Mayor, Councilman Defeat Incumbents

Rancher John Haynes unseated three-times Mayor Ed Lander for the top political post in McLean Tuesday in the city election.

More than 300 citizens turned out Tuesday for one of the most interesting city elections in some time.

Also elected to the council were Ruel Smith and Boyd Meador. C. P. Callahan, present city alderman, was defeated.

Smith, the challenger drew top vote here while Meador, an incumbent, was second in the three-man race.

On the whole it was a victory for the challengers—Haynes and Smith—who unofficially ran together against the incumbents Lander, Meador and Callahan.

Haynes out-poled Lander by a healthy 215-88 vote, while in the alderman's race Smith drew 204 to 164 for Meador and 151 for Callahan.

"I appreciate all the votes and support given me by the people of McLean," Haynes said, "and I pledge my full efforts toward the betterment and growth of this town."

Last week Haynes and Smith said they thought "McLean has the best possibility for growth of any small town in the Panhandle at very little cost to the taxpayer if properly administered."

The incumbents rested their entire platform on their past accomplishments here.

In congratulating Haynes, Lander pledged his complete co-

The inches recorded Tuesday and Wednesday mark the total for the month of April, and bring the year's total to 3.04. At the end of April in 1958, 5.62 inches of moisture had been recorded.

On Thursday morning prospects again were for more moisture in the area, with snow and sleet falling in the extreme northwestern edge of the Panhandle.

Women Want Dining Rooms Kept Separate

BY ENDA MILES

A recent government survey reveals some startling things about what women want in a home. Far from being entranced by the notion of having dining room and kitchen lumped into one room, women want the two rooms kept separate.

One of the reasons for this is that, despite all of those cozy magazine pictures, few women want the whole family underfoot while they're getting dinner.

Nor do they want to sit, staring at a clutter of pots and pans, while they're eating the dinner they've just cooked.

Most architects, never having washed either a pot or a pan, have been unaware of this.

And when dinner is over, women want to walk into another room to sit for awhile before doing those dishes waiting for them in that kitchen.

This room is called the living room, and they don't want it as a corner off the dining room or in a bend from the entry.

Because this is true, dining room furniture, sleek and handsomely styled, is making a big comeback.

And the 1959 designs are not only pretty they're practical too.

Evidence that the dining room is making a comeback is in this sleek dining set styled in white, with gleaming brass chairs.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK TO BE MARKED HERE APRIL 12-18

From April 12 to April 18, McLean, along with thousands of other communities will be celebrating the second National Library Week. This event is sponsored by the National Book Committee in cooperation with the American Library Association.

The objective of the week is to remind the American people that reading can help them to explore and to satisfy their need for a greater sense of purpose and meaning in their lives; to urge them to use more fully the libraries of all kinds in which the treasures of the printed word await throughout the land.

But there is a wider aim: to set apart a time when people can rededicate themselves to the ideas and ideals of a free society. Since ours is a society based on the choices made by the many rather than the few, its greatest concern must be the development of every individual to his highest capacity.

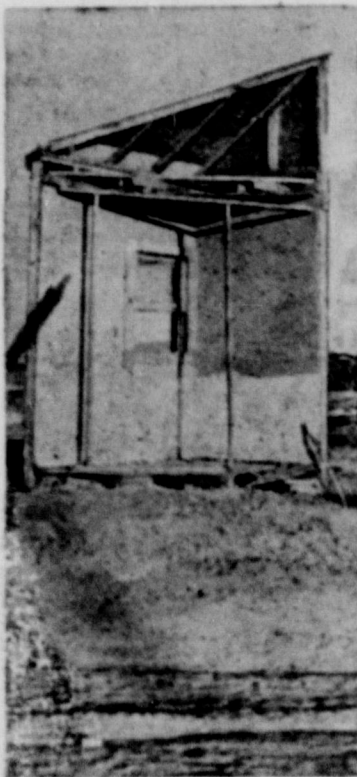

Its vitality its very existence, depend upon the extent to which all the people have formed the habit of finding out, of intelligently weighing alternatives, of reading to be informed. Limited horizons are dangerous to a free people; so, as we have discovered, is the mindless assumption of superiority and invulnerability. Suddenly a "better-read, better-informed America" has become a necessity. The printed word, the very basis of education, has assumed a new importance. Only a lifetime of continuing self-education through reading, after formal education is completed, can keep Americans in watchful readiness to exercise responsible citizenship. Only a wide variety of what has been, and what is, and train the imagination to forge ahead into what might be in the future.

All persons in McLean are invited and urged to attend the library during the week to view the valuable building and store of books that are now a part of the city.

Mrs. Scotty McDonald and children of Pampa visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Odessa Gunn, Sunday.

Mrs. Luther Petty visited Mrs. H. L. Fulton and Mrs. Vernon Tarbet in Shamrock Monday evening while Mr. Petty attended lodge

Taken From the Files of The McLean News, 1919

Mr. Andrew Jordan and Miss Ethel Cash were married Sunday, April 6, at 9 a. m. at the home of the bride.

Andrew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Jordan. He is too well known here to attempt to mention all his good and estimable qualities. He is a member of the Methodist church and a high-toned Christian gentleman.

Miss Cash is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. H. and is admired by all who know her. She has many accomplishments and is worthy in every way of so accomplished and honored a man as Andrew Jordan. She is a member of the Baptist church and a consistent lady.

This was an old-time typical home wedding. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the parents of both parties, as well as the entire families and friends, which was the custom of the old days and cannot be improved on.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. J. Osborn.

The bride and groom, together with the two families, remained in the home for dinner, such as an old-fashioned mother can prepare.

In addition to the immediate families the following enjoyed the sumptuous dinner: Rev. and Mrs. Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Rish Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cobb, Alvin Osborn and Wayland Floyd.

Roswell, N. M., where Mr. Jordan has a position with Swift and Company.

Mrs. Sallie Coffey Dies
Mrs. Sallie Coffey was born in Wise County July 17, 1861. At an early age she moved with her parents to Hill County and then to Denison, where they remained for a number of years.

In 1879 she was married to John C. Coffey, who preceded her in death about eight years ago. She joined the Presbyterian church at an early age and remained a faithful member the rest of her life.

Mrs. Coffey died March 31 following a lengthy illness. Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church of McLean April 1 and interment was in Erick, Okla., beside her husband.

She leaves behind her six children, T. J. and L. F. Coffey of McLean, Mrs. C. E. Smith of Hereford, Mrs. Clifford Simmons of Amarillo, Mrs. Ray Hutto and Mrs. J. E. Yarborough of Erick, Okla., to mourn her death.

Price-Starnor
T. C. Price and Miss Margaret Starnor were married Thursday evening, March 27, at the Baptist parsonage at Shamrock.

Mr. Price has been in Naval training at San Diego, Calif., for several months. He received honorable discharge recently and came to McLean last week.

Miss Starnor has not lived here long, but long enough, however to make many warm friends.

The News joins their many friends in wishing for them a long and happy voyage down the stream of life.

Baptist Juniors Have Skating Party

Last Friday evening members of the junior department of the Baptist Sunday school and a number of their friends went to Shamrock for a skating party.

Sponsors for the juniors were Mr. and Mrs. James Thacker, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Giesler, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Billingslea, Mrs. Audie Stewart, Miss Alice Cunningham and J. L. Mann. J. Boyd Smith also furnished a car for transportation.

BIGGEST BARGAIN

Two Oregon electric utilities recently applied for rate increases. On the face of it, there's nothing particularly newsworthy in that fact, in the light of the price inflation that has been going on for years.

However, there's an impressive background to this little story. In the case of one of the utilities, it is the first request for a general increase in its 48-year history. In the case of the other, it is the first request of this kind since 1949, when it was granted the only general increase in its 69 years of existence.

The increases would run from 10 to 15%. One of the companies, its president said, would realize $5,190,000 in additional gross revenues. But local, state and federal taxes would take some $2,900,000 of that sum. So, in effect, more than half of the revenues from the increase in rates would be returned to the public.

This Oregon situation isn't unusual—it's typical. Numbers of utility companies, faced by soaring costs all along the line, have been forced to ask for moderate rate increases. But this shouldn't, hide the fact that when it comes to holding the price line, the utilities' record is amazing. Far many years they not only held the line but constantly reduced rates while spending huge sums for new plants and new and better facilities of all kinds.

Electricity is probably the biggest bargain we buy.

A QUESTION OF EDUCATION

The Senate-House Joint Economic Committee has been seeking ways to combat inflation. One proposal made to it is both novel and revolutionary. Certain "pattern setting" industries would be required to post price increases six months before they would take effect.

This caused an economist for a retail chain to say: "... Before we resort to such devices, which can have serious harmful effects, I believe we should first obtain some general agreement on the simple proposition that real wage increases can only come as productivity advances, and roughly in proportion to such advances. To obtain such agreement, we urgently need an educational program, particularly one which would reach union members, and one which would have bipartisan sponsorship. I should judge that the Joint Economic Committee is in an excellent position to conduct such an education campaign. . . . Labor has nothing to gain from a continuous upward creep of the price level and is in a less favorable position than some other groups to protect itself against the loss of purchasing power in accumulated savings and pension rights that accompan- ies inflation."

From all one reads, present intentions of major labor groups are strongly at variance with these principles. To take but one example, union spokesmen are all out to increase the minimum wage under the federal wage-hour law—and, on top of that, to extend coverage to enterprises, of which retailing is one, which have been exempt ever since the law came into being. Should they succeed, there will be two results. Another shot in the arm will be given to inflation, and employers will be forced to pare to the limit the employment of unskilled and marginal workers whose productivity is small. It's hard to see how that can serve the interests of organized labor or any of the rest of us.

Veteran Information

Q—My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently of complications from injuries received in service, and I wish to make application for death compensation payments. Will my present income have any bearing on my eligibility?

A—No. So long as you are otherwise eligible, you will receive death compensation payments regardless of your income. It is death pension payments, based on deaths not due to service where income limitations apply.

Q—I have listed my mother as beneficiary of my GI insurance policy, and have designated that she receive the proceeds in a lump sum. Would she have the right to change to some other method of payment if she desired?

A—Yes. She may change the method of GI insurance payments from lump sum to any of several installment plans available.

Q—Is a peacetime veteran who is blind in both eyes eligible for special aid from VA, even though his blindness, he may receive special aid?

A—Yes. If the peacetime veteran is entitled to compensation for any service-connected disability, though not necessarily for his blindness, he may receive special aid such as approved electronic and mechanical equipment, as well as a seeing eye or guide dog.

Q—Now that it is legally possible to convert my Korean GI term insurance to a permanent plan, I intend to do so. But what about some of the other advantages of permanent plan GI insurance? Will I be able to borrow on it?

A—Yes, provided your policy is in full force, under the law. The policy also will have other advantages of permanent plan insurance, such as a paid up and a cash surrender value, and, of course, a stable premium rate.

The Peripatetic View by CEC

We had somewhat of a compliment this week as concerns the effectiveness of advertising in the McLean News. Two fellows representing the radio station at Shamrock came by and explained a program for McLean that would be broadcast daily for one week. It would consist of boosting McLean through the advertising dollar of the McLean merchants.

The proposal to us was that we would run an ad in the paper telling people that Shamrock's radio station would have this program and asking people to listen to it.

It was complimentary that they felt this ad would build the audience for the program, but it's also nice to know that we don't have to use a radio station to tell people that we put out a paper on Thursdays.

Oklahoma voters thought they put one of their largest tax-free enterprises out of business, this week when they repealed the prohibition law, but it's another example where they didn't legislate themselves into much of a utopia. When the voters think they've solved one problem they get themselves into a worse one.

Now with all the bootleggers turned out, the state legislature will have to form a few committees and sub-committees to handle the rush of unemployment.

Last week the Texas legislature was receiving some bitter criticism on its "inaction" on tax bills. Speaker of the House Waggoner Carr stated that a great many tax bills had been introduced and the problem was mainly how to choose from the many revenue-raising propositions on hand, in addition to those suggested by the governor.

Considering the fact that $100 million a year is going to have to be raised somehow from new taxes, it looks like people would appreciate the "inaction." It may mean a few more months of keeping a full 15% of what a man makes to start with.

Area Observations

HAROLD HUDSON of the OCHILTREE COUNTY HERALD says that a refrigerator is a place where you store leftovers until they are old enough to throw out. Now we have larger refrigerators and call this progress.

"Heartache may pass as the smoke of a campfire, to leave the cool, gray ash of memory; the partly burned twig of regret." DOUGLAS MEADOR in the MATADOR TRIBUNE.

"The Russians are showing more progress all the time," says DON EARNEY of the WHEELER TIMES. "Now that they have almost hit the moon with a rocket, they will probably land one on Mars by 1965. And by 1970 every Russian might even own a pair of shoes."

ERNEST JOINER of the RALLS BANNER believes in advertising—with a punch. In another publication which has statewide circulation Joiner placed this ad: "If you don't subscribe to the Ralls Banner, go to hell."

Joiner says the results were heartwarming. "Of course we

Baptist W. M. U. Meets Tuesday for Royal Service

The W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church met for Royal Service in the Fellowship Hall Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Homer Abbott, president, conducted the business session, in which the group voted to send clothing to Missionary and Mrs. David Warren to be distributed among the Indians with whom they work.

Mrs. Doyle Brown gave the devotional. Mrs. Chester Bohlar led the lesson on "The Jews Among Us." Mrs. Earl Brooks gave a talk on "The Deaf Among Us."

Others present were Mesdames Oscar Tibbets, Boyd Reeves, Leo Gibson, Luther Petty, Lonnie Day, didn't sell any subscriptions, but a lot of folks did go."

MRS. CARROLL KOCH of the QUANA TRIBUNE-CHIEF tells the inside story of a local stabbing.

"Called to settle some differences of two Negro men who were fighting, local officers pondered if the affray was serious enough to make a case out of it. Subject of the nicking was a well known Negro man who has often given the officers trouble. He not only got nicked but his coat tail got cut off during the knife wielding and slashing. Inquiring of local officers if any charges were preferred one answered . . . 'No, but I started to file charges on the Negro doing the cutting for carrying a dull knife.'"

Down at Hamlin, WILLARD JONES of the HAMLIN HERALD gives another account of a colored man's difficulties with the law. "Another yarn spun by Rev. Dick O'Brien of Big Spring, long-time West Texas Baptist preacher, when he spoke the other night at the annual BCD banquet, was the one about the colored man who was in court as a witness to a shooting that had taken place on a train at night.

TROUBLE FOR REDS IN TIBET—The world is watching the little nation of Tibet whose government has rebelled against its Communist Chinese overlords. Located in central Asia, in the heartland of the Himalaya Mountains, Tibet lies on the border of Red China. Truly on the "roof of the world," it is located some 13,000 to 15,000 feet above sea level. Pictured above, is the great Potala (Palace of Gods), at Lhasa, Tibet's capital. It is from here that a Dalai Lama has ruled his million-odd subjects for centuries. The palace numbers some 1,000 rooms, not counting outbuildings. It is built against and supported by a small mountain. Lamaism, a form of Buddhism, is the religion. Tens of thousands of monks make up the religious community of the nation, most of them housed in several great monasteries scattered throughout the land. Under the treaty recently denounced by the Tibetans, the country was governed by a Tibetan autonomous government. That was a modification of Tibet's traditional theocracy—government by priests claiming to rule with divine authority.

A NOTE OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to the people of McLean for their support in the recent city election.

Your confidence is appreciated and will strive to serve the city and its citizens to the best of our ability while in office.

SWEET MUSIC TO ENGINEERS—Electronics system for a working radio is compared, above, with a lump of sugar to emphasize the unit's tininess. The device is made of micro-modules, "building blocks" that measure but one-third of an inch on each side. They perform the functions of transistors and other electronic devices to make possible size reductions of as much as ten-to-one in relation to conventional equipment. Purpose: lightweight, compact mechanisms for the space-missile age. The units are being developed by the Army with cooperation of one of the nation's largest electronic parts manufacturers.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

Pakan Community
George Dolak, Pastor
Church services are held the last Sunday of each month at 8 p. m. Other services are conducted at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Shamrock.

"Neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common." Acts 4:32.

Under the influence of the Holy Spirit, the Christians of Jerusalem had come to understand some important things. They understood that everything they had—possessions, health, intelligence, knowledge—belonged to God, and that they were only stewards of these things. They also understood that God had bestowed blessings on them to be used for the good of all.

For these reasons none in their community said that "ought of the things which he possessed was his own." Selfishness was banished, and love that "seeketh not her own" was triumphant.

How everything would be changed if in our families, in our churches, and in our human society we were to have the spirit of those early Christians in Jerusalem! Is this possible? It is not in man's own power, but "with God all things are possible." The Holy Spirit has the same power today; the Father will give us the Holy Spirit if only we ask Him in steadfast faith.

"God is a Spirit; and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." John 4:24.

Only human beings practice worship, for the longing of the spirit toward the Supreme Being is characteristic of them only. Worship is the breath of man's soul and his most valuable prerogative.

This worship is practiced by both the individual in solitude and by the group in a communal service. Whatever the methods of worship, He alone is worthy of our praise and adoration.

God abides forever. Whatever else we adore, be it beauty or ambition, possessions or friends, these, like the heavenly bodies, set and disappear. God remains. Jesus, the son of God, remains, for He is the same yesterday, today, and forever. In Him we find redemption from our sins. In the Holy Spirit's abiding presence we have a faithful guide.

We prove by our spirit and deeds that the love of God dwells in us.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

DEFENSE FOR THE GUILTY

How can a lawyer justify defending a guilty person?

The right of an accused to have counsel is one of the safeguards necessary to insure fundamental human rights of life and liberty. The sixth amendment to the U. S. Constitution (a part of our "Bill of Rights") provides:

"In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by jury—and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense." Amendment 5 to the constitution provides:

"... no person is to be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

Whether by retainer or by appointment with or without fee, a lawyer is duty-bound under his oath, to assert and wage a vigorous, honest, legal defense for his client, regardless of guilt.

Under law, every person accused of a criminal offense is presumed innocent until his guilt is established beyond reasonable doubt at a trial in open court.

Guilt is not to be determined by public opinion or by lawyers, but by proper procedure under law in a trial or judicial inquiry.

How can a person accused be assured a fair trial regardless of guilt or innocence? How can a person so accused defend himself and enjoy his constitutional right to have his guilt legally determined, except he be represented by competent counsel trained in law?

The practice of criminal law and the proper and able defense of those accused is a vital part of the great heritage of the legal profession. The public must understand the duty of the lawyer to society and to the people accused, sometimes unjustly, sometimes justly, of crime. Remember, even you may some day be unjustly accused of a crime.

When lawyers refuse, hesitate or fear to represent any person accused of any offense and the accused person is therefore unable to secure proper representation, then indeed is our entire judicial system in danger.

MISSIONARIES TO SPEAK AT ASSEMBLY

Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Capener, together with an Eskimo girl, will represent their missionary activities among the Eskimo people of Northern Alaska, at the Assembly of God Church in McLean Saturday, April 11, at 7:30 p. m.

The Capeners have worked among the Eskimo people in Alaska for the past 14 years, having established the most western Assembly of God Church in this hemisphere at Nome Alaska and the most northern Assembly in North America on the northern tip of Alaska, known as Point Barrow. The village of Barrow, Alaska, on the Arctic ocean and 350 miles north of the Arctic Circle, is the largest Eskimo village in the world, with a population of about 1400 Eskimo people. Mary Anne Klittick, a 16-year-old Eskimo girl from Barrow, who is traveling with the Capeners, had never seen a tree, paved streets or sidewalks and had never ridden in an automobile until she came with the Capeners. The dog team continues to be the main transportation at Barrow.

Colored slides will be shown at this service, including scenic views around this 49th state, of glaciers and mountains, Eskimo homes and their way of life by hunting, the animals from which they live consisting of seal, walrus, whale, caribou, polar bear and wild fowl. Then the pictures will show the church activities which the Capeners have done among these people. Rev. and Mrs. Capener's plans call for a return to the northland in the early summer of 1959 to continue their work there.

A cordial welcome is extended to the public to attend this service.

Mrs. Jerry Bennett and children, Kirk and Karen of Dalhart spent one night last week in the Howard Williams home.
