To top a summer meal . . .
 APPLE ZWIEBACK DESSERT

One big deliciousness, that's this dessert . . . and with cause. Just look at its goodies . . . lots and lots of brown-sugared canned apple sauce, buttery crumbles of zwieback, chopped almonds, coconut, cinnamon and nutmeg, all baked together until the flavors mingle. And it's a generously large dessert . . . for those second helpings, you know.

On a warm day, serve it chilled, with whipped cream. Or ice cream. On a cool day, spoon it up warm, fragrant and spicy, with a pour of cream over each serving. Wonderfully tasty, either way. And wonderfully easy to make, too. This is how it goes:

- 1 8-ounce package (3 3/4 cups) zwieback crumbs
- 1/2 cup light brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 cup chopped almonds
- 1/2 cup butter, melted
- 4 cups canned apple sauce
- 1/2 cup light brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 3/4-ounce can flaked coconut
- 1/2 pint heavy cream

Crush zwieback into coarse crumbs; add 1/2 cup brown sugar, cinnamon, almonds and butter, stir until thoroughly blended. Combine apple sauce, 1/2 cup brown sugar, nutmeg and coconut. Arrange in 2-quart casserole alternate layers of zwieback crumbs and apple sauce mixture, ending with zwieback crumbs. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 45 minutes. Serve hot or cold with whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

SLOWING GROWTH

The excise tax on gasoline is almost five times that for mink coats or diamonds—two commodities that desirable as they may be, hardly come under the heading of absolute necessities. The excessive gasoline tax is slowing growth of gasoline demand, according to a statement from one of the nation's leading oil companies. Motorists resent what they consider the high price of gasoline—which is actually the high price of taxes.

The federal gasoline tax was increased from three to four cents a gallon on October 1, 1959. At the time, it was said that this was just a "temporary" boost which would expire in mid-1961. Now it is proposed to extend the "temporary" cent-a-gallon increase until June 30, 1964, and impose a further tax of half-a-cent a gallon.

This is urged because of the multi-billion dollar interstate highway program. But, as all manner of authorities have pointed out, that program could be financed completely by existing highway-user taxes if none were diverted to other uses. Moreover, it is manifestly unreasonable that motorists alone pay all the costs for highways that serve all the people. As an example the highway program is, in large part, a national defense program—and national defense costs of every kind should be shared by everyone.

The gasoline tax has gotten clear out of hand, and motorists should demand relief.

SHIPS—AND ROCKY MOUNTAIN EMPIRE

It's a long way from the six states of Arizona, Colorado, Montana, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico, which make up the Rocky Mountain Empire, to nations which lie across the oceans. But the businesses and workers within these landlocked states have a direct and important interest in those oceans and the lands beyond.

The reason is foreign trade borne in our American merchant ships.

This trade is a two-way street. The ships carry exports abroad, and bring imports home. According to a new survey published by the Committee of American Steamship Lines, the jobs of 527,000 farmers, miners and industrial employees in the Empire—more than a quarter of all its workers—are affected by this trade.

In a late year, of every five dollars earned in the area, one dollar appeared in the pay-checks of workers holding jobs influenced by exports and imports. All in all, more than $2 billion was earned by employees in industries serving markets abroad or depending on raw material imports. The Committee's report also points out, foreign trade cargoes helped buck the 1958 recession trend and brought new prosperity to the six states.

What's true of the Rocky Mountain Empire is true of all the rest of the country. The statistics vary from region to region, but the principle remains the same. Foreign trade is a mainstay of American employment, American agriculture and American industry. That's why it has long been established government policy to support and maintain a U. S.-flag Merchant Marine capable of doing the job.

DO WE WANT RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT?

A national committeeman of one of the great political parties is quoted as saying, "The voter doesn't care whether government is responsible. The voter wants to know what it is doing for him." The judgment is a cynical one. But that does not mean that it is wrong, or can easily be disproven. Indeed, some of the most successful political figures of the last generation have followed the dictum almost exactly. And the present burden of debt and taxation, along with the steady decay of individual freedom, individual responsibility and basic individual morality is, in part, their monument.

ROLLING OUT THE CARPET—Sixty feet below the surface of the ground in downtown Houston, workers stretch out a Butyl rubber carpet on which the 44-story Humble Oil & Refining Company building will stand when completed in 1962. The Butyl membrane will act as a water barrier for the foundation of the building. This is a unique application of the durable, flexible synthetic which is produced at Humble's Baytown Refinery and is widely used in everything from hot water bottles to conveyor belts, tubing, tires, wading pools, protective clothing for missile launching crews, and car accessories.

What remains to be seen is whether the majority of voters have just drifted with a tide, or have not recognized it for what it is, or honestly "don't care whether government is responsible." If the last is the case, this country is done for, and the only thing to speculate about is when the final curtain will come down on what used to be called the American Dream. The one hope is that the voter will recognize that what welfare state government is doing to him is a great deal more important than what welfare state government is doing for him—and will revolt before the last battle is lost.

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

More About the U-2

The story of the flight of the U-2 plane over Russia and the resulting repercussions will be told for many years to come. It brought many things into glaring focus and brought out the truth about the international picture, untarnished by diplomatic maneuverings and fence-straddling.

It is a well-known and documented fact that Russia has engaged in the most extensive espionage activities in this country for many years and that these activities have been measurably stepped up in the last several years. In fact, the Russians have been caught many times and a number of those active in this practice are now in the penitentiaries of this country. Since May 1, 1946, the history of the United States reflects documentation of 65 Russian spy cases in this country. Among these, of course, are the cases involving the theft of atom bomb secrets from this country. Each and every case documented, in my opinion, involves facts and figures a great deal more serious in every respect than any information or figures that could have been gathered by a weather plane 15 miles above the earth. A number of the cases involve the use of diplomatic immunity to further espionage activities. Yet, it would seem from the cries of Mr. Khrushchev that only Russia is entitled to gather information about other countries.

Many people have felt for some time that Khrushchev was much more interested in talking about a Summit meeting than in actually engaging in one. They also felt that if the Summit meeting came about, the sole purpose of Khrushchev in participating in it would be to use the meeting as a stage from which to pour forth propaganda or to embarrass the other participating countries, rather than to devote all effort toward a peaceful solution of the many trying world problems. They also felt that when the meeting ceased to serve those purposes for Russia, it would be settled. These were some of the many reasons why former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had opposed meetings that could be used as outlined.

The activities of Mr. Khrushchev in recent days have confirmed the fears and feelings of those who felt as expressed in the above paragraph. He grabbed on to the U-2 incident to serve all of his purposes. He used it for propaganda as to the great ability of the Soviet Union to know what is going on in and over their own land. He used it as a means to threaten other nations. He used it as a means to try to embarrass the President of the United States. (But he quickly found that he had more than met his match.) He used it to scuttle the Summit meeting which he did not want to attend in the first place, and thereby avoided the necessity of immediately facing a number of issues which would have proved most embarrassing to him. He thought that the U-2 incident was probably the finest thing that had ever happened in his career to bolster and support him.

BUT, he may soon find out that it will be the worst possible thing that could have happened to him. He may find it most difficult to explain to many countries, and most especial of all, to his own people, that all of his braggadocio and big talk about Russia's invincibility and invulnerability has turned out to be a lot of hot air. He may find that the Russian people will begin to wonder just how much truth there is in all of his big talk, now that they discover that these flights have been going on over Russia for some four years. Perhaps he thinks that he can keep this truth from the Russian people, but he cannot keep it from the top echelon of the party faithful in the Kremlin, a group that has the reputation of not permitting extended explanations. History will probably record that Mr. Khrushchev, like other dictators, overplayed his hand. He has failed miserably in the greatest opportunity he will ever have to place the USSR in a favorable position insofar as the quest for peace is concerned; a failure from which he will not recover, and one which serves to confirm the suspicions of all free countries as to the lack of sincerity of the USSR concerning their talk of desires for peace.

Miss Eunice Stratton spent the week end in Oklahoma City and Stilwell, Okla., and attended the wedding of her nephew, Bobby Decker, Saturday night in Stilwell. Also attending the wedding and visiting in the Decker home were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stratton of Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Reeves were in Abernathy Tuesday visiting in the home of their son, Joe, and family and to be at the bedside of their granddaughter, Cindy, who had eye surgery. En route home they visited their other son, Eddie, and family at Canyon.

Mrs. W. M. Rhodes, accompanied by Mrs. Avis Rhodes, Mrs. Dossie Webb and Mrs. Norma Houser and son of Shamrock, attended the wedding of her grandson, Jack Rhodes, to Miss Margaret Stalling in Hereford on Thursday, June 16.

IT'S THE LAW

Protecting the Record

Monday morning quarterbacks always have brilliant hindsight. How well they can see the coaches' mistakes last week. So, with a lawsuit. After the jury brings in its verdict, people can tell how your lawyer should have tried your case.

But, as with sports, it's hard to look forward into the swirl of moves and counter moves to see how a given move would make out in a trial.

What's worse, unless your lawyer objects and makes the proper motion, he may lose the right later to have the court strike a piece of damaging evidence from the record.

Fully to protect you, your lawyer must so fight your case that he could take it, if need be, "or the record" to a higher court by objecting then and there. That's why a lawyer may seem always to be objecting. He has to.

If he had not, for example, moved to "quash the indictment," or objected to certain evidence, the higher court might reject his appeal where your life, liberty, or property may be at stake.

The dessert problem is more than half solved when you've a batch of homemade cookies at hand, to team up with a fruit in season, with ice cream or with a combination of the two. Both caramel and chocolate chips are used in these chewy drop cookies, with coconut and cereal adding flavor and texture.

Caramel-Chocolate-Coconut Chews
3/4 cup chocolate chips
1/2 cup caramel chips
2 1/4 cups corn flakes (well packed but not crushed)
1/2 cup flaked coconut
3/4 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine chocolate chips, caramel chips, cereal, coconut, and sugar. Mix well. Then add eggs and vanilla and mix well. Let stand 5 minutes. Drop by teaspoonful onto greased and floured baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from baking sheet immediately. (If cookies begin to stick, hold baking sheet over direct heat for a few seconds.) Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

JOSEPH CORBETT, JR.

Corbett, one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," is wanted for escape from the California Institution for Men, Chino, Calif., where he was serving a 5 years' life sentence for murdering an Air Force sergeant. A Federal warrant was issued at Los Angeles, Calif., on March 21, 1960, charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for murder.

A white American, born on October 25, 1928, at Seattle, Wash., Corbett is 6 feet 1 inch to 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 160 to 170 pounds. He has light brown hair, hazel eyes, a fair complexion, a medium build, and has worked as a clerk-typist, laborer, warehouseman, laboratory technician, and alkyl-resin cooker for a paint manufacturer. His two upper front teeth slant inward and he wears glasses, reportedly being extremely nearsighted and capable of seeing only close objects without them. He has a mole under his chin and a C-shaped scar on his right thumb.

Corbett, once a premedical student, is interested in scientific matters, avidly reads technical and travel books, and is intensely interested in firearms and target practice. He reportedly has a superior general intelligence and generally lives quietly and neatly but becomes erratic when drinking alcoholic beverages.

Convicted of second-degree murder, he is considered armed and dangerous. Anyone having information concerning him should immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which can be found on the first page of local telephone directories. APR 24 1960

GAME MAGAZINE PRINTS POISON SNAKE ARTICLE

"Watch Your Step" is the title of a comprehensive article in the June issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine, covering the four poisonous snakes found in Texas. The article deals with the habits and life of the high-sounding rather, the water moccasin, the coral and the copperhead.

The writers of the article have spent a lifetime in the study of snakes and the part they play in the balance of nature. Each agrees a snake has its place, but also warn you to "watch your step" when you are in the proper habitat for them.

They discuss the habits of each and the potential danger. They tell where the snakes like to live, the things that provoke them to strike, and their poison capacity. They feel that everyone should know about snakes so they can avoid danger.

ONE MORE FOOT

By Jesse Leonard, Pastor First Baptist Church

Philippians 3:13-14

"Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Fish caught by Indians are hung from trees at a height of thirty-three feet. The reason they state is, "Flies no get 'um!"

The Indians know that flies do not go higher than thirty-two feet so the fish are placed one foot above the "fly line."

Flies do not put forth the extra effort or they lack the sense of power to go one foot higher for food.

As Christians, let's go the other foot (the second mile) to be the kind of Christian and church member that God would have us be.

Some people are so close to the kingdom ways but yet so far, because of one thing they lack—the extra effort of going another foot.

Down Memory Lane IT HAPPENED HERE 40 Years Ago—

Taken from the Files of The McLean News, 1920
Superintendent Employed For McLean School

It is the opinion of all those who have met him that the school board employed a very capable man for superintendent Saturday, in the person of W. A. Cain, who came from Bremond, Robertson County. Mr. Cain has been described as a man of a strong personality, of about middle age, and comes with the strongest of recommendations from unquestionable sources. He has a degree from one of the state normal schools, and has taken post graduate work in Chicago and Boulder, Colo., universities.

The new superintendent has had considerable experience and good success in promoting interscholastic meets, and is a strong believer in them. People who lend much importance to the superintendent's part in conducting a successful school should be more than pleased to learn that McLean High School will have so capable a man in charge.

Mr. Cain was on his way to Boulder, Colo., to take some summer work in the university at that place when he stopped off here Saturday to meet the trustees.

Noels Surprised on Anniversary
The latter part of last week word was quietly passed among the near neighbors that Sunday, June 20, would be the 20th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Noel's wedding, and what happened was this:

While they were attending the morning church services, innumerable "substantials and delicacies" including the cake with 20 candles, made their way into their home and were artistically arranged on the dining table to await the arrival of the 20-year bride and groom.

When they came, all was quiet, the intruders having concealed themselves behind closed doors in the living room. Soon, however, they were discovered, and in a charming manner Mr. and Mrs. Noel expressed their appreciation.

After giving Mrs. Noel time to recover from the surprise, all were invited to partake of the "wedding feast."

The guests departed late in the afternoon, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Noel much happiness and success during the next 20 years. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bogan, Mr. and Mrs. C. C.

Bogan and children, Mrs. A. Stanfield and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Morse and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Shell and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Thompson and children and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Boyett.

Baptist S. S. Convention Elects Officers

The following officers were elected at the meeting of the S. S. Convention of the Wheeler County Baptist Association, held at Sharnock on Tuesday, June 15: President, T. A. Landers; first vice president, Ed Stearns; second vice president, J. J. Lummas; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Frank Exum; general secretary, J. M. Jones; and field secretaries, J. W. Arnsperger, A. F. Agee, A. P. Black, Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. S. A. Cobb.

Huddleston Agee
On Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Agee, at Alanreed occurred the marriage of Miss Dora Neal Agee to Mr. Oscar L. Huddleston, Rev. A. F. Agee of McLean officiating.

The bride was one of the teachers in the McLean public school last term, and has many friends here who wish her much happiness in her wedded life.

McLean and Heald Play Ball
The fastest game of baseball that has been played here this season was the contest between Heald and McLean teams Saturday. McLean won by a score of 8 to 6.

Newsman did not see the game, and Erwin Rice, from whom we got our information, is rather non-committal about grandstand plays and such like. Rice confessed to us, however, that he swatted the ball one that sent it away in a hurry, the ball passing between first and second bases in a most approved Texas League manner. He says he managed to first and without any undue exertion.

The batteries were: Heald, Bailey, Rippy and Taylor; McLean, Taylor and Woods.

BLWIN' Out the CORNERS by Uncle Zeb

All work and never a time to go play. Makes Jack a dull boy, at least so they say. And if he should find all play and no work. By the same token, he'd then be a jerk.

Children as well as grown-ups need a time for play and fun, but at the same time we all need to be taught to work. Some of our finest leaders had to do their share of hard work as they came along the road of life. Sometimes it seems that the more responsibility one had to assume when they were young the stronger they became as the problems of mature life have to be faced and solved.

But it is just as true that each of us, whether we are adults or children in school, need our time of play and relaxation. Some of us may love to fish, others may love to hunt, but regardless of what form of diversion we may use we do believe that some of our best decisions come perhaps from the creek bank or the golf course.

It is possible to be so busy climbing the tree that we forget to gather any apples. Someone has said that a diamond is just a chunk of coal that stuck to the job. Experience is what we get while we are looking for something better. We get paid for what we know and we pay for what we don't know.

Hard to believe a single refrigerator-freezer holds this much food? The fact is, this 1960 refrigerator-freezer holds even more than the stacks of fresh and frozen foods you see displayed here.

By court rules, the lawyer still had the duty of "protecting the record."

In the heat of a trial, your lawyer must always keep in mind the thoughtful justices on the appellate benches. For they may some day sit down calmly to review what he did or did not do in the excitement of a trial.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Meacham, Joel and Nancy, and Mrs. Charlie Vineyard and children visited in Turkey Sunday with Mrs. J. W. Meacham.
