

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

Buck Rogers has jumped from the comic strip into reality, wearing a Kremlin insignia—to launch an earth satellite.

As long ago as February, Edward Teller, one of the chief developers of the H-bomb, stated flatly, "Within ten years the Soviets will have the best scientists in the world..." and their launching of the satellite certainly gives added weight to this prophecy.

While brilliant graduates of science in Russia are made national heroes, asked to speak at celebrations, enter the teaching or basic research fields and are lavished with rewards, we deprive our scientists of prestige incentives, frequently look down at the teaching profession, and many times offer too little compensation in the pure science fields.

We need a reappraisal of our technological programs in order to regain our creative and inventive leadership. Sound progress toward any significant solution for the entire problem demands wholehearted cooperation between industry, large and small alike, and our educational institutions, both publicly and privately supported.

Tales of flying objects that a short time ago sounded fantastic to most of us are being considered more seriously by all and we no longer grin and dismiss the subject lightly. "The Thing" seen at Levelland has focused the attention of the entire nation on this area.

But even before the Levelland incident, Wheeler County Sheriff Bus Dorman had received a report of a flying object near Allison.

Some three weeks ago a farmer near the small Wheeler county community spotted an object that resembled a large, round galvanized stock watering tank descending from the sky. As the farmer looked on, the object came to within approximately 75 feet of the earth and stopped still in the air momentarily and then started an upward motion and continued on its journey.

The sighting of this object was reported to the Wheeler County sheriff two weeks before Levelland's "thing."

Our authority on the subject is Highway Patrolman Duane Capps, and though a few months ago we might have had our doubts, now we believe every word of the story.

McLean P-TA Meets Tuesday Night

The McLean Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday night at the grade school cafeteria. Mrs. Naomi McCarty, president, presided at the meeting.

Miss Forbes' room won the refreshments for having the most parents present at the meeting.

The meeting was turned over to Cubmaster John Richards, who introduced Bill Eller, Cub Scout district executive, from Wellington. Mr. Eller made an interesting talk on Cub Scouting and the leaders. He introduced the leaders of the McLean Cub pack.

The leaders introduced were: Felton Webb, institutional representative; Committeemen Clyde Magee and Troy Corbin; Cubmaster John Richards; Assistant Cubmaster Guy Hester; Den Mothers Helen Dwyer, Bonnie Bidwell, Jerry Corbin, Martha Parker, Bonnie Simpson, Leven Hathaway and Ruth Magee.

Due to flu, some of the leaders were unable to be present.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Pat Greenwood and Mrs. Doug Groves.

The P-TA wishes to thank the following girls who took care of the nursery during the meeting: Ruth Pagan, Mary McClellan, Shirley Gudge and Judy Day.

The variety show will be held November 14. The teachers were reminded to appoint a telephone committee.

Genius begins great works; labor alone finishes them—Joubert.

Rainfall 32.41"

City rain gauge records maintained by Pete Fulbright Wednesday showed that 32.41 inches of moisture had fallen in McLean during the year.

Hundreds Attend Factory's Open House

CALVIN AND MARIE FRASER are owners of Marie Foundations in McLean which observed official open house yesterday. The factory, which was established here early this year, now employs more than 60 persons and the entire output of brassieres from the factory is contracted to Sears, Roebuck & Co.

HISTORY AND OPERATIONS OF MARIE FOUNDATIONS GIVEN

Marie Foundations in McLean is an extension of the Form-O-Uth Brassiere Co. in Gardena, Calif. In November of 1955 a decision was made to expand the factory since the existing facilities were becoming inadequate. Plans were being made to build in the immediate area when Edward Hellstedt, who heads the buying of this type merchandise for Sears & Roebuck, expressed the thought that we expand in Texas in order to provide better service for the Southwest area and in line with the Sears philosophy of manufacturing, wherever possible, in the area where the goods are sold.

During early 1956 a survey was made of many towns in the northern part of Texas. A complete physical survey of many of these towns followed. As a result of this survey, both Mr. Hellstedt and the ownership of the company selected McLean as the most desirable site.

On August 1, 1956, a contract was entered into with McLean for the rental and subsequent purchase of the building in which the factory is presently located. From this time on plans were made and carried through with the object of starting operation at the earliest possible date. The building had to be made ready. This called for the building to be completely re-wired, overhead feedrill and lighting installed, interior painted, floors hardened and waxed, women's restroom and lunchroom facilities installed and considerable other renovating. The building had to be put in shape to do an efficient job of manufacturing and to provide pleasant working conditions for the girls. Also the necessary machinery and equipment to start operations had to be obtained.

Skilled personnel was necessary to start operating. Tom Greenwood was obtained as plant superintendent, a capacity he had been filling at Texas Textile Mills in Waco. He was taken to California for several months' thorough grounding in manufacturing brassieres. Gene Herron from McLean was likewise trained in California as sewing machine mechanic. Together with a couple of girls from the California factory, these comprised the only trained personnel with which to commence operating.

On March 5, 1957, the factory was ready to go and the first McLean girls were brought in to receive training. In the first month there were no garments produced. In April, 600 dozens were produced. This gradually increased and at this date approximately 12,000 dozens have been manufactured in McLean.

In 1958 Marie Foundations should be capable of producing in excess of 80,000 dozens. The annual payroll should be a mil-

FRASER, SEARS EXECUTIVES, ARE HONORED WITH LUNCHEON

BILLIE CASH is a very popular person at Marie Foundations, especially on Wednesday, which is payday at the local factory. She is in charge of the office and also the $2600 weekly payroll.

Calvin Fraser and Sears, Roebuck & Company officials from Chicago and Dallas were honored at a luncheon in the dining room of the McLean Cafe Wednesday at noon preceding open house at Marie Foundations.

City Councilman Boyd Meador introduced local residents and members of press, radio and television who were covering the event for newspapers in McLean, Pampa and Amarillo and KGNC-TV.

While all present were enjoying Texas-size steaks, Meador introduced local residents and told of the pleasant relationship that the City of McLean had had with Fraser and Marie Foundations. He pointed out that the factory is a type of which any town would be justly proud. Councilman Amos Page then presented Fraser with an authentic western bull whip with which to keep his factory running efficiently.

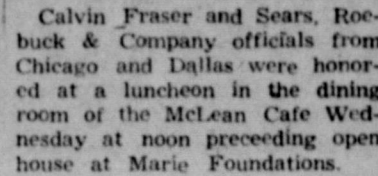

Fraser said that Marie Foundations was well on its way to becoming the finest garment factory in Texas. He emphasized that this is due in a large part to Edward Hellstedt who is in charge of buying all women's intimate apparel for the Sears organization throughout the nation. He pointed out that it was Hellstedt's constant orders that kept the local plant busy.

Hellstedt, after being introduced by Fraser, stated that Fraser's factories produced quality products at an economical price. He added that Sears' success in merchandising is based on their ability to buy economically and sell economically. He stressed that quality is not sacrificed when an organization operates efficiently. It is this factor, he pointed out, that enables Sears to sell quality merchandise at a much lower price than the same merchandise would be retailed by other groups.

He explained that the output of Marie Foundations is needed by Sears to fill the needs of the growing Southwest Territory and that brassieres made in McLean are being sold all the way from the Gulf of Mexico to Montana.

Hellstedt then introduced Larry Aubechon, manager of the retail buying office, who explained why Sears chose to buy their merchandise as much as possible in the location where much of it would be sold. He said that Sears likes to do business with people that do business with them, and that they believe it is of mutual benefit for them to put money back into the area of the country where they are deriving much of their business. Local Voters Defeat McClellan Bonds, Amendments Carry

TOM GREENWOOD, plant superintendent, is in charge of all production at Marie Foundations. An industrial engineer, Tom is a 1949 graduate of Texas Tech. He joined the Texas Textile Mills in Waco after leaving Tech and became plant superintendent there in 1952, a position he held until joining the Fraser organization last December. Tom and his wife, Pat, have three children.

McLean voters defeated both proposed bond issues pertaining to the rebuilding of Lake McClellan and the connecting road bonds.

The $500,000 park bond issue to finance the rebuilding of Lake McClellan vote was 25 FOR and 92 AGAINST.

Its companion bond issue, the $250,000 road bond issue vote was 27 FOR and 88 AGAINST.

In Gray County the vote for the park bonds was 404 FOR and 1,088 AGAINST.

The road bond county-wide vote was 395 FOR and 1,117 AGAINST.

In McLean, Gray County, and throughout Texas, the three constitutional amendments carried by a wide margin.

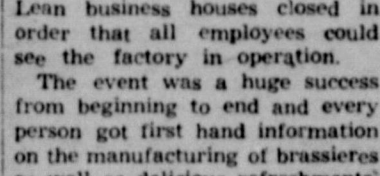

Seven Schools Now Compose District 2-A Conference

Interscholastic League officials have announced a new conference line-up for district 2-A. Seven schools now make up the conference.

The new line-up adds Panhandle and White Deer to 2-A.

Other members of 2-A will continue to be Canadian, Lefors, Memphis, Clarendon and McLean. District 1-A will be composed of a five team slate: Stinnett, Stratford, Spearman, Gruver and Sunray.

12 LIONS ARE ADDED DURING RECENT MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Lion Jim Hathaway gave a report on Scouting and stated that the local organization is getting better all the time and interest is picking up. In connection with this Lion Saunders reported that a scout fund drive would be held here in the near future.

Twelve new members were added to the McLean Lions Club during the month of October, it was reported at the regular meeting Tuesday.

Arrangements for installation of the new members by the district governor or the deputy district governor are being made and a tentative date of installation has been set for early in December.

Lion Tamer Harold Bunch introduced visitors and guests including Lion Ralph Thomas and Eugene Collingsworth of Lefors, who was a guest of Lion Dale Parvin.

Bunch also introduced Preston Morgan as Lion Cub of the month.

In the membership drive, Team Captain Flea Simpson announced that his team had won over the group led by Larry Fuller. Simpson's team brought in seven new members while Fuller's group added five. The losing team 4s to treat the winner to a steak dinner.

Program Chairman Hickman Brown turned the program to Lion Bill Reeves who told of the streamlining of the post office department in the large cities. An interesting film on this subject was also shown. Lion Dale Parvin was projectionist. Reeves said that although many new post offices are being built in the smaller cities that this is being done by private capital on a lease purchase basis. A post office building constructed with government capital has not been erected since 1938.

In other business Lion Boss Amos Page called on Lion Jimmie Don Morris who gave a report on the cost of trash receptacles being considered by the club to be placed on Main Street downtown. The club is interested in placing Canadian Wildcats to play Tigers here Friday night at 7:30 in a conference game.

The Wildcats lost their season's opener three weeks ago to Lefors in a 14-13 game. Two weeks ago they took an inter-conference contest by default from Panhandle.

Last Friday night the Wildcats defeated the defending champion, Clarendon Bronchos, by a one touchdown margin.

The Tigers, in conference play, forfeited their first game to Clarendon due to flu, and were defeated by Memphis two weeks ago, 34-12. Last week the Tigers had an open date.

The Tigers' final conference game is scheduled with Lefors here Nov. 15.

THE LADIES shown here during a coffee break are six of the first eight employees who began working when Marie Foundations first began operations in McLean. Estelina Grimsley, second from left, is now forelady of the factory. Wants Buy a Motor?

If you are not one of those fellows who must have the very latest in outboard motors...

If you are one who is satisfied with quality and service, regardless of the date on the motor...

And if you are about due to buy a new "power pack"...

Then you can save a sizeable hunk of cash right now.

This is the time to buy a 1957 motor! New, 1958 models are on the market. Prices on '57 models, as on '57 cars, are down.

Dealers will have considerable off 1957 prices to dispose of left-over models.

And too, the 1958 "sleeks" are higher priced.

However, those brand new '58's are beauties! And if you are one of those fellows who demands the very best, with the smart, new innovations, you'll find the outboard motor boys have learned a lesson from the car manufacturers...

—not to mention the Gulf of Mexico.

With the big boats of course had to come larger motors. However, the choice of most fishermen still is the 3 to 10 h. p. size, due to their "portable" weight.

Incidentally, this is not a bad time to buy a boat, too. There is a lull in boat sales in November and December. An excellent time to trade in the old fishing rig, from stem to stern...

If you're interested in saving money. And who isn't?

What About Baits?

Most fishermen wonder, at one time or another, what the other fellow is using as bait.

Well, here's the one successfully used by 20 different fishermen last week, in landing good strings of fish in various parts of Texas: Six caught good strings on minnows; five on spoons; two on Hellbenders; and two on plugs.

The remaining five used a red and white Pico, Helldiver, Shyster Spinner, Blood Bait, and Chugger.

Good success also was reported by carp fishermen with small oaks baited with oatmeal.

Just goes to show that you can catch 'em with any kind of bait if you know where to fish and how to land 'em.

Come and Get it!

Nearly every fisherman has a choice fishing spot... a "fish-in" hole" which he favors over all others.

Some of the really ambitious souls "bait up" the hole to attract the little ones so that the big boys will come in for a strike.

How many different ways do you know to tempt fish into the lair?

One seasoned fisherman tells us that he wraps a bale of alfalfa hay in chicken wire (about 2-inch mesh), anchors it with a rock, and lowers it on a cable almost to the very bottom of the lake. The other end of the cable he attaches to his dock, or to a tree, so that he can retrieve and replenish when necessary.

Another veteran follows the same pattern except he fills a towsack with discarded meat bones obtained from the butcher shop. He claims the big cats will tear the sack all to pieces and eat the bones like a hound dog.

Still another fisherman finds that corn chops in a towsack does the trick.

Another fellow uses cottonseed meal.

An unusual "come on"—and probably as good as you'll find at this season of the year is this. Tie an unopened gallon bucket of syrup to a cable, punch a hole in the bottom of the bucket, and lower it almost to the bottom. The syrup, oozing from the bucket is reported to bring the fish a flyin'.

Whatever your "lure," it's recommended that you drop it close to an old tree. Then be sure to mark the spot. And not on the side of your boat, either.

Did You Know?

Old fishermen never die; they just smell that way... Coney Island got its name from the many "conies"—or wild rabbits—found on the island... The starfish eats oysters in the shell. It pulls the bivalve open with its suction tentacles, then turns own stomach inside out to digest the treat...

"Bullfrog" refers to a specific species of large frog. The sex of the animal is not involved in the name. Therefore the female also is a bullfrog... The giant water bug carries his unborn on his back, where they have been placed by the female... Not all crows are black. The Clark's crow, named after the explorer of the Lewis and Clark expedition, is a gray and white bird, with black trimmings... According to government experts, the annual value of a single

$25 Million Profit Will Be Realized By Vet Land Board

Austin—The Veterans' Land Board has now purchased $114,143,000 worth of Texas farmland with the $100,000,000 available to it, Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said this week.

Payments from veterans participating in the program are urged to buy more land.

Eventually, a $25,000,000 "profit" will be realized from the first $100,000,000 in the program, Commissioner Rudder said. This money will be put in a fund which the State Legislature controls.

The land commissioner also noted that the bond market continues to block the sale of some

SPEAKING OF CARDS

WELL, YOU WANT ME TO RELAX BETWEEN HALVES, DON'T YOU?

RUMMY WITH WHOM?

Rummy is the great card game favorite of the American family. This is probably because more people understand the rules of Rummy than of any other card game. The simple fact is that if you know one Rummy game you can learn any other merely by remembering the words: draw, meld (if possible) and discard.

Canasta, the most popular card game in America today, is a Rummy game. Other top favorites of recent years, such as Oklahoma and Gin Rummy, also belong to the Rummy Family. By actual count, there are rules for over thirty Rummy games and new variations are being invented every day.

The ancestor of all Rummy games was apparently the Spanish game called ran quin (with whom) which came to the American Southwest from Mexico in the middle of the 16th century. Its name was soon corrupted to Conquian and then to coon can, as it is now known in many parts of the country. Coon Can grew into Panguingue, a multiple-pack game popular on the West Coast, and also into Rum, out of which developed the many Rummy games known today.

The name "rummy" is supposed to be derived from the English slang expression "rum," meaning queer or peculiar. No one knows for certain how or why the game got its odd name.

The main object in Rummy is to match cards into certain sets and sequences and to be the first to succeed in doing so according to certain requirements which vary with the particular game.

Rummy is a favorite party game since it can be played by such widely-different numbers of players. Two players, for example, have a choice of Gin Rummy with its variations, 500 Rum, Rum, Knock Rummy and even Canasta. Three players can pick from such favorites as Oklahoma, Canasta, 500 Rum, Rum, Knock Rummy, Carousel and Tunk. Four or more players can select from Canasta, Partnership Gin, 500 Partnership Rum, Persian Rummy, Panguingue, Kahuli or Double Rum.

Editorial

WHAT IF YOUR HOME BURNED DOWN?

What would you do if your house burned down? There's a superficially easy answer to that question—you'd rebuild it with the insurance money.

However, unless you're one of a comparatively small minority of people, you'd be shocked to learn just how inadequate your insurance coverage is.

The main reason that is true is explained by one little word—inflation. Sylvia Porter tells the story in one of her recent syndicated columns. A house that cost $8,000 in 1937 would cost $21,600 to replace today. A house that cost $12,000 as late as 1946 carries an $18,300 price tag now. So it goes. Miss Porter quotes an authority on the subject as saying: "There's no doubt that the overwhelming percentage of America's tens of millions of homeowners are underinsured."

And that isn't the whole story. The same thing is true, and in many cases to an even greater degree, of the contents of our homes. We buy all manner of things over the years, and we just don't realize how much the total worth comes to. Then, on top of that, inflation has driven up the replacement cost of all commodities, just as it has driven up construction and repair costs.

This year's fire losses will hit an all-time high, and may reach or pass $1 billion. Your home and everything in it could help make up that grim statistic. Carefully inventory your possessions, then see your local insurance agent and make sure your fire policies really meet your needs.

SHADOW OF A DOUBT

Faith in your own opinions is a good thing, but—were you ever absolutely certain of the result of an election—prophesying a tidal wave for "our party"—honestly advising your friends to put all their loose change, and then the next morning awake to know that your basis for belief was built on East Wind?

Did you ever size up a young fellow who wanted work, or who was in your employ, and foretell that there was nothing in him, that he would always be a counter-jumper, and then in a few years have to eat your words?

Did you ever go to a horse-race and lay your money on Sure Thing and never see the hard-earned again?

Were you ever an editor, turned down a manuscript as rot, rubbish, drivel and diluted idiocy, and then see the same MS published by your rival and accepted by the public, and the author whom you declared couldn't write for shucks, setting you a pace you could not follow?

Have you ever as a businessman had a certain scheme presented and did you reject it as foolish and fanciful, and later behold it make a million dollars for your enemy?

Have you ever fought valiantly for a creed, or a platform, and then in a few years, conclude, of your own accord, that you were on the wrong track, and

 The McLean High School and Groom High School basketballs played a close game of basketball last Saturday which resulted in a victory for the home boys of 11 to 10. This makes the fifth game for the McLean boys this season. Having won all five of the games, they have decided to hold on to the rabbit's foot and win all the games this year.

The boys ask that the public give them full support. In other words, when a game is to be played here, buy a ticket and see the game; you will be entertained well.

VOLUME SELLER for 1958 will be the Pontiac Chieftain series, shown here in the slim pillar, four-door sedan model, which gives the appearance of hardtop styling. New in 1958, and heading the list in this series, is the distinctive Chieftain convertible. Other Chieftains are the two and four-door Catalinas, a two-door slim pillar sedan and two, four-door Safaris; a two-seater and a three-seater. With a 122-inch wheelbase, the Chieftain remains the "big car" with the "little price."

NEW LUXURIOUS PONTIAC STAR CHIEF FEATURES FOUR MODELS

New heights in appearance and performance mark Pontiac's luxury Star Chief series for 1958.

With a new body, new chassis with new suspension, big "Tempest 395" V-8 engine and scores of other new features, Star Chiefs this year will be available in four models—two and four-door Catalina hardtop sedans, a four-door slim pillar sedan and a four-door custom Safari station wagon.

The sedans are on a 124" wheelbase and the Safari on a 122" wheelbase. All have the top performing engine with four-barrel carburetor as standard. Fuel injection or three two-barrel carburetor are available as options, as is the new leveling air ride suspension.

The new look for 1958 begins in this series with a Star Chief name plate on the front fenders, a rear fender plaque having three wind-splitters and a side emblem similar to the new Pontiac "V" grille emblem. Four stars grace the flare in the lance-like side moulding. The sedans also feature a sail moulding at the junction of the side and rear windows. Wheel caps are standard on all models in this series.

A new safety instrument panel, with convenient grouping of driving instruments, win ash trays, electric clock and a cushioned passenger assist rail are features of this series. A special instrument panel paint gives anti-glare effect.

Pontiac's famed interiors are even finer this year. The Star

Chief sedans feature a halo panel above the rear window on Catalina models, stardust carpeting, and a wide choice of interior colors to blend with the exterior. Grain leather upholstery is an alternate in Catalina models.

The custom Safari station wagon interior is finished in Saran fabric contrasted with a coated fabric, while a selection of exterior colors in the gloss-retaining acrylic lacquer may be had with custom trimmed interiors as an option. A custom Safari name plate and four stainless steel bars on the specially styled tail gate distinguish this custom family car.

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.—(Romans 5, 1.)

How can a man ever be at peace with himself until he first has peace with God, and loves Him and trusts in Him? The Way is through faith—through Our Lord Jesus Christ, Blessed Savior who died for us. Faith is the answer; it is forever the answer.

From a PASTOR'S STUDY

By J. R. Lawson, Pastor First Baptist Church, Kellerville

It is a strange fact that many of us rarely use our most priceless possession. We own Bibles but all too often neglect to use them. The Bible is not merely the Book of the Month, or the Book of the Year, but rather the Book of the Ages—the Book

It contains some of the world's finest poetry, its wisest proverbs, its most interesting and appealing stories, and a philosophy to guide us all on the road to successful, happy living.

If one would succeed in business, let him first master the rules of conduct taught in the Bible—truthfulness, honesty, self-reliance, thrift and industry.

The basis for justice is the moral law that we find in the Holy Scriptures. Upon this code is the love and good will taught by Jesus Christ which raises the law above the level of penalty and writes into the human heart the desire to be just, kind and merciful.

If one has placed his trust in God, he has removed much of the fear, worry and disturbing emotions that tend to destroy his physical well being.

Above all, the Bible tells us how we may obtain forgiveness for sin and achieve everlasting life. It tells us how to solve our most serious problems in this world and how to approach the future with confidence and joy.

The most helpful and useful practice any of us can develop is to read a portion of the Bible every day of our lives. It will do more to make us happy, useful and successful in our family and business relationships than any other habit we can form. It makes available to us, as an asset for everyday living, the wisdom of man and the word of God. Few homes will be broken where there is daily reading of the Scriptures. Fewer delinquencies and mental breakdowns will occur in such homes. Crime and vulgarity will be reduced to a minimum.

How fortunate that so much improvement and salvation itself is so readily available to us all. "How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation?"—Hebrews 2:3.

NEW 1958 FORD PROVED AND APPROVED AROUND THE WORLD

The new 1958 Ford will be displayed at Joe Smith Motor Company today.

The 1958 Ford was driven around the world to prove its stamina and performance—the toughest pre-announcement road test ever given an automobile.

Months before announcement time, a new Fairlane 500 left Detroit, headed east. Its sudden appearance in England left staid Brits gasping. Across the Channel it breezed into style-conscious Paris, where overnight its glamorous lines and thoroughbred performance made it the toast of the town.

But the real tests lay ahead—the steep winding passes of the Swiss Alps . . . the murderous roads of Yugoslavia . . . the broiling wastes of Turkey and Iran . . . the "goat tracks" of Afghanistan. Yet Ford passed each test with flying colors.

When this grueling round-the-world test was over, the '58 Ford had proved itself as had no other car in the long history of automobiles. And now this same Ford beauty, brawn, power and economy can be yours in every 1958 Ford Fairlane or Fairlane 500.

These newest of all Fords GO like no other Ford cars have ever gone—thanks to their wholly new Interceptor V-8 engines. These are the most powerful, most efficient powerhouses in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership—thanks to new Precision Fuel Induction. In addition, there's new Cruise-O-Matic Drive, a new automatic transmission that gives you precisely the GO you want in every driving range. Coupled with a fast axle ratio, you get "built-in" overdrive economy, too!

As for beauty, Ford's '58 styling speaks for itself. Acclaimed from Paris to Saigon, it earned the praise of fashion experts and public alike.

And there's big riding news, too! For '58 Ford offers Ford-Aire Suspension. You actually float on four air pillows that carry you smooth and level over rough roads. It's like riding on a cloud! Handling is easier, too, with new Magic-Circle steering, next best thing to power steering. Wonder of wonders, all this can be yours at low Ford prices. Truly, there is nothing newer in the world!

"A challenge to all of us..."

a statement by Robert B. Anderson, Secretary of the Treasury:

"The ownership by 40 million citizens of over 41 billion dollars in Series E and H Savings Bonds is a striking testimonial of confidence in America's bright future. This partnership of individual citizens in their government's fiscal operations means better management of the public debt—greater stability for our money—brighter business prospects for the years ahead.

"Our country needs more savings—in all forms, including the popular U.S. Savings Bonds—to help finance our growing economy.

"Meeting this need is a challenge to all of us. Americans everywhere should be encouraged to regularly put aside part of their earnings for future needs. And certainly part of that saving belongs in the now better-than-ever U.S. Savings Bonds."

SPEAKING OF CARDS

CARD LEGENDS

Over the span of many centuries, it is natural that many of the cards in the deck have gained a special significance and romance. One of the best examples is the nine of diamonds, which since the 18th century has been called "the curse of Scotland," because in 1748 the English Duke of Cumberland wrote an order on this card commanding his soldiers to have no mercy on the Scottish troops captured at the Battle of Culloden.

Since the 17th Century, the six of hearts has been a symbol of loyalty and honesty at the risk of death. In 1688, Colonel Richard Grace, although knowing King James II was a defeated man, penned his refusal to capitulate to William of Orange on this card. His message was, "Tell your master I despise his offer, and that honor and conscience are dearer to a gentleman than all the wealth and titles a prince can bestow." Behind the ten of spades lies a story of famous Buffalo Bill. The frontiersman had such confidence in his marksmanship with the six-shooter that he boasted he could shoot out all ten pips in the card at twelve paces. The card was nailed to a tree. Buffalo Bill took twelve steps away from the tree, turned and fired. Ten times the shots rang out from his two pistols and one by one ten Spades vanished from the face of the card. It then brought $150 at an auction.

Originally, all face cards were portraits of actual personages, and some experts believe that even yet the royalty of today's decks contain vestiges of the original drawings. The King of Hearts, for example, is believed to be Charlemagne and the Jack of Spades one of his lieutenants, a soldier named Hogier La Danois.

Whether either the great emperor or his trusted general would actually recognize himself in today's heart king and spade jack, of course, is questionable. The huge swords each carried have degenerated to mere knives and expressions of contentment have replaced the fierce scowls and countenances of the original subjects.

Throughout all these mutations in the design of cards, one thing has remained constant. Playing cards are still, as in olden days, a means of fun and relaxation.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The time for farmers to read their tax instructions or the Farmers Tax Guide printed by the Internal Revenue is in the fall. Tax planning works for a farmer on the same basis as it works for a big corporation. The big corporation always knows how much tax a sale or trade will cost them. Unfortunately a lot of farmers do their income planning after the end of the year on December 31. When a farmer is selling his crops and buying his supplies for the next year it may make a big difference in the amount of taxes he pays whether he buys or sells in December instead of January. Selling a farm, selling timber, or even dying requires a man to think about the tax problems he may create.

NO MORE X'S ON BALLOTS IN TEXAS

 Judge—"Thirty years."

Texas voters returned to the "scratch" method of marking ballots.

Change in the election law was passed by the 1957 Legislature and became effective August 22. For several years, voters have had a choice of "scratching" or marking ballots with an "X" alongside the candidate or proposition which they favored.

Public Quail Hunt Drawing Nov. 14

The hunts will be staged on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management area near Canadian. A. S. Jackson, wildlife biologist in charge of the area, urges the successful hunters to bring their dogs.

Ralph Thomas Says Now Is Best Time To Get Rid of Rats

"Now is the time for people to get rid of those rats before winter sets in," says County Agent Ralph Thomas.

The fall rat control campaign is on and will continue through the month of November, according to Thomas. During this campaign anti-coagulant rat bait prepared by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service will be available at the Price Barber Shop in McLean or from the secretary of the county agent in Pampa. This bait can only be made available during the rat control campaign.

Thomas says that this bait is about the safest bait there is to use. If taken by humans or petit may reduce the clotting ability of the blood and internal hemorrhages may result, so care should be taken the same as with a poison.

"I have yet to hear of a place where rats were not eradicated, if the bait was used according to directions," Thomas concluded.

Teen Town will be held Friday night after the ball game.

History--

Continued from Page One) making additional markers. The cloth is then spread, markers placed on top, and the goods cut. Any part of the garment, even small parts, which require cutting are done in the cutting room. When goods are cut, they are then checked for accuracy, stacked, boxed, cutting ticket attached to bundle, proper records made, and then issued for work.

SEWING
 The garment goes through approximately 20 sewing operations before completion. Many types of machines, equipped with various attachments, are used. The operations are broken down so that an operator can acquire a very high degree of skill in a specific operation. The bulk of the work is, of course, done in this department.

FINISHING
 After the garment is completed on the machine, it is then trimmed, inspected, and repairs made, pressed, folded, boxed, and sent to the stock room.

SHIPPING
 At the present time no shipping is being done from McLean. It will be done very shortly. Stock is being accumulated at the present time for this purpose. The seven garments being made in McLean have a total of 115 cup sizes. Since these are packaged differently for retail and mail order purposes, it means a stock of 230 garments to have only one of each cup size on hand. The next garment to be made has 54 cup sizes (being made to size 50) which means an additional 108 stock items or a new total of 338 to have one of each on hand. So it is necessary to project cutting the proper sizes in order to fill orders coming in. The goods will be shipped throughout the country, but mainly to Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa.

Marie Foundations has installed approximately $45,000 in machinery and equipment at this time. In addition to this there is other investments in raw materials, work in process, and finished stock. More will be invested as needed.

The company has appreciated the efforts of the city and its officials in cooperating with us, and we intend for this factory to be the best things that has happened to McLean.

In touring the factory you will see some girls very proficient in their operations others only partly trained, and some just starting. It will be this way for the next year. At a later date, we invite you again. You will see the factory then farther advanced, and shipping going full swing.

P-TA to Sponsor Variety Show

Col. Homer Garrison Issues Warning to Texas Motorists

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, issued a warning to Texas motorists this week stating that "the dangerous season for week-end driving is here." Saturdays and Sundays for the remainder of the year, he said, will be extra hazardous on the streets and highways of Texas.

Upon reviewing information compiled by N. K. Woerner, statistical services section of the department, Garrison said that from all indications 45% of the forthcoming traffic deaths this year will occur on the 18 remaining Saturdays and Sundays in November and December. He said the other 55% of traffic deaths will occur on the remaining 43 week days.

"Week-end days are more than twice as fatal for motorists this time of year as mid-week days," Garrison said. "This is due to the increase in hours of darkness coupled with high week-end travel. Therefore, I urge all of our citizens to devote extra attention to their driving."

He added that "common-sense judgment on the part of Texas drivers and strict adherence to our traffic laws are the best protection against traffic accidents."

Woerner's statistical report predicted that 32 persons will die during the three-day Veteran's Day holiday between 12:01 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 9, and midnight Monday, Veteran's Day last year was on Sunday when 15 persons died in traffic accidents; 19 persons suffered fatal injuries the previous Saturday.

More persons were killed in Texas traffic accidents on Nov. 24, 1956, than on any other day of that year. On that day 29 persons were killed in 16 fatal accidents. There were only five days in the entire year when no traffic deaths were recorded and the average daily death count was seven.
