McLean To Be Host For District Literary Contests

McLean students will be showing off their readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic here Saturday when McLean plays host to the District 2-A literary events competition.

Schools represented in the contests include Canadian, Clarendon, Lefors, Memphis, Panhandle, White Deer and, of course, McLean. And according to Superintendent Melton, the competition gets pretty sharp.

There will be both a high school and elementary school division.

The events—ranging from debate to picture memory—are scheduled to get underway by 9:30 a. m. Saturday and something will be going on the rest of the day.

"The public is cordially invited to see any part or all of the contests," Melton said.

High school division schedule includes: senior girls declamation at 9:30 in auditorium (Phyllis Hancock is entered), senior boys declamation 10:15 auditorium (Lester Sitter), junior girls declamation at 11 in auditorium (Marge Rallsback), junior boys declamation at 11:45 auditorium (Paul Lee), debate at 9:30 home economics room (no McLean entries), boys poetry reading at 9:30 in band hall (Kent Wiggins), girls poetry reading at 10:45 in band hall (Othelia Eustace), boys extemporaneous speaking at 11 in study hall (Jackie McDowell), girls extemporaneous speaking at 9:30 in study hall (Mary McClellan), typing at 10 in commercial room (Danny Douglas and Bobby Jean Turner with James Carter as alternate), shorthand at 11 in commercial room (Linda Grimsley and Carolyn Hugg with Laura Switzer as alternate), slide rule at 10:30 in math room (Joe Howard), number sense at 9:30 in math room (O. K. Lee), ready writers at 9:30 in senior English room (Jim Watson), and spelling at 10:30 in freshman English room (Phyllis Flowers and Mary Jennings with Elizabeth Boston as alternate).

In the elementary school division, the seventh-eighth grade spelling is at 11:30 in room 14 (Susan Blackwell and Linda Guill), number sense at 9:30 in room 13 (Don Woods), Janice Leitner and Jimmy McCarty, ready writers at 10 in room 9 (Carolyn Parker and Joyce Beasley), girls declamation at 1 in auditorium (Linda Tindall), boys declamation at 2 in auditorium (Tommy Herron), fifth-sixth grade spelling at 9:30 in room 12 (Barbara McCurley and Dora Cunningham), story telling at 9:30 in room 6 (Mike Darsey), and picture memory at 10:30 in room 8 (Vernon Hawkins, Ronnie McIlroy, Vicky Birch, Arthur Dwyer, Kenneth Parrish and Teresa Merte).

Superintendent Melton is director of the contests.

Last year the winning town was Canadian, and although competition is stiff, Melton says the McLean students have shown a lot of interest this year and should fare well.

Dr. Maddox to Preach Next Sunday At Baptist Church

Dr. B. P. Maddox of Wayland Baptist College will preach at the First Baptist Church in McLean next Sunday in the absence of Pastor Jesse Leonard.

Dr. Maddox served as interim pastor of the local church for several weeks prior to the beginning of Rev. Leonard's pastorate. Rev. Leonard is presently in a revival at the East Ridge Baptist Church in Amarillo.

FIRE DEPT. BUYS TRUCK

The McLean Fire Department bought a 1949 Dodge truck last week to be used for transporting additional water to grass fires.

The truck is in the process of being fitted with a 1,000 gallon tank and should be completed and ready to go within three weeks or a month, according to Jim Hathaway, chairman of the truck purchasing committee.

With the addition of this truck, approximately 1,600 gallons of water will be available when the department goes out of town to fight the grass fires.

In the past Lonnie Day has sometimes furnished a truck to help haul water for grass fires.

City Council Meets

Acting in an official capacity for the first time Tuesday night, John C. Haynes stepped in as mayor of McLean at the regular council meeting, held in the City Hall.

Also beginning a fresh term as a city official was Ruel Smith, newly-elected alderman.

Past Mayor Ed Lander had the votes of the recent election canvassed by the councilmen and then turned the meeting over to the incoming official.

As regular business during the meeting, the group reviewed the past month's financial statement. Discussion was held concerning the forthcoming paving to be done in McLean, but no official announcements were made, pending a survey of cost for curb and gutter construction, to be made by City Manager Dan Mize.

In other action of the meeting Boyd Meador was named to serve as mayor pro-tem for the forthcoming term.

Another matter brought before the council was the proposition to utilize the water tower as a base for a television antenna, making possible the use of cables into homes in McLean. Dale Greenhouse requested permission to use the tower to make a test to determine the full potential of the new system which would eliminate antenna necessity for users.

He was told permission would be granted pending full release from liability on the part of the city.

In final action of the meeting, the city council voted to purchase the saddle which would be given away at the McLean rodeo in June. This has been the policy of the city for the past two years.

Behind are Claude Hendricks, with shears, and Keith Goodman. Surveying the situation from the desk is Teena McMurry. The juniors' play is mystery comedy.

Junior Play Tonight

"Here I am the famous mystery writer who for 20 years asked and answered 'Who did it?' Or as we often say, 'Who dunit?' And now, now! I myself have been murdered and I don't know who dunit!"

Alexander—the mystery writer—is the principal character in the junior play, a comedy called "Who Dunit?" to be presented here Friday night.

The remainder of the play is consumed by Alex's antics in setting what he hopes will be a perfect trap to—if not foil the murderer—at least identify him or her.

The peppy comedy written by C. B. Gilford is peopled by 11 actors from the junior class. Alexander is played by Keith Goodman.

Supporting actors include Teena McMurry as Flo Baker, Mary

Jennings as Vivian Odell, Adella Vineyard as Muriel, Sandra Baker as Isabelle, Hershel Lawson as Michael, Bill Kingston as George Brewster, Claude Hendricks as Harry, Elizabeth Boston as Miss Jenkins, Bobby Jean Turner as Annie, and Butch Carter as Andrew.

Some 37 books were donated to the library in connection with Library Week.

Sitter and Guy Hester.

Also on hand to greet guests were the Rev. Gerald Hill, chairman of the library board, and Gordon Wilson, library janitor.

Mrs. Magee and Mrs. Sitter also serve on the library board.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lander and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooke sent flowers for the open house.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK

What do public school officials think of Sunday schools? Dr. John J. Theobald is superintendent of schools in New York City, controlling the teaching and preparation for life of one million boys and girls. Here what he says about Sunday Schools:

"Man's two greatest adventures are exploring the world around him and the world within him. Whether he probes with a missile or a prayer, he's on the high road to adventure, and his preparation must begin early in life. Sunday Schools of all faiths stress the principles at start young people in the right direction."

To help focus attention on the importance of our nation's Sunday Schools, the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., a non-sectarian, non-profit organization, has been sponsoring National Sunday School Week in April for the past 15 years. The observance this year is April 2 to 19. The slogan is "MAKE EVERY WEEK SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK."

Let's start our children in the right direction by giving them a chance to learn the Word of God in our Sunday schools.

MORE THAN UNJUST

Much reasoned opposition has developed against the Kennedy-Ervin labor bill—a bill which differs only in relatively minor particulars from the Kennedy-Ives bill which was defeated in the House last session. Grounds of opposition are that the measure, despite its good points, just isn't adequate to do the needed job, and that its passage would delude the country into believing that all was now well. If that happened, it is obvious, the chance of getting a strong and sound labor bill on the books would be greatly reduced.

Now some proponents of the bill have taken a new tack. They are charging that the opposition groups are more interested in breaking honest unions than in breaking the power of hoodlums and racketeers. Specifically, they stand of one opponent of the bill has been derided as "hopelessly irresponsible."

Those who favor the bill are certainly entitled to press their views and to get whatever support they can. But to label the opposition as irresponsible, or dishonest, or possessed of hidden ulterior motives, is worse than unjust. No one is going to wreck the unions, and no intelligent citizen wants to. What is wanted and needed legislation which will prevent union monopoly, union dictatorship over our lives, and such indefensible union practices as secondary boycotts and blackmail picketing which can literally destroy enterprises far removed from labor disputes.

A much more adequate reform bill has been prepared by Senator McClellan, who, as head of the committee investigating labor rackets, has had an unrivaled opportunity to learn what is required. It will be a bad day for this country if a weak bill is railroaded through Congress and made into law.

OUT OF STEP

Privileged forces, in a world grown small, are proving that disregard of others is a luxury which the citizens of the most powerful free nation can ill afford. High production costs are pricing U. S. goods out of foreign markets, out of our own domestic market, and promoting unemployment. Important segments of practically every group in this country contribute to the inflation which has brought this about.

Millions of people with a stake in some government activity are loath to see it cut. This holds true whether the persons involved are in business, industry, labor or farming. The majority attending labor's recent convention in Puerto Rico believed that the prescription for more jobs is higher wages, shorter hours and higher government spending.

The story in foreign countries is far different where, as Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board of Ford Motor Car Company points out: "As a result of stern self-discipline many countries in Europe have achieved balanced budgets, and in certain instances have had

The Roof Won't Stay On

BRIDGING THE GAP TOWARD A "SUMMIT"—Pictured, above, are the West's "Big Four" as they conferred in Washington on plans for the May 11 Foreign Ministers' meeting in Geneva over the Berlin crisis. making it. The American Bar Association seemed to think that the court was probably doing both, which probably explains why some of the lawyers in government service have decided to withdraw from the American Bar Association. No doubt, the Supreme Court should, like Caesar's wife, be above suspicion, but in a democratic government it will never be above criticism.

British Troubles

The British seem to be having some difficulties trying to prevent Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery from paying a visit to Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow. They seem to think, from dispatches, that Montgomery is totally void of tact and would probably turn out to be a trouble maker. Some think that he is prompted more by his desire for publicity than by his hope of making a contribution to the solution of some of the problems. As for me, I think he should be allowed to go. It seems that every time Great Britain sends a peace-maker to visit a foreign power, we end up in a world war. Perhaps if they would send a trouble-maker over, it might contribute to peace. I might say further that, as far as I am concerned, Montgomery can stay in Moscow, and the same goes for some military men residing in some other countries.

Last week was Cherry Blossom Week in Washington, and there were many thousands of visitors in town for the occasion. Some of them were from the Panhandle, and we enjoyed seeing them, as always.

one or more tax cuts. No small contribution has been made by wise and statesmanlike labor leaders and workers in England, Germany and other countries, who repeatedly refuse to press for wage increases that they felt their countries could ill-afford."

Strong international ties and understanding built on trade and travel between nations will provide the foundation for peace. But inflation, caused by unnecessary government spending, and high cost production can prevent us from competing in world markets.

A philosophy of more pay for less production, and pre-occupation with personal security underwritten by constantly higher taxation and costly government competition in fields of commercial enterprise can destroy traditional values in this country and weaken the position of the entire free world.

Congressman Rogers Reports—

TO THE PEOPLE

Shades of Coxe's Army

Last week the nation's capital was visited by approximately 6000 representatives of the unemployed. These jobless came from some 15 cities and gathered at the National Guard Armory to voice their complaints and to insist upon government action. The assembly was under the supervision of the AFL-CIO, as a conference on unemployment.

The meeting was addressed by a group of speakers, including George Meany, president, AFL-CIO; Walter Reuther, president, United Auto Workers, and named as author of the demonstration; Senator Paul F. Douglas (D-Ill.); and our own Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, majority leader of the Senate.

The group was also addressed by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, and they had requested a speech by President Eisenhower; however, the President was in Augusta, Ga., and not only missed a visit with the unemployed, but also missed throwing out the traditional first pitch at the opening Washington-Baltimore baseball game. Some of the delegates at the unemployment conference appear to be very bitter because the President had gone to Georgia at this particular time. Some of the speakers took advantage of this and made remarks about the President's absence that brought forth cat calls, boos and whistling. Some of the group fell victim to food poisoning as a result of partaking of a turkey and dressing dinner but everyone recovered. One man was arrested and taken off the train for brandishing a pistol. There seemed to be some difficulty in identifying the delegation he represented. He stated that when he went to get his unemployment check some two weeks ago, he was asked to sign another register. Subsequently, he received a notice that he was a delegate to go to Washington on the unemployment conference. He is alleged to have stated further that he didn't know anything about it, but "a trip was a trip and he wasn't doing anything anyway."

The meeting was most orderly and the complaints, the protests and the feelings of the delegates were aired without incident and in keeping with good conduct.

The Supreme Court

The mail has been bringing in many letters highly critical of the Supreme Court and some of its recent decisions. The "double jeopardy" case has brought in quite a few comments. These letters also go back and discuss other decisions with which the writers are in disagreement with the court. The recent decision of the court refusing to interfere with the ban on women being allowed to attend Texas A & M College has brought forth quite a bit of comment from a number of sources, both within our district and without. The matter has been discussed editorially and in the syndicated columns of the Eastern newspapers. One of the letters I received, concerning the state of the nation, treated the Supreme Court problem by stating, "The court should be confined to interpreting the law, rather than

INSTANT TONIC

Back in the old days a thing called a "tonic cup" was a favorite remedy for almost anything that ailed you. Cheap, too. You took a cup made of bitter wood... added hot water... let it steep. Then, when bitter, you drank it. Simple? Yes. Too bad it didn't do any good. Nowadays science gives us more reliable medications. So, play safe. When you or a member of your family is ill, seek professional care. See your physician for diagnosing and prescribing... call us for prescription service.

TACKY PARTY

On cards written with red ink and worded appropriately for the occasion, invitations were mailed to a number of young people, requesting their presence at the home of W. B. Upham Tuesday evening. Most all the guests did their part in making themselves as tacky as possible and on the arrival of different groups it was hard to tell which was the most comical. Everyone was highly entertained by some other member or members of the party most of the time. Playing and singing was indulged in by a number, and music was also furnished on the victrola. Other diversions of the evening were snap, popping corn and candy pulling.

At a late hour the following guests departed, declaring the occasion to be the most enjoyable one of the season.

Misses Jessie Alexander, Orma Kibler, Lorene Stanfield, Mabel Faulkner, Bertie Hooper, Mary Henry, Gaynelle Wilson, Cecil Williams, Lillian Quattlebaum, Rena Moody, Mary Billingslea, Vita Heasley, Nymvah Glass, Frankie and Fern Upham; Messames Chas. Cousins, Wayland Floyd, Byron Kibler, Allen Wilson, John Stratton and Dwight Upham.

Temple Rogers was greeted at the station Monday night by a number of friends on his return from overseas. He was accompanied from Amarillo by his sister Miss Thelma, who is attending the Normal at Canyon.

The Peripetatic View by CEC

The City Council under the new mayor launched out Tuesday night in the regular meeting of the group.

Plans were discussed for more paving in McLean and also a move made toward letting in the new gas company on Highway 66. In the discussion were words concerning the expansion of Marie Foundations and also the possibility of the furniture factory.

Housing developments may also be in the mill. It's possible for many profitable expansions to be made in the future.

McLean's American Legion proved to be an enterprising group recently. They were selling flags for a few weeks ago when the pattern changed to the 50 star type.

Undaunted by the switch, the legion is now selling "souvenirs".

A glance at the past week's goings-on on the international scene reveals another glorified name of "Which Hand is The Rock?"

The Red, White and Blue team, consisting of the wheels from Britain, France, West Germany and the US took skull practice in closed door session while the Red team's Captain Khrus stood pat for a few days.

From our side's huddle came the extraordinary idea - engineered by Britain's Lloyd - that we rush over with a few concessions to the USSR in order to lure them into big summit meet in May, with stalled talks on Germany. And now having them cornered could bounce on them with our own idea of the fringe benefits of the country in question.

Herter, substituting for Dulles, thought this routine might be getting a little thin. He brought a mind a few more big birthday parties where the Russians had cake and ice cream but didn't bring any presents.

And then to cap it off - and further instill confidence in John Q.

Area Observations

DON EARNEY of WHEELER TIMES: "You've reached middle-age when it's a doctor who tells you to slow down instead of a policeman."

And: "A true friend is one who thinks you are a good egg even when you are busted."

MRS. CARROLL KOCH in the QUANAH TRIBUNE-CHIEF: "When a lad starts the study of Latin and algebra he says goodbye to his boyhood and also to any help on his homework from dear old dad."

"Inflation will really hit the top," comments PAUL LOFTIN in the PANHANDLE HERALD, "when you take your money out in a shopping bag and bring home your purchases in your pocket."

BEN EZZELL of the CANADIAN RECORD says you can tell that a fellow has become an alcoholic when he stops bragging about how much he can drink, and starts lying about how little he's drinking.

And this bit of philosophy: "When you get to the end of your rope, it's a good idea to keep your feet on the ground."

Another ERNEST JOINER (of the RALLS BANNER) story: Since becoming widely publicized in Time magazine and many area papers, Joiner has hardly had a moment's peace . . . persons from all over the world have contacted him for one reason or another.

The other day his phone rang. An operator's voice said, "Hold on for Sydney, Australia."

Joiner was sure it was a friend who always calls Joiner when he (the friend) is drunk.

the whole session came out in Time Magazine. (With an appropriate attached picture of our team.)

So when the connection was made, Joiner shouted: "All right, you blankety-blank, go on back to bed!"

There followed a moment of shocked silence at the other end of the line.

"Howinhell was I to know," Joiner muttered, "that it was a Miss Riddle, an editor of the Sydney newspaper, calling for more information as a result of the Time story?"

Then he added: "I'll bet her story in the next issue was a dilly."

"Among the men who often long for some good old home-cooking are husbands," says MAX WADE of the GROOM NEWS.

Max also tells this story of a Groom couple: "As the crowded elevator in one of Amarillo's skyscrapers descended, Mrs. Doug Wood became increasingly furious with her husband, who was delighted to be standing close to a gorgeous blonde. As the elevator stopped at the main floor, the blonde suddenly whirled, slapped Doug and said: 'That'll teach you to pinch.'"

Bewildered, Doug was halfway to the parking lot with his wife when he choked: "I . . . didn't pinch that girl!"

"Of course you didn't," said his wife, consolingly, "I did."

DOUGLAS MEADOR of the MATADOR TRIBUNE says, "Neglect of duty is a violation of the franchise that underwrites the privileges of citizenship. It may also become the nucleus for a stubborn disease of character that is seldom arrested."

THE SLATON SLATONITE says an oldtimer is a man who remembers when the only parking problem was to get the girl to agree to it.

H. M. BAGGARLY in the TULLA HERALD: ". . . thinking ability is only half a blessing. It not only produces a modern day miracle such as radio, but it causes man to worry, to usurp authority which God reserves for Himself.

"God intended that man trust his future to Him.

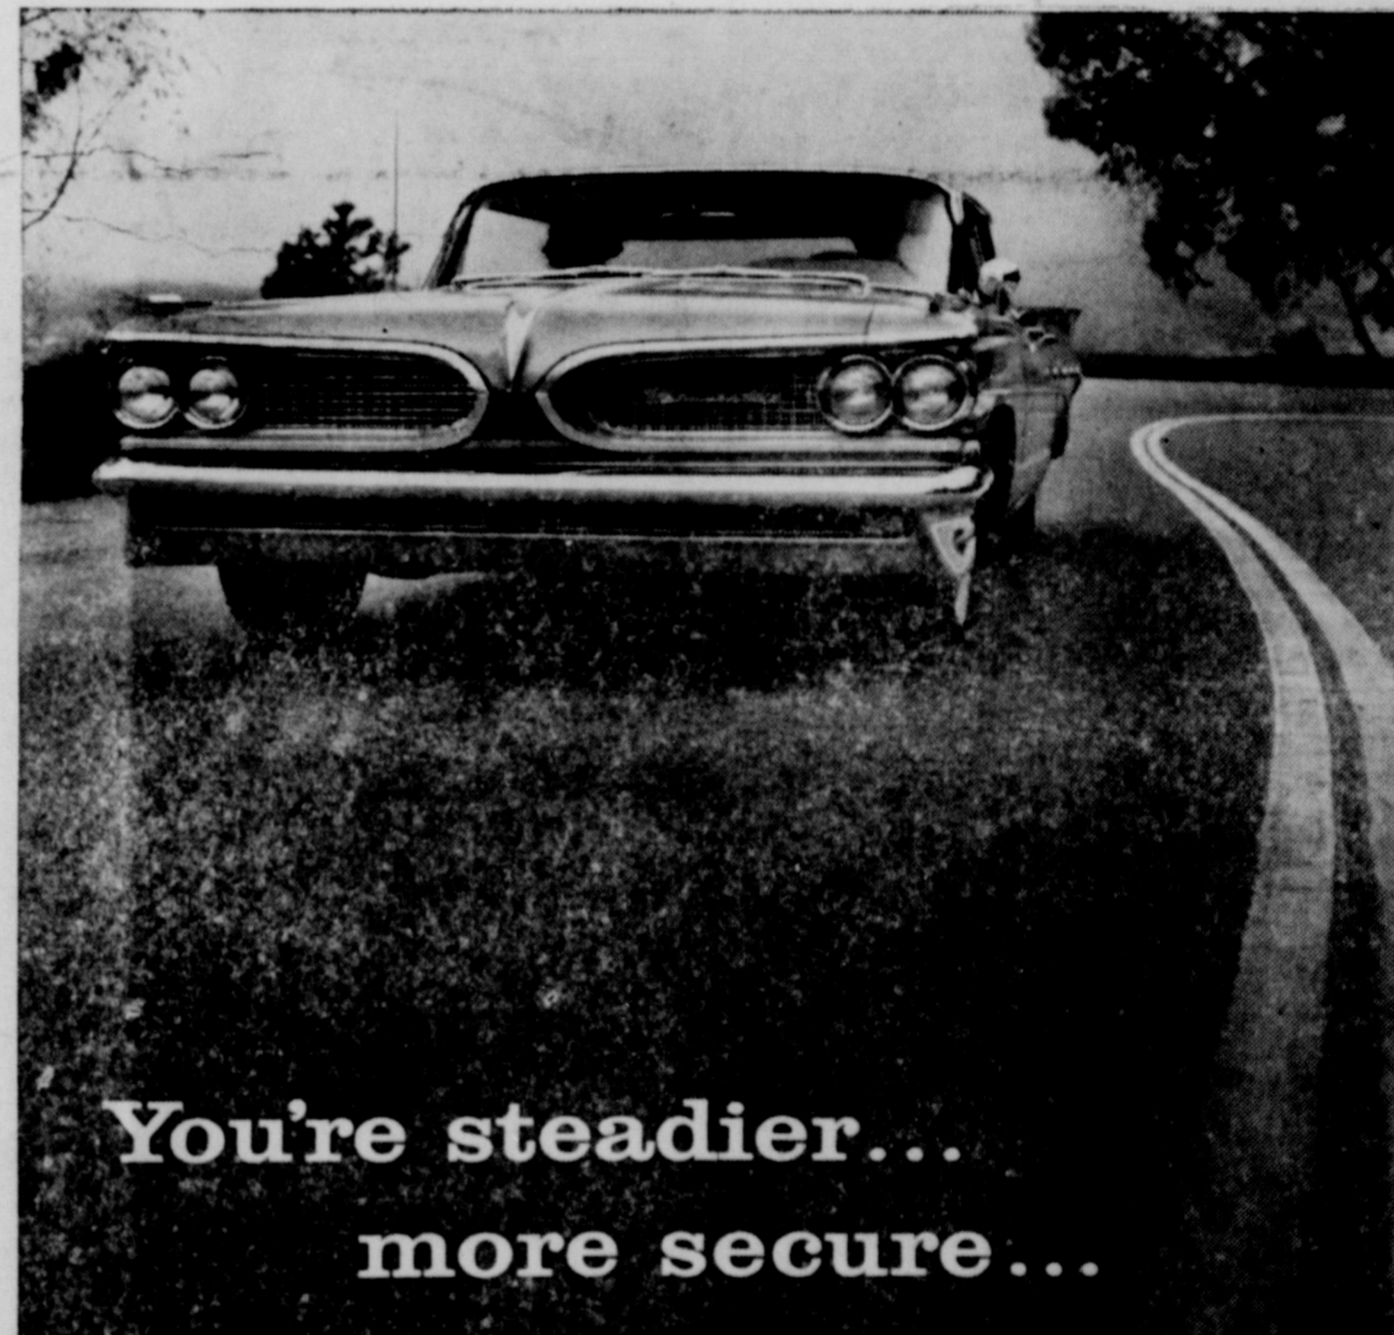

"He intended that man live from day to day in simple trust.

"He intended that man not concern himself with what the future holds.

"Yet man uses his thinking ability to do that which an animal would never do. He charts his own course on the sea of life. He attempts to see the end from the beginning. He refuses to live from day to day."

You're steadier... more secure...

...in a road-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

Take all its beauty, balance it gracefully on a wider, steadier wheel design and you have a car the likes of which you've never owned. The wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance, but not the car. You're secure at the controls, more comfortable from head to toe. There's a noticeable lack of lean and sway. Narrow track cars fall far short by comparison. Wouldn't this be a good day for you to drive this sweet automobile? The keys are waiting.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS
Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

Bible Comment:

How Could Prophets Speak For God?

Jeremiah, and other Hebrew prophets, professed their prophetic utterances with, "Thus saith the Lord."

How could these prophets know that they were speaking for God? Was it presumptuous on their part so to speak?

The answer to those questions is relatively simple: "By their fruits ye shall know them."

The prophets knew the voice of God because they lived near to Him. They were men whose lives were completely devoted to truth and righteousness, and they had the courage of their convictions.

They staked everything on the truth of the words they spoke. They accepted supreme sacrifice.

They were ready to endure suffering and persecution in testimony to their faith and integrity.

In the great matters of religion men can undoubtedly speak for God.

It is only when we presume to exalt our own small beliefs and opinions on a level with the sublime truths of scripture concerning God's love and righteousness, and would make God speak for ourselves, instead of speaking for Him, that we are in danger of becoming misrepresentatives, rather than representatives, of God.

Air Force now has 10 bases in continental United States designated as sites for intercontinental ballistic missile installations.

A machine has been invented that will change paper currency into coinage. Purpose: to make profitable manufacture of vending machines selling items requiring more change than a person normally carries, and to increase use of machines now operating.

Closing session of evangelist Billy Graham's crusade at Melbourne, Australia, saw a record 130,000 persons on hand to hear him. It's the largest crowd he has ever addressed, says Graham.

The most beautiful book in the Bible is seldom read these days. Rarely do ministers take sermon topics from it.

In fact some Bible scholars in the past have suggested the book was incorporated through an error... while others have called the book "unprogressive."

That book—and it is a short book found on the far side of Proverbs—is the book of Ecclesiastes (or The Preacher).

Yet for all its neglect the book expresses truth perhaps more beautifully, more wistfully, and certainly more poignantly than anywhere else either in the Bible or in the world of literature.

The highest form of flattery has been bestowed on Ecclesiastes in that some of the world's best authors have taken numerous quotations and book titles from its verses.

The tone of Ecclesiastes is different from other books in the Bible... there is a sadness, a melancholy, almost fatality as The Preacher describes his vain efforts to find happiness in temporal things.

Here are some of the opening lines: "Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities; all is vanity."

"What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun?" "One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh but the earth abideth for ever."

"The sun also riseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteneth to his place where he arose."

"The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits."

"All the rivers run into the sea; yet the sea is not full; unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again."

And: "I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit." Ecclesiastes has a message that is acutely appropriate in our world of speed, confusion, disorder and dissonance, and that message is "perspective"—man's place in the natural order, and the complex separation of those things which really do not matter from those things which time has proven to be of value—the search for, and the love of, God.

... the kind of perspective on life that is experienced when one watches endless waves rise and fall on a lonely beach, or sees the sun go down over a quiet cemetery.
