

US Assumes Reds Linked With Moscow

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Despite Russia's wartime dissolution of the Comintern, the United States still takes it for granted that there is a firm link between the Kremlin and communists everywhere.

Hence diplomatic authorities say this government is aware of the possibility that the Soviet Union might seek to bring about strong communist agitation within the United States should the tensions between Moscow and Washington continue to build up.

Serving to highlight this phase of American foreign policy thinking is the speech Dmitri Manuilsky made before the United Nations Security Council on Tuesday.

Manuilsky, foreign minister of the Soviet Ukraine and one-time head of the Comintern, declared it is time to "put an end" to the idea that Communists have no influence through the world.

He said "the masses in all countries" had an opportunity to look the Communists over during the war and now are "expressing to them their confidence."

Officials here regard this defense of non-Russian Communists as an extraordinarily frank statement from a Soviet official talking about individuals with whom Moscow officially disavows any connection.

While Marshal Stalin's 1943 action in dissolving the Comintern was widely hailed as a goodwill gesture toward the Western powers, there appears to be no official inclination here to regard Communists anywhere as anything except essential instruments of Soviet policy under either direct or indirect control from Moscow.

Thus authorities say it seems that if and when relations between Moscow and Washington might make it desirable to do so, Russia would not hesitate to use American Communists for any foreign policy purpose they might desire.

Police Jail Negro Soldiers After Disorder

Blacks Charge MP's In Railway Station Affray

FLORENCE, S. C., Sept. 12 (AP)—A railway station melee in which military police were reported to have swung their blackjacks freely landed 135 negro soldiers in jail here on charges of "disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and interfering with an officer."

Police Chief J. A. Price said the negro soldiers, most of them just back from overseas, charged six MP's last night in an attempt to free five of their number arrested on a troop train for disorderly conduct.

The soldiers, with whom the MP's were traveling, left the train in the wake of the MP's and the five under arrest, and after a brief consultation among themselves, charged the smaller group, Price said.

The MP's, Price added, began wielding blackjacks to ward off the surge of the soldiers. Several men were knocked down but one was hurt seriously, the police chief said, before the MP's brought the situation under control by summoning civilian peace officers armed with riot guns.

Price reported the unruly soldiers then were lined up and marched single file through the streets for about a mile to two separate jails to await a hearing before city recorder.

Many of the soldiers already had received their discharge papers and others were headed for separation centers, their records showed. Practically all of them are from the South.

Luther Calvert Bone awaited Thursday afternoon a decision from a 70th district court jury on a charge he burglarized a liquor store here Feb. 27.

Bone entered a plea of guilty before the jury and only testimony in the case was an introduction of part of the statement attributed to Bone. Chief of Police A. G. Mitchell was on the stand to tell of having taken a statement, Defense Attorney James Little introduced no witnesses.

Three others, Mertz E. Daran, John Q. Hancock and H. J. Conroy previously had entered pleas of guilty before Judge Cecil Collins, District Attorney Martelle McDonald represented the state.

Jurors were H. F. Taylor, Ray Wilson, Harold Talbot, Alvin Bates, L. Z. Shaffer, Melvin Choate, Worth Peeler, D. S. Hiley, H. A. Reih, H. E. Laws, Herman Jefferson, E. C. Sewell.

Wednesday afternoon the court denied a divorce in the case of Bessie Fountain versus Clifford Fountain.

The volume of trash picked-up Wednesday in the clean-up campaign kept pace with Tuesday's standard, with city trucks hauling 29 loads, B. J. McDaniel, chairman of the chamber of commerce health and recreation department, reported today.

If current response continues for the remainder of the week, the total for the drive will surpass last spring's volume. A total of 61 loads has been handled since Monday morning by the city's free pick-up service.

Italy Would Increase Army

PARIS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Italy sought permission of the 21-nation peace conference today to increase the effective strength of her projected peace-time Navy from 22,500 officers and men to the figure fixed by the Big Four to 35,000.

The Italian delegation prepared the present Military Commission — which approved the Big Four recommendation on Sept. 3 — a request for the increase of 12,500 in a final plea today for "defensive armaments," together with a plea that the excessive shipping which the victor nations demand Italy destroy, be converted to scrap iron rather than become a total loss.

At the same time, Dr. Ales Beller of Yugoslavia was scheduled to wind up Yugoslav demands on Italy before the Italian Political and Territorial Commission with a demand that the Italian City of Monfalcone, which lies about 37 miles northwest of Trieste and about the same distance southwest of Gorizia, be turned over to Yugoslavia.

Beller was prepared to ask for that city, which he calls Trzic, on the ground that the city's population had increased by 8,000 Slovenes since it became Italian and that even the "Italian population now wants to become part of Yugoslavia."

On another phase of the Italian treaty, a nine-nations sub-commission worked into the early hours of this morning on reparations claims against Italy and invited Ethiopia, France, Britain, Yugoslavia, Egypt and Holland to state their cases before it. The United States yesterday renounced all claims for reparations from Italy.

Both Jack Y. Smith, manager of the Lions team, and Bud Tucker, Legion manager, were sticking by their line-ups but feared last minute shifts might be necessary. Smith attributed this to a drastic drop in temperature that phenomenally was held to a low strata higher than the ankles.

There were counter charges of meddling with the stock, but an interview with Atomic Bomb, one of the not so docile base runners, failed of verbal confirmation. Confronted with a charge the Legion had slipped him a peck of oats, Atomic Bomb merely said "Sniff," and kept on chomping his oats.

The interview was significantly terminated with a vocal display which, had it come from a less refined character, might have been characterized as a bray.

Under rules of the game, players must bat in an orthodox manner. Fielders, however, are mounted on nimble-footed beasts completely allergic to speed. They can field dismounted only in an area circumscribed by the reins. Balls must be thrown from aboard the hurricane deck. Batters must mount the baserunning specialists for acrobatic attempts at circling the paths. These baserunners, it is rumored, have been known to buck.

A second game is billed for 8 p. m. Friday at the rodeo grounds.

APPROPRIATION OK'D HAVANA, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Cuban cabinet has approved an appropriation of $2,400,000 to be paid to the United States government in installments in return for lend-lease material received during the war.

Donkey, Lions, Legionnaires Battle Tonight

The battle of the cat bin — Lions versus the Legion or Legion versus a truckload of burros — gets underway at 8 p. m. under the lights at the rodeo grounds today.

Ostensibly, the contest is a donkey ball game between the Lions and the Legion. Actually, the dopsters are hinting darkly it may develop into a battle of wits between the Lions and Legionnaires against the donkeys.

In that event, the mules are favored to win.

Board Approves School Budget Provisionally

School board members Wednesday night provisionally approved the budget for the 1946-47 school year, adjusted pay schedules for custodians and attended to a variety of other matters.

The budget outline called for expenditures of $372,692.50, against estimated revenues of $310,534. The deficit of $62,158, however, would be overcome by a carry-over of $78,981 from the past year.

Pending a stabilization of the tax picture, trustees made approval of the budget and inclusion of additional teachers for double-day sessions contingent on the final total of the tax rolls.

Budget figures were higher than those presented at the public hearing meeting, chiefly due to the fact that a $200 per annum temporary raise had been granted all teachers in the system. Another substantial change was provision in the budget, contingent upon tax roll appraising estimates, for seven additional teachers to handle double-day sessions. This item would approximate $15,000 for the year.

Board members voted a $10 per month raise across the board to building custodians.

Merle J. Stewart was named to conduct the annual audit of a minor tax matter. Installation of sidewalks at College Heights was approved, and the board read a letter of commendation from Lawrence J. Wells, city-county sanitarian, on new sanitary facilities at the Lakeview (colored) school. Matter of painting the stadium was tabled indefinitely.

Superintendent W. C. Blankenship reported on enrollment and crowded conditions, declaring that at the present time eight classrooms had in excess of 40 pupils, one ranging up to 52. These were the conditions which prompted the double-day session proposals.

A heavy run of stockers, greeted promptly by a strong market, boosted receipts to 1250 head at the weekly sale of the Big Spring Livestock Auction company Wednesday.

Few fat animals were available, but stockers were in greater demand, and cattlemen are forecasting a continued strong market due to recent showers.

Cows and calves of varying flesh and quality commanded from $103 to $135 a pair Wednesday, while steer calves hit 17.00 per cwt. Heifer calves brought 13.50 to 16.00; fat bulls, 12.00; and fat butcher cattle, 12.00 to 16.00, depending on quality.

Refurbishing of the US post-office building was well underway Thursday.

Lobby of the building has been painted and currently the interior of the offices and workroom is being refinished. Hairline cracks are being treated before painting.

More Unions Asked To Join Seamen Strike

By The Associated Press Hopes revived for solution of the strike of AFL maritime workers today with a White House announcement that the president has ordered Reconstruction Director John R. Steelman to try to work out a settlement.

The strike, which New York City authorities said had delayed movement of nearly $200,000,000 worth of shipping in that harbor alone, is going into its eighth day.

"It's up to Dr. Steelman to make a decision, probably in the course of the day," the president's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, told newsmen.

The Wage Stabilization Board — which last night refused to yield to high pressure from the shipping industry and a half million strike-Idle Maritime workers — went into conference with Steelman to explain its position.

Leaders of striking AFL seamen today denounced as a "threat to the entire labor movement of the United States" the decision of the Wage Stabilization Board in standing pat on its earlier ruling denying them wage hikes above those won by CIO seamen.

Pledging a "fight to the bitter end," they promised to carry out "plans to secure the support of the entire US labor movement — including AFL, CIO and independent unions — to aid us in our fight to regain the right of free collective bargaining which the WSB action has denied us."

In an earlier telegram to the WSB, the strike leaders termed the board's action as "criminal and union-busting," and added:

"The further continuance of the greatest general Maritime strike in the history of the United States rests squarely on your shoulders and the shoulders of those individuals who voted to deny our hard fought-for wage gains."

The WSB's decision brought immediate repercussions along the strike-torn coastal ports of the nation where the world's greatest Maritime fleet lay virtually immobilized behind a chain of picketing seamen.

The Marine Firemen, Oilers, Wipers and Water-tenders Union, an independent organization, announced its 15,000 members throughout the nation would join the AFL strike today.

Big Spring was beginning to bump into a sharp cut in meat supplies Thursday.

This resulted largely from the withdrawal of supplies by the Sewell Wholesale Meat company on instructions of OPA due to excess of slaughtering quota in the months of May and June.

At a hearing in San Angelo Tuesday, Sewell said quotas had been exceeded through absence of key personnel and slaughter of two truck loads of cattle ticketed for July slaughter, the last few days of June.

While no order was entered by the hearing commissioner, the company was advised by the OPA that excesses would have to be made up by under-killing in September. Since there had been some slaughter prior to the hearing, Marvin Sewell, operator of the company, which supplies approximately one-third of the local volume, said he would not kill or deliver for the company pending further instructions from OPA.

Immediate effect of the action was to deprive a number of retail outlets and food establishments of their regular source of supply.

Four men, one with prior service, were enlisted through the Big Spring office of the army recruiting service this week.

They are Arnold A. Adams, Midland, veteran, who enlisted three years in the AAF, Leroy Cumble, Rising Star, three years with the engineers, and Kenneth D. Stalk, Comanche, and Edward Lee Allen, O'Donnell, both for three years with the AAF.

Mayor Dabney Acknowledges Tax Protests

Confronted with what he said were numerous protests, Mayor G. W. Dabney Thursday said he wanted "every taxpayer that feels their taxes have been unduly raised to go before the equalization board . . . and state their case."

The mayor concluded that "city taxpayers are almost unanimous in protest against their property being given a blanket increase in valuations for tax raising purposes. I wish to state that was not authorized by the city commissioners," the mayor's statement went on.

"They went on record in July against any tax rate increase, and valuations should be equalized and not given a blanket raise. I reported to you in the Big Spring Daily Herald on Aug. 6 the city commission decision was for a balanced budget and no increase in tax rate; that we should operate as economically as possible and avoid the necessity of boosting taxes at a time they might be difficult to pay."

Mayor Dabney added that "we are not criticizing the equalization board. They no doubt acted in good faith."

He took the position that "we cannot afford to impose taxes beyond our ability to pay and never value property for tax making purposes on inflated selling prices."

Declaring that he had advocated a tax commission composed of city taxpayers to look into every phase of tax raising and expenditures because they were stockholders and the commission were the directors, Dabney said he wanted taxpayers who felt values had been unduly raised to go before the equalization board "on the date set for hearings and state your case and I am sure your complaints can be adjusted."

Bids On Highway Improvement Called

AUSTIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—Bids on 397 miles of primary and farm-to-market highway improvement jobs estimated to cost $5,800,000 were called for today by the state highway commission.

The bids will be opened Sept. 24 and 25.

Included in the list of 42 projects on which contractors were asked to submit bids is a section of the Houston urban express way on US Highway 75. It will be the third project of the state's postwar urban program to be started.

Byrnes' Statement Defines The Line Of Struggle With Russia For Germany

By JOSEPH ALSOP
BERLIN—On Friday, Secretary of State James F. Byrnes formally repaired the errors of the past in a statement at Stuttgart on American policy towards Germany. He did not speak his mind as a man in the street can do. Nevertheless, his statement marks the formal initiation of the struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union, which will decide whether this unhappy country is to join the free world of the west or become one of the slave states of the Soviet system.

 The struggle is only beginning now because, hitherto, we have remained passive and confused in the face of a determined Soviet campaign to gain control of Germany by the methods described in previous reports in this space. It is appropriate now that the errors of our past policy should be described as well.

Not the least extraordinary aspect of the picture here is the astute use made by the Soviet Union through its instrumentality, the American Communist party, of the woolly-mindedness of such perfectly well-meaning persons as former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and the other pastoralizers. The best way for the German people to be driven into the arms of the Soviet Union was for the United States to stand forth as the champion of indiscriminate punishment and harsh misery in Germany. In the disorganized period at the close of the war, considerable numbers of American Communists and fellow travelers infiltrated the military government, and there became the most passionate advocates of pastoralization as well as assisting Soviet policy in other ways.

At any rate the fact is uncontroverted that a considerable number of American Communists found posts in the economic division, the information control division and even the counter-intelligence branch of the military government. In the economic division, they were especially strong on the staff of Morgenthau's special Treasury representative, Bernard Bernstein, who was in charge of de-cartelization of German industry. And they used this position, playing upon Bernstein's belief in the pastoralization theory, to try to hold down the whole German economy to a level drab, unrelieved, unbearable misery.

Again, in the information control division, fellow-traveling or Communist officials succeeded in licensing the three main newspapers in the American zone, the "Frankfurter Rundschau," "Stuttgarter Zeitung," and "Rhein-Neckar Zeitung" to German Communists. Until corrective steps were taken the "Rundschau" used to be called the "Frankfurt Pravda."

But these foolish and sometimes shameful episodes were merely symptoms. The American Communists were for a time able to throw their weight about because American policy was deeply confused and the American people had not thought the German problem through. That was the fundamental difficulty. It is to that difficulty, rather than underground influence, that our mistakes must in the last analysis be traced.

All of those mistakes have, in one way or another, involved a failure to recognize that a struggle for Germany had begun with the end of the war. Therefore, we adopted a rigid denazification policy, and let the Soviets hire the best men we threw out of jobs. Therefore, we adopted an information control policy wholly concerned with the crimes of the Nazi past, and without any realization of the meaning of the Soviet challenge. Therefore, we exhibited the early growth of a strong labor movement, which must eventually be the foundation stone of the free Germany of the future. Therefore we let the Soviets cherish and bribe their servile German politicians while we denied the leaders of the democratic parties the transportation, publication rights and other essentials of their task. Some of these mistakes have not been corrected even now. But it is to be earnestly hoped that Byrnes' statement will mark the opening of a new era. (Copyright, 1946, New York Tribune, Inc.)

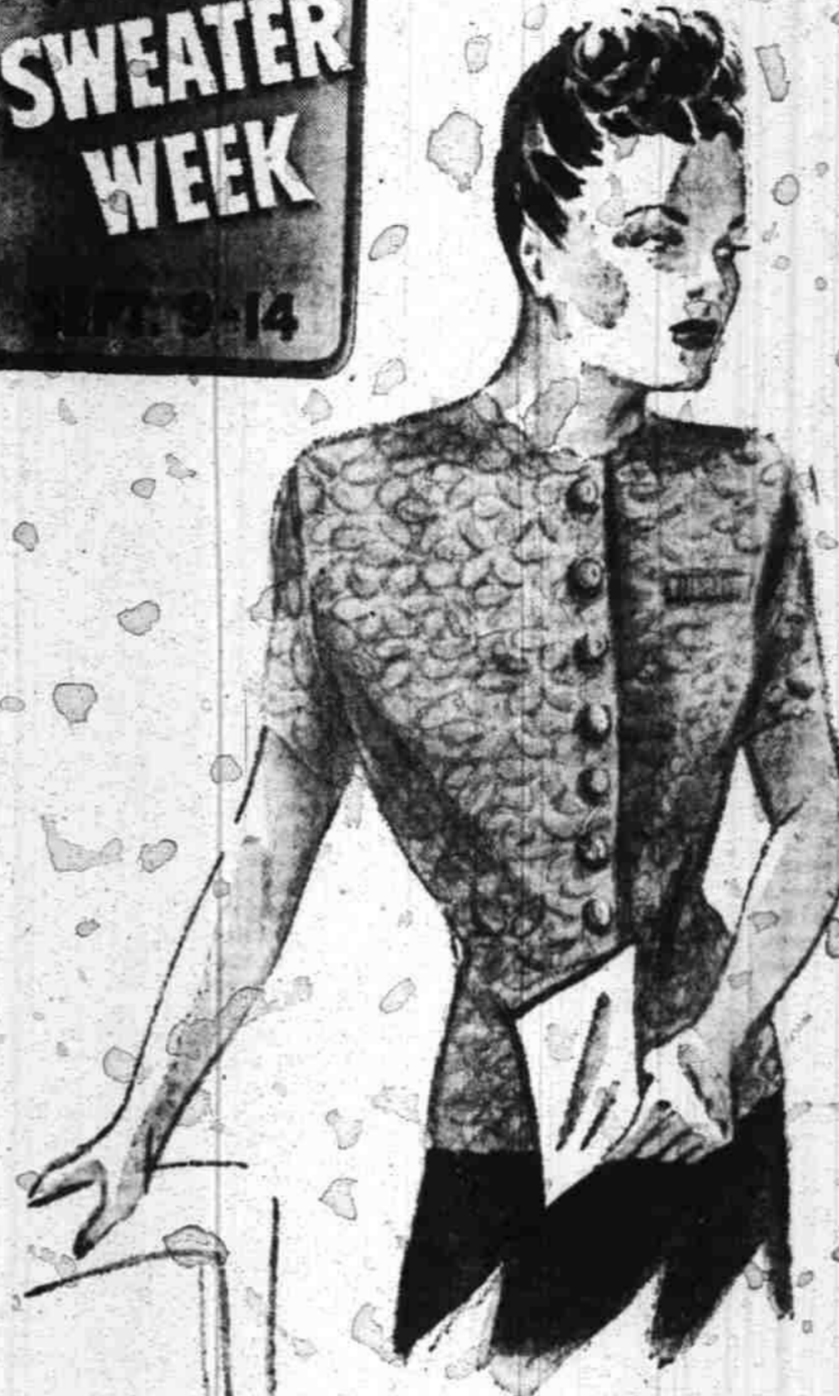

Taft Criticizes US Foreign Policy

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 11 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft told fellow Ohio Republicans today that because the Democratic administration "failed in its foreign policy" this country is "in as much danger from abroad as before the war."
 Keynoting the party's state convention, Taft devoted approximately one-fifth of his prepared address to a critical review of international affairs.

City Collects $1,107 In Fines

Police department actively during August accounted for $1,107 in fines collected in city court, according to the regular report submitted by Chief A. G. Mitchell. Eighty-five fines were assessed for drunkenness, ranging from $15 to $100 each, while two assessments of $100 each were made for violations of the city milk ordinance.

Local officers also made four arrests on charges of automobile theft during the month, releasing one each to sheriff departments in Abilene, Odessa and Big Spring, and one to the police department in Dallas.

A total of 185 traffic tickets were issued by patrolmen, with 79 paying fines, 45 pending and 61 excused. The police radio made 508 calls to local units and received 248 from other stations, while 62 messages originated from the local station.

Texans Urge Truman To Halt Ship Strike

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Texas Manufacturers association has sent a telegram to President Truman urging immediate executive action to end the SIU-SUP strike.

Signed by C. K. Stillwagon, president of the association, the telegram said, "the Second War Powers Act enables you as president to use the power of government to meet national emergencies. Neither you nor congress has declared the wartime emergency at an end. You have used the power to seize the coal mines to end an emergency of no greater consequence than the current maritime strike."

"The maritime strike is against the rulings of the government, which they refused to accept. Our soldiers overseas, our allies and many citizens on our continent are affected; therefore the current maritime strike should no longer be tolerated."

"We urge you to act now and end this strike or else declare the emergency at an end and remove wartime shackles from all segments of society, employes and employers alike."

Strikers Take Time To Give Transfusion

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Seven striking seamen have left their picket lines here to give blood for a transfusion for thirteen-year old Betty Jo Sharp, one of five children in the Sharp family who were badly injured when a Spanish-American war shell exploded. The seamen were walking picket duty in the ship channel area where Betty Jo lives. Hearing of her need, they went to the hospital and volunteered to supply the blood.

Governors Of Texas

Sterling, Humble Oil Builder, Had Stormy Tenure In Office

(This is the 29th in a series of stories based on the lives of governors of Texas.)

By PAUL BOLTON

Friends of Ross Shaw Sterling say that his brief tenure in the office of Texas governor was due largely to a preverse public psychology. He was unfortunate enough to be governor in those years when the great depression was at its height; in 1931 and 1932. Sterling stepped up to the office of governor from the chairmanship of the highway commission. Cleaning up the highway commission had been one of the issues upon which Dan Moody had defeated Miriam A. Ferguson; and the man he selected to do it was Ross S. Sterling, a successful Houston business man.

Sterling's claim to fame undoubtedly will rest upon the fact that he first built one of the state's greatest oil companies, Humble Oil and Refining Company. It started out as a small independent company called the Humble Company, and for 18 years Sterling built it until, when sold, it was well on the way to becoming a giant.

Today the Humble Company is Texas' biggest purchaser of crude oil; and is affiliated with one of the largest companies, Standard Oil of New Jersey. Sterling's monuments include the great Baytown refinery of the Humble Company and the Humble Building in Houston. He also was the builder of a railroad (The Dayton and Goose Creek) and was one of the guiding spirits behind the construction of the Houston ship channel.

ROSS SHAW STERLING

No great shakes as a stump speaker, Sterling had a hard time in campaign years. The first time was not too difficult, with a major share of the campaigning burden on that seasoned forensic specialist, Dan Moody. But the second time he was more largely on his own; and despite the circulation of some of the most sensational charges ever seen in a state noteworthy for sensationalism in politics, he was defeated after two years by Mrs. Ferguson.

His two years in office were likewise stormy. Sterling wanted to build many great highways. He wanted to issue bonds to pay for them—Two hundred million dollars worth of them. His wishes precipitated a fight which kept his legislature in turmoil. Time after time the measure was brought to a vote, and time after time it was beaten down.

Then, he was unfortunate enough to be governor when the price of oil collapsed under the impact of East Texas, the world's greatest oil field. He called out the troops, declared martial law, and laid himself open to lots of political criticism.

The then agricultural commissioner, J. E. McDonald, matched a scheme with notables from other states — including the then commissioner in Georgia, Eugene Talmadge — for a south-wide reduction of cotton acreage. They prevailed upon Sterling to get a law passed cutting the Texas production 50 per cent. But farmers attacked it in the courts, and the courts declared the Texas law unconstitutional.

They were, as Sterling said in campaign documents, "perilous economic times." The times swept him out of office after another bitter double-primary.

So bitter was the campaign that in the fall of 1932, Sterling issued a statement as governor, saying—

"There is but one thing left for Texans who love their state and Democrats who love their party to do; and that is to throw the weight of their influence and their votes behind Orville Bullington for governor." Bullington was the Republican candidate.

Sterling said he went out of office a poor man. "When I became governor I was well to do and now I return to the ranks of the poor from which I sprang."

Sterling took little active part in politics after his defeat. He went back into the oil business, and found the time to build up his country home on the Bayshore at La Porte, raising fine hogs as a hobby. Just a few weeks ago he made a gift of this property to the Optimists Club of Houston.

Picketing Prohibited On Channel Lands

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—A temporary injunction has been granted by Special Judge Wilmer B. Hunt enjoining striking AFL seamen from picketing ship channel properties of two terminal operators.

The court order will prohibit picketing by members of the Seafarers International Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific at the waterfront properties of the Gulf Atlantic Warehouse company and the Manchester Terminal Corporation.

The order will be effective until the case is tried on its merits or until a contrary decision is taken by an appeals court.

The attorney for the striking unions, Sewell Myer, filed notice of appeal.

Mrs. Church Rites Held In Merkel

Rites were to be held at 3 p. m. Thursday at the Merkel Methodist church for Mrs. F. E. Church, 50, mother of Mrs. Noel Bryant, wife of a former Methodist pastor at Coahoma and Stanton.

Mrs. Church died at 3:35 p. m. at her home in Merkel Wednesday following a long illness.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters and one son. Her mother, Mrs. W. U. Beeng Merkel, and one sister and two grandchildren also survive. Burial was to be in the Merkel cemetery.

Rural mail carriers were authorized to receive and deliver registered mail on April 12, 1900.

Suit Charges Heavy Damage To Cemetery

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (AP)—A suit seeking damages of nearly a quarter of a million dollars and alleging desecration of graves in the Lagow cemetery here, has been filed in 95th district court by J. T. Reese, his wife and 109 other plaintiffs against C. C. McLaughlin, Jr., Sidney Mary Langley Kent and A. H. Kent.

The petition alleges that lumber and debris were piled on cemetery lots and that automobiles and bulldozers had run over the land, breaking some of the tombstones.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Sarcenrate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Record High Corn, Wheat Crops Seen By Agriculturists

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Agriculture Department this week estimated this year's corn crop at 3,371,707,000 bushels and wheat production at 1,167,319,000 bushels, record highs for both crops.

Corn production was forecast a month ago at 3,496,820,000 bushels. Production last year was 3,018,410,000 bushels and the 1935-44 average was 2,608,499,000 bushels. The previous record corn crop was 3,203,310,000 in 1944.

Wheat production was forecast a month ago at 1,160,366,000 bushels. The wheat crop in 1945—the previous record—totaled 1,123,143,000.

Winter wheat is estimated at 879,894,000 bushels compared with the same amount a month ago, 823,177,000 bushels produced last year, and a 10-year average of 618,019,000 bushels.

Spring wheat is indicated at 287,425,000 bushels compared with 280,472,000 a month ago, 299,966,000 last year and a 10-year average of 319,000,000.

The indicated crop is 1,519,592,000 bushels compared with 1,498,878,000 forecast a month ago, 1,547,663,000 produced last year, and a 10-year average of 1,129,441,000.

The indicated production of other crops, with comparative figures for a month ago, last year's production, and the 10-year (1934-44) average, include:

Barley 256,334,000 bushels; 250,820,000; 263,967,000; and 289,598,000.

Property Owners Protest Rise In Valuations

Murmurs of protest against increased tax valuations, fluttering over the city since tax notices went in the mails several days ago, were crystallized by Thursday in property owner determination to resist what many regard as inequitable raises.

The growing action indicated turbulence ahead when the board of equalization, which represents both the municipality and the independent school district, opens its hearings Monday. Taxpayers receiving notices have been notified to appear at the city hall at 9 a. m. on that day.

One group of taxpayers had purchased advertising space to urge citizens interested in adjustments to appear before the board.

While individual cases varied widely and isolated items could not be regarded as typical, there were some 200 and 300 per cent increases. Several property owners reported 50 to 75 per cent hikes. Some were at 15 or 20 per cent.

Overall taxable revenues for the city and school district indicated that the values as a whole were set up about 30 per cent.

Basis for the values was fixed in surveys made, some months ago for the city and school district by two special committees, one examining land values, the other improvements. An effort was made, public officials said, to place values at 1942 levels.

The finds of these committees were taken by the equalization board, it was understood, which it fixed personal property values.

Members of the equalization board are John Coffee, Jack Roden and Otis Grafe. The special committees included R. L. Cook, Bob Stripling and Curtis Driver for land; and J. B. Collins, Arthur Woodall and J. D. Jones for improvements.

The city Tuesday approved its current budget on the basis of the assessed valuations; the school board Wednesday put only a tentative OK on its fiscal schedule pending final fixing of values.

Sanitary Toilet Building Speeded

Big Spring's program for eradicating unimproved types of outdoor toilets has been speeded up considerably, Lawrence J. Wells, sanitarian, said today.

Dillard Johnson, a special worker, is assisting in the program. During the past week, 15 notices have been mailed by the city-county health unit, and 10 concrete slabs for approved pit-type toilets have been delivered and installed.

The supply of slabs has been built up sufficiently to accommodate the demand constantly, Wells said. More than 75 have complied with the regulations during the past two and a half months, by either installing the approved slabs, connecting to the city sewer lines or installing approved septic tanks.

Texans Reply To Phi Beta's Criticisms

AUSTIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson said today he does not like the idea of "any outside influence trying to dictate to us how to run our institutions."

The Texas governor was commenting at his press conference on yesterday's action of the National Phi Beta Kappa, which empowered its senate to suspend the University of Texas chapter's privilege of electing members if any "serious deterioration" of educational conditions is found within the next three years.

President T. S. Painter replied to some and kept silent on other phases of the report. He said that Judge Dorothy Kenyon of New York, chairman of a committee which investigated conditions at the university, apparently "misunderstood" the situation. Stevenson concurred in this saying: "That is likely to be true of any such outside group."

"History shows that practically all of the internal trouble we have had in the United States grew from some agitating group in the North. If some such group wants to organize for its own advancement, that is fine and dandy, but they should not encroach other realms."

Occupation May Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—A sweeping inquiry into operations of this country's military government in Germany reportedly is under consideration by the Senate War Investigating committee.

A member disclosed privately today that the committee received testimony in a recent closed door session regarding alleged irregularities among occupation troops, particularly with respect to fraternization.

An unidentified witness questioned about conditions in the American zone was said to have compared them unfavorably with the German occupation of France during the war.

This testimony, as yet uncorroborated by any others acquainted with the situation, was regarded as only preliminary information, and other members said additional facts will be sought before any decision is made on undertaking the inquiry. This may come at a meeting later this month when Sen. James M. Mead plans to step down as chairman to campaign actively as the Democratic nominee for governor of New York.

The Savannah, first U. S. steamer to cross the Atlantic, was only 320 tons, as compared to the 26,000 ton America, largest U. S. merchant ship.

Crowded Schools Topic Of Speech At Rotary Lunch

Big Spring schools are faced with the most crowded condition in history, and enrollment still is increasing, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, told members of the Kiwanis club at their luncheon meeting Thursday in the Settles hotel.

To relieve the large classes, what is known as the "double-day" program is being used in some of the schools, Blankenship said. The children still get a full day of instruction, however.

Giving a brief history of the local school system, Blankenship said that the hope of the world lies in the development and training of children. A program is underway for an unbiased committee to make a comparison between the Big Spring system and 200 other schools in the US. Blankenship continued. The comparison is to be made by school authorities from out of town.

Mrs. Paul Graham sang, accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Norman. Guests included Tommy Hart, Capt. Oly Sheppard, Rev. R. Gage Lloyd and Avery Atkins.

Markets

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—A tired looking stock market generally did little either way today as sellers and buyers reverted to caution and activity tapered to the lightest of the week.

Wednesday's brisk rally was extended moderately at the opening but failed to hold new motors weakened a number of rails, and industrialists stepped into the minus column. For a while losses ranged from fractions to 7 point. Extreme setbacks then were reduced in most cases or converted into modest advances by midday. Dealings slowed appreciably from then on with a slight pickup in the final hour. Trends were rather cloudy at the close.

CHATTERTON RETIRES

Stuffed Meat Roll Gives New Twist, Color To Everyday Hamburger Loaf

No meat can be stretched the way hamburger can and still appear proudly as a company or special family dinner.

What makes this recipe different is that the meat and vegetables are combined like a jelly roll. The well-seasoned meat mixture is the "cake" and the colorful vegetables omepeoul. d(x) are the "filling". The housewife can use any combination of fresh or left-over cooked vegetables, but always choose those that add color and flavor.

Baked Stuffed Meat Loaf

Filling:

- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 2 fresh tomatoes, peeled and chopped (2 cups)
- 1 cup diced cooked carrots
- 1 cup cooked peas
- 1-2 cup cooked string beans
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1-8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg

Meat Mixture:

- 2 slices bread
- 1-4 cup hot water
- 2 pounds ground beef
- 2-1-2 teaspoons salt
- 1-4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup beef stock

For Filling:— Fry onion slowly in oil until lightly browned. Add tomatoes, carrots, peas, string beans, salt, pepper and egg. Mix well.

For Meat Mixture:— Soak bread in hot water about 5 minutes. Squeeze out excess water. Combine bread, beef, salt, pepper and egg. Mix thoroughly. Turn meat out onto heavy waxed paper and pat out into a rectangular shape about 1-4 to 1-2-inch thick. Spread vegetable, folding over meat. Roll up like a jelly roll, being sure all vegetables are inside the roll. Place loaf into a well greased baking pan. Bake, uncovered, in a hot oven (400 degrees F) about 15 minutes, or until loaf is browned. Sprinkle top of loaf with flour. Add beef stock. Reduce heat to moderate temperature (350 degrees F). Cover pan, and continue baking about 1 hour.

Makes 10 to 12 servings.
Notes:— Left-over meat loaf makes excellent sandwich fillings for the lunch box or picnic.

Warm Autumn Meals Need Special Menus

LIME PUFF PUDDING . . . Easy-to-make dessert.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Foods Editor

During autumn, there are 1 key to be warm days. If you are stuck for ideas on what to serve when the temperature soars unexpectedly, how about a good, hot, tick-to-the-ribs main dish like the following and a cool dessert?

Smoked Pork Butt and Spinach

- 1 smoked pork butt, 2 to 3 pounds.
- 1/4 cup fat.
- 1 teaspoon kitchen bouque.
- 1 teaspoon powdered cloves.
- 1 clove garlic, crushed.
- 2 pounds spinach.
- 1/2 teaspoon onion salt.
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper.

Cook pork butt in two quarts boiling unsalted water until tender—about an hour. Cut into one-half inch thick slices and place on heat-proof platter. Blend together two tablespoons fat, the kitchen bouquet and cloves. Brush on surface of meat. Bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes, or until brown. Meanwhile, melt two tablespoons fat in Dutch oven. Add garlic and saute over low heat for five minutes. Remove from pan. Cut spinach coarsely and place in pan. Cook, tightly covered, over moderate heat, stirring occasionally, until tender and crisp. Drain and add seasonings. Pile around meat on platter and serve.

Limes still are available in early autumn and can be used in cooked foods.

Added to their tastiness is the fact that limes, like all citrus fruits, provide a generous amount of Vitamin D. This is the time of year to be sure you're getting plenty of vitamins to help prevent colds and fatigue.

This pudding is easy to make and offers a good way to use up those last few slices of bread.

Lime Puff Pudding
1 cup soft bread cubes.
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup lime juice
Grated rind of one lime
2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar
Soak bread in milk a few minutes. Rub through coarse sieve.

Sugar, Not Frost, Gives Fall Color

AP Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON—It's sugar and not Jack Frost that tints the foliage of autumn with reds, yellows and browns, says the forest service of the US Department of Agriculture.

Popular belief to the contrary, tree leaves actually change color before cold weather begins as part of the plant's preparation for winter.

"All during the spring and summer," says a booklet just released by the service, "the leaves have served as factories, where foods necessary for the tree's growth have been manufactured. In the fall when the cool weather causes a slowing down of the vital processes, the work of the leaves comes to an end. The machinery of the leaf factory is dismantled. Whatever food there is on hand is sent to the body of the tree to be stored for use in the spring."

"All that remains in the cell cavities of the leaf is a watery substance in which a few oil globules and crystals, and a small number of yellow, strongly refractive bodies can be seen. These give the leaves the yellow coloring. It often happens that there is more sugar in the leaf than can readily be transferred back to the tree. When this is the case the chemical combination with other substances produces many color shades, varying from the brilliant red of the dogwood to the more austere red-browns of the oak."

Yacht Gets Basin

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—The original base for seaplanes flying between Miami and South America, Dinner Key, will be taken over by the city and turned into a palatial yacht basin this fall. The base attracted thousands of sight-seers when the big clipper planes landed there.

"You Can Cook If You Can Read" Cooking Primer Compiled For Novices

By ARLENE WOLF
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK — An ambitious but puzzled young bride (one of those who actually didn't know how to boil water) sorrowfully plumped a borrowed cook book down in front of her best friend. "This is probably a very good book," she sighed, "but not for me. You have to know how to cook to use it. The first thing I came across was something about folding an egg, and I tried and I tried and still can't understand how you do it."

Land Fitzsimmons has turned out a cookbook written in the culinary equivalent of basic English. It takes into consideration the bewildered state of a novice who, when told to baste a roast, can't figure out what sewing has to do with beef, who doesn't understand what you're looking for when you "try out" fat — and who thinks there must be some special magic involved in ricing potatoes. In the past, most cookbooks have been of little help. Now comes some real assistance in "You Can Cook If You Can Read." The authors don't take anything for granted. They start you off on definitions of cooking terms, follow up with a roster of required kitchen tools (including dishes), and explain everything in detail as they go along.

They explain how many pounds of string beans are needed for a given number of people, and give tables to answer similar problems for meats, vegetables and potatoes. They tell you how long it takes to prepare something, as well as how long it takes to cook it, and estimate a beginner has an ample three minutes to get an onion ready for the pot. There are measurement tables, how-long-to-cook-it tables, and herb tables that explain which seasonings in what quantity should be used in various combinations.

Hay Values Weaker With Additional Rain

DALLAS, Sept. 12. (AP)—Hay values, while remaining firm throughout the Central Western areas, were somewhat weaker in the Southwest as recent rains improved pastures, officials of the Southwest Area Office of the Production and Marketing Administration, USDA, have announced. Shortages of hoxers continued to hamper movement of products. Dehydrating plants were in full operation, however, in most areas. Receipts at terminal markets remained light and sharply below the corresponding period last year.

Dress Up Lamb Chops With Flavorful Sauce Of Vegetables, Butter

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Veal Bouillon
Lamb Chops with Vegetable Butter
Mashed Potatoes with Parsley
Glazed White Onions
Pepper and Cheese Salad
Apple Crumble Pudding
with Foamy Sauce
(Recipes Serve Four)
Veal Bouillon

Veal stock
2 cups chopped vegetables, onions, carrots, celery stalks with leaves.
1 bay leaf
Small clove garlic
Pepper and salt
Remove fat from veal stock. Add vegetables and seasonings and simmer until vegetables are tender. Strain and serve hot in bouillon cups with a sprinkling of chopped parsley on top.

Vegetable Butter
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1/2 green pepper chopped fine
1/2 pimiento, chopped fine
In the pan in which your chops were panbroiled melt the butter or margarine. Add rest of ingredients and when hot pour over chops.

Apple Crumble Pudding
1 cup flour
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar, white or brown
4 apples, sliced
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons water
1 egg, beaten
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Blend flour, butter or margarine and sugar with pastry mixer to form a crumbly mass. Pare and core apples. Slice into a buttered baking dish and cover with flour mixture. Bake at 375 degrees until apples are tender and crust is browned, about 45 minutes. Mix in sauce-pan, half cup sugar, butter or margarine and water. Stir and cook over low heat until blended and keep warm. Just before serving stir in beaten egg and vanilla. Top the pudding with this sauce.

News For Cooks— Pepper Importation To Rise By October

Supplies of pepper should improve within the next month or six weeks.

With removal of price ceilings recently, Department of Agriculture approved authorizations for imports of both black and white pepper from the Netherlands East Indies, Malay States, French Indo-China, Siam and Nigeria, where most of the pre-war pepper was produced. Supplies from these areas are not under allocation control and may be bought wherever obtainable.

Import authorizations also are being issued for the amount of Indian pepper allocated to the United States by the International Emergency Food Council. This pepper formerly was available only at prices higher than those permitted under price control.

Some of the authorized pepper purchases already have been made and supplies are en route to the United States.

BEST BUYS

According to the US Department of Agriculture best buys in the markets this week are Irish potatoes, Onions, Carrots, Cabbage, Eggplant, Beans and Cantaloupe.

August Surplus Sales

DALLAS, Sept. 12. (AP)—With veteran sales representing 25 per cent of the total, the War Assets Administration, Dallas regional office, sold $862,728.39 worth of surplus property during August, Harry L. Holliday, regional director, has announced.

Nationalists Claim Pushing Reds Back

PEIPING, Sept. 12. (AP)—Government troops had penetrated strongly fortified Tsining, 100 miles west of Kalgan, against heavy communist resistance.

The unconfirmed reports said Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's troops, pushing eastward along the Peiping railroad toward Kalgan, entered the main sections of Tsining as the Red defenders fought behind fortifications erected by government troops in 1936.

Government sources said they had confirmed that national troops had captured Kupeikou, an important pass through the great wall north of Peiping. In East Hopeh province, one of the five government columns converging on Tshunwa pushed to within 10 miles of that communist military base.

Combine Rich Biscuit Topping, Peaches
For All-Time Favorite Of Family

Sherry Sauce adds distinction to easily prepared Peach Cobbler.

Take one jar of peaches and add a tender, golden biscuit topping. Over this serve a well-flavored wine sauce — and you have a delightful dessert for any meal the year round. Peach Cobbler with Sherry Foamy Sauce is particularly good on early fall menus.

Peach Cobbler
(6-8 servings)
1 No. 2 1-2 jar peaches
1-2 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons sugar
1-8 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Drain peaches, pouring juice into saucepan. Bring juice to boiling point. Blend cornstarch, sugar and salt and add to juice. Stir constantly until thick. Remove from heat. Add butter or margarine.

Now place peaches in well-greased casserole. Pour thickened juice over them. Place in hot oven (425 deg. F.) until the syrup bubbles around edges. Remove from oven and drop rich biscuit dough on top. Then return to oven and bake for 15 to 20 minutes until topping is baked and brown. Serve hot with Sherry Foam Sauce.

Sioux City Sue
Gets Advice
About Cineland

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Sioux City Sue arrived in Hollywood just in time to get some blunt advice from Gene Autry.

Sue is Gayle Jean Hofstedt, chosen by the Iowa City to depict the girl in the song title. Her hair is red, her eyes are blue and she might easily provide grounds for swapping a horse and dog, as the song lyrics go. Here for a screen test at Republic Studios, one of the first people she met was Autry, who advised her sternly:

"Don't get your hopes too high. Being a star takes an indefinable something. Some of the most beautiful girls don't photograph at all. And others who appear to have nothing in person, turn out to be big stars."

Gene appeared pleased to learn that Gayle is a sensible girl. She is staying her two weeks. If the movie chance pans out, fine; if not, she's content to go back to her job in a Sioux City department store.

"That's good," said Gene, "because I've seen too many girls who put their hopes too high and were doomed for disappointment. I remember a girl who won a beauty prize in Michigan five years ago and came out here for a test. She couldn't be talked out of the belief that she was going to be a great star. I saw her a few weeks ago; she is playing extra parts and looks about 30."

"But," he told Sioux City Sue with a twinkle, "you might be the one girl in 10,000 to find success."

TOYKO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Tokuro Takagi, wealthy Japanese vitamin manufacturer, proposed today:

"Fly Emperor Hirohito to the United States, Britain, Russia and China to call on President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee, Marshall Stalin and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and apologize for Japan for her part in World War II.

"Then, when he returns home — make him abdicate," Takagi told the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, he did not classify Hirohito as a war criminal but held him responsible for those on trial for war crimes.

GI Home Loan Record

BALTIMORE—Henry P. Irr, head of the Baltimore Federal Savings and Loan Association, claims the nation's record for home loans to veterans. He says he has loaned men $5,536,000 to 1,112 ex-service men during the two years the GI Bill of Rights has been in effect.

The longest ancient reign on record was that of Papi II of Egypt who ruled for 91 years beginning in 2566 B. C., the longest modern reign, 72 years, was that of Louis XIV.

Point In Need Of Clarification

The recent address of Secretary Byrnes at Stuttgart has been commented upon widely. No doubt, this is a significant speech. In many quarters it has been hailed as a positive declaration of policy, particularly as concerns Russia. There is a growing feeling that the United States has too long and too often yielded to the Soviet in an effort to placate that nation in a futile hope of an eventual compromise.

Certainly the United States should have a positive and firm policy. Certainly we are in a position to state our purposes and objectives and not be easily dissuaded from our course by any power or combination of powers.

But our course should be one based upon our conception of right. There is danger in permitting this to degenerate into a negative policy.

Perhaps one flaw in the Byrnes speech is that it indicated the first symptoms toward this inclination. There is a hint in his statements that lead to the suspicion that the address was not only a statement of policy, but also a bid to the German people to accept US leadership in preference to that of Russia. Obviously, if we believe in our democratic form of government, we are anxious that other nations embrace it. However, this choice should be for sound reasons and not based upon expediency.

Any other reason for accepting our ideas, on government would be deceptive and doomed for trouble.

While we certainly hold no brief for Russia, except an admiration for the heroic fight of that people for its life, neither do we hold any particular brief for Germany. If Mr. Byrnes speech can be taken as a bid to Germany to accept a more lenient paternalistic policy from the US in exchange for becoming a buffer against Russia, we may be taking the first steps back to where we started after World War I. Germany was whipped after World War I, but other powers playing her as a buffer nourished her to where she again plunged the world into a holocaust. This point needs to be clarified in subsequent foreign policy declarations.

Drugstore Redecorated

NEW YORK — Hanson's drugstore is a soda and medicine mart at 51st St. and Seventh Ave., right in the thumping cardiac region, where every strata of Broadway society meets on the same social plane, where one fellow's coffee-cash is as good as the rest and no one seems the least impressed with the next guy's importance, financially or otherwise.

Therefore, the news that Hanson's was undergoing a change in decor had a good many of the regulars mighty shaky for fear some fancy decorating dream of proprietor Neil Hanson, the Billingsley of the short, order set, might change things to such a shattering degree that the rich and gamey tone of the place would disappear.

When the canvas was removed from the windows and the painters chased up Seventh Ave. by irate customers who are sticklers for the dustier drugstore traditions, fears were set to rest, for while the new decor is highly admirable, it hasn't changed things into a dizzy designer's nightmare, by any means, you still can find the two booths, the three telephones, the drug counter and the stools on which normally are perched some of the best lookers and best talents of the immediate area, meaning Broadway.

THERE is a new juke box, considerably larger, which plays twice as many records as the old one. The new color scheme features a sky blue ceiling effect with the only flighty fashionable note a few gilt stars applied thereon. Something which made the regulars cluster about in fascinated interest is a mural which all but the oldest habitués believe has just been painted. It was pointed out, however, that the artistic note was not a recent addition but had simply appeared again on the surface after a generous use of wall cleanser. It depicts an old-fashioned drugstore with the hangers-on clustered

CIO Votes To Eliminate Major Strikes

WASHINGTON — It is no accident that the AFL, not the CIO, is in the strike headlines today. In the first place, CIO Chief Phil Murray held a secret meeting with his cohorts recently in which it was decided to postpone all major strikes for the time being. In the second place, certain AFL leaders (through not the majority) are not averse to a little labor trouble right now in order to defeat the Democrats at the polls in November.

John L. Lewis is the leader of this group, with George Meany and Matt Woll tagging along behind. They are playing close to the Republicans.

Embarrassment of the Truman administration was behind Lewis's telegram to striking Maritime Leader Harry Lundeberg, offering United Mine Workers' cash to support AFL sailors. With Congress in recess, many AFL leaders also feel there is no danger of reviving the case Bill or passing other restrictive labor legislation. Incidentally, it used to be the other way around; namely that labor wanted Congress in session to keep a weather eye on big business. Now strikes have a better chance with Congress out of session.

CIO leaders have just the opposite view about strikes at this time. In various conferences, Phil Murray has pointed out to his men that unfortunately the public has been sold on the National Association of Manufacturers' propaganda that labor is responsible for current price increases. While this propaganda, Murray said, is untrue, the best policy for intelligent labor leaders is to cut out major strikes for the time being and attempt to educate the public on the real facts.

publican party against the "sit tight" policy of the new GOP national chairman, Carroll Reece. GOP followers of the late Wendell Willkie have been protesting none-too-privately in Washington and elsewhere that the dignified GOP chairman is taking a Republican victory in the congressional elections this November too much for granted. They want him to begin showing better results or get out.

The Willkies, who backed former treasury under-secretary John Hanes against Reece for the chairmanship, are now shouting "I told you so," at Reece's old guard supporters.

They contend that instead of being content to sit back and point the finger of guilt at the Democratic administration, Reece should be on the firing line, creating live issues, shaking the voting public out of the apathy so noticeable in this year's primary.

So don't be surprised if Chairman Reece is called on the carpet by dissatisfied party leaders who give an account of his stewardship.

College Registration Advisable

E. C. Dodd, president of the Howard County Junior college has urged those contemplating enrollment in the college to make preliminary contacts in advance of the starting of actual enrollment on Monday.

This information will be extremely helpful to the administration in mapping plans. At the moment the college is rushing conversion plans for the hospital buildings at the bombardier school. Supplies are being purchased, and other arrangements are being made. Naturally, certain financial benefits can be had by a fair knowledge of demand. Aside from this, the work of faculty members can be more adequately forecast and the basis established for effective schedules which will serve maximum needs.

This marks the first time the college will open its doors. There are no records or experience on which to proceed. Prospective students, by prompt action, can help overcome part of this difficulty and at the same time do themselves a favor.

UNRRA OK's Rails To Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Protest had asked for them. It needs them now to get them laid before winter's snows.

UNRRA's decision to switch the rails to Yugoslavia was made early in July, several weeks before the American planes were shot down there.

Here is UNRRA's further explanation of how UNRRA decisions are made:

There are 48 nations in UNRRA. Thirteen—Greece, Yugoslavia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, White Russia, the Soviet Union, Albania, Italy, Austria, China, Finland, Hungary, the Philippines—received help from the others.

Those others, including the United States, contribute funds to UNRRA to buy supplies for the needy nations. The US puts up about 72 per cent of the total. It has contributed $2,700,000,000.

There is—in each country receiving aid—an UNRRA mission headed by a man who is not a citizen of the country where the mission is stationed.

When one of these nations asks UNRRA for help, the mission in that country checks on its requests to see that they are legitimate. The requests then go to UNRRA's Bureau of Supply, in this country.

This bureau checks the requests of the various governments asking help, decides how much each can get, and sets up priorities.

Then it makes its recommendations to UNRRA's Central Committee.

This Central Committee doesn't give specific approval to each item in the relief program intended for an individual country. It approves the general program for that nation's relief.

In this way it approved for Yugoslavia the general relief program worked out for that country by the Bureau of Supply.

Loot Sleuth Likes Job

By RICHARD KASISCHKE (For Hal Boyle)

BERLIN, (AP)—It's a question whether any person in the American occupation forces in Germany enjoys his work more than does Capt. Mollie J. Regan, formerly of Boston, Mass., and now a loot sleuth.

That's a clipped version of her formal title—art intelligence research officer in the restitution branch of the Monuments, Fine Arts and Archives section of the economic division of the Office of Military Government for Germany (US).

Her job is to help track down works of art and other valuables looted by the Nazis from countries they formerly occupied, and classify them for restitution to their rightful owners.

The department in which Capt. Regan works—headed for 13 months by Major L. Bancel La Farge of Mt. Carmel, Conn., and now by Richard F. Howard of Hopewell, N. J., has recovered many millions of dollars worth of stolen art in its search through the nooks and crannies of occupied Germany and beyond.

Recoveries and restitutions in a year have included more than a million books and nearly 50,000 works of art, some of them priceless masterpieces. France alone has received 40,000 cultural pieces.

Some of these recoveries have been made in museum basements, some behind false walls in houses, in barns and in sealed salt mines.

Capt. Regan's part in this vast hunt is not a traveling job. She sits in a small office in military government headquarters here, surrounded by packing boxes and an occasional minor masterpiece. One of her field workers shares the cramped quarters with her as she keeps an organized network of activity going over the continent.

Capt. Regan advises her department chiefs of particulars of missing objects and classifies clues as to their whereabouts. She works with the Army's G-2, the Counter Intelligence Corps, and maintains liaison with representatives of other occupying powers, with United Nations military missions here and with art intelligence in occupied Austria.

The culprits on whom she helps get the lowdown are not all big Nazi looters. She also helps prepare cases against accused members of the American forces.

The loot sleuth had admirable training for her job. She majored in fine arts at Radcliffe and studied art at Harvard. Painting is one of her hobbies. When she was graduated in 1937, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Regan of West Roxbury, Mass., took her on an art tour of Europe and the Orient. On their 15,000-mile trip the family saw nearly every important museum in the world and visited countless monuments and churches.

Murray Gets Tough

How deadly in earnest Murray is indicated by a verbal battle he had with Harry Bridges of the West Coast Longshoremen during last June's threatened CIO Maritime strike. Bridges was determined to call his men out. Joe Curran of the National Maritime Union thought an agreement could be worked out without a strike. Murray sat as arbitrator.

He will not have a Maritime strike at this time charged up to the CIO, Murray told Bridges, "if you succeed in staging a strike, I'll disown you publicly, Harry Bridges. And I'll do my best to throw you out of the CIO."

Ball Fan Eisenhower

One night during the Yugoslav crisis, General Eisenhower was at the ball park in Washington watching his favorite team, the Senators, when a adult newsboy came by and dropped a Washington Post in his lap. An eight-column headline across the front page read: "United States Sends Ultimatum to Yugoslavia."

"No paper now," said the chief of staff, engrossed in the ball game and scarcely glancing at the headline.

"Take it with my compliments, General," said the newsboy. "It looks as if you're going to be my boss again."

Flour Goes To Waste

Small flour mills and flour distributors all over the country are facing serious trouble because of the agriculture department's sudden reversal of its policy on flour.

Last spring when food famine talk was at its highest, the department ordered darker flour. Many mills went to work, turned out as much as a year's supply of the darker flour. Then, without warning, the department permitted a return to real white bread.

Now dark flour is beginning to rot in mills and warehouses.

Farm And Ranch News

By WACIL McNAIR

Recent showers have had a marvellous effect on ranges in some parts of the county, with some ranchers now hopeful of entering the winter season with plenty of grass. Although this condition still is not general it may indicate that the pastures at least were not suffering from anything that moisture would not cure. Full effect of Thursday's showers is not known yet, but it is certain that they brought further improvement.

Claude Collins, who ranches on the Howard-Burden county line above Luther, reports his ranges are green as a result of rains a little more than a week ago. He expects his pastures to go into winter in good shape. Collins' ranch received about four inches, which filled all tanks and broke two of his reservoirs on Plum creek.

All cotton still under the 1945 crop loan on Oct. 1 will be pooled for producers' account by the Commodity Credit Corporation. According to F. C. Elliott, cotton work specialist of the extension service, Texas farmers who have 1945 crop cotton under loan now should give serious consideration to marketing the cotton before it is placed in the pools. The average 1945 loan rate for 15-16-inch middling cotton, gross weight, was 21.09 cents a pound. Since the price now has cotton considerably, producers should be able to dispose of this cotton at prices what will give them a substantial profit, Elliott says.

The 1945-crop loan cotton which is not redeemed before Oct. 1 will, as provided in the loan agreement, go into pools. Not until all the cotton in the pools is liquidated will the producer receive any payment. He proceeds, if any, will then be distributed among the producers whose cotton was placed in the pools in proportion to their interest. From the proceeds of the pool cotton will be deducted all advances and accrued costs, including storage, insurance and handling charges. No payments will be made to producers at the time their cotton is placed in pools and after Oct. 1, farmers will not be entitled to order the sale of cotton now under the loan.

Silver Whittett, Guadalupe county agricultural agent for the past 19 years, is one of the eight agricultural leaders of the US who sailed from New York recently to England as a guest of the British Embassy, tendered through Dr. Ide P. Trotter, director of extension service, the tour is being offered in gratitude for the help given United Kingdom agriculturists by the Lang-Grant colleges during World War II. Whittett was granted a two-months' leave by the Guadalupe county commissioners court so that he could accept the British invitation.

New Giant Sky-Prober Saves On Astronomers

AP Newsfeatures PASADENA, Calif.—The 200-inch telescope now being readied atop Palomar mountain will be something of a labor-saving device, says Dr. Alfred H. Joy, secretary of the Mount Wilson Observatory, and here's how:

The 100-inch telescope on nearby Mount Wilson, largest in the world pending completion of the new instrument on Palomar, some 60 miles south, may take as long as five hours to photograph a certain object in the heavens.

Palomar's star-scraper, says Dr. Joy, will shoot the same object in one-fifth that time. "Consequently, we could perform, with the 200-inch instrument, the same work with four astronomers as 20 now do with the 100-inch.

"Astronomers are scarce enough as it is. What we probably will do is to assign the 200-inch to more distant stars and nebulae which we heretofore have been unable to reach."

Dr. Joy says "probably" because a committee of scientists has been working for months outlining projects for each telescope, and its report won't be ready for many months more.

The Mount Wilson scope reaches out into space 500 million light years. The Palomar gadget will range twice as far. That means that for the first time, astronomers will be able to photograph at a distance of one billion light years a nebula which contains 100 billion stars.

Dr. Joy has no reason to doubt that nebulae exist outside the range of present telescopes. "Every time they build a bigger instrument, they find more stars to justify its existence," he says.

Cat Takes Iron Vitamin Pills; Pelican Plays

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

The mystery of the disappearing capsules has been solved. A young lady in Brownsville was taking iron pills—B complex, iron and liver. But somehow she always gave out of iron and liver pills before she did B complex. It was a baffling situation. It was solved quite accidentally by the man of the house. He walked into the kitchen one day and caught the cat eating the things! The cat was carefully selecting the iron and liver pills, gulping them down, pushing the B complex aside.

The case might have been solved quicker if Hawkshaw had been on the job. Hawkshaw is a 35-year-old pelican, a favorite at the San Antonio zoo. Just where he got the name of the comic trip detective no one knows, but Hawkshaw is the only bird still living that was in the zoo when Zoo Curator Fred Stark took over 17 years ago.

Hawkshaw is a cut-up. He delights visitors with his antics. When he wants food he claps his wings, jumps around, puts on an act. He enjoys performing, Stark says.

But he's handicapped these days not by his age but by clipped wings. They were broken during a hailstorm. But his spirit isn't.

"Pelicans don't know what to do in hailstorms," Stark said. "Over 1,000 were killed on a lake near Fort Worth during such a storm five or six years ago."

Down in Houston a bulldog named Red has taken over a city bus. It was, says Driver G. P. Schill, love at first sight. The bulldog hopped into the bus one day and bared his teeth. Schill didn't argue. He let the dog ride. Red kept on riding. He has become a sort of self-appointed conductor, strolling up and down the aisles seeing that everything is under control.

Football Season Tickets On Sale

Season tickets for six home football games go on sale Friday and Saturday at the chamber of commerce office. Walter Reed, high school principal, announced Thursday.

Currently, and after the weekend, the tickets will be available at the school administrative office.

The tickets cover these games: Cisco, Sept. 20; Lubbock, Sept. 27; Odessa, Oct. 4; North Side (Fort Worth), Oct. 25; San Angelo, Nov. 8; and Abilene, Nov. 15. All games are against class AA opposition. Odessa, San Angelo, and Abilene, of course, are district games. Lubbock is reputed to be a close choice for honors in district 1-AA, with Amarillo. North Side was beaten only by the finalist in the state championship last year.

Reed pointed out that the season tickets ($5.40) offered the advantage of choice seats for every game. Tickets on sale now are among the best in the entire stadium, he said.

Henderson Takes ET League Lead

The Henderson Oilers are out in front today in the chase for the playoff championship of the East Texas League.

The Oilers last night came from behind to defeat Greenville, 6-5, from the Majors.

Tyler Trojans, playing before an unexpected small crowd of 1,530 hometown fans, came back to square their series with Texarkana, defeating the Bears, 6-2.

Henderson and Greenville move to Greenville tonight for their third game, while the other two clubs continue their series at Tyler.

Winners of the two series, four out of seven games, will meet next week in the final round, with the winner to go into a post-season playoff with the West Texas-New Mexico League champion.

Chandler, Pullig Travel Distance In Close Decisions

By The Associated Press

Good pitching and heavy hitting staged repeat performances to give Fort Worth and Dallas decided edges over Tulsa and San Antonio in the semi-final round of the play-off for the Texas League championship.

Fort Worth's Cats shutout Tulsa, 1-0, last night to blank the Oilers twice in a row, while the Dallas Rebels, for the second straight night, hit a ninth inning homer to break a 3-3 tie and win, 4-3.

The repeat victories for the Cats and Rebels place them two games out in front as the clubs move to Tulsa and San Antonio tonight to open three-game stands. If the two series are not determined by then the club will return to the North Texas ball parks for games next Sunday and Tuesday.

Eddie Chandler, who won twenty games over the regular season schedule, released only four singles to the Oilers. The Fort Worth ace struckout six Tulsa hitters and issued only one pass.

Tuesday night, John Van Cuyk had set the Tulsa club down with only two hits in turning in a 5-0 victory in the series opener.

Chandler repeated Eddie Hanyszewski in a spectacular duel that saw the Cats get only five hits. Only one, however, was enough to clinch the game. In the fourth inning, Lou Welaj walked and stole second and Lou Ruscher drove him home with Fort Worth's first hit of the game.

Dallas collected three home runs in taking the San Antonio game and in handling the Missions' veteran Sig Jakucki his second defeat in two nights.

Jakucki entered the game in the eighth to relieve Eddie Cole after the Rebels had tied the score at 3-3 on a homer by Catcher Harvey Riebe, a double by Eddie Borom and a long fly by Gene Markland.

In the ninth, with two away, Hal Hirsch sent a four-bagger over the left-centerfield fence to break the deadlock and break up the game.

Dallas' first score came in the fifth on a homer by Red Davis after the San Antonio club had taken a 3-0 lead.

The Missions scored once in the second on a double by Jess Newman, a sacrifice by Ken Wood and a fly by Ken Sears.

Cole started a two-run Mission inning in the fifth with a single. He scored on a single by Ray Coleman after Stan Galle had walked. Galle crossed the plate on a slow roller to first.

Ex-paratrooper Tom Pullig went the route for the Rebels, giving up seven hits. The Rebels took six off Chandler and Jakucki.

Tuesday night, Center Fielder Clint Conaster hit a ninth inning homer to give the Rebels a 4-3 win over the Missions.

Dodgers Seeking Replay Of Tie Game With Reds

By The Associated Press

Like the 1938 Pittsburgh Pirates, the Brooklyn Dodgers could lose the National League pennant because of inability to play their full schedule.

The Pirates of '38, who finished in second place, 13 percentage points behind the Champion Chicago Cubs, were rained out of four games that year, but the Dodgers' situation came from yesterday's record-breaking 19-inning scoreless tie with the Cincinnati Reds.

The scoreless deadlock, coupled with the St. Louis defeat by the Philadelphia Phillies, cut the Cardinals' first place margin to a game and a half. Both teams are all even on the losing side of the ledger but the Cards have won three more games.

Branch Rickey, head of the Dodgers, planned to confer with Ford Frick, president of the National League today, on the replay Sept. 20 or 26. He would like to move back to Dodger-Pirate game, only scheduled league tilt on Sept. 20, to make a double header with the Cubs Sept. 19. Sept. 26th is an open date for both teams.

Frick pointed out that Rickey would need the consent of the Reds, the Pirates, who might be unwilling to play two games on the 19th; the Cards; the Phillies, who are waging a battle with the Reds for fifth place; and the Cubs and Boston Braves, who might want the same concession in order to play off their 17-inning tie of yesterday.

The Dodgers, however, were occupied with their all-important series with the Cardinals, starting today. They realize, as do the Cards, that this three-game set may decide the pennant race.

Yesterday's marathon game, called because of darkness, bettered by one the previous longest scoreless tie games, played July 16-1909 between Detroit and Washington.

Johnny Vander Meer pitched the first 15 innings, gave up only seven hits and struck out 14 while walking only two. Harry Gumbert pitched the last four innings for the Reds allowing only one hit.

The Dodgers used four pitchers, starter Hal Gregg going 10 innings, Hugh Casey, five; Art Herrington, three; and Hank Behrman, one. They gave up 10 hits.

Oscar Judd, 36-year-old southpaw, pitched the Phils to a 9-4 victory over the Cards.

For the second straight day, the Tigers forced postponement of Boston's pennant celebration by handing the American League leading Red Sox a 7-3 setback. Hank Greenberg highlighted a five-run first inning against Dave (Boo) Ferris, with his 33rd homerun with two on.

The Cubs and Braves battled through 17 innings before darkness halted their game with the score tied at 3-3. Emil Kush and Hank Borowy held the Braves to one hit in the last 12 1-3 innings.

The Indians hammered four New York Yankee pitchers for 16 hits as Allie Reynolds went the route for his 11th win with an 11-2 triumph. The Chicago White Sox climbed on Bobo Newsom for five runs in the sixth inning to defeat the Senators 6-1, and the St. Louis Browns shut out the Philadelphia Athletics 4-0 in a night game at Sportman's Park.

The Pirates went into seventh place in the National League and dumped the New York Giants into the cellar by beating the New Yorkers twice 7-6 and 7-5 at the Polo Grounds.

called for Monday at 8 p.m. in the office of County Superintendent Walker Bailey for the purpose of organizing a six-man football coaches and officials association.

Bailey said that in addition to coaches being present, particular emphasis was being placed on a good representation by those who have served or who intend to serve as game officials in the district this year.

SA Series Even After Two Games

By The Associated Press

Right back where they started—all square after two games—the Southern Association's first Division clubs changed sites today to continue their Shaughnessy playoffs for the right to meet the Texas League winner in a resumption of the Dixie Series.

Chattanooga blasted second-place Memphis last night, 15-6, largely on a nine-run uprising in the sixth inning and behind the splendid relief pitching of Al Toenes. New Orleans swamped the pennant-winning Atlanta Crookers, 12-2.

Atlanta and New Orleans are idle today, resuming play at New Orleans Friday night, but Memphis and Chattanooga play after tonight at Chattanooga.

Six-Man Coaches May Organize

A meeting of coaches and officials of district No. 9 has been

LOOKING 'EM OVER

(Mark Wentz is guest columnist today)

Some encouraging news has leaked through from the football stadium recently. In the past, high school football has been our pet peeve, but now it seems possible that the long drought of victories is about at an end. Let's hope so.

Boxing has been mentioned several times recently and that is a sport wherein our boys have not fared so badly against competition from surrounding towns. Last winter the Big Spring Athletic association conducted one of the finest Golden Gloves tournaments put on anywhere in the state. In fact, we think that it was much better than the Fort Worth state meet.

During the summer several organizations have kept boxing alive and now it is time for the Athletic association to get down to business and develop a team that will give every competitive team in the district plenty to worry about.

Big Spring has a wealth of fine material, too. Jimmy Eppler is a natural and should go far in boxing circles with proper training. Darrell Webb is a steady, plodding fighter with a dangerous punch in either hand, and all he needs to enable him to give a good account of himself in any Golden Gloves ring is training and coaching.

Billy White has the prettiest "sock" we have seen outside of a professional ring, and we'll bet the lieutenant from Midland, who was on the business end of that "sock" in last winter's tournament, still remembers it.

In fact, Big Spring has a lot of boys above the average. The Athletic association has all the equipment necessary but some big-hearted landlord will have to furnish a suitable place to train.

Just an idea that hit us. Think it over for what it may be worth. We believe that if all the organizations, who are half heartedly sponsoring some particular sport as a side line to their regular purposes, would be willing to support one central organization and let that organization co-ordinate all efforts along sports lines, Big Spring could get a much better job done in an athletic way.

There is room for all school athletics, and every sport fan should support them to the limit, but there is a definite need for ad-

Layne Induction May Be Delayed

AUSTIN, Sept. 12. (P)—Bobby Layne will likely be available to the Texas Longhorns at least for their first three non-conference and two conference games.

Under a new Selective Service order, Layne will not report for induction Sept. 19 as had been scheduled, and very likely will not be called up before Nov. 1.

Layne had been classified 1-A by his draft board and had been scheduled to report at Fort Sam Houston Sept. 19.

Under the new order, dated Aug. 28 and which local draft board officials said they learned of only a few days ago, the Longhorn passing star will likely miss the October call. He has to stand another pre-induction physical examination and be reclassified.

The new national regulation applicable to Layne says:

"A registrant who upon pre-induction physical examination was found acceptable for general military service or for military service, and who is not forwarded for induction within 90 days from the time of his physical examination, will not be forwarded unless he volunteers."

"If 90 days of more have elapsed since the pre-induction physical examination, he will be forwarded for another preinduction physical examination in the same manner in which he was originally forwarded for pre-induction physical examination."

Beautiful Helen of Troy, "the face that launched a thousand ships," wore among other jewelry, a ring decorated with the figure of a fish—for luck.

Another Medalist Falls In National Amateur Tourney

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., Sept. 12. (P)—About the only thing certain today in the current running of the National Amateur Golf Championship was that Skee Riegel of Upper Darby, Pa., had joined the large rank of the tournament's medal winners who failed to make the grade in match play.

Since the championship was started in 1895, only six persons have won the medal outright and gone on to walk off with the title.

Walter J. Travis turned the trick twice, in 1900 and 1901, while the last to win both was Dick Chapman of Mamaroneck, N. Y., whose 140 at the Winged Foot Club in 1940 took qualifying honors and spurred him on to the winner's throne.

The fortune of a draw that matched outstanding contenders in the early rounds of the 46th annual tournament at the Baltusrol Golf Club's picturesque layout as the match play whittled the field to 16 yesterday.

Courtney Depends On Six Lettermen

COURTNEY, Sept. 12.—Courtney high school's hope for a championship in the District nine six-man conference rests on the shoulders of six lettermen and several newcomers.

The season opener, which is a conference game, brings Garden City to the home gridiron for a conflict Sept. 20.

Returning lettermen include Billy Smith, 160-pound back; Durward Cross, 145, end; Kenneth Snodgrass, 135, end; J. W. Smith, 175, back; and Jackie Wise, 135, back.

Newcomers on the squad are George Anderson, 160, back; W. D. Chandler, 154, end; Benny Kelly, 149, end; Eldon Welch, 129, back; Hayward Womack, 225, center; J. V. Hopper, 140, end; Sam Rhodes, 130, end; Howard Woods, 135, end; Clifton Hazelwood, 130, back.

Postmaster Resigns

MELVIN, Sept. 12. (P)—Alex Ables, postmaster here for 13 years, has resigned, effective Sept. 30. Odell Galner, ex-serviceman, has been named acting postmaster.

Hubbers Going Home With Two-Game Lead

By The Associated Press

Pampa and Lubbock hold two-game advantages, over Amarillo and Abilene today in the West Texas-New Mexico League semifinal playoffs.

The Lubbock Hubbers, behind the one-hit pitching of Lennie Heinz, last night defeated the Abilene Blue Sox, 2-0, to sweep the two-game stand at Abilene, while the Pampa Oilers pleased a home crowd for the second straight night by taking the Amarillo Gold Sox, 5-3. The clubs will obtain changes of scenery tonight as they move to Lubbock and Amarillo to open three-game stands.

Heinz allowed only three players of the Blue Sox club, which finished the regular season in first place, to reach base. Catcher Kenneth Quezreux received Abilene's only hit, a fifth inning single. Heinz passed one man in the ninth and another man reached first on an error.

Lubbock scored in the first and ninth innings, the first driven home on a double by Gene Hodge, left fielder after Jackie Sullivan, short stop, had reached base on a fielder's choice. The final inning tally came on successive singles by Pay Rooney and Phil Kuykendall.

Southpaw Bill Garland gave up six hits to the Amarillo Club in defeating Lefty Lonergan who allowed the Oilers ten hits, including a homer by Virgil Richardson.

Harry Lamprich, Gold Sox catcher, also smashed a homer.

THE CASE OF THE LIVING SPIRIT

Seance Brings Message From Old School Friend Later Found Alive

Editor's Note: Here is the second of a series of dispatches based on the files of the Society for Physical Research.

LONDON.—In the darkness of the seance room with its windows shrouded in heavy black cloth there sounded a vibrant, masculine voice apparently from the throat of the medium, Mrs. Blanche Cooper.

"Hello Soal," it said. "Queer world—what? Never thought I'd speak to you this way."

Professor S. G. Soal of the mathematics department of London University was stunned. He had dropped into the seance more from idle curiosity than for any other reason.

"Does he want me?" he stammered.

"Yes," said the medium. Her voice this time was her own. "The spirit is too strong. I can't hold him. Speak quickly."

"Who are you?" Soal asked.

Again there came the masculine voice. "Why this is your old school friend, Gordon Davis. Don't you remember? Gad, we had fun at Old Rochford. Remember how I used to rag old Histed, our history instructor?"

The seance took place on Jan. 7, 1922. Soal had been at school with Davis from 1898 to 1901. He had not spoken to him since just after leaving school when they discussed the cadet guard they had attended in 1918. Soal heard vaguely that Davis was among the Old Rochfordians who "went west" in the first World War.

"Yes, queer world," the voice went on. "You must recall we spoke about the guard at school. And here I am. Well, the wife and kiddie are my only worry now."

The voice trailed off.

"I've lost him," the medium gasped. "but I can see a room. There is a house with a tunnel. Then a room with seascapes on the walls. There is a bird on the piano and funny brass candlesticks on a shelf. . . . and some vases. . . . very big ones with very funny tops and saucers. . . . there are mirrors on the walls. . . . and the seascapes are glorious. . . . mountains and sea."

Being a mathematical fellow, Dr. Soal drew up a report in affidavit form of what he had heard, thinking he would find the widow and present it to her. He got statements from others at the seance confirming they had heard exactly what he had written. Then he set about finding the widow and got a shock.

Davis was alive!

But it was 1925 before he discovered that Davis was alive—three years after the seance. Taking his report and the affidavits along Soal called on Davis, then a prospering real estate operator, and told him about the extraordinary conversation through the medium.

Davis was equally puzzled to explain how he came to speak to Soal from "the spirit world," for his diary showed that on Jan. 7, 1933—the day of the seance—he had been busily renting houses to customers. He was not a believer in the occult, yet the medium had matters known only to the two of them.

Soal remembered that the word "harpoon" had been used by the alleged spirit.

"Well I'm dashed," Davis exclaimed. "That was a study of mine I thought no one knew about."

Soal looked around the room and pointed to his report:

"Anyhow," he said, "this is the right room. There are the seascapes, the brass candlesticks, the stuffed bird on the piano, the big vases and the tunnel outside the house. . . ."

Davis shook his head. "That's the strangest thing of all," he said. "You say the medium described this room three years ago. I only moved into this house last week."

Any Boy May Enter 4-H Club Rodeo

Competitive events at the first annual Howard county 4-H club rodeo Saturday, night will be open not only to club boys, but any boys in the county under 17 years old, the 4-H club committee has announced.

The rodeo plans list seven events, to be climaxed with a flag race for girls. Only 4-H club girls in the county may compete in this event.

First event will be boys roping, with all boys entered in the rodeo to compete at $2.50, entry fees to go to the top five.

All boys also will participate in the riding contest, with prizes arranged for the first three places. A calf scramble will be the third event.

Boys will be divided into groups of four for the hat race, with winners of group competition to run off to decide county champion.

A big jack pot roping contest for adults will be included in the program.

A special feature will be another contest for boys, when a $5 bill is attached to the horns of a Brahman bull and contestants attempt to retrieve the bank note.

All stock for the rodeo is being furnished by Howard county ranchers. Alvin Walker is furnishing eight calves for the roping contest and four for riding, while Donald Lay is lending five for calf riding. Calves for the scramble are being furnished by Alvin Walker, four; Donald Lay, four; L. J. Davidson, two; and H. O. Phillips, two.

Charles Read and Slick Miller are to be judges.

Meat Plants May Be Closed

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Two meat packers have announced that their plants will close unless some drastic change in meat-distribution develops. The packers have reported a 70 percent drop in supplies.

"There are fewer cattle on the market now and packers cannot buy those because others buying bid at prices above ceiling," H. J. Nelson, acting manager of Swift and company in Fort Worth, said.

A J. Ondrusek, manager of the Columbia Packing company, said his plant will remain open only through its sausage production.

STEVENSON, HOUSTON MAYOR INITIATE RADIO-TELEPHONE

AUSTIN, Sept. 12. (AP)—When the telephone rang and Gov. Coke Stevenson said, "Hello," yesterday in his office at the capitol, a new system of long-distance communication was initiated in Texas. The governor was taking part in the tryout of Texas' first mobile radio-telephone system. On the other end of the line was Mayor Otis Massey of Houston, who talked to Stevenson while cruising around in an automobile in Houston.

US Vulnerable For Arctic, AAF Warns

WASHINGTON—America is vulnerable to attack from Europe or Asia over the polar ice cap, the nations new frontier in the air age, the Army Air Forces says in an official publication. The North Pole is in the center of the great land masses of Europe, Asia and America, the AAF said, and the land masses contain the great industrial areas of the world. The analysis points out that most of the nations that have ever participated in a great war, or have the industrial potential to wage one, lie about 30 degrees north latitude.

Airplanes can travel more quickly between some of these points by taking a polar route than by following the usual courses. That was emphasized in 1937 when the Soviets made two trans-polar flights from Moscow to Vancouver, B.C., Wash., and to San Jacinto, Calif. "Similar comparisons will show the vulnerability of almost all strategic areas in the world to attack by polar-based aircraft," the AAF said. "At present we have a plane with a range of 10,000 miles, giving it a striking radius of 5,000 miles."

The analysis warns against the havoc that could be caused by the unheralded dropping of a single atomic bomb as the opening blow of World War III. It then asks what protection the oceans or seacoast defenses would be against such an attack. It holds that the only force capable of defending the northern frontier is the AAF.

The AAF is planning to meet this threat with the formation of a long-range strategic bombing force backed up with air national guard units based in each of the states, ready for instant action.

Bagpipes Skirl In Battles Of Sexes; Lassie Resented

AP Newfeatures
EDINBURGH—The revival of the traditional Scottish highland gatherings culminating in the Royal Braemar gathering in September, to be attended by the King and Queen, has stirred up a lively war between the sexes in the heather-clad highlands.

The Braemar gathering of the clans has had a special place on the calendar ever since Queen Victoria put the seal of royal approval on the picturesque meeting in the Deeside mountains. It is not the colorful march of the kilted clansmen nor their manly feats of tossing the caber or throwing the hammer that has stirred up controversy, but the dancing and piping competitions.

From this highland fastness at Oban, Atholl Robertson fired a broadside charging that highland gatherings have for too long been infested with small, predatory females, masquerading in male dress, and covered with as many medals as there are scales on a salmon—"an eyesore and a heart-break to anyone with the interests of highland dancing at heart."

Robertson, former member of Parliament, former chief of the Scottish Clans' Association in London, editor of the Scots Year Book and a writer on highland customs, folk lore and legend, holds that the sole reason for the decline in "this manly art" of Scottish dancing is the admission of women.

In the old days, he says, the dances were the prerogative of the male, and served to demonstrate the warrior's agility, endurance and lightness of foot. No woman, says this authority, can perform them properly, and highland ladies in the old days had a good sense and manners to realize that.

Another round of shot came from Cakemuir Castle, Tyneshead, Midlothian, fired by L. Balfour Paul, enthusiast for highland dancing and piping. "Paul is of the opinion that the whole character of highland dancing can be shown only by man in a kilt—the perky, jumping movements being out of keeping with women's movements—and he is convinced that there is danger of the great art dying out. This also applies to piping competitions, on the ground that nothing looks so ridiculous as a woman piper. If "performing mites and killed Amazons" must be included in the programs for the sake of encouraging tourists, then, he pleads, let there be no mixed competitions and let mites and women supply their own judges and not tax the nerves and stomachs of piping judges.

Maj. FitzRoy H. Fyers, assistant sergeant-at-arms in the House of Commons, has weighed in in support of Paul.

Miss Young Deals Politely, Firmly With Her Public
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Movie stars who complain of their goldfish life, and that includes virtually everyone but Lassie and Bugs Bunny, should listen to Loretta Young.

Film personalities and their relations to the clamoring public can be divided into several categories: 1. Those who beef about continual prying eyes, but who accept the situation as an occupational hazard. 2. The Garbo type, rare, who revolts against the system, with subsequent unpopularity. 3. The Van Johnson type, very rare, who apparently likes crowds. 4. In a class by herself, Loretta Young.

The Salt Lake City beauty has developed the knack of preserving her private life from public scrutiny. And yet she will top the list on any Hollywood correspondent's list of nice people. How does she do it? By using common sense. "For instance," she said on the set of "Katie for Congress," "I am taking a vacation to Honolulu in a short while. And it will really be a vacation."

But what about the press? "When the reporters come, I'll politely ask them what they want to know. They'll tell me and I'll tell them. You men don't want to waste time any more than I do." And all the invitations to social functions? "That's simple. I'll just tell them I'm on vacation. They wouldn't want me to interrupt their vacation, would they?"

City Cash Balance Steadily Declines

The City of Big Spring received $28,418.70 in revenues for the general fund during the month of August, but expenditures for the month totalled $35,536.52, the report of the city secretary shows. Beginning August with $43,481.84 on hand, the balance at the end of the month was $37,474.95. Charges for water and sewer service accounted for $21,418.70 of the month's revenue, with gas franchise, $2,047.58, and taxes and court costs, $1,180, other major items.

Counter-blasts from the women have so far been mild. Miss Winstanley Brown, principal of the Edinburgh School for Dancing, says they have been doing it now for many years and have scored many successes. There is no reason whatever, in her view, why girls should not engage in highland dancing. When a young woman gets beyond 20, however, she does not look well in kilt or stockings, says Miss Brown. Mrs. E. M. Mackay, secretary of the Clan Mackay Society, also thinks that highland dancing is all right for little girls, but a bit out of place for grown women.
