

Subcommittee Hearing Delegate Tests In Chicago

Debate Is Opened To Reporters, TV

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP)—Bitterly contesting delegations from Texas began their fight to be seated at the Democratic national convention today by trading charges of "bolters" and "slanderers."

At stake are 52 convention votes. And at issue is whether Texas will cast its lot with the eventual nominee of the convention or keep itself in a position to support an "anti-Fair Deal" candidate.

Defending his claim to head the Lone Star State's delegation as the choice of the "regular" party in Texas, Gov. Allan Shivers said the contesting faction "got beat by about 95 per cent of the voters."

Shivers said the party "Loyalists" led by former New Deal Rep. Maury Maverick, therefore had based its campaign on "personal abuse, slander and vilification."

Maverick had opened the case for the "Loyalists" by branding the Shivers faction a bunch of "Republicans, Dixiecrats, bolters."

Television and other cameras were trained on the scene before a credentials subcommittee of the Democratic national committee as it got down belatedly to the business of deciding two red-hot delegate contests.

Spokesman for the anti-New Deal "regular" faction led by Gov. Allan Shivers, were to have their say later.

The contest—and another involving Mississippi's 18 convention votes—grew out of the refusal of the regular Democrats in both states to pledge their loyalty to the Democratic nominee, whoever he might be. Their fear was that the convention might pick a "fair Deal" supporter who would go down the line for President Truman's civil rights program.

Maverick took note of the race issue which underlies the contest. He told the committee his delegation represented Democrats of all colors and was the first from Texas ever to include Negroes and Latin-Americans in its membership, and that the Shivers delegation does not.

"We are for the national Democratic Party, we always have been and always will be," Maverick said.

"We are not bolters, we are Democrats. Nowhere in the proceedings of their convention is there a good word for the national Democratic party. This group that opposes us is a group of separatists. They have been Republicans, Dixiecrats, bolters, and will not take the pledge."

"In 1944 our state convention adopted the loyalty pledge. It is as valid today as it was then. They talk about majority rule and overwhelming majorities, but if 10,000 of them came in we would still be the Democratic Party in Texas."

John Cofer, a tall, bald-headed attorney from Austin, took the stand after Maverick. He said the Shivers group stresses "white supremacy." He said the regulars had gone all the way back to 1840 to take its stand.

Referring to the party's slavery position that year, Cofer declared: "That platform of 1840 brought us to a great national tragedy. My grandfathers fought in that (Civil) war, and I have often said it's an example of brave men fighting for a cause that was fundamentally wrong."

In stressing the "white supremacy" theme, Cofer said it is part of what he called a conspiracy in the South involving Shivers, Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina, and others.

Steel Seizure Is Considered At White House

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—The White House was reported today to be seriously considering a plan to seize part of the strike-bound steel industry under the Selective Service Act.

This word came from a high administrative source who said Justice Department attorneys were instructed yesterday afternoon to prepare papers leading to possible partial seizure of the industry.

The critical situation which has resulted from the 47-day steel strike was disclosed yesterday at a White House meeting, presided over by Acting Defense Mobilizer John R. Steelman.

The Selective Service Act gives the President power to seize only plants which fail to produce under direct contract with procurement agencies.

The act says that "if any such producer of steel or the responsible head or heads there of refuses to comply with such requirement, the President, through the Secretary of Defense, is authorized to take immediate possession of the plants of such producer."

President Truman seized the entire steel industry last April 8, but on June 2 the Supreme Court ruled that he lacked authority to do so and ordered the mills returned to private ownership. The April 8 seizure was based on no specific law but rather on what the Justice Department said were the President's inherent Constitutional powers.

Former Solicitor General Philip Perlman told both the District and Supreme Courts in the seizure case that the government had considered seizure under the Selective Service Act but had decided the method was too cumbersome and too difficult to pursue.

At yesterday's White House meeting, in addition to Steelman, were Munitions Board Chairman Authority Chief Henry H. Fowler, Steelman's Manpower Chief Arthur Fleming and other high officials.

The official who told of the new seizure plan declined to be quoted by name.

The report came as officials declined either to confirm or deny rumors that a secret settlement had been reached to the dispute.

Glasscock Area Gets Showers

GARDEN CITY, July 18—Showers played hop and skip across Glasscock County Thursday.

The rain here measured half an inch. At the Charles Cox ranch in Western Glasscock the precipitation was gauged at a quarter of an inch. Sam Ratliff, 15 miles west, reported a shower.

There were no reports north of town and south of here there were only showers. The Currie ranch east of here had light showers.

There was a strip four miles southwest of Garden City which combined Wednesday and Thursday afternoon showers for a total of an inch moisture. Carl Hightower, seven miles south, had good showers Wednesday afternoon, ranging up to half an inch on part of the pastures.

Two Big Spring Men Face Cattle Smuggling Charge

EL PASO, July 18—Six West Texans, including two from Big Spring, have been charged with conspiracy to smuggle cattle out of Mexico. The complaint was lodged here yesterday before U.S. Commissioner Henry Clifton.

Holvey Williamson, assistant U.S. district attorney, said charges were filed after investigation of what he called the largest cattle smuggling operation in the Southwest since the foot-and-mouth disease ban went into effect. He said others may be charged. Although Williamson continued, most of the cattle were channeled into Midland and San Angelo sales rings, the alleged ring extended into Oklahoma.

Named defendants were Walter D. (Dixie) Babb; his brother, Irvin Babb; their brother-in-law, Tom E. Grubb, all Sierra Blanca ranchers; J. T. Marchant, Midland cattle buyer; and Fred Wilkerson and Leonard Wilkerson, Big Spring cattle truckers.

The complaint alleges a conspiracy starting last Oct. 1 to bring in the Mexican cattle. It charges that on Nov. 29, a total of 233 head of cattle were hauled in trucks by the defendants, acting together, from the Babb ranch to Midland. On April 24, 1952, the defendants are accused of having hauled 80 head from the Babb Ranch to San Angelo.

Custom officials said more than 200 of the animals have been seized and destroyed. The investigation indicated that more cattle not yet seized have been brought in to the U.S. The information in the case is to be presented to the next federal grand jury meeting in El Paso on Oct. 6.

Attack In Rain Fruitless As UN Holds Hill

By GEORGE McARTHUR

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A tank supported Communist battalion attacked through drenching rains today in a fruitless effort to push Allied soldiers off battle scarred "Old Baldy" hill on the Korean Western Front.

About 700 Communist troops hit the strategic slope west of Chorwon after a deafening preparatory barrage from Red mortars and field guns.

Allied reinforcements scrambled up the slippery hill shortly after the battle began.

The Red guns opened up on "Old Baldy" last night and 40 minutes later Communist troops assaulted the height. Then high velocity fire from Communist tank guns raked the hill.

United Nations tanks answered and at least one of the Red armored vehicles was set afire.

The Red tanks pulled out of the fight shortly after midnight. However, the Communists did not give up the assault until 3:45 a.m.

The fighting was in a slight depression in more than a week of routine action across the front.

Cloudy weather grounded most Allied warplanes today.

Action on the Central Front yesterday increased sharply, with more than 25 patrol clashes reported from the Hantan River east to Kumsonng.

One allied patrol pushing into the old Red Iron Triangle assembly area on the Central Front left a trail of Communist dead from four separate skirmishes. The patrol counted 46 dead Communists and 36 wounded. Estimates of casualties put the figure of dead Communists at 83 and 90 wounded.

Three Injured In Car Crash

STERLING CITY, July 18—Three persons were hospitalized following a head-on collision on U.S. 87 six miles southeast of here at 3:45 p.m. Thursday.

J. J. Elliott, 52, Midland, driver of a westbound 1949 car, suffered cuts and abrasions. He was under treatment here.

Robert E. Main, 25, Clarendon, had possible neck injuries. William Thomas, brother-in-law of Main and passenger in the Main 1939 car, had probable concussion. Mrs. Madeline Main, 19, wife of Robert Main, escape with minor cuts and bruises.

Sheriff W. O. Green, Deputy Bill Brooks, joined by T. P. Jones, highway patrolman out of San Angelo, investigated the mishap. They said that the Elliott car apparently skidded almost broadside along the highway after sliding into a guard railing on the side of the road. Main, bound east, was unable to get out of the path of the other car, they said.

Two Burned Fatally In Pipeline Fire Thursday

Two men died Thursday as the result of an explosion and fire on a pipeline in Northeast Martin County.

Killed instantly when a plow blade apparently ruptured a pipeline was W. R. (Bill) Oaks, 50, Ackerly, driver of the caterpillar tractor. J. I. (Isiah) Brown, 58, owner of the farm in the Flower Grove community 30 miles northwest of here, died of burns at 3 p.m. in a Lamesa hospital, four hours after the blast and flames shown above in the photograph by Leonard Hartley.

Resting well in the Cowper Hospital here was Abjandro Casares, Latin-American farm laborer who was near the spot. He sustained burns about the arms and the back of the neck. His injuries were not serious, according to reports.

Oaks was either blown or jumped from the tractor when the blast took place. His body was a short distance removed from the actual flames. It was 4:30 p.m., however, before the charred remains could be removed because of intense heat.

Brown was standing about 75 feet from the point of the explosion. He did not lose consciousness.

The tractor, with its power lift up, continued on its way and had lumbered a distance of about a mile and a half before some men overtook and halted it. The machine had rolled through two fences.

Al Terrill, Colorado City, district manager for Shell Pipeline Company, said that the line was a 6-inch carrier from Denver City to the Westbrook station. It was used to transport gasoline in March and had not been in use since then. The line, which was dug up, reconditioned and re-welded in 1945 and marked along the route, was buried 24 inches or 18 inches from top of the pipe. The fire burned itself out about midnight Thursday, Terrill reported.

Efforts to extinguish the fire proved futile at first. At 2 p.m. three truck loads of water had been played on the flames without any visible effect.

The line, ripped out of the ground for a short distance by force of the blast, was broken in three places. Most of the time, however, fire billowed only from the apparent point of contact with the tractor rig. Flames occasionally danced to the other places.

Oaks had been using a grubbing unit on the tractor to clear an adjoining field. He had moved into the field to clear some shinnery and brush along the turnrow area when suddenly the accident occurred. The point at which the contact was made was in a slight depression resulting from wind erosion.

Smoke could be seen for a distance of 20 miles for several hours after the fire started.

Bob Meris, Eberley Funeral Home staffer; John Waddell, Big Spring fireman; Robert Dunn, Lamesa, and Deputy Sheriff Jim McCoy of Stanton, extricated Oak's remains from near the fire. Deputy Sheriff V. E. Grady and James Croon, Big Spring brought Casares here for treatment. Fred Cook, Murray Cook, Fred Cave and Charles Tapley had rushed Brown to Lamesa in Tapley's car.

Both bodies were at Eberley Funeral Home pending arrangements.

Services for Mr. Brown will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at the Baptist Church in Ackerly. Last rites for Mr. Oaks will be held at the same hour and place on Sunday. Mr. Oaks will be buried at Ackerly, Mr. Brown at Big Spring.

Mr. Brown was born at New-castle. He and Mrs. Brown were married in 1916 and had lived in Mitchell County 30 years ago. For the past 22 years he had lived on the same place at Flower Grove. He was a member of the Baptist Church there and had been active

Russell Views Fail To Shake Shivers Stand

By DAVE CHEAVENS

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas is not wildly happy about Sen. Richard Russell's belief the Taft-Hartley Law needs some changes, but Shivers is still a Russell-for-President man.

Shivers told Russell last night he didn't think Texas Democrats would be happy about repeal of the law.

"He replied that he had not come out of repeal," Shivers said. "He said some parts ought to be modified to make it more equitable and fair."

Then Shivers said he was not going to fall out with Russell, as Virginia Democratic leaders had, over the Taft-Hartley question.

Shivers flew to Chicago on the eve of the credentials subcommittee hearing where his "Regular" delegation and the pro-administration "Loyalist" delegation will try to get their feet in the convention door.

"Loyalists" were bombarding delegates and committee members with literature backing up their claim that they are the true Democrats of Texas because the state convention that sent them pledged its presidential electors to vote for the national convention's presidential nominee.

Shivers came nearer than ever before to saying he would go along with the party all the way.

If the national convention requires all its delegates to raise their right hands in a vow of party fealty, Shivers said he would follow the majority rule.

"I'll abide by the same rules and regulations that apply to everybody else," Shivers said. Then he added: "Only three or four states that I know of require such pledges."

Shivers has contended that the issue in the rival Texas claims is chiefly that majority rule. The Loyalists, he said, were outvoted by Texas Democrats and the loyalty future is their way of attracting attention.

Maury Maverick, leader of the Loyalist delegation, issued a statement saying that the plan of the Shivers people is to put Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's name on both the Republican and Democratic ballots.

"That is possible in Texas if the Shivers-Dixiecrat alliance retains control of the Democratic Party in Texas because of a new Texas election law. Shivers himself advocated Eisenhower as the Democratic nominee as far back as Nov. 12, 1951."

Old Settlers Come For Annual Reunion

The sudden swoosh of a fast-flying jet momentarily smothered the strains of old-time music in City Park Friday morning, dramatically illustrating the transition from yesterday to today as old settlers of Howard and Glasscock Counties gathered for their annual reunion.

The jet went unnoticed, however, as the old timers swapped reminiscences or gathered around the registration pavilion to listen to the fiddle and guitar music. Some stood expectantly around barbecue pits where beef and mutton simmered and big pots of beans and stew boiled.

The morning grew throughout the late morning hours. By 11 a.m. some 400 were present to hear brief talks by M. H. Morrison, Fox Striplin, Walter Robinson and J. H. Greene.

W. A. Thomason served as master of ceremonies and Joseph Hayden introduced the speakers who reminded the gathering of the role filled by the early settlers in the development of the area.

A throng of 500 or 600 persons was expected for the barbecue luncheon which was to be served shortly after 12 o'clock. More than 1,100 pounds of meat and nine big pots of beans and stew had been cooking over the wood fires since dawn.

Masters of barbecue preparation, Nath Allen and A. Knappe, presided over the pits in which fires were lit late Thursday night. The food was provided by the old settlers and their friends through donations to a reunion fund.

Highlight of the afternoon was an old fiddlers' contest which got underway at 2 p.m. An old time dance is set for 8 p.m. at the skating rink on East Third Street.

The early settlers visited in the shade of their own pavilion for the first time this year. A tabernacle-type structure was erected over a concrete platform in the park early this summer by L. C. Matthes, president of the Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Association, and other reunion leaders.

Mrs. Dick Sides, secretary-treasurer of the association, had her registration table set up under the roof and all visitors and members of the organization were being asked to register.

Music for the dance this evening will be provided by Jim King and the Cosden Playboys, local stringed orchestra. Admission charge for the dance will be $1 and proceeds will go to help defray expenses of the event.

Negro To Face Narcotics Count

A charge of possession of marijuana has been filed against Peter Jones, 35-year-old Negro, who, after being taken into custody, told officers he thought he was smoking parsley leaves.

District Attorney Elton Gilliland said he had a chemist at Cosden Refinery compare the suspected leaves with samples of marijuana and they appeared to be the same.

Jones was arrested at 10:15 p.m. Wednesday by City Police-men A. N. Standard and Ed Brooks in a northside cafe. He had the cigars on his person.

Gilliland said Jones told him that he had some more of the substance hidden in an attic at Houston. The District Attorney added Houston authorities had been contacted and were attempting to locate the stuff.

Rumblings In Chicago Dim State Voices

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff
Democratic rumblings from Chicago—where pre-convention noise again is drowning state candidates voices—was beamed for Texas Friday.

Sen. Richard Russell, personal choice of Gov. Allan Shivers and many other Texans for the Democratic presidential nomination, assured a group of Texans Thursday night that he does not favor repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Earlier, a Russell statement was interpreted to put him in favor of the labor act's repeal.

But after the conference with Russell, Gov. Shivers said: "Senator Russell explained that he had not come out for repeal—he just wanted to make it a fair law."

There were these other developments:

1. Gov. Shivers said he would take a Democratic Party loyalty pledge if it is required of all the delegates.

2. Candidate for railroad commissioner, Joe Laird charged in a speech at Midland that the commission chairman is playing politics by increasing oil production in Texas just before election time.
3. Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bootham, opposed by Reagan Brown, St. Terrell, in his campaign for re-election, spoke of the many things he has done for his district during his years in Congress. No district of similar size could claim more, he said.
4. Rayburn's stature as a possible presidential nominee increased, party leaders said, with a cooling-off of sentiment for Senator Russell after his statement on the Taft-Hartley Law.
5. Gubernatorial candidate Ralph Yarborough said at San Antonio that "it's gotten so that narcotics peddling has crept into our schools." He said the present governor had done nothing about it.

Meanwhile, the candidate punched away.

Senate aspirant Lindley Beckworth scheduled a man-killing tour of 19 Texas towns from East Texas deep into Central Texas Friday. Stops included Kaufman, Athens, Palestine, Austin, Brenham and Waller, set from 7 a.m. to about 9 p.m.

Atty. Gen. Price Daniel, another Senate candidate, took his campaign to the Lower Rio Grande Valley with appearance at Brownsville, Harlingen, Mercedes, Weslaco, Alamo, Pharr and McAllen among others.

Wichita Falls Attorney E. W. Napier, the other Senate candidate, campaigned in Dallas Thursday and spoke from a downtown street corner. "The issue in this contest," he said, "is peace and prosperity or war and bankruptcy."

"I would debunk the myth of a Russian threat to our security, and I would stop in its track the administration's ambitious scheme to arm one-half the world against the other."

"I would settle the Korean War now so as to retrieve our prisoner boys and I would get out of Asia, lock, stock and barrel."

"I would stop spreading this all over the world our military might, and I would strengthen our defenses at home, with special emphasis on air and sea superiority."

Speaking at Corpus Christi, Daniel charged "somebody is getting rich off the nation's defense dollars while the taxpayer is getting poorer."

"We are spending more money today on the military than at any other time in our history except during the years of World War II," he said. "Despite these heavy expenditures, we have lost air supremacy to the Communists and we are rationing ammunition to our men in Korea."

Daniel asked for a "strong and stable preparedness program... without finding ourselves in one emergency after another."

"Our preparedness program must be free of both waste and politics," he added.

Meanwhile, Gov. Shivers said from Chicago:

"I'll do anything a majority of the convention wants me to."

"I'll abide by the same rules... that apply to everybody else."

Shivers pointed out, however, that only "three or four" states require such pledges.

Asked about a rumored Texas compromise, Shivers answered, "what has Maury (Maverick) got to compromise with?"

Exalted Ruler

Sam Stern, Fargo, N.D., banker and merchant, was installed as Grand Exalted Ruler of Elks at the organization's 88th annual convention in New York Thursday.

Stern was unopposed for the top Elks office. Glen Gale, Exalted Ruler of the Big Spring Elks Lodge, attended the convention.

Resignations Submitted To Stanton School

STANTON, (SC) —The resignations of the president of the Stanton School Board and two teachers have been accepted, and the Board of Education has called a school bond election.

Ed Robnett, board president, tendered his resignation which was accepted by the trustees as were the resignations of Ellmore Johnson of the high school faculty and that of Mary Frances Wilson, home economics instructor. These two teacher resignations brings to five the number of vacancies on the staff here.

The bond election was called for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters the proposition of issuing $75,000 to $100,000 in school district bonds, proceeds from the sale of which would be used to pay off a debt of $11,000 on land purchased for the new high school; repairs to the teacherage and the retirement of $20,000 in short term notes.

O. W. Winstead, the new superintendent, met with the board, which named Stanley Wheeler, Earl Douglas and Martin Gibson to a board of equalization.

The construction of a proposed new school building has been postponed for at least a year. Unofficial estimates are that the school district is valued at $4 million. The school tax rate is $1.50 per $100 valuation.

At that time, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade of Dallas said Binion would be arrested when he returned to Dallas for the federal trial. No extradition proceedings are necessary to bring him to Texas because federal charges wipe out state lines. The move to plead guilty apparently has thwarted Texas authorities again.

Binion May Not Come To Dallas To Stand Trial

FORT WORTH, July 18 (AP)—The government will permit Gambler Benny Binion to plead guilty at Las Vegas to income tax evasion instead of coming to Dallas to stand trial Sept. 15.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Frank Potter said yesterday this agreement was made after Binion notified the U. S. attorney at Las Vegas that he wanted to plead guilty and be sentenced in his home state.

This is permitted under federal criminal procedure only when the defendant intends to plead guilty or no contest. Las Vegas authorities will set the date for Binion to plead in Federal Court, Potter said.

The owner of the Horseshoe Club of Las Vegas has good reason to avoid returning to his native state. A Dallas grand jury indicted him and his partner, Harry Urban Sr., in 1950 on charges of operating a million-dollar-a-year policy operation in Dallas. Texas authorities have failed twice in efforts to extradite him for trial.

Binion was indicted May 3 by a special Federal Grand Jury in Fort Worth. He posted $10,000 bond in Las Vegas, May 7.

At that time, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade of Dallas said Binion would be arrested when he returned to Dallas for the federal trial. No extradition proceedings are necessary to bring him to Texas because federal charges wipe out state lines. The move to plead guilty apparently has thwarted Texas authorities again.

Fort Worth Residents Will Try New Treatment Plan For Polio

By The Associated Press
Polio tightened its grim grip on Texas Friday after chalking up four more deaths and about a score of new cases.

The dead: Floyd Mitchell Turner, 19, Beaumont; Johnny C. Clay, 26, Brownwood; J. Neil Brooks, 5, Embouse, Navarro County; Harry Lewis Holt, 31, Houston.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth busied itself with a plan which may set a new pattern for polio treatment in Texas.

Fort Worth residents laid the groundwork for home treatment of mild and convalescent cases while another hospital there opened its doors to convalescent transfers from crowded City-County Hospital.

Ten physical therapists met with the rehabilitation committee of the Tarrant County Medical Society and said they would work overtime at patients' homes to treat patients dismissed from City-County.

Nurses aides who have taken Red Cross polio-emergency courses agreed to also go into homes. They will teach parents polio treatment techniques.

Mrs. James Leonard, executive secretary for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at Fort Worth, said:

"I feel we are setting a pattern for a new kind of polio treatment. It's not on record that any other Texas city has tried what we're doing."

Jefferson County Thursday, bringing the year's total to 72, of which 40 have been in Beaumont.

Houston counted 13 new cases Thursday, which with the death of Holt, a certified public accountant, brought the Bayou City's total for the year to eight deaths and 228 cases. Harris County has had an additional 166 cases and seven deaths, while 136 cases from outside the county, resulting in six deaths, have been treated in Houston.

In Dallas, a 24-year-old mother with a three-day-old baby was among three new cases diagnosed as polio. The others were a six-year-old Grand Prairie girl and a 26-year-old Dallas man.

There were these other developments in a tragic day:

Three-year-old Ricky Laden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laden of Texarkana, was flown to San Antonio for polio treatment as San Antonio reported two new cases to bring its year's total to 81.

Hermann Hospital at Houston announced it was full up and could take no more polio patients. Officials appealed to the Red Cross for more nurses after a nurse shortage was given by Hermann as its main reason for its full notice.

Sister Avittus of St. Joseph's Infirmary at Houston, however, said her hospital was accepting less seriously ill patients for short stays due to crowded conditions in Houston treatment centers.

Drilling Is Resumed

MARFA, July 18 (AP)—Halliburton Oil Company ran a test yesterday from 5,986 to 7,000 feet on the Welch-Espy No. 1 well in Presidio County. The test showed little or no oil. Drilling was resumed.

Dog Continues Its Watch At Old Mine Shaft

SPRING CITY, Mo. (AP)—A gaunt Scotch collie dog stood watch at an abandoned mine today—the 19th day of its strange vigil.

And as the dog watched, volunteer workers renewed their efforts to solve the mystery—if any—of the flooded lead mine.

No one knows why the animal has remained at the brink of the mine shaft near this tiny Southwestern Missouri town.

Residents of the area speculate that perhaps the dog's owner met with foul play or accidentally tumbled into the shaft. But no one has been reported missing.

County Prosecutor George Henry said he was convinced something of importance will be found. The latest effort by volunteers to pump out enough water to uncover a platform that spans the shaft 125 feet below the surface. The platform presumably would stop any object that might have fallen into the mine.

Dragging operations carried on earlier proved fruitless.

The dog is a stranger in the community.

Nearby residents and the humane society have provided the collie with food and a doghouse.

Earlier this week the animal collapsed. A report it had been poisoned brought out auxiliary police from nearby Joplin, Mo., but by the time police arrived at the scene the dog had revived. It apparently was overcome by fumes from the mine.

Midland Man Will Face Federal Trial

PECOS, July 18 (AP)—A Midland man charged with violating postal laws probably will be tried during the September term of U. S. District Court here.

F. R. White, 43, was charged May 16 on one count of sending an obscene letter to Col. J. W. Parker, commanding officer of Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso. Another count charges that White wrote libelous and defamatory material on the envelope.

Col. Young has filed a $75,000 damage suit against White at Tyler. White, a manufacturer's agent, is accused of writing a libelous letter following the April 16 conviction of Lt. Verne Goodwin for refusal to fly.

Goodwin was court-martialed at Biggs and sentenced to two years. He later was permitted to resign from the Air Force.

'Borrowed' Jet Visits Foster AFB

A plane "borrowed" from Webb Air Force Base of Big Spring was the first jet craft to visit Foster Air Force Base, near Victoria. The Webb jet was used to check let-down procedures for planes to land at Foster, a base which is being re-activated. Construction is now underway on the South Texas AFB and activation of the field is due late this year.

Are some of your Series E Government Bonds maturing this month?

Now they can earn more money for you!

NEW LAW PROVIDES TEN MORE INTEREST-EARNING YEARS FOR YOUR SERIES E BONDS... AND YOU NEED NOT DO A THING!

ARE you one of those smart and patriotic Americans who began an automatic saving program with Series E Government Bonds in 1941? Then you're one of the lucky people who can profit by a new law now!

A bill recently passed by Congress now makes it possible for your United States Defense Bonds to continue earning interest ten years longer than was originally planned.

For example, a Series E Bond which cost you $18.75 in 1941 will pay you $25 in 1951. But if you hold that bond ten extra years, until 1961, it will pay you $33.33, an average interest of 2.9% compounded annually. You get similar increases on Series E Bonds of every denomination.

And there is nothing for you, as a bond holder, to do. You need not exchange the bonds you have. You need not sign any paper, fill out any form. You simply keep your bonds as you have been keeping them.

You may still redeem any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for sixty days. (The tables on this page show what you can get for it.) But unless you really need the cash you're much better off to hold your bonds. For U. S. Defense Bonds are as safe as America itself.

When you buy your bonds regularly and hold them, they are steadily building a sum big enough to buy something really worth while—a home, a business, a retirement fund, an education for your children.

And bonds are safer than cash! If you lose or accidentally destroy cash it's gone for good. But when you have your cash in Defense Bonds, the U. S. Treasury will replace lost or destroyed bonds at no cost to you.

So if some of your bonds are coming due, take advantage of this new offer of your government—just sit back and let them go on making money. Meanwhile keep adding to your savings by buying more United States Defense Bonds regularly—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. System is the secret of saving.

Here's how Series E Defense Bonds earn the first 10 years

MR. AND MRS. DOYLE GENE SMITH

Doyle Smiths Live Here After Marriage

COLORADO CITY, (Sp)—Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Gene Smith are making their home in Big Spring following their recent marriage.

The bride is the former Carol Rayleen Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark, of Colorado City. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Smith also of Colorado City are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. R. B. Murray, pastor of the Oak St. Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony July 11. The couple repeated their vows as they stood before a beauteous arch covered with lemon leaves. The altar was banked with flowers and greenery and illuminated with candelabra. White gladioli centered the arch and the altar was flanked by baskets of purple asters, flowers and ribbon streamers marked the pews.

Mrs. Curtis Baker, organist, played the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Bryan Mahon who sang "Because," "Wonderful One" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white French lace gown over white satin. She wore a fingertip length veil of illusion and carried a white Bible topped with a purple threated orchid.

Karen Padgett was maid of honor.

or. She was attired in a pastel lilac organdy strapless, ankle-length dress with matching accessories. She carried a lilac satin basket filled with lilac asters and showered with streamers.

Teresa Chapman and Sandra Cooper of Snyder were bridesmaids. They wore deep purple organdy gowns, fashioned like that of the maid of honor, with matching accessories and carried deep purple satin baskets.

Don Smith of Roscoe served as his brother's best man.

Ushers were Francis Crow, Don Miller, Horace Paes and Rayneal Henderson of Lamesa.

Connie Nolan of Lamesa and Melvaene Blair lighted the candles.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The couple honeymooned in El Paso and Ruidoso, N. M.

Mrs. Smith is a 1952 graduate of Colorado High School, where she was a member of the Jet Maskers, the Commercial Club and served as an officer in the pep squad and FHA.

Her husband graduated from the same school in 1950. In Big Spring, he is employed by Freese and Nichols.

Union Revival Scheduled Aug. 15-24 At Garden City

GARDEN CITY, (Sp)—The union revival of the Cumberland Presbyterian and Methodist Churches will be held Aug. 15 through Aug. 24.

Dr. O. W. Carter, newly-elected district superintendent of the Big Spring district, will do the preaching, and the Rev. Brown Welch, pastor of the Lubbock Cumberland Presbyterian Church, will have charge of the song services.

Dr. Carter served as pastor of the First Methodist Church in Pampa three years before coming to this district as superintendent. He also served the Abilene district as superintendent for five years.

The Rev. Welch served as pastor of the Garden City church for a number of years before going to Lubbock. He preached the union revival here three years ago.

Mrs. Tom Ashill was hostess Wednesday to members of the Garden City Home Demonstration Club at a covered dish luncheon and a meeting to study the procedure for covering a sofa bed.

Mrs. Ashill directed the work and visitors attending were Lora Medlin, Mrs. J. P. Boswell, Mrs. John L. Daniel, Mrs. John Priddy and Wanda Wilkerson.

Mrs. L. L. Watkins has gone to Dallas to take her father, Charlie Coulson, of Sterling for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cotner and daughters have just returned from a two weeks vacation in Dallas.

Dr. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, is attending the Cowboy Camp Meeting being held on the Nogal Mesa through Sunday.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Douglas Sr. and their grandchildren, Annie Laurie Douglas and Pam Deiter, Frances and Katherine Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Jones, Edith Hatchett and Mrs. Mamie Swafford all of Big Spring.

Mrs. Robert Stripling and Robert, Mrs. Pauline Coffee, Mrs. Tom Coffee of Las Cruces, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, the Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Meritt and Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bynum, Mr. and Mrs. John Emdee and Phillis and Jane Emdee.

Cottons Are Crisp With Starch

In hot weather you can achieve crispness by treating cottons, linens and rayons to a satin-smooth starching—specially prepared to make ironing easy and to give the clothes a finish that is dirt-resistant. Add one cup of a blue washring aid to each quart of your favorite hot starch. Mix 1 cup of this basic starch to 7 cups warm water (use it cool for the rayons) and squeeze the hot starch through the garments for an even finish. Remove starch, by wringer if possible, to avoid streaking. Dry, then dampen evenly, wrap in waxed paper and put rolls of clothes in refrigerator—another trick for easy ironing. It helps prevent mildew, too. Iron small parts of your blouses or dresses first to prevent wrinkling larger parts—trimmings, collar, sleeves, back bodice, front bodice, skirt last of all. Iron bias-cut skirts with the weave for a straight hem line.

DESIGNING WOMAN Simply Mounted Shells Make Attractive Decor

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

A designing eye sees design material everywhere. Sadie Feika has a special picture designing eye that has probably seen more picture subjects in unusual objects than any other, and it's an eye she can't close even on vacation. Strolls on the beaches of more than one ocean began her ideas for the handsome sea shell fantasies sketched, when

Mrs. Walton Will Take Exam For New License

Mrs. H. T. Walton has the most unusual hobby of virtually any woman in Big Spring.

In fact, she is the only woman "ham" operator in town.

Mrs. Walton received her novice license and her call letters, WNS-TGZ, July 26, 1951.

But her interest in radio goes back to when her husband got his "ticket" three years ago.

Over the week end, the mother of two will take an examination for another phase of the work. Upon passing it, she will be given general class operator's privileges with a conditional license.

The Waltons have lived in Big Spring all of their 13 years of married life. They have two miniature hams, Mary Lee, 8, and Terry Dixon, 1.

Not content to let her interests stop with ham operation and raising a family, the dark-haired Mrs. Walton also "puts in her time" at the couple's radio shop.

Two Are Honored At Family Party Thursday Evening

Pickle, San Angelo, an uncle. The H. R. Pickles and their children were here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pickle.

and Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia.

"There is a Talmadge-Byrnes-Shivers conspiracy in the South to deprive the people of their American rights," Cofer said. He added that by American rights he meant civil rights.

Cofer said that the Shivers group had not supported President Truman and Vice-President Barkley in their successful race four years ago, and:

"It shocks me to hear them stand up in a convention and attack the integrity of our President.

"The leader of our party, our President, is one of our great American presidents."

Fagan Dickson, also of Austin, termed the regulars "Dixiecrats who want to destroy the party loyalty pledge."

"The people on the Shivers delegation have the same philosophy as the States' Rights group did in 1948," Dickson said.

He said the principles of the "regular" faction included these: 1. "Supremacy of the Democratic party of the state over the national party."

2. "Restoration of white supremacy to pre-New Deal levels.

Dickson said Shivers will go back to Texas after the convention and ask the people for whom they want to vote, and that might be Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee.

"We believe in the principles of Franklin D. Roosevelt," Dickson said. "This is a fight for democracy."

Dickson brought this argument to a close by waving a paper aloft and declaring:

"If they (the Shivers group) will sign this pledge of good faith in the Democratic Party and will support the party nominees and cause their electors to vote for the national nominees, we'll go back home and look at this convention on television."

Shivers began the argument for the regular delegation's right to be seated by saying the other side had resorted to "personal abuse, slander and vilification."

"There has been too much name-calling for a long time in the Democratic party," the young Texas governor said.

"The only trouble with this group is that they got beat by about 95 per cent of the voters.

FOR GOVERNOR

Two Old Hands And One Novice In Race

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series on candidates for major office in the July 26 Texas Democratic primary election. Tomorrow: Agriculture Commissioner's race-top contests for other state offices.)

By TIM PARKER Associated Press Staff

The three candidates for governor in the July 26 Texas Democratic Primary include two men with long records of public service and a San Antonio housewife trying for her first public office.

Gov. Allan Shivers, asking his second full term, is the leader of the conservative, anti-administration faction now in control of the state government.

Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney, is a former district judge and assistant attorney general.

Mrs. Allene M. Traylor, San Antonio housewife and mother of four, is also a businesswoman.

Shivers' emergence as a leader among Southern Democrats opposing the Truman administration adds significance to the race. The 44-year-old governor heads the conservative Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention which begins in Chicago Monday.

Yarborough, 48, has not tied his candidacy to either side in the intra-party ruckus. When he announced last May 1, he was asked if he had the support of the "Loyal Democrat" organization opposing Shivers.

Yarborough replied: "I am not running for governor because of their sponsorship. All political factions and beliefs have asked me to run. I hope to get everybody's support. I hope to get their (Loyal Democrats) support."

He did say he believes in the party loyalty pledge, which is favored by the "Loyalists" and opposed by Shivers.

Here are the candidates: Allan Shivers, born Oct. 5, 1907, at Lufkin, son of Judge and Mrs. Robert S. Shivers. Studied at Woodville and Port Arthur, received law degree from University of Texas.

Began law practice at Port Arthur at the age of 24. In 1934 was elected state senator and served 12 years without defeat. Unsettled straw votes by winning lieutenant governorship in 1946 shortly after returning from two years in American military government service in Europe and North Africa. Became governor on the death July 10, 1949, of Beauford Jester and won term of his own in 1950. Tall, rangy and erect, he has campaigned on his record including legislation for higher teacher pay, better roads, higher old age pensions, expanded public health program and better care for mentally ill. Married the former Marialice Shary in 1937 and became active manager of wealthy Shary holdings—orchards, fruit exchanges, farms, real estate holdings, oil property—in the Valley. The Shivers have three children.

Ralph Yarborough, 48, Austin attorney, graduate of the University of Texas Law School, taught in rural Texas schools three years, practiced law in El Paso and Austin, and served as an assistant attorney general four years, from 1931 to 1935, under James V. Allred, then attorney general and then later

Civil Aviation Men Set Visit

Three of Texas' leading civil aviation authorities will visit Big Spring Aug. 1 for a survey of local airport conditions.

They are S. E. Travis, regional chief of the airports division of the Civil Aeronautics Authority; Cliff Green, director of Texas Aeronautics Commission, and J. D. Church, district airport engineer for the CAA.

Church, who formerly had district offices in Big Spring, has notified local civic leaders and city officials of plans for the visit here. The trio will stop at Hamilton Field while on an inspection tour of West Texas airports, the district engineer said.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee, for which Jack Cook, former Myny Airport manager, is chairman, will greet the visitors when they land here. The committee and city officials probably will discuss local aviation problems with the CAA and TAC officers.

Church's district airport engineering staff was transferred to Abilene late in 1951 when reactivation of Webb Air Force Base displaced their offices at what was formerly Municipal Airport. Private aviation has been centered around Hamilton Field since closing of the city airport to civilian traffic.

Partee Service Held At C-City

COLORADO CITY, July 18—Services were held at the First Baptist Church at 3:30 p.m. here today for Cecil Ray Partee, 23-year-old oilfield worker, victim of an automobile accident Wednesday evening eight miles west of here.

The Rev. R. Y. Bradford, pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. H. F. James, pastor of the Payne Church.

Partee leaves his wife and one-year-old twin daughters, Fay and Kay.

Other survivors include his father, C. E. Partee, Cross Plains; six sisters, Jewel Partee, Cross Plains; Mrs. Lottie Williams, Houston; Mrs. R. S. Westfall and Mrs. J. W. Bishop, Colorado City; Mrs. W. J. Phillips, Odessa; and Mrs. Wesley Kaufman, Midland; and two brothers, S. A. Partee and Kenneth Partee, Midland. Burial was in the cemetery here under direction of Kiker & Son.

A record also was established for Big Spring in May when 301 air passengers boarded PAL planes at Webb Air Force Base. April's total of 270 was ahead of previous months when the number of persons leaving Big Spring by air averaged 225, Beene said.

Replacement of the old DC-3s with PAL's new Pacemaster planes may have contributed to increased traffic in the last two months, according to the district official. Webb AFB personnel also are making use of the commercial air service and contributing to the total number of passengers boarded here.

At the present rate, Pioneer will load approximately 335 passengers at Big Spring this month, Beene estimated.

Pioneer Heading For Record Month

July apparently will be another record month for Pioneer Air Lines in the number of passengers boarding airline planes in Big Spring.

June is PAL's record passenger-loading month for Big Spring so far. A total of 300 travelers boarded planes here last month, and up to July 14, the month of July was 15 passengers ahead of June's rate, according to W. W. Beene, district traffic and sales manager for Pioneer.

A record also was established for Big Spring in May when 301 air passengers boarded PAL planes at Webb Air Force Base. April's total of 270 was ahead of previous months when the number of persons leaving Big Spring by air averaged 225, Beene said.

Tit For Tat: Picture Books Are Ousted, So We Take To The Air

After years of wrangling with the Russian government, the U. S. State Department has discontinued its magazine "America" which had been circulated in Russia for years, and has ordered the Russian government to cease publishing and mailing its "USSR Information Bulletin" in this country.

Moscow has slowly strangled "America," which presented the United States pictorially, by steadily reducing the number of copies allowed to be circulated in Russia. Reports over the years indicated that the magazine was eagerly sought by the Russian people, and this fact was at the bottom of Moscow's slow strangulation tactics against it.

Old Time Fishing Parties Have Departed, And More's The Pity

Candidate Eisenhower may decide to jump the gun on the regular campaign after Labor Day, by making a couple of major speeches in August. At least, that is the story from Denver, where Ike was preparing to grab the fishing vote by going trout fishing on a friend's ranch 70 miles west of the city.

disappeared from our ken, more's the pity. In the old days families and whole groups of families would tie themselves to some creek, river or lake and "camp out" for several days, giving the fish fits. They went in wagons and backs, and they pitched their tents under the trees—if there were any trees—for the time of their lives.

Barkley A Deserving Candidate; Advanced Age Is Major Handicap

WASHINGTON. — Before Vice President Barkley became an active candidate for president, his family discussed the matter and came up with varying opinions. One daughter, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, whose husband is a nephew of the General, was emphatically opposed to having her father run. She feared it might shorten his life.

As the years have passed, Alben has become mellowed. A few years ago his tongue was one of the most caustic in the Senate. Once he referred to his good friend Senator Tom Connally as "that boob senator from Texas" and once when Tydings of Maryland was demanding a processing tax on shoddy (wool) Barkley remarked: "The senator ought to know something about shoddy, since that is something on which he is an expert."

Probably Roosevelt would have rewarded Barkley had it not been for a bitter speech he made attacking the President for vetoing the 1944 tax bill. With the war at its peak, Roosevelt had asked for a record tax bill. Congress gave him a watered down version instead, and Roosevelt vetoed it.

There are some weak spots in Barkley's political armor which the Republicans would be sure to aim at if he got the nomination. One is the fact that his son worked for the Garsons, who with Congressman Andy May of Kentucky were convicted of defrauding the government on war contracts. Barkley's son was not involved. However, the Garsons unquestionably hired young Barkley to help get the inside track around Washington, and this would be played up by GOP campaigners in connection with the corruption issue.

World Today—James Marlow Despite Platform, Demos Cannot Pass Civil Rights Law In Next Four Years

WASHINGTON (AP) No matter what kind of civil rights plank they produce at Chicago there's no more reason to believe the Democrats can pass civil rights laws in the next four years, if they win, than they could in the past four.

comes in, there are two kinds of two-thirds. A simple two-thirds of those present or of at least 49 — is a little sent and voting when there's a more difficult to get than a majority vote. But two-thirds of all 96 senators that's 64, called a constitutional two-thirds — is so hard to get that it's almost impossible.

over again, this time against the bill. And that filibuster can't be broken except by a constitutional two-thirds vote. But, since the senators themselves made the rule, can't they just vote to change it so that a filibuster could be broken by, say, a simple majority or a simple two-thirds vote? Sounds easy.

And in the past four they couldn't, in spite of the fight and promises made at the 1948 convention. In fact, it would be harder now for the Northern Democrats to get through civil rights legislation than it was in 1948.

But if the filibuster against the motion to bring up the bill is broken, then as soon as the bill itself is brought up, the Southerners can start another filibuster all over again, this time against the bill.

the reaction of some specially selected audience to some new motion picture, show or scientific advance which has showbiz significance. Tucked in nooks and crannies of office buildings along the Golden Half Mile, in movie houses upstairs from the gaily lighted ones into which the citizens pay their way, and even in warehouse-like buildings in dimly lit side streets away from the Main Drag, these screening sessions take place.

Perrin Base Is Permanent AF Installation

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Designation of Perrin Air Force Base between Sherman and Denison as a permanent military installation was announced yesterday by Air Force headquarters.

More than two years ago the Air Force disclosed its intention to convert the base from temporary to permanent status. The move was delayed, the Air Force said, in order to gain control of some of the 1,204 acres which comprised the site when it was a basic flying school during World War II.

Grayson County now has donated all of the land at the base not under Air Force control.

Perrin will continue to serve as a single and multi-engine flying training center for the Air Training Command. The permanent designation will not change nor increase the extent of the activities at the base, an Air Force spokesman said.

Expenditures of $4,876,000 to improve and expand Perrin training facilities was approved by the last session of Congress. The money will be used for additional communication facilities and navigational aids, improving lighting and acquiring 109 acres of land in addition to that made available by Grayson County.

Under the permanent designation, structures erected hereafter will be built to last 25 years instead of the 10-year estimated life of temporary military installations.

The base also becomes eligible for Wherry housing and for establishment of schools with federal funds for the benefit of families assigned to the base. Approval of Wherry housing for Perrin is under consideration, the Air Force said.

New Order Is Due To Affect Meats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization has issued an order expected to boost the price of veal steaks, cutlets and roasts and lower ceilings on rib chops, shoulder cuts and breast of veal.

The order, effective July 23, will permit wholesale ceilings of veal hindquarters increased $3.60 per hundred pounds for prime and choice grades and $2.60 for good will be lowered $4.60 per hundred on prime and choice grades and $3.60 on good.

Translated for the housewife, the OPS said she probably will have to pay about 4 1/2 cents a pound more for cutlets and steaks and about 6 cents a pound less for rib chops, shoulder cuts and breast of veal.

Easier Marches For Soldiers Are Advised

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army doctor today recommended easier marches for young soldiers in training — to help save their feet from injury.

Lt. Col. Francis D. Threadgill of the Army's Fort Ord, Calif., hospital reported evidence that long road marches given before proper conditioning of new men helped cause "march fracture" — a fracture of certain bones of the fore-foot.

Although commonest among soldiers, it is sometimes seen in waitresses, postmen and others who walk a great deal, the colonel said.

Asserting that in actual combat the foot soldier is seldom called upon to do long-lasting marching without let-up, Threadgill said, "It would appear unwise to cause march fractures by creating conditions which will not be met in the field."

"Training should produce a soldier with ability to withstand prolonged stress under varied conditions. The time necessary to inculcate the ability to perform repeated road marches without ill effect can be much better spent in other necessary fields in training of the modern soldier."

Another triggering cause of march fracture, he said, is "the presently current game of 'chicken fighting' in which two soldiers engage in the sadistic attempt to jump on their opponent's feet."

Note to GIs: The colonel's remarks were carried in the U. S. Armed Forces Medical Journal, which says in its masthead that "the opinions expressed in this publication are not necessarily those of the Army, Navy, Air Force or Department of Defense."

Four Senators Are Faced With A Jinx

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The four senators fighting for the Democratic nomination for President are bucking a stubborn jinx — Democratic senators have tried before but never became President.

The records show that the Democrats have chosen two presidential candidates from the active ranks of the Senate, and neither was elected.

The Republicans have taken only one candidate from the Senate — Warren Harding, who was elected.

All told, 18 candidates with senatorial experience have been nominated since the U. S. began picking Presidents 163 years ago. But only three were elevated into nomination while actually serving in the Senate.

In the Democratic jockeying an avowed candidate now are Senators Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Richard Russell of Georgia, Robert Kerr of Oklahoma and Brien McMahon of Connecticut.

Other Senators commanding delegate support as favorite sons but not actually fighting for the nomination are Senators Humphrey of Minnesota, Fulbright of Arkansas, Douglas of Illinois and Gillette of Iowa.

They seem unconcerned about the presidency — Senate jinx, although if one of them is to be nominated, he'll have to mess up tradition pretty badly, and if he's to be elected, he'll have to break all precedents for his party.

The only two Democratic senators to be nominated were Stephen Douglas of Illinois in 1860 — a better-known citizen named Abraham Lincoln won the election — and Lewis Cass of Michigan, defeated in 1848 by Millard Fillmore.

Once a lot of presidents and presidential candidates had Senate experience, but since 1884, there have been only two — Harding and the present White House occupant, Harry Truman.

The Republican candidates who were senators before trying for the presidency were: John Fremont, California, 1856; James Blaine, Maine, 1884, and Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, 1888 and 1892.

The Democrats: Andrew Jackson, Tennessee, 1828 and 1832; William Henry Harrison, Ohio, 1840; Franklin Pierce, New Hampshire, 1852; James Buchanan, Pennsylvania, 1856, and Truman, 1948.

Plans For Firing OPS Staff Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has laid out details of how it will fire 6,150 of its 12,000 employees in the Office of Price Stabilization.

This came shortly after Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam told his anti-inflation agencies yesterday to do the best they could with the 60 million dollars Congress gave him. He had requested 103 million.

Putnam said OPS would get $26,900,000, a 45 per cent cut. The remainder will go to enforce rent and wage controls.

OPS said dismissal slips were being sent out and its staff would be cut to budget size by Sept. 1.

The agency said it would release about 700 of 2,500 Washington employees. Field offices are being directed to fire 5,450 of their 9,500 workers.

The biggest cut will be in enforcement personnel — 1,697 of 3,822.

Americans Saving At A Faster Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans saved more money during the first three months of this year than in any first quarter since World War II, reports the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The total of $2,700,000,000 represented savings in currency and bank deposits, in savings and loan associations, private and government insurance, securities and time repayment of mortgage and other consumer debts.

Gideon, a Man of Faith and Humility

WITH JEHOVAH'S HELP HE DELIVERED HIS PEOPLE FROM THEIR OPPRESSORS

Scripture—Judges 6:1-2:28

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
CORRUPTION is a word with which we are becoming very familiar—especially "corruption in high places." Some men, trusted with the nation's business, are tempted to cheat when they see a way to make money and are not too scrupulous in their characters.

It is a sad commentary on the moral state of our beloved nation when we learn of such things, but we must consider that no matter how deplorable they are, there are many, many more fine, God-fearing people who serve sincerely and honestly.

In the time in which our lesson is placed, almost a whole nation had fallen into evil ways. To many Jehovah was a name only. They had forgotten the past—how He had led His people from slavery, through great privations, and given them a land of their own. They "fell into evil ways," and sinned against God.

The Midianites, a tribe descended from Abraham through Keturah (Gen. 25:2), occupied the northern extremity of the Red Sea, but must have extended into what we call Moab. They oppressed the children of Israel terribly, destroying their crops and livestock, literally starving them until they were forced to flee to the mountains and live in caves.

As usual, when they were in trouble they recalled Jehovah and begged Him to save them.

In this time of stress, Jehovah raised up a strong person to lead His people and to overcome their enemies.

There was a young man named Gideon, son of Joash, a humble man who, when we first read of him was threshing wheat in a secluded place, hoping to be able to hide it from the Midianites.

An angel of the Lord appeared to Gideon, and hailed him with: "The Lord is with thee, thou mighty man of valor."

Gideon must have been startled to be so addressed, but he immediately asked the angel why, if the Lord was with His people, they should be suffering so. Had He forsaken them?

"And the Lord looked upon him, and said, Go in this thy might, and thou shalt save Israel from the hand of the Midianites: have I not sent thee?"

Gideon demurred. He said he belonged to a poor family, "and I am least in my father's house."

"Surely I will be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Midianites as one man," the Lord answered.

THE MONOTONY OF LIFE...

Ever trudge along a road like this? Step upon step, then a thousand more . . . yet the road stretches endlessly onward. It's a weary journey.
Give me the winding road every time! There is a new vision around every turn . . . each step brings you closer to something.
There are times when life seems a long road that has no turning. Tire-some routine can stifle a man's spirit until he trembles at the very sameness of the days.
Christianity is God's own answer to the monotony of life. The teachings of Christ open new vistas of beauty and happiness. Sunday worship, daily prayer and an abiding faith help us to discover a sense of progress and bring us closer to our God-given destiny.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Foster Son Admits Brutal Slaying Of Oregon Woman

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—Ward Wenger, 26-year-old collector of ladies' underwear, was in FBI custody today after admitting the brutal hammer slaying of his foster mother.

Police Chief Curtis Lemon of Clarksville, Tex., said the youth blurted, "I'm guilty!" when questioned regarding the slaying of Mrs. Marie Wenger, 47, last Thursday in Astoria, Ore. That was the day neighbors said they saw him leave in Mrs. Wenger's car.

The next day the woman's body, badly battered, was found wrapped in rugs in her home. Her empty purse was nearby. The foster son was later charged with her murder.

The 6-foot, 165-pound youth was arrested in Clarksville after wrecking an auto east of Clarksville Monday.

Lemon said the youth had "a lot of ladies' underwear in the car," and had taped some of it on his body. "He also had a lot of pictures of women he had cut from magazines," the police chief said.

After first admitting he killing, Lemon said, Wenger "clammed up" and wouldn't talk except to say that the car was stolen.

Lemon said after the youth signed a statement regarding the auto that he was asked if he wanted to tell the entire story of the Astoria slaying.

"No," he quoted Wenger as answering. "I'm not talking anymore until I see my lawyer."

Sheriff Kearney told Lemon he was mailing a warrant for the youth and then "We'll be on our way" after him. The FBI later, however, took him into custody on the stolen car charge.

The brown-haired, hazel-eyed youth, son of his father's foster sister, was adopted by Mrs. Wenger when he was three years old. His father is dead.

Young Wenger was graduated from Astoria High School last year and was described as a "problem" by school officials.

Truman Gets Last Medical Tests Today

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's doctor gave him the last of a series of medical tests today while Democratic politicians waited impatiently for his dismissal from the hospital.

After nearly a week's bout with a virus infection, the President's temperature had returned to normal, but Democratic presidential aspirants could not boast as much with the Chicago National Convention opening Monday.

Truman expects to return to the White House tomorrow, but there is no indication that he plans to make known his choice of a successor in advance of the balloting.

Such a move on his part could be the deciding factor in selection of the Democratic nominee.

Most of the people around Truman profess to be in the dark. Even Cabinet members are button-holing reporters asking them, "what is the boss going to do?"

And Truman's own alternate to the Democratic convention, the man who will cast his vote, was unable to see the President during a trip to Washington this week.

Tom J. Gavin of Kansas City apparently was en route home without getting an audience with the President because of Truman's illness and his subsequent trip to the Army's Walter Reed Hospital for a complete checkup.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told reporters that "to the best of my knowledge" Gavin did not talk with the President and that he knew Gavin did not see Truman personally.

Truman plans to fly to Chicago next week to address the closing session of the convention.

Washington Police Hunt Holdup Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—Police today hunted for two armed bandits who escaped with more than $7,000 from a hotel a few blocks from the White House after piling furniture on their three holdup victims.

The daring daylight robbery occurred during the noon hour yesterday just after the week's payroll cash for the Roger Smith Hotel employees had been brought from the bank.

Frank M. Foley, 42, hotel auditor, said the bandits were two unmasked Negroes about 30 years old.

The pair, with drawn guns, sprang into the office from a service entrance and ordered Foley, his assistant, and a bookkeeper to lie on the floor. Then they piled a table and chairs on the trio, grabbed the money and ran down the mezzanine steps and out a main entrance.

Four Die As Squalls Rage In Gulf Area

By The Associated Press

At least four persons were dead and some property damage resulted when lusty squalls in the Gulf of Mexico and torrential rains hit Texas Thursday.

Rain continued in East Texas Friday and along the wind-lashed Gulf Coast.

John G. Wagenfehr, San Antonio, was drowned when the fishing boat on which he was a passenger capsized in a sudden squall off Port Aransas. Three other persons on the boat were rescued. The other deaths resulted from auto mishaps on rain-soaked highways.

Another boat, apparently caught in the raging off-shore squalls was missing off Galveston. The Galveston Coast Guard received a faint distress signal from it Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, light rain fell Friday morning in scattered East Texas points and at Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Alice, San Antonio, Houston and Galveston. Except for much of the western section of the state, which was clear, the remainder of Texas was mostly cloudy at 7:30 a.m.

Hughes-Simmons Case Is Settled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An out-of-court settlement has ended the prolonged court battle between British actress Jean Simmons and moviemaker Howard Hughes over whether she was legally under contract to his RKO studio.

Under the agreement, reached yesterday, she will be paid $200,000 for making three films on loan-out from RKO. The studio will pay attorneys' fees up to $35,000 and court costs estimated at $1,300.

Miss Simmons and her husband, Stewart Granger, had sued RKO for $250,000 damages, claiming Hughes repudiated her $600,000 three-year contract, then barred her from working at other studios.

U. S. Judge Ernest A. Tolin, in dismissing the case, said he found no evidence of attempted tax fraud on the part of the Grangers. Both sides exchanged accusations during the month-long trial of plotting to avoid income taxes by writing off part of Miss Simmons' income as payment for property Granger owned, taxable as capital gains.

Russian Diplomat Leaves For Home

LONDON (AP)—Russian diplomat Pavel Kuznetsov, asked to leave Britain for wheeling state secrets from a British Foreign Office employee, left for home last night.

A Foreign Office announcement today said the former second secretary of the Soviet Embassy here sailed on the Polish ship, Jaroslaw Dabrowski. He was accompanied by his wife, Elizabeth, and their 5-year-old son Misha.

The British government last Sunday asked Russia to recall Kuznetsov within a week because he received official secrets from William Marshall, a young Foreign Office radio operator.

Names Switched In News Story

In a story relating the acquisition by Julius Neel of the interest of Fred Eaker in the automotive concern formerly known as Eaker-Neel Motor Company, given names of the principals were erroneously transposed.

The story should have said that Julius Neel bought the half interest of Fred Eaker in their Hudson Sales and service business. The two men had acquired the dealership three years to the day of the dissolution of the partnership, and during that time they had sold more than 200 Hudsons.

Injunction May Stop Work On Reservoir

HOUSTON, July 18 (AP)—Construction on Houston's San Jacinto reservoir would be stopped if an injunction sought by the Sun Pipe Line Company is granted.

The company filed the petition for a permanent injunction yesterday, saying that the reservoir would inundate some two miles of its pipeline.

TEC Says 1,600 Idled In Dallas

DALLAS, July 18 (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission said steel industry strikes have idled more than 1,600 workers in the Dallas area.

But there has been no rush to seek unemployment pay, TEC said. Some 335 of 1,117 idled workers seeking pay claims are actually on strike and are not entitled to draw state compensation when not working. One of the disputes, at Emco Derrick & Equipment Company, is part of the nation-wide steel strike. The other, at Fritz W. Gillich & Sons steel fabricating plant, is a local dispute over negotiating a contract. About 50 non-strikers are off their jobs at the two plants as a result of the disputes, TEC said.

At Dallas' Ford Motor Company assembly plant, the steel strike has taken its largest toll of production. Some 1,100 Ford workers have been out of work all week as Ford production lines were halted for lack of steel parts. Work is due to resume again Monday.

A thunderstorm dumped an inch of rain on thirsty San Antonio before nightfall Thursday and dropped temperatures about 20 degrees in an hour's time. Streets and normally dry creek beds in some sections of the city were flooded.

About the same time, Corpus Christi had 20-mile winds and a thunderstorm in the vicinity and rain fell at Austin, Lufkin, Galveston and Houston.

The latest highway death was that of Steven Earl Hitt, 31, of Blooming Grove, a Navarro County town.

High tides swept up the Sabine-Neches Canal in the heart of Port Arthur and caused two marine collisions. No one was injured and the damage was not estimated immediately.

The tides were the highest in nine years, caused by the equally conditions in the Gulf.

Galveston had the heaviest rainfall total of the state in the 24 hours ending at 6:30 p.m. Thursday—6.74 inches. Other totals included .64 at Amarillo, .21 at Austin, .01 at Big Spring, .19 at Dallas, 1.39 at Houston, .03 at Waco, 2.40 at Beaumont, .01 at Del Rio, .26 at Fort Worth, .44 at Palestine, .05 at Texarkana, .61 at Lufkin, .91 at Bryan, .12 at Palacios, .10 at Childress, .06 at Marfa and .86 at Tyler.

A general rain at Tyler brought 1.92 inches Wednesday and Thursday.

Rainfall in McLennan County ranged from .25 of an inch in Waco to 1.75 inches at McGregor. Farmers said they needed a 3-inch rain to make their crops.

Temperatures Thursday reached 105 degrees at Presidio, 104 at Del Rio, 103 at Laredo, 102 at Cotulla, 100 at Alice, 99 at El Paso, 98 at Abilene and 96 at San Antonio. Houston had the lowest maximum—77 degrees.

Former Child Star Collects Damages

HOUSTON, July 18 (AP)—Lora Lee Michel, former Hollywood child starlet, collected $1,000—minus attorney's fees—in a two-minute appearance in federal court.

Lora Lee's father, O. H. Michel, filed a suit against the American Automobile Insurance Company alleging that the child had been bitten by a dog while appearing in a local theater production.

Michel's petition claimed the animal bit the child on the cheek, scarring it and lessening her future as an actress.

Michel figured that $10,025 would square the damages but settled for $1,000.

Unit Rule Might Thwart President

CHICAGO (AP) — A 92-year-old Democratic party tradition may thwart President Truman in his announced intention of disclosing by proxy his choice for this year's presidential nomination.

That tradition is the unit rule—which binds a state delegation to cast all its National Convention votes as a bloc on any issue or candidate.

Truman has said his presidential choice will become known when his alternate, Tom J. Gavin of Kansas City, casts his vote among the various contenders for the Democratic nomination.

But the Missouri delegation is talking of adopting the unit rule. Gov. Forrest Smith has said it probably will be invoked.

But James M. Pendergast, who inherited the powerful Kansas City Democratic organization from his uncle, "Boss Tom" Pendergast, served notice yesterday he will fight any such move.

If Smith has his way, Gavin might want to cast Truman's convention vote for one candidate, but be obligated to vote for somebody else favored by a majority of the Missouri delegation.

Of course, Gavin—or Truman himself—could reveal the Truman choice by the simple device of issuing a statement.

Every Democratic convention adopts its own rules, but past rules are usually accepted with few exceptions. Thus, the unit rule—in effect at successive Democratic Effective Sunday the operational organization of the Soil Conservation Service undergoes a far-reaching change throughout the United States.

The change is described as being made for greater efficiency and greater economy, and it is significant that it has been brought about by the SCS itself and not under any compulsion from any federal economy drive or reorganization program.

W. S. Goodlett of Big Spring who has had the title of district conservationist, working with three Soil Conservation Districts—the Martin-Howard SCD, the North Concho SCD and the Coke SCD, now assumes the title of "area conservationist" with general supervision over the Soil Conservation Service activities co-operating with seven SCD's. These are the Cochran-Terry-Yoakum SCD with SCS units at Morton and Brownfield; the Lynn SCD with one unit at Tahoka; the Gaines SCD with one unit at Seminole; the Dawson

Publisher Allowed To Make Apology

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—The publisher and printer of "U.S.A. Confidential" will apologize to Neiman-Marcus Co. of Dallas and the firm will drop libel action against them.

A Federal Court order permitting this was signed yesterday by Judge John F. X. McGohery.

The order permits the store to continue litigation against the authors, Jack Lait and Lee Mortimer. The original suit asked a total of $7,400,000.

The publisher and printer will apologize to the department store in newspaper advertisements and to the store's individual employees who filed the suit because of statements made in the book.

Below, a statement from Neiman-Marcus is to appear, accepting the apology.

Letters to the individual employees are to read similar to the ads. Lait and Mortimer issued a prepared statement saying in part: "We rejected and repudiate such an apology and such a deal which was offered to us. We propose to establish the truth of all our assertions."

The authors said they would defend with vigor all the suits pending against them.

Farmers Opposing Plum Island Lab

GREENPORT, N. Y., July 18 (AP)—Farmers and officials alike of Suffolk County don't want a foot-and-mouth disease laboratory on nearby Plum Island.

Representatives from both groups appeared yesterday at a public hearing held by the Department of Agriculture.

The department has planned a ten million dollar laboratory.

One farmer said it would be a "menace to health" and was proposed "at the whim of Washington officials."

County Attorney Fred J. Munder protested that not enough time was given for the hearing for protesting citizens to prepare their case.

Panel Chairman W. A. Minor said that extensive safety measures were planned for the laboratory and added: "It's so safe it's almost foolproof."

Another hearing was to be held at Bridgehampton, N. Y., today. Sessions were held in Connecticut earlier in the week to give residents of nearby areas a chance to air their views.

conventions since 1860—may be part of the coming convention's regulations.

It has been the consistent practice at past Democratic conventions to require a state delegation to be bound by the unit rule when that state's Democratic convention has instructed its delegates to vote as a unit.

Under the rule the majority of a delegation decides how to cast all of its convention votes, regardless of the preference of a minority.

Excepted from the rule are a dozen states and the District of Columbia, which choose their National Convention delegates in primary elections. The dozen states are California, Florida, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Delegates from these states are expected to vote the choices indicated in their primaries.

One other exception is provided. The National Convention, by a two-thirds vote, may let a state dispense with the unit rule.

Michigan's 40-vote delegation to next week's convention decided Tuesday against being bound by the unit rule, even though instructed by the state Democratic convention to vote as a unit.

Party officials said Michigan officials probably will have to carry its plea to be exempted to the convention floor.

SCD with one unit at Lamesa; the Upper Colorado SCD, composed of Borden and Scurry Counties with one unit at Snyder; the Mitchell SCD with one unit at Colorado City, and the Martin-Howard SCD with SCS units at Big Spring, Stanton and Midland.

Goodlett's headquarters will be maintained at Big Spring.

Heretofore the district conservationists have been required to meet with the supervisors of the Soil Conservation Districts in their regular sessions but hereafter the SCS will be represented at these meetings by the work unit conservationists of the SCS units in the particular district. In some particular matters Goodlett and other area conservationists will attend these meetings, however.

There will now be approximately 25 SCS "areas" in the state instead of more than twice that many SCS "districts" it is explained.

It has always been a matter of considerable pride to the Soil Conservation Service that at least 90 per cent of its appropriation has been spent on the land with the field men also actually doing most of the administrative work themselves. Under this new arrangement the SCS estimates that even more of the appropriation can be spent on the land since the reorganization plan cuts administrative costs still lower.

Goodlett's new area is one of the three heaviest work-loaded areas in the state.

Thursday's farm tragedy in the Flower Grove Community of Martin County comes grimly on the eve of the observance of National Farm Safety Week which commences Sunday, and this unusual accident serves to remind that on the farm and ranch death, disaster and injury may strike swiftly and terribly from the most unexpected sources and at the most unexpected times. There are many and varied elements of hazard that should be taken into consideration in making all farm and ranch operation calculations.

The things most likely not to be thought of, are the ones that should be thought of first, and the most apparently innocent set of circumstances may be potentially the most deadly.

Mexico Police Say Smugglers Caught

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police say they've cracked a ring which smuggled more than 1,000 automobiles from the United States into Mexico in eight months. They arrested four men.

Police Chief Leandro Sanchez Salazar said the gang purchased the automobiles legally in the U. S., then used forged import permits to evade Mexican customs charges in getting them across the border into Mexico.

Automobiles manufactured in Mexico cost about $1,000 more than similar models sold in the United States.

Tucker To Continue As 'Drys' Secretary

DALLAS, July 18 (AP)—The Rev. Albert F. Tucker of Dallas will continue as acting executive secretary of the United Texas Drys until October.

The organization named Tucker to continue in the post yesterday. A permanent secretary will be named at the group's biennial convention in Abilene, Oct. 15-16.

Tucker has been acting secretary since June when Dr. Walter H. McKenzie died.

Dodgers Fatten Up On Weaker Clubs

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
"Never give a sucker an even break."
Chuck Dressen is playing the old P. T. Barnum line on his Brooklyn callopie to film the poor brethren of the National League.

Bill Cox

Against the bottom three clubs the Dodgers perform with the finesse of a shell game operator at a fireman's carnival. Maybe the boys will catch on before the show leaves town but it's getting late.

The Brooks have won 25 of 36 games—a glittering .694 pace—against Boston, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, the 6th, 7th and 8th place clubs. Against the rest of the league, they're playing just .500 ball with 21 wins and 21 defeats.

It isn't always easy. Yesterday it took 11 innings at Cincinnati before Carl Furtell finally broke it up with a run-scoring single, 2-1.

Brooklyn now has a 12-1 record against the Reds, 13-0 against Boston and 10-0 against Pittsburgh, tonight's opponent.

Both Jackie Robinson and Billy Cox, his replacement, were run off the premises by Umpire Augie Gagliardi in the ninth when the Reds knocked out Preacher Roe and tied the score at 1-1.

Robinson was chased when he kicked his glove in the air in protest of a "safe" call on Eddie Pellagrini's steal of second. Cox didn't last long when he continued the argument. Joe Black was the winner, Frank Smith the loser, both on relief.

The Dodgers lead measured six full games after Max Lanier walked Enos Slaughter with the bases loaded and the score tied in the last of the ninth for a 3-2 St. Louis Card victory over the New York Giants.

Lanier, who walked 11, gave the Cards their first run when he walked Del Rice with the bases loaded in the first.

Leo Durocher's strategy backfired in the ninth. Virgil Stallcup hit a pinch double and Tommy Glaviano, running for him, took third on an infield out. Durocher then ordered Lanier to pass Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial.

After running the count to 3-2 on Slaughter, Lanier also walked him to end the game.

The "big" American League series at Yankee Stadium ended with New York and Cleveland splitting a twilight doubleheader. As the Yankees took the series 3-2, they added a full game to their lead, now measuring 4 1/2 games.

Joe Collins' ninth inning home run off reliever Bob Lemon gave the Yanks the 5-4 second game, dropping the Indians into third place, two percentage points behind Boston. Collins' smash, barely inside the right field foul line, came a few minutes after Barney McCoy's pinch hit homer, his first of the season, tied the score in the top of the ninth. But Vic Raschi steadied to go the route for his 10th victory.

Allie Reynolds, who had pitched 18 complete games since last Sept. 11, finally was knocked out of the box in the twilight game, won by Cleveland, 11-6. The Tribe rocked Alie for six runs and six hits in two innings and rolled up 15 hits in all, including a homer and triple by Larry Doby.

All Yank runs in the opener came on homers by Mickey Mantle, Johnny Mize and Collins.

Little Bobby Shantz turned in a six-hitter for Philadelphia against the St. Louis Browns to win his 15th, 2-1, in the second game of a two-night doubleheader. The Browns won the opener, 6-5, when Pitcher Tommy Byrne hit two singles, a double and a homer.

Spec Shea, a spectacular success at Washington since he was discarded by the Yankees, shut out Detroit with five hits and scored the only run to beat Hal Newhouser's five-hitter, 1-0. Shea nailed down his sixth straight victory and ninth of the year by singling in the last of the ninth, taking second on Eddie Yost's bunt and scoring on Jim Busby's sharp single.

Boston didn't know it was taking over second place when it squeezed past Chicago, 2-1, in the American's only day game. Sammy White's home run and George Kell's run-scoring double were enough to win with the help of an effective ninth inning relief job by Ray Scarborough.

Down in the second division of the National, the big noise was provided by Pittsburgh's sweep of a doubleheader with Philadelphia, 2-0 and 4-2.

Vern Riffe drove home the only run with a seventh-inning single in Boston's 1-0 edge over Chicago's Paul Minner. Riffe allowed seven hits to break his personal four-game losing streak to the Cubs.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Plans to move the Little League baseball park to a spot on Lancaster Street are well along.

An adult enthusiast of the circuit has talked some of the lumber yards in town into providing lumber for bleacher seats. Perhaps a fence can be built, in time, if the park is moved.

The youngsters now play in a basin west of Steer Park, home of the professionals, and the diamond becomes flooded when it showers.

Hack Wright, one of the sponsors of the league this year, estimates ten people contacted him, after the league once became a going concern, offering to back teams.

He thinks three or four leagues can be organized for the kids next year, along with a league or two for the lads who are too old for Little League ball and too young to compete against the adults.

More than $2,500 was raised in a drive for Little League funds in Midland recently. A campaign for contributions would probably meet fine response here.

son enthusiastically received as Little League ball.

ANGELI FANS NO DIFFERENT FROM MOST OTHERS
There is scant chance overall baseball attendance in San Angelo will reach 100,000 this year, unless the Colts become a miracle team and become an August contender for the Longhorn League lead.

Some observers are accusing the followers there of being "fair weather fans," meaning the supporters back the club only when it is winning.

Angelo differs from no other city in that respect. Very few communities will support a loser consistently. Too, this year's race is a sort of anti-climax to the folks down that way, after last year's great season. The turnstile click could be expected to be off.

GEORGIA HAS SHARE OF GOOD GOLFERS

Outside of Texas, Georgia can probably claim more top-rated golfers than any other state. Here are a few of the linksters, men and women, who have called Georgia home:

Bobby Jones, Louise Suggs, Charlie Yates, Dorothy Kirby, Douglass Edgar (who won the Canadian Open twice), Alex Stirling (three times women's amateur titlist), Harvie Ward (a transplanted North Carolinian), Perry Adair, Gene Dahlberger, Watts Gunn, Tommy Barnes and others.

Where else, though, can you find a group like Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum, Jackie Burke, Jr., Byron Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, Betty Jameson, Babe Zaharias, Betsy Rawls, Billy Maxwell, Tommy Bolt and Peggy Riley? All are Texans.

The Artesia Drillers, who hit only 49 home runs in last season's Longhorn League play, should clout three times that many this year. Joe Bauman himself will hit 49 or more, if the enemy hurriers will pitch to him.

The US Olympic athletes will eat well in Finland. Some 6,000 steaks, 3,000 lamb chops, 2,500 pounds of bacon, 2,500 pounds of ham and 2,500 pounds of chicken, along with 15,000 milk chocolate bars, 150 cases of orange juice. Five hundred loaves of bread are being shipped over from the US daily.

The athletes have been warned against over-eating, though. They have their own cook, needless to relate.

Teen-Agers Register Wins In Trans-Miss Tourney

DENVER, July 18 (AP)—Teen-agers indicated yesterday that a youthful golfer may wind up with the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament title this year.

Jimmy Breen, an 18-year-old from Albuquerque, beat Medalist Joe Conrad of San Antonio, 7 and 1, in the second round. Breen is former New Mexico amateur and junior champion. He meets Gill Carey of Denver in today's third round.

Another 18-year-old, Bill Parker of Tulsa, also scored a second-round victory. He beat Bill Ebert of San Francisco, 2-up.

A veteran, Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, also came through. Coe, a two-time Trans-Miss champion, defeated Floyd Addington of Dallas, 3 and 2.

Parker meets R. A. Jennings of Lubbock, Tex., and Coe plays Joe Lynch of Denver in the third round.

A former Trans-Miss champion, John Dawson of Palm Springs, Calif., was ousted. Ed Hopkins of Abilene, Tex., defeated him 2 and 1 over the 6,711, par 70 Lakewood Club Course.

Davis was the 1936 Trans-Mississippi titlist.

Sox Catch Fire After Blaze

AMARILLO, July 18 (AP)—They're talking about renaming Gold Sox Field here and calling it Phoenix Field to signify a rebirth.

They might also give the same name to the Amarillo Gold Sox club in the Class C West Texas-New Mexico League. Because when the park caught fire the club did the same and from the ashes came better things.

Baseball players may think the only Phoenix is Phoenix, Ariz., but in Egyptian mythology it was a bird which, when it aged, was consumed by fire in its own nest, then was reborn young and strong from the ashes.

Abilene, Tex., defeated him 2 and 1

Plays Sunday

When the Forsan Oilers host Somers in a Concho Basin League game at Forsan Sunday afternoon, Bobby Asbury will be at second base for Lefty Shelton's team. The Oilers will launch second half play with the game.

Mosel Sets Hot Pace In Meet

SAN ANTONIO, July 18 (AP)—Stan Mosel of San Antonio continued to set the pace in the State Junior Golf Tournament today.

After two torrid rounds before the rains came late yesterday, Dick Goerlich, Beaumont, Pat Symons, San Antonio, and Kirby Edwards, Dallas, remained in the running.

Outstanding victim yesterday was Wesley Ellis Jr. who bowed to Billy Maca, Kingsville, 1-up in 21 holes. Maca eagled the 515-yard No. 3 hole at Brackenridge Course to end the match.

Others missing as the tournament went into the semi-final round are Bob Moncrief of Houston, Chuck Ribella of Dallas, Arlyn Scott of Odessa and Elwyn Stobaugh of New Braunfels.

IN OLYMPICS

Texan May Get The Honor Of Winning First Medal

By TED SMITS

HELSINKI, July 18 (AP)—To Walt Davis, a six-foot-eight-inch Texan who fought his way back to strength from a childhood attack of infantile paralysis, may go the honor of winning the first American gold medal of the 1952 Olympic games.

"And I hope to win it for baby," said 21-year-old Walt today. Walt is married, has one child, and expects another in two weeks. His wife, Margaret, is at their home in Nederland, Tex.

Davis is rated the world's best high jumper with a chance of breaking the world's record here. In this tricky event, where even the greatest stars have had days, he has been amazingly consistent at 6 feet 9 and 10 inches, far higher than anyone outside the United States.

Davis came to Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College on a basketball scholarship and never took track very seriously until last year. He went out for it "to escape spring basketball practice, because we had a coach who was a demon for workouts."

The high jump and the 10,000-meter run are the only two final events on Sunday, the first day of competition, and a sellout crowd of 70,000 will be on hand. The U. S. hasn't a chance in the 10,000 except possibly for fifth place or so.

The Olympic record is 2.03 meters (6-7 1/2) and the world record is 2.10 meters (6-11) in the high jump. Davis jumped 6-11 1/2 in the Southwest Conference meet at Dallas, but officials said the takeoff was an inch too high so the mark was cut back to 6-10 1/2.

In the big American meets, he did 6-8 in the national collegiates, tying for first with Emery Barnes of Oregon (who didn't make the team), won the high jump in the National Amateur Athletic Union championships at 6-10 1/2, and won the final tryouts at 6-9.

The other American jumpers are Ken Wiesner, ex-Marquette star, who is making a comeback at the age of 27, and Arnold Beton, Drake Negro who did 6-10 1/2 as a high school boy.

The high jump is a strange event where weather, wind, or temperament can cause an upset. The United States was favored to clean up at London in 1948, but instead John Winter of Australia won at 6-6 and George Stanich, the best American, was third at the comparatively poor height of 6-4 1/2.

This time, however, the American jumpers seem to be more consistent—particularly Davis—and the opposition is weaker. There is a fair chance for an American sweep of the first three places.

"I certainly hope I can win this one," said Walt. "I want the world's record, too. I've been so darned close so many times."

Walt has come a long way for a boy stricken with polio at the age of eight and had difficulty walking for the next three years.

Broncs Launch Home Stand On Saturday

Angelo Colts Will Be Here

The Big Spring Broncs return home from New Mexico Saturday to begin a four-day home stand.

San Angelo's Colts return to meet the Steeds in the first two games, after which Midland puts in here. Saturday night's contest begins at 8:30 p.m., as per custom.

Pat Stacey's Cayuses figure they still have a chance to overtake Odessa in the battle for first place. However, they're in need of help from the other clubs, none of which seem to be able to do anything about the Odessa menace.

Fancho Perez will probably see action in the home stand, and it could be Saturday night. The big hurler has been working himself in condition for the past two weeks. He's been on a weight-reducing program.

Stacey plans to put him on a five-day look upon the club's return.

The locals make only one more trip to New Mexico, by the way. That will be Aug. 17 through Aug. 22. The Big Springers have fared better in the two New Mexico cities this season than in other years, though.

San Angelo and Big Spring broke even in their last four games, three of which were played in San Angelo.

Amarillo Waxos Borger, 7 To 5

By The Associated Press Amarillo's Gold Sox, who have been nowhere but in the West Texas-New Mexico League cellar this season, at least is getting plenty mileage somehow.

In Thursday night's action, Amarillo, led by Borger, 7-5, as Merv Connors, Les Mulcahy and Stan Machinsky all ran the circuit on individual clouts.

In the other games played, Clovis suffered its third July defeat, this time, 4-1, at Albuquerque's hands, and Pampa whipped Lubbock 7-1.

The other game, Abilene at Lamesa, was called because of rain in the top of the first inning.

XV OLYMPIAD TO OPEN IN FINLAND SATURDAY

By BEN PHLEGAR

HELSINKI (AP)—Another 24 hours and the greatest sports show on earth—the 15th summer Olympic games—will open on the Kelly green turf of Helsinki's modernist stadium.

Sixty-nine countries, a record, and almost 8,000 athletes, another record, will be represented at the colorful ceremonies tomorrow.

A 70th nation may show up, but probably not by tomorrow.

The ticklish question of which China—Communist or Nationalist—can be the China in the games was settled temporarily yesterday. The International Olympic Committee voted to let both take part.

Nationalist China then said it did not care to play with the Communists here or anywhere else. The Nationalists promptly canceled any plans to compete.

Communist China will be eligible for one sport, swimming. But its team will have to get here by a week from tomorrow when the first swimming events are scheduled.

Present whereabouts of the squad are unknown. Guesses range from the Russian naval base 10 miles outside Helsinki, to Leningrad, Moscow, Siberia and China.

Today the International Olympic Committee delves into East-West politics again. It will discuss East Germany. As far as the Helsinki games are concerned the question is theoretical. The East Germans can't take part here.

The West Germans are here more or less by default. At its Vienna meeting last year the IOC ordered the Germans to get together and form one squad. The East Germans balked and the West Germans showed up at the Oslo winter Olympics.

The IOC again told the Germans to get together before the summer games but the East Germans weren't in a consolidating mood.

As the big show here prepared to go on the committee confirmed final arrangements for the 1956 games at Melbourne. Now they will tackle the problem of reducing the size of the affair. Team sports—basketball, soccer, field hockey and water polo—will have to put up a good case to justify their retention.

All 70,000 seats in the main Olympic stadium have been sold for tomorrow's opening. The prices range up to 14 dollars. These seats almost were sold 13 years ago. The stadium was built for the 1940 Olympic games. Then came the war.

Felines Split With Sports

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Fighting fire with fire, the two hottest clubs in the Texas League, Fort Worth and Shreveport, dueling over second place, divided the only two games played last night.

Each used its on specialty tricks in winning; the Cats, boastful of its fine pitching, subdued Shreveport 3-1 in the opener. Then the Sports, heaviest baten in the league, bounded back to club 11 hits and take the nightcap, 5-3.

The rest of the league was out of action because of rain; the Dallas at Beaumont double-header, the Oklahoma City at Houston pair, and a single game Tulsa at San Antonio.

Tonight's schedule finds the rained-out clubs planning twin-bills and single game Fort Worth at Shreveport.

Bountiful Supply Of Doves May Greet Texas Hunters

By L. A. WILKE

AUSTIN.—This year's dove season probably will open in a little more than a month in North Texas with a bountiful supply. The Texas Game & Fish Commission is meeting today to decide on the dates. Indications point to a Sept. 1, date in North Texas and an Oct. 1, date in South Texas.

There has been a heavy dove nesting this year, according to Howard Dodger, executive secretary of the commission. Wardens throughout the state have been banding many more birds than usual. With some more rain in North Texas to bring on a big fall weed seed crop there should be good shooting in that area, he feels.

During the past thirty days we've traveled some 3,000 miles in East and South Texas and have seen literally thousands of paired birds, both young and old along the highways. It would be difficult to say where most of the birds are, but we've made up our minds that the Beeville country will get some of our hunting come the opening season. The mesquites in that area are fairly alive with doves.

In North East and East Texas, however, there also is an indication of a big crop. There seems to be plenty of seed available for feed and nesting has been without too much difficulties.

Dodger said the season probably would be limited to afternoon shooting again.

There's fun right now in catching big gar with heavy tackle. Take this from Townsend Miller, assistant director of publications of the game department. Last week Miller with Bob Kemp, Caddo Lake biologist, went gar fishing. They used both treble hooks and wire noose. Miller was using a heavy salt water rod and hooked a big old gar that started off, taking half of Miller's rod along. Miller then went over to Lake Texoma where he tried some fly rod fishing on Sunday afternoon. He came up with a blue cat, a spotted bass, a white bass and a big bream as his string.

Cat fishing right now is most popular in the Colorado string of lakes. A few bass are being caught, but most of the fish brought in are cats, weighing from three to six pounds. Few larger ones are being caught. Water in the lakes is very hot and the fishing is deep. There is said to be little temperature change for thirty feet down.

There's another run on coastal fishing. Last week end both weather and fishing were reported perfect and most of the fishermen came in with full strings. This was true from Freeport to Brownsville, with hundreds of island fishermen getting good strings of trout and mackerel.

Coastal fishing this year has been good but erratic. There have been week ends like the past when every one caught fish. Other week ends have fallen flat. Most of this was caused by high winds and muddy water, however. The fish seemed to have been there.

Going deer hunting this fall? Then now is the time to begin checking on your lease, if you haven't already signed up one. Also you can tell now, by making a trip into the country, what the grass condition is. Last year many hunters got into pastures that had poor forage and the deer were very poor.

Arencibia Gets 11th Triumph Behind Steeds

ROSWELL, N. M. — Aramis Arencibia celebrated his nomination for a berth on the Eastern All-Star team by pitching the Big Spring Broncs to an impressive 10-4 victory over the Roswell Rockets here Thursday night. It was his 11th triumph of the season.

The Broncs broke loose with five runs in the eighth to put the game on ice after grabbing a one-run lead in the seventh. The Broncs jumped on Rocket hurler Andy Alonso for six hits in the eighth, a walk and swiped a pair of bases to rip the game open. Juan Visteur's two-run double was the big blow in the frame.

Arencibia scattered 10 Rocket hits to take the win. A Big Spring error and four Rocket hits in the second inning when they scored three of their runs, caused him his only serious trouble of the night.

The Broncs tallied once in the first frame, went ahead 4-3 in the fourth, scored a lone run in the seventh and wrapped up the game with their big eighth inning.

Included in the eighth inning uprising were singles by Buddy Grimes, Ricky Gonzales, Ozzie Alvarez and Al Costa, a double by Visteur, a sacrifice by Quintana and an intentional pass to Pat Stacey. Grimes and Costa set up two of the runs with stolen bases.

Roswell tied the contest with a single run in the sixth when Frank Calo's long fly drove in Wayne Crawford from third to knot the score at 4-4.

But that was all the locals could manage for the night. The two teams will meet in a double header here tonight.

Winnipeg, Mwn., July 16 (AP)—Johnny Palmer held a four-stroke lead today in the Canadian Open Golf Tournament after setting a competitive record for the St. Charles Golf and Country Club course.

The 34-year-old Badin, N. C., pro shot a dazzling seven-under-par 65 yesterday in the second round of the 72-hole event to give him a score of 131.

Palmer's opening day 66 also broke the course record of 67 set three years ago by Wally Ulrich of Austin, Minn.

On Palmer's heels for $3,000 first money in the $15,000 race was another American, Skee Riesen of Tulsa, Okla., with 68-69-135. In close pursuit with scores of 136 were Roberto de Vicenzo of Buenos Aires, 69-67; Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., 67-69; and Dutch Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., 69-67.

In fourth place was Freddy Haas Jr. of New Orleans with 68-69-137 while Smiley Quick of Pasadena, Calif., with 68-70-138, and Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., with 69-68-138, were tied for fifth.

Red Covington San Angelo, declassified A. N. Ridings, Chillicothe, 1 up.

Ray McDonald, Albuquerque, whipped G. E. Stollbarger, Amarillo, 3 and 7.

Today's pairings: Councman vs. Howard, Day vs. Allen, Johnson vs. Covington, and Hale vs. McDonald.

McAlester Builds Sooner State Lead

By The Associated Press The McAlester Rockets lengthened their lead in the Sooner State League Thursday night by whipping the Lawton Reds, 9-1, while second place Chickasha dropped a 2-1 decision to the tallied Ardmore Indians.

The other two games—Sherman at Shawnee and Ada at Pauls Valley—were rained out.

IN LITTLE LEAGUE

Oilers Shut Out Yankees, 6 To 0

The Oilers blanked the Yankees, 6-0, in a jam-up Little League baseball game played here Thursday evening.

J. White, applied the white-wash setting the Yanks down with four hits. White allowed as many as two hits in only one inning, the fifth, when Brown and Johnson singled in succession after Grigsby had grounded out.

Robinson counted the first Oiler run in the first frame. He singled with one out and eventually got home on a one-baser by White.

The Oilers added two in the third when Duncan and Daniels spiked the pan on a hit and a misplay.

White walked only one batter and struck out nine. He hit two batters.

Mark-Ye-Well Is Favorite

CHICAGO (AP)—Calumet Farm's Mark-Ye-Well looks like the thoroughbred to beat in tomorrow's $150,000 Arlington Classic, the nation's richest race for 3-year-olds, but his trainer, Ben Jones, is properly pessimistic.

Jones has singled out a one-eyed colt, Cain Hoy Stable's Armageddon, as the one to watch in the prospective 15-horse field, even though Mark-Ye-Well will have Eddie Arcaro up.

While the railbirds were expecting Tom Fool, 1951 juvenile champion, High Sead and Sub Fleet to race it out with Mark-Ye-Well for top money, Jones commented:

"I've clocked a colt here at Arlington Park who could easily prove the real dark horse tomorrow. His name is Armageddon. If he runs Saturday like he worked when I clocked him, none of us figures to catch him."

Armageddon, son of Alsab, came to Arlington after winning the Withers and Peter Pan Stakes. He lost sight of his left eye when it was struck by a flying rock in the Champagne Stakes last October at Belmont.

About Mark-Ye-Well, never out of the money in all his five starts, Jones said the Calumet Colt had only an outside chance.

If an outsider takes the big Ace, Red Charger, Oh Leo, Blue Dare, Errard's Guide, King Bertie, Happy Go Lucky and Red Circuit.

Crews Finish 127 Barriers
BERLIN, July 18 (AP)—West Berlin crews hammered the last spans today into 127 barriers blocking off escape routes for Communists criminals seeking the safety of the surrounding Soviet Zone.

At the same time, the Western Allies lifted an old restriction and permitted the West Berlin police assigned to border and command duty to carry rifles. Potsdam had been standard equipment since the force was created after the war.

The measures grew out of public indignation over the Communist kidnapping of Dr. Walter Lippa, a leading official of the anti-Red 7-man Jurists' League. The attorney was whisked into the East Zone and despite personal intervention by U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy, has not been seen since.

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY Headquarters Is Established For A Woman Veep Candidate

By RUTH COWAN
CHICAGO (U) — For the first time in the history of a major political party formal campaign headquarters — complete with American flag, portraits, badges, workers and a water cooler — were opened today for a woman candidate for vice president.

She is India Edwards, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee and director of its Women's Division.

Ordinarily the idea would get the brush-off at this stage of feminine political development — except that India is quite a vocal figure in the party. Men, as well as women, besiege her office for appointments.

In the Democratic convention headquarters, the Conrad Hilton Hotel, there are presidential campaign headquarters for Russell, Kerr, Harriman, Kefauver and others — and now as one steps off the elevator on the third floor there is a big placard:

"Headquarters for India Edwards for vice president."

Mrs. Jennie O'Hern of Hobbidge, S. D., and Mrs. Frances G. Satterfield, Atlanta, Ga., opened it up and tacked up the portraits of their candidate.

They plan a formal opening later. But even now there is action. Volunteers have come in to do typing, get out press releases, answer phones. The place has all the confusion of any other headquarters.

The movement on behalf of Mrs. Edwards — who has said she doesn't expect to be nominated but will campaign if named — was started in June in New York by a group of prominent Democratic women.

Former Rep. Maty T. Norton of New Jersey is chairman of the national group. The vice chairman is Julia L. Crews, delegate from New York.

There are some important names among Democratic women on the Executive Committee of the "India Edwards for vice president" group. They include:

Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, treasurer of the United States and one of six women who will address the convention; Miss Mary Dewson, former vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee; Judge Marion Harron of the U. S. Tax Court in Washington; Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, Pennsylvania national committeewoman; Mrs. Margaret O'Riordan, Massachusetts national committeewoman, and Mrs. Thelma Parkinson Sharp, New Jersey state vice chairman.

India herself was born in Chicago. She grew up in Nashville and was educated in St. Louis. She was on the staff of the Chicago Tribune for 22 years as reporter, society editor and woman's page editor.

By an odd quirk, former Rep. Clara Booth Luce, Connecticut Republican, recruited India unwittingly as an active worker for the Democrats.

Over the radio she heard the 1944 Republican convention address by Mrs. Luce in which she spoke for GI Jim, the gold-star buddy of GI Joe. Mrs. Edwards' only son by her first marriage had been killed in the war. Mrs. Luce's speech shocked her.

The next morning she went down to Democratic headquarters and volunteered for work.

RALLY SET TONIGHT Politics In Mitchell Starts Warming Up

COLORADO CITY, July 18. — Mitchell County's political pot begins to simmer this week, with the first political rally of the summer set for Friday night in the Ruddleick Park bowl. The Mitchell County band will give a 30-minute concert preceding the rally. Candidates are scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Dub Oliver, chairman of arrangements, says all district and county candidates have been invited and extended an invitation to any other state candidates who desire to attend. Among others, Oliver expects Harley Sadler of Abilene to be present. Sadler is opposed for the office of State Senator, now held by Pat Bullock of Colorado City.

Eldon Mahon, incumbent in the three-way race for District Attorney, received a boost when Colorado City businessmen met Wednesday morning at 7:30 for a breakfast at the Crawford Hotel and pledged their support for Mahon's candidacy. Mahon's opponents are Robert Faver and Hiram Childress of Sweetwater.

Confessed Slayer To Be Arraigned

By RONALD AUTRY
NEW YORK (U) — A fanatic who claims the key to mankind's greatest secret — eternal life — appears in court today, accused of one of mankind's greatest crimes — murder.

Bayard P. Peakes, 28-year-old pseudo-scientist, is to be arraigned in Felony Court, charged with killing pretty Eileen Fabey — a slaying he admitted in a fantastic confession.

He said he killed the 18-year-old blonde stenographer for the American Physical Society because the scientific body had rejected his theories on how to live forever.

He didn't even know her. He had marked eight others for death, but he saw her first.

"I was going to shoot anybody," police quoted him.

Why? police asked.

"It was my book," Peakes whined.

"They wouldn't look at my book. They wouldn't even look at it."

The book was his 13,000-word thesis, "How to Live Forever." He had printed 7,500 copies of it with $1,000 he saved. But no organization would publish it.

Texas Baptists To Make Building Loans

DALLAS, July 18 (U) — Texas Baptists have promised millions of dollars in loans to help new Southern Baptist churches in eight western states to get started.

Action was taken yesterday by the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas in a special meeting here.

The loans would go to new churches in Arizona, Colorado, California, Wyoming, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Nevada — states that are considered mission fields because the Southern Baptist Convention is weak in them.

The board agreed to promote a campaign in September among Texas Baptists to raise one million dollars for loans. Several laymen have agreed to loan $500,000, and a working capital of $2,500,000 is anticipated.

Stalin Has A Conference With Italian Red Leader

MOSCOW (U) — The Soviet press announced today that Premier Joseph Stalin has met with Pietro Nenni, leader of the Communist-allied Italian Socialists.

It was the second time this year that the Soviet Prime Minister reportedly had an interview with a foreigner.

(From Rome, the Associated Press reported that Nenni's Moscow trip had scotched recent reports and speculation that the Socialist chief was tiring of his association with Italy's Communists and might seek a reconciliation with Premier Alcide de Gasperi's democratic bloc.)

Nenni came to the Soviet capital from Berlin, where he attended a meeting of the Communist-backed World Peace Council earlier this month.

His interview with Stalin, which took place yesterday, was revealed in a brief official announcement on the front pages of all Moscow newspapers.

"Stalin had a talk with Deputy Chairman of the World Council of Peace Pietro Nenni," the announcement said.

So far as the foreign colony here knows, Nenni is the only Italian received by Stalin in recent years.

Speculation arose recently in Italy that Nenni might be ready to draw his segment of the Socialists away from the Reds when, on June 2, he told a political meeting in Milan that his forces would "be with those who intend to consolidate the democratic republic institutions." Nenni added that his group's alliance with the Italian Communists does not destroy Socialist autonomy but only limits its range.

In Rome today, the Communist newspaper L'Unita indicated that the Stalin-Nenni interview might be used to highlight intensified Red peace propaganda.
