Meet The Tigers

KENT WIGGINS

Kent Wiggins, a senior guard for the McLean Tigers, is now in his fourth year of football. Playing a major part in the Tiger forward wall, Kent has been referred to by Tiger coaches as one of the squad's outstanding linemen. He is now earning his third letter with the Tiger squad.

In addition to football, Kent has also been outstanding in both basketball and track, placing third in the district last year in the broad jump and running on the third place 440-relay team.

Taking an active part in other functions, Wiggins served as an officer on the FFA Conducting term and has been a member of the FFA Club through high school.

With an undefeated record this grid season, the McLean line is credited with doing an exceptional job, considering the overall lightness, and Kent has proved through his tenure as a regular for the Tigers to be one of the most talented and valuable men on the squad. He is the son of Mrs. Frank Wiggins.

PTA WILL SPONSOR VARIETY SHOW

The project committee of the McLean PTA met and decided to sponsor the annual Varsity Show "Talent to the Moon," which will be held on November 11th at 7:30 in the High School auditorium.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. There will be candy and prizes. Posters will appear in downtown windows. Those working are Pat Barker, Erma Hester, Colleen Mertes, Norma Taylor and Betty Thacker.

All those persons who wish to display their talent may contact any of the following: Dale Farvin, Harold Bunch, Mrs. James Entrants will be appreciated.

Rev. Jerry Hill will emcee the show. Ushers will be Toni Mertes, Sharon Hinton, Marilyn Magee and Donna Sittler.

CUBS FINISH SEASON WITH WIN OVER WHEELER JUNIORS

The junior high football champions of District 2-A, the McLean Cubs, finished up their season in a blaze of glory as they routed the Wheeler juniors last Thursday at Wheeler by the one-sided score of 44-6. The Cubs earlier had defeated the same team 38-0.

The Cubs received the kick-off and drove down for the score with James Farris adding the first TD. Tommy Herron carried over for the extra points. Cub Donnie Woods added six more in the first stanza, with Farris handling the extra point chores. Herron scored again in the second with Jimmy McCarty adding the two.

Coach Adams substituted liberally from the first quarter on, with all the boys getting to play.

The Wheeler team made their only score on the kick-off that opened the second half. The Cub reserves made a fine try but could not stop the Wheeler back.

The Cub first team came back in the third to score one more plus pointer with Herron again

JERRY BIGGERS

Ranking as one of the fleetest men in the Tiger backfield, half-back Jerry Biggers is completing his first year with McLean football this year. A senior member of the squad, Jerry has played four years, earning his third letter this season.

Through the Tiger victories this fall, Jerry has furnished one of the main break-away threats for McLean's offense, and has been constant in reeling off yardage for the Tiger team.

Jerry was out of action in the Wellington game due to injuries, but returned last week against Panhandle, and barring further complications, should be able to return to the active list.

Testifying to his natural speed, Jerry has also been an outstanding track man, running with McLean's district-placing mile relay team. In other activities he has been a member of the McLean FFA Club, serving on its conducting team.

According to McLean Coaches Jerry's speed and broken-field ability, along with his determination, have ranked him as one of the more valuable backs to have played with McLean teams. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Biggers.

Band Boosters to Have Bake Sale

Members of the McLean High School band will have a bake sale at the McLean Hardware Store Saturday, Oct. 25, from 9 a. m. until everything is sold.

New Auditorium To Be Constructed By Baptists

During the last Sunday morning worship service, the First Baptist Church of McLean voted to build a new ground floor auditorium. Although the building will be done in the future, this is considered one vital step in the right direction.

The building and finance committee has already been elected and will bring recommendations to the church for approval from time to time. As to the location of the building, nothing has yet been decided upon. The structural dimensions, materials and cost is yet to be worked out.

The church adopted a budget of approximately $32,000.00 of which $200.00 a week will go to the above cause. Special donations will be received at any time.

Plans have been completed for the loyalty dinner to be held next Wednesday night at the American Legion Hall for those nine years of age and above. Primary children will be entertained at the Recreation Building and beginners at the church basement. The nursery will be open for smaller children.

The covered dish supper and program were enjoyed by Tom Greenwood, Homer Wilson, E. R. Ponder, Rev. H. A. Longino, John Haynes, C. M. Carpenter, Amos Thacker, Bob Glenn, Freeman Melton, Pete Rice, Clifford Allison, Cliff Day, C. W. Wilson, Wilson Boyd, Philip Brown, Rev. Jack Riley, and visitors, Creed Lamb, George Gilreath, Erwin Cole and Ralph Thomas.

Methodist Men Hold Meeting

"Japan; the Ways and Means for Its People" was the general theme of the Methodist Men's meeting Monday night in the Fellowship Hall of the McLean Methodist Church.

Ralph Thomas of Pampa showed slides of his work in Japan with the U. S. Army. Of interest to all was the "windshield" farmers. However, their vehicles were not cars and pickups but bicycles and trailer or a tricycle truck. The Japanese try to grow at least two crops a year on their land. The principal crops are rice and barley. The man of the household usually works in industry and the women do the farm work.

The covered dish supper and program were enjoyed by Tom Greenwood, Homer Wilson, E. R. Ponder, Rev. H. A. Longino, John Haynes, C. M. Carpenter, Amos Thacker, Bob Glenn, Freeman Melton, Pete Rice, Clifford Allison, Cliff Day, C. W. Wilson, Wilson Boyd, Philip Brown, Rev. This report was turned in this week by Patrolman R. C. Parker of McLean, covering a total of 129 accidents investigated. Of these, 167 occurred on state and federal highways, 17 on farm-to-market roads, 11 on county roads, and four in small towns.

McLean To Meet Memphis Next

McLean's victorious Tigers soared into a tie for the leading role of District 2-A Friday night as they waltzed past the Panhandle Panthers, 22-8, to chalk up their fifth win of the 1958 season.

The leadership of 2-A is now shared with the powerful Bucks of White Deer, also sporting an undefeated record this year. McLean will meet White Deer in a home game October 31.

In Friday night's contest the Tigers took a slow start dropping behind 8-0, but rolled back with two fast touchdowns and then continued to widen their winning gap throughout the remainder of the game.

Sparked by Halfback David Crockett, who accounted for 226 yards of the Tigers' total 265 yards, the McLean unit held the Panthers back after allowing the first drive early in the game.

Also contributing to the Tiger offensive attack was the return of Halfback Jerry Biggers, who had been sidelined the week before due to injuries.

For Panhandle, Halfback LeRon Adcock tallied the lone score, driving over from two yards out to cap a drive started by the Panthers with their first possession of the half. Roy Bonner ran for the conversion points to account for the last of the Panhandle scoring.

McLean's first touchdown came on its first possession following the Panther score. Taking the ball on their own 40 yard line, they trooped the length of the field. End Frank Worsham set up the TD on a reverse around left end to the four yard line, where David Crockett drove to the 1, and Billy Crockett plunged over for the score. A penalty cost the conversion points and the Tigers trailed 8-6.

McLean then executed an on-side kick and David Crockett took the bouncing ball from the air and raced on to the Panther 39, setting up the second Tiger touchdown. The next play Billy Crockett galloped around left end into the end zone. Quarterback Jim Rice then connected with End O. K. Lee for the conversion points to put McLean in front, 14-8.

SPITTING ON A STONE?

Ever try spitting on a stone to ease pain? Sounds foolish, nowadays. But a long time ago folks actually used this "remedy." We're lucky to be living in this age of modern medicine. Medical science has given us many wonderful pain relievers and other reliable, effective drugs. However, it's still not wise to use any medication indiscriminately. When you don't feel up to par, ask your physician's advice first. Then, if he prescribes medication, come to us. We'll fill his prescription promptly and carefully.

Scenic Wallpaper Adds Depth to Small Room

BY EDNA MILES

These days, inspiration for home decoration comes from many sources. One of the newest can be found in the big ocean liners that travel to far countries.

The new luxury ship, the SS Brasil, has a floor-to-ceiling mural of colonial Brazil in its library, done in black and white. It's a theme that can be copied in your home through use of one of the many mural or scenic wallpapers now on the market.

Some of these depict a diminishing vista, such as a South American coastline or a countryside showing mountains in the distance. Either of these will lend the illusion of space to a small room, making it look much larger.

Other tricks to be borrowed from the Brasil are sliding glass doors that bring the outdoors in, the use of blue and green as a color scheme suggesting water and sky and beige-white glass curtains on tracks to give a room

An inspiration for home decorators comes from this lounge on the SS Brasil. The mural can be duplicated with wallpapers.

FACTS ABOUT NUCLEAR POWER

Going by some of the political charges one hears, an uninformed person would be justified in believing that the electric utilities of this country have turned a cold shoulder to the production of power from nuclear energy. The critics who intimate this always add that the only way out is through a government crash program of socialized nuclear energy development, at a stratospheric cost to the taxpayers.

Therefore, a little factual history is in order.

Private enterprise was not allowed to develop nuclear power until 1954, when Congress passed the necessary enabling law. In the four subsequent years, private enterprise has undertaken 15 nuclear plant construction projects involving a utility company investment of more than $500 million. Three of these plants are now in operation; six are under construction or contract, and the remaining six are in various stages of planning.

Furthermore, the utilities have undertaken 12 other nuclear research, development and study projects calling for continuing expenditures of additional large sums of money. Some of these are expected to lead into nuclear power plant construction.

Finally, interest in nuclear energy is not confined to a few utilities. As of a late date, 123 of the companies were participating in one or more of the 27 projects and still others are involved in independent studies.

This, it should be remembered, is what is going on in a new and almost incredibly complex field of enterprise which is still filled with mysteries and unknowns. All kinds of problems, both economic and scientific, remain to be solved. No man can say with certainty, for instance, what type or types of reactors can safely produce nuclear power at minimum cost. The utilities are determined to find out—and they will.

GULL'S PARADISE LOST

The Early American magazine tells of the sad plight of the sea gulls of St. Augustine, Fla., which, according to report, are starving to death in the midst of plenty because they have forgotten how to fish.

The gulls used to live on the waste from the local shrimp fleet. They didn't have to catch fish—or teach their young the techniques of fishing. Then the shrimp fleet moved away to Key West and paradise was lost. The Early American says: "A few of the birds had the intuition to follow the fleet. A few more were enterprising enough, or had enough instinct left, to take to the sea once more. But many of them can be seen sitting sadly where they were left, starving to death because no one will bring them shrimp, while out in the Gulf there is a sea of food for the taking."

These gulls were victims of the gull equivalent of a welfare state. Their needs were met in return for little or no effort on their part—and the result was a steady attrition of the qualities and abilities that go to make self-reliance and independence. And what the welfare state does to the lower orders of life, it does to the human animal as well.

A STRONG, LESS COSTLY GOVERNMENT

The federal government faces a prospective deficit during this fiscal year of more than $12 billion. We may not yet know the worst. It is certainly well within the realm of possibility that the military budget may have to be increased by many billions.

The specter of a disastrous inflation thus grows larger and larger.

In the name of our survival as a free nation, the overwhelming need the next Congress will face is to reduce government spending. And that means, among other things, that the government should abandon all programs and activities which can be carried on by tax-paying private enterprise.

The government's socialized power operations are perfect examples in point. It is high time we revived a plan that was proposed several years ago and that was given widespread support throughout the country. This program has two facets. First, the government should immediately put its power projects on a self-supporting, tax-paying basis. This simply means that rates should be adjusted until they honestly cover all the costs—plus interest on the taxpayer's investment, and that the projects pay the same taxes as would a private enterprise doing a comparable business.

Second, over a period of time, the government should sell the projects to private enterprise at the best possible price. The resulting billions could be used to reduce the national debt or for other essential purposes. And, in private hands, they would pay big sums to government in taxes year after year.

Here is one of the many ways to get both a stronger government and a less costly government, and stop our drift toward state socialism.

Congressman Rogers Reports—

TO THE PEOPLE

EDUCATIONAL TV

All over the country steps are being taken in various forms to implement the medium of television for educational purposes. This is, I believe, a grand significant move forward and is certainly a wonderful use of the medium. Educational television is gaining prominence and growing for two primary reasons—the almost unlimited audience which can utilize a televised classroom, and the growing realization of the people of an ever-increasing need for a broader education.

The television industry has advanced to the stature of a giant in a shorter time than any other comparable new facet of our economy on the American scene throughout history. The possibilities of its utilization for disseminating education have been recognized for a long time, but the actual establishment of specific television classrooms has met with considerable obstacles, prime of which have been the financing of construction and maintenance facilities. Unlike commercial television, few were able or willing to foot the bill for educational television.

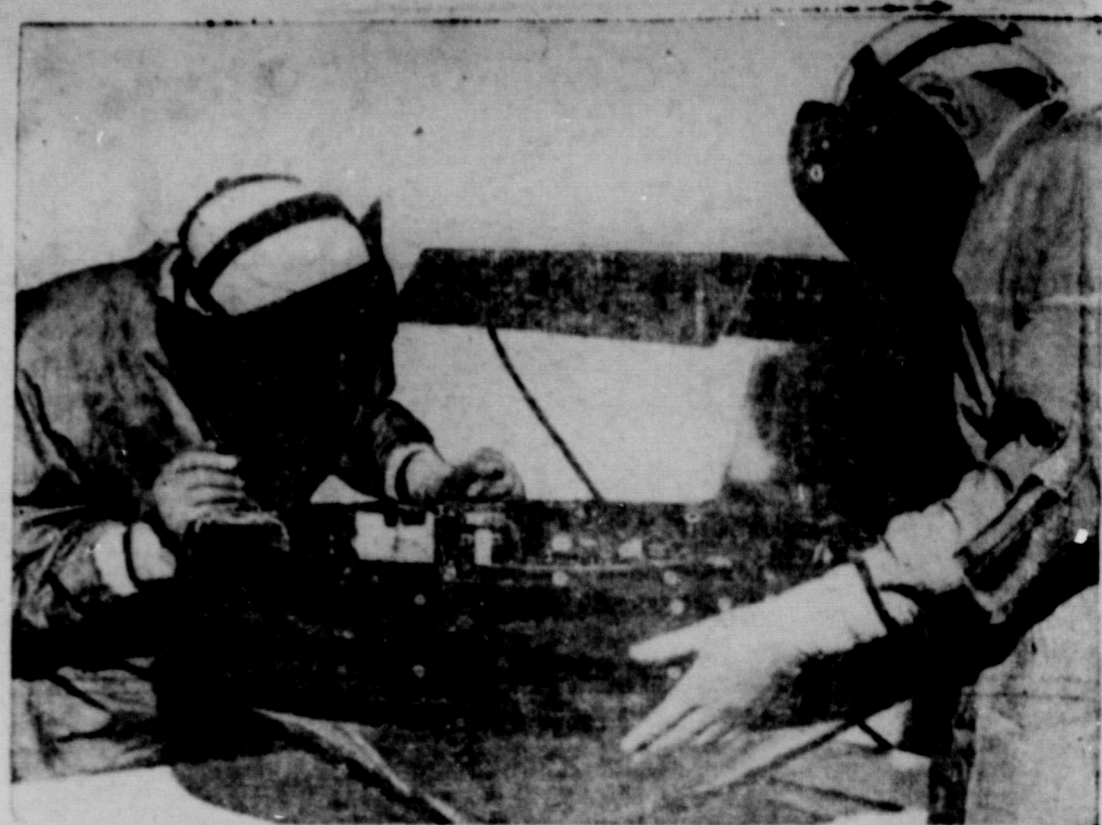

When the Federal Communications Commission issued the original television allocations plan in 1952, it set aside 242 (256 today) television channels for the exclusive use of non-commercial, educational stations. Today 12.7% of the VHF channels and 11% of the UHF channels are reserved for non-commercial, educational purposes. Of these, 18 are reserved for Texas, one of which is for Amarillo and one for Lubbock. In the six years since FCC reserved approximately 12% of all television channels for this purpose, only 56 educational stations are today serving an area of more than 50 million people, from Massachusetts to California, and from Minnesota to Texas.

The failure to use these reserved channels is not the result of lack of interest. Numerous problems must be met in activating the channels, and it has been necessary in most local situations to organize different segments of the community—civic, cultural and educational to bring about operation of these educational stations. In many cases the problems of fund-raising resulted in long delays.

The big problem facing American educators who would certainly like to utilize television for educational purposes is the lack of funds to pay for the basic installation of the television facilities and stations. Experience has demonstrated that once a television station has been built, state legislatures, local educational systems, and local communities at large have raised funds to produce the programs over these stations. Outstanding program service has been provided in many communities with relatively limited funds. The one main problem then, is to secure the basic funds to build the station in the first place.

Remarkable progress has been made in establishing the stations now operating and current experimentation reveals unlimited potentialities for the future of educational television. A division of the Ford Foundation—the fund for the advancement of education—has instituted a nationwide course on television in conjunction with one of the networks which, as many of you know, is being televised in the Panhandle. This course deals with nuclear physics and has, I understand, the benefit of some of the best teaching talent available on the subject. In Washington, D. C., metropolitan area, educational television commenced last month on the elementary school level and some 30,000 pupils in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades now attend television science class twice a week right in their own classrooms.

Colleges, secondary schools, communities and organizations of every kind all over the United States are realizing, and beginning to take advantage of the great use which can be made of this medium. I believe it is a good new step and one which will bring inestimable benefits to our society.

Veterans Information

Q—I am eligible for war orphans education. I've just been discharged from the army, although I am still under 21. If I take war orphans schooling, will my VA allowance come directly to me, or must it be sent to my guardian, since I am under age?

A—VA would send the allowances directly to you, since it has ruled that in your status as veteran you may receive payments personally, even though you are under age.

Q—My state recently gave me a bonus and I am drawing pension from the VA. Do I have to count the bonus money as income when I fill out VA's income questionnaire the first of next year?

A—You do not have to report state war bonuses as income in determining 1958 income for VA pension purposes.

Q—I have a Korean GI term insurance policy, with letters "RS" before the policy number. I understand that by a new law these policies may soon be converted to permanent insurance. How soon can I make the change over? How much of the new-type permanent insurance will I be allowed to carry?

A—The law permitting holders of Korean "RS" term policies to convert to permanent insurance becomes effective Jan. 1, 1959. The maximum amount of permanent insurance you may obtain under the new law is limited by the face amount of your present policy.

Q—I need a copy of my discharge in order to get a certificate of eligibility with which to get a GI home loan, but my discharge is lost. Where can I get a replacement?

A—Write to the Personnel Records Center of the Armed Forces, 9700 Page Boulevard, St. Louis, Mo. Give your service number and your branch of service. There is no charge for this replacement.

Pope's Passing Underlines World Religious Unity

The unity of Christians and Jews throughout the world was brought into focus sharply by the death of Pope Pius XII, Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders, heads of state and most creeds joined in expressions of mourning at the loss of the 82-year-old "Pope of Peace."

In East Germany, "church bells tolled every 15 minutes after the Pope's death, as a constant reminder to their congregations of their loss."

The National Council of Churches, representing most of the Protestant denominations in the United States, called "deepest sympathy" to the College of Cardinals and to Roman Catholics everywhere.

The Synagogue Council of America, in what it said was an unprecedented action, drafted a message of condolence to the Roman Catholic world.

Other messages of sympathy came from other far-flung points of the globe: Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker; Australian Labor party leader H. V. Evatt; the Rt. Rev. Horace W. B.

Bishop of New York; the Archbishop of Canterbury, leader of the Anglican Church of England, and Dr. Norman Smith, president of the British Methodist Council.

In a wave of sympathy unusual for our time, these men stood together, bridging oceans, and political religious leanings, to mourn the passing of a man who worked for peace in our age until he was called to his final rest.

From such an exhibition of devotion to the cause of peace and good will, religious leaders have set an example to their congregations everywhere. Those who would emphasize the differences rather than the common goals of the world's great creeds must be reminded by this singular action that the measure of a man rests upon his contribution to humanity.

GODS' LOVE TO A RUINED WORLD—John 3:16

By James A. Hale, Pastor
Church of the Nazarene

You see in this beautiful passage, enunciated by our Savior, that the love of the Father is the great, fundamental fact underlying the plan of salvation. "He that believeth on Him is not condemned; but he that believeth not, has already been condemned, because he hath not believed on the name of the only begotten Son of God." Oh how grandly, indubitably, and irrefutably does Jesus preach salvation through faith alone! Of course, this is the same gospel which John the Baptist preached from the standpoint of repentance, which must, in every case, precede justifying faith, as is the only believing ground. John the Baptist preached repentance, thus establishing people on believing ground, and thus preparing them to receive the gospel of Jesus by faith. Here our Savior certifies that He did not come to condemn the world, but to save it. Where there is sin, condemnation is an inevitable consequence. Now what is the attitude of the churches at the present day, both Papal and Protestant? We are sad to say that, with few exceptions, they preach a sinning religion, which keeps their members under perpetual condemnation, inculcating the dogma that He saves them in their sins. Do you not know that this is untrue, and that a Christ of condemnation is not the Christ of the Bible, but an idolatrous Christ? Because the Christ of the Bible, as He here says, did not come to condemn, but to save, and actually does save, all who come unto God through Him. Hence, in order to worship the Christ of the Bible, you must receive Him in the capacity of Savior from all your sins, as any other acceptance would not apply to the true Christ of the New Testament at all, but simply implicates you in idolatry, as the worshiper of a false Christ. They that worship me must worship in spirit and in truth.

Constitutional Amendments
 Among topics covered by the proposed constitutional amendments to be voted upon by Texans on Nov. 4 are pensions, hospital benefits for the needy, hospital districts, and advertising of the resources of the state.

Proposed amendment No. 6 authorizes the Legislature to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for retiring Texas Rangers. Benefits would be limited to those Rangers who have not been eligible at any time for membership in the regular state employee retirement system.

Those drawing the pensions or disability payments would also be required to have served at least two years as Rangers. Widows could also be provided for by the Legislature, provided they were legally married prior to 1957 to a Texas Ranger qualifying for such a pension.

Under the proposal there would be a limitation of $80 per month on payments to a Ranger or his widow. The pensions could be paid only from the Confederate veterans pension fund, which is already in existence and is kept up by a state ad valorem property tax levy of two cents per $100 valuation. The state building fund is currently being maintained from the same source.

Proposed amendment No. 7 would strike from the Texas Constitution the original 1876 provision which prohibits the Legislature from appropriating public money for any purpose of bringing immigrants to the state. Substituted would be an authorization for the Legislature to appropriate money and establish procedure for developing information about the historical, natural, agricultural, recreational and other resources of Texas.

Funds might be appropriated for the purpose of informing persons and corporations of other states through advertising in periodicals having national circulation, and the dissemination of factual information about the advantages and economic resources offered by the State of Texas.

Pictures of living state officials could not be used in any such advertising. The Legislature would be authorized to require that any sum appropriated under the new provision be matched by an equal sum from private sources before being paid out.

Proposed amendment No. 8 would empower the Legislature to provide for direct payments for medical care in addition to the amount paid in the form of direct public assistance to needy recipients of old age assistance aid to the blind, aid to dependent children or aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

State funds paid out for such medical care could not exceed those paid out of federal funds for the same purpose; and the Legislature would be authorized to accept financial aid from the federal government for those purposes.

TELEPHONE TALK

THE "SURPRISE" TEAM

There must be an amount of the writer's instinct in me to cause such a feeling, but I always like to see the "surprise" football team come through, and I also always like to make a few comments on any good team.
 I remember back through the weeks that many area papers were highly conservative about McLean's chances of doing much in the district this year. And at present, if I'm correctly informed, the Tigers stand at the head of the district. And I also understand that 2-A this year is one of the toughest districts in the state. In fact, it must be if two of its teams have gained recent ranking among the top ten in the state.
 And individually, it's always hard to see where the strength of a good team lies, but if I had to make my pick of the week (which I always like to make) it would go to Billy Crockett, the Tigers' fullback. This lad seems to me to be one of the finest ball players in the country. They are all good boys, but Billy seems to have a tremendous amount of determination in addition to his other assets. Maybe it's like a friend of mine said the other day when we were talking about the team, "It just makes my spine tingle to watch that boy run with the ball."

LUXURIOUS—BUT NOT A LUXURY

Got a telephone for your bedroom yet? Nothing tops a bedroom telephone for real luxury living. When I'm home using ours, I like to stretch out on the bed with the phone cradled between my shoulder and my ear. I can relax and "really talk" that way.
 There are plenty of good practical reasons for having a bedroom telephone, too. Privacy, for example. And women often say how reassuring it is to have a phone at their bedside when they're alone in the house at night. It's much nicer to be able to "reach" to answer instead of having to dash to another room.
 Here in McLean, a bedroom extension costs only $1.00 a month plus installation. And for a one-time charge of only $10, you can have your choice of any of the nine beautiful color telephones. They're especially smart for bedrooms.

EASY WAY TO KEEP IN TOUCH

I guess at one time or another, we all remember—out of a clear sky—someone we haven't thought of in a long time. "Whatever happened to George?" we say. Or to Ruth, or the Browns, or the Martin family. Usually it's someone we really mean to keep in touch with—like the couple who used to live next door, or old friends in faraway places. But with so much on our minds and so much to do, the months fly by and we never get around to it.
 The quick, easy way to make up for lost time is, of course, to use your telephone.
 A long distance phone call is the personal, thoughtful way of keeping in touch with those you care about. Try a call tonight, and you'll see what I mean.

"There are many reasons," the farmer replied, "why a cow does not have horns. Some do not have them until late in life. Others are dehorned, while still other breeds are not supposed to have horns. This cow does not have horns because it is a horse."
