Beauty Parade Of Press Club To Be Tonight

Beauty will be the feature of the evening when the annual Beauty Parade of the McLean High School Press Club is held tonight at the high school auditorium. Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

Out-of-town judges will decide on the winner of the annual affair. Names of the judges were not released by Miss Betty Lynch, faculty sponsor of the Press Club.

Last year's winner in the contest was Donna Gail Stubblefield. The Beauty Parade is one way of raising money for the financing of the school yearbook "The Tumbleweed."

Miss Norma Watson will play the favorite song of each girl as she appears on the stage. Contestants (listed in the order of their appearance on the stage), and their sponsors, are as follows:

Betty Jo Allen, sponsored by McLean Hardware; Joyce Bruner, Cooper's Foods; Laura June Stubblefield, American National Bank; Mary Graham, Derby and Avalon theaters; Donna Gail Stubblefield, McLean News.

Billie Sue Pettit, Phillips 66 Station; Barbara Wilson, Master Cleaners; Shirley Allison, Corinne's Style Shop; Bonita Bailey, Dysart Motor company; Doris Bybee, Dawson's Magnolia Station; Christine Hunt, Don's Studio and Cleaners.

Pat Patterson, Brown's Drug Store; Sue Glass, Callahan's; Betty McClellan, Stubblefield's Department Store; Nedra Graham, Cooke Chevrolet company; Bethie Mantooth, T. and G. Electric; Gene Havens, Southwestern Public Service company; LaJone Chilton, Vera Back Agency; Floella Cubine, Boyd Meador Insurance.

Lorraine Medley, Greyhound Drug; Sue Lively, Cicero Smith Lumber company; Sue Chase, Puckett's Grocery; Harlene Moore, Texas Cafe; Dortha Chase, Bill Day Furniture; Virginia Beck, Patterson's Magnolia Station; Colleen Crockett, Andrews Equipment company; Texetta McCurley, Chevron Gas Station; Zonia Mae Baker, McLean Cafe.

M Club Elects Year's Officers

McLean High School's athletes held their first letterman's club meeting recently, naming new officers to serve during the year.

Elected were Wayne Smith, president; Don Crockett, vice president; Betty Jo Allen, secretary and treasurer; and Eddie Reeves, Tiger tamer. Sponsors are the two coaches, Don Leach and Wayne Hill.

Those eligible for membership are students who have lettered in either basketball or football. The purpose of the organization is to increase the respect for "M" awarded to all lettermen.

The swastika symbol originated among the Hindus.

937 Bales Cotton Ginned, Harvest 80 Per Cent Over

A total of 937 bales of cotton has been ginned at the McLean Gin, S. R. Jones, manager, said Wednesday, and the crop is better than 80 per cent harvested.

The cotton is netting worse in grade, and is becoming harder to gin out properly, Jones said. This is being caused, of course, as farmers get the final clean-up gathering from their fields.

If the fair weather holds out, Jones expects to gin between 1100 and 1200 bales here this season.

Killing Freeze Hits; Moisture Total .11-Inch

McLean, and the rest of the Panhandle area, received its first hard freeze of the year over the week-end, with the thermometer dropping to below the freezing mark on three successive nights—Saturday, Sunday, and Monday.

The cold weather was accompanied by a small amount of precious moisture. McLean got a total of .11 of an inch, bringing the year's total to 12.41 inches, Pete Fulbright, local weather observer, said. The year's moisture total is about nine inches below the normal fall in this area at this time.

The coming of the moisture also brought in the first snow of the season. The first shower fell early Sunday morning, and was followed by a brief flurry of sleet. A small amount of snow fell during the day, but never enough to cover the ground.

Lowest temperature during the three nights probably came Sunday night, when unofficial reports gave the low as about 25 degrees. Monday night's low was about 28 degrees.

A large amount of frost was present Monday morning, following the light shower of the day before and the temperature drop during the night.

Both Friday and Saturday of last week were fair and warm. Fans at the football game at White Deer were chilled by the breeze, but actually the temperature was not low. Saturday afternoon's temperature was similar to a warm spring day.

The cold weather moved in early Sunday, and remained throughout both Sunday and Monday. Fair and warmer weather was predicted for the next few days.

The moisture was general over the Panhandle, but no area reported a heavy downfall. Plainview reported .40 of an inch, the heaviest in the Panhandle.

Highway Signs Being Prepared By Jaycees

Four highway signs to let people know that McLean isn't far away are being readied for erection along Highway 66 by the McLean Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The signs are being prepared by a committee headed by Jimmy Dawson, and will be put up within the next week or two.

Lettering on the new signs is being made up of Scotch light, so that the signs may be read at night. In large letters will be "McLean, Miles." Across the top of the sign will be the wording, "Home of the Derby," with a derby cut out of Scotch light also.

One sign will be placed at the Texas-Oklahoma line. Locations for the others are to be decided upon soon, Dawson said.

In addition, the Jaycees are also preparing several smaller signs, to be cut out in the shape of a derby from sheet metal. This will also be lettered with Scotch light, naming McLean and the distance to the town.

McLean Tigers to Meet Canadian Friday Night in Last Home Tilt

Girl Gridsters Win to Finish Perfect Season

The McLean High School female football team finished a perfect season Tuesday night in Lefors, when the girls downed the Lefors squad by a score of 6-0.

It was the first and last game of the season for the local girls; next year the Lefors girls will come to McLean for a return game. The game enriched the local F. H. A. chapter's treasury by $139.

The Tigerettes, sponsored by the Future Homemakers chapter in McLean, waited until the final quarter to score their six points. The score came on a long pass from Marie Watson to Lorraine Medley. The pass play was good for only 14 yards, but it covered more distance than that. The winning score was set up when Christine Hunt intercepted a Lefors pass on the 14.

The girls' game was not rough and tough like boys' football, although several girls took hard spills during the tilt. Actually, it was tough football—the ball carrier had only to be touched by the opposition to be tackled by—and most of the plays were pass plays. The girls play on a field which covers only 60 yards rather than 100. They are given five downs, and if they do not make a touchdown in the five downs, the ball goes over to the opposition. In case of a tie, which there wasn't Tuesday night, each team is given an additional five downs and the one making the most yardage wins the game.

The Lefors squad threatened in the second quarter, getting to the five, but lost the ball on downs. McLean nearly scored in the third period, when Marie Watson connected with two passes to get the ball to the three.

Mavis Medley proved to be the most consistent pass receiver for McLean, catching several nice ones. She was also alert on the defense, accounting for many "tackles."

At the half, the McLean FFA king—and a similar king from Lefors—were crowned by the girls. Bobby Jack Miller was the Lefors king, and Wayne Moore the McLean king.

Moore was escorted by Marie Watson and Christine Hunt; other attendants from McLean were Wayne Smith and June Stubblefield, Jack Hupp and Lorraine Medley, Jimmy Farren and Sara McClellan, and Morris Wells and LaRue Pettit.

Football (?) Game—Firemen Versus Jaycees—Planned

Football fans of the area will have an opportunity to yell—and boo—all they please on Thanksgiving afternoon.

That's the date set for a football (?) game between the McLean Jaycees and members of the McLean Fire Department.

Jaycee Prexy Sammy Haynes has named Earl Stubblefield as captain of the Jaycee team, and Fire Chief Boyd Meador has chosen John Anders as his team captain. Both were unable to be contacted this week as they were spending all their time recruiting former All-Americans for their teams.

Those who play in the game won't be limited to members of the two organizations, however, and anyone who wants to play should contact one of the team captains. Further details will be announced later.

Loss Will Knock Tigers From District Race

The McLean Tigers will meet the Canadian Wildcats on Duncan Field in McLean Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the final home game of the season, and the Tigers will be fighting to keep alive a chance to tie for the District 1-A title.

The Wildcats, with two victories and one loss, are now tied for the 1-A lead with White Deer and Lefors. McLean, Panhandle, and Clarendon have all suffered two losses.

The Tigers, should they lose, will be without a mathematical chance at the district title, and therefore they will be ready to send a broken bunch of Wildcats back home.

Canadian, last year's district champs, were weakened through the graduation of several star players, including the big backfield man, Tommy Schaefer. They got off to a poor start early in the season, as did the local Tigers, but came back to tie White Deer and win on penetrations, defeat Clarendon easily, and then lost to Lefors.

McLean has been gradually improving during the season, since the return of Wayne Smith and Eddie Reeves to the backfield—both of them missed most of the first two games which McLean lost. The line play of the Tigers has been very good for the past five games, and, on the offense, McLean has been able to either outgain its opponents or come close to doing so.

The Tigers suffered no injuries of consequences in the White Deer game, and should be ready for the Wildcat encounter. The game will be the final home game. Only one other game, that with the Broncs at Clarendon next week-end, will remain on the schedule after this week.

McLean FFA Teams Place High in District

Six judging teams of the McLean chapter of the Future Farmers of America entered the Top of Texas district meeting last Saturday in Canadian.

Each team placed in the top four in the contest. The senior chapter conducting team placed second. Members of this team were Don Trew, James Jolly, Ricky Mantooth, Rodney Gunn, Rex Immel, James Dale Andrews, Warren Henley, Don Broome, Arthur Vineyard, and Harold Smith.

Senior farm skills team placed fourth. Members of this team were Wayne Woods, Jim Farren, and Don Van Huss.

The junior farm skills team placed fourth. Members of this team were Dale Johns, Billy Jackson, and Harley Knutson.

The junior quiz team placed second. Members of this team were Butch Turpen, Johnny Kalka, and Bill Tidwell.

The radio broadcasting team placed second. Members of this team were Archie Dwyer, Joe Miller, and Don Godfrey.

Genie Havens represented the McLean FFA chapter in the district FFA sweetheart contest. B. W. Duncan is the district president, and Vernon Gibson is the district advisor for this year.

White Deer Edges McLean 12-7 in 1-A Grid Contest

White Deer edged McLean 12-7 in a 1-A grid contest Saturday night. The Tigers once more managed to outgain their opposition, but the two quickies scored by the Bucks in the opening period were the difference. McLean was not able to count in the first half, but came back strong in the second half to make one touchdown, and valiantly, but vainly, try for the winning marker.

Eddie Reeves and Wayne Smith again did most of the ball-carrying for McLean, making nice gains almost every try. Smith carried for 24 yards once for McLean's longest gain on the ground.

For the White Deer eleven, the workhorse was Cordell Pugh, a lad who once made his home in McLean. Pugh's gains, however, were short ones. He left long runs up to a teammate, Roy Eller, the quarterback, who racked up runs of 46 yards and 43 yards at two different times when he faded to pass, found no receivers, and then ran with the ball. The 46-yard run moved the ball to the McLean 2, to set up the Bucks' second touchdown.

On the line, James Jolly showed up as outstanding, but many others held the rushing attack of White Deer down. These included Joe Crockett, Don Trew, Don Smith, Wayne Moore, Gayle Plummer, Jack Hupp, and George Railsback.

The scoring was as follows: McLean took the opening kickoff, and after making two first downs, Reeves was forced to punt, the ball being returned by Roy Eller to the McLean 47. After five plays, two of which were passes good for 13 and 7 yards, the Bucks had the ball on the 19. Pugh moved it to the 16, and then Roy Eller passed to Don Denham who stepped on over the goal. D. Shipley's attempted conversion failed, and the score was White Deer 6, McLean 0.

Following the kick-off to Mc-

Lean, Smith fumbled on a line play and White Deer recovered on the McLean 47. On the third play from scrimmage, Roy Eller circled left end after finding no receivers as he faded back to pass, and went all the way to the 2-yard stripe. Max Jordan tried through center but made no gain, and then Pugh hit right tackle and went over. Shipley again missed his kick. The first quarter ended one play later, with White Deer leading 12-0.

In the second quarter, McLean recovered a White Deer fumble on the White Deer 38. The Tigers moved the ball down to the 8, but finally lost the ball on downs.

The Bucks were unable to move out of danger there, and a fourth-down punt was blocked by White Deer. The ball went over on downs to McLean on the White Deer 24. On the next play, Pugh intercepted a Reeves pass to end McLean's second threat, and two plays later the half ended. Early in the third period, McLean took over on their own 24 on a punt. Four first downs moved the ball to the 18, from where Smith hit right guard and went over. Rodney Gunn converted to make the score 12-7.

Later in the third quarter, Roy Eller got his second long run—this time 43 yards—on the same play he had used to set up White Deer's second touchdown. This time he moved down to McLean's 4 before he was downed. On the next play, however, Eller fumbled and Jolly recovered on the 9.

The Tigers used the remainder of the fourth to get the ball back to the White Deer 46, where it was lost on downs. From there the Bucks began another drive which was finally halted by the Tigers on the 17. The Tigers again began to move but got only to the Bucks' 46 as the game ended.

New Babies and How To Raise Them

There's more to life than sleeping and eating, says baby. Having fun with father is important, too.

It's a sure bet that every young married woman who ever gave a passing thought to motherhood and the manifold problems that accompany it, has a thousand questions on her mind that she would like answered intelligently.

Answers to many of these burning wonderments plus numerous other useful facts about pregnancy and baby care are lucidly presented in one of the most practical and friendly books on this subject available today. Parent's Magazine Book of Baby Care, a complete guide for mothers and expectant mothers is being introduced currently in the nation's book stores.

The authors are three women, from every viewpoint, who are able to compile a book of facts about babies; in that respect it is quite a contrast from other books, mostly authored by physicians or psychologists. Eleanor S. Duncan, a young author who is raising two children, one a baby, is the chief architect of this work, and she naturally writes from practical experience, offering first hand knowledge that couldn't be obtained from an objective clinical or medical man, or a child psychologist. She tells numerous typical incidents encountered and coped with, as only a woman who is exposed to such daily problems, can do. Editing this account was the job of a woman renowned in the realm of American family life. Clara Stage Littledale, editor of Parent's Magazine, Technical guide was supplied by Dr. Dorothy Whipple, a leading pediatrician. Several noteworthy factors about the volume, are that it gives essentials and it carries a tone of reassurance. It is written in an informal, flexible style and from the chapters on pregnancy and childbirth, care, feeding and discipline, to those on physical and mental development, no information that might be helpful to parents has been left out. The whole approach is based on sound knowledge of what children need for their best all-around development. Throughout, parents are given plenty of latitude and are exhorted to use their judgment in meeting individual crises.

Daddy comes in for his share of importance in this vignette, and not later in a child's life. It is emphasized that it's the mutual job of the father and mother to rear the child cooperatively from the beginning.

dicating that Theodore Roosevelt is second in the race. Another fact indicative of the spirit of revolt that has grown with rapid strides in the last four years is the enormous vote accorded Eugene V. Debs, the socialist candidate.

The local election was very quiet, there being only 150 votes cast. Of this number, Wilson received 103, Debs 25, Roosevelt 6, Taft 4, and Chafin 5. The county ticket was, of course, elected in accordance with the results of the Democratic primary. C. S. Rice was elected public weigher; Chas. C. Cook, county attorney; A. R. Guill, justice of the peace; and J. F. Harbert, constable. The foregoing officers were not on the official ballot, there being no nomination in the primary.

Girls Glee Club

A number of young ladies met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Jones on Saturday afternoon of last week, according to a previous announcement and organized a Girls Glee Club, which will have for its object the study of vocal music.

The officers elected were Miss Mildred Bundy, president; Miss Annie Dalrymple, secretary; and Miss Pearl Guill, treasurer. The stated meetings are to occur on Saturday evening of each week.

Mothers Club Dinner

The chicken dinner served the public by the Mothers Club, under the direction of Mrs. Lon Stanfield, on Tuesday of this week netted the club in the neighborhood of 55 dollars, and was a splendid feast for all who partook. The dinner was held in the old Rock Island Cafe building, the use of which was donated by Fred O'Dell, and more than 100 members of the club donated the many good things that made up the menu.

In addition to the dinner, Misses Ethel McCurdy and Mildred Bundy sold popcorn as an after-dinner delicacy to all who could be prevailed upon to buy.

Mrs. Stanfield was assisted in securing the necessary donations by Mesdames J. H. Horton and S. O. Cook, and about two dozen loyal members of the club assisted in the serving.

Kenneth Scales, student in Bethany-Peniel College at Bethany, Okla., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scales.

A BIRTHDAY DINNER

A birthday dinner honoring T. A. Langham was held at the Langham home Sunday. Mr. Langham's birthday was November 4. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Langham and son and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Potter and son of Childress; Sgt. I/c and Mrs. Wes Langham and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Baker and son of Pampa; and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Langham.

Health Talk— EYE CATARACT

You've heard it said "The Greeks had a word for it." Just like everyone else, though, once in a while they came up with the wrong word.

Take "cataract" of the eye. You've probably heard the term used in connection with a waterfall. That's more or less what the physicians of ancient Greece thought a cataract of the eye was. They believed there was a large space between the lens of the eye and the colored matter which lies in front of it, the iris, in the middle of which is a hole, the pupil. Into this space, they thought, fell a cloudy fluid which cut off the sight and made the pupil, normally black, look gray or white.

Today scientists know that the trouble lies within the lens itself, not in front of it. A cataract is any cloudy spot in the lens, regardless of size, shape, or color. A patient may have a cataract so small it never bothers him. On the other hand, even a tiny cataract located in a part of the lens needed for vision can be annoying. Cataracts usually occur in old people but may be seen in those of other ages as well, including infants.

One thing above all should be remembered about cataracts: the diagnosis does not carry with it the certainty of blindness. With treatment, the progress of a cataract sometimes can be slowed up considerably. Furthermore, when the patient's vision becomes bad enough to handicap him in getting around, an operation can be done.

In children the cloudy lens is cut in two and left in the eye to be absorbed; this procedure is called needling or discission. In older people the lens must be removed from the eye. After the operation, glasses can take the place of the missing lens of the eye, which is not replaced by nature, and if the rest of the organ is healthy, the sight often is near normal or at least useful.

Everything that cuts down the vision is not a cataract. Some people speak of a cataract ON the eye, but the lens, the part involved, is IN the eye. They may confuse a cataract with another condition of the eye called a "pterygium" (pronounced rih-jee-um, accenting the second syllable). This is a small, fan-shaped growth which usually begins near the nose and spreads over the eyeball. Thick and fleshy looking at first, it finally shrinks and turns pale, and the blood vessels in it become cord-like. Pterygium is seen most often in persons exposed a lot to dust, wind, and sun, and never in children. When the growth covers the cornea (the watch crystal-like covering of the eyeball) enough to block off seeing, it becomes necessary to operate.

A certain amount of pressure of the eye's contents against the inner side of the eyeball is needed to give the eye its shape. However, when this pressure rises to unhealthy levels from some cause, either known or unknown, glaucoma results. Glaucoma may be connected with cataract. This eye disease, which causes about 1 per cent of blindness, has been called a "thief in the night" because it often steals away eyesight so gradually that its victim is unaware that disease is present; the loss of sight usually begins at the edges of the field of vision. However, if the patient has an acute attack, the pain is so severe that he usually seeks medical relief. General symptoms like nausea, vomiting, and headache may be associated with an attack of glaucoma; the condition has been described as a "sick eye in a sick body." Other signs may be blurring of the sight and seeing colored halos around lights.

Treatment for glaucoma consists of eye drops to bring the tension of the eyeball down and surgery if the drops don't control the disease. The doctor may be helped in deciding whether or not to operate by the amount of side vision which has been lost. The field of vision can be measured, as can the amount of tension in the eyeball.

Many people are bothered with irritations of the lid (blepharitis) and conjunctiva (conjunctivitis). The conjunctiva is the tissue which lines the lids and covers the cornea, and of course "itis" refers to an irritation or inflammation, just as it does in any other part of the body. The patient may complain that he feels

from the Files of The McLean News, 1912

Democratic Ticket Wins
The great national election came a whirlwind close on last Tuesday and for the first time more than 20 years a Democrat has been honored with the best gift at the hand of the American people.

Woodrow Wilson was elected president of the United States. Governor Marshall of Indiana was elected as vice president, both by an overwhelming majority. The returns are not all in, but earlier indications make the result mentioned an assured fact.

The returns so far in also in-

Turkey Noodle Curry

ONE of the nice things about a Thanksgiving feast is the turkey left over for sandwiches and other post-holiday treats. Give Mr. Turkey a curtain call this new way. Serve Turkey Noodle Curry. It takes only one cup of turkey to prepare a dish for four people. Other delicious foods in this recipe include a curry sauce, creamy noodles and slightly crisp carrots. Turkey Noodle Curry entree offers good looks, good taste and good nutrition. A serving dish containing golden carrots, creamy noodles and big chunks of turkey may be made even more attractive by trimming it with button mushrooms and bright green parsley. The curry sauce gives a new taste to well-liked foods. And the protein in the turkey and noodles, plus the vitamin A in the carrots, are nutrients needed daily to help you and your family stay in good health. Serve hot rolls with this turkey treat. Make it easy for yourself and get brown 'n serve fan tans or cloverleaf rolls. Complete the main course with a vegetable-gelatin salad. You may even want to pick up individual cartons of the salad at your grocery stores while you're getting the rolls.

TURKEY NOODLE CURRY
 6 ounces broad noodles
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 2 tablespoons enriched flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 cup milk
 1 cup seasoned cooked carrots
 1 cup cut cooked turkey
 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender (about 4 minutes). Drain and rinse. While noodles are cooking, melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Stir in flour, salt, curry powder and pepper. Add milk and cook stirring constantly until thickened. Fold in noodles. Combine carrots and turkey and add to melted butter or margarine. Heat thoroughly. Arrange noodles in center of chop plate and turkey and carrots around edge. Serve hot.

Makes 4 servings. ENS-99-NS

In Washington—ROGERS REPORTS

By REP. WALTER ROGERS
Washington After the Election:
 The Capital City, as is usual after all presidential elections, reflects a mixed feeling of elation and gloom. This would appear rather odd to many, as it is commonly believed in many places that when one administration is turned out and a new one is coming in, the entire picture in the capital should be all gloom. The reason for such belief is the common view that most federal employees depend upon the administration for their jobs and are therefore jeopardized by a change of administration. However, this is not the case. The truth is that there is only a very small percentage of job holders who will be affected by the change. These are the top administrative jobs and number less than 2,000. All of the other federal employees are under civil service and are not subject to dismissal from their jobs for political reasons. Many people have thought that all federal employees were more or less affiliated with whichever political party might be in power and that the party in power could always count on a large bloc of votes from this source. However, this is not always the case. The fact is that a majority of the federal employees in and around Washington usually vote against the administration in power. This has been proven many times in presidential elections since the civil service system was established. It was conclusively proved in this presidential election. Eisenhower carried all of the sections around Washington where the federal workers live and vote. This includes many precincts in Maryland and Virginia. The vote received by Eisenhower in the sections of Virginia most heavily populated by federal employees gave him a larger majority than other sections of the same state. The same is true in Maryland. The residents who live inside of the District of Columbia are not allowed to vote. However, they engage in politics as much as, or more so, than in other cities of like size. It was very evident inside of the District of Columbia that had the people here been allowed to vote, Eisenhower would have carried two large sections of the District where most of the federal workers are housed. It is also well to point out that there does not appear to be any feeling of ill will among the people in the District of Columbia whether they are federal employees or individual business people. In fact, everyone seems to be in the attitude that the political battle is over, that it is the duty and desire of every citizen to cooperate to the fullest extent, regardless of political affiliations, to an early solution of the many tremendous problems that are faced. This attitude is something that America can be proud of. There is no other place in the world where the people can enjoy such traits of good sportsmanship and honest devotion to country. It is the reason that America has become great and will always remain great. It is the reason that our country has become a symbol of freedom to oppressed peoples all over the world. It is one of the many reasons why people all over the world want to leave their native lands and come to America to start a new life. In no other

Donley County—SOIL NEWS

Irrigation fever is spreading fast. It has been caught by a number of drylanders one would never suspect were susceptible. The extreme drouth has no doubt been largely responsible for the new interest in irrigation. A number of farmers have come by the SCS office recently to discuss irrigation possibilities or to request district assistance in making well locations and in planning the system of water distribution. Some of these recent visitors to the SCS office were Hall Hardin, C. A. Morgan, Richard Cannon, H. S. Mahaffey, Lee Muse, Park Chamberlain, Gordon Bain, Andy Brown, Arthur Brown, George Shoop, Pink Marshall, John Knorpp, R. O. Thomas, E. L. Sitter, A. J. Rogers, D. E. Leathers, Dr. London, Claude Moore, Edwin Eanes, Clyde Slavin, and Billie Christal. To date wells have been drilled on places owned by Hall Hardin, H. S. Mahaffey, Lloyd Risley, C. A. Morgan, Lee Muse, F. L. Goldston, John Knorpp, and E. L. Sitter. Hall Hardin got two good wells: one on his home place northwest of Ashtola, and the other one near Martin. C. A. Morgan, whose place is just northeast of Clarendon, also got a good well. E. L. Sitter's well is low producing but he feels he can irrigate a small acreage successfully by constructing a reservoir for temporary storage. The wells on Lloyd Risley's and H. S. Mahaffey's places were abandoned because of insufficient water. Wells of Muse, Goldston, and Knorpp have not been tested yet to determine the amount of water they will produce. The district is ready to assist farmers who get sufficient water from irrigation in planning a system of conservation irrigation on their farms. Dr. Doyle Magee, Dr. T. C. Magee, and Mrs. Bryan Smith, all from Louisiana, visited the first of the week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Magee. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hedrick and son Tommy of Lefors were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Meacham. Mr. and Mrs. Peb Everett and son Pete were Sunday visitors in Amarillo in the home of Mrs. Mollie Everett. Mr. and Mrs. Luke Henley are vacationing in Roswell, N. M., with Mr. and Mrs. Jud Henley and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Hickman Brown and children spent the week-end in Vernon in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown.

Mrs. Clyde Magee Hostess at Meet Of Wesleyan Guild

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the McLean Methodist Church met in the church parlor Tuesday evening with Mrs. Clyde Magee as hostess. The business session was conducted by Mrs. S. A. Cousins, vice president. The group sang "America" and "America, the Beautiful." Mrs. Bob Sherrod gave the devotional on "Citizenship." Her scripture reading was taken from the "Sermon on the Mount." Mrs. Guy Hester presented the program on "Christian Citizenship" in a most delightful and original manner. She discussed Christian citizenship in the home, in the community, in the state, in the nation, and in the United Nations. Guests for the evening were Mesdames H. C. Stauffer of Abilene, Roger Powers of Lubbock, Fred Bentley, and G. W. Conagbie. Members attending were Mesdames Shelton Nash, Wilson Boyd, Clyde Andrews, Hershel McCarty, Paul Mertel, Jim Dawson, C. W. Parmenter, J. W. Meacham, Erey Cubine, Bob Sherrod, S. A. Cousins, and Clyde Magee. Mrs. Wallace Rainwater was hostess to members of the Liberty Home Demonstration Club Thursday, November 6, at her home. Mrs. C. G. Cantrell Jr. conducted a short business meeting and members voted to have an all-family party November 20 at 7 o'clock. Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mesdames D. L.

Miller, Karl Adams, C. G. Cantrell Jr., Orphus Tate, Wink Geron, Clyde Love, James Ross, Earl Eustace, and Glen Deane members; and the following visitors: Mesdames Dee McDowell, John McDowell Jr., C. G. Cantrell, George R. Rencau, Walter Ball, Edgar Bailey, and Alta Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Largin were Pampa visitors Monday.

Common Cold Still Common

Studies show that most people have two or more colds a year each lasting about two weeks and causing a considerable amount of stuffy discomfort, said Dr. G. W. Cox, state health officer. The danger of the common cold lies mainly in the other infections that may follow after it. A lessens resistance, and in like manner paves the way for more serious respiratory ailments. Sinusitis, ear infections, bronchitis, and the various forms of pneumonia are frequently associated with a cold. Pneumonia, particularly, is likely to attack a person who is overtired, or run down because of a severe cold. Fortunately, many of the respiratory diseases are not as dangerous as they used to be. Modern infection-fighting drugs, such as penicillin and the sulfonamides, offer highly effective treatment for many cases. But, of course, it is always better to prevent a serious illness whenever possible. If you have a cold, it's a good sense to stay away from public places, to avoid spreading the infection; and to get plenty of rest—in bed if possible. Many individuals have like cut diamonds, shining brightly beneath a rough exterior. Juvenal.
