

McLean Christmas decorations are going up and with only part of them up Tuesday and Wednesday nights they certainly looked nice. They are all new this year and the expense was borne by the City of McLean and the McLean Lions Club.

Here at the News office the past few weeks we have had a run on "No Hunting," "Posted" and "No Trespassing" signs that we sell in the office supply department. (We might add that we have re-ordered and have plenty on hand again.)

Game hunters, fishermen and other assorted sportsmen and outdoorsmen are finding a host of the above mentioned signs posted at entrances to their favorite haunts in the country this fall, and they have no one to thank but themselves, for abuse of privilege carries a stiff penalty, even where farmers are concerned.

Such is the warning issued to its readers by one state fish and game publication which says, and rightly so, that the number of "keep out" signs represent an indictment of all hunters and fishermen. "The hunter guilty of shooting toward animals or dwellings can kindle the wrath of a landowner and cause him to make the understandable ban against all shooters . . .

"When a fisherman tramples over a freshly planted field he has taken the step toward eliminating the welcome mat for all on that farm. . . Carelessness with cigarette butts, cattle gates or a few ears of corn may be placed at the door of a comparative handful, but their faults can produce rebuttal in the form that all visitors are not welcome."

The magazine goes on to point out that sportsmen often ignore the fact that one of the most common causes of breakdowns in their relations with farmers is the ordinary sportsman's attitude that the outdoors is a vast arena suitable for the absorption of tin cans, food remnants, paper, bottles, shell boxes, and many other kinds of trash and debris.

Obviously this won't be the last word on the subject, and perhaps all too few sportsmen will heed the above advice, in which case more and more farms and ranches will be posted with out-of-bounds signs. Yes, farmers are real killjoys, refusing to put up with wanton destruction of livestock and property and the juvenile antics of would-be sportsmen. But killjoys they'll be, if necessary, and year after year "sportsmen" keep proving that it is necessary.

Calvin Fraser Tells Lions of Factory To Be Located Here

Calvin Fraser, owner of the brassiere manufacturing plant to be located in McLean, spoke to the Lions Club at the regular meeting Tuesday.

Mr. Fraser explained the necessary planning and action that had to be done before the plant could be in operation here, and said that much of the preliminary work had already been completed.

He pointed out that a successful operation depends on a modern and efficient organization and that is the type of plant he is bringing to McLean.

Fraser said further that by the end of 1957 a crew of approximately 65 women is anticipated with a monthly payroll of around $12,000. He added that when full production is reached in the local plant 100 women would be employed with a monthly payroll of $20,000.

He emphasized that competition is keen in his type of manufacturing business and that modern equipment and efficient personnel are essential to successful operation.

He concluded by saying that McLean would soon have the type of factory that he had outlined and that he believed it would prove an asset to the town.

In other business, Christmas tree sales were discussed and also the club sponsored pancake supper to be held Friday evening.

Pat Miller, a senior in McLean High School, was introduced by Lion Sammy Haynes as Cub for the month of December.

McLean Schools to Collect Clothing FOR NEEDY CHILDREN

During the week of December 3, school children of McLean will collect good used clothing for orphaned and needy children, and adults, in the United States and 30 countries overseas, it was announced by Superintendent of Schools Freeman Melton, Jr.

The drive, which is part of World Clothing Week, will be held Friday and Monday, December 7 and 10. Supt. Melton expressed the hope that every family in McLean will begin now to gather up all the outgrown and worn clothing which accumulates in nearly every household and send it to school during these two days. All types of infants, children's and adult clothing and shoes are needed. Bedding, too, can be put to good use.

Persons other than school children who wish to contribute clothing may leave it at either the high school or grade school building where it will be added to the other collections.

Mr. Melton stated, "Statistics show that nearly half the world's children are inadequately clothed, housed, and fed. Thousands of children in our own United States cannot attend school regularly because they lack proper clothing. Overseas, orphaned and other needy children and adults desperately need help. Through World Clothing Week, the school children of McLean and the entire community can make a substantial contribution toward alleviating the distress of these unfortunate ones."

World Clothing Week is conducted under the auspices of the Christian Children's Fund, Inc. Since 1938, C. C. F. has been active in child welfare work. Today it provides vital assistance to orphaned and needy children in 30 countries. In addition to the United States, C. C. F. operates its programs in Austria, Belgium, Borneo, Brazil, Burma, Finland, France, Free China, Greece, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Jordan, Korea, Lapland, Lebanon, Macao, Malaya, Oldnawa, Pakistan, Philippines, Puerto Rico, Syria, Viet Nam and Western Germany.

Cattle Purchase by Mexicans
TSCRA continues to work closely with USDA and ASC in this program. No cattle have been purchased as of this date.

Livestock Inventory
The association is cooperating with the USDA in getting an accurate estimate of the number of cattle on farms by giving wide publicity to the survey which is now underway. Reports resulting from this survey will be released in February and will be valuable to the livestock industry.

TSCRA urges all members receiving cards asking for information to cooperate fully with this survey.

Freight Rate Increase
In addition to a 15% increase in rates asked by the railroads, another increase of 7% was asked on November 6 bringing the total increase to 22%. Facts and figures are now being assembled by TSCRA in an effort to show that the livestock industry is in no position to stand such an increase.

TSCRA is building its defense on the lack of profit in livestock production and the devastation caused by six years of drought.

Thefts
Nine thieves, picked up recently by inspectors of the TSCRA, were assessed a total of 78 years in the penitentiary on pleas of guilty.

Calvin Fraser, owner of Form-O-Uth Brassiere Company of Gardena, Calif. who is opening a factory in McLean, was in town the past few days making further preparations for the opening of the plant here.

Mr. Fraser said that he believes the people of McLean want to know and should know what is being done in order to open the local plant at the earliest possible date. Regarding this, Mr. Fraser released the following statement for publication:

"The question may be asked as to when our garment factory will commence operation. The answer would be not later than March 1st. During the next couple of months machinery and equipment will be shipped in and set in place. At the present time all necessary planning is being done. Skilled personnel are being trained in California to come to McLean to transform local girls from raw recruits into skilled operators. So, while there is no evidence of preparation being done in McLean, there is much work being done elsewhere. As an illustration, a great deal of time was consumed in locating a good industrial engineer who had been raised in West Texas to come to McLean as plant manager.

"The factory will consist of only modern machinery and equipment. Working conditions will be as pleasant as we can make them. In a year, possibly two, we hope to have in McLean one of the most efficient garment factories in the country.

"Late in 1957 we hope to have employed 60 or 65 local girls with a monthly payroll of approximately $12,000. Late in 1958 we hope to have 100 girls with a monthly payroll of about $20,000. Beyond that we cannot say. The whole project hinges on an effective training program and the attaining of an efficient factory operation.

"The above means the employment of a great many of the girls in McLean, with a new payroll coming into the town. You, yourself, can translate this into terms of benefit which must accrue to the town. It certainly can do no harm. I feel that it will do much good. I think that everyone will agree on that point.

"I would like to spell out later in much more detail how we can accomplish our purpose, and the ingredients which must go into the original planning and training in order to insure its success.

"I feel that all McLean people are as anxious to employ as many local girls and to have as large a payroll as possible. This requires the use of sound engineering practices and recognized methods of personnel selection and placement. This will be presented at a later date.

"In the meantime, may I express my sincere appreciation for all that the town of McLean and its good people have done for us, and to wish you a very, very Merry Christmas. May God bless Merry Christmas. May God bless you all during the holiday season and thereafter."

Congressman Rogers Reports— TO THE PEOPLE

CONGRESS UNDER PRESSURE

On the 3rd of January, 1957, the 85th session of the Congress of the United States will convene. Political writers and experts in the east are predicting that, immediately after the Congress convenes, the pressure will be on for the early passage of a legislative program that can be used as a base platform for the much advertised new Republicanism. It seems to be the opinion of the political experts that a speedy and all-out attack will be necessary to force the program through; that if the program is not passed in the first two years of the President's term, much of it will be doomed. The interesting and somewhat amusing feature is the nature of the program predicted by these political fortune tellers. It could easily be mistaken for the Roosevelt-Truman programs that were such hot issues for so many years. For instance the political analysts say that the legislative "musts" program will include such items as (1) civil rights legislation; (2) a federal health insurance program; (3) amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act; (4) federal aid to education; (5) expansion of fair labor standards act to include many more workers under minimum wage and maximum hour provisions; (6) expansion of the social security system; (7) foreign aid, expansion of economic aid to under-developed countries; (8) channeling of government contracts to thickly populated areas to avoid unemployment (this means an additional expense to the taxpayer, because the determining factor is not the cost of the goods to be purchased, but the economic situation in a particular area. This, of course, reduces the chance for industrial expansion of those sections of the country not presently industrialized.); (9) liberalization of immigration laws (there has long been a major effort to shift unused quotas from such countries as England, Sweden, etc., to other countries that have many people wanting to migrate to this country); (10) increased military spending; (11) statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, and voting rights for the District of Columbia; (12) increased aid for hospital construction.

The failure of Roosevelt and Truman to obtain passage of much of this legislation was due to strong opposition from those who were violently opposed to the centralization of our government and a concentration of power in the hands of a few individuals in Washington. If the predictions of these political prognosticators are even partially correct, it would appear that the sessions of the 85th Congress will be most interesting.

Two items that are noticeable because of their absence in the list of political predictions, are small business legislation and legislation concerning the farmer and rancher. When these two items are mentioned, they usually appear at the bottom of the list and seem to be somewhat of a second thought. The disregard of these two items by many of the writers causes me concern for two reasons. In the first place, these two segments of our economy are in deep trouble and must have some assistance. In the second place, Eisenhower has mentioned both of these items several times as being of concern to him. The failure of the writers to treat these two matters as serious makes me wonder if they know something that the rest of the country has not been told.

AMERICA ON WHEELS

The hearings that have been held by the committee on traffic safety, of which I am a member, have certainly proven that America is truly a "nation on wheels." Everyone in this country seems to be going some place or coming back. I guess all Americans have a certain amount of gypsy blood. Several years after World War I, I had occasion to visit with a German army officer who had come to this country to live. He defined an American as a "person who, regardless of where he was, wanted to go some other place, and when he arrived there wished that he had stayed where he was in the beginning." In other words, he felt that Americans wanted to go some place just for the sake of going. This is certainly true in my household. Mrs. Rogers and I wanted to go to a football game the other day and our two youngest insisted that they go, too, although they had no idea where we were going. To save controversy, we took them. When the game was about one-fourth through, the little girl got my attention and asked the following question: "Is this baseball or football can I have another cup of hot chocolate?"

State Quail Farm Ends First Year

The experimental quail farm opened by the Game and Fish Commission in 1956 overcame drought-imposed handicaps to the extent of distributing approximately 16,000 young birds to roughly 200 hundred applicants in northeast and east Texas.

W. J. Cutbirth, assistant executive secretary, said about 2,000 quail were reserved as brood stock for 1957 production and suggested that interested sportsman's groups and individuals might well prepare their applications now to allow ample time for processing as to habitat requirements and other qualifications. He estimated that 10% of the 16,000 young quail distributed this year went to sportsmen's groups.

The assistant secretary said field reports indicate a good survival rate and urged hunters to help complete the studies by sending in bands which were placed around a leg of each of the released quail.

The quail farm was created by the commission as a key part of its quail habitat restoration program. The commission acted on information that the drought had so badly depleted food and cover facilities that the available native population would require implementation from artificial sources.

GETS CONTROLLED HEAT

"I've cooked electrically for years, so naturally when I bought a new double oven range, it was electric. When I am working with expensive fruit cake ingredients, my baking temperature must be exact. I have found that an electric oven gives me exactly the controlled heat I want."

RANGE DOES PERFECT JOB

"The double oven model is excellent, not only in my fruit cake baking, but comes in handy for family dinners and entertaining friends. Handy, too, for quick snacks are the surface units... they're so fast. I find my new range does a perfect job whether it's a quick snack or the fully loaded ovens."

LIKES ELECTRICITY

Mrs. Henry describes her home as an electric one and she says, "We are all proud of our electric appliances which make living more enjoyable."

Christmas is coming and Mrs. Henry has turned her love for baking fruit cakes into a profitable business during the holiday season. Last year she baked over 500 pounds of fruit cake in two weeks... a tribute to the exactness and accuracy which electric baking gives.

Editorial

THE NATURAL GAS PROBLEM

This country has a vast source of energy in its natural gas, and use of this fuel for both domestic and commercial purposes has tremendously increased. But, under present conditions, its full potentialities cannot be realized.

The reason lies in a Supreme Court decision, now more than two years old, which said in effect that the Federal Power Commission must take regulatory jurisdiction over natural gas production in the oil fields. This, many feel, was not the will of Congress. The gas producers—of whom there are thousands—are in no sense public utilities. They have no protected markets. Their work is intensely competitive and highly risky.

The remedy lies in Congressional action to free these producers of a form of regulation which must inevitably force a reduction in the sinking of new wells and result in a diminishing gas supply—at the expense of consumers all over the country. Congress did pass such a bill early this year, but it was vetoed by the President because unethical lobbying methods had been used on behalf of the measure. He did not use the veto power because he felt the bill was in itself a bad one—indeed, in the veto message, Mr. Eisenhower endorsed the bill's objective and principal provisions.

It is expected that a strong effort—backed by leaders of both parties—will be made to pass a similar bill when Congress convenes again. The national interest, as well as the interest of natural gas users, demands that this be done.

SENATOR BORAH WAS WRONG

In an earlier era, it seems clear, the advocates of the federal income tax had no conception of the extent to which it would grow—and the tremendous portion it would take from the earnings of the people.

In defending this tax, the late Senator Borah once said: "The great and honored lawyer, Joseph Choate, denounced such a tax as socialistic. He said that if you can levy a tax of two per cent, you may levy a tax of fifty per cent or a hundred per cent.

"Who will pay the tax of fifty per cent or a hundred per cent?"

"Whose equity, sense of fairness, of justice, of patriotism does he question?"

"Why, the representatives of the American people—not only that, but the intelligence, the fairness, the justice of the people themselves, to whom their representatives are always answerable."

Senator Borah was a famous and able man, but in this case he could hardly have been more wrong. An income tax of 50 per cent now applies at levels which are far from great wealth. And in the top bracket the tax is 91 per cent—only nine per cent short of the total expropriation that Joseph Choate feared.

Moreover, even in relatively modest brackets, the tax collector hits very hard. Taxes, direct and indirect, account for about one-third of a $7,500 annual income. And a man earning $85 a week works more hours to pay his taxes than to pay for his food and clothing combined.

PATTERN FOR COMMUNITY GROWTH

Power companies, railroads, large industries and other agencies interested in industrial development have been working on plans to provide more practical and convenient areas for factory locations, home building sites, shopping centers, and school facilities outside congested city centers.

This progressive planning is going on all over the country. One of the latest to be announced is that of the Union Pacific Railroad Company on a project of several hundred acres on the outskirts of Portland, Ore.

According to the company, there is a growing need for this type of high-class, close-in development suitable for industries whose investments and payrolls have a tremendous effect on the economic health of the community.

Thus, does a large industry make possible the development of a hundred smaller industries—one can't exist without the other. This is the private enterprise way of building the nation.

Woman's Auxiliary Notes

The Woman's Auxiliary of the M. E. church met at the parsonage Tuesday afternoon. Our subject was "Latin America," and Mrs. Hedrick was leader.

Mesdames Ashby, Cousins, Boyett and Phillips presented, respectively, the following subjects: the religious needs of the Latin-American immigrant; religions of Latin-American immigrants; they come to us without Bibles, with low ideals, with their beer drinking and sabbath breaking; we dare not neglect them, for they have to do with the making or marring of our country.

We learned also that the people of Latin-America are enslaved by a corrupt priesthood, kept in ignorance, superstition, and poverty. Our pastor helped us to better understand the needs and conditions of these lands by giving us the substance of a lecture given at the Northwest Texas Conference by a worker from that field.

A freewill offering was taken amounting to four dollars. Our president calls attention to the fact that we have only one week more in which to secure the 100 subscribers and requests every member to do her best as we hope to make a large payment on our piano soon.

Heroic Bus Driver Subject of
 'DRAMA IN REAL LIFE'

Scientific weather forecasting, radio-equipped patrol cars and elaborate snow removal equipment today safeguard winter traffic over major highways. But sudden blizzards still trap vehicles and threaten their occupants with icy death. Such an incident is described by Joseph Phillips in the Reader's Digest for December in a drama in real life titled "John Hearon's Long Walk."

Shortly after midnight last February 4, 38-year-old John Hearon drove a Vista Liner bus out of Tucumcari, N. M., on his nightly 226-mile trip to Amarillo, Texas, and back. Snow was falling and he arrived in Amarillo at 4 a. m., two hours behind schedule.

The snow was expected to ease up and at 5:30 a. m. he started his return trip over Highway 66. In his bus were nine men and four women, one carrying a 21-month-old baby.

The snow continued and at 8 a. m. the bus stuck in a drift and could not be dislodged. Expecting help at any minute, the party laughed and waited in the bus which Hearon kept warm by running the motor periodically.

But at 2 p. m., no help had come. The fuel gauge was down to the one-fourth mark. All food had been eaten except two sandwiches reserved for the baby. The outside temperature was between 10 and 20 degrees and it was still snowing.

Wearing his uniform, low cut shoes and unlined gloves, Hearon then set out on foot through the blizzard for help. He thought he could make Glenrio, a hamlet on the Texas-New Mexico border, in three or four hours.

It took him more than nine harrowing hours and it was 11:15 p. m. when he staggered, blinded and frozen, into Glenrio. Aid reached the stranded bus at 2 a. m.

Thirty persons lost their lives in the storm, but thanks to Hearon's heroism all his passengers were rescued unharmed. After four days in the hospital and six days rest, he went back to driving his bus.

SOCK IT AWAY!

From the State Capitol HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

Texas Press Association
 By Vern Sanford
 Visions of Tax Dollars
 Texas' new leaders, who take over state government in January, face the holiday season with visions of tax dollars dancing thru their heads.
 Gov.-Elect Price Daniel of Liberty already has set up unofficial headquarters in Austin. So has Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, unopposed candidate for speaker of the House.
 They will be in almost continuous conference with incoming legislators the next few weeks, hoping to smooth the way for a fast start in January.
 Their problem parallels the December dilemma of most parents—how to buy everything Santa promised without upsetting the budget. Campaign promises, constitutional amendments voted by the people and increased money requests from state departments threaten to do just that.
 Earlier Gov. Allan Shivers had predicted a $50,000,000 surplus for the next biennium with no need for new taxes. State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said he could foresee only a $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 surplus.
 But outgoing House Speaker Jim Lindsey took a flat "there ain't no Santa Claus" attitude. Texas' growing population means spiraling expenditures, said Lindsey.
 Amendments giving increased teacher retirement and aid to the disabled will add some $12,000,000 to the state budget, he noted. Lindsey pegged estimated revenue for the next two years at $274,000,000. Appropriation requests at $336,000,000. Result: some 25% would have to be financed with new taxes.

Auto Insurance
 Texans may enjoy lower automobile insurance rates and lower costs in other lines of casualty insurance if the 1957 legislature adopts a proposed flexible rate system. The state currently has a single rate plan—all companies charge the same on casualty insurance.
 A Texas casualty and surety legislative study committee, named by 40 Texas insurance companies, has recommended that the single rate plan be abolished and a flexible plan, such as used in other states, be adopted.
 Says Bob Hilton, study committee chairman: "Many companies are willing and able to charge lower rates and would be permitted to do so under a flexible rating plan which throws insurance charges open to competition and allows a company to set its rates at the lowest level consistent with sound operations."
Inauguration Work Begun
 James P. Nash heads the group of Austinites already at work on 1957 inauguration festivities.
 Other leaders are E. R. L. Wroe, Jr., vice chairman; E. C. Bartholomew, secretary; Robert M. Kinnan, treasurer; Ed Clark, acting treasurer.
 With $1,241 left over from last inauguration, the committee needs to raise some $14,000 more if Austin is to carry out in style its traditional role of "host to the state." Invitations by the thousands, a parade, receptions and several balls are part of the bi-annual splurge.

have been awarded for construction of a new state courts building. This figure includes everything but the architects' fees and interior finishing, according to the state building commission. These are expected to run the total cost up to $2,895,943.

Insurance Chairman Resigns
 J. Byron Saunders, chairman of the state board of insurance commissioners, has resigned effective January 1.
 Saunders is to become vice president and general counsel for Republic National Life Insurance Co. in Dallas. He has been commission chairman since the resignation of Garland Smith last January.

Saunders instituted an industry-wide solvency check of insurance companies to "weed out the bad apples." He was praised by Gov. Shivers for "stepping in when the board was under fire" and for securing stronger laws and supervision.

Lowry Conviction Reversed
 Court of Criminal Appeals has reversed the conviction of Leslie Lowry by an Austin district court. He was accused of making a false affidavit about the financial condition of the now-defunct Texas Fire Insurance Co. But a defense witness, a former notary, testified he did not administer an oath to Lowry when the affidavit was signed.
 Reversal of the Lowry conviction threw a cloud over perjury indictments pending against three other officials of the same company. Travis County's District Attorney Les Procter said he will file a motion for re-hearing.

Women Jurors Applauded
 Use of women jurors may have a wholesome effect on our court procedures, says a Supreme Court Justice.
 Judge W. St. John Garwood thinks presence of women "will probably result in more cleanliness, order, restraint and dignity."
 Judge Garwood also noted "increasing criticism" of jury trials in civil cases. Mounting volume and complexity of civil litigation make the system more and more cumbersome, he said. This, he suggested, "plus the declining popular fear of judges as arbitrary or corruptible," may pave the way for reform.

Health Outlook Brighter
 An infant's chance of survival has increased many fold in Texas in the past two decades.

Infant death rates have dropped from 71 to 30 per thousand since 1936, according to the State Department of Health. In the some period maternal deaths and stillbirths have plummeted from 6.9 to 0.5 per thousand so far this year.

Even greater improvements are predicted by the department as higher health standards become commonplace.

Short Snorts
 Dry northers are offsetting the effects of early fall rains in most of Texas, says the Texas Agricultural Service. Low temperatures and heavy frosts were also cited as damaging winter crops. . . . Texas will have nearly three million job holders during December, predicts the Texas Employment Commission. Extra holiday help in stores and post offices already has brought the seasonal upswing to 2,930,000, a new record. . . . Texas will be entitled to two more congressmen after the 1960 census, according to unofficial population estimates. This would give the state 24 representatives. . . . Texas School for the Deaf, delayed in its fall opening by a $2,500,000 construction program, was scheduled to begin classes Monday. A six-day week and one-day Christmas holiday faces the 461 students in payment for their extra "vacation." . . . Texas Supreme Court has set for January 2 hearing on the state's case against Upshur Rural Electric Cooperative. Decision is expected to define cooperatives' right to sell power in an area annexed by a city.

Buttons were first put on men's coat sleeves by Frederick the Great, to keep his soldiers from wiping their noses on their sleeves.

The word salary comes from "salarium," meaning salt money, since Roman soldiers received part of their pay in salt.
