

White Hopes To Have Hay By Tuesday

AUSTIN (AP)—The federal state hay transportation program for 86 drought stricken Texas counties may put hay in livestock lots by Tuesday, Agriculture Commissioner John White said today.

Returning from Washington, where he signed a contract with the government yesterday, White told how the hay program will work.

His object, he said, is "to permit livestockmen and farmers to purchase hay at prices comparable to cost in non-drought areas of Texas."

White said he thought the state's emergency fund of $200,000 will be enough to carry the program to January or February. The USDA has allotted $704,000 for a six-month program to last until April 30.

White said he thought more federal funds would be available if that is not enough. He said the state would not be penalized if it runs out of money. Highway Department trucks might be used to transport hay. Use of these vehicles might be considered if the state's contribution to the cooperative program.

"We're going to be very careful that nobody takes advantage of the program," White said.

He said determining a farmer or rancher's need for government help will be left to local county drought committees, just as it is being done in the feed concentrates program.

The program will go into high gear when Secretary of Agriculture Benson signs the agreement, possibly this afternoon.

White said a hay transport plan is only part of the solution for the farmer and rancher's problem of high maintenance costs and low meat prices.

"This is approximately 50 per cent of the program. A meat buying program would be the second step to complete the program," White said.

He said a full-scale government buying plan would have the effect of putting a floor under the price received by cattlemen.

Forms used in the hay program should be ready for county committees by Monday, White said.

Depending on local availability of hay, he said "we can actually have hay for some farmers by Tuesday."

He thought there was enough hay in Texas to handle most of the problem locally.

"Texas can compete on (furnishing) the type of roughage needed—bunch feed, hay products, cotton burrs," White said.

The program will be in six steps:

1. Livestock man applies to county drought committee for a certificate of eligibility and need. White said no paupers' oath will be required. These applications are a matter of public record.
2. The committee determines eligibility and amount of hay and how much applicant may purchase in a 30-day period.
3. The livestock man takes certificate to an authorized dealer or supplier, and may place order for 30-day supply.
4. When receiving the hay, handled by an authorized dealer, the livestock man pays purchaser the price of roughage to that dealer.
5. Dealer must pay transportation charges and then bill Texas Department of Agriculture for reimbursement.
6. Texas Department of Agriculture sends claim to comptroller for payment to dealer.

Principles governing the program were these:

Those certified to receive aid shall receive hay and roughage at exact cost without having to pay transport charges, if shipment is by rail.

The "regular channel of trade" shall handle the distribution and procurement of hay as far as possible. Dealers handling this drought relief hay and roughage shall be allowed a nominal handling fee only.

State Planning January Bids On 4th Street

Contract can be let in January for improving Fourth Street as a portion of Highway 80 through Big Spring, J. C. Roberts, district highway engineer, informed R. H. Weaver, Howard County judge, this morning.

Roberts inquired about progress being made on the city-county undertaking to secure right-of-way for the improvements. He said the highway department is anxious to get the project underway.

If all right-of-way is secured and curb and gutter funds are in escrow, the department will include the Fourth Street program in its January contract lettings, said the engineer.

As a result of the telephone conference with Roberts, Judge Weaver said he will ask the county commissioners court to resume work on the program today or early Thursday. Commissioners several weeks ago suspended efforts to secure any additional right-of-way until it could be determined whether the city would complete the sign-up of property owners inside the city limits.

Weaver said he is confident the county can secure the necessary right-of-way outside the city limits prior to January. The judge said the county also is anxious to start the Fourth Street improvements.

The City of Big Spring has secured signed deeds to most of the right-of-way inside the municipal limits. However, a few missing property owners and necessity of working out agreements for the removal of certain obstructions has slowed right-of-way work.

City commissioners are to confer next Tuesday with Wallace Milburn and Worth Peeler concerning proposed extension of Fourth Street through Camp Coleman in the east part of the city. The commission already has ordered the filing of condemnation suits against property owners the city has been unable to locate. Other condemnation suits are under consideration.

'Y' Groups Slate Special Sessions

Leaders of the senior and junior Hi-Y (boys) and Tri-Hi-Y (girls) organizations will hold a special meeting today.

Col. Dan Pitt, Plainview, district representative for the YMCA, is to be on hand to conduct the conference, said Grover Good, executive secretary of the Big Spring YMCA. Col. Pitt's instructions will deal principally to adults — the sponsors and advisory council members. The affair will be at the Settles Hotel at 6:30 p.m.

GOP Margin Down In New York Suburbs

NEW YORK (AP)—Traditional Republican majorities in New York's Nassau and Westchester counties, where harness race track scandals were a major campaign issue, were reduced yesterday.

The normal 3-to-1 GOP lead in Westchester was cut generally to about 2-to-1.

In Nassau County the overall Republican vote dropped from about 73 per cent of the total to 62 per cent. The GOP majority was the slimmest since 1936.

Another leading issue was the visits paid by public officials, politicians and labor leaders to labor extortionist Joseph P. in Sing Sing Prison.

$500 In Fines Are Levied In October

Fines totalling $500 were paid in Cecil Nabors' Justice Court during October.

The fines resulted from 28 misdemeanor cases. In addition, seven persons boarded out their fines for drunkenness, and one fine was suspended.

Filed with Nabors during the month were 15 felony cases, 48 misdemeanors, 15 civil suits and six small claims.

ELECTIONS AT GLANCE

By The Associated Press

Results of yesterday's elections in brief:

New Jersey—The governorship went to Robert B. Meyner, Democrat, to end 10 years of Republican control of the Trenton statehouse. The defeated GOP candidate was Paul L. Troast. In a special House election in the 6th District, Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr. narrowly defeated Republican George F. Hetfield.

Virginia—Democrats retained the governorship, which they have held since Civil War times. Thomas B. Stanley won over Republican Theodore R. Dalton in the closest race there in years.

New York City—Robert F. Wagner Jr., Democrat, won the mayoralty by a whopping margin over Harold Riegelman, Republican, and Rudolph Halley, liberal.

Other mayors—Republicans held onto city halls in Little Rock, Ark., and Waterbury, Conn., and made gains in Syracuse, Glens Falls and Oneida, N.Y. Democrats held Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Albany, Louisville, Ky., and Binghamton, N.Y., and made gains in New Haven, Conn.; Akron and Columbus, Ohio; Davenport, Iowa; Buffalo, Batavia and Beacon, N.Y. Many other mayoral elections were non-partisan.

Much Of State Gets Drizzling Rainfall Today

By The Associated Press

Drizzling rain wet down Texas Wednesday from the coast to the plains. It soaked into thirsty subsoil and gave new life to winter grains, pastures and cover crops.

The Weather Bureau said rain clouds blanketed the state except for the Lower Rio Grande Valley and far West Texas.

The gentle, intermittent rain seeped into the earth. Runoff was light.

At mid-morning rain pattered down on Lufkin, Waco, Childress, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Dallas and Mineral Wells. Fog cloaked many points.

Several points along the Dallas watershed reported more than an inch.

The Weather Bureau said the heaviest rainfall for 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m. was 2.72 inches at College Station. Other totals: Dallas 1.50, Houston 1.95, Beaumont 1.29, Fort Worth 1.12, Galveston 1.72, Anna 1.48, Trinidad 1.24, Garland 1.45, Pilot Point 1.20, Roanoke 1.35, Rockwall 1.15, Carrollton 1.52, Celina 1.35, Denton 1.19, Valley View 1.05, Grand Prairie 1.25, Abilene .10, Austin .26, San Antonio .10, Waco .10, Childress .01, Wichita Falls .34, Texarkana .59, Lufkin .45, Palacios .28, Corpus Christi .19, Mineral Wells .70, Tyler .25, Electra .15, and Corsican .83.

The slow rain dipped from low clouds that blanketed all of East Texas, West of Mineral Wells, Abilene, San Angelo and Del Rio, skies were clear.

In the Dallas area, threatened by a water shortage short months ago, the slow rain had fallen for the most of 18 hours at 6 a.m. Wednesday.

A weak cool front—dry and slow-moving—stayed off moisture from the Panhandle and Far West Texas as it inched across Northwest Texas.

The Weather Bureau expected the rain and drizzle to continue in extreme East Texas probably through Thursday and to extend into the east portion of West Texas' South Plains Wednesday.

Queen Asks Regency Be Given Duke

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II today asked Parliament to designate her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, as a possible regent in place of her sister, Princess Margaret.

The sovereign made her wishes known in a special message to both the House of Commons and the House of Lords. The necessary legislation is expected to be rushed through Parliament before the Queen and the Duke leave on Nov. 23 for their tour of Australia and New Zealand.

The message brought back echoes of Princess Margaret's friendship with handsome RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend. When the subject first was mentioned in the House of Commons on July 22 it was understood a change in the Regency Act would make it easier for Margaret to marry Townsend if she so desired.

Subsequently persons close to the royal family said they believed the romance was off. The Church of England opposes the remarriage of divorced persons. Townsend has been divorced.

A recent would take over the monarch's functions in case Queen Elizabeth died or became incapacitated any time in the next 13 years.

Her son and heir, Prince Charles, now is 10 days away from his fifth birthday. He will succeed to the throne when his mother dies, but he would have to be under the guardianship of a regent if that event occurred before he reached the age of 18.

Russian Note Is Termed 'Evasive'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials today described Russia's latest note on a German conference as fresh evidence that Moscow desires a kind of diplomatic stalemate at least for the time being.

There was no immediate comment by the department of the Russian response to a Western bid for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany and Austria. But privately, officials used such words as "evasive" . . . a severe disappointment" in speaking of it.

The 18-page note, delivered yesterday, was a reply to the invitation which the United States, Britain and France issued Oct. 18 to the Russians to attend a conference on Germany and Austria at Lugano, Switzerland, on Nov. 9.

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen dispatched a summary to Washington. The full text of the document was expected overnight. Officially the State Department said only the full text "will be studied at the highest levels"—presumably by Secretary of State Dulles and his advisers.

The gist of the note clearly appeared to be contained in a re-assertion of these two points which

Virginia Elects Byrd Democrat As Its Governor

By JOHN F. DAFFRON

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia stuck by its custom and named another Democratic governor in a general election yesterday that found the political organization of Sen. Harry F. Byrd well able to handle its most serious Republican challenge.

Thomas B. Stanley, 63, a furniture manufacturer and former congressman who campaigned largely on the organization record, defeated Ted Dalton, 52, a state Senator and GOP national committeeman.

But in losing to Stanley by a vote of 219,653 to 175,505 on the basis of nearly complete returns from the state's 1,815 polling places, Dalton ran up the best vote and the biggest percentage ever scored by a Republican in a Virginia race for governor.

Dalton, given a boost by the Eisenhower victory of last year, the election of three Republican congressmen and the disenchantment of some Democrats who put part of the blame for last year on Byrd, got a shade better than 44 per cent of the vote to Stanley's 55-plus. Independent Howard Carville, a third candidate with .07 of the vote, was no factor.

The best previous effort of the Republicans was 37 per cent in the election for governor in 1929—a year, as was this one, following a Virginia vote for a Republican president.

Stanley takes over from Gov. John S. Battle on Jan. 20. Virginia governors, elected for four-year terms, may not succeed themselves in office.

Dalton, like the Democratic campaign chiefs, knew it was Byrd's all-out attack in the final two weeks of the campaign that kept him from possibly scoring a big upset, or at least making it closer.

"I think I was touching them pretty keenly until the Senator got into it with all his force," said Dalton in his easy drawl when he conceded the race.

Stanley's campaign didn't seem to be catching on until a few weeks ago and apparently he was "touching them." Then Dalton proposed a 100 million dollar revenue bond issue for road improvements. And Byrd, proud of Virginia's debt-free record and part of the state's pay-as-you-go system, came out swinging.

From his home at Berryville, Byrd's comment on the outcome was "The returns speak for themselves."

Blow To Republicans

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—New Jersey Democrats struck a surprise double blow at President Eisenhower's administration yesterday, winning the governorship and a 6th District Congressional seat for the first time in years.

Unofficial returns showed Democrat Robert B. Meyner, a country lawyer, had defeated Republican Paul L. Troast, a contractor, for the governorship by about 160,000 votes. He will be the first Democratic governor in 10 years.

In a close race Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr. beat Republican George F. Hetfield by a scant 2,000 votes in the state's 6th Congressional District where a Republican won in 1952 by 54,000 votes. The GOP had held the district since it was formed in 1932.

It was the second congressional upset within a month for the Republicans, who lost a Wisconsin seat last month.

Complete returns gave Meyner 959,569 votes, or 54 per cent. Troast, chairman of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, received 805,750, or 45 per cent.

Two Independents and a Socialist-Labor candidate, picked up only splinter percentages.

In the 6th District congressional race, Williams received an unofficial total of 68,793 to 66,796 for Hetfield.

The Meyner victory compared with a 350,000 plurality given to President Eisenhower last year and a 75,860-vote triumph by Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll in the 1949 election. Driscoll refused to seek a third term.

The election of Williams pared GOP control of the House to 218 Republicans over 215 Democrats.

The New Jersey Legislature remained firmly in control of the Republicans, who won 17 of the Senate's 21 seats and 40 of the 6 Assembly posts. The Senate lineup remained the same as this year, but the Democrats picked up three seats in the election, which also brought a referendum vote to legalize bingo.

In normally strong Republican counties of Bergen and Essex, GOP candidates for the Senate and Assembly were elected comfortably while Troast lost Essex and barely won Bergen.

Joost Named A's Manager

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Shortstop Eddie Joost was named field manager of the Philadelphia Athletics today to succeed Jimmie Dykes.

Roy Mack, club vice president, said Dykes, who has a year to go under his contract, has been asked to remain with the club in an advisory capacity.

Mack said Joost, 37, Dykes and Vice President Earle Mack are expected to make up an advisory group to make all decisions on player trades.

The club lost its general manager, Art Ebers, who took a similar post with the Baltimore Orioles.

Close Ohio Capital Race Goes To Demos

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus elected a Democratic mayor for the first time since 1935 in a race decided early this morning by less than 300 votes.

A political unknown, Maynard E. Sensesbrenner, former chief clerk of the Ohio Civil Service Commission, achieved one of the biggest political upsets in Columbus history by defeating Republican incumbent Robert T. Oestreich, owner of an automobile agency.

The vote was 40,708 for Sensesbrenner and 40,424 for Oestreich, according to unofficial tabulations released by the Franklin County Election Board.

Republicans Score Smashing Upset In Philadelphia Vote

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A smashing upset in Philadelphia that deviated from the national trend proved the key block as the Republicans swept to victory in Pennsylvania today.

The GOP vote in Philadelphia helped carry into office the two Republican candidates for the Superior Court Judges Colvin Wright and Harold Ervin.

The Democrats gained some solace in local contests, electing mayors to unprecedented third terms in Pittsburgh and Scranton, but the big news from a GOP standpoint was the Philadelphia story.

The Democrats elected a mayor in 1951 after more than a half century of Republican rule and in last year's general election, Adlai Stevenson, carried the city over Dwight Eisenhower by 161,000.

Wagner Wins New York City Mayor's Seat By Big Margin

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert F. Wagner Jr. was elected mayor of New York yesterday in a Democratic landslide that sent ecstasy through the New Deal-Fair Deal wing of the party.

His victory had been widely forecast. But the size of it and the New Deal-Fair Deal stamp he bore sent his backers to dreaming of capturing the state next year and nominating their type of presidential candidate in the 1956 Democratic convention.

Wagner won a four-year term by a plurality of 360,078 and nipped the political careers of his two major opponents, Republican Harold Riegelman and Liberal party candidate Rudolph Halley.

Son of the late U.S. Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York, the mayor-elect carried four of the city's five boroughs with ease. In Queens, where GOP strength is greatest, he fought Riegelman to a virtual standstill.

Hall Admits Party Is In Trouble Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tuesday's elections—particularly the election of a Democratic governor and Congress member in New Jersey—cast a pall of gloom on the Republican political high command today and brought jubilation to the Democrats.

For the Republicans and the Eisenhower administration, the New Jersey results were a stunning blow, and GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall frankly acknowledged it.

"There is no question about it," Hall said. "As of today, we are in trouble politically."

But Hall proclaimed confidence that things will be different in next year's elections when control of Congress will be at stake.

Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic chairman, interpreted the results as meaning his party is "on the march from north, south, east and west."

As in any election, there was wide room for conjecture and debate as to the extent to which the results turned on purely local issues and how much voters were influenced by their attitude toward the national administration.

New Jersey Republicans, however, had sought votes with the argument that the prestige of President Eisenhower's administration was involved. And the President had given a blanket endorsement to all Republican candidates.

Last week, the White House specifically named Paul L. Troast, the GOP candidate for governor of New Jersey, as among those having the President's endorsement.

Troast lost by about 160,000 votes to Robert B. Meyner who will be the first Democratic governor of New Jersey in 10 years.

On the professional politicians, there was deeper impact, however, from the election of Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr. to Congress from the 6th New Jersey District. Williams won over Republican George F. Hetfield by about 2,000 votes in a normally Republican district which has had a GOP congressman since it was organized in 1932.

This came atop the loss of a Republican seat in Wisconsin's recent special election.

With the election of Williams, the party division in the House of Representatives now stands at 218 Republicans, 215 Democrats, 1 independent and 1 vacancy. The vacancy is in a California district which has been represented by a Republican. A special election is to be held in the district next Tuesday. Two Republicans are running against two Democrats. The outcome of this one will also be watched for signs of national significance.

By comparison with the New Jersey results, there was small consolation for the Republicans in the strong showing made by GOP candidate Ted Dalton in a losing race against Democrat Thomas B. Stanley for the governorship of Virginia, or in such minor straws as the re-election of a Republican mayor in Little Rock, Ark.

Another scrap of consolation for the GOP was the election of two candidates for the state Superior Court in Philadelphia which went Democratic in last year's presidential election.

In New York City, Democrat Robert F. Wagner Jr. rolled up

Little Rock Re-Elects Its Republican Mayor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Republican Pratt Rammel won his second term as mayor of this Democratic state's capitol city yesterday by a 3,000 vote margin over the Democratic candidate, Alderman Aubrey Kerr.

The mayor's mother, Mrs. Augustus H. Rammel-GOP national Republican committeewoman—said the victory was "wonderful encouragement for the Republicans in the South."

The vote was the highest in a municipal election in Little Rock's history. Rammel received 9,724 votes to Kerr's 6,693 in an unofficial count.

Tennessee Votes Out Its Poll Tax

NASHVILLE (AP)—Tennesseans have given a major overhaul to their ancient and outmoded state Constitution, a hitherto unamended relic of horse and buggy days.

Eight amendments to the 1870 document were approved yesterday.

One amendment abolishes the poll tax and gives women voting privileges.

Impellitteri, elected as an independent in 1950 after O'Dwyer resigned to become ambassador to Mexico, lost to Wagner 2-1 in the Democratic primary last Sept. 15.

Impellitteri tried to run as an independent after his primary defeat, but a court ruled his nominating petition did not have enough valid signatures.

Virtually unknown to the nation at large except through his father, young Wagner will step up from his present $25,000-a-year post as Manhattan borough president. He has been in politics since 1941 when he went to the state Assembly from the same Yorkville district that sent his father there 33 years earlier.

"Sure my father helped me get started in politics, and his name still helps," conceded Wagner, who at 44 is one of the youngest mayors in recent New York history.

His father authored the Wagner

BEARS FAIR DEAL STAMP

4,217 election districts gave Wagner 1,021,488 votes to 661,410 for Riegelman and 408,392 for Halley. A fourth candidate, Clifford T. McCoy of the dying left-wing American Labor party, polled only 54,372 votes.

Among those elected on Wagner's ticket was Hulian E. Jack, who succeeds him as Manhattan borough president and becomes the first Negro ever to hold so high an office in New York's history. Jack's regular opponents also were Negroes.

A total of 2,305,062 persons out of 2,398,099 registered went to the polls.

Wagner drew 46.3 per cent of the mayor vote, Riegelman 30.0, Halley 21.2 and McCoy 2.5.

It was the lightest turnout since 1945, but Wagner's plurality was the greatest since William O'Dwyer's 693,754 in the same year.

Wagner succeeds Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri Jan. 1 in the $40,000-a-year mayoralty—the second biggest political job in the

VISITOR TELLS HOW

Lab Gives Products Go-Ahead Or Stop Sign

Most women spend their day in a home that has one kitchen, but the place Mrs. Champe Randolph works in has 11 of them.

For 29 years she has been the hostess at the Good Housekeeping Institute, which tests all products that are advertised in Good Housekeeping Magazine.

A sister of Mrs. Shine Phillips, she is visiting here from New York City, where the Good Housekeeping office is located.

As Institute hostess, Mrs. Randolph conducts tours of the offices and laboratories covering a quarter of an acre, the entire sixth floor of a New York office building.

She also makes arrangements for the social events given by the Institute for businessmen, chemists and engineers.

Contrary to what many people think, the magazine never solicits products to be tested, Mrs. Randolph says.

A manufacturer approaches the organization first and then the staff tests its product before it can receive the Good Housekeeping guarantee and be advertised.

Pins Given At Rebekah Meeting

Pins were presented to H. F. Jarrett, K. L. Brady and Harold Gilliam Tuesday night by grand master of IOOF of Texas, Leonard Miller, at a meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge.

Mrs. Maude Cole, district supervisor of Division 32, introduced Mrs. Martif Miller, grand conductor of the Texas Assembly, and Jones Lamar, grand conductor of the Grand Lodge.

Other visitors were Mrs. Grace Martin, district deputy president, and Leon Cole, district deputy grand master of Division 69.

Fifty-year members Mrs. Josie McDaniel and Ben Miller were recognized.

Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284, visited the meeting in a body twenty-four of its members attended.

The program featured a song by Mrs. Ruby Billings and Mrs. Winnie Ralph. Mrs. Ida Hughes gave a poem, "Odd Fellowship." Team drill was held and a song sung by the group.

Decorations were of autumn flowers. Refreshments were served to 26 visitors and 59 members.

It was announced that Mrs. Cole would make an official visit to Knott on Thursday night.

Sipeses Have Wedding Anniversary

All six of their children helped Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sipes celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at their home at 500 Benton on Sunday.

The actual anniversary date was Oct. 30, but the special observance was set back two days to permit all the children to attend.

Included were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Sipes, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sipes, Big Spring; Mrs. Tania Parr, Big Spring; Mrs. Jack Redman, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cheek, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sipes, Rankin. There also were nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren present.

The anniversary cake, a 15-inch piece, was covered with white icing and pink rosebuds. Many gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Sipes on the occasion.

Engineers Auxiliary To Meet Thursday

Forty-year pins will be given to Mrs. Lamar Smith and Mrs. Tony Weeg at a dinner at noon Thursday given by the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at WOW.

All members and their husbands and children are invited to attend. A regular meeting has been called for 2:30 p.m. following the dinner.

South Ward P-TA To Hear Judge Weaver

Judge R. H. Weaver will be the speaker at an executive board meeting of the South Ward P-TA at 3 p.m. Thursday at the school. His topic will be "Educating for What?"

The fifth grade will present the program. The nursery will be open.

Equipment must receive the same kind of wear it would in a home. Besides a staff of college-trained home economists, household maids are employed to give the equipment a real workout.

Friday she will leave for San Angelo to visit another sister, Mrs. W. Earl Ezzell.

But when she thinks about returning to those 11 kitchens in New York, she's one woman who won't be dreading going back to an empty refrigerator.

FFA Beau Is Selected

COAHOMA (SpI) — Norman Spears has been elected FFA-beau by the FFA chapter, Mary Massey has been chosen to run for district FFA officer and Sue Buchanan for voting delegate.

Martha White will run for area officer. It has been decided that the two girls with the highest number of points will be eligible for the state meeting in Fort Worth. All their expenses will be paid.

High school favorites have been elected. They are Murphy Woodson and Carolyn Harrington, seniors; Grady Barr and Mackie Brooks, juniors; Sébas Torres and Patsy Owens, sophomores; Joe Hill and Nelda Barr, freshmen.

"The American Educator," a reference book and 151 new books will soon be added to the shelves of the new library building. Venetian blinds have recently been installed.

Rebekahs Visit Janice Gilbert

A group of Rebekahs from Big Spring Lodge 284 presented gifts to Janice Gilbert, 18, daughter of Mrs. Sylvia Gilbert Tuesday night. Janice has been ill.

The group made the visit following the lodge meeting in the IOOF Hall and a joint meeting with Lodge 153 at Carpenters Hall.

Mrs. Lucille Petty presided. Fifty-two sick calls were reported for the week. Thirty-one attended.

Mrs. Stephens Elected To Represent District

Mrs. H. H. Stephens, WSCS president for the Big Spring district, has been elected a delegate to the National Assembly of the Women's Division of the Methodist Church in Milwaukee, Wis., in May.

She was elected at a district meeting at the First Methodist Church in Midland Tuesday. The national meeting is held every four years. Mrs. Stephens will be the first representative from Big Spring ever to attend it.

Attending the district meeting from Big Spring were Mrs. H. M. Rowe, Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Mrs. Jordan Grooms, Mrs. M. A. Cook, Mrs. Hugh Duncan, Mrs. Orion W. Carter, Mrs. R. S. Youngblood and Mrs. Frank Powell, First Methodist WSCS; Mrs. Raymond Hamby, Mrs. Arthur Pickle and Mrs. Marvin Fisher, Wesley Memorial Methodist; and Mrs. W. E. Booth, Mrs. Abbie Anderson and Mrs. J. B. Hollis, Park Methodist.

Mrs. E. T. Pittard of Anson spoke on "The Urgency of Our Task." District officers making reports included Mrs. Stephens; Mrs. J. S. Craddock of Colorado City, treasurer; Mrs. F. F. Salzer of Lamesa, spiritual life secretary; Mrs. Stripling, status of women secretary; Mrs. Rowe, supply work secretary; Mrs. Grooms, missionary personnel secretary.

Mrs. Carter gave the closing meditation.

Plans for the annual conference of the WSCS were announced. It will be March 30-April 1 at the First Methodist Church in Lubbock.

Speakers will be Mrs. C. A. Meekeas of New York, editor of "The Methodist Woman," official magazine, and Dr. Gaston Foote, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Fort Worth, who will speak on his tour of South America last summer.

Mary Margaret McBRIDE SAYS

Flipping almanac pages the other day to check the date of the Scopes evolution trial (1925, would you believe it!) I came on a list of deaths for the year 1933: Calvin Coolidge, John Galsworthy, Fatty Arbuckle—and Texas Guinan.

Texas Guinan! Instantly I could see her—beauty, blonde and boisterous, crying "Hello, Sucker!" as she greeted customers in her night club, the first I'd ever seen in all my life.

I suppose I stared at her with wide astonished eyes for I was fresh from Missouri and in a state of continual amazement as a cub reporter on the old New York Evening Mail.

Texas was a legend even then. She had invented the phrase, "butter-and-egg man" as a title for the out-of-town male visitor with money and a longing to hit the high spots in the big city. Sometimes as he entered her door she greeted him with his own name, causing him to glow with pride as his friends looked impressed at his importance. Most often, though, she shouted "Hello, Sucker!" to one and all and made them love it.

I have to admit that I felt both wicked and uneasy in the Guinan environs, for those were Prohibition days and I had taken the temperance pledge at the age of nine.

Only what I assumed to be my duty as a reporter kept me sitting embarrassedly in my seat even when Texas singled me out for unwelcome notice as "that little girl from the country." Luckily she was quickly diverted for there were plenty of celebrities at the party that night—Will Rogers, who had written many books and Inez Haynes Irwin, his wife, who had a book out that very day. Then there was actually a title, Lady Moria Bathurst, who was probably almost as impressed with her first experience in an American nightclub as I was at meeting my first peccore.

Texas introduced them all and the crowd good-naturedly applauded. If they didn't, Texas urged them on with "Give this fellow (or that little girl) a great big hand," a phrase she had also originated.

She usually stood on a chair to shout greeting and orders, but later in the evening she moved about among the tables and even sat down for awhile with us to drink black coffee which was all she ever touched. The other guests had lighter colored liquids in tea cups and I was nervously sipping ginger ale. Texas knew I was frightened and good naturedly tried to buck me up.

"Don't let 'em scare you, girlie." I clearly remember her cautioning me. "I get scared, too, sometimes, and all of them do. But just don't let anybody know."

Texas Guinan, astute showman, was one of the exciting personalities of those eye-opening days of a young reporter. If I'd only known then what I was seeing!

THIS IS GOOD EATING

TUTTI-FRUTTI VANILLA PUDDING

Ingredients: One 3/4-ounce package vanilla pudding mix, 1/4 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 2 cups water, 1-3 cup chopped maraschino cherries, 1-3 cup chopped raisins, 1-3 cup chopped figs.

Method: Stir pudding mix and non-fat dry milk powder together until blended. Gradually add water, stirring until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened, about 5 minutes. Fold in chopped cherries, raisins and figs. Pour into individual serving dishes. Chill. Makes 4 servings. This goes well with the following menu.

Riding The GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

The bullet holes in this John Deere sign, a few miles north of Stanton on the Lamesa road, must have been put there by some deer hunter sharpening up his shooting eye—but the Deere's still running. One of the bullets caught him just a little forward of the shoulder; two others show the hunter was holding for too much lead on him; the "J" in John has been dotted; the bottom of the "D" in Deere has been blasted; there's another hole under the final "E" plus a terrific wallop under the Deere's chest and a bullet hole in the upper part of his right hind leg, in addition to not overlooking the holes back of the antlers and well under his left hind hoof.

THE DEERE'S STILL RUNNING

This Deere hunter must have had a lot of fun, but there couldn't have been nearly as much fun as danger involved since that is flat country with houses scattered about. Moreover, there's never any open season on these John Deeres along the highway.

The Deere's still running. The folks down in Sterling City have been having a lot of fun teasing Mr. and Mrs. John Brock about being in business in competition with each other.

Mrs. Roxie A. Brock is Sterling County PMA office manager and her husband is engaged in the feed business. He claims she's trying to put him out of business by underselling him with the government drought emergency feed, and she counters with the claim that the PMA is trying to supply the ranchers with feed at a price that will leave them enough money to buy some groceries.

John says he reckons that's all right because he operates a grocery store, too.

Mrs. Brock says that since the beginning of the program, Sterling County ranchers have received 23 cars of feed. These include nine cars of corn, four cars of oats, and 70 cars of cottonseed products, mainly cow and sheep cake, but also some meal.

The rains have been somewhat spotted over Sterling County and some parts of the county remain thoroughly drought-stricken.

Chat Reynolds, who ranches eight miles west of Sterling City, on the Garden City road, says his place hasn't gotten more than five inches all year. He first guessed at about four inches but revised the estimate upward to five inches so as not to under estimate it.

He still has some cattle and sheep on his place and is feeding the cattle and part of the sheep. Down that way they're telling the story of the lady from the East who visited in that county. She stayed all summer and never saw a drop of rain. Finally she asked an old-timer: "Doesn't it ever rain around here?"

"Yes," he replied, "it does. I can remember hearing my grandfather speak of rain. Lady, did you ever hear of the time it rained for forty days and forty nights?" She said she did.

"Well at that time," confided the old-timer, "Sterling County got a quarter of an inch."

Tom Humble, who lives about 10 miles east of Sterling City, says his ranch has received 10 or 12 inches of rain this year, while George Case, who lives about 14 miles south of Sterling City reports 11 or 12 inches for the year.

In Sterling City the year's rainfall to date has been estimated at 10 inches by J. T. Davis who watches his gauge pretty carefully. Harry Lawson, SCS work unit conservationist, says a whole lot of the range in the North Concho River Soil Conservation District is without cover. This SCD takes in a little of southeast Howard County; most of Glasscock; most of Sterling; southwestern Coke and northwestern Tom Green County.

At Garden City, Mrs. Asta Allen, Glasscock County PMA office manager, says that since the start of the drought feed program the livestock men in that county have received approximately 800 tons of corn and sheep cake; 540 tons of cow; 256 tons of oats, and a little meal.

She says that as far as she knows only one rancher is tending feed and that the demand for meal hasn't been very heavy.

She says the Glasscock Drought Committee has estimated ranchers will need approximately 3,000 tons of hay during the next six months and that they have estimated the price they should pay at $14 for prairie hay to $20 for alfalfa.

Since there isn't any railroad into the county, Mrs. Allen says it will make a difference whether the hay is delivered by rail or truck. In the past it has cost Glasscock ranchers an average of $5 a ton to get their hay hauled from the railroad at Big Spring.

The old-fashioned roll-top desk in the office of County Judge David L. Smith at Garden City, isn't a new one. It just looks that way.

F. H. Koenig, custodian of the Courthouse, finished working it over while explaining to the Grub Line Rider that he was going to make it look like new—almost, and he did.

There are some unvarnished spots on it, however, because while he was able to persuade Judge Smith to clean it out and remove the papers and books from the top of it, he wasn't able to get the judge to take all the assortment of papers out of the pigeon holes.

Maybe Judge Smith was afraid he'd get his filing system all messed up.

In district Future Farmers of America contests held at the Loop High School on Saturday teams from Lamesa took first places in the FFA Quiz and Senior Chapter Conducting, and second place in the Junior Chapter Conducting.

The Flower Grove High School chapter was first in the Junior Chapter Conducting and third in the Senior Chapter Conducting.

The Ackerly team was second and the Loop team third in the quiz; Seagraves was third in the Junior Chapter work, and the boys from Gall were second in the Senior Chapter conducting.

A bunch of Stanton deer hunters have returned from their camping out in the Blue Mountains about 30 miles from Rangely, Colorado, where they reported plenty of deer and six inches of snow.

The hunters were Jack Arrington, Alton Turner, Leo Turner (a 208-pound, 12-point buck), Clayton Burnam, Clayton Reynolds, W. S. Barnhill and T. A. Ballard of Seagraves.

Each of them reported getting a deer, but a well known resident of Stanton says that since Henry Louder's name isn't on the list, he wonders who shot the deer for them.

Man Kills Himself As Officers Drive Up BRUNSWICK, Md. (AP)—A 28-year-old man shot himself to death in his car last night as a pair of troopers were driving up to serve a peace warrant on him, state police reported.

Officers said they were entering the driveway where Garland Lee Bayles' brother-in-law resided when they heard a rifle crack. In the car they found Bayles with a bullet hole in the head and a .22 caliber rifle beside him. The victim died shortly after being brought to Frederick Memorial Hospital.

Relatives said there had been family troubles.

Reds Drag Out Interviews With Prisoners; Observers Protest

By JOHN RANDOLPH

PANNUNJOM (AP)—The Communists dragged out interviews with bawky Chinese prisoners today, netting a storm of protests from U.N. observers, charges of stalling, and shouts, screams and curses from violently anti-Communist POWs.

Three of 205 prisoners interviewed asked for repatriation, but the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission ruled that one was mentally incompetent and he was sent to a hospital.

A U.N. observer said that after almost three hours with Red explainers the prisoner was so confused he didn't know what he was doing or saying.

Several Swiss members of the Repatriation Commission walked out temporarily when their protests over the long interviews were overruled.

The Communists were scheduled to interview 403 prisoners during the day, but some interviews dragged on for more than four hours and at the 5 p.m. deadline almost 200 were still waiting.

Red persuaders dragged out interviews as long as possible, wheeling and threatening prisoners who have refused to go home. Allied officers called the Red tactics brainwashing.

There were charges that the Communists were deliberately stalling, perhaps in an attempt to wreck the explanation program which has won them only about three per cent of the prisoners interviewed to date.

Of 184 Chinese and Korean prisoners interviewed only 59 have asked to go back to their homelands. Prior to Wednesday, 20 of 931 Chinese and 29 of 913 Koreans had asked repatriation.

The Communists told the Indians they want to interview a new compound of about 450 Chinese Thursday, plus the 198 from compound 28 who were shipped Wednesday.

Unless the Reds speed up the explanations an even greater logjam is inevitable. Angry U.N. observers filed protests after protest because Indian chairmen were reluctant to cut short interviews even when prisoners obviously were anti-Communist.

One angry American observer stalked out of an interview in protest after it had run three hours. The Swiss member of the repatriation commission subcommittee supervising the interviews also protested the length of the session.

Both protests were overruled by the Indian chairman. In at least two other cases Chinese persuaders, working in relays, hammered at prisoners for 2 1/2 hours.

One prisoner shouted "I want to go to Taiwan (Formosa)" 132 times by actual count and reviled his Communist interviewers with every oath he knew before the Indian tent chairman called a halt to the interview.

During a lunch recess, Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the repatriation commission, conferred with his tent chairmen. He refused to say whether he gave them special instructions but afternoon interviews appeared to move somewhat more rapidly.

Thimayya conceded the long explanation sessions were a "serious problem." The rules provide that prisoners must listen to the explainers unless Red tactics are inhumane.

In a films hut a few miles away U.N. and Communist diplomats met again to arrange a Korean peace conference and again made no progress.

The Reds told U.S. envoy Arthur Dean he has failed to "advance anything useful" in proposals to get the talks started.

The Communists have asked to interview about 500 Chinese prisoners from Compound C22 Thursday.

The number of prisoners choosing communism Wednesday was smaller than on any previous day, but this had been expected since 25 pro-Communists were removed from the compound Monday while Indian guards were screening prisoners during a murder investigation.

HOUSTON (AP)—East Texas offers a fertile field for world trade, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce says.

The chamber's World Trade Committee, meeting yesterday for the first time, approved three projects to develop trade for the big, sprawling 72-county area. The projects:

An annual world trade fair to Mexico, San Salvador, Panama, Venezuela and Jamaica, starting from Houston Jan. 18. Increased world trade for East Texas manufacturers. Participation in national legislation affecting world trade.

The committee will offer its services to East Texas manufacturers in making contacts with foreign countries with the view of arranging exports and imports of various products.

Almost 500 Federal Gaming Tax Stamps Go To South Texans

AUSTIN (AP)—Nearly 500 federal gaming stamps have been cured by persons engaged in gambling in South Texas.

The total is far below last year's record of 1,500 to 1,600 stamps. Internal Revenue officials said this is because of the crackdown on pinball machines.

The government first required purchase of gaming stamps in November, 1951. The 500 stamps are for the year beginning July 1 and ending June 30, 1954. There was an up-surge in stamp purchases in September when the football season arrived and football "cards" began to flourish.

Officers Investigate School Bus Stabbing

HOUSTON (AP)—Crime prevention officers continued today investigations into a school bus fight which sent a 14-year-old boy to a hospital with a stab wound in the back.

Hospital attendants yesterday said Jess Flores, a junior high school student, was in a critical condition on arrival but later improved rapidly.

Patrolman J. E. Tucker said three boys, young Flores included, began fighting after one was struck with a paper wad.

Oldsters Have Day At Reno Courthouse

RENO, Nev. (AP)—It was quite a day for the older generation in Reno's court house.

George A. Sagendorph, 74, a socialite manufacturer from Boston, Mass., divorced his wife, Jane, on grounds of three years separation. They had been married for 54 years.

And Intha Whiteley, 73, of Cove, Ark., was married to Arthur Lockwood, 26, of Del Rio, Tex.

Officiating at both the divorce and the marriage was District Judge A. J. Maestretti—who is 79.

Corsicana Rejects

CORSICANA (AP)—Corsicana voters rejected yesterday, 883 to 437, a proposal to adopt the city manager type of government.

They also turned down, 1,040 to 245, a proposal to authorize a hike in the city tax rate.

Seminole Boy Drowns

SEMINOLE (AP)—Terry Wallace, 22 months old, drowned in a cesspool in the back yard of his home yesterday. The covering gave way.

Temco Earnings Up

DALLAS (AP)—Net earnings of $1,499,280 for 9 months have been announced by Temco Aircraft Corp. Earnings for 9 months last year were $1,359,894.

Battle To Revive Plains Monkey Won

LUBBOCK (AP)—Veterinarians and fire department members won an 8-hour battle to revive Terry, a monkey whose breathing stopped while he was being given an anesthetic.

The monkey had been taken to the animal hospital to have several teeth extracted. When he stopped breathing, a veterinarian started giving artificial respiration.

The fire department brought a pullmotor and two tanks of oxygen to the animal hospital. Although the monkey, 31, failed to respond his heart kept beating faintly.

After eight hours of treatment Terry late last night began breathing without artificial aid. Attendants said they believe he would recover.

Dallas Man Arrested

DALLAS (AP)—Customs agents at Laredo arrested a Dallas man, 22, today as he attempted to drive a carload of guns into Mexico.

Dallas County sheriff's deputies said the 31 rifles, 28 pistols and large quantity of ammunition were taken in the Sunday morning burglary of a sporting goods firm here.

East Texas Seeks New World Trade

North American Co. Talks With UAW To Resume Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joint negotiations between officials of strike-bound North American Aviation Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers will be resumed tonight for the first time since the workers walked out over wage demands Oct. 23.

The union, representing more than 30,000 employees in the Los Angeles, Columbus, Ohio, and Fresno, Calif. plants, has been asking a wage boost of 26 cents an hour. The company offered a flat 4 per cent boost with additional increases for top graded workers, plus fringe benefits. Wages range from $1.42 to $2.32 hourly.

Separate conferences have been held by both company and union representatives with U.S. Mediator John Fenton.

North American produces the F86 Sabre jet and the new F100 Super Sabre.

Poodle Commandeers Baby Bed

Irish Donnelly, Louisville, Ky., newsman, went out for dinner while his family was away on vacation. When he returned, he discovered that his poodle, Tarbaby, had chosen his daughter's baby bed to have her puppies. Mr. Donnelly moved Tarbaby and her family to the basement. Here the poodle happily reconstructs the scene which greeted Donnelly when he returned home a little more than a week ago. Tarbaby made sure no strangers got near her six babies. (AP Wirephoto).

Condemnation Suit Delayed On 4th St.

City commissioners decided Tuesday to delay any condemnation action for 4th Street right-of-way against Camp Coleman property owners for at least a week.

The delay was approved in order to give Worth Peeler and Wallace Milburn, owners, a chance to present their ideas to the commission. City Manager H. W. Whitney was instructed to write the two men and ask their appearance at next Tuesday's meeting. Milburn and Peeler turned down a city offer to pay $3,500 damages and install curb and gutter for the right-of-way. At the time the two men made no counter offer, but City Attorney Walton Morrison told commissioners it is his understanding that they are now conducting a personal survey of the property.

The survey follows a letter from Manager Whitney instructing that the Camp Coleman building encroachments on 4th and Union Streets be removed. A city survey shows several buildings extending into the two streets.

Other items taken into consideration by the commission included tax problems, salary adjustments for city employees, rental of city property, damage claim, and vacancies on the planning and zoning commission.

Tax Collector Perry Johnson was given authority to adjust the tax roll for errors in assessment for property on the east edge of the city limits near the T&P railroad and for property in the Monticello Addition.

NEW YORK

Labor Relations Act in 1935 as a right hand man to President Franklin D. Roosevelt in the early days of the New Deal. The elder Wagner died last spring.

Riegelman's political aspirations died aborning with Wagner's victory. The 61-year-old veteran adviser in civic affairs went into the campaign pretty much unknown to the general public. New York hasn't elected a Republican mayor without fusion support in more than 50 years.

Nevertheless, Riegelman's showing was the best on the straight GOP ticket in years. He had the blessing of President Eisenhower. Wagner's victory also balked the promising political career of Halley, the owl-eyed little lawyer who thrilled millions on television two years ago as the hippest, bulldogged chief counsel of the old Kefauver Senate Crime Commission.

Largely on the strength of this, Halley was elected the $25,000-a-year City Council president in 1951 as an Independent Democrat with Liberal party backing.

Southwest Borden Test Flows More Oil, Plans To Complete

Texas Company No. 1-B A. M. Clayton, wildcat in Southwest Borden County, is being prepared for completion following more oil flow on a drillstem test between 8,115 and 8,135 feet.

Two completions were reported today. One, Sun No. 3-B C. L. Jones, in the Coronet 2900 Field of Howard County, made a pumping potential of 55.96 barrels. The other, Sohio No. 4-B J. C. Bryans in the Spraberry Trend area of Glasscock County, flowed 363.18 barrels of oil on potential test.

Borden

Texas Company No. 1-B Clayton, 2,061 from east and 681 from south lines, 29-32-4n, T&P survey, flowed 194 barrels of oil in two hours during a drillstem test of open hole section between 8,115 and 8,135 feet. The test was for three hours and 20 minutes. Gas surfaced in four minutes, and oil followed in an hour and 20 minutes. There was no water on recovery, and flowing pressure was from 205 to 715 pounds. The hour shut-in pressure was 3,250 pounds. Operator is now preparing to acidize the open hole with 500 gallons of acid and test for completion. The 5 1/2 inch casing is set at 8,115 feet.

Stanford No. 1 J. Homer Beal, 2,310 from north and 990 from east lines, 14-31-3n, T&P survey, has a total depth of 527 feet in red beds. Operator is preparing to set surface casing.

Texas Company No. 1 Patterson, 1,989 from north and 1,990 from east lines, 53-07-H&TC survey, is reported at 4,478 feet in lime.

Dawson

Furman No. 1 Connally Esmond, 550 from north and west lines, northwest quarter, 45-34-5n, T&P survey, has a total depth of 4,479 feet in lime. Operator is now circulating while waiting on orders. Observers believe the venture will be plugged and abandoned.

Hunt No. 1 Olin Nix, 1,150 from north and 590 from west lines, 41-23-5n, T&P survey, recovered 490 feet of drilling mud and no shows on a drillstem test from 7,250 to 7,261 feet. Tool was open two hours. Operator is now making more hole.

survey, was completed in the Coronet-2900 area for a pumping potential of 55.96 barrels of oil. There was no water. Gravity is 26.3 degrees, top of pay is 2,955 feet, and total depth measured 2,894 feet. The 5 1/2 inch oil stringer goes to 2,890.

Zephyr Drilling Company No. 1 Alfretha Anderson, 600 from south and west lines, 29-31-2n, T&P survey, is reported at 1,063 feet in red beds.

Man Quizzed In Case Of Missing Girl

GALENA, Ill. (AP)—A Savanna, Ill., ordinance plant worker who officials said claims he knows who killed Evelyn Hartley, missing La Crosse, Wis., baby-sitter, was in custody here today pending questioning by Wisconsin authorities.

Mrs. Lawrence Grebner, wife of Sheriff Grebner of Galena and who also serves as his deputy, said the man also claims he knows the whereabouts of the 15-year-old Hartley girl's body.

The deputy identified the man as Elder G. Frieled, 26, and said he has told several stories but has denied any direct connection with the girl's disappearance.

The Hartley girl has not been seen since early the night of Oct. 24 when she arrived for a baby-sitting job at the home of Vilgo Rasmussen in La Crosse. Dragging operations are under way in the Mississippi River near La Crosse in the continuing search for her body or some solid clue to her whereabouts.

Among several stories Frieled has told is a claim that he had "many dates" with the Hartley girl and that she is buried on an island in the Mississippi near La Crosse, the deputy said.

Edith Gay Returns As C-C Secretary

Edith Gay, who has been city hostess for the past few months, is again associated with the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce as secretary to Manager Jimmie Greene.

Miss Gay has worked for the local Chamber about 12 1/2 years, having started in 1937. Since the beginning of her employment she has spent about three years in other businesses.

Food Scrap Bids Cancelled At Webb

Request for bids on purchase of food scraps from Webb Air Force Base has been cancelled.

The purchasing and contracting office at Webb announced that new bid requests would be put out subsequently on the same item. Originally, bid opening on the food waste, suitable for human consumption, was set for Nov. 10.

Mishap Reported

Another accident occurred at the 3rd and Gregg Street intersection Tuesday evening. It was reported at 8:45 p.m., and police said there were no apparent injuries. Drivers involved were Rosevelt Gilbert of Odessa and James S. Lee of San Diego, Calif.

Phillips No. 2-A Reef, 660 from north and east lines, northwest quarter, 25-33-3n, T&P survey, is reported at 3,745 feet in lime.

Fullerton No. 1 L. M. Anderson, 900 from south and west lines, northeast quarter, 9-31-2n, T&P survey, reached 6,533 feet in lime and shale.

Zonne No. 1 Smith, 44-31-3n, T&P survey, is drilling at 7,000 feet in shale and lime.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Helen Virgil Little, 660 from west and 1,716 from north lines, 11-32-2n, T&P survey, got down to 9,166 feet in lime.

Oceanic, Green and McSpadden No. 2 Lou Winstar, 990 from north and east lines, 25-33-3n, T&P survey, is drilling at 6,570 feet in lime and shale.

Woodson No. 1 W. S. Cole, 390 from south and east lines, northeast quarter, 36-26-H&TC survey, is making hole at 5,876 feet in lime and shale.

Martin
Texas Company No. 1 A. H. State, 660 from south and east lines, northeast quarter, 12-7-University survey, had the pump installed, and the operator is trying to complete. Gauges should be available tomorrow.

Hamon No. 1-C University, 600 from west and 1,980 from south lines, 13-7-University survey, bored to 12,078 feet in lime and shale.

Stanford No. 1-B University, 660 from south and west lines, 44-6-University survey, hit 6,949 feet in lime.

Mitchell
Inman No. 1 Barber, 330 from west and 2,310 from south lines, 7-28-1s, T&P survey, is waiting on orders at total depth of 3,144 feet.

"There is no question about it—of today we are in trouble politically, despite an excellent showing in Virginia and in several municipal races." He continued:

New Directors Are Named For Martin Hospital

STANTON (SC) — Three new directors of the Martin County Memorial Hospital Association were elected at a membership meeting at the Texas Theatre here Tuesday night.

The new directors are H. S. Blocker, J. C. Sale and Gordon Stone. They succeed retiring directors, C. E. Jones, G. W. Teague and G. Tammell. All other officers and directors are holdovers.

A plan is being developed here, according to a spokesman for the hospital board, to have the ownership dissolved and the operation of the hospital taken over by the county.

In such an event a vote of the people of the county will be necessary to authorize the county to assume an indebtedness of approximately $70,000 which is outstanding against the hospital. If the vote is against the county taking over this obligation, then the hospital will remain under the management of the association.

McCarthy Calls Alleged Ex-Spy

NEW YORK (AP)—A man who Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy believes to be Abraham Brothman, who served a prison term in the Rosenberg atom spy case, was summoned today before the U.S. Senate investigations subcommittee in its probe of alleged radar espionage.

McCarthy (R-Wis.), subcommittee chairman, said yesterday the man is now working in a radar plant.

However, an official of the factory involved said later it is not a radar plant, but makes a "machine shop line" and nothing having to do with radar, and never has. The official said the firm makes "some government material but nothing of any importance."

McCarthy said yesterday that "the moment we heard that Brothman was free and working in a radar plant, we called the plant, the Techni-flex Co. in Port Jervis, N.Y." The Senator added:

31 Young Officers Leave Webb After Graduation

Thirty-one young officers, with some fatherly advice still in their minds from an "old" hand at the flying game, were on their way home on short leave Wednesday.

They were the members of group one of Class 53-G, which graduated at Webb AFB in Monday afternoon ceremonies. At two week intervals, 53-C-2 and 53-C-3 will complete their flight training and receive wings.

Graduation of the class climaxed colorful activities at the base and spotlighted the appearance of Gen. Russ Spicer, commanding officer of Nellis AFB, Las Vegas, Nev. The address followed a review in which airmen passed before the general and the base commander, Col. Fred M. Dean. Approximately 2,000 were on hand to witness the event and the spitting-tongued aerial acrobatic exhibition of Capt. Alex P. Goodkin. Sixteen planes, led by Col. William A. Jones did two flyovers and peeled off in salute as the man marched in formal review, led by the Webb AFB band.

Congratulating the graduates, Gen. Spicer spoke informally to challenge them to "examine your consciences as to why they entered the Air Force."

"I urge you to consider long and wisely the meaning of the Force your career," he said. "I sincerely hope we will not be cast into a war and I do not believe war is inevitable. But I do believe that

Three Persons Are Sentenced By Judge Here

Three persons were sentenced to prison terms totalling 23 years when they waived jury trials and their cases were heard in 11th District Court this morning.

Randall Hendrix was given a 12-year penitentiary sentence after he pleaded guilty to three counts of burglary. Coleman Lawhon, charged with Hendrix in each of the cases, also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to eight years.

Joe Ed Reeves was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary after being adjudged guilty of forgery.

Howard L. Van Zandt and Lawrence W. Gable both entered pleas of not guilty. Van Zandt was indicted last week on six counts of forgery and passing. Gable was indicted on charges of passing a forged instrument. Trial of both is set for Nov. 23.

Testimony in the Reeves case was given by Deputy Sheriff Jim McCoy and Eleanor Gordon, employee of the Newsom grocery on West Third Street. Both testified concerning a check for $227.40 drawn on S&M Drilling Company, a non-existent concern, and cashed at the Newsom Store. District Attorney Elton Gilliland read a statement signed by Reeves in which the defendant admitted cashing the check.

The court appointed attorneys to represent all five defendants. R. H. Weaver was named to represent Gable and Van Zandt. Walton Morrison was appointed to defend Reeves. John Hall was named to represent Hendrix, and Carroll Smith was appointed Lawhon's attorney.

Rite Set Today For Mrs. Page

Services for Mrs. Nina Page, 54 former Big Spring resident and member of a widely known family, were to be held Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the Eberly-River Chapel.

Mrs. Page, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Mae McGregor, an early settler in the county, was one of six persons killed in the head-on collision of two passenger cars near Hopewell early Monday. She and a companion were returning to Carlsbad, N. M. from Lubbock when a car veered into their path on a gentle curve. No one survived the impact.

She had lived in Carlsbad, where she operated a union bus terminal, since 1923.

Services were in charge of Lyle Price, Church of Christ minister, assisted by the Rev. E. G. Newcomer and the Rev. R. F. Pepper of Knott.

Rites Are Set For Kennedy Infant

Funeral for little Cynthia Irene Kennedy, 11-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo M. Kennedy, was to be held at 5 p.m. Wednesday at Valley Chapel.

The baby died suddenly Monday evening at the family home at 406 Bell, and indications pointed to the probability that she had come in contact with a wall plug and a gas connection at the same instant.

Rites were to be conducted by Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and burial was to be in the habyardland section of Trinity Memorial Park.

Fort Worth Negro Phones FBI Head

FORT WORTH (AP)—Lawrence Peters, whose auto was dynamited in the driveway of his Riverside home, has taken his troubles to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The Negro, 35, said today he telephoned Hoover in Washington Monday night, hours after his car was blasted.

Hoover promised he would have agents investigate, the Negro said. Peters bought his home in a white neighborhood last August.

Martin C-C Board To Meet Thursday

STANTON (SC) — The board of directors of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular monthly luncheon meeting at the Belvue Motel at noon Thursday. It has been announced by Cecil Bridges, president.

Mrs. Hilda Weathers, Chamber of Commerce manager, says the principal matter to be discussed at the meeting will be the Christmas season program.

MARKETS

WALL STREET (AP)—The stock market opened higher today with gains in major fractions.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Douglas, Montgomery Ward, Union Pacific, Bell Telephone, General Electric, Radio, and U. S. Steel.

Lower were Chrysler, Republic Steel, Standard Oil (N.Y.), and Standard Oil (Ind.).

Demo Wins Dismay Shivers And Friends

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—The strength shown by Democrats in yesterday's elections threw Eisenhower-supporting Southern governors for a political loss today.

Their anti-administration colleagues cheered the state and local results as indicating a trend which might result next year in the election of a Democratic Congress.

Both groups, of course, were aware that many state and local issues were involved and that no national trend may have been indicated.

Gov. Shivers of Texas said it seemed to him "the best candidates" won in individual races and that he was not familiar enough with local situations to interpret any national trend in the results.

But Gov. Johnston Murray of Oklahoma said the results to him "look like a trend."

"It looks like a Democratic Congress in 1954," Murray declared, adding:

"It is a repudiation of the Eisenhower administration in some respects."

Shivers, a Democrat, supported Eisenhower and helped lead the state Democratic organization into the Eisenhower camp in 1952's presidential election. The Oklahoma governor supported Adlai Stevenson.

Shivers, who yesterday flayed federal encroachment of state rights at the Southern Governors Conference here, said he suspected the letter written by Paul Troast, GOP candidate for governor of New Jersey, asking clemency for Joseph Fay, convicted extortionist and labor racketeer, had a great deal to do with the New Jersey Democratic victory.

Shivers told the governors yesterday that states fussing about federal inroads on their rights should blame themselves for much of it.

"We have allowed ourselves to be bribed with our own money," he said, adding that the doctrine of implied Federal Powers as promulgated by the Supreme Court plus federal money have contributed to federal advances into state territory.

"As an example, we may consider the construction of dams. This can be a fine example of

Pre-Conference Meet Again Gets Nowhere

By SAM SUMMERLIN
PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists today bluntly told American envoy Arthur Dean they feel he has failed to "advance anything useful" in efforts to get the Korean peace conference underway.

Dean called the Red statement "the same old propaganda pot-boiler."

The diplomats got nowhere in their meeting. They will meet for the 10th time at 11 a.m. Thursday (9 p.m. EST Wednesday).

Dean told newsmen he felt the time, place and composition of the peace parley could be handed out to subcommittees for simultaneous discussions. But he has not given this plan to the Communists.

The Communists Wednesday angrily accused the United States of

Policeman Tricks Would-Be Suicide And Rescues Him

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two men stood on a hotel roof, 11 stories above the ground, one a disabled widower and the other a policeman.

"Don't jump and hurt somebody," pleaded Officer W. H. Giles. "If you want to kill yourself, I'll let you use my pistol and you can go down in the basement and do it."

Giles proffered the service revolver. Charles T. Akens, 40, perched on the edge of the parapet, reached for it. Giles grabbed him. At the same moment two other officers grabbed him from behind and pulled him back to safety.

Giles had unloaded the gun before offering it.

The rooftop drama enacted yesterday stemmed from Akens' dependence over the death of his wife and the fear his three children would be put out for adoption, police said.

Magnolia Awards Plaque To Griffin

Johnnie Griffin, local service station operator, is the possessor of a silver plaque, presented him by the Magnolia Petroleum Company in recognition of 10 years of service to the motoring public in association with Magnolia.

The award was made at an Appreciation dinner given in San Angelo by Magnolia. Some 250 dealers from towns in this area attended the affair, and numbers of them received special awards for completion of 10, 20 and 30 years of service under the sign of Magnolia's Flying Red Horse. Actually, Griffin's association with Magnolia dates back 15 years.

R. H. Scott, district manager for Magnolia, made the presentations. He pointed out that the dealers, as independent businessmen, represent America's free enterprise system which enables a man to get ahead on his own merits.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

In reviewing last weekend's football games for the Associated Press, Harold V. Ratliff chose not to view the outcome of the Breckenridge-Big Spring game with too much significance.

Wrote he:

"(The game) removed one of the top-rated teams in this class and makes Texarkana the outstanding choice in the division."

Perhaps it does, in the eyes of people in the commonwealth who live from Dallas on eastward.

West Texans who follow the sport, no doubt, have opinions of the contrary. There's no way of ever proving it but there are at least three teams in District 1-AAA which probably could handle Texarkana on any given day. That would be Big Spring, Breckenridge and Sweetwater.

Here is Texarkana's record, in event you're interested:

Texarkana, Tex., 27 Texarkana, Ark. 0; Little Rock, Ark. 13, Texarkana 7; Texarkana 55, Tyler 21; Texarkana 12, Baytown 6; Texarkana 6, Lufkin 9; Texarkana 28, Nacogdoches 7.

The club's win over Baytown came after Lamar of Houston had beaten the Ganders, 34-0.

GREAT PRIMARY 'MADE' 1940 STEER TEAM

How does the present Big Steer team compare with the 1940 Steers, the last local outfit to claim a district championship?

They would have been a lot alike, in some respects.

Just as does the present outfit, the 1940 team had a great line. Ralph Stewart and Lem Nations were the ends, Winsett Nance and Clifton Patton the tackles, Frank Barton and Hal Battle the guards and Paul Katch the center.

The team's offense was built around the passing of Horace Bostick and his favorite target was Stewart. The club had lost all its backfield speed when Johnny Miller had departed the previous year but had plenty of power wrapped up in Pete Pressley, who was hard to tackle despite the fact that he weighed only 170 pounds.

Tabor Rowe and Owen Brummett also helped in Coach Pat Murphy's plan of attack, both as ball carriers and pass receivers. Jack Collins and David Lamun were backfield subs.

The present team was bigger—Patton was the biggest man on the '40 club and he weighed 220. Gene Rush, first line reserve, tipped the scales at 190 or thereabouts.

Murphy had his team running off the short punt and the single wing. Among other feats, the 1940 Steers beat Abilene, 25-6, and tied Odessa, 0-0. It nipped Midland, 6-0, when Bostick completed a touchdown pass to Rowe in the last three minutes.

Unlike the local team, too, the Steers that year were a bit shy of reserve strength.

After winning district, El Paso High School nosed out the Steers in bi-district on penetrations after the score had wound up at 27-0.

Many fans left the field thinking Big Spring had won by a point, that the officials had made a mistake in ruling one of Barton's conversion tries no good. To this day, there are fans who will tell you the ball hit the upright, bounced down and hit the cross bar, then fell on over.

Strange thing about that one kick.

When Steer Stadium had been moved from across the tracks, a measurement was taken on the width of the goal posts and that particular goal was found to be three inches too long. The goal was sawed off and made to conform. Had it been left like it was, Big Spring would have won the game because Barton's kick would have sailed on through.

Yearling Teams Yield Closies

SWEETWATER—Sweetwater Seventh and Eighth Grade football teams won two decisions from Big Spring clubs here Tuesday afternoon.

The games were originally booked for Thursday but were moved forward following a conference of the coaches.

The Big Spring Seventh Graders lost, 14-13, after yielding a touchdown in the final few moments of play.

Jerry Graham scores both touchdowns for the Yearlings, each time on the boot-leg play. He went 65 yards in one scamper, 50 in the other. Jimmy Whitefield raced around end for the Big Springers' extra point.

Big Spring players dropped several passes that would have been sure touchdowns.

Up front, it was again Ronnie Peische that did most of the heavy work. Peische seemed to be in on every other tackle.

In that one, Big Spring led at half time, 13-7.

The Big Spring Eighth Graders yielded, 13-6, to the Sweetwater eleven.

Theodore Hernandez went four yards for the lone Yearlings score in the third period.

The score was 0-0 at half time.

Rebels Claim Most Honors

By The Associated Press

Arlington State dominates the offense in the Pioneer Conference and has become an overwhelming favorite to win the championship the second season in a row.

The Rebels as a team have rolled up 2,106 yards rushing and passing in seven games for an average of 301 yards per contest. The Rebels top in rushing with 1,638 yards but Ranger is the leading team in passing with 616 yards in seven games.

Bernie Cook of Arlington State is the league's leading ball-carrier with 368 yards on 64 runs while John Symank of Arlington State has the best average. He has gained 322 yards on 33 runs for an average of 9.8 yards each time he carries the ball.

Sammy Howard of Arlington State is the leading passer, having completed 22 out of 68 for 345 yards.

Defensive honors go to Schreiner, which has held its foes to an average of 132 yards per game. Last week Schreiner limited Tarleton State to 10 yards on the ground and still got beat.

Herman Tidwell of Tarleton State is the leading punter with an average of 40.1 yards on 29 kicks while John Harrell of Schreiner tops the punt returners with an average of 16.3 yards on six runs.

John Wilson of Ranger is the leading pass receiver with 245 yards on 18 catches but Jube Belcher of San Angelo has caught the most passes. He has snared 30 for 234 yards.

Steers Working On Second Mile

The Big Spring Steers are now working on their second mile in total football gains for the season.

In their first six starts, the Longhorns have picked up 1,819 yards, 1,539 of which have come in scrimmage rushes.

Though the opposition has out-gained the Big Springers in the air, 478 to 280, the Steers' record for percentage of completions is almost identical to that of the combined foe, .352 to .353.

The Steers have been content to move the ball on the ground, have less than one half the number of aerials tried by the enemy.

On rushing plays, the Steers have picked up more than twice as many yards as the six opponents, 1,539 to 719.

Frosty Robison, enjoying a great night against Breckenridge last week (he picked up twice as many yards as the entire Buckle backfield), surpassed J. C. Armistead in average gains.

Armistead is still the leader in total gains, having annexed 618 paces in 104 carries, compared to Robison's 585 yards in 88 tries.

Robison's average pickup is 6.7 yards, Armistead's an even six feet.

Billy Martin is working on his second hundred yards in total gains.

Eagle Gridders To Miss Game

DENTON—With three regulars out of action because of injuries, North Texas State makes its second trip to Mississippi this season, playing Mississippi at Oxford Saturday.

A dislocated knee in the San Jose State game last week has removed guard Ray Verkerk probably for the remainder of the season. Center Lawrence Strickland and tackle Lee Wise were knocked off the Eagle roster by practice injuries.

The first trip made by North Texas State to Mississippi was to play Mississippi State and the Eagles lost that one, 21-0. Coach Odus Mitchell says the team will have a hard time keeping it from being two losses in Mississippi against the once-beaten Rebels Saturday.

Today Is Deadline

DALLAS—This is the last day to apply for Cotton Bowl tickets. The public sale, by mail, opened Sunday and already many more applications for tickets have been received than there are tickets to fill them. But any application post-marked before midnight tonight will be accepted.

McMurry Opens Cage Workouts

ABILENE (SpI) — Basketball practice for the McMurry College Indians got under way Nov. 2, with 12 candidates for the Tribe quintet reporting to Edgar Payne, McMurry's new head basketball coach.

"Some of our boys are inexperienced," Payne said, "but we've never had before at McMurry, and I believe we're going to have a hustling team."

Returning lettermen on the Tribe roster are Jerry English, Phillips; Jim Jowell, Phoenix, Ariz.; Fred Shelton and Don Taylor, Avoca; Bill Anderson, Gatesville, and Charles Caraway, Tulsa.

A trio of tall freshmen prospects expected to boost McMurry's basketball stock in the Texas Conference are Bob Harris, San Angelo, Carl Anderson, Sweetwater, and George Peel, Rotan. Other new blood for the Redskins is supplied by a couple of outstanding transfers from the 1952-53 championship five at Lon Morris Junior College—Boyd Sylvestine, Livingston, and J. N. (Bud) Hudson, Minden.

McHan's yardage total for six games is 937—an average of 5.1 per try. He's completed 43 of 78 passes for a .551 average, ranks second in the Southwest in punting with a mean of 39.6 yards and has returned punts for more yards than any other safetyman in the league—184.

When the Razorback star gains his first yard against Rice Saturday night it will be his 3,000th in less than three full seasons.

Arkansas Coach Bowen Wyatt, who usually waits until season's end to praise any individual player, broke his policy last night.

"Lamar has worked very hard," he said, "and he richly deserves the Back-of-the-Week honor."

Rival coaches have had higher praise for the multi-threat Razorback.

Ed Price of Texas said: "On a good day, McHan could beat any team in the United States."

"He's certainly one of the best all-around backs in the nation," said Texas Christian's Abe Martin.

George Sauer, whose Baylor Bears are ranked third nationally, was happy to get past Arkansas with a one-touchdown victory and lauded McHan as a player who "does everything well."

Ray George of Texas A&M said, "He's everything everybody has ever said about him."

Double-Duty Ball Brought Out McHan's Brilliance

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—It took the return to non-specialized, double-duty football to bring out the full brilliance of Lamar McHan of Arkansas, The Associated Press Back-of-the-Week.

The 190-pound single wing tailback, a senior, is playing defensive ball for the first time and doing a tremendous job of it. At the same time, he is having his greatest season on offense.

A true "workhorse," he leads the Southwest Conference in total offense by a wide margin while playing with a team that has won only two of six games.

McHan was named Back-of-the-Week for his titanic one-man show last Saturday night, when Arkansas upset Texas A&M, 41-14.

He ran for 73 yards, completed 11 of 13 passes for 184 yards, scored two touchdowns, passed for four extra points in four tries, intercepted a pass, made half a dozen tackles from his safety position, punted, kicked off and called signals.

Least impressed by this rampage was McHan himself. When told he had been selected Back-of-the-Week, the handsome blond displayed his typical modesty.

"I'm very honored," he said. "I just want to thank all of my teammates for making this honor possible. They gave me the greatest blocking I've ever received."

His teammates said they had expected McHan to win the honor, but nonetheless were overjoyed.

Raiders' Defense To Get Real Test

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's defense could easily face its most severe test of the season against the University of Arizona here Saturday afternoon.

Ken Cardella, Arizona tailback who's currently second among the nation's rushers, is the principal reason. Making him especially dangerous is the fact that Coach Warren Woodson's winged-T and spread offenses pose the constant threat of all-the-way passes through-

Thus, Tech defenders won't be able to concentrate on one particular phase, as they have in a few instances this season.

Texas Western and College of the Pacific were primarily passing teams, so the Raider defenses were set for aerial attacks. Against Oklahoma A&M and Mississippi State, Tech worked mainly to stop running offense, and again the Raiders came through with victories.

Texas A&M, only team with a strong attack combining passing and running, handed the Raiders their only loss against six wins.

Further complicating Tech's problem Saturday afternoon is the largest forward wall to face the Raiders this season. The Arizona line, sparked by All-Border Conference tackle Buddy Lewis, averages 214 pounds. That's nearly 20 pounds per man more than the Raiders average in the line.

Three Sextets Tied For 2nd

Three teams are now tied for second place in District Six six-man football standings but two of those clubs, Flower Grove and Knott, tangle in Flower Grove at 2 p.m. Friday.

Klondike has won first place in the conference by ripping off five successive wins.

Ackerly is the other team tied for second place but still must play Klondike.

Football Officials Frown On NCAA Prexy's Blast

NEW YORK, (AP)—College football officials agreed today for the most part that there are certain abuses in the gridiron sport but none went so far as the NCAA president who would abolish the game "unless it is cleansed of hypocrisy, skulduggery and cheating."

Dr. A. B. Moore, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and faculty chairman of athletics at Alabama, said the blame for current evils in the sport is shared by alumni, parents of athletes, coaches and college officials. He made the charge in a speech at Talladega, Ala.

Matty Bell, veteran Southern Methodist University athletic director, agreed that there are some evils in some places in college football.

"And we should have the courage to admit it, and make every effort to eliminate it," he said. "But I don't know of any violations now in the Southwest Conference. In my 23 years in the conference I've never known of less suspicion and criticism among the schools."

Moore, who also is dean of the Graduate School at Alabama, said he has seen "many of the benefits from intercollegiate athletics" and he was advocating "operating on the patient and not killing him."

"I expect there always will be some abuses in intercollegiate athletics because of its highly competitive nature," said Ike Armstrong, Minnesota's athletic director. "Colleges and universities should promote only the type of intercollegiate programs that administrators, faculties and governing boards feel to be honest, constructive and worthwhile."

"The alumni," Moore also said "would rather go on cheating than expose others who are cheating. You may read that the NCAA has caught 10 or 12 schools but not

Webb Will Open Season Dec. 3

Three games have been tentatively scheduled for Webb's Duster basketball team this season. The current slate includes 15 games on the home court in Building 67. All 30 of these contests, many of them yet to be confirmed, will be against other Air Force base quintets.

At present the season opener will be played at Webb on December 3 with the Dusters playing host to Bergstrom AFB.

Basketball coach Al Flanders has pared the team to 19 players following the first week of practice. When the final cut is made, the Dusters will have a 16-man team for home games and 14 players for the road.

Daily drills, now held from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. each day, will be extended to two hours next week, Flanders announced.

Home Duster games will start at 8 p.m. They will be preceded by a single Squadron Basketball League game at 6:30.

Tentative schedule:
Dec. 3-4, Bergstrom AFB at Webb.
Dec. 10-11, Gary AFB at Webb.
Dec. 17-18, Webb at Bergstrom AFB.

Jan. 7-8, Webb at Carswell AFB.
Jan. 14-15, Webb at Sheppard AFB.
Feb. 8-9, Webb at Goodfellow AFB.

Feb. 11-12, Walters AFB at Webb.
Feb. 15-16, Holloman AFB at Webb.
Feb. 17, Walker AFB at Webb.
Feb. 25-26, Webb at Walters AFB.
March 4-5, Webb at Holloman AFB.

March 8-9, Sheppard AFB at Webb.
March 18-19, Goodfellow AFB at Webb.
March 25-26, Carswell AFB at Webb.

nearly enough is being done." "We are 100 per cent behind any movement that will help athletics," commented Ed Krause, Notre Dame's athletic director. From Dr. J. Hills Miller, president of the University of Florida and president of the Southeastern Conference, came this reaction: "I suspect if you looked far enough you would find some of that in certain quarters. But I am a little surprised to hear Dr. Moore say that. He is a fine, responsible

DAVEY MEETS ANDREWS IN DETROIT TONIGHT

DETROIT (AP)—Newcomer Al Andrews gets his crack at the gold and glory strung across the national television cable tonight when he meets Chuck Davey in Olympia Stadium.

Andrews, former Fifth Army champion from Superior, Wis., earned this shot at the big time, and big money, by outpointing person and must have some basis for it." Larry (Moon) Mullins, Kansas State athletic director, said Moore "is in a position to know what he is talking about" in cleaning up football, but he differs with the NCAA head in this respect: "I don't blame the alumni or parents of boys. The great majority of the alumni want the highest ideals to prevail. But too often, a disproportionate influence by a very few (usually self-appointed) is condoned." Carroll Widdoes, former Ohio State coach and now coach and athletic director at Ohio University, admitted there are some abuses.

"But I believe the good things outweigh the bad," he said. "I also feel that there should be some competitive thing, abuses and evils are certain to crop up. But it is up to people in athletics, those close to athletics, to keep abuses to a minimum and get the good things out in front."

George (Patsy) Clark, director of athletics at Nebraska, also agreed with Dr. Moore.

"I feel that it is up to the individual institution to set up its standards and to be honest about them. I also feel that there should be some enforcement body beyond the conferences that can establish standards for scholastic standing for athletic subsidization and enforce them. It could be the NCAA."

Don Faurot, Missouri coach and president of the Football Coaches Association also was emphatic in support of Moore's statements. "These evils can be controlled if the university administration wants to control them," Faurot said.

Other comment included: James T. Penny, South Carolina and president of the Atlantic Coast Conference: "People shouldn't make charges of 'hypocrisy, skulduggery and cheating' in college football unless they can come forth with information to prove them."

Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma coach and athletic director: "There can be no simple comment on the problem but an institution should know what's going on and be able to police its own athletic program."

H. C. Willett, Southern California and Moore's NCAA predecessor: "We had serious problems in football 50 years ago but we licked them and the game survived. Most of us know we have troubles today of different sort but I have faith to believe we will survive them as we did 50 years ago."

Jim Tatum, Maryland coach: "I think the cases he (Dr. Moore) speaks about are very isolated but I wouldn't doubt that there continues instances of over-enthusiastic alumni making promises or under the table deals with boys. I go along with President Moore in saying these things should be corrected but I don't think there is too much the schools can do about it."

Teen-ager Proves A Cool Cookie In The Saddle

By ED CORRIGAN NEW YORK, (AP)—A cool cookie is pretty 18-year-old Shirley Thomas, the youngest member of the Canadian equestrian team.

Cookie...er, Shirley, is doing her best to show this is a woman's world after all, and the crowds at Madison Square Garden where the National Horse Show enters its second day today are solidly behind her.

After drawing a very large zero in the big Harrisburg show last week, Shirley already has one personal triumph to her credit in the international jumping competition. In fact, the Canadians won both yesterday's international tests. Bob Ballard took the other.

So the United States, Ireland and Britain have some catching up to do. "Just another event," shrugged Miss Thomas when she was asked how come she could win before 10,000 cheering spectators and couldn't do anything a week previous.

"Of course I've owned Revelon's Princess Midas (her mount) five years and I know the horse well," she said. "Princess is only 15 hands, which is about two hands smaller than Revelon's Dwight Sable whom I rode at Harrisburg. The Garden is a smaller course than Harrisburg, so I prefer the smaller horse."

How about the bandaged finger that she pulled on the next to last jump? "Nothing to it," replied the Ottawa debutante. "I'm all ready to go again."

The crowd certainly took Shirley to heart and when she whirled around the difficult course in 39 seconds on a jumpoff she received a mighty ovation.

At the end of the regulation session, she was tied with England's Pat Smythe, up on Prince Hal. Neither had a fault. Miss Smythe, too, went around the jumpoff without knocking down a barrier. But she was clocked in 40 seconds.

There was a three-way tie for third among Lt. Col. R. M. Lewellyn of Britain, Ballard and Lt. Col. Charles Baker of Canada. Lewellyn was up on Foxhunter, his Olympic-winning mount. In the afternoon session, Miss Thomas and Arthur McCashin of the United States were tied for second.

Jack O'Lantern, Atomic and Little David are in a three-way tie for first in the open jumping competition, each with five points and nine events to go. In the conformation hunter class, Angel, with a first and a third, leads with six points and eight tests ahead.

Sacrifice Fly Will Return To Rule Book

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The sacrifice fly, which should help long ball hitters improve their batting averages, will be back in the baseball rule book in 1954.

Except for 1939 it's been missing for 23 seasons. The revived rule says that any fly ball which permits a runner to score after the catch will not count as a time at bat against the hitter. Some experts figure this can add as much as seven to 10 points to the batting averages of power hitters. The overall figures for the major leagues in 1939 when the rule was in effect didn't show any marked changes. The sensational league average was up five points over the year before; the American League dropped two points.

The committee also favored hitters on two other points, turned down proposals to bring back the spitball and it approved the use of "harder" and "softer" bats.

The "harder" bats are laminated—strips of wood glued together. The "softer" bats, made of soft wood, are said to be useful for bunting.

The committee, meeting for the first time in more than two years, tightened rules of other rules and wrote a new one requiring players to bring their gloves to the dugout at the end of each inning.

Among the changes were: Official recognition of suspended games—games halted by curfews, or light failure. These games may be completed at a later date. Several leagues already have such rules although the national committee never before had recognized them.

Addition of a footnote to the rule on "tagging up" after a fly. The note says the base runner must start from a standing position in contact with the bag. Some players including Bob Thompson and Al Dark of the New York Giants had been taking a running start from short left field.

Insertion of the word "fair" in rule 7.05F, which says a runner is out if hit by a batted ball. Removal of the mandatory 90-day suspension against a manager who orders his team off the field and forfeits a game. Dixie Walker did this several years ago while managing Atlanta. The punishment now will be up to the league president.

Revision of the rules on a live ball touched by "equipment detached from its proper position." The old rules automatically gave a batsman three bases on a batted ball and a runner two bases on a live thrown ball. The change limits the rules so that they will apply only if the action is intentional and the ball is in fair territory.

Ruled it unsportsmanlike conduct for a fielder to take a position in the line of vision of the batter and purposely attempt to distract the batter. This was an old trick of Eddie Stanky, now manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Henderson County In Driver's Seat

By The Associated Press

Henderson County can get no less than a tie for the Texas Junior College Conference football championship.

Blinn College beat Navarro, 19-0, last week to make this possible. Henderson has won three out of three with one game to go. All other members of the league have lost as many as one game each.

Allen Academy broke into the win column last week with a 7-6 decision over Cisco. Henderson County didn't play a conference game but lost to Wharton of the South Texas Conference, 39-7.

One conference game is scheduled this week. Navarro and Allen Academy get together at Corsicana Saturday. Cisco plays the McHenry B team Thursday and Blinn engages Schreiner of the Pioneer Conference at Brenham Saturday.

Work As Unit Is Secret Of Success At Baylor

WACO (AP)—Baylor has its stars but the main feature of an unbeaten, untied march thus far is a team effort.

The Bears are playing as a unit. The four backs are so nearly equal in all-around ability that sports writers come away from their games each Saturday singing the praises of a new star.

It appears unlikely that any Baylor back will lead the Southwest Conference in scoring, ball-carrying or any other individual department. Nor is any Bruin end apt to carry off pass-receiving honors.

They simply pass the glory around—and block furiously for each other. For instance, yesterday L. G. Dupre has gone for five touchdowns, Jerry Coody and Cotton Davidson four each and Allan Jones two. Reserve backs Weldon Holley and Billy Hooper have accounted for three other scores.

And while Jones isn't up among the scoring leaders, he has gained 375 yards on 73 carries and has the best yards-per-carry average of all the regular Baylor backs—3.1.

Dupre has gained 141 yards rushing in addition to more than 200 on punt and kickoff returns and pass receptions.

Coody has hammered through enemy lines for 291 yards, intercepted two passes, recovered one fumble, saved what appeared to be certain enemy touchdowns on two occasions, spearheaded the Bears' second half rally against Arkansas and made himself quite annoying to other Baylor opponents.

Then there is Davidson, who has tossed six touchdown passes, averaged 38.4 yards on 22 well-placed punts, directed the team brilliantly and turned in sterling defensive play.

Box Knowles, all-conference tackle who was handicapped by an early-season back injury, is back in there matching James Ray Smith's great play at the opposite tackle. Clarence Dierking, Pete Erben and Bill Lucky gave the Bears stout and steady play at the guards, and sophomore Jimmy Taylor continues to improve at center, a position completely new to him in September. Excell Amyett has come along well as a replacement for either Charley Smith or Wayne Hopkins, the starting ends.

There are some capable reserves, like tackles Bill Green and Clyde Letbetter; ends Henry Gremminger, Ronnie Black and Charles Bristow; Quarterback Billy Hooper; Holley, whose 50-yard touchdown run against Vanderbilt was the team's longest of the season; halfbacks Mickey Sullivan and Bill Sherman, who tops the conference in pass interceptions with four. The opposition has a lot of men to beat if it beats Baylor.

Jorgensen Appears At Las Vegas Club

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U-P)—Christine (erstwhile George) Jorgensen, who professes to have undergone a sexual transformation from male to female with the aid of Danish scientists, told about her operation last night.

It was the opening of a two-week engagement at the Sahara, the hotel which cancelled her booking four months ago on the grounds she wasn't what she said she was. The hotel has since re-neged.

Miss Jorgensen has a new act—and a partner—in which she sings three songs, tells a few Jorgensen jokes and gives a brief rundown on what happened to her in Denmark.

For this the hotel says it is paying her $12,500 a week.

Hotel Detective Awarded Damages

LOS ANGELES (U-P)—A Superior Court jury has awarded a Statler Hotel detective $187,000 damages for injuries he suffered during a melee which he said started when two wealthy wholesale grocers tried to cut cubes at band leader Xavier Cugat.

The judgment was won yesterday by William Howard Tobin Sr., 58, from Alfonso and Victor De Cassus, brothers. Tobin's suit charged the brawl climaxed a football game celebration in one of the hotel's dining rooms. Tobin says he is still partly paralyzed from a kick in the groin.

Colorado, Wyoming Gets Storm Snowfall

DENVER (U-P)—A minor storm which left half an inch of snow on the ground here brought a tardy touch of winter to much of Colorado and Wyoming early today.

Rain or snow was scattered over Colorado and the southern half of Wyoming, centered on Denver. It started tapering off by midnight and forecasters expected clearing skies by noon.

Heavy snow fell on Rabbit Ears, Loveland, Berthoud and Kenosha passes in the Colorado Rockies, measuring up to three inches in Kenosha.

Detroit Mayor Wins Third Term Handily

DETROIT (U-P)—Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo was conceded victory early today in his bid for re-election in the nonpartisan municipal balloting.

Cobo won his third term in office in yesterday's election when his attorney opponent, James A. Lincoln, conceded the victory.

With the final unofficial tallies of the city's 1,480 precincts in, Cobo had 236,967 votes to Lincoln's 159,972.

Diegel Heads Colorado City Youth Board

COLORADO CITY — Chuck Diegel, manager of radio station KVMC in Colorado City, was elected as president of a newly formed Youth Board, Tuesday night in a joint meeting of civic clubs at the Civic House.

Representatives from civic and study clubs and veteran's organizations attended the organizational meeting of the Youth Board which will lay plans for a Youth Center. Student representation at the meeting included Charlotte Humphreys, president of the Student Council; Mac Morris, president of the senior class; Perry Barber, president of the sophomore class, and Sam Hulme and Bertie Dorn, selected to represent the Junior High School.

Mrs. Georgia McNeill, student counselor and member of the High School staff told the group that Junior High students had cleared $165 from a Halloween party and would donate that sum toward completion of an unfinished room in the Civic House, which can be used for a meeting place for young people.

Diegel, vice commander of the American Legion, said there was a possibility that the Legion Hut could be used for the center if space in the Civic House proved inadequate.

Plans were not formed, pending a future meeting of the Youth Board, advisors from other civic clubs and student representatives.

Other officers elected were: vice president, Mrs. Bill Brown; secretary, Mrs. Johnny Grubbs; and treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Lalin.

Reno Lawyer Plans To Fight Hoodlum Use Of Nevada Act

RENO — Reno's young district attorney goes to Washington next week to ask the Supreme Court to help keep Nevada from becoming "a haven for hoodlums."

On behalf of New York and Nevada, Attorney Jack Streeter, 32, will ask the high court to set aside a Nevada court ruling which permitted gambler Joseph Stacher to remain in this state although indicted in New York.

Stacher, 47, formerly operated a restaurant at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Stacher wasn't the first to take advantage of habeas corpus in Nevada's extradition laws. Others were Texas gambler Benny Blinn, Michigan gamblers Lincoln Fitzgerald and Danny Sullivan, and Frankie Frost, who escaped extradition on a New York jewel theft charge in the 1930s.

Agriculture Department Makes Cost Analysis Of Meat Prices

WASHINGTON — What happens to the price of beef from the time a steer leaves a ranch until you buy a choice cut at your neighborhood store?

Why should it go up, for example, from 15½ cents a pound to an average 35 cents or a top price of $1.09 a pound?

Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) took the question to the Agriculture Department. He asked that, for illustration, a steer be followed from a ranch in Wyoming to a retail market in Washington, with a breakdown of costs and prices along the way.

The department responded with a detailed analysis of the cost of marketing a 700-pound feeder steer of good grade from a ranch in western Wyoming, using Oct. 15 prices. The study was made available today.

The Wyoming rancher sold his steer in the Omaha livestock market for $15.50 for 100 pounds (15½ cents a pound). The rancher had marketing costs of $1.65 for 100 pounds ($1.35 for transportation and 30 cents for yardage, commission and so on at the Omaha market). His return thus was $13.85 for 100 pounds.

The steer was bought by a cattle feeder in western Iowa. He fattened the animal for 240 days into a choice grade steer weighing 1,120 pounds and then sold it to a Chicago packer at $25.50 for 100 pounds.

What costs did the cattle feeder have? First he trucked the steer from Omaha to his feed lot in Iowa. That cost him 35 cents for 100 pounds. To haul the steer to Chicago cost him 85 cents for 100 pounds. In Chicago he had yardage and other costs of 30 cents for 100 pounds.

The feeder's biggest expense was in fattening up the steer for slaughter. Corn, soybean meal, hay and other feed cost him $111.45. This, on top of the purchase price and other expenses, meant direct costs to the feeder of $238.90.

By selling the steer for $285.60 (1,120 pounds at 25½ cents a pound), the feeder made a net return of $46.80.

(The study noted that if the feeder had bought the steer in Omaha eight months earlier, he would have paid $20.50 for 100 pounds, lowering his estimated net on the animal to $16.80.)

What about the packer who bought the steer at $25.50 for 100 pounds?

The packer dressed out the steer as a 600-700 pound beef carcass, worth $42 for 100 pounds. With this carcass yield, the study figured the price was equivalent in live weight to $24.80 for 100 pounds. This $24.80 is 70 cents less on return of $46.80.

3 Counties Gin 19,000 Bales

The cotton harvest in Howard, Martin and Mitchell Counties has climbed almost to the 19,000-bale mark on the basis of ginning reports gathered by Leon Kinney of the local Texas Employment Commission office.

Ginning total for three tri-county area is 18,822 bales, Kinney reported today. That includes 3,533 bales in Howard, 8,515 in Martin and 6,774 in Mitchell County.

About 39 per cent of Howard County's estimated production of 9,000 bales has been harvested. Of Martin's estimated 24,000 bales, some 35 per cent is ginned, and in Mitchell County, where production is estimated at 16,000 bales, the crop is 42 per cent harvested.

Waterfowl Flight Seen When Canada Weather Is Cold

AUSTIN — When it does turn cold in Canada, look for a heavy, continuous flight of waterfowl, Game Commission Secretary Howard Dodgen advised Texas hunters today.

Shooting ducks and geese becomes legal in Texas Friday, Dodgen said ducks and geese are now present in "ample quantities" for reasonably good hunting. He thought flights would increase.

"Texas hunters may get unexpectedly good waterfowl shooting at the expense of those in northern states," Dodgen said.

"Weather has been so unseasonably warm in Canada that many ducks and geese are lingering there instead of moving southward through the flyways."

"But when frigid blasts do lock the northern area in ice, the bulk of the birds will make their belated migration in more or less continuous flight."

Ex-Bryan Editor Dies In California

BRYAN — James Whaley, 75, who retired last May after 25 years as editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle, died yesterday at the home of a daughter in Los Angeles.

Whaley had been in ill health two years. He removed to California after retiring.

An editor of the Eagle, Whaley became well known in South Central Texas. Many books of his personal library were recently purchased for the Bryan City Library and left as a memorial, known as the Whaley Collection. Whaley served on the local ration board during the war.

Services were scheduled Friday in Los Angeles.

Finland is slightly larger than New Mexico.

100 pounds than the packer paid for the steer, but the value of the byproducts of the animal, such as hides and tallow, was listed as $2.30 for 100 pounds, leaving the packer $1.60 to the good.

The beef carcass as it leaves Chicago has a market value of $42 for 100 pounds or 42 cents a pound. The transportation charge to Washington is $2 for 100 pounds, making a delivered price here of $44.

By the time it goes over the market counter, it will sell for $55 on the basis of prices checked at a retail food chain here. This additional $11 represents the margin for retailing, warehousing and other marketing operations in Washington.

The market prices ranged from $1.09 a pound for porterhouse steak down to 19 to 29 cents a pound for plate beef and brisket. Ground beef, short ribs and shank cuts sold for 39 to 45 cents a pound.

The study said the estimated distribution of the retail price, on a percentage basis, is retailer (including some wholesaling), 20 per cent; transportation, 9 per cent; slaughtering, commission charges and other marketing costs, 6 per cent; cattle feeder, 41 per cent, and rancher, 24 per cent. (For the feeder and rancher, these were gross returns less marketing costs).
