Little Fred Townsend, who never weighed more than a 120 pound in his life, has fast about won a berth in the Steer backfield. Schwarzenbach has almost a cinch for the quarterback post but Townsend's cool selection of hotes in scrimmages has caused him to be shifted to a halfback position.

At present Bristow's best quartet of back's are Townsend, Schwarzenbach, Richbourg and Koberg The latter might perhaps weigh 156 pounds. Swatzy tip the scales at 130 and Richbourg 146. Oh, well, we saw a bee chase a cow all over a ten acre lot once

Bob Flowers and Elmer Dyer are both to see plenty of action this year, Flowers is running signals as an end, guard, and center, while Dyer is performing as a tackle guard, and center. One of Bristow's schemes is to send Harris, who will come in for a backfield berth as soon as he is completely recovered from an injured ankly, to a wing position on defense. Flow-ers to a guard, and pull Martin out to back up the line. Lack of reserve strength for the line positions is causing the plunned hifts to be practiced.
