Willard Hudson and Dusty Wilford of Clarendon presented a program at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Lions Club. The two men, who are operating a fishing and hunting lodge between Clarendon and Silvertown, showed films of the beautiful lake and other facilities at the lodge.

One other visitor was present at the meeting. He was Coach Rogers. No regular meeting of the club will be held next Tuesday in lieu of the father-son dinner Tuesday night. Members of the club felt that they would be too busy in preparations for the big dinner to attend the club on that date.

Former Resident, W. J. Bridge, Dies

W. J. Bridge, former resident of McLean, died Tuesday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Elsie Edgar, in Munday. He was 92 years of age.

Bridge moved to McLean in 1920, and left here about seven years ago. Attending the services, held Wednesday at Quanah, were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Allison, Mrs. Willie Boyett, Miss Ruby Cook, and Mrs. R. F. Sanders.

An early morning shower brought 90 percent of inch in moisture by 6:30 a. m. today.

20 Highway Signs To Be Erected Soon

A total of 20 new highway signs—to be placed at intervals out to a distance of 80 miles from McLean both east and west—are in the process of being made.

The sign deal is a project of the McLean Junior Chamber of Commerce, and has been financed by contributions from various business firms.

Each sign will be three by five feet in size, and each will have "McLean" in large letters at the top along with the distance to McLean. The signs will be placed, both east and west on Highway 66, at intervals five miles apart up to 20 miles from the town, and then ten miles apart. The farthest in each direction will be 80 miles from McLean.

In addition to the name McLean and the mileage, the signs will bear other wording, such as "Enjoy Our Park," "Fine Motels," "Stop and Eat," "Attend Our Churches," "Good Gas Stop," and "Light 'n' Hitch." On four of the signs, two in each direction, will be Hindman Hotel, since M. G. Mullanax, owner of the Hotel, paid for four of the 20 signs.

Other contributors to the project include the following firms and individuals: Jimmy Dawson, Walter Kelly, Odell Mantoosh, Glass and Dwyer, American National Bank, J. A. Meador, 20 Trees Court, McLean Hardware, Dycart Motor company, Raymond Guyton, Boyd Meador, C. W. Parmenter, Guy Hibler, Cooper's Foods, Cleo Smith Lumber company, Avalon and Derby theaters, Stubblefield's Department Store, C. P. Callahan, Fred Patterson, Raymond Glass, McLean Laundry, Bill Day, Brown's Drug, J. C. Claborn, E. J. Lander, H. D. Butrum, and J. H. Kritzler.

Kelly, who headed the committee to seek the contributions, stated that several other businesses have not yet been contacted.

Highway Final Cost Is Above Contract Bid

That 11.94 miles of double lane, extra-thick concrete highway through this part of Gray County cost a total of $23,034.90 more than even the record-breaking contract called for.

State Highway engineers arrived at the additional amount following compilation of final costs on the stretch of roadwork.

The increase over the contract amount was mostly due to freight rate increases put into effect after the job started. Extra work and unforeseen situations accounted for the rest of the increase, it was explained.

The original contract bid was for $1,560,933.80, a record-high at the time of its acceptance for a job of this nature. Of the additional more than $23,000, the freight increases took up $12,466.

Work is still in progress on the additional five miles of divided Highway 66 west of Albrecht. However, this work is being done with asphaltic concrete, instead of the straight concrete as was used on that portion from the Wheeler County line to Albrecht. The five miles is expected to be completed prior to cold weather.

Local Nine Wins 2nd in Shamrock Softball Tourney

The McLean softball team, sponsored by the Lions Club, took second place honors in the invitational softball tournament held in Shamrock last week.

The local nine, managed by Buddy Sutton, was defeated in the finals Friday night by the K. C. Steakhouse of Shamrock 9-7. The game was tied 7-7 at the beginning of the final inning, with the Irish getting in two runs to win the game.

To reach the finals, the McLean team had downed Kelton last Monday night in the opener 15-11; in the semi-finals, McLean whipped the Lacasa, Okla., nine by a score of 14-6 Thursday night. Richard Back and Vernon Tarbet were on the mound in the first game, and Leon Crump pitched the last two games.

Only Seven Lots

BUT LONGAN HAS TRUCK FARM

You probably haven't noticed it in driving about town, but one man has virtually a truck farm in his yard of seven city lots.

We're talking about H. Longan, former local feed store owner, who has a variety of crops growing right in his own yard in town—and who hopes to profit by the variety.

Those of you who know H. Longan recall that he became ill last fall, and sold his feed store shortly after the first of the year. He was confined to his bed for many days, lost all his flesh, and many had given up hopes of his regaining his health.

But he is regaining that health, and his work in his yard is already paying him profit. Doctors advised him that to make a comeback—that is, after he finally was able to be up and about—he needed the vitamins which the sun furnishes us animals. Pills could do the trick, the doc told Longan, but the sunshine would be better.

So, taking the doctor's word, H. Longan went to work in his own yard. He's learning a lot about raising produce, too, as can be seen in the picture of him here with his long corn. The corn, after six weeks and three days of life, had shot up—in some spots—to a height of eight feet. The secret of his quick-growing corn, as well as some of the other vegetables—lies in the fertilizer used, and the water. Fortunately, Longan is able to irrigate his various patches of produce with city water.

H. LONGAN and his long corn

Thomas Calls Wheat Quota Meet Tuesday

The question of whether or not to have wheat marketing quotas for the coming year will be explained by County Agent Thomas at a meeting in the grade school cafeteria next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Thomas said that he will explain both sides of the quotas to those present, including the advantages and disadvantages of the quota system.

The farmers will vote on the quotas Friday, August 14, to decide the fate of the question for another year.

Eligible to vote August 14 will be producers with more than 15 acres, or those with an average production of more than 200 bushels.

Thomas explained that both husbands and wives are eligible to vote. In addition, both landlords and tenants (including their wives) will have a vote on the marketing quotas.

12-Day Revival Starts Aug. 12 At Church Here

A 12-day revival meeting will begin Wednesday of next week at the Church of the Nazarene in McLean. Rev. E. F. Robinson, pastor, has announced.

Conducting the meeting will be Arthur and Vada Lee Baarkley. The two will serve not only as the evangelists, but also as musicians, singers, and chalk artists.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30 o'clock, the local pastor said. "We invite each of you to be with us at the worship services during the meeting," Rev. Robinson said.

Heald and Gracey Communities Plan Reunion August 15

The annual reunion of residents and former residents of the Heald and Gracey (now called Kellerville) communities will be held in the American Legion Hall in McLean Saturday, August 15, sponsors have announced.

The reunion is held each year on the third Saturday in August and this year's affair will be the fourth to be held.

Organizer of the reunion in 1950 was Clara Reneau. The group enjoyed the get-together so much they decided to make it an annual affair. Last year, a total of 225 people registered.

Refreshments of cookies and punch will be served. Everyone is invited to attend and visit with old friends and acquaintances, it was emphasized.

Farm Disaster, Cattle Loans Now Available

Financial aid to drought stricken farmers and ranchmen of Texas was promised immediately by State Director L. P. Capplemann of the Farmers Home Administration from his office in Dallas upon being informed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson that details of Public Law 38, section two, the new special livestock loan, are complete and that lending procedure has been announced.

Funds are available from a revolving fund containing up to $150,000,000; and the purposes for which loan funds may be used include a long list of essential ranch operating purposes such as feed; grazing lease charges and crop land rentals for production of feed; purchase, hire and repair of farm machinery; building or repair of fences; transportation of cattle to and from grazing lands; payment of one year's operating interest on debts secured by liens on chattels or real estate; payment of one year's taxes on real and personal property; purchase of livestock for replacement or restocking, but not expanding of normal operations; for water supplies, living expenses, normal maintenance of farm and ranch buildings and other operating expenses; but not to refinance secured or unsecured debts, nor to establish a man in livestock operations.

Interest rate on special livestock loans for ranchmen is five per cent, and payment must be scheduled within three years, because of the difference in the type of loan. Present FHA county committees will certify special livestock loans until such time as the secretary of agriculture may set up special committees.

Capplemann in his statement referred also to the crop disaster loans administered by the FHA that are being made at the rate (Continued on back page)

Jaycees Challenge Lions to Softball Tilt Friday Night

For softball what probably won't be softball, but a whale of a lot of fun, you're invited to attend a special game between the McLean Jaycees and the Lions Club Friday night at 8 o'clock on the local softball diamond.

The Jaycees, planning on using some of their over-age members, challenged the Lions Club Tuesday noon—and the Lions accepted. Sammy Haynes will manage the Jaycee team, and J. C. Claborn the Lions team.

Haynes plans to use such stand-outs as Earl Stubblefield as pitcher; John C. Haynes, center field; Slick Boyd, first base; Maurice Mullanax, third base; Water Kelly, left field; Jimmy Dawson, catcher, C. P. Callahan, second base; Chuck Cooke, short stop; Bill Webb, right field, etc., etc. Claborn had not worked out his team line-up by Tuesday afternoon, but it is expected to be "just as good."

Admission will be charged (the amount was not announced), and the proceeds will go toward aiding in defraying expenses of the summer recreation program.

Large Number Fathers, Sons Plan to Attend

Duncan Field in McLean is expected to be the scene next Tuesday night of one of the largest gatherings ever to attend a father-son dinner in the Panhandle. Eating time will be 8 o'clock.

The Lions Club-sponsored barbecue dinner is attracting more and more "big names" in the field of sports as the date draws nearer, and representatives from at least 15 towns in the area are expected to attend.

Here are the nationally-known men who have accepted invitations to appear on the program:

Sammy Baugh, all-American at T. C. U., 16 years as a professional football player with the Washington Redskins, now assistant coach at Hardin-Simmons University.

Abe Martin, head football coach at T. C. U., and for many years assistant there to Dutch Meyer. Wade Walker, former all-American as tackle at Oklahoma University, and now assistant coach at Texas Tech.

Larry Cunningham, a McLean High School graduate who has made good in the coaching profession and is now assistant at Hardin-Simmons.

Elmer Brown, nationally-known track star, now assistant at T. C. U.

Blaine Rideout, another nationally-known track star at N. T. S. C.

Master of ceremonies at the dinner will be W. T. (Dub) Nelson, president of the Childrens Lions Club. Nelson, who also is a Lions deputy district governor, is well known throughout the Panhandle for his work in sports and for his civic leadership.

Tickets for the dinner went on sale Monday in Pampa, Lefors, and McLean. Locally, they may be obtained at Brown's Drug or the office of the Southwestern Public Service company, as well as from members of the McLean Lions Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparks to Observe 45th Anniversary August 9

MR. AND MRS. J. A. SPARKS 45 years together

A couple of old-timers of "these here parts" will observe their 45th wedding anniversary Sunday, August 9, but they are planning no open house or other special observance.

The old-timers are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sparks, who were united in marriage August 9, 1908, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Phillips. The vows were read by the late County Judge T. M. Wolfe, who made his home in McLean, although his county office was in the court-house at Lefors.

The children of the couple will be unable to be here on their anniversary, so they are planning nothing out of the ordinary.

Mrs. Sparks, before her marriage Nora Phillips, was born December 17, 1885, in Parker County. She came to McLean in November, 1904, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Phillips, from Poolville, near Weatherford. Sparks was born January 28, 1873, at Emory, in Range County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sparks. He came to McLean in August, 1905, from Wills Point, Guthrie and Haynes, building contractors. He continued in that trade for a number of years, and in 1915, Sparks was named city marshal. He has held that job, with the exception of three years, since that time.

A believer in protection from disastrous fires, Sparks organized the first McLean volunteer fire department in 1922. He served as fire chief until 1946, when the present chief, Boyd Meador, took over the reins at the retirement (Continued on back page)

600,000 4-H'ers Say "Let's Help Correct Safety Hazards"

Falls account for 36 percent of all fatal accidents in farm homes and 19 percent outside. More than 50 percent of all fatal accidents in working with farm machinery involve tractors, and overturning accounts for more than half of the tractor accident fatalities.

Similar reports of the 4-H'ers participating in the National 4-H Safety program are legion. Instead of using "don't" admonitions, expressions such as "Let's Correct This Hazard" prevail.

10 Years Ago—IT HAPPENED HERE

Taken from the Files of the McLean News, 1913 N. Holloway House Burns

the residence of T. N. Holloway in the Rusk addition about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night. The total loss on the residence is about $750, and so far as has been ascertained, there was not a bit of insurance.

The origin of the fire is somewhat of a mystery, as it broke out at the roof in a northwest room after the family had retired. There had been no fire in the cooking stove since dinner and in the room where the fire started there had not even been a lighted lamp that can be offered as the theory that a mouse lighted a match in the room that started the conflagration.

Other buildings in the vicinity were threatened, but on account of there being practically no wind blowing, it was an easy matter to confine the fire to the one house. All the outbuildings were saved.

Just what the extent of the furniture and household goods loss was cannot be accurately figured, but both gentlemen lost their entire possessions. Mr. Kunkel even losing his shoes and hat. A subscription list was passed Wednesday for the purpose of getting funds to replace the furniture.

ture, but at this time it has not been announced what sum was secured.

Mr. Holloway was at Canyon City attending the normal, and telegraphic communication reached him Wednesday morning. He came in on the night train Wednesday.

Is Showered by Friends

Miss Mildred Bundy, who was so seriously injured in an automobile accident several weeks ago, was the recipient Monday evening of a miscellaneous shower at the hands of a few admiring friends. The ladies gathered at the Richardson home and proceeded in a body to the Bundy residence where they surprised the unfortunate young lady with a wide variety of useful and beautiful gifts of almost every description.

Among the gifts was a lovely hand-decorated autograph book in which every member of the party had written a verse or a quotation over their signature. On the front cover of the book was painted a chain of friendship and in each link was written the name of one of those participating in the shower. They were Mesdames J. H. Horton, S. O. Cook, Roy Rice, D. B. Veatch, C. B. Hedrick, and A. G. Richardson; Misses Lucile and Helen Horton, Pearl and Lilly Guill, Hattie Thompson, Alma Watkins, Ethel McCurdy, Annie Dalrymple, Olive Haynes, Ruby Cook, Nora Beall, Minnie Foster, and Landrum.

Miss Bundy is greatly improved and will soon be able to leave her bed.

Health Talk—

MOTHERS-TO-BE

With mothers-to-be who expect a summer, fall, or early winter confinement, summer heat may aggravate minor discomforts such as cramping and swelling of the legs, over-heating, and shortness of breath.

Much of the doctor's attention is directed toward relieving the minor ailments of pregnancy. He supervises the diet to be certain its quality and quantity assure adequate nutrition for the unborn child, yet keep the mother's weight under control.

A disease that sometimes occurs during pregnancy is thrush or yeast infection of the birth canal. It is not serious unless neglected, because treatment is successful in practically all instances.

Thrush organisms in the infected woman may enter the baby's mouth during its passage to the outside. Thrush is contagious; other babies may catch it, and a mother who is free of the disease may contract it from nursing an infected baby.

Just as there may be minor discomforts associated with pregnancy, there also may be small annoyances preceding or accompanying a woman's monthly period. Just before the menstruation (men-stroo-ay-shun) these symptoms, referred to as "premenstrual tension," may include a feeling of fullness in different parts of the body, headache, backache, nervousness, irritability, tiredness, or sluggishness.

Although they may be more pronounced in some women than in others, these symptoms are entirely normal. They may be relieved at least partially by understanding that other women suffer similar annoyances, by cutting down the amount of salt in the diet, and by specific treatment for headache. Hormone therapy may be necessary in some cases.

There should be very little pain during menstruation, and the woman who experiences pain month after month should have a complete physical examination. If the doctor finds nothing wrong, he probably will recommend that she carry on about as usual during her period.

A number of taboos about menstruation have been proved false. Among them are:

1. That bathing is dangerous. A daily lukewarm bath or shower without chilling will make the girl or woman feel socially acceptable and will not cause cramps.

2. That swimming or other forms of exercise are harmful. On the contrary, moderate exercise may increase muscle tone and possibly prevent cramps. Chilling during or after swimming should be avoided, however.

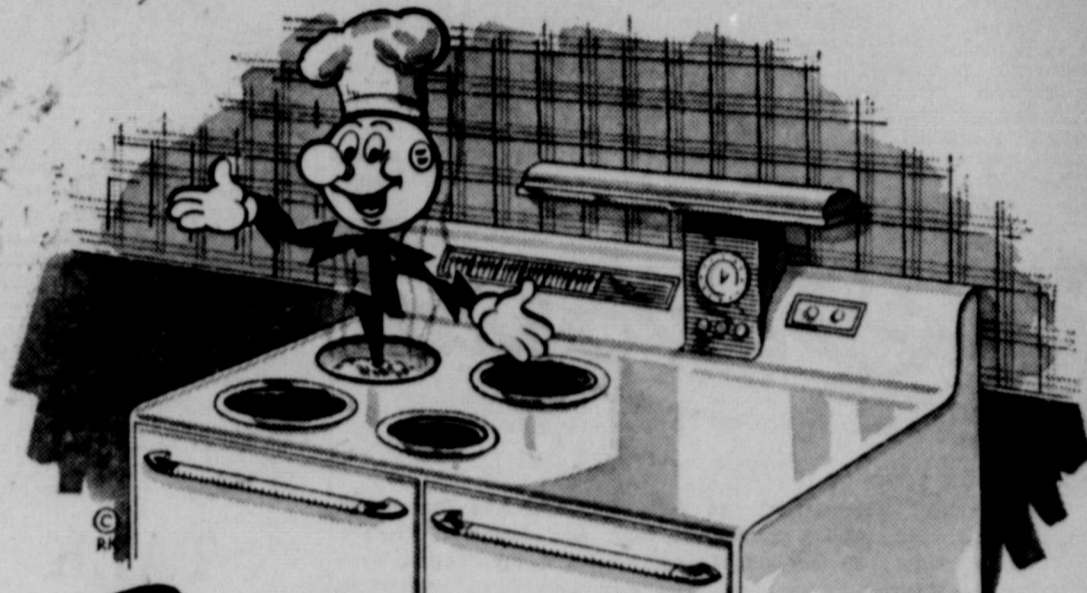

3. That it is necessary to stay in bed with the cramps. If the patient is inactive, she may tend to dwell upon her troubles; if she stays busy, she is more likely to forget them. During an occasional severe attack of cramps, however, it may be necessary to go to bed.

During menstruation adequate rest and sleep (eight hours a night), a well balanced diet, and regular elimination are essential. It is important that women display a normal attitude toward menstruation so that by example their daughters will avoid becoming "menstrual invalids."

This demonstration showed me the way to a better deal!

I'd been planning to buy a higher-priced car until I found out all Chevrolet offered—and how much I could save!

You get more power on less gas. That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gear-shift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine.

And it's the lowest-priced line. A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

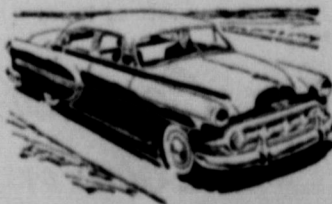

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

Editorial

YOU COULDN'T DO IT
 IT IS SAD BUT TRUE that the Administration has found the budget problem an even tougher nut than was expected. Hopes for an early balance of the budget and general tax reduction have faded like cut flowers in the sun. The Administration's supporters naturally attribute this, in large part at least, to the fiscal dirty work done by Mr. Eisenhower's immediate predecessors. Gleeefully the Administration's opponents say that it is proof that the campaign pledges made by the victors were deceitful and impossible to realize.

Be that as it may, even the most earnest seekers of tax reductions now say gloomily that they don't know when cuts can be made. It is commonly said that the big trouble is that major slashes must be primarily applied to military spending. And, in the present state of world affairs, the lawmakers are very wary of taking any chances with the defense set-up.

There is another phase to the matter, however, which is getting increasing attention now, though little has been done about it on a high government level. That is the extent to which the government is participating in commercial business activity—often at a heavy loss. It's a good bet that relatively few people realize just how big an operator of business government has become.

Time magazine featured a revealing article on the subject in its July 13 issue. It begins: "How far has 'creeping socialism' crept? Farther than most businessmen think. The astounding fact is that the U. S. government is now operating some 100 separate types of business enterprises in which it has sunk at least $40,000,000,000. Among other things, the government has become the nation's largest insurer, electric-power producer, lender, landlord, grain owner, warehouse operator, and ship owner. It monopolizes the world's biggest potential new industry, atomic energy."

In some cases, Time continues, government went into business because of compelling national security reasons—atomic energy and synthetic rubber are examples of this. But government makes many a product—often at a cost higher than that which private enterprise could and would supply the product—which is in a very different category. Paint, rope, and boxes are examples in this field.

Time goes on to list some of the unnecessary losses that government business operations entail. It owns 122,000 housing units and operates them at a loss. It spends an average of $625 a lot to store the property of overseas servicemen in its own warehouses, whereas private warehouses, which have plenty of available space, could do the job for $97 per lot. In order to reclaim scrap iron, a naval air station spent $30,000 to install a press, even though there was a bigger private press nearby which could have taken care of all the scrap the base had in 10 days time. More than $43,000 was spent to haul scrap iron valued at about $4,300 from Alaska to California.

So it goes, down an apparently almost endless list. Time's conclusion seems to be very much in point: "When there is a will to get the government out of business, it can unquestionably be done. To do so, the new Administration will have to overcome all the resistance, obstruction, delay, and evasion of the bureaucrat-at-bay . . . but the farther it gets into the problem, the sooner it will learn that the only way to stop government in business is to stop it."

A Famous American Ship

America's merchant marine began with ships like this Marblehead schooner, according to the American Merchant Marine Institute. The first ship built in this country was the VIRGINIA, "a faire pinnaque" of 30 tons, constructed by Capt. George Popham's colonists at the mouth of the Kennebec, Maine. Other shipyards sprang up all along the coast, for travel by sea was quickest and best. Only 11 years after the MAYFLOWER arrived at Plymouth, a ship twice her size was built by the Puritans in Salem. By 1776 our merchant fleet consisted of over 1,000 vessels. Without them we would have been economically dependent upon the old world. The 1,400 tankers, cargo ships and passenger liners in today's merchant marine are equally important to our independence and general prosperity.

LES TALK
 By LESTER

Some of the stories in the daily papers are a bit confusing concerning the father-son dinner, to be held next Tuesday night under the sponsorship of the Lions Club. These stories make it appear that the dinner is a football affair. The writers, naturally, would think so, since it is just before football season and the speakers are from the football world—Sammy Baugh, Abe Martin, Dick Todd.

But actually, the Lions want it to be a father-son affair, giving fathers an opportunity to be with their sons at a nice dinner and program. The Lions also would like for those men who have no sons to bring a boy who might not otherwise be able to attend. If you know of no boy you can bring, contact Amos Page and he will be glad to locate a "son for the night" for you.

So please don't think this is a strictly football affair, for it isn't. It's just what it's called, a father-son dinner.

S. R. Jones, local ginner, stopped me last week-end, and said he believes we will make as much cotton in this area this year as we did last year. And last year's crop was by no means the worst we've had in the past ten years.

Of course, Mr. Jones explained that another rain or so would be needed before a good crop will come of the cotton still living. But he thinks we should get that necessary moisture, and make the crop.

Of the feed crop, he isn't so sure. As a matter of fact, he stated that no one could tell yet about whether the late feed will make very good.

Judging from his opinions, which are pretty good when it comes to crop prospects, the local area will be much more fortunate this fall than many others—if his predictions come true, I mean. As for his judgment of the crop at the present time, I imagine he had looked around quite a bit before making such statements. After all, his business is dependent on the cotton and grain made.

Less than four weeks ago, I along with many others, didn't think we would make 100 bales of cotton in this area. It's wonderful what a little rain will do.

Here's a comment on retail distribution which I read recently (it isn't produced word for word like I read it, but the thought is the same). I hope you agree.

Every basic industry in America has undergone near-revolutionary changes within the space of a half-century. Retail distribution has been no exception. These changes might be characterized simply as the "growing pains" of a young nation. Regardless of what you call them they have transformed our way of living and thinking. They have been an inseparable part of our transition from an agricultural community to a mighty industrial nation. Sometimes our national growing pains have been so severe that many of us wish we could go back to the "good old days." At one time or another most of us have cursed the birth of mass production. It is hard to realize that there are 100 million more people in this country now than in those "good old days" and that if it were not for maximum efficiency in every line of endeavor we would be living in a state of chronic Asiatic style famine.

About 18 years ago, widespread efforts were being made in state legislatures to curb an innovation in merchandising called the chain store. Many well-meaning opponents of the chain store method of merchandising failed to recognize that chain stores and the chain store idea of moving a large volume of goods to consumers at low unit cost were a logical and inevitable development. After all, of what use was mass production unless it was followed by mass distribution? Mass distribution as first initiated by the chains on a broad scale enjoyed the greatest growth during the depression. It is utterly impossible to calculate the savings and benefits it brings to hard-pressed consumers. It is equally beneficial to producers. Low cost merchandising has increased consumption and raised standards of millions.

Looking back, efforts to destroy chain stores seem almost incomprehensible. At one time more than 20 states had anti-chain store tax laws on their statute books. Fortunately all efforts to destroy the chain store philosophy of distribution were defeated, probably because people finally realized that independent merchants were thriving in the face of chain store competition. They learned to compete with chains by adopting the best features of chain store operation and adding others of their own.

A retail store cannot be run from Washington any more than a farm or a ranch. It is essential for people to understand the necessity of maintaining a free market and modern mass distribution as part of the private enterprise system under a representative form of government. This understanding is the foundation for discussion of specific issues as they arise, such as punitive chain store legislation, government controls, or unwise wage and labor laws. It must be sought after continuously because the public is everchanging. Today, however, we still find opposition to any type of chain operation. You can hear street talk almost any day to the effect that the "small man" hasn't a chance any more. We sincerely believe that the success of this so-called "small man" is entirely dependent on him and his ability. For, after all, no chain has ever been formed all at once—it has grown from one retail store to the several or many in its chain. And this will ever be true, so long as we can maintain our free enterprise type of government and life.

of the pioneer fireman. The two men are the only fire chiefs the local department has had in its 31 years of existence.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sparks have been members of the Methodist church for the past 35 years, and are still active in church work.

They have made their home in McLean since first moving here, with the exception of a few years. They moved to Weatherford in January, 1909, and both of their daughters were born there. Lena, now Mrs. R. A. Wood of Amarillo, was born August 4, 1909; and Lorene, now Mrs. J. F. Bidwell of Lajoy, N. M., was born June 24, 1912. In 1914, the family returned to McLean to make their home.

Pride and joy of the pioneer couple are their grandchildren. They are Janet and John Regal, children of Mrs. Wood by her former marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moot of Pampa visited with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McDonald last week.

Miss LaRue Black of Canyon spent the week-end with friends here. Virginia Beck accompanied her to Canyon to spend the week.

15 Quarts Oil Taken in Local Station Theft

Fifteen quarts of oil were the only missing items following a break-in at the Earles and Miller Magnolia Station last Friday night. The burglar, or burglars, apparently entered by knocking out a window in the south side of the building, Bill Earles, co-owner of the station with Paul Miller, said.

Local officers also located an abandoned wrecked car about five miles west of McLean near the highway Saturday night. The car had been stolen in Fort Smith, Ark., Friday, officers said.

The car bore 1953 Oklahoma license, but also had a set of 1953 Texas license in the glove compartment. Constable Luke Henley also found a certificate of title in the compartment; and, upon further checking, it was learned that the car had been stolen.

are putting on small fruit now, and it won't be long until Mrs. Longan will be canning those tomatoes. Then there's another small area where Longan's has more black-eyed peas, and quite a patch of mustard greens on their way up. Two peach trees needed watering, so he made a small dam-like affair to hold the water in an area five or six feet in diameter around the trees.

Longan couldn't see why something else couldn't be growing in that space, too, so there you'll find turnip plants coming up.

To top it off, just outside his fence on the east side, he has two small alfalfa patches. He has cut it four times already this year, and used it, along with egg mash, for chicken feed. His hens—which, incidentally, are given only cool water to drink during the hot summer months—are paying off well with the eggs they produce.

Longan's lawn, in front of the house, is well kept, although he says he waters it very little.

But he's doing wonders with his small 7-lot acreage, with the help of water and fertilizer. And the sunshine is doing wonders for his health, too. In other words, he's profiting while recuperating.

Father-Son—

plained that men who wish to attend, and who wish to take some boy but have no sons of their own, may take a "son for the night." On file at the public service office are names of boys who will likely be unable to attend unless taken by some man who has no son. In other words, Page explained, a "son for the night" will be furnished to any man who has no son to take.

The Lions hope to make the dinner an annual affair. This year's feed will have the sports atmosphere—mainly football—due to the work in which the principal speakers are engaged.

Coaches, and their football squad members, from over the area are invited, and many of them, have expressed their intentions of attending. A large delegation from Pampa, as well as Lefors, is expected. Tickets are on sale in both towns.

Tickets are $1.50 each, and entitle each person to "eat all he wants," the Lions emphasized. The menu will consist of barbecued beef, brown beans, pickles, onions, bread, apricots, ice cream, coffee, and iced tea. All of the food will be prepared by members of the Lions Club, and will be served also by the Lions.

Some outside help will be necessary, but all Lions are being assigned jobs prior to or during the dinner.

Tables and chairs to accommodate the crowd are to be moved to the football field, so that fathers and sons can sit together during the meal and the program. The food will be served cafeteria style.

Wheat Meeting At Clarendon

Donley County Agent H. M. Breedlove announced this week that a wheat meeting will be held at the courthouse in Clarendon Monday night, August 10, at 8 o'clock to discuss the wheat program for this fall and next spring.

The wheat referendum will be discussed and voting boxes will be announced. This meeting is for all wheat growers in Donley County. The wheat referendum for marketing quotas will be held August 14. Everyone is invited to attend the meeting, says the county agent.

If we get more rain and make a torage crop this fall, Breedlove advises that it will be the time to put this feed in a trench silo. Cane, sargo, hegari, other grain and sweet sorghums will make good silage and this is the cheapest way to feed your cattle this winter. There will be a definite shortage of feed this winter and silage will be a big help and one of the cheapest methods to winter cattle. Breedlove urges that you make plans now to fill a trench silo if we make any late feed; this could relieve the feed situation a great deal for livestock producers.

Loans—

of more than $1,000,000 a month now, $12,000,000 of these disaster loans have been disbursed in the last 12 months. These loans made under Public Law 38, section one, are available in all areas suffering from the effects of production losses caused by reasons beyond the control of the farmer. The Texas disaster area was proclaimed two years ago when lack of rain and other natural causes placed farmers in serious plight because of the losses sustained.

The FHA disaster loan available under section one of Public Law 38, provides funds for the production of crops and normal expenses of such production. Any farmer who has suffered a production loss and needs more credit than is available through his local bank or other lending agencies is eligible to apply for the FHA crop disaster loans.

Cattleman has instructed county FHA supervisors to give priority to crop disaster and special livestock loans and to call into session county loan committees as often as necessary to pass on the applications and expedite the loan making procedure. He emphasized ed that money is available for the purpose of obtaining seed and other necessary supplies to start a new crop and to carry farmers and ranchers through this emergency, and take care of their normal needs.

The Farmers Home Administration is ready to receive applications and process loans immediately. The entire state is already a designated disaster area and loans can be processed without delay to purchase feed and to meet crop production needs in any county. While offices are already staffed, Cattleman said additional men needed in FHA offices in any area of Texas to take care of the emergency disaster loans have already been transferred or can be moved in from other parts of Texas at once. The regular disaster loan program is being used to finance the production of wheat and other small grain crops in the western area of Texas, he said.

Cattleman also pointed out that funds for the use of the regular program of the FHA are available, including production and farm operating, farm ownership, farm housing, and water facilities. In addition, the agency insured mortgage loans are offered. This is a loan where private lenders provide funds for farm purchase, insured by the government. Each of the different types of credit are available to the limit of funds appropriated.
