, even when she was in school. The problems had varied as had their individual possessors, but Mary seemed to have something to offer each of them. She never realized the extent of her influence, and would have been amazed if it resulted could have been collected into concrete form and presented to her. She was one of those busy persons who carry so much responsibility and yet always seem to have time and capacity for more.

generally in awe of the President's power to indulge in open opposition. But the message gave great impetus to secret opposition which may color future relations between Washington and New York.

Informed sources ascribe publicly two reasons for the sharp tone of the note. One is the need to keep the dollar "psychologically depressed." It would probably go up if left to itself and thereby must upset the price-rise appealant. The other is the pressure of public opinion from the West and South by those who want their isolation straight.

Currencies—They are saying here that Professor Irving Fisher must be twins. The managed currency implication in the President's message was right up his alley. They can't figure how it goes in there when he was miles away from the White House. This protect scares the shirks off the conservatives and they had no idea it would be brought up by anyone in authority.

The current Swedish experiment with "rubber money" is partly traceable to the Fisher influence. He and Prof. Gustav Cassel of Sweden have worked together on his pet doctrine for years. Cassel sold it to the Swedish government. So far it has worked pretty well but critics say that is because it has been pegged in terms of a steady franc.

The recent ground and lofty tumbling of the dollar is not due to New York maneuvers. Loan financiers stepped out when it touched $4.20 to the pound. The exchange market now is so very thin that the slightest routine transactions can and do bring a shift of several cents.

An odd angle is that the gold bloc itself had something to do with last week's dollar drop. Their object was to scare us by showing what dizzy fluctuations would follow if we didn't stabilize. The only hitch was that we declined to scare.

Davis—Norman Davis is out of a job without being fired. Adjournment of the Disarmament Conference took care of that. He simply won't be among those present when it convenes. It's a neat way of sparing blouses and saving Congressional blood pressures. Mr. Davis retires without stigma and everybody is happy except perhaps Congressmen who will lose an opportunity to make fiery speeches about him. Nobody even had to light one of those well-known cigarettes.

Japan—New York insiders hear that our policy toward Japan will soon take a somersault. We will decide that Manchukuo is none of our business. We will make this clear to Japan before we recognize Russia, thus avoiding a family misunderstanding. Authorities have decided it is simpler to quit telling Japan to do than to keep on stirring up futile friction.

At the same time trade relations between Japan and Britain have taken a turn for the worse. Japan is boycotting Indian cotton and is planning a cotton goods invasion into countries hitherto regarded as Lancashire's undisputed territory. They must spin American cotton to do that. There is strange talk that this trade conflict between Japan and Britain may reach the point of war. Japanese business elements would like to see Britain removed from the Far East and the whole Orient thrown open for their own exploitation. The militarists are keen to grab off the Singapore naval base and rifle Britain's possessions.

Oil Co., next leased the McDowell ranch. He drilled two tests, promoted two others drilled by the World Oil Co., then drilled two more individually. The last of these wildcats were drilled in 1929. That year Fuhrman Petroleum Corp. drilled its section 24, two and a half miles southwest of the location for Moore No. 1. McDowell, Mr. Moore at that time was chief geologist for Fuhrman. He began assembling the McDowell ranch block for the deep test in May, 1932. Most of the wildcats drilled by Cox, the Gulf, Meriwether and the World were in sections 34 and 36, southwest of the new location. Other tests have been drilled subsequently to the northeast, north and northwest. The most promising was Glascock Bros. No. 1. Edwards, then three miles west of the Phillips-Coffee pool and northwest of Moore No. 1. McDowell. Since then the Phillips-Coffee pool has been expanded west, closing much of the gap between it and Glascock Bros. well.

Three tests in the Permian Basin now are seeking Ordovician production: Humble No. 1 White & Baker in Pecos county nine miles west of the Yates field, Gulf No. 103 McElroy in the McElroy pool on the line of Crane and Upton counties and Eastland Oil Co. and others' No. 1 Joe Tisdale in Schleicher county.

They have no pipe line departments—no refineries and no filling stations. When their oil gings in the tank at the well—they are through. Now, let's take another peak in to this 32 1-2 cent transportation and 10 cent gathering charge. The old rule of thumb method of figuring actual transportation cost is that it costs one cent per barrel to pump oil from one station to another, the stations being about 40

Postal Receipts Reflect Greater Activity Since January 1 Than For First Half Of Preceding Year

What about 1933? Is it better or worse for business? Only private individuals and corporation heads can answer for their business, but public business, that is business transacted by public agencies, seems to show an upward trend.

Postal receipts show the most encouraging gain over 1932, registering $20,815,433 for the first six months of the year against $18,820,066 over the same period in 1932. It is a net gain of approximately $2,000,000.

Building permits, slumping off in June, fell approximately $1,000 below first half totals of last year. They are $11,529,500 for 1933 and $12,837 for the first half of 1932. June showed a decrease over that of last year, amounting to more than the difference in the two periods.

Registrations for first half of 1933 are 8,476 as against 8,928 over a similar period last year. Comparative charts on Postal Receipts and Building permits:

Western Union Now Offering Hotel Service

Plan Described As Bad News For Rubber Check Artists

Here's bad news for the rubber check artists! The American Hotel Association and the Western Union Telegraph Company have perfected a plan which gives hotels a quick check-up on guests desiring to cash checks.

Through banks which cooperate, hotels may receive answers within a few minutes to requests for credit information. Western Union offices throughout the country have been instructed to give credit messages between hotels and banks a new rush-expedited service. These messages will be marked "RX," having preference over everything but the exceptionally light "X" traffic. These messages will be dispatched immediately upon receipt at the office of origin and upon reaching the office of destination will be telephoned without delay to the bank for a reply while the wire is being held. The response will then be wired back immediately to the office of origin and telephoned to the hotel. With this almost instantaneous service, it will often be possible for a credit manager to query the bank and have a reply while the guest who wishes to cash a check is being engaged in a short conversation.

Joseph G. Buch, chairman of the A. H. A. Protective Committee, has a high compliment to the Western Union in an announcement predicting that this unusual cooperation may greatly reduce the heavy check losses suffered by American hotels.

"The plan," said Mr. Buch, "originated with a Western Union man who knows hotel problems from beginning to end—George E. Mulligan. Not only has he been actively engaged in the hotel business but he was born and reared in a hotel atmosphere, being the son of the noted B. Mulligan, head of the Burton-Bittmore Institutions. Mr. Mulligan originated the idea and worked out the details in collaboration with Thomas D. Green, president and executive director of the American Hotel Association."

Managers of all Western Union offices have been instructed to call on the banks in their territory, explaining the plan and seeking their full cooperation to eliminate all possible delay. If or when banks cannot accept and answer these messages over the telephone, they are to be delivered without delay by a special messenger who must wait at the bank for an answer.

Instructions which have gone to all Western Union offices include the following paragraphs: "Important!—Regardless of what business might be on hand for transmission, these messages must be placed ahead of everything else except 'X' messages and regardless of what might be the condition at the deliver office when such a message is received, and the answer must be handled with the greatest possible speed."

President Green is asking all hotels to get the plan in full swing without delay—not merely by cooperating with Western Union but by explaining to their banks the purpose of and the need for this rush service. Mr. Green points out that some banks may be reluctant to release credit information over the telephone unless they understand that they are cooperating in a system which may greatly reduce the traffic in fraudulent checks.

Floyd Sought For Massacre

'Pretty' Boy And Seven Others Reported Implicated

KANSAS CITY—The department of justice ordered the arrest of Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, Oklahoma killer, five escaped Kansas convicts, Verne C. Miller, former Huron, E. D. sheriff, and William Wessman in connection with the machine gun slaying of four officers and their prisoner, Frank Nash, at the union station here June 17.

The announcement by Director of Police Reppert that Miller and Wessman were known to have had a part in the slaughter was followed by the appearance of circulars issued by the United States bureau of investigation, asking for the arrest of Floyd and the five convicts.

The circulars were issued at Washington under direction of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau. They named Harvey Bailey, Wilbur Underhill, Ed Davis, James Clark, and Robert G. Brady, who escaped from the Kansas penitentiary Memorial day, and Floyd.

The circulars bore the pictures of six men, described them minutely and stated they are sought in the "murder of Otto Reed, chief of police at McAlester, Okla., William J. Grooms, and Frank E. Hermanson, police officers of Kansas City, Mo., Raymond J. Carney, special agent of the United States bureau of investigation, and their prisoner, Frank Nash, at Kansas City, Mo., June 17, 1932.

In addition the department asked the arrest of Harry J. Garner and Bernard Phillips for complicity in the killings.

Bailey was said by police to have been a close friend of Nash, who was slain in the attempt to effect his escape. Bailey was a leader of the prison break Memorial day in which the warden Kirk Prather was kidnaped. He was identified through a photograph by a station usher as the man who inquired the time of arrival of the train bringing Nash from Arkansas to Kansas City.

FRANCE WORRIED?
The Economic Conference may fail, the French government may fall, the franc may collapse, but 40,000,000 Frenchmen are much more worried about the Davis Cup. Throughout the land, people who probably never have seen a tennis match are wondering whether France will lose the famous trophy late in July.

The woman who cleans your apartment will tell you, between strokes of the broom, that France hasn't a chance. On the other hand, the milkman believes Henri Cochet may come back.

The most depressed of all is the office-boy, who once saw Cochet play. He has been going around in gloom ever since an Australian named Jack Crawford beat the French idol.

The sports writers are busy trying to pick a new team to defend the cup. Sometimes they agree that Cochet and Jean Borotra must play in the singles. At other times they insist that one of the younger players must be used in singles and Borotra saved for doubles.

Either way they conclude that France may lose by three matches to two.

The tennis moguls are thinking up new strategy to stop the invaders, who may be American, British or Australian. Last year they slowed up American shots by thoroughly soaking the court.

BIG SPRING TO ENTER
Local racket wielders have decided to enter the tennis league which opens its schedule Sunday. The schedule has not been mailed to Big Spring which still leaves them in the dark as to who they play the opener with.

Joe Davis, 17-year-old high school star, is president of the local club, and William Savage, secretary-treasurer. Other players expected to compete are: George Ed O'Neil, Felton Smith, Harry Jordan and Jimmy Jones.

A very small entrance fee will be charged monthly which will cover the charge of balls, etc. for the weekly matches. Ranking of players will be decided by matched plays.

SAND BELT TOURNEY
If present plans mature the annual Sand Belt Tennis tournament will be held here on Friday and Saturday, July 28 and 29. Low entrance fees will be levied for the tourney. A Junior and Senior division will be used, however, very little competition other than Big Spring players will enter the Junior section.

Players will be invited from Midland, Roby, Stanton, Coahoma, Lamesa and Odessa.
Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Noel T. Lawson and Charles Eberley left Friday for a fishing expedition on the Llano river.
