City Joins In FDR Birthday Celebration

Definite Report Not Yet Available On Proceeds For Charity Fund

Big Spring people danced Thursday night, and in so doing contributed an estimated several hundred dollars toward funds to finance the war on infantile paralysis.

Four dances were held as the city's part in the nationwide celebration of the 54th birthday of President Roosevelt, and the local affairs attracted large crowds.

Receipts Checked O. C. Dunham, head of the committee directing the Birthday program here said Friday that he could not make a definite report on proceeds until a complete check on ticket sales is made.

Thirty per cent of the proceeds will go to the Warm Springs Foundation, to aid in financing research work for prevention and cure of infantile paralysis.

The remaining 70 per cent will be used for local cases.

President's Address WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Inter-rapping near midnight his own anniversary party at the White House, President Roosevelt last night delivered a brief radio address.

The words were carried to what officials estimated were 6,000 birthday balls at which 5,000,000 men and women danced from coast to coast.

Families were reaching their hearts, Mrs. Roosevelt was completing her round of the six separate celebrations when the executive, sitting in his study, bespoke aid for and coordination among those carrying "the brunt of caring for several hundred thousand of the afflicted."

"No single agency," he said, "CONTINUED ON PAGE 12"

Have Money For Pensions

Carpenter Estimates Payments Can Be Made Through 1936

DALLAS, Jan. 31 (UP).—Orville Carpenter, executive director of the Texas old age assistance board, said today that the board estimates it will be able to pay the full amount of pensions due eligibles through 1936, with monthly payments starting on July 1.

This may be done, Carpenter explained, even if no additional taxes are provided by the legislature.

Carpenter and his assistant, W. W. Holcomb, came here to arrange office space for the Dallas district office, which will serve 12 counties in North Texas.

Applications will be received beginning Feb. 14, when the law becomes effective.

Carpenter said the pension board has been informed by the liquor control board that approximately $3,500,000 will be available from liquor taxes and licenses when monthly payments of the pensions begin on July 1.

Carpenter was hopeful that federal pension funds would be available by that time to supplement the state pension.

Counties included in the Dallas district are Dallas, Grayson, Fannin, Lamar, Collin, Hunt, Delta, Hopkins, Rains, Rockwall, Kaufman and Van Zandt. The state has been divided into 20 districts by the pension board.

Cowboy Reunion Directors Will Meet Saturday

A meeting of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion directors has been called for 7 p. m. Saturday from the office of Ira Driver, manager of the corporation.

Directors will hear a plan advanced by W. T. Strango, Jr., chairman of commerce manager, to hold a centennial celebration in conjunction with the third annual rodeo in hopes of adding to the attraction and securing advertising on state centennial programs.

Says Hoffman Has Cited No New Evidence

Wilentz Comments On Governor's Reopening Of Lindbergh Case

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 31. (AP).—Attorney General David T. Wilentz, commenting on Governor Harold Hoffman's reopening of the Lindbergh case said today that the governor's statements were "no new evidence. The case stands as is."

Hoffman yesterday ordered the state police to re-open their investigation of the kidnaping and the slaying of the Lindbergh baby.

The chief executive, who defied threats of impeachment two weeks ago after granting Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted murderer of the child, a 30-day reprieve which saved him from execution the night of Jan. 17, told Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police, by letter that Hauptmann's fate is "almost the least important feature of this case."

"We can not accept any solution, that even by inference, is less than complete," he wrote, adding there is "abundant evidence that other persons participated in the crime."

In support of his belief the governor attached to the letter "incontrovertible proof" that others were involved.

The law enforcement agencies have no reason to regard the case as closed, he wrote, and followed this with orders to Schwarzkopf that the state police report "at least once weekly" the progress of their investigation and that of coordinating agencies.

The disposition of the loans when they fall due Saturday has been the subject of intense study by government officials. It was still uncertain today, however, whether these present loans would be extended or would be allowed to mature and be carried as a past due obligation.

Protective Assn. To Be Discussed At Colorado Meet

Marion Edwards, secretary of the newly-formed cattlemen's protective association, and Sheriff Jess Slaughter will go to Colorado Saturday for a meeting with Mitchell county ranchers and farmers at 2 p. m. from the county courthouse.

They will explain the workings of the new organization in an attempt to interest stockmen of that section. They said that they hoped to have Martin, Mitchell, Borden, Glascock and Howard counties bound together in an association which would post rewards and otherwise facilitate the capture and prosecution of livestock and poultry thieves.

Only One Witness Yet Heard On T&P Application

(Special To The Herald) ABILENE, Jan. 31.—The Texas & Pacific Motor transport application was tried in cross-examination of the one and only witness yet called, T. E. Huffman, at the noon recess of the hearing today.

Huffman is general freight agent for the applicant.

Frank Rawlings, Sam Sayers and others cross-examined him during the entire morning session, with protestants lodging scores of witnesses from Big Spring, Abilene, Dallas, Lorraine, Roscoe, Sweetwater, Coahoma, Latah, Westbrook, Colorado and Trent were in the commission room awaiting a chance to testify.

Contract A contract between the railway and the transport company filed with the commission was the subject of much questioning from protestants' attorneys.

The T&P Motor Transport company is seeking a certificate authorizing operation of three trucks between Abilene and Big Spring in a coordinated rail-truck service in which freight would be carried by rail to bulk centers in carload lots and distributed by trucks to other points.

Here are Commissioners C. V. Terrell and Lon A. Smith, the former presiding in absence of Chairman E. O. Thompson, who is ill in Austin; Mark Marshall, chief of the motor transportation division; and W. A. Hill, Washington, D. C., examiner for the interstate commerce commission. Proponents regarded the latter's presence as significant, describing the "proposed service as being in line with suggestions made by Joseph B. Eastman, federal transportation coordinator, for combined rail and truck service carrying beyond metropolitan areas for distribution.

The hearing began at 10 a. m. Thursday, but the first witness was not put on the stand until mid-afternoon, so numerous were protestant objections to the application. Commissioner Terrell finally overruled objections as to form and sufficiency of the application and instructed examination of witness to begin.

Huffman, first to be called, testified as to schedules and facilities of the three trucking companies operating between Abilene and Big Spring, the Snyder Transfer Co., West Texas Transportation Co., and the Merchant Fast Motor Lines, and described facilities available for the proposed transport line.

Warm Weather Returns To State

DALLAS, Jan. 31. (UP).—Sunny skies and a forecast of warmer weather today marked the end of Texas' cold wave. Denton reported a low of 3 above zero early this morning, and most of North Texas was chilled by sub-freezing weather, but later in the day the mercury was climbing steadily.

Elms, protected south Texas vegetation from "frosts," but cattle on the coast suffered from the intense cold.

DR. TOM TAYLOR TO DELIVER SERIES OF TALKS IN B'SPRING

Dr. Tom Taylor, popular speaker, civic leader and president of Brownwood Payne College at Brownwood will spend the week end in the Big Spring territory, addressing various church groups, public schools, Rotarians and others. Taylor is immediate past president of the Rotary 41st district.

Dr. Taylor is scheduled to arrive here Saturday, and on Saturday evening will be honored at a reception to be given at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Garnett.

Sunday morning he will speak at the First Baptist church, and Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock he will address a mass meeting of citizens at the First Baptist church. All men of the city especially are invited to hear the Sunday afternoon address.

Monday evening, Dr. Taylor will speak to the men of the Fourth Street Baptist church, and on Tuesday evening he will make an address to the men of the First Christian church. He is scheduled to make the principal address at the Rotary club luncheon at Hotel Settles Tuesday noon.

In addition to these engagements in Big Spring, Dr. Taylor will speak at Fortson at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and at the First Baptist church in Midland Sunday evening.

Dr. Taylor has visited Big Spring several times, and is popularly known here. He is known as one of the most forceful and entertaining speakers in West Texas. The public is invited to hear his addresses here.

Revenue Will Take Place Of Process Levy

No Definite Form Of Tax Mentioned; Leaders In Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. (AP).—President Roosevelt said today that a tax-raising measure would be necessary at this session of congress to meet the costs of the farm program, and that a study on bonus revenue needs is continuing.

He said revenue for the farm program would be in the nature of a substitute for processing tax, and therefore would not be new taxation. He mentioned no specific form of levy.

A conference on the tax situation was called at the White House yesterday, soon after the senate agriculture committee had reported the crop control-soil conservation measure to the floor, for possible consideration Monday.

The conference met against the background of an earlier statement by Attorney General Cummings that new farm-financing levies were in the mill, to which he added that submission to congress within a week would be "a good guess."

President Roosevelt's advisers were silent on proposed channels of new revenue when they emerged, but it was known that they considered these requirements: $440,000,000 is the estimated annual cost of the new Bankhead-Jones program continuing subsidies to farmers.

$200,000,000 in impounded processing taxes were returned to processors by the supreme court's 8-5 decision. The administration wants to regain these.

To Pay Contracts $296,185,000 is needed to pay farmers for acreage reduction contracts carried out before AAA was invalidated.

The white house conferees, including Secretaries Morgenthau and Wallace, the attorney general said, mutual conclusions were reached and their studies would be continued.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), co-author of the bill proposing two years of farm subsidies for "soil conservation," to be followed by a permanent program based on grants to states, filed the committee report with the senate.

He announced he would seek consideration of the bill Monday. The report expressed confidence in the measure's constitutionality, previously disputed even by committee members.

Another farm bill, proposing tariff-equalizing subsidies on wheat, cotton, hogs and tobacco, was introduced by Representative Hope of Kansas, ranking republican of the house agriculture committee.

Officers of the post announced that the unit will set up an office through which applications for bonus payments of all Howard county ex-service men will be handled. Request has been sent to the Dallas office of the veterans' administration for application blanks, but the order had to be forwarded to Washington, so blanks are delayed a day or two. It was expected that the forms will be here by the first of the week, and by that time the VFW post will have arrangements made to handle the applications.

Men to assist in preparing the applications will be stationed probably at the VFW hall, and a schedule of office hours will be maintained for the accommodation of veterans. Details of the program will be announced after the meeting this evening.

Terry Trial Is Set For Monday

Case of J. E. Terry, scheduled to be tried Friday, was passed until Monday due to illness of the defendant. He is facing an indictment charging him with driving while intoxicated.

The grand jury, reconvened Thursday for a final session, was recessed until Monday when it will finish its work. The jury commission completed the selection of grand and petit jurors for the May term of court.

General Kondylis Of Greece Dead

ATHENS, Jan. 31. (AP).—General George Kondylis, 55, former "strong man" of Greece, died suddenly of a heart attack here today.

Kondylis engineered the bloodless coup of last October which resulted in the return of King George to the throne.

Poll Payments Are Near Record Mark

More people will be qualified to vote in elections this year than ever before in the history of Howard county.

This became apparent Friday morning when a check showed that 3,940 people had paid poll taxes and 280 had obtained exemption certificates.

The final rush between noon and 10 p. m. when the office of Tax Collector-Assessor John F. Wolcott will close, is predicted to net at least an additional 400 polls.

In 1934 when a new record was established for Howard county, 4050 persons paid poll taxes and 340 received exemption certificates. Included in the exemption total were a large number who were obtaining permanent certificates and who do not have to re-register this year.

Political observers Friday afternoon forecast a voting strength for the county between 4,500 and 5,000. Whether it would provoke another flood of announcements on the part of candidates who have been on the verge of announcing for sometime remained problematical. Some with ambitions to seek precinct offices were said to be holding off until they could see which boxes were strongest.

"Poll taxes must be paid for today if persons wish to have a voice in at least four important elections scheduled for this year.

Liquor Control Offices Will Be Established Here

AUSTIN, Jan. 31. (UP).—The state liquor control board announced today it would establish permanent district headquarters in Big Spring to enforce liquor laws.

Similar offices are to be established in 16 other cities over the state.

Fryer told Sheriff Jess Slaughter that he shot and killed Blonny Thomas, road house operator, after the latter had severely beaten him the day before. He came back to the crossroads stand near Dillard, Okla., and shot it out, he said.

He was arrested and placed on bond and then re-arrested when the bond was found faulty. Released once more, he fled the country, roaming over most of the U. S. parts of Canada and spending much time in Mexico.

Five years ago he worked in the oil fields here for several months, he told officers. He had been here about a week when he decided to give himself up.

"I got tired of feeling someone slip up behind my grab me," he declared. Fryer said he was anxious to see brothers in Oklahoma whom he had not seen since the incident.

Jealousy Cited As Slaying Cause

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 31. (AP).—State's Attorney Will McCabe said today that he believed Richard Loeb was "deliberately murdered" by James Day, following a plot of Day and other convicts who were jealous over Loeb's alleged preferential treatment in the prison. McCabe launched his own investigation into penitentiary affairs.

Dave Tobelowsky, manager of La Mode, has returned from a business trip to Dallas.

Alabama Felons Trapped In Cage As Gasoline Is Ignited

SCOTTSBORO, Ala., Jan. 31. (AP).—Twenty negro convicts were burned to death today in the cage of a prison transfer truck, by the explosion of a 30-gallon drum of gasoline. Two other convicts were seriously injured, and two guards were burned about the hands and face in attempting a rescue.

The guards said the sliding of the truck on an icy highway apparently drenched the gasoline to the floor, where it was ignited by the heat of coals in a fire bucket placed inside the truck cage to shield the convicts from the cold.

At Montgomery, however, State Highway Engineer Ister said a negro had "struck a match" near the drum of gasoline.

"The first we knew of the mishap," Guard Middlebrook said, "was when we heard the negroes shrieking for help. As soon as I could stop the truck, I dashed around to the rear and Wasson, the other guard and I unlocked the door and attempted to pull them out. We got two of the men out but couldn't reach the rest in that time."

Three Dead, 31 Injured In Wreck Of Express

SUNBURY, Penn., Jan. 31. (AP).—Three dead and thirty-one injured were counted today as railroad crews and volunteers, working in zero weather, took the last of casualties from the wreckage of the Reading company's fast express train which plunged 20 feet from the top of the Susquehanna river bridge.

The Express, the "Williamsporter" hurtled from the north end of the bridge span last midnight, down to the end of an abandoned canal, a few feet from the river.

The injured were rushed to a hospital here, where many were laid along the floor because of crowded conditions.

Witnesses told of hearing a blast and seeing a blinding glare as the train pulled onto the span, lending strength to reports that the boiler had exploded. The company announced, however, that investigators had determined a broken rail caused the wreck.

The train, consisting of five cars, including two sleepers, left the rails at Clement Station, just across the Susquehanna river from Sudbury.

The locomotive tore down a pier of the bridge and plunged into the river. The mail and baggage coach also went into the river and another coach was practically submerged.

The remaining coaches rolled down an embankment and blocked the highway. The railroad ties on the bridge caught fire and burned fiercely.

Will Face Old Murder Count

Man Who Surrendered After 16 Years Taken To Oklahoma

Earnest J. Fryer, who evaded the clutches of the law for 16 years only to give himself up here Tuesday after growing weary of being hunted, was on his way back to Ardmore, Okla., Friday to face a murder charge.

Sheriff Frank Randolph of Ardmore took custody of Fryer here Friday morning after the confessed slayer waived extradition proceedings. Randolph said he lived in the Ardmore area when the shooting occurred in 1920 but that he was not sheriff at that time and did not remember any of the details of the shooting.

Fryer told Sheriff Jess Slaughter that he shot and killed Blonny Thomas, road house operator, after the latter had severely beaten him the day before. He came back to the crossroads stand near Dillard, Okla., and shot it out, he said.

He was arrested and placed on bond and then re-arrested when the bond was found faulty. Released once more, he fled the country, roaming over most of the U. S. parts of Canada and spending much time in Mexico.

Around And About

The Sports Circuit
By Tom Beasley

THE OFFICIAL American league baseball schedule will be released next Thursday afternoon.

"BEAR" WOLF, Texas Christian University coach, spoke at a football banquet in Cleco recently.

1-Will I work hard enough at my studies to more than just get by?
2-Will I train consistently?
3-Will I be faithful and consistent in my attendance at practice?
4-Will I be willing to share the spotlight with my teammates?

FROM A feature syndicate we get this story of a baseball game played July 14, 1902, between the Texas League teams:

CORICKIANA . . . 629 275 488-51
TEXARKANA . . . 610 900 020-3

THE NATIONAL Amateur Athletic union basketball tournament is to be held this year at Denver, and several of the stronger teams of West Texas and Oklahoma are planning to enter the competition.

AL PARKER of the Wichita Daily Times believes that a good way to conduct the competition would be in separate brackets for each class, with the two winners meeting in the final.

IT SEEMS that the football season of nine months' duration is just around the corner.

SAN ANGELO sportsmen are already laying plans for the football season.

Ted Cox Mentioned As Oklahoma A&M Coach

STILLWATER, Okla., Jan. 31. (UP)—If Oklahoma A. & M. college officials decide to pay a coach or more than $5,000 a year for a coach the position probably will be given to Ted Cox, formerly head coach at Tulane university.

The four candidates who have come in for most of the discussion are Cox, Elmer (Gloomy Gun) Henderson, formerly head coach at University of Tulsa; Blair Cherry, coach at Amarillo high school, and Jim Lookabaugh, coach at Capitol Hill high school, Oklahoma City.

Cobb And Ryba Expected To Add Color To National League

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Two rookie Polish pellet pounders from Pennsylvania coal regions are expected to prove sensations in the National League this season, and to provide the fans with plenty of color.

They are Mike Ryba, the "one-man ball club," who will try for a berth with the gashouse gang down in St. Louis, and big bespectacled Bernie Cobb, infielder with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Although no spring chicken, 30-year-old Dominick Joseph Ryba is one of the most versatile players ever to hit the big time.

Like Ryba, Bernie does everything right-handed, but he is much larger than Ryba, packing 200 pounds on a six-foot, three-inch frame.

Glenn Cunningham is the greatest but hardly the most popular of the nation's mlers.

S'WEST GRID TEAMS GO FOR INTERSECTIONAL BATTLES

Twenty-One Intersectional Games Are Arranged
By JAY WELLS
DALLAS, Jan. 31. (UP)—Football teams in the Southwest conference, raised from comparative obscurity to national prominence by the sensational showings of Southern Methodist and Texas Christian last fall, will be familiar to spectators in all parts of the nation next season.

Since the conference has recently set a 10-game limit, the teams sacrificed warm-up games in order to play intersectional opponents.

Rice Institute has arranged the meeting schedule for 1936. Besides meeting the other six league members, Rice will play Louisiana State at Baton Rouge on Sept. 25; Duquesne at Pittsburgh Oct. 3; Georgia at Athens Oct. 17; and Georgia Washington at Houston Oct. 31.

The star players use a great deal more care in studying the surface of a fast, slippery green than they do a slow, heavy green.

The reason is simple. On a smooth, slippery green you dare not hit the ball hard. It trickles slowly toward the cup and is at the mercy of every little slope and turn in the surface.

On a slow, heavy green not so much care may be necessary, although you should always be alert.

Florida State college for women is the third largest woman's college in the United States.

Another Texas school, Hardin-Simmons, also is going in for intersectional play.

ROW AMONG THREE FACTIONS MUDDLES FIGHT PICTURES

James J. Johnston Roms On Joe Gould
By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—We have with us today the spectacle of Manager Joe Gould being suddenly and surprisingly assailed by his ally, James J. Johnston.

Johnston's accusation is that neither Louis nor Max Schmeling will consent to take the world's heavyweight championship away from Mr. Gould's fighter, James J. Braddock.

In this way, it has been arranged to have no challenger, or sort of innovation the Garden people have thought up in their spare time.

However, James J. Johnston has the floor and I guess that will be all right, too. He seems to have been on it a long time now.

He accuses Mr. Gould of "botching" the heavyweight situation. Then he says Gould told Schmeling that he thinks the boxing commission here may not wholly approve of whatever hocus pocus he may think up for the occasion.

Yes," says he, "They'll have that arena ready by the summer—and maybe will be ready, too. That is, if anybody can straighten out Gould.

Tied to Jacobs
"First, he goes around challenging. Is there any sense in that? Then, I told him to go sign up with Schmeling, because Louis was tied to Mike Jacobs and the commission in time would have to okay Schmeling and Braddock.

Instead, Gould went right out and told Schmeling he'd never get the Braddock fight, because he had run out on Braddock last year. So, Schmeling signed up for Louis, leaving Braddock where? Behind the basement araway?

Mr. Gould's ultimatum, arriving from Miami, says that if Louis doesn't watch out he'll be stricken from the list of those who are to be permitted to bring in a million dollar gate for Braddock. It also says that the list will be made up of the sterling survivors of an elimination tournament.

No ex-champions," it adds, thus eliminating Schmeling, Carnera, Sharkey and Baer, "and no has-beens.

As far as I can find out, that narrows it down to Man Mountain Dean.

20 TEAMS TAKE PART G. C. MEET

GARDEN CITY, Jan. 31. (SpH)—Forsan, Garden City, Veribest and Water Valley are the four favored teams in the boys' division of the Garden City high school invitation basketball tournament which gets underway here this afternoon.

Eight of the twenty teams entered are girls' teams. First round pairings in that division: Coahoma vs. Lakeview, Garden City vs. Forsan, Moore vs. Elbow, and Courtney vs. Garden City second team.

A beautiful 15 1/2-inch trophy will be awarded the winning team, with a 14 1/2-inch award to the runner-up. Miniature gold basketballs will be given players making the all-tournament team.

G. Hinnaford of Lomax will referee the girls' games and Phil Smith, former Trinity university student, will call the boys' games.

Sportsmen To Meet Tonight

Wildlife Conservation Program Will Be Discussed at Session
Sportsmen, particularly those who were part of the Howard county chapter of the Texas Game and Fish Protective association, have been called to meet at 8 p. m. today at Hotel Settles by S. J. McDaniel, president of the chapter.

More or less inactive since the spring, the game protective organization here is being rallied in support of the Texas Wildlife council and the American Wildlife Institute, associations for coordinating existing wildlife conservation units.

Plans for sending a delegate to the international conference in Washington Feb. 27 will be discussed. It is possible that reorganization on a different basis may be accomplished.

Aim of the wildlife council is to coordinate all organized sportsmen's and conservation groups in order that they may become more potent.

Local sportsmen have expressed satisfaction with the new plan and are hopeful of re-organizing for a new program of activity. Last year the Howard county chapter trapped thousands of ravens and shot on record. It was also responsible for more than 300 pairs of Mexican bob white being turned loose in the county.

events on the principal British tracks. Now they must, after suspension, surrender to the R. A. C. their international competition licenses, which every racing man or woman must possess.

When this license is surrendered, the driver may appeal for re-issue. Then the R. A. C. will decide whether the offense for which the road driving license was suspended is sufficiently serious for the cancellation of the competition license.

First Texas Newspaper Believed Issued In 1813

128 years ago, in the opinion of the late Moore, University of Texas history instructor. While definite records are lacking, Moore's research convinces him that Jose Alvarez de Toledo, member of a filibustering party, brought a printing press to Texas in 1813.

AUSTIN, (UP) — Texas' first newspaper was published at Nacogdoches in East Texas in 1813.

Buck Jones Star Of Western Film Now At The Lyric

Another yarn of the glamorous old west is unfolded at the Lyric theater Friday and Saturday, with Buck Jones as the star of "Sunset of Power." A new phase of western adventure is presented in the story of an embittered old cattle baron who finds, in his attempts to rule the range, that there is a force greater than might. Determined to wreak the vengeance on a lonely life of an innocent girl, he draws Buck Jones into his plot. Interwoven in this plot is another of unscrupulous cattle thieves of the west. Hard riding and courage by Buck and his horse, Silver, supply thrilling action until the story reaches its climax.

Dorothy Dix is Jones' leading woman and others in the cast are Charles R. Middleton, Donald Kirk, Ben Corbett and William Lawrence.

Musical Comedy Tops Program At Ritz Today

A new screen musical comedy that deals with the private lives of successful radio stars, called "Stars Over Broadway," is the feature attraction at the Ritz Friday and Saturday. Besides being the film debut of the popular radio entertainers, James Melton and Jane Froman, the picture has a star cast which includes Pat O'Brien, Jean Muir, Frank McHugh and Frank Fay.

There is an unusual offering of musical numbers which vary from classical selections to new Warren and Dublin compositions. Melton and Miss Froman have the spotlight as the songsters. There also is a spectacular specialty number in the picture, created and directed by Bobby Connelly.

Pat O'Brien is seen in the role of a theatrical agent who is about to give up the work until he hears a hotel porter (Melton) sing. Then he puts the young man under contract and a new story begins. Miss Froman plays opposite Melton, and Miss Muir is O'Brien's love interest. McHugh furnishes much of the comedy as O'Brien's song-plugging friend.

California Votes Slash In Output

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31. (UP)—The California central petroleum production committee today had voted a 22 per cent reduction in the daily crude oil output to go into effect Feb. 10.

Production under the new ruling will approximate 537,000 barrels daily, compared with an average of 671,692 barrels produced during December 1935.

The committee anticipated that price increases will offset the production slash. A report that 135,000 barrels of crude oil are being stored daily because of excess production led to adoption of the new reduction.

Film Version Of Dickens' Story At Ritz

"Tale Of Two Cities" With Ronald Colman, Opens Saturday Night

RONALD COLMAN As Sidney Carton

Generally hailed as one of the greatest dramatic and artistic triumphs of the screen, the cinema version of Charles Dickens' famous story "A Tale of Two Cities" will be seen at the Ritz Sunday and Monday, following a midnight matinee showing Saturday night. The picture boasts a cast of 112 distinguished players, headed by the veteran actor, Ronald Colman, who long cherished an ambition to play Sydney Carton in "A Tale of Two Cities." Others with prominent roles are Elizabeth Allan, Edna Mae Oliver, Reginald Owen, Basil Rathbone, Blanche Yurka, Henry B. Walthall, Donald Woods, Walter Catlett, H. B. Warner, Isabel Jewell and Tully Marshall.

Reviewers have acclaimed "A Tale of Two Cities" as being a more impressive production than "David Copperfield," the Dickens story which was so popularly received last season. The story, with all its dramatic incidents, romance and spectacle is retained in the picture version.

PREVENT DANGERS OF CONSTIPATION*

"Bulk" in ALL-BRAN Is Gentle in Action

Common constipation is largely due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. You fail to get your internal exercise. Millions of people have found that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies soft "bulk" with satisfactory results.

Tests in nutrition laboratories demonstrate that the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN can be used with the utmost confidence. Naturally, those few individuals with diseased or highly sensitive intestines should not take "bulk" in any form—either in leafy vegetables or in bran.

Unlike cathartics, ALL-BRAN is natural in its action—nor does this food lose its effectiveness with continued use. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and cleanses the intestines, promoting normal and healthful elimination.

Two tablespoonsfuls of this delicious cereal, served with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Enjoy it also in cooked dishes.

Help your family keep well. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Trappers In Area Getting Good Results

Bobcats, Coyotes, Wolves And Mountain Lions Are Caught

Trappers are making a successful war on harmful wildlife in West Texas, a report from the Texas Predatory Animal association says.

Catches recorded at the end of December amounted to 129 bobcats, 1,156 coyotes, 92 wolves and five mountain lions. Ninety-three trappers spent a total of 2,374 days running lines for the catch.

In six counties of this immediate area as many trappers spent 200 days catching three bobcats and 124 coyotes. Borden county proved most bountiful field for the animals, furnishing one bobcat and 42 coyotes. Crane had two bobcats and 14 coyotes. Other counties follow: Glasscock 13, Howard 13, Martin 10, Midland 32.

However, more coyotes were caught in Howard county than were reported. One trapper working on a ranch southeast of here barged 25 of the animals in addition to four foxes and an equal number of bobcats.

Pat Foster, trapping in the Pecos region, had the best record for December. F. H. Matthews trapped an old female wolf in Eastland county after she had destroyed $900 worth of sheep. Another trapper reported discovery of a species of black wolves which differed from others in that toes on the front paw were grown together.

Weather Slows Up WPA Work

Snow and sleet Thursday kept WPA workers of district No. 18 temporarily off the job.

Reports received by the district office here showed much heavier snowfalls to the north than visited the Big Spring section.

Despite moderating temperatures, WPA workers were kept from projects in Howard county due to slush caused by the melting snow.

With better weather conditions, WPA jobs will increase steadily, District Director R. H. McNew predicted.

Last week 150 new names were added to WPA. McNew ventured that snow and ice would have the effect of causing others who have been finishing up seasonal jobs to hasten their certification to WPA.

This, he said, would speed up existing projects and likely would make new ones possible.

Oklahoma's Oil Allowable Hiked

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 31. (UP) The U. S. Bureau of Mines recommendation for Oklahoma's February oil production was followed by the State Corporation commission which set the allowable at 483,700 barrels daily.

This was an increase of 2,700 barrels per day over January.

EMPIRE BUILDING IS KEEPING PACE WITH ITALY'S CONQUEST

ARMARA, Eritrea, Jan. 31. (UP)—Thousands of Italian engineers and skilled laborers today are rushing to completion in Eritrea and Northern Ethiopia the greatest network of bridges ever constructed in colonial history.

The deadline for this great engineering feat is May, the beginning of the rainy season that will transform the dry plains, cupped in between mountain ranges, into gigantic bowls of mud and convert the tinder valleys that snake through the mountains of the Tembien and the Taccaze into turbulent rivers.

Trekking through Eritrea and Ethiopia, I have seen scores of these bridges under construction. They are permanent structures of steel and concrete. They are being built for the years to come. They are not military pontoons, but rather are bridges of which any municipality would be proud. Many of them run parallel to light, wooden affairs that were thrown up hastily to facilitate the Italian advance in the beginning of the campaign.

Like American Bridges

One of the most important of these bridges spans the Mareh river on the road between Adi Quala and Aduwa. Made of steel and concrete, and wide enough for two lines of heavy trucks to pass it is typical of bridges seen in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Only a few hundred miles from this masterpiece of sturdy military engineering drooped the wooden festoon that was used by the Italian troops when they advanced 50 kilometers into Ethiopia on Oct. 8, 1935. Built in the style of a suspended railway bridge, it was constructed in less than two hours.

Other important bridges are being completed between Asmara, capital of Eritrea, and Massawa, business port of the Red Sea. The last time I automobilized down this cork-screw road with its dangerous hair-pin bends, I counted four important bridges that were being built. Two of them, in the salt plains outside of Massawa, were especially reinforced to support the Asmara-Massawa railway as well as two streams of heavy, wheeled traffic.

Guarded Against Guerilla Bands

All the Italian bridges in Ethiopian are guarded day and night by soldiers to prevent any guerrilla bands from damaging the work that is being completed in record time.

In addition to this bridge building program, Italian geographic experts are putting the mountains and valleys of Ethiopia in their right places on new maps.

The vast work of surveying and replotting has been made necessary by the fact that entire columns of soldiers have marched miles off their intended routes as a result of incorrect mapping of vital landmarks years ago. The new maps will be models of accuracy, both from the standpoint of position and mileage, and will include the exact altitudes of mountain peaks.

The red and blue threadlike lines of rivers on old maps will be retraced so as to correspond with the actual courses of the Taccaze, Seltit and other rivers. Surveyors have found that a number of rivers flow through entirely different valleys and towns than the ones marked on charts.

Follows Roman Traditions

Apart from purely military movements, this remapping is being carried out to facilitate the building of a great network of roads in accordance with the traditions of the ancient Romans. Soldiers as well as laborers are helping to cut these hundreds of miles of new thoroughfares through the mountains and over gorges.

To complete this work in the fastest possible time, a special service has been organized which coordinates the finds of both the aviation and army. Virtually every plane which sets out on a reconnaissance flight carries a reconnaissance expert as does almost every troop column.

Planes are proving particularly helpful in the charting of heretofore unexplored regions through which Italian troops must march as they close in on strategic points.

Aviators fly over these sectors with camera and drafting boards, outlining the best routes through rugged or barren territory. This has proven an effective method of saving time along the fringe of the little-known Danakil desert.

Water Survey Includes Test Of All Wells

Measurements For Depth And Water Level Are Being Taken

Testing of water wells as a part of the underground water survey in Howard county has been started with measurements for total depth and water level being run on 23 wells in the city park and section 17-18 area.

Other city wells as well as those in every section of the county will be tested similarly and regularly, Howard Samuel, U. S. biological survey employe and director of the WPA project, said Thursday.

Checking of geological formations to the southeast has progressed to a point eight miles south of here and will be continued when testing is not under way, he said. Core and auger drilling will be done by the crew under Samuel's direction.

Tests have been run on four wells in section 12, block 33, T-1-S-7-A-P survey (city park) and as many samples sent to Austin for analysis by U. S. irrigation engineers. Twelve wells were tested on the city lease in section 18, block 32 and two wells on section 17. Seven samples were sent from the former section and one from the latter. Two samples were sent from five wells tested on the TAP lease on section 7.

Total depth for the city wells tested ranged from 176 to 213 feet with water levels varying from 83 to 90 feet. The T. & P. wells just east of the city park, have depths of 121 to 152 feet with much shallower water levels ranging from a minimum of eight feet to a maximum of 35 feet.

All wells tested draw water from the Trinity sands, water bearing formation which has long furnished the city its water supply.

Samuel said that testing of wells on section 33, from whence comes the biggest portion of the city's water supply, may be started next week.

C. B. Sheffield Is Named As New State Auditor

AUSTIN, Jan. 31. (UP)—C. B. Sheffield, Fort Worth, yesterday as appointed state auditor and efficiency expert to succeed Orville Carpenter who will become state pension director under the old age assistance law, to take effect Feb. 14.

Sheffield has been in charge of the Fort Worth office of a firm of certified public accountants, going there from Houston. "He was drafted," Governor Allred said in announcing the appointment. Carpenter is 35, born in Alvin,

Doctor Opens Forsan Office

Town Has Resident Physician First Time In Several Years

FORBAN, Jan. 31.—A number of business changes have taken place in Forsan recently, and the town now has the services of a resident physician for the first time in several years.

Dr. J. D. Hunt has opened an office next door to the Assembly of God church. He comes here from Aquilla and previously had practiced for many years in Hill county. A number of people here were acquainted with Dr. Hunt since he has spent a number of his summer vacations here with his daughter, Mrs. D. F. Yarbro, of the Continental camp.

Ownership and management of the Forsan barber shop has been changed. C. V. Wash, owner of the Wash grocery store, purchased the shop from Carl Madison, who has been here for a number of years. Fred Norman, who worked with Madison last summer, has been employed to run the shop. Madison has not made definite business arrangements, but plans to leave

Tex. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and Case School of Applied Science, Cleveland, Ohio. Carpenter was appointed auditor by Governor Allred when the term of George Simpson, San Antonio, expired.

Members of St. Mary's Episcopal choir are reminded of choir practice this evening at 7:45. Miss Elsie Willie has been named choir director, succeeding C. A. Bulot who has been moved to Fort Worth. A good attendance is requested.

St. Petersburg, Fla., with 73 churches, sometimes is called "the city of churches."

Special Stamps For Centennial On Sale Mar. 3

Texas Centennial commemorative stamps will be placed on sale here March 3. Postmaster Nat Shick said Friday. He is placing an order for 20,000 stamps of the 3 cent issue.

First sales of the stamp will be made at Gonzales, Texas March 2 and stamp collectors may secure covers of not more than 10 stamps from there on that date, Shick stated.

The stamps will have a double line border and will be done in purple color. They are to be the same size as a special delivery stamp. Portraits of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin will appear in upright oval panels on the left and right. In the upper center superimposed over a large white star will appear the U. S. Postage signature with the inscription "Texas Centennial—1836-1936." In the lower center will be a view of the Alamo, shrine of Texas independence, with the words, "The Alamo" done in bold Gothic below.

Walter Ritter, Huffman's companion, who also was injured, was still in a hospital. Harry Joslin, driver of the truck, was hurt only slightly.

ADVANCE NOT RETREAT

EVERYTHING DIFFERENT By Guy Hayer, President, World Prohibition Federation

There was a day when the old horse took the lead home even if the occupants were the worse for drink. That was in the old, old far-off time—or so it seems—before the British mastery of transport; in a more leisurely age when men and women did the work of the world with time to think about it in the doing. The world of that day and the world of this would seem not to have changed—if the mentality of some people counts for anything.

There have been letters and articles in the public press within recent months intoning to show the supposed "new line of attack" of Prohibitionists with regard to drivers of motor cars. These busy "press men" have evidently forgotten the verdict of science to say nothing of the claims of common sense. There are millions of cars on the road and licenses are being issued every year to hundreds of thousands more. That is the situation. Now drink throws a monkey wrench into the workings, and the selfish driver is made more selfish, the efficient driver less efficient, and a strain is put upon the already highly nervous system where no further strain should fall.

There must be some good reason why the British Medical Association is making further investigations into the matter of motorists and alcohol—an inquiry, let it be remembered, at the request of the British ministry of transport. The warning about the dangers of alcohol found in the new British highway code, and distributed gratis to fifteen million homes is no piece of propaganda on the part of Prohibitionists, but it must be gratifying to them as to all who have any conscience.

The simple fact is—and this is said despite the political success of the Wet—who for a season hold some semblance of authority—the nations are being forced to a most careful consideration of alcohol in its relation to society. Arthur Mees, in his new book, God Knows, has put the case against alcohol very succinctly: "It slows the action of the brain; so that in an emergency a man may not be ready; it impairs the judgment, so that a man is not to be relied upon; it dims the vision, so that a man at a machine may miss his mark; it enfeebles the powers of endurance, so that a man may run risk from exposure; it gives a false sense of security by bringing the warm blood to the surface, so that a man is colder afterwards; it weakens resistance to disease so that the man who takes it is more likely to die than if he did not; it blunts the senses, so that men are less sensitive to danger; it consumes day by day the strength the body builds up for any crisis that may come. There is no doubt about these things, and only the vast wealth of the trade, and its possession of the vast power of most of our press, maintains the widespread use of a poison which is as great a danger in a hundred ways as everybody knows it is behind the wheel of a motor car." (Submitted by the local W.C.T.U.)

Engagement Of Miss Evelyn Creath And Dr. L. A. Holley Is Announced

Misses Ina Dekon and Mildred Creath were co-hostesses Wednesday evening at the J. R. Creath home announcing the engagement of Miss Evelyn Creath and Dr. L. A. Holley of New Orleans, La.

The guests registered in a dainty bride's book placed before a miniature bride and groom arranged beneath a small arch between the pictures of the engaged couple.

Valentine games and contests furnished the entertainment of the evening. The contest winners, Miss Virginia Ogden, and Mrs. J. W. Garrison, were awarded prizes in keeping with the Valentine motif.

Plate favors were satin covered hearts within which the secret of the evening was concealed.

Coffee and angel cake with whipped cream and cherries were served to the following guests: Meses. W. S. Martin, J. W. Garrison, J. D. McWhirter, R. J. Michael, Jack King, J. R. Creath, and Mrs. C. C. Berry, of Colorado, Tex., aunt of the bride; and Meses Margerit Taylor, Grace Taylor, Josephine Dabney, Ruby Weatherly, Hallie Watson, Mary Nell Laster, Lilly Jean Cook, June Cook, Virginia Lois Ogden, Marcella King, and the honoree.

Mrs. Frank Tate Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Frank Tate was hostess to the Forsan Contract club Wednesday afternoon at her home on the American Maracabo lease. Handmade tallies, scorepads and prizes were party features.

High club prize, an apron, went to Mrs. Harlan; guest high, a similar gift, to Mrs. McAllister. Mrs. Carpenter received the bingo prize.

Players were: Meses Lloyd Burkhardt, S. B. Loper, Ira Watkins, M. M. Hines, Wilburn Dunn, C. W. Harland, Julian Galt, R. L. Carpenter, J. D. Leonard, McAllister and Bob Thomson.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Entertain Committee

Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman entertained recently for the Cauble P. T. A. committee. Following a business meeting at which Mrs. Dave Leatherwood presided, there was a social session.

Cake and cocoa were served to Meses. and Meses. Dave Leatherwood, J. F. Sellers, A. D. Franklin, Mrs. Floyd Ashley, Meses Mable Dunagan, Emma Jo Graves, Inez Sellers, Nova Lynn Graves, Wynell Franklin, Jane Leatherwood; Arthur W. Franklin, Lawrence Coleman, Robert Coleman.

Cake Walk To Be Held By Cauble School PTA

Cauble Parent-Teachers' association will hold an auction sale and cake walk Friday evening of next week. The funds will be used to buy school supplies, such as trees, socks, and pictures.

The Roland boys of the Moore community will give a band concert. Dave Leatherwood will be in charge of the games and stunts. There will be no admission fee, and everybody is invited.

BLACK-DRAUGHT A Laxative That Thousands Prefer

Black-Draught has helped so many men and women that others, needing a purely vegetable laxative, should have no hesitancy in trying it. Black-Draught relieves constipation in an easy, natural way.

"We have found Black-Draught so satisfactory, I do not see any need to change," writes Mr. Ralph Burch, of Black, Ala. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation which makes me feel sluggish, tired and no account. Black-Draught surely will relieve me."

The proper use of this old, reliable laxative tends to leave the bowels acting regularly.

Be sure to try it! Sold everywhere in 25-cent packages.—adv.

Both Parties Worried Over Farm Policies

Earlier Stand On Agriculture Plans Creates Confusion

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of AF Bureau, Washington)

Almost beyond belief are the confusions which beset the leaders of both political parties as they renew their efforts to do something about the farm problem.

The situation would be almost comic if it did not involve so important an industry and the fortunes of so many millions of people.

Toward this industry and these people the federal government has assumed an obligation which it scarcely dares disavow, and which it does not know with certainty how to fulfill. It has a bear by the tail.

The new administration program is called a "soil erosion" program. That is, a plan for preventing the soil from washing away. A tussle what everybody wants is exactly opposite. If a sufficient number of acres were to disappear entirely, there would be no farm problem.

Mr. Hoover, who may almost claim to have originated the word "regimentation," comes forward with the suggestion that a direct government subsidy be granted to farmers who would then turn to raising what the government thinks they should.

Meanwhile, after all the Republican assaults on the AAA, it is the Republican leader of the senate, McNary of Oregon, who hastens to introduce an appropriation bill to pay more money still due under AAA contracts.

These confusions grow out of other confusions which go a good way back.

In 1932 one of the great political parties adopted a platform condemning any policy which would make the government "a speculator in farm products," and also "the unsound policy of restricting agricultural production to the demands of the domestic market."

In the same year the other great party said in its platform that "the fundamental problem of American agriculture is the control of production to such a volume as will balance supply with demand."

It scarcely would be guessed today, but the party making the first of these two declarations was the democratic party, and the one subscribing to the second was the republican party.

After the election the democratic party leaders proceeded with a farm plan which took millions of dollars worth of corn and cotton off the market and gave the government a direct stake in farm prices. It also launched on the most comprehensive program of restricting production yet conceived.

Whereupon, the republican party leaders objected loudly to the control of production, which their party platform had endorsed, and to government speculation in farm prices, which the democrats had charged was one of the chief evils of the Hoover farm board.

A headache is the reward of those who try to figure this out.

That has been the reward likewise of everyone who has tried to solve the farm problem, or assist in its solution. On many occasions it has been about the only reward of the farmer himself.

After years of theorizing and experimenting, the only conclusion to which everybody agrees is that there still is a farm problem.

Senator Dickinson, who has been against the "new deal" at every turn, comes out for "stabilization of production," as one alternative. It is hard for the lay mind to understand how a thing can be stabilized without controlling it.

The truth is that the whole situation has fallen into a state of grotesque paradox and complete uncertainty.

What congress will do will be to pass some sort of bill—absolutely no one can predict at the moment what it will be—and then go home hoping for the best from Providence and the supreme court.

March 15 Last Date On Income Tax Returns

Residents of this section who filed income returns last year have less, or will be, mailed forms on which to file returns this year.

There are others, however, who must file returns this year, due to increased income during the past year over their income for 1934. Failure to receive the proper blanks does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay his tax on time—on or before March 15.

Forms may be obtained, in this area, by mail from the U. S. collector of internal revenue, at Dallas. Persons whose net income for 1935 was derived chiefly from wages or salary and was not in excess of $5,000 should ask for Form 1040A. Those whose net income was in excess of $5,000, or whose income, regardless of the amount, was derived from a business, profession, rents or sales of property, are required to use a larger form, 1040.

Failure to use the larger form will present difficulties to both the taxpayer and to the government, so the department of internal revenue emphasizes that a taxpayer engaged in a business or profession, even though he received a net income of less than $1,000, is required to use the larger form.

The tax may be paid in full before March 15, 1936, or may be paid in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, Sept. 15, and Dec. 15.

Charge Filed In Fatal Accident

LUBBOCK, Jan. 31 (UP)—Y. D. Buckalew, of Carlsbad, N. M., has been charged with negligent homicide and driving while intoxicated, in connection with an automobile collision Tuesday in which Mrs. V. H. Milligan and James Moffett were injured fatally near Lubbock.

Bond for Buckalew was set at $1,000.

The Moffett automobile caught fire after the collision and both Moffett and Mrs. Milligan were burned to death. Testimony yesterday at a court of inquiry tended to show that Buckalew was intoxicated and was driving on the wrong side of the highway.

More fishing-hunting licenses were sold in Virginia in 1935 than in 1934.

State's 1936 Celebrations To Be Varied

Opportunities Offered In Texas Presented During Centennial

AUSTIN, Jan. 31.—The more than 100 celebrations with which Texas will observe its Centennial year of independence and progress throughout 1936 will reflect not only the glamorous history of the state but also the varied opportunities found here.

While each celebration is planned with an historical background each also will depict graphically the agricultural, mineral, industrial, or recreational opportunities found in various sections of the state. The story has been started in the half dozen or more celebrations already held and will be continued on others planned throughout the year and in the $25,000,000 Centennial central exposition which will be opened in Dallas June 6.

Elaborate celebrations are planned in San Antonio, Houston, and

Fort Worth, San Antonio, historic Alamo city with its shrine to Texas liberty, is one of the great vacation centers of the nation. Houston, city of historical importance which was named for General Sam Houston, hero of San Jacinto, will emphasize its position as a foremost cotton and oil shipping port and as a metropolitan business center.

Fort Worth, "Where the West Begins" will call attention to its position as center of the widespread cattle industry of the Southwest.

Western Life

Western life of story and song will be revived in West Texas where range days still is to be found. A number of cities in this section plan rodeos and cowboy roundups which will thrill all spectators. This feature of the state-wide celebrations will be extended into the cattle country of South Texas where rodeos and roundups are familiar spectacles. Typical western and ranchland barbecue celebrations will attract many from far places.

Texas' position as a coastal state with hundreds of miles of coastline along the Gulf of Mexico will be stressed in the celebration, planned at the various port cities. The value of its shipping, its commercial and sport fishing, and its recreational advantages found along the Gulf of Mexico coastline will be emphasized. Gay festivals, agricultural and industrial exhibitions, water pageants and regattas, and fishing rodeos are planned.

Most of the many harvest festivals held in Texas each year will be presented as Centennial celebrations. They will call attention to the diversity of agricultural opportunity in the Lone Star State, being planned in cities which individually are centers of spinach, watermelon, strawberry, cotton, peanut, tomato, wheat, rice, turkey, citrus, or general agricultural production. Many of the county fairs this year will observe the Centennial with historical pageantry and parades.

The story of oil, of sulphur, of gypsum and of other mineral resources will be told in other celebrations.

Sister Of Local Woman Succumbs

Mrs. Donna Harris, for several years a resident of Big Spring, and a sister of Mrs. Sam Ely of this city, died in a hospital at El Paso.

Mrs. Harris is survived by her husband and three children. Other survivors are two sisters and a brother: Mrs. Ely, Mrs. Cleo Gill of Hollywood, Calif., and Jack Hicks of Los Angeles.

Pine straw should be left beneath trees to protect the soil and supply needed plant food.

Personally Speaking

Mrs. J. F. Kennedy has gone to Galveston to attend the exercises at the School of Nursing at which her daughter, Jennie Lucille, will pass from the probation class to the regular nurse study.

Mrs. Jess Casey and son are visiting Mrs. Casey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Daniels, Sr., of Toyah are staying at the Settles for a few days and visiting with friends here. They are en route for the coast country for Mr. Daniels' health.

Joe Kuykendall has gone to Dallas on a business trip.

Charlie Hamby, of Atlanta, is credited with firing the smallest group of 20 shots ever made at 100 yards, all within an inch circle.

Sausage Treats for February

By MARTHA LOGAN
These are Sausage days—days of golden brown, tempting morsels of pork. How good the sausage smells and how good it looks on a snappy morning! A plate, heaped with these brown delicious sausages, a stack of griddle cakes, and a cup of hot coffee will send any man off to work happy. Such a breakfast is probably more conducive to matrimonial contentment than the morning kiss, although we, being women, might not like to admit it. Sausage is a tasty meat, an especially appealing one for winter, so it's good for breakfast, luncheon and dinner. Why not plan right now to have fresh pork sausage for breakfast several mornings a week so long as the weather is cold, to serve it for dinner at least once a week, and to use it with left-overs for luncheon?

In the first place, sausage is an economical meat to buy for there is absolutely no waste, and at the same time it gives you a high return in calories per ounce of weight. It's particularly good in cold weather because of its high content of calories which furnish fuel for the body to keep it warm.

Another good thing about it is that you can cook as much or as little as you like. For that reason it adapts itself splendidly to small as well as large families. If yours is a twosome, you can have just as good a dinner meat as if you had six or seven—and the meat problem for two people isn't always so easy.

If you buy a well-known brand sausage, you can be sure that you are getting a carefully prepared product that has been made entirely of pork, and that has been thoroughly inspected and passed on by the government for healthfulness. Probably in no other department of the large packing houses has there been more care shown in the manufacture of meat products than in the sausage department. Only specially selected parts of trimmings are used, being taken principally from hams, shoulders, and loins. When chopped, the pork is carefully mixed with the seasonings which years of experience have shown to be best. You can obtain the sausage stuffed in rings, or not stuffed, but made into attractive little patties. Both these types are packed in attractive one-pound sealed cartons. The important things to keep in mind when buying sausage are to be sure that it is made right and that it is fresh and pure. That is the reason more and more women are asking for sausage by name. They want the guarantee of purity and quality that a reliable company's name on the packages gives her.

You will find that a brand of sausage becomes so well known that often restaurants, when serving it, will put the brand name on the menu. It is a way of showing the person who eats at the restaurant that the food being served is of good quality.

After we have bought high quality sausage, we, of course, want to cook it in the correct manner. What is the best way to cook link sausage? A very good way is first to wash the links in cold water. Then put them into a frying pan containing just enough cold water to cover them. Let the water come to a boil, then pour it off and brown the sausage very slowly with low heat. There will be less shrink if the sausages are cooked this way than if they are cooked without first being covered with water. Do not prick the sausages.

Of course, sausage patties are simply put on in a cold frying pan and cooked slowly for about 15 minutes.

Now that we are sure of those two methods, let us see what else we can do with sausage.

You have probably served sausages surrounded with a ring of fried apples. Did you know that pineapple rings are equally good? Cut the rings in halves or in points, dip them into a mixture of flour and sugar and brown in a little of the sausage fat. Apricot halves and bananas are also delicious prepared in this way. Any one of these combinations makes an excellent dinner or supper dish. Prepare one of them and see if your family doesn't smack its lips and say, "More." Guests will appreciate this dish, too.

We might complete the menu. Suppose we have the sausage and pineapple points with stuffed potatoes (a square of golden butter sink deep in the heart of the potato), whole wheat muffins, and celery and carrot salad in gelatin. For dessert, we could have a piece of cocoonut layer cake and coffee.

Speed Trains In West Help Rail Recovery

Drastic Reduction In Fares Also A Factor In Comeback

CHICAGO, Jan. 31. (UP)—Veteran trainmen say the railroads are on their way back to prosperity. Flashing streamliner trains which left conservative men gasping a year ago are responsible, they say, for a number of reasons.

First, these trains made possible a time schedule believed unheard-of even as late as a few months ago. Second, they were comfortable and actually economical to operate. And third, they focused public attention back on the railroads and once again convinced travelers that the railroads had something to offer.

Combined with the streamliners in gaining public attention was the earlier move which western lines inaugurated in 1933 in ordering a drastic reduction in fares in some cases as much as 50 per cent.

Reduction Made Permanent

A noticeable gain in passenger lists was apparent immediately, and in 1935 the western lines ordered the reduction made permanent. Indications that eastern lines may follow suit were seen in an Interstate Commerce commission report which recommended that they also reduce fares and abolish Pullman sleeping and parlor car surcharges.

Starting Jan. 2, 1935, the Northwestern line established its "400," a fast train running 400 miles in 400 minutes between Chicago and the Twin Cities. In April, the Burlington line, a competing service, ordered its Zephyr streamliner into service on a six and a half hour schedule. These Diesel-powered trains were so popular that shortly after the initial run it became necessary to install them on a twice daily basis, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. The Milwaukee road entered the field May 29 with its "Hawthorn," first of the so-called speedliners, new type locomotives which also operated on a six and a half hour schedule.

Shortly after, competing lines between Chicago and St. Louis cut their schedules to five and a half hours, taking a half hour off the 570-mile run.

In the East the Flying Yankee was introduced between Boston and Portland, Me., on an extremely fast schedule. This also was a Diesel-powered train, comparable to the Zephyrs of the West.

The Union Pacific-Northwestern cut half a day off its Portland, Ore.-Chicago run with the all-streamliner "City of Portland," and the New York Central and the Pennsylvania each shaved 30 minutes off their fast run to New York.

The Pennsylvania went even further, completing electrification of its line between New York and Washington and on the main line between New York and Paoli, Pa., and marking another cut in time schedules.

Air-Conditioning Widespread

About this time, air-conditioned cars made their appearance on most of the lines, eliminating dust and smoke.

The end of the year saw no let-down in the general revival.

On Jan. 2, a 36-hour schedule between Chicago and Florida went into effect, and next June the Union Pacific and Northwestern plan to clip a full nine hours from its Chicago-Denver run, covering the 1,048 miles in 18 hours—fastest train schedule in the world.

The same roads will clip 22 hours from their West Coast run and giant Diesels on the Santa Fe will cover the distance in 39 hours, 45 minutes faster than the Union Pacific-Northwestern schedule.

DAR Sponsoring Contest for Girls

Announcements have been received by the schools here concerning the annual contest sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution for selection of the most exemplary "citizen-like" girl in each state. Winners in the various state divisions are honored with a trip to the nation's capital, a tour of the city and a presentation to the president's wife.

The contest is scheduled to close early in the spring, and winners will leave Texas in mid-April. The winner must be a senior in some Texas high school. Last year the honor went to Katherine Marsh of Richland Springs, now a student in Howard Payne college, Brownwood.

Committee directing the Texas contest includes Mrs. Maurice Clark Turner of Dallas, Mrs. E. S. Lamar, Alamo; Mrs. A. W. Grant, San Antonio; Miss Marion D. Mullins, Fort Worth, and Mrs. W. H. Parsons of Waco.

Inventor Says His War Tank Goes To Another Nation Unless US Pays

NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (UP)—America's foremost inventor of war tanks and submarines threatened today to sell the fastest tank in the world to Russia or Germany unless the United States war department immediately pays $450,000 he says is due him.

The late inventor, J. Walter Christie, announced he would deliver his ultimatum today to Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war, in Washington. If he is not satisfied, he said, he will sell a just completed tank to a foreign government to avoid bankruptcy.

Germany has offered him $600,000 for the tank, he said, and the U. S. R. R. has offered him $10,000 a month to superintend construction of a fleet of them.

The tank is designed to be carried by ordinary bombing planes and to be dropped from planes in flight. Christie said it is capable of 100 miles an hour on wheels and

65 miles an hour on caterpillar tread. It carries two or three men and a 77-millimeter gun. It weighs 4,500 pounds and is "of a height that makes it inconspicuous."

"I am positive that all the high speed artillery mounts in the world today will go into discard as soon as our new machine appears," Christie said.

"Give me what the war department spends in one year on its armies and I will make this nation the most invulnerable in the world. Two thousand of these flying tanks would wipe out all need for an infantry."

GOING TO EUROPE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 30. (UP)—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, widow of the former president, plans to sail for Europe aboard the Ile de France this week, the United Press was informed on reliable authority today.

MONARCHS JOIN IN TRIBUTE TO BRITAIN'S KING

NIAGARA BECOMES SHEET OF ICE

The extreme cold wave which brought sub-zero temperatures to many sections of the United States transformed Niagara Falls into a solid sheet of ice. Upstream the ice jam was so dense that water 12 feet and more in depth was pushed up 50 feet. This view of the falls from the bridge at Niagara Falls, N. Y., shows the ice jam. DUPONT AND SHOUSE TALK IT OVER

Irene Dupont (left), of Wilmington, Del., and Jouett Shouse, former Kansan, now active in the Liberty league, apparently had some information for each other that both liked when they met at a league conference at a Washington hotel. (Associated Press Photo)

EDWARD VIII PROCLAIMED KING IN COLORFUL FETE

With guards standing stiffly at attention, the Prince of Wales was proclaimed Edward VIII, King of England, following the death of his father, King George V. The Garter King of Arms (indicated by arrow) read the official proclamation from a balcony at St. James palace in London. (Associated Press Photo)

FARMERS OF SOUTHWEST WAGE WAR ON EROSION

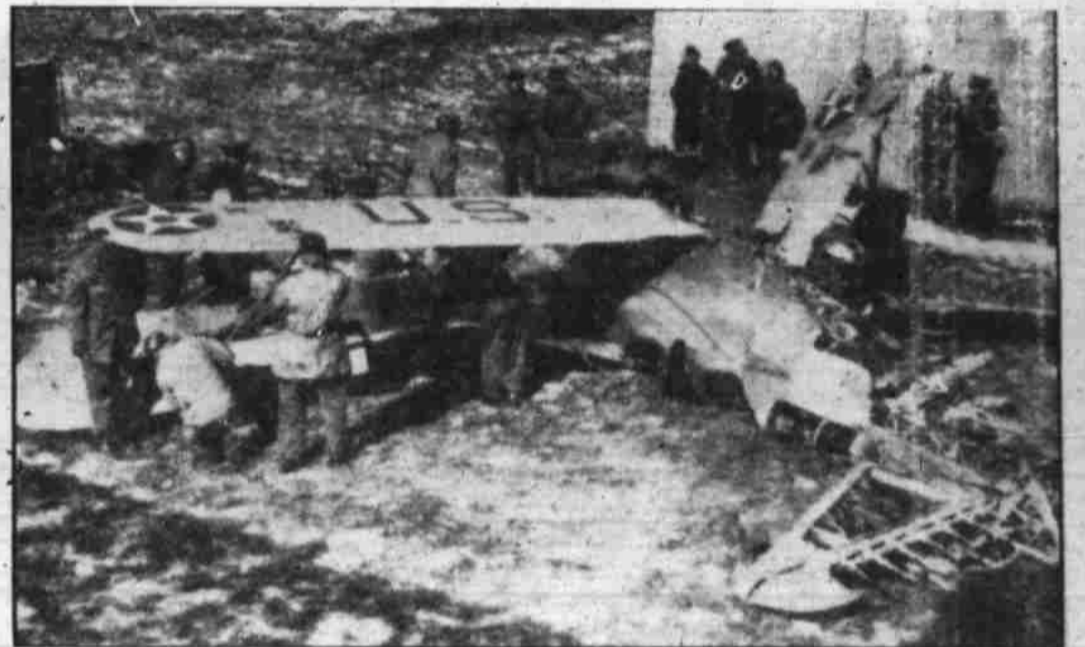

Farmers of the Southwest, aided by the government, are conducting a determined war against soil erosion, which became a serious problem due to the drought. Edgar Bowling, farmer of near Dalhart, Tex., is shown going "over the top" in his battle against sand hummocks which encourage growth of thistles and hold-sitting sand. (Associated Press Photo)

The 'Bluebonnet'

The "bluebonnet" curl, exhibited by this Texas lass, has been developed in connection with her state's centennial observance. The bluebonnet is the official Texas flower. Soft curls of the hairdress are said to suggest the flower. (Associated Press Photo)

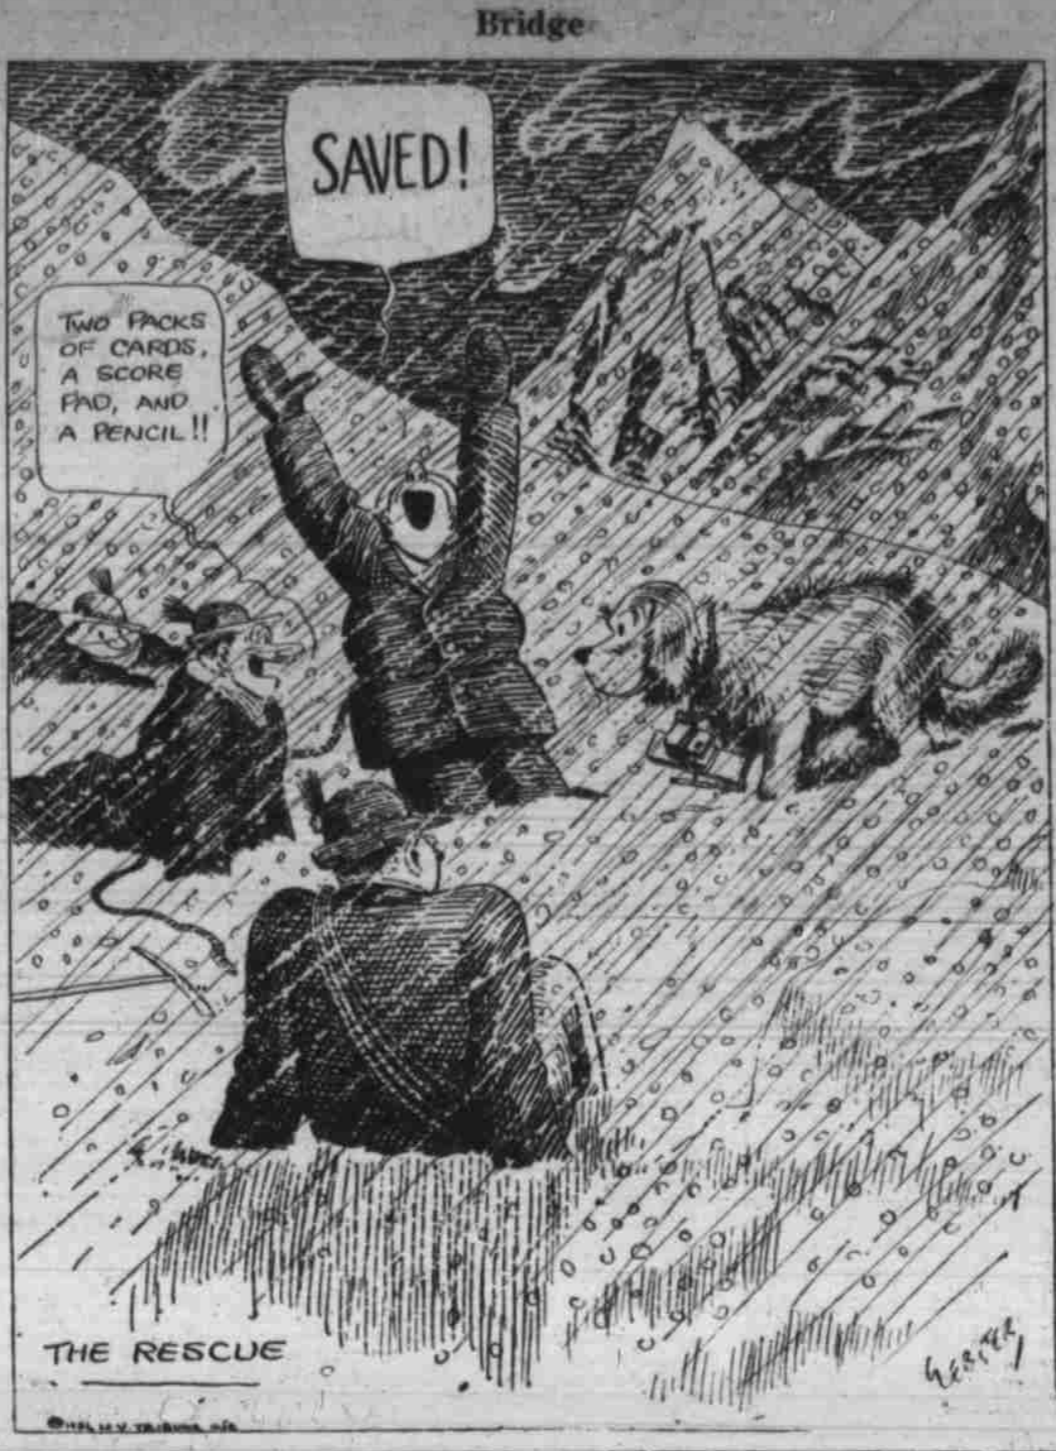

Not Afraid of Work

When her father, who was ill, was requisitioned by the WPA to sport for work on a Dearborn "pick and shovel" gang, Miss Patricia Kelly, 18, (above), appeared and asked for "dad's place." Astonished officials gave the girl who is the sole support of a family of six, a job as a typist. (Associated Press Photo)

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

NEVER MIND THE LADY by David Garth Chapter 28 DISAGREEMENT "Sure, I like it, but what are you doing down here?" Willett answered. "Fox with you or something?"

WASHINGTON—The administration is becoming increasingly worried over the 6,000,000 bales of cotton which it has had hung round its neck. The surplus threatens to become a millstone which may drag down the entire cotton market.

Major purpose of the "Write-A-Will Week" conducted by The Daily Herald was to direct attention to the importance of making proper provision for the administration of an estate so that the most value goes to the beneficiaries it was intended to aid.

The problem of acquiring an estate in the first place is a more personal, and perhaps a larger, one. But there is one item that can and should be considered as the foundation of all estates, especially the smaller ones; and that is insurance.

There is a different trend today. The most popular policies are those of the investment type, which not only protect dependents, but guarantee the policyholder old-age income or capital. It is said that well over 50 percent of life insurance policies now go to the policyholder who purchased the insurance.

The continuing-payment plan also is advised by insurance men who point out the advantage of leaving an income rather than cash, to beneficiaries.

★ Man About Manhattan ★ By George Tucker

NEW YORK—Sometimes while idling through the cafes I encounter my friend Jack Horner, the writer, who always has a good story to tell.

Such a one is this episode in the life of an author, though only an O. Henry should attempt to tell it.

There was a room that looked out on all the dreariness and squalor of back Brooklyn. On an oil burner was a blackened coffee pot, with perhaps two cups of the brew left. The coffee had been standing since yesterday morning.

Near the stove sat a young woman. There was a child, too, cuddled close for greater warmth.

But for the specter of old fear in his eyes, the man by the window might have been musing about some commonplace of the day. He hadn't said anything for a long time now. Neither had the woman. They just stared abstractly into the thick, midnight silence.

Presently the woman put her child aside and went to the coffee pot. She lifted it with a sort of desperate care, as if it held all that remained of life's treasures. The man turned.

WASHINGTON—The administration is becoming increasingly worried over the 6,000,000 bales of cotton which it has had hung round its neck.

Tomorrow the 12 cent per pound loan on two thirds of this total becomes due, and it is a safe bet that no farmer who collected the 12 cents and deposited his cotton in a government warehouse as collateral, is now going to the warehouse to repay his loan and haul away his bales.

Reason is that cotton is now selling below what he would have to repay the government.

The commodity credit corporation, federal agency which loaned the money, may extend the loan for another few months. But this only postpones the day of reckoning when the administration will have to decide how to get rid of the cotton millstone.

Two plans for dumping the cotton have been discussed backstage. They are: 1. A proposal by Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina to market the cotton at the rate of 20,000 bales a week.

On the other hand, Wallace and Davis believe they could sell between one and two million bales before next season (August) if they pick the right time for the sale.

Only one thing is agreed upon—that the cotton surplus held by the government must be got rid of as carefully, but as expeditiously as possible. To hold it must eventually depress the market.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Press Conference The most exclusive press conference in Washington is the one held in the White House each Monday morning at 11. It is with Mrs. Roosevelt and no newsmen are admitted—only newswomen.

"Has your Christmas mail differed from last year?" "Will you accept the invitation to go to Texas?" "Are you buying some new chairs for the Red Room?"

These questions pop from a group of 40 newswomen sitting before the First Lady in the West Hall, second floor. It is a strictly feminine party, with no males allowed except the White House dogs.

Mrs. Roosevelt sits on a sofa with her secretary, Mrs. Malvina Thompson Scheider, taking notes beside her. The newswomen sit in a semi-circle on chairs covered with slips of beans-and-white linen. On the walls about them are pictures of ships, a part of the president's extensive collection.

The women gather for the conference on the first floor, after passing inspection by Head usher Raymond D. Muir. The usher sends word to the First Lady that they are assembled. They mount the stairs and turn to the left to the end of the West Hall.

Gov. Landon Is Following F.D. Policies

Planks In GOP Platform Like New Deal, Writer Discloses

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 31.—Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, considered a probable republican presidential candidate, is today building a GOP platform with Roosevelt planks.

Claiming sources for his exclusive information which he cannot disclose, Walter Davenport, eastern political writer visiting this city to study Gov. Landon's chances, reports this discovery in a special article to be published in Collier's Friday. Davenport, discussing the mystery surrounding the Landon political credo, writes:

"We happened to discover the answer although we can't tell you how. He would do precisely what Franklin Roosevelt has done. In fact, he would stand for quite a number of things that Franklin Roosevelt stands for. He would abolish child labor by federal constitutional amendment. He likes the federal administration's social legislation. He would not fight Senator Wagner's labor bill nor take serious exception to Senator Guffey's coal regulation ideas. He is for AAA subsidies to farmers and, while decidedly opposed to inaction, doesn't join Messrs. Hoover, Mills and Fletcher when they sob broken-heartedly over the debauched dollar. Banking reform? He's for that, although nobody (including himself) knows whether his heart is with Carter Glass or Marinier Eccles of the federal reserve system."

Gov. Landon will lose considerable interest in the presidential campaign if his party nominates an easterner or Hoover, Davenport learned. In that event he will be too busy preparing to run for the United States senate in 1938.

Meanwhile, although "Frugal" Alf won't spend a dime for his own nomination as a candidate, "Kansas has him all elected and sitting in the white house with his vest unbuttoned and his tie askew balancing the federal budget on the point of his pencil," the article by Davenport states. "Rural Kansas is far from prosperity and would be even farther were it not for AAA checks and FWA grants. But Landon has gently set the Kansas house in such order that when at long last a sane and normal national life is available, Kansas should be quite prepared to enjoy it."

"If he is still with us next June and has avoided misfortune with his customary facility, he will walk gently into the republican convention with a large routing section of delegates from Iowa, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Kansas, of course. He will not have all of them, but there will be plenty."

Whatever the outcome, Davenport is positive Landon cannot be ignored by his party chiefs, even though he is "a republican who doesn't think the constitution is in dire peril, who believes that honest progress has been made by the democratic administration, who has no gypsy incantation nor laboratory contrivance for prosperity revival, who has no smart-cracks for flagging the Brain Trust."

"Of course, he may not get farther than first base in the republican convention. But if Landon should be nominated, you may settle down to enjoy a more or less desperate race between a bright and shining hare and a tortoise

Market Booms For England's Aging Castles

LONDON, (UP)—The long years of decay and disrepair are ending for the great country estates of Great Britain, and feudal castles no longer are "white elephants" to their owners.

People are buying the grand old places and spending large sums on their improvement. Many of the buyers are Americans and "South American" eagerly bidding for the ancient domains of Britain's barons.

Numerous castles and country places sold recently have moated granges and are set in tree-lined parks.

One would-be buyer of a historic country place said he is ready to pay $200,000—spot cash—but has searched for five months in vain. "Everybody seems to have just sold the ones I have wanted," he said.

In numerous cases the owners of these old castles—handed down from generation to generation of old families—are unable to dispose of them because they were given to their ancestors by the Crown and cannot be sold. They must be handed on to each eldest son.

Schools, hospitals and country clubs now occupy many of these old places. For instance, Stone, one-time palace of the Dukes of Buckingham, is a boys' school. Battle Abbey, with its parapets and stone towers reminiscent of medieval times, is a school for girls.

Mrs. Lee Hanson and her daughter, Roberta Lee, left Friday for Lubbock. Roberta Lee will enter Texas Tech as a freshman. Mrs. Hanson will visit in Lamesa on her return.

Wants Probe Of Pension Plans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. (UP)—Rep. C. Jasper Bell, D. Mo., introduced a resolution in the house today for an investigation of old-age pension plans.

Demand for the inquiry came just as Dr. Francis E. Townsend, originator of the plan, was announcing in Long Beach, Cal., that third party petitions would be filed in all states due to Sen. William E. Borah's rejection of the $200-a-month movement as "impractical."

Accusing the Townsend plan of being "wholly visionary, fantastic and impossible of fulfillment," Bell asked Speaker Joseph W. Byrns to name a committee of seven to inquire into it and other plans.

The resolution was referred to the house rules committee.

In his resolution, Bell said persons under 60 years would be required to pay $24,000,000,000 annually to meet the expenses of the Townsend plan. He said this would require taxes eight times as high as present taxation revenues.

Jack Edwards Is Candidate For District Clerk

Jack Edwards, for 15 years a resident of Howard county, Friday announced that he would seek the office of district clerk in the democratic primaries this summer.

Well known here, Edwards has engaged in farming for the greater part of his 15 years here, having also worked in Big Spring at different intervals. He is the son of C. B. Edwards, prominent Center Point farmer.

Saying that he would deeply appreciate support given his candidacy, Edwards pledged that if elected he would seek to fulfill the duties of the office in a capable manner.

Edwards said that he would make a thorough campaign in an attempt to contact every voter, adding that if he failed to visit anyone, that they consider his announcement as a solicitation of their votes.

Ogden, Allen Are Partners

Former Purchases Interest In Grocery Establishment Here

Announcement was made Friday of the purchase, by Joe Ogden, of an interest in the Allen Grocery at 205 East Third street. Ogden, who formerly was associated with the Co-Operative Gin & Supply company, already has assumed his place in the partnership, operating the grocery firm with J. W. Allen. The firm name will remain unchanged.

Allen and Ogden also announced Friday the expansion of service in the store's delicatessen department. Mrs. Viola Anderson has been engaged as new cook for that department, and henceforth the delicatessen will feature, between 10:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. each day, salads, cooked meats and vegetables and desserts. Fresh pies and cakes, baked in the firm's kitchen each day, also will be featured.

Under the new partnership, Pat Allen will remain with the grocery store and Bob Rinker will continue as butcher in the meat department.

No Immediate Change In Prospect, But Successor To Mussolini Is Topic Of Speculation In Italy

(Copyright, 1936, by United Press) ROME, Jan. 31.—Visitors to Italy invariably ask this question: "Who will follow Mussolini when the Duce retires as head of the Italian government?"

The subject has been more and more discussed as a result of events of the past year. It has been debated more frequently in Italy than is commonly believed, although there is no immediate apparent likelihood of anyone except Benito Mussolini continuing as the Duce of Fascism, barring unforeseen accidents.

Competent foreign observers agree that his position today is strong. Physically Mussolini is an exceptional man. He is only 52. He pilots his own airplane, drives racing automobiles and motorcycles, rides horseback, fences, and risks his neck numerous other ways.

The average Italian hesitates to discuss the matter of his successor, arguing that there will be no need for such consideration for many years.

There are, however, two schools of thought on the subject.

The one most popularly supported is that the Fascist grand council, highest body in the regime, will recommend three names to the king who will select Mussolini's successor.

The other, shared more by foreign observers, is that the crown and the army would take control of the government, at least temporarily, especially if the nation was confronted with a serious internal or foreign menace.

Should the Fascist grand council submit three names to the king it is believed in many quarters the list would include some of the following men—Italo Balbo, Dino Grandi, Roberto Farinacci, Costanzo Ciano, Giuseppe Bottai and Galeazzo Ciano.

In the event the king and the army took control of the country to avoid possible revolutions, the bloodshed, Marshal Pietro Badoglio well might control the armed forces. Badoglio, 64, is a strong royalist.

An attempt might be made to return to parliamentary government. The possibility becomes less keen of Stamford, manager.

The Tri-State Fair association's annual spring race meet will be under way at the same time.

Farmers Will Meet At Waco

Group Will Urge Speedy Replacement Of AAA Setup

DALLAS, Jan. 31. (UP)—Urging the necessity for speedy action by congress in enacting a substitute program for the AAA, Texas farmers have been called to attend a state-wide mass meeting Saturday in Waco.

The call was issued jointly by J. R. McCrary, president of the Texas Co-operative council, and H. G. Lucas of Brownwood, chairman of the Farmers' Protective committee and president of the Texas Agriculture association.

McCrary was one of the members of the Texas Farmers' conference called in Washington by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, after a supreme court decision invalidated the AAA.

"The delay by congress in acting promptly to set up a farm program to replace the AAA is causing so much uncertainty that farmers are becoming restive and distressed," McCrary said.

"They cannot decide on a farm program for the 1936 crop year. They cannot establish a basis of credit with their local banks. In fact, they are helpless until congress takes definite action."

Personally Speaking

W. W. Grant and son, W. L., returned Thursday from Temple where Mrs. Grant underwent a major surgery Monday. Grant reported that she was recovering rapidly.

En route they visited with a son and daughter, Truett and Billy Frances, students in Baylor university, Waco.

R. L. Parker, Lynn county sheriff, was here on business Friday. He planned to return to Tahoka during the afternoon.

King May Make A Tour Of Empire

LONDON, Jan. 31. (UP)—King Edward may tour the British empire after his coronation in the spring of 1937, and may possibly be crowned king in the capital of each dominion, the Daily Herald asserted today.

In the autumn of 1937, the king is to go to India and be crowned emperor, in accordance with custom. According to the Herald, he may make the occasion the opportunity for a visit to Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, and even some colonies.

County Officials Called To Discuss Labor Problems

EASTLAND, Jan. 31. (UP)—Judge Clyde L. Garrett, president of the County Judges and Commissioners' Association of Texas, today called a meeting of that body to be held in Dallas, Tex., Feb. 6 to discuss relief-labor restrictions.

Judge Garrett said that "present relief-labor restrictions are preventing thousands of the destitute and those in dire need from securing employment on works progress administration projects."

Perhaps Poor Lighting Causes the Difference

If your child dislikes to study at home . . . if he seems unable to concentrate on his lessons, perhaps poor lighting is to blame. Science has proved that reading in a poor light causes drowsiness and unnecessary strain on the eyes. No wonder children can study only a few minutes at a time, and no wonder report cards at the end of the term show the result.

Exhaustive tests of children who must study under poor lighting and a similar group who have proper lighting revealed a startling difference in the quality of work done. Be sure that your child isn't handicapped at home by having to study or read under inadequate light.

A new Better Sight Lamp, either a Reading-Study Lamp for the desk, or a Lounge Lamp to be placed by the table, will give the proper amount of glareless light for safe seeing.
