Doc Henderson Dies at Home; Funeral at Lela

Funeral services for Claude Lee (Doc) Henderson, resident of McLean for the past 14 years, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Lela Baptist Church.

Rites were conducted by Rev. Tom Burns, pastor of the Lela church, assisted by Dick Smith of McLean.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ola Henderson of McLean; three sons, Vernon of Shamrock, Les of Amarillo, and Marvin J. of Monahans; five daughters, Mrs. Frank Hicks of Tucuman, N. M., Mrs. Chester Putman of Shamrock, Mrs. Byron Johnson of Kirkwood, Mo., Mrs. Ed Oldfield of El Monte, Calif., and Loretta Henderson of Shamrock; two brothers, J. W. of Shamrock and Arch of Bakersfield, Calif.; nine step-children, 43 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Henderson was born October 19, 1884, and was 68 years, 5 months, and 8 days of age at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Lela Baptist Church and had been engaged in farming most of his life.

Henderson had been in ill health for some time before his death. He was injured in a service station fire here about two years ago, and had not been well since that time.

REVEILLE

Cpl. Richard Grigsby, who recently returned from Alaska, is visiting in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers, Cpl. Grigsby spent 30 months in Alaska, and will be stationed in Austin after a 30-day leave.

Airman 3/c Earl W. Johnson of Wichita Air Force Base, Wichita, Kans., has recently been transferred to Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., for a 10-week course in hydraulics.

Bill Day has bought the building formerly occupied by Don's Studio and Cleaners from O. G. Stokely, and moved part of his furniture stock to the building this week.

Local television dealers—and those who have already had TV sets installed—were anticipating early this week the first telecasting by KFDA-TV, Amarillo, on Channel 10.

The observance of a 50th anniversary of a church, and the beginning of two revival meetings will highlight Easter activities in the area churches.

Jaycees in Need Of More Floats For Rodeo Parade

Floats, floats, floats. That's what W. W. Boyd and his Jaycee committee in charge of the parade during the American Legion rodeo are looking for.

Boyd is urging all business firms, individuals, or organizations who plan to enter floats in the parade on Saturday, April 18, to contact him at once.

A number of out-of-town bands have been invited to participate, and all Jaycee organizations in Region 1 have been requested to enter some type of float in the parade.

Time for the parade was not definitely set early this week, but it will likely be at 11 o'clock.

Kennedy Names 6-Year-Olds Already Listed

Names of 32 six-year-old children who will be first graders in the local elementary school next fall have been obtained to date by Superintendent Paul Kennedy in the annual school census.

"We are not certain that these 32 children are all of those who fall in that age group and who live in our school district," Kennedy explained. "If you have children who are in that age group, or if you know of any residents of the district who have children who should be included, but not listed below, please contact either me or Principal Freeman Melton Jr. at the high school."

The superintendent explained that the enumeration of children in the school census is important in that the state allotment of funds for the district is partially dependent on the enumeration. Each child missed in the census costs the district about $67 in actual state aid.

The 32 first graders of next year, whose names are already in the hands of the superintendent, are as follows: Jan Bailey, Terry Don Bidwell, Mary Joyce Boyd, Fred Burr, Johnny Carpenter, Dickie Crockett, E. B. Durham, Jimmy Edwards, Larry Gibson, Sylvia Groves, Kathy Harlan, Ray Herndon, Roy Herndon.

Linda Hindman, Jimmy Kritzer, Mabel Lee, Sandy McDowell, Betty Lou Mathews, Fred Patterson, Harlan Pool Jr., David Nicholson, Sharon Sitter, Priscilla Smart, Judy Kay Smith, Linda Smith, LaDonna Sutton, Ann Terry, Linda Tindall, Jenaffa Turner, Gary Dale Turner, Kelly Voyles, and Eddie Windom.

Rev. and Mrs. Leo McDonald and children of Fort Worth, who have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McDonald, left Wednesday for Newport, R. I., where Rev. McDonald will attend chaplain's school.

Easter Observances Planned

The observance of a 50th anniversary of a church, and the beginning of two revival meetings will highlight Easter activities in the area churches.

Briefly, here are scheduled activities. Heald Methodist Church: Celebrating its 50th anniversary of service, the Heald Methodist Church will have an all-day session.

Following the morning services, an old-fashioned dinner-on-the-ground is planned. "Just visiting" will be the main feature of the afternoon. A large crowd of present and former members of the church is expected to attend.

song leader, and Mrs. Joyce Haynes the organist. Week-day morning services will begin at 10 o'clock, and evening services at 7:30. Mrs. Johnson will lead youth meetings each week day at 6:30 o'clock.

The meeting will be preceded by a candlelight communion service Friday night, the local pastor said. An Easter egg hunt for the children will be held Saturday afternoon, and the youth of the church will have a sacrificial supper Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Morning services during the week will commence at 9:45 o'clock, and evening services at 7:30 o'clock. Sunday evening services will be at 7 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Beyer of Chillicothe, who will deliver his first message to the Kellerville congregation Monday night.

Three to Be Chosen as Trustees

Voters of the McLean Independent School District will choose three members of the school board at the annual election to be held Saturday.

The polling place in the City Hall will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening.

Five men are listed as candidates for the three places. Drawings for places on the ballot were held last week, and they will be listed as follows: Clyde H.

Andrews, Miro Pagan, E. J. Windom Jr., June Woods, and Bill R. Cash.

Andrews is a member of the board at the present time, and is the only one of the five seeking re-election. His term, along with that of Guy Beasley, expires this year, and Beasley did not choose to run again.

Absentee voting began last

Friday in the office of Charlie Thut, county clerk, in Pampa, but no report on the number of votes cast, if any, was available.

No great amount of interest in the school election has been shown to date. The number of ballots cast will likely be smaller than that of last year, since many prospective voters failed to pay their poll taxes.

this year, as far as is known. The recent building program has been completed, and the school affairs have been proceeding nicely with a very small amount of dissension being heard.

The ballots are again printed so that a voter may designate his three choices by placing an "x" in a small square alongside the candidate's names. It is still legal, however, for voters to scratch out the candidates for whom they do not wish to vote.

Five City Officials to Be Elected

Five city officials will be chosen to serve the city during the coming two years, when voters go to the polls Tuesday of next week. Balloting will be held in the City Hall between 8 o'clock in the morning and 7 o'clock in the evening.

Outcome of four different races is to be determined, with only one race having candidates with no opposition.

C. P. Callahan and Ruel Smith, both of whom are now members of the city council and whose terms expire this year, are the only two men seeking the posts of aldermen, and consequently are the only candidates for city offices without opposition.

Pitted against E. J. Lander for the mayor's office is Miss Ruby

Cook. Miss Cook is the first woman ever to seek the office of mayor since McLean was incorporated as a town. She was a candidate for the city council last year, but was defeated.

In the race for city secretary are D. A. Davis, present officeholder; and C. S. Rice, former justice of the peace.

which pays no salary—attracted the most candidates. John Sparks, present marshal, is being opposed by C. L. Gentry and Ike Keese. Luke Armstrong announced for the office, but withdrew his name before the deadline for withdrawing.

E. L. Cubine will serve as the election judge, and will select two assistants to aid him.

Order to Stop Curb Pouring Goes Unserved

A temporary restraining order, signed by District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich and designed to block pouring of the curbing on a portion of the south lane of Highway 66 through McLean for a short time, was brought to McLean Monday but never served.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan brought the papers to McLean to be served, but was ordered to withhold the serving of the papers before he had a chance to present them to the defendants in the temporary injunction.

The injunction was sought by G. K. Howell and Buel Watt, who operate service stations in McLean. Named as defendants were G. K. Reading of Pampa, state highway department resident engineer, the Austin Road company, the Worth Construction company, and the City of McLean.

The petition alleged the contractors were preparing to run curbs around the intersection of the highway and the side streets, which would block off their service station driveways to potential customers.

Senior Day— ON APRIL FOOL

Just in case you didn't find it out through some other means, Wednesday was April Fools Day.

The day of jesters actually meant little to a lot of people, but it meant a lot in the local schools—particularly to the members of the McLean High School senior class.

Each year, the seniors get April 1 off from their school duties, but they make up for the time off by obtaining jobs at the various businesses downtown.

Little Billy Webb Knew What to Do— Now He's a Hero

Wanted: One medal to be presented to a very young fellow who deserves it.

The youngster is Billy Webb, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Felton Webb. He earned one Sunday morning.

Little Billy's brother, age one, year, fell into the watering trough. Billy, in his own words, "grabbed him where he crosses (overall straps) and pulled hard." Then Billy reported the accident to his mother, explaining that her baby was dripping wet and crying hard.

Billy knew what to do. You see, he fell into the water tank just a year ago himself.

BIRTHDAYS April 5—Shirlene Guthrie, Mrs. Bob James, Lewis Kirk Webb.

April 6—Mrs. Mary E. Harlan, Mrs. Jack Bailey, Mrs. W. E. Green, Doris Jean Dorsey.

April 7—Eue Glass, James E. Corbin, Elmer Gudgel.

April 10—Mrs. C. O. Goodman, Mrs. B. E. Glass, Mrs. Charles Williams, B. T. Watt, J. E. Smith, Cleo Heasley, Jerry Bybee, Mrs. C. B. Lee Jr.

Two Booster Trips Planned To Publicize Legion's Rodeo

Two booster trips will be held in connection with the coming American Legion rodeo, J. C.

Claborn, chairman of the booster trips, has announced.

The two trips will be held on Saturday, April 11, and Monday, April 13. Claborn explained, preceding the three-performance rodeo which is scheduled for April 17, 18, and 19.

The trip Saturday, April 11, will include stops in Groom, Claude, Clarendon, Hedley, Memphis, Childress, Wellington, and Shamrock.

The Monday trip will send the boosters to Conway, Panhandle, White Deer, Pampa, Miami, Canadian, and Wheeler. Both caravans are scheduled to leave McLean at 8 o'clock in the morning.

"We want as many cars as possible to make the trips with us," Claborn said. "The high school band will make one of the trips with us, and the Sunset Ramblers will make the other."

Meanwhile, plans for the celebration are taking shape rapidly. Another Legion working party spent most of Sunday afternoon doing more preliminary work on the area grounds, and the fences for the affair have now all been erected.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the parade Saturday morning, the pioneers' reunion Saturday, and an old fiddlers' contest Saturday afternoon rodeo performance.

Rodeo shows will be held Friday night, Saturday afternoon, and Sunday afternoon, April 17, 18, and 19. Two dances are scheduled at the Legion Hall, for Friday and Saturday nights, with music by Emmett Allen and the Sunset Ramblers.

Gray County Cancer Crusade Gets Underway

The Gray County Cancer Crusade, a campaign to raise funds for the American Cancer Society, got underway in McLean Wednesday.

Mrs. S. A. Cousins, co-chairman for the local area, announced.

Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Cousins are working with Mrs. Howard Patton of Pampa, county chairman of the drive.

The county goal is $2,561, Mrs. Patton said. However, no definite portion of this amount has been set as McLean's quota.

Containers have been placed in various business houses throughout town, in which donations to the society may be dropped. No personal solicitation of funds is planned, although several money-raising activities will be held to aid in raising the county's quota.

The drive is being sponsored in Gray County by the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club, and the organization enlisted the aid of Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Cousins in McLean.

Money raised is used by the American Cancer Society in its never-ending fight against the disease. Of the money, 26 per cent is spent on research; 16 per cent on service; 37 per cent on education; 12 per cent on the cancer crusade, and 9 per cent on administration.

Twenty-one guns constitute a presidential salute.

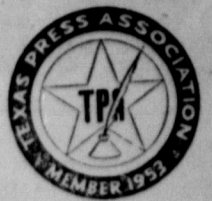

Installation of Jaycee Officers To Be Held Next Monday Night

New officers of the McLean Junior Chamber of Commerce, to serve until April 1, 1954, will be installed at a covered dish dinner at the American Legion Hall Monday night, April 6.

Jaycee members, associate members, and their wives will enjoy the installation of officers, to be followed by an evening of fellowship.

Installing official will be Howard Horne of Panhandle, a former McLean resident who was instrumental in organizing the local Jaycee chapter two years ago. Installation ceremonies will be held immediately after the dinner.

Following the ceremonies, various games will be played by those attending. Jimmie Don Morris will be installed as president; Larry Fuller, first vice president; Johnny Haynes, second vice president; Larry Sutton, treasurer; Johnnie

Bring Your Trees

At a called meeting of the town council on Tuesday afternoon of this week, the matter of planting trees in the city park was discussed and it was decided to set Saturday, March 29, as tree set day. The grounds will be prepared by that time. A competent man will be in charge to oversee the work of setting the trees out.

It is desired to set the three remaining blocks in locust and other shade ornamental trees, and all public spirited citizens who will give trees for this purpose are earnestly requested to have them on the day mentioned. This pretty tract of ground can be made the beauty spot of our little city with small effort and expense and it shall be the policy of the present council to foster this enterprise and do all within their power to add every improvement that will make for its beautification.

Editorial

THE BIG CHANGE

IN HIS VERY successful recent book, "The Big Change," Frederick Lewis Allen, long-time editor of Harper's magazine and a popular historian of high standing, observes that the American people believe "that we have demonstrated that business can be far more resourcefully and vigorously run by private managers; and, furthermore, that the private managers can run most of it if not all of it with such consideration for the general public welfare that they can achieve for us all that government ownership would bring, plus the efficiency, flexibility and adventurousness which government ownership would jeopardize—and without the danger of tyranny that government ownership might invite. In short, there is a subconscious agreement among the vast majority of Americans that the United States is not evolving toward socialism, but past socialism."

A short time ago, the best known and most respected Socialist in the United States, Norman Thomas, published a pamphlet entitled "Democratic Socialism—a New Appraisal." In this brief but significant work, Mr. Thomas said that if the state owned all industry—which is the old goal of the classical Socialists—a top-heavy bureaucracy would result. He said that the traditional program demanding complete state ownership of the means of production is no longer feasible and added, "We have learned that it is possible, to a degree not anticipated by most earlier Socialists, to impose desirable social controls on privately owned enterprise by the development of social planning, by proper taxation and labor legislation, and by the growth of powerful labor organizations." He then pointed out that socialism has been a political failure so far as attracting any large number of voters is concerned. This is demonstrably true. In 1912, Socialist candidate Eugene Debs rolled up some 900,000 votes. In 1948, Mr. Thomas, making the last of his six campaigns on the Socialist ticket, gathered only 139,000, even though the total vote then was much larger than in the earlier year.

The last election certainly drove another nail into the Socialist coffin in this country. Governor Stevenson, of course, did not run as a friend of socialism, but he was the inheritor of policies and programs which many people regard as being definitely socialistic. Virtually all such policies and programs were made targets by General Eisenhower, and it can hardly be denied that his stand on these contributed to his landslide win.

Obviously, what has happened is that both business and the public's attitude toward business have changed a great deal more in the last half-century or so than some of us seem to realize, or are willing to admit. Many of the greatest businesses used to be owned lock, stock and barrel by one man or a few men. Now, with very few exceptions, the ownership of businesses of substantial size is widespread, and the administration is in the hands of hired managers. This was the result of what has been vividly termed "the managerial revolution." That revolution made business far more productive and efficient than was formerly the case. Equally important, it brought a new concept of social responsibility and consciousness to business. This concept came in part from within, and in part it was imposed from without through laws and regulations and the sheer weight of public opinion. But, regardless of its origin, it exists.

LES TALK

By LESTER

This week I will let you off pleasantly and just repeat a number of jokes. No doubt you will enjoy it more anyway.

A young boy answering a butcher's "want ad" was asked, "Can you dress a chicken?"
"Gosh," said the boy, "not on three dollars a week."

New Clerk: What do you do when a customer forgets his or her change?
Boss: You tap on the counter with a dollar bill.

If you think you're going to be happy and prosperous by sitting back and letting the government take care of you—take a look at the American Indians!

The food faddist was lecturing the Lions club on the evils of modern diet and became vehement about it. According to him, practically everything that most people ate or drank was little short of poison. At last he singled out a bored member in the front row and demanded, "Can you tell me, sir, what most of us eat at some time and which is the worst possible thing for us?"
Without hesitation, the bored member granted, "Wedding cake."

Mrs.: "I suspect my husband of having a love affair with his stenographer."
Maid: "Oh, you're just saying that to make me jealous."

The conscientious father was dispensing advice to his son who was about to be married.
"Cooperation is the foundation of successful marriage," pop said solemnly. "You must do things together. For instance, if your wife wants to go for a walk, go for a walk with her. If she wants to go to the movies, go to the movies with her. If she wants to do the dishes, do the dishes with her."

The son listened dutifully and then asked, "Suppose she wants to mop the floor?"
They were on their honeymoon and the groom gave the porter a dollar not to tell anyone they were bride and groom. At breakfast the next morning everyone stared. The groom called the porter and asked, "Did you tell anyone on the train we were just married?"
"No, suh," replied the porter, "I told 'em you'all was single."

The young fellow dreamed every night that he was playing baseball and was the star of the game and every time he came to bat he would smack out either a three bagger or a home run. This dream continued each night for some time until he finally became somewhat alarmed and decided to see a psychiatrist. After listening to the young man's story of his odd nightly dreams, the doctor replied, "This is very strange, but I think it can easily be remedied. Tonight when you go to bed, why don't you close your eyes and imagine that you are holding a beautiful, luscious blonde in your arms?"
The dreamer shouted, "What! and miss my turn at bat!"

Little Boy: Teacher, I haven't any eraser.
Teacher: Use the little girl's behind.

An accounting school advertised: "Short Course in Accounting for Women."

Next day the director of the school received a note, which read: "Gentlemen: There is NO accounting for women!"

Sweet Young Thing (disgustedly): My boy friend has cold feet.

Fond Auntie: Shame on you, young lady. In my day we didn't find out such things until we were married.

"I just heard your husband's in the hospital. What's the trouble?"
"It's his knee—I found a strange woman on it."

"You are asking big pay for a man with no experience," the foreman remarked.

"Well, the work is much harder when you don't know anything about it."

"Do you have any physical defects?" the army doctor asked.
"Yes, sir!" the draftee answered promptly. "No guts."

Lady: One fare for me and a half fare for the boy.
Conductor: But that boy has on long pants.

Lady: All right. Full fare for the boy and half fare for me.

Mrs. Elton Johnston and Mrs. J. P. Alexander were in Hedley Sunday to attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pharis.

Marvin Jones of Farmington, N. M., spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Jones, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hamilton and daughter Cindy of Borger spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Custer Lowary, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Puett and children of Oklahoma City spent the week-end here in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Puett and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kramer. Mrs. Puett and children remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McElroy and children visited Sunday in Childress in the home of Mrs. D. C. Trent.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rogers and son Ricky of Amarillo visited Sunday with his mother, Mrs. T. J. Reeves.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kunkel and Mrs. E. L. Minix, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Kunkel and family of Amarillo, spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terbush at Groom.

Mrs. Walter L. Hill returned recently from a visit in Dumas in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Kirk and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Giesler and daughter of Skellytown spent the week-end here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith and family.

Mrs. Omer Smulcer and Mrs. H. J. Pettit attended the dedication of the Methodist church in Alanreed Sunday.

They laid the inert gentleman out on the station house floor. The rookie cop stood by as the doctor made his examination. "That man's been drugged," said the physician.

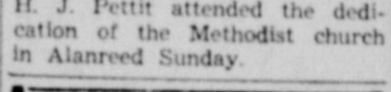

The rookie cop nervously replied, "That's right, sir, must be all my fault. I drug him six blocks."

He was one of those tourists who liked to brag about the number of miles covered in a day. As the evening wore on they passed motel after motel with the "No Vacancy" sign out. Finally, the little woman remarked, "I know we'll find one soon, dear . . . people are starting to get up."

New Way To a Colorful Kitchen

For homemakers who want their kitchens as tastefully and colorfully decorated as their living rooms, here are new matching draperies, wallpaper and decals designed by American artists especially for the kitchen. There are three designs. The one shown here is called Calico Cow. Others are Geraniums and Calory Chart. Calico is a provincial pattern by Ilonka Karasz. The main theme is carried in the drapes, with harmonizing patterns in the wallpaper and the unusual decals.

Backgrounds are in three colors, red, green or white. Each of the original designs is the basis for several color combinations, there being a total of 10 drapery patterns, six wallpapers and 22 decals. Each coordinated group brings lively color to complement the soft white finish of kitchen cabinets and appliances. To help the homemaker select a scheme to her own taste, the Youngstown Kitchens Decorator's Handbook shows actual samples of each material and shows how to use them in any kitchen.

"Just Fishin'?" Here Is a Whale of a Catch

Plank your catch of baked stuffed whitefish. Cucumbers and fish naturally team up together. Lemon wedges on cucumber slices add the special touch. You wouldn't fish for a compliment, but your catch will be excellent either in or out of the Lenten season if you serve stuffed baked fish. When your family or guests take their first "bite" of stuffing—it's cucumber stuffing—you will pull in your quota of praise. The cucumber stuffing is ideally suited to contrast the flavor of fish. And, too, it helps extend each serving, if you want to indulge in one of the more costly fish varieties.

In place of whitefish, you may select a three to four pound fish from such choices as salmon, mackerel, carp, lake trout, or swordfish. All of these fish are fairly rich in the amount of fat they contain and are best for baking as they do not dry out in the oven. If your cupboard does not boast a plank, place the stuffed fish in a glass or ceramic baking dish for oven-to-table service.

Baked Whitefish With Cucumber Stuffing
 3 cups soft 1/2" bread cubes 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup melted shortening 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/4 cup chopped cucumber 1 (3 pound) boned whitefish,
 1/4 cup chopped onion cleaned
 1 tablespoon lemon juice 1 tablespoon melted shortening
 2 tablespoons water
 Combine bread cubes, shortening, cucumber, onion, lemon juice, water, salt and pepper. Lightly stuff cavity of cleaned whitefish. Leave fish unskewered. Place in a greased baking pan or on an oiled plank. Carefully brush melted shortening over whitefish. Bake in a moderate oven (400° F.) for 40 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Baste occasionally with melted fat during baking. Garnish platter with lemon wedges set on cucumber slices.
 Yield: 6 servings.

Health Talk—NEW ARRIVAL

Parents want their children to get a good start in life. A young couple having their first baby can't be too careful, it seems, in seeing that he has the right diet, the right layette, and so on.

Teamwork of the parents will make adjustment to the newest member of the family smoother. Being the family breadwinner isn't enough for Father. His interest in the baby, which should have begun early during his wife's pregnancy, contributes to his mental health, as well as hers. It enables him to make the most of the mutual emotional attachment between him and his son or daughter and eases some of the strain brought on by the extra work and responsibility from his spouse's shoulders. Any clumsiness in handling the baby when he first begins shouldn't discourage him. It won't be long till he's a quick change artist with a diaper, head man of the nursing bottles, and a whiz at bathing the baby, and with his growing skills will come chances (made by him, if need be) for boasting about his offspring.

Father's help with household chores, as well as baby care, will be doubly appreciated by Mother while she is getting back on her feet. For a while she'll need plenty of sleep and rest and a minimum of housework and running up and down stairs. Also she'll need to follow the diet prescribed by her physician to be sure she gets the right kind and amount of food. He may advise certain exercises as well. Too many visitors may prove tiring to the mother and a source of infection for the baby.

The new mother will want seriously to consider her doctor's recommendation to nurse her baby. Because of her general health or other factors she can't control, she may not be able to, of course. However, breast milk is better than artificial milk because it is nearly always the right strength, amount, and temperature; it is perfectly clean; and it helps the baby during the nursing period to share her immunity to certain "catching" diseases. The period for which the baby may be breast fed may average as long as eight or ten months. Even while being nursed, he may need a bottle occasionally, and towards the end of the nursing period, he is gradually weaned to the bottle and the cup.

The right formula and feeding schedule is worked out by the doctor in cooperation with the parents. When the baby is small, everything used to measure, mix, and give bottle feedings must be sterilized; later, ordinary cleanliness is all that is necessary. Soon after birth, the infant begins taking sterile water several times a day at times not conflicting with the nursing schedule. Later, other items such as orange juice, cod liver oil, and cereal are added.

For a short while, how to hold the baby may worry the first-time parents. The American Red Cross teaches the three following methods in its baby care classes:

To lift the baby, grasp the feet at the ankles with one hand, placing a finger between the ankles, and lift the baby's buttocks slightly. Slip the other hand along the back and head with the fingers spread, then gently lift and shift him into your arms, still supporting the head and back.

To carry him using only one arm, lift and swing him into the crook of your arm, so that he faces you and his hip rests on yours. His head and shoulders are securely supported by your arm and outspread hand.

To hold him firmly for a tub bath, use one arm to support the back of the head and shoulders and grasp his far arm at the shoulder. With the other, support the buttocks and grasp his far leg at the thigh. Gently lower him into the water, feet first. Keep a grasp on his arm during the bath. To wash and rinse the back, shift your hold by reaching across his chest with your other hand, and grasping his far arm at the shoulder, letting him rest forward on your arm.

In handling a baby, three essential points to remember are (1) support his back and head at all times, (2) lift him gently, avoiding sudden motions, and (3) maintain a secure but gentle grasp.

Mrs. T. F. Phillips returned to her home in the Heald community Monday after a lengthy illness in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Godfrey, in McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard and daughter Joy of Lefors visited Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Crockett.

Rev. Raymond Smith of Abilene spent the week-end here in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Vergal Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith.

Dodge Dealers Lower Prices

Guy Hibler, owner of the Hibler Truck and Implement company, has revealed the details of price reductions ranging up to $302 on all 1953 Dodge passenger cars and trucks.

Hibler said the Dodge price reductions were made possible by increased availability of scarce materials. "Currently, Dodge retail sales are 50 per cent greater than during the corresponding period last year under government controls," Hibler said. "We are very pleased that the factory has seen fit to take advantage of increased production and sales, and to pass on the savings to our customers."

Hibler cited some of the typical savings. On the popular-selling Coronet V-Eight four-door sedan the prices have been reduced $135.80, while on both the luxury Coronet V-Eight Diplomat hard-top and convertible the prices have been lowered $201.80. Additional savings will be affected by lower federal excise and local taxes on the factory retail price. On some models the new prices also include as standard equipment, items previously sold as extras.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty visited in Vernon Wednesday of last week in the home of his brother, Horace M. Petty.

 is that KGNC-TV will go on with its permanent power of 100,000 watts and its 833-foot tower, about June 1.

Workers with the Austin Road company were in the process of pouring the curbing and gutters along the stretch of Highway 66 through McLean this week. The center portion of the highway on its north lane through town was completed last week. It is believed that, if the weather is favorable, the highway can be opened to traffic in about three weeks. Traffic then will be one-way through town, with the utilization of both lanes.

Local Jaycees commenced their work on rejuvenating the McLean golf course last Saturday. Fairways were marked off, and some sand for the greens was hauled in. However, the Jaycees lack considerable work before the course can be used.

So the People May Know

Texas counties are required by state law to make contracts, at least once every two years, for their printing supplies.

This provision, like others of the state publication laws, is designed to keep the business of governmental units on an open and above board basis and insure that the people get value received for tax money spent.

Here is the law relating to printing supplies:

"Art 2359. Commissioners Court—advertising for bids for supplies needed for the county.

"The commissioners court shall advertise, at least once in every two years, for sealed proposals to furnish blank books, legal blanks, stationery and other printing as may be required for the county for the term of such contract, and shall receive separate bids for the different classes hereinafter designated. Such advertisement shall be made by the county clerk, who shall notify by registered letter, each newspaper and job printing house in the county, and at least three stationery and printing houses in the state, of the time said contract is to be awarded, and of the probable amount of supplies needed."
