

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

It has been said that men, like tacks, are useful if they have good heads and are pointed in the right direction.

May 15 through May 20 will be Clean Up Week in McLean. During this time the city will pick up all trash and rubbish placed in the alleys during that week. Only such trash and rubbish that can be handled by one man will be moved. If you have large tree limbs or other heavy objects they must be chopped or broken into small pieces in order for them to be picked up. Mayor Ed Lander has asked the cooperation of everyone to help clean up McLean.

Popularity is a crime from the moment it is sought; it is only a virtue when men have it whether they will or not.

A definite need is apparent to encourage more McLean people to trade in McLean. This can be accomplished only by both merchants and buyers working together. The common complaint from the buyer is that McLean merchants do not carry what they want to buy, or if it is available here they didn't know about it until they had already bought somewhere else.

A weekly comparison of grocery prices published in The McLean News with those in newspapers in nearby towns will prove to the wise shopper that food can be bought cheaper in McLean. But still some local people buy groceries out of town and pay more for them, plus the cost of transportation and loss of time. The reason they do that is because they went to that neighboring town to buy something else besides groceries. They bought the groceries while they were there, too.

The neighboring towns are featuring Dollar Days or Super Value Days in which every type of business has a promotion of its own and everybody benefits from each other's advertising because together they get people in town to BUY.

A few merchants can't carry the load for every business in town, indefinitely. Those merchants who advertise are benefitting every other merchant in town, but they are not getting the full benefit of their promotions unless others show some sign of life in their own stores.

The Appreciation Day each Saturday does part of the job in getting people in McLean, but with only a few merchants offering special attractions, or even basic needs, this alone cannot be termed a success.

With Appreciation Day and with more merchants cooperating in some kind of organized Saturday promotion where customers could buy something besides groceries on special, the people who come in to win the money would also come in to BUY.

One Saturday afternoon recently, when the days were shorter, we overheard a lady on the street say, "I wish they would have this drawing earlier. By the time we go over to Shamrock and do our shopping, it's dark before we get home."

First Baptist Church Ends Successful Revival Sunday Night

Revival services at the First Baptist Church closed last Sunday night with a baptismal service in which 16 persons were baptized. This service was followed by fellowship for the intermediates of the church. Lunch was served in Fellowship Hall at noon Sunday.

Large crowds were in attendance at the Sunday services, and also each night of the revival, with special recognition given different groups during the week. There were 75 ladies present for ladies' night Monday, and the men had 88 for their barbecue supper and revival services Tuesday night. Thirty-eight young people stayed for fellowship after the services Thursday night.

Another large crowd was present for family night on Friday night, when special recognition was given the families present. A Bible was presented to the R. L. Brown family for being the largest family present. The youngest married couple was Mr. and Mrs. Harris Howard. The youngest baby present was the 7-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Willingham; and the 8-week-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller were also recognized.

Wednesday night of last week was Bible night, when a large display of old and unusual Bibles was made, and many interesting facts were brought out concerning them.

The oldest Bible was displayed by Roy Willingham. It was published in 1827. Mrs. George Colebank brought a Bible that was 99 years old and had been given to her uncle by her great-grandmother.

Another old Bible was brought by Mrs. Chock Smith. Her great-grandfather, David Trout, preached from this Bible. Mrs. Johnny Biggers brought a Bible that had been in her family a long time and had been handed down to her from her great-grandmother.

A Greek New Testament, a Bible written in old English, and several others were displayed by Pastor Jesse R. Leonard. Some of these had belonged to Mrs. Leonard's ancestors and were found with some other keepsakes in the attic of her home near Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Luther Petty brought several Bibles for display, one of which had been presented to a church in Missouri by her grandparents, supposedly about 1881. She also brought the smallest Bible, a tiny stamp size edition.

American National Bank Remodeling Begins Soon

Plans are almost complete for the extensive remodeling of the American National Bank building in McLean, Clifford Allison, vice president, has announced.

At the same time he said that temporary quarters for the bank would be in the building between Brown's Drug and the McLean Hardware building while remodeling is underway. A fire-proof and burglar-proof vault is under construction for the protection of the bank's books, records and cash.

Present plans are for the bank to begin operation in the temporary quarters about May 15.

Mr. Allison said, "The move will cause some inconvenience to our customers and ourselves but we will make every effort to serve everyone as we have in the past."

"Upon completion of the new building which will be modern in every respect, we will be better able to serve the people of McLean in every way and will have a bank which we think will be a credit to our town and community," Allison added.

Proofs will be shown and from these you may select the picture of your child which you would like to appear in this newspaper. If you wish extra photographs, they may be purchased, but no purchase is necessary in order to compete for the prizes. It is entirely up to you, whether you buy pictures or not.

There is no age limit on the contest, and every child's photograph in this section is wanted so that they may all appear in The McLean News. However, it is necessary that all pictures be uniform size, so they must be made by Winston B. Lucas on Saturday, May 11.

In this topsy-turvy situation, a tongue of cold air dips into the warm air, which in turn moves upward to fill the void thus created. As the warm air rushes upward in a spiral motion, other warm air is sucked upward from lower levels, until the ground is reached. The funnel is made visible by condensing moist air, dirt and debris. ## Congressman Rogers Reports— TO THE PEOPLE

Alaska-Hawaii Statehood

The perennial scrap about statehood for Alaska and Hawaii has been progressing in due order during the first three months of this session. As a member of the Interior Committee which has jurisdiction in this measure, this is my third time to hear these arguments. Much of the testimony is repetition, but the fine people of both Alaska and Hawaii are leaving no stone unturned in their persevering efforts to obtain the passage of legislation granting statehood to both territories. Each year they come forward with new approaches and additional information. However, the opponents of statehood are equally as alert and overlook nothing in bringing forward new information and in answering the new and additional claims of the proponents.

The committee had before it at its last session on Hawaiian statehood Dr. Fred Schwarz, who was born in Brisbane, Queensland, Australia, in 1913. He is a graduate of the University of Queensland where he subsequently lectured in mathematics and science and completed a medical course graduating in medicine and surgery. He presently maintains a general practice in Sydney, Australia, but devotes most of his time to the war against international communism. As a Christian lay preacher, Dr. Schwarz is particularly and ably equipped to battle world communism. He has a standing challenge to debate any communist on any platform in any part of the world. He was brought to our committee to testify relative to the communist threat in the Hawaiian Islands. His testimony was most informative and most interesting. He was quick to point out that it was not his intention to convey the thought that the Hawaiian Islands were harboring a large number of communists, but that the communists who are in Hawaii had gained control of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and were able to influence the civil life of the Hawaiian Islands and to be in virtual control of the economy of the Islands. I was especially interested in his views on this particular phase of the problem, because when these bills were before a prior session of Congress, I had argued that one of the greatest dangers with relation to the Hawaiian Islands was the fact that Harry Bridges, who heads the ILWU, could, by the issuance of a directive of his own choosing, virtually throttle the entire economy of the Hawaiian Islands.

Dr. Schwarz pointed out that the ratio of communists in New York or California, to the total population of those states, is probably much greater than the ratio in the Hawaiian Islands; but that the difference in the danger lies in the fact that communists in New York and California are ineffective because they do not have control of any organization. On the other hand, the smaller percentage of communists in Hawaii poses a greater threat because of their control of the ILWU, the organization in Hawaii to which a great many of the inhabitants belong. To substantiate this he pointed out that there are 30 members in the lower House of the Hawaiian Legislature and at least 18 of those were openly and notoriously endorsed by the ILWU in their elections. Whether or not such endorsement influences the members of the Legislature is, of course, a debatable question. Dr. Schwarz emphasized that the Hawaiian Islands are the only place where testimonial dinners have been given by civic groups in honor of leaders of the ILWU, such as Jack Hall, who has been repeatedly accused of present day communistic leanings as well as a general communistic background. He called the attention of the committee to one particular dinner that was attended by the then Attorney General of Hawaii. This attorney general was dismissed by the governor of the Hawaiian Islands, allegedly for attending the dinner in honor of Jack Hall. Incidentally, Jack Hall is second in command to the notorious Harry Bridges.

I wish I had the space in this newsletter to give you more detail of Dr. Schwarz's testimony, because it confirmed in my mind many fears that I have had in the past concerning the power of Harry Bridges and the ILWU to control indirectly the destinies of the Hawaiian Islands. It is my feeling that this stranglehold on the economy of these islands must be shaken loose before further consideration can be given to the application for statehood.

Alaska
I had a most interesting visit with Governor Gruening, the former governor of Alaska. Governor Gruening is one of the most devoted, the most dedicated, the most patriotic, and certainly one of the most patient men I have ever known. He has fought the battle for Alaskan statehood with great skill and with great earnestness. His call to my office concerned my opposition to the statehood bills. Although he did not convince me to change my position, his presentation was most appealing.

I told him at the conclusion of our conference that one of my colleagues was heard to remark: "If the present trend of this government toward centralization and concentration of power in Washington is not halted, it will soon become necessary for all of the states to file applications to be granted statehood." I quite agree with that conclusion, because unless the present pace of the federal government in usurping and encroaching upon the rights of the states is not arrested, there will be no need for statehood. The entire country, including all of the insular possessions, will be in a territorial basis.

BIBLE TALK

(1 Pet. 4:11)

Marriage as a symbol, or illustration, is used 4 times in the N. T., but each time to teach a different lesson—that is, some phase of marriage is used to illustrate a special feature of the relationship of saved people to Christ. Note these in the following order: (1) In Rom. 7:4 & Eph. 5:22-32 correctly represents the saved as being married to Christ. (2) In Matt. 22:1-14 the idea of a marriage feast is presented, and saved people are represented as guests. (3) Matt. 25:1-13 the lesson taught is sufficient preparation for the Lord's coming. (4) And in Rev. 19:7-8 the lesson of preparation for the eternal home of the bride (the church) is taught. This is like the joy of a bride going to the home prepared for her. When this last passage is used to prove the church is not married to Christ now, the figures are jumbled and the scriptures are made to contradict each other. Some through ignorance have done this and some to preach a pet theory. Paul plainly says, "Ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another—Christ." (Rom. 7:4) Again he says, "The husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the Church." (Eph. 5:23) I take it the husband is married to the wife or they wouldn't be husband and wife. Even as Christ is the head of the church is too plain to be misunderstood. The Lord is not married to any, and every church, but to one church which is his spiritual body. From this union there are children. If HE is not married to the church then all children (Christians) would be bastards. They would have no legal right to wear the Lord's name. They could claim no inheritance for a bastard has no legal standing. It might be well to read Acts 4:11-12 for there IS salvation in no other name under heaven given among men. What religious name are you wearing? Remember that God's word does not contradict itself, even though foolish and ignorant men try to twist it to their own designs and doctrines. If you have questions direct them to P. O. Box 155.

Your Hometown Bank Will Soon Have A Beautiful New Home

Plans are almost complete at this time for an extensive re-model and repair job on our bank building and it will be necessary for us to move to other quarters during this building program.

We will in the near future move to the building just south of Brown Drug where we are building a fire-proof and burglar-proof vault for protection of our books, records and cash.

This of course will cause some inconvenience to you, our customers, and to ourselves but we will make every effort to serve you as we have in the past.

Upon completion of the new building which will be modern in every respect, we will be better able to serve you in every way and will have a bank which we think will be a credit to our town and community.

LET'S PASS THE 'POOL BILL'

The so-called "Pool Bill" that would require run-off elections after special elections such as the April 2 U. S. Senate election has been approved by the Texas Senate. Our upper chamber is to be complimented on not allowing itself to be pressured into passing the bill before the special election April 2 and on passing it at this time.

To have passed the bill before April 2 would have been changing the rules after the game had begun; but passing it now would allow a majority rule on all future elections.

To assure passage, the people of the Panhandle should let their legislators know that they want such a law. If the "Pool Bill" was a good law a few weeks ago, it is a good law today.

NEW STYLE PETS

In case just plain dogs and cats are too commonplace, and you think you should have a more unusual pet, here are some pretty attractive buys in the under-$1000 bracket.

Monkeys, various breeds, $30 to $50; baboon, $75; 18-foot python, $400; violet-necked, double-wattled cassowary, $600; coatimundi, $35 (that's a tropical mammal similar to a raccoon, but with a longer body and tail and a flexible snout); jaguar, $500; bison, $350; elk, $150; two-toed sloth, $225.

Bigger animals are higher, unfortunately. If you have a yen for an elephant, it'll cost $3,000; a full-grown orangutan, $4,000; a pair of young hippopotamuses, $5,000; giraffe, $3,500 and the best of all—a gorilla for $10,000.

That's the price list put out by a New York zoo supplier, and it didn't say whether the prices are FOB New York or Canyon.—Canyon News.

Arrange for Water
 Arrangements are being made by town council to erect a windmill and put up a big tank at the F. M. Faulkner well back of the Small building. The tank will probably be of a 100-barrel capacity and will be put high enough to furnish water for use in case of a fire in the business section and also for the general public to use.

The funds for this purpose will be raised by public subscription and those who wish to contribute should see T. J. Coffey, chairman of the finance committee.

Draft Order Expected
 It is reliably announced that the sheriffs and other peace officers of the state have already been advised by the state department to get everything in readiness for the draft order which is expected daily. Selective conscription has passed both houses of Congress but is awaiting a joint session to arrange differences in the two bills and draft them into one. The age limit will probably be from 21 to 35.

Personals
 Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Noel left the first of the week for Oklahoma City where the latter will take treatment from a specialist. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Biggers are visiting here from Groom this week.

Miss Nona Cousins is visiting her brother and family in Amarillo.

C. M. Carpenter has gone to Missouri where he is attending several big Hereford sales this week. He will probably buy a few fine registered cattle to augment his present herd.

Companions of the local Masonic chapter and their families enjoyed a Good Samaritan supper on last Saturday night. The Good Samaritan degree was conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Roach. The high priest, W. R. Patterson, also presented past high priests' jewels to S. E. Boyett, C. E. Donnell, and the wife of the late lamented J. L. Crabtree.

Raymond Glass was the only McLean boy to get in the officers training camp at San Antonio, the required number being secured the first day.

Miss Cam Henry has accepted a permanent position at the post office.

The Cemetery Association will meet Saturday, the 12th, at the Odd Fellows Hall at 2 o'clock.

Longhorn Cavern Deemed Million Years in Making

Texas Longhorn Cavern, spectacular scenic masterpiece of Nature, was at least a million years in the making, geologists estimate.

The huge cavern is awesome evidence of the changes wrought through the ages by variations in climate, earth movements, the rise and fall of the seas and the slow solution of limestone by water.

Longhorn Cavern, located near Burnet in the Highland Lakes region northwest of Austin, is one of the state's favorite attractions for tourists and sightseers. Guided tours are conducted daily through the explored portions of the cave, which is one of the world's largest.

Richard W. Rush, assistant professor of geology at the University of Texas, has traced the sequence of events which led to the development of the cavern from the time when Texas lay beneath a huge sea, approximately a half-billion years ago.

The stone in which the cavern was eventually carved out was formed from limy muds deposited at the bottom of this sea. Over countless centuries this mud deposit gradually rose out of the sea, only to sink beneath it again, a process which was repeated a number of times.

Finally slow uplift raised Texas above the sea for the last time and the limestone which had hardened from the mud deposits lay exposed to the elements for over sixty million years.

At that time Central Texas was a humid swampland in which gigantic dinosaurs and other reptilian monsters roamed.

The actual beginnings of Longhorn Cavern probably occurred during the Ice Age, when the northern part of the United States was covered by glaciers, more than a million years ago.

As the glaciers retreated, about 50,000 years ago, the climate of Texas became drier and the ground water level began to drop, dissolving the limestone as it fell.

Underground streams flowing through the cave helped to carve out the labyrinthine passageways and huge rooms, until the cavern was excavated to its most remote chamber, an eerie 130 feet below the surface of the earth.

Prehistoric cavernmen probably sought refuge in the subterranean depths of the cavern to avoid being devoured by the fearsome mammals which ranged the countryside in dim ages past.

The main approach to the cavern entrance is through a collapsed sink or deep depression in the limestone, with remnants of the original bridge over the steps leading to the cave mouth.

The scenic beauty of the cavern is heightened by the sparkling displays of calcite crystals, the unusual shapes formed of flint and the clusters of stalactites and stalagmites which in some instances have fused to form impressive columns.

Join the army. Biscuit is needed more than bullets.

SPARKS FOR MINDS

ALMOST five centuries ago, Gutenberg's invention of movable type started a revolution. It has been going on ever since.

For five times five centuries—and eons before—a few men were the privileged rulers—by accident of birth or of circumstance. The people were subjects, supporting those thus kept in authority.

However, movable type, by cutting the cost of printing, began the process of making knowledge more widely available. People's understanding then grew. Sparks of hope were awakened in the minds of men. When it became apparent to entrenched authority that permitting wide dissemination of information and ideas might in time destroy their securities, censorship was exercised.

In a search for greater freedom, men of many faiths and creeds crossed the ocean to establish homes on this continent. They and their children founded a nation dedicated to a new principle: government by the people, and for the people. And knowing that liberty could be overthrown only by subduing freedom of speech and the press, they provided further that this basic freedom should never be abridged.

That system of government created an opportunity for all men to advance, limited only by their efforts. In but a few generations it won for this people a higher standard of living and of human welfare than had ever before been dreamed possible.

America's freedom of the press has proved to the world that the patriotic instinct of an informed plain people can be relied on to govern wisely and well.

TORNADO WARNING in time can spell the difference between heavy loss of life and light casualties when the twisters sweep into populated areas. Under the experimental Weather Bureau program for tornado tracking by radar and telephoned visual reports, adequate warning could be broadcast so that local civil defense, police and firemen could evacuate residents or advise them to seek cover in basements. This drawing shows how such a warning station in Lincoln, Neb., might alert the inhabitants of Dorchester, Neb., in the expected path of a twister. The twin funnels are an unusual phenomenon—most tornadoes occur singly. (Courtesy A. Leydenfrost)

ERRATIC TRAIL left by the twister which hit Flint, Mich., on May 12, 1956 is typical of tornadoes as the funnel weaves and bobs over the landscape, generally in a southwest to northeast direction. Civil defense rescue squads, trained to dig persons out of bombed-out buildings in wartime, find their training equally useful in this type of disaster. (Flint Journal Photo by Russ Scott)

H. A. 'Sandy' Sanford To Coach West Team In Greenbelt Game

Coach of the west team for the 1957 Greenbelt Bowl all-star game will be H. A. "Sandy" Sanford, head football coach at Tarleton State College in Stephenville. Sanford came to Tarleton in 1951 from Paragold, Ark., where he was head coach and athletic director in the high school. His teams won one state and two district championships. His 1948 high school team was the only undefeated team in Arkansas that year.

He lettered two years at the University of Alabama, where he did place-kicking as well as playing end. He was named "Man of the Year" at Alabama in 1937-'38, and was a member of Alabama's Rose Bowl football team in 1938. Following his college playing he played professional football with the Washington Redskins in 1940-41. Sanford served three years in the Navy during World War II, rising to the rank of lieutenant (senior grade). His 1954 Tarleton team won the Pioneer conference. He holds a bachelor science degree from Arkansas State College, and has done graduate work at the University of Arkansas.

In 1956 the "Plowboys" again were Pioneer conference champions and averaged 29 points per game. They won seven games, lost one and tied one. The Greenbelt Bowl game will be played on August 16 in Childress. Ninety-seven boys from 45 high schools throughout Texas and Oklahoma have been nominated for participation in this game. Among those graduating seniors are 18 all-state players and most all are all-district players. From this list of players 48 will be selected and divided into an "east" and "west" team.

Wedgeworth Named Winner of 51 County Conservation Award

E. O. "Red" Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, has been named the "Business or Professional Man to give outstanding service to conservation" in the 51-county soil conservation region 1. The award was announced by the Fort Worth Press association which sponsored the "Save Soil and Save Texas" conservation awards program. Wedgeworth was nominated by the Gray County SCD for Texas' Best Non-Farmer Conservationist.

He will be presented a plaque in recognition of the honor at the awards dinner of Region 1 to be held in Hereford May 9.

Wedgeworth was recommended by the local soil conservation district because of his untiring efforts in pushing conservation in Gray County.

The district stressed the fact that he was instrumental in helping the district form in 1947 and that he helped the district obtain the first grass drill.

In concluding the recommendation, the supervisors stated, "We as a board of supervisors, can only say that we wish every soil conservation district had a man like E. O. Wedgeworth, to sell and promote conservation and agricultural activities."

Drought Broken

Worst drought in Texas history is broken. After seven pinched years farmers look out over soggy fields and talk of "bumper crops."

But the troublesome drought had a troublesome end. Tornadoes, cloudbursts, hail and floods brought loss of lives and property damage in the millions.

Spring planting is reported far behind schedule in many areas. In others, washed-out fields will have to be re-sown. And despite the deluge, some dry pockets were noted by agriculture officials, notably in far West and Southwest Texas.

But most reports reflect sober optimism. J. E. Sturrock, manager of the Texas Water Conservation Association, warned that the next drought, probably in 15 years, will be worse unless precautions are taken now. Water must not be allowed to race off into the Gulf, he said. And Agriculture Commissioner John White issued a comment not heard in years. He said the fields "needed sunshine."

For Next Time
 As rain fell in sheets and rivers boiled over into the bottoms, lawmakers debated how to build a bulwark against future dry spells.

Water program sponsors contended an earlier conservation program might have prevented much of the flood devastation.

Plan for a $200,000,000 fund to help local districts build conservation projects was approved by the House in final form. But Senate opposition slowed progress of another proposed bond issue which would allow state to buy storage space in federal reservoirs. It was cut from $200,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Beat the Clock
 Time is now the main enemy of an unpassed bill in the Legislature. Any measure that gets caught on the smallest parliamentary snag is likely to die there in the stampede to finish.

During the next week legislators can be expected to show their ingenuity in creating snags to sidetrack unwanted bills. Some favorite devices are sending measures from one committee to another, to subcommittees or loading them with controversial amendments. In the Senate, of course, the old reliable filibuster which forces other members to give up so they can get on to other things.

Matched against this foot-dragging will be the furious efforts of bill sponsors to "beat the clock."

Seasoned observers now are looking for adjournment of the Legislature about May 17. Appropriation bills will be the determining factor, and principally the teachers pay bill. If it looks as though no satisfactory agreement can be reached, or that a tax bill is necessary after all, lawmakers may throw in the towel and go home on May 10, looking to a special session to iron out those knotty problems.

Segregation Fight Due
 House-passed segregation bills moved forward in the Senate. But still face a filibuster threat. Five of the nine bills were sent from Senate State Affairs committee to the floor. There two senators, Henry Gonzales and Abraham Kazen, Jr., say they'll fight as long as their breath holds out.

A large but orderly crowd attended the committee hearing. House sponsors and a spokesman for Former Gov. Allan Shivers' advisory committee on school segregation spoke on behalf of the bills. Representatives of various church groups, organized labor and several Negroes spoke against them.

Reorganization Wrangle
 Insurance Commission reorganization hung by a thread for days but apparently is to be thrashed out in a House floor fight.

State Affairs committee tied 9-to-9 on whether to bring the bill out of its subcommittee grave. Chairman Bill Heatly tipped the scales with a "no."

Then renewed pressure from Governor Daniel brought a promise from the subcommittee chairman, Obie Bristow, to report out "some kind" of reorganization bill. But, Bristow observed, he couldn't see what the two bills under consideration would do except throw the present commissioners out of office. Governor Daniel has strongly urged starting over with a "clean slate." He reportedly has said he will call a special session if a reorganization bill isn't passed.

Commission, Coke, Battle Physicians Life & Accident Inurance Co. and the Board of Insurance Commissioners have locked horns in court.

The commission has revoked the license of the firm headed by Former Gov. Coke Stevenson. It charged the company with being fraudulently organized, illegally operated and insolvent. It obtained a court order temporarily restraining the firm from doing business.

The company countered with a suit to restrain the commission from interfering with its operation. It blamed its insolvency on a commission-approved contract by which Physicians bought worthless assets through the state liquidator. It termed the commission action "capricious, unreasonable, arbitrary."

Naturopaths Ask Help

Texas Naturopathic Association has asked Governor Daniel to help clear the confusion surrounding their right to practice.

Law passed in 1949 creating a board to license naturopaths has been declared invalid in court. Efforts to get new laws touched off the legislative bribery charges and investigations.

Governor Daniel said he would ask for an attorney general's opinion.

Meanwhile, naturopaths have been coming in batches to talk to the Travis County grand jury. Some had charged publicly that money had been "extorted" from their association to stave off unfavorable legislation. TNA President Howard Harmon said he doubted there was enough evidence to convict anyone.
