adequacy of planned public education programs on dangers of drug abuse drew challenge last week from Lt. Ben Barnes as the war on narcotics increased in tempo. Barnes told newsmen he feels program can be "redeemed" straightened out by the beginning of the school year. He suggested that bona fide narcotics on drugs and former teachers should be included as teacher-resource persons.

Meanwhile, the Lieutenant Governor told a narcotics seminar for law officers and prosecutors that Texas is spending far more money on drug law enforcement.

Gov. Preston Smith, in his address to the conference, said the primary obligation of law enforcement is to society of pushers who traffic narcotics for profit. Smith said education is the key in fighting drug abuse addicts and experimenters. Barnes said the new school year on narcotics should be as "personal" as possible. Smith and Barnes agreed teaching must be done by those who know what they are talking about.

Lieutenant Governor believes lowering of penalties for offense possession of marijuana to misdemeanors would be the reluctance of juries to convict. He reported heavy response to his suggestion, and said correspondence is running one-to-one in favor of lighter sentences. Pushers, he emphasized, should get tougher punishment than at present.

Depending for enforcement, Lieutenant Governor claims, could be increased "200, 300 or 400 per cent" without undue burden on taxpayers--by "revocation of priorities."

FORNEY GENERAL RULES State Board of Health may set reasonable rules and regulations relating to minimal equipment for ambulances. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held board of trustees for a fireman's relief and retirement fund may not invest in mutual funds.

PRODUCTION Texas Railroad Commission med statewide oil allowance for May to 64.5 per cent potential.

Production follows four months a high 68 per cent level. Commission said a restudy of the producing ability of Texas oil fields and increases in above-ground stocks of crude oil led the cut-back.

May allowances will mean maximum production of 3,375,375 barrels a day, or 147,375 less than April. Estimated production will decline by about 43,750, Commission says.

Nominations by major projects actually totalled 20,322 bids a day more than April.

HOSPITAL GRANTS CLEARED State Board of Health has approved $10.1 million in federal allocations for 24 hospital health facility construction or improvement projects Program up to 50 per cent of construction or modernization costs.

BOB PRICE TO SPEAK AT GRADUATION

The graduation exercises for the 1970 Seniors of McLean High will be held on May the twenty-second at eight o'clock in the First Baptist Church. Panhandle Congressman Bob Price will outline the duties of citizenship of the 1970 graduates.

Unopposed for a third term in Congress, Price is a strong believer that the Nation's leadership of tomorrow must come from the type of background received by growing up in the environment provided by smaller cities such as McLean.

"The type of leadership gained in big city ghettos is not the type of leadership I want for our Nation, a dog-eat-dog existence," Price stated.

"I appreciate this invitation from Senior Class President Butch Lands to deliver this commencement address, and am looking forward to being in McLean," the Congressman stated.

As a matter of information and in regards to the academic achievement of McLean Elementary and Junior High School, they have won the District Literary Contest in 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, and in 1969. This is just current records and information. It is apparent this speaks for the academic standards of McLean Elementary and Junior High School.

County Agent--

see a faint flickering light. As I came closer I could see where the front porch had been torn from the house. When I drove up there Mr. Foreman stood with a flashlight. I called are you and Mrs. Foman alright. His quick reply was, "yes, but we lost all our sheds, barns and outbuildings. I then breathed a sign of relief, and then realized that since no life had been lost it could have been much worse. On Saturday we had a number of friends help us salvage most of our records, visual aid equipment and much of the educational material. We did lose some important papers off the top of our desk. I'm sure we will be sorting through the remaining material for months to come in an effort to find that certain bit of information. The County Commissioner's Court met on Tuesday and asked us to locate a suitable place for temporary quarters. At this writing we have two or three places being considered. The Commissioners are to pay our rent until a decision can be made regarding the replacement of the building. Everyone concerned including a host of farmers and ranchers and Pampa residents are hopeful a new building will be built just as soon as time would permit. According to Judge Lenning this is to be discussed further at the end of the week. It is also my understanding the rent for office space can be repaid to the county through a special government grant available for such disasters. Some county officials have been invited to attend a meeting in Plainview that has been called by the Governor for Wednesday (yesterday) to discuss special aid. As soon as we know where our office is located we will let you know. The ASC and the SGS office is located on Alcock St. just east of a Conoco Service Station. This is on the Borger Highway and is what used to be the Baptist Temple Church.

LOOKIN' BACK

by Vera Featherston Bark

"Oh, that my tongue could utter the thoughts that arise in me!" How many of us have searched for the right word, the comforting touch of the hand to express to the many friends and bereaved ones in the Simpson family what was really in our hearts!

With nearly 30 other students in nine grades, the teacher had little time for Minnie, so she sat by S. B. and, as he learned he passed his knowledge on to her. The two were idolized by the entire student body, as they spread sunshine throughout the day.

Later the Morses moved into McLean from the Langley Place and the children attended school here. S. B. was a leader among the boys and starred in football. Minnie became proficient in tennis and won honors for herself and her school.

S. B. volunteered for military service and made the supreme sacrifice in World War II, leaving a widow - the former Addie Walker - and a darling little daughter, Minnie Catherine. Dollie was a shut-in for years, and the devotion of her husband and daughter touched the hearts of all who knew them. Sammie lived a life of memories after his wife's death, but had the same loving care as did Dollie. Never complaining, Sammie finally went on to the great beyond where earthly friends and relatives vision him content to be again at Dollie's side, to hold her hand, and to look forward to a family reunion "Over There." Saturday morning the four were re-united, this time for eternity.

When Minnie finished McLean High School in 1925, she went to Oklahoma University where she continued her tennis and made an enviable record in girls' track events, but the "boy she left behind" was ever in her heart. Accustomed to working for what he wanted, John C. Haynes worked hard at love making, followed Minnie to Norman, Okla. where she was to enroll for her junior year in the fall of 1927. Love prevailed and the two were married in Oklahoma City on September 13. Minnie inherited her love of family and her respect for humanity from her parents. This she kept throughout her life. Her family and friends were first in her mind and heart.

It is hard to realize she is gone, but Minnie Morse Haynes' memory lives on in the hearts of her husband, her sons, Sammie and Johnnie, and the ones who knew her for her true worth. John, we wish we could do more than just sympathize. You will not forget, but you will remember and, by so doing, you will continue your service to
