

The Peripatetic View by CEC

The author of the following story is unknown. It was found in a small publication of a civic club, and was mailed to me by a friend. I believe it deserves to be published again.

DO YOU KNOW THIS MAN?

A young man lived with his parents in a public housing development. He attended public school, rode the free school bus, and participated in the free lunch program. He entered the army, then upon discharge retained his national service INSURANCE. He then enrolled in the State University, working part time in the State Capitol to supplement his GI education check.

Upon graduation, he married a public health nurse and bought a farm with an FHA loan and then obtained an RFC loan to go into business. A baby was born in the COUNTY HOSPITAL. He bought a ranch with the aid of the VETERANS' LAND PROGRAM and obtained emergency feed from the government.

Later he put part of his land in the soil bank and the payments soon paid out his farm and ranch. His father and mother lived very comfortably on the ranch on their SOCIAL SECURITY and OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE checks. REA lines supplied electricity. The GOVERNMENT helped clear his land. The COUNTY AGENT showed him how to terrace it; then the GOVERNMENT built him a fish pond and stocked it with many fish. The government guaranteed him a sale for his farm products at highest prices.

Books from the public library were delivered to his door. He banked money which a GOVERNMENT AGENCY insured. His children grew up, entered public schools, ate free lunches, rode free school buses, played in public parks, swam in public pools, and joined the FFA. The man owned an automobile so he favored the FEDERAL highway program.

He signed a petition seeking FEDERAL assistance in developing an industrial project to help the economy of his area. He was a leader in obtaining the new FEDERAL office, and also a new FEDERAL building, and went to Washington with a group to ask the government to build a great dam costing millions so that the area could have "cheap electricity." He petitioned the government to locate an air base in the county. He was also a leader in the movement to get his specific type of farming special tax writeoffs and exemptions. Of course, he belonged to several farm organizations, but denied that they were pressure groups.

Then one day he wrote his Congressman. "I wish to protest these excessive government expenditures and high taxes. I believe in that good old rugged individualism. I think people should stand on their own two feet, and not be expecting all these handouts. I am opposed to all socialist ideas and socialistic trends in our government and I hereby DEMAND a return to the principles of our constitution and the policies of States' Rights."

When his children grew up, one of them obtained a federal scholarship in order to attend college. Another obtained a job in a factory producing heavy machinery under a contract with a foreign government which was receiving foreign aid out of the pockets of the taxpayers of this country, with which it paid off its obligations to the factory where his son was employed. Another son obtained a position in charge of negotiating contracts for the government with manufacturing concerns under the terms of which the government agreed to pay a higher price for certain products than that for which these products could be obtained under competitive bidding, the purpose being to provide employment and profit to the manufacturing concern because it was located in an area which had been declared a distressed area under the yardstick applied by another government agency in which one of the daughters worked. Another son operated a business which would have gone bankrupt had he not been able to obtain a small business loan from the federal government, and the business produced by workmen employed at an urban renewal project which was being financed and paid for by the federal government. Incidentally, all of the family learned about rugged individualism and free enterprise from what they read in a national magazine which had an annual subsidy from the federal government of about $9,000,000.

On May 24, 1898, the USS Oregon reached Jupiter Inlet, Florida, after a 14,700 mile speed run from San Francisco, Calif. Her average speed, not including port time, was 11.6 knots, a record for that day.

Four Days Of Rain Records 1.36 Inches

A total of 1.36 inches of moisture had been recorded for the McLean area Thursday morning, following four days of constant soaking rains.

Thursday morning's readings revealed the highest amount in a 24 hour period since Monday, and forecasts were that no immediate let-up was in sight.

Beginning Monday on July 4th, .07 of an inch was recorded. Tuesday showed .37 of an inch; Wednesday had .30 of an inch; and Thursday morning another .62 of an inch had fallen.

The rains brought the total for the year to 12.91 inches. At this time in July a year ago, a total of 15.18 had been recorded.

Although the rains in the McLean area have been constant, other parts of the Panhandle and South Plains have had much heavier drenchings.

Rains Widespread
Flood waters rising on the heels of record rainfall chased 18 families from their homes Wednesday night at Slaton, on the South Plains. Up to 12 inches of rain fell in the area around Lubbock, 17 miles northeast of Slaton, as steady downpours swept the western half of the state, extending into North Central Texas.

With few places to drain from the flat countryside, the accumulated water washed out railroad tracks and covered parts of some highways in the Lubbock sector.

While there was some damage to cotton, a major crop on the South Plains, the dusting rains also put drought-seared areas of far West Texas in "the best condition of the past 15 years," as one overjoyed rancher exclaimed.

Oldtimers said 11.90 inches of rain measured at Slaton in 48 hours were the heaviest in memory for that section.

In Slaton, a city of 6,500 residents, the Red Cross set up facilities to feed and house flood evacuees in a grade school building, Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock.

Margie Railsback Chosen Rainbow Representative

Miss Margie Railsback of McLean was elected to serve as grand representative from Pennsylvania to Texas at the Grand Assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, held in Corpus Christi.

Miss Railsback is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Railsback and has served the local Rainbow chapter as worthy advisor.

Miss Christa Rodgers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rodgers, was a member of the grand choir at the assembly. Both girls attended the assembly with members of the Pampa chapter.

RANGE TOUR TO BE HELD IN SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

The Gray County Soil Conservation District is sponsoring a range tour to be held July 14. The tour will assemble near the square in Lefors and start at 1:30 p. m., and end at McLean around 4:30. Everyone interested is invited.

The purpose of the tour is to show and discuss such conservation practices as brush control, range seeding, deferred grazing, proper range use and irrigated pastures.

This is a very good year for our range grasses. The Soil Conservation District feels that most ranchers are anxious to see and hear methods of maintaining and improving their grass for better livestock returns. The practices to be seen and discussed on the tour are considered key practices and at least some should pertain to every sent 100 cots, mattresses and blankets.

Steady rainfall continued over much of the South Plains after nightfall Wednesday.

Around four inches of rain at some places fell in the critically dry Big Bend country from El Paso east for hundreds of miles.

Up to five inches fell at some points around Abilene, where soil moisture was fair but approaching a need for rain. Lightning knocked bricks from the 105-foot Radford Memorial Student Life center at McMurry College in Abilene.

Amon Carter Field recorded an inch of rain in 29 minutes, while Dallas, 15 miles east, received 35 of an inch in a sudden downpour.

The weather bureau attributed the rains to a weak cool front sweeping back and forth across Texas instead of dashing on into the Gulf of Mexico, as most cool fronts do. Warm, moist Gulf air collided with the cool front, rose above it and loosed moisture.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Hill and son, Jack, attended the old fiddlers contest at Hale Center July 4.

Mrs. Jimmie Hill and Jack were in Amarillo Tuesday on business. They also visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Harold Dean Crow, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mullin of Pampa visited Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Hill Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Conradt of Austin and Mrs. J. A. Ashby of Lubbock were in McLean Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bayless and sons of Borger visited during the week end in the Homer Abbott home.

New Arrivals

A daughter, Kimberly Diane, 8 pounds and 13 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Reeves of Canyon. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Liles of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Reeves of McLean.

Bob Stubbs Injured

Bob Stubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stubbs, was injured on June 26, as he was repairing his car and it fell on him. His jaw was broken in three places. He will be in the hospital for six weeks, but is doing satisfactorily.

His address is Spec. 4th Class R. L. Stubbs, Wm. Beaumont Hospital, Ward 5, El Paso, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stubbs returned Monday from El Paso.

Mrs. E. J. Windom made a business trip to Pampa Tuesday.

S/Sgt. Jimmie D. Cockerham, who attended high school in Alameda, will take on an unusual (for an Air Force man) job during July and August this year when he leaves his bomb and navigation systems maintenance specialist work to officiate at the National Rifle and Pistol Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Sgt. Cockerham joined the Air Force in February, 1954, completed basic training at Lackland AFB, attended formal schooling for his maintenance specialty and was assigned to the Air Force Special Weapons Center at Kirtland AFB, N. M., in November of that year.

Since that time, Cockerham has steadily been engaged in maintaining electronic bombing and navigational equipment on aircraft engaged in nuclear testing and in air launch of guided missiles. For the past two years, he has been responsible for maintaining those systems on the giant B-52 jet bomber.

Cockerham, long an avid hunter and fisherman, commenced his competitive marksmanship life early this spring when he undertook to learn how to shoot pistols. His progress was sufficiently rapid that he took second place in the Air Research and Development Command pistol matches with the 45.

With the growing marksmanship program in the Air Force, that service has been called upon to furnish ever-increasing numbers of officials and detail men in support of the national matches. Directed to furnish one official, Kirtland AFB leaders sought a volunteer and Sgt. Cockerham accepted the assignment. He will undergo two weeks of intensive training at Ft. Riley, Kans., before reporting to Camp Perry late in July.

Also at the next meeting, an electrical ordinance will be adopted. This will regulate electrical work in the city.

Next city council meeting will held July 19th, in accordance with a recent decision to hold two council meetings monthly instead of one. This was decided due to the constantly growing amount of business to be handled by the council.

Are you the old-fashioned type cook?

Perhaps there are slight variations from this rule but it seems that cooks fall into at least three types, or maybe we should say models.

Take the 1959 model for instance; she can whip up a meal in no time at all with a simple twist of the biscuit can, a package of cake mix, and a serving or so of some delicious one-dish frozen dinners. Some of them may even know how to cook otherwise, but they are at their best when they let loose on all these modern inventions.

Then, let's go back to say about the 1929 model. She started out by learning all that she could from grandma and then kept collecting and trying new recipes until her cabinet looked like the auditing department of a country store. Believe me, she could cook with the best of them, and still can.

Going back another 30 years we see the grand old model which so many of us call mother or grandmother. She didn't go in so much for written out recipes but baked from a long time of experience by trial and error. Not long ago we heard one of the 1959 models ask the old-fashioned cook how she went about making one of her most successful dishes and this was her answer:

"Oh, I just put in a dab of this, and a pinch of that, along with a lot of the things that make it good. Just sort of like you would make so and so only richer." My, but we love all cooking by each and every fashion.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Herron and children, Wayne, Gail, Barbara and John, of San Antonio have been visiting their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Allie Mae Herron.

PAMPA TOT RODEO SET AUGUST 2-6

Rodeo grounds are now being put in shape for the annual Top of Texas rodeo in Pampa, scheduled for August 2-6.

Rodeo performances will be held five nights, with the first performance on August 2nd and running through Saturday, August 6th.

Cowboys and cowgirls from a wide area will be competing in the two go-rounds for some $5000 in prize money plus many special awards, including a beautiful hand stamped saddle for the top cowboy, and special engraved silver buckles for the champion cowboys in all individual events as well as the all-around cowboy.

Morris Stephens of Quitaque will furnish stock and direct the arena with Nat Fleming, prominent rodeo announcer, calling the events. Stephens has been in the rodeo business for many years and has produced some of the outstanding rodeos in the country.

An official American quarter horse show will be held this year on Thursday and Friday, August 4 and 5, beginning daily at 1 p. m. in the main arena at the rodeo grounds. Fifteen halter classes will be judged, as well as four performance classes, with appropriate awards in all divisions.

The Miller Bros. Dance Band, for the second year, will provide music for dancing in the National Guard Armory building Wednesday thru Saturday nights, and the Pampa High School Band under the direction of Bill Tregoe will furnish music for all rodeo performances.

The Kid Pony Show, which will be a curtain raiser to the big Top of Texas rodeo, will be held on Sunday afternoon and Monday night, August 1, with boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 15 eligible to participate in their respective divisions.

The 4H and FFA calf scramble, which was a sensation last year, will again be the special feature of the show, with boys from Wheeler County participating Tuesday night; Hemphill County Wednesday night; Roberts County Thursday night; Carson County Friday night; and Gray County Saturday night.

A giant street parade on Tuesday afternoon, August 2, will be held in downtown Pampa to officially get the world's finest amateur show underway.

Fishermen Must Have License

Two men fishermen still think they can get by without a license, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. Last month 176 persons paid fines for failure to buy their $2.15 fishing license. This license is required for all persons who fish with rod and reel, except those under 17 and over 65. Persons fishing outside their home counties also need a license.

In all, there were 272 violations in May, with a total of $5,197.74 collected in fines and costs.

A number of arrests also were made for killing game out of season. Several were caught shooting doves, quail, ducks and deer.

Two others were caught "telephoning" for fish, which is the illegal use of an electrical device for shocking fish.

Current fishing licenses will be valid until September 1, when a new license will be required.

The 1960-61 hunting license has been revised and the new licenses will be placed on sale September 1. The new license has been devised to provide a better record of sales and to facilitate handling of the licenses by license deputies.

Apple Butter • Spreads 'N Fillings

In bygone days, it was common practice to cook apple butter for six or eight hours. The recipe given below doesn't take so long because the quantity is smaller and less cider is used. If you can't come by sweet cider, substitute apple juice plus 4 or 5 drops of red food color.

Butter make an extra batch or two to use for pie filling. For a nine inch pie, add a few dates or raisins, chopped nuts if you have them, and a dab of dairy butter to two cups homemade apple butter. Your favorite lunch fester will surely bless you if the pie shows up as halfloaves or turnovers. For these, cut pastry into rounds or squares, put spoon of apple butter filling slightly below the center, dampen edge of lower half of pastry with water, and fold upper half over lower. Seal edges together by pressing with fingertips or fork. Prick with fork. Bake in hot oven for 10 or 15 minutes, or until brown as liked.

To Make Apple Butter—Wash, drain and slice 6 pounds (about 1 1/2 peck) tart apples into kettle. Add 1 pint cider and cook until apples are mushy. Press apples and juice through sieve to remove skin and seed. Boil apples until thick, then add 1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon each cloves and salt and from 1 to 3 cups sugar, brown or white, to suit your taste. The general rule is 1/4 cup sugar to 1 cup sieved apple, but you may prefer more or less. Cook mixture until thick enough to round up in spoon. Watch lid! Take a heap of stirring to prevent sticking and scorching. Butter spatters, so stir with long handle spoon or paddle. Pour boiling hot butter into fruit jars. Put Dome Lid on jar; screw band tight. Process pints and quarts 10 minutes in a boiling water bath.

Richard Brown Marries Pampa Girl In Home Ceremony

Miss Linda Gayle Henley, daughter of Mrs. Ida Henley and Tom Henley Jr. of Pampa, became the bride of Clyde Richard Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brown of McLean, on June 25.

Rev. M. B. Smith, pastor of Highland Baptist Church, Pampa, read the double-ring ceremony at 7 p. m. in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Fletcher, 709 Bradley Drive, Pampa. The fireplace in the den at the Fletcher home, featuring sunburst arrangements of white gladioli in tall white baskets flanked with branched candelabra bearing tall white tapers, formed the wedding scene.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white linen sheath with a scoop neckline, brief sleeves and an Empire waist outlined with lace and accented in front with a tailored bow. She carried a white orchid showered with white satin streamers atop a white Bible.

Miss Barbara Joan Spinks was maid of honor. She wore a pale blue sheath with a corsage of white carnations. Dale Greenhouse of McLean served the bridegroom as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Henley chose a beige sheath with beige accessories. Mrs. Brown wore a blue sheath complemented with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

For the reception following the ceremony, Mrs. Fletcher presided at the white milk glass punch service, and Mrs. Dale Greenhouse served the tiered wedding cake.

In the fall, the bride will continue her studies at Pampa High School, where she will be a senior student. Mr. Brown was graduated from McLean High School and attended West Texas State College. He is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The couple will make their home at 824 Dean Drive, Pampa.

Would your daughter like this new dress? Home canning tomato juice will help save enough to buy it!

This new dress sells for about $15.00. Home canning soon saves enough to buy it. For example, tomatoes from your own garden cost about 25¢ per bushel. Juice yield: 14 quarts—at 1-8/10¢ per quart of juice. Basic jar and fuel cost is 3 1/2¢ (because you use the jar over and over again each season). Total cost per quart of tomato juice: only 5-3/10¢!

Besides the money they save, the 20,000,000 American women who do home canning enjoy a feeling of accomplishment—and their families enjoy tomato juice seasoned "just like only mother can make it."

Why so many things besides medicine?

One customer laughingly tells us we stock more items than an old-fashioned general store. That's because our customers, thank goodness, are pretty healthy and don't need enough prescriptions to keep us busy. Prescriptions are really the heart of our business. Because of them, we're open for the greater part of the day. Despite the fact that many pharmacists sell everything from books to bobby pins, we're still professional men... always ready when medication is needed.

Church Of Christ Welcomes You

BAPTISM IS FOR THE REMISSION OF SINS

When the people on Pentecost were pricked in their hearts by the preaching of the apostle Peter concerning the crucified savior they cried out, "Men and brethren, what shall we do?" Peter answered these believers, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." (Acts 2:37-38) It is evident from this scripture that their sins could not have been forgiven before baptism.

The American Standard Version makes this fact more emphatic by stating, "Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit." And the Revised Standard Version states it this way, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins; and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit."

Baptism without faith (Heb. 11:6) in Christ as the Son of God; baptism without repentance of ones sins (Luke 13:3); and baptism without a proper confession of one faith in Christ as God's Son (Rom. 10:9-10), will be of value to no one. But when it is preceded by Faith, Repentance, and Confession, it becomes the final act that puts us into Christ. "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ." (Gal. 3:27) Certainly there is no hope of salvation outside of Christ, and whatever the Lord has required for man to do to get into Him, man must do. The Bible nowhere states that FAITH only saves any more than it states that BAPTISM only saves.

Without the remission of sins, man is separated from God. Those sins must be forgiven before man can have fellowship with the Lord. After baptism, man is ready to walk in newness of life because his sins have been washed away in the blood of Christ.

FARMERS AND POLITICS

Last year, Merle Brady, who owns a farm near Chickasha, Okla., valued at $90,000 put his entire 300 acres into the soil bank's conservation reserve. He agreed to leave the farm in the soil bank for ten years, and Uncle Sam promised to pay him $5,000 a year. Brady must maintain the land in grass but neither graze nor cultivate it. He is one of about 200,000 farmers in the United States who have decided that they would be better off to put their entire farm into the soil bank for a period of years than to cultivate it under present circumstances.

The $5,000 which Brady receives—the maximum amount the government may pay on one farm—is a little more than 5% on the present market value of his land. Brady would rather take that than to put in long hours of labor which would net him little, if any, more, and possibly less.

The factors which forced Brady to put his farm into the soil bank are driving farmers off the land in almost every county in the southern Great Plains, and the factors are similar in nearly all the farm states. Today there are a million fewer farms than there were a decade ago. The cost-price squeeze is more than many farmers can withstand.

"Farmers who are staying in business are, in effect, living off their capital," Professor Leonard Miller of Oklahoma State University has said. "A study we have made shows that a farm operator typical of farmers in Oklahoma had a net return of $1.12 an hour for his efforts." The typical farmer had a thousand acres of cropland and an investment of $150,000 in land and buildings exclusive of his home and machinery.

Professor Miller is feeling the effect of the farm blight in his classrooms. Twenty years ago, the agricultural department at Oklahoma State had an enrollment of more than 2,000 students. Now, with all other college departments crowded to capacity, there are only 1,100 agricultural students. They know that opportunities are limited and that a tremendous investment is required to start a farm career—much more than is needed, for example, in medicine or architecture.

In Iowa's Fourth Congressional District, which is in the poorer part of the state near the Missouri border, farmers are moving away in large numbers because of falling hog and cattle prices. Population in the district has declined an estimated 10% in ten years.

The problem is simply that supply has outrun demand. But the solution of the problem is so complex that no two farm organizations agree on what should be done. Consumers, politicians, and farmers are in violent disagreement about farm policy. With Congress dominated by one party and the White House by the other, and with the congressional farm bloc split into many parts, the deadlock is complete. Add to this the fact that the farm population is declining while the urban population is growing, and it can be seen why the farmer's voice is not the power it was a generation ago in American politics.

Automation on the Farm

In the Midwest, Democrats blame Republicans, many Republicans blame Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, and taxpayers blame the politicians for the farmers' plight. But however wrong the politicians may be, however remiss city dwellers may be in the appreciation of the major contribution the farmer has made to the high standard of living in this country, however socially unacceptable Benson's proposals may be, the real blame lies elsewhere.

Technology has created the American farm problem. It has driven millions from the farms. It will overwhelm not only more farmers, but many small towns as well. We hear much about the blight of the cities. Many small towns which have been the farmers' service centers are threatened with extinction unless they find other sources of income.

The trouble with the politicians is that Democrats have been too conservative and Republicans too radical. The Democrats have tried to maintain the status quo on the farm by providing a subsidy for all farmers who want to remain on the farm, however uneconomic the whole arrangement may be. The Eisenhower administration has wanted to let nature take its course, let the market place decide the course of American agriculture, despite the human costs involved.

TRAFFIC JAM STUDY? — No, this superhighway tie-up of "dream" cars is being analyzed by two of the judges in the 1959 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition. Judging of hundreds of these scale miniature cars is now in progress to determine teen-age winners of $117,000 in cash awards and university scholarships.

In 1940, the average American farmer produced enough food and fibre to feed and clothe nearly eleven persons; today he can produce enough for 25 persons. In the face of these facts, Benson makes more sense than the Democrats—if it were not for the fact that human beings are involved. Obviously, there must be a movement away from the farms, but measures must be taken to protect the income of those who remain and to preserve the family farm. In Russia, incidentally, the average farmer produces enough for himself and three or four others. The 7.4 million American farm workers produce more than Russia's 33 million farm workers.

Today the American farmer is producing about 50% more than he did before World War II. He is doing so with 30% fewer man-hours of work. Total crop production is the largest on record, although planted acreage is the smallest it has been in more than 40 years. Farmers are asking whether they are to be penalized for their achievements and denied all protection in the markets, over which they have no control. —From Atlantic Monthly

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

BENEVOLENT BIRD

The bald eagle, a symbol of the United States older than the Constitution itself, is known throughout the world as an eternal representative of American freedom, independence and democracy. Perhaps best known to Americans as part of the Great Seal which appears on every one dollar bill, the eagle is also found on many government publications and in some of our most hallowed national shrines. The Great Seal has always displayed the eagle in its central position since the Continental Congress first approved a seal for the United States in 1782.

Perhaps the founding fathers would be mildly surprised to learn that the symbol the approved many years ago is today reflecting the American position so accurately in many ways. I like to reflect upon at least two recent incidents in which our dear old eagle has played a part, and I must admire this resolute creature for his profound understanding of our constantly shifting fortunes in a complicated world.

The United States, as you may know, is currently constructing a new embassy in London, to be decorated by a huge aluminum eagle with a 35-foot wing spread. Since our country has poured billions of dollars of foreign aid into Great Britain and other countries since the outbreak of World War II, it is perhaps only appropriate that our friend the eagle should be described as looking "benevolent."

I can't help but wonder, in addition to "benevolent," he also looks penitence. Since almost everyone knows that friendship can't be bought, it also seems logical that some of the British would call our feathered representative a "blatant monstrosity" and ask the House of Commons to "give it the bird." The British Minister of Housing and Local Government is "studying" the situation, with plenty of assistance probably from the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Perhaps the entire difficulty could be resolved to England's satisfaction if a hose were built into the eagle which would shower dollar bills on waiting Britishers in the street below.

If you think that building such a hose into the eagle would be a bit far-fetched, just look at the Russians. They built an entire microphone-transmitter system into an eagle which was to be placed over the desk of our ambassador in Moscow. The eagle, a part of a Great Seal which was hand-carved by the Russians, was planned to be an unwilling accomplice in Soviet spying activities.

The Trojans, of course, played this same game with a horse thousands of years ago, except that the Russians used an electronic gadget in the place of armed men. At any rate, our eagle was displayed in the United Nations Security Council recently after the listening device had been discovered and removed. Our eagle told the world something that some nations seem to have forgotten: tyranny and totalitarian principles are forever the enemies of liberty, despite the outward assurances of such leaders as Khrushchev.

The Russian boss, in an orgy of unprincipled sham and hypocrisy, says that "we are people of high and lofty moral standards" and great and staunch friend.

that these standards are indeed so high as to place spying outside the wildest dreams of a Russian. Our friend the eagle, with his arrows in one hand and olive branch in the other, again lends its force to the American cause and thereby served its nation well.

Perhaps the United States, and its Department of State in particular, might be wise to keep a close eye on the various activities of our great representative of the national purpose. When he begins looking "benevolent," perhaps it would be time to re-examine our position. And when he looks "bugged" we might adopt more determined efforts to keep ourselves from being overheard—or overawed. In any case, the eagle has again proven himself to be a great and staunch friend.

" Area Observations "

Ed Eakin, "The Chief Speaks" in Quannah Tribune-Chief.

America has become the foster mother of the world.

Like a child rushed into marriage before her time, our young nation is faced with the dilemma of feeding and protecting nations who at best tolerate a dotting dowager who holds the key to the cupboard.

Our recent severe reverses in world diplomacy are results of our immature thinking and the tendency of nations to hate the hand that provides the postage.

We have spent billions to revive nations we helped destroy in war. They hated us no less as recipients of our doles. Even our friends, rapidly growing in economic strength and caring less for U. S. interference, want to "go it alone" despite the growing threat of international communism.

In the coming presidential election, this country must provide aggressive and mature leadership. President Eisenhower's successor must be a mature thinker, one who can grapple with present problems and foresee their future implications.

As Tom Payne once said at the birth of this nation, "These are times that try men's souls." But we must take the initiative. At every opportunity we must show the world what communism really is. We cannot let them forget the massacre in Hungary, the rape of East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the rest. They and we must understand that the dictatorship of the proletariat is the dictatorship of a hard core communist tyrant. That a Castro is just a Batista in communist clothing.

America has taken it on the chin long enough. Foreign aid has no meaning any more. Offer technical help and a few loans, yes. But more dollars, no! For every friend we buy, we get one enemy free.

We are not sure which party will come forth with the best platform for this nation's future. We plan to analyze both. We trust you will also.

Cecil O. Waggoner in Claude News

South may need to rise again!
According to newspaper reports, Sen. John Kennedy, while visiting a liberal party meeting in New York, is reported to have said that "he hoped to win the Democratic nomination for president without a single Southern vote in the convention."

Here's a vote he won't get if he does win. I would have felt the same way is he had said "Catholic" or "Negro," or any other tired worn label. This irresponsible utterance along with a lot of others proves him incapable of being even a vice president.

The President is the elected representative of all the people, regardless of race, creed or color, in the United States. For that very reason no candidate should ever attempt to play one group against another. Of course Kennedy may feel he is on safe ground as it is a national past-time to vilify the South, but a great deal of understanding is developing by the average citizen of the North and I predict his irresponsible utterances are losing him votes every day.

At least Senator Johnson is mature enough to realize that he must represent all regions if he is to be President, and if Kennedy starts out with a prejudice it is doubtful he will ever lose it.

Playing with fire
One report says: It was not so long ago that Mr. Bulganin, one of the Russian leaders, was quoted as saying that the United States would become a socialized state not as the result of outside forces, but that we would vote ourselves into that situation.

Anyone who has watched the methods of many state and federal law makers who favor putting government into tax exempt projects in competition with exorbitantly taxed private citizens and business can see Bulganin's prediction working out, not under the name of socialism, but under the more dangerous and false title of liberalism—free wheeling government spending and taxation.

It must make the Russians chuckle to see our own politicians playing their game and our people swallowing the bait.

If the people continue to sell their votes for political promises of something for nothing, promises that can only be financed by constantly more destructive taxation and inflation, they will have only themselves to blame for fulfilling Mr. Bulganin's prophecy that we will destroy our freedom from within.

Mrs. Nora Loveland of Dallas, Miss Dorothy Jackson of Roswell, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pickett and children of Tucumcari, N. M., were week end visitors in the Luther Petty home.

"HOMING SHOWER" FOR THE BRIDE

If you decide on a shower for the bride — what kind can you give her that is different? It's always a hard decision.

There is a way you can do your part in entertaining in her honor and yet relieve her of pre-wedding pressure — by giving her a shower after the honeymoon. It is a very nice way of welcoming the bride home, and a real pepper-upper for her when all the wedding excitement has died down.

You might call it a "Homing Shower." Your guests should be requested to bring a simple gift — some little homey thing that she may not have been given. A suggested list might include: safety pins; a small box covered in Marvalon and filled with a ball of twine, wrapping paper and labels; if she has a new camera — some extra films; a large carton filled with paper cups, plates, containers and 1/2 dozen paper buckets.

Your refreshments served buffet style would be nice and much easier especially if you are having a large crowd. You could cover your table with some of the exciting new cotton print material that she may find many uses for afterwards — maybe for a summer dress or cafe curtains for her new home.

For a centerpiece, try one of Lily's #10 paper buckets with handle (both of these are easily obtained in hardware stores) and fill with sand. Then, over the bucket, drape a new wet mop that now comes in white or such pretty colors. Next, arrange in the sand a pretty bouquet of those new artificial flowers. You might even place two colored whisk brooms up-side-down among the flowers along with a large wooden spoon. This makes an unusual as well as useful bouquet for her to take home.

For easy and attractive table service, Lily-Tulip's gold leaf, China-Cole plates and their matching new combination plastic and paper service cups give color and charm. Try pinning the paper napkins to the plates with clothes pins (even if she has a dryer, she can always use clothes pins.)

For a menu — a casserole is always nice and convenient, giving you more time for your guests. This one from the Nabisco people might interest you:

ALSATIAN CASSEROLE
 1/2 cup butter or margarine    1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup chopped green pepper    1/2 cup beef bouillon (1 cube in 1/2 cup chopped celery            1/2 cup boiling water)
 1 lb. haddock or other white    2 eggs beaten fish cut in 1" cubes            1 Stack Pack Premium Saltines,
 1 lb. can red salmon            crushed
 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Melt butter or margarine in heavy skillet. Sauté green pepper and celery until tender. Stir in all ingredients but salmon. Layer of haddock mixture and salmon in greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake covered in moderate oven (350°) for 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Your casserole may be brought to the table in a small laundry basket — something else for the guest of honor to take home. A quick trick with frozen French fries that the Frozen Potato Products Institute tells us is to serve them in paper cups, right on your paper plate. A tossed salad will round out the buffet.

Top off the meal with a pretty parfait, fixed ahead of time, made with alternate layers of quick puddings with whipped cream, fruits or preserves and served in paper cups. Top with cherry or bits of fruit, and serve coffee or tea.

IT HAPPENED HERE

40 Years Ago—

Taken from the Files of
 The McLean News, 1920

Large Crowd Enjoys Picnic
 Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Upham entertained a large crowd of people at their home west of town on Monday with a picnic and basket dinner at noon.

Unlike most picnics of this sort,
 everybody was invited, and there were about 200 people present.
 The Uphams entertained this large crowd in their usual hospitable manner, and the event will long be pleasantly remembered by those who attended.

Deal Closed for Gin to Be Built

C. L. Cooke of the American National Bank tells us that arrangements have been made with Dallas parties to put in an up to date gin plant here. This will be welcome news to farmers who have planted cotton on the strength of assurances that a gin would be built.

The McLean Gin will have one of the best bolly attachments on the market and will be run with a large oil engine.

Rice Residence Almost Complete
 C. S. Rice has all the work done on his new home on Second Street except the interior woodwork and plastering, which should be finished in a short time. This is the first concrete dwelling to be built in McLean, and will be one of the nicest homes in town when it is completed.

Back Club Girls Meet
 On June 29th, the Back girls canning and poultry club met at the home of Miss Lelia Back and held an all day meeting.

The first year girls canned a jar of berries, and the second year girls canned a jar of beans.

Mrs. Neeley gave the girls further instructions in making aprons, caps, and cup towels.

We had a fine meeting, but are sorry to report that our secretary,
 Miss Catherine Corum, was sick and unable to be present. We decided to meet with Miss Ruth

Henderson next month.

WHAT ARE YOU MAJORING IN? By J. L. Mayhall, Nazarene Pastor

Are you majoring in the material, or mental, or spiritual?

Your major determines your specific objective. Other things must of necessity come in. We must earn a living. We must engage in some vocation or profession. But why?

To satisfy the flesh? To get things? To become wealthy or powerful or famous? Everyone must decide whether he will live for the here and now or for there and then. We must live in the light of eternity or exist in the darkness of time.

Are you living for this life or the next? What is your major? Is it the passing, fleeting, transitory, ephemeral things of the temporal existence or are you living for the final, real, ultimate abiding values of eternity? Everyone is majoring in one or the other.

The president of a South American republic said to Roger Babson, the great statistician, "Your North American civilization was founded upon your pilgrim and puritan fathers, who came seeking God. Our South American civilization was based on Spaniards who came seeking gold."

Everyone is either a gold seeker or a God seeker: gold for what it will buy for our bodily wants, God for what He will do for our spiritual and moral needs.

In what should one major? Jesus gave the answer in His great sermon on the mount: "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." Matt. 6:33.

Major first in the kingdom and His righteousness—other needed things will be added. If you major in things you will lose God here and heaven hereafter. In what are you really majoring? It isn't too late to change your way and pursue God's major for your life.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

"THE KING CAN DO NO WRONG"
How could anybody ever say: "The king can do no wrong"? (When we know of kings who did do wrong.)

The idea looks simple: As absolute law maker, the king could hold himself above his own law. He was under no law and could therefore do no legal wrong. Anyway, when King George lost the 13 colonies, the American states took over the doctrine of Sovereign Immunity. Nobody can sue a government agency without the state's permission, when the agency is doing government work. (Of course if the agency is doing "proprietary functions" like running street cars or making electricity, it may often be sued much like any other business.)

Thus suppose for lack of care a bakery truck should harm your child who had done nothing to bring on the accident. Well then, most likely you could sue the bakery in the child's behalf and collect damages.

But not with government agencies unless the legislature gives you lawful permission.

Thus in the old days, if an army jeep harmed your child, you could collect only if Congress passed a special bill awarding damages.

Recently this doctrine has been attacked: Why shouldn't the government pay like any other organization?

So during the last war the federal government in response to public opinion passed a "tort liability" law. It gives the people much more power to sue than before the last war. And the courts much more often than Congress now set the damages in many kinds of cases.

In Texas, the legislature by a proper action may permit certain general types of suits to be brought against the state, under various conditions and restrictions. Then, if a specific situation arises which is not covered by the general rules, the legislators are authorized to pass a special measure to permit suit to be brought.

Therefore, any person seeking to enforce a claim against the state of Texas through the courts must petition the legislature for the necessary permission, unless his claim falls within some general category or type previously recognized by our lawmakers. During each session, the legislature passes legislation allowing suits to be brought against the state in a variety of cases.

Sometimes, however, suits may be brought against individuals holding office under the state of Texas and acting as agents of the state, but where the state itself is not the principal party to the suit, without first gaining consent to sue. There are numerous situations in which an individual officer may be sued with regard to the duties and functions of his office, and in which the state is not directly or substantially a part in interest.

Suppose you do obtain legislative permission to sue the state. What happens then?

If suit is brought against the state of Texas, and the action is successfully prosecuted, you will be awarded a judgment against the state. Then, it's back to the legislature for more legislation to appropriate the necessary money with which the state may pay off the judgment.

Accounting for almost one out of every nine automobiles in the United States, California tops all other states in gasoline consumption.

It would take a train of 440 railroad tank cars with a capacity of 10,000 gallons each to hold the 104,800 barrels of fuel oil used every day by the nation's steel mills.

Per capita consumption of sulphur in the United States is 75 to 80 pounds a year.

The Oklahoman News
Thursday, July 7, 1960

The Esso Baltimore, Humble Oil and Refining Company's new tanker, is taller than a five-story building and more than two city blocks long. It will be able to hold enough fuel to fill the tanks of 890,000 automobiles—17,549,000 gallons.

A prime advantage of polypropylene—the versatile new plastic—is that it retains its basic shape up to 290 degrees F. and will not melt until the temperature reaches 335 degrees.

Fuel oil and diesel oil provide the power for more than 90% of merchant ships sailing the seas today.

SOUND ADDS FUN TO VACATION MOVIES

About 900 million feet of 8mm movie film will be exposed this summer by vacationing Americans all over the world. This means that this fall there will be about 24 million neighbors being bored to tears by having to sit through their friends' vacation movies.

The tragedy of this situation is that vacation movies need not be boring any more. Even the most amateurish attempt at home movies can be made more interesting by adding sound—music, sound-effects and commentary—to 8mm film with the Bolex Sonorizer. The Sonorizer is a magnetic sound recording and playback unit with which sound can be added to film the professional way—after all poorly exposed shots have been cut out, titles added and the various scenes arranged and edited into proper sequence.

The unit records sound on a thin magnetic stripe which is applied by the photo dealer to the edge of the film outside the sprocket holes, after the film is processed and edited.

Available currently at franchised dealers, the Sonorizer comes complete in a compact two-piece case which separates into the loudspeaker unit and the amplifier section. The top of the amplifier is flat to accommodate the Bolex 8mm projector or most all other 8mm projectors. The film is threaded first through the Sonorizer soundhead, then through the projector in the normal manner.

The first time the film is run through the unit the musical background can be recorded. Then, on a second run-through, sound-effects and the commentary may be superimposed, or overlaid at the touch of a "trick" button on the unit's microphone or on the remote control button. When this button is depressed the originally recorded music fades down automatically to a low background level, so the sound-effect or commentary can be heard at full volume. When the button is released the music again automatically comes up to full volume.
