State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

Texans who registered to vote before the January 31 deadline assured plenty of action for their 1970 registration certificate.

One of the nation's hottest U. S. Senate races is due to rage through the November 3 general election.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, 66, Austin and former Congressman Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., 48, Houston business executive, are major Democratic contenders for Yarborough's seat. Who wins will face Republican Congressman George Bush, 46, Houston in November.

Gov. Preston Smith, 57, may have opposition from Sen. Ralph Hall, 46, of Rockwall, who made a last-minute announcement Monday as a candidate for the Democratic ticket. Hall's application was not accepted by the State Democratic Executive Committee for technical reasons and was referred to the Supreme Court for determination of his eligibility.

Paul Eggers, 50, of Wichita Falls, will be the Republican challenger for the office of Governor in the general election in November.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin will be opposed by District Judge David Brown of Sherman in the Democratic primary and Corpus Christi attorney Edward Yturri, a Republican, in November. Republican came up with a surprising number of statewide candidates before the February filing deadline.

In addition, there will be hard fought local contests in many Texas counties.

Long-time conservative leader A. Logan of San Antonio is "tired and needed a rest" so he resigned as chairman of the American Party of Texas.

Chairman H. W. Matthews Conroy succeeds Logan until the election of a new leader at the state convention.

Chief chore of the American Party now is to get 30,000 to attend its May 2 precinct conventions, so it can qualify to place gubernatorial candidates on the ballot.

And there will be a sizzling November 3 battle over the liquor-by-the-drink proposition and the constitutional amendments ballot. Lines are already forming and campaigns shaping on that.

MEASURE BOOKLET
Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler is now distributing free copies of his booklet, "Treasure Temptation in Texas." It's about the island galleons and their cargo.

At the request of Corpus Christi P. Frances Farenhold, State Auditor George McNeil checked whether state facilities had been used in printing the booklet. He reported that General Office facilities had been employed, but that Sadler had reimbursed the agency $5,000.

It might be in order for me to serve that it is not unusual general information brochure be done at State expense.

Neil wrote, saying that Sadler appears to be "leaning over backwards to avoid criticism."

Printing of brochures is a common practice in many state departments, as a necessary part of informing the public. Thousands of copies of various and elaborate, well written and informative booklets have been provided by numerous departments to the schools and libraries of Texas. Many departments have their own printing plants.

Sadler's opponent in the Land Commissioner race, Rep. Bob Armstrong has not been critical of the incumbent. Armstrong, prominent Austin sportsman, began his campaign by calling for stronger conservation measures.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES
County commissioners have secretory authority to maintain streets which are an integral part of the county or state road system, within a city, if city consents, says Attorney General Martin.

TIME SESSION URGED
Austin newsman and business man Wick Fowler has launched one-man campaign for a special session of the legislature to enact "emergency laws" dealing with criminals and drunk and careless drivers.

Fowler, known as a humorist, was dead serious when he contended that only in a special session could full attention be focused on the rising crime rate and traffic dangers.

Noting there were 3,580 traffic deaths last year, he said: "Had this number been killed and injured in one accident, say a tornado or hurricane, the state would be overwhelmed by hysteria." Fowler also pointed out that there were 400,000 major crimes committed in the state last year and the crime rate is growing. He urged Texans to petition Governor Smith to call an emergency session of the lawmakers.

CRIME FIGHT
Governor's Criminal Justice Council says that 84 per cent of the 1969 federal crime control money received by governments below the state level in Texas is being used in the state's major cities. Remaining 16 per cent is split between smaller cities, towns and rural areas. Largest amounts were Houston, $227,000; Dallas $201,844; and Fort Worth, $108,750.

COURTS SPEAK
Supreme Court in effect upheld the constitutionality of a law which authorizes a youngster to be declared delinquent if he is behaving so as to endanger the health or morals of himself or others.

High court dismissed the appeal of a teenager sent to a state correctional school by county judge before an appeals court ordered him released on bond.

Third Court of Civil Appeals denied the appeal of an Austin high school boy sent to a reform school after his school principal ordered him to empty his pockets and found marijuana.

Court said the principal was acting for the father.

Supreme Court rebuffed the effort of major bus companies to prevent Corpus Christi from operating a special bus service outside its city limits.

A Houston doctor, according to the Supreme Court, should not be held liable for damages to a patient who complained that the drug given him for a urinary infection caused him to become dizzy.

Capt. Robert Weaver Receives Citation

Captain Robert D. Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Weaver, 816 N. Main, McLean, Texas, is a member of a U. S. Air Force combat wing that has been awarded the Presidential Unit Citation.

The wing was cited for heroism in military operations from May 1968 to December 1969. The 31st flew more than 21,000 combat sorties in F-100 Super Sabres while participating in 49 separate ground actions in the Republic of Vietnam.

MR. AND MRS. BILL NIX AND SON

Bill Nix To Seek Legislative Seat

Bill Nix, young Canadian rancher and Hemphill County's Republican Party Chairman for the past four years, has entered the race for State Legislative seat from the 79th District which will be vacated at the end of this year by Rep. Malouf Abraham.

Rep. Abraham is seeking reelection to the State Senate from the 31st Senatorial District.

Nix announced his entry into the race Monday, filing his candidacy with Republican Party Chairman in each of the seven counties (Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Roberts, Wheeler and Gray) making up the 79th District.

"I am announcing my candidacy for the Texas House of Representatives from the 79th District, subject to the Republican Primary in May," he said. "I share the concern of the citizens of our district that we continue to have the effective representation in Austin that we have enjoyed for the past few years. It is vitally important that we build together a government that is responsive to the desires of the voters, even when they live 500 miles from the Capitol. Only through a competitive two-party system can we do this."

"I believe that I have a grasp of the wants and needs of the people of this area, and I believe my experience in cattle ranching and feeding and in the development of new industry in the district will be a definite asset. I have had the privilege of helping to build two-party government in Texas through my work as a county Republican chairman and my association with other leaders in the District and State in the Tower, Eggers, Price and Abraham campaigns. I now ask for your support and your vote, so that I may contribute to better government for Texas in a more significant way."

Nix, who is 29, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nix of Canadian, members of a pioneer ranching family. He is married to the former Nelwyn "Puddin'" Hermann, and the couple have one son, Todd, age 5.

He is a graduate of the Canadian Public Schools and of Texas A & M University (class of 1963), where he was Commander of the Cadet Corps and named to "Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities."

He served for two years with the United States Army, mostly as Adjutant to the Senior Army Advisor for Louisiana; and is currently vice-president and ranch manager of Nix Cattle Co., a family corporation owned by himself and his father. He is secretary and director of Beef Cattle Co., a feedlot operation near Wheeler.

He is active in his church, as a member of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Pampa, and as Clerk of his church's Vestry; is Parker, who grew up in Lipscomb County has practiced law in Pampa, Gray County, Texas since he graduated from the University of Texas Law School in 1930.

He served two terms as county attorney and three terms as county judge of Gray County as a Democrat. He states that he has changed political affiliations for the reason that his thinking now is more in line with the Republican policies.

He feels the national deficit spending is a bad policy and that he is in sympathy with the President's effort to balance the national budget. He is also against foreign aid and feels that most of that money should be spent at home. He is in favor of the President's Vietnam policy of bringing our boys home as fast as possible with honor. He says that in his opinion the majority of the people agree with these policies.

Parker is married to the former Wilse Blakney of Amarillo. They make their home at 2601 Duncan. They have three children.

Changes Are Made In Medicare Benefits

Rising hospital care costs across the nation have forced Medicare's inpatient hospital deductible and coinsurance amounts to be increased accordingly, announced Howard L. Weatherly, social security district manager in Pampa.

New rates in the hospital deductible and coinsurance became effective January 1, 1970, he continued. The deductible, payable at the beginning of a "benefit period" upon entrance in a hospital, was increased by $8, from $44 to $52. The coinsurance, payable by the patient after the first 60 days of hospitalization, rose from $11 to $13 per day.

Coinsurance for the 60-day lifetime reserve (beginning after 90 days hospitalization) increased from $22 to $26 daily.

Although Medicare will continue to pay all costs for the first 20 days in an extended care facility (skilled nursing home), the patient will be required to pay an additional dollar a day, $6.50 instead of $5.50, for the 21st through the 100th day of such care.

Weatherly noted that these increased rates apply, however, only to benefit periods or "spells of illness" beginning on or after January 1, 1970. This means that Medicare beneficiaries receiving hospital or skilled care in a nursing home on December 31, 1969, will continue to pay at the old rate through this spell of illness. The increased rates will apply for the next spell of illness, which will begin after they have been out of a hospital or skilled nursing home for at least 60 days.

New Medicare Handbooks outlining these changes are available now at the local social security office at Pampa or from the social security representative who visits each county regularly.

Dale Woods Earns Cub Scout Trophy

Knights In Armour was the theme for January Pack meeting of cub scout troop No. 25, last Thursday night in the school gym.

Each of the four dens were dressed in armor, shields, swords and hats that were made by the boys and their den mothers. A puppet show and a skit presented by the scouts took everyone present back in history to the days of knights, dragons, castles and fair ladies in distress.

The attendance banner was presented to Den 2 by Bill Kingston Jr., scoutmaster. This was the second straight time for Den 2 to earn this banner. Attendance more than doubled from the previous month, with 100 people present.

The cub scout trophy, for having the most visitors present, was given to Dale Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Woods. Jay Lynn Ward, received his Bob Cat pin at this meeting.

Mrs. Foster Whaley, wife of Gray County Agent, was a patient in Highland General Hospital this week, after having surgery last Thursday.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

TEACHING TAXES

About 15 years ago a group of school teachers from Maryland got together with the Internal Revenue Service in Washington and designed a simple kit for the everyday unlearned (tax-wise) school teachers who were well trained in educational methods, to use to teach students how to prepare their income tax return. Between 40 and 50 million young Americans have taken this course and about 4 1/2 million took the course during 1969, and at least this many more will learn something about taxes in 1970. Commissioner Throver has sent a letter to all of the secondary school principals offering them the free Teaching Taxes materials for the coming year. Many adult education groups, such as the home demonstration club or the retired employees associations, and others that have regular training programs and order the material. If you need teaching material, write to the Teaching Taxes Coordinator, P. O. Box 7788, Dallas, Texas 75221, and tell him how many adult students you have in the group. (Teachers who did not receive the regular order form for their school can also order this way.) He will arrange for the 1970 course to be mailed directly to you next January.

They were in Clarendon on business Friday.

Instead of regular services at Alanreed Baptist Church Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Warner Phillips gave their account of the recent Baptist Convention held at Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis returned home Sunday after a long stay in Amarillo with their son John and family while their infant son was seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce left Wednesday for Calera, Okla. to attend funeral services for Earl Patton, father of Mrs. Truman Bruce. Mr. Patton who had been ill for sometime died Monday. He was an employee of Bruce Nursery for many years.

Coupons Are Needed For Worthy Cause

Residents of nine states have joined the students of Wayland Baptist College in an attempt to raise 600,000 Betty Crocker Coupons needed to purchase a kidney machine for former Wayland student, Larry Parks of Circleville, Ohio.

Coupons are still being sought in the drive and may be mailed to the Student Government Association at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, Texas. Some 240,000 coupons have been collected to date.

The drive originated when Larry Parks, a freshman ministerial student from Circleville, Ohio, discovered shortly before Christmas that he was the victim of Brights disease in the chronic and terminal stages. Parks is 24 years old, married and the father of two small children. In order to live, Parks must have a kidney transplant or a kidney machine and related equipment valued at some $60,000.

General Mills has agreed to purchase the necessary equipment if friends of Parks can raise the 600,000 Betty Crocker coupons.

Students at the college are very optimistic about meeting their goal. They meet each day to open the mail which floods the Student Government Association office. Not only coupons, but trading stamps are being accepted.

Persons interested in helping to raise the additional 360,000 coupons are urged to mail their coupons or stamps to Student Government Association, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas, or give them to a student of the McLean Schools and they will be sent in by the McLean High School Student Council.

car. A premium discount is offered by most insurance companies for youthful motorists who have satisfactorily completed a recognized driver education course offered by high schools and colleges. Also, many insurers offer a premium discount ranging up to 25 percent for young drivers who maintain good grades in school, reflecting the fact that general-education students also have good driving records.

F. H. A. Have A
Valentine Social

The FHA girls under the guidance of Mrs. Baker had a Valentine's Party, Monday night. The meeting was called to order by Nancy Brown, treasurer. Nancy Brown and Marsha Ellison started the party off by having Judy Saunders and Michelle Parker tell their version of love. The Valentine Party committee were Nancy Brown, Marsha Ellison, Angela Wine-
geart, and Lois Husted. Games were played and then refreshments were served from a table set in a Valentine theme. The group then sang gay songs.
Everyone then left with a little more love in their heart.

What's Really Important About
Young Drivers

What is the real problem when a youngster starts to drive? His safety? Concern for others? The cost of auto insurance?

Insurance companies hear much about auto insurance rates for the young driver, but these rates recognize and encourage safe driving in a situation where there isn't enough of it.

Consider these facts:
Although only 20.9 percent of the nation's motoring population is under age 25, drivers age 24 and younger were in-

involved in 34.6 percent of all reported accidents and 33.9
percent of fatal accidents in this country in 1968.

The number of drivers involved in fatal accidents, ages 20 through 24, in 1968 was 117 per 100,000 drivers, almost twice the average rate of 67 for all age groups.

Because younger drivers tend to have more frequent and more serious accidents, they run up a bigger accident bill and auto insurance rates are higher for those in this group.

However, steps can be taken to limit the extent of the premium increase when a young person starts driving the family

New Rubella Vaccine Can Wipe Out
Major Cause of Birth Defects

By VIRGINIA APGAR, M.D.
Vice President for Medical Affairs
The National Foundation-
March of Dimes

If the new rubella vaccine
given widest use, it can eradicate German measles as prime cause of birth defects within five years.

The National Foundation
goal is prevention of birth defects, has launched national programs to increase public and professional understanding of the need for vaccination of children.
Inevitably the question arises: Why vaccinate youngsters if damage or death in the womb strike with devastating effect in early pregnancy?
The answer is quite simple.
Children, between kindergarten and second grade, are the most likely carriers of the disease. They can transmit it easily to their mothers or mothers of friends. If children are made immune to rubella, they will not be able to pass it on to women of childbearing age.

Epidemic Predicted
Rubella can spread in epidemic proportions, as it did in 1964-65, with tragic results.
Some 50,000 babies were born handicapped or destroyed throughout the country. The total includes about 30,000
fetal deaths and 20,000 live-born babies who must endure
long birth defects.

Rubella epidemics usually occur in cycles of six to nine years. Many medical authorities fear another destructive epidemic next spring. Fortunately, major metropolitan areas, with about 90 per cent of women in childbearing years are immune because of early ex-posure to German measles. On the other hand, fewer women
in rural areas catch the disease when they are children.
To prevent future waves of rubella-damaged babies, the March of Dimes has urged widespread aid in supplying sufficient vaccine. A realistic immunization program to immunize 75 percent of the target group of children will require 42 million doses. Since only about 10 percent of these children are likely to be inoculated by private physicians, government financing of vaccine for the others
is vital for effective protection.

Dr. Virginia Apgar urges vaccination of children against rubella (German measles) to eliminate the disease. When a pregnant woman is infected, her child may be born with severe defects.

Our educational efforts also take aim at two confusing
points.
• The vaccine for rubeola (regular measles) will not protect against rubella (German measles).
• Boys catch rubella and carry it home. It is true that they will never be mothers,
but if they spread the disease
to women, the effects can be disastrous.

Danger to Women
The most severe damage generally occurs during the first three months of pregnancy. Because the symptoms can be so mild, a woman may never be aware that she has been infected.

Furthermore, for at least the first month, a woman rarely suspects she is pregnant.
No one knows whether the live virus in the vaccine can cross the placenta as does the natural rubella virus, and the danger to the embryo. For this reason, medical authorities warn against inoculation of women or girls beyond the age of 11.

Educational Campaign
There is a great need for public awareness about the life-saving benefits of the rubella vaccine, and for public action. We would like to see premarital blood tests also used for checking immunity against rubella and Rh blood types. To encourage maximum use of the vaccine, 3,000 March of Dimes chapters are working closely on educational projects with local health departments and medical societies.

The day the vaccine was licensed by the federal government, we sent copies of a definitive article by National Foundation grantee, Dr. Louis
Z. Cooper, entitled: "Rubella:
A Preventable Cause of Birth Defects," to 145,000 physicians and other medical professionals. We also are distributing millions of educational flyers.

Since 1958, the year we launched our fight to prevent birth defects, we have supported research into ways of overcoming the rubella menace.

Much of what is known about the persistence of rubella virus in newborns and their mothers is the result of a research project undertaken by Dr. Cooper and his associate, Dr. Saul Krugman, at the New York University Medical Center. Dr. Krugman
also is advisor to the U.S.
Public Health Service on rubella vaccination.

LOOKIN' BACK

by Vera Featherston Bask

Does anyone know who the "Bitter Creek Poet" of 1927 was? My guess would be: T. A. Landers, D. A. Davis, or Taylor Wilson, each capable in his own rights. On January 6, this literature published a "poem" in the McLean News that is worthy of being repeated. Since printers and editors do not like to set type for poetry, this will be written in prose style, but you can recognize where the lines begin and end at least you can get the message:

"Here's to the public who with to get gain; if you want to make money, come to McLean where we raise everything to eat except the gourd and ride in every kind of auto-even the Ford. You can move in now without a petition and buy your home in the Floral Addition, but you must hurry; you just can't wait, for day after tomorrow may be too late. Come on now and get first choice, and forever be made to laugh and rejoice. The town's on a boom; it's growing very fast, and it's no mushroom; it's going to last."

"We have electricity; we're not in the dark, but haven't any room for bootleggers to park. We make our own ice, and it's good and cold, and it always melts before it gets old. With seven garages and others to come, you won't need to ride in a car that's on the bum. One modern bakery, everything complete, that bakes the best bread that's ever been eaten."

"Two tailor shops that do cleaning and pressing; they'll order your suits and finish your dressing with big legged pants that're just your size and cause the girls to make goo-goo eyes. Three barber shops, oh by heck! They will trim your mustache and shave your neck, put clay on your face to take out the tan and cool you off with an electric fan. Their electrical shears ain't no toys for they'll trim a girl's hair just like a boy's. We've told you all this because it's no scandal to have the best barbers in the Panhandle."

"We have three doctors, neither one bald, and they always go whenever they're called. They are all genteel and polite, and the way they can roll pills is a sight. When you get sick, give them a chance; they can cure anything except ignorance."

"Two hotels with managers polite who take care of the travelers, either day or night. They'll feed you well if you're a cheerful giver and furnish you a bed with plenty of 'siver.' Five dry goods merchants who are here to please who sell ladies skirts that will reach their knees, red neckties, collars to match, and black shoestrings by the batch, cowboy boots, tops all red, Stetson hats that fit your head."

"Three hardware stores with glass fronts; besides, the boss is full of stunts. Most everything they carry in stock is made out of stuff that's hard as a rock. They sell this stuff so much a pound, and most all of it is made sorta round. Some of it's heavy, some of it's light, and some of it soars in price just like a kite."

"Two good plumbers; they can plumb your dwelling and fire it with gas. Two good lawyers that talk loud and long; they will plead your case - but not for a song. Six land agents that are always alert; they make it their business to sell you the dirt. Life insurance agents - about seventeen - and they're the cleverest you've ever seen. They'll insure your life against the gout but won't pay off until you've passed out. Don't fail to see them when you move in; you can tell who they are by the way they grin."

"Seven different churches with that many preachers, one high school with the very best teachers. One undertaker - now don't you get blue when I say he will get you when the doctor gets through. Our town paper - 'The McLean News' will cure anyone of a case of the blues. It publishes everything, even the rhymes. So why not subscribe to it and keep up with the times? It has no pets, it has no creed; it's one newspaper that you ought to read; two dollars a year with no apologies; take it and read and grow in knowledge."

Read this again, folks, and

Mrs. Helen Ramsey Hosts S. S. Class

The Mary Martha Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church met on January 29th, at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Helen Ramsey for their monthly social. Some members were unable to attend due to illness, including the class teacher, Mrs. Howard.

Jessie Watson led with prayer and an inspiring devotional on "Kindness and Understanding" was given by Bea Lester. An interesting program was brought by Pauline Miller.

Decorations were carried out in the Valentine motif. Refreshments of strawberry cake, chocolate hearts, valentine candy, nuts, spiced tea and coffee was served to the guests. They were Bea Lester, Verna Hudgins, Pauline Miller, Gladys Smith, Lucille Tucker, Jessie Watson and the hostess, Helen Ramsey.

Veterans have proved to be good credit risk with only 3.3 per cent of the home loans guaranteed by VA resulting in foreclosure. Their direct loan record is even better.

Where have we improved our town and where-oh where-have we failed? It's our duty to get behind our City Council, our Lion's Club, our Jaycees, our schools, our churches, and any other organization that is trying to better our environment - and that includes the Veterans of Foreign Wars, too - and do our part. We still can be a town of pride and accomplishments if each of us would do our part.

Special Art Course Offered At C. C.

Every Tuesday night at 7:00 p.m. in Room 201, Academic Building on C. C. Campus, a special art course will be offered to the public. This course will carry the course number of No. 123 and will cover the visual arts. Primary emphasis is placed upon a development of understanding and use of free-hand drawing. Fundamentals, color and form, theories, and their appreciation. The media to be used will include Watercolor, tempera, and finger painting formula. Also, emphasis will be placed on oil painting. An introduction to sponge painting should prove interesting to some. Mrs. George Boush will teach the course and cordially invites all those interested to sign for the course. The last day to register will be February 10, 1970.

It wasn't until 1951 that Congress got around to passing a bill abolishing the White House stables. Until then, a law required the Army's Quartermaster General to provide suitable quarters for the President's horses.

After Mr. Dupris completes his tour of duty, the couple will make their home in Pampa.

Bob Sherrod and Jim Shaw, each purchased a Shorthorn Bull from Cleve and Fredna Bennetts "Dri'twood Shorthorn" herd last week. These bulls will be used in a crossbreeding program.

Masonic Lodge To Have Dinner To Honor Teachers

The McLean Masonic Lodge will have a dinner Feb. 20 commemorating George Washington's birthday, at the lodge hall. The dinner held annually by the lodge is given honoring teachers from the Alanreed, McLean and Lefors School systems and the school board officials.

Ida Hinton Hostess To Swa-Pa-Hobi Club

The club prayer was read, in unison, and roll call answered by each, with a Bible verse on a helpful hint.

Songs were sung, led by song leader Bea Lester. New officers were elected. No one brought any handwork, so the afternoon was spent visiting.

Refreshments were served, by the hostess to Bea Lester, Lucy Goldston, Emily Rippy, Loree Barker, Ramah Lou Lankford, Mary McCracken and one new member, Tribby Bilderback.
