

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

It looks like McLean is going to lose some more good citizens soon and we hate to see them go. Guy Hibler announced his plans to move to Oklahoma last week when he resigned from the city council. The Hiblers will be missed in many places here. The church, the school, social clubs, and the whole town will miss them. We wish them all the best in their new home and business.

Work on the foundation of McLean's new clinic is already underway here on North Main Street. The low bid of Spears and McPherson of Amarillo was accepted November 2 with a completion deadline of March 1, 1956.

Success nowadays is making more money to pay taxes you would not be paying if you had not made so much money already.

People who mind their own business usually succeed—they have so little competition.

McLean schools will be dismissed next Thursday and Friday for the observance of Thanksgiving. Since Thursday is our publication day we will try to get The News in the mail on Wednesday in order that most of our readers can get their paper on time. We would appreciate your local news contributions as early as possible.

One of the best suggestions we have heard lately is: "Don't drive as if you owned the road—drive as if you owned the car."

8 Persons Killed In Area Traffic During October

In the Amarillo district, eight persons were killed, 87 injured, and a total of $99,299.00 in property damage occurred in October, according to the Texas Highway Patrol.

Principal violations and factors causing accidents were listed as speeding, driving while drinking, failure to grant right-of-way, miscellaneous hazardous violations and improper passing.

In the area covered by the Amarillo district (excluding towns of over 2,500 population), 81 persons have been killed during the first ten months of 1955. During the same period, 685 persons were injured, with property damage totaling $703,058.00.

Baptist To Give Special Offering to Children's Homes

A special offering for 1,081 children will be taken in Texas Baptist churches during Thanksgiving week. Baptist leaders said Thursday in Dallas.

The goal of the offering, to be divided among five children's homes over the state, is $300,000.

The day of Sunday, November 20, has been designated for particular emphasis in the 3,625 churches of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

But in addition to the offering, both before and after November 20, individual members as well as churches, are expected to send other gifts of food, clothing and necessities for the children's use.

The five institutions which will receive the gifts are the Buckner Orphans Home at Dallas, the Texas Baptist Haven at Round Rock, the South Texas Children's Home at Beeville, the Buckner Boys Ranch at Burnet, and the Mexican Baptist Orphans Home at San Antonio.

Jackson Has Been On SCD Board in County Since '48

By Ronald Waters

Secretary of the board of supervisors for the past six years, William B. Jackson has served on the board since 1947. He owns and operates a large three section farm (1,920 acres) 11 miles northeast of Pampa, and has been farming most of his life.

A great believer in contour farming, Jackson also contour furrows his pasture land to prevent water erosion. He leaves wheat stubble on the ground to build up the organic matter of the soil and to prevent wind erosion. W. B. has three stock water tanks for his 135 head of cattle, the largest of which stores about 50 acre feet of water. A long diversion terrace runs along a strip of his fertile land for about half a mile, and he plans to build about three more in the future.

Running 75 to 100 head of cattle normally, Burl plants about 50 acres of cane and sweet sudan, which he mixes to use as bundle feed for his stock. In the winter, he grazes his cattle on grasslands and fields.

Out of a total of 960 acres under cultivation, wheat is on 400 acres and grain sorghum is planted on about 230. W. B. has planted three fields of grass, including crested and western wheat.

"I call this my home," Jackson says, and he has proved it by living here most of his life. He attended Texas Tech College. He began his studies in animal husbandry and agronomy in 1930, and graduated with a B. S. degree eight years later. At the present time Burl has one of the "largest agriculture libraries in this country." He keeps a huge bookcase full of agricultural books stored away in an unpretentious little house on his farm.

Intensely interested in agricultural problems and soil conservation, Jackson has served on the agriculture committee of the Kiwanis Club (33), and was appointed a member of the agriculture committee of the chamber of commerce this year. He has been an active Kiwanian for eight years.

He married Minnie Olive Montgomery, who was working in the ACS office at the time, on December 2, 1944. They now have one daughter, Georganna, 6, and live on the Bob Montgomery farm eight miles northeast of Pampa.

During World War II, Jackson served with the U. S. Marines for three and one-half years. He saw duty with the Fourth Marine Division 25th Regiment, in the Marshall Islands, Saipan, and Tinian. He says he came back to the United States "just before my outfit hit Iwo Jima." Enthusiastic to support soil conservation, Jackson states, "We've got to do a lot more of it, it's got to be done some time . . . those pastures are cutting back into the fields all over the country."

With determination he added, "Something has got to be done to prevent soil and wind erosion, and the sooner it's done the better."

Free Pamphlets on Legal Questions Available at Bank

The Gray County Bar Association in cooperation with the State Bar Association has placed free pamphlets concerning legal questions in the lobby of all Gray County banks.

J. B. Maguire, Pampa attorney, was in McLean Tuesday and made arrangements to place these pamphlets in the American National Bank here.

Maguire explained that these pamphlets are prepared as a public service by lawyers of the State of Texas and much information concerning legal problems of interest to everyone is contained in them.

Titles of a few of these pamphlets are "Property Is a Family Affair," "Do I Need a Will?," "Be Careful When Buying a Home," and "If I Should Die Without a Will."

The Bar Associations will have additional pamphlets from time to time in order to keep the public informed of changing laws and other important information.

Revival in Progress At Methodist Church

A revival at the McLean Methodist Church that will continue through November 27 got under way at the church last night at 7:00 o'clock.

Rev. Quay Parmer of Fort Worth is the evangelist and Earl L. Ward is the evangelistic singer for the revival.

Beginning today, two services will be held daily, at 10:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. Sunday services will be held at 10:55 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Marvin Fisher, pastor of the church, has extended an invitation to all to attend as many of these services as they can.

New Frigidaires On Display Now At McLean Electric

Many exciting new ideas in design and styling, including a unique new ice service and snap-on decorator panels in seven colors, are featured in Frigidaire's electric household refrigerators for 1956.

There are glamorous new exterior colors for next year's refrigerators, including Mayfair pink and Sheffield gray. Models also will be available in the popular Stratford yellow, Sherwood green, and snowy white.

The decorator panels provide even more color for homemakers because they are available in chrome, yellow, green, blue, pink, maroon and copper. These colorful panels snap into position across the top of the door and at the base of the cabinet.

Two cold pantry refrigerators, 14.3 and 12-cubic foot models with freezer at the bottom of the cabinet, feature the new idea in effortless ice service.

The larger of the two has 4.8 cubic-foot freezer, which will hold 168 pounds of frozen food. This freezer section is equipped with three ice-ejector trays of pink aluminum, a built-in ice-ejector and a transparent storage bin. The trays will produce three pounds of ice at one freezing and the storage basket will store five additional pounds.

Simply slide a tray into the ejector slot and ice cubes zip out without any effort. They drop into the bin below where they remain sparkling cold, ready for serving. Cubes will not melt or stick together, but stay separate in the "zero-zone" storage temperatures.

This food freezer is also equipped with its own separate door, which can be opened by a handy foot pedal. Two removable basket drawers glide out all the way on roll-out shelves, and a special tray for frozen juice cans is provided. For added convenience there are two roomy full-width shelves in the freezer door.

All of the 9.5 cubic feet of regular refrigerated storage in this top cold pantry model is located at convenient waist-level or above, eliminating a great deal of tire-some stooping and bending for the homemaker. For example, nearly a bushel of fresh fruits and vegetables can be stored in the picture window hydrator in the door. The unit swings down for easy loading, or can be removed for loading or cleaning.

The 12-cubic foot cold-pantry refrigerator is of similar design but equipped with a single full-length door. The freezer at the bottom of the refrigerator, which will store 66 pounds of frozen food, also features the new ice service.

The food storage compartments of all 1956 Frigidaire refrigerators are fashioned in a fashionable beige porcelain. Most models have shelves and ice trays in pink aluminum.

The popular 15-cubic foot Imperial refrigerator, which is being continued in 1956, has twin full-length doors and an 88-pound capacity food freezer across the top. When the twin doors are open, the big food storage compartment is completely unobstructed. There are four full-width roll-out shelves and twin vegetable hydrators below.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Meier of Amarillo, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Starnes and sons, David and Jimmy Pat, of Tracy, Calif., visited Tuesday in the Stratton and Switzer homes.

TIGERS GO TO WHITE DEER

Coach Hap Rogers' McLean Tigers will travel to White Deer tomorrow night to wind up their 1955 football season.

Injuries will handicap the Tigers but they are hoping to set Back White Deer tomorrow night on the Bucks' home ground.

Tigers Bow to Wheeler, 20-0, In Afternoon Game

By NEAL SHULL

The Wheeler Mustangs romped through to their seventh win last Friday afternoon, beating the McLean Tigers 20-0 in a non-conference game.

Wheeler led in first downs, 18-7. The Mustangs recorded 255 yards to McLean's 81. The Tigers connected with three of 13 over-head shots for 63 yards. Wheeler hit three of eight shots for 40 yards. If McLean had connected with more of their passes the outcome of the game would have been greatly changed.

Morris Wells, Paul Garvin and Tracy Cooper led the attack for the losers. The winners were led by Roger Topper and Jim Porter.

In the first quarter both McLean and Wheeler started drives but bogged down before they reached paydirt. Wells intercepted a Mustang pass but the Tigers were unable to make it pay off.

In the second quarter, first downs were picked up on the McLean 47 and 22. Topper, on a pitchout from Harold Crossland, went 21 yards to score. Joe Jaco attempted to run for the extra point but was stopped by a solid Tiger line. The score at half-time: McLean 0, Wheeler 6.

On the opening kickoff of the third quarter, Wheeler marched to a touchdown in eight plays. They picked up four downs along the way, starting their drive from their 32-yard marker. Porter, from two yards, went over to paydirt. Topper ran the extra point over.

McLean started a drive on their own 33. Garvin picked up a first down for the Tigers. Then Cooper threw a pass to Gene Farren that was good for 40 yards. It was the best pass of the game, and for that matter, of the season, also. After a couple of penalties and incomplete passes, the ball went over on downs to the Mustangs on their 24.

In the fourth quarter for the final touchdown, Jaco, on a pitchout from Crossland, went around right end to score. Topper crashed across for the extra point. The final score: McLean 0, Wheeler 20.

Lions Sell More Brooms Than Ever Here Last Thursday

A report in the Lions Tale, bulletin of the McLean Lions Club, had this to say about last Thursday's sale by Lions of merchandise manufactured by Texas blind persons.

"The broom sale of the Texas Blind Caravan was a great success due to the salesmanship of McLean Lions Club members.

"The gross sales this year were $705.75. Of this amount $523.19 went to the Texas blind who made the household articles that were sold, and $182.50 went to our own local club for sponsoring and putting on this sale of brooms, etc.

So we can all see that this project was successful and worthwhile, because it not only helped out our club financially, but it helped the Texas blind who made these articles.

"Members of the club who turned out and helped sell the brooms were Lions Clyde Andrews, Elmo Whaley, Johnnie Back, Heckman Brown, J. C. Claborn, Buddy Sutton, Boyd Meador, Emory Crockett, Cliff Day, Larry Fuller, C. P. Hamilton, Odell Mantooth, Freeman Melton, Jimmy Payne, Joe Suderman, Marvin Hindman, and Amos Page.

"Lion Cliff Day did a wonderful job again this year as wagon boss and chairman of sales.

"Lions Hickman Brown and Larry Fuller had nice displays set up in their stores and showrooms."

Future Farmers of America at Boys' Ranch build new hog pens and hope in the future to be able to raise the majority of their own pork at the Ranch. This is the first time the Ranch has had an FFA chapter and the boys are really working to make it one of the best in the area.

Boys' Ranch Forms NEW FFA CHAPTER

Cowhands at America's first Boys' Ranch, Amarillo, have their own FFA chapter this year for the first time at the Ranch.

Knowing how to take care of their stock properly is a very important part of the Ranch operation. The boys are very proud of their new FFA chapter, which is a part of their vocational training at the new school.

Under supervision of Bill Jackson, vocational agricultural teacher, the boys have undertaken as their first project the building of hog pens, and the Lazbuddy FFA chapter has given the Boys' Ranchers a pen to begin with. They are hoping within a short time to have several brood sows and about 150 feeder pigs.

It takes three hogs a week to feed all 220 boys at the Ranch and the FFA boys are hoping to be able to provide the majority of these hogs as well as beef and other projects they will undertake.

Members of the Area I FFA chapters have for the past few years helped the Boys' Ranchers with a "Beef a Month" plan, with each club in the organization donating about one beef during the year. This supplies a part of the two hives a week it takes to feed the boys and they are hoping to supplement it by raising some of their own beef in their chapter.

The Ranchers are getting a good start this year with their FFA chapter and are very enthusiastic about their new projects.

SPEAKING OF CARDS

COLUMBUS AND CARDS

The name of Columbus has special significance for all the card players in America. History tells us that the great Italian explorer carried playing cards on his ship, the Santa Maria, during its first fateful voyage in 1492 and that his sailors whiled away the long hours at sea waiting for their first glimpse of land by playing card games.

During some heavy weather the cards were washed overboard, shortly before the sighting of land. Soon after landing in San Salvador, Columbus' men quickly fashioned their own home-made playing cards from copra leaves (from a coconut tree). A few of these may still be viewed at the Columbus museum in Spain. Thus the introduction of playing cards to America was almost simultaneous with its discovery.

After Columbus, whose expedition was backed by Queen Isabella of Spain, other Spanish explorers brought playing cards to the New World. These included Cortez, conqueror of Mexico in 1519. History records that Montezuma, Aztec emperor, watched in fascination as Cortez' conquistadors played at cards.

The Indians, intrigued by the colorful cards, began to make their own out of birchbark, buffalo hide, deer-skin and sheepskin. They copied the Spanish suit designs, cut them into the leather or bark, and then colored them.

When Buffalo Bill Cody's effects were sold at auction, they contained a very ancient and ornate Indian deck of playing cards presented by a tribal chief to the frontiersman in return for a great favor.

European cards were later brought by the English to Virginia and by the Dutch to New Amsterdam, so that by the 17th Century cards were in common use from French Canada to Portuguese South America. Snap Snap Snorem, Slobberhane, Quadrille and Whist were the games early American settlers played with cards. The fascination of card games has continued through the centuries and new games have sprung up to meet the moods of our time. Today's high quality, durable cards which insure smooth handling and dealing are a far cry from their 15th Century forebears. And we have games like Canasta, Samba and the very latest, Calypso, as well as the old reliable, Bridge, Hearts, Poker and Pinochle that weren't even dreamed of by Columbus and his men.

The errors and misfortunes of others should be a school for our own instruction.—Thomas Jefferson.

Wisdom consists, not in stumbling on truth by chance, but in marking, learning, and inwardly digesting it.—La Rochefoucauld.

Seen Monk's "Better Half"?

Monk McCarthy's latest creation has the town talking again. You can see it parked in front of Monk's auto repair shop on Maple. Remember last year Monk cut two cars in half, and put their front ends together? You couldn't tell if the thing was coming or going. Sure attracted attention. Now Monk's taken Tog Morgan's old sedan and completely restored one half of it. One side is as good as new, the other looks like—well, Tog's old car. "Sort of a before-and-after demonstration," Monk told me, "shows folks the kind of work I do." From where I sit, some of Monk's ideas may look a little wild sometimes... but I wouldn't want to tell him how to run his business any more than I'd like him to tell me what beverage to enjoy. He always keeps a hot pot of tea in his garage—I'd rather have a cold glass of beer—but respect for each other's opinion is "auto"-matic with us both.

TOO MANY RECORDS

Weekly newspaper editors, polled by Congressional sponsors of a bill to create in Washington a national library of weekly newspapers, have turned thumbs down on the proposal by a considerable majority.

No one is more aware than the country editors of the potential cost of such a gigantic boondoggle, or of the probable uselessness of it.

And country editor Ernest Joiner of the Rails (Texas) Banner provided the best answer we've seen yet to the congressmen who professed to see in the proposed national library of weekly newspapers "a mirror of the people."

"Weekly newspapers are already on file in their local libraries and at the newspaper offices," Joiner points out. "But if Congress wants a 'mirror of the people' for historians to ponder, they need look no farther than a dozen bureaus already created and in operation.

"Between the armed services files, the FBI, Bureau of Vital Statistics, and records of Congressional investigative bodies," Joiner points out, "a complete dossier of the activities of every man, woman and child in America is maintained. Historians who want to know anything about climate and weather can go to the U. S. Weather Bureau. You can't shock a row of corn without that earth-shaking procedure being carefully documented in the archives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; and if there's a nickel involved in any transaction in Crosby County, you can find the complete history in every Washington bureau from the Treasury Department to the Bureau of Economic Statistics.

"Everything that grows, is built, is sold or transferred; every title that passes, and every birth, death, marriage, dog inoculation, garbage pick-up, and hamburger sold is recorded for posterity somewhere in the dark recesses of Washingtonian catacombs.

"Your TV set, steam iron, automobile, sidewalk, favorite brand of ice cream, and church preference are recorded statistics. Your gout, mumps, and teeth extractions can be had at the U. S. Public Health Service.

"No, sir, we don't need another bureau anywhere to document anything. We need more a stick of dynamite under the vast miscellany of misinformation already assembled."

THE RISKS WE TAKE

We have always had prophets of gloom and doom who see little good and much evil in our American social, economic and political system.

We are also blessed with a relatively small group of rabid radicals who would discard proven methods and ideals for almost any new or revolutionary panacea.

Fortunately most of our citizens have held fast to those democratic principles and rights that were so well established by the founders of our Republic.

The Constitution and Bill of Rights set forth the guarantees that assure our political freedom. While no such formal document spells out a bill of rights to protect our economic freedom, experience and the success of our free choice system have demonstrated certain rights that are essential to our continued progress.

It is commonly recognized that freedom to choose and the individual incentives thus generated are necessary ingredients of the successful system that has made us the world's leading nation. Less well recognized is the fact that for each economic and political right there is a corresponding individual risk and obligation.

The right to own property is contingent upon the use of the property in such a way as not to injure the rights of others. Ownership also carries with it the risk of loss as well as the opportunity to profit.

The right to save or spend the earnings of capital, management or labor is accomplished by the risk of unwise choice or poor investment. The right to contract, the right to buy and sell in a free market, the right to work and the right of the individual to opportunity all have their corresponding risks.

Yes, freedom and opportunity come only to those who are willing to take risks—but that's how the world's most successful nation was built, by individuals who valued opportunity more than security.—The Nation's Agriculture.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Hard To Convince

40 Years Ago—
IT HAPPENED HERE

Taken from the Files of The McLean News, 1915
A Birthday Dinner
One of the swellest dinners of the season was given Sunday, October 24th at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dougherty, seven miles north of town, the affair being the birthday of their daughter, Dolores. The dinner was prepared by Mrs. Dougherty, and she was assisted in serving by Mrs. Clark. After dinner the young people went k-daking.

The party consisted of the following: Misses Julia Foster, Alma Anderson, Blanche Mayfield, Allie Mae Rice, Thelma Rogers, Bessie and Betty Lee Christian, and Velda and Creta Boyd; Messrs. Lucius Rogers, Charles Cousins, Curley Crockett, Rob Harlan, Coyett Burrows, and Thurman.

The honoree received many beautiful presents. The party departed at 6:30 wishing Miss Dolores many more birthdays.

Collier-Smith

On Thursday of last week at the home of the bride in Erick, Okla., the ceremony was performed uniting in marriage Mr. Hulon Collier and Miss Hattie Smith. Both young people are well known and popular in their respective communities. Mr. Collier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Collier of this city and formerly lived here, having moved to Groom several years ago and identified himself with the State Bank of Groom, of which institution he is now assistant cashier.

His many friends here join with the News in extending sincerest congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous voyage across the matrimonial sea.

Surprise Birthday Party

Uncle Sam Kunkel was quite pleasantly surprised Sunday when automobile and buggy loads of his children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren began to arrive at his home about the noon hour with suspicious looking bundles and baskets, which proved to be lunch containers and soon, as if by magic, there was spread before him and his wife a dinner that left nothing to be desired. It was then they learned that this happy visit was for the purpose of celebrating the 79th birthday of the honoree, and a most enjoyable occasion it was.

There were three generations present and 36 in number, 11 being absent. Augmenting the pleasure of their visit and the splendid dinner, the gentleman also received a number of handsome and valuable gifts.

After spending a joyous afternoon and before departing, the guests joined in the expressing of a hope that Uncle Sam would live to enjoy many happy returns of the day.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my good friends in McLean, Pampa and Borger for the nice cards, gifts, and nice things to eat, also for the lovely flowers during my recent illness in the hospital. You will never know the sunshine it brought into my life. I want to thank the ones who donated blood for me also. My God's richest blessings rest on all of you.

Ten-year-old Jimmy, who had a reputation as a little terror, had just finished his first summer vacation at his grandparents' farm. When he got back to the city, a neighbor asked how he liked his grandfather. "Oh, he's great," said Jimmy. "We played a wonderful game every day. Late in the afternoon he'd row me out to the middle of Long Lake, throw me over the side of the boat and let me swim to shore." "Long Lake?" gasped the neighbor. "That's a big lake. Wasn't that quite a swim for such a little fellow?" "The swim wasn't bad," replied Jimmy, "but it was an awful job getting out of the burlap sack."

Those on the program were Gayle Mullanax who played "Yellow Rose of Texas," Betty Dickinson playing "Learning the Blues," and Billy Rodgers who rendered a boogie woogie number.

Owen Rhea played "Thinking of You," a number written by Conald Cunningham of McLean. All four piano renditions were enjoyed by the club.

After several announcements, Lion Brown dismissed the club.

OFF VA PENSION ROLLS

A seven-year old VA regulation liberalizing the eligibility of aged and unemployable veterans to nonservice-connected pension is being used by the AV administrator, Harvey Higley, to justify the elimination of thousands of previously eligible disabled from the rolls.

In the three years that he has been in office, Higley—who recently told the Veterans of Foreign Wars that VA was trying to be as "fair as God will let us"—has removed 18,749 nonservice-connected pensioners from its benefit rolls. The figures that I have given here only include those removed from the VA's pension rolls as of June 30, 1955.

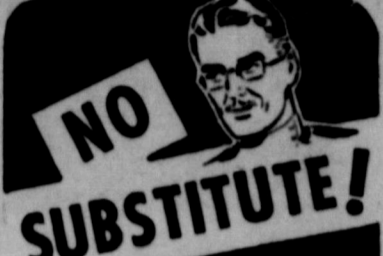

Although the majority of those whose pensions have been taken from them—presumably on the ground that neither their age nor their disability render "employable"—are World War I veterans, a few are believed to have seen service in World War II and possibly Korea.

A total of 8,312 were removed from the pension rolls during the past year. Paradoxically, the "excuse" VA gives for taking away the pensions of the aging veterans ties in with the 1948 liberalization of the basic law under which such pensions are authorized.

Hailed then as a "liberalization" of eligibility requirements for veterans age 55 or over, extension five to VA regulation (1) A Part (III) is now being used for the exact opposite purpose.

Until the review of pension claims began, veterans who are qualified for awards on the basis of nonservice-connected disabilities were allowed to retain their pensions as long as their annual income did not exceed $1400 for those without dependents and $2700 for those with dependents.

Through a stricter interpretation of the "gainful employment" clause, VA has now determined, in most cases, that work of any type—regardless of the income it may bring—is "gainful employment" and the veterans disability does not entitle him to a pension. The only classification of pensioners not affected by the new interpretation are those rated 100% nonservice disabled. They must only abide by the income limitations and work does not bar them from pension. The "employability" was contained in the 1948 regulation change invoked by the administrator, Carl Gray. A review of claims on a small scale began then. However, under Administrator Harvey Higley, the pension review is being conducted on a wholesale scale.
