PRODUCTIVITY

"OUR MIRACLE of Productivity" is the title of an information bulletin issued by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Its purpose is to briefly describe what our achievements in this field have been in half a century or so, and why they were possible.

The bulletin begins with a statement of belief, in which this is said: "America's steady increase in productivity, constantly raising the standards of living, is far more able to improve the well-being of the nation than any kind of redistribution of existing wealth or income. Our productivity has increased primarily because of incentives possible only in a free economy."

The bulletin defines productivity as "the rate at which we convert work and raw materials into useful goods and services," and emphasizes that it is not the same thing as production. If a man turns out more goods by working longer, he has increased his production obviously enough, but not his productivity. The latter is increased only when a larger output results from the same or a lesser amount of effort.

Today a man can account for about three times as much output, with no more effort, than was possible in 1900. All manner of forces, the bulletin points out, enter into that gain—natural resources, science, invention, competition, managerial talent. So do better machines and tools and processes. So does more highly skilled labor. So does the American genius for selling. Still another very potent force, it observes, "is the profit motive—a powerful economizer as well as stimulant. The profit motive gives everybody incentive to make resources go farther. That is its great social significance." Then, a little later, it says: "Underlying all of these forces of productivity is human liberty. Liberty to invent, to compete, to profit and to grow. We say this combination of forces is unique in America because of this last factor—human liberty."

The concrete results of American productivity are found in shorter working weeks combined with higher living standards. Endless examples of progress could be cited. The bulletin uses as an example a commodity which almost every family uses—the automobile tire. In 1908 a tire worker earned 40 cents an hour and the cost of a tire which had a life of 2,000 miles was $35. So an hour's labor would only pay for 23 miles of use of one tire—a prohibitive figure. In 1952, the tire worker earned $2 an hour, the tire's cost had dropped to $20.35, and its life had increased to some 30,000 miles. This meant that an hour's work would pay for 2,950 miles of use of a tire—a 128-fold gain.

How can we continue to increase productivity? The bulletin answers that in this fashion: "By maintaining incentive—the hope of reward. The miracle of productivity in this country has sprung from certain basic institutions. These include privacy of property which allows a man to keep, sell, or give away what he has produced, whether it be a bushel of apples or a new idea; freedom of markets from government control or from monopoly so that private initiative can determine how much of what is to be produced, where and when it shall be sold, and at what price; and, finally, sanctity of contract."

Jimmy Garland of Clarendon was a week-end visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Beck and family.

Mrs. Opal Sechler of Boise City, Okla., visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Callahan and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Callahan.

Mrs. E. B. Reeves and sons of Bell Gardens, Calif., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cousins this week.

LES TALK

By LESTER

It's a good thing there can't be two run-off primaries. No telling what Shivers and Yarborough would think up to say about one another if they had to go through another campaign when this one is over.

Which all goes to prove: if you want to find out how sorry a life you have lived, just run for some public office.

C. P. Hamilton, whose place is south of Alanreed, said he got rain August 7, and so did Horace Brooks. Brooks said the rain was about the same at White Deer as it was here. Also at Groom. Glad to know that that rain was fairly general over a large area. The thundershowers are fine where they land, but too often they are too spotted to do many people any good.

Perhaps you aren't aware of it, but one of our organizations in town is getting in a bad way. By that I mean the organization of members is about to fall completely apart.

I refer to the Floyd-Corbini-Florey Post 315, American Legion.

For quite a number of months now, the still-remaining members have experienced much difficulty in getting others to attend the meetings. Then along came the bad-weather rodeo, and the Legion lost money on the activity. Not a great deal of money, but some. And the Legion simply didn't have any to spare.

The latest jolt came when O. L. Barr moved to Amarillo, and resigned as commander of the post. So far there is no active commander to take his place. No member seems to want to shoulder the burden.

At the present time, the post is very low on funds—at least, that's my understanding of the matter.

In other words, the organization is just about on its last legs—unless some person or persons become actively interested in keeping it on a going basis.

Frankly, I want the Legion to remain. There are things about the organization I don't like, just as there are things about nearly every organization I know of that I don't like.

But the local post does do quite a bit of good. One of its more important functions is keeping up the hall, which can be rented for public occasions. In other words, this one function alone—that of maintaining a hall which can be used for public affairs—is worth a great deal to the community.

If the Legion should fold up, I suppose the hall would be sold. Just what it would be used for, I have no idea—but some person might want it for the construction of an apartment house, if nothing else.

Of course, the Legion does other good things—the annual Christmas party for the youngsters, the annual sponsorship of the rodeo, sending of a boy to Boys State, etc., etc. The national Legion organization, which wouldn't be there if it weren't for the local posts, does much work, especially for what the Legion feels is best for the veterans.

So we need to keep the Legion on its feet, both locally and nationally.

In this area, there are several hundred veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean war. Yet the post has only about 40 paid-up members.

It seems a shame, doesn't it, that out of that many veterans there aren't enough interested to keep the post alive.

The time is now to re-activate it. It cannot exist as it is much longer. All citizens should pitch in and help keep it going—and all of you can help. If you are a veteran, see that you, yourself, do something. If you aren't a veteran, you can influence a veteran to do something.

Let's not let the local post die. If we do, the soreheads have really won this fight.

Guess not many women are interested in organizing that Business and Professional Women's Club. Oh, well, it was a good idea, anyway.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me, I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

Be sure you get the best of these big 4

1 price

Take a look at what you pay and what you get. You'll see that Chevrolet has more for you and asks less from you. It's priced below all other lines of cars. Chevrolet builds the most cars—and can build them better to sell for less!

2 economy

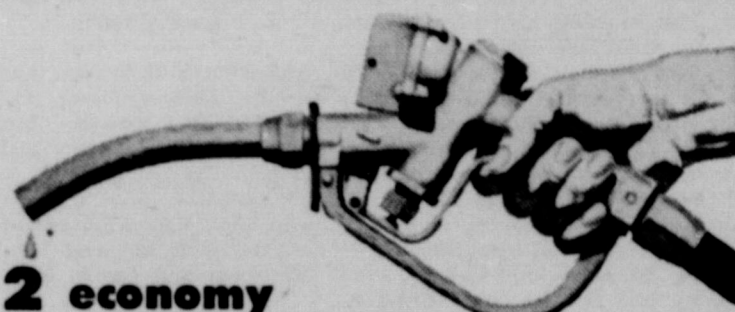

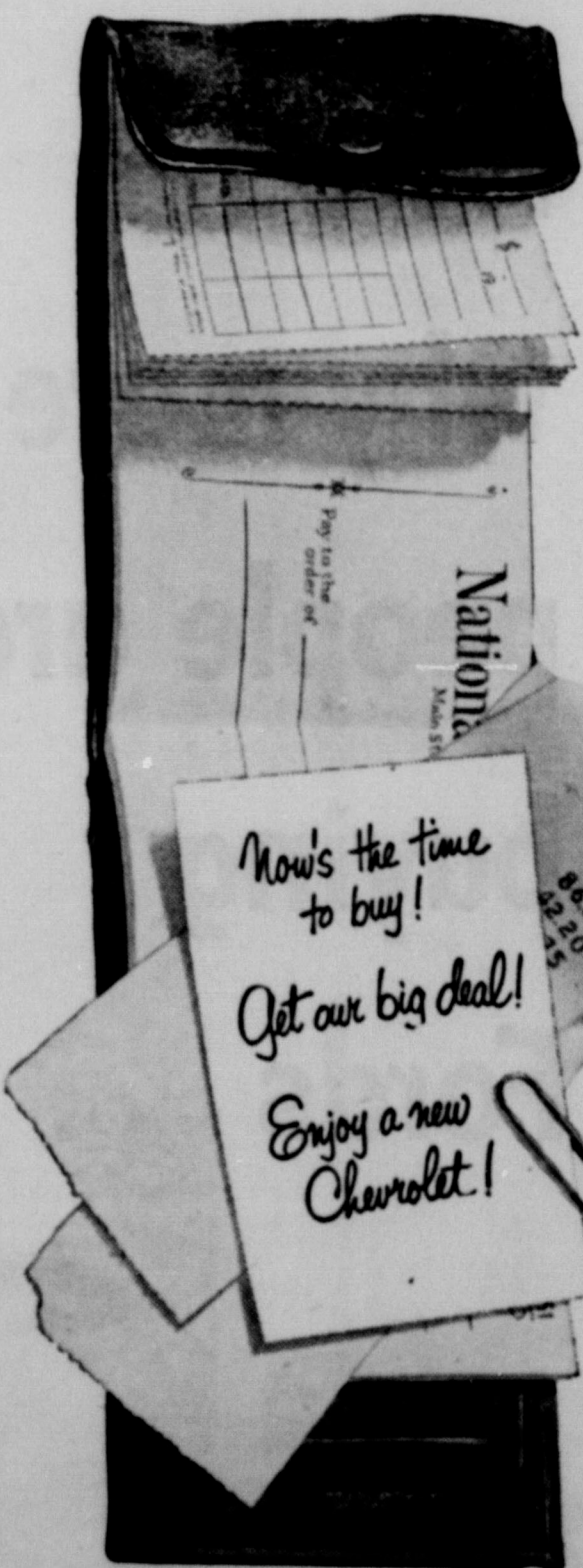

What's it going to cost to keep that new car in gasoline? In oil? What about service and repairs? Check into it and you'll find that Chevrolet has the greatest name of all for keeping upkeep costs down over all the miles you drive.

3 performance

Do you want livelier, smoother performance on less gas? Then be sure your new car has modern high-compression power. That's just what Chevrolet gives you—the highest-compression power of any leading low-priced car.

4 appearance

You, of course, are the only one who can decide which car looks the best to you. But you might well consider this: Chevrolet's the only one in the low-price field with the smooth lines and graceful beauty of Body by Fisher.

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan

Other low-priced cars don't offer these advantages. Chevrolet does!

Biggest Brakes
Smoother, safer stops with less pedal pressure! That's what Chevrolet gives you with the largest brakes in the low-price field.

Highest-Compression Power
You get finer performance—and important gasoline savings, too—with the highest-compression power of any leading low-priced car!

Fisher Body Quality
You get smarter, smoother styling—greater comfort, safety and quality—with this only low-priced car with world-famous Body by Fisher.

Safety Plate Glass
No other low-priced car gives you the finer visibility of safety plate glass in windshield and all windows of sedans and coupes!

Famed Knee-Action Ride
Chevrolet gives you the only Unitized Knee-Action on any low-priced car—one important reason for Chevrolet's finer big-car ride!

Full-Length Box-Girder Frame

Sunday School Gives Banquet
One of the largest and most successful social events of the season was staged at the Hindman Hotel Tuesday of this week when the officers and members of the Presbyterian Sunday school entertained the public with a dinner.

There were a hundred or more guests present and the menu that was set before them could not have been more tempting, as quantity, quality and variety were equally prominent in its preparation.

The spacious dining room afforded room for some of the tables and the others were set on the vine-clad veranda where the surrounding beauty of nature's living green added the final touch to the prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. Hindman were most helpful in their hospitality, and with the assistance of the good ladies of the Presbyterian Sunday school they have made for themselves a warm spot in the hearts of every guest who enjoyed this most splendid banquet.

The dinner was the outcome of a membership contest inaugurated by the officers of the Sunday school. There was an imaginative trip to Palestine on two ships; the Mauriatania and the Carotania left the United States at the same time, one under the command of Mrs. S. B. Fast and the other under the command of Mrs. W. H. Holt. Each new pupil secured for the Sunday school added so many miles to the journey of the ship on which he registered, and the consequent increase in attendance was most pleasing.

The Larcitania under the direction of Mrs. Holt, was the first to arrive, and in consequence Mrs. Fast was the principal hostess at the banquet.

Series of Parties
Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kibler, assisted by their daughter, Miss Irma, entertained a large crowd of young people at their home Thursday evening of last week in honor of their niece, Miss Ethel McGee, who was visiting them from Fort Worth.

The evening was most delightfully spent in the enjoyment of various games. Refreshments of cake and sherbet, augmented by a veritable feast of watermelon, were indulged in to the delight of all present. There were in the neighborhood of 40 guests.

On Friday evening of last week a large party of young people enjoyed an entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Jordan west of town. A feast of watermelon, ice cream, and cake made the affair doubly pleasing.

Saturday evening of last week the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Drake was thrown open to a large party of young people.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Foster entertained their young friends with a party Tuesday evening.

On Wednesday evening a large crowd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wolfe and enjoyed several hours of merry-making.

AUGUST 24 IS DEADLINE TO VOTE ABSENTEE

Absentee voting began Monday for the Democratic run-off election, and vacationing Texans and invalids who will be unable to go to the polls August 28 have begun requesting absentee ballots from their county clerk's office.

Voters have from now until August 24 to cast absentee ballots.

According to the secretary of state's office, those eligible to vote absentee are those who are ill or disabled, or who expect to be out of town on election day. There is no fee for voting absentee.

Persons entitled to vote absentee may do so either by going in person to the county clerk's office or by mailing their request to the county clerk.

In both instances the application for a ballot must be in writing and signed by the voter. If the voter is physically unable to write, the application may be signed by someone else at the voter's request.

A written request for an absentee ballot must be accompanied by the voter's poll tax receipt or exemption certificate, or by a sworn statement witnessed by a notary public that he has lost or mislaid his receipt or certificate.

In voting by mail, the ballot must be marked in the presence of a notary public.

Absentee voters who are ill or physically disabled must accompany their application for a ballot with a statement from a physician certifying to their sickness or physical disability.

Voters who were 60 years of age prior to January 1, 1953, and who do not live in a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more are not required to have either a poll tax receipt or an exemption certificate. Such persons should state in their application for a ballot that they are exempt due to their age.

Absentee voting began Monday in most counties, immediately following the certification by the state Democratic executive committee of the votes cast in the July primary.

Some counties do not print second primary ballots until the committee's certification is made, and will not begin absentee voting until the middle of this week when printed ballots are ready. The majority of counties usually take it for granted that the first primary votes will be unquestioned, and print ballots for the second primary in advance of the committee meeting so that absentee voting may begin immediately following certification.

Sweating Causes Great Salt Loss, Doctor Points Out

There is little doubt that summer is here. If you don't think so, take a quick look at your thermometer or feel your shirt or blouse—chances are that it will be wet and salty with sweat.

Excessive sweating means the loss of body salt, and Dr. Henry A. Holle, state health officer, advises the use of salt in drinking water as a means of avoiding heat cramps.

"Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat," says Dr. Holle. "On days when the thermometer goes to 90 degrees or above, as it has recently, the body may lose as much as fifty grams of salt. Laborers, farmers, and even white-collar workers should be especially watchful of heat cramps."

Heat cramps are characterized by pains in the stomach, headaches, and sometimes nausea and vomiting. The danger comes because the loss of salt may occur without the knowledge of the individual until the deficiency causes cramps or heat fag.

Salt tablets may be purchased commercially. If they are not available, a pinch of table salt will serve the same purpose. "Since milk contains more salt than water, drinking milk is an excellent method of replacing body salt lost through perspiration," Dr. Holle says.

RAIN CHASER

This smart and trim all-purpose trench coat is made of Galey and Lord's combed cotton gabardine which is vat dyed and treated for durable water and spot repellency. The coat has a plaid lining, full belt, and an outside scalloped back yoke which affords additional rain protection.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ivey and son Bill of Portland, Oreg., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ivey and son Jimmy of Holly, Colo., and Mrs. Floyd Gathin of Highmore, S. D., have been visiting with their mother, Mrs. Jennie Ivey, who is critically ill at Highland General Hospital in Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Petty and grandson, Vernon Kennedy, were in Pampa on business Monday.

Mrs. George Bailey suffered a broken arm last Friday evening when she fell from the bucket she was using as a seat while milking a cow. The bucket was resting on an incline, and the cow kicked, dislodging Mrs. Bailey. Apparently the arm was broken when Mrs. Bailey fell.

NEW OIL POOL IN NORTH GRAY IS DISCOVERED

A new oil pool in Gray County seemed to be assured Monday. The new well is located about 16 miles east of Pampa in Section 110, Block M-2, B&SF Survey.

The Phillips Petroleum company Delph No. 1 flowed at the rate of 75-80 barrels of oil per hour on a drillstem test Monday morning after the operator had cored an additional five feet Sunday to a total depth of 9,565 feet. The wildcat Saturday morning had tested between total depth of 9,560 to 9,548 and recovered 190 barrels of gravity oil.

The Monday test, according to Phillips Tool Pusher Gene Alleman, was made with packer set at 9,563, making the section tested below the zone previously tried. The flow was from the packed-off bottom two feet of hole, previously identified as in the Pennsylvania granite wash.

With tool open two hours, Alleman said total recovered on the DST was 120 barrels of oil with no water. Flowing pressure was 2,700 psi. Bottom hole pressure was 3,750 psi. Gas surfaced in 25 minutes and oil flowed in 49 minutes. The flow of 120 barrels lasted one hour and 11 minutes before tool was closed.

The new discovery is 15 miles east and two miles north of Pampa. It is six miles south and three miles east of nearest production, in Quiduno Field in Roberts County.

Let the Record Speak for Itself A REPORT to the PEOPLE of GRAY COUNTY

from J. B. MAGUIRE, JR.

seeking a SECOND TERM as COUNTY JUDGE

CRIMINAL CASES

It took two years for the previous judge to dispose of 78.6% of the cases filed and docketed. In only 18 months Maguire has disposed of 84% of the cases and has collected $22,473.47 in fines and court costs.

SCHOOL LAND MINERALS

In 1953, Maguire's administration leased school land minerals that brought $79,068.13 in revenue. In 1951, the previous administration's land leasing yielded ONLY $4,312.50.

PROGRESS

Maguire stands for PROGRESS for a GREATER Gray County. His record shows new roads, new bridges, repairs to courthouse, dual purpose barn, and other progressive steps, all accomplished WITHOUT raising taxes.

OPEN DOOR SESSIONS

J. B. Maguire, Jr., holds ONLY open door sessions. Every decision and every act is a matter of public record, open for inspection at any time in the County Clerk's office.

ECONOMY

Maguire's 1954 budget showed a SAVING of more than $14,000.00 over the budget prepared by the previous judge.

WELFARE

The previous judge spent $1,586.00 in administrative costs to disburse $10,270.58 to 115 persons. Maguire spent only $3,209.00 to disburse $11,385.08 to 132 needy persons.
