The Department of Agriculture, writes Congressman Walter Rogers, has just completed a new farmers bulletin entitled "Cotton Diseases and Methods of Control." Rogers sent three copies of the bulletin to the News office, and farmers may have them if they want them. He stated that he has several copies of the booklets available if farmers will write him at Room 1330 New House Office Building, Washington, D. C. The booklets are free to farmers.

Pete Fulbright, local weather observer for the Weather Bureau of the U. S. Department of Commerce, has received a lapel button award for ten years of service with the bureau. Accompanying the award was a letter which read, in part, as follows: "You have added to our store of meteorological data and knowledge by faithfully observing the weather each day whether fair weather or foul. Your patriotic devotion to the public welfare has helped your government in the important task of defining the climate of the United States. We are grateful for your diligence over the years and it is a genuine pleasure for us to honor you."

John Bond, former football star for the McLean High School Tigers, has been named head coach of the Shamrock Irishmen to succeed Scott McCall, who resigned recently to accept a similar position in Stephenville.

Bond graduated from McLean high in 1940, after serving as a star fullback on the local team. He then entered Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, and attended three years before entering the U. S. Marine Corps. He was in the Marines for three years, serving in the South Pacific, and then returned to TCU to receive his bachelor of science degree following World War II. At TCU, he played fullback, but was hampered by injuries in his sophomore and junior years. He was the only TCU sophomore to win a first string position in 1942.

For the past three years, he has coached the junior high school boys and basketball at Shamrock. His gridmen won seven games last season and lost one; and his cage team was victorious in 23 of 28 contests. He is married to the former Maulee Lee Scruggs of Shamrock; they have one son, Sidney, three years of age.

Miss Floella Cubine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erey Cubine of McLean, is serving this summer as a counsellor at the Lions Camp for Crippled Children, located near Kerrville. When she left McLean to report for her work there, she was not sure of the exact type of duty she would perform.

Miss Cubine, a graduate of McLean High School, has been attending West Texas State College in Canyon.

Rev. L. R. Green was awarded $38 in merchandise certificates at the Appreciation Day activity in McLean last Saturday afternoon.

The Methodist Vacation Bible School, which opened with registration last Saturday afternoon, will feature a picnic Friday morning at the church playground east of the church. Pictures will be made during the picnic.

The school has been having good attendance, and a total of 80, including the workers, have registered. Mrs. R. C. Parker, superintendent, reported.

The school will close Sunday night when graduation exercises are held in the church at 7:30 o'clock. An open house will be held in the basement following the final meeting.

Jimmie Don Morris, service man for the local office of the Southwestern Public Service company, is spending the next three months in aiding in inventoring all existing facilities in the eastern part of the Amarillo division.

Morris is working with the Pampa engineering department in aiding with the inventory. Larry Fuller, local manager, said. He will be away during the daytime each day for about three months, but will be home every night and on the week-ends.

U. S. Presidents Wilson, Tyler, and Cleveland were married while in office.

Kids Program to Start Next Monday

All school-age boys and girls in McLean and the surrounding area who are interested in participating in the summer recreation program are asked to be at the City Park next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Coach Hap Rogers, who will supervise and direct the program of activities, said this week that he has no idea how many boys and girls to expect; but he added that he wants everyone who is interested.

The program will be sponsored by the McLean Lions Club. Some of the cost (estimated to be in excess of $600) will be borne by the City of McLean. The club has some money on hand to aid with the program, but nearly $300 more will be needed. The club plans to sell light bulbs within the next few weeks in an attempt to make the money needed; Lions President J. W. Meacham has stated that direct solicitations will be used only as a last resort.

Monday through Friday, 3 to 5 o'clock, each week at the City

10 o'clock Sunday morning. Mrs. Marvin Hall, secretary of the homecoming association, said.

Once again, the main event of the day will be the opportunity to visit with old friends, it was explained. A program has been arranged, but it contains no long sessions.

The program will open with singing by the audience, led by L. H. Earthman. Invocation will be given by Rev. S. T. Greenwood. Rev. R. M. Cole, Baptist pastor, will give the welcome address, and County Judge Bruce L. Parker will give the response.

Several musical numbers will be given. They include a piano solo by Kay Stubbs; duet by Mrs. Ruie Miller and Mrs. Lois Marie Moore; a reading by Mrs. P. C. Castleberry; and a quartet number, "If We Never Meet Again," dedicated to the deceased and arranged by W. H. Blakney.

Following a silent prayer, a duet arranged by Claude Williams will be given. Volunteer speeches are next on the program, followed by a solo by Mrs. Morris Brown.

The business session will include the election of officers; collections; awarding of prizes; and announcements. The benediction will be pronounced by Max Browning.

The annual homecoming usually attracts several hundred people, including some who come considerable distance for the affair. The reunion actually started a few years prior to the first big celebration, when Mrs. Miriam (Wilson) Riggs invited her classmates in Alanreed High School for a get-together. Out of these meetings—Mrs. Riggs and her classmates had several—the homecoming activities for all residents and former residents have grown.

Two people were chosen in each of a number of activities as the winner of blue ribbons. Nancy received the ribbon for rifle shooting with the highest score among the girls. She was also a candidate for state council a senior from Canyon is the state council member, and Joe Van Zandt of Wheeler is another member.

COLD FRONT BRINGS AREA RAIN AND HAIL

A cold front moved into the Panhandle of Texas from Colorado Wednesday morning, bringing with it some sandstorms, some rain, and some hail.

In McLean, both rain and hail fell, and by noon, three showers had brought a total of .92 of an inch, according to the official weather gauge of Pete Fulbright, local weather observer.

The storm warning sounded in McLean twice Wednesday morning, the first time at about 8:45 o'clock and the second shortly after 10:30. Both times, turbulent clouds were either over the town or rapidly approaching. Following the second alarm, the low-lying clouds passed quickly over from north to south and the third shower of the morning resulted but brought no hail.

Actually, hail fell on two different occasions Wednesday morning. The first came shortly after 8 o'clock, and only small stones fell. The second came before 9:30, and brought considerably larger hailstones, with some ranging up to near the size of a golf ball. However, the hail was partially soft, and the damage was not as heavy as it could have been. No reports on the amount of damage from hail were received.

Following the rains here, the clouds moved shortly to the south, and Clarendon, Hedley, and Memphis were reporting rain and hail at noon and shortly thereafter.

The sandstorms visited the northwestern portion of the Panhandle when the cold front moved in. Only a small amount of rain had fallen in Amarillo at noon. The Amarillo Weather Bureau did report at noon that more showers might fall in the eastern Panhandle Wednesday afternoon.

The quick-falling rain no doubt damaged newly-planted crops in the local area to some extent. Some seed had already been washed out earlier, in the rains that came last week; and it is expected that the Wednesday showers caused more damage.

In the rainfall of last Wednesday afternoon, June 1, and the following afternoon, a total of 1.11 fell—61 of an inch Wednesday and another half-inch Thursday. With the moisture of this Wednesday morning totaled in, the year's official moisture now stands at 10.63, Fulbright said.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Good and son of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Verla Jones and daughter Linda of Shamrock visited with Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Stokely, Mrs. Sarah Woody, and other relatives during the week-end.

Mrs. Herman Glenn is in Highland General Hospital in Pampa for medical treatment and surgery.

Mrs. George Schutten of Dale, Okla., is visiting this week with Mrs. Sarah Woody and Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Stokely.

Marking System Of Highway Stripes Is Being Changed

Notice the broken white stripe in the center of U. S. Highway 66 through McLean?

It's a new marking system for Texas highways, and will be set up throughout the state as soon as all roads can be marked, State Patrolmen R. C. Parker and Joe O'Rear said this week.

The no-passing zones on the highways will be marked by a long continuous yellow line in the lane where no passing is to be observed. In the past, the center stripe has been solid (usually black), and the no-passing line has been a broken yellow marking.

The patrolmen are not certain, but they said they believe the same system is gradually becoming a nationwide system, to make driving rules more uniform throughout the U. S.

Fire Trucks Get— NEW TWO-WAY RADIOS

New two-way radios have been installed in two of the local fire trucks to enable the local fire department members to give even better service in the future, Fire Chief Boyd Meador announced this week.

The radios have been installed in the department's pick-up truck, and in the tanker truck used widely in extinguishing fires in the rural areas, Meador explained.

Using the same frequency as the sheriff's department, the firemen will be able to communicate with a number of surrounding towns in cases of emergency. The sets have already been tried out, and towns as far away as Borger could be contacted.

A receiving and transmitting antenna will be installed atop the water tower the chief said. With this facility, the coverage can be greatly enlarged, and should prove invaluable in the event a disaster should strike and other means of communication knocked out.

ASKS $50,000 FOR BUILDING IN LOCAL AREA

A petition from residents of the McLean and Alanreed areas, requesting that a sum of $50,000 be included in a proposed bond issue for a hospital annex in McLean, will be presented to the commissioners court of Gray County at their regular meeting next Monday.

Presentation of the petition will be the outcome of the public meeting held at the McLean High School auditorium last Monday night, when about 100 people were present to discuss the possibilities of obtaining a small hospital or clinic here.

The petition, signers for which are being obtained by local citizens this week, reads as follows:

"To the honorable judge and commissioners court of Gray County, Texas: We, the undersigned citizens of Alanreed and McLean communities, hereby petition the honorable commissioners court of Gray County, Texas, to include a sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in the bond issue which will be called to enlarge Highland General Hospital, this fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to be used to build and equip an annex of the Highland General Hospital in the City of McLean. We feel that the south side of Gray County is entitled to this consideration and that it places us in a position to secure clinical services for approximately one thousand (1,000) families."

Several local men were obtaining signatures Tuesday morning, and the sheets were being rapidly filled.

Cliff Day, local business man, presided at Monday night's public meeting. He opened the meeting by reading the proposed petition, and then asked for any comments which those present would like to make.

The discussions which followed included a number of points, yet not one dissenting opinion concerning the hospital was expressed. Those present said that everyone there was in complete agreement in making the request of the commissioners court; the vote on the action was prompted by a motion by Guy Hibler and a second by C. P. Callahan, and the vote was unanimous to adopt the petition as originally drafted.

After Day had opened the meeting by reading the petition, Boyd Meador pointed out the need of a hospital in McLean, stressing the need in emergency cases; he also stressed the time area residents would have if the long drives now necessary to reach hospitals were eliminated. Meador also stated that the small hospital here would still be needed even if Highland General and (Continued on back page)

How To Install Wood Wall Panels

Rich, wood-paneled walls are the latest trend in home decoration. They give warmth and luxurious beauty to every room, traditional or modern. Now, anyone who can handle an ordinary hammer can install Savannah Oak panels, easily and quickly, with professional-looking results.

First, measure height and width of your walls to make sure you get the right amount of Savannah Oak paneling. This all-oak paneling now is available in do-it-yourself kit form. Each kit includes specially grooved furring strips, a supply of patented metal application clips, and enough easy-to-handle, 8-foot plywood planks, in random widths, to panel 96 square feet of wall. Here are simple, do-it-yourself steps suggested by Georgia-Pacific Plywood engineers to install your own paneling.

Nail special furring strips horizontally to wall studs.

Insert patented clip in groove of each furring strip.

Lock panels firmly to row of clips placed between each two planks.

Finish your paneling with moldings and trim of matching Savannah Oak.

Here is your finished room with wood paneling you can install yourself. Savannah Oak Panels do not need staining or painting. They are factory prefinished and waxed to protect their beautiful grain pattern.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

Pedestrians have obligations to themselves and the motoring public. Public officials, by publicizing rules for safe walking, have reduced pedestrian accidents.

These four rules, suggested by the National Street and Traffic Safety Lighting Bureau, will help pedestrians overcome night hazards until street lighting has been modernized:

1. Always walk on the sidewalk, not in the road. If you must walk in the road, walk on the left shoulder of the road, facing traffic.
2. Cross at intersections. At night cross at lighted intersections.
3. Wear contrasting clothing, usually something white or light-colored. Better still, carry a flashlight or something made of reflectorized material.
4. Don't trust your judgment of the speed of an approaching car by its headlights at night.

There's another night hazard — bicycles. In many communities, official and non-official agencies have teamed up to meet the bike-traffic accident problem. They usually promulgate these four rules for bicyclists:

1. A good headlight and tail light (or reflector) are musts for night riding.
2. Trim your bicycle with some type of reflectorized material.
3. Wear light colored (contrast) clothing or something trimmed with reflectorized material when riding at night.

Rheumatic Fever Still Results In Damage to Heart

The outlook in the fight against rheumatic fever has improved, but this disease, which begins most often between the ages of five and fifteen, still results in serious heart damage in many cases, declared Dr. Henry A. Holle, state health officer.

Rheumatic fever usually strikes after a nose and throat infection caused by germs of the streptococcus family. An average of three out of one hundred of the commonly called "strep" infections are followed by rheumatic fever.

Sulfonamide and penicillin usually can overcome the infection. But if rheumatic fever develops, strict bed rest is the first resort to ease the load on the heart and to help the patient avoid added infection.

Sometimes sulpha or penicillin may be given to the convalescing patient to help avoid a recurrence of the disease. Repeated attacks of rheumatic fever are more likely to lead to heart damage.

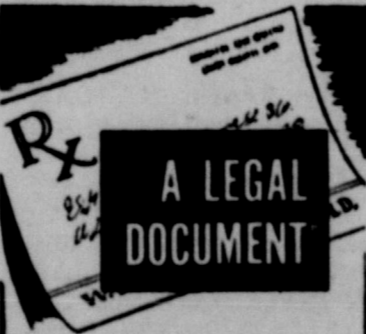

The rheumatic heart condition can involve damage to one or more of the four valves of the heart muscle itself. Rheumatic fever inflames the valves and muscles and when the inflammation subsides, it usually leaves a scar.

In about two out of three cases this fever leaves no heart damage, or causes so little injury that the victim can regain active everyday living. In other cases, modern surgery may help.

No matter how slight an attack of rheumatic fever may seem, the first and most important thing to do is to follow your doctor's advice to the letter.

Mrs. Jack Blaylock and children of Pampa spent a few days last week visiting with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stevens and Mrs. L. M. Blaylock.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Davis visited with their son, Melvin Davis and family, in Wichita Falls over the week-end.

Married

On Tuesday afternoon, Miss Elsie Dougherty of this city and Mr. Clarence Turner of Gainesville were united in marriage. Rev. Ruley of Plymouth performing the ceremony. The wedding came as a surprise to Miss Elsie's many friends, yet it was the culmination of a romance of childhood days, Miss Elsie having lived at Gainesville most all of her life before coming to McLean. Mr. Turner is from one of Cook County's most prominent families and he himself is numbered among the most successful school teachers of his home community.

They will remain here until the first of September, when they will go to Gainesville to make their home, the groom having been employed as a teacher in the schools there.

The News joins with other admiring friends in extending hearty congratulations.

With Mrs. Upham

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Upham west of town. The regular business meeting and Bible study were omitted as the ladies had some quilting to do. A representative number was present and the quilt was soon finished, after which a delightful social hour was enjoyed. Miss Cargill, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Upham and who is their house guest, favored the ladies with a number of splendid readings. Mrs. Upham served ice cream and cake as refreshments.

The next meeting will be held at the church.

Sells Registered Cows

R. L. Harlan last week sold 11 head of his registered 3-year-old Hereford heifers to S. R. Kennedy of Alanreed, the consideration being $150 per head. These heifers were out of the herd formerly owned by Mr. Kennedy and sold by him to J. D. Back, who later sold them to Mr. Harlan. It is a fine bunch of stuff and the calves demand a fancy price each year.

Mr. Kennedy says he now has 23 head of registered Hereford cows and expects to continue building his herd from time to time.

Wind Damage

Several cattle cars standing on the siding in the local yards were driven across the derails and onto the main track by the hard wind Monday morning, delaying the passing of the morning train until they could be removed. One box car standing at the coal chutes was also unroofed.

"I love the time-saving advantages of my ELECTRIC RANGE!"

says Mrs. James Russell,
1009 BALTIMORE STREET
PLAINVIEW, TEXAS

Reddy Kilowatt just loves to take the work out of cooking, as he has for so many homemakers like Mrs. Russell. "Preparing breakfast for my husband, James, is a snap. The controlled heat of our electric range turns out perfect pancakes every time." Start the day right—cook breakfast electrically.

The modern range? Of course, it's electric. Mrs. Russell points out the "plus values" on her electric range. "The minute minder — convenience outlets — grill — automatic timer — and well-lighted work surface are all wonderful. They give me a big bonus — extra time for other things."

Perfection comes from accuracy — and the heat of an electric range is pre-set, no outside force — a breeze, for example — can affect it. In Mrs. Russell's words: "I can put my pie in the oven, set the timer, and go about my other household tasks while my electric range bakes the pie perfectly."

Yes, in ranges, as in all other appliances, to be modern, it must be electric. And if it's electric it's convenient and time-saving, like Mrs. Russell's all-electric kitchen. "My all-electric kitchen affords more leisure time for my family and friends." Yours will, too.

Editorial

A HOSPITAL?

JUST WHAT MAY BE the outcome of the proposed hospital annex, or clinic, for McLean, we have no idea. There are so many legal and other types of snares in the path toward eventual realization that we are completely unaware of how the proposal will turn out.

But we are highly in favor of a hospital, a hospital annex, or a clinic being constructed in McLean—and we aren't too particular about how the construction comes about.

As to the size of construction needed, we don't know how large or how small it should be—and we seriously doubt that anyone can truthfully know without any prior experience in the matter. It seems to us, however, that an eight or ten bed construction would be about right; but perhaps that would be too large, or too small.

Any size, in our opinion, would be better than none at all. As to how it should be operated, there are several proposals. A thorough study will probably result in what is thought to be the best for the future; chances are the method selected will not prove to be absolutely satisfactory. But again we say, any type of operation would be better than none at all.

To date, we have found few, if any, residents who are actually opposed to a small hospital for McLean and the area surrounding McLean. It's true that the hospital wouldn't get all the business, since many cases require specialists, etc., and these cases would be taken elsewhere. But the hospital would serve many, many people who need to be hospitalized yet are not seriously ill enough to require the care of special physicians, etc. At the present time, these people are forced to go to Pampa, Shamrock, Groom, Amarillo, Wellington, or elsewhere for their treatment.

Businessmen should welcome the prospects of obtaining a hospital for McLean. For many years, this town has been without one, and for many years, the absence of such facilities has hurt the town from a business standpoint.

Actually, we cannot see how any person in the entire area can be sincerely against a hospital or clinic for this part of Gray County. We believe that if the proposal does come to an actual vote, the vote will be overwhelmingly in favor. Let's hope the vote comes up soon, and the building goes up soon after.

LES TALK

By LESTER

Udall, Kans., is one of the communities struck by tornadoes this spring. That's the town where the storm warning was not sounded because there had been so many warnings earlier in the season and no storm came (this sentence is for those people who don't understand why the local sirens are sounded as storm warnings).

Leo Gibson's mother lives about 20 miles from Udall, and I believe he said he has a brother about eight miles from the town. Leo received a number of pictures the other day which tell a graphic story of destruction.

Next time you are irritated when the storm warning is given, go by Leo's place and look at those pictures—one shows a couple of victims among the rubble, etc.

A plumber wrote to the Bureau of Standards that he had found hydrochloric acid fine for clearing drains—was it harmful? Washington replied: "The efficiency of hydrochloric acid is indisputable but the chlorine residue is incompatible with the metallic permanence."

The plumber wrote back that he was mighty glad the Bureau agreed with him. Washington wrote in alarm: "We cannot assume responsibility for the production of a toxic and noxious residue with hydrochloric acid and suggest that you use an alternate procedure."

The plumber was still happy that his method was a good one, when Washington exploded: "Don't use hydrochloric acid; it eats h—out of the pipes."

The moral of this little story must be clear to everybody. If you have a message to pass on, whether orally or written, let it be complete but simple, brief, and to the point. The whole purpose of communication is to be understood.

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might give you a new slant on business, your own business, as well as the matter of building your town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean that you should have a hole, half, or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, even if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

To which I say amen.

The battle of taxes in Austin has been interesting. It seems that all of us want the state, as well as the county and the city and the federal government, to furnish us with more services. It's better roads, better schools, better state hospitals, better everything that we want.

Of course, we all have enough sense to realize that the more we get from our governmental divisions, the more we must pay into the coffers.

Who is to pay is the question that always arouses the loudest arguments.

For example, when a gasoline tax is proposed, those who sell gasoline are naturally somewhat opposed, since their products would have to be raised in cost and the selling is made harder. If a beer tax is proposed, the beer industry begins to plead its case (no pun intended). If a trading stamp tax is proposed, the stamp boys run to Austin or Washington or wherever the action is going on. Etc., etc.

Everyone is interested in getting more from the government—until the time comes for him to help pay for it. That's human nature.

Seems that the simple solution might be to cease asking for more and more additional services, and find a way closer to home to take care of these services. No doubt some should be done on a state or federal level; but many, yes many, could be taken care of locally by the people themselves. When the federal government takes over everything, including the control of your business, that's complete socialism; when you do something for yourself, that's individualism. Which do you prefer, socialism, with all types of control; or individualism, with your freedom?

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait!—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet... and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

Announcement is made by John R. Sanderson, district manager of the Amarillo social security of-office, located at the new post office building, Amarillo, that his office is now accepting applications from persons seeking to establish a period of disability under the 1954 amendments to the social security act.

Sanderson stated that all persons who are now totally and permanently disabled, but who had worked at least five years on jobs covered by social security before becoming disabled should contact his office to see if this new disability provision of the social security act would be of benefit to them. Sanderson added that disability applications DO NOT provide for any immediate cash payments. Such application only makes it possible to exclude the period of total disability from the wage earner's employment record in computing the benefit amount of claims under the re-retirement or survivors insurance provisions of the law.

Since January 1, 1955, workers who are totally disabled by illness, injury or other physical or mental impairment which can be long-continued and of indefinite duration may file an application to establish a period of disability. This application must be supported by medical records furnished by the claimant. When established, the period of total disability will be excluded in computing the wage earner's average monthly wages at retirement or upon death of the wage earner. Persons who are unable to contact the local office because of their disability may have their representative or member of the family inquire on their behalf. A free booklet, entitled "Facts for Those Who Are Disabled," is available from the Amarillo of-office.

A representative from the Amarillo office will be in McLean Wednesday, June 15, at 2 o'clock at the City Hall.

Hospital—

Worley Hospitals in Pampa, as well as hospitals in other nearby communities, were enlarged.

Hickman Brown then asked about the possibility of the legality of the county building an annex here. Larry Fuller, who with J. C. Claborn had previously looked up the laws concerning such structures, explained briefly the statutes involved; and Commissioner O. L. Tibbets added that the county judge and the county attorney were making a study of the statutes in an effort to determine a means by which an annex might be located in McLean.

J. W. Meacham, a member of the county hospital board, then expressed the opinion that local residents should go ahead with the proposed petition; and he was backed up by Laroy Sutton, who stated he was ready to sign the petition at that moment.

In regard to the taxes which might be necessary, Callahan explained that the county auditor has stated that a raise in taxes will not be necessary to meet the obligations of the proposed Highland General Hospital enlargement bond issue. Presently, he quoted the county auditor, 27 cents of each tax dollar of the county is allocated to the permanent improvement fund to pay off bond issues; of this, only 15 cents is now being used to meet the county's obligations—most of which are the hospital bonds already voted. The new bond issue would require about 7 cents of the tax dollar, and therefore no added taxation should be necessary.

Peb Everett then raised the question about the possibility of obtaining a medical doctor should the hospital be constructed. Although there was no definite answer for this question, Brown stated that the drug companies with which he trades frequently have queries from doctors who wish to locate in the Panhandle; however, these doctors want hospital facilities with which to work, since they have been trained with such facilities.

The question of whether the $50,000 would be sufficient was then raised by Fuller. Since no one could definitely be sure of whether this would be too much or too little, the answer was not arrived at, although numerous people took part in the discussion; some thought more would be necessary. Following this discussion, Hibler then made the motion to adopt the petition, and the vote was unanimous. The meeting adjourned soon after.

SPEAKING OF CARDS

SUPREME COURT OF CARDS

What are the chances of being dealt a Royal Flush in Poker? Does a "roundhouse" plus a flush in Pinochle add up to 350 points or 390? What are the "dummy's" rights in Contract Bridge? Where can you get rules for Klabberjass? What's Calypso?

These are typical of the hundreds of questions that pour every day into the offices of the Playing Card Association from card enthusiasts all over the world. If you are one of the eight out of every ten adult Americans who play cards, it's quite possible you've been puzzled by these or similar problems.

Nearly all card players, no matter how expert they become at a particular game, sooner or later run into a situation that has never arisen before. They are uncertain of the rule, if any, that applies. Normally, the first thing they do is look up any available rules book on the game but often this fails because nothing in the book seems to cover their particular puzzlement to the satisfaction of all.

To dissolve such impasses, the card manufacturers long ago set up a free information service on all card games.

Not all card players write to the association seeking an interpretation of a particular rule. Some ask for the official rules for Hearts, Cut-Throat Canasta or Three-Hand Euchre. Others, preparing a term paper or club talk, request additional information about the romantic lore of playing cards. Or an industrial recreation director may write in for instructions on how to stage a duplicate Bridge tournament for his employees.

If you ever have any questions about card games, want the rules for some dimly-remembered card game, or if your partner at Bridge asks you what his chances are of being dealt a thirteen spade hand, write to the Playing Card Association, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17.

To satisfy your curiosity, here are the answers to those early questions: you've got one chance in 649,741 of being dealt a Royal Flush in your next Poker game; a "roundhouse" plus a flush adds up to 350 points in Pinochle; in Bridge a dummy can call attention to errors of play but little else; the association will send rules for Klabberjass and other games. And Calypso? That's the very latest card game rage throughout the country. You can also get rules for this new game by writing to the association.
