

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

Have you noticed the new antenna atop McLean's water tower? It is not there just for decoration. It is the antenna for the two-way radio system with which McLean's fire trucks are now equipped. Fire Chief Boyd Meador said that he believed that the radio setup had a radius of about 75 miles.

At the Highway 66 Association meeting which we attended last Saturday in Groom, some interesting facts were brought out. Our Groom neighbors have been doing a little checking, and a fairly conservative estimate disclosed that tourists over Highway 66 spend an average of $1,000 a day in Groom. It was further pointed out that each dollar changed hands in Groom 18 times before it left the town. At first glance one might think that the tourist business helped only that certain group of businesses which caters to the tourist trade. Not so. It was pointed out that each of these businesses employed persons who would spend the majority of the money they earned in town. These persons are those employed by cafes, hotels, motels, service stations, curio shops, etc. They buy groceries, drug, patronize the barber and beauty shops, cleaning establishments, banks, and just about every business firm that you can think of in town, either directly or indirectly.

Whether in Groom, McLean, or any other town along Highway 66, the tourist dollar is not to be taken for granted. It should be cultivated. It brings additional revenue into town and local firms and professional people are not just swapping dollars.

A survey a few miles east of McLean showed that over 1,200,000 vehicles traveled Highway 66 this past year. Three persons is the average number of people per vehicle. Three persons on a vacation will spend between $25 and $32 a day while traveling. There sure is a lot of money passing us on that highway out there. Wonder if we are getting our share of it?

We watched the Tigers scrimmage with Sayre, Okla., at Duncan Field Friday night, and they looked pretty good to us. We were particularly glad to hear many of the fans who have been here a lot longer than we have say that the team looked a lot better than they thought it would after losing so many good players from last year. We'll be out there tomorrow night to get a better look at what Coach Rogers' 1955 Tigers have in store for us.

Les Campbell and Bill Day have a new program over KEVA each Thursday between 12 and 1 o'clock featuring local news taken from the weekly newspapers. They tell us that The McLean News is one of their standbys and we are going to listen today.

Monday we attended the old settlers picnic and reunion at historic Old Mobeetic, and those folks up there really go all out when they celebrate. The picnic and barbecue was held behind the old jail building and the older folks were seated under an old brush arbor. The barbecue was prepared in a large pit dug right in the ground. It was about thirty feet long, five feet wide and four or five feet deep. First time we had ever anything like it. And that pit had a double purpose. After the picnicking, all the waste, paper and garbage were dumped right into that pit and covered, leaving the picnic area as clean as ever. We also saw two old timers, one 84 and the other 87, dance a jig that would make a lot of us crowding thirty ashamed of ourselves.

Cotton John Smith of KGNC, Amarillo, interviewed several of the old timers while his sidekick, William Rhew, took motion pictures of the affair for television. The reunion will be viewed over Channel 4 the first Sunday after the Tri-State Fair is held, Cotton John said. It was sort of a reunion for us, too. William Rhew, the photographer, grew up in our home town, Commerce, and Cotton John was our journalism instructor at East Texas State until his patience and our money ran out. All together there must have been more than a thousand persons there, including people from all over the Southwest and one from Honolulu, Hawaii.

WHERE ARE THE FARM WORKERS?

The Russian farm experts had quite a time during their much-publicized tour of lush Iowa. The lachrymose were out in the traditional American way, and they found friendliness and hospitality everywhere.

They also received some big surprises.

Apparently our methods of doing the work of the farm are beyond the Russians' ken. Writing in News-week, Russian-speaking journalist Leon Volkov said: "To Russian eyes, Iowa, U. S. A., is a fabulous land of plenty in which nobody has to work."

"They tried to hide their amazement but they never quite succeeded. At first, the Russians kept asking each other where the farm workers were. They had a hard time believing that one man could work a 150-acre farm all by himself with the aid of machinery."

Now there's human work to be done even on the most advanced American farm, and plenty of it. But farm equipment has greatly reduced the amount of arduous labor required, even as it has vastly increased farm efficiency and productivity. We all know the story of mechanization of industry, and we are all hearing about the newest step along that road—automation. But many of us don't realize that a mechanical revolution has been taking place in agriculture as well.

There are no push-button farms. Maybe there never will be. But the machine has made it possible for both farm and factory people to get far more return for their work than their forefathers would have believed possible. That's what the visiting Russians learned in envious amazement.

SENATOR JOHNSON'S RECOVERY

It is a real pleasure to record that Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson is enjoying an encouraging recovery from the heart attack that incapacitated him early in July. With a few more months of rest he is expected to be well enough to resume his duties in the next session of Congress. Senator Johnson is leaving today for his home in Texas, where he will celebrate his 47th birthday on Saturday. Americans, regardless of party, who appreciate the high sense of responsibility with which he has exercised his Senate leadership in the national interest will wish him a very happy birthday and a happy return—to the capital.—The Washington Post.

Now that schools are open again, all of us must take even greater care in driving to protect our children. Safety pays its dividends in the saving of human life and the prevention of suffering. Let's all remember that taking a few seconds for safety may save a lifetime of regret.

Study Club Closes Work

The Study Club met in the last session of the year Friday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Rollins. The attendance was small, but an excellent lesson was had under the leadership of Mrs. W. C. Foster.

In the absence of the president it was decided to postpone the business session until her return when a meeting will be called to elect officers and arrange for future study.

A Lawn Picnic

On Thursday of last week the tennis enthusiasts gathered at the court at the Floyd home in response to an invitation from Miss Winnie, and engaged in a couple of hours' sport. Just before dusk a delicious picnic lunch was served on the lawn and later the guests repaired to the house and enjoyed music and games until a late hour.

Birthday Party

Celebrating the third birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Pauline, Mrs. Homer Crabtree entertained about 20 tiny tots and a number of older ones last week. Many childish games were enjoyed, and in a contest for the older children Flossie Rowe came out with first honors. Closing the amusements for the afternoon, as many sacks of candy as those present were hid and then children were then told to hunt for them. In one sack there was a card which entitled the finder to a present presented by the hostess.

An abundance of ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. Crabtree was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. L. Crabtree and Mrs. W. R. Orr. Many pretty little gifts will make Pauline long remember her first birthday party.

Real Estate Activities

There is great promise of unusual activity in real estate during the coming fall and winter.

Psychiatrists seem to be the only ones who are not complaining these days. Some of the ads out lately, you will enjoy. There's one, "Two couches—no waiting." Then there was another, "Guaranteed satisfaction or your money back." An enterprising psychiatrist had this ad, "Have couch—will travel."

A dog does not wag his tail because it feels good to the dog. He is trying to make you happy. Those who seek happiness through self-pleasure are doomed to failure. Real happiness is attained through making others happy.

30-Year GI Home Loans Available On Certain Conditions

Homes not affected by FHA credit controls also may be eligible for 30-year, no-down payment GI loans, providing Veterans Administration receives appraisal requests on or before September 30, 1955, VA announced this week.

The affected homes are those for which the necessary paper work had been completed by FHA before their controls went into effect July 30, VA said.

VA has instructed its field stations to get satisfactory evidence of homes not covered by FHA credit controls before excluding them from VA credit requirements.

VA credit requirements, which also became effective July 30, 1955, call for a per cent down payment and a loan maturity not to exceed 25 years. Those excluded from these requirements may be financed up to 30 years and only the closing costs need be paid.

VA emphasized it can exclude homes not affected by FHA credit controls only if requests for GI appraisals on these homes are received by VA on or before September 30, 1955, and VA can obtain satisfactory evidence of their exclusion from FHA credit controls.

Farmers Cautioned On Child Labor During School Hours

Farm youngsters under 16 years of age are expected to be in school during the fall term.

Field Office Supervisor Harry B. Nunn of the Department of Labor's wage-hour division says the child-labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act generally prohibit the employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture, during hours when the local school is in session.

So children under 16 cannot legally be employed for farm work, such as cotton picking, etc., during local school hours if the farm products concerned go into interstate or foreign commerce.

Farmers are responsible under the federal law if they hire under-age children to do farm work during school hours. And the law applies equally to local resident children and to migratory children.

Nunn said "school hours" means those hours when school actually is in session for the school district where the child under 16 is currently living.

The law, he says, sets no minimum age for employing minors on farms before or after school hours, or during school holidays or vacations.

JOHNSON AND RAYBURN DAY SET OCT. 13

A "Johnson-Rayburn Day" will be observed at the 1955 State Fair of Texas in recognition of the fact that both the majority leader in the U. S. Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives are from Texas—the first time in recent U. S. history that the two top congressional posts have been held by men from the same state at the same time.

Thursday, October 13, has been designated in honor of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson

City and Representative Sam Rayburn of Bonham, and the important offices they hold in Congress.

"It is a great distinction for the state of Texas to have Texans serving in both these top congressional positions," Fair President R. L. Thornton said. "In having a Johnson-Rayburn Day at the State Fair, we are honoring the offices they hold as well as the men, and in so doing are calling attention to the importance of Texas on the national scene," Thornton said.

The fair's program for the day will be entirely non-political, the fair president added.

Plans are now being made for proper recognition of the two national figures at a ceremony during the special day, he said.

Representative Rayburn has represented the fourth congressional district since 1913. He was first made Speaker of the House in 1940 and this year began an unprecedented seventh term as speaker. Senator Johnson was first elected to the senate in 1948 and was re-elected in 1954. He was minority leader in the senate during the period 1951-53, and became majority leader in January, 1954.

This is the feeling that gives a man true courage—the feeling that he has a work to do, at all costs; the sense of duty.—Charles Kingsley.

Never absent from your post, never off guard, never ill-humored, never unready to work for God—is obedience; being "faithful over a few things."—Mary Baker Eddy.

Lions Honor Tigers Tuesday Night With Melon Feast

The McLean Lions Club honored Coach Hap Rogers, his 1955 Tiger team, and their fathers with a watermelon feast at Duncan Field Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Lion President Hickman Brown was not able to attend, so J. W. Meacham, immediate past president, filled in for him. Meacham called on Dr. Buell T. Wells, pastor of the First Baptist Church, to give the invocation.

Coach Rogers then introduced players on his team and the fathers of the boys who were present. Assistant Coach Harold Robinson was introduced to the group by Rogers. Meacham pledged wholehearted support to the Tigers on behalf of the club.

Lions Freeman Melton Jr., Amos Page, C. P. Hamilton, and Meacham cut the melons which had been iced down in a large corrugated watering trough.

After everyone present had eaten all the melon they wanted, there were several good ones left which were given to anyone who wanted them.

Coach Rogers stated that although twenty good men were lost from last year's team, the Tigers still expect to win some games this year.

Reserve Act Offers Many Advantages to Pre-Draft Age Men

The Army Reserves Act of 1955 which was signed into law by the President on August 9, offers many advantages to young men nearing the draft age. George Terry, master sergeant in the Army Reserve, told The News Tuesday.

The primary purpose of the act is to provide the trained manpower required by the reserve forces so that they may effectively perform their assigned roles upon mobilization. Goal of the act is to build the strength of the Ready Reserves to 1,692,000 men.

Terry, who has 14 years service including his wartime service, stated that he would like to interview all young men qualified for the reserve and explain more fully the advantages each would receive upon joining the reserve.

If enough qualified men would sign up locally, a unit of the reserve could be activated here and much of the military service which is compulsory could be discharged without going away from home.

Terry stated that he would be glad to talk to any boys interested in the Ready Reserves at any time.
