Children's Photos To Be Taken February 10

Tuesday, Feb. 10 is the big day for the picture taking of your youngsters! The News is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the American Legion Hall between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. absolutely free of charge.

The News wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature, "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be subscribers to the News or even readers. You do not have to purchase pictures, either, though you may obtain additional prints by arranging direct with the studio representative if you want them. That is entirely up to you!

Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Lavern Carter, phone 47.

McLean Has First City Manager

DAN MIZE

Dan Mize To Assume Duties Of New Role

Dan Mize of Jacksonville, Texas, will become the first city manager of McLean early in March, it was announced this week by Mayor Ed Lander.

Mize informed city officials Friday of his decision to accept the newly-formed position in McLean. He has served for the past 16 years as director of general services in Jacksonville.

DRIVER OK IN AUTO-TRAIN COLLISION

Margaret Fay Treet, 15, and a companion, Helen Smith, miraculously escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon when the car Miss Treet was driving crashed into the locomotive of a Rock Island passenger train.

The collision occurred on Main Street at the Rock Island crossing at 4:50 p. m. Patrolmen reported the car struck the front of the locomotive and was knocked several yards by the impact. The girls were taken to the McLean Hospital and Clinic but were released later that day.

A witness reported that Miss Treet's 1956 Chevrolet passed a waiting car at the crossing just before the accident occurred. The crash tore away the car's left fender and bumper.

CONTRACT LET FOR GRAY COUNTY ROAD

A contract for the construction of grading, structures, base and surfacing on farm-to-market road 2473 in Gray County was awarded in Austin this week, Marshall Formby, chairman of the State Highway Commission, has announced. The firm of E. M. Bailey Contractor, Ltd., Abilene, submitted the low bid of $238,731.31 on the project which runs from State Highway 273 east, north and east to Wheeler County line near Kellerville, a distance of 4.5 miles.

Formby stated that Resident Engineer G. K. Reading of Pampa will be in charge of the project for the Highway Department, and it is estimated that the work will take 200 days to complete.

Following a study made by the city council, the methods of city operations were changed to include an appointed city manager. Without exception, the cities in McLean's population range have found the system highly successful and beneficial to the growth of the community.

In addition to the regular duties of the past secretary, Mize will devote a part of his time to public relations and following through any ideas or information pertaining to potential development in McLean, particularly to the locating and securing of new payrolls for the community.

The business of the city has developed to such a scope that with a trained person coordinating the affairs of purchasing, accounting, etc., a much more effective and progressive city government can be maintained.

In a statement Monday Mize said, "We have accepted the position of being the first city manager of McLean with a feeling of humbleness for service to its citizens and great pride in having been selected for this honorable position. We are looking forward to moving to McLean between the first and fifteenth of March to begin duties. I pledge to the people of McLean complete support to any effort that will benefit the further progress and growth of the community. We wish to thank the people we have met, Mayor Lander, the aldermen, and all who made our first visit to your city most pleasurable."

While in Jacksonville, Mize served in many capacities, including building and electrical inspector, and in the past years as director of general services. In the past 15 years the city of Jacksonville has grown in population from 4,500 to more than 12,000.

His educational background includes accounting, commercial mathematics and public service. Mize and his wife, Dell, will move to McLean as soon as possible following March 1.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meacham and Nancy were in Amarillo Tuesday.

NEW DIAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM TO GO INTO USE JUNE 21

June 21 of this year will be a big day in McLean's telephone history. It will be "ringing out the old, ring in the new" here at 1:01 Sunday, June 21, when McLean's new dial telephone system is put into operation by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

"Ringing out the old" means an end to the manual telephone system which has served the city since telephones were first installed here. "Ringing in the new" heralds the advent of the automatic telephone system—a significant milestone in the city's communications history. It will mean that McLean will have the finest, most modern telephone service available anywhere, Clyde Dickerson, telephone company manager, said.

Dickerson said the dial telephone equipment will be located in the new telephone building which is being constructed at the northeast corner of Railroad and Gray Streets.

Dickerson also said that all telephone numbers in McLean will change at the time of the dial cutover. The new telephone numbers will have two letters and five numerals with the prefix of GRante 9. Dickerson said that all telephone customers will be notified of their new telephone numbers well in advance of the change to dial and that a new telephone directory will be issued just prior to the changeover to dial.

"At the present time we do not know what the new telephone numbers will be," he added, since they must be assigned to certain equipment which hasn't been installed. But just as soon as we get these numbers we will notify every customer in McLean."

The cost of converting the telephones in the city of McLean to dial is in excess of $132,000, Dickerson said.

AGRICULTURE PROGRAM SET FOR FEB. 11

An agricultural day sponsored by the Extension Service of Texas A&M, the Burlington Lines, the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and the Gray County Soil Conservation will be held in the Palm Room of the City Hall in Pampa Wednesday, Feb. 11, beginning at 2 p. m.

County Agent Ralph Thomas of Pampa issued an invitation to all interested persons in McLean to attend the program.

Featured on the program will be an address by Emmett J. Dignan, vice president of the United States National Bank in Denver, Colo. The subject of his talk will be "Is Our Agricultural Economy Keeping Pace?"

Also scheduled will be a short talk by Robert G. Cherry, agriculture economist, who will give the Agricultural Outlook for 1959.

Following a recess, a talk will be given by Dr. G. M. Watkins, dean of agriculture at Texas A & M, on developments in agricultural research.

Thomas stated that the entire program would be of interest and value to all persons interested in agriculture, and that all are cordially invited.

Mrs. Elmo Whaley was in Lubbock last week attending the golden anniversary for Businessmen Assurance Co. of America.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dickinson and son, John, were in Amarillo last Thursday.

TOWN FRIDAY

Town Friday will sponsor a social dance for all teenagers immediately following the football program Friday night. The Clevy Hancock band will play and there will be no admission charge.

Following developments in a meeting Friday of the McLean Housing Authority, it was announced that construction should begin within two months on 12 family units to be built under the low rent housing program of the Public Housing Authority.

The units will consist of six duplexes of brick veneer construction, with each unit equipped with electric range and refrigerator.

Cubs Defeat Lefors; Junior Girls Lose

The McLean Junior High teams won one and lost one Thursday night against the Lefors Junior Bandits.

The girls lost a very close game by a score of 25 to 26. The Cubettes led in the ball game most of the time but when the final buzzer sounded they were one point behind.

The Cubs took the Bandits in another thriller by a score of 30 to 24. Joel Meacham was the high point boy for McLean with 16 points.

Occupancy will be limited to families having a total income of $3000 or less year, with rents geared to the income of tenants.

With the addition of the units, the acute demand for housing in McLean will be lessened. However, there is an established need for at least 24 more of such units.

The housing shortage here has been created through the rapid growth of business at Marie Foundations, where 117 persons are now employed. The factory had a payroll of $250,000 last year.

At present, because of the housing shortage, factory workers are commuting from outside McLean.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE COLEBANK

Colebanks Celebrate Golden Wedding Saturday, Jan. 24

Mr. and Mrs. George Colebank celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, Jan. 24, at their home in McLean.

Hostesses for the affair were the Colebanks' daughters, Mrs. John Cooper of Tucumcari, N. M., and Mrs. C. B. Lee of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Colebank, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Lee received the guests, and Ruth Cooper presided at the guest register.

The house was beautifully decorated with yellow roses and mums which were sent as gifts.

The serving table was impressive with a tall, 3-branched candelabrum intertwined with white frothed carnations and nosegays of yellow roses. Two garlands of carnations were laid on the ecru lace cloth to partially encircle the 3-tiered anniversary cake which was decorated with gold wedding bells and roses. A silver coffee and tea service completed the table arrangements.

Standing in the center of the buffet was a matching silver candelabrum intertwined with frothed carnations. Falling from the candelabrum were white satin streamers with the given names of the honorees. At one end was the wedding picture of the couple and at the other end the gold number 50.

Miss Ann Cooper presided at the tea and coffee service, and the cake was served by Mrs. Benny Cooper and Mrs. Dan Cooper.

Opening and arranging the gifts were Carla Lee and LaDell Lively. Others assisting were Homer Abbott, Mrs. Howard Williams and Mrs. Doyle Brown.

Soft music was played during the receiving hours. Five generations were present, including Mrs. Colebank's 98-year-old mother Mrs. E. L. Minix. The Colebanks have two daughters, six grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Many friends called during the afternoon.

George Colebank and Clara Carpenter were married in the bride's home Jan. 24, 1909, by Rev. J. T. Easley, the monthly pastor of the Baptist church at Gracey (now Kellerville). Present for the wedding were members of the two families and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Back. Mrs. Back is Mr. Colebank's sister.

Their first home was one room 12-14 with a 6x12 lean to, near Kellerville. They moved to the Back community in 1918, where they farmed, had a few cattle and fed sheep. They moved to McLean in 1923. Mr. Colebank owned and operated a feed and grist mill for three years and then bought the Cheney feed store which he ran for four years. He and his son-in-law John Cooper opened a grocery store where he worked until the McLean school board employed him as business secretary and manager, a position he held for 14 years. He is again in the grocery business with Cooper.

Mrs. Colebank worked in the field, herded sheep and did chores with her husband on the farm, and he in turn would help in the house. Mrs. Colebank's hobby now is raising flowers, and her flower garden is one of the most beautiful in the town.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Colebank are active members of the First Baptist Church, where they have served since moving to McLean, and enjoy the service rendered through it.

Out-of-town guests attending the celebration, in addition to the daughters and their husbands, included Mrs. C. O. Cooper, Mrs. Faye Cannady, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Cooper and son, Gary Dan, Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cooper of Fort Worth; Misses Ann Cooper, LaDell Lively and Carla Lee of Dallas; Miss Ruth Cooper of Tucumcari, N. M.; David Cooper of Hereford; Mrs. Mary Coldage of Amarillo; Mrs. Paul Kennedy of Hart; Mrs. R. L. McDonald and Mrs. W. C. Bass of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hanner and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCracken of Shamrock.

Can you imagine pouring turpentine on an open cut? This was the favorite way to prevent lockjaw some years ago. Naturally, we wouldn't think of doing this now. But then, we're lucky. We have tetanus toxoids and antitoxins. Thanks to medical science, lockjaw need no longer be a killer... previously, death occurred in 90% of the cases. Children, because of their affinity for cuts, sometimes pick up the tetanus germ. So, if there are young children in your family, be sure to ask your physician about preventive tetanus shots. It's always wise to seek your doctor's advice before using any medicines. And next time you have a prescription to be filled, think of us.

BAPTISTS BELIEVE...

in a LOVING, SOVEREIGN GOD

God were like Jesus."

When her mother asked her what she thought about God, she indicated that to her God was distant and unfriendly. She thought Jesus kind, friendly, and very close.

Her mother explained to her that much of what we know about God is what Jesus told us about him. She reminded her of the statement Jesus used to describe God to his disciples: "O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee..." (John 17:25), and "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father" (John 14:9). Her mother said that Jesus came to earth and showed us what God is like.

With her big brown eyes she looked at her mother and said, "So my wish has come true. God is like Jesus."

Have you wondered what God is like? Baptists follow the Bible in believing Jesus showed us what God is like. The Bible teaches that God is all powerful, but also that he makes moral laws which he himself obeys. For instance, God has said, "Thou shalt not bear false witness." He does not lie. God is supreme but he is not a cruel dictator, arbitrarily exercising his supreme power without regard for justice.

God is love. Jesus made this very plain. He once said, "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son..." (John 3:16). His love is a giving love.

The greatest demonstration of the supreme power of God is found in what he did in giving his Son to die for us, so that by accepting his Son we might have eternal life with God. God shows his great power in his great love. Love teaches that it is greater to give life than to kill, to build up than to destroy, to give than to get, to lift up than to crush, to heal than to hurt.

The little brown-eyed girl made one of life's greatest discoveries when she found out that all of the love and helpfulness she saw in Jesus is the love and helpfulness God gives. God's greatness is proved in what Jesus showed he does for man.

God loves us and wants us to accept his offer to save us from sin. But he will not force this love on us. We must make our own choice. He will not compel us to accept his love against our will.

God is friendly; he is gracious. He wants to be known as Father. Jesus told his disciples to shut themselves up in a closet with God and say, "Our Father." Alone with God—It is the safest place in the world. This is what Baptists believe.

BEST VOICE FOR THE MERCHANT

Reports indicate that holiday sales ran three to four per cent over the preceding year.

But this experience was not universal. New York City sales of department and specialty stores lagged in pre-Christmas weeks. And the reason was the strike which shut down all the metropolis newspapers.

Merchants tried to make up for this loss of advertising media by issuing broadsides and intensifying radio and TV announcements. That helped—but it couldn't take up the slack. According to a spokesman for a leading store, when people lack the suggestions made in newspaper advertising, "They're slower to make choices. If you have a special gift item on hand, you've got to tell people about it or they don't know it's there."

In any community, big or little, the local newspaper is still the best advertising voice the merchant has.

PLENTY OF GOOD MEAT FOR '59

The American housewife can expect to have more meat on the family table this year than last—and, in addition, more of it will be of better quality.

That pleasant forecast comes from a top official of the American Meat Institute. Total U. S. meat supplies for 1959 are estimated at more than 27 billion pounds—one and one-half billion over 1958. And per capita consumption, he anticipates, will rise to some 156 pounds of meat, or four pounds above last year's figure. Most of the increase in supply will be in pork.

As for quality, the Institute spokesman says that there will be smaller supplies of leaner grade beef and approximately normal supplies of high quality beef. This is the result of the plentiful feed supply situation which has enabled farmers to "finish" out their cattle. It's also expected that there will be a further increase in the number of "meat-type" hogs marketed this year—these being the kind which contain a higher percentage of lean meat than average hogs of the past.

Finally, this authority predicts that the meat industry as a whole will show improved earnings for 1959. That's a matter of real moment, for the industry has long had far smaller profit margins than other and comparable major industries. And it's a matter of importance to the consumer, too—for, to quote the spokesman directly: "As it reaches a more satisfactory financial position, the industry will be able to do an even better job of handling the nation-wide problems associated with meeting the American public's daily requirements of meat and meat products."

WHEN WAGES OUTFRAN PRODUCTIVITY

Postmaster General Summerfield asks: "What is to be done about wage increases that outrun productivity gains?" He then says: "To prevent the extension of these inflationary wage increases, we need legislation to restore democracy and responsibility in our labor unions, to curb the present powers of the union dictators, and no less necessary in the public interest to redress the balance of power as between unions and management. The principle of antitrust should be applied to this labor boss monopoly."

It is hard to see how any reasonable man, looking at the public interest as against special interest, can logically oppose that program. But there is still more to the critical wage-productivity program.

For example, a publication of a major union of workers in retail and wholesale business says labor will drive to bring about improvements in the Federal wage-hour law during the current session of Congress. It goes on: "The most important of these improvements . . . is extension of coverage . . . to provide wage-hour protection for at least some of the 20 million workers not now covered. Of these, the largest single group, some 7 million, are in retail trade. Another important objective being sought by labor is to increase the minimum wage from its present $1-an-hour level to at least $1.25."

IMPORTANT!

There are a number of reasons why retailing has been exempted from the wage-hour law ever since its beginning back in depression days—one of the most important being that all retailing is a purely local business, and an outlet of the biggest chain must still compete on the local level. Beyond that, retailing offers opportunity for work and training to unskilled, inexperienced people whose productivity is very small. To bring these people within the scope of an inflexible national law, would be a destructive further example of "wage increases that outrun productivity gains."

The result would be more inflation and reduced opportunity for the unskilled.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

LEGAL CHECKUP IS SAFETY MEASURE

Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure. Most wage-earning, child-bearing, home-buying, installment-paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

Often under prodding, one may get a lawyer to write a will.

But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble? Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need to draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or re-figure your taxes.

2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long term obligations.

3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration" something of value in return.

4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them, but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e.g. unsigned contracts, vexing tax returns you haven't filed), he can do much more for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold" facts (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble).

But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once. For time may run out in many such situations. Your lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he cannot do tomorrow.

Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to keep what you tell in confidence, and he cannot serve you well without full knowledge.

How Well Do We Live Our Religion?

A deep mystery of life is that the innocent have so often suffered with the guilty. At this Lenten season one might well contemplate, because it is the mystery of the Cross, and the suffering and sacrifices of Christ himself.

The hostility that Jesus aroused in His prejudiced fellow townsmen as He began His ministry in Nazareth continued on the part of many throughout His ministry. Strange to say, it was the finest things that He did that aroused the most violent opposition.

Right down to our own time, this condition prevails.

Religion ought to make men humane, kind, considerate, ready and eager to help one another.

Unfortunately, it has often made them bitter and full of hatred.

Often—too often—that bitterness and hatred has evidenced itself in religious differences.

Are we wiser than those of old? It is only in our response in living our religion that we can prove our wisdom.

Is the living of our religion our response to the goodness of God?

Or is it dominated by prejudice and bigotry?

Each of us must answer to those two questions, in our own hearts.

THE WAY TO HAPPINESS

By George Dolak, Pastor

Trinity Lutheran Church, Pakan

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness." These words of Jesus are fitting and proper to Christians at all times. They are God's directive for happy and successful living. The Savior means, "Make Christianity your business—let it be the FIRST concern in your life." By "seeking" the Lord means: "Look with zeal and determination—search with the resolution of finding—don't quit until you have found."

You are to place this devotion in the service of the church.

Spiritual things ought to be the chief concern of every person. We live on the face of this earth for only a few years. It is a mistake, therefore, to forget eternity which lies ahead, and concentrate only on the things which are necessary for our homes. It can be a tragic mistake to strive for the finest in clothing and neglect the kingdom of God. Automobiles and recreation can have a bad effect on a person's life—especially when people seek them first and at the expense of God's kingdom.

But Jesus says, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness." Take care of yourself spiritually. Make the truths of God's Word your chief concern in life. Never forget His words, "The kingdom of God is within you." Resolve to know your Savior better. Promise Him that you will love Him more with each passing day. Then go and do bigger and better things for Him and His church.

If you do this, then you will receive His blessing. "All these things shall be added unto you." By "these things" Jesus means all those things which are necessary to life. God knows every one of His children. He never forgets them or forsakes them. If you follow His directive and seek His kingdom first, He will always know your address and give these "other things" to you.

If you have ever wondered how to find true happiness, you find the answer in God's Word. His instruction to "seek His kingdom first" can make YOU one of the happiest persons living today. You will be happy because you are following God's suggestion for a happy life—and you will be happy because He will give you the food, clothing, shelter, and the other essentials of life. "Seek His kingdom first, and you can face the future—and eternity—with confidence and happiness.

Area Observations

Consider this business of living. What would it be without friends?

It's tragic to live without friends. And it's not much less tragic to have friends—all cut off the same bolt.

We need friends congruous with ourselves—but not just in one respect. We need some our own go—but we also need the older or his counsel and advice, for a eaning post, for a patient and understanding listener to troubles. We need the younger for their enthusiasm, their lack of ophistication, their unadulterated sincerity.

We need those who can help—and those who need help.

WE NEED FRIENDS of our own economic level—but we also need those above and below. We need some who can lend in an emergency—and we need those to whom we can lend. It's as unfortunate to have no one close enough to call on us when in financial distress as it is to have no one to whom we can turn for help.

WE NEED FRIENDS within our own church and profession and we need those without. Could there be a more colorless life than that of a doctor whose only friends were doctors? Could there be a more biased existence than that of a Baptist who never knew the joy of having a Presbyterian or a Methodist for a friend?

THE TOWN PERSON can have no greater asset than a friend who lives in the country, whose mind is directed toward interests and issues with which the town person is not directly concerned. It puts his mind back in focus so he can see with the proper perspective. He realizes that the problems of his own little world are no more important than the problems of his friends. Each can add something to the life of the other.

LOST WORLD — This scene of snow-covered desolation might well be on some far planet. In reality it is at Brussels, Belgium, where the giant Atomium, central structure of the recent World's Fair, towers over snow-covered debris. TWO-FISTED ARRIVAL — European heavyweight champ Ingemar Johansson says he's ready for a world title go with Floyd Patterson. The Swedish fighter is shown on his arrival in New York City for discussions of a possible bout early this summer.

Fellowship was our common vow:
The stranger got a brother's care,
And blood-kin had no better fare.
Creed and envy and hate and strife,
Had no part in human life:
Man was as free as man could be,
In every land—on every sea.
My joy was running o'er,
It effereed on every shore:
My little soul grew at a pace,
And reached the earth's remotest place.
But at this point there was a change,
That came to me abrupt and strange:
From heaven an angel swiftly flew,
And from its sheath a sword he drew.
At once I thought of war and strife,
Of hate and greed and mispent life.
The angel to me kindly said,
You have the symbol truly read.
The sword betokens force and might,
Ambitious greed and friendship's blight.
I well that men will use the sword
Until the coming of the Lord.
The reason you can doubtless see,
If but in thought you'll follow me,
In every treaty ever wrote
There could be found a harmful note.
And in the future, man will find
Man written treaties just that kind:
A treaty of peace, without flaw,
Can only be found in God's law.
A league of nations can't control
The wicked thoughts of a wicked soul;

Just for a penny he would sell
His right to heaven and go to hell.
The wife and wicked heap no trust;
Their hearts are filled with greed and lust:
Constantly trying out a plan
To hurt or wrong their fellow man.
Good and bad can't be combined,
Their ways are different as their minds:
One leads to freedom, love and right,
The other to murder, theft and might.
The good men would their freedom hold,
The bad by them must be controlled.
And vice versa is the plan,
The only method given man.
Each mortal being on this earth
Has equal right to prove his worth:
But if the wicked should hold sway,
The good their edicts must obey.
Here comes in the "balance of power"
That some think wrong at this late hour:
The plan has always been the plan
That men have used to govern man
The good the plan (for it's not bad)
But the misuse that drives men mad:
The "balance of power"—God never holds;
And world and devil he controls.

A DREAM
By John B. Vanney
I dreamed another dream last night.
I dreamed that men no more would fight.
I saw all armies disappear,
And peace on earth was everywhere.
The devil and the Kaiser, too,

Had surely from the earth withdrawn;
The world was filled with love and peace,
From north to south, from west to east.
Religion, color, nation, creed,
Were free from discord, hate and greed.
The path of love they truly trod,
Each in his heart was serving God.
The fear of foe we knew not now;

Marmalades Capture Citrus Fruit Goodness

Homemade marmalade on the shelf is a comforting sight. If a friend has just sent you a gift basket of oranges and tangerines from Florida, now is the time to try these recipes. Fine fruits are in the stores, too.

Trio Marmalade
 (Six 8-oz. glasses)
 One tangerine, 1 grapefruit, 2 oranges, 2 cups water, 1/2 teaspoon soda, sugar (about 6 cups).
 Remove peel in quarters. Remove half the inner white part from grapefruit peel with paring knife; discard.
 Cut peels into fine slivers; place in deep saucepan. Add water and soda. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer 20 minutes.

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

lime or lemon juice, 7 cups sugar, 1/2 bottle liquid fruit pectin.
 Remove peel from tangerines; discard white fibers. Cut sections in three pieces; remove seeds. (There should be 4 cups prepared fruit.)
 Turn fruit into large saucepan; add lime or lemon juice. Add sugar; mix well.
 Place over high heat. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.
 Remove from heat; stir in liquid pectin immediately.
 Skim and stir 5 minutes to cool and prevent foaming fruit. Ladle into glasses; paraffin at once.
 Now you've captured a taste of citrus magic for breakfast.

stirring mixture occasionally. Dice pulp, removing core and seeds. Add pulp and juice to undrained rind. Cover; simmer 10 minutes.
 Measure; add 1 cup sugar for each cup mixture.
 Bring to boiling point, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Cook mixture rapidly, stirring frequently, to prevent scorching, until thick and clear, about 30 minutes, or until syrup runs off side of spec. in two drops which "sheet" together.
 Pour into hot sterilized jar or glasses; paraffin at once.

How Valuable

IS LOCAL NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING TO LOCAL BUSINESS PEOPLE?

Here's what the American Bankers Magazine, a publication which represents a traditionally conservative profession, has to say:

"No business man or woman in any town should allow a newspaper to go to press without his or her name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. "A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town . . . it's the best possible town adviser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself and definitely to the town."

It's CONSISTENT advertising that counts and the best advertising medium in this area is
